Still another of the delegations of prominent organizations which have brought Victoria into wide prominence in the past few months chose this city for their meeting place this afternoon with the arrival of two hundred and thirty members of the Northwest Electric Light and Power Association. The visitors arrived on the Seattle boat at 2.15, and were met at the C. P. R. wharf by a band and escorted to the Empress Hotel, which is to be the convention headquarters.

Convention sessions in Seattle yesterday took the form of sectional discussions of topics of interest in power and light matters. The new Washington Hotel buzzed with several such sectional meetings going on simultaneously in every part of the building.

During the sessions the wives and daughters of visiting delegates were entertained at luncheon at the hotel and later went for an extended motor tour of boulevards encircling Lake Washington. Their "splash party" at Crystal Pool last night was well attended.

FIELD FOR CAPITAL WIDE, SAYS BEATTY

Canada Desires Co-operation of British, States C. P. R. Head

Interviewed When Leaving London After Visit

London, June 28.—(Canadian Press Cable)—When interviewed as he was about to leave London, E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said that British capital and British enterprise, as all the world knows, have played a tremendous part in the development of Canada, and it is our sincere wish that Great Britain will continue to take an active part in the economic progress of the country. It is particularly pleasing to note in the interim report of the committee of the Federation of British Industries which was appointed to consider the question of Inter-Empire trade, as just presented to the British Government, that very strong recommendation has been made to the effect that the Dominions should be helped as far as possible in the development of their industrial undertakings as well as their raw materials by the provision, where possible, of British capital. This is all in the right direction.

SIR HENRY THORNTON TO CONSIDER C. N. R. ISLAND DEVELOPMENT

President of National Railways Thinks This Province Offers Best Field For Investment of Capital; Peace River Extension Will Be Built, He Asserts, and Interests Himself in Possibilities of Getting in on Big Timber Business Now Developing in Forest Areas Tributary to Victoria.

To make plans for developments on Vancouver Island as a result of the great timber activity around Cowichan Lake, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, arrived here from Seattle this afternoon.

A party of officials of the railway led by J. E. Dalrymple, vice-president of the company, went over the C. N. R. line to-day to spy out the land and will report to the president to-night. The Canadian National Island line, they found, is already bringing down upwards of 200,000 feet of logs a day from as far as the Cowichan district, and the possibilities for increasing this traffic are almost unlimited with the extension of the line to the vast Nitinat timber reserves. The C. P. R. Cowichan Lake line is bringing down 500,000 feet a day, and this amount will be nearly doubled this fall when the extension into Bear Lake, now under construction, is completed. Besides, 500,000 of finished lumber a day will be shipped out to the Lakes when the big E. J. Palmer mill is completed and most of this lumber produced through freight over the C. P. R. to the Prairies and the East.

Speaking of the millions that have been voted for the advancement of the railway, Sir Henry said that it was the intention of the board to divide this into three annual expenditures of $3,000,000 each and to utilize it on a basis of urgency in the districts opened up by the railway.

The completion of the branch line from Kamloops to Kelowna would be undertaken during the present year, and it was the intention of the board to build a branch line into the Peace River country, as it was his opinion that this was a most important district and one which must be opened up very soon.

"There would be a survey made into the Peace River, and the line which the branch would leave the main line would be decided on the results of that survey. It was probable that the work of construction would be on the list for next year's activities."

"Certainly," he said, "we shall build a branch line into the Peace River district. Not this year. Perhaps next. As to the point at which the Peace River line will cross the main line and the route it will take, I cannot say. Those matters will rest entirely with the engineers. Surveyors will be at work there this summer."

Regarding immigration generally, he said the future of the country and the railways depended on a sane but aggressive policy. The Canadian National railways would push as hard as possible to encourage good settlers from the Mother Country and, also, to attract immigration from other countries, including the Scandinavian peninsula, Denmark and Czechoslovakia. British Columbia was particularly well adapted to mixed farming and should offer strong inducements to settlers.

"Crop conditions point to a magnificent harvest," he reported. "Bullets in the mountains. More (Concluded on page 2.)"

REDAISTRIBUTION DISCUSSION IN FEDERAL HOUSE

Ottawa, June 29.—J. F. Johnston, Chief Progressive Whip, asked in the Commons this morning whether an opportunity would be given for discussion of the report of the Redistribution Committee at the present session.

"There will be an opportunity to-day or to-morrow morning," said E. McDonald, chairman of the committee, replied.

DETECTIVES HEARD AT DELORME TRIAL

Captain Pidgeon Tells of Examination of House and Garage

Another Detective Noticed Adelard Delorme's Wrist Hurt

Montreal, June 29.—When court was reopened this morning there was some delay in proceeding with the hearing of the case against Rev. Adelard Delorme, charged with the murder of his half-brother, Raoul, because the witness of two of the jury men wished to communicate with their husbands. The women were permitted to write to their husbands, all correspondence to be scrutinized by the court.

Detective Captain Pidgeon, cross-examined by Allyn Taschereau, K.C., counsel for the defence, said no opinion had been offered on a search of the whole Delorme house. The officer said detectives had examined the room but had not found traces of them. They had found none in the room Raoul had used, nor signs of blood.

Mr. Taschereau then asked if when the detectives examined the Abbe's garage they looked at the seats. The detective said they had not lifted them. They were for a search of the car and while they were looking at it offered to turn on the extension light so they could see better. They found three cushions, two in the car and one in the garage. The witness said the detectives had noticed stains on the cushions but did not know what they were. They had also noticed two quilts the Abbe used on trips.

Revolver and Cartridges. When the Abbe handed him his revolver, one of his companions put it in his pocket. He understood that when the box of cartridges was picked up the shells inside rattled.

Captain Pidgeon said they had all gone back together to the headquarters, where the shells were counted. Another box of cartridges had been handed in by the Abbe later. They were for a different size of gun. They had come from his safe.

Detective Des Grossilliers, examined by Mr. Calder, said he had noticed when the Abbe came to the morgue to identify his brother's body, that his wrist had been hurt.

Automatic Revolver. Detective Captain Pidgeon was on the witness stand during the session of the court yesterday afternoon. He (Concluded on page 2.)

London, June 28.—The owners of the British steamship Travessa, which sank in the Indian Ocean a month ago, received a cablegram from Mauritius Island to-day announcing the arrival of the second of the steamship's lifeboats with sixteen men aboard.

The other lifeboat, in which were the captain and sixteen members of the crew, was yesterday reported to have reached the island after a trip of more than three weeks during which the men subsisted on condensed milk and one biscuit a day. They traveled a distance of 1,750 miles in their open boat.

KEARLEY GAVE FERGUSON WELCOME

Premier-Elect of Ontario Honored in Home Town

Toronto, June 29.—The modest little town of Kemptonville has suddenly become a place of note, not only because of the homecoming of last night gave its favorite son, G. Howard Ferguson, Premier-elect of Ontario, but also because it is there that Mr. Ferguson is expected to put on the final touches in building his Cabinet.

New suggestions of likely Cabinet members continue to pour in, with Major Gray, of Leeds County, as one of the new men mentioned for the portfolio of Highways.

In Central Ontario the hydro-electric question and how it will be dealt with by the new Government are creating as much interest as the personnel of the Cabinet, with which it is intimately linked up. It is generally agreed that Sir Adam Beck, with whom Mr. Ferguson is soon to have a conference, will be offered a place in the Cabinet; but there is doubt whether Sir Adam will not prefer to remain as trustee of the municipality in the public ownership commission rather than be representative of the Provincial Government on the Hydro-Electric Commission.

It is reported that Hon. Manning Doherty will be the leader of the Farmer group in the new Legislature.

FRENCH-BELGIAN REPLY TO GERMANY EXPECTED SOON

Paris, June 28.—The end of the Belgian Cabinet crisis is within sight in advice from Brussels and will enable the French and Belgian Governments to come to an early agreement on the reply to be made to the recent German reparations proposals, and it was said in official circles to-day.

The little information that is available as to the negotiations between Paris and London indicates that there is no prospect of an early settlement of the British and French viewpoints on this subject.

Supplementary Estimates Approved By Commons

Ottawa, June 29.—During the debate on the supplementary estimates while the House was in committee last evening, Premier King, answering criticism, defended the Government's action in bringing down the estimates. No effort was being made to prevent the House discussing the supplementary estimates as fully as the members desired, he said. The main estimates had been distributed evenly over the session for the purpose of thorough consideration, and while members hoped the session would end Saturday, such haste was by no means necessary. He suggested that if his critics felt they would not have sufficient time to go fully into the business before them he would be glad to meet their view and have the sittings of the House continue next week.

Deputy Ministers.
In defence of the increases to Deputy Ministers, Premier King said that Major Bell, Deputy Minister of Railways, had been offered $20,000 a year to go to a private concern. Sir Henry Drayton claimed it was going to cost $548,000,000 to meet the expenses of the Dominion this year. Robert Forke, Progressive leader, thought the Government, in bringing down the supplementary estimates so late, was not affording proper opportunity for discussion.

Nova Scotia.
On a vote of $553,844 for harbors and rivers in Nova Scotia, O. R. Gould, Progressive, Assiniboia, stated that in the supplementary estimates the per capita amount in Nova Scotia was $1.25, in Saskatchewan 4 1/2 cents and in Alberta 9 1/2 cents.

L. R. Martell, Liberal, Hants, interjected the remark that there were no harbors or rivers in the prairie provinces.

Hon. W. S. Fielding thought the per capita expenditure was not a fair test. It was emphasizing the purely provincial view to compare the per capita expenditure of the provinces.

Hon. E. M. Macdonald explained that the maritime provinces necessarily required heavier expenditures because of the numerous towns and villages located on the coast. The people living in those towns must have access to the sea to live. The committee proceeded to discuss the items making up the total vote.

Mentioned Camp Borden.
W. A. Boys, Chief Conservative Whip, protested against sixty-eight items totalling more than $500,000 being voted for the one province of Nova Scotia while it was impossible to get $50,000 to provide a decent road to Camp Borden.

T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto North, wanted to know what the Progressives thought about all these estimates.

O. R. Gould suggested that as votes of this kind were a hardy annual, it might be well to create a small crew to make a wharf all around the province.

David Spence, Conservative, Parkdale (Toronto), intimated that his knowledge of geography would never lead him to believe there could be space for so many wharves along the Nova Scotia coast.

"It is just buying a vote here and there," he declared.

Another check to the committee's progress occurred when, on an item of $40,000 for dredging at Lunenburg, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Conservative, Wellington South, Ontario, moved that the amount be reduced by $15,000, more particularly as a protest against the Government's action in bringing down these estimates so late in the session.

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, declared he would support the motion, but he considered $40,000 a very large amount to be expended for dredging.

GERMAN U-BOAT COMMANDERS ARE HELD BY FRENCH

London, June 29.—Three German U-boat commanders who escaped from the arm of the law after their exploits in the war are now prisoners of the French in the Ruhr and are likely to receive stern justice, says the Dusseldorf correspondent of The Daily Mail.

They are Paul Audier, who commanded the submarine 9-A; Otto Herden and Commander Rose, who navigated the U-53 in its trip to the coast of the United States in 1915.

Brussels, June 29.—Premier Theunys succeeded to-day in reaching an agreement with the members of his Cabinet who resigned June 14 and the Ministers will retain their portfolios.

THE C. N. R. AND THE WEST COAST.

It can be taken for granted that Sir Henry Thornton will have to be persuaded that there is business in prospect before he will recommend the Government to vote more money for capital outlay on the Canadian National system. During the course of his present tour he will hear a great deal about the opportunities in British Columbia and other parts of the country that merely await the advent of the railway.

We contend that it would be good business for the system to construct a logging railway into the untold timber wealth of the West Coast. Sir Henry will have learned already that the present activity in the lumber industry on Vancouver Island is merely a fraction of the development that would take place if better facilities existed to get the stuff out and loaded at this end.

It therefore follows that there is a good argument in favor of railway development that will have the effect of opening up a tremendously wealthy timber area. Such an extension of the Canadian National's interests in this respect would not only justify itself in the earning of business in the purely hauling sense of the term, it would furnish an additional argument in favor of carrying out the improvements adjacent to the Outer Wharves and the negotiation of an arrangement with the street railway company at the other end of the system.

CHLOROFORMING THE BILL.

The Senatorial committee appointed to inquire into the pensions situation has made a number of recommendations as an alternative to the legislation which unanimously passed the House of Commons, but urges that before the existing law is altered there should be a thorough examination of the operation of the pension systems in Great Britain and the United States.

As to the value of the committee's recommendations in a general sense it is necessary only to reflect that whereas the Beland Bill—which the Senate majority does not like although it passed the House of Commons unanimously—embodies the views of the Ralston Commission, a highly competent and impartial body which conducted an exhaustive investigation consuming many weeks, it took the committee only three or four days to arrive at decisions which would either shelve the whole business or make the Bill so unsatisfactory as to involve its rejection.

The committee seeks to frighten the public into supporting the chloroforming operation upon which the Senate is now engaged, by claiming that the cost to the country of the application of the Beland legislation would amount to $32,000,000 in twenty-five years. Even if the figures are correct, this would average something like a million and a quarter a year, a much smaller contribution to one of our most deserving causes than we thought it would be.

THE NEW HIGHWAY.

When the Banff-Windermere Road is officially opened on Saturday of this week a new argument in favor of the early completion of the transprovincial highway will have been furnished. There is no suggestion in this that the one should have been built before the other. They are both highly essential to the future development of this Province and the tourist travel of the country in general.

But the people of Vancouver Island and the people of the Coast cities of the Mainland are especially interested in this new link because they are very rightly concerned lest the motorist from the South should use the new road as a means of getting to the Interior of British Columbia to the total exclusion of the present disjointed means of access. They will logically contend that much greater business—business that should soon pay for the incomplete stretch of road—could be obtained if the tourist could come to this Island and feast on the beauties of the Western section of the Province and then continue his way to the Eastern boundary to Banff.

It goes without saying that the road which is to be opened formally on Saturday will add materially to the appeal of British Columbia and the neighboring Province; we can only add that this section of the country will get the benefits to which it is justly entitled only when the motorist can go from Vancouver Island to the Alberta boundary without dipping into the United States for a through road.

OUR WELCOME VISITORS.

If many more organizations come to Victoria to hold their annual conventions it will really be necessary to invent some new form of welcome with which to express our pleasure at being honored by such diversified interests as have chosen this favored spot so far this year. On more than one occasion we have been privileged to entertain at least two distinct bodies and on more than one occasion the gatherings in question have been of an international nature—a pleasing feature of which we do not lose sight.

ON THE JOB FOR B. C.

Although this part of the country has no cause for complaint in respect of Federal appropriations for public works in one form or another, it should afford British Columbians a fair amount of satisfaction to know that a good deal of attention is being paid to important details. Which promptly suggests to our mind that this Province is being excellently served by the Minister of Public Works—Dr. King.

Not so long ago certain interests in the City of Vancouver were demanding statements of policy from British Columbia's representative in the Dominion Cabinet. In one instance Dr. King was commanded to wire his reply in order that it could be placed before a public meeting at seven o'clock the same night. He wired, of course, but dropped the hint that his public duty involved responsibility to the Dominion of Canada and not to a small body of politicians in any one section of the country.

However Dr. King was merely amused at the daily publication of his portrait with its "not interested" sign. He was working out policies for B.C. and other Provinces that have turned out to be quite satisfactory even to his critics in Vancouver. And we agree with a Mainland contemporary in its suggestion that "for this satisfactory state of affairs we have to thank the fact that a British Columbia member occupies the portfolio of Public Works."

NOTE AND COMMENT

Even the self-styled provisional President of Africa must feel pretty warm in his Eastern American jail these days.

Hot and dry weather is upon us. Campers and British Columbians in general will please protect their own property by exercising care with fire in any form.

For the benefit of the alarmists and those who seem to have lost sight of important points in connection with the ship liquor controversy we should like to suggest that Great Britain and the United States will not go to war over "booze."

When will the nations of the world get out of the habit of imagining that somebody is always on the point of starting a new war? When will the people insist upon governments that are prepared to trust a little bit more to Providence in these matters—to have a little faith in the policy of mutual trust?

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

RURAL CREDITS.

Winnipeg Free Press:—In view of the very great importance to agriculture of the adoption of a system of agricultural credits it is desirable that there should be some definite assurance that parliament intends to give the matter early consideration. The financial leaders of the country should also realize that they are looked to for co-operation in solving the problem and providing for a serious deficiency in the present credit system of the country.

THE NEXT ELECTION.

Saskatoon Star:—There will be no election this year, but it seems extremely likely that the country will vote after the next session of parliament. The Liberals apparently are not confident that the vote of the west, taken this year, would enhance their majority, but expect to improve their position within twelve months. A decline in the fervor of Progressive sentiment is naturally anticipated and a swing toward the government looked for on account of its good administrative record. Another protectionist budget, however, will be a hard thing to explain away in the West.

GRADUATING BALL SET FOR SATURDAY

Over Three Hundred Expected to Attend Function at High School

The students of the Victoria High School are now preparing for the official closing of the institution, and will celebrate the termination of the year in fitting style, with one of the biggest graduating dances ever held in the building. Arrangements are being made which will insure the success of the occasion, in every way possible. Decorations are novel, and at the same time most striking, and are to be completed Saturday. All through the day the students will work in the school making the place look attractive, and during the evening they will enjoy the results of their labors.

It is expected that over three hundred students and ex-students will attend the function, and as it is one of the greatest social events of the school year, the preparations for it are under the strictest supervision. It is the wish of the students that they may have many years remember.

The music which will be supplied the dancers during the evening by Ozard's five-piece orchestra, is being arranged by Mr. Houck of the Chamber of Commerce caterer. The refreshments will be of the finest, and particulars of the arranging for the repeat have been left entirely in the hands of caterer. Tickets are obtainable at Diggins, at the High School or from students. The committee in charge of arrangements is as follows: D. Rogers, H. Champion, D. Marriott, P. Wilson, R. McKay, W. Blankenbach and V. Bailey.

AUSTRALIANS ARE WELCOMED TO CITY

The Empire nations, and only by their solidarity can the Empire continue to exist. The present purchasing power, he went on, of the Dominions and colonies constituted 40 per cent. of Britain's trade. "Australia's share," he said, "in this result is particularly substantial. Last year Australia's total trade with the Mother Country amounted to £120,000,000. We sold Britain wheat, wool, butter, cheese, fruits (fresh and dried), and other products worth £64,000,000, which works out at £11, 15s. 6d. per capita of our population. We bought from Britain manufactured goods worth £65,750,000, or in other words, at £11 18s. 6d. worth for every man, woman and child in Australia."

Discussing these figures, Sir George asked if it were not reasonable that they should ask for some little assistance in marketing their settlers' products on the British market. On their imports from Britain, he said, they gave a general preference amounting to £400,000 a year; in return they did not ask for any general preference, they only asked that in place of buying dried and canned fruits from foreign countries, British would give them an opportunity of marketing their equally good products grown by British people on Empire soil.

In conclusion, Sir George said:

Problems Similar. "You in Canada have the same problems as we have in Australia. You have the advantage over us in having next door, in the United States, a huge consuming public. For this reason you are not so dependent upon the British market as we are for an outlet for your products. Similarly, as trade must balance, you buy much more heavily than we do the manufactures of American and Canada is correspondingly a smaller buyer of British manufactures. Nevertheless you, like Australia, have for your goods a substantial preference to British goods. Like us, therefore, you are keenly interested in the extension of the small preference which Britain gives to the Dominion products she buys."

Traditions of Race.

Hon. H. S. H. Lawson said: "The question has been asked, what is to be the nation in the world that will have the dominating influence? I consider that the world is so international to-day that no country can stand aloof and say that this is no concern of it. The leadership of the world depends on the ideals and principles upon which the country is governed."

"What about Britain? Britain has never repudiated her obligations. (Loud applause.) We must aim, if possible, at a generation of English-speaking peoples, and if that is possible then I believe the war will cease. But we must get together round the equal table of John Bull and Company and work out our separate and common problems. At the same time if we realize that the government of the world is a spiritual thing we have no reason to fear that the British Empire will fail to maintain its traditions and its pride of place."

"Don't get away with the idea that the Mother Country is decadent. There are some people get a foolish notion, a stupid conceit, that the old man had got fossilized and that the youngsters must teach him. From my impressions of the way the business men of Great Britain do things that is a very false attitude. We can not teach the Mother Country much."

The Australian party includes: Sir George Fuller and his secretary; Captain Clifford Hay; Hon. H. S. H. Lawson and his secretary, and Mrs. Lawson; Mr. J. S. McEwen, Mr. Herbert C. Richards, M.P., and former mayor of Adelaide; Mr. W. G. Conley, general manager of The Sydney Morning Herald.

FIRE IN BARN

Hundreds of people watched a spectacular blaze in an old barn near the corner of Courtney and Vancouver Streets shortly before eleven last night. The building was the property of the Christ Church Cathedral Trust, and used until recently by the Boy Scouts as headquarters. When plans for the new Memorial Hall

The alarm to fire headquarters sent the engine post haste to the wrong section of the city, and it was not until valuable minutes had been lost before the scene of the fire was reported to the department. After a sharp, brisk fight the flames were brought under control.

A FINE RETORT. Two men were hotly discussing the merits of a book. Finally one of them, himself an author, said to the other: "No, John, you can't appreciate it. You never wrote a book yourself."

A TRYING GIRL. "Mary, have you cemented the handle on to the water jug, which you dropped yesterday?" "I started to, mum, but I dropped the cement bottle."

IN WOMAN'S SOLEMN

ELDERLY LADIES ENTERTAINED AT BUTCHART GARDENS

Mrs. Butchart Is Charming Hostess to Aged Women's Home Inmates

Those who believe that the inborn love of flowers becomes dormant as the physical activities decline would have hesitated to apply that theory to the happy band of elderly pilgrims from the Aged Women's Home who found a radiant beauty in the glories of Benvenuto Gardens last evening.

Those women who in the evening of life are compelled by infirmities to restrict their pleasures to a small compass rejoiced in the June flowers, cheered by the gracious hostess, Mrs. Butchart. To Ex-Commissioner Joseph North is due the thanks of the inmates for organizing the tour.

Some 40 ladies, all inmates of the Home, were given one of the most enjoyable events of their lives when they were entertained at the gardens.

The "Post Flower Shop" was kind in its donation of beautiful bouquets of sweet peas and carnations. Each lady was presented with a bouquet.

Those organizing are greatly indebted to Mr. H. Green and the C. & C. Taxi Co., tally-ho for their generosity in placing the large and spacious cars at the ladies' disposal.

A wonderful drive to the gardens at Brentwood occupied the first hour of the enjoyable programme. Mr. and Mrs. Butchart were there awaiting the arrival of the party. Tables had been placed on the lawn under the shady trees and when all were seated most delightful refreshments were served.

The house was thrown open to the entire party. Selections on the organ were played. A pleasant surprise was given the ladies just before their return to the city. Mrs. Butchart had arranged a large number of boxes containing mixed candy, and these were distributed just before the close of the afternoon.

TROUSERS GARB FOR WAITRESSES

Famous London Store Adopts Quartier Latin Dress

London, June 28.—Selfridge's big London store has introduced trousered waitresses in the luncheon hall. "This innovation means quicker service," said an official to a newspaper representative. "The girls are able to move about more easily and the general effect is certainly attractive. Altogether they are ten of these trousered waitresses and in less than 24 hours they have all got over any little feeling of self-consciousness. We have no intention of extending the idea to the other departments, and girls with boyish figures have been selected to wear the costume."

A costume based on that of the French school student, has been especially designed. It consists of a simple black tassel white cap, shaped like a student's beret, a white puritan collar, light navy blue coat, widely flounced and reaching nearly to the knee, peg-top trousers, with a broad, black stripe and high-heeled patent leather shoes.

"If we did not like them we shouldn't wear them," said one of the waitresses. I felt a bit strange at first, but that feeling soon wore off and the customers didn't seem in the least surprised."

OPEN NEW STUDIOS.

Mrs. W. H. P. Sweeney and Miss Donough, the well-known artists, have transferred their studio to the new Hallebury Building at the corner of Fort and Government Streets, and are this week holding their formal opening. Mrs. Sweeney and Miss Donough are showing a number of their charming studies in water-colors, plaster models, book-ends, wall plaques and similar aids to decoration.

Garden Fete a Success.

Many visitors thronged the pretty gardens at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Colliester, Selkirk Avenue, overlooking the Gorge, on Wednesday afternoon. The stalls, with their abundance of attractive wares, were well patronized, and the enjoyable affair resulted in the raising of over $50 for the work of St. Paul's Church, Victoria West.

ST. JOHN'S SCENE OF PRETTY WEDDING

Nuptials Wednesday of W. A. Blake and Miss Hazel Smith

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at St. John's Church at 2.30 on Wednesday afternoon, when the Rev. F. A. Chadwick united in marriage Hazel E. Smith, daughter of Mr. Benjamin Smith, of Barrie, Ontario, and Mr. William Alfred Blake, of Victoria.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her aunt, Mrs. Fred Grant, wore a wedding gown of white Canton crepe and embroidered Brussels net veil. The bouquet was a shower of "sweetheart" roses. Her only attendant, Miss Jean Rutledge, looked very smart in a dress of mauve crepe de Chine with hat to match, and carried a shower of mauve and pink sweet peas. The groom was supported by Mr. Horace Mansell.

Mr. G. Jennings Burnett presided at the organ, and during the signing of the register, Mrs. E. Paterson sang most sweetly, "All Joy Be Thine."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Grant, 1016 Princess Avenue. Roses, peonies and ferns were effectively used as floral decorations in the home and the table, centred with the handsome wedding cake, surrounded with pink and white roses, was presided over by Mrs. Ernest Downes and Mrs. Rowbottom, while the laces were cut by Mrs. Ernest Downes, Mrs. Rowbottom, Mrs. Allan, Gertrude Smethurst, Irene and Lal O'Neill assisted in serving. Later in the afternoon the happy couple left by motor for Campbell River and on their return will reside at 849 Princess Avenue.

A costume based on that of the French school student, has been especially designed. It consists of a simple black tassel white cap, shaped like a student's beret, a white puritan collar, light navy blue coat, widely flounced and reaching nearly to the knee, peg-top trousers, with a broad, black stripe and high-heeled patent leather shoes.

"If we did not like them we shouldn't wear them," said one of the waitresses. I felt a bit strange at first, but that feeling soon wore off and the customers didn't seem in the least surprised."

OPEN NEW STUDIOS.

Mrs. W. H. P. Sweeney and Miss Donough, the well-known artists, have transferred their studio to the new Hallebury Building at the corner of Fort and Government Streets, and are this week holding their formal opening. With them is associated Mrs. Woollatt, who is dealing in antiques of the finer sort, including old silver, Sheffield plate and other objects d'art in their Decourt studios.

Mrs. Sweeney and Miss Donough are showing a number of their charming studies in water-colors, plaster models, book-ends, wall plaques and similar aids to decoration.

DEMONSTRATED HAT MAKING.

At a special meeting of the Esquimalt Women's Institute held in the Parish Hall yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Davidson gave an interesting demonstration of paper hat-making. Each member was allowed an opportunity of proving her aptitude in the art. The demonstration was much enjoyed, and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Davidson.

There's time in the package

Time to do the many things ordinarily put off on wash-day. For Rinsol does not keep you standing over the wash-tub, rubbing until your back aches and your hands are red and sore.

Rinsol, an entirely different kind of soap, soaks clothes clean. Rubbing and boiling are unnecessary. The big soapy Rinsol suds gently loosen the most ground-in dirt without weakening a single thread.

NOTE: In hard water it takes from 1 to 2 packages of Rinsol to a tub to make good suds. In very hard water you will need from 1 1/2 to 2 packages to get the big lathering suds that loosen all the dirt.

TO HELP FORWARD PEACE OF WORLD

One of Objects of World Educational Conference
Many Delegates Meeting in San Francisco

San Francisco, June 29.—Divided into eight groups, each of which will discuss—international, educational problems, the World Educational Conference, with delegates from fifty foreign countries and from every state and territorial possession of the United States, is in progress here.

The delegates through an interchange of ideas, hope to perfect a basic working programme for universal education.

Another feature, which has attracted widespread attention, is the proposed plan to co-ordinate the educational agencies of the world so that some plan will be devised that will eliminate wars and insure to the world universal peace. Educators declare that only through closest co-operation can such a result be accomplished.

Two of the most outstanding groups are those devoted to consideration of pan-Pacific and international cooperation problems. At the first of the education plan to devise ways and means of binding more compactly the educational agencies of the Pacific countries. Closer union will eventually bring about a greater international understanding and friendliness, educators assert.

Embassy Attaches.

On the latter the delegates will discuss the advisability of recommending to the Governments of the world the provision of educational attaches at all Embassies and Legations. If such action should be taken, many of the educators declare, the interchange of educational ideas among the various nations would lead ultimately to beneficial results to all nations.

Much interest has been aroused in the educational problems of the Oriental and South American countries. All countries in South America and the Orient have sent delegates to the conference.

The opening session of the conference was devoted principally to organization work.

CHIEFS OF C. N. R. INSPECTING LINE

Investigate Extension of Service On Island to Mile 69

Leading Canadian National Railway officials started north from here this morning on the National line to make arrangements for extending service from Victoria to Mile 69, some four miles south of Cowichan Lake.

The party included: J. E. Dalrymple, Vice-President in charge of Canadian National traffic; E. L. Decary, Director; W. G. Manders, Freight Traffic Manager; and J. M. Horne, General Freight Agent.

J. E. DALRYMPLE

Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National system, and other officials will reach here from Seattle to-day and confer with the Chamber of Commerce on improvements to the National line on the Island. Sir Henry is accompanied by A. E. Warren, General Manager; J. R. Cameron, Assistant General Manager; F. G. Dawson, Director; H. H. Melanson, General Passenger Traffic Manager; H. A. Dixon, Chief Engineer; R. Creelman, Passenger Traffic General Superintendent; G. A. McNicholl, General Passenger Agent; S. Morrison, District Engineer; and G. A. Gaston, guest of Sir Henry.

C. N. R. heads who went up the Island to-day will look into the traffic possibilities of the National line. They will examine particularly the logging operations that are proceeding south of Cowichan Lake, where several new camps are being opened up now. Logs cut by these camps will travel south on the National line. Increasingly, operations will justify the extension of service to Mile 69, it is believed.

SEARCH FOR MISSING FERNIE RESIDENT

Hat Found On River Bank; Foot-Prints in Mud
Accident Occurred—Shortly After Marriage

Fernie, B.C. June 29.—The search for Frank Gilbert, the missing Fernie bridegroom, who left his home at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, just ten hours after his wedding, is now confined to the Elk River. His hat was found yesterday on the south bank of the river, and bloodstains which were brought here from Lethbridge have traced his movements from the rear fence of his residence, along Riverside Avenue, through the brush that borders the river to the north river bank. At this point two heel prints were deeply imbedded in the mud on the bank, and a branch of a tree hanging in the river was broken.

Gilbert for some time had been suffering from serious stomach trouble, and it is believed that after having partaken of a heavy dinner following the wedding, he suffered a severe attack of indigestion during the night and on leaving the house tried to cure himself by taking a long walk.

STATED VIEWS ON SHIP LIQUOR

Difficult Question, Curzon Told British Upper House
Britain Will Not Agree to Twelve-Mile Limit

London, June 29.—Marquis Curzon, addressing the House of Lords yesterday on the ship liquor question, stated it was a very difficult and delicate matter, raising grave issues in both international law and policy. The British Government was not concerned with prohibition in the United States. It was concerned with the treatment meted out to British ships in United States waters and the degree in which that treatment conformed to or departed from international practice.

He would discuss the legal rights of the United States to impose conditions on foreign vessels entering its waters, because on this subject international law was decisive. He detailed the steps taken by Great Britain, starting with a note to the United States Government from the British Ambassador at Washington after Attorney-General Daugherty's ruling that the Volstead Act applied to foreign ships.

Unprecedented.

"We pointed out, he continued, that for any state, even constructively to project the operation of its strictly domestic municipal law on foreign vessels on the high seas which was the practical effect of the American ruling—would be unprecedented, and if adopted by other states would subject all shipping other than that of the United States to a conflict of authority.

"The United States acknowledged rights of this nature, but did not enter into discussion of its arguments."

Legal Position.

Great Britain's legal position, according to its legal authorities, Lord Curzon said, was as follows:

"There are two recognized principles of international law which prevent us from contending that the United States committed a violation of international law in forbidding foreign vessels to bring liquor within its waters. The first is that foreign trading with a country must comply with its laws, and the second is that every sovereign independent state is supreme over all persons and property within its dominion, including ships in its territorial waters."

"That is the strict interpretation of the law; but there are other considerations of scarcely inferior validity and importance. The principles to which I have referred cannot be pushed to extremes, but must be applied with moderation and good sense. A ship is a travelling unit passing from one state to another, and therefore cannot be treated as a necessity of complying with other legal systems which may not be consistent with the law of the particular country it happens to be visiting."

Close Relationship.

"Furthermore, it is universally recognized that a ship has a particularly close relationship to the state whose flag she flies, and on many matters it is generally convenient that all Governments should recognize the law of the state as paramount."

"This, however, is international practice rather than international law, and accordingly departure from it means a breach not of international law but of the comity of nations. Thus, if a nation acts unreasonably toward the ships of other nations, the latter may retaliate."

Breaking of Seals.

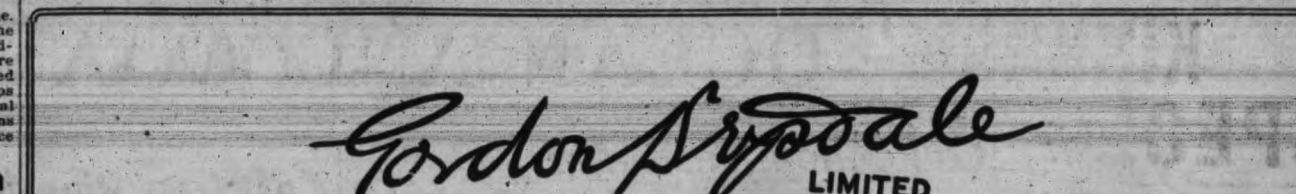

Referring to the breaking of the British customs seals, Lord Curzon explained that the seals were not sacrosanct outside of British waters.

"A consideration is that the real motive of the United States Government in allowing the matter to come to a head at the present time is more probably their desire to put pressure on us to check the traffic in contraband liquor, notably from the West Indies."

"This appears from the fact that the latest United States Government note to Great Britain proposes to couple the two questions."

No Twelve-Mile Limit.

Lord Curzon concluded by detailing the latest United States proposal for the establishment of a twelve-mile limit as a temporary arrangement against a reversal of the Supreme Court ruling, which he described as a complex proposal which was being considered by the special committee. It was at this point that he declared that Great Britain could not under any circumstances agree to such a proposal.

Carries Nationality.

Lord Birkenhead said a considerable school of international lawyers held that Great Britain could not carry its nationality with it. This was the case both in the United States and this country.

He hoped British diplomacy would ask the United States in the exercise of that discretion which a majority of the judges of the Supreme Court of the United States would at the same time possess to infuse some mitigation into this system, which, while maintaining unimpaired the policy of the United States, would at the same time relieve British shipping of a serious and unnecessary burden.

Influence On Relations.

Viscount Grey expressed anxiety as to the effects the difficulty might have on British relations with the United States. In his opinion, liquor smuggling was not a temporary phase and would cause friction if continued. There was undoubtedly a cause for irritation on both sides, and he urged that a real attempt be made by both Governments to settle the question.

WALES BREEDS DRAFTERS

Prince Vise With Record of His Grandfather as Foremost Horseman; Has Canadian Ranch

London, June 29.—The Prince of Wales, by riding winners in amateur point to point races, playing polo, breeding and exhibiting hackneys, officiating as president of the National Pony Society, riding to hounds and, last but not least, establishing a ranch in Canada for rearing Clydesdale draft horses, now bids fair to supplant his grandfather, King Edward, as the foremost horseman of Britain's royal family.

To manage his 4,000-acre ranch in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains of Alberta the Prince has engaged Prof. W. L. Carlisle, formerly prominent in the United States in connection with agricultural colleges and Government experiments in horse breeding. Prof. Carlisle has sailed from Scotland with Clydesdale fillies purchased for breeding purposes.

ESCAPED INDIAN WAS RECAPTURED

Regina, June 29.—After limping fifty miles in an attempt to leave the Regina jail and get back to his family, John Cote, an escaped Indian prisoner, was captured near Muscow, Sask., yesterday afternoon. The arrest was the culmination of a twenty-hour chase during which policemen braved a rain storm, ploughed through roads that resembled quagmire and built a bridge in order that they might proceed.

VETERANS' PETITION BEFORE COMMONS

Ottawa, June 29.—A petition signed by officers of the various veterans' associations in Canada was submitted in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon by J. T. JUDGE CONFIRMED LIQUOR SENTENCE

Vancouver, June 29.—After a spirited legal argument between H. S. Wood, Crown attorney, and Oscar Orr, counsel for Walter Mullins, of Alert Bay, appealing from a conviction for selling liquor, Judge Cayley yesterday disposed of the latest attack on the Government Liquor Act by holding that Scotch whiskey did not come within the malt liquor and beer section.

Mr. Orr contended that the milder penalties provided for offences connected with "malt liquor and beer" included Scotch whiskey, because he had brought expert evidence to show that Scotch whiskey was made chiefly of malt.

"I must interpret the section not only according to the literal meaning of the words, but the spirit of the Act," said Judge Cayley.

Mullins' original sentence of six months was confirmed, but was made to run from the date of his arrest in April.

JAMES M. BECK ARGUES BEFORE PRIVY COUNCIL

London, June 29.—James M. Beck, Solicitor-General of the United States, was attired in a wig and gown when he made his much-discussed appearance before the Privy Council yesterday in the case of the United States against Motor Traction Ltd. of Ontario. The five judges who heard the arguments wore civilian clothes.

There had been much discussion as to whether Mr. Beck would follow the United States or British custom with regard to the wig.

A CALIFORNIA RULING

San Francisco, June 29.—A contract between a white man and a Japanese whereby the latter is to settle upon agricultural land for the purpose of preparing it for planting, receive wages for his work and share in future profits on an equal basis, is not a violation of the alien land law passed by the Legislature November 2, 1920, the Supreme Court decided yesterday.

Calibration Tests Are Completed at Pachena

Federal Government Will Act Upon Report of Engineers and Start Expected to Be Made in Establishment of Wireless Direction Finding Station On West Coast

Calibration tests which have been carried out at Pachena Point in connection with the proposal of the Dominion Government to establish a wireless direction finding station on the west coast of Vancouver Island, were completed this week by J. D. Taylor, assistant engineer to the Dominion Wireless Telegraph Department, and a report on the findings will be made in the near future. The location of the proposed wireless direction finding plant may or may not be at Pachena Point, but the probabilities are that it will be. Assistant Engineer Taylor has been on the West Coast since the beginning of June and has been carrying out a series of tests with a staff of assistants. The Government steamer Malaspina was utilized in connection with the tests from seaward. The Government's final decision will be made largely upon the report of the test engineer. In the event of Pachena Point being considered unsuitable for the establishment of such a station, tests will be made at other points along the coast-line.

Logical Point. Pachena, however, is considered the logical point for the station, as offshore ships entering the Straits of Juan de Fuca in thick weather would better be able to check up cross bearings with the American station at Tatoosh.

The Dominion Government plans to complete the wireless direction finding station on the coast this Summer. It is expected that at least two operators will be stationed at the station and buildings will shortly be erected for the operators and plant.

When the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Africa Maru, which will sail this afternoon on her return voyage to the Orient, will have aboard a consignment of twenty head of cattle and three hogs, all blooded stock shipped at Tacoma for the Government experimental farm near Tokyo. The Africa Maru will arrive here about 4 p. m. from Seattle and will put down the Straits later in the evening bound for Yokohama. She is taking out a capacity cargo of freight. The Hawaii Maru is expected simultaneously with the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia, posted to arrive Monday from Yokohama.

Cast Iron Pipe for Yates Water Main on Craftsman

Cast iron pipe to speed up the pressure of the City water mains on the high ground of Yates Street forms a special shipment to be discharged here early next week by the Harrison Direct Line freighter Craftsman. The Craftsman, Capt. O. M. Frank, is looked for at this port on Tuesday next from Liverpool via the Panama Canal and San Francisco. The shipment of cast iron water pipe consigned to the City includes 2,400 lineal feet of 12-inch and 240 lineal feet of 8-inch pipe. The pipe was manufactured by the Stanton Iron Works in England and shipped from Liverpool by the Craftsman, being purchased through the local firm of Evans, Coleman & Evans. Immediately the pipe is delivered here it will be transferred to Yates Street and the proposed work by the City on the water main will be started. The Craftsman has several hundred tons of freight to discharge at the Rihet pier. On completing here the Craftsman will shift to Vancouver to complete the discharge of her inward cargo. She will sail from North Pacific ports about the middle of July on the homeward voyage and will complete her outward cargo at San Francisco.

CATHOLIC PRIESTS WILL SAIL SUNDAY BY LINER MCKINLEY

On board the steamship President McKinley, when she sails on Sunday for the Orient, will be fifteen Catholic priests bound from New York and Philadelphia to various points in the Orient. The President McKinley, since she completed her inward trip, has had additional refrigeration equipment placed aboard. Among the travelers due to arrive here next week on the steamship President Jackson from the Orient will be Baroness D'Abbing and her adopted son, A. E. Zielyin, bound from Hongkong for Europe.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, June 29.—The Victoria, of the Alaska Steamship Company, arrived here to-day on the return of her first trip to Nome and St. Michael this season. She called at Akutan and False Pass coming south, loading 1,600 cases of the new salmon pack at False Pass. She is to return north July 5.

The freighter Edward Luckenbach traveled from Los Angeles to New York in sixteen days, arriving Tuesday, according to advices received here to-day. This was declared to be a record for speed in the inter-coastal service.

BARLING BOMBER, SUPER-DREADNOUGHT OF THE AIR has a wing spread of 120 feet, the fuselage is 65 feet long and 10 feet in diameter. It will mount seven machine guns, capable of being fired from any angle of the circle and is built to carry a single bomb weighing 12,000 pounds. It is driven by six 450-horse-power Liberty motors and it is being put through a series of ground tests preliminary to the maiden flight. The bomber weighs 40,000 pounds and two army tractors were needed to haul it from the hangar in which it was assembled to the field where it will be flown.

ROYAL WILL CARRY CADETS TO SIDNEY

The C. P. R. steamer Princess Royal will leave Vancouver at 11.30 a. m. to-morrow with 750 school cadets bound to the training camp at Sidney. The Royal will transport the mainland cadets back to Vancouver July 7.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, June 29.—Just as the lines were being cast off by the Pacific Mail liner President Taft for the start of a voyage to the Orient, 167 fire crackers were set off by the 167 Chinese from the China Mail Line Nile, who were being sent home on the President Taft, and the noise was supposed to banish any evil spirits which might have been present. The Nile was sold recently at auction to satisfy claims against her. The President Taft carried 158 first cabin passengers and a full stowage list and had her freight holds filled to capacity.

George was courting Clara. Clara had a dog—one of the kind that barks but seldom bites. George knew the old saying, "Love me, love my dog as well." One day the dog didn't bark, but did bite. "Oh, George!" cried Clara, "what is the matter?" "That confounded dog has taken a piece out of my calf!" "Good gracious!" exclaimed Clara, wringing her hands in anguish, "I hope it will not make him ill!"

Tired of Marine Courses Japanese Skipper Seeks Fast Game on Fairways

Capt. S. Saito, With a Reputation for Long Drives, Eager to Display His Prowess at Golf; SS. Shidzuoka Maru in Port From Orient

Capt. S. Saito, commander of the Japanese liner Shidzuoka Maru, which docked at Pier I this morning from ports of the Orient, is an enthusiastic golfer. After pacing the circumscribed area of the bridge for two weeks with all his interest centred upon keeping his command on her proper course, the skipper of the Shidzuoka Maru, on completing a voyage, gets his cabin boy to furnish up his clubs, and after transacting his ship's business seeks healthful recreation in driving a straight course along the fairways. Capt. Saito is alleged to be a whirlwind at the Royal and Ancient game. He learned on his arrival here that the "Marine Golf Association," of Seattle, was camping on his trail, and that a plot was taking shape to pair him with Herman W. Ross, of the Walker-Ross Company, who has gained a notable reputation on the Seattle course. When Capt. Saito was on the North Pacific coast eight months ago he defeated most of the stars among the marine golfing fraternity at Seattle, who are now seeking revenge. "I will accept the challenge," said Capt. Saito on being told that Herman Ross, who had trailed him to the Orient without getting a game, was awaiting his arrival here in Seattle. The Japanese skipper's eyes sparkled in anticipation of a real game on shore.

Fine Voyage.
The Shidzuoka Maru reported an excellent voyage from Yokohama, which port was left behind June 15. The ship reached quarantine here at 8 a. m., standard time, and docked shortly after 9 a. m. After discharging a small amount of freight and landing passengers here the Japanese liner cleared for Seattle. The freight for Seattle amounted to 1,157 tons. Amongst the passengers to disembark at Victoria were Capt. W. H. Sparke and Mrs. E. Sparke. Capt. Sparke was in the Blue Funnel line service for some time, but retired from this company's service to enter the China coastwise trade. There were 6 passengers aboard the vessel for Victoria, while proceeding to Seattle are 31 passengers, comprising 9 steerage and 22 first class. Dr. M. Ishihara and Professor K. Tajima were amongst the Seattle passengers.

MARY BACK IN PORT FROM RIVERS INLET

Maquinna Is Again Put Into Commission and Will Take July 1 Sailing

At 2 p. m. to-day the Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Mary arrived in the Inner Harbor from Rivers Inlet and points on the west coast of Vancouver Island. The trip was in the nature of an excursion to the West Coast and the canneries of Rivers Inlet and the steamer carried quite a number of round trip passengers who thoroughly enjoyed the extended cruise. The Princess Mary made the trip to the West Coast in place of the steamer Princess Maquinna, while that vessel was getting her Summer overhaul here. The Princess Maquinna is now ready to resume service and will leave here as an extra night boat at 11:45 p. m. to-day for Vancouver. The Maquinna will take the sailing July 1 to the West Coast.

THE POWER OF SUGGESTION.

Travelling is becoming more and more of a fine art. Formerly it was regarded simply as a process of getting from one place to another, but now it is becoming a pleasure. Now it is looked upon as a joyful undertaking, a delightful interlude in the regular routine of life, especially when the journey is over the lines of the Canadian National Railways. The keynote of the Canadian National Railways is Service. That service aims to make the passenger as comfortable as possible and to save him every bit of unnecessary effort. Thinking is a mental effort. Patrons of the Dining Car Service will now find themselves saved that trouble, by a casual glance at the little dodger that is distributed throughout the coaches on all trains to which Dining or Cafe Cars are attached. Upon the dodger, which is printed in both English and French, are several suggestions for a suitable combination of dishes for a complete menu for breakfast, dinner and supper range from 25 cents to $1.15. The traveler merely needs to decide what he wishes to pay, and upon entering the Dining Car he will find himself served as quietly and as tactfully as he would in any well-appointed home.

Often the fact that a thing is "necessary to be done" takes the animation out of it. This is especially so of merchandising. There is something prosaic about a store. That is, until someone imparts life into it. A very little real animation will act like magic on a store. The surest way to impart life to, or animate your business is through its newspaper advertisements. Not so long ago only a few people read the advertisements, but everybody reads them nowadays. Royal Victoria Yacht Club's Promising Entry For Pacific International Regatta at Vancouver and Cowichan Next Week Sails From Cadboro Bay To-morrow Morning

Looking forward with confidence to bringing back some of the trophies awaiting winners, the Royal Victoria Yacht Club fleet sails from Cadboro Bay to-morrow for the Pacific International Yachting Association Regatta, off English Bay, Vancouver, starting Monday. It's the largest regatta in point of entries that has yet been staged on the Coast and only an improbable change in the present ideal weather can mar the sporting programme of events down for every day next week. The Victoria boats leave Saturday morning and will spend Saturday night in Active Pass. With the tide from Active Pass the fleet sails at one o'clock in the morning and expect to reach Vancouver about seven o'clock Sunday morning.

Railroad Nine Make Merry in Amateur Race

Five Home Runs Included in 19-5 Score Against Automobiles Last Night

If the amateur ball players continue to place the place they traveled last night they will have to provide themselves with an adding machine to count up the hits and runs in the amateur ball games. The C.P.R. tossers turned around last night and walloped the Automobiles' gang 19-5, after an exceedingly close game. The total number of hits looked something like 15, including two home runs, two triples and two doubles. Haley Jackson, the "homeroom" of the local league, pooled out three circuit clouts, while Colin Campbell grabbed one and Poking Graveling had the honor of getting the other one. The old veteran, Bob Whyte, slashed out a triple, while the Copas tripe divided the two-baggers.

Everything proceeded smoothly until the seventh inning, the game being in a tussle, and the score tied five all. The enthusiastic fans all expected to see a ten-inning game and plenty of excitement and they surely got what they were looking for. The fireworks started in the last half of the lucky seventh, and when the smoke had cleared away, the C.P.R. runs across the rubber. In the end six more tallies trickled across the plate.

In the eighth frame some more fun was looked for when the Automobiles got the bags full with nobody out and Bobby Ross walked to the plate with his mighty war club. Robert Newman did the heavy lifting, immediately tried to bunt, but was unsuccessful, and piled into Graveling's mitt, who touched the runner and then threw to the pitcher. The first triple play that has been seen around the ball parks for some time.

Patricia and Sir Tom have met in many other races in British Columbia waters and at Seattle. Sir Tom was built in 1914 from Ted Geary's designs, to defend a trophy presented to the Seattle Yacht Club by Sir Thomas Lipton, to be raced for by the Class yachts, and has held it ever since.

Patricia, built in 1921, from designs by Nicholson, has twice unsuccessfully attempted to lift the Lipton Cup, but in an unfinished series for the Isherwood Cup sailed at Vancouver in September, 1921, gave the Sir Tom an anxious time, winning the first race in a moderate breeze by more than six minutes.

These three yachts met with others at Newport, California, last year, in a series of races for the Pacific Coast championship, in which the Sir Tom sailed by Ted Geary won first place in light winds, and the Patricia with Ron Maitland at the helm took the second prize. While Adams did not do so well, she gave indications of being a good light weather boat.

Victoria Contenders. The Royal Victoria club stands a good chance of winning the honors over the 25 crafters entered in the regatta from Point Grey to Active Pass from where the whole fleet moves to Cowichan Bay. Walter Adams yawl, the Transvaal, won the race in 1913 and will stand a good chance of recapturing the trophy should the weather be a little heavy. The Interpud, the Varuna, and the Cho Cho San are also in the race. The sloops Dorothy and the Loon and all the larger power boats are included in the fleet of the local club out for the regatta, the power boat races being down for decision on the closing day at Cowichan.

DOMINION DAY GOLF ON OAK BAY LINKS. On Dominion Day, July 1, 1923, there will be an 18-hole sweepstake competition on the Victoria Golf Club links match play against par. Three-quarters of the handicap will be allowed, post entries to be made and a score card obtained from the secretary. Two prizes will be given.

"The State of Montana is interested in seeing that its people are not defrauded. Champions and their managers must obey the law the same as the most inconspicuous citizens."

CAPITOL

Miriam Battista, nine-year-old child star of the screen, will be one of the important players to be seen here in the support of George Arliss when this distinguished artist appears at the Capitol Theatre in "The Man Who Played God," a United Artists Corporation release.

Miriam is noted in motion picture studies for her ability to portray emotional characters, and without the child knowing anything about "artistic temperament," so-called, it is a well-known fact that she cannot produce genuine tears unless they provide her with special music. If she has a harp, a violin and a cello she responds tearfully to them instantly.

For instance, one day Lionel Barrymore was working in a picture in the same studio where Miriam was playing an important part in another picture. There was no music for Miriam and she was unable to shed tears at the proper time. When Mr. Barrymore heard the commotion, he sent his entire orchestra over to the space where Miriam was working, and stopped his own work to watch the effect on the emotions of this remarkable child. When Miriam had shed enough tears to make Johnstone Flood look like a dried-up mill stream she turned to her director and said: "You may now return Mr. Barrymore's orchestra, and please thank him so much for helping me to cry."

of the supporting cast of the Paramount production of "The Exciters," co-starring Bebe Daniels and Antonio Moreno, which is on view at the Dominion Theatre this week.

When Simpson applied for work at Paramount's Long Island studio, the casting director frankly told him that he was hired because of his classic features, only and not because of his acting ability which had not been proved. Some time later when Simpson was given a part in Alan Dwan's production of "The Gimpsey of the Moon," the casting director was pleasantly surprised. Simpson played something like a professional in this picture with such taste and discrimination that he was immediately signed for work in "The Exciters."

It might be imagined by those who do not know Mr. Simpson, that he is conceited. But Simpson can't help but know he's good looking. He's been receiving fine salaries from various manufacturers just for reproduction of his features in connection with commercial products long enough to realize that fact.

"The Exciters" is a superb picture-ization of a popular stage play directed by Maurice Campbell and including in its supporting cast Burr McIntosh, Diana Allen, Bigelow Cooper, Cyril Ring, Ida Darling, Jane Thomas, George Backus, and other players of note.

ROYAL VICTORIA

A woman sacrificed upon the altar of man's selfish ambitions. This is the central theme of "Slander the Woman," Allen Houlihan's new First National super-production with Dorothy Phillips in the title role, which will be shown at the Royal again to-day.

In this latest screen triumph, the director Houlihan shows that wealth and social position are nothing compared to the character of a woman. In the poignant, soul-stirring manner characteristic of all his work, Director Houlihan's story line is so well intertwined by an ambitious judge to secure his own rise in the world, and how in so doing, he robs a woman of her most sacred heritage—a fair name.

There is no false sentimentality about "Slander the Woman." It is a drama of the present day, based upon actual life. The story of a woman, Yvonne Desmarest, portrayed by Dorothy Phillips, is told in a murder through no fault of her own. At the trial Judge Durocher presides. He is a cold, hard, ruthless, unscrupulous parliamentary election and he sees in the trial an opportunity to win popularity through the sensationalism of the case. PLAYHOUSE

That delightfully inactive and yet lovable old gentleman "Grumpy," occupies the boards at the Playhouse through the flashing episodes. Helene Thadwick, Rosemary Theby, Richard Dix and Henry Garrows form the quartet of leading good and evil characters.

Miss Chadwick and Mr. Dix had many romances together on the screen. This time they fall in love under unusual circumstances. Romance never seems to grow dull for them, no matter how many times they indulge in "movie" tete-a-tetes.

Irvin Willat, the director of Yellow Men and Gold, has caught the spirit of Mr. Morris's story and has infused it with his own enthusiasm. Clayton Hamilton, the former Columbia University professor of literature, edited the play, and Cedric Gibbon is responsible for the artistic designing of the sets.

COLUMBIA

"Yellow Men and Gold," the new Goldwyn picture by Gouverneur Morris, was presented at the Columbia Theatre last night. It is an extremely well-produced melodramatic comedy in which everything turns out all right in the end for the hero and the heroine. But until the last fade-out, thrill follows thrill, with an occasional comic interlude, and the beholder finds himself gripping his seat with the suspense of a first-class action.

Gouverneur Morris is widely known for his dramatic stories, his powerful photoplays, "The Penalty," has been called, by some critics, the most dramatic photoplay ever filmed. In

FAMOUS HALL CAINE

FEATURE IS COMING TO DOMINION SOON

Only a little more than a week before Mae Busch, who is well remembered for her work in "Folish Wives," had finished playing a rather small part in the film version of Peter B. Kyn's story, "Brothers Under the Skin," at the Goldwyn studio, Goldwyn was looking for a Gloria Quayle for "The Christian," coming to the Dominion Theatre next week, which Maurice Tourneur had already been engaged to direct and for which Richard Dix had been cast as the John Storm. Among at least a score of others Miss Busch took the test—though with no eagerness, it may be said.

"Curiously enough," Miss Busch admitted, "I wasn't terribly interested at first in playing Glory. Charlie Chaplin had been talking to me about playing with him in a big picture this week. Judging by the way he sold on the idea, it would be nice to play opposite him, wouldn't it? Anyway, I thought so—and he was making such an attractive proposition that I couldn't see Glory at all. But when everybody, from Mr. Tourneur down, began talking about the wonderful possibilities of the role, about what a tremendous production it would be, and, not of least importance, going to England to make it, I did what any other woman would have done under the circumstances, changed my mind. I suddenly wanted to play Glory very much indeed. Glory is a wonderful role and I am awfully happy that I had the chance to play her."

Miss Busch was born in Australia, where her father was director of the Symphony Orchestra at Melbourne, and her mother a singer in grand opera. Considering this musical inheritance we are scarcely surprised to learn that Mae herself had intended to be a singer. But, in accordance with all accepted traditions, she completely altered her plans. Another musical career sacrificed for the screen!

DISTRICT PENSION BOARDS OPPOSED

Senate Committee Recommends Federal Traveling Appeal Board

Other Changes in Veterans' Bills As Passed by Commons Urged

Ottawa, June 29.—Extensive modifications of the House of Commons bills amending the Pensions Act and the Returned Soldiers' Insurance Act, respectively, are recommended in the report of the Senate committee which considered them.

In the case of the Insurance Act, it is recommended that the seventy-one cases involved be reviewed by the Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, with a view to carrying out the intention of Parliament in 1922.

The Senate committee found that under the original act it was assumed ex-service men were under all conditions entitled to take out insurance up to $5,000 without medical examination. The law provided, however, that the Minister might refuse to make an insurance contract if, after investigation, the circumstances warranted. In certain cases it was held that insurance had been taken out in favor of interested people other than dependents. Under the 1922 amendments the committee decided that of seventy-one cases outstanding, fifty would be rejected on this score.

Inquiry.

The Senate committee decided that the intention of the law was that insurance should be granted only to ex-service men in favor of their dependents. The recommendation is that before the law is amended, it be altered there should be a thorough investigation as to the law as it is at present administered in Great Britain and the United States, and that the insurance principle and not the "due to service" principle to some extent govern. The investigation, it is stated, also should thoroughly determine what would be the effect of the House of Commons bill.

The committee finds that under the existing law every soldier discharged before the war is pensionable, but under the proposed legislation the pension privilege would extend to dependents of all such men upon their death. Evidence before the committee indicated that the adoption of this new legislation would involve an expenditure of $450,000 for pensions arrears, and furthermore, that it would cost $100,000 for the first year in which it was in effect, and this would be increased in ten years to $1,000,000, to $2,000,000 in twenty years, and over a period of twenty-five years to a total cost of $22,000,000.

One Appeal Board.

The committee decided against the appointment of district review boards. Instead one Federal traveling appeal board of five to seven members is recommended, a majority of the members of the board to be ex-service men, the chairman to be appointed "during pleasure," half of the other members for two years and the remainder for three years. Thus at the end of three years the chairman alone would remain to handle the residue of the cases.

The report recommends that appeals should be only on score of entitlement and not as regards the amount of pension. This, it is claimed, would mean the elimination of a very large number of anticipated appeals.

Allowances.

The dropping of four sections of the Pensions Bill is recommended on the ground that they were inserted in the House of Commons bill to meet individual cases cited by members, and that they do not follow recommendations made by the Halston committee. In their place it is proposed to include a section providing that cases not covered by the existing law, which appear meritorious, should be referred to the chairman and the Board of Appeal sitting jointly, may be dealt with by way of a compassionate pension or allowance.

Woman Novelist Turned Painter at 53

Marie Van Vorst and Her 8-Year-Old Son, Frederick John Van Horst.

Look at Marie Van Vorst, internationally known novelist. At 53 she has discovered suddenly that she can paint.

"Don't be chained to one career," she says. "Start a new one. Age never is a handicap. You can do twice as much at 50 as you can at 25. Just to prove that Dr. Osler was wrong, I've got two careers now instead of one, writing books and painting pictures."

"I had been writing all my life. But I was ashamed of some of the 40 books I had written, though I made money and people called me a successful writer."

"I had to live 53 years to find out that I was not meant for writing alone. Last July the artist Mary Foote was visiting at my home in Normandy. She suggested that I try to paint. Just for fun, I tried."

"That first day I painted for seven hours. Since then I've completed 50 pictures. Forty I brought with me to this country. Seven are already on exhibition and five I have sold."

"Into my paintings I am putting the same talent and brilliance that I have always tried to put into my books. It is by my painting that I mean to gain a new kind of fame, equal to the old."

PUPILS' RECITAL IS SUCCESSFUL

Esquimalt Choir Presents Attractive Programme

Of all occasions when the Esquimalt School Choir participates in concert and recital throughout the community perhaps the most interesting and most personal affair is that of their own annual "at home" amid their own surroundings. Certain it is that the many boys and girls comprising the choir seem to take an especial interest and pride in their yearly evening concert generally given in the month of June, and that which took place last evening in the auditorium of their own school—the Lamson Street—marked another excellent musical evening re-doubling greatly to their credit and to the painstaking, patient, and qualifying able efforts of Frederick Waddington, their instructor and conductor.

As time goes on all concerned are making valuable additions to their repertory, and included in the programme these were numbers that were heard for the first time. These were "A Spring Song" (Rubenstein), the "Tinker's Chorus" from de Koven's "Robin Hood"; the Polish song "Maiden's Wish" (Chopin), "A Wild Rose" (MacDowell), the old Devonshire County song "Widdicombe Fair," and a Gaelic folk-song "Turn Ye to Me." In all these there were beautifully obtained expressive results, the gradation of tone, the study of phrase, and color, and the well-nigh perfect delivery of the words, all proving quite delightful and meeting with rounds of applause.

Particularly pleasing were "Departure," sung in two-part harmony, and the de Koven and MacDowell numbers and the extremely odd-odd "Devonshire Fair" song. One or two of the choir's familiar selections were specially enjoyed by those present, these constituting "Old Black Joe" in two-part harmony; "Cuckoo," and "I Passed by Your Window."

Soloists.

The accompaniments to all these were in the able and dexterous hands of Ira Dilworth, who, besides giving a solo with ample technique and superlatively perceptive gifts, "Chant Polonoise," op. 74 (Chopin), and being compelled to augment another number, giving a "Prelude" by the same composer, played the accompaniments to that admirable violinist, Drury Gryce, in his solos "Berceuse" (Tov Aulin), and the Frederewski-Krueger "Muset in G."

Mr. Fryce was also obliged to add two extra numbers, a "Cradle Song" and a beautiful "Litaney," both by Schubert.

Mrs. Jesse Longfield, accompanied by Mr. Longfield, besides taking part in a duet with Mr. Waddington, in the "Night Hymn at Sea" (Goring Thomas), gave two numbers, "The Last Hour" (Kramer), and "My Destiny" (Kennedy), in her usual artistic manner, her beautiful voice winning the prolonged and hearty plaudits of her enchanted hearers.

The singer was obliged to add another song and was the recipient of a handsome bouquet. It was to be noticed that their choir for the first time since their appearance in the May Frolic Festival, wore their smart and uniform gowns of purple and white.

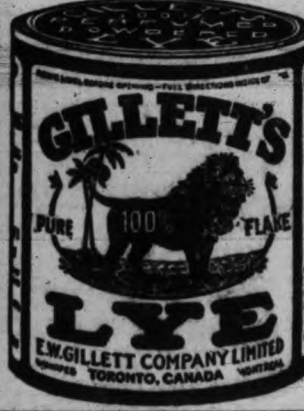

There was a large turnout of people, present from all parts of the city, Principal Leonard Tait officiating in the evening's arrangements.

A NOVEL SPORT.—These girls have an exciting game with a ball the size of a push ball, but much lighter in weight. It often gets beyond their reach. This, at a sports fete at Porte Dorée, near Paris, France.

NEW TYPE OF GLIDER IS A KITE WITH HUMAN TAIL.—A kite-type of air carrier has developed from experiments with the glider. Dr. Ing. Seehaase, of Berlin, is shown carrying kite glider which he invented. It weighs only ten pounds. On the right, the parachute-like kite is shown in ascent with Dr. Seehaase (arrow) trussed to a hanging rope like a human tail to the kite.

100,000 HOMELESS FROM ETNA ERUPTION.—A view across Catania to Mount Etna, smoking above its perennial cloak of smoke—the volcano, from which rivers of lava have been belching forth and which buried towns and villages, ruining crops for miles around and forcing people to flee their homes.

WHEN MOLLA TOOK A FALL.—Mrs. Molla Mallory, American tennis champ, has been meeting with rather indifferent success in her play in Europe. In a match with Miss Tomlin at Beckenham, England, she tripped and fell, as shown above, but played a brilliant game and won the match.

PANCHO VILLA. Filipino, is flyweight champion of the world, following his victory over Jimmy Wilde in New York on June 18.

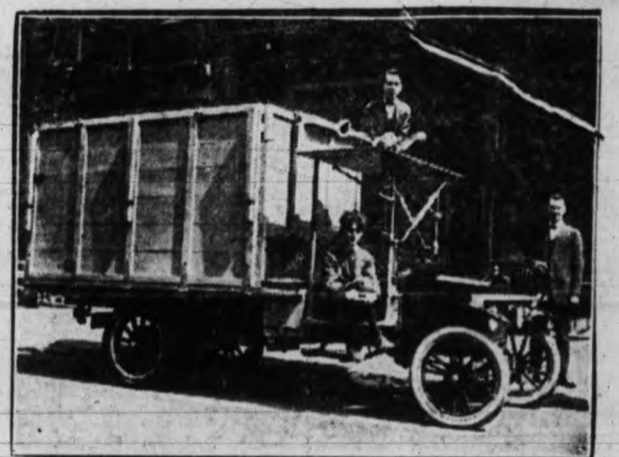

MAJOR-GEN. G. N. CORY, C. B., D. S. O., deputy chief of staff with the British military forces in India, is visiting his home in Toronto on six weeks' furlough. He served in the Boer war, and holds eight British and six foreign decorations.

NEYSA McMEIN, famous American magazine illustrator, has surprised her friends by announcing her marriage to John G. Baragwanath.

MAJOR J. E. L. STREIGHT, of Islington, Ontario, is adjutant of the Canadian rifle team which sailed for England to compete in the Bisely match.

BUSHNELL CHENEY, of New York, is shown above with a completely equipped stage, mounted on a motor truck, which he himself designed, and in which he will tour New England States. The platform of the truck makes a stage 16 feet wide and 14 feet deep.

COMMANDER BOOTH AS SONG LEADER.—Commander Evangeline Booth led the singing at a great rally of the Salvation Army at Columbus Circle, New York City. She also thanked the public for contributing $310,000 in the drive for home service funds.

FLOOD WATERS WORST SINCE 1902.—This picture, when the flood near Calgary, Alberta, was at its peak, was taken on a bridge which momentarily was expected to be washed away. The waters of the Elbow River were swollen by two cloudbursts in the mountains, seventy-five miles away, as well as by terrific, heavy rains.

LIEUT. RUSSELL L. MAUGHN, of the U. S. Army Air Service, is waiting favorable weather conditions for his proposed flight across the continent. He plans to make the trip between sunrise and sunset.

CONVERSE WITH ENTOMBED MINERS.—When a local mine shaft near Bicknell, Ind., caved in, three men were entombed. It took seventy-nine hours to rescue them. But they were not cut off from communication. The man, apparently sniffing the earth, is in reality talking to the buried men through a tube.

FLAG SYMBOL OF LAW ENFORCEMENT

Ottawa, June 29.—Answering J. D.
F. Drummond, Progressive, Middlesex, who asked in the House yesterday afternoon if the sales tax would apply to purchases of the Union Jack, Hon. W. S. Fielding said that while he had great affection for the Union Jack, he also regarded it as a symbol of the enforcement of the laws of the country.

The young man at the holiday resort, who has become engaged to the pretty girl, received information that led him to question her—
"Is it true that since you came here you've been engaged to Billy, Arthur, George, and Harry, as well as me?"
The girl assumed an air of disdain. "What is that to you?" she demanded.
"Just this," he replied gently. "If it's so, you have no objection, my fellows will all chip in together to buy you an engagement ring."

FOR THE CHILDREN

The Sandman Story For To-night

MR. BEAR WAKES UP.

Mr. Bear awoke from his nap on Winter, and peeping out of his window saw the sun shining so brightly he thought it must be Spring.
"Somehow I do not feel like getting up," said he, "but if the Spring is here I must get up and set my house in order."
When Mr. Bear got outside he found it was not at all Springlike, but cold and his ragged fur coat blew about him, making him shiver and shak.

"Hello, Mr. Bear," called out Reddy Fox, who was skidding through the woods. "What are you doing out this time of the year?
Going to your toboggan party?"
Mr. Bear had no idea at all what a toboggan party might be, but he asked, "Where is it?" just as if that were the very thing he got up for.
"Over the other side of the woods," replied Reddy Fox. "You had better hurry, for everybody wants to get the first ride."
Mr. Bear said he guessed he would trout right along with Reddy Fox, because things looked so strange all covered with snow. "If I had known there was snow on the ground I would have stayed in bed," he said.
"I thought it was Springtime. The sun shone through the trees and there was no snow around my house."

Oh, you miss a lot of things sleeping so much," Reddy told him. "You will get up every Winter after this,
I am certain, when you find out how much fun it is to slide down hill."
By the time Mr. Bear got to the top of the hill with Reddy Fox he knew all about a toboggan party and he was so anxious to get a ride on the long sled that he nudged and pushed everybody to get a seat.
"Let him sit in front," said Mr.
Squirrel. "He is good and strong and can steer." "I'll sit on his shoulder and keep a lookout ahead for bumpers."
Mr. Coon was there looking very comfortable in his Winter furs, and he said he did not mind at all sitting on the end. "If anything happens," he thought, "I can jump off."
Mr. Possum said he would sit anywhere, he wasn't fussy. But Mr. Fox was not so willing to have the front seat taken by Mr. Bear. "He never saw a snow-covered hill before," he argued. "What does he know about steering or tobogganing?"
But Mr. Bear wanted the front seat and so he told Mr. Fox that if he would let him sit there he would take them all over to his house after the party and make a hot chicken soup. He had some canned which

DYNAMITE USED TO CHECK FIRE

SENATE APPROVED BILLS.

Ottawa, June 29.—Two bills growing out of the budget were adopted yesterday afternoon by the Senate.
They were the bill granting a bounty on hemp and the Inland Revenue Act Amendment, which reduces the duty on cigarettes. The Senate also passed the Biological Act.

such a cold day.
That settled it for Mr. Fox. "The worst he can do is to tumble us off in the snow," he said to himself,
"and chicken soup is worth that much."
So Mr. Bear took his seat and was told how to steer. "Now hold on to the rope with both paws and don't let go of it for anything, no matter what happens. Hold on to that rope and do not pull on one side more than the other."
"Huh, that is easy enough to do," replied Mr. Bear, catching hold of the rope.
"Are you ready?" called Mr. Coon, who was to start the toboggan.
"Let 'er go!" called Mr. Bear, and off they went.

bumped into the stone wall at the

"Why did you let me be there was a bumper head," he scolded Mr.
Squirrel.
"Bumper? There was no bumper.
You let go one side of the rope," said Mr. Squirrel.
"Well, a bee or something kept tickling my nose," wearily argued Mr. Bear. "Anyway, my feet are cold and I am going home. I don't see any fun in staying awake all Winter."
"We wouldn't, either, if we had you to steer us," said Mr. Fox. "But don't forget that chicken soup, Mr.
Bear. You owe us something for dumping us off, you know."
By the time Mr. Bear reached home his feet were so cold and sore that he jumped right into bed and groaned for the hot water bottle to be brought to him, and it took the whole party to wait on him before they could get him quiet.

Reddy Fox, "but a poor steerer. But it was your tail, Mr. Squirrel, that really caused the trouble. You ought to shave it."

OUTLINE OF HISTORY
The Romance of Mother Earth
Nineteenth Century Progress
Empire in India

We have suggested that in the political history of Europe between 1848 and 1878, the mechanical revolution was not yet producing any very revolutionary changes. The post-revolutionary great powers were still going on within boundaries of practically the same size and with much the same formalities as they had done in pre-revolutionary times.
But where the increased speed and certainty of transport and telegraphic communications were already producing very considerable changes of condition and method, and in the overseas enterprises of Britain and other European powers, and in the reaction of Asia and Africa to Europe.

In India, as we have already told,
a peculiar empire was being built up, not by the British peoples, nor by the British government, but by this company of private adventurers with their monopoly and royal charter. The company had been forced to become a military and political power during the years of Indian division and insecurity that followed the break up of India after the death of Aurangzeb in 1707. It had learned to trade in states and peoples during the eighteenth century.

take on the outlines familiar to the English schoolboy of to-day, a patchwork of native states embraced and held together by the great provinces under direct British rule.
Now as this strange unprecedented empire of the company grew in the period between 1800 and 1858, the mechanical revolution was quietly abolishing the great distance that had once separated India and Britain.
In the old days the rule of the company had interfered little in the domestic life of the Indian states; it had given India foreign overlord, but India was used to foreign overlords, and had hitherto assimilated them; these Englishmen came into the country young, lived there most of their lives, and became a part of its system.

As they grew they strained more and more at the feeble and uncertain link of shipping that joined them. Weak trading posts in the wilderness, like those of France in Canada, or trading establishments in great alien communities, like those of Britain in India, might well cling for bare existence to the nation which gave them support and a reason for their existence.
That much and no more seemed to many thinkers in the early part of the nineteenth century to be the limit set to overseas rule.

In 1839 the sketchy great European "empire" outside of Europe that had figured so bravely in the maps of the middle eighteenth century, had shrunk to very small dimensions. Only the Russian sprawled as large as ever across Asia. It sprawled much larger in the imaginations of many Europeans than in reality, because of their habit of studying the geography of the world upon Mercator's projection which enormously exaggerated the size of Siberia.

India had endured many changes of rulers before, but never the sort of changes in her ways that these things portended. The Moslem teachers and the Brahmins were alike alarmed, and the British were blamed for the progress of ruin. Conflicts of economic interest grew more acute with the increasing earnestness of Europe; Indian industries and particularly the ancient cotton industry, suffered from legislation that favored the British manufacturer.

The British empire in 1815 consisted of the thinly populated coastal river and lake regions of Canada and a great hinterland of wilderness in which the only settlements as yet were the fur-trading stations of the Hudson Bay Company, about a third of the Indian peninsula, under the rule of the East India Company, the coast districts of the Cape of Good Hope inhabited by blacks and God-religion-spirited Dutch settlers; a few trading stations on the West coast of Africa, the Rock of Gibraltar, the island of Malta, Jamaica; a few minor slave possessions in the West Indies, British Guiana in South America and, on the other side

Napoleon's expedition to Egypt was a direct attack upon the empire of this British company. While Europe was busy with the Napoleonic wars, the East India Company, under a succession of governor-generals, was playing much the same role in India that had been played before by Turkoman and such-like invaders from the north, but playing it with a greater efficiency and far-less violence and cruelty. And after the peace of Vienna it went on, levying its revenues, making wars, sending ambassadors to Asiatic powers,
a quasi-independent state, a state,
however, with a marked disposition to send wealth westward.

A piece of incredible folly on the part of the company precipitated an outbreak. To the Brahmin a cow is sacred; to the Moslem the pig is unclean. A new rifle, needing great-ed cartridges—which the men had to bite—was served out to the company's Indian soldiers; the troops discovered that their cartridges were greased with the fat of cows and swine. This discovery precipitated a revolt of the company's Indian army, the Indian Mutiny (1857).
First the troops mutinied at Meerat.
Then Delhi rose, and the empire of the Great Mogul.

THE WALL OF SILENCE
By ALICE SLIGH TURNBULL

Margaret Connell stopped the rhythmic rise and fall of her churning dasher and went out on the back porch. The sound that had made her leave her work was the rattle of the rural mail carrier's buckboard as it climbed the hill road which wound itself steadily between the fields of the Connell farm. There was no mistaking the rattle, even by ears less attuned from eager waiting than Margaret's.
This day being Thursday, there was no reason to hope that the sound would stop in front of the house. Except for the farm paper, that would come the next day, she waited over for mail. Tuesday for four Winters, had been the day to look forward to, and to count from.
But, unreasonable as it was, Margaret listened and watched every morning.

now, he was first-honor man!
After all the years of struggle there had come this crowning triumph.
The joy and pride of it thrilled through her like an intoxication and merged at last in one great impulse
—to give expression to the swelling
emotion within her.
Over the hills David was ploughing. She knew only too well what his attitude would be, and yet rather to peer the news out to him than to the unhearing pear trees and Hill bushes, even if she had to leave swiftly to escape the torrent of sarcasm she knew would follow.
She hurried down the steps and started along the path, when her eyes caught an object and remained riveted. It was the old dinner bag
—to give expression to the swelling
emotion within her.

"What's wrong?" he called again
as he came closer. "Is it fire?"
Margaret shook her head. There was a gleam of triumph in her eye.
"There's nothing wrong. David.
Something wonderful has happened to Abe! He's taken first honors!
First, out of all that big class! I just got the letter."
The man stared at her, his tanned, wrinkled face hardening.
"An' that's what you rung the bell for an' brought me clear in here at this time of day—leavin' the team runnin' off, mebbe? Scarin' the writs out of me? First honors?
Hosh!"
Margaret's thin lips closed in a straight line. She spoke no word, then turned abruptly. His stooped, bow-kneed figure started back toward the field, a bitter stream of sarcasm behind him.

ROSE FROM REPORTER TO LEADING POST

J. D. Barnhill Is Prominent in Advertising Circles

J. D. Barnhill, who is one of the delegates to the Northwest Electric Light and Power Association Convention, is a leading figure in national advertising. He is a member of Evans and Barnhill, Inc., national advertising and business counselors, San Francisco and New York.

Was Newspaper Reporter. Twenty years ago Mr. Barnhill was a reporter on The New York Evening Post, at that time the fruit of industry in the West was beginning to attract attention and when The New York Post wanted to tell its readers a first-hand story of what was happening here, Mr. Barnhill was picked for the job. That was his first trip west and he did the story so well that two years later The Review of Reviews sent him out here on the same assignment.

Mr. Barnhill became interested in advertising and publicity and after a few years with one of the largest advertising firms in the world he became identified in 1916 with his present organization specializing in big business publicity. While the firm is particularly strong in the electrical field, that is not the only line in which distinction has been achieved, for one of the biggest watch manufacturing concerns in this country is taking the Barnhill prescription as a business stimulant.

Pushes Electric Business. Just now Mr. Barnhill is giving his attention particularly to pushing the electric business. In Seattle he told the Northwest power men a lot of things that makes their business one of the biggest, if not the biggest business in the world. "It has gone a long way beyond that and has become largely a social problem because it is having a definite influence on social life. About 50 per cent of all the electric energy produced is delivered to women in the homes, and is having an important effect on the home life of the nation. Nowhere in this country is there greater activity in power development than on the Pacific Coast. Private companies have invested about $500,000,000 in hydroelectric development and are planning on spending $500,000,000 more. The Pacific Coast is developing two and one-half times as fast as any other part of the country and the privately owned companies are preparing to take care of the increased demand for electric current in a scientific and efficient manner that entitles them to public confidence and support. Because of the good job already done by private companies, electric energy is cheaper on the Pacific Coast than anywhere else in this country, and the cost is still going down."

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants
Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have not discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomachics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bismarated Magnesia in a little water after meals. With this plan their stomachs no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bismarated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful ant-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bismarated Magnesia especially prepared for stomachs. Adv.

INFORMATION SENT BY MANY LETTERS

Bureau Spends Much Time Gathering Data for Business Men

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, to give the public an idea of what the Bureau faces in its correspondence has issued a statement regarding work connected with its communications. There are dozens of questions coming in to the office daily which necessitate an almost endless task of gathering information. The authorities at present are gathering data to answer letters on the following subjects—This is from the domestic water supply of Victoria is from a limestone or granite formation? Does it contain lime in any quantities, and have you an analysis of the water which you might send to me? Although this appears a simple question on the surface it requires a great deal of work before sufficient data can be obtained to satisfy the curiosity of the Ontario man.

BARBERS' QUEEN MUST HAVE BRAINS AND SHOW PIES

Barbers as a rule gain little fame outside of what they acquire by their professional ability. Last year, however, the local union of tonsorialists stepped into the limelight by putting across in a most successful manner a picnic that bristled with novelty and unique attractions. Plans are now under way and committees have been appointed to arrange for a larger and better affair to be held early in August, the date and place to be announced later. Among the new events to be staged the selection of a picnic queen will be first on the programme. In this contest neither beauty nor popularity will count, the winner will be compelled to show ability. Each lady who aspires to the coveted honor must bring a pie made by her own hands, and on the merits of that sample of her culinary art she will win or lose. Due notice of other outstanding features that will be put on by the knights of the razor at their monster midsummer outing, will appear as they are arranged. The committee on preliminary details, now busy on the job, is composed of Bro. Wm. McNea, of the Barber Shop, and Bro. J. A. Shanko, of the Five Points.

PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR SAANICH PICNIC

How People May Reach Scene, and What to Do There

The speakers for the evening will be the Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, who will address the gathering on "The Canadian Ideal." Rev. Dr. Wilson will be the other speaker, and will welcome the Saanich residents to the first annual event. Chief of Police E. Brogan has charge of the sports, and those who attend are assured of a good time in this respect. He said "I believe there is in the insurance business to-day a desire on the part of the officers of all our best companies, and on the part of the best of agents and brokers, to look out for the interest of the policy holders. If those interested in the industry, business see that the abuses of every description, there will be few, if any, attempts to bring into effect that menace to our form of government, namely, the introduction of government into private business." Secretary-Treasurer Charles Dickson presented the financial report showing the affairs of the federation in good shape. Other speakers were J. W. Boyd, A. H. Noble, John L. Noble and Geo. L. The Choir of the First Congregational Church will hold a picnic on Monday, July 2, at Langford. The grounds next to the Langford Schoolhouse have been kindly loaned for the purpose by Mrs. S. Brown. The location is an ideal one, there being plenty of shade trees, open spaces, water laid on and every facility for a good time.
