

Wikipedia Asian Month

Contest

Before the end of October this year, organizers set-up an event page on local Wikipedia, then put the link to the local event page in the WAM page list “Communities and Organizers”.

Wikipedia Asian Month

Contest

Organizers translate the rules into their languages, and maybe slightly modify the rules if needed. They have to call a few Wikipedians to join them as local organizers (up to five).

Wikipedia Asian Month

Contest

Organizers should post an invitation message on the village pump, Community bulletin board, mailing list, or even make a Site Notice, around two weeks before WAM starts.

Wikipedia Asian Month

Contest

The Fountain tool is hosted at Tool Labs. WAM organisers keep track of participants' progress through it. Participants also have to submit their contributions through it.

Wikipedia Asian Month

Contest

Organizers should check if articles, which are submitted by participants, have fulfilled the article criterias or not before December 31. Articles submitted by an organizer need to be checked by other organizers.