THINGS WORTH SEEING

John Drew in one of his greatest comedy successes, "My Wife," comes to delight the patrons of the Hollis Street this week, just as he did for a long period in New York City, and the same city where a run of five hundred times was recorded, sends "The Great Divide," with Margaret Anglin and Henry Miller at the head of the company to the Majestic. "Sunday," acted by Miss Ethel Barrymore a few years ago, a play of a Western mining camp, is the offering of the stock company at the Boston, while at the Grand Opera House, Martin's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," is the attraction. The ever-welcomed Thomas E. Shea is at the Globe in this repertory: Monday afternoon and evening, and Friday evening, "The Bells;" Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde;" Wednesday and Saturday afternoons and Wednesday evening, "A Soldier of the Cross." Remaining over are "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont; "The Round Up," at the Colonial, and "The Dairymaids," at the Park. May Irwin is one of the big features at Keith's vaudeville show, and the Orpheum Presents an excellent programme. The Palace, Lyceum, Columbia and Howard continue with the best quality of burlesque. Following out the policy of changing on Thursday evenings, the Castle Square this week offers "II Trovatore."

Ben Greet and his famous company of players begin a three weeks engagement at Jordan Hall, offering as follows: "As You Like It," Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and Thursday afternoon: "Everyman," Wednesday afternoon: "She Stoops to Conquer," Thursday and Saturday nights. They give a Wonder Play for the benefit of the Hampton Institute, Friday afternoon at the Castle

Square Theatre.

Are You Aware that the Very Best Vaudeville in the Entire World, all the Big European Acts, imported regardless of expense, all the American stars that remunerative vaudeville has lured from the legitimate stage, in fact everything worth seeing is being presented at the Orphenm at the Lowest Prices in the history of Amusement enterprise.

Special attention is called to the Bargain Matinees at this High Class house—only time on record when Good Reserved Seats in the handsomest balcony in Boston could be had for 15c. Other seats at 25c.. A few at 50c, in the Orchestra. 50c, Orch, is the popular Evening price. Best Seats 75c. 500 good Seats at 25c. All Reserved. Elevators to the balconies running all the time. No walking. Courteous uniformed attendants.

The Orpheum is the great popular resort for Shoppers. It gives the ladies and children the most enjoyable afternoon of the week. More than 26,000 People Weekly are enjoying these big Orpheum Shows. Thousands have the same seats reserved for them every week. Why not set aside an afternoon or evening each week and see the best of everything at these low prices? Your name on the books, the seat is yours. When you cannot come, just notify the box office.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

A department that should be of particular interest to dressmakers and tailors has been opened at the L. P. Hollander & Co.'s store on Boylston Street. This department contains a full line of small wares, notions and dressmaking supplies.

Miss M. F. Fisk, now at 322 Boylston St., opp. Arlington St., has a most attractive Glove and Shirt Waist Shop, showing all the desired lengths and colors in Glace Kid, Chamois, Silk, and Suede Lisle, and in Shirt Waists both Lingerie and Tailored, the styles and shapes are fashionable and becoming, and at the present time a great opportunity is offered the public in a large reduction on all Waists and Gloves from the regular price.

Millar & Weltch, the opticians at 38 West Street, are offering a choice line of Opera Glasses, Window Thermometers, Reading Glasses and other optical goods. Their prices are reasonable and their goods first class.

They are making some sharp reductions in the prices of underwear, hosicry, bath gowns, fancy shirts and street gloves at Dyer's, No. 34 Boylston Street, which ought to interest economical buyers.

The establishment of A. N. Cook & Co., 161 Tremont Street, is renowned for perfection of taste and refinement daily exemplified in beautiful creations of all kinds of Fur at Moderate Prices.

Charles E. Lauriat Company have inaugurated their annual clearance sale of standard books by filling two large counters in their famous "Book Parlor" in the rear balcony, with some sets of the works of the great American, English and French authors, in fine bindings, upon which they have cut the prices, making the reduced prices in plain figures.

The Russian Importing Company, 429 Boylston Street, displays a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

Doll & Richards, whose art galleries are now located at 2 Park St., will shortly move to their new building, 71 Newbury St., which is rapidly approaching completion. Due notice will be given of the change.

In purchasing furs it is necessary to have absolute confidence in the house you purchase from. The reputation of Hall & Hancock Co., 420 Washington St., inspires just this confidence when making your selections from their very complete stock of reliable furs.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

Macullar Parker Company are having their annual mark down sale of winter clothing in the Men's and Boys' departments as well as in Furnishing Goods.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

There is a revival of William Gillette's familiar and popular play, "Clarice," this week at the Boston, and a new extravaganza, fresh from New York and entitled, "The Bad Boy and His Teddy Bears," comes to the Globe. "Chinatown Charlie," is again at the Grand Opera House with its many sensational features which are so pleasing to the patrons of this up town house. It is a week of continued plays, they being as follows: John Drew in "My Wife," at the Hollis Street; "The Dairymaids," at the Park; "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont; Margaret Anglin and Henry Miller in "The Great Divide," at the Majestic; and the "Round Up," at the Colonial. "The Chameleon Comedian," is a feature of the vaudeville at Keith's, and Walter Kelley, the Southern humorist, and Winsor McCay, the admirable cartoonist, are of the good things offered in the big Orpheum show. The Palace, Howard, Lyceum and Columbia keep to the front with live burlesque entertainment. On Thursday the Castle Square enters upon a week of the grand double bill, "Cavalleria Rusticana," and "Pinafore." For their second week. Ben Greet and his company at Jordan Hall offer this repertory, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons and Friday night, "The Merchant of Venice;" Wednesday afternoon, "Everyman," and Thursday night, "Masks and Faces." These same players appear at the Castle Square Monday afternoon Institute.

Are You Aware that the Very Best Vaudeville in the Entire World, all the Big European Acts, imported regardless of expense, all the American stars that remunerative vaudeville has lured from the legitimate stage, in fact everything worth seeing is being presented at the Orpheum at the Lowest Prices in the history of Amusement enterprise.

Special attention is called to the Bargain Matinees at this High Class house—only time on record when Good Reserved Seats in the handsomest balcony in Boston could be had for 15c. Other seats at 25c.. A few at 50c. in the Orchestra. 50c. Orch. is the popular Evening price. Best Seats 75c. 500 good Seats at 25c. All Reserved. Elevators to the balconies running all the time. No walking. Courteous uniformed attendants.

The Orpheum is the great popular resort for Shoppers. It gives the ladies and children the most enjoyable afternoon of the week. More than 26,000 People Weekly are enjoying these big Orpheum Shows. Thousands have the same seats reserved for them every week. Why not set aside an afternoon or evening each week and see the best of everything at these low prices? Your name on the books, the seat is yours. When you cannot come, just notify the box office.

SHOPPING NEWS

Miss M. F. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston Street, opposite Arlington Street, is showing a Ladies' pure linen hand embroidered Tailored Waist at $5.00 and upwards. These Waists have been made to order for Miss Fisk's trade and fit perfect.

A department that should be of particular interest to dressmakers and tailors has been opened at the L. P. Hollander & Co.'s store on Boylston Street. This department contains a full line of small wares, notions and dressmaking supplies.

Millar & Weltch, the opticians at 38 West Street, are offering a choice line of Opera Glasses, Window Thermometers, Reading Glasses and other optical goods. Their prices are reasonable and their goods first class.

They are making some sharp reductions in the prices of underwear, hosiery, bath gowns, fancy shirts and street gloves at Dyer's, No. 34 Boylston Street, which ought to interest economical buyers.

The establishment of A. N. Cook & Co., 161 Tremont Street, is renowned for perfection of taste and refinement daily exemplified in beautiful creations of all kinds of Fur at Moderate Prices.

The Russian Importing Company, 429 Boylston Street, displays a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

Doll & Richards, whose art galleries are now located at 2 Park St., will shortly move to their new building, 71 Newbury St., which is rapidly approaching completion. Due notice will be given of the change.

In purchasing furs it is necessary to have absolute confidence in the house you purchase from. The reputation of Hall & Hancock Co., 420 Washington St., inspires just this confidence when making your selections from their very complete stock of reliable furs.

For correct styles in Men's Furnishings one naturally goes to Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston Street. Their Ladies' Department is becoming noted for a choice variety of hand embroideries in waists and gowns.

Macullar Parker Company are having their annual mark down sale of winter clothing in the Men's and Boys' departments as well as in Furnishing Goods.

Charles E. Lauriat Company take their annual stock inventory on Jan. 31st each year and the month of February is the season when Boston book lovers get the benefit of the mark down sale that follows. Their attractive store, opposite Franklin St., will be a good place in which to spend an odd half hour occasionally during this month, as something new is sure to be seen at each visit.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

The Bank Officers' Association this week presents "The Boy and the Girl," at the Hollis Street, and Elsie Janis, after a long run in New York City, brings the new Anglo-American nusical play, "The Hoyden," to the Park. Miss Julia Marlowe at the Majestic plays this repertoire: "Gloria," Monday, Tuesday and Friday evenings; "When Knighthood was in Flower," Wednesday afternoon and Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings, and "Romeo and Juliet," Saturday afternoon. Edward Abeles and the original New York cast present the comedy, "Brewster's Millions," at the Colonial, while "Wine, Woman and Song," returns to the Globe with the initial company headed by Bonita. "Rosedale," the war show, claims the effort of the excellent stock company at the Boston, and "From Sing Sing to Liberty," is the offering at the Grand Opera House. There is but one continuance throughout the week and that is "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont. Both Keith's and the Orpheum have big vaudeville features. For its final week of opera, beginning Thursday, the Castle Square presents "The Bohemian Girl," it taking the place of "Cavalleria Rusticana," and "Pinafore." Some of the best burlesque companies are at the Columbia, Lyceum, Palace and Howard. This is the repertory being: "She Stoops to Conquer," Monday night; "As You Like It," Tuesday afternoon; "Everyman," Wednesday afternoon; "Twelfth Night," Wednesday night: "Macbeth," Thursday afternoon, Friday night and Saturday afternoon. Additional wonder plays are given by Ben Greet and His Company at the Castle Square Theatre, Friday afternoon and Saturday inforning.

Symphony Hall, corner of Massachusetts and Huntington Avenues, was built in 1899 and 1900. The main entrance on Huntington Avenue has an Ionic portico with eight stone pillars, and the walls of the building are of stone and brick. The main hall rises higher than the rest of the building, with a pediment at the top. At either corner of the front section is a pavilion which runs into a wing extending the length of the building. Overlooking these wings in the main hall are clere windows. On the Massachusetts Avenue side is a vestibule which makes a straight line through and across the hall interior. The building has a frontage of one hundred and fifty feet on Huntington Avenue. The total seating capacity of the hall is 2,630, two hundred and thirty-three more than the old Music Hall. The floor capacity is 1,511, the first balcony six hundred and eight and second balcony five hundred and eleven. The hall has an interior length of one hundred and forty feet and a width of seventy-five feet. The main ticket office is on the Massachusetts Avenue side. The building cost about $500,000.

SHOPPING NEWS

Doll & Richards, Inc., of 2 Park St., have moved their fine art rooms and galleries to 71 Newbury St. (between Berkeley and Clarendon Streets). The firm will occupy an entire building for their various print and exhibition rooms, galleries, etc. This firm, one of the oldest in Boston, dates back to 1839, from that date to 1871, they were on Cornhill and Summer Streets; from 1871 to 1878 on Tremont Street, and from 1878 to the present time on Park Street.

Blanchard, King & Co., are exhibiting their spring importation of Scotch Shirtings of exclusive designs, and are booking many orders for men's shirts and ladies' shirt waists, at 250 Boylston Street.

Charles E. Lauriat Co. have just completed their annual stock inventory, and are now holding the inventory sale that always follows it. This sale is looked forward to by Boston book-lovers as an opportunity to secure bargains such as can be had at no other season of the year. This year will emphasize this rule, as the stock offered was never before as large or so varied. Their handsome store opposite the head of Franklin Street, will be a busy spot this month.

Miss M. F. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston Street, opposite Arlington Street, is showing a Ladies' pure linen hand embroidered Tailored Waist at $5.00 and upwards. These Waists have been made to order for Miss Fisk's trade and fit perfect.

A department that should be of particular interest to dressmakers and tailors has been opened at the L. P. Hollander & Co.'s store on Boylston Street. This department contains a full line of small wares, notions and dressmaking supplies.

J. T. Dyer, the Haberdasher, is showing a special line of silk liste hosiery, "Notaseme," which sells for $1.38 a box of ½ dozen, 25c. single pair. This will be an innovation to the man who has never worn seamless hosiery.

The establishment of A. N. Cook & Co., 161 Tremont Street, is renowned for perfection of taste and refinement daily exemplified in beautiful creations of all kinds of Fur at Moderate Prices.

The Russian Importing Company, 429 Boylston Street, displays a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

It would require a bright and ready pen to describe the unique pre-eminence of the London Harness Company's store, 176 Devonshire Street, among the novelty shops of this country or Europe. Leather goods and traveling requisites from England, artistic novelties in brass, bronze and silver from Vienna and Paris, make a most interesting and fascinating display and you are never importuned to buy.

In purchasing furs it is necessary to have absolute confidence in the house you purchase from. The reputation of Hall & Hancock Co., 420 Washington St., inspires just this confidence when making your selections from their very complete stock of reliable furs.

Stop that Pain

No matter what pains or aches you have, that are caused by congestion, THE HOME VIBRATOR will relieve them in one minute, no drugs, no electricity. Simply circulation by Vibrator.

Vibration makes the blood young

Your own doctor will recommend it

When you hurt yourself you instinctively rub the spot. When your headaches you rub your temples. Why? Because Vibration is Nature's own remedy and rubbing is Nature's crude way of creating Vibration and starting the blood to going. Disease is only another name for congestion. Where there is disease or pain there you will find the blood congested and stagnant. There can be no pain or disease where the red blood flows in a rich and steady stream. Good circulation means good health. Congested circulation means disease and death.

Deafness, Head Noises, Ringing in the Ears, in most cases are caused by the thickening of the inner membrane through catarrh or colds. To cure this vibration is the only thing, as it is the only way to reach the inner ear drum and loosen up the hard wax or foreign matter, so sound may penetrate to the drum.

Stomach Trouble, Indigestion, Constipation, etc. are caused by the food not properly digesting; it lacks necessary saliva and gastric juices, thus creating congestion in the stomach, forming gases, causing pains, bad breath, etc.

Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Gout, etc. are caused by uric acid in the blood in the form of urate of soda. This acid, through poor circulation at some particular part, gets stopped on its way through the system, and congregating, causes pain.

Directions for use go with each Vibrator.

To introduce our Home Vibrator into every home in this and foreign countries we have made the price $1.00.

We prepay all charges.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

In their new and novel musical success "The Rogers Brothers in Panama" begin a limited engagement this week at the Hollis Street, and for the final week of Julia Marlowe at the Majestic she presents this repertoire: Monday night and Wednesday afternoon, "Romeo and Juliet:" Tuesday night, "Gloria:" Wednesday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon, "When Knighthood Was In Flower;" and Thursday and Friday nights, "As You Like It." The stock company at the Boston plays "The Boys of Company B," and the offering at the Grand Opera House is, "The Card King of the Coast." Continuances are "Wine, Woman and Song," at the Globe; "The Man of the Hour" at the Tremont; "Brewster's Millions" at the Colonial, and Elsie Janis in "The Hoyden," at the Park. Vesta Victoria is a feature of the vaudeville at Keith's, and an excellent bill is offered at the Orphenm. Burlesque of merit shows at the Columbia, Lyceum, Howard and Palace. On Thursday the Castle Square changes from opera to drama, Charles Miller and his stock company taking charge.

The Old Court House, Court Square, was built, in 1833-36, on the Street was the first building used for the library, and in 1858 a large site of the prison where Capt. Kidd, the pirate, was confined in 1690, before he was sent to London and executed. In 1851 and 1854 the Sims and Burns riots occurred. Phillips, Higginson, Parker and other anti-slavery leaders with their sympathizers, tried to rescue the negroes

Symphony Hall, corner of Massachusetts and Huntington Avenues, was built in 1899 and 1900. The main entrance on Huntington Avenue has an Ionic portico with eight stone pillars, and the walls of the building are of stone and brick. The main hall rises higher than the rest of the building, with a pediment at the top. At either corner of the front section is a pavilion which runs into a wing extending the length of the building. Overlooking these wings in the main hall are clere windows. On the Massachusetts Avenue side is a vestibule which makes a straight line through and across the hall interior. The building has a frontage of one hundred and fifty feet on Huntington Avenue. The total seating capacity of the hall is 2,630, two hundred and thirty-three more than the old Music Hall. The floor capacity is 1,511, the first balcony six hundred and eight and second balcony five hundred and eleven. The hall has an interior length of one hundred and forty feet and a width of seventy-five feet. The main ticket office is on the Massachusetts Avenue side. The building cost about $500,000.

SHOPPING NEWS

The great variety of mink neckwear and muffs shown at Hall & Hancock Co., 420 Washington Street, would please the most exacting. The established reputation of the house is a guarantee of quality.

J. T. Dyer, the Haberdasher, is showing a special line of silk lisle hosiery, "Notaseme," which sells for $1.38 a box of ½ dozen, 25c. single pair. This will be an innovation to the man who has never worn seamless hosiery.

The Russian Importing Company, 429 Boylston Street, displays a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

It would require a bright and ready pen to describe the unique pre-eminence of the London Harness Company's store, 176 Devonshire Street, among the novelty shops of this country or Europe. Leather goods and traveling requisites from England, artistic novelties in brass, bronze and silver from Vienna and Paris, make a most interesting and fascinating display and you are never importuned to buy.

Women may depend upon the absolute genuineness of the furs found at A. N. Cook & Co.'s, 161 Tremont St. They do not keep Furs of inferior quality. They carry a full line of all the Best Furs and latest modes at extraordinary prices consistent with high class goods.

Blanchard, King & Co., 250 Boylston St., are displaying many new creations in Ladies' Neckwear, including embroidered linen collars and stocks and fancy bows.

Doll & Richards, Inc., of 2 Park St., have moved their fine art rooms and galleries to 71 Newbury St. (between Berkeley and Clarendon Streets). The firm will occupy an entire building for their various print and exhibition rooms, galleries, etc. This firm, one of the oldest in Boston, dates back to 1839, from that date to 1871, they were on Cornhill and Sommer Streets; from 1871 to 1878 on Tremont Street, and from 1878 to the present time on Park Street.

Charles E. Lauriat Co. have just completed their annual stock inventory, and are not holding the inventory sale that always follows it. This sale is looked forward to by Boston book-lovers as an opportunity to secure bargains such as can be had at no other season of the year. This year will emphasize this rule, as the stock offered was never before as large or so varied. Their handsome store opposite the head of Franklin Street, will be a busy spot this month.

Miss M. F. Fisk, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston Street, opposite Arlington Street, is showing a Ladies' pure linen hand embroidered Tailored Waist at $5.00 and upwards. These Waists have been made to order for Miss Fisk's trade and fit perfect.

Stop that Pain

No matter what pains or aches you have, that are caused by congestion, THE HOME VIBRATOR will relieve them in one minute, no drugs, no electricity. Simply circulation by Vibrator.

Vibration makes the blood young

Your own Doctor will recommend it

When you hurt yourself you instinctively rub the spot. When your headaches you rub your temples. Why? Because Vibration is Nature's own remedy and rubbing is Nature's crude way of creating Vibration and starting the blood to going. Disease is only another name for congestion. Where that is disease or pain there you will find the blood congested and stagnant. There can be no pain or disease where the red blood flows in a rich and step by stream. Good circulation means good health. Congested circulation means disease and death.

Deafness, Head Noises, Ringing in the Ears, in most cases are caused by the thickening of the inner membrane through catarth or colds. To cure this vibration is the only thing, as it is the only way to reach the inner ear drum and loosen up the hard wax or foreign matter, so sound may penetrate to the drum.

Stomach Trouble, Indigestion, Constipation, etc. are caused by the food not properly digesting; it lacks necessary saliva and gastric juices, thus creating congestion in the stomach, forming gases, causing pains, bad breath, etc.

Rheumalism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Goul, etc. are caused by uric acid in the blood in the form of urate of soda. This acid, through poor circulation at some particular part, gets stopped on its way through the system, and congregating, causes pain.

Directions for use go with each Vibrator.

To introduce our Home Vibrator into every home in this and foreign countries we have made the price $1.00.

We prepay all charges.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

For this week the Majestic presents Eddie Foy in the popular musical play, "The Orchid," and to the Grand Opera House comes the Russell Brothers, fun makers, in a new musical melodrama entitled, "A Hired Girl's Millions." Cressy and Dayne bring "The Village Lawyer," full of American humor, to the Globe, and "The Village Postmaster," is the offering at the Boston by the big stock company. The attractions remaining over are: "Brewster's Millions," at the Colonial: Elsie Jauis in "The Hoyden," at the Park; "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremout; "The Rogers Brothers in Panama," at the Hollis Street and "The Cowboy and the Lady," at the Castle Square. Nat Wills is on the vaudeville programme at Keith's and "The Futurity Winner," a racing play, is a part of the similar class of entertainment at the Orpheum. Burlesque of merit is seen at the Columbia, Palace, Howard and Lyceum. On Monday afternoon there is a special matinee at the Castle Square, Howell Hansel playing in "The Senator."

The Old Court House, Court Square, was built in 1833-36, on the Street was the first building used for the library, and in 1858 a large site of the prison where Capt. Kidd, the pirate, was confined in 1690, before he was sent to London and executed. In 1851 and 1854 the Sims and Burns riots occurred. Phillips, Higginson, Parker and other anti-slavery leaders with their sympathizers, tried to rescue the negroes

Symphony Hall, corner of Massachusetts and Huntington Avenues, was built in 1899 and 1900. The main entrance on Huntington Avenue has an Ionic portico with eight stone pillars, and the walls of the building are of stone and brick. The main hall rises higher than the rest of the building, with a pediment at the top. At either corner of the front section is a pavilion which runs into a wing extending the length of the building. Overlooking these wings in the main hall are clere windows. On the Massachusetts Avenue side is a vestibule which makes a straight line through and across the hall interior. The building has a frontage of one hundred and fifty feet on Huntington Avenue. The total seating capacity of the hall is 2,630, two hundred and thirty-three more than the old Music Hall. The floor capacity is 1,511, the first balcony six hundred and eight and second balcony five hundred and eleven. The hall has an interior length of one hundred and forty feet and a width of seventy-five feet. The main ticket office is on the Massachusetts Avenue side. The building cost about $500,000.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

The display of Ladies' Embroidered Neckwear in Collars, Stocks, Jabots, and Frills in both colors and white at Miss M. F. Fisk's, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., opposite Arlington St., with the smart style of Gloves which this firm always shows, makes this shop a very interesting one to visit.

One of the speciment bargains being offered during the inventory sale of choice books now going on at Charles E. Lauriat Co.'s, is mentioned in our advertising columns this week (page 2) and is simply indicative of the class of books being offered during the sale and of the sort of prices that prevail. A half hour spent in their handsome store opposite the head of Franklin St. would be a treat to any lover of books.

The Russian Importing Company, 429 Boylston Street, displays a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

It would require a bright and ready pen to describe the unique pre-eminence of the London Harness Company's store, 176 Devonshire Street, among the novelty shops of this country or Europe. Leather goods and traveling requisites from England, artistic novelties in brass, bronze and silver from Vienna and Paris, make a most interesting and fascinating display and you are never importuned to buy.

Women may depend upon the absolute genuineness of the furs found at A. N. Cook & Co.'s, 161 Tremont St. They do not keep Furs of inferior quality. They carry a full line of all the Best Furs and latest modes at extraordinary prices consistent with high class goods.

Blanchard, King & Co., 250 Boylston St., are displaying many new creations in Ladies' Neckwear, including embroidered linen collars and stocks and fancy bows.

Doll & Richards, Inc., of 2 Park St., have moved their fine art rooms and galleries to 71 Newbury St. (between Berkeley and Clarendon Streets). The firm will occupy an entire building for their various print and exhibition rooms, galleries, etc. This firm, one of the oldest in Boston, dates back to 1839, from that date to 1871, they were on Cornhill and Summer Streets: from 1871 to 1878 on Tremont Street, and from 1878 to the present time on Park Street.

There are many inferior grades of furs on the market which look well for a short time, but which are not durable and give no service. In the stock of the Hall & Hancock Co., 420 Washington St., you will find a complete assortment of High Grade Furs only, made of choicest skins, and showing the highest degree of perfection in artistic workmanship.

There is always something doing at Dycr's Haberdashery. He is now showing an elegant line of Custom Shirting for Spring Wear, also a handsome line of narrow 4 in hands to be worn with the close fitting collar which is very popular at the present time.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

For the first time here, one of the well-liked musical plays of the present season in New York City, "The Gay White Way," with Jefferson de Angelis, begins an engagement at the Majestic, and another musical show, "The Vanderbilt Cup," that amused Boston the-atre-goers last season is again at the Globe. The pc pular rural play, 'The Village Postmaster," is presented by the big stock company at the Boston, and "Tony, the Bootblack," melodrama and a goodly amount of humor, is the offering at the Grand Opera House. At the Castle Square the Charles Miller Stock Company is seen in "The Climbers," a play familiar to this city and a great favorite. Remaining over are: "Brewster's Millions," at the Colonial; "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont; Elsie Janis in "The Hoyden,' at the Park, and "The Rogers Brothers in Panama," at the Hollis Street. The return of Nance O'Neil to Keith's is made one of the big features of an excellent vaudeville bill, and at the Orpheum, Robert Hilliard in his play, "As a Man Sows," is a part of the varied programme. Lively burlesque amuses the audiences at the Lyceum, the Howard, the Columbia and the Palace.

Masonic Temple, corner of Tremont and Boylston Streets; built 1898-99 on the site of the Masonic Temple, dedicated 1867 and destroyed by fire 1895, occupying the site of a Masonic building destroyed by fire in 1864. The new building has a massive stone front, steel frame and is of fireproof construction. The building contains three arge halls, Corinthian, Egyptian and Gothic, with numerous rooms descreted to the use of the Masonic Ersternity.

roted to the use of the Masonic Fraternity.

Liberty Tree*, planted in 1646 and famous from 1766 to 1775, stood on the site of the building on the south corner of Washington and Essex Streets. Here the "Sons of Liberty" rallied, but the British troops destroyed the tree in 1775. On the front of the building is a large sandstone block, with representation of the tree and an inscription.

Young Men's Christian Union, 18 Boylston Street. Founded in 1851. Has a large handsome building of stone. Has about 5,000 members. Has a fine library, reading room, gymnasium and several fine nalls.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boylston Street near Clarendon Street, incorporated 1861. Two large buildings are built upon land given by the state, partly endowed by the state, and it is now the greatest scientific institute in America, if not in the world. More than 1,600 students, from every state in the Union, and students from foreign countries, attend.

SHOPPING NEWS

Hats that are made with the idea in view that they shall look as well at the end of the season, barring accidents, as they do at the beginning are unusual. People who wear them will tell you they were bought at the Hall & Hancock Co., 420 Washington Street.

In addition to many exclusive novelties in shirts at Dyer's, the Boylston Street Haberdasher, attention is asked to a line of very fine Scotch Madras Cloths, made expressly for them.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, make a special feature in their Boys' Clothing Department of garments for little boys. Mothers who accompany their boys are invited to visit the Ladies' Tailoring Parlor adjoining the Boys' Department.

The display of Ladies' Embroidered Neckwear in Collars, Stocks, Jabots, and Frills in both colors and white at Miss M. F. Fisk's, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., opposite Arlington St., with the smart style of Gloves which this firm always shows, makes this shop a very interesting one to visit.

One of the speciment bargains being offered during the inventory sale of choice books now going on at Charles E. Lauriat Co.'s, is mentioned in our advertising columns this week (page 2) and is simply indicative of the class of books being offered during the sale and of the sort of prices that prevail. A half hour spent in their handsome store opposite the head of Franklin St. would be a treat to any lover of books.

The Russian Importing Company, 429 Boylston Street, displays a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

It would require a bright and ready pen to describe the unique pre-eminence of the London Harness Company's store, 176 Devonshire Street, among the novelty shops of this country or Europe. Leather goods and traveling requisites from England, artistic novelties in brass, bronze and silver from Vienna and Paris, make a most interesting and fascinating display and you are never importuned to buy.

Women may depend upon the absolute genuineness of the furs found at A. N. Cook & Co.'s, 161 Tremont St. They do not keep Furs of inferior quality. They carry a full line of all the Best Furs and latest modes at extraordinary prices consistent with high class goods.

Blanchard, King & Co., 250 Boylston St., are displaying many new creations in Ladies' Neckwear, including embroidered linen collars and stocks and fancy bows.

In purchasing furs it is necessary to have absolute confidence in the house you purchase from. The reputation of Hall & Hancock Co., 420 Washington St., inspires just this confidence when making your selections from their very complete stock of reliable furs.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Olga Nethersole comes to the Colonial this week with this repertory: "The Awakening," Monday and Tuesday nights and Wednesday matinee, first times in Boston: "Sapho," Wednesday and Saturday nights; "Carmen," Thursday night; and "Adrienne Lecouvreur," Friday night and Saturday matinee. At the Globe is Neil Burgess in the popular rural drama, "The County Fair," and "Broadway After Dark" claims the attention of the patrons of the Grand Opera House. The Castle Square stock company plays "A Temperance Town," known favorably to many Bostonians. Several continuances are: "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont; "The Village Postmaster," at the Boston; "The Rogers Brothers in Panama," at the Hollis Street; Elsie Janis in "The Hoyden," at the Park; and "The Gay White Way," at the Majestic. Nat N. Wills is a feature of the vaudeville programme at Keith's, and George Auger in "Jack the Giant-Killer," is a part of the varied show at the Orpheum. Breezy burlesque is presented at the Howard, Lyceum, Palace and the Columbia.

Masonic Temple, corner of Tremont and Boylston Streets; built 1898-99 on the site of the Masonic Temple, dedicated 1867 and destroyed by fire 1895, occupying the site of a Masonic building destroyed by fire in 1864. The new building has a massive stone front, steel frame and is of fireproof construction. The building contains three large halls, Corinthian, Egyptian and Gothic, with numerous rooms devoted to the use of the Masonic Fraternity.

Liberty Tree, planted in 1646 and famous from 1766 to 1775, stood on the site of the building on the south corner of Washington and Essex Streets. Here the "Sons of Liberty" rallied, but the British troops destroyed the tree in 1775. On the front of the building is a large sandstone block, with representation of the tree and an inscription.

Young Men's Christian Union, 18 Boylston Street. Founded in 1851. Has a large handsome building of stone. Has about 5,000 members. Has a fine library, reading room, gymnasium and several fine halls.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boylston Street near Clarendon Street, incorporated 1861. Two large buildings are built upon land given by the state, partly endowed by the state, and it is now the greatest scientific institute in America, if not in the world. More than 1,600 students, from every state in the Union, and students from foreign countries, attend.

SHOPPING NEWS

Charles E. Lauriat Co. are making an announcement of more than ordinary interest to book-lovers of greater Boston. Their stock inventory, just completed, has shown that, owing to unusually heavy purchases last summer and business conditions in the early fall, their stock, while unusually good, is about $40,000 worth larger than they are accustomed to carry at this season of the year. The decision was quickly reached to unload this promptly, at prices necessary to do it and give their patrons the benefit of their loss. No sale like this has been known in Boston since their famous "removal sale" two years ago.

Hats that are made with the idea in view that they shall look as well at the end of the season, barring accidents, as they do at the beginning are unusual. People who wear them will tell you they were bought at the Hall & Hancock Co., 420 Washington Street.

In addition to many exclusive novelties in shirts at Dyer's, the Boylston Street Haberdasher, attention is asked to a line of very fine Scotch Madras Cloths, made expressly for them.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, make a special feature in their Boys' Clothing Department of garments for little boys. Mothers who accompany their boys are invited to visit the Ladies' Tailoring Parlor adjoining the Boys' Department.

The display of Ladies' Embroidered Neckwear in Collars, Stocks, Jabots, and Frills in both colors and white at $Miss\ M$. F. Fisk's, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., opposite Arlington St., with the smart style of Gloves which this firm always shows, makes this shop a very interesting one to visit.

The Russian Importing Company, 429 Boylston Street, displays a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

It would require a bright and ready pen to describe the unique pre-eminence of the London Harness Company's store, 176 Devonshire Street, among the novelty shops of this country or Europe. Leather goods and traveling requisites from England, artistic novelties in brass, bronze and silver from Vienna and Paris, make a most interesting and fascinating display and you are never importuned to buy.

Women may depend upon the absolute genuineness of the furs found at A. N. Cook & Co.'s, 161 Tremont St. They do not keep Furs of inferior quality. They carry a full line of all the Best Furs and latest modes at extraordinary prices consistent with high class goods.

Blanchard, King & Co., 250 Boylston St., are displaying many new creations in Ladies' Neckwear, including embroidered linen collars and stocks and fancy bows.

In purchasing furs it is necessary to have absolute confidence in the house you purchase from. The reputation of Hall & Hancock Co., 420 Washington St., inspires just this confidence when making your selections from their very complete stock of reliable furs.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Maude Adams in her new poetic drama, "The Jesters," comes to the Hollis Street this week, and Olga Nethersole for her second and final week at the Colonial plays this repertory: "The Enigma," by M. Hervieu, and "I Pagliacci," Monday and Tuesday evenings, "Camille," Wednesday matinee and Saturday night; "Sapho," Wednesday night and Saturday matinee; "Magda," Thursday night, and "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," Friday night. Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," a humorous comedy, after a long run in New York City, is at the Park. "The Flower of the Ranch," plays at the Globe, and "The Great Express Robbery," is the offering at the Grand Opera House. It being the week of St. Patrick's Day, "Arrah na Pogue," is the attraction at the Boston, and "The Shaughraum," at the Castle Square, at which houses excellent stock companies are maintained. Continuances are "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont and "The Gay White Way," at the Majestic. Jessie Millward is well liked in vaudeville at Keith's, and William Courtleigh pleases the large audiences at the Orpheum. There is burlesque of merit at the Lyceum, Howard, Columbia and Palace.

Boston University, Somerset near Beacon Street, founded 1869. The departments are: a College of Liberal Arts, Somerset Street; College of Music, College of Agriculture, Amherst, Mass.; School of Theology, Mt. Vernon Street; School of Law, Ashburton Place; School of Medicine, East Concord Street; School of all Sciences, Somerset Street.

New England Historical Genealogical Society, 18 Somerset Street. Founded 1844. Has a library of 25,000 volumes, 100,000 pamphlets, portraits, prints and relies; about 1,000 members.

Boston Athenaeum, 10½ Beacon Street. A large massive building of sandstone, erected in 1847-49 by a private literary society founded in 1805. The library contains about 200,000 volumes in history, biography and a high class of literature. A large number of works of trt, statuary, paintings and busts adorn the halls. In the trustees' coon are many rare books and Gen. Washington's library bought in

Massachusetts General Hospital established 1799 on McLean Street. The granite building was designed by Bulfinch. It is the oldest but one of the hospitals in the country and one of the best organized in the world, with a staff of the most eminent physicians and surgeons. Dr. W. T. G. Morton's discovery of the use of ether in surgery was first introduced to the world at this hospital, the first operation being performed by Dr. John C. Warren, assisted by Dr. Morton.

SHOPPING NEWS

R. H. White Co. will hold a men's clothes exhibit for the week of March 23 to 28, inclusive, at which the public may see for themselves how ready-to-wear clothing is made, with exhibits of the latest models of men's new spring suits and various parts used in the manufacture of these identical suits. For example, there will be a pen of live lambs, illustrating the raw wool. In fact, every detail from the lamb to the wearer, will be demonstrated at this exhibit. They will also show over 160 exclusive models of men's new spring and summer suits, over 500 different imported and domestic fabrics and a number of half finished suits made up from these same cloths. They will also exhibit men's soft and stiff hats, showing the process of manufacture, including many unique and interesting specimens of hats worn in different countries. One of these hats is a Mexican sombrero worth $150.00. The exhibit is the first of its kind in New England, and one of the first in the United States. Admission free. The exhibit will occupy practically the entire men's clothing department, 2nd floor, South Annex. From March 23 to March 28, inclusive.

Anyone suffering from a headache or pain of any kind, should call at the office of The Lloyd Co., Room 301, in the Colonial Building, 100 Boylston Street, and allow their demonstrator to show how quickly the ache or pain can be relieved by vibration. There is no charge for this service, and you will be shown the largest line of electric and mechanical vibrators in this city.

Visitors passing through Boston and in want of something made of leather should not fail to visit the London Harness Company, in the John Hancock Building, 176 Devonshire Street. This Company is one of the best known in Boston for traveling bags, trunks, automobile supplies, and every requisite for the traveller.

The establishment of A. N. Cook & Co., 161 Tremont Street, is renowned for perfection of taste and refinement daily exemplified in beautiful creations of all kinds of Fur at Moderate Prices.

Hats that are made with the idea in view that they shall look as well at the end of the season, barring accidents, as they do at the beginning are unusual. People who wear them will tell you they were bought at the Hall & Hancock Co., 420 Washington Street.

The display of Ladies' Embroidered Neckwear in Collars, Stocks,

Jabots, and Frills in both colors and white at Miss M. F. Fisk's, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., opposite Arlington St., with the smart style of Gloves which this firm always shows, makes this shop a very interesting one to visit.

The Russian Importing Company, 429 Boylston Street, displays a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns.

are always welcome.

Charles E. Lauriat Co. are making an announcement of more than ordinary interest to book-lovers of greater Boston. Their stock inventory, just completed, has shown that, owing to unusually heavy purchases last summer and business conditions in the early fall, their stock, while unusually good, is about $40,000 worth larger than they are accustomed to carry at this season of the year. The decision was quickly reached to unload this promptly, at prices necessary to do it and give their patrons the benefit of their loss. No sale like this has been known in Boston since their famous "removal sale" two years

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Ethel Barrymore is at the Colonial this week in a new light comedy entitled "Her Sister," a play which was favorably received in New York this season. The Globe offers magic and illusion, with Kellar and Thurston as the magicians, and a new Western play, "The Girl of Eagle Ranch," comes to the Grand Opera House. That stirring drama, "The Three Musketeers," is played by the stock company at the Castle Square, while "The Sign of the Cross," claims the attention of the patrons of the Boston, where the other big stock company holds forth. Vaudeville at Keith's and the Orpheum comprises many excellent features. Remaining over for another week are these shows: Maude Adams in "The Jesters," at the Hollis Street; Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," at the Park; "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont, and "The Gay White Way," at the Majestic. Pleasing burlesque runs at the Palace, Lyceum, Howard and Columbia.

Boston University. Somerset near Beacon Street, founded 1869. The departments are: a College of Liberal Arts, Somerset Street; College of Music, College of Agriculture, Amherst, Mass.; School of Theology, Mt. Vernon Street; School of Law, Ashburton Place; School of Medicine, East Concord Street; School of all Sciences, Somerset Street.

New England Historical Genealogical Society, 18 Somerset Street. Founded 1844. Has a library of 25,000 volumes, 100,000 pamphlets, portraits, prints and relics; about 1,000 members.

Boston Athenaeum, 10½ Beacon Street. A large massive building of sandstone, erected in 1847-49 by a private literary society founded in 1805. The library contains about 200,000 volumes in history, biography and a high class of literature. A large number of works of art, statuary, paintings and busts adorn the halls. In the trustees' room are many rare books and Gen. Washington's library bought in 1848.

Massachusetts General Hospital established 1799 on McLean Street. The granite building was designed by Bulfinch. It is the oldest but one of the hospitals in the country and one of the best organized in the world, with a staff of the most eminent physicians and surgeons. Dr. W. T. G. Morton's discovery of the use of ether in surgery was first introduced to the world at this hospital, the first operation being performed by Dr. John C. Warren, assisted by Dr. Morton.

SHOPPING NEWS

The Hall & Hancock Co., at 420 Washington Street, are exhibiting their spring fashions in men's hats. The special hat they are selling for $3.50 is the best in workmanship, quality and style that can be produced for the money.

The Russian Importing Co., at 429 Boylston Street, are showing a complete line of odd and unique articles made by the Russian peasant. Samovars, their latest importation are worth inspection together with their handwrought copper and brass, modern and antique silverware, table linens, drawn work and embroideries.

The Cold Storage Rooms of A. N. Cook & Co., at 161 Tremont Street, are the most modern and scientifically constructed for the storage of Furs, Fur Garments, Rugs and Clothing. Their charges are reasonable. Furs and Clothing called for, cleaned, and put in perfect condition before being stored.

J. T. Dyer, the Haberdasher, is showing a special line of silk lisle hosiery, "Notaseme," which sells for $1.38 a box of ½ dozen, 25c. single pair. This will be an innovation to the man who has never worn seamless hosiery.

The display of Ladies' Embroidered Neckwear in Collars, Stocks, Jabots, and Frills in both colors and white at $Miss\ M$. F, Fisk's, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., opposite Arlington St., with the smart style of Gloves which this firm always shows, makes this shop a very interesting one to visit.

Anyone suffering from a headache or pain of any kind, should call at the office of The Lloyd Co., Room 301, in the Colonial Building, 100 Boylston Street, and allow their demonstrator to show how quickly the ache or pain can be relieved by vibration. There is no charge for this service, and you will be shown the largest line of electric and mechanical vibrators in this city.

Charles E. Lauriat Co. are making an announcement of more than ordinary interest to book-lovers of greater Boston. Their stock inventory, just completed, has shown that, owing to unusually heavy purchases last summer and business conditions in the early fall, their stock, while unusually good, is about $40,000 worth larger than they are accustomed to carry at this season of the year. The decision was quickly reached to unload this promptly, at prices necessary to do it and give their patrons the benefit of their loss. No sale like this has been known in Boston since their famous "removal sale" two years ago.

R. H. White Co. this week are holding a men's clothing exhibit, the first of it's kind in New England, and one of the very first in this country. Admission Free.

The object of the exhibit is to demonstrate to the men of New England how thoroughly well made are the R. H. White Co.'s suits and coats. To show this they will exhibit suits and coats partly finished to show every stage of the manufacture, in fact everything from the lamb to the wearer will be included. Some of the features of this novel men's clothing exhibit are, a pen of live lambs, illustrative of pure wool, of which the clothing is made; a hundred and sixty models of suits and over 500 different patterns of new imported and domestic fabrics. Men's hats will also come into this exhibit. It will pay you to make an extra effort to visit R. H. White Co.'s great 2nd floor Clothing Department, this week during the exhibition.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

For the first times here, "The Right of Way," a melodrama from Gilbert Parker's popular novel, comes to the Hollis Street this week, repeating the success in New York and elsewhere. The new musical show, "The Top o' the World," that has pleased audiences throughout the season, comes to the Majestic for a limited engagement. Another musical play comes to the Grand Opera House under the title of "Pan Handle Pete," and "A Midnight Bell," is the offering at the Castle Square. Vandeville at Keith's and the Orpheum is made up of excellent features. These are the continuances: Ethel Barrymore in "Her Sister," at the Colonial; Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," at the Park; "The Sign of the Cross," at the Boston; "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont, and Kellar and Thurston, magicians, at the Globe. Leading burlesque is presented at the Columbia, Palace, Howard and Lyceum.

Memorial Exhibition. Of very great interest to the friends and admirers of the late Mrs. Frances C, Houston is the memorial exhibition which Mrs. Houston's daughter, Mrs. John C. Fairchild, has arranged at Doll & Richard's gallery, No. 71 Newbury St. This memorial is very close to Mrs. Fairchild's heart, and she is using every energy to make it a living tribute to her mother's memory and her work. It is to be a very representative collection, though not including the portraits of people here and in New York, as they have been seen so often before. Some of Mrs. Houston's work dating back to 82 will be shown, and a number of unfinished garden sketches of her country home in Cornish and unfinished things of models will have a prominent place. The portrait of Miss Barrymore, however, which was painted with failing strength and unfinished as to drapery and detail, but perfect and wonderful as a likeness, is to be seen for the first time in Boston in this exhibition. It is pleasant to think in this connection that Miss Barrymore will be here in Boston this week, for she is a very close friend of Mrs. Fairchild and had a deep affection for Mrs. Houston, as well as great interest in her work.

Massachusetts General Hospital established 1799 on McLean Street. The granite building was designed by Bulfinch. It is the oldest but one of the hospitals in the country and one of the best organized in the world, with a staff of the most eminent physicians and surgeons. Dr. W. T. G. Morton's discovery of the use of ether in surgery was first introduced to the world at this hospital, the first operation being performed by Dr. John C. Warren, assisted by Dr. Morton.

SHOPPING NEWS

Charles E. Lauriat Co. are making an announcement of more than ordinary interest to book-lovers of greater Boston. Their stock inventory, just completed, has shown that, owing to unusually heavy purchases last summer and business conditions in the early fall, their stock, while unusually good, is about $40,000 worth larger than they are accustomed to carry at this season of the year. The decision was quickly reached to unload this promptly, at prices necessary to do it and give their patrons the benefit of their loss. No sale like this has been known in Boston since their famous "removal sale" two years ago.

The new black and brown English hats just received from the Custom House, and shown by Hall & Hancock Co., 420 Washington Street, will certainly appeal to the man of good taste.

Blanchard, King & Co., are now exhibiting their exclusive importations of Scotch shirtings in novel patterns and effects. This is the best time in the year to place orders for negligee shirts.

Miller & Weltch, the opticians at 38 West Street, are offering a choice line of opera glasses, window thermometers, reading glasses and other optical goods. Their prices are reasonable and their goods first-class.

The spring and summer suits now shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, Boylston Street and Park Square, include all the latest fabrics and designs for this season. Linen suits and the princess gowns in lawn and mull and other delicate fabrics bid fair to be increasingly fashionable in 1908. It is well to consider, in buying such a suit, whether the laundress will ruin the shape of it the first time it is tubbed. On this account it pays to get such garments at reputable houses where the tailoring is well done. There is no economy in geting a bargain suit that is unwearable after one washing. There is great economy in paying a good price for a thing that will look well as long as there is anything left of it.

The Russian Importing Co., at 429 Boylston Street, are showing a complete line of odd and unique articles made by the Russian peasant. Samovars, their latest importation are worth inspection together with their handwrought copper and brass, modern and antique silverware, table linens, drawn work and embroideries.

The Cold Storage Rooms of A. N. Cook & Co., at 161 Tremont Street, are the most modern and scientifically constructed for the storage of Furs, Fur Garments, Rugs and Clothing. Their charges are reasonable. Furs and Clothing called for, cleaned, and put in perfect condition before being stored.

J. T. Dyer, the Haberdasher, is showing a special line of silk lisle hosiery, "Notaseme," which sells for $1.38 a box of ½ dozen, 25c. single pair. This will be an innovation to the man who has never worn seamless hosiery.

The display of Ladies' Embroidered Neckwear in Collars, Stocks, Jabots, and Frills in both colors and white at Miss M. F. Fisk's. The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., opposite Arlington St., with the smart style of Gloves which this firm always shows, makes this shop a very interesting one to visit.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

The Grand Opera Company from the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, will be at the Boston Theatre for this week only in the following repertoire: Monday, "Iris:" Tuesday, "La Boheme:" Wednesday matinee, "Il Trovatore;" Wednesday evening, "Die Walkure;" Thursday, "Don Giovanni;" Friday, "Manon Lescaut;" Saturday matinee, "Tristan and Isolde;" Saturday evening, "Mignon." "The Follies of 1907," return to the Colonial for a single week, and "The Sporting Duchess" is the play at the Castle Square. To the Globe comes "Texas" the sentimental melodrama of the Southwest with its ranchmen, and "The Lost Trail," a sensational military play is the offering of the Grand Opera House. Attractions remaining over are: "The Right of Way," at the Hollis Street; "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont; Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," at the Park, and "The Top O' Th' World," at the Majestic. Richard Golden is one of the features of the vandeville at Keith's, and Charles Leonard Fletcher in impersonations is a part of a similar class of entertainment at the Orpheum, Rollicking burlesquers may be seen as usual at the Columbia, Pglace, Lyceum and Howard.

Memorial Exhibition. Of very great interest to the friends and admirers of the late Mrs. Frances C. Houston is the memorial exhibition which Mrs. Houston's daughter, Mrs. John C. Fairchild, has arranged at Doll & Richard's gallery, No. 71 Newbury St. This memorial is very close to Mrs. Fairchild's heart, and she is using every energy to make it a living tribute to her mother's memory and her work. It is to be a very representative collection, though not including the portraits of people here and in New York, as they have been seen so often before. Some of Mrs. Houston's work dating back to $2 will be shown, and a number of unfinished garden sketches of her country home in Cornish and unfinished things of models will have a prominent place. The portrait of Miss Barrymore, however, which was painted with failing strength and unfinished as to drapery and detail, but perfect and wonderful as a likeness, is to be seen for the first time in Boston in this exhibition. It is pleasant to think in this connection that Miss Barrymore will be here in Boston this week, for she is a very close friend of Mrs. Fairchild and had a deep affection for Mrs. Houston, as well as great interest in her work.

One of the handsomest conservatories in this country is that of Mr. Thomas F. Galvin on the corner of Boylston and Fairfield Streets. It is well worth a visit, not only on account of the architectural beauty of the building, but also for the large variety of rare plants with which it is stocked.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

Blanchard, King & Co., at 250 Boylston St., are showing many novel ideas in hand embroidered waist patterns, colored and white, on linens and cottons.

Hall & Hancock Co., at 420 Washington St., are showing the newest and best shapes in men's hats. Men of discriminating taste will surely find what they want, be it top hat, motor cap, cane or gloves.

If you would like to feast your eyes on an unusual gathering of choice books in bindings that represent the best workmanship of London and Paris, just step into Charles E. Lauriat Company's store, opposite the head of Franklin Street, and ask to be shown into their "Book Parlor." It is one of the sights of the city that no visitor should miss and it costs nothing.

Spring suits and haberdashery are now in order, and Macullar Parker Company, 400 Washington Street, are showing the best assortment at prices which cannot fail to attract economical buyers.

Miller & Weltch, the opticians at 38 West Street, are offering a choice line of opera glasses, window thermometers, reading glasses and other optical goods. Their prices are reasonable and their goods first-class.

The spring and summer suits now shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, Boylston Street and Park Square, include all the latest fabrics and designs for this season. Linen suits and the princess gowns in lawn and mull and other delicate fabrics bid fair to be increasingly fashionable in 1908. It is well to consider, in buying such a suit, whether the laundress will ruin the shape of it the first time it is tubbed. On this account it pays to get such garments at reputable houses where the tailoring is well done. There is no economy in geting a bargain suit that is unwearable after one washing. There is great economy in paying a good price for a thing that will look well as long as there is anything left of it.

The Russian Importing Co., at 429 Boylston Street, are showing a complete line of odd and unique articles made by the Russian peasant. Samovars, their latest importation are worth inspection together with their handwrought copper and brass, modern and antique silverware, table linens, drawn work and embroideries.

The Cold Storage Rooms of A. N. Cook & Co., at 161 Tremont Street, are the most modern and scientifically constructed for the storage of Furs, Fur Garments, Rugs and Clothing. Their charges are reasonable. Furs and Clothing called for, cleaned, and put in perfect condition before being stored.

J. T. Dyer, the Haberdasher, is showing a special line of silk lisle hosiery, "Notaseme," which sells for $1.38 a box of ½ dozen, 25c. single pair. This will be an innovation to the man who has never worn seamless hosiery.

The display of Ladies' Embroidered Neckwear in Collars, Stocks, Jabots, and Frills in both colors and white at Miss M. F. Fisk's, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., opposite Arlington St., with the smart style of Gloves which this firm always shows, makes this shop a very interesting one to visit.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

A special return engagement is made this week at the Colonial Theatre by Anna Held in "The Parisian Model," and Mrs. Fiske and her Manhattan Company in the successful New York production of "Rosmersholm," opens at the Majestic. The delightful melo-drama, "Under Southern Skies," is the offering at the Globe, while at the Grand Opena House, "Kate Barton's Temptation," plays. The stock company at the Boston resumes with "The Sign of the Cross," which was taken off during the week of Grand Opera. At the Castle Square the Players present "Out of the Fold." Attractions continuing their successful runs are: "The Right of Way," at the Hollis Street; Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," at the Park, and "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont. The Orpheum and Keith's have excellent vaudeville programs. Top line burlesquers are at the Howard, Palace, Lyceum and Columbia. This is the third week of the Boston Hippodrome, with afternoon and evening performances, at the Mechanics Building.

Boston Art Club adjoins the new Old South Church, founded 1854, building erected 1882. Club rooms and large picture gallery for exhibitions. It has a valuable art library.

Harvard Medical School, corner of Boylston and Exeter Streets, founded 1783. It is a large, fireproof building, built of brick, erected in 1883 at a cost of $250,000, and has a large museum, halls and rooms adapted for one hundred instructors and over six hundred students.

Commonwealth Avenue, the finest avenue in America, is two hundred and forty feet wide, from house to house, most costly residences built of brownstone, or brick, in solid blocks. The avenue extends from the Public Garden through Chestnut Hill, Brookline, Newton to Auburndale, having two roadways with a continuous mall with grass borders and shade trees.

Hamilton Statue of granite, Dr. Rimmer, sculptor, given to the city by Thomas Lee in 1865, Glover Statue, also on the mall, a heoric work in bronze, by Milmore, given to the city by B. T. Reed, 1875. He commanded the 14th Massachusetts regiment and was with Washington at Long Island, Valley Forge and Trenton.

William Lloyd Garrison Statue, of bronze, 1886. Leif Eriesson Statue, near the entrance of Back Bay Park, on the mall of Commonwealth Avenue.

Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, instituted 1823, chartered 1852. For men and women. Present building creeted in 1886. The Shepard Library was the gift of Dr. S. A. B. Shepard.

SHOPPING NEWS

A most interesting shop to visit is The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston Street, opposite Arlington Street, as the name signifies, red is the color that predominates, the form of architecture is that of Francis I., simple, plain, yet wonderfully effective. The proprietor, Miss Fisk, formerly of 144 Tremont Street, has a Clientele that is national as well as local—for high class Glove and Novelty trade.

We think few people realize how dainty, artistic and original is the work of the Russian Peasant, found at the Russian Importing Co., 429 Boylston Street. All products of the Russian Peasant contain some of the best original and characteristic designs in silver, bronze, copper, brass, carved wood, lace and needlework. You are sure to be interested, and are cordially invited to examine their latest importations.

At the linen department in the L, P, Hollander & Co.'s store they are showing a line of fine table linen in exclusive designs. Luncheon and dinner sets, fine damask cloths and lace scarf centrepieces in a large variety of patterns at prices to meet the closest competition.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a line of high grade steamer rugs, which are quite as essential on a motoring trip as they are on a journey over seas. They have met the increased demand with increased stocks—more Rugs than you will see in any other Boston store.

The Cold Storage Rooms of A. N. Cook & Co., at 161 Tremont Street, are the most modern and scientifically constructed for the storage of Furs, Fur Garments, Rugs and Clothing. Their charges are reasonable. Furs and Clothing called for, cleaned, and put in perfect condition before being stored.

Spring suits and haberdashery are now in order, and Macullar Parker Company, 400 Washington Street, are showing the best assortment at prices which cannot fail to attract economical buyers.

Hall & Hancock Co., at 420 Washington St., are showing the newest and best shapes in men's hats. Men of discriminating taste will surely find what they want, be it top hat, motor cap, cane or gloves.

An unusually beautiful display of plaited bosom shirts at Dyer's on Boylston Street is causing very favorable comment. The patterns and general idea are exclusively their own.

The Paris model gowns for afternoon and calling use and the smart English walking suits shown by L. P. Hollander & Co., on Boylston Street, are liberally selected these days by some of the best dressed ladies of Boston and New England for their spring costumes.

Blanchard, King & Co.'s stock of Easter Neckwear shows a wide range of newest effects and will well repay an inspection.

SHOPPING NEWS

Doll & Richards Art Shop, at 71 Newbury St., are showing a collection of modern color prints from old and new plates in their print room and we suggest your inspection of the new Tiffany Favrile Pottery and Favrile Pottery Lamps shown by this firm.

A most interesting shop to visit is The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston Street, opposite Arlington Street, as the name signifies, red is the color that predominates, the form of architecture is that of Francis I., simple, plain, yet wonderfully effective. The proprietor. Miss Fisk, formerly of 144 Tremont Street, has a Clientele that is national as well as local—for high class Glove and Novelty trade.

We think few people realize how dainty, artistic and original is the work of the Russian Peasant, found at the Russian Importing Co., 429 Boylston Street. All products of the Russian Peasant contain some of the best original and characteristic designs in silver, bronze, copper, brass, carved wood, lace and needlework. You are sure to be interested, and are cordially invited to examine their latest importations.

At the linen department in the L. P. Hollander & Co.'s store they are showing a line of fine table linen in exclusive designs. Luncheon and dinner sets, fine damask cloths and lace scarf centrepieces in a large variety of patterns at prices to meet the closest competition.

Hervins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a line of high grade steamer rugs, which are quite as essential on a motoring trip as they are on a journey over seas. They have met the increased demand with increased stocks—more Rugs than you will see in any other Boston store.

The Cold Storage Rooms of A. N. Cook & Co., at 161 Tremont Street, are the most modern and scientifically constructed for the storage of Furs, Fur Garments, Rugs and Clothing. Their charges are reasonable. Furs and Clothing called for, cleaned, and put in perfect condition before being stored.

Spring suits and haberdashery are now in order, and Macullar Parker Company, 400 Washington Street, are showing the best assortment at prices which cannot fail to attract economical buyers.

Hall & Hancock Co., at 420 Washington St., are showing the newest and best shapes in men's hats. Men of discriminating taste will surely find what they want, be it too hat, motor cap, cane or gloves.

An unusually beautiful display of plaited bosom shirts at Dyer's on Boylston Street is causing very favorable comment. The patterns and general idea are exclusively their own.

The Paris model gowns for afternoon and calling use and the smart English walking suits shown by L. P. Hollander & Co., on Boylston Street, are liberally selected these days by some of the best dressed ladies of Boston and New England for their spring costumes.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

To the Majestic this week comes the singular and striking actress, Mme. Alia Nazimova, first known here as the Nazimoff of Orlenef's Russian company two years ago, and she plays "A Doll's House," by Ibsen. Robert Edeson brings to the Hollis Street "Classmates," acting it for the first time in Boston, and tells the story of adventure and love. An American musical show, "Mary's Lamb," with Richard Carle, who has made it out of an old French farce, is the attraction at the Colonial. At the Boston the big stock company gives a revival, of Bronson Howard's "Shenandoah," a play of the Civil War. "The Iron Master," is the offering of the stock company at the Castle Square and that startling drama, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," claims the attention of patrons of the Grand Opera House. Houdini, who mystified thousands of persons with his wonderful performances, is back at Keith's with many new features for amusement. There are entertaining vaudeville acts at the Orpheum. Plays that continue are: Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," at the Park; "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont and the new production of "1492," at the Globe. Bright burlesquers make up the companies at the Palace, Columbia, Howard and Lyceum.

At the Colonial Theatre, Monday night, April 27th, a benefit will be tendered T. B. Lothian, Asst. Mgr., Geo. Matthews, Treas., A. E. Lothian, Asst. Treas., on which occasion Richard Carle will present himself in his new musical contedy "Mary's Lamb."

Granary Burying Ground, Tremont Street, was the third ground in Boston, and was established in 1660. It received its name from the public granary that stood on the south side of the ground. Here were buried the remains of Gov. Richard Bellingham, Gov. William Dummer, Gov. John Hancock, Gov. Samuel Adams, Gov. James Bowdoin, Gov. Increase Sumner, Gov. James Sullivan, Lieut. Gov. Thomas Cushing, Hon. James Otis, the foremost patriot of the Revolution, Peter Faneuil, Chief Justice Samuel Sewall, Robert Treat Paine, Paul Revere, Josiah Franklin and wife, parents of Benjamin Franklin; the victims of the Boston Massacre, 1770, the Rev. John Baily, Rev. Samuel Willard, Rev. Jeremy Belknap, Rev. John Lothrop, John Phillips, first Mayor of Boston, and many other distinguished citizens and patriots. A few of the officers of the Revolution buried here were Col. John Armstrong, John Hurd, Jr., Capt. John Armstrong, Major Samuel W. Armstrong, Major Robert Williams, Capt. Nicholas Gardner, Lient. Jabez Smith of the marines, and Surgeon David Townsend, John Hull, mint master, 1652, Edward Rawson, Secretary of the Colony and Josiah Willard, Secretary of the Province.

SHOPPING NEWS

The commodious Cold Storage facilities for the care and preservation of Furs and Clothing enable A. N. Cook & Co., at 161 Tremont. Street, to absolutely insure you against loss or deterioration. Because this is the season when their Fur Experts are least busy, extra low prices will be charged for Remodeling Furs.

J. T. Dyer, the Haberdasher, is showing a special line of silk lisle hosiery, "Notaseme," which sells for $1.38 a box of ½ dozen, 25c. single pair. This will be an innovation to the man who has never worn seamless hosiery.

Different from everything else. Every article in this shop bears the earmarks of oddity, quaintness and beauty, and is the product of Russian peasant handicraft. Artistic brass and copper ware in infinite variety can be found at the Russian Importing Company's, 429 Boylston Street.

The display of Ladies' Embroidered Neckwear in Collars, Stocks, Jabots, and Frills in both colors and white at Miss M. F. Fisk's, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., opposite Arlington St., with the smart style of Gloves which this firm always shows, makes this shop a very interesting one to visit.

Those who have seen the new spring Hall & Haucock Co. derby, say it is the handsomest hat in town. A complete line is now being shown at 420 Washington Street.

Blanchard, King & Co., are showing some exceedingly choice neckwear for men. One desiring the best should not fail to visit their shop, 250 Boylston Street.

Spring suits and haberdashery are now in order, and Macullar Parker Company, 400 Washington Street, are showing the best assortment at prices which cannot fail to attract economical buyers.

Doll & Richards Art Shop, at 71 Newbury St., are showing a collection of modern color prints from old and new plates in their print room and we suggest your inspection of the new Tiffany Favrile Pottery and Favrile Pottery Lamps shown by this firm.

At the linen department in the L. P. Hollander & Co.'s store they are showing a line of fine table linen in exclusive designs. Luncheon and dinner sets, fine damask cloths and lace scarf centrepieces in a large variety of patterns at prices to meet the closest competition.

Hereins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a line of high grade steamer rugs, which are quite as essential on a motoring trip as they are on a journey over seas. They have met the increased demand with increased stocks—more Rugs than you will see in any other Boston store.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Madame Nazimova, the poular Russian-American actress, presents the following repertoire, this her second week, at the Majestie: Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings and Wednesday afternoon, "Hedda Gabler;" Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday afternoon, "Comtesse Coquette." The big stock company at the Boston produces "The Girl of the Golden West," and at the Castle Square another stock company plays "East Lynne.' Keith's, the only vaudeville house remaining open, has a bill full of entertaining features, Continuances for the week are: Richard Carle in "Mary's Lamb," at the Colonial; Robert Edeson in "Classmates," at the Hollis Street; Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," at the Park; "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont, and "1492," at the Globe. Lively burlesque shows are at the Palace, Lyceum, Howard and Columbia.

New England Conservatory of Music, Huntington Avenue and Gainsboro Street. The building is three stories, in Grecian style, and stands on a lot containing 32,000 square feet, with frontage of 120 feet on Huntington Avenue and 180 feet on Gainsboro Street.

New England Historical Genealogical Society, 18 Somerset Street. Founded 1844. Has a library of 25,000 volumes, 100,000 pamphlets, portraits, prints and relics; about 1,000 members.

Granary Burying Ground. Tremont Street, was the third ground in Boston, and was established in 1660. It received its name from the bublic granary that stood on the south side of the ground. Here were buried the remains of Gov. Richard Bellingham, Gov. William Dummer, Gov. John Hancock, Gov. Samuel Adams, Gov. James Bowdoin, Gov. Increase Sumner, Gov. James Sullivan, Lieut. Gov. Thomas Cushing, Hon. James Otis, the foremost patriot of the Revolution, Peter Fancuil, Chief Justice Samuel Sewall, Robert Treat Paine, Paul Revere, Iosiah Franklin and wife, parents of Benjamin Franklin; the victims of the Boston Massacre, 1770, the Rev. John Baily, Rev. Samuel Willard, Rev. Jeremy Belknap, Rev. John Lothrop, John Phillips, first Mayor of Boston, and many other distinguished ictizens and patriots. A few of the officers of the Revolution buried nere were Col. John Armstrong, John Hurd, Jr., Capt. John Armstrong, Major Samuel W. Armstrong, Major Robert Williams, Capt. Nicholas Gardner, Lieut. Jabez Smith of the marines, and Surgeon David Townsend, John Hull, mint master, 1652, Edward Rawson, Secretary of the Colony and Josiah Willard, Secretary of the Province. Gov. John Endecott, 1665.

SHOPPING NEWS

Charles E. Lauriat Co. have just completed a very important change in their handsome bookstore, opposite the head of Franklin St., by which the space formerly given up to the juvenile department, is now devoted to a display of some choice books in fine bindings and fine old books from private libraries. The exhibit is well worth a visit to see.

The choicest assortment of foreign shirtings for custom shirts is unquestionably to be found at Blanchard King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston St.

Hall & Hancock Co., at 420 Washington St., are showing the newest and best shapes in men's hats. Men of discriminating taste will surely find what they want, be it top hat, motor cap, cane or gloves.

An unusually beautiful display of plaited bosom shirts at Dyer's on Boylston Street is causing very favorable comment. The patterns and general idea are exclusively their own.

The Paris model gowns for afternoon and calling use and the smart English walking suits shown by L. P. Hollander & Co., on Boylston Street, are liberally selected these days by some of the best dressed ladies of Boston and New England for their spring costumes.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a line of high grade steamer rugs, which are quite as essential on a motoring trip as they are on a journey over seas. They have met the increased demand with increased stocks—more Rugs than you will see in any other Boston store.

The commodious Cold Storage facilities for the care and preservation of Furs and Clothing enable A. N. Cook & Co., at 161 Tremont Street, to absolutely insure you against loss or deterioration. Because this is the season when their Fur Experts are least busy, extra low prices will be charged for Remodeling Furs.

J. T. Dyer, the Haberdasher, is showing a special line of silk lisle hosiery, "Notaseme," which sells for $1.38 a box of ½ dozen, 25c. single pair. This will be an innovation to the man who has never worn seamless hosiery.

Different from everything else. Every article in this shop bears the earmarks of oddity, quaintness and beauty, and is the product of Russian peasant handicraft. Artistic brass and copper ware in infinite variety can be found at the Russian Importing Company's, 429 Boylston Street.

The display of Ladies' Embroidered Neckwear in Collars, Stocks. Jabots, and Frills in both colors and white at Miss M. F. Fish's, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., opposite Arlington St., with the smart style of Gloves which this firm always shows, makes this shop a very interesting one to visit.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

The newly organized Knickerboeker Opera Company makes its first appearances in Boston this week at the Majestic in the following repertoire: "Lucia," Monday evening and Saturday afternoon; "Trovatore," Tuesday and Friday evenings; "Traviata," Wednesday evening, and "Cavalleria Rusticana," and "Pagliacci," a double bill, Thursday and Saturday nights. After an absence of eighteen months from this city, "The Lion and the Mouse," a comedy drama of great popularity, comes to the Hollis Street, and at the Globe there is the second of the revivals of well-liked musical plays, "The Rounders." The stock company at the Castle Square plays "Xiobe," At Keith's there is offered a fine vaudeville bill, including Henry Gilfoil. Continuances are: Richard Carle in "Mary's Lamb," at the Colonial; "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont; "The Girl of the Golden West," at the Boston, and Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," at the Park. Burlesque that pleases holds forth at the Palace, Columbia, Lyceum and Howard.

The Relief Station of City Hospital, Haymarket Square, erected in 1901-2 by the trustees of the City Hospital from a bequest of $120,000 from the T. Wyman estate. A large building with frontage on Haymarket Square, fully equipped with the best hospital furnishings, ambulance corps, expert surgeons, assistant surgeons, nurses and others, ready for immediate assistance to those brought to the station.

Tremont Temple, 76 to 86 Tremont Street, near School Street; the Church of the Union Temple Baptist Society. It is the third building erected on the site of the old Tremont Theatre building.

Masonic Temple, corner of Tremont and Boylston Streets; built 1898-99 on the site of the Masonic Temple, dedicated 1867 and destroyed by fire 1895, occupying the site of a Masonic building destroyed by fire in 1864. The new building has a massive stone front, steel frame and is of fireproof construction. The building contains three large halls, Corinthian, Egyptian and Gothic, with numerous rooms devoted to the use of the Masonic Fraternity.

Liberty Tree, planted in 1646 and famous from 1766 to 1775, stood on the site of the building on the south corner of Washington and Essex Streets. Here the "Sons of Liberty" rallied, but the British troops destroyed the tree in 1775. On the front of the building is a large sandstone block, with representation of the tree and an inscription.

Young Men's Christian Union, 18 Boylston Street. Founded in 1851. Has a large handsome building of stone. Has about 5,000 members. Has a fine library, reading room, gymnasium and several fine halls.

SHOPPING NEWS

Hewins & Hollis, the Outfitters, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a line of golf stockings in the new and fashionable shades.

Different from everything else. Every article in this shop bears the earmarks of oddity, quaintness and beauty, and is the product of Russian peasant handicraft. Artistic brass and copper ware in infinite variety can be found at the Russian Importing Company's, 429 Boylston Street.

L. P. Hollander & Co., Boylston Street, anticipating the wants for graduating and class days, and for summer wear in general, have provided many exquisite and choice designs in lingerie and net gowns, and dainty waists; suits and coats in linen, pongee and fancy weaves for every occasion.

Blanchard, King & Co., 250 Boylston Street, are showing a choice line of Scotch Madrasses of their exclusive importation in their custom shirt department.

A very attractive shop to visit this season is Miss Fisk's, at 322 Boylston Street, her lines are all specialties. Gloves, shirt waists, jewelry, veiling, neckwear and belts. Her gloves are made in Europe in the latest styles and colors, the lingerie and tailored waists are perfect in shape and style, and the veils, neckwear and belts are always the correct things.

Charles E. Lauriat Co. have just completed a very important change in their handsome bookstore, opposite the head of Franklin St., by which the space formerly given up to the juvenile department, is now devoted to a display of some choice books in fine bindings and fine old books from private libraries. The exhibit is well worth a visit to see.

Hall & Hancock Co., at 420 Washington St. are showing the newest and best shapes in men's hats. Men of discriminating taste will surely find what they want, be it top hat, motor cap, cane or gloves.

An unusually beautiful display of plaited bosom shirts at Dyer's on Boylston Street is causing very favorable comment. The patterns and general idea are exclusively their own.

The commodious Cold Storage facilities for the care and preservation of Furs and Clothing enable A. N. Cook & Co., at 161 Tremont Street, to absolutely insure you against loss or deterioration. Because this is the season when their Fur Experts are least busy, extra low prices will be charged for Remodeling Furs.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, make a special feature in their Boys' Clothing Department of garments for little boys. Attention is now called to the sailor and Russian blouse, wash and woolen suits. Mothers who accompany their boys are invited to visit the Ladies' Tailoring Parlor adjoining the Boys' Department.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Ezra Kendall in George Ade's new comedy, "The Land of Dollars," makes his reappearance this week after an absence of three years from Boston at the Majestic and there is all the opportunity he requires for a display of his quaint Yankee humor. At the Boston Opera Co. returns to the Castle Square Theatre presenting "Il Trovatore" and "La Traviata." Vaudeville at Keith's includes many excellent features, one being Edward Connelly reappearing in Ade's little play, "Marse Covington." These are the many continuances: "The Lion and the Mouse," at the Hollis Street; Richard Carle in "Mary's Lamb," at the Colonial; "The Man of the Hour," at the Tremont; "The Rounders," at the Globe, and Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," at the Park. The Palace, Columbia and Howard offer entertaining burlesque. Wonderland at Revere Beach opens for the season at one o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The Relief Station of City Hospital, Haymarket Square, erected in 1901-2 by the trustees of the City Hospital from a bequest of $120,000 from the T. Wyman estate. A large building with frontage on Haymarket Square, fully equipped with the best hospital furnishings, ambulance corps, expert surgeons, assistant surgeons, nurses and others, ready for immediate assistance to those brought to the station.

Tremont Temple, 76 to 86 Tremont Street, near School Street; the Church of the Union Temple Baptist Society. It is the third building erected on the site of the old Tremont Theatre building.

Masonic Temple, corner of Tremont and Boylston Streets; built 1898-99 on the site of the Masonic Temple, dedicated 1867 and destroyed by fire 1895, occupying the site of a Masonic building destroyed by fire in 1864. The new building has a massive stone front, steel frame and is of fireproof construction. The building contains three large halls, Corinthian, Egyptian and Gothic, with numerous rooms devoted to the use of the Masonic Fraternity.

Liberty Tree, planted in 1646 and famous from 1766 to 1775, stood on the site of the building on the south corner of Washington and Essex Streets. Here the "Sons of Liberty" rallied, but the British troops destroyed the tree in 1775. On the front of the building is a large sandstone block, with representation of the tree and an inscription.

Young Men's Christian Union, 18 Boylston Street. Founded in 1851. Has a large handsome building of stone. Has about 5,000 members. Has a fine library, reading room, gymnasium and several fine halls.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

One desiring to see a large assortment of exclusive neckwear of latest shapes and designs should not fail to visit Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston St.

The commodious Cold Storage facilities for the care and preservation of Furs and Clothing enable A. N. Cook & Co., at 161 Tremont Street, to absolutely insure you against loss or deterioration. Because this is the season when their Fur Experts are least busy, extra low prices will be charged for Remodeling Furs.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, make a special feature in their Boys' Clothing Department of garments for little boys. Attention is now called to the sailor and Russian blouse, wash and woolen suits. Mothers who accompany their boys are invited to visit the Ladies' Tailoring Parlor adjoining the Boys' Department.

Hewins & Hollis, the Outfitters, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a complete line of Allen, Solly & Co.'s hosiery and underwear.

Miss M. F. Fisk, at 322 Boylston Street, is showing a splendid line of Ladies' Gloves, in long and short lengths in the best makes and fashionable colors, also Tailored and Lingerie Waists, and hand embroidered collars and jabots so much desired at the present time, and what is indispensable to the well-dressed woman—becoming veilings.

The Russian Importing Company of 429 Boylston Street extends a cordial invitation to guests of Boston to visit their shop, where they exhibit "All handicraft of the Russian Peasant," which consists of Hand Drawn linen, waist patterns, laces, collar and cuffs, old jewelry, silverware, bronzes brasses and copper. A specialty of this Shop is Hand Carved Woodenware.

A very striking and beautiful display of dress wear for men is being made by Josiah T. Dyer, the Boylston Street Haberdasher.

A man wears his hat in a more conspicuous place than any other article of apparel. This fact is taken into consideration when Hall & Hancock hats are made, and especial care is taken that they shall be absolutely correct in style. The address is 420 Washington Street.

L. P. Hollander & Co., Boylston Street, anticipating the wants for graduating and class days, and for summer wear in general, have provided many exquisite and choice designs in lingeric and net gowns, and dainty waists; suits and coats in linen, pongee and fancy weaves for every occasion.

Charles E. Lauriat Co. have just completed a very important change in their handsome bookstore, opposite the head of Franklin St., by which the space formerly given up to the juvenile department, is now devoted to a display of some choice books in fine bindings and fine old books from private libraries. The exhibit is well worth a visit to see.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

"A Knight for a Day," a musical play that was pleasing Chicago a year ago and that has pleased New York since last December comes to the Tremont this week, and the cast includes John Slavin and May Vokes. The popular stock company at the Boston presents "The Other Girl," and at the Castle Square there is the opera "Robin Hood." The Brittons, Negro entertainers and dancers are of the varied features of the vaudeville at Keith's. These are the plays that come over for the week: "The Lion and the Mouse," at the Hollis Street; Ezra Kendall in "The Land of Dollars," at the Majestic, and Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," at the Park. Burlesque of the best is given at the Howard, Palace and Columbia. The Barnum & Bailey "Greatest Show on Earth" has two performances each day on the circus grounds at Huntington Avenne. Wonderland at Revere Beach is crowded with new and entertaining features. Norumbega Park at Auburndale opens on Memorial Day, (Saturday) for the season.

Congregational House on Beacon near Park Street, built 1898, contains the Congregational Library of 30,000 volumes. The Congregational Publishing Society and salesroom of The Congregationalist and other offices are in the building.

25 Beacon Street was Gov. Bowdoin's mansion and Gen. Burgoyne's headquarters.

Hancock's house, which stood on the site of 29 and 30 Beacon Street, was erected in 1737. Washington, Lafayette, D'Estaing and many other notables were entertained here by Gov. Hancock. In 1863 this historic relic was torn down.

Somerset Club, 42 Beacon Street, large double stone mansion. A famous club composed of gentlemen from the leading families of Boston and vicinity. The Copley House, formerly on the site of the club house, was the home of John Singleton Copley, the great portrait painter. He painted three hundred and thirty portraits in Boston, and left the city in 1774 and never returned. In the old house was born in 1772, Copley's son, who became Lord Chancellor of England and senior peer of England and died in 1863.

Prescott, the historian, lived from 1845 to 1854 in the house 55 Beacon Street, where he died.

Wendell Phillips's birthplace was at the corner of Walnut and Beacon Streets. His father was the first mayor of Boston. Afterwards Lieut. Gov., T. L. Winthrop, father of R. C. Winthrop, dwelt in the house.

John Lothrop Motley's house was No. 7 Walnut Street.

SHOPPING NEWS

A window display that is attracting marked attention this week is that in the book-store of Charles E. Lauriat Co., where are being shown some of the magnificent bird pictures from the folio edition of Audubon's great book on the Birds of America. Being beautifully colored from Nature they make attractive hall or dining-room pictures when framed. The price at which they are now being sold is only two dollars each.

J. T. Dyer, Haberdasher and Hatter, 34 Boylston Street, is showing a novelty in a handkerchief and scarf to match, which sells for $1.00 each, they are very stylish and will appeal to the man that is looking for something new.

Straw hat time is here, and the men who wish to be right in the matter of looks as well as comfort will be glad to know that the complete summer showing of straw hats is now on view at Hall & Hancock's, 420 Washington Street.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, are showing an elegant line of summer clothing and haberdashery for both men and boys.

Hewins & Hollis. the Outfitters, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a complete line of Allen, Solly & Co.'s hosiery and underwear.

Miss M. F. Fisk, at 322 Boylston Street, is showing a splendid line of Ladies' Gloves, in long and short lengths in the best makes and fashionable colors, also Tailored and Lingerie Waists, and hand embroidered collars and jabots so much desired at the present time, and what is indispensable to the well-dressed woman—becoming veilings.

The Russian Importing Company of 429 Boylston Street extends a cordial invitation to guests of Boston to visit their shop, where they exhibit "All handicraft of the Russian Peasant," which consists of Hand Drawn linen, waist patterns, laces, collar and cuffs, old jewelry, silverware, bronzes brasses and copper. A specialty of this Shop is Hand Carved Woodenware.

One desiring to see a large assortment of exclusive neckwear of latest shapes and designs should not fail to visit Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston St.

The commodious Cold Storage facilities for the care and preservation of Furs and Clothing enable A. N. Cook & Co., at 161 Tremont Street, to absolutely insure you against loss or deterioration. Because this is the season when their Fur Experts are least busy, extra low prices will be charged for Remodeling Furs.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, make a special feature in their Boys' Clothing Department of garments for little boys. Attention is now called to the sailor and Russian blouse, wash and woolen suits. Mothers who accompany their boys are invited to visit the Ladies' Tailoring Parlor adjoining the Boys' Department.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

The offering at the Majestic this week is the Nixon & Zimmerman Company's musical show entitled "LiT Mose," that has been pleasing audiences of other cities so well, and Chauncey Olcott, one of Boston's great favorites, appears in "O'Neill of Derry," at the Park, The opera company at the Castle Square presents "Carmen," Monday, Tuesday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee, and "Faust," Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. "In the Bishop's Carriage," is given at the Boston by the stock company. There is a continuance of "A Knight for a Day," at the Tremont, and Vaudeville at Keith's Theatre. Summer burlesque shows are in progress at the Palace and Howard. An out-of-door vaudeville performance is one of the many features at Norumbega Park, and Wonderland at Revere Beach is better than in other seasons.

Congregational House on Beacon near Park Street, built 1898, contains the Congregational Library of 30,000 volumes. The Congregational Publishing Society and salesroom of The Congregationalist and other offices are in the building.

25 Beacon Street was Gov. Bowdoin's mansion and Gen. Burgoyne's headquarters.

Hancock's house, which stood on the site of 29 and 30 Beacon Street, was erected in 1737. Washington, Lafayette, D'Estaing and many other notables were entertained here by Gov. Hancock. In 1863 this historic relic was torn down.

Somerset Club, 42 Beacon Street, large double stone mansion. A famous club composed of gentlemen from the leading families of Boston and vicinity. The Copley House, formerly on the site of the club house, was the home of John Singleton Copley, the great portrait painter. He painted three hundred and thirty portraits in Boston, and left the city in 1774 and never returned. In the old house was born in 1772, Copley's son, who became Lord Chancellor of England and senior peer of England and died in 1863.

Prescott, the historian, lived from 1845 to 1854 in the house 55 Beacon Street, where he died.

Wendell Phillips's birthplace was at the corner of Walnut and Beacon Streets. His father was the first mayor of Boston. Afterwards Lieut. Gov., T. L. Winthrop, father of R. C. Winthrop, dwelt in the house.

John Lothrop Motley's house was No. 7 Walnut Street.

SHOPPING NEWS

Macullar Parker Co., at 400 Washington St., have ready to put on, and made to order fine Negligee, Business and Dress Shirts—also full line of fine underwear, including the Linen Mesh.

The Paris model gowns for afternoon and calling use and the smart English walking suits shown by L. P. Hollander & Co., on Boylston Street, are liberally selected these days by some of the best dressed ladies of Boston and New England for their spring costumes.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a line of high grade steamer rugs, which are quite as essential on a motoring trip as they are on a journey over seas. They have met the increased demand with increased stocks—more Rugs than you will see in any other Boston store.

A window display that is attracting marked attention this week is that in the book-store of Charles E. Lauriat Co., where are being shown some of the magnificent bird pictures from the folio edition of Andubon's great book on the Birds of America. Being beautifully colored from Nature they make attractive hall or dining-room pictures when framed. The price at which they are now being sold is only two dollars each.

J. T. Dyer, Haberdasher and Hatter, 34 Boylston Street, is showing a novelty in a handkerchief and scarf to match, which sells for $1.00 each, they are very stylish and will appeal to the man that is looking for something new.

Straw hat time is here, and the men who wish to be right in the matter of looks as well as comfort will be glad to know that the complete summer showing of straw hats is now on view at Hall & Hancock's, 420 Washington Street.

Miss M. F. Fisk, at 322 Boylston Street, is showing a splendid line of Ladies' Gloves, in long and short lengths in the best makes and fashionable colors, also Tailored and Lingerie Waists, and hand embroidered collars and jabots so much desired at the present time, and what is indispensable to the well-dressed woman—becoming veilings.

The Russian Importing Combany of 429 Boylston Street extends a cordial invitation to guests of Boston to visit their shop, where they exhibit "All handicraft of the Russian Peasant," which consists of Hand Drawn linen, waist patterns, laces, collar and cuffs, old iewelry, silverware, bronzes brasses and copper. A specialty of this Shop is Hand Carved Woodenware.

One desiring to see a large assortment of exclusive neckwear of latest shapes and designs should not fail to visit Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston St.

At the linen department in the L. P. Hollander & Co.'s store they are showing a line of fine table linen in exclusive designs. Luncheon and dinner sets, fine damask cloths and lace scarf centrepieces in a large variety of patterns at prices to meet the closest competition.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

"La Tosca," is the only change of play this week and it is presented by the big stock company at the Boston. At Keith's, however, there are a lot of new and entertaining vaudeville features, especially adapted to the summer season. Large audiences are witnessing the continued engagements of Chauncey Olcott in "O'Neill of Derry," at the Park: "A Knight for a Day," at the Tremont, and "LiT Mose," at the Majestic. The Palace is the only burlesque house that remains open and a breezy show is on afternoons and evenings. Sensational acts are provided by the management of Wonderland, the great amusement resort at Revere Beach. Everybody visiting Norumbega at Auburndale is assured plenty of enjoyment, two of the many attractions being the open-air theatre and the Zoological Gardens. Paragon Park at Nantasket Beach opens for the season on Saturday.

One of the finest runs for automobiles in Eastern Massachusetts is that between this city and Nantasket. It is an ideal all-day trip to leave Boston about 9 a. m., make sixty-mile run to Nantasket for lunch, enjoy the fine bathing and other attractive features during the afternoon. Have dinner and then a twenty-mile run back to Boston over State or Park roads the entire distance. Starting on the run from Boston the route takes one west over Park roads to Brookline and Newton to Wellesley. Here, with a turn to the left, a southerly direction is taken through Needham, Dedham, Hyde Park, Readville, Taunton, Brockton and Campbello, where an easterly direction is taken through Whitman to Hanover. From this point the route takes a northerly direction through Norwell, Greenbush, Scituate, Egypt, North Scituate and Cohasset to Nantasket.

One of the most delightful of the many trolley trips which one can take is along the Atlantic coast where the landscape and shore views are unequalled. From Boston to Lynn, Salem, Gloucester and around Cape Ann, through the witch country and attractive resorts of the shore, the colonial and provincial history of the shore towns seen on this trip is well preserved.

Boston Athenacum, 10 Beacon Street, where a collection of valuable paintings and statuary can be seen by visitors on any week-day without charge. This library contains 100,000 volumes, among them the library of George Washington. The library of the Athenacum is a private one and can be visited only upon the introduction of a member. When erected, this building was pronounced the most perfect for its purpose of any in this country.

Rufus Choate Statue, placed in the new Court House, was the gift of a public school master in honor of this great lawyer.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

June being a popular month for weddings and few things more generally acceptable as wedding gifts than well chosen books, Charles E. Lauriat Co. have devoted the June number of their "Boston Book Notes" to a description of a selection from their stock of books that would be adapted for presentation. They will be found to cover a wide range in literature, as well as in style and price. A copy may be had free at their store, opposite the head of Franklin Street.

J. T. Dyer, Haberdasher and Hatter, 34 Boylston Street, is showing a novelty in a handkerchief and scarf to match, which sells for $1.00 each, they are very stylish and will appeal to the man that is looking for something new.

Straw hat time is here, and the men who wish to be right in the matter of looks as well as comfort will be glad to know that the complete summer showing of straw hats is now on view at Hall & Hancock's, 420 Washington Street.

Miss M. F. Fisk, at 322 Boylston Street, is showing a splendid line of Ladies' Gloves, in long and short lengths in the best makes and fashionable colors, also Tailored and Lingerie Waists, and hand embroidered collars and jabots so much desired at the present time, and what is indispensable to the well-dressed woman—becoming veilings.

The Russian Importing Company of 429 Boylston Street extends a cordial invitation to guests of Boston to visit their shop, where they exhibit "All handicraft of the Russian Peasant," which consists of Hand Drawn linen, waist patterns, laces, collar and cuffs, old jewelry, silverware, bronzes brasses and copper. A specialty of this Shop is Hand Carved Woodenware.

One desiring to see a large assortment of exclusive neckwear of latest shapes and designs should not fail to visit Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston St.

At the linen department in the L. P. Hollander & Co.'s store they are showing a line of fine table linen in exclusive designs. Luncheon and dinner sets, fine damask cloths and lace scarf centrepieces in a large variety of patterns at prices to meet the closest competition.

Macullar Parker Co., at 400 Washington St., have ready to put on, and made to order fine Negligee, Business and Dress Shirts—also full line of fine underwear, including the Linen Mesh.

The Paris model gowns for afternoon and calling use and the smart English walking suits shown by L. P. Hollander & Co., on Boylston Street, are liberally selected these days by some of the best dressed ladies of Boston and New England for their spring costumes.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a line of high grade steamer rugs, which are quite as essential on a motoring trip as they are on a journey over seas. They have met the increased demand with increased stocks—more Rugs than you will see in any other Boston store.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

"A Texas Steer," one of Hoyt's greatest successes, is the play given this week by the big stock company at the Boston, and at Keith's there is one of the best of the summer vandeville programmes. The Palace continues with its stock burlesque giving two performances each day. "A Knight for a Day," at the Tremont, and "Lil" Mose," at the Majestic continue before large and appreciative audiences, and both honses are especially cool. It is the closing week of the Pops at Symphony Hall. Wonderland at Revere Beach and Paragon Park at Nantasket Beach are presenting remarkable free out-of-door acts. Features at Norumbega Park and Lexington Park are pleasing thousands of visitors daily.

One of the finest runs for automobiles in Eastern Massachusetts is that between this city and Nantasket. It is an ideal all-day trip to leave Boston about 9 a. m., make sixty-mile run to Nantasket for lunch, enjoy the fine bathing and other attractive features during the afternoon. Have dinner and then a twenty-mile run back to Boston over State or Park roads the entire distance. Starting on the run from Boston the route takes one west over Park roads to Brookline and Newton to Wellesley. Here, with a turn to the left, a southerly direction is taken through Needham, Dedham, Hyde Park, Readville, Taunton, Brockton and Campbello, where an easterly direction is taken through Whitman to Hanover. From this point the route takes a northerly direction through Norwell, Greenbush, Scituate, Egypt, North Scituate and Cohasset to Nantasket.

One of the most delightful of the many trolley trips which one can take is along the Atlantic coast where the landscape and shore views are unequalled. From Boston to Lynn, Salem, Gloucester and around Cape Ann, through the witch country and attractive resorts of the shore, the colonial and provincial history of the shore towns seen on this trip is well preserved.

Boston Athenacum, 10 Beacon Street, where a collection of valuable paintings and statuary can be seen by visitors on any week-day without charge. This library contains 100,000 volumes, among them the library of George Washington. The library of the Athenaeum is a private one and can be visited only upon the introduction of a member. When erected, this building was pronounced the most perfect for its purpose of any in this country.

Rufus Choate Statue, placed in the new Court House, was the gift of a public school master in honor of this great lawyer.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

A most interesting shop to visit is The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston Street, opposite Arlington Street, as the name signifies, red is the color that predominates, the form of architecture is that of Francis I., simple, plain, yet wonderfully effective. The proprietor, Miss Fisk, formerly of 144 Tremont Street, has a Clientele that is national as well as local—for high class Gloves, Waists, Neckwear and Veiling Trade.

Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, besides showing a full line of fine Furnishing Goods, pay special attention to Wedding Outfits, for Groom and Ushers.

We think few people realize how dainty, artistic and original is the work of the Russian Peasant, found at the Russian Importing Co., 429 Boylston Street. All products of the Russian Peasant contain some of the best original and characteristic designs in silver, bronze, copper, brass, carved wood, lace and needlework. You are sure to be interested, and are cordially invited to examine their latest importations.

One desiring to see a large assortment of exclusive neckwear of latest shapes and designs should not fail to visit Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston St.

At the linen department in the L. P. Hollander & Co.'s store they are showing a line of fine table linen in exclusive designs. Luncheon and dinner sets, fine damask cloths and lace scarf centrepieces in a large variety of patterns at prices to meet the closest competition.

Macullar Parker Co., at 400 Washington St., have ready to put on, and made to order fine Negligee, Business and Dress Shirts—also full line of fine underwear, including the Linen Mesh.

June being a popular month for weddings and few things more generally acceptable as wedding gifts than well chosen books, Charles E. Lauriat Co. have devoted the June number of their "Boston Book Notes" to a description of a selection from their stock of books that would be adapted for presentation. They will be found to cover a wide range in literature, as well as in style and price. A copy may be had free at their store, opposite the head of Franklin Street.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a line of high grade steamer rugs, which are quite as essential on a motoring trip as they are on a journey over seas. They have met the increased demand with increased stocks—more Rugs than you will see in any other Boston store.

Visit the attractive shop of J. T. Dwr, Haberdasher and Hatter, 34 Boylston Street, for Nobby Shirts, Neckwear, Hosiery, Gloves, Waistcoats, etc., where courteous clerks coupled with good merchandise, will do their best to please you.

Hall & Hancock Co., at 420 Washington St., are showing the newest and best shapes in men's hats. Men of discriminating taste will surely find what they want, be it top hat, motor cap, cane or gloves.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

That rural comedy, "Lover's Lane," which holds a warm place in the hearts of Boston playgoers, is presented this week at the Boston by the excellent stock company. The management at Keith's offers a vaudeville programme that is rare in quality for the summer season. At reduced prices for the warm weather season, "A Knight for a Day," continues its engagement at the Tremont, where cool breezes make for comfort. At the Majestic Grand Opera will hold forth with "Faust," Monday; "Carmen," Tuesday; "Il Trovatore," matinee and evening, Wednesday; "Aida," Thursday; "Faust," Friday; "Traviata," matinee and evening, Saturday. Burlesque of merit entertains the patrons of the Palace. New and startling free out-door acts are among the attractions at Wonderland, Revere Beach and Paragon Park, Nantasket Beach. There is a varied amusement for all ages at Norumbega Park and Lexington Park, both of which places are reached by trolley cars passing through the beautiful suburbs of the city.

Public Library, Copley Square. Founded 1852, is the largest library in America, and has over 550,000 volumes and 350,000 pamphlets, Erected in 1888-95 at a cost of $2,650,000. Most of the land was given by the state. The building is built of pinkish-gray granite. The building is two hundred and twenty-five feet long, two hundred and twenty-seven feet deep and seventy feet high. Joshua Bates, a native of Boston, but long a resident of London, England, gave $100,000 for the purchase of books, and since that time many generous individuals have given their large private libraries, and donated large sums of money for the use of the library. The city makes a large annual appropriation for the support of the library. (The old school building on Mason Street was the first building used for the library, and in 1858 a large new building was completed on Boylston Street. It was torn down in 1899.) The beautiful halls contain, beside the large number of books, many rare works of art, statues of brouze and marble, oil paintings, marble busts and many valuable historic relics of the city.

Trinity Church, Copley Square, the finest ecclesiastical building in New England, completed 1877. The walls are built of reddish-yellow Dedham granite and brownstone. The tower is two hundred and eleven feet high and forty-six feet square inside, with a pyramidal roof of red akron tiles. The triple-arched porch on the front was built in 1894-97. Among Trinity's rectors were Bishop Parker, Doane, Hopkins, Wainwright, Eastburn, Clark and Phillips Brooks. The society formerly occupied the granite church building destroyed by fire in 1872 on Summer Street.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

A most interesting shop to visit is The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston Street, opposite Arlington Street, as the name signifies, red is the color that predominates, the form of architecture is that of Francis I., simple, plain, yet wonderfully effective. The proprietor, Miss Fisk, formerly of 144 Tremont Street, has a Clientele that is national as well as local—for high class Gloves, Waists, Neckwear and Veiling Trade.

Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, besides showing a full line of fine Furnishing Goods, pay special attention to Wedding Outfits, for Groom and Ushers.

We think few people realize how dainty, artistic and original is the work of the Russian Peasant, found at the Russian Importing Co., 429 Boylston Street. All products of the Russian Peasant contain some of the best original and characteristic designs in silver, bronze, copper, brass, carved wood, lace and needlework. You are sure to be interested, and are cordially invited to examine their latest importations.

One desiring to see a large assortment of exclusive neckwear of latest shapes and designs should not fail to visit Blanchard, King & Co.'s, 250 Boylston St.

At the linen department in the L. P. Hollander & Co.'s store they are showing a line of fine table linen in exclusive designs. Luncheon and dinner sets, fine damask cloths and lace scarf centrepieces in a large variety of patterns at prices to meet the closest competition.

Macullar Parker Co., at 400 Washington St., have ready to put on, and made to order fine Negligee, Business and Dress Shirts—also full line of fine underwear, including the Linen Mesh.

June being a popular month for weddings and few things more generally acceptable as wedding gifts than well chosen books, Charles E. Lauriat Co. have devoted the June number of their "Boston Book Notes" to a description of a selection from their stock of books that would be adapted for presentation. They will be found to cover a wide range in literature, as well as in style and price. A copy may be had free at their store, opposite the head of Franklin Street.

Hewins & Hollis, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a line of high grade steamer rugs, which are quite as essential on a motoring trip as they are on a journey over seas. They have met the increased demand with increased stocks—more Rugs than you will see in any other Boston store.

Visit the attractive shop of J. T. Dycr, Haberdasher and Hatter, 34 Boylston Street, for Nobby Shirts, Neckwear, Hosiery, Gloves, Waistcoats, etc., where courteous clerks coupled with good merchandise, will do their best to please you.

Hall & Hancock Co., at 420 Washington St., are showing the newest and best shapes in men's hats. Men of discriminating taste will surely find what they want, be it top hat, motor cap, cane or gloves.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

"Mrs. Temple's Telegram," a society comedy that was well received in New York City, is given here for the first times this week at the Boston and the parts are especially well suited to the members of the big stock company. A programme of the most likeable summer vaudeville is offered by the management at Keith's, and at the Palace there is an amusing burlesque show. At the Tremont the musical play, "A Knight for a Day," continues on with its very successful engagement. Pawnee Bill and his great Wild West are leading features at Wonderland, Revere Beach, and many sensational free out of door acts have been arranged for the amusement of the visitors to Paragon Park, Nantasket Beach. Norumbega Park's open-air theatre is protected from the sun and the rain, so that a trip there is pleasing in all kinds of weather. Lexington Park is enjoying a large patronage from the pleasure loving public.

One of the most delightful of the many trolley trips which one can take is along the Atlantic coast where the landscape and shore views are unequalled. From Boston to Lynn, Salem, Gloucester and around Cape Ann, through the witch country and attractive resorts of the shore, the colonial and provincial history of the shore towns seen on this trip is well preserved. See page 6 for tickets and all trolley information in and about Boston.

The best way to see the Historic and interesting places in Boston and Cambridge is by going with Mr. Waterman's personally conducted parties. More is seen and learned than in any other possible way in weeks. For full particulars see page 2.

Park Street was laid out across the Common and first called Sentry Street, and the side now occupied by buildings was then the site of the granary, the almshouse for the aged and poor, the workhouse for idle persons, and the bride-well for the disorderly and insane. These buildings were removed about 1805.

The house on the corner of Park and Beacon Streets was built in 1804. Here Lafayette lived for a week in 1824 as the guest of the city.

The best and most comfortable sight seeing auto in Boston leaves Public Library in Copley Square at 10 a. m., 2 and 4 p. m.

Strangers should be sure and take this Auto if they wish to see everything of interest.

SHOPPING NEWS

Millar & Weltch, at 38 West Street, are showing a large line of Field Glasses, Telescopes and Barometers. Their Telescopes for veranda use, at the seashore and mountains are very useful and attractive.

Hats that are made with the idea in view that they shall look as well at the end of the season, barring accidents, as they do at the beginning are unusual. People who wear them will tell you they were bought at the Hall & Hancock Co., 420 Washington Street.

In addition to many exclusive novelties in shirts at Dyer's, the Boylston Street Haberdasher, attention is asked to a line of very fine Scotch Madras Cloths, made expressly for them.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, make a special feature in their Boys' Clothing Department of garments for little boys. Mothers who accompany their boys are invited to visit the Ladies' Tailoring Parlor adjoining the Boys' Department.

The display of Ladies' Embroidered Neckwear in Collars, Stocks, Jabots, and Frills in both colors and white at Miss M. F. Fish's, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., opposite Arlington St., with the smart style of Gloves which this firm always shows, makes this shop a very interesting one to visit.

L. P. Hollander & Co. have a large department for the sale of ribbons, in which they are carrying a complete stock of plaids, Roman stripes, Dresden effects, moires, peau de cygnes and faille ribbons; also many novelties in narrow ribbons for dress trimmings. They also make up bows and hair ornaments without extra charge.

The Russian Importing Company, 429 Boylston Street, displays a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

One of the handsomest conservatories in this country is that of Mr. Thomas F. Galvin on the corner of Boylston and Fairfield Streets. It is well worth a visit, not only on account of the architectural beauty of the building, but also for the large variety of rare plants with which it is stocked.

Blanchard, King & Co., 250 Boylston St., are displaying many new creations in Ladies' Neckwear, including embroidered linen collars and stocks and fancy bows.

June being a popular month for weddings and few things more generally acceptable as wedding gifts than well chosen books, Charles E. Lauriat Co. have devoted the June number of their "Boston Book Notes" to a description of a selection from their stock of books that would be adapted for presentation. They will be found to cover a wide range in literature, as well as in style and price. A copy may be had free at their store, opposite the head of Franklin Street.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Go to the cool Tremont if you'd find occasion for mirth in about the gayest musical frolic ever brought to Boston—"A Knight for a Day." The quick favor won by the piece upon the occasion of its Boston premier a month ago has been repeated at every performance since. Round up all the comedians in your memory, and the nimble legs, ready wit and comic gyrations of diminutive John Slavin must stand in the foreground of the most successful drolls. Turn over the pages of your comedienne album, and your finger must halt when you think of Miss May Vokes. The laughs agitated by these two come as thick as mulberries in July in "A Knight for a Day." Big fun spots that everyone who has seen the "A Knight for a Day." Big fun spots that everyone who has seen the piece must recall with grins are where the little waiter attempts forcibly to lift and remove the big and handsome Corsican lover, played by William Carleton while the Corsican spoons with his prima donna sweetheart, where Tilly Day, the "servant lady" played by Miss Vokes with her barrow, chattels and parrot arrives at the seminary in quest of a job; where the seminary chef while flirting with the housemaid is grotesquely inter-rupted by the discovery of his rival, Jonathan Joy, in the baby carriage; where Jonathan drops the champagne in the well, and where Tilly later drinks from the cistern and is surprised by the taste of the water; where the seminary principal encounters the housemaid after the maid's encounter with the wine charged water, and where Tilly and Jonathan attempt to elope and carry the lady's laggage down the ladder by moonlight. So many indeed, are the places in the show where loud, long laughs abound that an accounting of them is an extensive list. No such general praise has ever been accorded a summer musical production in Boston as that accorded "A Knight for a Day" by the Boston News-papers, the Transcript declaring the production to possess inconceivably beautiful and dainty effects, the Globe that it is filariously comic, the Post that it's full of music and merriment, the Herald that it took the house. The Journal that it possesses the best fun, choruses and effects of any musical piece of the season, and the American that it is a riot of mirth, melody and pretty girls.

Keith's Continuous Vaudeville Shows will be given at the Boston Theatre during the summer months, starting Monday, July 6th. The rea-son given for this move is said to be on account of Mr. Keith being desirous of making some changes and improvements on his theatre. The opportunity to do so did not occur until this summer, when with the expenditure of a large amount of money the Boston Theatre was put in a condition which justified Mr. Keith in transferring to it during the summer, the form of entertainment with which his name has become identified. Keith's Theatre will be open to visitors during the summer as it is one of the points of interest to strangers in the city.

One of the most delightful of the many trolley trips which one can take is along the Atlantic coast where the landscape and shore views are unequalled. From Boston to Lynn, Salem, Gloucester and around Cape Ann, through the witch country and attractive resorts of the shore, the celenial and provincial history of the shore towns seen on this trip is well preserved. See page 6 for tickets and all trolley information in and about Boston.

The best way to see the Historic and interesting places in Boston and Cambridge is by going with Mr. Waterman's personally conducted parties. More is seen and learned than in any other possible way in weeks. For full particulars see page 2.

The best and most comfortable sight seeing auto in Boston leaves Public Library in Copley Square at 10 a. m., 2 and 4 p. m. Strangers should be sure and take this Auto if they wish to see everything of interest.

SHOPPING NEWS

At Macullar Parker Company, 400 Washington Street, may be found Correct Dress for Evening Wear, for Day Wear and for Outing purposes,

Hats that are made with the idea in view that they shall look as well at the end of the season, barring accidents, as they do at the beginning are unusual. People who wear them will tell you they were bought at the Hall & Hancock Co., 420 Washington Street.

In addition to many exclusive novelties in shirts at Dyer's, the Boylston Street Haberdasher, attention is asked to a line of very fine Scotch Madras Cloths, made expressly for them.

The display of Ladies' Embroidered Neckwear in Collars, Stocks, Jabots, and Frills in both colors and white at Miss M. F. Fisk's, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., opposite Arlington St., with the smart style of Gloves which this firm always shows, makes this shop a very interesting one to visit.

L. P. Hollander & Co. have a large department for the sale of ribbons, in which they are carrying a complete stock of plaids, Roman stripes, Dresden effects, moires, peau de cygnes and faille ribbons; also many novelties in narrow ribbons for dress trimmings. They also make up bows and hair ornaments without extra charge.

The Russian Importing Company, 429 Boylston Street, displays a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.: also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

One of the handsomest conservatories in this country is that of Mr. Thomas F. Galvin on the corner of Bovlston and Fairfield Streets. It is well worth a visit, not only on account of the architectural beauty of the building, but also for the large variety of rare plants with which it is stocked.

Blanchard, King & Co., 250 Boylston St., are displaying many new creations in Ladies' Neckwear, including embroidered linen collars and stocks and fancy bows.

Summer visitors passing through the city or spending the summer on our shores or in the mountains can have their broken glasses replaced and returned the same day by sending them to Millar & Weltch, Opticians, at 38 West Street.

In going away for your vacation you will need to supply yourself with a few books and there is no place where you can get these to better advantage than at Charles E. Lauriat Co.'s, directly opposite the head of Franklin Street.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

The Romany Opera Company and ten star acts make up the Keith vaudeville show this week given temporarily at the Boston. The regular house, however, is open for the reception of visitors. "A Knight for a Day," continues at the Tremont much to the delight of the lovers of the light musical variety, and burlesque of merit is presented at the Palace. A long list of annusing features is offered by the management of Paragon Park, Nantasket Beach, many of them being part of the great free out of door entertainment. Those in charge at Wonderland, Revere Beach, have arranged another excellent program of amusement for the week. Norumbega Park and Lexington Park, the popular electric car resorts, are pleasing the thousands of pleasure seekers that flock to their gates.

One of the most delightful of the many trolley trips which one can take is along the Atlantic coast where the landscape and shore views are unequalled. From Boston to Lynn, Salem, Gloucester and around Cape Ann, through the witch country and attractive resorts of the shore, the colonial and provincial history of the shore towns seen on this trip is well preserved. See page 6 for tickets and all trolley information in and about Boston.

The best way to see the Historic and interesting places in Boston and Cambridge is by going with Mr. Waterman's personally conducted parties. More is seen and learned than in any other possible way in weeks. For full particulars see page 2.

Masonic Temple, corner of Tremont and Boylston Streets; built 1898-99 on the site of the Masonic Temple, dedicated 1867 and destroyed by fire 1895, occupying the site of a Masonic building destroyed by fire in 1864. The new building has a massive stone front, steel frame and is of fireproof construction. The building contains three large halls, Corinthian, Egyptian and Gothic, with numerous rooms devoted to the use of the Masonic Fraternity.

Liberty Tree, planted in 1646 and famous from 1766 to 1775, stood on the site of the building on the south corner of Washington and Essex Streets. Here the "Sons of Liberty" rallied, but the British troops destroyed the tree in 1775. On the front of the building is a large sandstone block, with representation of the tree and an inscription.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boylston Street near Clarendon Street, incorporated 1861. Two large buildings are built upon land given by the state, partly endowed by the state, and it is now the greatest scientific institute in America, if not in the world. More than 1,600 students, from every state in the Union, and students from foreign countries, attend.

SHOPPING NEWS

The latest fad to reach Boston from New York is the Picture Puzzle. From youngsters up to sedate judges the craze has them al in its grip. The Kosmos Art Co., 368 Boylston St., is showing a large assortment of them. Take some with you on your vacation.

Hewins & Hollis, the Outfitters, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a line of golf stockings in the new and fashionable shades.

Different from everything else. Every article in this shop bears the earmarks of oddity, quaintness and beauty, and is the product of Russian peasant handicraft. Artistic brass and copper ware in infinite variety can be found at the Russian Importing Company's, 429 Boylston Street.

On looking over the large assortment of men's goods carried by Hall & Hancock, Hatters, 420 Washington Street, we notice some very fine shades in Men's Gloves. They also have a fine line of canes and umbrellas.

There is a department that should be of particular interest to dressmakers and tailors at the L. P. Hollander & Co.'s store on Boylston Street. This department contains a full line of small wares, notions and dressmaking supplies.

A strikingly beautiful display of men's neckwear in the new and fashionable shades is being made by Josiah T. Dyer, the Boylston Street Haberdasher, and is certainly worthy of more than passing interest.

Summer visitors passing through the city or spending the summer on our shores or in the mountains can have their broken glasses replaced and returned the same day by sending them to Millar & Weltch, Opticians, at 38 West Street.

In going away for your vacation you will need to supply yourself with a few books and there is no place where you can get these to better advantage than at Charles E. Lauriat Co.'s, directly opposite the head of Franklin Street.

Blanchard, King & Company are showing a very attractive line of feather weight underwear, pajamas and night shirts appropriate to the weather.

At Macullar Parker Company, 400 Washington Street, may be found Correct Dress for Evening Wear, for Day Wear and for Outing purposes.

The display of Ladies' Embroidered Neckwear in Collars, Stocks, Jabots and Frills in both colors and white at Miss M. F. Fisk's, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., opposite Arlington St., with the smart style of Gloves which this firm always shows, makes this shop a very interesting one to visit.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Gems from "The Bohemian Girl," is the programme selected for The Romany Opera Company this week at the Boston, where B. F. Keith continues with his vaudeville while his regular theatre is being fixed up. His offering also includes ten star acts, making one of the best shows of the season. Patrons of the Boston are allowed to inspect Keith's, and Bijou Dream visitors may transfer to the Boston and be allowed the full price of admission paid by them to the Bijou. "A Knight for a Day," the popular musical play, continues with its great run at the Tremont, and the Palace offers a lot of fun in the way of burlesque. The summer season at Paragon Park, Nantasket Beach, is at its height, and the management gives to the public a remarkable free out-of-door entertainment comprising the most daring and sensational acts. Wonderland at Revere Beach is getting its share of the large summer patronage and here again there is an excellent free show that surpasses anything of previous years. For persons who like a fine trolley trip a visit to Norumbega and Lexington Parks is recommended.

One of the finest runs for automobiles in Eastern Massachusetts is that between this city and Nantasket. It is an ideal all-day trip to leave Boston about 9 a. m., make sixty-mile run to Nantasket for lunch, enjoy the fine bathing and other attractive features during the afternoon. Have dinner and then a twenty-mile run back to Boston over State or Park roads the entire distance. Starting on the run from Boston the route takes one west over Park roads to Brookline and Newton to Wellesley. Here, with a turn to the left, a southerly direction is taken through Needham, Dedham, Hyde Park, Readville. Taunton, Brockton and Campbello, where an easterly direction is taken through Whitman to Hanover. From this point the route takes a northerly direction through Norwell, Greenbush, Scituate, Egypt,

North Scituate and Cohasset to Nantasket.

Park Street Church, corner of Park and Tremont Streets, dedicated May 1, 1809; a prominent landmark. The basement was formerly a crypt and had about thirty-five tombs. The remains were removed to other burying grounds and the tombs removed some years ago.

Later the basement was used as a schoolroom.

Craigie House—105 Brattle Street, Cambridge. Built about 1759. Washington's headquarters 1775-1776. Occupied by Jared Sparks, Edward Everett, Joseph E. Worcester, of dictionary fame, and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. Often called Longfellow house.

King's Chapel-Tremont and School Streets. Built 1749, Old English architecture. First Episcopal church in Boston. Here British officers worshipped during siege. Became first Unitarian church in Boston, 1785. Open at services and other times to visitors.

SHOPPING NEWS

Millar & Weltch, at 38 West Street, are showing a large line of Field Glasses, Telescopes and Barometers. Their Telescopes for veranda use, at the seashore and mountains are very useful and attractive.

In going away for your vacation you will need to supply yourself with a few books and there is no place where you can get these to better advantage than at Charles E. Lauriat Co.'s, directly opposite the head of Franklin Street.

Blanchard, King & Company are showing a very attractive line of feather weight underwear, pajamas and night shirts appropriate to the weather.

At Macullar Parker Company, 400 Washington Street, may be found Correct Dress for Evening Wear, for Day Wear and for Outing purposes.

The display of Ladies' Embroidered Neckwear in Collars, Stocks, Jabots and Frills in both colors and white at $Miss\ M$. F. Fisk's, The Red Glove Shop, 322 Boylston St., opposite Arlington St., with the smart style of Gloves which this firm always shows, makes this shop a very interesting one to visit.

The latest fad to reach Boston from New York is the Picture Puzzle. From youngsters up to sedate judges the craze has them all in its grip. The Kosmos Art Co., 368 Boylston St., is showing a large assortment of them. Take some with you on your vacation.

Hewins & Hollis, the Outlitters, at 4 Hamilton Place, are showing a line of golf stockings in the new and fashionable shades.

Different from everything else. Every article in this shop bears the earmarks of oddity, quaintness and beauty, and is the product of Russian peasant handicraft. Artistic brass and copper ware in infinite variety can be found at the Russian Importing Company's, 429 Boylston Street.

On looking over the large assortment of men's goods carried by $Hall\ \mathcal{E}\ Hancock$, Hatters, 420 Washington Street, we notice some very fine shades in Men's Gioves. They also have a fine line of canes and umbrellas.

There is a department that should be of particular interest to dressmakers and tailors at the L. P. Hollander & Co.'s store on Boylston Street. This department contains a full line of small wares, notions and dressmaking supplies.

A strikingly beautiful display of men's neckwear in the new and fashionable shades is being made by Josiah T. Dyer, the Boylston Street Haberdasher, and is certainly worthy of more than passing interest.
