TRADE GROUP PLANS BIG BASKET PICNIC

Frank Waring, Chairman, Finds Good Location for Outing at Elk Lake

At a meeting of the Tourist Trade Group of the Chamber of Commerce to-day, it was decided that in view of the fact that the members had been working together for upwards of two years, they might just as well get a little. Frank Waring, chairman, believed that in this way they would become better acquainted than they ever would by meeting in a purely business capacity. It was arranged that the members should arrange to hold a monster basket picnic, Wednesday, July 11.

A beautiful spot had been located by Mr. Waring, a place on the shore of Elk Lake, where the nature was free from the encroachments of man, and where the group might enjoy true relaxation from their cares. The families of the members of the group, their friends and others, will be invited to attend this outing.

It was thought advisable that the outing should take place in the evening. Therefore motors will leave the city with the picnic parties at about 5 p. m. Supper will be enjoyed on the shore of the lake, bathing, too, will be a feature of the outing. Members of the group are keen to organize two baseball teams, which may meet during the cooler part of the evening. P. R. Brown and A. E. Mallett were chosen as a sports committee. A transportation committee will be selected in the near future.

It was further decided at the meeting that future meetings during the summer months should be called at the desire of the chair.

Members also discussed the situation concerning the motor camp at Curtis Point, and found that everything there was entirely satisfactory. Preparations are being made for the expected increase of the tourist traffic in the near future. Now that the schools of Washington are closed, the number of motors coming through the city will be large. The group is ready for them.

Let Tunnel Contract.

S. G. Benson, manager for the Adanae Company of their property on Fish Creek, near Stewart, this week let a contract to Mickey Nash to drift fifty feet of an adit tunnel on a vein which has been partially opened up by past assessments and work is now in progress. The property is situated on the Lucky Bay group, between it and the Bay View on the B. C. side of the line, and surface showing are most encouraging. The mine is composed chiefly of Victoria capitalists.

Anyox Smelter.

The output of the Hidden Creek Mine for the period of May 29 to May 31 inclusive, was 1,257 wet tons; from June 1 to June 3 inclusive, 5,118 wet tons. Total for the month of May, 61,539 tons. The smelter returns from May 28 to May 31 inclusive show that 6,864 wet tons of ore were treated at Anyox smelter. This was made up as follows: Anyox ore, 6,723 tons; outside ore, 231 tons. Total tonnage treated, 6,954 tons. Anyox ore, 62,491 tons; outside ore, 1,538 tons. Average price of copper for the week $14.75. Coks plant production May 29 to June 1 inclusive, 1,347 short tons of coke were charged and 850 short tons of coke were produced; 8,192 imperial gallons of light oil were recovered and 42,000 lbs. of sulphate ammonium were manufactured.

Leadville Group.

Work has commenced on the Leadville group, near Kitchener, of silver-lead claims situated on the Beaver River, six miles North of town. A crew of five men is at work on the property at present, and this will be increased when a wagon road which is under contemplation is constructed on the West side of Goat River to the property. It is the intention of the owners who are Spokane capitalists, to commence construction of the road early in July and rush it to completion. It is an easy grade and will not be as expensive as the storage iron road to construct, as about two miles of logging road can be utilized, with slight repairs, making a total of about four miles of new road to be built. The property was located several years ago by Scott Price and worked intermittently on a prospecting basis until three years ago, when it was sold to Spokane parties headed by the Lakes' interests. A new partnership has been formed recently, and extensive development work is planned, and a mine will be added to the list this year.

GERMAN COAL EXPORTS CEASE

Result of French Seizure of Railroads

Essen, June 22.—Germany's coal exports to Italy and Holland have completely stopped following the French seizure of the last railroad lines available to the Germans for such purpose, it is stated in German quarters.

The Germans declare the French are not content with extending their reduction of traffic to the street railways and demand the shutting down of all lines placed in operation.

The new measure means a further handicap to the distribution of foodstuffs, as the French occupation of numerous railway stations and lines led the Germans to resort to street cars for the transportation of food supplies.

McADAM TO TAKE KNOWLEDGE OF B. C. TO LONDON OFFICE

On his own account as accountant and insurance agent in London, in 1919 he was brought to Victoria by business interests here to take the office of secretary to the Victoria and Island Development Association, and public activities in Duncan included terms as secretary of the Cowichan Exhibition, as alderman of Duncan, and as a member of the board of Trade for six years and secretary of the Duncan Hospital Board.

In 1920 he accepted the office of secretary to Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance. Later he was made secretary of the municipal investigating committee and investigated British Columbia municipalities and prepared the report for the Legislature of financial conditions of the municipalities during the last ten years. He was appointed under-deputy Minister of Finance in April, 1922.

The salary in the London office is $3,900. It has been filled until recently by William Turnbull, who resigned to enter the export timber business in Montreal.

Mrs. McAdam is a daughter of the founder of the city of Duncan and is the wife of Kenneth Duncan, M.P.P. for Cowichan.

Vancouver Statement.

Vancouver, June 22.—George S. Harrison, manager of the Vancouver branch of the Union Bank, with the full concurrence of the three local directors of the institution, W. W. Malkin, W. J. Blake Wilson and George Kidd, has issued a statement in connection with the transfer of $4,250,000 from the bank's reserve to contingent reserve account.

Mr. Harrison's statement is as follows: "It is most regrettable that circumstances accompanying the deflation period have made necessary, or advisable, the transferring of a substantial portion of the Union Bank's reserve to contingent reserve account. As is stated in the statement to the shareholders, a very thorough examination has been made of the bank's condition, and ample provision has been made through the action taken for all possible losses of the hour, or which can possibly develop from business on our books. As I see it personally, the directors have adopted a very courageous course, and one which must be highly commended by all, particularly those in a position to estimate how such situations should be dealt with."

Free Discussion.

"I boast a wide acquaintance in this city and throughout the Province and offer for the information, and I hope, satisfaction, of all, my unqualified statement that our institution is truly sound, and the course considered justifiable, or necessary, should not and will not affect our highest credit standing. I will be very ready to discuss and answer fully any points which may occur to our friends and the public generally to put before me."

Commendation.

Montreal, June 22.—When news of the Union Bank's statement yesterday was taken to Sir Frederick Wilkins-Taylor, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, his comment was:

"The Union Bank is to be commended for adopting a wise and courageous course which should inspire confidence."

Commenting on the statement, The Montreal Star says:

"There is no longer any ground for apprehension and there is no doubt the decision will have a reassuring effect. The rumors are now supplanted by facts and a prudent decision in the interests of the shareholders. This decision will receive wide recognition."

On Sound Basis.

St. John, N.B., June 22.—S. E. Elkin, a director of the Union Bank of Canada, said last night that the action of the directors was for the purpose of placing the bank on a sound basis. There was no reason for apprehension on the part of the public, for the drastic action of the directors assured every protection to those doing business with the bank and shareholders.

PRAIRIES SAID TO HAVE FAILED TO FORM WHEAT BOARD

Winnipeg, June 22.—The Premiers of Saskatchewan and Alberta, along with the heads of the grain growers' organizations in the prairie provinces, have failed their efforts to establish a wheat board. The Manitoba Free Press says it learned to-day from what is described as competent authority. No official statement on the situation has yet been issued, however.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

San Francisco, June 22.—Birth control, limitation of marriage to the fit and sterilization of the criminal and insane were unqualifiedly endorsed by Dr. H. G. Brainerd of Los Angeles, president of the California State Medical Association, in an address to-day at the opening session of the association's annual convention.

"I believe," he continued, "that every male who becomes a charge on the state by reason of insanity, feeble-mindedness or crime should be sterilized before being discharged from state care, and I believe it should be done on every mentally defective female who is under state care, before she is permitted to leave the state institution."

Nome, Alaska, June 22.—Advice to-day from Wainwright confirmed the report that Roald Amundsen, Norwegian explorer, aviator, had damaged his aeroplane in a trial flight there, making impossible his proposed flight this summer over the North Pole.

Amundsen will proceed to Seattle on the schooner C. S. Holmes, probably not stopping at Nome en route, as the vessel is expected to make the voyage from Wainwright direct.

Moscow, June 22.—As a result of the assassination of Vaslav Vorovsky, Soviet representative at the Lausanne Peace Conference, Russia has decided to boycott Switzerland. All business deals with the Swiss are to be cancelled.

St. Louis, Mo., June 22.—The suggestion that reconstruction of the creative machinery of the Permanent Court of International Justice be a condition to American admission to the tribunal was before the country and before the world to-day as the result of the pronouncement made by President Harding here last night in the first formal address of his western trip.

Ottawa, June 22.—Morning sittings in the House of Commons on and after Tuesday next are provided for by a motion of the Prime Minister adopted by the Commons to-day. The House will sit from 11 to 1 and meet again at 2 o'clock as usual.

Paris, June 22.—The French aviator who will fly over the North Pole, according to The Excelsior, is Lieutenant de Payer. The officer plans to make his trial base at Virgin Bay, Spitzbergen, which is 720 miles from the Pole. It is hoped that the expedition, which will employ two planes, will be able to start next summer.

Berlin, June 22.—Germany's new programme of ridding herself as far as possible of the factors which are injurious to her currency is still in process of formulation. Financial circles do not expect the results of the Government's conferences with the experts will be made public before to-morrow. Discussions about the financial district emphasized the probability of new heavy penalties being provided for unauthorized traffic in foreign money.

Late last evening 140,000 marks were being offered for a dollar in unofficial dealings.

If you feel "out of sorts," sluggish and weary

If you feel "out of sorts," sluggish, weary and irritable; if you lack the spirit and sparkle and the ability to do your work with the same briskness and cheerfulness that you see in others, it is probably because your organs are not generating enough vital energy.

If your blood lacks the normal amount of the elements that are necessary in the production of vital energy, it is not possible for you to feel strong, industrious and sprightly; you are bound to tire quickly, feel down-cast and find it difficult to take proper interest in your work or your favorite recreations.

If you are not feeling as "fit" as you would like to; if you are in-need of reinvigoration, you should take Wincarnis for a week or so. You will probably be surprised and delighted at the promptness with which this general tonic and restorative will enrich your blood, strengthen your nervous system and relieve your feeling of general debility and exhaustion. Physicians are prescribing Wincarnis because of its great virtue as a tonic and reconstructive.

DICTIONARY BROUGHT COURT DISMISSAL

Saskatoon, June 22.—When Gerald Billings was haled into police court here yesterday charged with threatening Mrs. E. Rush, he brought a dictionary with him. The case hinged on Mrs. Rush's declaration that Billings had said he would "smack her face for her."

With the dictionary as his authority, Billings showed a definition of "smack" as "kiss," and pleaded that a threat to kiss was not a threat to do bodily harm.

The case was dismissed.

TO ADD BRANCH LINES TO C. N. R.

Ottawa, June 22.—Pleas for more branch lines for the Canadian National Railways, particularly in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, were made in the House yesterday afternoon.

The House was considering a recommendation covering proposed branch-line construction. A resolution was adopted and a bill passed thereon was given first reading.

During the discussion, Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways, said that believing the promises of the Government and Parliament in regard to the Hudson Bay railroad should be carried out, he would consider including an item in the supplementary estimates in this connection.

PAPER EXPORTS.

Ottawa, June 22.—Exports of Newspaper paper in May were 1,778,916 hundredweights, valued at $7,448,162, compared with 1,547,561 hundredweights in April. During the same month wood pulp exports totalled 1,198,323 hundredweights, as against 1,013,602 hundredweights in April. The United States was the largest buyer, taking almost ninety per cent. of the total exported.

THREE SENATORS STATE C. N. R. VIEWS

Senator Fowler Outspoken in Criticism of Thornton

Ottawa, June 22.—The policy of the Government in refusing to publish the salaries of the general officers of the Canadian National Railways was discussed in the Senate yesterday afternoon on a motion of adjournment by Senator Tanner.

He said he had no objection to adequate compensation, but there were reports in the country that exorbitant salaries were being paid. He was in sympathy with the policy of keeping politics out of the railways, but it was unthinkable that the people who owned the railways should turn the whole system over to an irresponsible body without supervision by the Government or any knowledge of its affairs among the public.

Senator Dandurand believed it might be possible to form a committee of all groups in Parliament that could call for papers and facts regarding the National Railways and report what it thought was essential to Parliament.

Senator Bennett said that judging by some of the appointments made, considerable pressure must have been exerted on Sir Henry Thornton or he never would have consented.

Fowler's Views.

Senator Fowler said Sir Henry did not appear to care for the representatives of the people who owned the road. He said it had taken three months to find out the number of private cars on the Canadian National, which he had discovered amounted to sixty-seven.

Canada, the Senator averred, appeared to be governed by one man who was an alien by birth, manufactured into a British subject, who after his arrival thought he owned the whole country from Halifax to Vancouver. In Canada he had gone on a "private procession" in nine private cars, while the Board of Directors had gone on a similar tour with eight cars.

Senator Fowler felt it would not injure the Canadian National Railways if Sir Henry returned to the Pennsylvania system.

ADVERTISING MEN'S CONVENTION IN SPOKANE ENDED

Spokane, June 22.—Affiliation with the Associated Advertising Clubs of the world was approved by the Pacific Coast Advertising Club's association at the final session of its 20th annual convention here yesterday afternoon.

College courses in advertising, the Dennis "Blue sky law" and the merger of men and women's advertising clubs in the same cities, wherever possible, were approved in resolutions.

The annual banquet followed by a dance wound up the five-day session late last night.

NEW RULES FOR TRAIN DISPATCHERS

Chicago, June 22.—The United States Railroad Labor Board today handed down a decision prescribing rules and working conditions for the members of the American Train Dispatchers' Association resulting from the hearing of the dispute between the association and fifty-five railroad companies.

The rules provide that regularly assigned train dispatchers shall be relieved on seven national holidays, or on seven days in lieu thereof, or if not afforded such relief, shall be allowed extra compensation at a pro rata rate.

In regard to seniority, the rules provide that seniority will date from the time a train dispatcher entered the service.

Among requests of employees denied was one for a rule relating to pay for time lost on account of personal sickness.

NEW BRIDGE AT MONTREAL.

Ottawa, June 22.—The erection of a highway bridge immediately below and beside the existing Victoria Bridge, between Montreal and the south shore of the St. Lawrence River, is recommended by the Montreal Board of Harbor Commissioners in a report to the Government. The estimated cost of erecting the bridge is given as $3,000,000. Such a bridge, the commissioners state, would relieve acute traffic congestion for some time to come.

C. P. R. PRESIDENT SPEAKS IN LONDON

Beatty Says Canada Needs Balanced Immigration Deals With G. T. R. Situation and British Investments

London, June 22.—"What we seem to need in Canada is what I might call a balanced immigration which would supply our industries as well as the farmers with the best available help," said E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in an address at a dinner of the London Canadian Club last evening, which was attended by many prominent Britishers and Canadians.

"If the system of immigration are kept open we may find in Canada a home for workers who for generations have been identified with the highly skilled trades and crafts. Progress often depends on inventive genius and the actual workers. The more of such inventive skill we obtain for Canadian industries the better. We would be wise to keep our gates open for brains as well as brawn."

Result of War

"You perhaps have heard that during the last year there has been a considerable exodus of Canadians to the United States. You also perhaps have been informed that agriculturists did not prosper to the extent they had expected. Both statements involve nothing but that natural consequence of economic dislocation which is an inevitable result of world-wide war, and why it should give any apprehension to the people of a country of such infinite resources is beyond my comprehension. Such a movement does not mean lack of opportunity in Canada, but that the inflated commercial conditions in the United States have lured those whose position has enabled them to take advantage of the temporarily greater opportunities."

Grand Trunk.

Referring to the Grand Trunk Railway shareholders' criticism of the Canadian Government, Mr. Beatty said:

"As to the Grand Trunk and the unfortunate feeling or resentment which has in some cases developed over its acquisition by the Canadian Government, I can speak only very generally and very guardedly.

"I can say, however, that if its active administration had, in former years, been more Canadian in character and more in touch with Canadian methods and Canadian sentiment, some of the difficulties which confronted the managers of the road at later stages in its history might conceivably have been avoided."

Opposed Plan.

"I was always opposed to Government acquisition of the Grand Trunk. My reasons are very simple. I did not believe then and I do not believe now that the property has the same possibilities of development as part of a Government system as it would under capable and efficient private administration. I think it was wise for the Dominion to embark upon such an extensive public ownership programme. It may well be that my views will prove wrong and the development of the country and the tremendous increase in traffic which will result if the expansion which we anticipate takes place and is now too long delayed, will be a success of what our judgment at that time considered an extremely hazardous adventure into public ownership."

Financial Support.

"But, if I should not discuss or criticize the former administration of the Grand Trunk or the policies of the Canadian Government which led to the acquisition of the road, I would naturally be deeply concerned if a combination of the two resulted in any lack of support to Canadian enterprise generally by financial interests in Great Britain. Canada has succeeded and will continue to secure much capital from the United States, but Canada has secured in the past support from Great Britain which has been a strenuous to it as well as constituting a bond of Empire, the importance of which can not be over-estimated.

"It would be a great pity if a difference of opinion as to the policy of any Government in respect to one enterprise should effect detrimentally the policy of England toward Canadian enterprises generally, and there would be little justification for such a result if, as I conceive to be the case, the importance of Canada to the Empire is equal to the importance of Great Britain to Canada. With every added strength of the Dominions comes added assurance that the peace of the world will not be disturbed because the strength of the British Empire and the good will of the United States would prevent it."

Advantages Clear.

The advantage of the extension of inter-Empire trade and the development of Canadian industries are almost too clear to require elucidation. You have your surplus population which can be absorbed with profit to Canada and yourselves. We have our tremendous agricultural territory and our new and growing industrial development which can profit by settlers and new capital. It should not be an academic question, but one in which the Governments and business men of Great Britain and Canada should take a keen and aggressive interest."

NO EARLY RESUMPTION OF GOLD PAYMENTS

Ottawa, June 22.—The Government proposes to continue in force the proclamation suspending the redemption of Dominion and bank notes in gold for a further period of three years, unless an earlier date for the resumption of gold payments is set by Order-in-Council.

This announcement is made in a resolution introduced in the House of Commons by Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance.

The resolution also gives the Government power to continue the prohibition of export of gold, and proposes to continue in force the authority for the issue of Dominion notes to the banks in return for securities.

INCREASING BRITISH COLUMBIA'S BILLS.

Apart from the possibility of an expense of something like $100,000 for the holding of a plebiscite some time this year, the action of the Senate, in insisting upon a reference to the people on the subject of liquor importation, means that this Province will be compelled to continue to spend large sums of money on the various phases of enforcement that would be less exacting were private importation impossible.

While secret service work, as performed by officials in the pay of the Liquor Control Board, is not wholly concerned with the active bootlegger who does business on a large scale, it follows that as long as the means of free entry exists the "small fry" trader will be able to evade the law unless very active supervision shall be maintained. It is equally obvious that if private importation shall be prohibited some of the more enterprising bootleggers will purchase liquor from the official vendor and be content with small profits on trade conducted after official selling hours.

Consequently the Conservative members of the Senate have exposed themselves to the charge of virtually assisting the bootlegger and of incurring expense that will have to be met by the people of British Columbia—expense that could have been avoided if the Upper Chamber had not taken upon itself to dictate to the electorate of this Province.

"BOB" SMILLIE AT LAST AN M. P.

On his ninth attempt to enter the British House of Commons Mr. Robert Smillie has succeeded. He selected the Morpeth constituency and he selected wisely because there are not many safer Labor seats in the whole of the United Kingdom than this Northumberland division. To make matters more certain for the veteran miners' leader he was only opposed by a Liberal candidate, the Government obviously recognizing the futility of contesting it. Consequently the result of the election cannot be regarded as anything in the nature of a vote of confidence in Mr. Smillie or an endorsement of his somewhat radical ideas on the present governing system in general or the conflict between Capital and Labor in particular.

FIRES IN THE PARKS.

Practically every other day the city Fire Department is being called upon to make a trip to one of the parks for the purpose of extinguishing grass fires that have been caused in most instances by careless smokers.

It ought not to be necessary to remind the people of this community that nothing looks more unsightly than blackened patches in our green spaces. It should be equally obvious to the taxpayer that each response the Fire Department makes involves expense that might be avoided if ordinary caution were observed.

It might also be pointed out that the cooler weather of the moment does not relieve the people of this Island or of the Province as a whole of their obligation to observe the strictest care in wooded areas. We cannot long escape a touch of the heat wave that is already creating serious fire hazards in various parts of the continent. Quebec has had an exceedingly costly experience and the Provincial Government has been compelled to take measures almost unheard of in the ancient Province.

The most recent decision of Quebec's Minister of Lands and Forests is an order forbidding the granting of any more permits to settlers or farmers to burn slash, or tree refuse, until further notice. The regulation will be enforced until all danger from forest fires is over. Up to the present settlers were able to secure permits from fire rangers to burn slash, but now even the permit system has been temporarily suspended.

It is also interesting to note that for some time past the Quebec Provincial Government has enforced a regulation which requires all visitors to forest or mountain districts to get a permit from a local fire ranger for the purpose of entering the forest. Even with a permit the strangers are not allowed to use fire under certain conditions. No charge is made for such a permit and it can usually be obtained without much difficulty.

The main effect of the permit, of course, is educative as it is accompanied by strong warning regarding the fire danger and its possession undoubtedly creates a sense of responsibility with the card holder.

From a purely local standpoint there is little fear of any necessity to tackle the question in such a drastic fashion as has been found advisable in the public interest and its safety in Quebec. At the same time the principle should be followed in respect of City Parks just as it must be amid the tall timbers of the Island.

THE MANITOBA VOTE.

Manitoba is deciding to-day whether it will continue to be a prohibition Province or whether it will adopt a system of Government control after a similar plan to that which obtains in British Columbia. Both sides are confident of victory—a condition which always precedes the result of an appeal to an electorate. Weather conditions are reported to be quite favorable to the taking of a large vote. That being the case it may be taken for granted that the issue will resolve itself very largely into a battle of sentiment between rural and urban districts.

There can be nothing ambiguous about the proposals that the "Moderationists" are asking the people to support. The bill which the Legislature will transfer to the statute books, if the people approve the change, has been widely circulated. It very largely resembles the British Columbia Act and it has the advantage of containing matter which represents the result of actual experience in this Province—a consideration of importance in itself.

QUITE DIFFERENT.

From certain quarters will come the old cry that the forthcoming Imperial Conference is something in the nature of a Cabinet Council of the British Commonwealth. The Ottawa Citizen takes the view that Ministers participating are just as collectively responsible for the decisions taken and the resolutions passed at such gatherings as Cabinet Ministers are collectively responsible for decisions of the Dominion Cabinet.

This is not the case. The decisions or understandings reached at an Imperial Conference do not commit any Dominion and are without effect until they have been ratified by the respective Parliaments. There is no analogy between an assembly of this kind and the meeting of a Cabinet. The function of the Imperial Conference is consultative in character. The function of a Cabinet is legislative. The former has no power to make appointments or frame budgets or do any of the hundred and one things that are the specific charge of the executive of a Dominion.

An Imperial Conference brings the representatives of the British Dominions together for consultation—to talk over matters of general concern. It is a sort of family reunion in the interests of the family. On this account every member taking part must be free to discuss the questions in which his own particular part of the Commonwealth is especially interested. That freedom of discussion could not be exercised were Dominion Parliaments to have no hand in the adoption of policies agreed upon and the Conference would thus be very largely useless.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Up to the present time Lady Astor has shown remarkable modesty and reserve in the matter of her attire for the House of Commons. But she has now gone in for a blue dress with Peter Pan lace collar—an almost exact replica of that worn by the newly-elected Mrs. Philipson. What is it that we once heard about imitation being the sincerest form of flattery?

The White Star Liner Baltic has arrived at New York with a goodly supply of intoxicating liquors. There are all kinds of speculations on what may and what should happen; but at the time this is written no word of an American "invasion" has been received. It does not follow that the authorities have not or will not exercise their undoubted right.

People in the vicinity of Catania believe that Premier Mussolini's arrival in the district will create an agency capable of putting an end to the disastrous moths of Etna. The Fascist leader has shown himself to be possessed of remarkable will power; but we suggest that not even he who overthrows governments and imposes a dictatorship upon a constitutional monarchy may compel Nature to do his bidding.

Vancouver and Montreal are still continuing a good-natured wrangle as to which is the biggest port from the point of view of shipping activity. Montreal refuses to admit that Vancouver is entitled to the premier honor. The Terminal City is busy bringing forward statistical data relating to net and gross tonnage that looks quite convincing. Good luck to her argument, because the more business she gets the more business the port of Victoria will get.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

THE BARTER SYSTEM.

London Times—German states have been compelled to issue certificates repayable in rye, wheat and corn in 1927. That is along retrograde step towards a return to conditions of barter, under which only a fraction of the present commercial transactions could possibly be effected. For the complex modern credit system has evolved simultaneously with the development of commerce, and each is essential to the other. The lesson for this country is plain. Germany has been able to carry on as long as she has because of her great internal resources. This country, which depends so largely upon overseas supplies of raw materials and food, would, in the same case, have been irrevocably ruined and brought to actual starvation long ago.

A CORRECTION.

To the Editor:—In one important feature the report of the interview, given to a representative of The Times and published in yesterday's issue, is in error, and I seek the privilege of making a necessary correction.

In reference to the bill under which the proposed new church is to be incorporated I am reported as having said, "All Presbyterian churches, under the present union scheme, are given the privilege of voting to decide whether they shall join the new union or remain outside it."

One cannot wonder that a reporter, accustomed to the practice and procedure of British courts and legislatures should assume that, in a matter like this under discussion, such a fundamental principle of justice should be recognized. But unhappily such is not the case. No church is given the privilege of voting whether it shall join or remain outside the new union. On the contrary, under section 3 of the proposed bill, all ministers and members of the three negotiating churches, whether they will or no, are carried into the new organization. That is the ground on which I designate the bill as an invasion of the realm of conscience.

It is not surprising that the bill has been thus dealt with. It is surprising to one that subsequent sections of the bill transfer the property and trust funds, for whatsoever purpose created, and on whatsoever terms held, to the proposed "United Church of Canada."

Section 9 provides that within six months after the bill becomes law a congregation may, by a majority vote, withdraw from the United Church. But into what shall it withdraw? The Presbyterian Church in Canada will have been blotted out, its name proscribed, and Presbyterians who withdraw from the United Church will have to withdraw into the wilderness—like the McGregors of old, landless and nameless.

It must be noted that the bill does make provision for a semblance of justice in the division of property with those who may withdraw from the church into which they have been carried by law. There is to be created a commission of nine members who shall determine "all the equities (if any) of the non-concurring congregations." No mention is made of any "rights" such congregations may have, only "equities," and these seem to be rather grudgingly acknowledged and limited by the words in brackets. It must also be recognized that there is no inconsistency whatever with the spirit of the bill as a whole, in the provision that "the Commission shall not be bound by legal rules of evidence" and "its decisions, orders or directions shall be final and conclusive and not subject to review by any court."

ALEXANDRA ROSE DAY PLANNED BY I. O. O. E.

Yearly Collection to Take Place On June 30 for Child Welfare Work

Preliminary arrangements for Alexandra Rose Day, which is to be held on Saturday, June 30, were made at yesterday's meeting of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. O. E. The executive will take charge of the preparations with Mrs. H. P. Hodges as convener.

Stations Allotted.
Stations for the day were allotted to the following Chapters, who are requested to make the necessary arrangements for taggers:
Camosun Chapter, corner Broad and Yates Streets; Gonzales Chapter, Fort and Government; Lady Douglas Chapter, View and Douglas; Florence Nightingale Chapter, Hudson's Bay Store and City Hall; Equinault Chapter, Esquimalt; Navy League Chapter, View and Government; Robert Burns Chapter, Esquimalt Chapter, Douglas and Esquimalt; Margaret Rocke Robertson Chapter, Hlanhard and Fort Streets; and the Royal Victoria Theatre; Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, Fort and Douglas; Lady Alderson Chapter, Broad and View; Herbert Beaumont Boggs, and Robert Valentine Harvey Chapter, Broughton and Government; Bishop Cridge Chapter, Market and E. & N. Railway; Marguerite Chapter, Belmont Building and Union Club; Daisy's Chain Chapter, Post Office; Royal Bride Chapter, Broad and Fort Streets.

Mrs. Whittier reported for the garden fête to be held at Government House on July 7 in aid of the Navy League of Canada. Five Chapters are making themselves responsible for twenty-five cakes and $5 each. Two members from each Chapter are requested to assist with the preparation of the tea.

Soldiers' Graves.
Much discussion took place concerning the soldiers' graves work, following a report from Mrs. Morley Appleby, Municipal convener. She urged the Chapters to send in their subscriptions to this work without delay in order that obligations incurred last year might be met. Many requests have been received from relatives asking the Order to undertake the care of graves but it was found impossible to incur any fresh liabilities until the work already in hand has been paid for. Conveners are also asked to empty the crosses and leave them turned down on the graves.

Miss Agnew sent in a report of the May Day float and a vote of thanks was passed to her for her work, and to the Women's Canadian Club, for the loan of shields. Mrs. M. H. Connor, of the Municipal Maternity Committee, requests that all members of this committee get in touch with her without delay.

An announcement was made that the H.M.S. Resolution Chapter of young girls had on hand a supply of babies' woolies which they had knitted for this purpose.

Educational Report.
Miss Cooke gave her educational report; secondary education coming in for some discussion. The Chapter is sending a letter of congratulation to Miss Nona Bjornsfelt, of South Park School, who won first prize in the Sara Maxwell essay competition. The Chapter also learned with much pleasure of the excellent progress being made by students of whom I. O. O. E. bursaries have been granted and who are fully justifying the expectations of the allotment committee.

Yesterday's meeting was the last before the Summer vacation and Mrs. H. P. Hodges, first vice-regent, presided in the absence of Mrs. Curtis Sampson.

BERRIES FOR PRESERVING.

The Stanich Fruitgrowers' Association is making a special appeal to housewives to secure their berries for preserving while the price is low and the berries are firm. They are just now at their best and cheapest.

IS BEING HELPED BY JUNIOR RED CROSS

The little boy shown in this picture is one of three crippled children at present patients in the Vancouver General Hospital under the care of the Junior Red Cross of British Columbia. He is seven years of age and a sufferer from a diseased hip joint. The children suffer from serious orthopaedic defects and it is only the most expert treatment which will restore them to health and strength and allow them to proceed with their education.

One is a motherless girl of fourteen, whose father thought that she might lose her leg as the result of an accident, until at the instance of the Home Branch, Soldier Settlement Board, the Junior Red Cross Society of British Columbia undertook her care. Another dear little girl of nine years is also being treated for a diseased hip joint. The parents of these children are in every case unable to provide financially for the care required by these children, and further delay might render the cases hopeless.

Twenty-one needy cases have already been brought to the attention of the Junior Red Cross Committee. This is the work being done by the children of this Province who are organized into Junior Red Cross branches. Nearly two thousand children are at present engaged in this good work and an enrolment of many thousands is expected next September.

Guests recently registered at Strathcona Lodge, Swanigan Lake are: Mr. and Mrs. Henry, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Somp, Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis, Mr. Thomas Stimson, Mr. Porteous, Mr. Allmap, Mrs. Stanley Griffiths, Mrs. Albert Griffiths, Miss Elizabeth Griffiths, Master Church, Tacoma; Master Miller Griffiths, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mr. Loomis, Mr. and Mrs. N. During the afternoon of the final day high tea was served at the home of Mrs. McLellan, Marine Drive, West Vancouver, when members of Naamoi Chapter No. 16 entertained. Motor car drives were provided by the North Vancouver Chapter for the delegates and officers.

A BIG BLUNDER

"When my father died," said Betty, "he didn't owe a penny."
"Oh!" exclaimed Phyllis. "What a silly time to die!"

STRAWBERRIES—crimson and luscious—a jug of cream, and a generous bowl of that delicious, whole grain miracle, Puffed Wheat—the perfect breakfast for summer days. No trouble to prepare! No waste of food! Even people who whom breakfast makes little appeal are enticed by this light, appetizing repast.

An Ideal Breakfast for a Summer Day

Puffed Wheat is the whole grain in its most delicate and easily digested form. Through steam explosion, the grains are puffed to 8 times their normal size. The intensive cooking adds a delightful nutlike flavor that no one can resist.

Children welcome these nourishing puffed dainties at any hour of the day. Served with milk they provide perfectly balanced nutriment, because they supply the food elements that are lacking in milk. As an addition to ice cream they are delicious.

YOUR HOME AND YOU

By HELEN KENDALL
The Breakfast Fruit-Bowl

The little daughter of the family, who was learning the rudiments of home-making from her mother, was setting the breakfast table out on the veranda, under the pleasant shade of a drooping tree and a broadly striped awning. After placing the silver and glass for the meal she brought from the dining-room inside the bowl of flowers which had been on the dinner table the night before.

"If I were you, dear," remarked her mother, who was keeping a watchful eye on the breakfast preparations, "you would arrange a bowl of fruit for the centre of the table this morning, instead of using the flowers."

"The flowers are perfectly fresh," protested the future housekeeper. "Yes, I know they are, but you see we want to give the table a little bit different look in the morning, and fruit is always so tempting at breakfast time. Even though we are to have grapefruit to begin with and may not eat any of the fruit in the bowl at all, it gives a cool, fresh look to the table, don't you think so? Then when we come back to the flowers to-night at dinner, they will interest us more than if we had them before us at every meal."

"If you want to, I think it would be nice to have a fragrant fresh bouquet at everybody's plate this morning. You can bring in some roses, or a few sprays of forget-me-not. Then at luncheon we can have a single beautiful rose in the slender glass bud-vase, because luncheon is a lighter daintier meal than dinner, you know, and we must have a more delicate flower arrangement in the centre of the table. At the end of the low mass of lilies, columbine, and larkspur makes just the right decoration."

"We change the kind of food we have on the table three times a day, and as the decorative effect is just as important as the 'eats,' we ought to have a change of centerpiece as well."

Even an old grouch will say "much obliged" if you get him hungry enough.

ROTARIANS FEAST ON STRAWBERRIES

Members Disposed of Ten Crates of Berries at Sunset Farm

When it comes to attracting a large attendance to a meeting, probably the prospects of a big strawberry banquet is the most likely magnet to bring results. In any event such was the case at the Rotarians' strawberry banquet held at the Sunset Seed Co.'s farm at Gordon Head last night.

This property was previously owned by Rotarian Tom Walker, and it was through his influence that such a delightful spot was obtained for the holding of the regular weekly meeting of the Rotarian Club. Practically a full quota of members sat down to supper to partake of the delightful repast. Vice-President Frank J. Sehl was chairman, and expressed thanks on behalf of the organization at having the pleasant opportunity of holding the strawberry banquet at Sunset Farm.

Rotarian George Watson welcomed the club to Gordon Head, and gave a brief address on the berry-growing industry in the Spanish Municipal. He quoted figures which have already been published showing the rapid progress that has been made in the development of the strawberry growing industry, and the hopes for the future.

E. O. Blake, manager of the Sunset Seed Co., gave an address on the seed industry in Victoria. At present there are profusions of sweet peas in blossom at his farm. All of these will be allowed to go to seed, and sold for next year's domestic planting. This is a novel industry on this island, and well worth encouraging, Rotarians thought.

Mr. Blake pointed out the importance of the seed industry on Vancouver Island, and in illustrating the extent to which the business has already grown, stated that every pound of sweet pea seeds that would be produced this year on his farm had been sold already, and that most of the seed had been disposed of in Great Britain.

He pointed out how only a few years ago there had been no such industry, but starting on a small scale one large vacant lot in the city, seed growing on Vancouver Island had grown to such an extent that now there were several large growers on the island and adjacent islands.

Some ten crates of strawberries were disposed of during the supper hour by the Rotarians. Four crates were left over and these were auctioned off by Rotarian Stewart Williams. The proceeds will go in aid of the Spanish Health Centre. Community singing, led by Bob Webb, brought the banquet to a happy conclusion.

MANIPULATING MOTION PICTURE CAMERA

On the edge of the famous volcano Kilauea furnished plenty of excitement to the cast of "The White Flower," the new Betty Compton, Paramount picture, which was screened in the Hawaiian Islands, and which is on view at the Dominion Theatre. The company remained in Hawaii for several weeks, encompassing in that time beautiful back-ground views of Honolulu, exciting swimming scenes on the beach at Waikiki, scenes with a background of pineapple and sugar cane plantations and other views colorfully representative of the famous American possession. Miss Compton plays a half-caste Hawaiian girl, and is supported by Edmund Lowe, Edward Martindel, Arline Frost, Sylvia Ashton, Leon Barry and Lily Phillips.

THE INIMITABLE TOM MIX CAME TO TOWN AGAIN

The inimitable Tom Mix came to town again last night in a new Fox production, "Romance Land," and kept a capacity audience at the Columbia Theatre enthralled for over an hour, scoring one of the greatest successes of his highly successful career. His performance in this thrilling and fanciful romance was unusually well done. The forecast of the producer, stating that Tom Mix had achieved new heights of screen acting, was more than fulfilled. The film is commendable for many reasons. It shows careful direction, well written story and good photography, in addition to smooth and artistic acting. Another favorable point is the lively element of comedy that sparkles in twinkling fashion all through the picture.

Tom Mix carries out with consummate artistry his part as the youth who becomes so saturated with the adventures of Scott's "Ivanhoe," that he starts out to emulate that hero. A fine balance is preserved by the girl portraying the fair maid who places such implicit credence in the tales of King Arthur. There is a tournament done in modern Western style, which furnishes much thrilling incident. Tom Mix goes through many exciting stunts, among them a ride in mid-air, swinging in a tool bucket and from a cable. There are horseback stunts that make one gasp.

Summing up the points of the photoplay briefly, it is exceptionally worth while seeing. To miss it is to pass up a classic of the screen.

PRICELESS FURS IN "SLANDER THE WOMAN" AT ROYAL NEXT WEEK

Seven years ago Allen Holubar was well known as a leading man of the legitimate stage. To-day he is one of the screen's foremost producers. He was born August 3, 1890, in San Francisco, and was educated in the public schools of San Francisco.

His stage experience consisted of leading roles in the New York productions of "David Baddescu" and "Henry W. Savage." It was when he was playing the leading male part in "Henry W. Savage's production in "Everywoman" that he met Dorothy Phillips, who later became his wife. He met Dorothy Phillips in the stage production of "The Heart of Humanity," "The Right to Happiness," "Once to Every Woman" and "Man-Woman-Marrriage." Dorothy Phillips is starred in Mr. Holubar's latest production, "Slander the Woman," from the novel of Northeastern Canada by Jeffrey Deane, which is to be shown by the National at the Royal Theatre for six days, beginning next Monday.

BEAUTIES OF NATIONAL PARKS WILL BE SHOWN

On Saturday night an opportunity will be given the public of seeing on the screen motion pictures of the new Banff-Windermere Highway, and the Banff National Park. The exhibition has been arranged by the Victoria Automobile Club and will take place at 8:30 o'clock in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel. Some eleven films in all are included, featuring the beauty spots of this part of the Canadian Rockies, and the excellent work done by the Dominion Government in the development of the National Parks system and this wonderful scenic highway.

The beauties of this part of Canada are considered among the greatest assets the country possesses in the tourist traffic line and every citizen who can should avail himself or herself of this opportunity to become acquainted with the wonderful scenes that exist there.

Accompanying the pictures are two of the staff of the Department of National Parks, Messrs. Campbell and Forster. Both these gentlemen are well acquainted with the country shown in the films, and are experts in National Parks work. The Victoria Automobile Club wishes the general public to attend this exhibition as it is not planned for members only.

ROYAL VICTORIA

The English comedy success, "A Sister to Assist 'Er," which is the attraction again to-day at the Royal, is the story of the famous cockney fun-merchants, Mrs. May, Daisy, Alf and Jim 'Arris, who for years have made the London music halls shriek with laughter. These cheery cockney aristocrats will make all Victoria chortle with glee. The name of Mrs. May for years has been a by-word in England. In the music halls every time she opened her mouth it was a signal for roars of laughter, which at the famous tipping scene between her and Mrs. Mull worked up to a climax of joyous hysterics.

Do you like stories about kings and princesses; of love and feuds in castles? Then do not fail to see "Refuge" starring Katherine MacDonald, which is playing in connection with the above feature. The star is cast as the Countess Nada, and she does some remarkably fine acting in the role.

CAPITOL

George Meredith's world read story "Diana of the Crossways," the latest British production, is being shown at the Capitol this evening. Diana of the Crossways is the aristocrat of English films. Fay Compton, one of the most celebrated of English actresses, appears in the title role of "Diana." She is one of the most beautiful and accomplished actresses who has lately appeared on the screen. Miss Compton has great opportunity for her art and talent in the role of Diana, particularly in the scene of the great military ball where she is the cynosure of all eyes. Old general curse themselves for their age, young mothers and old maid and almost fought for a dance with the Belle of the ball. Her entrance into the whirl of London's society and her friendship with prominent Cabinet Ministers and the Premier of England are shown. How she becomes involved in the intrigues of court life, and saves her lover from ruin, are some of the incidents in this splendid production.

Leader of Suchow Raid Speaks English Well and Wears Rimmed Spectacles

Sze, Who Dragged White Passengers From Tientsin Train and Carried Them Off As Prisoners, Not Ferocious Bandit, But Is Complete Master of Any Situation, Declares Thomas H. Day, First of Released Captives to Reach Here.

Wearing horn-rimmed glasses and garments of foreign manufacture, and fairly well versed in the English language, Sze, the leader of the Suchow bandits which on May 6 derailed and looted the Tientsin express and carried its passengers as prisoners into the mountains, is not the ferocious individual that might be visualized of the leader of a lawless band of raiders, according to Thomas H. Day, of Ridgewood, New Jersey, first of the victims of the Chinese brigands to cross the Pacific.

Apparently none the worse for his great adventure, Mr. Day reached this city yesterday afternoon from Shanghai aboard the liner President McKinley. He is hurrying back to Ridgewood to rejoin his anxious family.

Sze, the Suchow bandit leader, is a returned student and has studied in the schools on this side of the Pacific. Mr. Day is inclined to believe. He is a harmless looking individual in a wide-brimmed hat and a long, thin mustache, but appears to have complete control of his gang of robbers. The bandits are mostly men who have seen service in the organized forces of China who on getting no pay, deserted from the ranks and took up banditry.

Loot For Pleasure.
The robbers take what loot they can get and rely upon armed pressure to get food as they embark upon their raiding expeditions.

In looting the train on the Tientsin-Pukow line early in May, after herding the scantily-clothed European and American prisoners outside before the break of dawn, the bandits stripped the train of everything removable, even to the bedding. There were 35 foreigners on the train.

Impregnable Base.
The Suchow bandit camp was located twenty miles from the railway line and the bandits appear to have operated from that base for a number of years. Five years ago, Mr. Day, who has had fifteen years' experience in China, was stopped at the same point by bandits, but at that time no foreigners were taken as captives.

Mr. Day expects recurrence of this banditry. There are continuous instances of piracy and brigandage in Northern China and the bandits are daily becoming more brazen and less respectful of foreigners.

Story of Raid.
The derailling of the train in the wild country of Suchow, the rough treatment of the white passengers and their forcible removal to capture are vividly described by Mr. Day in a typewritten statement which he issued on his arrival here as follows:

"I was one of the unfortunate passengers on the train on the Tientsin-Pukow line which was derailed and looted by bandits about three in the morning on May 6 last. I happened to be awake at the moment that morning.

Screaming Robbers
I felt the train leave the rails and stop with a heavy jar, immediately followed by a rattle of rifle fire. I looked out the window, and could see about 150 robbers lying in the grass firing towards the head of the train, and hundreds of armed Chinese running up under cover of the fire, screaming and also firing on the cars.

The windows and doors of the train were smashed, corridors filled in a few seconds with hundreds of bandits armed with Mauser pistols. They broke the glass in the upper part of the doors from the coupe to corridors, and as the occupants fled they dodged the flying bullets, the robbers in the corridor immediately fired across the coupe, adding to the panic.

The passengers were robbed and taken from the train as rapidly as possible, many of them without shoes or clothing, and herded a few hundred yards from the railway until the looting of the train was completed.

Well Armed
The bandits seemed to be well organized and numbered altogether in the neighborhood of some 2,000 men, half of whom were armed. The loot from the train was completed in twenty minutes or half an hour, and the passengers were taken at a very rapid march across farming country, rough ground and ploughed fields to the hills some twenty miles to the east of the scene of the wreck.

The bandits were extremely rough with the prisoners on the march, and the necessary haste on their part was imperative. I saw one Chinese prisoner, who was unable to travel at the required speed, and attempted to show resistance, shot by the guards.

Gave Up Donkey
Every village through which we passed, the bandits took what donkeys or ponies they could find, but it was extremely hard for the ladies, most of whom were barefoot, and there were not sufficient donkeys for them, until after we had traveled some miles. Right here let me say that Miss Lucy Aldrich, who was barefoot, but on a donkey, offered to give it up to Miss Stratford, and was being forced to march beyond her strength.

The band broke up into some five or six parties shortly after daylight. The prisoners were divided among those parties, about four or five foreign prisoners to a division. The particular division by which I was held was in charge of the bandit who appeared to be the chief of the outfit.

We traveled the farthest and made our halt about half past eight or nine in the morning. My horse, which was in the middle of the train, had no water or food. Of course, the sensible thing seemed to be to get what rest we could, so I stretched out under a hedge and went to sleep, and about eleven in the morning I was awakened by the No. 1 bandit and interpreter, and told that I must write a chit to the soldiers who were in pursuit and had come in contact with the bandit outposts. I wrote this in dictation, telling the soldiers to withdraw, and if they did not withdraw, the foreign prisoners would be killed immediately. This note was taken by one of the bandits, who removed his arms and ammunition, and I was told by the soldiers later that they had killed him.

Soldiers in Pursuit
About 2 o'clock the soldiers came in sight of us on the crest of the hill in front of our position, and commenced a fairly sharp fire on our position. The bandit immediately removed all the prisoners, except myself and two Chinese, and posted most of his band on the slope of the hill behind us. I was then asked to write another note to the soldiers, which I did. The note was given to the bandits, who were prisoners to take across. These two Chinese got just outside the gate of the compound, in which we were kept. The soldiers, seeing them, fired on them, they lost their nerve and came back, refusing to go unless a foreigner accompanied them. I was then asked if I was willing to undertake the delivery of the note along with the two Chinese, and, of course, welcomed the opportunity.

Firing at Random
As the firing was pretty sharp from the soldiers, and the bandits behind us also fired, apparently taking us for escaping prisoners, the trip was not without its exciting moments. However, we reached the soldiers unhurt, and the night with them, and we were able to reach Lincheng the following day, and continue the journey to Tientsin the next day.

Skipper Joined Lovers In Wedlock as Vessel Lurched in Heavy Seas

Romance of Sea Culminated Aboard S.S. President McKinley Tuesday Night When Lulotte Pavlovitch Became the Wife of H. E. Buchler to Sound of Ship's Bells.

Real excitement developed on board the Admiral-Oriental liner President McKinley on her recent voyage when Capt. Alvin O. Lustie took it upon himself to usurp the functions of a clergyman by uniting in marriage two of his passengers whose hearts had been fatally pierced by Cupid's fusilade.

The cause of it all was Lulotte Pavlovitch, a dainty French danseuse with a Russian cognomen, who, on the outward voyage to the Orient, fell in love with H. E. Buchler, a patent promoter of San Francisco with an attractive personality.

The love-sick swains naturally drifted back across the Pacific on the same steamer as an engaged couple. The President McKinley made quite a fast passage of less than ten days from Yokohama, but the lovers could not wait and with a certain amount of trepidation they approached the captain, to whom the romance was unfolded by the blushing couple.

Rough Wedding.
All the world loves a lover, and Captain Lustie a most genial and accommodating skipper, fell in with the proposal and agreed to tie the marital knot.

But it was a rough wedding. The skipper may have had an inkling, but the prospective bride and bridegroom had not taken the elements into consideration. It was a private affair and there was no hover of roses in the captain's cabin. Just two witnesses were present, Purser Leo Matthews acting as best man and Miss Mary Brown Hunter, of Seattle, standing as maid of honor.

Will' Under Difficulties.
As the response were made by the participants the ship took a lurch, slightly more pronounced than the preliminary dips caused by the heavy following sea, and the bridegroom in the ceremony grabbed at the nearest piece of furniture in order to retain their equilibrium. The captain danced himself against the bulkhead desk and proceeded with the marriage lines.

It was awfully rough and I was glad when it was over," said the bride in her most charming post-nuptial manner when The Times representative insisted upon getting a detailed account of the maritime ceremony.

The passengers were kept in total ignorance of the wedding, and it was not until the bride and bridegroom, escorted by the best man purser and maid of honor emerged from the captain's quarters that the startling news was broadcast to the astonished audience of passengers. The wedding took place at eight bells Tuesday night. On the following night the captain's dinner and this negated an idea in the minds of the passengers but served the purpose of a wedding banquet.

Was It a Dare?
Someone said the marriage before the completion of the voyage was the outcome of one of the ship's complement "daring" Miss Pavlovitch to go through with it, but the lady only said that she was questioned on the matter.

Mrs. Buchler may go back on the stage after her honeymoon. She has danced in every European country except Germany and Russia, she stated. Some of her dance specialties are the French Apache dance, the Mexico and the Argentina tango.

Only seven more days then we close at 1421 Douglas St. Everything is love to you and your family and fixtures must go. Seabrook Young, 1421 Douglas St.

MASTER OF YACHT OHIO GOING HOME

Capt. C. B. Kirkpatrick Left Scripps's Craft at Hongkong

To Take Command of Mortimer Schiff's New Yacht

"We cleared Cape Cod in October and I left the Ohio at Hongkong after steaming around the globe," said Capt. C. B. Kirkpatrick, shipmaster of Norfolk, Va., and until recently master of the private steam yacht owned by W. E. Scripps, the well known newspaper publisher.

Capt. Kirkpatrick arrived in port yesterday afternoon as a passenger on board the Admiral Oriental liner President McKinley.

"I made just one voyage for Scripps and I am now going back to Mortimer Schiff, my former employer, who is having built a new private yacht. Mortimer Schiff is the well known banker of the United States.

Capt. Kirkpatrick navigated the Scripps yacht Ohio from New York to the Orient with the yacht's owner and a private party aboard. The Ohio, a sailing craft, was left at Hongkong and boarded the President McKinley for home.

Mr. Scripps, Capt. Kirkpatrick stated, just escaped the Suchow raid, which was held up by Chief Bandit Sze and his Suchow raiders. It was his intention to travel by that train and was at first reported among the captives.

A grass fire of serious proportions broke out at Beacon Hill at 5:20 yesterday evening, and gave the department a good workout to finally put it out. After having once subdued the flames, the department was called out again at 7 p. m. to attend to the remains of a smoldered, and sprang again into life.

A big crowd is expected in the Armories this evening on the occasion of the dance arranged in aid of the community band concert fund. Music will be supplied by the Fifth Regiment and 16th Canadian Scottish bands augmented by musicians from the local orchestras. The musicians are giving their services free in order to help the fund and it is hoped that the general public will support the undertaking in large numbers.

LEGATEE'S MONEY AT VANISHING POINT

Prolonged Legal War of At-trition Bears Heavily On Frank Pulice

Beneficiary Under Roundy Will Was Saddled With Whole Costs, Court Told

Amassed by the testator in a lifetime of unrelenting toil in mining claims in this Province, principally in Alice Arm, the issue of the modest fortune left by the late Franklin Rish Roundy was brought before the courts again to-day, when S. T. Hankey moved in the Court of Appeal for a variation of an order made by the court in October last.

The testator left an estate of some $60,000, and two wills. Under the first will all American holdings were left to his sister and sole relative, Mrs. Roundy Glynn, resident in New Hampshire, and the Canadian holdings to Frank Pulice. The second will left the bulk of the estate to the sister and the residue, named as such, to Frank Pulice, of this city. The will was unsuccessful in the courts for a considerable time, and finally Pulice was successful in securing a judgment which in effect would have netted him approximately $15,000.

To the judgment of the Court of Appeal in October last, however, was appended an order which ruled the costs of the expensive litigation would be carried by the estate. The accepted rule, it was explained to-day, is for such costs to be carried by the residue of the estate, or Pulice's portion in this case. The costs which went to cover the services of noted counsel on a number of occasions in court, amount now to over $10,000, the court was told.

Mr. Hankey urged the Court of Appeal to vary its order so that these costs would be carried in proportion by the beneficiaries under the second will. The order as it now read, would mulet Pulice of the fruits of his victory in the courts at the benefit of the beneficiaries under the first will. Mr. Hankey could not have been the intention of the court. The court had power to vary the order, for it was founded on what might be termed an error on the part of the court for Pulice in not asking at the time.

Chief Justice Macdonald pointed out that the court had made the usual order in such a case, that the estate should bear the costs, and that it had not been pointed out that this would be an injustice to anyone. It was only after the acceptance of the ruling of the court by its clients, and an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada, if his clients were to be now saddled with a portion of the costs after their right of appeal had been lost, would be an injustice to them.

James McGee, for the Standard Trust Company, plaintiff in the main action, joined in opposing the motion. Money had been paid out under the order as it stood, and a variation now varied its order after forty years had rolled away. Judgment was reserved, the court again pointing out that it was an omission or error on the part of counsel for Pulice, if by anyone at all.

GANG ATTACKS POLICEMAN

Knocked down and jumped on by a gang of rowdy boys at Central Park yesterday because he sought to take their names in connection with the alleged breaking of swings there, Frederick Cawsey, police constable on probation, was badly handled before aid by the shape of the police patrol manned by Detective Phillips, Stark and Constable Shakespeare arrived on the scene. When reinforcements were at hand the boys had left.

Runaway Car Drops From Street Over Cliffside

Sydney Jenkins, of 332 Catherine Street, Victoria, West, nearly missed the same fate for his new Ford car which befel the Guldreine swine of old. The car ran away down a steep place at Lime Bay, but broke its fall on a landing, dropping eventually to the beach from the cliff above.

Mr. Jenkins came home at a late hour Wednesday evening and stopped his car outside his home where he opened the garage doors. The street slopes sharply to the bay, and is without protection by railing. The car suddenly started, ran 39 feet to the edge of the incline, and then began its course to the beach 40 feet below. After the fall it was impossible to reach it that night in the darkness, but yesterday morning the wrecking gang of the Revercomb Motors, Limited, began a salvage effort which lasted four hours. The car, which was not seriously damaged, is now under repair at the Revercomb plant.

The residents of the street express surprise that accidents have not occurred before at this point, and, owing to its physical conditions.

VICTORIA BOY WEDS TELKWA BRIDE

Clarence R. Goodacre Married in North On Friday Last

Telkwa, June 18.—A quiet but extremely pretty wedding was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. McDonald on Friday evening at 5 o'clock, when Miss Bertha Winnifred McDonald became the bride of Clarence R. Goodacre, son of Samuel Goodacre, of Victoria.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. W. G. Mawhinney, under an arch which was a mass of roses and other flowers, but yesterday morning given away by her father, was very sweet in white crepe de Chine. She carried white carnations interlaced with smilax. The orange blossoms and other relatives and a few intimate friends were present. The mother of the bride in pearl grey satin received the guests.

After the register was signed the guests partook of a very dainty wedding breakfast during which the bride cut the cake.

The groom's gift to the bride was a white gold set with pearl solitaire, to the bridesmaid a gold pearl pin.

Many handsome presents were received by the young couple who are very popular, both having been on the staff of the Royal Bank for a number of years. A dance was held for them in the evening at the Telkwa Hall, when their many friends wished them life long happiness.

CHINAMEN AND POLL TAX

Tax Collectors Operate "On Demand"; Not Added to "Call Again"

The fate of those who fail to meet the demands of Collector Leonard Gower in payment of their poll tax, and the tax on such employees as they hire is growing increasingly hard. To-day in the City Police Court Wong Wo, charged with failure to pay $5 in poll tax, and four compatriots in his service, was fined $5, assessed $2.50 costs, and advised to pay the five poll taxes amounts in question before he was brought up again.

The accused testified that he was willing to pay, but being momentarily embarrassed had asked the collector to call on him in two weeks. He "call again" about the statute remarked the collector, and the fine was imposed. Dr. J. E. Montgomery, charged with speeding, was remanded for hearing on Wednesday. Joseph Thibault, charged with improper car parking was fined $5.

SOLDIER WINS SUIT AGAINST COMPANY

Was Sufferer From Merville Fire Last Summer

In a written judgment handed down in the Supreme Court Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald awards the plaintiff in the action of Marshall versus the Western Mutual Insurance Company $923.50 and costs on the county court scale. The plaintiff, a returned soldier of the Merville regiment, lost his barn and goods in the forest fire of last Spring and brought suit to recover the amount of the policy. J. B. Clearhough acted for the plaintiff and H. B. Robertson, K.C., for the defendants. A similar suit against another defendant will come on for hearing shortly arising out of the same disastrous forest fire, when many returned soldier farmers lost their buildings and furniture.

The Supreme Court was silent today after the rush of cases in the past few weeks.

STEEL DELAYED, BRIDGE HELD UP

C. P. R. Head Asked to Rush Supplies, Needed for City Viaduct

Delay in shipments of steel from eastern Canada is blocking progress on the new Johnson Street Bridge, it was announced at the offices of the City Engineer to-day.

In an effort to speed up shipments, held at Midway, B. C., for unknown reasons, the Canadian Bridge Company, bridge contractors, have wired to Grant Hall, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and urged him to see that steel is delivered here as soon as possible.

"The steel which has been delayed—two carloads of it—must be right away," City Engineer F. M. Preston explained to-day. "Construction work cannot proceed without it. Other steel, which is not needed immediately, has arrived but the parts most required are being held up. This is a serious matter. Every day of delay costs money and, of course, retards the completion of the bridge just that much."

It is understood here that the steel fabricated by the Canadian Bridge Company at Midway, in Walkerville, Ontario, was switched off the main line of the C. P. R. on account of slides in the Rockies. As the two carloads of steel were delayed at Midway on the boundary between British Columbia and Washington, it is supposed that the steel was routed south through Washington. Where it is now is not known here.

SAYS "DUMB" MAN SWORE AT RECORD

Portrait in Rogues Gallery Inspired Speech

Arrested by Constable Owens, of the Provincial Police, for soliciting Neal W. Matheson, purporting to be a deaf mute, motioned for paper and pencil in the police station to convey his thoughts.

Picture Too Much
When, allege the police, they showed him a photograph of himself with a police record in Vancouver, Calgary and other towns on both sides of the line Matheson swore the good round oath of a man who had full and unrestricted use of his lungs and lips.

Matheson, who had, say the police, a number of aliases, was handed over to Constable Hastings, of the South force, and will be arraigned in court to-morrow. The man was arrested while soliciting from door to door with a paper which declared him to be deaf and dumb, it is alleged.

FOREST FIRE CASE IN APPEAL COURT

The hearing of Coryell versus the Bertha Consolidated Gold Mining Company resumed in the Court of Appeal this morning with E. C. Mayers for the plaintiff-appellant and H. B. Robertson, K.C., and F. B. Hetherington for the defendant-respondent.

The appeal opened yesterday, and is one of the most important cases of damages as the result of the loss by forest fire of cedar posts on the Ketchikan railway right-of-way near Lynch Creek. Negligence was set up, and denied by the defendants, who claimed in turn that their mine was operated by a subsidiary company, and they were not liable. Judge Brown had found a fact that a spark from the air compressor in the mines had fired the underbrush, causing the forest fire. The amount of the claim was for $275.

The peremptory list includes Coryell versus Bertha Consolidated Gold Mining Company, Succession Duty Act and E. H. Grunder Estate, and E. C. Mills and Trading Company and Taxation Act.

The hearing of the appeal in re Succession Duty Act and the Estate of E. H. Grunder, to follow the case at bar, is of considerable interest. The appeal is one by the Crown from a decision of Mr. Justice Morrison, who held that no duties were payable under the estate by the beneficiaries.

Edward H. Grunder died on April

Where Money Goes

The Board of Education has issued its report on the cost of the Arts College, which provides two years of university education for the students without the expense of living in another city, are particularly gratifying. The net cost of the college last year, it is shown, was $14,208.52. But if the college were not in existence the city would have to provide one year's college education under the name of senior matriculation work at the High School. This, it is shown, would cost $11,877 a year. Thus the college is an added expense of well under $3,000 a year, and it provides two years of education. Besides, the work at the college has been quite as successful as work at the British Columbia University itself, whereas the cost of matriculation was most unsatisfactory.

School trustees said to-day that the new figures showing the extraordinarily low cost of the college would dispel the claims of critics who have been making wild statements about the heavy expenses of the institution. The trustees feel that the college is perhaps the most successful educational institution under their control.

College Costs Little

The net cost of the college last year, it is shown, was $14,208.52. But if the college were not in existence the city would have to provide one year's college education under the name of senior matriculation work at the High School. This, it is shown, would cost $11,877 a year. Thus the college is an added expense of well under $3,000 a year, and it provides two years of education. Besides, the work at the college has been quite as successful as work at the British Columbia University itself, whereas the cost of matriculation was most unsatisfactory.

School trustees said to-day that the new figures showing the extraordinarily low cost of the college would dispel the claims of critics who have been making wild statements about the heavy expenses of the institution. The trustees feel that the college is perhaps the most successful educational institution under their control.

FOREST FIRE THREATENS SUMMER COLONY—More than 700 men have been battling a forest fire in the rural region of Cape Cod day and night. Many beautiful Summer residences were threatened. Here trench diggers are shown preparing a setback fire between Sandwich and Sagamore.

BELLEVILLE IS EXPORT CENTRE FOR EASTERN RUM TRADE TO STATES—The city of Belleville is one of the leaders in export of whisky to the United States, gaining this distinction through its proximity to the town of Corbyville, where are situated the Consolidated Breweries, Limited. Top picture shows the government dock at Belleville with freight cars filled with "Corby's" waiting to be unloaded. Left centre is a rum-running boat with its cargo of whisky cases stored, the ends of the cases being visible through the doors. Right centre is a motor launch being loaded with whisky. Bottom is the office of the Consolidated Distilleries at the Belleville dock. So great is this export allowable under Canadian law that a regular staff has to be maintained at the wharf, with watchmen night and day guarding the railway cars which bring the liquor down from Corbyville.

TABBY'S RAISED ON A BOTTLE—Here's a fortunate kitten enjoying his dinner from a bottle. Poised on his back, he uses his paws to balance the milk container.

AFTER EIGHT YEARS in the wilderness Connie Mack at last appears to have made good his declaration that he would build up another pennant contending team, after breaking up his $100,000 infield in 1914. His Athletics are now crowding the New York Yankees for the American League leadership.

SAID THE KING TO THE GOB—King George of Greece was walking in his palace grounds at Athens. So was Paul F. Skewes, U. S. Navy. They met. And the king stopped to tell a tale or two of the sea, having been a sailor himself.

UPHEAVAL—Marcel Cachin, Communist member of the Chamber of Deputies, is the centre of the political upheaval in France which may result in the resignation of Premier Poincare and his cabinet.

NONCHALANCE—The photographer asks Benito Mussolini, premier of Italy, to pause for his photo. And the old boy assumes an easy air, not troubling even to remove the languid cigarette. This, in Rome.

"PRESIDENT OF AFRICA" TO SERVE U. S. PRISON TERM. New York, June 22.—Marcus Garvey, self-styled "Provisional President of Africa," was sentenced yesterday to the Atlanta Penitentiary for five years for fleecing the public through sale of Black Star Steamship Line stock. He was convicted of having used the mails to defraud. Garvey was led into court by a heavy guard placed around him to prevent attempts at rescue and to protect him from duped investors. 1,197,000 IN BRITAIN WITHOUT EMPLOYMENT. London, June 22.—(Canadian Press Cable). The unemployment situation in Great Britain, which has been steadily improving in recent months, underwent a setback last week when the number was increased to 1,900,000. The total number of unemployed was reported as 1,197,000.

"TRUMPET SEANCE" SPOILED When Doubter Flashes a Light. Cincinnati, O., June 21.—This vicinity either is on the verge of a spiritist revelation, or about to be entertained to some rich humor. And all because police and other investigators are determined to rid the community of so-called fake mediums, who prey upon the gullible. Recently a seance in Covington, Ky., a city across the Ohio River, was mysteriously broken up when a policeman in the "circle" gathered in his arms the supposed spirit of his grandmother. And upon the heels of this episode, came another alleged exposure in which a "trumpet seance" came to grief when a doubter flashed a light. Now in the occult are determined to produce psychic phenomena to offset unfavorable publicity. The Covington case has aroused considerable attention. Police Present. Twenty-nine persons, including police and newspaper men, attended the materialization seance held by Mrs. Mary Langley, who was unaware that any law was sent that of the other world was present. The "trumpet" songs were sung, and then through the dimness of a very dark room, a curtain of a cabinet opened. "Speak! A white form began to fill about. Horrors!" Mrs. Rosebud whispered one of the old-timers. Rosebud, it was explained, was the supposed daughter of "Uncle Jim" Alton, who has assisted Mrs. Langley for a year and a half. "Evening, Rosie," called a regular. "How's everybody?" asked the spirit. Rosie then asked a series of questions of a man wearing a lodge pin. She also told an elderly man from her home to pick up a horse named Pumps at Church Hill Downs. "We know what horse will win," piped Rosebud, "cause we go to the jockey shed." (Pumps ran five days later, finished second and paid $1.) She then scolded Uncle Jim because he hadn't brought candy, but accepted a piece of chewing gum as a substitute. "Well, grandmothers," turned to the next, and who should appear but the spirit of his grandmother! "Well, grandmother," Ricken said, and being of an affectionate bent of mind, he embraced her. At the word "Well," a reporter flashed a light, and oh, boy! The spook wriggled away and dived unceremoniously under the table, and when the smoke blew over, Mrs. Langley and Alton were under arrest for disorderly conduct. Alton later said he had been fooled, and that he believed he had been talking with departed dead. Mrs. Charles B. Pressnall, trumpet medium, was taken into custody in this city after an investigator claimed to have exposed the voice coming from the trumpet as belonging to Mrs. Pressnall. Through her attorney she has said she does not consent to a trumpet test in court. "Such a test would not be conclusive," she explains. "Sir Oliver Lodge is a spiritist believer and yet the same tests that convinced him have failed to move other scientists." But Mrs. Langley will contest her case to a finish, she said. "Ever since a child I have been psychic. The spirits would come to me and talk to me. This is all a frame-up. "The down they say was found, was planted. I never had anything like it. Officers say the "spirit" was wrapped in a white cloth, which they found. I was in a trance when the interruption took place, so I do not know what happened. More than one medium has been paralyzed by such interruptions. I am ill now. "But I have retained a lawyer and will prove I am sincere. I will give a test seance to prove to the satisfaction of the court I can materialize the spirits. They little knew that I am a widely known medium and have worked in Cleveland, Kansas City, Mo., Kansas City, Kan., St. Louis, Indianapolis, Kankakee, Ill., and other cities. "The two worlds can be connected. It is natural law. This condition is brought about by good thoughts and good conditions. I have absolutely no fear of failure or conviction."

CONTROL OF LAKE RATES DISCUSSED

Bills Given First Reading By House of Commons. Ottawa, June 22.—There was a long, and at times vigorous discussion in the House to-night over the resolution introduced by Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce, to provide for the control of grain rates on ships on the Great Lakes. The resolution was the result of the report of the Royal Commission's inquiry on that subject and the members of the commission came in for criticism. The resolution provided for the control of grain freight rates by the Board of Grain Commissioners and Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative, Vancouver Centre—asked the Minister why the Grain Commissioners were empowered to take care of this matter rather than the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners. Mr. Robb said it was felt that the Grain Commissioners at the head of the lakes, conversant with the grain trade, were better fitted to handle the matter intelligently than a board in Ottawa, far from the scene of operations. Said Rates Increased. Robert Forke, Progressive leader, said that following the last session of Parliament the members from the prairie provinces had returned home fairly well-satisfied with what they had succeeded in doing to reduce freight rates. Later they were much disappointed to observe that what they had accomplished in reducing railway freight rates was practically nullified by increased lake freight rates. Last year the shipping men had formed a combine and returned home rates as high as eight cents a bushel, and brokers had refused cents to shippers unless the cargo was insured through them, he said. The demand that Government should be used for carrying grain on the lakes was met with the reply that the vessels of Government Merchant Marine were not suitable for this trade. It had been brought out at the investigation that ten or eleven of the vessels might have been used to break the combine. Mr. Robb interjected that some of the vessels had been used for carrying grain. Doubtful Power. Hon. A. K. Maclean was opposed to the resolution on the ground that he doubted the competency of Parliament to pass such legislation. R. A. Hoey, Progressive, Springfield, Manitoba, asked if the Government had consulted the law officers of the crown as to their power to prosecute the individuals of this combine. Western Canada, in its present mood, demanded such prosecution. Mr. Robb said this measure had been submitted to the law officers of the crown, but he realized that it might be challenged. The resolution was carried and the committee proceeded to discuss the resolution granting power to the Government to repeal the coasting laws. This was carried with practically no discussion and bills, based on the resolutions were introduced and given first reading.

POLICEMAN ARRESTS GRANDMA'S 'SPOOK' IN SPIRIT WAR

"Trumpet Seance" Spoiled When Doubter Flashes a Light. Cincinnati, O., June 21.—This vicinity either is on the verge of a spiritist revelation, or about to be entertained to some rich humor. And all because police and other investigators are determined to rid the community of so-called fake mediums, who prey upon the gullible. Recently a seance in Covington, Ky., a city across the Ohio River, was mysteriously broken up when a policeman in the "circle" gathered in his arms the supposed spirit of his grandmother. And upon the heels of this episode, came another alleged exposure in which a "trumpet seance" came to grief when a doubter flashed a light. Now in the occult are determined to produce psychic phenomena to offset unfavorable publicity. The Covington case has aroused considerable attention. Police Present. Twenty-nine persons, including police and newspaper men, attended the materialization seance held by Mrs. Mary Langley, who was unaware that any law was sent that of the other world was present. H. G. WELLS' FAMOUS OUTLINE OF HISTORY

The Romance of Mother Earth. Nineteenth Century Progress. What Darwinism Did. and subtle. Hence a new scorn for the ideal of democracy that had ruled the earlier nineteenth century, and a revived admiration for the overbearing and the cruel. At was quite characteristic of the times that Mr. Kipling should lead the children of the middle and upper-class British public back to the jungle, to learn "the law," and that in his book "Stalky & Co." he should give an appreciative description of the torture of two boys by three others, who have by a subterfuge tied their religion helplessly before revealing their hostile intentions. It is worth while to give a little attention to this incident in "Stalky & Co." because it lights up the political psychology of the British empire at the close of the nineteenth century, very vividly. The history of the last half century is not to be understood without an understanding of the mental attitude which this story exemplifies. The two boys who are tortured are "bullies," that is the excuse of their tormentors, and these latter have been excited to the orgy by a clergyman. Nothing can restrain the gusto with which they (and Mr. Kipling) set about their work. Before resorting to torture, the teaching seems to be, see that you pump up a little justifiable moral indignation, and all will be well on your side, then you cannot be blamed. Such, apparently, is the simple doctrine of this typical imperialist. But every bully has to the best of his ability followed that doctrine since the human animal developed sufficient intelligence to be consciously cruel. One important point in the story is very significant indeed. The head master and his clerical assistant are both represented as being privy to the affair. They want this bullying to occur. Instead of exercising their own authority, they use these boys, who are Mr. Kipling's heroes, to punish the two victims. Head master and clergyman turn a deaf ear to the complaints of an indignant mother. All this Mr. Kipling represents as a most desirable state of affairs. In this we have the key to the ugliest, most retrograde, and finally fatal idea of modern imperialism: the idea of a tacit conspiracy between the law and illegal violence. Just as the tarsdom wrecked itself at last by a further encouragement of the ruffians of the black hundreds, who massacred Jews and other people supposed to be inimical to the tar, so the good name of the British Imperial Government has been tainted—and it will be tainted by an illegal raid made by Doctor Jameson into the Transvaal before the Boer war, by the adventures of Sir Edward Carson and Mr. F. E. Smith (now Lord Birkenhead) in Ireland and by the tacit connivance of the British government in Ireland with the loyalists against the perpetrators of Sinn Fein outrages. By such treasons against their subjects, empires destroy themselves. The true strength of rulers and empires lies not in armies and navies, but in the belief of men that they are inflexibly open and truthful and legal. So soon as a government departs from that standard, it ceases to be anything more than the gang in possession, and its days are numbered. Copyright, 1921, by the Macmillan Company. FOR THE CHILDREN

The Sandman Story For To-night. JACK RABBIT'S LUCKY FOOT. Yes, sir, Mr. Fox, if you only could get the left hind foot of Mr. Rabbit or some of her relatives you would never again have a day of bad luck," said Jimmy Crow looking down at Mr. Fox from the limb of the tree where he was perched. Jimmy turned his head from side to side as he kept both of his bright eyes fastened upon Mr. Fox to see how he took this information. Mr. Fox sat looking up at Jimmy Crow while he talked. "How do you know so much about a rabbit's foot bringing good luck?" he asked. "How do I know?" replied Jimmy. "Why, I know some one who has carried one all his life and never has had a really unlucky day—YET." Mr. Fox had just had a very unlucky morning. He had caught his paw in a trap up at the farm and it had caused him a great deal of pain to pull it out and how he limped. Besides that, he did not get any breakfast and with a lame foot he had little chance of getting any food that day. "I wish I knew where to get one," sighed Mr. Fox. "I need luck worse than any one I know." "I should think you would know just where to get one," said Jimmy Crow with a sly wink. "I thought you often had rabbit pie for your dinner." "W—hy yes of course," said Mr. Fox. "I never thought of that. I thought you had to and the left hind foot somewhere." "Well, you do," cawed Jimmy as he spread his wings ready to fly away. Jimmy was usually FINE as a rabbit, don't you, before you have it for dinner? Look under the bushes, Mr. Fox. And away flew Jimmy to the woods. Now listening among the bushes saw Mr. Jack Rabbit. He was well aware why Jimmy Crow had given him this advice. For that morning he had been scudding about in the garden of Mr. Man at the farm not far off and Mr. Crow had flown down to get his breakfast. When Mr. Man came running he saw Jimmy flying up from the corn and he shot at him, thinking Mr. Fox who was a great help to Mr. Man, had barked to tell him Jimmy Crow was eating his corn. Mr. Man did not hit Jimmy but one shot from the gun grazed a wing and scared him pretty badly and so he wanted to get even with Jack Rabbit by getting Mr. Fox to chase him. Jack Rabbit had hidden under the bushes, for he saw Mr. Fox coming and it was his chance to show the sharp eyes of Jimmy Crow spied him and knew he was cornered and told Mr. Fox. Mr. Fox was hungry but he could not run and so for that day at least Jack Rabbit's left hind foot again brought him luck. Though if you had asked Jack he probably would have said that the other three feet would go with the left hind one to bring him real luck. Suggested Reconstruction of Machinery of World Court. St. Louis, Mo., June 22.—President Harding, on his way to Alaska, addressed a large audience in the Coliseum here last night, departing afterwards for Kansas City. Cheering and snouts greeted the President's first reference to the World Court, and there was additional applause when he pronounced against "a League court." A statement that the country would refuse again, no less decisively than in 1920, to enter the League of Nations, got applause, but the assertion that "the issue of the League of Nations is as dead as slavery" was passed over by the audience. The President's suggestion for reconstruction of the creative machinery of the court was listened to attentively by the audience, sweltering in the hot hall. Usual Course Reversed. After presenting his suggestions, Mr. Harding departed from his prepared address to say that in the case of the World Court proposal, the usual course had been reversed in that the Executive had presented the matter first to the Senate instead of negotiating an agreement first and laying it before the Senate as a second step. Probably the loudest applause during the address came when he declared he was determined not to impose his will upon any body.

Marcia Mason's Lucky Star

Romance Comes to a Pretty Little School Teacher in the One Way She Would Have Thought Impossible. Tillie was on the warpath. "There's a law about false pretenses. He ought to be sued. If I was a man I'd trounce the middle of the road with him." Mother was furtively wiping away a tear or two herself. "Marcia, there's something about you that makes me think of myself when I see a girl. On Saturday it developed that there were enough young people here for the week-end to get up a fair-sized picnic crowd. Cars were prohibited. Tommie Hickson was to bring a hayrack, so they could all go together. Mother thought it a fine plan and began bustling preparations for a basket supper. Tillie whose emotion over Marcia had worn off, was disgruntled to have the Saturday work upset. "You do spoil them girls, Molly," she volunteered. "Here's Kathie engaged to that Baldridge, and Marcia a grown woman, and even Eleanor they ought to be hemming sheets and darning socks. Instead a gala-vanting round to picnics." "Tillie," Mother said calmly, "a very wise poet once wrote about a rich old man who was robbed of all his wealth. The poem ends: 'They robbed him not of a golden shred Of childish dreams in his wise old head. And, 'Tillie, we're welcome to all things When the robbers came to rob him. I figure you can buy sheets and comforts in any department store, but you can't buy dreams and memories of youth." "Pis," Tillie had a special snort that denoted scorn. "You can't eat dreams nor cover your nakedness with memories." To Be Continued.

SAANICH FARMER DIED IN FIELD

Son Finds Body While Looking for Parent

Thinking his father, William Henry Matthias, Saanichton, had been absent too long when he went to secure a horse in the paddock, Charles H. Matthias, his son, went to look yesterday afternoon. He found his father lying dead in a field.

The late Mr. Matthias was sixty-five years of age, resident in Saanich for the past fifteen years; and had spent twenty years in Alberta farming before coming here from his birthplace in Ontario.

Death had been due to natural causes, it was thought; but an inquest will be held to-morrow to deal with the case. Chief Druggan and the Saanich police were summoned upon the finding of the body, and the remains removed to the Met'nal funeral parlors. Coroner E. C. Hart will preside at the inquest to be held to-morrow.

The late Mr. Matthias is survived by his son Charles H. Matthias, three brothers, George H. New Westminster, Frank, Douche, B.C., and C. Z. Matthias, of Toronto. Funeral arrangements are delayed pending the arrival of the relatives.

FOREST FIRES DOWN TO LOW LEVEL

Forest fires are being kept down in British Columbia this year, partly as a result of the complete system of protection organized by the government department, P. Z. Caverhill, chief forester, announced to-day.

Only forty new fires were reported throughout the Province during the last week, the lowest number for any week yet. This brings the total for the season up to 367. On the corresponding date last year 517 fires had been reported.

Weather conditions throughout the Province are now reported normal.

DISMISSAL OF TEACHERS TO GO TO COURTS

Supreme Court Judge to Arbitrate Saanich Dispute Immediately

The legality of the Saanich School Board's action in dismissing all its teachers at the end of this term will be tested before a Supreme Court Judge, as a result of a decision reached at a conference between members of the Board and a delegation of teachers last night.

The issue in dispute will be submitted to the courts with the consent of both sides. This course was suggested to the Board last night by a delegation led by J. O. Welch, president of the Saanich Branch of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation. After a discussion in committee the Board approved of the plan.

School Board members said that they had legal advice to the effect that the notices of dismissal sent to teachers were quite legal, while the teachers declared that their legal advice was just the opposite of this. The only way to settle the question appeared to be a court action.

Mr. Welch suggested that if the Board and teachers were agreed on the facts, a stated case could go before the courts and argued before a Supreme Court Judge. The legal advice for eight days, the majority of the Board, and the teachers were agreed on a short time. It was necessary to act quickly, he pointed out, as the courts will shortly start their long vacation.

Finally the Board agreed to submit to a Supreme Court Judge in chambers the question as to the validity of the action of the board in dismissing the whole of the teachers for eight days—the reason being for re-organization.

CADETS WILL SOON BE UNDER CANVAS

1,200 Boys From Island and Lower Mainland Will Camp at Sidney

A body of cadets from Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland, 1,200 strong, will go under canvas at Sidney, June 23. They will remain for eight days. The majority of the boys will be from Victoria and lower Vancouver Island.

The main instruction will be carried out by the cadet officers themselves, and the instructors of the respective corps, who are accompanying the boys. A medical officer and nurse will be assigned to the camp from the district headquarters, and everything within the power of the military staff of District No. 11 will be done to make the outing beneficial to the boys, as well as pleasant and instructive. Physical training and the usual routine of cadet instruction along military lines will be carried out to the advantage of the campers. Lieut.-Col. H. C. Greer will act as camp commandant.

A quota of 149 all ranks will go from the New Westminster battalion under the command of Captain F. J. Simpson, officer-commandant, assisted by Lieut. Turnbull, M. C., Adjutant Lieut. H. A. Eckhardt and Bandmaster W. T. Bamsey.

TRAFFIC ON ISLAND LINE IS IMPROVING

Traffic conditions are generally satisfactory throughout Vancouver Island, stated H. E. Beasley, General Superintendent of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway, to the Times to-day. Lumber shipments continue steadily from all points along the line, and particularly from Shawnigan and Cowichan Lakes. Logging companies tributary to the Cowichan Lake branch are increasing their output considerably, and business there is generally showing marked improvement.

While there is a fair amount of travel for this time of year, it is stated by the General Superintendent that the jitters competition springing up all over the island is more than offsetting any natural increase in profit which might be due to the natural expansion of business. "Conditions on the island as a whole," said Mr. Beasley, "show every indication of substantial growth."

SCHOOL BOYS ARE GOOD CARPENTERS

Students of City Schools Hold Exhibition of Manual Training Models

Boys of the Central, Margaret Jenkins and Sir James Douglas Schools yesterday gave an exhibition of their manual training in the workshop of the first-named institution. The boys during the three year course in this work attain a high degree of efficiency, and often show very marked ability in carpentering. This it was yesterday afternoon, with many different articles made by the hands of the youthful artisans on exhibition, the students wished to find such excellent work coming from the first three grades of the public schools.

It is the general rule for the Department of Education to supply the wood for the boys during their three years' work, but if, in the last year of the course, the student wishes to make any particular article which is not contained in the set he has for study, he must buy his own material for its manufacture. Many were the splendid models displayed yesterday, ranging as they did from book stands, trays, baking-boards, tool-chests, piano stools and benches to penholders.

It was remarked by many of those who were viewing the models that the finished products were so carefully made, without sign of stain or blemish, and appearing as if they had just come out from the factory.

Instructors W. A. Plenderleith and P. Hall have good reason to be proud of the boys who have done such credit to their training.

D. C. DAIRYMEN IN CONVENTION HERE SEE NOTABLE HERDS

Fifty of the leading dairymen of the Province attending the peregrinating convention of the Jersey Breeders' Association moving around the district centering in Victoria, left early to-day for the famous Gulf Islands to continue their sessions on the ground with ten purchased herds and 12 registered sires.

The dairymen will stay on Salt Spring Island overnight, and to-morrow carry on at the farms of Menzies & Son and Greiner Bros., on Pender Island, and then go to Morony Island to see G. S. Harris' famous cattle and have a real old-time stockmen's banquet to end up their convention.

At last night's business session at George Clark's farm, Saanich, R. C. Phillipson, of Chilliwack, presented the report of the annual meeting of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club in Toronto in February, at which he represented British Columbia. He told how consideration is being given to the Jersey Cattle Club's "record of merit" book published, showing names of sires, dams and qualified daughters. This book is expected to be published in the near future.

He also told how standards for gold medal cows were revised to conform with United States standards. "Lina," a Jersey cow, a member of the club was appointed to meet at the National Dairy Show this Fall and decide on an ideal type as the standard.

Yesterday the convention spent its time at the farms of Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M.P., where there are some of the famous Walkiki Farm, Spokane, Jersey, the big milkers at Dean Bros. Experimental Farm, the Matson model farm with its high-priced stock, and the record-yielding Jerseys of Alderman George Sangster.

MONTHLY REPORT OF S. P. C. A. WORK

The committee of the S. P. C. A. discussed considerable business pertaining to the interests of the organization at the last meeting. Amongst other things under consideration were Human Slaughtering, Rodeo Exhibitions, Performing and Caged Animals, Killing of Sea Lions, Regular Humane Education in Schools and Checking of Horses.

With regard to humane education the society has received a sample book for teachers and pupils' edition, and a necessary complement to the training of a child.

The report of the Duchess of Hamilton and Miss Lind-al-Hageby, referred from the Anti-Vivisection Society on the question of Humane Slaughtering was of exceptional interest. A bill is now before the British House of Commons for the enforcement of humane methods of slaughter. In many municipalities in England and elsewhere, the use of the humane killer is compulsory. The bill has passed the second reading.

The inspector's report was a long one and showed that a large amount of city and district work had been accomplished. Cases included: Cats, 11 (7 destroyed); cows, 4; dogs, 3; sheep, 1; chickens, 2; horses, 22; cases in court, 3; convictions, 3.

Railway and shipping agents are requested to forward shipments unless animals are so packed as to be able to travel in comparative comfort without fear of injury and with sufficient room, food and water when distances are long.

For cases of cruelty please telephone the Inspector—7613.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN PICNIC TO-MORROW

Through the courtesy of the Hudson's Bay Company the beautiful and spacious property at the foot of Head and Smith Streets, Esquimalt has been loaned to the First Presbyterian Church for the holding of the annual Sunday school picnic, which will take place to-morrow.

The time for departure has been arranged. Children are expected to meet at the church at 8:45 a.m., when they will receive tickets. Special H.C.P.R. chartered cars will convey them to Head Street, and after a short walk they will arrive at the picnic grounds. Hampers containing enough food for two meals should be brought by those attending and given to the refreshment committee immediately on arrival at the grounds. ONLY TEN STRIKES BUT 166,785 DAYS WORK LOST IN YEAR few months in the winter season, rates of pay are set when the new season's work begins, and changes may be made without the process of negotiations which is found necessary in industries where employment is continuous. Wages in these basic industries were at a rate a little higher during the last year, but this was the result rather of increased business activity than of any pressure from organized labor.

Biggest Trouble With Printers

"One of the longest labor disputes ever recorded in the history of the Province, one that affecting the printers in Vancouver, which has lasted since May, 1921, its object being to secure a 44-hour working week. Some of the employers have conceded the terms of the men, and others are still holding out. At the end of the year there were 15 men in receipt of strike pay."

Many Miners Affected

"The most important dispute of the year was one which affected the important coal mining industry in the South-Eastern portion of the Province, and which lasted from the beginning of April until late in August. The dispute was, in reality, part of the larger struggle in which the miners over most of the North American continent were engaged. The workers affected in this Province numbered 1756, of which 556 were in Fernie, 670 in Michel, and 250 in Corbin."

Lasted Five Months

"The dispute continued for nearly five months, and then, on August 23, an agreement was arrived at, the principal change being that the men accepted a reduction of 15 per cent. in all day wage and contract rates. A condition was attached to this agreement, however, the effect of which was that, if any new agreement were entered into by 75 per cent. of the union miners in the central competitive field, comprising Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, the agreement affecting the British Columbia and Alberta miners should then be revised in conformity with it."

"On September 1, only three days after work in British Columbia and Alberta had been resumed, a new agreement became effective in the central competitive field, and in accordance with its provisions the wage rates of 1921 were reverted to in the mines affected in this Province and Alberta. An agreement between the parties makes these terms effective until March 31, 1924."

950 Fishermen Were Idle

"A strike which kept about a hundred tie-makers in the Prince George district idle for a month, was commenced in February. A stoppage of work for fifteen days was caused in March by the pile drivers, dock and bridge builders were engaged, and a dispute affecting brewers and bottlers at Fernie lasted for two weeks in June and was ended by a compromise."

"At the commencement of the fishing season, the firms operating canneries on Rivers Inlet fixed the price to be paid for Sockeye Salmon at 30 cents each caught with canny gear, and 40 cents if caught with independent gear. Some of the fishermen, among whom it was stated, a number of Finns were prominent, organized a demand for 45 cents a fish. Accordingly the boats, instead of going out on June 20, remained tied up, and 950 men remained idle. This number embraced 478 whites, 246 Indians and
