Defeat Plans To Transform Cerritos School Grounds Into Park

MASS MEETING IS NOT IN FAVOR OF GIVING UP SITE IN SOUTH END

Larger Proportion of Bond Money Is Desired for Schools of Section

SOUTHERN GLENDALE took a definite stand Saturday night at a mass meeting in the Cerritos school upon several matters of civic interest. A suggestion that plans should be made to improve the Magnolia school and ultimately transform the Cerritos grounds into a public park was rejected.

L. H. Wilson of 1034 South San Fernando road, president of the San Fernando Boulevard Association, brought up this subject and called attention to the difficulty of securing suitable park property and the desirability of transforming the Cerritos property into a park.

After some delay this motion carried by a large majority. Some criticism was expressed because of the small proportion of the suggested bond election proposed to be spent on the Cerritos school. The fact was brought out that the school board had promised to replace this wooden school building with a more modern school house as soon as possible.

J. D. Hibben, president of the board of education, declared that the board would like to do this, but was financially unable and that it was necessary for the funds to be spent where needed the most.

School Estimates
Dr. W. C. Mabry of 115 East Acacia street made a motion, which carried unanimously, that the school board revise its estimates so as to provide a replacement unit for Cerritos and that if that was not possible that the school board be authorized to spend the money to be raised in the next bond election wherever they see fit.

This was followed by a motion that the Magnolia school be provided for by the school board as well as they see fit.

Objection was made by Dr. Mabry to the school board donating twelve feet of property to the city for the widening of Forest avenue unless the owners of the property on the other side of the street should do likewise. A motion condemning this action was made by him and supported.

The desirability of the city condemning 134 acres east of Glendale avenue and north to Cypress avenue, which was recently acquired by the Forest Lawn Cemetery association was pointed out by Dr. Mabry. He suggested that this property would make an excellent city park.

Increase Retired Teachers' Salary, Legislature Plea

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—Plans for the amendment of the teachers' retirement salary law, to provide for an increase of $220 per year in the retirement salary were announced in a letter received today by Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, from the Teachers' Association of San Francisco. The increase would make the salary for retired teachers $720 per year.

The amendment would also obligate the state to contribute the same amount as that paid in by the teachers toward the fund. To the state this would represent an increased expenditure of approximately $200,000 per year.

Another amendment would raise the amount toward the fund by the teachers from $12 to $24 annually. The measure would be introduced in the legislature during the early part of the session.

James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, says that the public is cordially invited to attend the session. Goodcell and Wessling are scheduled to talk on "Government Taxes." They will repeat the laws on the latter topic, and will also impart a great deal of important information on taxes to the salaried men and women of Glendale, Mr. Rhoades promises.

The meeting will convene at 7:30 p. m. No admission will be charged.

ITALY SEEKING TO PREVENT FRANCE ENTERING RUHR

Coal Default Not Serious Enough to Justify Act, Officials Assert

BULLETIN COBLENZ, Jan. 8.—Six trains of freight cars, carrying French troops, passed through Coblenz late this afternoon, en route to Dusseldorf. The cars were all sealed.

By DAVID M. CHURCH For International News Service
LONDON, Jan. 8.—Italy is attempting to persuade France not to move her Rhineland army towards the Ruhr on Wednesday after Germany had been officially declared in default of 1922 coal and coke deliveries, it was learned in authoritative quarters this afternoon.

The Italians consider the coal default is not sufficiently serious to justify such a drastic penalty as military occupation of the great Ruhr coal fields.

It is understood the Italians are urging the French to hold off military action until January 15 when Germany is expected to default upon the gold payment of reparations due on that date.

Italy already has given France the promise of her moral support in further military occupation of German territory, but there are indications that Italy did not anticipate the widespread comment which has been aroused by France's Rhineland plans.

British Will Pay Up But in Own Way, Claim
By W. H. ATKINS
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Stanley Baldwin, British chancellor of the exchequer, in a formal statement to the American funding commission today declared that Great Britain will effect payment of every cent of the $5,000,000,000 debt to the United States, but will propose the least possible disturbance in the trade relations between the two countries.

Baldwin said Great Britain, in proposing negotiations, has no intention of imposing on American generosity.

"The generosity of America is proverbial, but we are not here to ask for favors or to impose upon it," he said.

"We want, on such terms as will produce the least possible disturbance in the trade relations of the two countries, a business settlement, a square deal, a settlement that will secure for America the repayment to the last cent of credits which the United States government established in America for us, their associates in the war."

BISHOP JOHN JOSEPH CANTWELL TO BE GUEST OF HONOR TONIGHT AT DEDICATION OF K. OF C. CLUB

Elaborate Program to Be Given at New Home of Local Organization; Large Number of Visiting Knights to Get Welcome

OVER 600 Knights of Columbus and guests are expected to participate tonight in the reception to Bishop John Joseph Cantwell, bishop of the Los Angeles diocese, at the dedication of the new $25,000 K. of C. home at 330 East Lomita avenue. The company will include the bishop and honored guests, Glendale Knights and the adult members of their families and grand knights from other southern California chapters.

After the dedicatory ceremonies at the club house the guests of honor, officers and past grand knights will attend a banquet at Casa Verdugo restaurant at guests of Mrs. Yorba.

The program at the club house will begin with a forty minute musical program, arranged by Grand Knight Harry Girard. Following this there will be addresses by Bishop Cantwell, Hon. Joseph Scott, Judge Paul J. McCormick, W. Joseph Ford, David Supple, supreme warden, and D. Joseph Coyne, state deputy.

Members of the reception committee are Grand Knight Harry Girard and past grand knights, Peter L. Ferry, Henry M. Dall, Sr., H. V. Henry and Leslie F. Wright.

Arrangements and decorations for the dedication are in charge of Lecturing Hugh Bryant. Visiting grand knights to be entertained will be from councils No. 621, Los Angeles, Junipero Serra, Hollywood, Pasadena, Van Nuys, Santa Monica, Long Beach, Redondo and Whittier.

The local Knights of Columbus have been preparing for weeks for the big event of tonight and it is predicted that the affair will be one of the most successful of the kind ever held in Glendale.

MERRIAM TO WIN SPEAKERSHIP BY GOOD MAJORITY

Richardson Candidate to Be Elected, According to Legislative Poll

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—The line of battle in the forty-fifth session of the State Legislature which convened here today will form around two major issues—the "economy budget" and reapportionment.

Such is the consensus of opinion of state leaders who had arrived here today for the opening session. There will be scores of contests of a preliminary nature, it is generally agreed, but none of these save for the speakership fight, will threaten to eclipse the budget tilt and the controversy over the reapportionment bone of contention.

The speakership skirmish between the supporters of Assemblyman Albert Rosenhine of San Francisco and Assemblyman Frank Merriam of Long Beach will in all probability be a fitting "curtain raiser" for one of the hottest legislative sessions in the history of the state.

Although the supporters of each of the speakership contestants are claiming certain victory for their candidates, it is predicted by many that the fight will develop into a deadlock with the possibility of a compromise candidate slipping in to the coveted position.

Poll Favors Merriam
An administration poll today indicated that Merriam had sufficient votes to win the election easily. While this was disputed by Rosenhine followers, it was given color by a report that a compromise candidate was being sought by the anti-Merriam forces who would be able to command more votes than Rosenhine.

Organization of the upper and lower houses was the business of the day after the legislature convened at noon. The decks will be cleared for the inauguration of Governor Richardson tomorrow. The ceremony of inauguration will be simple and devoid of any show, the governor-elect announced today.

Governor Stephens issued a statement today denying that he has prepared a budget or a re-apportionment plan.

Final Appeal Is Made to Save Mrs. Edith Thompson From Death
By LUTHER A. HUSTON For International News Service
LONDON, Jan. 8.—Although today in the shadow of death, Mrs. Edith Thompson, under sentence to be hanged tomorrow morning for the murder of her husband, fought valiantly to keep up her nerve. With forced bravado she kept singing snatches of songs as she paced restlessly back and forth in her cell, nervously picking at her dress.

Outside in the stone walled court of Holloway jail there was a sound of hammering, where carpenters were erecting the gibbet upon which the woman was to swing to her doom.

America May Yet Act to Delay Invasion of Ruhr

By GEORGE R. HOLMES For International News Service
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A strong hint that American good offices may yet be utilized to prevent, or at least delay, France's military occupation of the Ruhr and the ugly situation that would arise therefrom, was thrown out here today from official sources.

The Hughes suggestion to have the whole reparations situation solved by an international commission of experts cannot yet be considered as "dead," it was officially declared at the state department.

The proposal is still before the French government in official sense, and there has been an exchange of correspondence between Paris and Washington on the subject, it was disclosed at the state department.

The nature of the correspondence and the tenor of the French government's response to the Hughes suggestion were subjects that administration officials flatly refused to discuss, but considerable significance was attached to the fact that the proposal has not been entirely abandoned.

WOMAN MAY YET ESCAPE GALLOWS
Final Appeal Is Made to Save Mrs. Edith Thompson From Death

By LUTHER A. HUSTON For International News Service
LONDON, Jan. 8.—Although today in the shadow of death, Mrs. Edith Thompson, under sentence to be hanged tomorrow morning for the murder of her husband, fought valiantly to keep up her nerve. With forced bravado she kept singing snatches of songs as she paced restlessly back and forth in her cell, nervously picking at her dress.

Outside in the stone walled court of Holloway jail there was a sound of hammering, where carpenters were erecting the gibbet upon which the woman was to swing to her doom.

Fighting Chance
Mrs. Thompson had a fighting chance for her life, but it grew slimmer as the day advanced and no official word came to stay the execution.

As the result of widespread appeals Home Secretary Cleve Bridgeman promised to give final consideration to the verdict with the possibility of granting a postponement.

INTERVENTION NOW SECRET HOPE OF THOSE BACK OF MILITARY MOVE

Marshal Foch Is Opposed to Occupation Plan; Cabinet in Perplexed Dilemma

By FRANK E. MASON For International News Service
PARIS, Jan. 8.—France's hasty and vigorous plans for military occupation of the German Ruhr have brought the cabinet into a perplexed dilemma, it was learned this afternoon from an authoritative source.

The minister had hoped that French threats would bring intervention from Great Britain, the United States or the German industrialists to stave off the Ruhr seizure. This hope has not been realized.

While France is now publicly committed to the program of Ruhr occupation and all military plans have been completed, it was learned that there is still one possible hope that such action may be averted. This hope, however, is a slender one.

It is stated in quarters close to the government that American intervention would now be most welcome, so long as it is economic and not political.

France, it was declared, would be entirely satisfied if Wall Street would give assurance that the French budget for 1924 would be met, obviating the necessity of a capital levy, enabling the present French administration to face 1924 elections hopefully.

Foch Opposes Plan
Marshal Foch is now said to be the chief thorn in the cabinet's side. While it was generally believed that Marshal Foch favored military occupation of the Ruhr, he is now said to be opposing such action on the ground that "France has nothing to gain and everything to lose."

"You think you will occupy the Ruhr, but you will find the Ruhr will occupy you," Marshal Foch was said to have told the cabinet.

Indications are that Premier Poincare will not receive a favorable confidence vote in the chamber of deputies on Thursday because the deputies think the national honor is at stake.

French Troops Moving Toward Rhine District
By FRANK E. MASON For International News Service
PARIS, Jan. 8.—French armed troop reinforcements toward the Rhine today while the inter-allied reparations commission was meeting to give Germany a final hearing on the charge she is in default in her coal and coke deliveries, pledged under the treaty of Versailles.

An official decree from the reparations commission proclaiming Germany in default is expected within twenty-four hours.

It was reported that the French army may be moved towards the Ruhr by easy stages, instead of by a single concerted stroke. If the great industrial of the Ruhr and western edge of the Ruhr works, and the seat of the Krupp works, (Continued on Page 2)

Brand Crossing Is Choked by Traffic
Traffic congestion over the Southern Pacific tracks at Brand boulevard yesterday afternoon was almost unbearable, according to Col. J. D. Fraser, chief of police.

On account of the work upon Los Feliz road, it has been necessary for all automobiles approaching or leaving Glendale to be routed via Brand boulevard until across the tracks. As a result, Brand boulevard at this crossing has been badly congested each Sunday afternoon for several weeks and it is not felt that much relief can be obtained for several more weeks.

Seven traffic officers were on the job in this vicinity yesterday afternoon. Despite the fact that two officers were stationed on either side of the track to warn motorists, Col. Fraser was under a severe mental strain all afternoon for fear a machine would get on the track in front of an approaching train and be unable to either forward or backward because of the traffic.

When Brand boulevard became too choked to permit further southbound traffic, it was routed to Los Angeles via San Fernando road. This was done at intervals during the afternoon.

AUTOMOBILE STOLEN
C. M. Donley of 215 South Central avenue had his automobile stolen early Saturday night from in front of the American Legion hall in South Pasadena.

Rob Homes While Residents Are Away

While Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Van DenBurg were absent from their home at 529 North Isabel street about an hour early Saturday evening, entrance was gained through a rear window. A camera brooch containing four small pearls, a nickel-plated revolver and a few pieces of jewelry comprised the loot.

Mrs. M. L. Goram of 1323 North Brand boulevard reported a similar burglary upon returning home Saturday night.

H. W. Daugherty of 368 Pioneer drive did not notice that his home had been robbed until Sunday morning.

Uncle John Says--

The merchants of Glendale have started a movement for a greater and a bigger Glendale, I see by the paper. They're goin' to make it so that every Glendalian will want to do all their tradin' in Glendale. Well, they's two they don't need to convert. Me and Mary think the Glendale stores are pretty fine now. We don't do any buyin' out of town and we know we're ahead of the game, all things considered.

Can You Beat This Egg Story, Fanciers?

If you had a seven months' old pullet that produced as her premiere egg a spheroid 7 1/2 inches around the long way, 6 inches around the short way, and weighing over three ounces, you would quite likely remark, "SOME egg!"

Such were the short, gleeful words with which H. W. Stone of 446 West Broadway, greeted the first offering of Mrs. Jersey Black Giant, one of forty sisters he is watching over with great care, at the above address. Should present expectations be fulfilled, a new breed of fine fowls will become popular in California.

Now, you chicken fanciers, amateur and professional, are any of your pets laying bigger eggs than Mrs. Jersey Black Giant? Speak up!

Woman in Charge Of Telegraph Office

Carmen G. Evans, who has the distinction of being one of the few women managers of telegraph offices in California, this morning assumed charge of the Western Union Telegraph Company's branch on North Brand.

Miss Evans says she is very elated over her transfer to Glendale. She asserts she couldn't have wished for a more pleasant appointment. Just as soon as she is permanently settled she says she intends to take up a residence in Glendale.

Miss Evans reports that she is a native daughter and that her home is "just California."

S. L. Williams, former manager of the local branch, has been recalled to the company's Los Angeles office. Mr. Williams was in charge of the local agency for the past two months.

ACACIA BOARD MEETS

JUSTICE SHAW TO ADMINISTER OATH

Father of Glendale Man to Swear in Governor at Ceremony Tomorrow

Special to The Evening News
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—Following the announcement of his election tomorrow afternoon by both houses of the California legislature in joint session, Friend W. Richardson will be given his oath of office as governor by Chief Justice Lucien Shaw, father of Attorney Hartley Shaw of Glendale. The new chief executive will submit his message to the legislators and Governor Stephens' swansong will follow.

Other than a reception of friends at his offices the feature of Richardson's inauguration will be a banquet tendered him tomorrow night by the California Press Association, of which he has served as president for twenty years.

Merriam Gaining
Assemblyman Frank P. Merriam of Long Beach is gaining over Al Rosenhine in the speakership race and it is claimed Richardson is using his veto whip to put his southern manager across.

Answering "Cow counts" representatives' queries regarding reapportionment, so vital to Glendale and Los Angeles, Merriam says:

"There can only be a comparative measure upon which all parts of the state can agree."

It looks as though the growth of the fastest growing city will be discounted unless southern legislators are urged to drastic action.

NEIGHBORS JUDGE OF OUR CONDUCT

Christians Could Be Helped By Friends' Criticism, Says Rev. Brooks

"It would be a good thing if many Christians could hear what his next door neighbor thinks of him," remarked Rev. Keith L. Brooks yesterday morning in the council room at the city hall before the members of the Men's Bible class of the Presbyterian church.

"The people, who have no sympathy with our religious convictions, are the more rigid judges of our conduct," he continued. "Do not think because you are much criticized that it is all on account of your religion. It is more apt to be on account of your inconsistencies."

"Let us remember what was said of Daniel in 'olden times. We shall find no occasion against him except that he continued the law of his God.' Let us seek to have not only a good report of all men but of the truth itself."

"The Third Epistle of John contains no important doctrinal teaching or special revelation. As the Second Epistle was directed against speculative theology, the third is directed against personal ambitions in the church. John had written to a church which had allowed one Diotrephes to operate what would now be called the 'steam roller' in the church."

"This is not uncommon in these days but in the new-born church it created a sensation to have one man attempt to run everything and everybody. This man rejected all apostolic letters and authority and this epistle records the beginning of the steam roller methods that have crept into the church. John writes to this godly man to encourage him in the stand he had taken and the work he was doing on behalf of the apostles and their messengers."

"Diotrephes may not have held any office in the church but he was certainly the big boss and put everyone out of office who would not recognize his authority. As the apostles would not dance when he whistled he was opposed to them."

1922 MEMORIES NOW IN ETERNITY

Dr. Funk Says 'We Should Not Forget Christ at Start of New Year'

"The year 1922, with all its precious memories, has been almost in the grasp of the past," said Dr. H. C. Funk yesterday morning at the First Lutheran church, speaking on the topic: "A New Year Meditation."

"As we stand upon the threshold of the new year our minds are still fresh with thoughts of Christmas cheer," he continued. "With some feeling of satisfaction you say, 'I have remembered my friends and tried to make them happy.' That was a very gracious thing to do, yet it is possible that there is one whom you have forgotten. Were you celebrating the anniversary of the birth of your friends? Did all their birthdays fall on December 25? No, it was the anniversary of the birth of Christ."

"The wise men came bringing precious gifts to Him. Did you lay a special gift upon His altar? Did you make any sacrifice for the church which He loved? Have you diligently observed His ordinances?"

"View Future Hopefully We have reason to view the future with a hopeful heart, for the Lutheran outlook in Glendale is very bright. We are gratified with the large audiences that attend the regular morning worship. There has been an increase of 400 per cent in two years, so you will note that our church is growing faster than the city of Glendale with its phenomenal record."

"This commendable showing has been made possible only by the hearty co-operation of pastor and people. If our congregation is to continue forging ahead, however, there must be team work among its members, for success always attends our efforts when the members of Christ's body work together in harmony."

"We rejoice in the prosperity of others, but the Lutheran church has a well defined policy and a type of piety that differs from all other bodies. On this basis we are making a straightforward appeal for your co-operation for a denomination that pretends to be just like others has no justifiable reason for its existence. This candid appeal for the devotion that characterizes a true Lutheran church is winning many friends and has resulted in a fine spirit of unity."

'THE NEW BIRTH' TOLD BY PASTOR

Large Crowd Hears Rev. Barr Interpret Meaning of Various Scriptures

"The pastor Rev. D. M. Barr, pastor of the M. E. church, south, was greeted with a good crowd Sunday. He chose for his text the 3rd Chapter and 3rd Verse of John, and referring to the 6th Chapter of Romans, also the 2nd Chapter of Ephesians, using the latter scripture to confirm the words of the Savior's declarations."

"I choose the subject, 'The New Birth' on the first Sunday of the new year, because we should, as a Church, put Christ first, he asserted. Yea Christ should be our first in our serving, our giving, our devotion to the church, which is founded upon a rock, and the 'gates of hell shall not prevail against it.' The only Savior, the Church, the only institution, mankind can go to Heaven in, or through."

"The lodges and fraternal organizations are good institutions, and position parties have their place, but Christ calls for one organization 'His Bride,' the Church, and when He comes, He will take His bride with Him."

"The 'New Birth' is essential, according to scripture, and is in due harmony with Christian experience, and necessary to Christian communion with our 'Heavenly Father.' 'His Spirit bearing witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God.' Rom. 8:16."

"There is power given unto men when the Holy Ghost has come upon them; your 'old men shall dream dreams, your 'young men' shall see visions and your 'daughters' shall prophesy, saith the scripture."

"I know many want to hold on to formalities in religion, and acknowledge that something is wrong, but they do not understand the essentials in the Christian religion and not merely the symbols. We should not be satisfied with man's teaching, and man's part in bringing us into the Church of Christ; that is good, but we should emphasize that fact of supreme importance, that God hath power to save to the utter, most all who will come unto Him."

"The devil acknowledged the power of God, during the Savior's temptation on the mount when he said: 'Cast thyself down and the Angels will save thee; that he dashed not his feet against a stone. Yea, he acknowledged Christ's Divinity.'"

"Paul in Romans 7:24 in these words: 'O wretched man that I am! Who shall deliver me from the body of this death? Saw the mystery that was hid from generations, he saw the light of the Holy Spirit shine around him, when they with him fell to the Earth, and he became one of the greatest teachers the world has known. He was born again. Yea, the wise men like Nicodemus did not understand this, but Christ has revealed it to children of men not wise according as the world counts wisdom."

"Knock, and it shall be opened unto you, seek and ye shall find. At the close of the service the pastor announced thirty members having come into the Woman's Missionary society, and they began their work by the Ladies' Aid asking for church membership birthday offerings when the whole church present, responded, and the birthday jar jingled with silver."

Then came the first offering of the church membership for the budget which went up into the hundreds of dollars, and cash to begin with amounting to over $300."

'THANATOPSIS' TO BE GIVEN AT TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB
William Cullen Bryant's Masterpiece Is Offering for Members

THE beauties of William Cullen Bryant's poetical masterpiece, "Thanatopsis," will be presented to Tuesday Afternoon Club members at their regular meeting tomorrow afternoon in the Masonic Temple, where Conrad Nagel, actor and reader, and his father, Dr. Frank Nagel, pianist and composer, will give a dramatic-musical presentation of the great poem.
 They have given the poetic sketch before other women's clubs in southern California and have been highly complimented on their artistic and talented work. Harold Proctor, tenor, will also appear on the club program, giving a group of vocal selections.
 In anticipation of the meeting and program tomorrow, The Evening News is herewith printing the poem in full:
 To him who in the love of Nature holds
 Communion with her visible forms, she speaks
 A various language; for his gayer hours
 She has a voice of gladness, and a smile
 And eloquence of beauty, and she glides
 Into his darker musings, with a mild
 And healing sympathy, that steals away
 Their sharpness, ere he is aware. When thoughts
 Of the last bitter hour come like a blight
 Over thy spirit, and sad images
 Of the stern agony, and shroud, and pall,
 And breathless darkness, and the narrow house,
 Make thee to shudder, and grow sick at heart;
 Go forth, under the open sky, and lie
 To Nature's teachings, while from all around
 Earth and her waters, and the depths of air
 Comes a still voice—Yet a few days, and these
 The all-beholding sun shall see no more
 In all his course; nor yet in the cold ground
 Where thy pale form was laid with many tears,
 Nor in the embrace of ocean, shall exist
 Thy image. Earth, that nourish'd thee, shall claim
 Thy growth, to be resolved to earth again,
 And, loath each human trace, surrendering up
 Thine individual being, shalt thou go
 To mix forever with the elements.
 To be a brother to the insensate rock,
 And to the sluggish clod, which the rude swain
 Turns with his share, and treads upon. The oak
 Shall send his roots abroad, and pierce thy mould.
 Yet to thine eternal resting-place
 Shalt thou retire alone, nor couldst thou wish
 Couch more magnificent; thou shalt lie down
 With patriarchs of the infant world—with kings,
 The powerful of the earth—the wise, the good,
 Fair forms, and hoary seers of ages past,
 All in one mighty sepulchre. The hills
 Rock-ribb'd and ancient as the sun,—the vales
 Stretching in pensive quietness between;
 The venerable woods; rivers that move
 In majesty, and the complaining brooks
 That make the meadows green; and wood-lark
 The ocean's grey and melancholy waste,
 Are but the solemn decorations all
 Of the great tomb of man. The golden sun,
 The planets, all the infinite host of heaven,
 Are shining on the sad abodes of death,
 Through the still lapse of ages. All that tread
 The globe are but a handful to the tribes
 That slumber in its bosom. Take the wings
 Of morning, pierce the Barcan wilderness,
 Or lose thyself in the continuous woods
 Where rolls the Oregon, and hear no sound
 Save his own dashings, yet the dead are there;
 And millions in those solitudes, since first
 The flight of years began, have laid their heads
 In their last sleep—the dead reign there alone.
 So shalt thou rest; and what if thou withdraw
 In silence from the living, and no friend
 Take note of thy departure? All that breathe
 Will share thy destiny. The gay will laugh
 When thou art gone, the solemn brood of care
 Plead on, and each one as before will chase
 His favorite phantom; yet all these shall leave
 Their mirth and their employments, and shall come
 And make their bed with thee. As the long train
 Of ages glide away, the sons of men,
 The youth in life's green spring, and he who goes
 In the full strength of his manhood and maid,
 The speechless babe, and the gray-headed man—
 Shall one by one be gathered to thy side,
 By those who in their turn shall follow thee,
 So live that when thy summons comes to join
 The innumerable caravan, which moves
 To that mysterious realm, where each shall take
 His chamber in the silent halls of death,
 Thou go not, like the quarry-slave at night,
 Scourged to his dungeon; but, sustained and soothed
 By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave,
 Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
 About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams.

Glendale Personals

THEATRES
The Glendale
 In "Brothers Under the Skin," now showing at the Glendale Theatre, Goldwyn has gathered together Claire Windsor, Norman Kerry, Helene Chadwick, Pat O'Malley and Mae Bush, in a picture which threatens to be the reality of that fabulous creature, the "all star cast."
 The story is by Peter B. Kyne, and is a moving, entertaining transcript of life as it is frequently lived by the married. Two couples, in contrasting stations of life, find their matrimonial barks threatened with shipwreck, due to their wives' desire to avoid the responsibilities of life and have a good time.
 It is a story of dramatic power and humorous incident, skillfully blended by Director E. Mason Hopper.
The T. D. & L.
 Today is the last day of that imitable Lot. Chaney success, "Shadows," at the T. D. & L. Theatre, where it was presented yesterday by most pleased audiences. The special comedy and news weekly, in addition, make this entire show one of genuine interest.
 Starting tomorrow (Tuesday) the picture sensation of years, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," will be the attractive lot. The T. D. & L. Theatre for three days. This film is unquestionably one of the most elaborate, most wonderful productions ever made, and special advanced prices will be charged—general admission 55 cents, children under 12 is 28 cents, loges 83 cents and a few reserved seats at $1.10.
 The Shriners' Club of Glendale will attend in a body at the 9 o'clock Wednesday night show.

SOCIAL EVENTS
Program at Club
 The program announced for the Tuesday Afternoon Club's meeting tomorrow is unusually rich in artistic value and interest, including, as it does, the appearance of the three artists, Harold Proctor, tenor; Conrad Nagel, actor and reader, and Dr. Frank Nagel, pianist and composer.
 In other columns of the Evening News will be found Bryant's poetical masterpiece, "Thanatopsis," to be presented by Dr. Nagel and his son.
 Preceding the presentation of this poetic sketch, Harold Proctor, tenor, assisted by Bertha Just, pianist, will give the following group of vocal numbers:
 "On Away, Awake, Beloved," from "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast" (Coleridge Taylor).
 "The Prize Song," from "Die Meistersingers" (Wagner).
 "Mattinata" (Leoncavallo).
 "Friend or Mine" (Sanderson).
 "She Is Far From the Land" (Moore-Lambert).
 "Duna" (McGill).
Sixth Birthday
 George Robert Lyons, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Lyons, of 359 Riverdale drive, celebrated his sixth birthday on Saturday, January 6, with a party to which five girl and five boy friends were invited.
 A number of games were played, including a donkey tail-pinning contest and an exciting peanut hunt.
 The center of attractions for the young folks was a large table decorated with pink carnations, in the center of which reposed a fine big birthday cake with six lighted candles. In addition to the cake, which was cut with due ceremony, cookies and ice cream were served.
 The complete list of guests: Misses Barbara Farlander, Patsy and Barbara Green, Betty Bowman, Gwendolyn Shattock; and Masters Wilfred Evans, Robert Hill, Cooper Lindsay, Max Green, Robert Yost.

 At the meeting plans will be completed for the coming installation.

Prominent Writer to Talk at C. of C. Friday on 'Advertising Art'
 The Evening News readers, are urged not to forget the lecture on "Art in Advertising" by Will E. Chapin that is to be delivered at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium next Friday night, January 12, at 8 o'clock.
 Through the courtesy of the Realty Board this lecture is free to the general public and everyone will be amply repaid for attendance thereon, the committee states. It will prove of special interest to local merchants to hear what a recognized expert of such long experience has to say on a subject that is of such vital importance in business.
 Mr. Chapin is declared to be one of the best all-around newspaper men in the United States. He has won a wide reputation as artist, cartoonist, writer and lecturer and will be sure to interest and entertain his audience. If he will only start that facile pen of his making character sketches it will be long remembered by those who will attend, so be sure and go, and take your wife, is the suggestion of the committee in charge of the event.

Your words are pure and unadulterated wisdom, my friend. He said. "The chances are scarcely even that two gringo hoboes would last the week out afoot and broke in Viva Mexico; but it has been many years since I followed the dictates of wisdom."

Here, and he pulled Billy backward toward the doorway in the wall behind him. Byrne still clung to his schooner of beer, which he transferred to his left hand as he sought to draw his gun.

One thing, however, is certain — if all the love that was felt for policemen in general by the men in that room could have been combined in a single individual it still scarcely would have constituted a grand passion.

Flannagan felt rather than saw that others were closing in on him and then, fortunately for himself, he thought, he managed to draw his weapon. It was just as Billy was fading through the doorway into the room beyond.

"Well, you didn't do so badly at that," he said. "I know places where they'd indict you for grand larceny if you took much more than you have here."

"Always is rotten down here," replied Bridge. "I sometimes think they put both balls in it so they won't spoil."

"Here's to you," he started; but he got no farther. His eyes traveling past his companion fell upon the figure of a large man entering the low doorway.

At the same instant the gentleman's eyes fell upon Billy. Recognition lit those of each simultaneously. The big man started across the room on a run, straight toward Billy Byrne.

"Not that, Billy!" he cried. "There's a door behind you."

Daily NewsLetter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad.

TODAY—Legitimate druggists in Missouri plan a war against bootleggers who masquerade behind the counters of drug stores, writes Douglas G. Tinsley, staff correspondent at Kansas City.

TOMORROW—Members of British house of commons, who receive pay equivalent to less than $2,000 a year, are "flirting with the delicate subject of raising their own salaries," writes David M. Church, London correspondent, who points out that the legislators are barely able to live on such a small stipend.

By International News Service. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 8.—"Never mind, little drug store, don't you cry; you'll be a booze shop by and by."

There are 2,000 drug stores in Missouri; several score of them are being operated as drug stores to camouflage their bootlegging activities, which is their real business.

So says C. M. Watson, president of the Retail Druggists' association, which has adopted as its slogan: "Run the bootleggers from behind the prescription case."

"These drug stores do not even comply with the law requiring a registered pharmacist to be in charge of their stores at all times," he says.

The association believes that there are many drug stores being operated by former saloon keepers and former bartenders, who feel they are safe if they operate behind a drug sign.

Sale of drugs is a nuisance to these places, the association contends, in announcing a campaign of education on an elaborate scale to acquaint the public with the fact that patronizing such places is dangerous.

"We are not campaigning against bootlegging in general," Watson announces. "We are simply seeking to purge our own business of prohibition violations."

To this end the association plans to furnish evidence of liquor violations to the police and to follow up cases in court involving druggists to see they are not pigeon-holed.

Chief efforts will, however, it is stated, be directed toward educating the public to the danger of patronizing stores which ostensibly sell drugs but in reality deal in liquor.

APPARATUS AND DEVICES

By RALPH BROWN, RADIO ENGINEER

While most experimenters are leaning toward the most efficient tube detector, others are fortunately within such short ranges of broadcasting stations that they may use crystal detectors and obtain most satisfactory results therefrom.

The little crystal holder depicted in the accompanying illustration pictures a very serviceable detector. It is glass enclosed, insuring freedom from dust and moisture.

At this season of the year atmospheric disturbances are so prevalent and productive of complaints from radio fans as to deserve special mention in these series.

It is safe to say that the man who can eliminate "atmospherics" or "static" in the operation of radio has a fortune awaiting him.

Atmospheric disturbances show themselves in various forms and are due to innumerable causes, but they are all included in any of the various terms commonly used to denote them, i. e., atmospheric, X's, strays, static, etc.

Although little has been accomplished in the matter of eliminating this "bugbear" of radio, a great deal of work has been spent by the brightest minds in the profession in seeking a remedy.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S MASHED POTATOES "No, I don't like mashed potatoes," snarled the Bob Cat, as he drew nearer to Uncle Wiggily.

"My goodness me sakes alive and a basket of soap bubbles!" called Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman.

"Oh, nothing much," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper. "Do you call that nothing much?" Uncle Wiggily wanted to know.

"No, indeed!" laughed Nurse Jane. "I am just getting ready to mash the potatoes for your supper—that's all."

"Oh, so we are going to have mashed potatoes for supper!" cried the bunny rabbit uncle, for he was very fond of them.

"I will," promised the muskrat lady. And then, as she was pounding them with the masher, which is like a wooden club you know, all of a sudden the telephone bell rang.

"I'll see who it is," said Uncle Wiggily, and after he had called "Hello!" he went on. "It's for you, Nurse Jane. Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig, wants you to run over for a moment. Squeaky-Squeaker, her littlest pig, has swallowed a kernel of corn the wrong way and it has gone down her Sunday throat."

"I'll go right over and help get it out," said Nurse Jane. "When I come back I'll finish mashing the potatoes," she added.

Out of the hollow stump bungalow ran Nurse Jane, over to the house of the Twistytail pig family. And when his muskrat lady housekeeper had gone, Uncle Wiggily thought to himself: "I'll go out in the kitchen and finish mashing those potatoes so they'll be all ready for supper when Nurse Jane gets back."

On the stove stood the black iron pot of boiled potatoes. In the pot was the short-handled wooden masher, or club. Nurse Jane had mashed only a few of the potatoes before the telephone rang.

"This is going to be very easy," laughed Uncle Wiggily, with a twinkle in his pink nose. He took the wooden club masher in one paw and he gave the boiled potatoes a few taps, crushing them down, when, all of a sudden, the door of the bungalow opened.

"You are back early," began the rabbit gentleman. "Much sooner than I expected. I intended to give you a little surprise by having the potatoes mashed for you, Nurse Jane, but—"

"But I'm not Nurse Jane!" suddenly cried a growling voice, and there stood the bad Bob Cat! "Oh, Oh," cried Uncle Wiggily. "What do you want?"

"I want you!" growled the Bob Cat. "I don't want you to take me," begged the bunny. "Have some mashed potatoes, won't you?" he asked, kindly.

WHEN WE BUY UNWISELY

Under what circumstances have you made your greatest mistakes in the selection of clothes? As I contemplated a gown which I have almost never worn when I could give away after doing my duty in its place, and which I am now about to give away after waiting a decent length of time (like a widower) I considered that question.

"I Must Buy Something"

That frock had been a mistake from the start. So had a suit that I bought the year before. And as I thought the matter over I saw there had been one thing in common about their purchase. They had both been bought when I needed something at once and had gone to town saying: "I must buy something."

I think that is the circumstance which causes more mistakes in most women's selection of a wardrobe than any other factor. Think it over and see if it has not been so with you.

When you make up your mind that you are going to buy something you generally end by buying anything.

A far better way is to have it in mind when you need a certain kind of frock and be on the watch for it and not buy until you see just what you want.

If a woman is going to get the most in clothes satisfaction out of her money or her husband's money, I think she should do the following:

First, have a budget. Know what she has a right to spend.

Know What You Want

Second, decide what she wants most. She can't have everything (I am talking about the average

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, MD.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

HYPERACIDITY

Do you suffer from hyperacidity? I shall tell you what you probably indulge in too much. Candy, and other sweets, tea, coffee, meat, salty foods, lots of vinegar pickles, white bread, and highly spiced food. I don't believe you indulge in the stuff that is supposed to be prohibited. That also will cause hyperacidity.

Doesn't it make you fatigued when a person tells you that he drinks now but he never did before prohibition? Of course, it happens that you are one of this species and you suffer from hyperacidity, you will have to change your bootlegger and stop feeling that you are so smart in outwitting the law. If you get a gastric ulcer from the hyper-secretion of the hydrochloric acid of the stomach you won't feel so smart, will you?

You must avoid the foods that I have enumerated because they may overexcite the secretion of the gastric acid. You must eat regularly, and you must correct your constipation—from which every hyperacidity person suffers.

Kellogg advises for this condition a quarter of an ounce of bran or one-third of an ounce of agar at every meal, and one-half a nounce of paraffin oil taken before and after every meal, with an enema taken at bedtime two or three times a week.

He surely does treat constipation energetically, but his belief is that the bowels should move two or three times a day. Most of us do not believe this is necessary. I believe so much paraffin oil as he advises would be considerable of a nuisance because some of it would not be under control when it reached the lower bowel. We have an article on constipation if you would like it.

Overeating and hurried eating also will produce an excessive acid secretion, so those habits must be corrected. Smoking comes in the same class of tabooed habits.

It is a good idea to have a paraffin oil enema once a week. The original operation was performed under ether eight years ago.

MAKE YOUR OWN CREAMS

I should like to advise every woman to make her own cold cream. In these days the question of expense appeals to all of us, and home-made creams are cheaper, as well as better. Besides, we all need a certain amount of cold cream, not that it could ever take the place of the old-fashioned soap and water, but simply because modern cities are so full of dust and grime that oil as well as water is needed to cleanse the skin.

There are two kinds of creams—European and American. The European kinds are usually vanishing creams. Personally, I do not like them as well. I prefer a rather heavy cream with a great deal of oil for nourishing the skin and very little soda, if any at all; and for cleansing, a light, oily cream that is easily wiped off the face or washed out.

Here's the formula for the nourishing cream, for wrinkles, dry skin, chaps, sunburn, general neglect of the complexion.

Rose Water..... 4 ounces
Almond Oil..... 4 ounces
Spermaceti..... 1 ounce
White Wax..... 1 ounce
Benzoin..... 1 drachm
Borax..... 30 grains

You probably know how to make this. Melt the waxes until they blend with the oil. Get the rest of the ingredients lukewarm, take from the heat, pour the water slowly into the oils, stir and beat until ready to congeal, then pour off into jars to cool and harden. An ideal cream, this, and very costly if you purchased such a cream if you wish made. You can, if you really wish, use olive oil instead of almond, it's cheaper and quite as good, if you do not dislike its faint odor. Perfume with the rose water would disguise that, of course.

This cream is also cleansing, though a cheaper kind can be obtained for this purpose.

Bertha T.—Circles around the eyes usually come from internal disturbances, so no lotion applied to the skin would eliminate them. Consult your doctor about the trouble, unless it is only due to a slight digestive sluggishness which you could correct yourself through diet. Agar agar is taste-

COUNCIL TABLE

QUESTION: I have several baskets of good shape but shabby in appearance. Can you advise any sort of treatment whereby they can be used in my living room and dining room?

ANSWER: You are fortunate if you possess baskets of good shape for they can be made very pretty by painting them to harmonize with color scheme of either the living room or the dining room. For instance, painting the body of basket a dull blue with handle, top and bands of gold would be very effective in grey and rose room; while a basket painted black with bright flowers would be good in either living or dining room that needs bright spots of color to make it interesting and home-like.

QUESTION: We are building a Spanish type bungalow and would like to know if the Windsor chairs, gate leg table and other furniture of colonial design can be used in this type of house. In other words, would it be in good taste?

ANSWER: In selecting furniture for a home, the type of architecture should be taken into consideration. For example, the English house should have the English type furniture; the early colonial house, the colonial type furniture and the Spanish house should likewise have furniture appropriate to its type. It will require quite a good bit of study to select furniture and furnishings for this type, but it will well repay you all the time and effort put into it. Bright colors are a part of the Spanish type house, but they should be used with discretion—introducing them in just the right amount in hangings, cushions, lamp-shades, bits of pottery, and the like.

QUESTION: I am going to get new draperies for the dining room and would like to know what you consider the most satisfactory length for them?

ANSWER: If the dining room is very simply furnished, the draperies may be short, just to the bottom of the apron, straight hanging and without any valance. On the other hand, if the dining room furniture is of period styles, the draperies may be hung to just escape the floor, with a plain or fancy-shaped valance. The length of the draper does not affect the length of the glass curtain (net, scrim, etc.), which should just escape the window sill.

offer suggestions as to its furnishing, etc.?"

ANSWER: The modern sun-rooms are really living-rooms and should be furnished accordingly. The reed, rattan and wicker furniture are the very best types for this class of living room. There should be no dark hangings—simply soft gauze or net curtains hanging straight from a top rod, with or without a valance. There should be small tables for books, work basket, flowers or ferns; lamps with simple shades, a bird cage with bird and a bowl with gold fish if there is room. The floor could be painted a soft dour color, or if the boards are rough and unsightly, the floor could be covered with linoleum. Linoleum in tile pattern or squares in black and white, gray and white and several other very good colorings suitable for a sun room.

QUESTION: I have inherited an "English Bull's-eye" clock in mahogany and I would like to know if it would be appropriate to use it on the mantel in my living-room?

ANSWER: If your clock is of the real "English Bull's-eye" type you have something out-of-the-ordinary and therefore much to be desired. Place it on the living-room mantel by all means. Copyright, Cronk Syndicate, 1922.

Rev. Mullen Says We Should Seek Kingdom of God, Righteousness

Rev. H. C. Mullen, minister of the Pacific Avenue Methodist church, spoke Sunday night on "Safety First."

"Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness," served as the text.

"These words embody the highest prudence; namely, man's primary duty to himself," remarked Rev. Mullen.

"Let us have safety first in the moral life. Give the children a right start, a fair chance, a good environment. Clean out the last den of iniquity, destroy every pitfall. Let every parent be an example safe for the boy or girl to follow."

"Greed long since commercialized the baser passions of the race. The pleasures of the young are, in turn coming under the control of mammon. The cup of joy, offered the young by the hand of mammon, is often a painted one, good to look upon, but holding within it the poison of death, and beside every primrose path of pleasure where the young walk there are hidden the serpents of vice, ever ready to strike."

A PAINFUL DISEASE OF MUSCLES AND JOINTS

(Weekly Health Talk No. 13)
(By Drs. Eble, D.S.C.)

The dictionary gives the definition of rheumatism as "a painful disease of the muscles and joints" and every sufferer from this disease knows that these words express the truth about it very conservatively. The fact is that rheumatism, mild or severe, is plain torture.

A chiropractic patient discussing his experience seeking relief for this disease, said he had tried many things and with benefit, "but nothing seemed to reach in and get at the something which was creating the disease until I tried chiropractic." That exactly expresses the situation of chiropractic with respect to rheumatism. It is efficient in eradicating this disease from the human system because it removes the cause. By chiropractic spinal adjustments the liver, the kidneys and

ANSWER: The modern sun-rooms are really living-rooms and should be furnished accordingly. The reed, rattan and wicker furniture are the very best types for this class of living room. There should be no dark hangings—simply soft gauze or net curtains hanging straight from a top rod, with or without a valance. There should be small tables for books, work basket, flowers or ferns; lamps with simple shades, a bird cage with bird and a bowl with gold fish if there is room. The floor could be painted a soft dour color, or if the boards are rough and unsightly, the floor could be covered with linoleum. Linoleum in tile pattern or squares in black and white, gray and white and several other very good colorings suitable for a sun room.

QUESTION: I have inherited an "English Bull's-eye" clock in mahogany and I would like to know if it would be appropriate to use it on the mantel in my living-room?

ANSWER: If your clock is of the real "English Bull's-eye" type you have something out-of-the-ordinary and therefore much to be desired. Place it on the living-room mantel by all means. Copyright, Cronk Syndicate, 1922.

SAFETY FIRST, IS TOPIC OF SERMON

Rev. Mullen Says We Should Seek Kingdom of God, Righteousness

Rev. H. C. Mullen, minister of the Pacific Avenue Methodist church, spoke Sunday night on "Safety First."

"Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness," served as the text.

"These words embody the highest prudence; namely, man's primary duty to himself," remarked Rev. Mullen.

"Let us have safety first in the moral life. Give the children a right start, a fair chance, a good environment. Clean out the last den of iniquity, destroy every pitfall. Let every parent be an example safe for the boy or girl to follow."

"Greed long since commercialized the baser passions of the race. The pleasures of the young are, in turn coming under the control of mammon. The cup of joy, offered the young by the hand of mammon, is often a painted one, good to look upon, but holding within it the poison of death, and beside every primrose path of pleasure where the young walk there are hidden the serpents of vice, ever ready to strike."

Lure of Life

"The lure of the life of pleasure seeking was never more enticing, and its tug upon youth

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF LOS ANGELES

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 8.—More than one-quarter and nearly one-third of the entire supply of gold in the world reposes in the coffers of Uncle Sam. The daily report of the treasury department indicates that more than three and a quarter billion dollars' worth of coin and bullion are in the national vaults and of this amount only $313,000,000 is coined.

The same report shows nearly twenty tons of silver dollars in storage. These silver dollars weigh more than all of the gold, but they are worth only $367,000,000.

The normal receipts of the United States at the present rate are about $275,000,000 a month. This is less than the receipts of last year because of the reduction in income tax receipts. The only gain shown by governmental receipts this year over last year is in the tariff column. During the first two weeks of December the customs receipts were nearly $20,000,000 compared to about $12,500,000 for the same period last year. During the present fiscal year, beginning July 1, the customs receipts have been $230,000,000 compared to $133,000,000 for the corresponding period last year.

The struggle the treasury has been having in making the books balance is illustrated in the fact that during the present fiscal year the government paid out $95,000,000 more than it received during the same period, but during December the books were "taken out of the red." The first two weeks of December show $14,000,000 more in receipts than in disbursements and the turning of the tide accounts for the treasury's faith in its ability to finish the fiscal year June 30, on the black side of the ledger.

Because the treasury has retired many of its bonds it is now paying less interest than a year ago. In the first two weeks of December this year it paid $12,000,000 in interest charges, while during the same two months of last year interest payments amounted to $14,500,000.

Auditing of all customs receipts on the Pacific coast, Hawaii and Alaska will, after January 1, be made at San Francisco instead of in Washington in furtherance of the decentralization process going on. Former Naval Officer John J. Deane is now given the title of comptroller of customs.

San Diego is again the favorite of the navy department and the house appropriations committee in the appropriation bill just presented. In it San Diego is given more money for improvements than any other navy yard. The sum of $330,000 is put down for completing the naval training station and $7000 is awarded for buying a site for a Marine Barracks. When San Diego is finished it will not only have most of the navy from the Pacific coast, but a great share of the Atlantic coast and the trend is toward San Diego all the time.

INSENSIBLE MAN EXCUSES FOLLIES

Rev. Cole Asserts 'We Are Accustomed to Overlook Evil Tendencies'

"Blunting the Moral Sensibilities" was the subject of the sermon delivered yesterday morning at the Central Christian church by Rev. C. A. Cole. He said, in part:

"Reproached for our folly and insensibility, whether as guests at a banquet, participants in questionable things or possessors of bad habits, we excuse and justify ourselves on the plea: 'We are so accustomed to it, we never notice it.' Upon every hand nowadays this statement is made and evidently without a thought of its ugly significance.

"That play is questionable, most likely bad; how can you go to see it?"

"Oh, I have become so accustomed to that sort of thing that I never think of it."

"The style of dress is really immoral."

"Oh, yes, to be sure, but one becomes so accustomed to it that he scarcely notices it."

"Some forms of the modern dance are positively immoral. Not only are the associations generally demoralizing and the exhibitions of dress or lack of it shameful, but the dance has merited the sharpest censure from wise, sane and perfectly unprejudiced judges."

Enjoy Artistic

"Well, yes; this must be admitted, but I enjoy only what is artistic and beautiful. As for the rest, well, I am so accustomed to it that I never really think of it."

"What does it mean? Virtually this: You have gone from good to bad and from bad to worse until at last you do not think nor realize how bad. Self-indulgence leads to dissipation and dissipation to moral and spiritual insensibility."

"To become so accustomed to an evil or immorality as no longer to experience revulsion of feeling proves a blunting of the moral sensibilities. If, through familiarity, we no longer feel pained when evil is presented or suggested, it only proves one has lost some of the finer sensibilities of his nature, that the finest, strongest and most lasting safeguards of virtue have been broken down and that the moral character has undergone a serious depreciation."

PATTERN PRAYER, IS CHURCH TOPIC

What We Call Lord's Prayer Belongs to Disciples, Says Rev. Edmonds

Rev. W. E. Edmonds preached Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church on "The Pattern Prayer."

"What we call the Lord's Prayer is really the disciples' prayer. The true Lord's prayer is John 17," he asserted.

"The disciples had asked, 'Teach us to pray.'"

"We need to learn, to know how, to be ready for need. Our year motto is, 'Prayer Changes Things.'"

"First, to know anything at all about this, we have got to be founded in certainty of the personality of God. In heaven, He hears, He sees all. You will never get anywhere in prayer without this foundation. We know and are positive He hears and He answers, and He is acquainted with all."

"The Lord's prayer teaches us that all true prayer begins in recognition of the Father. We do not come to Him first as a great executive. All that the Father is in the home He is plus divinity. He knows all that the child does. This presupposes that the praying one is His child. All are not His children, but those who go under the blood of Christ. Others get just as much good of all the common things, but they are not on praying terms."

Meaning of Prayer

"Who art in heaven—here we learn His majesty, sovereignty. The Old Testament is full of the sublimest recognition of His majesty. We need today a new realization of this, and of the awfulness of setting aside His claims. One of the best ways to get to know this is to look at the Cross and realize what it meant."

"Prayer brings fellowship, not only with God, but with human hearts. If you can't pray for some one, there is something wrong. Whom are you carrying in prayer? God died for all; 'our' is a world term. If you are narrow with it you will get nowhere. All the children within a home—there is fellowship."

"Hallowed be Thy name"; worship, praise, is the highest element in prayer. People so much pray, 'give, give!' but getting things is subordinate to praise. 'In heaven'; heaven is a place, real, or a place, mothers, friends, are in a place. And we believe some day God is calling us and those gates will open to us. Then don't be frightened of dying. If you are a true child, nothing can separate you."

"The secret key that unlocks all is, 'Thy will be done.'"

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

New Governor Tomorrow News Hounds Scent Yarns Sacramento Rather Damp Sixty Years As Barber

By Gil A. Cowan

SACRAMENTO, January 8.—Friend William Richardson, newspaperman, tomorrow becomes governor of the state of California. Tally another for the power of printers' ink.

While the inauguration cannot be considered auspicious at all, it is of more than passing portent. For with the new regime comes a new spirit, a different idea and different ideals in the matter of government as they are interpreted by legislators friendly to the new governor.

The legislature goes into session this week with more than the usual factional strife, precipitated by the desires of the north and the south and the old and the new regimes. It is predicted that the fight for speakership in the assembly will engage the lower house for some days to come unless a compromise is effected.

Frank C. Merriam, Richardson's southern campaign manager, and representative from Long Beach, has accumulated quite a following, but other candidates for the speakership have been injected into the race with the idea of keeping the governor's personal mouthpiece out of the chair.

The house is slated to be the first place where economy by the new administration will be effected. They must save money on their attaches this year. It is hinted that the governor himself is not using his influence in their selection either there or in the senate.

While it is hoped by the representatives that the California legislature's session will be short, the many newspaper men on the scene of battle expect it to last at least a month and some warm contests are expected, due to the political tangle presented by Governor Stephens' last minute appointments.

In fact, representatives of the various news services and political editors of the larger papers are here in numbers with the idea of getting some good copy unless Los Angeles will provide two or three more murders for Page One.

A symposium of editorial material noted in the last few days indicates there is no grief over the passing of the present highway commission and other officials, and the recent appointments to the commission of avowed enemies to public service corporations have embittered many of their stockholders against the Stephens' regime, which might have been better, or worse, just as you look at it.

Northern California faces a bountiful year, the fruitful fields having been thoroughly drenched by recent rains—and it is still wet. In fact, it is very wet in Sacramento in more ways than one.

This pioneer town of the state is going to keep the memory of the days of '49 fresh in the minds by assigning for a term of its citizens every three months to wear hirsute adornment known to the worlds as whiskers.

So perhaps it is whiskeritis and not whisky I hear so much about on the streets here.

Merced, quite a neat little city by the way, hosts a barber fast approaching his 80th birthday anniversary and after sixty years of shaving he is still wielding a razor with a firm hand and telling the younger generation what a wild and woolly time he had in Merced in 1872.

And after you hear about the golden days and how he came around the straits of Magellan in a sailing ship as a barber for the colonists, he gives you a real thrill by telling you that fifty years ago this winter he took a daily bath in the icy waters of Merced river in Yosemite valley.

Anyone who visits Yosemite will appreciate just how cold it is now, as it was then. Skiing and tobogganing are winter sports being enjoyed there now by those who can afford the delights of skidding around the country with only the income tax collector to bother them.

Residents of the San Joaquin Valley would pay a big price for a few quarts of Imperial Valley sunshine.

Three weeks of drear clouds and fog have followed heavy rains and they longingly look for Old Sol to show his face this New Year.

Some of them doubt that there is any more sun, but when the writer assured them he had seen it—and felt it—in the Imperial valley at Christmas time, they were inspired to belief that the clouds will roll by.

And if the clouds do go over the mountains as heavily laden as they are here on the Pacific coast now, the middle west is going to see the heaviest late winter snows and rain it has known in years, although it will take the weather man to verify this prediction.

In the meantime, Imperial can feel happy that it is basking in the sunshine.

Governor Appoints Cremin Upon Board

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—Governor W. D. Stephens today announced the appointment of James M. Cremin, retiring state printer, as a member of the state reclamation board for a term of four years. Cremin succeeds Grover C. Shannon of Tudor, Sutter county.

The governor also appointed George T. Hatfield, San Francisco attorney, as a member of the state veterans' welfare board to succeed Fred F. Berberdoll, time expired. Hatfield will serve four years.

CHURCH TOPIC IS CALLED 'ADRIPT'

Dr. Rasmus Says We Become Wrecked If We Cut Loose From God

A fine audience attended the services of the First Methodist Episcopal church last night to hear Dr. Rasmus' sermon on the subject "Adript." The text was Heb. 2:10. Among other things, Dr. Rasmus said:

"There will never be a century when no ship will sail the high seas. Never will it be, except he be a madman who will attempt to circumnavigate the ocean without an anchor, chart or compass. To lay these aside is to court inevitable disaster. Dull, indeed, is he, or he has read history to little profit, who does not know that race and national wreckage is the result of being adript from God."

"The difficulty with Europe has left the biggest word in human history out of her vocabulary, and that word is God."

"The cause of the wreckage of Germany is her espousal of a false philosophy which would bow God out of the back door of the universe. Carry this analogy over into human experience. Who is adript from eternal truth is in peril. It is an easy matter to unsettle one's mind concerning the historic beliefs of the world."

Is Rare Gift

"But to lay again the foundation and to systematize it is one of the rarest gifts. Every other kind of genius is well-nigh given a thousand times where this is given once. There may never be another Paul, yet there may be a hundred other Homers. There will probably never be another John Calvin, yet there may arise many more Shakespeares. There may never appear another John Wesley, while human history may produce a hundred Dantes. These had to do with great historic faiths, faiths that are not the growth of a night but produced by centuries of noble thinking. He who thinks that it is not dangerous to destroy these formulated beliefs of men is on the verge of an abyss the most perilous into which he can precipitate his soul."

"Drift not away from the greatest experience of spiritual truth that shall ever come to the hearts and minds of men. He who has anchored himself by faith in Christ as the world's only Savior is secure. Adript from Him and you are in peril, for time and for eternity. From the last great tragedy eternal of the soul I pray God you may be saved."

The next event of the club will be a social meeting Tuesday night, January 23, when each person attending will be asked to present a short stunt illustrating the kind of work she is engaged in.

Mrs. L. M. Mitchell, new hostess at the clubhouse, was informally welcomed at a New Year's day reception.

Even if the radio loses popularity, it was worth the price to keep the young folks home nights for a few months.

Glenn County May Secure Land Colony

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—The state veterans' welfare board is considering the advisability of locating the proposed land settlement colony for former service men near Hamilton City, Glenn county, it became known today.

The site under consideration is known as the Hamilton Sugar Beet tract and comprises 5,000 acres, bordering on the Sacramento river. The land is owned by the Sacramento Valley Sugar company.

When plans for establishing the veterans' colony were first announced, Robert E. Smith, secretary of the state board, indicated that the project would be undertaken in the San Joaquin valley.

LORD'S COMPANY MAKES US BETTER

Being With Christ Makes Us Christ-like, Asserts Dr. J. F. Winnard

The first communion service of the new year was observed yesterday morning at the Tropic Presbyterian church.

Dr. James F. Winnard preached from the text: "Lord, it is good for us to be here."

"Association begets assimilation," he declared. "Being with Christ makes us Christlike. We may be so little with Christ that we have but little of the Christ spirit."

"Christ does not always announce His program. To get the full benefit of His blessings we must be near as when Elijah was taken away and his mantle fell upon Elisha."

"It is good to have fellowship with Him. And it is good to have fellowship with the people of God. Nowhere in all the world will you find a better class of people than you will find gathered in the churches. True, they are not all perfect, either in the sight of God or man. But, if a man would always choose his associates from the household of faith, he would make few mistakes."

Bible Inspires Banyan

"Bunyan wrote that wonderful 'Pilgrim's Progress' not because he had access to a great library, but because he could consult with but one other book and that was the Bible. In that we see what association will do."

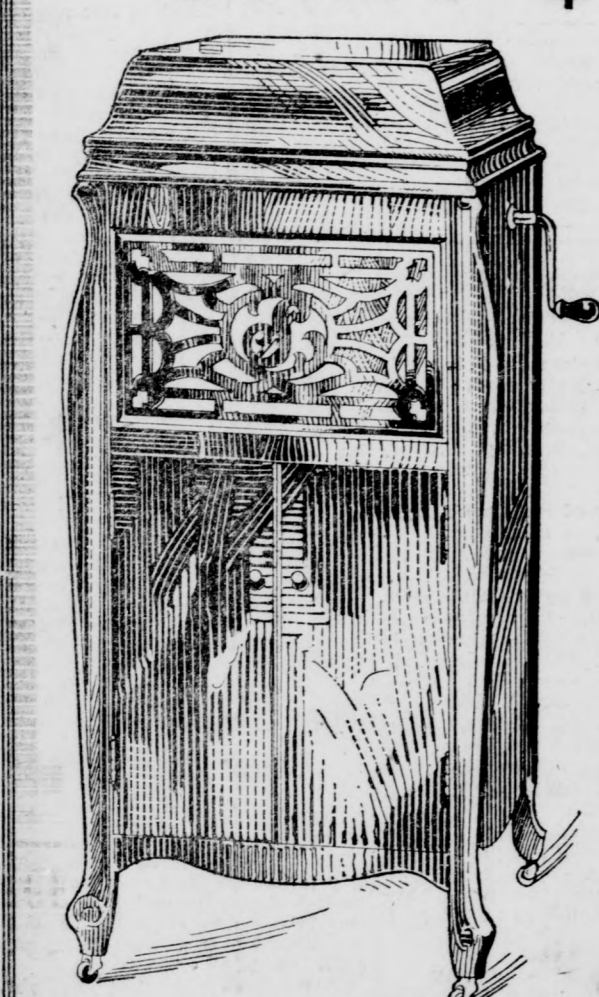

"Association with God makes us Godlike. True, there are many who are nature worshippers and who feel that they can worship God through nature better than they can through the spirit. But it is a fact that the more consistent the nature worshipper the farther he is from the true God. Just go to any of the original nature worshippers of India or Africa for proof of this statement."

"If we feel like Peter that it is good to be here what shall we build as a memorial to the occasion? Let me suggest three things: Go out to build a Christian character founded by the grace of God, the right thought, right words and right deeds. Let us build Christian homes. And let us build to His glory a Christian church."
