FOR GOVERNOR: B. DAWSON.

Things to be remembered at the Polls. 50 to comber that Edward D. White voted in favo at a law calculated to bring distress and ruin up and the great flourishing interest of our State. "The mail of restordey is uncommonly barren of intelli-

We have nothing from Washington. There was a great contrariety of opinion as to the precise time when Congress would adjourn. Some placed the day early in June, and others ased it as late as the middle of July.

The Louisiana in its remarks of yesterday declares against Messrs. Augustin and Allard, at present members of the House of Representatives, and it is believed, candidates for re-sleened, on the silly plea that they are opposed to the United States Bank. This grievous fault is not only to opeto dare have an opinion of his own on this or any other subject advorse to that of representative White or Senator Porter. A fine pass indeed have we come to, when a man cannot enjoy the privilege of thought without falling under the ban of interdiction of these two worth es. The question the banger is to be asked, "is he honest?" "is he capable?"the state of the test we suppose will be, "is he one of the state of t designa," &c. &c.

The Creoles of Louisana have ever been too proud to submit to dictation. They will entertain and express their opinion on national subjects freely and unreservedly, and will never regard that as a disqualifying clause to the considera-tion of the honest and independent portion of their lellow en-:4cns. The persons who would maintain the reverse, altho they have decrived many by their speciousnesss and the holl w heartedness of their professions, will no longer have the power of deing so. The game they are playing is begin-Johnson be elected, it will be by other than the Creole votes.

An extensive conflagration is noticed in the New York pa vers of the 10th inst. It originated in the workshop of Mr John Gore, Cabinet maker in the rear of No. 75 Morden st The loss is not stated, but is presumed to have been very large. One third is supposed to have been covered b

The correspondent of the Baltimore Federal Gazette, writes from Washington, that the recent despitches from Mr. Liveneston give positive assurance that the vote on the American claims, in the French House of Deputies will be reconsidered and revised.—[Charleston Courier.]

This cannot be. The questions settled as far as the House of Deputies are concerned for the present year. The reconsideration or revisal of a vote, so usual in our Legislamive badice, is incomplous in the proceedings of the French

The term "vile Irish was not original in this paper, but was one of the fine epithets which the Whig party n New York bestowed upon that gallant people after the charter election in that city, for their uncompromising magnity and steadfast support of Andrew Jackson, the noe son of an honest Irishade.

But if we could believe that any man could be thus guilty of treason to his own ambition and glory; the vote of Edward D. White, in congress offers a much greater probability that he is opposed to the protecting duty on sugar or to the tariff, than any act that Judge Dawson has ever committed, for he (White) has voted in direct opposition to the interests of the State of Louisiana.

The friends of Jidgo Dawsen, however can account, much more rationally for E. D. White's permicious vote on the tariff question than to suppose that he sought to diminish the power and glory of the State which he was desirous to gevern.

We refer it entirely to White's stupidity which preventabling from perceiving the bearing of the question on SENATORIAL SKETCHES.-Tuesday, May 13. SENATORIAL SKETCHES.—Tuesday, May 13.

Mr. Frelinghuysen presented about half a dozen distress memorials, and expressed an opinion that the Executive would become more popular than any President since the days of Washington, if he would only retrace his steps. This we are sorry to say, for the gentleman's sake, is an insuperable objection to the popularity that the opposition desired it is but a few weeks since this same gentleman considered the "President's popularity overwhelming." He has lost president's injuse.

the "President's popularity overwheiming." Fie has lost none of it since.

We are glad to turn from this subject to allude to Mr. Wright's argument on the subject of the Pension fund, and the conduct of the Bank in withholding it. He traced the whole law on this subject back to its first enactments, and showed demonstratively, that the conduct of the Bank in withholding this fund had violated them all. This speech will appear shortly in the papers; and we much mistake, if the eld pensioners do not discover that the Bank is not their friend, nor the Bank's advocates.—[Globe.]

Cape of Good Hope.—We have been loaned by Mr. Briggs, the Proprietor of the Mechanics' Reading Room, a file of Cape Town papers, received by the brig Plant, capt. Read, who procured them from a British East Indiamen, the latest of which is Feb. 15. They contain no news of importance. The number of vessels which have entered Table Bay annually, within the last twenty years, appears to be increasing in proportion to the population and internal resources of the Colony. In 1809 the number of wessels was 83—the tonnage was 27.273. In 1833, the number of vessels was 296—the tonnage was 27.273. In 1833, the number of vessels was 296—the tonnage was 27.273. He laid down a basis that there were 50 vessels and 96 cargoes, with regard to the claims for which the e did not appear to be the slightest ground for doubt or discussion. To ascertain the value of these ships and cargoes, the Government took as a criterion the value of the 35 cargoes which were sold at Bayonne, and produced at an average of 202,000 francs each. This sum multiplied by the number of cargoes will give a total of upward of twenty one millions. To which, if there be added about four millions for the value of theships, we shall have a sum exceeding twenty-six millions. shows that America cansumes nearly a quarter of the products exported from this country. It would therefore only be necessary for the American Government to augment the duties on French merchandize, in order to deprive our commerce of the immense advantages of suce an extensive export trade. If therefore remains to be decided, whether it shall be the whole population, or only the manufacturors of Lyons, Bordeaux, and some other towns, who shall pay the United States a sum which is legally due. To impose upon a portion of the commercial community the payment of this debt, would be not only unjust, but, permit me to eav, absurd. For the injury that would inevitably be done by such a measure to one or two great branches of our interesting of the country would have to submit to much greater sacrifices than that which, by rejecting this project, you should refuse to make.

The Minister in concluding, said—I am happy to say that the ratification of the Treaty of 1831, has destroyed the last vestiges of misintelligence and distrust between the two countries, and that the American government, yielding to the representations of France, hastened to fulfil the clauses of the Treaty relative to the free entry of our wines and shows that America cansumes nearly a quarter of the pro-ducts exported from this country. It would therefore only be necessary for the American Government to augment the

the United States, so as to render the Southern and Southwestern portions of our country subservient to the New England States, he wring from commercial industry its hard carniags—to build up Henry Clays tottering footstope up to the presidential chair, and to fill the Treasury of the United States with a surplus accumulation, to be hereafter employed (whom Hanry Clay shall be president) mendbing him to fulfil his favorite maxim, "give us patronge and we will make ourselves popular?"

If that is the tartif to which the Louisiana Advertiser refiers, are are prouse to say that "John B. Dawson is opposed

LATE FROM NEW YORK.

Charleston, May 22.

The steam, packet David Brown, Caffey, arrived yesterday afternoon from New York, bringing us files of the N.
York papers up to Saturday last, inclusive, and our usual copious files of other morthers and eastern papers, from which we have selected every thing deemed interesting.

A posteerist to a letter received in this city, dated Liverpool, April 9, says—

"The sales of cotton yesterday were 2009 bales, and the demand is moderate this morning. Accounts from Manchester still favorable."
