AUSTRIANS FORCED TO BEGIN RETREAT ON TRENTINO FRONT Unofficially Reported Troops

Italians Have Recaptured Asiago and Several Other Positions, War Office at THREW DEFENDERS FROM Rome Announces; Enemy Forces Falling Back Along a Front of Twenty Miles; King Victor's Troops Pressing Them Position Short Distance West

Rome, June 26 .- A general retreat of the Austrians in the Tren tino district over a sector about 20 miles in extent is announced in a the Italians are pressing the pursuit vigorously.

The text of the statement follows:

Rome, June 26.—A general retreat of the Austrians in the Trendistrict over a sector about 20 miles in extent is announced in a ment issued by the war office to-day. The statement says that talians are pressing the pursuit vigorously.

The text of the statement follows:

The enemy, incapable of overcoming our defence, and under mergetic pressure which we have been conducting for several has been forced to begin a retreat north of the Mandrielle road average captured the positions of Castelgamberto, Mellette, Monto ara, Gallio, Asiago, Casuna and Monte Cengio. Our advance mues vigorously close to the heels of the enemy."

Petrograd, June 26.—Russian troops have crossed the Carpathians and have entered Transpivania, according to an unofficial report received here to-day. The defenders of the mountain passes were ejected and forced to retreat. If the report be true Gen. Brusilon's forces are now in a position to menace Budapest. In the winter of 1914-15 the Russians were able only to reach the successes are causing great rejoicing here. They are characterized as the greatest of the war, and it is expected they will hasten the end of the great struggle with victory for Russia and her allies. "The enemy, incapable of overcoming our defence, and under the energetic pressure which we have been conducting for several days, has been forced to begin a retreat north of the Mandrielle road. We have captured the positions of Castelgamberto, Mellette, Monte Longara, Gallio, Asiago, Casuna and Monte Cengio. Our advance continues vigorously close to the heels of the enemy."

It is believed that Gen. Brusiloff's blow will develop into a great stroke which eventually will break the back of Teutonic opposition and result in peace at the will of the entente powers. Advices from other sources tell of the breaking of all German attacks on the Russian front along the Stokhod river. From available information it was learned that the Germans were hurled back with heavy losses and that the Russians are now on the offensive along a wide front.

DISCREDITS UNIFORM

Man Left Here Under Sus Has Now Been Located in England.

The abuse of the natural sentime of confidence inspired by an officer's uniform, of which stories have been last few months, appears to have spread even to British Columbia.

Early in November last a man of mature years, and claiming to be an officer of the Western Scots, with which battalion he had no connection it was afterwards ascertained, is alleged to have passed a bogus cheque at Chilliwack. He came down to Victoria, and other charges are understood to lie against him of a similar nature. He kept out of police clutches, however, when in British Columbia, although a fairly good description of him was circulated, but the matter has now aken a new turn.

The man has been located attached the man has been located attached to an overseas battalion now in England, and for that reason his name is withheld, as well as for the protection of friends in prominent circles on the Mathland. The matter will be one for decision as to whether he will be allowed to remain at the post he holds, or be brought back to answer the charge.

Russian Violinist Plays Before Rev. J. B. Warnicker's Last Sermon Here

Rev. J. B. Warnicker last evening preached his farewell'sermon at the Dominion theatre, which has been used for the last time as the First Baptist church. Mr. Warnicker's text was Mark 10, v. 45: "For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life a ransom for many."

ransom for many."

"The law of life is sacrifice and service and atonement," said the preacher, who referred to the contribution of Jesus to the world, the science of right living. Jesus had discovered no new medicines, given nothing to the history of astronomy or seeders. His contrimedicines, given nothing to the history of astronomy or geology. His contribution had been greater than all these; He had shown man how to live. After all what had history shown? Was it man or His works which endured? No work was greater than its Creator. The name of Phydias still lived, although the wonderful marbles which he scuiptured were crumbling in dust. Christhad been born obscurely, was scorned by rulers, despised by priests. Yet His name was above every name, to Him all bowed the knee. He had given to the world a gift above all others, without which it would go in darkness. He nation counted for nothing if the eaching went without the Spirit of

"Have we got this spirit?" asked the preacher. "All people to-day give Jesus

"We attempt the task of becoming saviours before we have accomplished the task of becoming saints. We set out to teach God before we have Him in our hearts. The man who loves his neighbor more than himself is destroying himself. The granary must first be filled before the poor can be fed." Milton had been 24 years preparing Paradise Lost, reminded Mr. Warnicker, in urging his hearers to prepare themselves beforehand for the delivery of the message which Jesus had entrusted to the ages to be handed on for all time. A country was not great because of the character of its men of great soul. Numbers of inhabitants could not make a nation great any more than numbers, of leaves in a book could make a book great. That country, that nation was greatest which had among its peoples which all profits will go, the Red lift up Greece, one Garibaldi Italy, one Abraham Lincoln an America.

"What is a great official to-day?" asked Mr. Warnicker. "He is a great servant, one who ministers wisely."

Myrtle and Edna are twin sisters.

Myrtle is incorrigible, but her twin sister is sweet and lovable. Myrtle, getting mixed up in a wild escapade at a cabaret, is the cause of Frank Norman receiving serious injuries in a fight. Myrtle leaves town in the night with Carl Whitman. Her family, also unable to face the disgrace, moves to a different city. A year later, Edna is courted by Harry Anderson and Walter Irving, both of whom are deeply in love with her. She loves and accepts Harry, and Walter swears revenge. Edna's father has insisted that she keep all knowledge of her sister from her husband, and when Walter meets Myrtle he gets an Idea. How the two sisters are brought together again and Myrtle brought to her senses, will be seen at the Majestic theatre on the first three days of this week.

PANTAGES THEATRE.

A vaudeville bill of extraordinary merit is offered at the Pantages the atre, beginning with the matinee today. The music lover and the devotee of grand opera have a treat in store at this delightful amusement place this week. The La Scala Sextette render one of the best arranged condensed repertoires that has been heard in vaudeville circles. The little company change their programme at each performance, singing excerpts from "Ernani," "Lucla," "Traviata," "Carmen," "Rigoletto," and other standard compositions. The sextette is composed of three male and three female voices, which blend with smoothness. There is an especially effective soprano and baritone in the company.

Harry Breen is a delight with his irresistable comedy. He bills himself, "The King of Nonsense," and few will take exception to the contention that he is one of the greatest laugh producers on the stage. He is the comedy hit of this week's bill. From the moment he appears on the stage until he finally departs accompanied by thunderous applause, he keeps his audiences in an uproarous state.

The Five Florimonds open the bill with an exceptional novelty on unsupported ladders. This is a new The Cast includes the following:

NEWSPAPERS AND CRITICS.

To the Editor,—Your morning con-temporary of this date contains the substance of an interview with a Mr. Brayshaw, one of the Canadians who has been employed in munition work in Great Britain. Se many letters are in Great Britain. Se many letters are turned down by the Colonist that one feels it almost hopeless to get anything printed, unless of course it is a song in praise of (say) a star of the first magnitude in the Conservative firmament. The rule that a correspondent's name shall appear at the foot of his letter is insisted on by very few editors, and many are sufficiently sportsmanlike to print unfavorable comments even over a pseudonym. But would it not be a fair deal for the Colonist to sign all editorial matter? There is nothing really revolutionary in well remembered for his fine work in "The Spollera" The story of "Samson" is as follows:

"My temple was built of gold, Marie, and the vile wretch who spat upon me and insulted you lies mangled in its ruins! But it was only for you, Marie, because I love you."

That speech of Maurice Brachard, the periodic part of the control of the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at between the railway and the city council in the understanding arrived at bet matter with which my resolution that you refer to has little to do. The two things can only be coupled together I am not interested, but am delighted indirectly. For example, if the city's to use the existing E. & N. workers are getting British manufactoridge are confirmed then the city or the muscled and slow-moving he yet has within him a spark of unquenchable ambitton that is kindled when on the docks of Toulon, he hears, of a Sunday, street preachers reading, of an "old chap called Samson." Brachard buys the damaged cargo of a store-in canal boat and disposes of it at a profit. It is the first step that is to bring him to his financial Dagon. Bit by bit he increases his holdings till he is enabled to make a plunge in Egyptian copper. This coup ultimately makes him a financial power, with all Paris at his feet.

The Marquis D'Andelin and the Marquise, both worldly financial schemers on the verge of ruiln, but keeping up aristocratic appearances, marry off their daughter Markey whom Brachard loves with all the rugged.

Owing to extra heavy freight shipments and delays by fog, the Grand Trunk Pacific Steamer Prince-George, Capt. D. Donald, was unable to make the usual southbound trip to Seattle, following her arrival here from Prince Rupert and Anyox.

the California coast to attempt the salvage of the steamer Bear, which went ashors June 14 on Sugar Loaf Reef, near Cape Mendocino.

Instructions to hold the Salvor in readiness to proceed to the second of the steamer came alongside the inner harbor wharves at an early hour this morning after meeting with considerable delay outside the harbor through fog. The Prince George reached Vancouver on Saturday afternoon to the second of the near Cape Mendocino.

Instructions to hold the Salvor in readiness to proceed to the scene of the wreck were received here on Friday, and the salvage vessel was immediately sent to Ladysmith to load bunkers, arriving back in port Saturday evening, with all necessary salvage gear aboard and ready to depart at a moment's notice. The expected word was received from London yesterday and the Salvor got away to sea at once. The steamer Bear is reported to be in a precarious position, and salvage operations by a San Francisco concern had to be abandoned on Friday, when heavy seas drove the derelict some fifty, feet inshore and strained the hull to breaking point.

The underwriters have not given up hope of saving the vessel, although it is admitted that the situation is serious and that a new plan of operation will have to be devised for getting the salvage, and the terminal city several hour sold and the Terminal city several hours load and the Terminal city several hours load the terminal city several hours load to Seattle, getting away at 7 p. m. for Victoria. BREEZY BITS

The Garrison Wins.

The Garrison won easily in the game with the Congregationals at Work Point, the latter only being able to score 61 in their first inalings, and although they did well in their second attempt they could not secure enough runs to win. The Garrison went to bat first and returned the fine score of 153, the Congos in their turn getting 61. In the second innings the churchnen batted for a total back with the Cubs and has been released to Atlanta.

That record breaking sprint of the Glants seems to have taken all the steam out of McGraw's men, for since the string of victories was broken by the Phillies they have been going down just about as fast as they went up before.

Oscar Horstman, the Winfield wonder of the Los Angeles Coast League club, shut out the 'Frisco Seals, allowing only one hit and whiffing 9 batters the other day, and is halled as one of the coming stars of the game. Until late last year, when he joined the Angels, he had no experience. He has speed and, it is claimed, more stuff than Ehmke, who set the league of fre two years ago, but until lately he could not locate the plate. However, under the tutelage of Frank Chance he is rapidly gaining control.

BHLLY SUNDAY WAS GREAT BALL PLAYER

Jake Beckley Claims Evangelist Excelled Any of Present Day Diamond Heroes

There's at least one ball-playing person who refuses to make it unani-mous about Ty Cobb being the greatest ball player of all time.

And that's old Eagle-Eye Jake Beck-ley, who played the game nearly as long as Nap Lajote and is now an um-pire living in Kansas City. A quarter century ago old Eagle-eye was in his prime, one of the hardest hitting first sackers the game ever knew.

"He's 52 years old to-day, but he' running bases and silding every day in that pulpit just as he did back in the old days. If he's stayed in the game Cobb never would have been famous.

"He was greater then than Ty Cobb ever dared to be in three departments."

"Everybody thinks Cobb can run bases. I'd spot him a second against Billy Sunday and then watch Bill score first.

"They think Cobb covers outfield erritory. They should have seen Sun-lay in his prime.

"And throw—say, he could throw strikes from center field just as easily as Tris Speaker.

"He was with us in Pittsburg three years, starting with 1865, and he looked better every year.

"But he didn't give enough attention to his batting. He used to spend a lot of his time before the game in the club-house reading the Bible or studying."

It was 20 years ago that Roger began to tread the path to baseball glory as a member of the Lima club of the Ohio State League. In 1887 he broke into the big show with the Washington Nationals. In those days Roger was making a noise like a pitcher, but it wasn't a very loud noise, and in 1899 he was with Minneapolis in the Western League. It was there that he reformed and became a backstop, and on the strength of his achievements behind it he pan he was hired by Chicago in 1900. # MEMORIAL SERVICES HELD YESTERDAY

Addresses by Clergy in City Churches Extol Life and Example of Late Bishop Scriven

Rev. Augustine Scriven, Bishop of Co-umbla, were held throughout the diorese yesterday, big congregations being present at practically all the Anglican churches in tribute to the memory of one who as a pioneer churchman in the island endeared himself to all.

The Dean of Columbia preached at the 11 o'clock service at Christ Church (Cathedral, the service both morning and evening being marked by special hymns and prayers as well as by the memorial character of the address. Dean Schofield's text was part of the twenty-seventh verse of Luke 22: "I twenty-seventh verse of Luke 22: "I am among you as he that serveth."

The keynote of the late Bishop Scriven's life was service, said the dean. For twenty-five years, chiefly as archdeacon, latterly as bishop, he had held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the held himself ready for any call throughout the hole himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese and held himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And the himself ready for any call throughout the held himself ready for any call hell himself ready for any call throughout the whole diocese. And the late bishop's service had been characterized at all times by humility and sincerity. It was because of these two things that the whole community, both within and without the church, was witnessing to the beauty of his life by mourning for the departed bishop. Such service as Bishop Scriven had given brought its own reward—the affection of everyone with whom he came in contact.

In conclusion the dean urged his listeners to emulate the example of such a life by "taking hold" at a time when there were pressing responsibilities for all.

In the evening Rev. J. W. Flinton, of St. Mark's, gave the address, taking his text from I Corinthians, 4: 1 and 2: "Let a man so account for us as of the ministers of Christ and stewards of "You cannot set a clothe see heard by the sentence of the proposition of the charge against Gosden, and the assizes, appeared for the crown. Every valley shall be exaited and every mountain and hill shall be made low; and the crooked shall be

The preacher referred to the part which the late Bishop Scriven had taken in building up the diocese, coming before and preparing the way for the messengers of God even as John the Baptist had come and prepared the way for the coming of Jesus. For nearly thirty years he had toiled among heritance, but people must not forget the great part which he had taken in preparing the way for the establish-ment of the church, the more thorough carrying out of the good work of spreading the Gospel.

POLITICAL NOTES

This evening the Liberals of Ward I. it ran into a switch and crashed into a re to meet in the Arcade building tooms, when the leader and the other city candidates will address the electcity candidates will address the electors on the issues of the day. A hearty invitation is extended to all residents it that ward to attend this meeting and hear a discussion on the topics that will hold the attention of the electors during the compact cannaism.

Hon, W. R. Ross, minister of lands, was on Saturday afternoon nominated as Conservative candidate for the constituency of Fort George, at a meeting held in Prince George. There was a double reason for the change made in the government standard-bearer in this constituency. A. G. Hamilton, who was nominated a year ago, at the time of the abortive dissolution of the legislature, was found not to be strong enough to carry the seat, and he intimated his desire to be relieved of the "honor" of being the government canhonor" of being the government can-

Then, on the other hand, Mr. Ross found that Fernie was not politically healthy for him and that he could not be re-elected there again, even with the aid of stolen bollot-boxes and plugging. So it was decided to try to kill two birds with one stone by having him two birds with one stone by having him venture his fortunes in Fort George, hoping that the prestige of a cabinet minister and the promise of generous appropriations with him as its representative would win the seat, which is one of the new ones created by the redistributhion of last year.

ITALIAN SOLDIERS AND UNITED STATES

Rome, June 26.—The number of present Italian soldiers who have either to the United States or else have been to the United States or else have relatives there is estimated as high as 500,000, a propertion that is said to be larger in this respect than that of any other army in Europe.

Everywhere on the Italian front the American visitor finds men who have been to the United States, and they usually seem proud of the fact. On a recent visit to the war sone a correspondent was trying to get a train for a certain place and in broken Italian he asked one of the soldier-police for some necessary information. "I don't know mything about this town; I'm from New York." replied the carabinlere. of first class recruits. The 6th Field Company (B. C.) Canadian Engineers, has sent forward 1,550 men and has been instructed to enlist and send forward from British Columbia 500 more men in drafts of seventy-five to 125 as soon as they can be got ready.

Men of all trades are wanted, particularly carpenters, bridgemen, steelworkers, blacksmiths, riggers, electricians, linemen, steam and gasoline entire of the columbia.

Already there are rumors that two firms intend to test its validity by a case in the courts, but no authorised intimation has yet been made public. Meanwhile city officials ask the citizens to appreciate their limitations in the matter—that it is a statute and not a civic by-law which has to be enforced. The motion of Alderman Todd with regard to the qualication of aldermen, which is to be discussed this evening, raises a point which appears to have been overlooked somewhat in the frequent attention which has been given to the Municipal Act in recent years, the absence of a provision making it incumbent, on any official of the municipality to see that the qualification possessed at the time of election is maintained through the period in office.
