Aviator, Just Wed, Has To Visit Arctic Without Bride

ANNEXATION ELECTION WINS

FULL INQUIRY OF REVENUE CONDITIONS TO RESULT

MRS. RALPH DAVISON and her husband, Lieutenant Davison. He is going to spend his honeymoon in the Arctic—without his wife. Duty takes him away.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Lieut. Ralph E. Davison, U. S. Navy, is going to spend his honeymoon in the Arctic—without his wife.

Duty is taking the lieutenant away from his wife after only a few weeks of marriage.

The lieutenant is bound for Germany to join Roald Amundsen on the latter's attempt to reach the pole by airplane from Spitzbergen. Mrs. Davison is going with him part of the way. Then the lieutenant will kiss his bride good-bye and leap into a precarious adventure.

His wife bravely says she is willing to let him make the northern flight if he will bring her back a silver fox.

So the bold lieutenant now has two duties to perform.

VOTERS ADD 600 ACRES TO CITY

Residents of Vine Street District Approve Plan Of Consolidation

By a vote of approximately 2 to 1, residents of the Vine street district yesterday decided that 600 acres lying between Glendale and Burbank west of the Southern Pacific tracks should be annexed to the corporate limits of the city of Glendale.

Of the sixty-nine votes cast, forty-five favored the annexation; while twenty-four opposed it. The total number of registered voters in the district was 102.

Ideal Homesites

This territory, comprising about one square mile, embraces some excellent residence and industrial property, according to City Manager V. B. Stone. He stated this morning that residents of Glendale would be surprised were they to drive through this tract and see the excellent homesites, as well as factory locations.

The initiative in this move was taken by the residents who petitioned the Glendale City Council some time ago for permission to hold an election on the annexation question.

Council Must Approve

It is now up to the City Council to pass an ordinance approving the election, a copy of which must be forwarded to the Secretary of State, together with a certified copy of the vote cast.

With this latest addition, the city limits of Glendale now include approximately 10,970 acres.

LOCAL PLANE WILL MAKE JOURNEY

Glendale Capitalist Plans To Hop Off With U. S. Craft on Monday

When the four army aviators and their machines hop off early Monday morning in their specially constructed Douglas planes at Clover field for the epoch-making-around-the-world flight, a local plane will act as escort over the first leg of the land flight.

L. C. Brand of Glendale will ride the air currents in his Le Pere as one of the escort ships.

Mr. Brand's plane, which was constructed at Los Angeles, and fitted with a Liberty motor, is a two-seater, and will be piloted by E. L. Remelin, former army pilot and now first lieutenant in the flying reserves.

Visited Factory

Mr. Brand has taken a keen interest in the making of the big Douglas air cruisers the four army aviators will use, and has visited the Douglas factory at Santa Monica a number of times to watch the monster planes being assembled.

The flyers will hop off about 5 o'clock Monday morning. Their first scheduled stop is Seattle, where the landing rigging of the ships will be changed to pontoons for flying over water.

Mr. Brand and his pilot will accompany the flyers as far as Seattle, and after the second leg of the flight is started there, the LePere plane will be headed toward Glendale.

As far as could be learned, Mr. Brand's LePere is the only privately owned plane which will act as escort as far as Seattle.

Senator Watson Will Hear Probe Into Affairs of Government Bureau

WASHINGTON, March 12.—A sweeping senatorial investigation into the bureau of internal revenue, which handles all federal tax matters, was authorized by the Senate this afternoon. The resolution of investigation was fathered by Senator Couzens, Republican, of Michigan, who has engaged in frequent disputes with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon concerning tax policies and conditions.

The resolution passed without a record vote. Senators will constitute the investigating committee.

Mellon In Attack

Denouncing many parts of the Longworth tax bill as "unwise and unscientific," and asserting that it makes "no material reduction in high sur-taxes" on big incomes, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon went before the Senate finance committee today and declared that if the bill became law it would create a deficit in the treasury.

M'Lean Takes Stand and Clears up 'Loan' Mystery

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—The story of the famous $1,000,000 loan, supposed to have been made by Edward B. McLean, wealthy Washington publisher, to Albert E. Fall, at the time that the Senate oil investigators were trying to find out where Fall had suddenly acquired that much wealth, was agreed upon between Fall and McLean during a secret meeting in Atlantic City, it was revealed today by McLean himself during a severe cross-examination at the hands of the Senate committee.

Offers to Help

"He said to me," testified McLean, "Did you remember check transaction two or three years ago? Do you mind saying that you loaned me $100,000 in cash? Will you do this for me? I'm in an embarrassing position. Some of my enemies are trying to make it bad for me."

Subsequently

Subsequently, McLean said, he sent the committee a telegram saying he had lent Fall $100,000.

McLean, wealthy newspaper owner, friend and confidant of presidents and high officials in Washington, and author of many of the mysterious code telegrams that have figured in the Senate's investigation of the oil scandal, made a sweeping and categorical denial to the Senate investigating committee that he had any connection with the loan.

W. BROADWAY CONFERENCE OF BOARDS FAVORED

Eighty-Foot Boulevard Will Carry Valley Traffic, Watson Declares

Members of the West Broadway Improvement Association present at last night's meeting held in the office of the president, O. M. Newby, 105 1/2 South Central avenue, were practically unanimous for the widening as proposed, which contemplates adding ten feet on each side of the present sixty-foot boulevard, from Central avenue to Pacific avenue, making an eighty-foot thoroughfare.

Action Deferred

It was explained that while petitions for widening West Broadway as above stated have been for some time in the hands of the City Council, action has been deferred until it could be made concurrent with that on petitions for the widening of Central avenue, as the corners where the two streets intersect are involved in both petitions.

T. W. Watson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce city planning committee, was present at the invitation of the association and gave a very illuminating talk on some of the street development projects under consideration, particularly the plan to extend West Broadway west of San Fernando road to connect with the great Riverside drive project, now being put through at the foot of the LOS ANGELES, March 12.—A terrific fire, appearing to be the worst in Los Angeles county this winter, was raging today in Topango canyon, according to a brief report to the office of County Forester S. J. Flintham.

Details of the blaze, which was presumed to be consuming considerable brush, was not stated in the first report. Two squads of men were rushed by Flintham to the scene. The canyon extends from the ocean a few miles north of Santa Monica to the Ventura boulevard.

OWENSMOUTH, March 12.—(Special)—Fire on the south side of the summit in Topango canyon is believed to be under control at noon today when the smoke which pallied the mountains toward Santa Monica during the morning had disappeared from the horizon.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE
 "Judgment of the Storm," Palmer Photoplay corporation feature with an all-star cast including Myrtle Stedman, Lloyd Hughes and Claire McDowell, continues at the Glendale Theatre, where it is making a sensational hit.

As a plot, the author has taken the idea of a young college graduate undertaking a moral obligation of working on a farm for life, because his mother was indirectly responsible for the death of the man who originally worked the farm.

Lloyd Hughes plays this part of the self-sacrificing hero so familiar on the screen. He does it in a high-spirited way that makes his performance entertainingly different. Each characterization in fact shows the effects of original thinking and capable directing.

THE GATEWAY
 Zena Keefe in "The Broken Silence," masterful drama by James Oliver Curwood, author of "Tarzan," shows at the Gateway Theatre today. This is a strong picture of life and death, tense, gripping, realistic. The action never lags, and when the final climax comes, one of the biggest scenes ever filmed is thrown on the screen.

Zena Keefe has in the past shown herself as a capable actress, but in "The Broken Silence" she gives claim to greatness. It is a pleasure to witness the intensity with which she plays the role, and the variety of emotions at her command.

Today also, at the Gateway Theatre, is a splendid program of vaudeville, "the better kind," offering a variety that is sure to please patrons of the Gateway Theatre.

READ CALL FOR DISTRICT MEET OF CLUB WOMEN

Mrs. Montgomery Presides During Absence of Mrs. Campbell

The call for the convention of the Los Angeles district of the Federated Women's Clubs of California, to be held in Glendale at the Tuesday Afternoon club on April 8, 9 and 10, was read with all the formalities and details necessary to comply with regulations in this matter by Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, who in the absence of Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the club, directed the meeting of the board of directors Tuesday morning and also that of the club in the afternoon.

Following the salute to the flag, led by the patriotic chairman, Mrs. S. C. Leppleman, and the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting by the secretary, Mrs. William Hunter, Mrs. A. A. Barton, chairman of the revision of the by-laws committee, presented two amendments to the by-laws of which previous notice had been given.

New Provisions
The content of these amendments makes the second vice president chairman of ways and means instead of the first vice president and releases the second vice president from the chairmanship of the year book; also that no officer or director shall have different offices in the club in succession upon the board of directors, except in the case of an appointment to fill an unexpired term of one year.

Mrs. Montgomery announced the expressed willingness of the Chamber of Commerce and the Thursday Afternoon club to assist the housing committee for the convention.

An invitation from the literature department to members of the board to a program to be given March 19, at which time Mrs. Geo. Daniels of Pasadena, in a costume of the days of "49," will give a pianologue, "The Covered Wagon," the endorsement of the Oration of "Elijah," which will be presented by the Glendale Music club on March 25; the request of W. E. Hewitt, president of the Chamber of Commerce, that Glendale band members would be displayed during "Booster Week," were matters receiving attention at the board meeting.

$6,517.81 in Treasury
The report of the treasurer, Mrs. W. E. Plasterer, showed the gratifying sum of $6,517.81 cash in the treasury. Mrs. Montgomery, chairman of the ways and means committee, turned over a check for $400, which makes $6,000 her committee has raised since October 1.

Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, chairman of the housing committee for the convention, reported that already 200 reservations had been requested. Mrs. S. C. Leppleman, patriotic chairman, was instructed to teach the proper form of the salute to the flag to schools and organizations when desired.

The board of directors and the chairmen of the district convention committees will meet March 22 in response to the call of Mrs. H. T. Tom, president of the Los Angeles district.

Following the program, Mrs. Montgomery announced that, according to the by-laws, the board had named Mrs. Lillian Dow and Mrs. E. B. Sutton as members of the election board and the club elected Mesdames A. M. Hunt, John Herbert Toal and Edwin M. Cutting as the other three members.

A questionnaire will be enclosed with each nominating ballot sent out in order that members may express themselves as to the advisability of weekly or semi-monthly meetings of the club.

Concert Pleases
The anticipations of music lovers of the artists' program presented by Gertrude Cleophas, concert pianist; Max Donner, violin soloist, with Angelina M. Donner at the piano, were fully realized. Seidom has a finer, better balanced program ever been given before the club.

The Chopin group given by Miss Cleophas revealed the power and wonderful technique of this artist and the second group of more diversity was exceedingly pleasing.

Max Donner, violin soloist, included in his numbers some of the well-known compositions for the violin and two numbers of original composition, "Humoresque," and an arrangement of "Old Dutch Songs."

The Romance (Chaminade), and the old English song, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," were encored in addition to the announced program.

The program for March 18, as announced, will be a song recital by John Smallman, well known singer and director. The luncheon speakers will be Mrs. Maynard Force Thayer of Pasadena, district chairman on "Citizenship," and Judge Archibald of the Juvenile court.

COMMENT That's All Quick Justice for Bandits Too Many 'Smart Lawyers' Why Disrespect for Law? Vicious Newspapers

By Gil A. Cowan

Hurray for the people of Antelope valley! When a bank at Lancaster was held up yesterday the town's telephone operator, Mrs. Gertrude Sullivan, proceeded to notify the populace, and they formed posses which promptly went out and shot one of the bad men, captured the others, and closed the incident.

There will not be another bank robbery in the Antelope valley for some time, not with such a determination on the part of the public to deal quickly with criminals of this type. And Mrs. Sullivan is to be highly commended for her quick work at the telephone switchboard.

The public will commend President Coolidge on his message to Congress yesterday asking that a resolution be passed authorizing the reduction of taxes 25 per cent. However, there is little hope of this being done. Not so long as Congress has something—or nothing—to investigate.

It would seem desirable for the people to purge politics of its legalistic promoters and replace the hot air merchants with business men. And if the lawyers endeavor to use any of their customary tactics on a congressman who doesn't boast a college education it will be high time for a few good old-fashioned fist fights.

At Sacramento, a year ago, the most disgusting sessions on the floor and in committee room of the state legislature were the result of "smart lawyers" trying to tell the laymen what they could or could not do.

It is the person who "plays politics" who needs to be eliminated from the business of government. The state and nation are suffering from an overdose of politicians—70 per cent of whom are lawyers.

The Glendale Evening News yesterday gave an account of local men being on the federal jury this term. Like the superior court, it is shown that justice is very slow, it taking years to clear a person of false charges in some instances. But there is something about federal court procedure which is not relished by the writer, whose privilege it has been to cover sessions both in Arizona and Louisiana, where politics also plays a big part in the business of administering justice.

First of all, federal jurists are political appointees, many times unfitted for the honor and high position. United States district attorneys also are members of a political machine, and use their high offices to further the interests of that machine. It is a sad commentary, but true, we believe.

Defendants in federal courts have little or no chance. The practice of law before these tribunals is limited to a favored few, who dare not make an untoward remark toward the court or its officers. Jurists are given mandatory instructions by the judges, and the calendars are so crowded that cases are rushed like so much meat in a sausage mill.

From the standpoint of individuals there is little criticism, perhaps, but it is the system which has been built up that now makes for a disrespect of law—a most regrettable thing in the life of any nation. A good legislator, a good judge, an able prosecutor, should get the loyal support of a thankful public, but the politicians should be thrown into the discard at the first turn in the road.

Also, the political newspaper, which seems to run things, which is dictatorial in its policy, which seeks subsidy of the private interests, or political appointments—that type of paper should be subjected to similar criticism. For by what right has one man in Los Angeles, for instance, the ability to sway this southern's sacred privilege of self-expression guaranteed under the constitution for which patriots fought to establish and more patriots fought to preserve.

There are people who take it for granted that things are facts, simply because they are accepted by other people. Not so with the writer. Intuition, we faint to call it intelligence, tells us at times that all is not well in a program presented the public. And usually we are right.

"Think for yourself." That is the greatest lesson man can teach his fellow man.

Quench Outbreak of Fire In Empty House

A vacant house at 630 West Elk avenue was reported on fire last night at 8:15 o'clock. The fire department, after a quick run, extinguished the blaze after nominal damage had been done.

Some time ago the occupants of the house were ordered out of the vicinity by neighbors, and it is thought that the building was set on fire as an act of retaliation by the disgruntled ex-tenants. The house was owned by a man named Ravera, of Roscoe.

Stunt Day at Wilson School on Thursday

The program is in charge of the boys' and girls' athletic council and is under the supervision of Mrs. Margaret Struble and A. W. Bennett. Tickets are being sold by the athletic council members under the direction of Frank Wyckoff, president of the boys' association, and Lucille Brennan, girls' manager.

Patrol Verdugo Road For Store Bandits

Captain W. A. Loving and Lieut. W. J. Royle of the local police patrolled Verdugo road yesterday afternoon following the receipt of a report from Montrose that three men had held up Stephenson's grocery store and were headed for Glendale.

The description given of the bandits was very meagre, and evidently they had turned off, for nothing of the trio was seen by the two officers.

ASK EXPRESSION OF CIVIC PLANS

Want Residents of Valley Towns to Decide Issue of Incorporation

Residents of Montrose, La Crescenta and La Canada have been asked to participate in a ballot on the incorporation question being conducted by William H. Irons, Montrose attorney. The ballot asks for an expression of sentiment on the question of incorporating the three communities into a city of the sixth class and asks for suggestions for a name for the city, in the event that incorporation takes place.

One of the plans is to incorporate the entire La Crescenta valley and La Canada, taking in the newly-established community in Western La Crescenta called Verdugo City. Many of the residents who formerly opposed incorporation have since offered to support such a move as a precautionary measure against any part of the valley being annexed by a larger city.

SUNLAND

C. C. WILL ADOPT NEUTRAL POLICY

Officials Decide to Leave Incorporation Issue Up to People

Incorporation was not officially discussed at the meeting of the Sunland Chamber of Commerce. This is in line with the sentiment of neighboring organizations in the district which it is proposed to incorporate as a city of the sixth class. These organizations have decided to not influence the voters in any way, leaving the result in their hands. Fire protection, the perpetual problem of the hills communities, street improvement and lighting improvement were the subjects taken up at the meeting.

John Abernathy was elected at the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to succeed Fred Springer, who resigned, giving pressure of other business as the reason.

A committee has been endeavoring to have the county road officials improve Los Angeles street from First street to Michigan avenue. The committee hopes to have a favorable report to make at the next meeting.

Pupils Win Honors
Phronsa Thompson and Harry Carr are winners in the contest held by the Junior and Juvenile Music clubs, on the occasion of their annual luncheon and contest at the Women's Twentieth Century clubhouse. Miss Virginia Harsh, president of the Junior organization, presiding.

Mrs. Cecil Frankel brought greetings from the National Federation of Music clubs and made a plea that delegates be sent to the annual conference, which meets next year at Portland, Ore.

The judges were Mrs. Gertrude Ross, Miss Edna Gunner Pederson and Miss Kathryn Cocks. The contestants for prizes were:

Grade 2—Arta May Hunt, Myrtle Carey, Joseph Wright, Nancy Hunt, Albertine Walz, Bettie Jamieson and Harry Carr.

Grade 3 and half—Bettie Barnhart, Phronsa Thompson, Ada Townsend, Elaine Geis, Vanette Ward and Johanna Crilly.

DOUBLE BILL AT LOCAL BALL PARK

Pasadena Merchants to Play Sox, Wildcats to Battle Studebakers

An attractive double bill to offset the counter attractions is offered local fans by Frank Kerwin next Sunday at the San Fernando road plant, when the Pasadena Merchants, city champions of the neighboring hamlet, clash with the White Sox in the main event. In the Tom Mix Wildcats and the Studebaker Autos meet in the curtain-raiser in an AA championship game.

Kerwin figured that the Merchants would pack the local park, but as the other two teams were anxious to settle their differences in neutral ground, he offered them the use of the local park, which is known as one of the finest ball plants in Southern California outside of the Coast League parks.

The curtain-raiser will start at 2:30, giving plenty of time for the second event to start at 2:30. A flock of fair feminine fans from the movie colony always follow to get Tom himself here, minus his partner, Tony.

Should Be Fast
The game between the Sox and the Merchants should be one of the best staged here in some time. "Lefty" Thomas, who performed in Kerwin livery for some time, will be on the firing line for the visitors, and Bennie Hall will whirl for the Sox. Hall is resting his arm this week. Last Sunday, after holding the Giants scoreless for three innings, he was forced to retire on account of a sore arm. Pete Lapan, who shakes a wicked stick, will be on hand again to do the receiving.

Mayer, who has been playing third in the kid infield featured by Carl Sawyer, may not be in Glendale uniform. He has received a good offer to play in the Eastern Texas League and has half a notion to sign. Gene Gomes, who clouted the pill all over the lot last Sunday, will probably hold down center field again.

New League in Air
Kerwin says he and Mike Cannon are still awaiting word from the Coast League regarding that body's sanction of the formation of the proposed class C organization.

To a man sitting in a front seat at a high altitude, it looks very much as if the Coast Leaguers were playing the old game of stall, so that the new league cannot be formed this spring. But they could not stop the playing of independent ball, and many teams could be brought here that would outdraw some that would go to make up the roster of the new league. And again, the AA teams would not have the advantage of farming out their youngsters close at hand, where the bosses could keep an eye on them.

Taking everything into consideration, the Coast League seems to have much to gain and hardly anything to lose in recognizing the proposed loop, and unless a definite answer is forthcoming within a short time, Kerwin will go ahead with his plans for independent ball.

Champ Branches Out as Fight Promoter

Lucas, drafted from the San Antonio club by the Braves last fall, was given a look-over by the New York bosses two years ago and then left in San Antonio for ground rent, or something like that. Now no less a critic than Rudolph opines that Lucas is about ready to claim his own in the big show.

All this does not mean that Beauty Dave has been "willed" a ball club, however. Most of the present members were with the team all or part of last season and the Beaneaters finished last in almost everything outside of the sprint to the dining room. The new pilot has his hands full—doubtless since death took Norman Boeckel, popular idol and brilliant third sacker of the team.

But the fact that all the boys have been reading one set of school books for a time at least will help him.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 12.—The Brooklyn Dodgers returned from Bradenton for today's practice, a much chastened lot, as a result of their 12 to 2 defeat by the St. Louis Cardinals in the opening of the spring training schedule.

GALE DELAYS GIANTS

SARASOTA, Fla., March 12.—The continued winds handicapped the practice of the Giants today and John McGraw ordered the comparatively few men who appeared on the field to take things easy.

GALE HALTS PRACTICE

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 12.—A sudden drop to around 45, an echo of the Atlantic coast storm, confined White Sox managers to skill practice before the grate fire. Relief was expected this afternoon.

WILL BATTLE BEARS

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 12.—Another cold day greeted the Red Sox in training here. A second game with the San Antonio Bears is scheduled for tomorrow.

COLD HALTS BRAVES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 12.—Cold weather today cut short the practice session of the Braves. The Braves will oppose the Cardinals tomorrow at Bradenton.

CHAMP TO FIGHT TWO TITLE BOUTS

Gibbons and Firpo to Be Matched with Dempsey in Coming Summer

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, March 12.—From a pot pourri of affirmations and denials in circulation today on matters of heavyweight business, it was declared on the plumb-bob level to be fact and not fancy that there would be only two heavyweight championship bouts held this summer, to wit:

Jack Dempsey versus Tom Gibbons in New York, during the early part of June; Jack Dempsey versus Luis Firpo in Jersey City early in September. The rest of the chatter is so much malarkey, according to a tip so straight that it can be passed through a nose shooter without touching the sides.

Passing Up Wills

Harry Wills, the septa-tinted specimen, will be avoided like a creditor, according to the program outlined. He is not so much feared for his fighting ability as for the consequences of his fighting at all. Jack Kearns admitted today that he had declined an offer of $500,000 from Cumberland, Rhode Island, promoters for a Dempsey-Wills bout but did not give his real reason for so doing.

Kearns knows there can be no Dempsey-Wills fight anywhere in the United States, as arranged from Cumberland to the contrary. Billy McCarney, acting for Firpo, also gazed pensively into space when approached by the Cumberland outfit for a Wills-Firpo center. He is just a yes-man and his trick is to look pleasant until Wills and Firpo get ready to fight for Rickard, an offer having been advanced by the latter within the last twenty-four hours. His proposition was $150,000 to Wills and Paddy Mullins has taken it under advisement while claiming that Wills is entitled to the same money as Firpo.

Build Up Interest

Much faith is placed in the latter's ability by those in the Dempsey and Rickard camps. They will expect him to ride right over Wills, who is alleged to have the hands of a perfect lady. This transaction would not only rid Dempsey of a chronic annoyance, but would make the second Dempsey-Firpo frolic go over big.

The Gibbons bout is regarded by all concerned except Gibbons, as a stale event that will contrive the hastening of the waltz to a point some distance from the champion's portico. The St. Paul entry is regarded as a 100 to 1 shot on the possibility of scoring a knockout over Dempsey, but his speed may carry him through fifteen rounds as it did at Shelby. The only factor holding up this transaction is a modicum of doubt as to whether it will draw in the style to which Dempsey is accustomed.

BIG FELLOWS TO SEE LOCAL BOUTS

Jess Willard, Jim Jeffries Sure to Attend Show, Says Pete Essick

Word has been received by Matchmaker Pete Essick of the Glendale Athletic Club from both Jess Willard and Jim Jeffries that they will be present at the card to be staged at 327 North Brand Thursday night. Pete had word earlier in the week that they probably would be on hand for the leather festivities, but he did not want to make the announcement definite until he was assured of their appearance.

Jeffries is especially interested in the Eddie Byrd-Ad Anderson go, as his boy, Tommy Richards of Burbank, fights the winner two weeks from Thursday. Willard is going to come because he gets a kick out of it, and likes to see the youngsters "do their stuff."

Oxy Frosh Tennis Team Meets Branch

The Oxy frosh tennis team meets the Southern Branch yearlings tomorrow afternoon on the Tiger courts in a return match. The Cublets defeated the Oxy crew, 4 to 3, in the first tangle, and, on their home courts, the Tigers hope to get revenge. On Friday afternoon the freshmen will travel to Pomona college and meet the Sagehens in a conference freshmen tournament. The Oxy frosh team is getting into its stride, and is out for the title. The players are practicing three times a week and are showing plenty of class. Two of the freshmen, Dickenson and Strayer, are to enter the big Ojai valley tournament.

HOLDOUT SIGNS UP

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Hal Rhyne, crack shortstop of the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast league, a holdout since last fall, has signed a contract for the 1924 season. Rhyne, who demanded $5000 salary, accepted a compromise contract, it was said.

FIGHT RESULTS.

At Brooklyn—Jack Hauser, Brooklyn, won decision over Earl Baird, Portland, Ore., in six rounds.

At Dayton—Johnny Tillman, St. Paul, won decision over Joe Delaney, Dayton in ten rounds; Johnny Horvath, Mansfield, knocked out Joe Faglione, Louisville, Ky., in second.

SPECIAL BRANCH FOR RADIO FANS

Glendale Music Co. Secures Services of Expert to Head Department

Radioitis is on the increase in Glendale, it is reported, and now that the Glendale Music company at 109 North Brand boulevard, has opened a modern radio department, Glendaleans who have radios will have the opportunity to get better ones and those who are radioless will have a chance to secure splendid outfits for their homes.

In this new department at the Glendale Music company can be found everything modern and designed in the line of radio equipment.

B. M. Spencer, a radio expert of wide experience, is in charge. He has been in this line of work for ten years and had the honor of establishing the first broadcast station in California, located in the north. He has a wealth of information at his command and is always glad to chat with radio fans.

Special Features

The special feature in the new department will be Kennedy, De Forest and Neutrodyne goods, also the combination Victrola and Kennedy radio receiving set in one instrument. This is most interesting, coming in the console model. The loud speaker is in the same place as the horn of a phonograph and the batteries and other equipment are concealed so cleverly that the record space, which is usually taken up in combinations of this kind, is not cut down at all.

Visitors at the Glendale Music company store are interested in concerts being picked up by these sets from as far away as Canada, Oregon and Texas.

Mr. Spencer specially announces that he has a complete repair department, where efficient service is emphasized.

Local Guard Unit to Help at Flight Meet

Captain J. H. Wittmeyer, commanding Company M local unit of the 160th California Infantry, received orders this morning from Colonel W. P. Story commanding to proceed with his company to Clover field at Santa Monica Sunday, where the regiment will participate in the send-off to be accorded the army around-the-world aviators.

The company will assemble at the local armory and proceed to Clover field in machines, where it will join the rest of the regiment, which goes by special trains on the Pacific Electric.

Spectators Sunday expect to witness the greatest "flying circus" ever staged in southern California. Following the day's program, the army men will hop off early Monday morning on their epochal journey.

Will Discuss Paving Of Glendale Avenue

The discussion about paving Glendale avenue, which was started at the meeting of the Glendale Advancement Association, will be continued tomorrow noon when the members of the organization meet for the weekly luncheon at the Harriet Mae Tea room. Other matters of vast importance will be taken up at the meeting, it has been announced.

ANNOUNCE PILOT SOON

ORLANDO, Fla., March 12.—Official announcement of the appointment of Jack Hendricks as manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is expected from President Garry Herrmann here within a day or so. The Reds play Indianapolis at Plant City tomorrow.

Mr. Spencer specially announces that he has a complete repair department, where efficient service is emphasized.

M'LEAN RELATES INSIDE TALE OF 'LOAN' TO FALL

Publisher Admits He Made
Mistake In Not Telling
True Facts First

nection with or knowledge of the leases which Albert B. Fall made to Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doherty.
McLean declared he did not know either Doherty or Sinclair and that his relations with Fall today "were purely personal." He had previously informed the investigators that he loaned Fall $100,000 and subsequently this testimony was denied.
The only oil stocks he ever dealt in, McLean said, were those of the Pure Oil company, in which he made a profit of $5,500.

Sinclair Declares Fight
Will Continue to Finish
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Mar. 12.—"We'll fight it from hell to breakfast."

This was the cryptic sentiment expressed today by Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil magnate, when questioned regarding his attitude toward the government annulment suit which will be filed here tomorrow against the Mammoth Oil company, lessee of the Teapot dome naval reserves near Casper, Wyo.

Sinclair arrived here with an imposing array of counsel, including Martin W. Littleton of New York, and Colonel J. W. Zevely, Sinclair's personal legal representative. The oil operator's legal talent will contest with as much power as its command the injunction and annulment suits planned to be filed in federal court here tomorrow by Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special counsel intended by President Coolidge to recover the naval oil leases, which it is alleged, were secured through fraud and corruption, when they were leased to Sinclair by former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall.

"Our lease is valid in every particular and we will defend it against any and all attacks," Sinclair told International News Service.

Sinclair declared that he had been a victim of unjust attacks for two years and welcomed the opportunity now presented to offer a defense. He said he had no fear whatever of the outcome of the court proceedings.

Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy, who will preside at the hearing in the United States district court here tomorrow, who has been out of the city for several days, returned early this morning. Efforts are under way to arrange a conference between him and attorneys representing Sinclair for this afternoon. It is understood the Sinclair lawyers desire to have an understanding concerning the rules which will govern Thursday's procedure.

ENGLAND TO POST SCHOOL LETTERS

Correspondence of Glendale
Students Wins Place
In London Fair

Notice that Glendale city schools have received recognition in England has just been received through the medium of pupils of Colorado street school, of which Miss Ida C. Waite is principal.

During the past term Miss June Hamill, teacher of the sixth grade, has interested her pupils in carrying on correspondence with children in schools of England and many letters of interest have been exchanged. This week they have received the news that the school inspector had selected some of these letters from Glendale children with replies that were written by English pupils, and they are to be placed among the school exhibits at the British Empire Exhibition in London.

The letter also stated that the English pupils who had been carrying on a similar correspondence with pupils in Canada, had been requested to furnish their correspondents in Canada with the addresses of these Glendale pupils in order that a correspondence might be opened with the local pupils also.

One of the ideas that was advanced at the last National Educational association convention was that of encouraging the children of all countries to correspond with those of other countries and was recommended as one means toward establishing friendship between nations that would ultimately assist in the establishment of world peace. Miss Waite was not notified of the names of the children whose letters were selected, so all the pupils of the sixth grade were sharing the honors which were the inspiration for a celebration at the school yesterday.

C. C. Committee to Confer
With Educators to Lay
Out Definite Policy

April 8 to 10, is faced with a serious shortage of accommodations for the 500 delegates who will attend the convention, and she asked that the Chamber of Commerce assist the club's committees in finding rooms in which the delegates may stay while they are in Glendale.
Through the efforts of the club members, Mrs. Hayward said, rooms have been obtained for about half of the delegates, but it will be necessary to secure double the number now listed if all the visitors are to be cared for.
The delegates will pay for their rooms, Mrs. Hayward stated, and anyone who has an extra room or rooms is asked to list them with the Tuesday Afternoon club or with the Chamber of Commerce, which has agreed to co-operate with the club members in every way to place the delegates in comfortable quarters during the three days that the convention will last.
A request is to be made to householders in Glendale to notify the Chamber of Commerce regarding the accommodations that they will be able to place at the disposal of the delegates, and arrangements will be made to place all the visitors in Glendale homes.
The advertising committee of the Chamber of Commerce will design an attractive souvenir for the women who will attend the convention.
T. W. Watson, chairman of the city planning committee, advised the board that the members of the city planning commission will be appointed by the City Council immediately following the second reading and adoption of the ordinance providing for the creation of the commission, as he has been informed that the authorities are anxious to have the commission working as soon as possible on the problems that will fall within its field. It is expected, he stated, that the commission will be functioning within the next two weeks.
Some discussion arose over the clause in the ordinance that provides that members of the commission may be removed by a majority vote of the City Council. L. H. Wilson, one of the opponents of this provision, claiming that the men appointed should be allowed to serve their full term on the commission without having the fear of removal hanging over their heads.
Honor for Hewitt
President W. E. Hewitt was unanimously elected as national councillor of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce on the United States Chamber of Commerce, following the reading of a request that such an appointment be made. The letter from the national organization specified at length the duties and responsibilities that devolve on a national councillor, who acts as a link between the national body and the one of which he is a member, and who helps to direct the activities of the major organization.

Business Women's Club
Plans to Bring Speaker
On Boulder Dam Plans

Plans to bring a noted speaker to Glendale to give an illustrated lecture on hydro-electric power and the Boulder Dam project, at a public meeting at the Harvard High school building, were formulated last night at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club at the auditorium of the Glendale Commercial school on South Brand boulevard.
Dr. Jessie A. Russell, club president, announced this morning that this public meeting will be arranged for within the coming two weeks. "It will be of great educational value," says Dr. Russell, "and will give Glendale people an opportunity to inform themselves about this important project that is causing so much discussion."
"We have a splendid speaker in view and he will give first-hand information, illustrated with fine slides and will tell in detail of the Washington conference and the conference in Santa Fe."
At the meeting last night Miss Sarah Pollard was announced as club auditor; Mrs. Roberts T. Young, club historian; and Miss Elizabeth D. Stevens, chairman of hospitality. These appointments were made Monday night at the meeting of the executive board.
The club members and guests were interested last night in hearing Dr. Russell tell of Mexico, describing her recent trip there and showing a wonderful collection of drawn-work, hand-work from the convents and orphanages, and baskets.
Guests at the meeting and informal social hour were Mesdames R. Kaiser, Florence M. Snow, Emma J. Smith, Allie P. Sherrard and Miss Julia Stewart.

sale of tickets for the oratorio which that organization is to stage the latter part of this month was refused, on the ground that the sale of tickets by school children must be confined to school entertainments and programs.
Superintendent White reported on the progress being made in the matter of providing "safety" zones for the school children, and stated that traffic officers were now on duty at the different school locations.
Board May Move
The board is seriously contemplating a move into new quarters in the Security bank building across the street when that structure is completed. They state that the present location will not permit of the installation of a safe for the safe keeping of vital records, and quarters are becoming rather cramped.
D. J. Black, R. D. White, D. J. Hibben and H. W. Chase were appointed as a committee to investigate the feasibility of the move.
The monthly report of the school nurse, Miss Helen Tupper, was read and accepted. It showed that the condition of the health of the Glendale school children was very good.

Major Martin said that present plans did not call for them to pass over San Francisco en route to Sacramento.

ENGLAND TO POST SCHOOL LETTERS

Correspondence of Glendale
Students Wins Place
In London Fair

Notice that Glendale city schools have received recognition in England has just been received through the medium of pupils of Colorado street school, of which Miss Ida C. Waite is principal.

During the past term Miss June Hamill, teacher of the sixth grade, has interested her pupils in carrying on correspondence with children in schools of England and many letters of interest have been exchanged. This week they have received the news that the school inspector had selected some of these letters from Glendale children with replies that were written by English pupils, and they are to be placed among the school exhibits at the British Empire Exhibition in London.

The letter also stated that the English pupils who had been carrying on a similar correspondence with pupils in Canada, had been requested to furnish their correspondents in Canada with the addresses of these Glendale pupils in order that a correspondence might be opened with the local pupils also.

One of the ideas that was advanced at the last National Educational association convention was that of encouraging the children of all countries to correspond with those of other countries and was recommended as one means toward establishing friendship between nations that would ultimately assist in the establishment of world peace. Miss Waite was not notified of the names of the children whose letters were selected, so all the pupils of the sixth grade were sharing the honors which were the inspiration for a celebration at the school yesterday.

DOGS THAT LACK TAGS FACE DEATH

Owners of Lost Pets Should Visit City Pound or Call Police Dept.

If you have a dog that you think a good deal of, and lose him, the first place to look is at the city pound on Glendale avenue.
The city ordinance requires that Poundmaster William Beerr, when he finds a dog running loose without any means of identification, take him to the home provided by the city. It also requires that his execution be swift and sure.
Three Days' Grace
But Poundmaster Beerr loves dogs himself, so he generally gives three days of grace. "I think that this allows the owner of a dog plenty of time to get in touch with me or the desk sergeant at police headquarters," he said this morning. "By payment of the dog tax he can get the pet out again. I am especially careful of any animal that looks as if it came from a good home. The best way to do is to have a collar and a city dog license. Then identification is easy."
He recommends, however, that if a dog is lost, the owner should communicate with him or police headquarters at once.

LOCAL DOGS ARE PASADENA SHOW PRIZE WINNERS

Pekingese Breed, Exhibited By Mrs. A. A. Perry, Leads Class in Awards

The saucy little Pekingese dogs raised at 815 South Central avenue by Mrs. A. A. Perry were among the finest dogs shown at the recent annual show of the Pasadena Kennel Club, for they brought home to Glendale $40 in gold and fourteen trophies. Mrs. Perry has been raising these prize dogs for four years and her many friends are congratulating her on the showing they made.

That these thoroughbred dogs made a splendid showing in the Pasadena show is evidenced not only by the amount of cash prizes and the number of trophies won, but also by the facts that the Perry dogs won first place for the best toy dog in the show and best for the Pekingese showing.

For instance, there is Iyo Jack, 2-year-old male, who, in addition to being honored as one of the four best of all breeds in the show, won the best open, best limit, best American breed and best red male.

Then Nan Toy of Moi Far, 3-year-old female, won best of Pacific bred, best matron in the show, best parti-color.

Chin Lu Chu of Perie, another of Mrs. Perry's dogs, an eight-month-old female, won as the best puppy in the show and best female puppy bred by exhibitor.

Other prizes won by Mrs. Perry's dogs were best brace of puppies, best brace, best team;

Explains Edison Co.'s Attitude on Colorado Project

R. H. BALLARD, Southern California Edison official, explains attitude on Colorado river development.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—Appearing before the House committee on irrigation of arid lands, R. H. Ballard of Los Angeles, vice president and general manager of the Southern California Edison Company, for many years president of the National Electric Light Association, and a member of the Franklin Institute of Pennsylvania, stated that he wished to deny the charge that power companies are opposing the appropriation of government funds for the construction of a dam on the Colorado river for the purpose of flood control and electric power generation. He said that the Edison company was not opposing the bill introduced by Representative Swing which the committee has been considering, and to his knowledge it was not being opposed by any other company. He said that witnesses appearing in favor of the bill now under consideration of the committee had charged him with statements he did not make, and had drawn unwarranted and unjustified conclusions from the things he had said.

Statement follows: Mr. Ballard's statement was in part as follows: "The Imperial valley of California is entitled to protection from the menace of floods caused by the erratic flow of this international stream and all of the potential electric capacity of the river should be developed. The entire development will be needed in the course of time to serve the requirements of the seven southwest states in the Colorado basin. If the government will start this development by providing funds for the construction of the first dam, we are prepared to make the electrical installations and generally distribute power throughout the whole territory to municipalities, industries, farms and domestic consumers under jurisdiction of the United States government and regulation by the state regulating commissions.

KIRK SENDS BIT OF HAVRE HUMOR

Evening News Travel Writer Now En Route Home From French Port

W. B. Kirk, travel correspondent of The Glendale Evening News who is returning to the states this week, writes from Marseilles a letter which will appear shortly. He enclosed a clipping from a French American journal, published in Paris, which features "Dear Pard" letters by Lansing Warren which have the flavor of the "Dear Mabel" series in the states.

Warren's impressions of Havre evidently express Mr. Kirk's thoughts, so we take the liberty of reproducing the gem:

Feb. 24, 1924. Haven of Havre.

Dear Pard:—One uv the things yuh notice when yuh land in this Country is that horse power doesn't alwiz mean somethin' to do with a automobile.

There's horses wherever yuh look, draggin' everything from movin' vans to those big double story two-wheeled cars, a-sippin' and a-slammin' over these cobble-stone pavements like I dunno what. The spot Hack is still doing duty, at throughout the length and breadth of France yuh'll find that eight chevaux is still worth forty hommes on any Market.

Around the Main Square uva good sized town you'll see maybe a dozen autos parked, and when a car actually in motioun comes down the street, squawkin' one uv those rubber bulb Horns uv the vintaj uv 1902, there's a cummooshin' an' a scatterin' uv Peddestryuns lika Bomb had hit in their midst.

Traffic in the provinces consists mostly of those high iron-rimmed carts with now'en then a bicycle thrown in to make things complicated. Dogs and goats are sometimes seen in harness, an' power traction, lemme tell yuh, is a formidable element in transportation. There ain't enny traffic laws in particular or if there is they ain't particuler about them. Each fellow slams ahead like he owned the Highway, and if there's a dispute the fellow with the best vocabulariy wins.

Two Push carts and Bicycle disputing the right uv way in a narrow provinshul buy-street can make our American traffic jams seem lika a orderly Lull in the circulation.

Street cars, sometimes with a whole string uv trailers as small as themselves, are a matter of tremendus civik pride, as can be seen by the proud and imperious manner of their seemingly overgrown crew. A provinshul motorman as he swears at the teamsters and peddestryuns in his way is as grand a fivyer uv authority as can be found in the land, unless maybe it's a "Suisse" of a Cathedral dressed up in his fete day regalya.

In France, as everywhere else, traffic is increasin', but there are still stretches uv hard, white road where you can burn away for kilometers without meetin' up with anything except a hayrick or a vegetabul waggon.

Outside of the metropolis there isn't anything that yuh could call Congeschun. And almost over the entire Country uv France the principal traffic problem for the foreigner appears to be deciding which is the sidewalk and which is the street. When in doubt, use either.

And go slow—there are always curves ahead.

Man Held When Jug Is Found In Suitcase

W. H. Grant, L. E. Tyson and George Cole, federal prohibition officers of Los Angeles, accompanied by Captain Loving, Lieut. Royle and Detective Sergeant Blake of the local force, swooped down on a house at 225 South Orange street yesterday afternoon, and as a result of the raid arrested George E. Ellis on a charge of possessing liquor. A gallon glass jug full of moonshine was discovered in a suitcase under a bed.

With Ellis at the time of his arrest were his two children, Warren, aged 8, and Evelyn, aged 11. An older daughter arrived from Chicago a few days ago to keep house for him.

The two children were placed in the care of Mrs. Richardson, matron, and were taken to Juvenile Hall this morning, to be made wards of the juvenile court, temporarily, at least.

Youth Dodges Auto, Next One Breaks Arm

Wilbur Andrews, 16, of 3722 Riveria avenue, Los Angeles, suffered a broken arm in an accident at Colorado street and Brand boulevard yesterday morning.

He alighted from a Pacific Electric car on his way to high school, and dodging from in front of one machine, stepped directly in the path of another, driven by W. J. Clemons of Pasadena. The injured lad was taken to the office of Dr. S. B. Bellinger where the bone was set, and later to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital. He left for his home in the afternoon.

Spring Exposition Will Reveal Fashion's Edicts

Every merchant in the city is asked to participate in the Glendale Spring Exposition, March 25 to 29, inclusive. On the opening night the Glendale Union High school band will furnish music at a prominent place and stores will be open from 7:30 till 9:30 o'clock, with appropriate window displays and demonstrators wherever possible.

It is believed by C. J. Hatz of the Glendale Shopping News company, chairman of the committee behind the movement, that manufacturers and wholesalers will co-operate with local merchants during the exposition, in demonstrating their merchandise.

It is suggested by H. W. McGuire, manager of the Glendale Shopping News company, that each merchant carry in all advertising prior to that date the notice, "Glendale Spring Exposition—Opens March 25."

Mr. Hatz and Mr. McGuire urge everyone to pull together to make this the biggest merchandising event in Glendale history. Further information may be obtained by calling at 103-A North Brand boulevard, Room 12, or by phoning Glendale 2849.

Ribbons will be awarded by the Glendale Shopping News for the best trimmed windows in the various classes, the judges to be prominent Los Angeles window trimmers. Mr. Hatz urges that living models be used in window displays wherever possible.

The Glendale Evening News will issue a special Fashion Number on Monday, March 24, and the Glendale Shopping News will also advise the event widely, in order that a large percentage of residents in this city and surrounding points may view the windows, models and merchandise.

PROCESS SERVER DIVES AFTER 'EM

Finds Fair Lady in Venice Plunge Where He Hands Her Papers

This story is about a process server. This particular process server is in connection with the city attorney's office.

Now, when a process server is sent out to serve processes, his instructions are about as curt as those reputedly given to the dashing constable of the Northwest Mounted Police, who must bring his man back dead or alive. A process server does not go to quite this extreme, but he must get results.

This particular process suit to do with a condemnation suit instituted by the city in the matter of opening up a new street. This process must necessarily be served on the party involved to avoid many months of weary delay.

So the server sallied forth. His first inquiry showed that husband No. 1, who appeared on the records as her mate, had been divorced, and that husband No. 2 was now in the limelight. Diligent inquiry revealed the fact that husband No. 2 lived in Venice.

There the server did not object to taking a little of the city's time in viewing with great envy the frolickers in the swimming pool. Ah, that must be the life! Nothing to do and all day to do it in. But on, tired and aching feet, to the address of husband No. 2, at last. Yes, madame resided there, but she was not at the present time. Where was she? Why, she was having her daily plunge in the swimming pool.

In Blue Bathing Suit Back to the scene of his former longings raced the tired process server. Did the attendant know her? He did. There she was in her blue egg blue suit, just over in the corner of the pool, disporting herself in the cool waters. Just watch her make that swan dive!

But the poor process server could stand it no longer. Here was the chance of a lifetime to combine business and pleasure. To dash into a private dressing room and come forth properly attired for the plunge was but a matter of seconds.

Into the water head first. My, wasn't that a grand and glorious feeling! But spectators noticed that his jaws were tightly closed.

There's a reason. He reaches the lady's side.

"I beg your pardon, madam, but are you Mrs. Moore?"

"No I'm not, and besides—"

Stage Water Race At this she struck out across the pool, closely pursued by the server. He managed to overtake her, and on reaching the deep water she admitted that she was Mrs. Moore, never mind.

Thereupon the villainous pursuer reached into his mouth and from the only dry place on his body extracted the "papers." Whereupon she was duly served.

During the ceremony she had great difficulty in treading water, but the man appeared to be accomplished in this direction. He states that at different times during the conversation the lady disappeared under the surface, only to reappear with a mouthful of water, and he had to remind forcibly that he was not there for the purpose of taking a shower bath or indulging in a water fight with a make-believe fire hose as a weapon.

At the finish the woman accepted the service of the paper.

Who was she? That's not told, except in the deed given the city for an easement.

The man—he was Captain George Staig, for several years life-saving instructor for the American Red Cross and for five seasons champion amateur swimmer of the south, who is employed by the city of Glendale.

The Parent-Teacher Association is to hold a cooked food sale Saturday at the Casa Verdugo Drug store.

Students Will Elect Officers at Meeting

SONG SEARCHER SKEPTIC, SEDATE STRAINS SCARGE

Professor Proclaims Popular Piano Poems Pronounced Pests of Pep

By PROF. XAVIUS ZANTIPPE Shopping around Glendale for some sedate musical pieces my wife's maiden aunt on her father's side could play on the ukelele, I recently received the shock of my modest and retiring life and have come to the conclusion, rather hastily but completely, that the younger generation of today is younger and naughtier than ever.

These 1924 vintage sheiks and vamps sure park a wicked yodel, to lapse into the vernacular. And lapse into the vernacular is no word for what these birds do who write the "popular" songs. Popular with whom? That's what I want to know!

For instance, take one that is at present in the ascendant, "She Wouldn't Do What I Asked Her To." The chorus runs like this:

"She wouldn't do what I asked her to, When I took her home last night; She wouldn't do what I asked her to."

I was mad enough to fight! She didn't ask me in, I felt just like a fool,— She wouldn't even kiss me in The vestibule. She wouldn't do what I asked her to,— So I socked her in the jaw!"

Now then, I don't think that's a proper song for my wife's maiden aunt on her father's side to play on the ukelele, or on the sly for that matter. I'd hate to think that my little daughter Xcellente, over in the Hollywood film colony, would take to such a song. I would rather have her take to synthetic gin or shingle-bobbing!

I got so het up about this song business that I decided to look into it further. Imagine what I found. "Foolish Child," which has in its chorus the lines:

"Every evening in the week, You have some brand new sheik When I call, your front hall's like a cheek-room."

And the following, from "Stack O'Lee Blues":

FINAL WARNING ON INCOME TAX PAYMENT GIVEN

Saturday Will Be Last Day for Filing to Avoid Heavy Penalty

"This is the government's final warning to 150,000 income taxpayers who must file returns by March 15 or become liable to heavy penalties prescribed by the revenue act of 1921," said Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell.

"First—There must be no reduction in income taxes and returns must be filed just as they were filed last year and at the same rates.

"Second—My advice from Washington today are that the House leaders have abandoned the effort to have the provision in the pending revenue bill for a 25 per cent flat reduction in this year's tax payments on last year's income lifted out of the pending revenue bill and passed as a separate joint resolution before the first installment becomes due March 15.

Same as Last Year.

"Third—This leaves the situation as it was last year and in making returns no reduction must be made from the computed tax for the calendar year 1923. In other words, make your return exactly as you did last year.

"Fourth—I would advise, however, in view of the contemplated reduction of 25 per cent in taxes on 1923 income, that taxpayers file returns showing the full amount of the tax due and to pay not less than one-fourth of the amount, and in no case to pay more than two-fourths of the tax shown to be due.

"Fifth—There is a universal desire on the part of taxpayers to take full advantage of the proposed reductions, and especially of the 25 per cent reduction on income for the year 1923. However, the tax on income for the year 1923 is being collected under the revenue act of 1921, which is still in effect, and which provides heavy penalties for failure or 'willful refusal' to file a return and pay at least one-fourth of the tax on or before March 15, 1924. The revenue act of 1924, containing this and other proposed reductions, is now before Congress, but will not be enacted prior to the closing day of the filing period.

Refund Possible

"Sixth—The proposed 25 per cent reduction in the tax on income for the year 1923 is retroactive to January 1, 1923. Enactment of the pending legislation means, in the case of taxpayers who pay on the installment plan, a revision of their accounts with one-fourth of the amount of the tax declared to be due on the return. In those cases where the tax is paid in full at the time of filing the return, the 25 per cent excess will be refunded promptly without the requirement of filing a claim. Convinced that highway advertising signs detract from the natural beauty of the great routes of travel of the Pacific Coast, this Company has decided that it will erect no more such signs and that it will immediately remove all of its signs of this nature now standing. Hereafter the Company will confine its use of signs to commercial locations.

The Company feels that the splendid scenery so characteristic of nearly all of the highways of California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada & Arizona should be unmarred, and on that account is willing to sacrifice the advertising value of the signs.

ARCHBISHOP EXPECTS TO RESIGN

Bishop of Manchester Slated For Place

LONDON, March 12.—It is indicated that the Right Rev. William Temple, bishop of Manchester, will be the next Archbishop of Canterbury.

Dr. Randall Davidson, the present primate of all England, has signified that he will shortly resign in the near future with a pension amounting to something over a third of his stipend of $75,000 a year.

While the appointment of his successor rests with the king, the nomination will be largely determined by the prime minister; that is to say, by James Ramsay MacDonald, who is not a member of the Anglican State church, but a Unitarian.

There have frequently been very marked differences between the sovereign and the prime minister on the subject of the archbishop of Canterbury and Queen Victoria, like her grandfathers, George III, on several occasions absolutely declined to consent to the nominations recommended by the premier and insisted on wholly different prelates of her own choice.

However, it is said the king and his prime minister are agreed on Bishop Temple as a Davidson's successor.

On the Spur of the Moment

By ROY K. MOULTON

LEAP YEAR INCIDENT

"This leap year, you know," zhe coyly said, and hung her delightful brown bobbed head:

"And so I've the right to voice a plea:

O, Noble Youth will you marry me?"

The lad for a moment was quite nonplussed.

For never before had he been thrust in such a position, but ready wit succeeded in getting him out of it.

"Your asking, dear lady, flatters me to such an extent I can scarcely see. But can you support me in the style to which I'm accustomed?" he said with guile.

"Alas," she responded, "my means are small; I hadn't considered that at all! Well, that being so, I will stay with mother."

He said, "and to you I will be a brother."

Here I am nearly eighteen years old, and they give me h— because I smoke cigarettes. Went down town at 5 and sat around that stuffy old beauty shop a half hour waiting for a wave and a manicure. Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BILLIE'S HORNS

Uncle Wiggily was hopping along through the woods and over the fields one day, when he heard the voices of some of the animal boys and girls.

"I'm not going to play with him any more!" barked Jackie Bow Wow, the puppy dog.

"Neither am I," mewled Kittie Kat, the pussy girl.

"Oh, don't run away and leave me!" bleated the voice of Billie Wagtail, the goat boy. "I'll be more careful."

"That's what you say every time," spoke Johnnie Bushtail the squirrel.

"And every time you forget and jab us with the sharp ends of your horns," said Sammie Littletail, the rabbit. "We know you don't mean to do it, but your horns are sharp, and they hurt just as if you jabbed us on purpose."

"Oh, dear!" bleated Billie, the goat. "I wish Uncle Wiggily were here to do as he did last summer. He put corks on the points of my horns then, and I could play without jabbing the other boys and girls. I wish Uncle Wiggily were here now!"

"I am here!" suddenly cried the rabbit gentleman, hopping out from behind a big tree.

"Oh, I'm so glad to see you!" cried Billie, running toward Mr. Longears.

"But! But! Be careful, Billie!" warned Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "Please don't jab me with your sharp horns!"

"I'll be careful," promised Billie. "But did you hear about it, Uncle Wiggily? The others won't play with me on account of my horns. Once you put corks on the ends of them for me, but now—"

"Now I haven't any corks," said the bunny gentleman, interrupting Billie, because he was in a hurry. "But I know another way to make your horns safe so the other children can play with you, Billie."

"How?" asked the goat boy.

"I'll put round, smooth snowballs—one on each tip of your two sharp horns," went on Uncle Wiggily. "Some cows have smooth brass knobs on their horns, but on yours I shall put snowballs."

"Oh, that will be lovely!" cried Baby Bunty, dancing about. "I'll let you play tag with me, Billie, when you have snowballs on your horns so they won't stick me."

So Uncle Wiggily made two round, smooth snowballs and put one on each of Billie's horns. And when they had been done Billie could run about, mingling with the other animal boys and girls and not scratching them or jabbing them in the ribs with his sharp points.

"Thank you, Uncle Wiggily!" bleated Billie, who was now very happy. Then the fun went on again.

All this happened just outside the Hollow Stump School, at recess. Soon the play time ended and the children animals trooped back to their lessons.

But no sooner were they all in the room than they began to laugh. That is, every one laughed except Billie, and except Uncle Wiggily.

The rabbit gentleman had hopped into the Hollow Stump School to see the play time. The Teacher as he often did, came right down town, bringing a flask on both hips. We went over to the Mandarin and danced until after three. He kissed me five or six times coming home—like an amateur. Oh, well, he's a nice egg and he saved the evening from being a total loss. I suppose every girl has to have days as dull as this one once in her life.

Building still goes on quietly but steadily. A permit issued to the Odd Fellows the past week for a $10,000 building brings the amount of permits thus far this month up to $26,750.

Owen Emery of 117 South Kenwood street has been made a member of the executive committee of the Young Men's Republican Club of Los Angeles county.

A well-known woman of Tropic walked into the Chappell dry goods store on Brand boulevard yesterday and when she left she carried with her a $2.50 dress without making the purchase.

Tom Mason, who has been writing and picking short stories by the thousands for years, deems this one worthy of inclusion in his book of best short stories:

A certain sergeant-major in the army had the reputation of never being at loss for an answer. A young officer made a bet with a brother officer that he would in less than twenty-four hours ask the sergeant-major a question that would baffle him.

The sergeant-major accompanied the young officer on his rounds, in the course of which the cook-house was visited. Pointing to a large copper of water just commencing to boil, the officer said:

"Why does that water boil around the edges of the copper and not in the center?"

"The water around the edge, sir," replied the veteran, "is for the men on guard; they have their breakfast half an hour before the remainder of the company."

Those Useless Horses

They are planning to abolish all the horses

And let them travel ho Manhattan street.

This noble scheme is furnished by the bosses

Who run this little island. Ain't it sweet?

The horses are so cumbersome and gawky

They jam the traffic up. Oh, ain't it sad?

They are undependable and they are balky.

They are always in the way, and that's too bad.

They cause a lot of grave financial losses.

Delaying traffic; they make big expense.

That is the claim. But when we banish horses

We'll also bid adieu to our horse sense.

LOS ANGELES, March 11.—Los Angeles is to have one of the most modern police departments in operation anywhere if the hopes of Chief of Police August Vollmer, known as the "scientific cop," are realized.

Plans for one of the biggest makeups and reorganizations in the history of the state have been launched by Chief Vollmer in an effort to put the Los Angeles police department on a par with the far-famed Scotland Yard of England and the equally famous Paris Intelligence Bureau.

Vollmer's new scheme, completed after months of study, is novel in police annals for starting and unheated changes in procedure. Policemen will rank in four grades, while sergeants, lieutenants and captains, once selecting the branch of the department they prefer most, will be unable to transfer without dropping back to the rank of patrolman. Seven departments will be created and various types of "imitation criminals" will be turned loose in the city under police pay to keep track of the underworld.

New men coming into the department will not be given badges, guns or authority, but will be sent to school for three months. After the school period, in which the patrolman will be under a course of intensive training in police work, each man will go through a probationary period for another three months.

At the end of three months' probation the man will become a policeman, fourth class. He then will be given four periods of six months each in order to take examinations for third, second and first class.

The seven new divisions to be created under the plan are:

- Vice division, crime crusher division, uniform division, detective division, engineer division and jail division.

Each of these divisions will be under the supervision of a captain, trained for that particular kind of work, and will be composed exclusively of men selected by army methods of examination.

As each patrolman will begin

POEMS That LIVE

THE OUTLAW OF LOCH LENE
O many a day have I made good ale in the glen
That came not of stream or malt,
like the brewing of men;
My bed was the ground; my roof
the green-wood above;
And the wealth that I sought, but one kind glance from my love.

Alas! on that night when the horses I drove from the field,
That I was not near from terror
my angel to shield!
She stretched forth her arms; her mantle she flung to the wind,
And swam o'er Loch Lene, her outlaw'd lover to find.

O would that a freezing sleet-storm'd sweep'd did sweep,
And I and my love were alone,
far off on the deep;
I'd ask not a ship, or a bark, or a pinnacle to save—
With her hand round my waist,
I'd fear not the wind or the wave.

'Tis down by the lake where the wild tree fringes its sides,
The maid of my heart, my fair
one of Heaven resides;
I think, as at eve she wanders its mazes along,
The birds go to sleep by the sweet wild twist of her song.

BALDNESS—No. 3

The medical name for baldness is alopecia. (I am going to write on those interesting glands soon.)

The hair usually falls out during convalescence, or after recovery, rather than during the course of a disease. The cause of the fall is the disturbance of the nutrition of the body—the hair being affected as well as the other organs. Complete recovery usually takes place after the general health and nutrition are restored, so the treatment is the general treatment of the patient, rather than any treatment of the hair.

It is a common practice to shave the scalp in these conditions, but the eminent authority, Jackson, states emphatically that the scalp should not be shaved, that the hair will take care of itself as the patient's strength returns. This does not mean that the daily care of the scalp should be omitted; and if there is dandruff, that should be treated.

The local causes for alopecia symptomata may be any inflammations of the scalp, such as boils, burns, injuries, dandruff, etc., and the treatment here would be the treatment of the original causes. Any of the injuries, if severe enough to destroy the hair follicles (the pits from which the hairs grow), will cause permanent baldness on the parts affected. For, once the follicles are destroyed—good night, hair.

Save these papers and next week we will discuss alopecia prematura and alopecia senilis—(premature baldness and the baldness of advancing years).

Fans Name Winners From Facts Broadcast

Beauty contests are getting to be as ordinary as ball games—a girl can hardly avoid being a "prettiest girl" some time. Miss Hilda Brooks of Cincinnati, the latest to be declared the prettiest of the prettiest, is a distinctive prize beauty, however. She was declared winner in the first pulchritude Olympiad ever held by radio, conducted by station WLW. Mary Costello, Statria Childress and Helen Hamilton took second, third and fourth prizes, respectively. The decisions were made by fans after descriptions of contestants had been broadcast.

With the Women of Today

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

Law is essential to save America and to perpetuate world civilization was declared recently at a mass meeting of representatives from the missionary circles held in the Euclid Avenue Baptist church of Cleveland, O. Women were urged to enlist in the program of the Women's National Committee for Law Enforcement composed of 100 women who are leaders in national women's organizations.

A magazine which will be published in many languages to educate women in favor of international peace, is to be established by the Women's Council of Foreign Mission Boards, New York.

Rev. Florence Buck, of Boston, is a Unitarian minister and education worker. She declares that there are 3 A's that are often overlooked in married life. They are: Adaptability, Amiability and Appreciativeness. She further says "that constant observance of them would do much to prevent divorce."

Miss Chloe Owings, an American woman, has recently received a prize of 1,000 francs from the French Academy of Political and Moral Sciences. It is the Prix Carlier, "destined to recompense the best work published in the last three years, which suggests new methods for bettering the physical and moral condition of the human race."

BEAUTY CHATS

FOR AN OILY COMPLEXION

Complexions which come through the bitter cold weather smooth and untouched by chapping have an uncomfortable habit of getting shiny with the warm weather. This is because the skin gives off an unusual amount of oil, which is marvelous in winter to withstand bad weather but unnecessary in the summer. There are various ways of treating this abundance of oil, none of them very difficult.

You can rub powdered oatmeal into the skin when you wash the face, using it as a cleanser instead of soap. It is slightly drying and very cleansing as it penetrates deeply into the pores of the skin, and when rinsed out takes with it the superfluous oil and dirt. I would suggest using the oatmeal powder instead of soap on alternate days, the warm rinse always to be followed by a cold one.

The starch treatment is another way. In this treatment the face is washed as usual with soap and water and given a warm, but not too warm rinse. A little ordinary white laundry starch is melted in enough water to form a thin paste. This is rubbed thoroughly over the skin and allowed to dry. In half an hour it should be rinsed off with warm and then cold water. The starch, by the way, is very bleaching, which is an added advantage, as the oily skin is usually a dark one.

Many women who complain of oily complexions use quantities of cold creams. That is a great mistake unless the cream is thoroughly washed off with hot water and soap. Even then the cream should be the light cleansing variety for it is almost impossible to wash a heavy cream from the complexion.

Another remedy is to wash with tincture of green soap, but be careful of this. The tincture is highly drying and often irritating, although it is both cleansing and antiseptic.

Heart and Home Problems

NO CHOICE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a man thirty-eight years of age and have been going with a woman of 32 for the last five years. About three months ago she got acquainted with another man. He left town and asked her to come to visit him. She took my money and did as he asked. After spending what money she had, she wrote me for a return ticket. After coming back she sold her things and went away again.

Would you advise me, even though I loved her greatly, to find out where she is and try to get her back? W. R.

Let the woman go and do not try to make her return to you. Probably she got tired of waiting for you to marry her. You and she are not very young, and five years was a long time for her to wait for you. Doubtless she feels the other man wants her more than you do.

A LOVE TANGLE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am in my early twenties. Eight years ago I married to please my folks, who were very poor and thought they would get someone to take care of me.

I was very young and did not protest, not knowing what I was going into. But even then I knew I was not marrying the right one, for I had already met him. We were childhood sweethearts. I thought I would get over it, but I didn't, so I was divorced and all ready to start with the right one. He told me he would never be satisfied if he didn't get me, but he did not seem ready to marry me then, for we were still very young and he was going with someone else to please his folks, but I was jealous and impatient, so I married again and immediately he married another girl, not the one he was going with.

Well, after looking 'em over, I don't know whether to call in the vice squad or the lunacy commission. Some are nippy, some are dippy, some are kangaroo. Some are nutty, some are—er, that is to say, vulgar—and some are plain koo-koo!

The following classic, now on every rouged vamp's naughty lips, and burbling also from under the hirsute fringe that crowns with passing glory the embryo sheik's upper osculatory member, partakes (as we say) of the cake:

"When it's night time in Italy, it's Wednesday over here;
When they're bathing in Argentine, don't ever try to milk a herding;
Tall trees are high, no I don't mind;
Yodel all you like, a mushroom's always kind;
If you haven't an appetite, then think of Paul Revere.
When it's night time in Italy, it's Wednesday over here."
I have decided after looking over the new songs to let my wife's maiden aunt on her father's side go on playing those old staid pieces of yesteryear, like "Three o'Clock in the Morning" and "K-K-K-Katy."

Development by the company would be under the terms of the federal water power act providing for a limited tenure of fifty years with right of the government at the end of the period to take over the property at cost and determined by the Federal Power Commission under the cost accounting system which the commission has established.

"I have today filed with the arid lands committee a statement in writing signed by our president, John B. Miller, pledging an expenditure of from thirty to forty million dollars a year for this work. Mr. Miller points out that the financing would be accomplished through the sale of bonds to investors throughout the country and the sale of the company's capital stock direct to the people in the whole territory served and who would be benefited by the development.

"To avoid waste, duplication and loss of interest all expenditures made by either the government or ourselves should be based upon a co-ordinated plan for the full development of the river as a whole as finally determined by the government engineers from all departments having jurisdiction. Such a co-ordinated plan should be carefully worked out with respect to market conditions and economic development to insure the eventual reimbursement of the cost of the dam from electric power revenues. The Swing-Johnson bill now under consideration calling for an appropriation of seventy million dollars, does not do this.

"It is true that Los Angeles city will need an additional domestic water supply ten years or so from now if its present rate of growth continues and in a matter so important as the one now under consideration all of the facts should be considered by the congressional committee from a non-partisan, unbiased viewpoint. The truth about any situation cannot injure anyone whose motives are sincere.

"The company is willing that any license or permit granted by the United States government or by the states affected shall be subject and subordinate to the Colorado river compact signed at Santa Fe, New Mexico, last year, respecting the relative rights of the states in the Colorado basin, to the waters of the river."
