Is there any good reason (aside from the fancied one) why a successor to Dr. M. J. Gates has not been appointed to the trusteeship of the High School? The excuse that he has not resigned is not sufficient to warrant the other trustees in allowing the board to be one trustee short for three or four months. Everyone knows that Dr. Gates went away to be gone permanently and the County Superintendent should have been asked to make an appointment to fill the vacancy. The fact that the trustees have prevailed upon Dr. Gates to hold the position, and getting around the law by allowing him a vacation, makes it all the more apparent that an appointment should have been made, to avoid the impression that has gone out that there was a motive back of the whole affair. The school election occurs on Friday, April 6th and any plan calculated to thwart the people from having a chance to vote for a successor to Dr. Gates will meet with strong opposition. So far the only names heard mentioned as possible candidates are Dr. P. C. Hartman, Jas Relfe, A. L. Kent and John Evans. With a town full of good material there should be no trouble in selecting a good man to fill Dr. Gates' place, who by the way has given the district five years of faithful service.

Now that the little incorporation election ripple is over and no further prospects of being disturbed over a possible increase in his taxes, the extremely conservative citizen will close his eyes to any progressive movement and be content to take a Rip Van Winkle dose for five or ten years.

Now that incorporation has been killed, each property owner will be expected to see that the front walks are kept in presentable condition. A load of gravel here and there on the walks would not be out of place and would be greatly appreciated by pedestrians who have to paddle through mud holes, especially on dark nights.

Make Leaders of the Captains of Industry

By Professor F. W. TAUSSIG of Harvard University

IS it conceivable that he who directs an industrial enterprise with success and thereby gains a fortune may be induced to labor WITH EQUAL ZEAL and efficiency in public business? Can the great capacities of the captain of industry be turned directly and unquestionably to the general good? Certain it is that some at least of the great industries of modern times would be carried on to greater advantage for the community if conducted as public enterprises UNDER ABLE MANAGEMENT. Here is the essence of the problem: Can able management be secured?

We may feel reasonably sure that for a considerable proportion of those who have the gifts of leadership the attractions of public service are powerful enough. Given opportunity for the exercise of these gifts of leadership and the leaders OF THE RIGHT STAMP will not be lacking.

The best hope for improving the machinery of government lies in lengthening the terms of service for the administrative officers; in reducing the number of elected officials and enlarging the appointing power; in simplifying the machinery of municipal and state government, PERHAPS OF THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT AS WELL.

The guests were: Mesdames Rodeck, Clark, Whitman, Powers, Rubell, Kennedy, Shaw, Allen, Wade, Henry Campbell, Mrs. Moulton of Palo Alto and Mrs. Hopkins of College Park.

Champion Liniment for Rheumatism.

Chas. Drake, a mail carrier at Chapinville, Conn., says: "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the champion of all liniments. The past year I was troubled a great deal with rheumatism in my shoulder. After trying several cures the storekeeper here recommended this remedy and it completely cured me." There is no use of anyone suffering from that painful ailment when this liniment can be obtained for a small sum. One application gives prompt relief and its continued use for a short time will produce a permanent cure. For sale by Campbell Drug Store.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shenick, 220 So. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by Campbell Drug Store.

Farmers' Telephone Lines.

In regard to the discussion of securing a farmers telephone line at Campbell, the following despatch from Guthrie, Okla., will be of interest. It says:

So powerful have become the rural telephone companies throughout Oklahoma, and so great in number, that the farmers who finance them and who are benefitted by them are dictating their own terms to the companies operating city exchanges, and these terms are being accepted with the best grace possible by the companies. During the past year alone there were fifty-one of these rural telephone companies chartered and built, with a total capital stock of $439,875. These new companies represent every part of Oklahoma, and bring the total of such rural organizations up to something over 100. When the city companies do not accept the farmers' terms the farmers build their own lines.

The most common method used in constructing rural lines in Oklahoma is by using the fence posts, placing a china insulator on the top of each post. Each farmer helps construct the line and bears his part of the expense, which varies from $5 to $8 per mile, and every farmer buys his own 'phone. Building in this manner, anyone can talk in his own block as soon as lines are up, but to reach other blocks or systems a switch or plug connection is necessary, and to the persons attending these switches each farmer pays 25 cents per month.

This is the entire expense of maintaining the line outside of an occasional broken pole or wire. Each 'phone owner keeps up his own line. The farmers of Grant county today have connection with almost every person in the county, and with fifteen towns, all for 25 cents per month.

Mr. Sutton came home from Santa Cruz last week to vote on incorporation. While comparatively a newcomer here he was intensely interested in seeing the town forge ahead under the stimulating influence of incorporation.

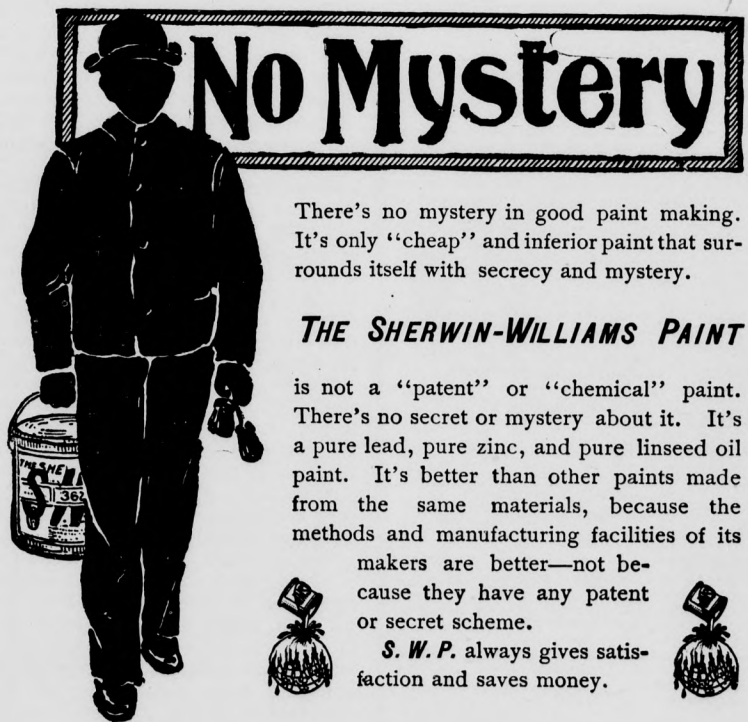

The Political Equality Club will meet with Mrs. Gard on North First St., Tuesday, Feb. 6th, at 2.30 o'clock.

Last Sunday closed Mr. C. M. Doxsee's work as superintendent of the Congregational Sunday school for the past three years. The Sunday school presented Mr. Doxsee with a beautiful picture as a small token of their love and appreciation.

The frosts this weeks, while pretty severe, has done no damage to the apricot blossoms as far as we have been able to find out, but a cold spell coming on now would be certain to do a little damage.

J. Rodeck, Sr. came home from Santa Cruz last Saturday just in time to get a vote in on incorporation. He said it had rained there for two weeks previous, but that it didn't seem to effect to any degree the business activity of Santa Cruz, which is experiencing a small sized boom.

Glenn Bell, a former Campbellite was here yesterday shaking hands with friends. He is engaged in hay growing on an extensive scale in Sonoma county, having worked over 1100 acres the past season and has under lease as much more the coming season. He is also going into the stock business.

No Mystery

There's no mystery in good paint making. It's only "cheap" and inferior paint that surrounds itself with secrecy and mystery.

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT

is not a "patent" or "chemical" paint. There's no secret or mystery about it. It's a pure lead, pure zinc, and pure linseed oil paint. It's better than other paints made from the same materials, because the methods and manufacturing facilities of its makers are better—not because they have any patent or secret scheme.

THE GRANGE

ELECTING OFFICERS.

The Present Method Consumes Much Time—Improvement Suggested.

Much valuable time is lost in the grange by the usual method of electing officers. In the state grange time is more valuable than in the county or subordinate grange, and yet it not infrequently occurs that a day or more must be given over to the election. It would seem that some method might be devised to lessen the time for this order of business. The New York state grange will try the blanket ballot system this year. The titles of the offices to be filled will be printed on the ballots, with blank lines opposite each for writing in the voter's choice. The full list of names is to be voted on the first ballot. If any candidates fail to receive a majority on the first ballot new ballots are distributed and votes taken until all the offices have been filled.

This system is a time saver in two ways. First, it is almost certain that several candidates will be chosen on the first ballot; second, the grange may go about other business while the tellers are canvassing the ballots, as they cannot where each candidate is voted for separately, and the vote is called out by the tellers as canvassed.

Those who insist on the present method in vogue in the national grange and in many state granges where the announcing of each vote as canvassed gives all present an opportunity to check off the same and thus prevent errors will not be in favor of the blanket ballot, but these are few when compared with the many who will favor it on account of the saving in time and who are willing to trust to the honesty of the tellers.

There are two or three practical methods of canvassing the blanket ballot. Each office may be canvassed separately by placing in different piles the ballots cast for the different candidates for a given office. Take first that of master. Place all ballots for the same candidate in a pile by themselves and then count the ballots each receives; then canvass for overseer, and so on through the list. But a better plan, because it saves more time, is to have either four or six tellers, who should work in pairs, the one announcing each candidate's vote and the other recording it. Each pair will canvass a different candidate. No. 1 pair will take master, and as fast as they record the votes they pass the ballots to No. 2 pair, who will canvass overseer. They count and record and immediately pass the ballots along to No. 3 pair, who canvass lecturer, and so on until completed. The tellers need not stop to make footings, but as soon as each office is canvassed the record should be passed to the clerk of the canvassing board, who will make the footings and announce the result to the grange. This he may do when the entire ticket is completed or as soon as each office is canvassed. The latter method serves to interest the grange if it is not otherwise engaged.

The National Lecturer's Bulletin will probably be issued monthly instead of quarterly, as heretofore.

PUBLIC INDORSEMENT.

An Editorial Appreciation of What the Grange Is Doing.

In its words of welcome to the Michigan state grange, which recently met in annual session at Grand Rapids, Mich., a local paper spoke editorially as follows:

The grange, or, as the organization is officially designated, the Patrons of Husbandry, is the oldest farmers' organization in existence. Many others during the past years have risen, flourished briefly and then disappeared. But the grange has lived on, growing stronger and better with time, becoming more and more a factor for the farmers' welfare and an instrument for promoting the public good. The secret of its continued prosperity is in its wise and patriotic management, its fidelity to the purposes for which the Order was instituted and the avoidance of the pitfalls which others have encountered.

The Order in Michigan has approximately 750 local granges and upward of 50,000 members. It is easily the largest organization in the state in point of membership, and there isn't another in Michigan that approaches it in amount of capital invested, in value of product, in general usefulness or in influence for good. It is fraternal, social and educational, as well as for business, and through it the farmer and his family have been made better, their lives have been made brighter, their ambitions have been placed higher and conditions of rural life have been infinitely improved. It has inspired co-operation and mutual helpfulness, and the benefits realized have extended to all tillers of the soil.

The grange is more than a state organization. It is national in its scope, and the good the Order is accomplishing in this state is being accomplished in other states as well and on as large a scale. Though the organization carefully avoids politics, its influence is nevertheless felt in state and nation, and always on the side of wisdom, safety and patriotism, honesty in public places and righteousness in legislation.

This is another evidence of the cordial and friendly attitude taken by the press toward the grange. It speaks well for the Order that its acts are so worthy public approval. It is likewise evidence that newspapers "know a good thing when they see it."

THE GRANGE IN VERMONT.

Governor C. J. Bell, Master of the State Grange, Reports Progress.

While Vermont is not so large as some other states in the Union, yet in grange enthusiasm and endeavor it ranks with the best. The total enrollment now exceeds 10,000 members in 123 subordinate granges. Brattleboro grange heads the list with 424 members. During the past year over 3,000 meetings have been held by the granges in the state.

In his annual address Governor Bell said that through the efforts of the grange the material prosperity of the farmer has been greatly enhanced. He believed the powers of the interstate commerce commission should be enlarged and antitrust laws be enacted clearly defining what acts on the part of any corporation would be detrimental to the public welfare. He further reiterated the demands made by the national grange for national aid for public highways, for the extension of rural free mail delivery, the parcels post system, election of United States senators by direct vote, etc.

Resolutions were adopted indorsing Governor Bell's administration, favoring the preparation of programmes by lecturers of subordinate granges in advance, favoring the repeal of the internal revenue tax on alcohol unfit for use as a beverage, favoring the enactment and enforcement of wise laws against reckless automobile driving, favoring the consolidation of country school districts and the adoption of a plan of district high schools, favoring an appropriation of an economical amount annually by the legislature to help maintain a few well regulated fairs under stringent rules and that all fairs receiving state aid shall be under the full control of a state fair commission; asking federal aid for the extermination of the gypsy and brown tail moths and commending the work of the state experiment stations. No officers were elected this year.

The Habit of Acting Is Universal

By RICHARD MANSFIELD

IF you ACT well you will LIVE well. Study your part and know HOW to play it. The man who does not study the art of acting is at a disadvantage, and thus the greatest philosophers and statesmen have devoted themselves to an art concerning which an eminent writer in New York has inquired whether it was worth while. So universal is the habit of acting that when a man ceases to act we CEASE TO BELIEVE IN HIM, and the only creature who can be said to be absolutely natural is a maniac.

No one is really obliged to act, but he does, and as he acts and will act I should advise him to study acting so as to ACT WELL. When one has to go out and make calls and finds all the people at home, it is well to act the part of looking pleased so as to deceive the hostess. Have you ever watched in your own family the difference between Mary or Rosamund's SOCIETY MANNER and her manner toward her younger brother? If she spoke to her brother as she does to Mr. DuPuyster when he calls I fear me much that her brother would say something rude. Yes, when Mr. DuPuyster calls, when Mary goes to a party, when she is receiving visitors, I am afraid she acts. And Mr. DuPuyster likes it. HE MUST. For after he has married Mary or Rosamund he complains that her manner is no longer as charming as it used to be when he was wooing her. I think it would perhaps be better not to act in the FIRST instance.

IS ACTING WORTH WHILE? LOOK AT MONSIEUR WITTE AND THE JAPANESE ENVOYS. THE BEST ACTING WON THE DAY

I stretch my eyes over the wide world and the people on it, and I can see no one that is not playing a part. Therefore respect the art of which you are all devotees, and if you must act learn to play your parts well. Study the ACTING OF OTHERS so that you may discover what part is being played by others.

Mr. Thomas Lawson, if he had studied the art of acting, would have found his complaints concerning men's dealings with him ridiculous. A fly ought to know a spider when he sees one IN ORDER TO AVOID IT, and if he knows the habits of a spider he mustn't walk into his parlor and then complain because the spider bites pieces out of him. If Mr. Lawson has dealings with an octopus, why should he express surprise that an octopus should act according to the nature of an octopus? If a man has the face of a hawk, ware hawk! If he has the face of a pig, ware pig! And if he has the face of a bulldog, ware canem! If a man is a leech, you must not in your dealings with him expect to find a philanthropist. That leech is going to have your blood IF HE CAN GET IT. It's his nature, no matter how much he may try to deceive you by playing another part.

So shall we STILL say that the study of acting is not worth while?

IT IS, THEREFORE, NOT AMAZING THAT EVERYBODY IS INTERESTED IN THE ART OF ACTING, AND IT IS NOT AMAZING THAT EVERY ONE THINKS HE CAN ACT.

Hon. Aaron Jones, past master of the national grange, has been elected master of the Indiana state grange and Oliver Wilson, master of the Illinois state grange, has been re-elected.

The Rhode Island state grange is one of eight agricultural organizations that have been federated for the promotion of agriculture in that state.

Hon. F. A. Derthick, master of the Ohio state grange, and W. W. Miller, secretary of the state board of agriculture, also a member of the Order, are being mentioned as candidates for governor on the Republican ticket.

The Missouri state grange is organizing a vigorous campaign for the extension of the Order in that state.

Voters Must Register.

County Clerk H. A. Pfister calls attention to a fact that seems to be not generally understood. It is that persons not now properly registered must register thirty days before the date of the school elections in order to vote. This makes the date of the close of registration for the school elections March 6th.

Notice of Meeting of Stockholders of Santa Clara Valley Water Company.

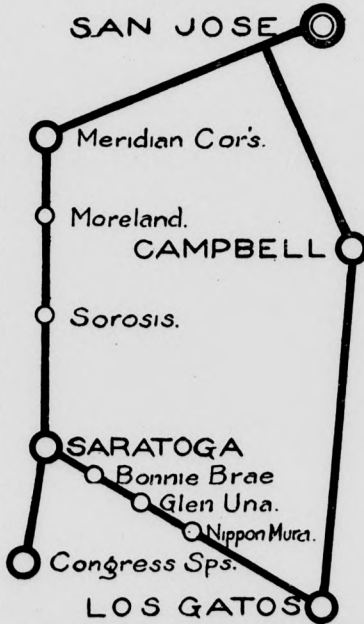

NOTICE is hereby given that a meeting of the Stockholders of SANTA CLARA VALLEY WATER COMPANY, a Corporation, has been called by the Board of Directors of said Corporation, for the purpose of considering a proposition to increase the Capital Stock of said Corporation from its present amount, to-wit: $30,000, divided into 600 shares, each of the par value of $50, to $200,000 divided into 2,000 shares, each of the par value of $100, and that said meeting will be held on Saturday, the 21st day of April, 1906, at one thirty o'clock, P. M. of that day, and at the office and principal place of business of the said Corporation, which is the residence of Frank E. Duncan, situated on Johnson Ave., near the Town of Campbell, in Santa Clara County, California, and which is the place where the Board of Directors of said Corporation usually meet. HONEST DENTISTRY

It is only a matter of simple calculation to show that good dentistry can be given with low prices.

It is the dentist who has only a few patients that must charge high prices.

The dental office that is kept busy can easily afford to give lower rates. It is only another kind of quick sales and small profits.

7423 Patients Recommend Us.

We employ none but skillful dentists of long experience. Our methods are guaranteed to be absolutely painless and perfectly antiseptic. No charge for extraction of teeth unless they are painlessly removed. Where the patient orders a plate we do not charge for necessary extractions. We restore decaying teeth, we replace lost teeth and beautifully sound teeth.

We guarantee for fifteen years our plates and bridge work to fit, to be comfortable, serviceable and natural.

A discount of 10 per cent to out-of-town patients who pay railway fare to San Francisco.

THE CELEBRATION.

The success of last week's celebration demonstrated fully its popularity with the home people and with outsiders as well. The day was fair enough to make good the boast that the weather has never yet gone back on our great day; but threatening enough to kill any less popular enterprise. The crowd was beyond the expectations of those who prepared for it, but not beyond their provision for possibilities, and everything went as smoothly as always.

Dr. Hutsinpillar's address in the morning seemed to strike the right chord, we having heard so many expressions of approval. The singing of the High School Girls' Glee Club was a rare pleasure. Prof. Pannell was unable to play his cornet solo, to the great disappointment of the audience. Miss Edna Briggs read Washington's Farewell Address, with understanding. Miss Macomber recited with much humor. The singing of the double quartet in afternoon was wholly delightful. The following voices composed the chorus: Mrs. Hartman and Miss Davis, sopranos; Mrs. Luther and Mrs. C. Gard, altos; Messrs. Shelly and Powers, tenors; Messrs. Hartman and Plimpton, bassos. Mrs. Edward Merrill accompanied in her usual inspiring manner.

Of the after-dinner speakers, J. W. Hines spoke with all the vim and humor of a young man in spite of his advanced years; Prof. Smith with his customary smooth and finished style; Mrs. Price read a carefully written and thoughtful paper on the Free Library, especially in its relation to the Country Woman's Club; the Rev. E. S. Williams spoke briefly and breezily of the celebration and of the coming Blossom Fete at Saratoga. Mr. David C. Bell of Saratoga in forecasting the future of the valley saw great possibilities ahead of us if we but take advantage of our natural scenic and other assets calculated to make this the favored region for those seeking a delightful residence location. The playing of the Campbell Band was up to its usual high standard.

The dinner was as usual, beyond praise; the committee in charge were liberal in their provision and assiduous in their attentions. The social hour spent over the table was not the least profitable part of the day. Old acquaintances were renewed, and new ones made. Absent ones were remembered and familiar faces and forms gone forever were tenderly recalled to mind.

INCORPORATION FAILS.

The incorporation election last Saturday proved a surprise in more ways than one. One surprise was the large anti-incorporation vote and another and more significant surprise was the fact that men's word of honor in a large number of cases didn't amount to much. The election was the most lively one the town has ever experienced. Nearly all the voters were out to vote—there being 137 votes cast. The main opposition to the movement centered on the increased tax question. The vote for J. C. Ainsley and Dr. A. B. Townsend was a vote to hold taxes down in case we incorporated—which was perfectly proper.

The vote shows that our people are not quite educated up to matter of incorporation and the question will have to wait awhile—until the matter of a little extra tax won't blind the people to their own best interests.

Following is the vote:

For Incorporation—45. Against 86.

Trustees—J. C. Ainsley 92; Dr. A. B. Townsend 91; Jas. Relfe 77; A. L. Kent 64; J. L. Hagelin 61; Ed Gilman 56; John Strong 54; B. Campbell 47; A. K. Joy 38; S. G. Rodeck 36; A. G. Williams 1.

Clerk—John W. Evans 95; F. O. Putnam 28.

Treasurer—John F. Duncan 87; Chas. Townsend 35.

Marshal—A. E. Howe 55; J. C. Lloyd 51; I. Preston 18; R. E. Goddard 2.

By a vote of nearly two to one the residents of Campbell last Saturday decided not to incorporate, and so the burg will continue to be known as "Campbell Station." Too many moss-backs who feared increased taxation are stated to be responsible for the defeat of the incorporation plan.—Gilroy Telegram.

Yes, we'll have to swallow the "Station" medicine from now on without a murmur. We have convicted ourselves.
