DEALERS PREPARE FINE DISPLAYS FOR BENEFIT OF PUBLIC

Exhibition Formally Opens on Saturday Night; Many Attractions, Music, Varied Features to Please Great Crowds

In a blaze of gorgeous coloring, the first annual automobile and accessory show will open tomorrow for eight days at the northwest corner of South Brand boulevard and Magnolia avenue, where roomy accommodations have been arranged under a 100 by 310-foot tent.

While exhibits of forty local automobile and accessory dealers will focus the attention of the 5,000 or more people who are expected to visit the show place nightly, entertainment such as is rarely witnessed is being provided for the visitors. Today a massive stage is being erected at the far end of the big tent. From that rostrum Mayor Spencer Robinson will deliver the opening address tomorrow evening. Lyman P. Clark, president of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association, will make the response.

Pan Big Program

The staging of ten acts of big time vaudeville is one of the most unique features ever attempted at an automobile show anywhere. This part of the entertainment, to start at 9 o'clock tomorrow night, is under the direction of Willis West and Hazel Boyd.

JAMES FECHET TO BECOME ASSISTANT AIR CHIEF

New Leader Rises Out Of Ranks; Silence Over Official's Demotion

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Brigadier-General William Mitchell, whose attacks on the administration of the nation's air defenses aroused the ire of his superiors in the war department, will be retired next month as assistant chief of the army air service, Secretary of War Weeks announced today.

Weeks recommended to President Coolidge that Lieutenant Colonel James E. Fechet, a native of Texas and now stationed at San Antonio, be appointed to succeed Mitchell on April 27.

General Mitchell has repeatedly stated his demotion would not cause him to leave the army.

It had not been decided at the war department today whether Mitchell would continue to be stationed in Washington or whether he would be given an assignment away from the capital.

The president approved the discharging of General Mitchell when he sent Fechet's nomination to the Senate this afternoon.

When the announcement of his demotion was made, General Mitchell was at Langley field, Virginia, where aircraft tests are being conducted today. Apparently forewarned, however, of what was in store for him, Mitchell had a statement ready for the press and

REALTY CONCERN IN BOOSTER MEET

Hayward & McCartney Force Holds Monthly Banquet At Oak Tree Inn

The Hayward & McCartney real estate department held its regular monthly dinner and booster meeting last night at the Oak Tree Inn, on Verdugo road, opposite Verdugo Woodlands and managed by a former well-known competitor in the real estate business, Elsa Jane. The entire Hayward & McCartney organization was loud in its praises of the culinary art of Elsa Jane and her ability to make every one feel at home. Mr. Mudgett, in particular, recommends the chicken cooked in true Southern style and the extra large portions served in this up-to-the-minute establishment.

After the meal was consumed, the meeting settled down to a strictly business affair with Mr. Hayward wielding the scepter. The successes and failures of the past month were analyzed—each man subject to constructive criticism and the whole organization received inspiration to establish another high mark for the month of March.

Wide-Awake Force
With thirty-two sales in January and thirty-one in February, this sales force has proven itself wide-awake and alert to take advantage of the opportunities in the realty market. Each man is straining every nerve to give greater service to his many worthy clients. The only complaint seems to be the difficulty of procuring just the right sort of listings.

The aim for the month of March is no less than forty-five sales. Those present who pledged themselves to put forth their best effort for this goal were: L. J. Dannel, Frank Hoopes, J. C. Slater, George Mudgett, "Shorty" Waechter, Walter J. Horstman, R. P. Lehman, manager of the Insurance Department, and Gus A. Lavison, office manager and accountant, and the members of the

Have You Registered?

Residents of Glendale who desire to vote at the municipal election on April 14, 1925, can cast their ballots if— They have registered since January 1, 1924, and have not moved since that date. They have not registered since January 1, 1924, but register before March 14, 1925. They have registered and moved they must register in the new precinct in which they are living.

Two deputy registrars are on duty at the office of The Glendale Evening News, 139 South Brand boulevard, where voters can register and become eligible to vote at the municipal election. If you have not registered since January 1, 1924, or have moved since you registered, come to the office of The Glendale Evening News, the big three-story newspaper plant at 139 South Brand boulevard, between 8 a. m. and 9 p. m. and register.

firm, E. P. Hayward and H. E. McCartney.

Sales Recorded
The sales recorded during the month consisted of lots on Howard street, Cherry street, Linden avenue, Burchett street, Adams street, two on Chilton drive, Thompson street, Irving street, Mountain street, Cameron place, Cedar street, Brent street, two lots on Patterson avenue, three lots on Allen and one on Linden.

Houses sold were located at 716 Arden, 823 East Glenoaks boulevard, 2054 Chilton drive, 1000 Pittman avenue, and a $15,000 apartment house at 4572 Van Couver avenue, Los Angeles. Mr. Mudgett, specializing in business and industrial property, arranged a lease for the Twitchell Fixture Co. at 518 West Garfield, bringing a new industry into Glendale.

Besides the above business, many loans were negotiated through the firm and trust deeds totaling around $15,000 were sold.

Thus it can be seen that the activities of the Hayward & McCartney Co. cover a wide field. It is gratifying to know that of all the lots sold practically every one will have a home started, within a few days. Many sales were made to newcomers—one in particular to an investor from Chicago who can see the present low values of all Glendale property.

HOUSEWARMING IS SURPRISE FEATURE

Mr. and Mrs. Naudain Are Honored By Omar Shrine Members in New Home

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Naudain were surprised in their new home at 216 Kenneth road last night, when a group of guests held an housewarming. The company included members of Omar Shrine, White Shrine of Jerusalem, of which Mrs. Naudain was organizer and first worthy high priestess. There were forty-five present. Cards were played.

Mrs. Warren Roberts, present worthy high priestess of the shrine, on behalf of the organization, presented the Naudains with a picture for their new home. During the evening solo dances were given by Miss Lois Naudain. Arranging the affair were Mesdames Ina Luring and Florence Rice. Prizes were won by Mrs. F. H. Vesper, Mrs. Irma Kaiser, William A. Rice and Joe Evans.

EX-CONVICT NOW BRUNSWICK HELP

Phonograph Concern Offers Exclusive Records Of 'King of Ivories'

Owners of Brunswick phonographs will find much interest in the announcement made through the Brunswick shop at 109 North Brand boulevard, that Harry Snodgrass, convict No. 1311 at Missouri state prison, is to record exclusively Brunswick records.

When the grim gates swung outward to let Snodgrass back into the world again he had the salt-and-pepper suit the state gives all released "guests" and a new five-dollar bill. But he reckoned without his many friends to whom his fame had been broadcast by radio. They had sent him gifts totaling over $10,000 in cash, a new touring car, and many gifts of appreciation, which did much to dispel the gloom that years of incarceration had put on the shy little man. But one of the best presents that awaited him was a vaudeville contract and an invitation to play for Brunswick records.

Prison History
Snodgrass' prison history reads like romance. A man with a number, with hope cut off, with no outlet for normal things, he sank his identity in the woodworking shop of the prison, Station WOS, located in the dome of the state capital, a few blocks from the grey prison on the Missouri river, called for talent. The prisoner furnished a band. Radio fans asked for solos by the band's pianist. So Snodgrass became a successful radio entertainer as WOS was picked up from coast to coast.

His first Brunswick record called "King of Ivories," a reproduction of the broadcasting that brought him fame. In it Mr. Snodgrass plays "Three o'Clock in the Morning."

OFFERS BARGAINS IN SPRING SUITS

Coast To Coast Army Store Has Stock of Latest Styles For Men

Featured this week as an outstanding special by the Coast to Coast Army store, Brand at Harvard, is a new shipment of men's and young men's suits bought at an unusually advantageous price direct from the manufacturer S. D. Goldsmith, proprietor announces that in place of holding them in stock at regular prices that he is putting them on sale at extremely low prices, passing the saving on to his customers.

Spring and summer stocks are now practically complete, he said, and the store is prepared to care for the needs of customers. Besides a full and complete line of men's dress and working clothes, this concern also features outing apparel for mountains or beach wear. Working schedules for salesmen in the store are so arranged that the doors are kept open until 9 o'clock each night, which has proven a great convenience for the working man.

SYNOD OFFICERS SPEAK TO WOMEN

Lutheran Church Officials In Campaign to Disseminate Department Work

Mrs. Paul Hoffman of 327 North Maryland avenue, and Mrs. E. C. Bentz of 804 South Verdugo road, state synodical officers of the Lutheran church have been attending meetings this week of women's organizations to present the work of their department. On Wednesday they attended the meeting of the Women's Missionary society of St. Luke's Lutheran church at Huntington Park where they were guests at a dinner. Yesterday they attended the Women's Missionary society of St. Mark's Lutheran church in Los Angeles where a dinner and afternoon meeting were held.

Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Bentz presented the work of their department, which is the thank-offering and life membership. Large audiences were present for both meetings and they were cordially received by the organizations.

Women's Athletic Club Members Plan Tennis

Tennis players of the Women's Athletic club spent Wednesday in Brookside park, where tennis and a picnic were enjoyed. Next Wednesday they will meet at the Harrower court and motor to Brookside for another outing. There also will be a skating party at the ice rink in Los Angeles.

CHAIN STORES HIT
MANCHESTER, N. H., March 6.—Chain stores are blamed by the F. M. Hoyt Shoe Co. for a slump in high quality footwear. The concern, trying to put into effect a ten per cent cut in wages, says its business has slumped from $25,000,000 annually to $14,000,000.

DESERT TOWN HAS OWN FLYING FIELD

Glendale Air Rodeo Sponsor Encouraged By Wishes Of Little Hamlet

There is no city in Southern California too small to have an aviation field, contends Dr. T. C. Young, who is in charge of the Glendale Air Rodeo, to be staged here on March 14 and 15. In support of his contention he displayed this morning a letter from Amboy, Cal. The Amboy officials tender their regrets at not being able to attend the Glendale air meet, and then continue:

"Amboy is a very small town in the Mojave desert. We have two garages, two hotels, two stores and one restaurant. Our population is about fifty persons. We built our landing field by popular subscription of work and materials."

Included in the envelope with the letter was a hand-drawn map of the Amboy field, giving the specific location with regards to the Santa Fe railroad and the National Old Trails highway, the wind direction and other data. The letter was signed by T. R. Morgan and J. Kelley, in charge of the field.

Unemployment is rapidly increasing in Denmark.

CANDIDATES CHOSEN BY PEOPLE IN RACE

Nomination Editor Relinquishes Task After Affording Opportunity to Residents to Express Choice

With the opening of the active race for the five councilmanic positions to be filled at the municipal election on April 14, the nomination editor of The Glendale Evening News today relinquishes his task, after originating and carrying through to a most successful end a means of giving the people of Glendale a voice in the selection of candidates for the five positions.

Giving the people a voice in the selecting of city officials has long been advocated but seldom carried out in politics in many cities. The general rule has been for a group to pick a slate, put their candidates in the field, and oil up the machinery.

Municipal elections in California are classed as strictly non-partisan elections, on the statute books, and with the idea of carrying out the laws of the state, The Glendale Evening News asked the citizens of Glendale to suggest persons they thought fit to serve as councilmen.

The result was that many suggestions were made. Some persons suggested as candidates by Glendaleans through The Glendale Evening News, received heavy votes, while others did not have as strong support.

All of the candidates for City Council who have obtained their nomination petitions from the city clerk have been persons suggested by the residents of Glendale through The Glendale Evening News, as possible candidates. Other persons suggested by Glendaleans through The Glendale Evening News as possible candidates will obtain their nomination petitions during the next few days, it is learned.

CHILD LABOR LAW UPHELD BY CASEY

Knights of Columbus Debate With Loyola College Favors Amendment

Five youthful debaters, arguing in favor of the proposed amendment prohibiting child labor in the United States, won a decision in a public debate held last night by Glendale council No. 1920, Knights of Columbus at the clubhouse, 330 East Lomita avenue. Ten students of Loyola college took part. The affirmative won the decision by a 2 to 1 vote of the judges.

Plans were made at last night's session for a program and ball to be held at the K. C. hall on the evening of St. Patrick's day, March 17. The program will be outlined next week. Knights were informed that on Sunday afternoon the undefeated San Diego K. C. baseball team will meet Glendale's K. C. state champions in Glendale. San Diego is not a member of the southern K. C. league and so was not willing to grant the championship to the local Casey's.

BEST LIGHTED CITY, BOAST OF WILSON

Glendale Praised For Steps Taken Making Possible Bright Boulevards

Glendale is fast becoming the best-lighted city in America, in addition to its present record as the fastest-growing city, according to L. H. Wilson, chairman of the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and one of the pioneers in the movement for improvement of Glendale's streets.

Elaborate preparations have been made to celebrate tomorrow night the turning on of the new lighting system on Central avenue. As a result of the activities of the industrial committee the improvement of the city streets, increased lighting and other similar activities, a number of new industries are expected to locate here within the near future, Wilson said today.

"Brand boulevard, in addition to her present wonderful lighting system, is to have new lights installed," he added. "Glendale avenue is second to none in this respect and Colorado street, as well as San Fernando road from Burbank to Los Angeles, will be prepared to turn on their new lights in the near future."

Lighting, Asset
 "There is nothing that helps more to make a city attractive than wide, clean, well-lighted streets. It would be well worth anyone's while to take a drive over Broadway, Glendale avenue, Colorado street, Chevy Chase drive and Central avenue. No need to take the same trips every day. Palmer avenue is soon to be widened and plans are being made for the widening of San Fernando road from the Los Angeles city limits north to the Burbank city limits and is to have ornamental lights."

"Glendale has the finest industrial sites in Southern California, with all the advantages of other sites, and none of the disadvantages."

SCHOOLS' HEAD BACK FROM SESSION

White Reports Educators In Favor of More Practical Subjects of Study

Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, returned last night from Cincinnati, Ohio, where he attended the sessions of the department of superintendence, National Education association, February 21 to 28, at which 13,000 educators from all parts of the country were gathered.

The general theme of the convention was the relation of education to national progress, or, in short, citizenship, he states. Among the outstanding proposals of the association was a revision of school curriculums, generally, with the object of throwing out dead wood and teaching practical subjects.

The value of psychological tests is also becoming recognized, Mr. White reports. In Glendale, J. Harold Williams of the University of California, Southern branch, conducts these measurements. The safety of children at crossings and the half-time problem also came in for much consideration, he states. The system of school committees, employed for some time at the Central school in this city, is growing in favor throughout the country.

East Prosperous
 An interesting sidelight on the convention is the fact that Superintendent J. M. Gwinn of San Francisco schools, missed becoming president of the association by only ten votes. Frank W. Bellou of Washington, D. C., was elected, to succeed William M. Andrews, superintendent of Chicago schools.

In general, business conditions throughout the east are better states Mr. White. Business men he talked with in St. Louis and Cincinnati seemed to feel that rising prices indicate coming prosperity.

George U. Moyses, principal of the Glendale Union High school, who also attended the sessions of the National Education association, is expected to return to Glendale this afternoon.

Register NOW!

The Glendale Evening News urges that voters register NOW for the municipal election. Do not postpone registering, for that will mean that the deputies will be swamped at the closing hours and will be required to remain on duty half the night. Register NOW, while the deputies are not crowded with work. Deputies are on duty at The Glendale Evening News from 8 a. m. until 9 p. m.

W. G. LOFFTUS IN TREASURER RACE

Former Accountant Becomes Candidate To Succeed J. C. Sherer

W. G. Lofftus, of 1241 East Orange Grove avenue, who has announced his intention of entering the race as candidate for city treasurer to succeed J. C. Sherer, has lived in Glendale since 1911 with the exception of four years, when he lived in the Imperial valley. He is a graduate of an eastern college, where he took a five-year course, and followed it with one year of post-graduate work at Stanford. He is a graduate of an accountant school in Los Angeles.

Mr. Lofftus served as assistant cashier in an Illinois bank for one year, was in the real estate business in Fresno and Los Angeles for seven years, served as treasurer of a large Los Angeles building and sub-dividing company, and was assistant quartermaster at Harvard Military Academy, Los Angeles, for two years.

He organized the federal farm loan bureau in the Imperial valley and served as secretary and treasurer of the bureau. He has taken an active interest in school and P.-T. A. work in Glendale and is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. He is married and has two children.

BROWN TALKS ON MEMORY OF MAN

Facts Persons Must Face Stressed By Speaker At Meeting

BROWN PROGRAM
 Tonight, 7:30 o'clock, Mr. Brown will talk on "The Five Deaths." Saturday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock (women only), "A Great Woman." This is the last of this series of talks. Saturday night, at 7:30 o'clock, "How to Live a Christian Life." Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock, "Upon This Rock." Sunday afternoon, "Sampson and the Lady Barber" (men only). Sunday night, at 7:30 o'clock, "The Last Call."

That the fateful "finger writes and, having writ, moves on," was the tenor of Evangelist John Brown's sermon last night in which he pointed out to a capacity audience three inescapable facts, God, memory and conscience.

Striking straight at the heart of his subject with the warning "Son, Remember," taken from the twenty-fifth verse of the sixteenth chapter of Luke, Evangelist Brown's opening words were an announcement of the three dread facts that man must face at every turning of the road of life. At the close of the sermon, dozens of those who heard him, heeding the evangelist's warning, flocked to the inquiry room for special prayer and further consultation with Mr. Brown.

Talks On Memory

"It is about memory that I want to talk most tonight," Mr. Brown commenced. "Few stop to remember that memory does much to determine man's destiny. There are few more real, more earnest or more awful facts in a man's life than his memory. You shall have to do with God in this earth-life at the judgment bar and even on into eternity—you will carry your memory also with you through the ceaseless ages of eternity. You had just as well try to escape from your shadow as from these facts."

Continuing, the speaker brought out the following facts: Blind is the man who cannot look and find the footprints of the Deity everywhere. Memory does much this side of the grave to determine whether we shall be in heaven or in hell.

Children's Ways

"Personally, I believe," Mr. Brown said, "that conscience is one of the most perishable things of life. Conscience and memory will be with us throughout the endless ages of eternity. Memory is an imperishable book in which we begin to write in early life and continue forever, and blessed is the man who enjoys the associations that memory brings."

Getting around to the home and children, Mr. Brown said: "In my day parents raised their children, now they rear them. My grandmother raised hers on prayer and hickory. My grandmother would have licked a vinegar barrel if she had caught it working on Sunday. There is always a bad kid in every neighborhood, and he is always the neighbor's! Children, obey your parents' has been changed too often today into 'parents, obey your children!'"

BENEFIT FOR WAR MOTHERS TONIGHT

Film Stars, Vaudeville Acts, Elks' Band To Feature High School Bill

Glendale people will have an opportunity tonight to share in the relief work done among war veterans by Lester Meyer chapter of War Mothers by attending the entertainment program at the Broadway High school. The program will begin at 8:15 o'clock, and will be featured by a group of motion-picture stars and vaudeville acts.

The War Mothers have received the heartiest support from many of the popular stars. Among the stars to appear are: Tom Mix, Louise Dresser, Madge Bellamy, Lew Cody, William Desmond, Laura La Plante, Mary Melvor, Albert J. Smith, Charles H. Puffy and Rin-Tin-Tin. Tickets may be secured at the box office tonight at the high school.

Local Motorist Loses Car To Thief In L. A.

E. R. Jordan of 1427 Chevy Chase drive, reported today to Glendale police theft of his car yesterday in Los Angeles. The license number was 794-803, he said. Lois Hunt of 205 East Acacia avenue, reported an attempt was made to steal his car at 6 o'clock last night, while it was parked at 222 North Brand boulevard. The transmission lock prevented the thieves from accomplishing this purpose, he stated.

A folding clock has been invented. England will have penny post soon.

Glendale Leads Again

The Fastest Growing City in America in building and population; the best lighted city in America.

Why hesitate in buying property from a man who knows? I know property on San Fernando Road and South Central. I don't claim to know property in any other part of Glendale, as to its values, because I have never made it a study, but I do know the value of real estate on these two boulevards. Let us show you property—either business or industrial—and make you some money.

BIG BUILDING PROJECT IS PLANNED

Bear Bros. To Erect 5-Store and Apartment House On Central Avenue

One of the largest apartment house projects ever planned for Glendale was announced today by D. C. Bear of Bear Bros., contractors and builders. Plans for five store buildings and forty-eight apartments to be located on South Central avenue between Maple street and Windsor road, were given out by Mr. Bear. Construction work will commence on the project within ten days so that the stores will be ready for occupancy by May 15.

The stores, to be attractive shops, will front on Central avenue. To the rear will be built the apartments. Entrance will be gained through an ornamental gateway that will divide the store fronts.

All the apartments will be strictly modern with every desirable feature. They will be situated on a knoll at an elevation twenty feet greater than that of Central avenue and will command a view of the entire surrounding territory. Garage facilities with accommodations for half a hundred cars will be provided with entrances from Windsor road.

The new apartment structure will adjoin Oak Knoll court, built some time ago by Bear Bros. The property on which the buildings will be located was purchased by D. C. Bear two years ago.

Women Thank Evening News For Publicity

Members of the Royal Neighbors meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. John Zahlbruckner, 818 West Lomita avenue, voted unanimously to thank The Glendale Evening News for publicity given the organization, especially for the recent district meeting. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Emma Tucker, 535 West Burchett street.

NEW MEN'S SHOP OPENS SATURDAY

Palace Grand Store Located On North Brand Has Specialty Line

Featuring exclusive novelties for men, one articles of which cannot be obtained at any other place in Glendale, Doran's Palace Grand Men's shop will open tomorrow as a "down-stairs mezzanine" at 135 North Brand boulevard.

The shop is on the beaten path into the Palace Grand recreation parlors, and is just out of the high rent district. That fact makes it possible for George B. Doran and Harold Nelson, owners, to sell at lower prices than most other men's shops in the city.

The place has been fitted up attractively and the stock is arranged so that it will be a pleasure to shop. Doran was formerly connected with Webb's Men's shop.

NEW ENGLAND SOCIETY IN MEETING

Former Residents of East Gather For Banquet And Program

The six New England states were represented last night at the meeting of the New England society held in the First Congregational church. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock at tables arranged for former residents of each of the six states. Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward was chairman of the committee arranging for the gathering.

Dr. E. L. Fiske, president, presided at the business meeting when the resignation of F. B. Warner as secretary was received. George A. Whitaker was appointed to fill the vacancy. An entertaining program had been arranged.

Rev. Charles M. Calderwood gave the history of New England and also read a poem written by Horace A. Rounds, treasurer of the society.

Mrs. Carolyn Pearson gave readings and Milford Jackson, accompanied at the piano by Miss Orcott, sang. One hundred and thirty former New England residents were present.

CLUB WOMEN CELEBRATE INAUGURAL

Thursday Club Members Hear Reminiscences of President Hayes

Inaugural week was observed at the meeting of the Thursday Afternoon club of Glendale yesterday at the home of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, 1423 South Brand boulevard, with a talk by Mrs. Fanny Jones, reminiscent of the inauguration of President Rutherford B. Hayes and his administration. She recounted incidents of her close friendship with the Hayes family during years they occupied adjoining homes in Columbus, Ohio, and days later in Washington, giving details of inauguration of President Hayes.

Illustrating the retiring disposition of Mrs. Hayes, she told of a wedding at the White House, at which she was a guest, when Mrs. Hayes' dislike for publicity no story of the affair was permitted to appear in the newspapers, as she considered a wedding a strictly private affair. The speaker was a resident of Washington both before and during the Hayes administration, her husband, Elliott Jones, being in the government service.

Pleasant program directed by Mrs. Evelyn G. Pierce, included a piano selection (Chopin) by Mrs. H. E. Nicholas of Los Angeles; whistling numbers by Mrs. Farn Carlock; humorous readings,

THE TRUE LOVER—

Is always a poor judge of his beloved's beauty.
Never asks for a surrender of moral principle for the sake of love.
Is always hovering between exaltation and depression.
Never stops to think how it would look in the movies.
Lives eternally in a tempestuous world.
Usually thinks his own story would make a good book.

PAROLE LAW TOO LENIENT

The parole system for prisoners is splendid in theory, but it has been so shamefully abused in California that it has been productive of more harm than good. The probation system is economical both for the state and the prisoner if it is rightly used. If a prisoner has committed but one offense, is not criminally inclined and wants a chance to show that he can make good, there is no need for the state to be taxed to keep him in prison, but when he is paroled he should be compelled to report to someone in authority at frequent intervals, until he has demonstrated unmistakably that he is again entitled to citizenship. Apparently the custom has been, in this state, to turn the prisoner loose and forget about him.

A short time ago a young man was arrested for burglary in a near-by county and it was learned that he was on parole from San Quentin and had committed no less than fourteen offenses against the law since his release. Instances of like nature have been too numerous throughout the state.

Orange county is up in arms because a dentist of that county who was convicted of an atrocious crime and sent to prison was paroled at the end of six months. Likewise, San Bernardino county is agitated over the case of former City Manager Alford of Ontario, who was convicted of embezzling large sums of money from the city and sent to San Quentin eighteen months ago. Very recently the people of Ontario were amazed to learn that Alford had been at liberty for some time on parole.

The San Bernardino county grand jury has called the state board of prison directors as witnesses to be investigated, but nothing can be done by this method, since the pardon board has acted entirely within the law in granting Alford's parole. The law says a murderer sentenced for life may be paroled after seven years, and a first-term convict whose sentence is not life and whose conduct in prison has been exemplary may apply for a parole after one year in prison, no matter what the character of his offense.

Why go to the expense of a trial if the prisoner is to be turned loose almost immediately, regardless of the nature of his offense or the length of his sentence? Only the legislature can correct this evil by curtailing the powers of the parole board.

INHERIT OUR SINS

Dr. Paul Kammerer, a distinguished Viennese now in this country, is called "a scientific revolutionist conducting a bitter war against conservative ideas of evolution." He brings us a doctrine or theory that many will accept because it is so comfortable. It is called the theory of the inheritance of acquired characteristics. If the parent forms a habit, either through his own volition or through an external influence, the offspring will be affected by it.

The theory that heredity has its influence on the characteristics of an individual is not new by any means. Those who oppose Dr. Kammerer say whatever a person may do to himself he will not be able to transmit such artificial changes to his offspring. Scientists have discussed and debated this subject for years and haven't proved very much yet. After all, the problem of the individual is not with the last generation or with the next. It is for each one to make the most and the best of his own life, no matter what his heritage has been, and if his characteristics descend to his children it will be so much the better if he has lived right.

BOOSTING AVIATION

Many people feel that sufficient encouragement is not being given to aeronautics by the government and by individuals who are in a position to advance commercial aviation. But, though we are conservative and slow to make such radical changes as are involved in leaving the solid ground, aviation is destined to become of tremendous importance as a means of transportation and a form of recreation.

The air meet to be held in Glendale Saturday and Sunday may be of epochal importance, since it will inaugurate an interest in aeronautics that is expected to lead to the establishment of aviation fields in all the communities of Southern California, and the charting of these landing places, as was outlined by Dr. T. C. Young of Glendale to the secretaries of Chambers of Commerce in Ventura last week.

Glendale's airport is already established, thanks to the progressiveness of a few of our citizens and pioneers in aviation. In this respect we are in advance of most of the cities of the south. Glendale should, therefore, encourage aviation in every way possible.

MAN OF COURAGE

Recent appointees to the president's cabinet are not men who are widely known for outstanding records and accomplishments, and the public is watching to see how they will perform as presidential advisers. William M. Jardine, the new secretary of agriculture, is a man who has been little in the public eye, but apparently he has some of the qualities of the president himself. He does not fear to express an opinion, no matter whose toes he may step on. He insists that ten per cent of the farmers' troubles can be cured by legislation, and he is in favor of that legislation. The other ninety per cent must be remedied by the farmers themselves, and their associates and the business men of their communities, and he is for organization and education to do that.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONSHIPS

In speaking of the criticism of the work of the Washington disarmament conference, which has been widespread, The World's Work points out one thing that was accomplished by the conference that is so new and revolutionary in international relationships that it has not yet been properly estimated as the greatest achievement of the conference. This is that the armament of an individual nation is not its own exclusive affair, but is a matter in which its neighbors, and possible antagonists, have a right to be consulted.

Considering the fact that the greatest calamity of the forty years of history preceding the European war was the race for supremacy in armaments, and that it was this thing that made the war inevitable, the precedent established by the Washington conference is of more significance than at first appears.

WOW! WHAT A BUMP!

Virtue Unconscious

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The best virtue is unconscious. When we do a good deed and expect a reward for it and call for people to come and look at it, or even regard it ourselves with complacency, its quality has been somewhat diluted.

Honesty may be the best policy, but the man who is honest because it is the best policy is not quite honest. We do not know whether he would be honest with himself when he is alone or not.

The right manner of doing good has been described by Marcus Aurelius. He says that a man who does good in the best manner, "does not even know what he has done, but he is like a vine which has produced grapes and seeks for nothing more after it has once produced its proper fruit. As a horse when he has run, a dog when he has caught his game, a bee when it has made its honey, so a man, when he has done a good act, does not call for others to come and see, but goes on to another act, as a vine goes on to again produce grapes in its season."

Virtue is so sublime and wonderful that it needs no adventitious aids. It is for this reason that a man cannot be paid for doing good, and while virtue has great value it has no price.

The only way to do good is because you cannot help it, because your nature is such that you produce only good. This is the goodness of the good.

The goodness of the bad is something that is put on for occasion. It is borrowed and artificial and does not have the effect of goodness that is real and genuine.

There is only one way to do good all of the time, and that is to be a good man. When one automatically rejects evil impulses and responds to those which are good, when his every act is prompted by a worthy motive, such a man has a right to estimate himself as good although he probably does not think of it.

The only way to be of benefit to your fellows is to be such a character that you unconsciously produce that which is helpful and beneficial to them.

All goodness that is conscious is of value only as it trains us for the unconscious kind.

This is probably what is meant when it is said that for every idle word a man speaks he shall give account in the day of judgment. For what we speak of purpose no man can say, but what we speak with no purpose at all, and from pure idleness, is a revelation of what we are, ourselves.

As Marcus Aurelius says further: "Art thou not content that thou hast done something comfortable to thy nature, and dost thou seek to be paid for it, just as if the eye demanded a recompense for seeing?"

The only really good man is therefore one who is good for the pleasure of it. Virtue is indeed its only reward, just as the eye is happiest when seeing, or the feet when walking.

This is not to be taken as an attempt to minimize the benefit of trying to do something which you are convinced is right but to which you are not disposed. For it is only by a constant attempt to do good that the desire to do good becomes automatic. A good disposition, you may say, is the silt of good deeds. It is the result of having done good over and over.

It is said in Holy Writ that "Whosoever will do these sayings of mine, he shall be likened to a man who built his house upon a rock." This does not mean that the sayings are a rock, nor that the Master Himself is a rock, but that which is the rock is the fact of one having long practiced doing good. Character rests upon practice.

But the end is attained only when practice has been continued so long that it becomes automatic, that it has, so to speak, drifted down into the desires and become unconscious. It is for this reason that the best quality of goodness is unconscious. Indeed, the aim and end of all goodness is to become unconscious, and it is found that the most worthy characters and the most dependable are the most unconscious of their virtue.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

Human character is always publishing itself. It will not be concealed. It hates darkness—it rushes into light.

Emerson was thinking of this when he wrote that the most fugitive deed and word, the mere air of doing a thing, the intimated purpose expresses character.

"If you act you show character; if you sit still you show it; if you sleep you show it."

"You think because you have spoken nothing when others spoke, and have given no opinion on the times, on the church or on the college, on parties and persons, that your verdict is still expected with curiosity as a reserved wisdom. Far otherwise; your silence answers very loud. You have no oracle to utter, and your fellowmen have learned that you cannot help them; for oracles speak. Doth not wisdom cry and understanding put forth her voice?"

Silence, then, is not golden.

Confucius exclaimed: "How can a man be concealed! How can a man be concealed!"

If you would not be known to do anything, never do it.

It was observed by Emerson that a man may play the fool in the drifts of a desert, but every grain of sand shall seem to see.

He may be a solitary eater, but he cannot keep his foolish counsel. A broken complexion, a swinish look, undergoes acts and the want of true knowledge—all these blab about him.

"Always as much virtue as there is, so much appears; as much goodness as there is, so much reverence it commands," Emerson opined.

"All the devils respect virtue. The high, the generous, the self-devoted set will always instruct and command mankind."

"Never a sincere word was uttered lost."

"Never a magnanimity fell to the ground. Always the heart of man greets and accepts it unexpectedly."

A man passes for what he is worth. What he is engraves itself on his face, on his fortune, in letters which all men may read.

Who's Who

A young man who started in Wall Street as a stock runner, David U. Page, has become president of the New York Curb market, the second largest primary stock market in the United States, and the "proving ground" for issues designed for the Stock Exchange.

Mr. Page, formerly vice-president of the curb was elected to succeed John W. Curtis, who has been the head of the exchange for two full terms and whose term as governor has expired. Mr. Curtis explained recently that under the rules of the curb he could not be re-elected and that he desired to turn over the office to some one else in order to give more attention to his own business.

More than half of the new president's forty-one years have been spent in Wall Street. His business life began when he was 16, as stock runner for Pomeroy Brothers, a Stock Exchange firm, at $6 a week. In those days the curb market was in the open air on Broad Street and the boy was attracted to it. When 21 he became a curb broker on his own and subsequently joined the firm of C. C. Kerr & Co., with which he is still associated. He has been a member of the board of governors of the curb since 1917 and its vice-president for two years.

Today's Poem

WOODMAN, SPARE THAT TREE

Woodman, spare that tree!
Touch not a single bough!
In youth it sheltered me,
And I'll protect it now.
'Twas my forefather's hand
That felled it near his cot;
There, woodman, let it stand,
Thy axe shall harm it not!

That old familiar tree,
Whose glory and renown
Are spread o'er land and sea,
And would'st thou hew it down?
Woodman, forbear thy stroke!
Cut not its earth-bound ties;
O spare that aged oak,
Now towering to the skies!

When but an idle boy
I sought its grateful shade;
In all their gushing joy
Here too my sisters played.
My mother kissed me here;
My father pressed my hand—
Forgive this foolish tear!
But let that old oak stand!

My heart-strings round thee cling
Close as thy bark, old friend!
Here shall the wildbird sing,
And still thy branches bend.
Old tree! the storm still brave!
And, woodman, leave the spot!
While I've a hand to save,
Thy axe shall harm it not.
—George P. Morris.

Five Men Try Forcing Jap Premier Interview

TOKIO, March 6.—Five men were under arrest here today for attempting to force an entrance into the home of Premier Takashi Kato, demanding a personal interview. When first denied permission the men, who were armed with clubs, beat up several guards and even turned against the police when reinforcements arrived.

STRIKE IS CALLED

HALIFAX, N. S., March 6.—Executives of the miners' union voted to call out 10,000 coal miners today in a strike against the British empire steel corporation. The strike will tie up all miners in Cape Breton. The strike was called after the company officials refused the men's demands for further credit at company stores, and declined to operate additional mines. Representatives of the company said the men had outstanding debts of $200,000 at the company stores.

Italian Police Demand Swindler's Extradition

ROME, March 6.—Italian police will demand the extradition from Bellinsona, Switzerland, of Edgar Laplante, denounced by Count George Kevenueller today as the pretended Indian prince, White Elk, who swindled the count's mother and sister out of more than 1,000,000 lire.

STATE REALTORS PLAN MEETING

Members of Local Board To Attend Pasadena Meet On March 21

President William L. Twining and a delegation from the Glendale Realty board will attend a conference of the California Real Estate association to be held in Pasadena Saturday, March 21, in the interest of an "Own Your Home" campaign throughout the state.

The conference will be under the direction of Clifton J. Platt, Pasadena realtor, who is chairman of the "Own Your Home" division of the state realty board. The conference will last throughout the day with a number of prominent real estate authorities included on the program. There will be a luncheon at noon and banquet at night. Each of the twenty district chairmen of the "Own Your Home" division will give a brief talk on sub-topics in relation to the campaign.

Principal Speakers
Important speakers will be: Edwin T. Keiser, F. H. Bloodgood, Rev. Robert Freeman, Dr. John Franklin West, Harold Janss, Robert A. Swink, D. Richard Ainsley, Clifton J. Platt, Mrs. Hazel Grant, Harry H. Culver and C. E. Culbertson, manager Los Angeles Investment Co.

"It is the intention of this meeting to devise ways and means of organizing an intensive campaign to make every California family a home-owner. The greater acquisition of homes is essential in a large way to the activities and success of realtorship. This conference will boost our business now," said President Twining in announcing the conference.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

Reflections on the inaugural ceremonies at Washington which were broadcast throughout the land bring to light the fact that upwards 20,000,000 people, or one out of every five citizens of the United States, were enabled to hear what President Coolidge had to say.

His mere recital of policies was, in itself, more or less uninteresting to the majority of "listeners in." They know little about politics. But they do like to have such messages of assurance of prosperity and safety.

The radio, one would surmise, is in itself one of the greatest means of promoting both domestic and foreign harmony. Quickly it is bringing the peoples of the earth into common accord. And having been developed by the English speaking races, the same as motion pictures, to a great extent, there is little reason to believe that in the course of the next two or three generations this earth will have one or two common languages, and almost unified ideas of the fitness of things.

By the latter one does not believe that all the peoples will hold the same faith, or follow the same lines of reasoning in the conduct of government, or live alike any more than they will all look alike. But the radio is the medium of better understanding. And in its speed of transmission, yes, more than that, its actual transmission of human thoughts as they are uttered, brings this nation and this world into a new era.

For instance, it would be possible for the forty-eight states of this union to ratify a constitutional amendment in a day's time, with the actual assent of each commonwealth recorded by radio from legislative halls.

It would be possible for the general staff of the army to summon an army into being within a few hours—faster than the human mind could comprehend, and far more quickly than orders for supplies could be handled. Truly, one might say, electrical engineers are about two steps ahead of industry.

At Sacramento, as in Glendale, no doubt, everyone who had the opportunity listened to the inaugural ceremonies. The governor and his official family sat in the executive offices listening to the president take oath of office, the Senate and Assembly in their respective chambers heard the same program. All work ceased for this great event in national life.

It took two months for all of the thirteen original colonies to learn of the declaration of independence on the part of the United States of America. It took two weeks for the armies in the Civil War to learn of the cessation of hostilities. It took two hours, perhaps, to learn of big events in the Spanish-American war time. Recently, news has been flashed overland by wire services in less than two minutes by code.

And now in less than two seconds the nation hears the oath of office administered its president. In eight minutes' time the photograph is flashed across the country, in eight hours' time practically every person has a copy of a newspaper with his speech and many with the picture of him speaking.

The present generation is living an hour every second, a week every waking, working hour, and a month every day.

Wood is very seldom used as a building material in Hungary.

Enjoy Central Avenue's Hospitality Tomorrow Night

A carnival of color and music will herald the official opening of Central avenue Saturday night. Bands will blare, bonfires flare, fireworks dazzle the sky—and, to top it all, the current will leap into the long lines of ornamental street-lighting standards that stretch up and down this superb eighty-foot boulevard from Broadway on the north to Los Feliz road on the south.

There will be a parade, led by a double-deck bus, on the top deck of which will ride Mayor Spencer Robinson of Glendale, the members of the City Council and other municipal officials, President D. H. Smith of the Chamber of Commerce and presidents of other leading civic organizations; there will be a speaking program, when Central avenue will be officially dedicated to and accepted by the city; and there will be public dancing in portions of streets adjacent to Central avenue, roped off for the purpose.

All this is the result of weeks of careful planning by the Central Avenue Improvement association, the powerful body back of the improvement. Charles B. Guthrie, president of this organization, has been active in Glendale affairs for many years and is a past president of the Glendale Realty board, as well as vice-president of the California Real Estate association. It is generally conceded by his friends and those who know the history of the improvement that he has been, all along, the guiding spirit behind the work.

Central avenue from Broadway to San Fernando road is paved with a four-inch asphaltic concrete base and one and one-half-inch Warrenite wearing surface, according to resolution of intention No. 2431, adopted by the Glendale City Council June 5, 1924. The contract was awarded to W. F. Hanrahan of San Francisco, July 24, 1924, and was signed August 15, 1924. It expires August 12, 1925.

The contract price was $267,731.60, and includes grading, paving, curbs, sidewalks, ornamental street lights, cast-iron water pipe, vitrified clay sewer pipe, house connections, junction chambers, flush tanks and culverts. Approximately 8 per cent will be added to this cost for engineering, inspection and other expenses in connection with the work, according to John F. Johannsen, Glendale city engineer and street superintendent, under whose supervision the job was done.

Central avenue is eighty feet wide from property line to property line, at the present time, but condemnation proceedings filed May 23, 1924, will provide another ten feet on either side, from Broadway to San Fernando road, making a 100-foot boulevard leading direct from Los Angeles to the Glendale foothills, the heart of a district of beautiful homes.

North of Broadway and extending to Lexington drive, Central avenue is to be paved ten feet on either side with the same material put in, on the portion of the job just completed, according to an order of the City Council dated March 20, 1924.

With the opening of Central avenue, a great surge of business is predicted up and down this street, for the history of street improvements shows that trade follows traffic. From Broadway to Windsor road, and from Park avenue to San Fernando road, Central avenue is zoned for business, records show, while the section between Park avenue and Windsor road is zoned as a residential and apartment-house district.

Several service stations occupy important corners on Central avenue, and all report doing a big business since the street has been opened. Grocery stores, meat markets and many other lines of business located along this thoroughfare report volume of business beyond all expectations, since the opening of this street to automobile travel.

According to H. C. Vandewater, building superintendent, many inquiries regarding substantial construction on undeveloped sites along Central avenue have come to his attention within the past few days, and it appears certain that capital will seek investment here on a large scale, in the months to come.

"The property owners along Central avenue have set aside personal feeling and have forgotten individual cost, in joining to make this great project successful," declares President Charles B. Guthrie of the Central Avenue Improvement association.

"We are indeed grateful for this wholehearted co-operation," he adds. "It means that Central avenue is destined to become the finest street of any suburban city in Southern California. Judge Albert M. Stephens of Los Angeles was in Glendale the other day, and after looking over Central avenue he admitted to me he had never seen a finer street in any suburban city."

"It was because a few of us with the vision could see in the future a Glendale of 200,000 population, that we decided to improve Central avenue. Following our first meeting, in March, 1923, an article appeared in The Glendale Evening News, setting forth in detail the situation existing and the steps that were necessary to correct it. The response was instantaneous and overwhelming. Out of it sprang the Central Avenue Improvement association, one of the most powerful and most successful bodies of its kind ever created in Glendale or any other city of like size.

"Those who drive up and down Central avenue now may wonder why the sidewalks are so close to the curbs and why a number of buildings are not set back the proper distance. They should know that condemnation proceedings are under way to widen the street another ten feet on either side, making a 100-foot boulevard from property line to property line. These proceedings must go through the courts unless a prior agreement is reached. For this reason no steps can be taken to put in sidewalks until the property is pronounced legally condemned. ## Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS THE PREVENTION OF TOXEMIAS OF PREGNANCY

Morning Sickness
The so-called morning sickness during pregnancy—the vomiting in the morning which begins the end of the first month and ends in the third or fourth month—is present in about 50 per cent of the cases. When it is so violent that the patient rapidly loses weight and becomes acutely ill, it is known as pernicious vomiting of pregnancy.

A large per cent of morning sickness is due to incorrect and overabundant diet caused by the popular idea of eating for two.

In some cases there are displacements of the uterus and when there are corrected there is a relief. Other causes are of the neurotic or hysterical origin, and rest and quiet and suggestion and autosuggestion will relieve these.

Salivation
In some cases during early pregnancy there is an increased secretion of saliva which may be very annoying. Kosmak, in his book on "Toxemias of Pregnancy" says that he has usually found in these conditions that the teeth needed attention and that the gums were inflamed.

Salivation may also be due to nervous or reflex action. If there is a catarrhal condition of the nose and throat that may cause both the increased saliva and the vomiting. In these cases the teeth should be attended to and the catarrhal condition should be treated.

Eclampsia
This is a very serious condition which may appear in the latter part of pregnancy. The word "eclampsia" is derived from the Greek, meaning "flash." It used to be thought that the convulsions of this state appeared without any warning. But this is not true. There are warnings and if they are heeded there is no need of having this serious illness.

The following facts have given us important data concerning eclampsia: 1. Obstetricians of Germany reported that during the war, when food was not so plentiful and there was considerably less fat and protein to be had, there was a great lessening of the cases of eclampsia. 2. Overweight, full-blooded women are more frequently affected with eclampsia than thin and less well-nourished women. 3. There is less eclampsia in the summer when less meat and more fruit and vegetables are eaten than in the winter, and there is less eclampsia in the south than in the north, for the same reason. These cases I have enumerated show that there is a direct relationship between eclampsia and diet. It seems from this data that overeating can cause the poisoning which affects the system so seriously.

All during pregnancy you should be under the care of your family physician and if it is the first baby you should be under the care of a specialist, if possible. If you have severe headaches or swelling of the feet and ankles or trouble with your eyes—that is, spots before them, or temporary blindness or dizziness—you should see your physician. Meanwhile go on a fruit juice or skimmed milk diet—not over 500 calories during the day—for a day or two.

We have an article on Diet during Pregnancy which you may have by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Social : Clubs

Edited by KATHERINE V. SINKS

Club's Program

The program arranged for the Tuesday Afternoon club for next Tuesday is most promising. Luncheon will be served at 12:15 o'clock with a special table arranged for members of the Shakespeare department. Mrs. H. W. Ralston, curator of that department, and Mrs. Charles E. Hutchinson, acting chairman of civics, will be luncheon hostesses with Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, club president. Mrs. Ralston will present a special speaker. Mrs. Hutchinson will introduce George Braden, representative of the National Association of civics. In the afternoon the program will be by the Lubovski trio, including Calmon Lubovski, violinist; Maurice Amsterdam, cellist; Clare Forbes Crane, pianist. Reservations for the luncheon can be made at the club office up until Saturday noon.

Christian Aid

A short business meeting of the Aid society of Central Christian church was held yesterday at the church with Mrs. A. K. Crawford, president, in charge. Work on three quilts was started. The members attended the services at the John Brown tabernacle from 10 to 11 o'clock and then spent the day in working on the quilts. Mrs. Eva M. Hutton conducted a prayer service during the noon hour. Thirty women were present.

Speaks on Trees

Mrs. R. W. Meeker, chairman of the Redwood Memorial fund for Los Angeles district club federation, spoke at the meeting today of the Friday Morning club in Los Angeles. Mrs. Meeker will speak on the Redwood Memorial fund at the meeting March 10 of the Cosmos club and will appear on March 26 at Avalon and April 26 she will talk at the Balboa park museum, San Francisco.

T. A. C. Benefit

The benefit card party given yesterday afternoon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse proved a "most enjoyable affair." There were nine tables of bridge. Prizes were won by Mesdames A. H. Montgomery, A. H. Gaarder and E. C. Norton. Mrs. Fred Abbey, chairman, and members of the hospitality committee were hostesses.

Consider Business

The Women's Union Label league held a business meeting last night at 108 North Brand boulevard, a large number being present. Mrs. J. D. Hall, president, directed the business meeting. The next meeting will be held March 19, when a program and social evening will be enjoyed.

"How I Crystallize Nuts and Fruits" (Contributed by Mrs. G.) I begin by caramelizing three tablespoons of granulated sugar; when melted, add one cupful of boiling water; this will make it lump, but after a few moments of simmering, the lumps will dissolve. Now add two additional cups of granulated sugar and one teaspoon of cream of tartar and let the mixture boil without stirring until brittle when a little is dropped into a cup of cold water. Remove the saucepan from the range at once and place it in a pan of cold water to stop the cooking instantly. Then place it over another pan filled with boiling water, just to keep warm, while dipping nuts or fruits into it. You may dip whole Brazil nuts, or halves of pecans or walnuts. Or you may dip filberts or peanuts by the teaspoonful. Drain and dry on a piece of oiled paper. Canned cherries, apricots, pineapple or fresh malaga grapes, strawberries and sections of seedless oranges may also be dipped. Also bits of figs, dates and prunes. Take care not to prick juicy fruits while dipping as the fruit juice will spoil the glaze.

"Quails en Casserole" (Contributed by Mrs. F. G.) Prepare and truss six quails. Melt two heaping tablespoons of butter in an earthenware pan and when hot put the birds into it and brown them all over; brown them well on all sides, then put on the cover of the pan and slip the pan into a moderate oven to roast till the birds are tender (about an hour). Next, lift out the quails and keep hot. Drain the fat from the pan, add one cupful of stock and one-half orange rind, and let simmer for ten minutes; stir in one-half cup of currant jelly and put the quails back into this sauce to cook for ten minutes. Season with salt, pepper, and the strained juice of one-half lemon. The birds can be served on slices of toast, garnished with parsley or water cress.

"My Pineapple Sauce for Cottage Pudding" (Contributed by Jane.) I make an ordinary one-egg white cake in oat form and slice it. I serve these slices well saturated with the following hot sauce: Mix together one-fourth cup of granulated sugar and one-half tablespoon of dry cornstarch powder; add one teaspoon of butter melted, and one-half cup of shredded pineapple mixed with one-half cup of hot water. Boil five minutes, flavor with the juice of one-half lemon and serve very hot.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

If you want thicker eyelashes, you must sacrifice some of what you already possess for about three months. That's not much of a sacrifice, yet a few women want to do it. You clip off the ends of the lashes very carefully with curved manicure scissors, held so the blades turn safely away from the eyes, and you do not need to clip much. You will find, if you watch carefully, that there is a good deal of eyelash for which you get no credit, as it is almost invisible. The color never extends to the tip, not even in the darkest lashes. You can make the lashes look ever so much longer by rubbing them with cold cream or oil, for then at least, the glossiness shows, if not the color. And if you rub them with fine castor oil, you will darken them a very little bit, and you will be feeding them with an oil that will help make them grow, too.

But put your faith in clipping them. After a month, they will be their old length and perhaps more, probably they'll be the least bit coarser, which is what you want. Clip them again, and in a month, again, and then let them grow. Meantime, keep them well rubbed with oil.

Not long ago I advised using a little cold cream mixed with lamp soot so it formed a black paste. This is a harmless and very effective way of tinting the lashes, for a little can be rubbed into the tips of the hairs with the fingers, rubbed off, and it will leave them shades darker. At bedtime, rub with cold cream and the color will come off easily. Of course, this, like rouge and tinted lipsticks and all the rest, is a temporary way to achieve an effect, but it's a good one, and I suspect that many of the pots of pomade sold for $1 up to $3 are nothing but soot with either petroleum jelly or cold cream.

But clipping is what will make the lashes thicker.

made from olive oil. This is a soda soap and excellent for ordinary shampooing.
To loosen the scalp, place the palms of the hands flat on the scalp, with the finger tips somewhat apart; and push the hands toward each other so the scalp is pushed up between the fingers. Another method is to grasp a handful of hair and pull it.

DARKENED WINDOWS

By CORNELIA KANE RATHBONE

Copyright, D. Appleton & Co. Serialized by Ledger Syndicate

Graham lingered so long behind the swinging door in the passage interviewing his soul, that on his return to the library he found the coroner had arrived during his absence, and, after receiving Inspector Breitman's report, had permitted Mr. Hurst's body to be removed to his own room. Only the blood-soaked blotting paper remained now to tell of the tragedy of the night. Dr. Jordan, friend and family physician of Mr. Hurst, was also there. He had come to the house, it appeared, with no knowledge of the crime, and was quite overcome by the news. He assented at once when Graham begged him to go to Evadne. He had heard Breitman's report, therefore needed no explanations, and, with a muttered, "Poor child! poor child!" hurried from the room.

"We will have the servants up now," said the coroner. Flint left the room at that, and soon was marshaling them in one by one. Two hard-faced, middle-aged Swedes, cook and chambermaid, came first, and were in turn quickly dismissed. They had left the house early in the evening and, lacking masculine escort, had gone together to the theatre. They had nothing to report. Denis, too, had no light to throw on the mystery. According to his statement, he had started shortly after 8 o'clock on an errand for Mrs. Hurst. He liked the fresh air and so had walked to his destination. It was some distance, yes, West Eighty-sixth street, but he liked walking. He had received the parcel which now lay on the table where he had dropped it, close to the bloodstained blotting paper, and had then returned home.

The maid, he explained, contained some valuable lace which Mrs. Hurst had been having cleaned and mended. The first he knew of the murder was when he had seen his master lying dead. He had noticed nothing suspicious downstairs. The doors and windows were all secure. Checked by the coroner when he broke into an excited accusation of Mrs. Hurst, unsupported by proof or by evidence except her bloodstained sleeve, he went muttering out of the room through a door masked by a section of the bookcase, the door for which Graham had looked when first he heard Sergeant Bassett's step on the stairs. The door stood open now, swung back by some hand which knew the hidden fastening, in order to permit the passage of Mr. Hurst's body.

After Denis had withdrawn, the kitchen maid, Molly Brady, was called. It quickly developed that she, unlike the others, had a story to tell. Breathing heavily and twisting a coarse, much-used professed handkerchief in her thick fingers, she poured it out excitedly, prompted by an occasional question from the coroner.

"Yes, sir, Mrs. Hurst give us tickets, an' she says how them as has a young man was to have two. So I asks Jim Healey will he go, an' he says he will. He's a nice young feller that I've been goin' with. He drives for Mr. Jones, the grocer, sir. Well, I waited an' waited an' he didn't come, an' all the other girls went off, an' I set in the kitchen with me hat on an' me two tickets in me hand, an' I cried, I felt that bad. No, sir, I couldn't hear anything as went on upstairs, the kitchen is back. I set there because I didn't want to seem to be watchin' out like, in the front, an' by an' by, just to cheer me up a bit, I went upstairs, meaning to take a peek into the drawin' room.

"I does that sometimes when the family is out. I like to look at the fine things. No, sir, I didn't go no further than the top of the kitchen stairs because the family wasn't out after all. They was talkin' awful loud, quarrelin' as you might say. No, sir, I couldn't hear what they said, sir. No, sir, I couldn't say who all was talkin'—there was a man an' a woman. I know that much—an' maybe there was another man, I ain't sure. Do I think it was the mistress, is it, sir? No, sir, I—she hesitated. "That is—I don't know, sir, I ain't sure—I—"

Graham for no reason he could account for, suddenly turned and glanced across the room. In the open doorway, through which he had disappeared stood Denis making imperative signs behind the backs of the detectives, to the girl who faced him.

As she stammered into silence, Flint leaned forward and whispered to the coroner, who nodded. "If you aren't sure whether or not it was Mrs. Hurst's voice you heard, how about it's being Miss Hurst's?" he asked. "Did the woman's voice sound to you like hers?"

The question took Graham by surprise. He glanced again across to the door. The old man was still there. He was glaring at the girl, his head thrust forward, his fingers curving, clawlike, as if making ready to strike, like some fierce bird defending its young. The impression was only momentary; the next instant Graham was looking into vacancy; Denis had vanished; not, however, before he had imposed his will upon the girl.

"No, sir, oh, no, sir—it couldn't have been her was there. I seen her going out this evening, I remember now. With me own two eyes I seen her, so I couldn't have heard her, could I, sir?"

"Not very well if she was somewhere else," smiled the coroner, who had what some people called a pleasant way with him. "But now tell me, did you hear a shot at any time?"

"No, sir, I heard no shot; I heard nothin' but Jim Healey's whistle what he gives when he does be waitin' on me outside. He don't come in often, not likin' the cook, sir. I heard it tonight while I was listenin' to the scrap, an' I slips down quick an' goes out to him—havin' me hat on, an' me two tickets in me hand like I said, sir."

"Did you look at the clock before you went out?"

"I did, sir, at the kitchen clock I looked. It was terrible late—twenty minutes past 8 it was. We lost a lot of the show. The way Jim come to be late, sir—"

"I'm sure he had a good excuse," interrupted the coroner jocosely. "but just now I want to hear something more about that second man whose voice you thought you heard. You can't be sure about it, eh?"

"Well, I'm pretty sure, sir, but I wouldn't want to swear to it. Once or twice I thought I heard another voice—not so thunderous."

"And whose was the thunderous voice?"

"Oh, Mr. Hurst's, sir. I know his voice—it frightens me when he's put out, sir."

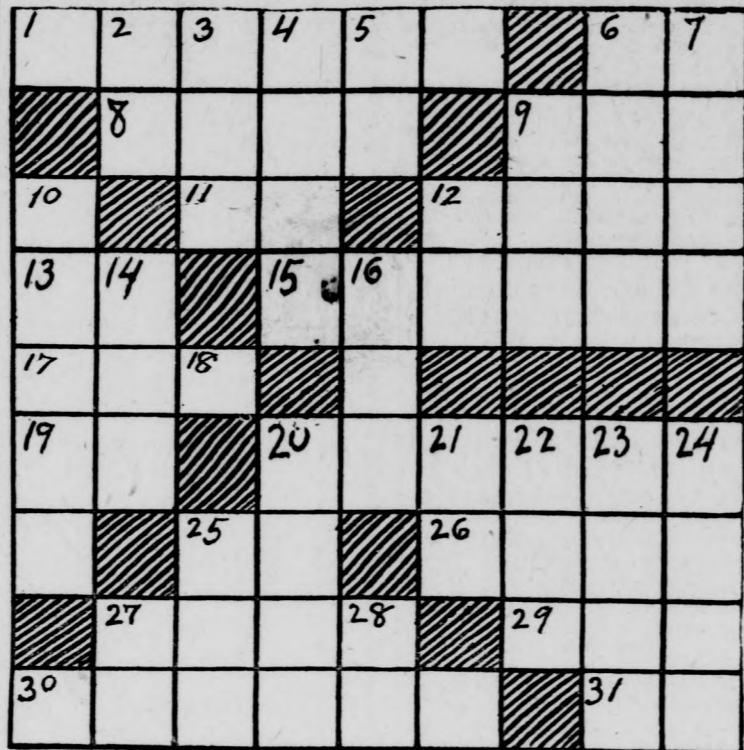

"If Mr. Hurst's voice is thunderous, you must have heard something he said. Come, try to remember."

Mental effort was beyond the girl's power. She breathed more heavily still, and twisted her handkerchief into tighter knots.

CROSS WORD PUZZLE

COMPILED FOR LENDALE EVENING NEWS READERS

Copyright, 1925, By The George Matthew Adams Service

The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered to correspond with the numbers on the diagram. Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that identifying number, and extend as far as the white squares continue uninterruptedly. Any word defined under "VERTICAL" will also begin in the white space that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white squares remain uninterruptedly.

Horizontally, interrupted the coroner jocosely. "but just now I want to hear something more about that second man whose voice you thought you heard. You can't be sure about it, eh?"

"Well, I'm pretty sure, sir, but I wouldn't want to swear to it. Once or twice I thought I heard another voice—not so thunderous."

"And whose was the thunderous voice?"

"Oh, Mr. Hurst's, sir. I know his voice—it frightens me when he's put out, sir."

"If Mr. Hurst's voice is thunderous, you must have heard something he said. Come, try to remember."

Mental effort was beyond the girl's power. She breathed more heavily still, and twisted her handkerchief into tighter knots.

The Playhouse was packed last night, many parties from Los Angeles, Hollywood and Pasadena coming to Glendale to see the Dobinson Players in "Barnum Was Right," the current week's bill, and were delighted with the presentation of George M. Cohan's success. Fred J. Butler, the director, is to be congratulated upon the results of this comedy and every member of the cast are well fitted for their particular part.

This is the first time "Barnum Was Right" has been produced in the west. The play had a long run in eastern cities. Tonight is guest night for Glendale. The management has reduced the prices to 50 cents for the entire house. The regular matinee will be given tomorrow afternoon.

UNCLE WIGGILY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Copyright, 1925, By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE STRETCHER
"Uncle Wiggily, may I go for a walk with you today?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy of the bunny rabbit gentleman one morning, when he was about to start out from the hollow stump bungalow on an adventure trip.

"Why, certainly! Come along! Glad to have you!" cried Mr. Longears in his jolly voice. "And if we meet any of the bad chaps I shall ask him to be extra polite to you!"

"Don't talk of bad chaps!" squealed Nurse Jane. "I hope we don't meet any." "However, I generally do when I am out adventuring," said the bunny with a laugh and a pinkle of his twink nose. "But we shall see."

As it was, though, something else happened before either the Fuzzy Fox, the Wozzie Wolf or the Bob Cat were met. And what took place was that the wind blew off Nurse Jane's hat.

"Excuse me!" she cried to Uncle Wiggily, as the March breeze sent her bonnet sailing behind her down the path. "My hat is gone!"

"I'll get it," politely offered the rabbit uncle, and he had to hop fast to catch the hat which was bowling along before the wind.

Uncle Wiggily brought it back to Nurse Jane and she put it on her head, but, no sooner had she done so than—puff!—another blast of air blew the bonnet off again.

"Hold on! Wait a minute if you please!" cried Nurse Jane to the bunny. "My hat is off again. But I'll get it myself." "No, I can't allow that," said Mr. Longears. "I'll chase it for you!"

"I've come to nibble your ears," went on Pop. "But what have you in your paw?" he asked, noticing the hat elastic.

"It's a stretcher," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Give it to me!" demanded the sly chap. "I like stretchers" and, thinking it was something good to eat the Weasel caught hold of one end of the rubber in his teeth and pulled. Uncle Wiggily kept hold of the other end. The stretcher stretched out very long.

"Let go!" snarled the Weasel. And when Uncle Wiggily let go his end of the stretcher it snapped in the Weasel's face and hit him so hard it knocked him over backward.

"Oh, I don't want any more stretchers!" howled the sly chap, and back to his hole he ran, while Uncle Wiggily laughing, picked up the rubber, which, when Nurse Jane fastened it on her hat, kept the bonnet from blowing off, and all was well.

And if the pussy cat's tail doesn't tickle the face of the clock and make it laugh its hands off, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the Squiggle Bugs.

Pictures of Inauguration

The Glendale Evening News herewith presents pictures of the inauguration of President Coolidge. The pictures were transmitted over telephone lines, as a test.

The purpose of the present test is to demonstrate the capabilities over transcontinental distances of a new system of electrically transmitting pictures devised by the Bell Telephone engineers. Four cities were connected together for the purposes of this test, the arrangements being such that pictures were sent from Washington, D. C., to New York, Chicago and San Francisco simultaneously. The length of the telephone line between Washington and San Francisco, via New York, is about 3600 miles, the greatest distance over which pictures have ever been transmitted electrically, and the transmission time is only seven minutes.

This system of transmitting pictures electrically was first publicly tested in essentially its present form in May, 1924. The present demonstration is in anticipation of the opening of a transcontinental picture transmission service shortly to be announced by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The system is a development of the engineers of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and the Bell Telephone Laboratories, Inc. It is the outcome of work covering several years, and provides a simple, rapid and accurate picture-transmitting system which will operate over a telephone line. The apparatus represents the association of many recent inventions by telephone engineers, together with standard types of telephone and telegraph apparatus which have been adapted to this new use.

Method Is Simple
The simplicity of the method is such that a positive transparency film is suitable for transmission. The apparatus is so designed as to transmit a picture five inches by seven inches in seven minutes. The picture is received in such form that, after photographic development of the usual sort, it is practically undistinguishable from an ordinary photograph, and is ready for newspaper or other reproduction. Line drawings, handwriting and printing can also be transmitted. As films can be used for transmission while still wet, this system eliminates the delay which would otherwise be caused by drying and by making special sending plates.

The film upon which a picture has been transferred is inserted in the transmitter simply by rolling it up in a cylindrical form. During operation a very small and intense beam of light shines through the film onto a photo-electric cell within. This film is rotated at a uniform speed and, by means of a screw mechanism, is caused to advance parallel to the axis of the cylinder.

How It's Done
The motion of the light relative to the cylinder is, therefore, the same as that of a phonograph needle relative to a cylindrical record. In this way, each minute portion of the picture in turn affects the intensity of the light reaching the photo-electric cell. This variation in the amount of light striking the sensitive surface of the cell gives rise to a current which, through the agency of a vacuum tube amplifier and modulator, controls the current flowing through the telephone line.

Regarding the use of their system, the officials of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. announce that the extent to which it is installed on their various long-distance lines will depend entirely upon the demand which arises for this type of service. As has been demonstrated in previous tests, the system is also applicable to radio transmission of pictures when atmospheric conditions are such that steadiness of transmission and freedom from interference can be assured.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, March 6.—J. R. Owens of Los Angeles, who bought the American Aluminum Co. plant on Wednesday, March 4, will convert the property into a machine shop for turning out iron fittings, it was learned. The price paid for the plant was $70,000. Mr. Owens also bought several thousand dollars' worth of pulley, shafting and lathe equipment. The plant and grounds are valued at over $100,000. It is believed that an industry employing upwards of 100 men will soon be added to the local payroll, by the purchase of this property.

Ordinances providing the right-of-way for connecting Victory boulevard with Main street and for straightening two other jogs in this artery, were passed at the last meeting of the city trustees. The trustees' board approved the recommendation of the Park and Forestry commission that camphor tree be designated as the official tree for San Jose avenue. This variety of tree was requested by the residents of that street.

Feeling that the citizens should have longer than until March 10 for the payment of their sewer assessments, the trustees adopted a resolution requesting the Pacific Finance Co., which is handling these collections, to extend the time for the payment of these assessments until April 7. Charles R. Thompson and Richard Day are making ready to leave for Pine Grove, Nev., where they are interested in a placer mine, which is declared to be one of the richest in that state, as evidenced by recent tests.

A Home that never grows old

This Spanish home embodies the same standard type of architecture that is found in homes costing twice as much. Our price includes heaviest framing materials, oak flooring in the principal rooms, plastering throughout and cement work. We believe the price we ask is 20% under the regular cost of construction.

The home contains a living room, dining room with beautiful buffet, kitchen with cupboards, sink, cooler, spice cabinet and built-in ironing board, a rear screen porch and a breakfast nook with Pullman seats and table, two bedrooms with closets, a bathroom with linen cabinets and medicine cabinet and a hall with storage closet and linen closet. The plan is shown in our 50c book of designs.

Advisory Board, Directors Meet At New Office To Discuss Affairs

A meeting of the board of directors was held jointly with the advisory board of the Gibraltar Finance corporation at their new office on the northeast corner of Brand and Colorado, Thursday night, at 7:30 o'clock. The following directors and advisory directors were in attendance: Len C. Davis, Earl Patterson, Ted Glenk, Thos. G. Love, George Farmer, Dr. J. E. Eckles, Dr. Jack Anderson, Dr. P. O. Lucas, Frank Salmacia, Will Lawlor, Dr. Farrington, W. L. Twining, L. S. Chambers and Marvin Smith.

A financial statement prepared by George Farmer, secretary of the corporation, was gone over very thoroughly and showed remarkable progress. The dividend payable April 1 is being paid out of earned profits and after paying the dividends leaving a very substantial surplus.

Banquet Planned

A stockholders' meeting and banquet is to be held April 3, at which meeting the dividend checks will be distributed, and the stockholders made thoroughly familiar with the progress and intimate details of the corporation.

The value of the Gibraltar Finance corporation to the city of Glendale was pointed out by several of the directors, especially Dr. Eckles and Dr. Farrington, inasmuch as the corporation is selling stock in San Francisco, Oakland, Fresno, in fact, over the entire state, and bringing this money to Glendale and loaning it out on homes, apartments, and business blocks in the city of Glendale, also making building loans which are assisting very materially in the upbuilding of Glendale with outside money.

The directors and advisory board of the Gibraltar Finance corporation is composed of business and professional men of Glendale and Los Angeles. Every one of them is an outstanding success in his own line of endeavor, it is pointed out.

They have backed the Gibraltar Finance corporation with their money, money and reputation as successful men, assuring investors in this corporation absolute safety and a very excellent return on their investment, officials declare.

P-T.A.

Colorado

The small group of members who attended the Colorado P-T.A. meeting yesterday heard one of the finest programs the association has ever had, states Mrs. F. W. Parr, president. Eugene J. Wix, Legionnaire, gave an inspiring talk on "Americanism," comparing citizenship of peace time and citizenship of war time. Marguerite Chappell, piano pupil understanding of the constitution of the United States, and emphasized the dangers resulting from a lack of understanding.

He praised the Boy and Girl Scout movements, and told of the educational work of the American Legion. He urged the education of the immigrants. Dr. John Anderson, the other speaker, had as his subject "Our Boys and Girls." He expressed the desire that parents devote more time to their children and develop a better understanding of the children. Marguerite Chappell, piano pupil of Mrs. Eva Cunningham, gave two piano numbers. Tea was served by members of Miss Fambrough's room.

Pacific

Mrs. H. L. Henry had charge of the roundtable discussion of the book, "The Job of Being a Dad," by Cheley, yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Pacific Parent-Teacher association. The discussion stressed the gang age of children. Miss Jacobs gave a reading "Aux Italian" by Owen Meredith and also responded to an encore. She sang "Sunrise and You" and "The Ever Marries Me." Following the program tea and cakes were served by the hospitality committee.

A meeting of the executive board was held at 2 o'clock with Mrs. W. G. Lauderdale, president, in charge. The meeting opened with the salute to the flag with Mrs. Kimball, patriotic chairman, in charge, and followed with the singing of two verses of "America." Mrs. George Squires acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Don Lindley, who is ill. The resignation of Mrs. Eleanor Robinson as membership chairman was received. Mrs. Robinson is planning to move to Pomona to reside.

It was voted to give $5 for the purchase of a tree to be planted in the schoolyard on Arbor Day. Pictures of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln will also be purchased by the association for the school. Plans for a paper drive to be held April 6 to 11 were made. The room count showed that the kindergarten, of which Miss Lauderdale is teacher, had the largest attendance and the prize picture was given them. The second picture went to the third grade, of which Miss Sasse is teacher.

CITY'S BUS RATES NOT IN ON RAISE

Pacific Electric Agents Say Fare Petition Does Not Affect Glendale

The petition filed yesterday with the Los Angeles board of public utilities, seeking to increase fares on the lines operated by the Los Angeles Motor Bus Co., in no way affects the present Glendale rates on the lines of the Pacific Electric Motor Coach Co., according to O. A. Smith, passenger traffic manager of the Pacific Electric Railway Co., operators of the latter line.

The Los Angeles Motor Bus Co. is a joint subsidiary of the Pacific Electric Railway Co. and the Los Angeles Railway Co., operating four lines of green busses; the Sunset boulevard line, the West-end avenue-Manchester avenue shuttle line, the Griffith park line and the Vine street line.

To Fight Raise

The petition filed with the board of public utilities asks increases in fares from 6 to 10 cents and from 10 to 15 cents. Mr. Smith stated, The Hollywood Chamber of Commerce and other Los Angeles civic bodies are preparing to wage a vigorous fight against the proposed raise, it was learned.

The bus fare in Glendale is 6 cents close in and 10 cents to the outlying districts served by the Pacific Electric Motor Coach Co.

SHERER ENDORSES GIRL CANDIDATE

Miss Ruth Kern Is Boosted For City Treasurer By Incumbent

Miss Ruth W. Kern, candidate for city treasurer at the election of April 14, has received the endorsement of J. C. Sherer, incumbent in the office. Miss Kern, who lives with her mother, Mrs. Gertrude L. Kern, at 322 West Harvard street, has been deputy city treasurer since May, 1921. She came to Glendale four years ago from San Francisco, where she had been employed as a bookkeeper. Following is the letter received by Miss Kern from Mr. Sherer:

"I am glad to commend you to the people of Glendale as a candidate for city treasurer.

"I do this in the belief that the incumbent of the office should possess the characteristics of honesty, ability and a sense of the responsibility of public service. I believe you possess these, and have, in addition, an intimate knowledge of the detail work of the office such as no one else possesses.

"You are at liberty to use this letter as you see fit."

Miss Kern has won the admiration of her fellow officials of the Glendale city government, according to her friends and supporters,

TOMORROW'S GLENDALE RADIO BILL CANCELLED

The March radio program of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce scheduled for tomorrow night over KFI has been canceled, according to an announcement today by Gould H. Warren, radio chairman. Glendale's program was called off at the request of Tom Sanbon, manager of the Anthony broadcasting station. Mr. Sanbon said that a big surprise radio event was scheduled for tomorrow night and that action cancelling other programs was taken for that reason.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, March 6.—Adena Squires of this community has received high praise from Dr. Frances Mangan of Long Beach for her piano playing. After hearing Miss Squires last week, Dr. Morgan declared that she has a great career ahead of her. Miss

Squires is a pupil of Miss Thompson. The Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce has had a separate telephone installed in the secretary's office, the number being Garfield 5330. This will be found much more convenient than the old switch board system which sometimes occasioned delay in connecting with the department, and Mrs. A. E. Reiter, the secretary, feels that she can now give and get better service in using the telephone in the course of her duties. Eagle Rock will join with Glendale in the Eisteddfod festival during the week of April 26 to May 2, it was announced. A booklet presenting the rules governing contest material will soon be published. Mrs. W. J. Baldwin, of Las Vegas, Nev., is the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Maude Baldwin Lewis, of Fair Park avenue. At the close of the present school year the Baldwin family will come to Southern California to make their future home. Mr. Baldwin has been principal of the Las Vegas schools for the past seventeen years. Mrs. Blanche A. Gardiner and daughter, Miss Muriel Gardiner, attended the recent convention of the sixth district librarians at Riverside. Mrs. D. Mudd of Caspar avenue has arrived home from San Francisco where she had been visiting friends for several weeks. Mrs. Clara S. Ellis of 5017 Townsend avenue has been summoned for jury service for ninety days in department 17. Criminal court, Los Angeles, Judge Edwin S. Hahn presiding.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, March 6.—A five-letter word meaning countrified will be removed from the system of the Sunland Rural Telephone company when improvements now in progress are completed. The cranking telephone, typical of rural districts, is to be replaced by standard equipment operating through "flash" switchboards instead of the present magneto system. Increasing demands for service have prompted the directors of the company to vote the improvements, which will require the expenditure of $3,500 and take several months to accomplish. The cumbersome magneto system renders speedy connections somewhat difficult, whereas the "flash" system shows instantly to the operators the status of the connections on their boards. The new system will eliminate the ringing of every bell on a party line when one of the parties is being called.

Monsignor Tonello, pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes chapel, has undertaken a trip to Rome, Italy. He expects to visit the Lourdes shrine while in his native land and return to Tujunga in May. Dr. Stella Connor was recently surprised by a number of her friends on her birthday anniversary and presented with a set of silverware. Dr. Connor is teacher of the J. O. C. class of the Methodist Community church and about thirty members of the class comprised the party.

Interest is increasing in the Tujunga Rifle and Revolver club, according to William H. "Bilby" Gale, energetic publicist for the club, who states that the Tujunga organization will soon be known "far and wide." Just how far or wide and for what qualities Billy ventures no conclusion. Free shoots are being held each Sunday at the Begue ranch on East Michigan avenue, Tujunga. The Tujunga club claims more members than the older Pasadena club. Hon. Charles Randall, former congressman, was the principal speaker at a dinner prepared and given by the men of the Methodist Community church. His subject was centered on difficult legislation, past and present.

"Clean-up Week," which started Monday in Tujunga, is accomplishing the improvement and many homes, business buildings and other property by the use of rake, hoe and paint brush. The Kiwanis club started the period of rehabilitation with a Prosperity Ball at the Garden of the Moon pavilion.

The Cost of Service

ON the loyalty and skill of the humane element depends the character of telephone service. The providers of this service must not only meet the market prices for materials. They must also maintain at any cost a high standard of workmanship.

Because of advancing prices, the telephone dollar goes only half as far as it did ten years ago. More than three-fifths of this dollar is necessarily expended for wages. Less would neither attract nor hold the high-grade workers essential to maintain America's standards.

That Bell telephone rates have advanced much less than other prices is largely due to economies in methods and apparatus that have been developed and introduced. It is also because the proportion of operating plant built at pre-war prices is still large, though this is steadily decreasing because of new construction made necessary by the nation's telephone needs.

Glendale Lightweights Are Eliminated By Beach Players 22 to 8

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR. Of The Evening News Staff.
 Showing form which only champions display and making the pennant-winning Glendale five look slow, the Santa Monica lightweight basketball team advanced into the third round of the Southern California playoffs yesterday at Manual Arts High school by defeating the Red and Black casaba quintet, 22 to 8.

This defeat was quite a blow to the local fans, who believed that it would take a real team to even run Glendale close. It is true that the Glendale boys had an off day, but there is little doubt that the beach outfit is better than the local five and that it deserves to continue in the Southern California playoffs.

Rutman of the winners started out the scoring right off the bat by twirling the pumpkin into the netting from the middle of the floor. After Muff sank two free throws the score stood even. Before the end of the quarter both teams managed to score once again.

Lead at Half

In the second period Samohi outstripped the Dynamiters three tallies to six. Egli and Rutman again doing most of the registering. Matters were worse than ever in the third quarter, when the winners shot four field goals for a total of eight points while the locals got a measly two on a few free throws.

The fourth quarter saw the absolute blanking of Glendale by the Simohians, who themselves scored five markers, bringing up their total to twenty-two.

Ketchersed was right there for the Santa Monica team, throwing a total of eleven pointers, Rutman finishing second with eight. With the victory goes Coach Butterfield's hope of jockeying his charges into the final round of the playoff. It was tough luck for the Glendale coach. Last season his football team worked into the finals, only to be beaten out by Pasadena, 3 to 0, in a terrific struggle, in which the Bulldogs weighed two of their star heavyweights who were eligible to train down to the class B requirements. The lineup:

Glendale—8	Santa Monica—22
Level (12)	R.F.L. Bramble (2)
Harrison (1)	L.R. Kitchered (1)
Sturgess (2)	C. Rutman (8)

OPERATE ON SON OF KING GEORGE

Youngest Member of Family Ailing, Other Victims Show Improvement

LONDON, March 6.—An operation was ordered today for Prince George, youngest son of King George, who has been suffering with a septic throat.

The large number of notable Britshers who have been suffering with various ailments, today showed improvement. King George continues to improve from an attack of bronchitis and probably will start on his yacht trip shortly. Marquis Curzon, leader of the House of Lords, who was taken ill at Cambridge last night, passed a comfortable night. His physician has ordered a complete rest for him.

president of the board, presiding. This budget covers the needs of the one college, eight academies, forty junior colleges and 100 church schools of the conference.

The attention of the motoring public has been attracted throughout the nation by the advancements made on the Star car, reports E. V. Jellison, head of the Jellison Motor Co., 1006 South Brand boulevard, local distributor for the Star cars. Several important additions to the personnel of the Star factory have been made in the last few months, he said. Mr. Jellison is tremendously optimistic over the Star situation for the coming year. "Star leadership," says he, "is based primarily on the vast resources and facilities of W. C. Durant for building quality merchandise at the lowest possible prices.

"When the Durant engineers decided to produce an advanced type motor, built along the same lines as the big power plants in some of the most expensive cars on the market, they collaborated with the Continental Motor Co. and as a result of their research and experiments more than a million dollars was spent in special machinery and equipment merely 'to get ready' to build the new Star motor in quantities.

"The reason for this tremendous investment was the fact that to help the Star out in front as the lowest-priced quality car in the world, it would be necessary to build in tremendous quantities, yet with the same precision and accuracy that results in the smooth and vibrationless operation usually found only in the more expensive makes of cars."

PROTEST USE OF NAMES IN LETTER

Citizens V'ho Signed For Dr. Paul S. Traxler Make Statement

In The Glendale Evening News yesterday there appeared a story to the effect that a campaign committee had been formed to further the candidacy of Dr. Paul S. Traxler for the City Council. The story gave the names of the committee. The story was based upon a letter received by this newspaper and which is being generally distributed.

Today The Glendale Evening News was requested by a committee representing those who signed the original communication to publish the following:

"Dr. P. S. Traxler, 111 East Broadway, Glendale, Calif.

"Dear Doctor:—Please be advised that we, the undersigned, do not wish our names used in connection with your candidacy for City Council, as your committee-men, or sponsoring your candidacy.

"We were glad to sign your petition as a nominating petition only, but gave no authority to use our names as you have done in the circular letter you have sent out broadcast, and we therefore request that our names be withdrawn from your campaign literature.

"Fred H. Roberts, David L. Gregg, Arthur Campbell, W. V. Lee, L. G. Sovern, Julius Kranz, W. S. Perrin, W. H. Court, D. J. Kelly.

Makes Statement
 Dr. Traxler, late today, brought the following letter to The Glendale Evening News explanatory of the action of those objecting to the use of these names as committee-men or sponsoring his candidacy:
 "My attention has been called to the fact that the good friends who signed the letter endorsing me as a candidate for councilman are taking exceptions to the use of their names as committee-men. In this connection I desire to state that while the original letter did carry the word 'Committee' there is no desire on my part to embarrass my friends by having them designated as 'campaign committee-men' and as I appreciate the courtesies they have shown me, am sorry there was any misunderstanding.

"Very truly yours,
 "PAUL S. TRAXLER."

MILKSMEN DEFEAT CHURCHMEN, 35-13

Calla Lilies Provide Upset By Running Up High Score Last Night

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.
Providing the greatest upset since play was started in the Glendale Merchants' association, the Calla Lily casaba tossers romped all over the M. E. church team last night at the Harvard High school gym in a game that decided not only third place in the league standing, but had an important bearing on the chances of finishing at the top of the loop.

The churchmen went into the fray as favorites by virtue of their victory over the Hull Trucks, league leaders, two weeks ago. The milkmen held their opponents to a single marker in the first quarter, one basket and a free throw in the second quarter, even-stein in the third session, and a lone basket in the final stanza.

Talbert, forward for the milkmen, aided and abetted by Shingledecker, scored all but six of the 35 points made by the milkmen. Talbert accounted for 16 points, and Shingledecker added 13. Avery chalked up the other six. At half-time the score was 16 to 4, milkmen.

First Quarter
The churchmen got the ball on the tipoff, but after several attempts to find the basket, lost the casaba to Randall, who passed to Avery. Talbert and Shingledecker were under the basket waiting for the pass, Talbert making the initial goal, 2-0. Talbert added another point on a free throw, Dick holding. Talbert made it 5-0 by a shot from sidcourt. Shingledecker added two points from under the basket, 7-0. Talbert called for pushing. Ward missed the throw, 7-1. Shingledecker sunk a goal, 9-1. Four seconds before the quarter ended: Calla Lily 9; M. E. church 1.

Second Quarter
The churchmen made a strong effort to penetrate the stonewall defense Hyatt and Randall formed under the M. E. basket. Foul called on Dick, who, Shingledecker made one free throw, 10-1. Talbert worked the ball down the court for a basket, 12-1. Avery found the hoop, 14-1. Ward missed a free throw on Shingledecker's foul. Talbert added two points, 16-1. Colburn got the first goal for the churchmen after Ward and Weise had worked the ball down the court from a throw-in, 16-3, and Talbert made a free throw on Avery's foul, holding, 16-4, as the half ended.

Third Quarter
Facing defeat, the churchmen went into the third quarter determined to overtake the milkmen. Hallam went into forward position, for Ward. Soon after the quarter opened, Hallam shot from one corner and made the count, 16-6. He repeated on the next play, 16-8. Hallam made a free throw when a foul was called on Shingledecker, tripping, making the count, 16-9. Talbert made a free throw on Weise's foul, holding, 17-9. Colburn shot from under the basket to make it 17-11. Shingledecker sank three in quick succession, making the count 23-11 as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter
Both teams were fighting hard in the early part of the final stanza, a double foul being called but both players missing. Avery made his second basket, 25-11, and Talbert followed with another, 27-11. Weise got the only basket for the churchmen made in the last quarter, but shooting from near the sidelines, 27-13. Talbert scored, 29-13. Avery dropped one in from above the center of the court, 31-13; Shingledecker boosted one inside the hoop from the corner, 33-13, and Talbert, after missing a number of shots, found the hoop again, making the count 35-13 as the game ended.

Lineup:

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
NEW YORK, March 6.—Watch out for a Florida rush of husky western boys ambitious to study in the colleges of this sun-lit state. Be prepared to see the name of more than one football, track and baseball star for the middle west section in the line-ups of the University of Florida and other seats of learning of the state.

Florida is the place of which one hears most in the central states just now. In goodly measure this is due to the fact that mid-west capital has largely financed the great new Miami. With important residents of this section thus financially interested, their sons are expected to migrate thither for their education and these in turn will be followed, it is believed, by an increasing number of graduates of high and preparatory schools who are ever ready to subscribe to a fashion once it has been set on foot.

By signing Jack Blatt, former Michigan all-American center and star baseball player, to perform some if not all of the George Little's duties as coach at Michigan, Blatt was induced to sign up a contract to play ball with the Cincinnati Reds.

In this way a very fine fellow is saved to inter-collegiate sport. Whether or not he will be able to swing as many things and accept responsibilities such as Little accepted remains to be seen.

Friends of Little are pleased to see him at Wisconsin. They believe he will have a much better chance to establish a reputation there than he had at Ann Arbor just as Burt Ingwersen leaped into the spotlight when he ceased to be Zupke's assistant at Urbana and became head coach at the University of Iowa.

played when they defeated the Hull Trucks, 29 to 28. The defense the milkmen had, with Hyatt and Randall at the backcourt had a lot to do with the failure of the churchmen to run up a high score. Talbert and Shingledecker were under the basket when the milkmen had the ball in midcourt, or in the churchmen's territory.

The victory last night gives the milkmen undisputed right to third place with five wins and two defeats, while the churchmen drop down to fourth place with four wins and three defeats. It was the fifth straight victory for the milkmen.

Among the interesting spectators to last night's game was E. Page, owner of the Calla Lily creamery. Mr. Page has taken more pronounced in the spring provided suits and equipment for the players, and showed up at the gym a few minutes after he returned from Bakersfield.

Feint With Your Putter, Jimmy And Cross With Your Midiron

Calm down, Jack Dempsey, this man isn't after your crown. He's just training for another season on the links. He is no less a celebrity than HARRISON "JIMMY" JOHNSON, western amateur golf champion of 1924.

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
PASO ROBLES, March 6.—The keynote of the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1925 will be speed, more speed, and after that more speed. Speed radiates from this team like music from a radio broadcasting station. Every member of the infield, in fact, is a little broadcasting station all his own.

And on this dazzling array of speedsters, Bill McKechnie is building once more hopes of winning a pennant.

"If we can get a good start this year, we have a chance to win," says McKechnie. "I do not say we will win. I am too old a baseball cogder for that. But we have better possibilities than several other clubs, in my opinion. We missed our good start last year because of weather conditions that hurt us. We left California in fine fettle but we got into the river section on the way home, hung there in the heavy spring rains, and became milled. We won't do that this year."

"Pie" Traynor who played part of last year under a physical handicap that mired him daily around third base until he almost shed tears of mortification, is out-ripping the California sun this spring to see which can make third base the hotter. He is in and out around the bar like a squirrel circling a tree to keep out of range of a hunter. He can't be kept away from the old sack. If a rookie goes to play third, Traynor is out there backing him up—not because of jealousy but because he is fearful that the bag may cool off.

Traynor's spirit is superb and of manner magnetic. You look at him once and think: "What a great ball player two of these managers lost a few years ago when they had Pie and did not see him through."

Another fast flyer is Glenn Wright who revolves about short-stop. Collectively, Wright and Traynor represent several thousand ohms of energy, combined with unusual grace. Their range is from the old times in baseball, who are keen for the player with joints that work on hinges. The short, dumpy player, who bounds around, is a pleasure to the eye and a provoker of grins, but the fellow who can reach on either side of him and scoop them in is the fellow that makes the baseball wisecracker sit up and take notice.

Moore, at second base, is another of the same type. He is less widespread than his playing mates, perhaps, but he fits in with them beautifully. Only an injury of some kind can keep him out. McKechnie put him at second after fully considering his work. Pressed a little as to why he let Maranville go and replaced him with Moore, McKechnie said: "Moore is superior to Maranville in every way except in his hands. Maranville has a wonderful pair of hands. But he has nothing to do with Moore."

It would be odd if the pennant of 1925 should come down to be decided on an issue of a pair of hands. Suppose by some chance Maranville's hands should prove enough to make him Moore's superior as a ball player, and it should happen that these two players met in a game on which the issue of the season hung. There would be something new in baseball—hands versus a whole ball player. But McKechnie has his courage. He has staked his chance on the change he has made and is going through with it.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
CHICAGO, March 6.—Naturally I am elated at again winning the championship which billiard players the world over strive for and feel sure that I am going to be able to defend my position successfully against all challengers for some time to come.

There is a great deal of satisfaction in knowing that my victory has come against a fund of opponents probably more representative of international skill in billiards than any other group ever before brought together. At the same time it is good to know that the international championship remains here after this competition with the best of the Belgian German and Japanese players.

Remarkably fine billiards has been played throughout the tournament. I believe that I was able to win the faces of the strong competition because of the really strenuous and most conscientious and painstaking practice work that I have been doing for months. The record run of 400, a complete game without once relinquishing the table, was a bit of a surprise to me but it showed the result of careful preparation I had made.

By winning the championship here in my native city, I have the pleasure of knowing that I have duplicated the record of my father who held the title for so long. Now I will have to prepare further to defend the honor that has come to me.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 6.—Rank heresy though it may be to the old timers who held the late Bill Donovan, George Mullin, Killian, Willett and Summers in such high esteem, Ty Cobb came out on the flap of his feet today and declared the present Tiger pitching staff to be the best Detroit ever knew. The tidings may prompt Detroit citizens to rush out into the night, proclaiming the re-birth of liberty, justice and the right to run over the nearest traffic cop since 1909. A Detroit pitcher has been like a dodo—a species long extinct.

It has been the common impression that Mullin, Donovan, et al., took more than a passive part in the re-birth of three straight pennants between 1907 and 1909, but Cobb dissenting.

"We won those pennants because we were a team of hitters," he declared. "Donovan was a great pitcher; Mullin was well above the average. But you couldn't call two men a pitching staff. Our hitting carried the other pitchers."

"My present staff, Rip Collins, Earl Whitehill, George Daus, Ken Holloway, Sylvester Johnson, Herman Pillette, Lil Stouler and Ed Wells, may not boast a Bill Donovan, but it certainly is superior to any staff Detroit has had in my twenty years with the club."

The great man then elaborated on his statement of yesterday to the effect that he would play less than a hundred games this season. This decision, he intimated, was influenced as much by the belief that no man can keep going at top speed for a full season as by that fear that he himself is slipping.

"I have a capable substitute for every position and as soon as a regular begins to let down, out he comes," he said. "That goes for me, too. Of course, if I was younger and going the way I was some years ago, I would be in there every day. But I know that I can't stand the pace and when I begin to feel it, some one else will be playing center field for Detroit."

DUAL BILL OPENS SUNDAY AT ASCOT

Auto Drivers Share Honors With Jockeys As New System Planned

Ascot Speedway will inaugurate a season of weekly combination horse and auto racing programs next Sunday. Bob Anderson, well-known Southern California horseman, being sponsor for the new arrangement. Anderson has caused the speedway to be divided into two separate courses, the inner side being provided with a five-inch cushion for the running horses, while the outer fifty feet remains paved for the auto speed kings.

Seven horse races, one steeplechase and four automobile races will be on the program. The steeplechase event will be run over a one and one-quarter-mile course copied from the Antilles, France. Jumping course. There will be plain hurdles, brush and water jumps for the horses to clear.

A chariot race, with three teams of four horses each competing, will be a feature. Bob Clark of Ventura, western champion, will drive one of the teams. Anderson declares he will have more than 100 thoroughbreds to pick from for next Sunday's races, and that, following the opening meet, many more runners will be shipped to Ascot. All of the regular Ascot racing drivers will compete in the auto events. Popular prices will prevail.

Connie Mack Arranges Schedule For Rookies
FORT MEYERS, Fla., March 6.—Connie Mack is a stickler for regularity and routine, and here is the schedule he has laid out for the Philadelphia Athletics, in training here: 8 a. m. breakfast; 10 to 12, practice; 12 to 2, lunch and rest; 2 to 4 p. m., practice; 6 p. m., dinner; 10 p. m., sharp, taps. This schedule is rigidly adhered to six days a week. A semi-tropical sun, blended with gulf breezes, makes ideal weather conditions for Connie's stiff schedule.

Then there is Nicholas at first base, right handed as against the left-handed Grimm, and with nothing like Grimm's experience as a major leaguer. But he has youth, courage and a knowledge that he is facing his big chance. Also, speed is his middle name.

They talk of the four horsemen of football, but McKechnie says he has the original four flying buccaners, who can out-speed any four horsemen that ever mounted a gridiron steed. And the outfield is far from slow. Barnhart, the slowest of the five outfielders, is not here out. The other four, Cuyler, Bigbee, Carey and Grantham, are skimming back and forth in the gardens like swallows flitting about a barn.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP BY FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.
NEW YORK, March 6.—Prospects are that Tex Rickard will find a bumper crowd in his huge barn at Madison Square garden on the night of March 13 when Battling Siki puts his late to the touch against Paul Erlenbach.

Siki is a colorful personality and has done more damage hurling crockery at waiters, and restaurant guests than he has with his fists while in this country.

But just the same there are thousands who would admire to see Siki's jaw in the way of one of Paul's left hooks and beyond doubt they will all dig down and pay cheerfully for this privilege.

When Sid Terris first came to the attention of men who make a business of preparing fighters for a professional career, he must have run across someone who decided that his natural swiftness of foot was something to be developed.

Not since Jim Corbett has there been a boxer who can use his feet to better advantage than Terris. When he begins to have more confidence in his punch, he will be a tough customer for anyone to meet.

No developer of boxers will ever think of destroying some speciality which a novice shows when he comes for instruction. On the contrary he will work on the peculiarity, endeavoring to make something really valuable of it.

In this way the professional boxing ring has been and is filling with fighters who are known for a certain speciality, as for instance Charley White and his famed left hook, Jack DeLaney's club-like wallop and so on.

If a lefty comes to an instructor he will be advised to "turn over," that is, to box with left hand and foot advanced and learn to punch straight with the right hand. But if he proves more promising from the portside he will be kept that way.

But he will not be so popular when it comes to getting bouts as though he boxed right handed. And the better he is the more likely he is to be shunned. This is because fighters box right-handed and feel at a disadvantage in meeting a southpaw.

DEMPSEY VS. BURK?

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—In an effort to arrange a bout between Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, and Martin Burk, 26-year-old heavyweight from New Orleans, Lew Diamond, manager of Burk, was in San Francisco today on his way east to interest promoters in the match. The proposed bout would be scheduled some time in July, according to Diamond, to take place either in Michigan, Philadelphia or New Jersey. Burk is a close friend of Dempsey.

so desire may set back their buildings at the present time, and this has been done in some instances.

"It is to be hoped the work can be carried north to Kenneth road on Central avenue, making it a street of uniform width, uniformly paved and lighted, from one end to the other."

"Central avenue now takes its rightful position as the Fifth avenue of Glendale," declares J. M. Boland, former president of the Colorado Boulevard Improvement association, and an active member of the Central Avenue Improvement association. "It is the outstanding high-class shopping and apartment house street of the city, leading from San Fernando road on the south, one of the chief highways of the state, to Kenneth road on the north, the main artery of Glendale's most exclusive residential section."

Some people objected to the removal of trees from Central avenue, but anyone who will drive up and down this street now and picture what it will be in another year, when the buildings have all been set back and sidewalks have been put in will realize that trees, while admittedly beautiful, are not everything. You can't conduct high-class business behind trees. There are plenty of sections in Glendale where trees are appropriate and where there will always be trees.

"Now that Central avenue has been made into a superbly paved boulevard, sixty-eight feet wide from curb to curb, and soon will be 100 feet wide from property line to property line, many long contemplated buildings are soon to rise. H. P. Metcalf is planning to erect a business block at the northwest corner of Central avenue and Ivy street. Edwards & Wilsey have said they will put up a business block on the site of their realty office at the northwest corner of Broadway and Central avenue. H. E. Hoar of Hollywood has declared his intention of erecting a store and office building on Central avenue between Broadway and Hawthorne street.

"J. Herbert Smith is planning to remove his grocery store to a new building to be erected on his property just north of Mr. Hoar's lot. The Packer Auto Co. will soon build at the southeast corner of Colorado boulevard and Central avenue, which will be its future home. These are just a few of the many building projects for which, in all probability, permits will be taken out during 1925.

"H. P. Metcalf, who is planning to build at the northwest corner of Central avenue and Ivy street, has already gone to an expense of $3,500 in setting back and remodeling his store building at 117 South Central avenue, after the rights under the condemnation proceedings. This is a commendable act and shows the progressive disposition of Central avenue property owners. It is men such as Mr. Metcalf who, possessed of broad vision, can see the future of Central avenue.

"Mr. Metcalf bought his property at 117 South Central avenue from O. M. Newby, a pioneer Glendale real estate broker, and it is due to the friendship existing between Mr. Newby and himself, which is of eighteen years' standing, that he volunteered to set back his building at his own expense. The Central Avenue Improvement association is deeply appreciative of the co-operation of Mr. Metcalf, Mr. Newby and others, in removing obstacles to the progress of this boulevard."

"I have had a vision of the future of Central avenue for many years," said O. M. Newby, president of the Broadway Improvement association and an active member of the Central Avenue Improvement association. "Today that vision looks bright, indeed. I see Central avenue as a high-class business thoroughfare unparallelled in Southern California.

"There are several reasons why at this should be so. First, Central avenue is a long, straight artery, well-paved and well-lighted, leading from the gateway to the Verdugo hills on the north, to the gateway of Los Angeles on the south. Second, Central avenue is the widest boulevard in Glendale, without car tracks, yet but two blocks west of and paralleling Brand boulevard, which carries the Pacific Electric line. Third, Central avenue receives twice as many east and west streets from San Fernando road as it passes on to Brand boulevard. Fourth, Central avenue is the closest high-class shopping street to the great industrial district now developing below and tributary to San Fernando road. Fifth, the great northwest residential section is just beginning to come into its own, and in the years ahead will pour an enormous stream of gold-ens traffic down Central avenue.

"There are many other reasons why I prophesy that Central avenue will yield a rich harvest to the property owners, merchants and apartment house owners. The north end of Central avenue, particularly, is well adapted to apartment-house construction, being chiefly located and in the very center of an area that will become more and more densely populated as the city grows. I predict apartment houses twelve stories high on North Central avenue within the next five years. It happened in Hollywood and Long Beach, and it will happen in Glendale."

KIWANIANS FAVOR LOWER P. E. FARES

Street Car Reduction Urged At Meeting; Fiesta Is Given Endorsement
Members of the Glendale Kiwanis club today endorsed the proposition for lower street-car fares over the Pacific Electric lines, after the project had been outlined at the meeting held today noon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, by Bert Woodard, chairman of the public affairs committee. Charles Hatz reported the Merchants' association had endorsed the plan, and W. L. Truitt reported the realtors had approved it.

Councilman Sam Davis, present at the meeting, said the same type of cars used now would be continued if the fare were reduced. He characterized the present service as local, saying that only place the trains speeded up was over the bridge across Los Angeles river.

The club members also endorsed the Spanish fiesta plan. President Frank L. Fox presided. Visiting Kiwanians of the 2 day were: F. R. Richardson, of Alhambra; D. A. Powell, of Alhambra; Fred P. Foster, of Los Angeles, and Fred Northing, of South Pasadena. Herbert Parker explained the attendance contest now in process. Out of ninety members in the club, eighty-five were present today.

Flyers Coming
Dr. T. C. Young explained plans for the coming aerial program on March 13. Capt. Lowell Smith, world flyer; Earl Daugherty, of Long Beach; J. H. Slate, major of the United States army; C. C. Mosely will be present on that date, he said.

Roy L. Kent spoke on the lectures to be given next week by Dr. Charles Barker under the auspices of the Rotary club. The attendance prize, donated by Fred B. Walton, was won by Eugene Gordon. The prize was a Knox hat. Lyman P. Clark spoke on the auto show to be open tomorrow. W. L. Truitt announced the Central avenue celebration.

Bert Perry announced the meeting two weeks from today of "Retailers' Day" under the auspices of the business standard committee. Wives of members will be invited on that date, he said.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service
NEW YORK, March 6.—Industrial and specialty stocks held the center of the stage in the stock market today and, under their leadership, stocks were strong throughout most of the session. The best records were made by the high-priced equipment stocks and the "rich men's industrials." American Can and General Electric. Special news developments, such as were crowded into a few hours yesterday, were conspicuously absent today, and there was little of outside happenings to influence the course of stock prices in either direction. Money showed an easier trend.

SHOWERS MOVING ROUND GLENDALE FRANKLIN NOSES OUT LOCAL TEAM

L. A. Gets Rain But City's Supply Barely Traced, Prospects Slight
With cloudy and unsettled weather predicted for tonight and Saturday, H. E. Bartlett, weather observer, reported a trace of moisture in Glendale today. Although light showers fell in Los Angeles and vicinity early today, not enough had fallen in this city to record.

Prospect for a general storm of any consequence is slight, Bartlett said, although there is a likelihood of a light shower. Rain-fall to date is already nearly double what it was last year on March 6, when a total of 2.48 inches of moisture had been recorded. This year to date 4.34 inches have fallen.

Enough snow has fallen in the high Sierras this year, the weather bureau reported, to assure a fair supply of water for irrigation and power during the coming season.

Prepare Displays For Public Benefit

big tent will furnish illumination. Special lighting effects are also being arranged today for the staging of the program.

Prepare for Displays
While a few exhibits were being placed in position today, the majority of automobiles will not be run into the big tent until tomorrow morning. One of the few exhibits already arranged is the Standard Oil Co., with a mammoth model of some of its oil wells, service stations, refineries. Trucks that will be in operation during the show will run on a special track from place to place around the miniature oil plants.

Automobiles that will be on the floor tomorrow afternoon will total in value more than $200,000. Everything, from the smallest exhibit to every detail of the entertainment and program, will be new. The color scheme will be orange and black worked into an elaborate decorative. The floor today is entirely boarded and green burlap has been laid, on which each automobile on exhibit will be placed. Three main aisles have been arranged, and each will be partitioned off.

The admission price that includes both the auto show and the entertainment that will be changed nightly, has been placed at 10 cents. This will merely meet a part of the heavy expense to which the Motor Car Dealers' association has gone to make the affair one of the most gorgeous and successful auto shows ever staged in Southern California.

Gland Patient Withstands Severe Endurance Test

After suffering from a nervous breakdown, and being subject to dizzy spells, a man of 35 regained his health and strength through glandular treatment. As an actual test of his perfect health, this gland patient recently ran and won the one-mile and three-mile race in the annual field meet at one of California's State Institutions. Even more remarkable than his speed was the physical condition of the athlete after breasting the tape. He exhibited nothing of the distress or labored breathing of the ordinary runner.

Glendogen, the new scientific gland tonic, which is prepared in convenient tablet form, for men and for women, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glendogen, the original gland tonic.

Glendogen is obtainable at Ahlmann Drug Co., Brand at Harvard. Free booklets on request.—Advertisement.

James Fechet Chosen Mitchell's Successor

it was issued shortly after the war department announcement. Mitchell renewed his appeal for a unified air service, emphasizing the growing importance of aircraft in the national defense, and declared that he "would continue to work for the benefit and improvement of everything that applies to our national welfare."

Rises From Ranks
Colonel Fechet was to become a brigadier-general when he becomes assistant chief of the air service. Entering the army as a private in 1898, Fechet participated in the Santiago campaign and was wounded in the capture of San Juan hill by the Rough Rider under Roosevelt. He also took part in numerous battles in the Philippines and served with General Pershing's punitive expedition into Mexico in 1916.

During the world war Colonel Fechet was in command of Scott, Carlstrom, Door and Kelly flying fields, and was department air service officer of the southern department. In 1920 he came to Washington as chief of the training and operations groups and later as chief of the war plans division. He has been commandant of the air service 50 Kelly field, San Antonio, Texas, since July 1, 1924.

Colonel Fechet is a qualified pilot and has been on continuous flying duty since September, 1917.

Silent On Weeks

Announcement of Fechet's appointment was accompanied by no statement relative to the demotion of General Mitchell. Fechet's nomination will be sent by President Coolidge for confirmation during the present short session.

One of Secretary Weeks' chief complaints against Mitchell was that he violated orders of his superiors in writing articles on air power for a weekly magazine without first submitting the article for approval. Mitchell denied this charge, stating that President Coolidge and General Patrick approved his articles.

Weeks and Mitchell have also been at loggerheads over the condition of the American fleet, Mitchell having declared before the House aircraft committee that the United States possessed only nineteen first-class combat planes. Weeks placed this total considerably higher.

High School Defeated 1 to 0 In Thrilling Diamond Game Yesterday

Tuesday Coach Wolfe's Glendale diamond artists defeated the Franklin nine on Broadway field 3 to 6, in a game of few hits, too many runs and errors. Yesterday the Kitifiers turned around and beat the Dynamiters on the Franklin field, 1 to 0, in a hard fought game of few errors, fewer runs, and a decent number of hits.

The game would probably have ended in a tie had it not been for a lucky score on the part of the Printers in the very first inning. After Williams had whiffed, Laird singled to left garden and stole second. Brooke got wild and walked two men. With the bases thickly populated, Laird came home with the only run of the game when Dwight Stewart muffed a pitch and let the ball trickle out of his immediate reach.

Glendale had good chances to score in the third, sixth, and seventh, but each time lacked the pitcher to put the runner, who was parked in the hole, over the platter. The Kitifiers also had three opportunities to score, but each time were blanked when they failed to deliver the goods in the pinch.

VEGETABLE MARKET

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—With asparagus, strawberries and lettuce already coming into market in heavy volume, indications are that California vegetable and fruit farmers will harvest one of the largest crops in the state's history this year. Top prices are being realized.

By Southland News Service. BANGDAGE BURNS ON HAND HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 6.—R. L. Garlington, 303 Tenth street, is recovering from serious burns received when a bandage on his right hand became saturated with gasoline and ignited. His left hand also was burned while tearing the blazing cloth from his right hand. Garlington is a tool dresser for the C. C. Julian corporation in the local field. He received treatment for the injuries at the emergency hospital.

L. A. SPEEDERS WARNED ANAHEIM, March 6.—Los Angeles motorists who have the impression that Anaheim is a city where laws no longer exist since the recall election are meeting grief daily in the city and as a result of the activities of Motorcycle Officer Looney nine Los Angeles drivers were arrested in one day. Thirty-five to forty miles an hour seems to be none too slow for the metropolitan drivers who declare that they understood they were driving through a "wide open" town.

MOTOR PLANT PLANNED SANTA BARBARA, March 6.—A large automobile assembly plant will be established on a tract of land near Serena at an early date by the Pacific Motor company of San Francisco if negotiations now pending with W. F. Wickham and George F. Emery are successful. Although the prospective purchasers have not revealed the exact nature of the plant it was stated unofficially that it would be used to assemble automobiles for large eastern manufacturers who have no assembly plants on the Pacific coast, the cars then to be distributed to California representatives from the Santa Barbara plant.

VEGETABLE SHIPMENTS BIG

SANTA MARIA, March 6.—Shipments of vegetables from the upper end of the Santa Maria valley have not yet reached a high point, although estimates made by the Santa Maria valley railroad indicate that heavy shipping will start late this month. Heretofore no vegetables have been planted in this section, Guadalupe being the favored spot. This year more than 1000 acres have been planted hereabouts and shipments will soon start. A car of peas by express and two cars of onions have been sent east so far over the valley railroad.

Intermediate Track Meet Held Thursday

The first half of the intermediate track schedule was run Thursday afternoon at Glendale Intermediate, the score being 49 for Wilson and 32 points for Glendale. The finals will be held today, when the athletes are presented for the high jump, broad jump and relay races. The results yesterday follow:
50-yard dash—Midglets: Wilcox (W.); Gribben (W.) Chasse (W.); Juniors: Tatlaw (W.); Turner (W.); Abbott (G.).
75-yard dash—Seniors: C. Smith (W.); Homer (W.); Madrid (G.); Juniors: Wilbur (G.); Tatlaw (W.); Lucas (G.); Midglets: Quick (G.); Wilcox (W.); Brewer (G.).
