London Conference Starts With Good Promise of Results

Leygues and Lloyd George Began Discussion of Problems This Afternoon; Italian Foreign Minister Will Join Them To-morrow.

Paris, Nov. 26.—Premier Leygues and Premier Lloyd George met last night in London, their greetings being particularly cordial, says a telegram from a Havas correspondent in that city. He adds that this was looked upon as a good omen for the coming conference between the two statesmen. Formal conversations between them will begin this afternoon and Count Sforza, Italian Foreign Minister, who will arrive to-morrow, will take part immediately upon reaching the British capital.

Greeks Have Fears

Athens, Nov. 26.—France and Great Britain may permit the return of former King Constantine to the throne of Greece, but fears are expressed that the two nations will wash their hands of the Greeks, either by concluding an arrangement with the Turks separately or using General Baron Wrangel's army, now reorganizing on the island of Lemnos, for a fighting campaign against the Turks. Should either of these steps be taken by France or Great Britain there is apprehension that they may abandon Greece financially.

Reticent

George Rhalis, Premier, and Demetrios Gounaris, Minister of War, are holding frequent consultations, and it is believed the attitude of Great Britain is being closely examined. Both are very reticent regarding the situation, but M. Rhalis states he hopes for the return of Constantine.

Statement by Venizelos

Paris, Nov. 26.—Confidence that the people of Greece will not tolerate a departure from his policy in Asia Minor was expressed by M. Venizelos, former Premier of Greece, to correspondents of Paris newspapers at Nice last night. The ex-Premier, whose regime suddenly collapsed following the election in Greece on November 14, reviewed the war record of ex-King Constantine and declared as he had agreed to help Bulgaria to attack Serbia.

Same Thing

"If Prince George, the Duke of Sparta, should mount the throne, he would quickly realize, as did his unfortunate brother, the late King Alexander, that it is not sufficient to sell himself to the Kaiser in order to reign like his father. So far as the Greeks are concerned at the present time, Alexander or George would amount to the same thing. As to the Allies, if Greece continues the same friendly and helpful policy which was mine the Entente nations have no reasons for fighting shy of her."

Story of Voters Losing Franchise Proves False

Nobody in Revelstoke will lose his or her franchise by being struck off the voters' list for not voting in the Revelstoke district on December 1, according to a wired statement received here today from Attorney-General Parris, who is in Vancouver.

Hon. Mr. Parris denies absolutely statements being spread around the country, it is alleged by Mr. Bowser, to the effect that every person on the Revelstoke list will be struck off and required to register when the lists are again open, just because Dr. Sutherland, Liberal, was re-elected there by acclamation and there is no need for an election.

Residents in other ridings of the Province who were planning to spend election day in Revelstoke and wrote here as absentee voters for the candidates back home, will still be able to vote as absentees by going to the nearest polling station outside of the Revelstoke boundaries. Revelstoke is only a small riding. By going east of the city, voters will be able to cast their ballots in Columbia. If they would sooner vote in the Kamloops riding, they can make a short trip west of the city.

Clear Mis-statements. "Stories appearing from Agassiz in the morning papers to-day quoting Mr. Bowser and asserting that every person on the Revelstoke voters' list

SMASH NEAR TORONTO CAUSE OF DEATHS

Three Persons Lost Lives in the Grand Trunk Accident

Several Sleepers Ran Off; Side-Swiped By Freight Train

Montreal, Nov. 26.—Three persons were killed, an unidentified man, a woman and a porter, E. Brown, when the Grand Trunk Toronto-Montreal express was wrecked near Toronto last night, according to an official statement issued this morning by the Grand Trunk Railway Company here.

Broken Rail

Toronto, Nov. 26.—Two, or possibly four killed, four injured and in hospital, and seven slightly hurt, was the latest estimate of the casualties in the wreck of the Grand Trunk Toronto-Montreal flyer shortly after midnight, when several Pullman cars ran off the track owing to a broken rail and were side-swiped by a freight train passing on the other track in a westerly direction.

Badly Smashed

The wreck occurred ten miles from the Toronto United Station. The engine and first cars of the flyer passed the broken rail without leaving the track but the heavy sleepers following commenced to rock and plunge eventually hurled over. The Pullman car Majura bore the brunt of the collision with the freight train, one side being completely torn from the rest of the car and scattered along the track.

One of the two bodies recovered is that of the Pullman car porter, Emanuel Brown, of Toronto. The other is not yet identified. Some of the railwaymen say that the bodies of a woman and child are still in the wreck.

MOTHER AND THREE CHILDREN PERISHED

Lost Lives in Fire in East Kildonan, Suburb of Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—A mother and three of her children lost their lives as the result of a fire and coal gas explosion, at their residence in East Kildonan, a suburb of Winnipeg, early this morning.

The dead: Mrs. Nonah Finchan; Charlie, aged eight; William, aged ten months; Gladys, aged six, was rescued from the gas filled house by her father, C. S. Finchan. The mother also was taken from the building by the husband, but returned to a vain effort to rescue her children, and her body was found later by the firemen in the children's room.

John S. Sundberg, his wife and three children, who also resided in the house, escaped through a window in their night clothes.

ONTARIO MUST CONSERVE COAL

Enough to Go Around During Winter, But Care Needed

Toronto, Nov. 26.—According to local coal dealers, Ontario's coal supply for domestic use is better at this date than at the end of any November during the war. While a surplus is not anticipated, it is felt that with careful distribution and conservation generally the supply will be sufficient to prevent any actual hardship or suffering. Present prices range between $16.75 and $20.

Prolonged fine Autumn weather which extended until the first week in November was in a great measure responsible for the good showing made by the Ontario coal-min when real winter weather was ushered in. It is estimated that at least one month's supply of coal was saved. Factories throughout the Province are fairly well supplied with bituminous coal.

INTERNATIONAL TRADES CONGRESS RESOLUTIONS

London, Nov. 26.—The International Trades Union Congress yesterday passed a resolution supporting the eight-hour day and the principles outlined in the Washington draft agreement of the International Labor Office.

A resolution on pacifism was carried unanimously. The resolution declares to be hypocritical and totally condemns all belligerent measures made with the object of imposing new political or economic conditions on nations against their will.

ALLIED VETERANS' DELEGATES WILL BE AT PARIS MEETING

Paris, Nov. 26.—A conference of representatives of the various war organizations of the Allied countries will open Sunday morning in the large hall of the French Chamber of Deputies, which has been loaned by the French Government. The following countries will be represented: Great Britain and the Dominions of the British Empire, the United States, France, Italy, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Portugal and Greece.

Liberal Candidates State Policy of Advancement

Vigorous Administration of Last Four Years Will Continue If Government Is Retained; Young Blood Needed, Says G. G. McGeer.

Laying before the electors a policy of advancement, and referring briefly to the shortcomings of the Conservative Opposition, Henry C. Hall and J. B. Clearihue, two of the Liberal candidates for the Victoria riding, were given a warm welcome at the North Ward School last evening.

The strenuous campaign has had a telling effect on the various candidates for Legislative honors, and the Liberal aspirants are no exceptions. G. G. McGeer, ex-member for Richmond, took the platform last night in the absence of the Hon. John Hart, who was forced to refrain from speaking on account of throat trouble. In his usual forceful manner, Mr. McGeer pointed out some of the beneficial things that the Government had accomplished for the people of this Province, and reminded his hearers that it was members whom they had elected for the last term who were responsible for the legislation. Only the return of the Government candidates in the present election could assure the electors of a continuation of the good work that had been begun by the Liberal administration four years ago.

J. B. Clearihue

J. B. Clearihue was the first speaker of the evening, and he confined himself chiefly to matters relating to better education. He spoke very strongly in favor of the policy of free compulsory education and referred to the beneficial legislation which it was proposed to put through should Liberal administration be returned. "Every man should have the right to learn the rudiments of a trade," contended the speaker. Mr. Clearihue displayed the fact that he was idealistic in his sentiments. A man having the advantages of a good education earned by his own toil, he has developed into a good orator and a deep thinker. He convinced his audience last night of his sincerity of purpose and was given a good reception. (Concluded on page 16.)

U. S. WANTS RIGHTS UNDER MANDATES

Note to Great Britain Deals With the Oilfields in Mesopotamia

Washington, Nov. 26.—(Associated Press)—The American Government has informed the British Government politely but firmly that it does not propose to be excluded from participation in the rights and privileges secured under mandates provided in the treaties of peace. Furthermore, it expects to be heard regarding the terms of those mandates before they are put in force.

The position of the United States is set forth in a note by Secretary of State Colby to Earl Curzon, British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and the specific questions discussed in that of the Mesopotamian petroleum fields.

Reply. Mr. Colby's note, dated November 20, has been made public following its delivery to the British Foreign Office early this week. It is a reply to a British note of last August 9, which has never been made public and which deals with the application of the principles of equality of treatment to the territories of the Near East.

CANDIDATES HEARD AT YARROWS, LTD.

Two Big Government Meetings Are Set For To-night

Workmen at the plant of Yarrows, Ltd., gave the Government candidates for Victoria and Esquimalt a cordial reception and hearing when they spoke in the big shipping plant at noon to-day.

Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, described the financial policies of the Government and was accorded close and uninterrupted attention. H. C. Hall and J. B. Clearihue, the other two Government candidates in Victoria, discussed the industrial development prosecuted by the Government and its industrial policies in the future. They recalled also the social legislation brought into effect by the Administration, mentioning in particular mothers pension and minimum wages. H. C. Helgeson, Government candidate in Esquimalt, also addressed the speakers and supported the Government's policies of industrial development.

The speakers were introduced by Norman Yarrow, head of the Yarrow firm.

Meetings To-Night. Two important meetings at which local Government candidates will speak are scheduled to take place here to-night. The first will be at the Sailors' Club, Esquimalt, and at South Park School, Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, H. C. Hall, Minister of the Interior, and J. B. Clearihue, the three Government candidates in Victoria, will speak at the South Park School meeting, as will Councillor Macfarlane of Oak Bay. At the Sailors' Club meeting, which will be in the interests of H. C. Helgeson, Government candidate for Esquimalt, the speakers will be Mr. J. Hart, Mr. Hall, Mrs. Wait, M.H.E., and Frank Higgins, K.C. This meeting will be the most important which the Government supporters will hold in Esquimalt during the present campaign.

Hon. Walter Scott, former Premier of Saskatchewan, will preside at the big Government rally in the Royal Victoria Theatre Tuesday night. It was announced at the Government campaign headquarters here to-day.

Mr. Scott last night consented to take the chair at what will be the final Government meeting of the campaign. (Concluded on page 22.)

NEW PASSPORT PLAN FOR EMPIRE

Will Simply Travel For Empire Citizens Within the Empire

London, Nov. 26.—(Canadian Associated Press)—The Imperial Government, with the concurrence of and in co-operation with the Governments of the Dominions, will shortly issue what are termed "Empire-wide passports," available for the whole of the Empire, in supersession of the existing system, which requires passports to be renewed in each part of the Empire visited by the holder.

Under the new system any British subject who holds a British passport, however endorsed, or even not endorsed at all, will be able to travel anywhere within the Empire without further formality, and the same rule will apply to new passports to be issued to British subjects.

South African Proposal. The change is the result of a proposal made to the Prime Minister of South Africa by Mr. R. A. Blakenberg, Acting High Commissioner in London for that Dominion, and approved by the Government of the Union of South Africa. The proposal, having also received the approval of the Imperial Government, was commended to each of the Dominions in a dispatch from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Australia. The proposal was concurred in by all the Dominions, with the exception of Australia, the Government of which pointed out that, in view of the fact that almost all vessels leaving Australia for Great Britain or Canada touched at foreign ports, and that passengers required for their passports a visa by Italian, French, American or other consuls, as the case might be, and that the practice of foreign consuls was not to endorse passports unless issued by the Commonwealth specifically for travel by way of those countries, Lord Milner, in reply, pointed out that it was never intended that such passports should not require endorsement for any foreign country, so that those which the holder might be travelling.

MILITARY HONORS FOR MURDERED MEN

Ceremonies in London Over Bodies of Officers Killed in Dublin

Remains Were Then Handed Over to Relatives For Burial

London, Nov. 26.—Final military honors were paid here to-day to the victims of Sunday's assassinations in Dublin. Londoners by the thousands massed themselves in the streets along the route of the funeral procession and paid silent tribute to the British officers who lost their lives in these concerted murders.

The coffins of the ten men brought to England for burial were borne on gun carriages from Euston station over a route two and a half miles long to Westminster Abbey and the Westminster Roman Catholic Cathedral, where the imposing religious ceremonies were attended by representatives of King George, by Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, as well as ministers and members of the British Cabinet, and other Government officials and relatives of the victims.

Crowds Silent. The cortege, escorted by two squadrons of household cavalry, four battalions of the Guards with band, and a detachment of the Metropolitan and City police, passed through the crowded streets amid the rumble of the gun carriage wheels, the clatter of cavalry and the measured tread of the infantrymen.

The solemn service at the Protestant Abbey, where the service was conducted by the Dean of Westminster, and the three to the Roman Catholic Cathedral, where Cardinal Bourne officiated at the ceremonies.

Burial. At the conclusion of the services the drums and bugles of the Guards sounded the "Last Post" and the bodies were handed to the relatives for burial, which in each case was of a private nature.

Gen. Clark Calls Bond Deal Talk "Nonsense"

Brigadier-General R. P. Clark, manager of the financial department of Gillespie, Hart & Todd, Ltd., until he resigned four months ago to launch his own firm of R. P. Clark & Co., Ltd., consented last night to answer questions put to him by The Times concerning business dealings of the Provincial Government with the financial firm, alleged in insinuations by certain Conservative campaign speakers against the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance.

General Clark was mentioned as one of the prospective Conservative candidates in this city. He received The Times last night and concurred in the statement being made by Marshall B. Gordon, Hon. Sec. of the Gillespie, Hart & Todd firm, that the profits of over $100,000 on the bond issue.

"On small issues such as were put out, running from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, there could have been no profit," said the General. "Any financial man, unless he is a fool, would not touch such a deal, and I am sure that the public, who are interested in the handling of the bond issue, would not touch it either."

Open Bidding Only. "There was a bond issue in January, 1919, which was subscribed by the public, and it was not the General's business to handle it."

The General characterized as "nonsense" the insinuation that he had received $100,000 from the bond issue.

"I am entirely out of the political game and am now a dyed-in-the-wool independent."

No Preference. "But in common fairness I am quite prepared to state that as far as my knowledge goes while I was with the firm of Gillespie, Hart & Todd, my preference whatever was shown the firm in its relations with the Provincial Government."

The three bond issues of the Provincial Government that were launched while I was there were the $1,000,000 issue of 1919, the $2,000,000 issue of 1920, and the $1,000,000 issue of 1921.

Several Injured When Explosion Was Caused at a Plant

Cork, Nov. 26.—Two persons were killed and several injured in another bomb explosion to-day at a plant where a number of persons were employed.

On the night of November 23 a bomb was exploded in Patrick Street, wounding nearly a score of persons, two of whom died later.

Policeman Wounded. Dublin, Nov. 26.—Inspector Madden, who has been active against the Sinn Fein movement, was shot while walking along a street in Cork yesterday. He was not wounded seriously.

WINNIPEG NEEDS MANY MORE HOUSES

Group of Men Who Investigated Did Not Unearth Rent Profiteering

Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—(Canadian Press)—Rent profiteering is not evident in Winnipeg, according to the findings of the joint council of inquiry handed down to-day by Dr. C. W. Gordon, chairman. This body carried out a comprehensive survey dealing with housing conditions and rental charges.

The average return on investment secured by landlords is given as 6.99 per cent.

Some other source than private enterprise must be found by the commission to meet the acute need for more houses in Winnipeg, states the report, which calls on the civic authorities immediately to make a survey of the housing situation and rent for new homes.

While setting forth that needs in Winnipeg are not exorbitant, the report points out that more is charged than a large proportion of the people can or ought to pay.

Growing Worse. Winnipeg has insufficient dwellings to house its residents in decency, health and comfort and the situation is steadily growing worse, according to the report. Many cases were brought to the attention of the council which from three to five families.

TOURISTS SPENT IN QUEBEC $8,000,000

Quebec, Nov. 26.—According to J. Beaurup, secretary of the Quebec Automobile Club, the number of tourists who visited the Province this year was twice as large as that of last year. In 1919 no fewer than 18,165 motor cars came into this Province from points outside, during the period between June 1 and October 1 this year, 30,237 cars arrived, or an average of 260 cars a day. It is calculated that these tourists left at least $8,000,000 in the Province of Quebec.

BISHOP WRITES TO SIR H. GREENWOOD

Bishop of Galway, Ireland, Says Lives of Clergy Threatened

London, Nov. 26.—Denunciation of the "horrible outrage to which the people of Ireland are subjected are voted in a long letter written to Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, by the Most Rev. Thomas O'Dea, Bishop of the United Diocese of Galway and Kilmacduagh. The bishop warns Sir Hamar that his own life and those of other clergymen have been threatened and that the Irish Executive is responsible for their safety.

"Government outrages" the bishop declares, "have been incomparably greater in volume than those on the other side. The murder of Father, of Orammore, was due to Government forces and marks a new departure in the campaign which apparently indicates the beginning of an attack upon Catholics and religion."

GOODEVE FUNERAL HELD IN OTTAWA

Members of Railway Board and Others Attended Yesterday Afternoon

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—The funeral of the late Arthur Samuel Goodeve, a member of the Dominion Railway Commission, a former Provincial Secretary of British Columbia, and former member of the Dominion Parliament for Kootenay, B.C., was held here yesterday afternoon.

The attendance at the funeral was a large and representative one and included many outstanding figures in Canadian public life, as well as many citizens prominent in the political, industrial, commercial, professional and social life of Ottawa.

WAR BADGES NOT TO BE REPLACED

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—By a recent Order-in-Council the replacement of war service badges Classes "A" (for service in the United Kingdom or Canada) will cease with effect from January 1, 1921.

This step has been taken in order to protect the prestige of the service badges issued by the Canadian Government. Owing to the continual requests for replacements, the number of badges in circulation already exceeds the number of individuals entitled to wear them, and although the final loss of a badge will work hardship on the loser, it is obviously in the interest of the returned soldiers in general that no further issues of replacements should be made.

The issue of Classes "A" and "C" badges to ex-members of the C.E.F. who are eligible and who have not already received them, will continue as before, on the receipt of applications at militia headquarters.

C.N.R. BONDS ARE SOLD IN STATES

A Blood-Food Discovered That Entirely Overcomes Anaemic Weakness

CAREFULLY INVESTIGATED REPORTS ESTABLISH TRULY WONDERFUL RESULTS.

Heretofore it has often been a hopeless task for a thin-blooded person to gain either strength or weight. Neither food or medicine in many instances had beneficial effect.

What is practically a perfect blood-food, containing such elements as iron, has at last been produced, and when taken after meals will put new life and vigor into people who have despaired of ever being strong again.

This truly wonder-working treatment consists of taking two small chocolate-coated Ferronone Tablets at the close of every meal.

This wonderful blood-food supplies nourishment, vim, energy—sent a stream of vigorous, strength-making blood to every nook and corner of the body, makes every muscle and fibre sing with new-found life and health.

That gnawing tiredness leaves you—Ferronone drives it away. Sleepless nights are turned into periods of rest, and you pick up fast. Day by day your appetite improves—this means more food is transformed in nutriment that will build and energize weak organs. The inclination to worry passes away because Ferronone imparts nerve—tone and bodily strength that prevents depression.

Think it over—Ferronone is a wonderful tonic, in fact, it is more than a tonic, because it establishes health that lasts. Thousands use it and thereby cleanse and restore the entire system to a perfect condition. You'll feel the uplifting power of Ferronone in a week—it's bound to help you if you will only give it the chance.

Sold by all dealers, 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50; be sure of the name Ferronone. Forwarded by mail to any address if price is remitted to The Catarhosone Co., Kingston, Ont.

ALASKA PROSPECTOR AWARDED $300,000

Juneau, Nov. 26.—John Tupela, Alaskan prospector, whose suit for a share in one of the valuable properties of the Chicago Mining Co., among the richest in Alaska, has been pending in the courts, is to receive $300,000 for his claim under an agreement reached to-day, it was announced to-night.

While Tupela was confined in a hospital for the insane his guardian sold his interest in a claim to the Chicago Company for $1,000. The claim proved a rich one, and when Tupela was discharged he instituted proceedings to set aside the sale.

POLITICIAN SHOT AND DIED IN OKLAHOMA

Ardmore, Okla., Nov. 26.—With the death early to-day of Jacob L. Hamon, Republican National Committeeman from Oklahoma, Carter County authorities redoubled their efforts to locate the Smith, of Ringling Okla., charged with shooting Mr. Hamon in a local hotel last Sunday night.

According to Frank L. Ketch, Hamon's business manager, the wound resulted from "accidental discharge" of a revolver which Mr. Hamon was cleaning.

GRAIN GROWERS HAD PROFIT OF $699,770

Calgary, Nov. 26.—Hon. T. A. Crerar stated yesterday at the annual meeting of the United Grain Growers, Ltd., of which he is president, that the combined profits of the company and the subsidiary companies which it owns totalled $699,770.14, which was earned on a business turnover of more than $11,000,000 during the year ended August 31, 1920, representing a little more than one-half of one per cent. on the turnover.

The net profit shown by the parent company was $442,672.64, which was subject to business profits taxation.

EDITORS TROUBLES ARE ONEROUS IN LAND OF RISING SUN

Tokio, Nov. 26.—A feature of the revised law, which is to be submitted to the next regular session of the Japanese Diet, is that an attempt is made to list specifically those items forbidden publication, rather than leave the law loosely forbidding the publication of "articles which may disturb the peace and order of the public." Here are eight classes of articles which are taboo:

- 1. Profaning the dignity and sacredness of the Imperial Throne.
2. Impairing the character or prestige of the Empire.
3. Investigating or covering the criminal offenses of others, extolling, helping, or otherwise encouraging the accused or criminal offenders; or deliberately placing them in unfavorable circumstances.
4. Impairing public morality.
5. Impairing the honor or credit of others.
6. Mentioning the contents of preliminary court examinations specified by the judge in a charge, or the facts of a criminal offense forbidden by law.
7. Mentioning military or diplomatic secrets.
8. Impairing the public morality by printing indecent statements, or inserting indecent pictures.

TRADE FIGURES OF THE DOMINION

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—Unless unforeseen circumstances arise, Canada's total trade for the present year will show a record, but, at the same time, and for the first occasion since the outbreak of the war, there will be an adverse balance. Returns issued by the Bureau of Statistics give exports and imports for the twelve months ended October 31, as compared with the corresponding twelve months of the previous year. For the two periods, the total trade was:

Twelve months ended October 31, 1919—Imports, merchandise, $902,359,438; exports (both domestic and foreign merchandise), $1,252,051,955; total trade, $2,154,411,393.

Twelve months ended October 31, 1920—Imports, merchandise, $1,319,639,454; exports (domestic and foreign merchandise), $1,263,754,955; total trade, $2,583,394,409.

On these returns the balance of trade works out as follows (the periods being the same): 1919, favorable, $449,692,517; 1920, unfavorable, $75,854,921. Imports and exports by countries present some remarkable comparisons. In spite of the depreciated value of the Canadian dollar in New York, and the consequent increased cost of American goods for the Canadian purchaser, imports from the United States are increasing. Exports from Canada to the United States, too, have increased, but not at the same rate.

EXPLOITATION OF RUSSIA'S RESOURCES

London, Nov. 26.—The Supreme Economic Soviet of Russia, according to a Moscow wireless dispatch received here yesterday, issued a decree pointing out the general principles on which foreign capitalists will be permitted to exploit the natural resources of Russia. The Soviet Government received requests from foreign capitalists to afford such rights according to the message, and Soviet Russia requires offers of experienced forces and large material means in order to create within the boundaries of Russia an inexhaustible source of raw materials for manufacture on the spot and abroad.

A new law permits foreign capitalists to work the natural riches of Russia, according to the message, receiving in return the right to export abroad a portion of their production. The Soviet Government promises foreign capitalists that nothing they invest in undertakings in Russia shall be nationalized, confiscated or requisitioned. The capitalists shall have the right to engage workers and other employees in accordance with the existing law on labor in Russia.

Washington D. Vanderlip said yesterday that this reversal in economic policy of the Russian Soviet Government was a direct result of his visit to Moscow as a business man.

LIEUT.-COL. SCLATER GIVES RESIGNATION

Quits Post of Prohibition Commissioner; Will Go to Antipodes

Vancouver, Nov. 26.—Lieut.-Col. James Sclater, D.R.C., who has been Prohibition Commissioner of British Columbia since the departure of W. C. Findlay, has formally resigned his office.

He will leave shortly for the Antipodes, where he has been appointed to a post with the Canadian-Australasian Steamship line in Australia.

The salary attached to the post of Prohibition Commissioner is in the neighborhood of $4,000 a year. The former Commissioner, W. C. Findlay, received $2,900.

IRISH HOME RULE BILL IS ADVANCED

London, Nov. 26.—The committee stage of the "Irish Home Rule Bill" will commence in the House of Lords next Wednesday.

The House of Lords yesterday carried the second reading of the bill, rejecting a proposal for adjournment. The motion for adjournment presented by Viscount Midleton, provided for a fortnight's recess to allow the Government time to consider what amendments, financial and otherwise, it would propose. It was finally defeated by 177 votes to 91, a larger majority than the Government expected.

After Lord Midleton's motion had been disposed of, Lord Dunraven's motion for rejection of the bill was defeated by 164 to 75, and the bill passed its second reading.

In the course of his speech, Lord Midleton complained that "the interests of South and Southwest Ireland are sacrificed to the interests of Ulster, particularly with regard to finance."

He urged that Ireland be given fiscal control of everything that did not concern Imperial interests, and expressed the belief that the Government would be certain of defeat if it tried to force the bill in its present shape on the South and West.

Earl Curzon, Foreign Secretary, speaking in opposition to Lord Midleton's motion, said that what Ireland was demanding was not fiscal autonomy, but political independence.

London, Nov. 26.—When the Irish problem again was brought up in the House of Commons yesterday, and the question of conciliation between the Irish people was raised, Premier Lloyd George, giving his opinion on the matter, said:

"I have always been convinced that no policy of conciliation is possible in Ireland until the reign of terror has been broken, for the very obvious reason that men in Ireland who would be prepared to enter into negotiations at the present time are in terror of their lives and cannot do so freely."

STABLE GOVERNMENT.

Not a few of British Columbia's Electorate are perplexed about their duty next Wednesday. The idea that the party system is about to receive its last rites may be more prevalent than is popularly supposed.

At no period of its history has stable government been more necessary in this Province than at the present time. It has required four years to correct conditions which had earned the most damaging kind of disapproval in the money markets of this country.

The wide choice of election fare which will be offered to the voter next Wednesday constitutes a grave danger for British Columbia if the tendency of "a change at any cost" is allowed to dominate the public mind to any extent.

LIQUOR CONTROL.

Our morning contemporary appears to object to a commission form of liquor control because it chooses to see in the adoption of such a course a relegation of authority by the Government in direct opposition to the expressed will of the people.

COLONEL SCLATER.

When Colonel James Selater resigns from the office of Prohibition Commissioner at the end of the present month the public service of British Columbia will lose a capable servant and a trusted official.

BOWSER AGAINST FRANCHISE TO WOMEN.

British Columbians in general and the electorate in particular must find it difficult to suppress a smile every time the representatives of the Bowser Party seek to attach the credit for initiating and enacting women's suffrage.

ELECTION HUMOR.

In a lengthy condemnation of the Oliver Government and an effort to convince the electorate that the Opposition Chieftain is needed to conduct the affairs of the Province our morning contemporary gives expression to the following sentiments:

"There is no man in public life in British Columbia to-day who knows more about this Province than Mr. Bowser. There is no one more capable of realizing its opportunities.

We take this occasion to remind the people of this Province that the Mr. Bowser whom the morning paper again would place in charge of the people's affairs is the identical Mr. Bowser who left office in 1916 for reasons well known to the electorate.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Stenographic evidence given before the Tariff Commission already totals over one million words and a large section of industrial Ontario has not been touched. What a game!

Would those Irish sympathizers who insulted the British flag in New York yesterday have carried out their programme in any British country? It is easy to be "heroic" when there is no danger of smashed heads.

WANTS U. S. NEGROES TO BE BOLSHEVIKI

John Reed, American Radical, Laid Views Before Moscow Meeting

Washington, Nov. 26.—Union of the negroes of the United States with the radical elements of all other nations to further the cause of World socialism was urged before the Moscow meeting of the Communist International, at which both Lenin and Trotsky spoke.

Describing the position of the negro in the United States, especially in the Southern States, as "terrible," Reed declared the negro offered a two-fold opportunity to the spread of Communism in this country—first, a strong race and social movement, and second, a strong proletarian movement.

Labor Unions. White and negro labor must be joined in common labor unions, Reed proposed, as the quickest way to destroy race prejudice and develop class solidarity.

Describing the status of the negro in the United States, Reed asserted that despite the constitutional right to the ballot in the Southern States, negroes were killed if they dared to exercise this right, and that the use of separate schools, hotels and theatres existed in all parts of the country.

Organization of the foreign labor in the United States for revolt and co-ordination of radicalism in North and South America into a single movement was advocated at the same meeting by Louis Fraina, secretary of the Communist Party of America, according to the dispatches.

DO WE SPEAK OF "MAKING" A BED? (Copyright, 1920, By The Wheel Syndicate, Inc.)

When a housewife remarks that she "has to go upstairs and make the beds" she does not, of course, mean it literally. The beds themselves have already been made or manufactured in the factory.

HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1920 (Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Although Neptune is in benefic aspect, astrologers warn men and women to pursue their vocations carefully to-day, for Jupiter, Mars and the Sun are all adverse.

It should be a most fortunate rule under which to start on journeys, especially if the travel be by water.

There is a promising sign for oil and oil interests, but speculation under this rule will be unfortunate.

This is held to be a favorable sway under which to make plans for important work.

It is not read as lucky for any commercial enterprise. Merchandising or manufacturing interests should not be pushed when Jupiter is in threatening rule.

They who desire to put fortune to the test should delay. It is not a lucky day for seeking appointments or even the humblest employment.

All the signs are menacing for men now occupying high place, since much that will conduce to perplexity is foreshadowed.

Mars is in a place believed to give peculiar power over the baser emotions. Anger is easily stirred during this government of the planets.

It is not a favorable time for domestic harmony which may be easily disturbed by the male members of families.

Disappointment for a man who has wielded much power is prognosticated. The appointment of a woman to a high mission is foretold. She probably will be sent to a European republic, the seers predict.

King George is subject to adverse influences, according to English astrologers, if the planet being afflicted by Jupiter near the conjunction of Mars. Troubles that may be exceedingly grave are said to menace.

Turkish affairs continue under a sinister government that seems to foreshadow continued troubles.

Persons whose birthdate it is should be careful to avoid speculation. Those who are employed should be cautious and diligent.

Children born on this day may be lacking in financial sagacity. They should be carefully educated along the most practical lines.

MR. CRERAR WILL RETURN TO WINNIPEG

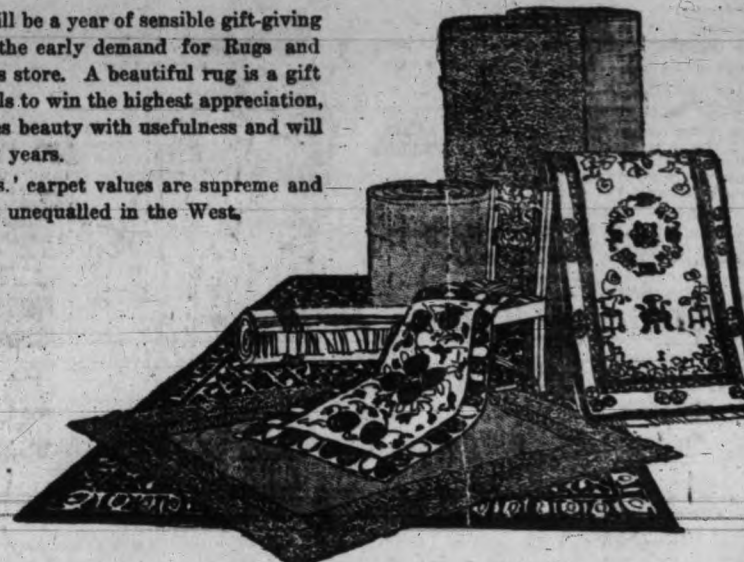

Calgary, Nov. 26.—From a thoroughly trustworthy source it is learned that the Hon. T. A. Crerar, M.P., will not address any political meetings while in the west, but following the conclusion of the annual meeting of the United Grain Growers, Ltd., here to-day, will return to Winnipeg.

When seen by a representative of the Canadian Press Mr. Crerar refused to make any statement for publication. The Canadian Press endeavored to ascertain Mr. Crerar's views on the wheat pool, but on this and other points he firmly refused to express an opinion.

SAANICH PASSES ACCEPTANCE MOTION

Agrees to Terms With B. C. Electric Arising From Six-Cent Fare Issue

Having been forced to abandon a stand which has been maintained with tenacity, the Saanich Council yesterday felt compelled to accept a motion to adopt the terms of the B. C. Electric Railway.

The issue was brought into the consideration of the council by reports made to that body by Reeve Watson and Clerk Cowper, who had composed a committee to interview A. T. Goward, Manager of the B.C.E.R., to talk the matter over. The results of this meeting were detailed at some length to the council.

"Voluntary Concession." Clerk Cowper read a letter from Mr. Goward, setting out the terms that were offered to the municipality, on the condition that they adopted the six cent car fare scheme. The lighting rate within a three-mile limit of the city hall, would be seven cents, as opposed to eleven cents minus twenty per cent discount, as it now is. This latter reduction would be in the nature of a voluntary concession, the letter stated, and not to be treated in the light of a quid pro quo. The terms are identical with those offered to Esquimalt and Oak Bay municipalities.

The company further agreed to promise that the same rate would always prevail within that portion of the three mile limit that fell in Saanich—as in the districts of Esquimalt and Oak Bay.

"It does not make any mention of the city," remarked the Reeve. Clerk Cowper then explained that the committee that called on the B. C. Electric Company, had asked for a six months' agreement with notice of any change, but that the company had refused that plan absolutely. He stated that they had a two hours' discussion with Mr. Goward, in which the latter called in Mr. Tripp and another official to his aid, stating that two to one was not fair.

"Is the six cent fare good for all time?" Councillor Terrell wanted to know.

"A Six-Cent Straw." "The six-cent fare is a straw," replied Clerk Cowper, "a last straw. Electric railway companies are facing a very grave period, and they are clenching at any straws that come their way to avert a more serious condition of affairs. This six-cent fare is a last straw that the B. C. Electric are grasping, but there is no assurance given that if the six-cent fare does not put the company on a paying basis they will not raise the lighting rate again to meet their wants."

"We told Mr. Goward that the rate-payers of Saanich were greatly incensed over the terms, and that they would be willing to start their own bus service if something were not done. He said for heaven's sake start your buses then."

"I am afraid they will shut down the Mount Tolmie line altogether if we press them too hard," remarked the Reeve.

"The B. C. Electric can do just what they like," remarked Councillor Pim.

"I've walked to Esquimalt and back to work before now," remarked Councillor Graham.

"Cold Blooded Corporation." "I may be accused of aiding and abetting a cold-blooded corporation, but I think the only thing for it is to accept the six-cent fare, gentlemen," said the Reeve finally. "The six-cent fare is not bothering us at all, but it is the light rate radius that matters; still there is nothing else for it." "It goes against the grain, but the B. C. Electric have power to leave Saanich out altogether," stated Clerk Cowper.

The resolution to accept the terms was carried.

"DANDERINE"

Girls! Save Your Hair! Make It Abundant!

Immediately after a "Danderine" massage, your hair takes on new life, lustre and wondrous beauty, appearing twice as heavy and plentiful, because each hair seems to fluff and thicken. Don't let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, plain or scraggly. You, too, want lots of long, strong, beautiful hair.

A 25-cent bottle of delightful "Danderine" refreshes your scalp, checks dandruff and falling hair. This stimulating "beauty tonic" gives to thin, dull, fading hair that youthful brightness and abundant thickness—All druggists!

COULD DO THE REST HERSELF. Wrote Mamie's mother to the teacher:

"I don't want that Mamie should engage in grammar, as I prefer her engage in youthful studies, and can learn her how to speak and write proper myself. I have went through two good grammars, and I can't say as they done me no good. I prefer her engage in French and hand painting and vocal music on the piano."

What other cities have done, Victoria can do better. A Chamber of Commerce will prove it.

INDIANS TELL DIFFERENT STORIES

Chung, Accused of Supplying Liquor to Indians, Acquitted

Chung a Chinaman, charged on remand with supplying liquor to Indians, was released Monday after the evidence submitted became so contradictory in nature that Magistrate Jay stated he would not consider a conviction warranted. Mrs. Lucy Marshall, mother-in-law of Mary Isadore Harry, who gave testimony previously, told the court that she was not at the Chinaman's shack in Theatre Alley, nor had she seen anything of Chinese whisky during the day in question. Sgt. Fry told of his visit with the girl Mary to the shack of the accused, and the finding of nine empty bottles of Chinese whisky which he stated is often over 5 per cent in proof spirit. The Indian girl had alleged that Chung was the man who sold her the whisky, but Mrs. Marshall's evidence refuted the statement. Chung was dismissed. Dominion Police Officer O'Connell interpreted for Mrs. Marshall, who gave evidence in Songhees dialect. C. Lowe handled the case for the defence. William Dodds, whom Constable Palmer had found endeavoring to start his car with his foot on the accelerator and the engine in high, was fined $75 for being in charge of a car while under the influence of intoxicants. Jew and Chin, two Chinese, were each fined $29 and costs of $2.50 each for frequenting an opium joint. Detective Siciliano told of the arrest of the two, and of his investigation, locally, to support the evidence. Mrs. Curtis Sampson, the regent, presiding. The correspondence included a letter from Percy Hutchings, the English playwright, stating that since his return to England he had induced other British actors to bring plays to Canada, and bespeaking for them the splendid support he had received while touring with "The Luck of the Navy." The letter was received with warm approval. A committee is also to be formed with a view to arranging receptions for the prominent actors who are coming here, along similar lines to that tendered to Cyril Maude. Sol. John Hall addressed the chapter briefly relating the circumstances leading to the deposit of the 8th Fusiliers colors in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay. Reference to a special case in connection with the secondary education, dealt with in the report of Mr. Day for the Patriotic Service Committee. He stated that the matter should be referred to the educational secretaries for their consideration. In connection with the assistance to be given to the Amputation Club, Mrs. McKicking and Mrs. Dean stated that furniture given by the Lady Douglas Chapter to the Work Point hospital had been sent to William Healy. The 30th will be asked to look into the matter with a view to obtaining the return of the furniture for the benefit of the Amputation Club. Efforts are being made to induce H. G. Wells and G. K. Chesterton, the famous English novelists, and Sir Philip Gibbs, the celebrated war correspondent, to come to Victoria and speak here in the course of their coming tour of Canada.

I. O. D. E. TO ARRANGE RECEPTIONS FOR PROMINENT ACTORS

Considerable business was transacted at the meeting of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., held in the Jones Building yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Curtis Sampson, the regent, presiding. The correspondence included a letter from Percy Hutchings, the English playwright, stating that since his return to England he had induced other British actors to bring plays to Canada, and bespeaking for them the splendid support he had received while touring with "The Luck of the Navy." The letter was received with warm approval. A committee is also to be formed with a view to arranging receptions for the prominent actors who are coming here, along similar lines to that tendered to Cyril Maude. Sol. TAX PENALTY TO GO INTO EFFECT ON DECEMBER 1

Last-minute tax payments are beginning to flow into the City Treasury now as ratepayers commence to realize that after Tuesday they will be charged eight per cent extra. The eight per cent penalty for delayed payments will go into effect December 1, and it is expected that the staff of the City Treasurer's Department will be kept busy from now on attending to people endeavoring to avoid this extra cost.

ENGINEER SHOULD DO BRIDGE WORK, ALDERMEN DECIDE

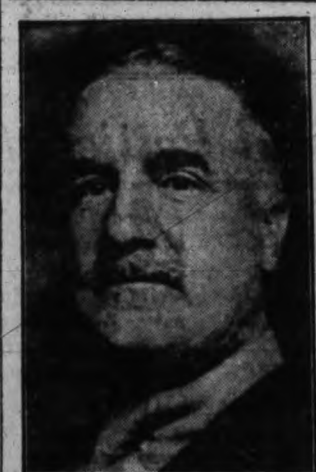

Bridge Committee to Recommend This Plan to City Council

Without dispute or argument the special Bridge Committee of the City Council, at a private meeting this morning, decided to recommend to the City Council that City Engineer F. M. Preston be allowed to build the sub-structure of the new Johnson Street bridge, in spite of the strong protest of outside contracting firms against such action, it was confidentially expected at the City Hall this morning that the Council, in Streets Committee this afternoon, would adopt this recommendation and accept Mr. Preston's bridge tender. If the Streets Committee agrees on the matter the contract can be formally awarded to Mr. Preston on Monday night and work will be started within the next few days following. Mr. Preston's tender for the work of installing the sub-structure of the new bridge is fifteen per cent below that of the next lowest tender. At their meeting this morning, however, Aldermen Sausage, Todd and Dinale, who were charged with the duty of examining the tenders, went closely into Mr. Preston's figures and established themselves that the Engineer was allowing himself a sufficient margin to guard against contingencies. Indeed, it is expected by some of the members that the Engineer's matter that Mr. Preston, with good luck will be able to keep well within his tender of $177,376. Some of the aldermen have always wished to allow the Engineer to build the new viaduct, and when it became known that his bid was so much below those of the three outside companies which tendered the award of the contract to him became almost a certainty. The aldermen feel that they would not be justified in accepting any tender much higher than Mr. Preston's, particularly from an outside firm.

CONTRACTORS PROTEST

Strong protest against the city's plan to award the contract to its own engineer has been registered by contracting firms of Vancouver. It was feared in certain quarters that Mr. Preston's tender could be declared null and void because the Engineer failed to remit with it a marked cheque like those which the other tenders were required to forward to the Council. Investigation this morning by the city legal department showed that there was no ground for this assumption, members of the Council state. The city has a perfect right to allow its engineer to do bridge work they decided. It was anticipated at the Hall this morning, however, that some opposition to the award of the contract to Mr. Preston might manifest itself in the Council at the last moment, but it was hoped on all sides that the matter would be settled in a minute longer than absolutely necessary.

CITY LOSES VALUABLE LIQUID CAPTURES

Following a period of delay, in which it was argued that the court was confined in convictions in the city belonged to the city, and also to the Government, yesterday it was decided that the city would have to turn over the valuable confiscations to the Government liquor vendor's store. Under this agreement $2,500 worth of first-class whiskey will find its way back to the vendor's store. In all 48 cases of whiskey are ready to be transported to their homes. It is not stated what will be done with the less valuable varieties of liquor so captured, which includes all kinds of beverages from 3 1/2 per cent beer to Chinese whiskey and lemon extract. No man is worth more to Victoria than he contributes to its up-building. Join the Chamber of Commerce.

MR. HART REPLIES ANOTHER CANARD

Personal "Mud-Slinging" of Writer Effectively Answered

In a communication appearing in The Colonist this morning J. E. Williams asked the following questions of the Hon. John Hart:—Were you not president or head of the Sinn Fein Society—the Ancient Order of Hibernians—and are you not to-day a member of the newly organized Sinn Fein Society—the Self-Determination League of Ireland? Did you ever vote in favor of bringing Mr. Howler to the bar of the House? Were you in khaki when the war began? If you were, why didn't you go over to France? Did you not vote and work against conscription when better men than you were dying in France? Mr. Hart's reply, which is so conclusive that it ought to satisfy Mr. Williams beyond all reservation, is as follows:— Sir:—In reply to your questions addressed to me by you in this morning's Colonist, I wish to say:— Firstly, that I was President of the A. O. H. in the year 1914. Whilst holding this office in Redmond, then leader of the Irish Nationalist party, made a tour of Ireland speaking in favor of recruiting for the Great War. The official organ of the A. O. H. in the United States made an attack on Mr. Redmond on account of his loyalty to Empire. As soon as this information reached me I sent my resignation to the National President of the A. O. H., as a protest against their action, and at once called a meeting of the B. C. organization. My protest was endorsed in a very emphatic manner, every member resigning and the British Columbia organization disbanded. Our action at that time in addition to it being a protest against disloyal sentiments was an expression of absolute loyalty to the Empire. Since the day this organization was disbanded I have not directly or indirectly been connected with any Irish organization or society. Secondly, I did not vote in favor of bringing Mr. Howler to the bar of the House. Why? Mr. Bowser declared he would not speak and consequently the confinement or any other measure that would tend to secure the necessary assistance to efficiently and successfully conclude the Great War. Although pleased to have the opportunity of stating my statements that has the unfounded and unwarranted insinuation that I am or ever have been opposed to anything that tended for Imperial Unity and Imperial success may I suggest that the points unfairly raised by Mr. Williams indicate in no uncertain manner from which side real mud-slinging tactics emanate.

OPPOSED VOTE TO OUTSIDE RELIEF

Red Cross Officials Favored Funds Being Spent to Relieve Local Distress

Prior to the passing of the vote for the donation of $1,000 to the British Empire Relief Fund at the annual meeting of the Victoria and District branch of the Red Cross on Wednesday considerable discussion was waged. Mrs. Harold Fleming, the chairman, Mr. McGregor and Mr. Angus made a strong protest against the voting of any of the present funds of the Red Cross to outside relief while there was so much to be done locally. Mrs. Fleming urged that the donation be withheld for the present, because conditions suggested that there might be suffering and hardship among the returned men and their families in this city before the winter was over. If any distress existed, she claimed that it should be assisted by the Red Cross in preference to sending the funds away to any cause however deserving. The meeting endorsed a letter from F. W. Jones, formerly president of the organization, now a member of the executive committee, who owing to absence from the city was unable to attend the meeting, but wished to offer a suggestion that "a greater effort should be made in future, either through the various service organizations or other channels to get in touch with cases which I feel must exist of hardship among our returned soldiers caused by illness—even when not the result of wounds or caused by their service overseas, on opinion being that helping these men over any difficulties caused by illness is even more clearly the work of the Red Cross Society than the furtherance of the Peace Time Public Health policy." Bishop Schofield addressed the meeting on the foregoing matter, strongly endorsing the suggestion of the writer. His Lordship's motion that a donation be given to the British Empire Relief Fund was carried, with the dissenting speakers referred to above dissenting.

SAYS SYSTEM HERE AHEAD OF BRITISH

Automatic Telephones Particularly Impress English Expert
London, Nov. 24.—Sir William Noble, engineer-in-chief to the British Post Office, which also controls the telephone system in use in the United States and Canada is superior to that of Great Britain. Sir William, who has just returned from a visit across the Atlantic, told the Society of Arts the general introduction of automatic telephones was probably the main feature in the Canadian and American schemes of progress. Discussing this matter with telephone experts in the city he visited, he found practically a unanimous opinion that full automatic working was the only certain method of ensuring the quality of service demanded by the public. The popularity of the telephone in Canada and the United States was considered, and first of all to the flat rate, secondly to monthly accounts, and thirdly to party line services and the policy of fostering residential lines. The value of the finger print and photographic system of listing criminals is ably exemplified in the recent trial of Allen E. Coleman for murder in Montreal, Coleman, who is charged with the murder of Constable Chicoine there, was arrested by the local detective department on a charge of forgery committed here. His prints were taken and listed, and the Detective Department here called for information from other bureaus of information in the East. The fact transpired that he was the identical man that the Montreal police had been wanting for some time. The case is now progressing in the East, with some startling developments in the evidence, divulged at the preliminary hearing. Coleman, stated one witness, endeavored to secure the aid of witness's wife to poison him, for certain reasons, but the attempt was unsuccessful, as witness was on his guard. Much credit for the final discovery and arrest of Coleman, on trial for murder, is due to the local detective department, which circulated the information, which circled the information that led to the locating of the man.

West-Yarrows Game Is Week-End Drawing Card

Both Teams Keen For Win in Order to Keep Up in Race—Seven Other Games Scheduled—Juniors Get Away

Eight soccer games are on the card for to-morrow afternoon. Great interest is being taken in the clash between Victoria West and Yarrows and if the weather is at all respectable there will no doubt be a large gathering of football fans at the Royal Athletic Park where this game is to be staged.

The Shipbuilders would more than likely be leading the league at present had they played the Sons of England in the first scheduled game of the season. At that time Yarrows would have had no trouble in winning and they would have now been one point to the good on the West and Metropoli, having five wins, one loss and two draws to the other pair's five wins, two losses and one draw.

Mets Playing Sons.
The Mets will no doubt find the Sons very bothersome when they meet at Central Park. The Sons have braced during the past couple of weeks and are playing good soccer and have left the cellar. Their style of play has bothered opposite teams and they came within an ace of trimming Yarrows two weeks ago.

Juniors Are Starting.
The first games in the newly organized Junior League will be played to-morrow and the lads are all "tickled" over the prospects of having a schedule prepared for them. Tom Briggs is the chairman of the Junior League and Earl Gillingham the secretary.

To-morrow's soccer card will be as follows:

- Senior League.
- Metropoli, vs. Sons of England, Central Park; referee, Payne.
- Comrades vs. G.W.V., Beacon Hill (lower grounds); referee, Lock.
- Yarrows vs. Victoria West, Royal Athletic Park; referee, Jasper.
- Intermediate League.
- Equivalents vs. Garrison, Work Point; referee, Langton.
- Junior League.
- At Central Park at 2 p.m.—Sons of England vs. Rockside Roosters; referee, Mr. Gillingham.
- At Central Park at 2.15 p.m.—Civil Service vs. Boys' Naval Brigade.
- At the Albion ground at 2 p.m.—Victoria Juniors vs. Foresters; referee, Mr. Barkley.
- At Lake Hill at 2.30 p.m.—Saanich

Three Basketball Games at High School To-night; Great Crowd Is Expected

The High School gymnasium is to be the scene of three basketball games to-night that should attract the attention of all basketball lovers. The first game is scheduled to start at 7.30 o'clock and will be between the V. H. S. girls' team, a team composed of former co-eds. The High School girls have played five matches this season, and have yet to lose one. They have rolled up a score of over 130 points to some 33 points scored by their various opponents.

The ex-Students' team will consist of Miss Margaret McVittie, Jean Burrell, Ellen Grubb, Eleanor Hadjon and Sophie McKinnon, a team which on paper seems particularly strong in defence. Just whether they will be able to cope with the speedy black and yellow people remains to be seen, but the attempt should be worth seeing.

College Against Bays.
The second game will be between the Victoria College boys and James Bay. This will be the first meeting between these teams. The only comparison that can be made lies in their performances against High School. The Bays who were intermediate city champions last year lost to High School by four points, while college were eight points behind in their first game. Since that time the College team has acquired the services of Boyd and Goodacre, two fine husky boys who may be able to give college the edge to-night. The Bays are not losing any sleep over their chances of defeat as they point to the fact that even with these two meg college were beaten by High School in a second match by over 20 points. The Bays and College are both largely composed of old High School boys, so all are at home in the school gym.

TWO RUGBY GAMES CARDED TO-MORROW

Bays Will Meet Wanderers and Old Boys Are Again to Tackle Cardinals

With the re-appearance of the J. B. A. A. in the Victoria Rugby League two games will be played to-morrow afternoon at the Oak Bay oval. The Bays are drawn to play against the Wanderers and the Old Boys will stack up against the V. I. Cardinals. The settlement of the amateur squabble brought the Bays back into the league and enables the Rugby Union to put on a double-header.

The Selection Committee will watch the games and pick the rep. team which will represent Victoria against Vancouver in the second inter-city match on December 11. The youngsters will try hard to make the committee change its theory of having weight and experience on the rep. team and include more young blood. Next Tuesday the committee will announce its selection and then the rugby followers will know whether or not the last rep. game taught the "pickers" a lesson or not.

All Teams Confident.
All the teams are confident of taking to-morrow's games. The Old Boys have been training very faithfully and are keen on wiping out the last defeat handed them by the Cardinals. When these teams last met the Cardinals were victors by three points. The Old Boys figure it will be different this time. They have induced Helgeson a powerful player who was with the University first eleven last year, to lend a hand in turning the trick. The Cardinals, however, feel that they will be able to get by once again.

Both Announced Dead.
The officials announced to the stands that both Chevrolet and O'Donnell had been killed and it was more than an hour before the news spread that O'Donnell was still living. Chevrolet's pet lot for the season in the championship competition was 1,939, acquired previously to yesterday's races. Of the surviving drivers, Milton, who did not finish yesterday, was highest with 297, with other competitors as follows: Murphy, 385; Ralph De Palma, 605; Sarles, 540; Thomas, 351; Mulford, 350; Hearne, 345; Ipa Vail, 140; O'Donnell, 114.

Cardinals—Full back, Steele; three-quarters, Bannon, Goodfellow, Goodacre, Blythe; half-backs, Grubb and Smith; five-eighths, Huxtable; forwards, Honeychurch, G. McRae, Bond, Herman, Parfitt, J. McRae and Toimie. Reserve back, Gravin; reserve forwards, Rhodes and Leighton.

Gaston Chevrolet Killed Instantly Yesterday at Los Angeles, and Eddie O'Donnell Died To-day—Mechanic Also Killed

Los Angeles, Nov. 26.—Eddie O'Donnell, racing driver injured yesterday at Beverly Hills Speedway, died this morning without regaining consciousness.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 26.—Gaston Chevrolet was killed near the end of the 250-mile race on the Los Angeles Speedway yesterday, when it developed at the end of the race, he had won the national automobile racing championship for 1920 on a point basis, Roscoe Sarles, winner of yesterday's race, being far behind. Chevrolet died in a crash which cost the life of Loyal Jolls, mechanic for Eddie O'Donnell and O'Donnell was so seriously injured that he passed away this morning. John Brennan, Chevrolet's mechanic, escaped with slight injuries.

Driving Hard For Place.
The accident occurred while Chevrolet, O'Donnell and Joe Thomas were fighting to make up the half-dozen laps they were behind the leaders at the 150-lap point. The three cars were closely bunched on the east run. According to persons grouped about the turn, Chevrolet turned to pass Thomas, who was on the inside of the bowl and his car struck that of O'Donnell, who was on the outside. O'Donnell's car turned and plunged down the incline and Chevrolet's apparently out of control, shot to the top of the track, tore out twenty feet, and rolled down the incline of the track, which was a driver of O'Donnell and Jolls were pinned. All four men were hastily picked up and removed to a hospital. O'Donnell was unconscious, his skull fractured and both arms broken. A doctor brought information to the judges' stand he was dead.

Gaston Noted Driver.
Gaston Chevrolet was the youngest of three racing brothers. He was a mechanic for two years before he demonstrated his ability as a driver of merit at the 500-mile Memorial Day race at Cincinnati, where he finished third.

After that, Chevrolet strove as an "outlaw" with several other prominent racing drivers, but was reinstated in the ranks of the American Automobile Association pilots. In 1919 he raced on many dirt tracks, winning many of the events and placing in others.

O'Donnell Quits Young.
Eddie O'Donnell was thirty-one years old and a native of Whitewater, Wis. He began his racing career as a mechanic in 1912. In 1914 he drove his first race at Kalamazoo, Mich., winning second place in the 100-mile contest. He also won second place in the Corona, Cal. road race the same year. In 1915 he started in ten races and finished in nine. Last year he won first place in the money. Twice he won first place, three times he was second, twice he was third and twice fifth.

In Previous Smash-up.
At the Kansas City race July 22, 1917, O'Donnell had a smash-up which shattered one of his arms. He has had it re-broken many times since on the operating table in efforts to have it set right. He did not race again until last year, when he drove in two races, both of them at Sheephead Bay, New York. He came in fourth in the July 4 race and second in the September event.

In 1920 O'Donnell placed fifth in the 250-mile inaugural race on the Los Angeles Speedway, February 25, and third at Uniontown, June 19. In the Elgin road race on August 25 O'Donnell took a fifth and a fourth in the Uniontown race on Labor Day.

Thirteen Starters.
There were originally thirteen entries. De Palma did not start because his car had not arrived, and Waldo Stein withdrew just before the start because he had broken a connecting rod in practice.

Boris the Winner.
Speedway, Los Angeles, Nov. 25.—Roscoe Sarles, driving the distance without a stop, won the 250-mile race on the Los Angeles speedway yesterday. He led on every lap and in addition to first prize of $10,000, took the "same amount" in lap prizes. Edward Miller was second and Eddie Hearne

HIS PREJUDICE

"I wish you would tell me," said the agent, who had been a long time on Mr. Snagg's trail, "what is your insuperable objection to having your life insured?"

"Well, I don't mind telling you," replied Snagg. "The idea of being more valuable after I am dead than while I am alive is distasteful to me."

A new and startling method of a prize fighter to "jinx" his opponent has been revealed by Harry Kabakoff, St. Louis lightweight. Kabakoff has offered the following explanation of the good showing "Kid" Bandy made against him in a fight a year ago: "I was drugged," said Kabakoff. "Some south siders did it, and it wasn't anything they put in my tea, either. I didn't realize what it was until several days after the fight, when one of the birds in on the lay told me. It wasn't any use kicking then and this is the first time I have spilled the beans. Before the fight one of the south side friends of Bandy bought two pounds of limburger and had Bandy's seconds, wearing gas masks, give Bandy a rub-down with the cheese. Bandy didn't take his bath robe off until the bell rang, then he ran at me, got me in an awful clinch, and held me until I lost my breath and my knees sagged. I didn't remember much after that, but they tell me I fought instinctively and lasted the eight rounds."

The matter of a revival in lacrosse is being discussed throughout the country at the present time. Old-timers are nearly broken-hearted over the way the national game has gone into the discard. The Kingston Standard has the following to say about the lacrosse situation:

"It is a matter of deep regret to a very large number of Canadians that lacrosse can no longer be regarded as their national game, and that it might almost be said not played at all in comparison with baseball. The game is a superb one, as it calls for the highest attributes of sport. It needs skill, a quick eye, speed, courage, endurance, team work, and, above all, fair play. In years gone by it was the game which the ladies greeted with their presence—the one which they understood and appreciated. Canadians might ask themselves why the ladies lost interest in the game, and whether the rough, unfair and often cruel play had not a great deal to do with it. The lacrosse stick is not only a bat, as its name means, but it can be, and has too often been, used as a weapon. The great point in the question is not that Canada has lost its great and really splendid national game, but that its less means also that of women in all sport to a great degree. Their influence in supporting sport, in encouraging it among the younger generations, with all that it means in fostering qualities of a sterling nature, grand and useful in every phase of life, has been lost very considerably to Canada. We ask all true sportsmen to think over the subject and to see whether in the true interests of Canada a revival cannot take place of lacrosse, the ladies' game."

Every Woman

Be she working in factory, shop, office or at home, is often a sufferer from pains here or there, from worry, despondency, and frequently suffers from backache. Very often the trouble is in the organs essentially feminine. Worry, sleepless nights, headaches, pains, disorders, irregularities and weaknesses of a distinctly feminine character in a short time bring the dull eye, the "crow's feet," the haggard look, drooping shoulders and the faltering step. To retain the appearance of youth, a woman must retain health. Instead of lotions, powders and paints ask your druggist for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is the woman's temperance tonic and nerve which has had the approval of thousands of women for nearly fifty years. It comes in liquid or tablet form, or send ten one-cent stamps to the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package of the tablets. The "Favorite Prescription" is made without alcohol, and will dispel the pains and the weaknesses common to most women in different periods of life. It is prepared in Dr. Pierce's branch Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ont., and sold by almost every druggist in Canada.

PETERBORO, ONT.—"I am glad indeed to recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the great benefit I have received from taking it. I had suffered for a long time. I would have backache and it just seemed that I had no strength in my back. I also had pains in my side. I became weak and nervous, could not sleep or eat, and was most miserable when I began taking 'Favorite Prescription.' It soon took away all my pains and aches and cured me of this trouble, and my health was better afterward than it had been for a long time. I feel that I can safely recommend 'Favorite Prescription' to other women who ail likewise."—Mrs. CHAS. BROOKS, 228 Perry Street.

I. R. GREEN DIES IN PRINCE GEORGE; ONCE LIVED HERE

Vancouver, Nov. 26.—Word was received this morning of the death in Prince George, Wednesday night of I. R. Green, a pioneer resident of British Columbia. The late Mr. Green resided in Victoria from 1862 until 1871, moving in the latter year to the Delta district, where he engaged in farming. A civil engineer by profession, Mr. Green a few years later joined the Canadian Pacific Railway engineering department, remaining with the company for twenty years. He was seventy-eight years of age. His widow, a son and a daughter survive him.

TRAIN SMASHED BUT NO DEATHS

Unusual Accident Caused by Landslide Along Columbia in Washington

Portland, Ore., Nov. 26.—Ten or twelve passengers and the engineer and baggageman were injured when a landslide struck the North Bank Limited train No. 1 of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railroad near Hood, Wash., last night, according to reports received here. None of the passengers were seriously hurt. It was said.

A baggage or mail car was thrown into the Columbia River, two coaches were derailed and the engine tender was damaged when the slide struck the train.

According to reports by passengers who arrived here, a huge boulder struck the tender, breaking it loose from the engine. The engine was thrown out and the engine ran through a tunnel before it was stopped.

Passengers said persons across the river heard a crash just before the train was hit, indicating there had been two landslides.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

The world's production of silver in 1920, according to an estimate submitted to the International Financial Conference at Brussels, will fall short of the pre-war rate of production by about 36,000,000 ounces. Last year's output amounted to 195,000,000 ounces, as compared with 223,000,000 ounces in 1913. The fall in the Canadian supply, due to the progressive exhaustion of the mines in the Cobalt district, was responsible for more than half of the decrease. Comparing the same two years, production in the United States decreased by more than 11,000,000 ounces as a consequence of curtailment of work in the copper mines from which a large proportion of the world's silver producing countries showed an increased output. In the report submitted to the Conference the view is expressed that, outside of Asia, the prospective demand for all metals purposes is not great. Germany has demobilized silver, and many countries are substituting either paper or nickel in place of silver money.—Canadian Mining Institute Bulletin.

Society Girl
A rich ore shoot has been struck at the Society Girl mine, at Moyie. The mine was reopened last August, after a long period of idleness. Ore is being taken from the shoot, and a shipment will be made to Trail within the next few weeks.

Britannia Mine Shortens Staff
For the first time in years, Britannia Mine at Howe Sound will temporarily discontinue shipping copper. Until conditions improve no further shipments of concentrates are to be made to Tacoma smelter.

More than two hundred men who have been dropped from the payroll at the mine reached Vancouver Saturday night. Normally there are between 600 and 700 workmen at Britannia. What remain there will in the meantime be employed in development work, but it is not intended to ship any more ore while the price obtained is rather less than the cost of production. Copper is now worth less than 15 cents a pound.

Babine Bonanza
J. D. Galloway, resident mining engineer at Hazelton, recently visited the Babine Bonanza and reported an excellent showing of ore where the tunnel cut the vein. Spokane directors also visited the property lately and decided to carry on the work by hand, not waiting for the erection of the concentrator as Mr. Cronin had suggested. Owing to the condition of the roads at present it will be impossible to take heavy machinery over there for some time.

Mineral Production of United States
"In 1920, for the first time, the total value of the mineral production of the United States exceeded $1,000,000,000; in 1915 it was more than $1,000,000,000, and in 1917 it exceeded $2,000,000,000," says the summary by Martha H. Clark of the United States Geological Survey according to a report in Bradstreet's. "Financial depressions and recoveries from 1907 to 1912 carried the value down and up, with a general advance to 1917, when the total was more than $2,441,000,000. In 1914 the value declined to about $2,118,000,000, but in 1915 it increased to nearly $2,328,000,000, falling short of the record value of 1913 by less than 2 per cent.

"In 1916, owing to the demand for increased production of war necessities and to their greater value, especially the metals, the total value (nearly $3,518,000,000) was the greatest in the history of the country up to that time, increasing $1,177,000,000, or 47 per cent, over the $2,339,000,000 recorded for 1915 and exceeding the value of the former record year (1913) by more than $1,000,000,000.

"In 1917 the value of mineral production reached a total of nearly $3,988,000,000, advancing $1,500,000,000, or more than 40 per cent, over the great value recorded in 1916. This increase does not mean, however, that the mines of the United States contributed in 1917 an additional 40 per cent to the mineral needs of the world. There were decreases in the production of such essential metals as copper, iron and lead, as well as of gold and silver, and also in the production of practically all building materials and in various other products. The decline in output was, however, not so general among the non-metallic as among the metallic minerals. The furnace products (pig iron and ferroalloys) together with copper, coal and petroleum, contributed nearly $3,708,000,000, or 74 per cent, of the total value of minerals produced, and their combined increases were $1,325,000,000, or 38 per cent, of the total increase.

"The metals established a new record for value in 1917, exceeding $2,000,000,000 and representing 42 per cent of the value of all mineral products. They showed an increase of $466,000,000, or 23 per cent, over the former record of $1,534,000,000 in 1916. The increase in the furnace products (pig iron and ferroalloys) and copper was more than $464,000,000.

"The value of the non-metallic products in 1917 was $2,591,000,000, or 65 per cent, of the value of all minerals, increasing more than $1,013,000,000, or 54 per cent, from the former record of $1,578,000,000 in 1916 to $2,591,000,000 in 1917.

"As heretofore, coal and iron were the most valuable of our mineral products. The value of coal in 1917 was $1,533,000,000, and that of iron (pig iron) $1,054,000,000. The fuels—coal, natural gas and petroleum—increased from $1,318,000,000 in 1916 to nearly $2,128,000,000 in 1917, a gain of about $779,000,000, or 67 per cent."

CADETS JOYFULLY BOARD SHIP HERE

Herbert Johnson and John Francois Assigned to S.S. Canadian Winner

Forerunner of an additional contingent of officer-cadets to be assigned to merchant marine vessels by the Navy League of Canada, Herbert Johnson and John Francois, two Victoria lads, this morning embarked aboard the Canadian Government Merchant Marine steamship Canadian Winner, which yesterday completed her trials, and is now lying at Ogden Point preparing to leave on her maiden voyage.

The boys were turned over to the care of Captain Walter Wingate by Secretary Rayner of the Victoria branch of the Navy League. The lads displayed great enthusiasm at the prospect of the life on shipboard and when Secretary Rayner left the ship they were eagerly engaged in folding flags in truly national fashion.

More Inquiries. Secretary Rayner states that the Navy League has applications from several shipping companies prepared to take fourteen more boys and these will be assigned in due course.

William Bellas, of Victoria, and Niel Kelso, of Vancouver, will leave Vancouver shortly on one of the big-dollar steamships. The other boys will be assigned to the four-masted wooden barquentine S. F. Tolmie, shortly to be launched from the Chobberg yards here for the Victoria Shipowners, Ltd.

New Subdivision. Last night Secretary Rayner was out at Gordon Head in connection with the organization of a new subdivision of the Victoria Boys' Brigade. About a dozen boys have applied for membership and the first work of the new organization will be to inaugurate a membership campaign with the object of inducing more boys to join the Gordon Head subdivision. Considerable interest has been evinced in the Sooke subdivision since its formation. The Navy League is doing wonderful work in supplying recruits for Canada's merchant marine.

SCHEME TO ENABLE SHIPS AT RUPERT TO BE COMPLETED

Vancouver, Nov. 25.—According to word received from Ottawa yesterday and from Newman Erb, head of the Prince Rupert Drydock & Shipbuilding Company, the Dominion Government may unite with the creditors of that company in the completion of the two 5,400-ton steel steamships now lying half-finished at the northern port.

The C. P. O. S. liner Monteaque, Captain J. F. Hosken, R. N. R., is posted to sail on Sunday for the Orient. The Monteaque will probably get away from Vancouver late Sunday night and clear from this port early Monday morning. She is taking out a full cargo and good passenger list.

The ship of this fleet to arrive from the Orient is the Empress of Japan, which is due November 26.

MEGANTIC POSTPONED. On account of delay in her departure from Liverpool, the Christmas sailing of the White Star-Dominion Line from Portland, Me., is scheduled for December 15, and from Halifax, N. S., December 16.

The special train which the Canadian National Railways is operating to connect with the Megantic will go right to the dockside at Halifax.

JAPAN HAS TOO MANY SEAMEN

Large Number Cannot Find Employment on Board Ships

Shipping and shipbuilding showed the greatest activity during the war period of all Japan's industries. Before the war a ship more than 15 years old was quoted at less than $25 per ton, but the price had reached $275 by September, 1917. In that month the Government promulgated the Wartime Shipping Control Act, which had a considerable effect in increasing the mercantile tonnage of the country, as the Act prohibited the sale of Japanese ships to foreigners without permission of the Minister of Communications, which it was practically impossible to secure.

Before the war the Japanese shipbuilders could build only 40,000 or 50,000 tons a year, but their capacity had increased to 250,000 tons by 1917, and it now exceeds 600,000 tons. The ships built during the war period numbered 378, totalling 1,225,900 tons. These vessels, 45, with 274,900 tons were supplied to America, while 120,000 tons were sunk by German submarines, yet at the end of 1918 the Japanese ships totaled 2,385,000 tons, an increase of 270,000 tons over the figure at the end of 1914.

COLLEGIAN FIXED BY HARRISON LINE

British-Freighter Due to Leave "Glasgow This Month For B. C. Points

It is announced by the agents of the Harrison Direct Line that the next departure of the "Collegian" to their home port from the United Kingdom for Victoria and Vancouver will be the S. S. Collegian. The sailing date for cargo at Liverpool is December 10 and Glasgow December 12, the sailing of the freighter will commence at 8 o'clock, thirteen days later than the date for passengers. The "Collegian" will be expected on this coast early in February.

The sailing of the steamship Craftsman, as previously announced, was cancelled. The cargo destined for the Craftsman was shipped by the steamship West Cayote, which is due at Vancouver the middle of January.

The Harrison Direct Line, which is a British-Freighter line, has a fleet of 10 ships. The "Collegian" is the largest of these ships. She is a 10,000-ton vessel with a complement of 100 crew members and 100 passengers. She is expected to arrive in Victoria on February 1st and Vancouver on February 3rd.

CRAIG DARROCH BOYS MAKE HAPPY HOSTS

Patients Entertained Lady Friends at Enjoyable Whist Drive Last Night

While agreeing with the fact that "Cleanliness is next to Godliness," it is immediately recognized by all visitors that Cheerfulness runs a very close second in the lives of the patients at Craigdarroch, the home of the halt, lame and sightless. The Ladies' Whist Club, fostered by the amusement committee, was manifested last evening when the patients were hosts at the "Cautie" to their sisters, cousins and aunts, and the Winter offensive was opened with a whist drive followed by a small dance.

Messrs. King, Pollock, Thompson and Burnett, assisted the "walking cases" transformed the big drawing-room into a card room, whilst the nursing staff devoted their attention to the floral decorations which were successfully carried out with bronze chrysanthemums. Arriving guests were received by Mr. King. The drive commenced at 8 o'clock, thirteen tables being occupied, with an overflow in the library. During the course of play candies were served, sent to the hospital by the kind wishes from St. Barnabas Candy Booth.

At 9.30 the game was called and after the intense excitement of casting scores, Mr. King announced the winners to be: First ladies, Mrs. E. Villers, who scored 89; Miss Mabel Allan, 86. First gentlemen, Mr. Rosebank, a patient at Esquimalt, 85; A. Cross, 84; whilst the "boobies" fell respectively to Miss Leigh and Mr. Frith. The prizes purchased from the Patients' Amusement Fund were: Ladies', perfume, sprayer and novel by Ethel M. Dell. Gentlemen's, Waterman pen and razor strap. "Boobies," "keepie" for lady, squeaking nigger doll for gentlemen.

Refreshments were served at the tables, after which the company adjourned to the dining-room for dancing until 11 o'clock. The success of the evening was undoubtedly due to the forty lady visitors who came to brighten the somewhat monotonous hospital life, not only with their company but with the substantial contents of various parcels they brought with them. On the departure of the guests, the able-bodied squad set to work to straighten out the rooms and leave everything ship-shape, according to K. R. and O., and before the wards settled down for the night it was unanimously decided that another whist drive must be held in the very near future.

WELCOME PLAN FOR PROVINCIAL BANK

Soldier-Labor Farmer Party Saanichton Comment on Mr. Hart's Announcement

Soldier-Labor-Farmer speakers at the Temperance Hall, Saanichton, on Wednesday, welcomed the announcement of the Hon. John Hart that he was in favor of a provincial bank. Mr. Webb thought that it was difficult to understand why Mr. Hart should not have found its advantages out before. The candidate, M. A. Orford, stated that Mr. Oliver personally was no doubt a very estimable man, but how could a man who had farmed all his life be a practical railroad man? If he was he would never pay a general manager $5,000 per year for running three trains per week on the P. G. E.

Speaking on the unemployment situation he said that Mr. Power had stated that he kept the camps open on the Throat Sore?

Take Peps at Once!

Peps will safeguard you against more serious ailments of which "throat sore" is usually just the beginning. By keeping a box of Peps on hand, therefore, you can avoid much unnecessary suffering and needless expense.

Peps Pastilles, dissolved on the tongue, throw off a medicinal Pine vapor, which is such a powerful disinfectant that it destroys all germs and prevents the soreness spreading. At the same time the healing quality of the vapor soothes the inflamed membranes and soon brings relief.

Peps are equally beneficial for laryngitis, asthma, bronchitis, coughs and colds. All dealers or Peps Co., Toronto, 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

BRITISH-FRENCH HARMONY SPOKEN OF BY SIR H. LAPORTE

Montreal, Nov. 26. — France and Britain are working to-day with a harmony that will last, said Sir Hormidas Laporte last night after returning from a three months' business trip to the United Kingdom, France, Spain and Portugal.

Sir Hormidas further said capital and labor seemed to be reaching a better understanding in the United Kingdom and should this be realized, Britain would again be at the head of the world's finance and industry.

No man is worth more to Victoria than he contributes to its upbuilding. Join the Chamber of Commerce.

Returned Men Attack Canon J. Hinchliffe

Soldier Party Candidates Assail Veterans' Organizations and Officers; Make Charges Again Canon's Political Actions and Way He Secured Men to Sign His Petition.

The G. W. V. A. was declared to be "the biggest menace the returned soldier movement ever had" by R. P. McLernan, Soldier-Labor-Farmer candidate, at the returned soldiers' meeting at the Labor Hall last night.

More than 200 men and women at the meeting wildly applauded Mr. McLernan when he attacked Canon Hinchliffe, one of the Conservative candidates, as "worse than an old-time Beaver Club politician," criticized Joseph C. Clearihue for running on the Liberal ticket, and assailed the Army and Navy Veterans, Comrade James Axon of the G.W.V.A. and H. J. Young, of the Army and Navy Veterans.

C. K. Christian, Mr. McLernan's running mate, also aroused the anger of the returned soldiers by attacking these men and institutions to the accompaniment of a tremendous demonstration.

Crippled Soldier. "When a minister of the gospel comes on a political platform he must be prepared to take his medicine."

"Canon Hinchliffe brought on his platform one of the most ghastly and terrible sights, worse than anything the old Beaver Club would have done, to further his own political purposes. He brought on his platform a bed-ridden comrade of yours and of mine, and all just to commercialize him for the Canon's own ends. The Canon proudly tells us that he is not a politician, but if that is not the trick of a politician, I would like to know what it is.

Claims Clique Control G. W. V. A. "The men who founded the G. W. V. A. and many who are connected with it were out for anything that will benefit the returned soldier. But that organization from Coast to Coast has got into the possession of a clique of Government and opposition politicians who are trying to climb the backs of the returned soldiers into lucrative positions."

Says Major Never Saw Service. "Until its last notorious convention this organization was headed by a gentleman who called himself major—Major Crehan. This man who called himself a major, never saw a shot fired in his life, never saw any foreign service and has no knowledge of trench life. How does this man talk about re-establisment when he never was established?"

"I made that statement at the time of their convention here, but later was mistaken as this major did have trench experience in the trenches at Prince Rupert. Later he had foreign experience as he went from Prince Rupert to Vernon. And he has been wounded as he was hit by an Okanagan apple.

Canon Starts His Petition. "Three months ago that nomination was offered to me. The idea was to get a ranker for the Conservative ticket. But I turned it down cold. The next man to whom it was offered was Capt. Orford, and then it was offered to General Clark. I want to pay tribute to him as an honorable man as he abided by our convention."

"But after the convention, when Canon Hinchliffe said he would not be a candidate, the next thing we saw was the Canon around with a petition."

"A Man Named Cresswell." "He has stated that he got 500 returned soldier signatures to his petition. I challenge him to show 500 signatures on that petition, and I challenge him to deny that 50 per cent. of them never saw a shot fired in their lives."

"The man who circulated that petition for Canon Hinchliffe was a man named Cresswell. This gentleman first came to Victoria, and came to a meeting of the G.A.U.V. on July 12 last. He represented himself as president of the London branch of the G.A.U.V. We took his word for it as he wore the badge. Even at the first meeting I was forced to call him to order."

Canon's Representative. "And this is the man who represents a political campaign," Mr. McLernan went on.

"Can you beat it? If Canon Hinchliffe had political aspirations the place for him was in the G.A.U.V."

Bowser Wanted Soldier Votes. "Our friend Bowser was alive to the possibilities of the solid soldier vote, and Bowser moved heaven and earth to get a soldier candidate to split the soldier vote. Oliver woke up later, and he tried also to get one on Party stand for him in that House under such conditions? He is bound to do and neck and crop to the Conservative party machine.

Canon and the Caucus. "I ask you how many times the Canon came to our institution and how many times Clearihue came in? They call themselves prospective statesmen and are representing themselves as your representatives. What sort of statesmen are they when they do not see that they are being used as catspaws of political machines?"

Influence in Caucus. "The Canon says that by being a member of the caucus party he will have an advantage, because he will be able to attend the caucus. What is a caucus? The caucus is a secret meeting of the party in a room where they sit and wait for the Canon."

before purchasing a baking powder that may possibly contain injurious ingredients. Many food scientists claim that baking powder containing alum is unsafe for use in food. The mere fact that some brands of baking powder have the words "No Alum" on the label is not sufficient proof that they are what they are represented to be. Our chemists find a good many have "No Alum" on the outside but large quantities of it inside.

PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS

New or Old— which shall it be?

THERE ARE many ways to test a Phonograph before you buy. The choice is now distinct—NEW or OLD. You CAN find out just how the Brunswick differs from the Phonographs of a few years ago.

You CAN find out whether the tone of the Brunswick is superior—on ANY record; whether or not it makes any good records BETTER.

Before you buy any Phonograph, find out the shape of the "tone chamber," or horn. What is it made of—cast-iron, tin or wood? Which do you think is best?

Can you understand every word of a song that you have never heard before? Can it say "S"?

What about the soprano's high notes? Does a Brass Band sound like a Brass Band or like an Orchestra? Can you tell a harp from a piano? Does the scratching of the stylus or jewel point distract your attention from the music? Does it annoy you?

Does it play every make of record—Brunswick, Victor, Columbia, Edison, etc.—with the correct needle, the correct position, the correct weight? Can these things be adjusted? Do you have to take something off or put something on in order to play different makes of records?

Your own ears will decide for the Brunswick, which is the only phonograph possessing these two exclusive inventions.

plays all makes of records exactly as they should be played. By a mere twist of the wrist the Ultona is instantly adjusted to play any make of record with the proper diaphragm, the correct needle, the exact weight. Nothing to take off or put on—no needles to change. And it actually does make your records last longer.

All-wood Oval Horn

built like a violin. Its oval shape and entire freedom from metal solve an old problem in acoustics by allowing tone waves to unfold in a way that is rich, mellow and, above all, natural.

Investigate—find out!

Use your own ears—your own eyes—your own judgment. Hear the Brunswick NOW. A small payment on your Brunswick will reserve it for delivery Christmas Eve, so you will have music in your home on Christmas Day.

Zam-Buk is a soothing, highly-concentrated herbal balm that is all medicine.

DR. J. W. BOWSER. "My baby broke into sores from head to foot. I had tried every remedy I could think of without avail, when I read of Zam-Buk. Under this wonderful healer the sores soon began to show improvement and were completely cured."

DR. W. H. BOWSER. "Give me Zam-Buk! It is the best all-round healer I know. It cured my sore hand, my three children's bad scalp sores, and my husband's badly cracked hands. Our home can't afford to be without Zam-Buk."

Mrs. T. D. RUSTON. "Children's Aid Society, Belleville, Ont. says: 'We never use anything but Zam-Buk for cuts, abrasions, burns, and sores. Experience proves it superior to anything else for soothing pain and quick healing. It is the only cream with Zam-Buk never fails.'"

Mrs. W. H. BOWSER. "New shoes blistered my feet badly, and sore blisters started on my feet. I had no time to lose, so I put my shoes on for a week, when I heard of Zam-Buk. It was just wonderful the way it took the pain and inflammation out of the feet and healed the sores."

Mrs. J. W. BOWSER. "Riveter, 416 St. Timothy Street, Montreal, writes: 'My hand was badly scalded by the kettle boiling water. The blistering was terrible, and the pain was insupportable. As soon as I applied Zam-Buk it cooled the fiery surfaces and reduced the inflammation. I used Zam-Buk until the blisters had broken and the sores were healed. Zam-Buk brought perfect healing.'"

How do you go about writing an advertisement which will sell? R. Hall answers clearly and practically in his book, "Writing an Advertisement." It is a careful analysis of successful methods. Another work which deals with methods is G. P. Farrar's "Typography of Ads that Pay." The writer aims to suggest ways of producing an advertisement as nearly perfect in sales appearance as possible. He deals with the choice and combination of type faces, engravings, and all other mechanical elements.

Several books on advertising in general deserve special mention. New and scientific methods are continually being introduced into the business of advertising, which is now regarded as an investment. From these books we can gain a very clear idea of what is being done from within to make more effective this part of the present day selling mechanism. Results of wide experience and observation in the field of financial advertising are given in T. D. MacGregor's "Pushing Your Business." "The Advertising Book—1916," by P. T. Cherington puts into a form of convenient reference some of the available records of recent progress in advertising methods.

Principles and Practising
"Advertising, its Principles and Practices," by H. Tipper and other prominent business writers, aims to present fundamentals of all arts and sciences that enter into the work of advertising. The book also deals with the technical construction of an advertisement. It includes economic, physical and psychological factors, and finally sums up all these in the actual operation of an advertising campaign.

A text book for the student and an introductory handbook for the business man is found in Daniel Starch's "Advertising." It analyzes and puts together in a systematic form the facts and elementary principles of its subject. The practical and theoretical aspects are well combined.

"Analytical Advertising," by W. D. Shryer deals with the psychological aspects of its subject. It presents an understanding of the mental laws that underlie advertising results. It gives a practical application of psychology to every advertiser's problem. H. L. Hollingworth has made a similar study in his book "Advertising and Selling." He sets forth these facts and laws which relate to the processes of appeal and response in selling and advertising goods.

The intelligent preparation of an advertisement for the press is dealt with by C. M. Tregurtha in his "Craft of Silent Salesmanship." By aid of this book the business man can learn to write, plan and prepare his own ads. He can learn all that stands for soundness in advertising writing.

A similarly helpful book is H. C. Lawrence's "Making Him Buy," which covers every phase of the advertising letter, telling you how to write a letter that brings you the required volume of business. The book contains thousands of original selling ideas. The letters are those of ordinary common sense, alive with reasons for "making him buy."

"There's an old, old question that the big vendors, and the mummy makers, and other business men used to ask one another in the days of C. Hoopes. It was in effect: "Does it pay to advertise?" Frank Farrington answers this question in the affirmative in his book "Retail Advertising Complete." He undertakes to show just how it does pay, and the kinds of advertising that pay the best.

A Comprehensive Work
"Financial Advertising," by E. St. Elmo Lewis, does not aim to be a complete exposition, but is nevertheless a comprehensive one. It aims to show the banker that he has a duty to the public. It is intended to show the banker the value of the printer's ink into a more effective activity in the canvas for a better business.

A book which is largely about advertising, but which goes far beyond the usual chatter of the profession regarding technique, is C. F. Higginham's "Scientific Distribution." The message of this book proceeds from the workshop of a highly successful business man: The author deals with advertising as one of the great undeveloped factors in human intercourse. It is not only a selling force; it is the force which should work through scientific distribution of all forms of intelligence.

A book which is being used by hundreds of schools and by thousands of students is S. Knox's "Salesmanship and Business Efficiency." Business concerns use it to train their salesmen, they use it because it pays. It increases the efficiency of the student, gives him a clear idea of business ethics, teaches the philosophy of leadership, as well as the science and art of salesmanship.

Mrs. A. B. Roche's "Salesmanship for Women" does not claim originality but helpfulness. It endeavors to show the place of women in the field of selling, and to point out efficiency methods.

Every person who works for a living has something to sell. Whether one be a vender of goods, services, knowledge, ability, or credit, it is self evident that to obtain the most remunerative results he must make the proper presentation of what he has, and the most effective use of his natural talents. Business has its human side, and therefore a knowledge of psychology is valuable to the seller of goods. This knowledge is well presented by F. Peirce in his "Human Side of Business."

A. E. Lyons' "Speed Talks" is a book consisting of advertisements and letters explaining their application. These are full of common sense, containing bits of business philosophy or science. They are sound and practical.

Application of Principles
The practical application of the principles of scientific management to selling is dealt with by C. W. Hoyt in "Scientific Sales Management." The new science has for its motto, "Dispatch is the soul of business." The problems of the modern salesman are well considered in a practical manner.

Harold Whitehead, in his book "Dawson Black, Retail Merchant," says: "I wanted to give the world a book which would not be a learned and technical treatise on retail merchandising, but would give a picture of business life as it really is, 'not as the world mis-sees it.' Through-out this story of a business man, one finds sound principles of retail merchandising.

Short articles on the art of the crackerjack salesman are found in S. R. Hall's "Short Talks on Retail Selling." Most people learn what they know of salesmanship by actual experience, learning a little here and a little there. This book follows the "experience plan." The points of good salesmanship are discussed in a free and easy, and very helpful manner.

A book which aims to treat of all the more important activities of a typical retail establishment, is P. H. Nyström's "Retail Selling and Store Management." Such a detailed study will be welcome because of the growing realization that selling efficiency depends partly on the sale person's knowledge of and sympathy with the general store policy, and because a wide knowledge of business is essential for the employee who hopes for advancement and success.

DENIES STATEMENTS MADE BY MR. DAKERS

W. E. Peirce, Federated Labor Party candidate in Victoria, will address a meeting in the Crystal Theatre to-night. Mr. Peirce has replied to an attack upon him voted by James Dakers, candidate of the Soldier-Labor-Farmer Party. Mr. Dakers, said Mr. Peirce, had accused him of not carrying a union card. In answer Mr. Peirce stated that, since coming to British Columbia, he had carried three union cards. He had been a union musician in New Westminster, then had carried the card of a union harness maker, and later, being employed as a sign writer, he had joined the One Big Union as there was no specific sign writer's union. Mr. Peirce thought that the O. B. U. best represented the interests of all the workers.

"Say, Jim," said the friend of the taxicab driver, standing in front of the vehicle, "there's a purse lying on the floor of your car."
The driver looked carefully and then whispered: "Sometimes when business is bad I put it there and leave the door open. It's empty, but you've no idea how many people'll jump in for a short drive when they see it."—Kind Words.

COMMITTEE STRUCK TO PROMOTE PLAN

West Coast Road Project Will Be Taken Up in Earnest

On Saturday last there was a large gathering in the Sooke Development Branch of Farmers Institute, at which Richard Felton, M.P. presided. The important matter of the West Coast Road and Marine Drive was the main subject discussed at length, and though the initial cost of such road would be no small figure, yet for the following reasons the meeting, which was representative of men of various political views, was unanimous in urging upon the Government seven strong arguments why this proposed road, surveyed by the Government in 1914, should be constructed, namely:

- 1. To provide an outlet by land for the people in the Port Renfrew District and the improvement to the accessibility of the Jordan River people with the Capital City.
- 2. As a means of speedy aid to shipwrecked mariners.
- 3. As a means of access for prospectors.
- 4. As the finest tourist scenic drive on the Pacific Coast.
- 5. To give greater facilities for settlers on the West Coast.
- 6. As an ALL COAST road to Alberni.
- 7. As a means for adequate fire patrol protecting the island's wonderful resources in timber.

Such reasons, it was felt, were sufficiently strong in the interests of the development of the country that no Government would ignore or sidestep the immediate and serious consideration of the means for the construction of this road along the coast. Several sound and feasible suggestions were put forward for raising the necessary amount of expenditure without increasing the taxation of property owners on the island, but the meeting felt that whatever Government came into power in conjunction with the Dominion Government, it would be well able to handle that side of the question. The chief matter before the meeting was the absolute necessity for the construction of this West Coast Road and this is apparent to all who have any knowledge of the conditions on this Coast and what this road will mean, directly or indirectly, towards the prosperity of the Capital City of the Province as well as to every district along the coast through which it is constructed in inestimable.

On the motion of Mr. Kohout seconded by Mr. Macnamara it was agreed that the chairman appoint a special committee of three—called the West Coast Road Committee—for the purpose of getting into touch with all interested parties to urge a concerted and continuous agitation through publicity and pressure upon the Government in order to—(1) improve the existing road to Sooke; (2) To get the portion of the road to Port Renfrew started with the ultimate object of the West Coast Road to Port Alberni, and that this committee report monthly progress made. The chairman then selected the following gentlemen, who agreed to act—Captain J. A. I. French, W. Miller Higgs and A. Kohout.

POLITICAL HEADLIGHTS

(By Common Sense).

Esquimalt Liberal Candidate Knows Needs of District

Herby Charles Helgesen, Liberal candidate for Esquimalt riding, is a native of Vancouver Island, having been born and raised on his father's farm at Sherwood, Metchoin. His father, Hans Helgesen, was a well-known figure in politics both on the island and in the Cariboo, having been identified with the Legislature for a long term of years, coming to this country from Christianson, Norway, in the gold rush of 1858.

Mr. Helgesen spent the earlier part of his life on the farm at Metchoin, and is an authority on all agricultural matters affecting the district he has been nominated to represent. He was for nine years identified with the pioneer gold mining in the Cariboo country, and later took up logging and fishing enterprises on this coast.

Thorough Knowledge. He is intimately acquainted with the needs of the district in which he has spent the greater part of his life, and was nominated as candidate by the Liberal Convention at Colwood by a very large majority. Mr. Helgesen has been a very staunch supporter of the Liberal administration in the past years, and though taking no active part in the politics of the province has always been thoroughly conversant with the events that have occurred.

His Principles. Speaking of principles for which he stands, the Liberal candidate for Esquimalt stated to The Times that his ambition was to see to the development along agricultural lines of the Esquimalt riding. He would work for the opening up of the agricultural lands of the country, and would like to see the extension of the exploitation of the mineral resources of the province. He was an agriculturalist by profession and practice, and as such felt he could claim to be suited to the riding in which he stands as candidate. He held that he had acquired the confidence of his associates, and would at all times work in the best interest of the district. Mr. Helgesen is a sincere admirer of the Oliver administration, and a staunch supporter of the Liberal cause.

POLITICAL HEADLIGHTS

(By Common Sense).

It goes without saying that it is the bounden duty of all good citizens to take an interest in the public affairs of the country. The pending election gives a wholesome stimulus to such interest, and the present article is intended as a friendly discussion of men, matters and things in general in connection therewith.

In talking of men, I could never understand the candidate who starts off by assuming that he has been chosen as a paragon of virtue, and that the other fellows, his opponents, must necessarily be rascals. There seems to be something of this nature in the present campaign. I particularly refer to the attitude of the Rev. Canon Hinchliffe. I have not the pleasure of knowing the reverend gentleman, and have nothing whatever to say against his reputation or character. One has every respect for the "cloth," but when its wearer enters the political arena he is open to the same criticism, in the same way, as any other "mere man." Particularly in this so when he fights under the banner of a leader of the proclivities of Mr. Bowers. If the Canon's remarks in his various addresses up to date have been correctly reported, it would appear that he enters the fight as a sort of purifier, and on the assumption that all politicians hitherto in the game cannot be straight. This must be a disappointing attitude to those who look for broadmindedness in the disciples of the church. As far as I can learn there has been no whisper of any crookedness, ill-dealing or graft on the part of the four men who are running on the Government side. Then why this attitude of moral superiority? The answer would seem to be that, either the Canon has been influenced by the tactics of his leader, or that he has such a poor case that it will not furnish any better ammunition.

Comparisons are odious, but as a matter of fact, everything goes by comparison, and it must be made when it comes to such an event as a political election. Now, dealing with the two main parties first, whom do we find before the people? On the Government or Liberal side, there is a successful farmer—Premier—and three energetic, active and successful business men. All the candidates on the ticket are strong, aggressive figures in the public and business life of the day, and withal are men of clean records. They are: The Hon. John Oliver, Farmer and Premier; Hon. John Hart, Financier and Minister of Finance; H. C. Hall, Barrister and Member of Legislative Assembly; J. B. Clearhue, Barrister. The Premier is known to everyone: The Hon. John Hart is equally well-known, and is perhaps the most successful Minister of Finance that the Province has ever had. H. C. Hall is a man who has first and foremost the welfare of the City and of the Island at heart, and is one of the most efficient and hard-working representatives that the people of the City have ever placed across the Bay. J. B. Clearhue—a native of Victoria—is a man who, by his own ability in winning a Rhodes Scholarship, has the distinction of being a graduate of Oxford University. Following this, he has a splendid record in the Great War to his credit, and was on active service for nearly five years. He is now in active practice in his chosen profession. Now, what are the qualifications of the Opposition or Conservative candidates? We have Canon Hinchliffe, Ross Sutherland, Alexander Stewart and W. W. Northcott. Can anyone say that these men are strong, aggressive figures in the public and business life of the day? I think not. Each of them may have been at one time actively engaged in his own particular profession or business, but I don't think that anyone could say that they are now in touch with the active business life and issues of the day. Judging from Mr. Sutherland's addresses, he is mainly concerned with the safety of capital and the importation of domestic servants. Alexander Stewart, whom I—sorry to say—have been "Bowersized" because he was not always to be found on a Conservative platform, has really nothing constructive to tell his audience. W. W. Northcott, retired City Assessor, is a good sportsman, and one would think that he is having a fling at politics for the fun of the thing. No one blames him for it, but I am sure that he will find that he is a square peg in a round hole in the present scheme of things. One can't help thinking that his services could be much more usefully employed in assisting the City to dispose of the four million dollars' worth of real property now on its hands, and which he was largely instrumental in assessing. So there you have the opposing forces of the two principal parties. If the reader thinks that the comparison is unfair, I would ask him to go to the respective meetings and size up the candidates for himself. I feel sure that he will arrive at one conclusion only, and that is, that he can see no good reason whatever for making any change in the management of the business of his country. With regard to the other men who are also running in this election, we have a varied assortment. Some of them seem to rejoice in an atmosphere of glittering generalities and Utopian ideals in presenting their political fare to the harassed voter. It will be admitted, I think, that the two great parties, Liberal and Conservative, are for many reasons the principal combatants in the field to-day. Apart altogether from policies, etc., which will be dealt with later, the above is an outline of their respective champions in the lists. On the Government side you have an experienced public man and successful farmer in the Premier, and three comparatively young, active and aggressive business men. The opposing side is represented by four elderly men, three of whom at least have more or less retired from the hurly-burly of business affairs. Which four would you choose to carry on your business in these critical times? That question I leave to you to be answered on the first of December.

JUDGMENT

IS BASED ON ACTS—NOT ON PROMISES

Take the Record of the Oliver Government, a Sensible, Progressive, Business Government, and Compare It With the record of Any Previous Administration in British Columbia Give Your Verdict at the Polls on December 1st.

Lost credit of the Province restored—economy and efficiency in administration—current expenditure within revenue.

Efficient administration of Attorney-General's Department—Spanish Banks, "Sophia" Workmen's Compensation and E. and N. Foreshore cases won before Privy Council.

Provincial Secretary's Department re-organized—grafting, waste and other abuses abolished—Civil Service re-organized and actual cost reduced.

Practical land settlement policy adopted. Lands are now for the settler—not for the speculator.

Educational system developed along common-sense lines.

Assistance given to prospectors and miners—resident engineers appointed—roads and trails built.

Indian reservations opened to prospectors and miners. Road building placed under supervision of competent engineers—a definite plan for the future adopted, instead of old patchwork policy.

Intelligent assistance and encouragement given to farmers—co-operative marketing schemes assisted—new areas brought into production—more intensive cultivation secured.

Sanitary conditions in camps improved—strikes averted—free employment bureaus established—minimum wage board for women established.

Compensation for wage loss and pensions paid amount to over $4,000,000.00. Best medical aid given in case of accidents—first aid service made compulsory.

More advanced social and domestic legislation affecting women than any other province or country passed in the same length of time.

More done towards re-establishing returned soldiers than by any other province in the Dominion. Out of a total of 598 adult male appointments to the Civil Service 526 were returned men.

These are only a few instances of work accomplished by the Oliver Government in the past four years. The record of other administrations speaks for itself.

PRAIRIE FARMER
ISSUES A WARNING

Mr. Helgesen Appeals For Development of West Coast Timber

"No prairie farmers will want to come to British Columbia to settle should a Conservative Government be returned," stated Francis Simpson, who made his first appearance on a political platform in British Columbia on behalf of Henry C. Helgesen, Government candidate for Esquimalt, last evening at Colwood.

Mr. Simpson described the condition of things which he found in his early days in Manitoba. "Year after year," he stated, "in my first thirty odd years there not a dollar was cleared, we earned nothing but experience." He pointed to the circumstances under which he acquired stock, and the situation of having to sell it at two and a half cents live weight. "I was working for nothing," he stated. "Why does cordwood and timber cost in Victoria when I have sold mine for $2 and hauled it in?"

"We were taxed and fished from," he stated, "until we began to organize. From that day our condition began to improve. Farmers and farming began to make something."

He declared that the Western farmers were watching this election, because they would not come where Tory Government prevailed, having had bitter experience.

Frank Higgins & Co. gave a masterly review of the record of the Oliver administration, dwelling upon their domestic legislation, their reconstruction policy, and their steady upholding of the credit and industry of the Province. Mr. Higgins is to speak again this evening at Metchoin.

The Candidates.

Mr. Helgesen in a convincing address, pointed out what the Government land policy meant to the farmer. He said his opponents had been confining their attention to criticism, not constructive policy, and that the question was whether the farmers wanted Bowser or Oliver back in power. Relating the history of the railway record of the Conservative administration as it affected Esquimalt, he showed how elections had been won by railway promises. Had Mr. Bowser been the business man he claimed to be, he would have seen that the West Coast was developed. "I have just been through the districts along the West Coast," continued Mr. Helgesen, "and there are millions on millions of feet of timber which never can be got out until a railway is built." He condemned the way in which the Bowser administration had allowed speculators to grab the land. It was disgraceful, he averred, that there was no desirable homestead land left there.

MUM'S THE WORD.

To the Editor:—Most of those who speak in Bowser's behalf know something of his past record. Those who do not are silent. It is the general belief around here that Bowser expects to raise the funds to meet the promised per capita grant to municipalities from the farmers themselves by cancelling the $1,500 exemption in the farmers' income tax, and the poor old farmer won't know the difference.

MOSSBACK.
Keating, Nov. 25.

A CORRECTION.

To the Editor:—In regard to the statement in your paper in the Nanaimo News, I beg to state on behalf of W. G. Fraser that the Hon. Wm. Sloan has never spoken on his platform and will be asked to do so during this campaign.

WM. ANDERSON,
Secretary,
Fraser's Committee Rooms, Lady.

AN EXPLANATION.

To the Editor:—In yesterday's report of the meeting with the Workmen's Compensation Board I am credited with having made an insulting allusion to Jews. I find no fault with your convictions, but because of the heat of throwing back a charge made against the hospital by the chairman, I did unguardedly use the word without a very necessary qualification, but I never meant to use it in a way that would hurt my many Jewish friends. In so far as my statement has wounded any one's feelings I desire to express by sincere regret.

Yours truly,
ROBERT S. DAY,
Victoria, Nov. 25, 1920.

TORY NO LONGER.

To the Editor:—Why is it considered necessary by our City Fathers to ask the Conservative Party what they are going to do when they get in? If we are all honest men or even if the majority of us are honest men how can the Conservatives get in? Because, of course, we will all vote according to our convictions. There seems to me to be a loss of dignity involved in consulting a party with such a past. If ever such a thing as a millenary came along no one would think of asking the d-1 what he was going to do when the 3,000 years was up. I have listened to Mr. Hart and his story about the kitten hit me rather hard. In the Old Land I belonged to the Conservatives because they seemed to me to have more of "truth and justice, religion and piety" than either Liberals or Radicals. But my eyes (like those of Mr. Hart's kitten) have been opened; not in a few days, though. It has taken some years. Electors, take my advice—don't let Messrs. Oliver and Hart be barred from the good work—splendid work—they

WANT TO KNOW STAND TAKEN BY LOCAL ASPIRANTS

All candidates in the present election are being asked by the General Teamsters and Truck Drivers' Union to answer the following questions:

- 1—The Chauffeurs' License Tax being a direct tax upon the worker in this industry, do you favor its cancellation?
- 2—If not, do you favor a stricter enforcement of the present tax to include all those who drive a car or truck for commercial purposes?
- 3—And whereas the present Act was brought in in order that the public would be protected from inexperienced drivers, would you favor a stricter examination in order that none other than responsible and experienced drivers would be issued a license?

4—Do you favor the amending of the present Act, placing eighteen years as the minimum age for being in charge of a car or truck?

A circular setting forth these questions is being sent to all city and district candidates and to those running in Vancouver by Joint Council 36, composed of the milk drivers, bakery salesmen and general teamsters of the two cities.

LIBERAL CANDIDATES STATE POLICY OF ADVANCEMENT

Young Blood Needed.

Mr. McGeer pointed out the necessity of having young blood in the legislature. These were times which required the exercise of the most earnest endeavor and initiative. In a brief and capable manner, Mr. McGeer pointed out the benefits that had resulted through the systematization of the various departments of the Government. Efficiency was the keynote of the Liberal administration, and the speaker considered that the Government was justified in expecting a return to power at the hands of the electors in view of their record of the past four years.

Mr. McGeer paid a compliment to the Hon. John Hart and H. C. Hall, for the part they had played in promoting good legislation. What was needed to-day was a good business administration, and the speaker considered that the country had that in the present Government. Illustrating this point, Mr. McGeer briefly referred to the capable manner in which the affairs of the Public Works Department had been handled under Liberal leadership. He spoke of the efficient manner in which the work and superintendence of the roads programme had been carried out.

In a mining country such as British Columbia, it was essential, he stated, that everything conducive to the development of this industry should be carried out, and Mr. McGeer reminded his audience of the capable manner in which this branch of the Government had been carried out under the supervision of the Hon. Mr. Sloan, Minister of Mines. Encouragement had also been given for the development of the mining industry, which meant, of course, better times for all.

A Bright Future.

One of the pleasing features of the meeting last night was that none of the speakers indulged in a rehearsal of the shortcomings of their opponents, but confined themselves strictly to an outline of what had been accomplished by the Liberal Government and what it was hoped would be accomplished during the next term of office if the administration is returned.

Mr. McGeer referred to the usefulness of the Harpings on next history. He believed in allowing the past to be buried, and advised that all should look forward to a bright and prosperous future. The speaker stated that he would be quite satisfied to leave it to the electors to judge for themselves which party they should support after a conscientious consideration of the records of the Bowser Government during a term of thirteen years, as compared with the four years of Liberal administration.

H. C. Hall Speaks.

Henry C. Hall, who is seeking election for a second term, though he had just spoken at another meeting, was in good form and was greeted with applause. Mr. Hall confined his remarks to a review of what had been accomplished by the Liberal administration and a comparison of the records of the two parties.

Mr. Hall reminded his hearers of the fact that it was due to the record of the Bowser Government that the no uncertain demonstration of disapproval was made in 1916 which resulted in that Government being thrown out. The speaker briefly outlined the advantageous legislation that had been passed for the advancement of the Province and for the real benefit of the people, especially the women and children.

Mr. Hall's Aid.

The greatest aid that could possibly be given the Municipalities was rendered when Mr. Bowser was put out in 1916 and the finances of the Province began to put on a basis where sound business tactics could be followed," said Mr. Hall.

Ross Sutherland was advocating that the country go back to the old Bowser method of selling lands, reminded the speaker. "If there is one service that the late H. C. Brewster rendered this country it was when he awakened the people of this Province to the necessity of land settlement and greater production and immediately steps were taken to abolish the old system which allowed of political grafters and foreign speculators tying up millions of acres of productive land for the sole purpose of bleeding the settler.

"We must go ahead, develop our lands, our minerals and our timber and we must increase our efforts to make this country prosperous. I have watched the speeches of our opponents to see if they have any constructive suggestion, and have failed to find them," said Mr. Hall.

Great Island Resources.

The speaker then referred to the splendid assets in timber and other resources to be found along the line of the Canadian Northern Railway. One day the car upset and she was pointing out that the development of that New site is saving her employer these resources would bring mills for $10,000.

and other industrial plants into existence and as Victoria was the marketing centre for this area, increased benefits would accrue to the city and surrounding district.

Mr. Hall spoke in glowing terms of the possibilities for increased development in natural resources, industries and foreign trade. "At the basis of all our efforts must be a policy of opening up our natural resources," said the speaker. He went on to explain that the question of establishing a Research Branch of the Department of Industries was under consideration by the Government for the purpose of aiding the promotion of various industries, especially those affecting the manufacture of by-products.

Mr. Hall concluded his speech by reviewing the beneficial legislation that had been passed by the Oliver administration.

Ex-Alderman Robert Beard acted as chairman.

Miss Gaffney, employed as a cook in a summer home near Marblehead, Mass., claims the terms of her employment called for transportation to church every Sunday morning. One day the car upset and she was pointing out that the development of that New site is saving her employer these resources would bring mills for $10,000.

YOUNGER MINDS INDICATE IDEA OF FUTURE CAREERS

Opinion Formed at Impressionable Age Give Thought to Older Victorians

A remarkable picture of what the young people of Victoria are thinking of as their own plans for the future and of Victoria a place to live and work in, also what the city needs, is afforded in the compilation of the questionnaires sent out by the campaign executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The document contained these questions:—

(1) What vocation do you expect to pursue?

(2) After completing your education do you expect to live in Victoria? (if not, why not?)

(3) As a future citizen, what would you suggest the Chamber of Commerce should undertake for the improvement of Victoria?

In compiling the answers it might be pointed out that they naturally reflect the opinions of youth. At the same time they present a remarkable picture of what the younger generation is thinking of the future in Victoria as it affects them individually and collectively. In addition, these questionnaires were taken home by the students, and were discussed by their parents, and perhaps the answers we have give us a cross section of much more mature thought than is apparent at first. The report is remarkable in that it presents to the consideration of the new Chamber of Commerce a civic social point of view of a high standard and can only be explained by the fact that the educational authorities of Victoria are conducting a most progressive policy of teaching and are succeeding in a marked degree. The youthful mind of Victoria is free from the self-centred point of view and is reaching out under the pressure of a community consciousness that reflects considerable credit on the students and their teachers.

Question one "What vocation do you expect to pursue?" and question two "After completing your education, do you expect to live and work in Victoria?" are very naturally, temporary decisions and must be viewed in that light. It is quite evident from the study of the answers that much can be done by the new Chamber of Commerce to retain the energy and resourcefulness of these young men and women. It is a rather striking example of the popular saying that the city must be up and coming or the youth of the city will be up and going.

Speaks at High School.
Through the kind permission of Dr. Robinson of the High School, Mr. Crosby addressed an assembly of all the students there last week, and about 400 questionnaires were distributed at that time. Harold Cross, Boys' Secretary, at the Y. M. C. A. allowed Mr. Crosby to speak to two different groups of young business boys, and he gave out a hundred blanks to them. Out of the 500 questionnaires distributed, replies were received from 251; 102 boys and 149 girls. The story is best told in the simple presentation of the facts, thus leaving the citizens individually to draw their own conclusions.

Opinions of Pupils.
Question 1. "What vocation do you expect to pursue?"
Boys:—11 doctors; 9 electrical engineers; 6 civil engineers; 5 stenographers; 5 dentists; 4 lawyers; 3 bankers; 2 accountant; 2 plumbers; 2 horticulturist; 2 draughtsman; 2 civil service; 2 fruit grower; 1 forest ranger; 1 musician; 1 wireless operator; 1 chemical engineer; 1 butcher; 1 cartoonist; 1 mechanical engineer; 1 broker; 1 mining; 1 aviator; 1 army; 11 undecided.
Girls:—39 school teachers; 29 stenographers; 15 nurses; 12 business; 9 musicians; 5 journalists; 2 doctors; 2 newspaper reporters; 1 civil service; 1 artist; 1 missionary; 16 undecided.

While we have doctors and nurses heading the list we find there are no prospects of Victoria having any undertakers in 1925. There are no ministers either.

Question 2. "After completing your

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WALK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her to Health.

Perth Amboy, N.J.—"For three years I suffered with a severe female trouble, was nervous, had backache and a pain in my side most of the time. I had dizzy spells and was often so faint I could not walk across the floor. The doctor said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my newspaper, and tried it. Now I am better, feel strong, have no pains, backache or dizzy spells. Every one tells me how well I look, and I tell them to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—that is what makes me feel well and look well. I recommended it to my sister and she is using it now. You can use this letter if you wish, for it is certainly a grand remedy for a woman's ills."—Mrs. MARTHA STANISLAWSKI, 624 Penn St., Perth Amboy, N.J.

For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

education do you expect to live and work in Victoria. If not, why not?"
Boys:—Uncertain 17%; staying here 35%; leaving home 48%.
Girls:—Uncertain 28%; staying here 57%; leaving home 15%.
Boys leaving home are going to—1 to China; 1 to Australia; 7 to United States; 3 to Praries; 14 undecided.
Girls leaving home are going to—2 to China; 1 to India; 1 to Australia; 1 to States; 2 to Praries; 2 to Toronto; 4 undecided.
To sum up the pupils so far as they know how, have decided as follows: 49% will stay here; 21% are going away; 23% are uncertain.

Younger Minds.
It is interesting to know just why so many of these younger citizens are making plans to leave Victoria. "I think the praries offer greater opportunities."
"I am going to Australia where it is brighter, more democratic and home-like."
"The States offer better chances to a young man."
"Because there is hardly any chance of promotion here."
"It isn't 'push' but 'pull' that counts."
"I can't get a proper musical training in Victoria."
"I would rather get a start where no one knows me."
"The need of my calling will take me away."
"Too personal."
"Not suitable to start in—good place to settle in."
"If present conditions hold good, not ideal city to start life in."
"Must go to a city that has industries and factories."
"Other cities are doing better business—I must be where the business is."
"Victoria is practically dead and doesn't seem to care about young people."
"There are no musical possibilities here."
"Not enough work."
"Then fight here, the citizens of Victoria have a challenge from the young folks. 23% of these will stay, but this is their plea:—
"I will live here if I can make a living."
"I will certainly stay here if I can work at my trade."
"It depends upon the opportunities Victoria offers."
"I would rather stay here but can't unless business openings increase."
"I will live here as long as I can make a success of my profession."
"If there is any employment."
"If I can get a suitable job."
"If Victoria wakes up a bit."
"Whether or not I stay, depends on future conditions."
"If Victoria can use me, I'd like to stay."
"Certainly I'll stay, if I can make a living here."
"If possible I'd like to stay in Victoria."
"It would be unpatriotic for all

Dominion Rubber System Rubbers
Made Expressly for Children

THEY are designed by men who know children, Canadian winters and rubbers. They fit the little shoes snugly; they are easy and comfortable because dealers who carry these Dominion Rubber System products can get all shapes and sizes for children's shoes. The Dominion Rubber System rubbers are made with good, stout soles and heels to stand the kicks and scuffs which active children give to rubbers. Dominion Rubber System rubbers mean dry feet—mean that the kiddies won't catch cold or have sore throats because of wet feet. Rubbers, properly fitted as the Dominion Rubber System dealers fit them, enable the children to wear old shoes in wet weather and thus save their good shoes.

When you take the children for new rubbers, be sure to find the dealer who carries Dominion Rubber System rubbers. He will take particular pains to see that they are properly fitted with rubbers that will wear well. Dominion Rubber System rubbers are made in shapes and styles to fit all shoes for men, women and children and are sold by the best dealers throughout Canada.

young men to leave their native city, but we must eat."
Of those staying the big majority are girls. Two or three of their reasons are:—
"Because I was brought up here and if all young people left Victoria would not prosper."
"I think there is hope for Victoria and I'm going to take a chance and stay for awhile."
"I would rather live in a live town, but my parents say I must stay here."
In the 31% who are counting on leaving home, the city of Victoria, and the surrounding country is losing:—7 doctors, 5 teachers, 4 stenographers, 3 nurses, 3 electrical engineers, 3 civil engineers, 3 musicians, 2 journalists, 1 missionary, 1 each of mining, chemical and mechanical engineers.

More Industries.
Question 3. "As a future citizen, what would you suggest the Chamber of Commerce should undertake for the improvement of Victoria?"
The answers were overwhelmingly in favor of more industries, more plants, more factories, ship yards, steel and iron mills, fruit and fish canneries, boot and shoe, woolen and lace factories—and so on—and so on. About 90% of the replies suggested greater industrial activity as the panacea for the ills of Victoria. It is a most remarkable thing that our young people can go unanimously point their finger at so specifically and so vitally an asset.

Along improvements in industrial lines they suggest:—
"Encourage shipping."
"Make use of outer docks."
"Provide more work for white men."
"Dig a canal from near Parson's Bridge to the Gorge."
"Fix up Government Street paving."
"Repair West Saanich Road, Cook Street, Esquimalt Road."
"Better lighting system outside of business district."
"Build new City Hall."
"Tear down old buildings on main streets."
"More apartment houses."
"Burn down China town."
A Winter Garden.
Then with their thoughts on one of the most valuable assets Victoria has, they suggest:
"Build a million dollar Winter Garden."
"Have some amusements for tourists."
"Have better shows and pictures in our theatres."
"Have salt water baths."
"Public natatorium."
"Public camping grounds for tourists."
"Municipal golf links."
"Band concerts in parks."
"Make Victoria a free port."
"Be more considerate of needs of tourists."
"A big public hall where meetings and lectures could be held."
"Supervised play-grounds."
"A big sign 'Welcome to Victoria' at docks."
"Get more conventions here."
"A campaign boosting Victoria."
"Made in Canada" campaign.
"Get a new parcel post wagon."
"Have business men advertise Victoria on their letterheads and envelopes."
"Along educational lines the suggestions are:
"Establish an efficient law college."

"Moving pictures in all schools."
"Cheaper car fares for students."
"Free text books for students."
"Improve High School grounds."
"Teach manual training and domestic science in schools."
"Financial aid to ambitious students to complete education."
"Better methods of taxation."
"Teach people not to 'jay walk'."
"Restrict Chinese labor to agriculture."
"Public ownership of utilities."
"Street cars running till 1 a.m."
"Advocate daylight saving."
"Lower taxes."
"Banks open for couple of hours at night for working men."
"More pep."
"Encourage wealthy men of Victoria to invest their money in producing our natural resources."
"Get a City Council with business heads on them."

"A young energetic mayor and council would be an improvement."
"The answer to question 3 is a splendid illustration of how a programme of work can be developed," says the committee. "It shows conclusively how the consensus of opinion in the community can be definitely organized and made to express itself efficiently so that efficient and directive efforts in the campaign can be developed along positive lines. It is a demonstration of how an organization can avoid the method of chance, and proceed in a scientific manner. We believe that the citizens of Victoria should have their minds directed to the modern point of view, as show in the answers of the students. Especially interesting is the answer made on the stabilization of the economic basis of the city; the improvement of those community services which guard life's activities; provides an adequate recreational programme; and emphasizes an indication how a new age is calling out for the re-consideration and a re-statement of the human elements and in the rebuilding of our community. We believe that this report is quite remarkable in these respects and congratulate the city on the fact that the youth is not only possessed of the energetic character of a live Canadian community but is evidently in possession of a vision of community service and enterprise which augurs well for the future. Careful consideration on the part of all citizens of Victoria on the recommendations, desires and aspirations of the youth of the city will definitely establish the position of Victoria among Canadian cities."

Do you know there are only two methods of Knitting Underwear?

1. One is the method used in the manufacturing of "CEETEE"—knitted on full fashioning machines, which "knit-to-fit"—used only by Turnbull's, and by no other underwear manufacturer in Canada.

2. The other method is that of knitting on circular knitting machines, such as are used by every other manufacturer of knitted underwear in Canada—also by Turnbull's, for their other lines.

Good appearance, wonderful softness, ease and comfort in fit, with quality always first, the best yarns, the most modern process of manufacture—are embodied in all Turnbull's Underwear.

For over sixty years Turnbull's have specialized in the making of high grade knitted underwear in Canada.

VARIETY

Many a matrimonial bark has run early in its voyage, on the rocks of domestic infelicity, because husbands with judgments warped by infatuation imagine that beauty in their wives should be a sign of high efficiency. The fact remains—as most husbands can testify—that the homeliest women make the best cooks. There are, however, several gentlemen, David Wark Griffith among them, who will testify that, in an emergency, even a beautiful girl may turn out to be a surprisingly good cook. Miss Carol Dempster, who plays a leading role in Mr. Griffith's latest United Artists' picture, "The Love Flower," which will be the feature at the Variety Theatre to-day, is a striking case in point. For the final scenes of this "Big Four" production whose locale is the South Seas, Mr. Griffith took his entire company from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., across the Gulf Stream to the islands of New Providence in the Bahamas. Deceived by the apparent placidity of tropic waters, not sufficient care was exercised in selecting the vessel for the short voyage. A gasoline-driven yacht was hired; a beautiful boat for inland waters, but quite incompetent to breast the heavy waves kicked up by the northeast gale into which they ran with results well known to newspaper readers.

PRINCESS

"It Pays to Advertise," at the Princess Theatre, is without doubt the greatest comedy of the day. It is screamingly funny and still the whole thing is so natural, so human and so universally appealing that it is bound to delight all who witness it. The entire cast is seen to good advantage and Miss Page, Mr. Aldenn and "Tommy" Fadden are working together in a manner that suggests a high priced road attraction, and it is evident that there has been much earnest study and careful preparation on the part of the production. At the Saturday matinee of "It Pays to Advertise," the prizes will be given for the children's best letters of criticism on "Boss of Bar Z Ranch," and the little folks are invited to guess how many words Mr. Aldenn has to say in his part of Rodney Martin in "It Pays to Advertise." This week. The prizes for the two who guess nearest the correct number will be given during the matinee on Saturday, December 3.

Monte Blue, leading man for Mary Miles Minter in "A Cumberland Romance" was a long and worthy rival in this latest Mary Miles Minter production for Realart. Because he is big in stature and absolutely fearless he made his start in pictures as a "stunt" man, doubling for famous stars. He has not escaped the "stunt" work even now, when he is playing the part of the best and most popular leading men in the business. In "A Cumberland Romance" he has one very sensational stunt to contend with, that of molten metal which, according to the terms of the script, splashes and burns a deep scar on his forehead. And in another scene he plays the role of a fierce young mountaineer circuit-rider by literally "beating" his "moonshiner." A thrilling and dramatic stunt which, according to the terms of the script, splashes and burns a deep scar on his forehead. As far as the star, Mary Miles Minter, is concerned, the John Fox, Jr. production of "The Chamberlands" offers her acting opportunities above and beyond anything that has yet come to her in her entire screen career. The development of the wild little mountain girl, who rides into the story astride a big bull, is a very artistic achievement and one of which Miss Minter's screen sponsors should be proud.

a photodrama described as "extraordinary" from the pen of James Oliver Curwood, an author who won undying fame for his "Back to God's Country" and "The River's End." This third product of the Curwood knowledge of the Far North and of natural beauty is being presented by the Associated First National as also were the other two efforts. The title tells a great deal as to the nature of the story of "Nomads of the North" and it has to do with an intense love affair which wanders through many nooks and corners seldom called mortal man's ken. The great piece-de-resistance is the persistent effort of an iron-fisted "king-pin" of a trading-post to impose his will to the extent of forcing a girl whose father is in his debt to marry her to the man who is the object of her affections. The girl loves a simple-minded, honest, sturdy trapper who got so far away from her that it required three years to make the return trip and he arrived just in the nick of time, for she was about to be forced against her own will to become the wife of the man she genuinely hated. The reappearance of the real lover on the scene starts exciting events which never abate until the very finish of the film. Triumph and happiness crown the protracted efforts of the couple to combat a wide variety of serious obstacles. An excellent cast interprets the various picturesque characters in this photoplay. Lon Chaney and Betty Hlythe in the two leading roles are at their best while Lewis Stone gives a memorable characterization of a hardened officer of the law who after all has a big tender heart. Melbourne MacDowell succeeds in projecting a characterization which stands out in the production although he is not given as much opportunity as others. The direction is conceded to be little short of perfect while the photography is remarkable in all the details, according to advance reports.

PANTAGES

First honors for laugh-production at Pantages Theatre this week are evenly divided between Mr. and Mrs. Mel-Burn, a musical comedy entitled "Rolling Along," and Billy, the blackface comedian. Mr. and Mrs. Mel-Burn present one of those bed-room scenes introduced in New York a season ago and still going strong there. Mel-Burn is the somewhat-under-liquor husband and his wife the pleading reformer. In "Rolling Along" a prettily chorus combines with Hebrew comedians to give a pick-like figure to produce a musical tableau of originality and brightness. The scenery is the interior of an ocean liner, and it is a fine new line on the high cost of living and a lot of fascinating chatter. There are two other notable acts.

COLUMBIA

Ann Little, who has appeared in many Paramount Pictures in the past and who has a host of admirers among patrons of the cinema, will appear in the leading feminine role in "The Cradle of Courage," William S. Hart's newest Paramount Picture, which will be seen at the Columbia Theatre again to-day. Miss Little is a typical Western actress, but in this particular instance she does not play the role of character but is, instead, cast as a girl who is the adopted daughter of a gang leader in the underworld of San Francisco. She is said to have given one of her best characteristics, evidencing the possession of more than ordinary dramatic ability. The picture was adapted from a story by Frederick Bradbury by Lambert Hillier, who also directed it. Mr. Hart appears as a policeman—a part that is distinctly different than any portrayed by him heretofore and one to which he does full justice. The novelty of seeing the "western star" in a policeman's cap and uniform should in itself prove sufficiently striking to attract attention. In addition to Miss Little, the cast includes Thomas Santschi, Gertrude Claire and other well known screen players.

ROMANO

An entire circus was engaged for the production of several of the important scenes in Elsie Janis' first Helicon picture, "A Regular Girl," which is now showing at the Romano Theatre. The circus made its stand in a huge field close to Miss Janis' home in Tarrytown, New York, relieving the famous comedienne of the necessity of travelling. "A Regular Girl" is one of the most spectacular productions that has graced the screen. In addition to the scenes of the circus, an entire railroad equipment was chartered for the making of a "thrill" scene. The appearance of Elsie Janis in "A Regular Girl" marks her first public appearance in two years.

Richard Doran, 85, of North Wales, Pa., who has had for previous wives all of whom died, has taken out a marriage license to wed the fifth.

LOCAL AUDIENCE IS CONVULSED BY ARTIST'S HUMOR

Bairnsfather Shows Marvelous Facility With Paint Brushes and Words

After convulsing his hearers with a description of Ol' Bill's why and wherefore, his origin and progress in war in peace, Captain Bruce Bairnsfather, the celebrated interpreter of war humor, delighted an audience at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night by drawing in charcoal and color inimitable pictures of some of his most famous trench characters.

Introduced by Brigadier-General Ross, G. O. C., as one who had done more to "hearten England in the darkest hours of her history than probably any other man," Captain Bairnsfather endeared himself to his audience from the moment he stepped upon the stage. In a breezy informal style he told how he had commenced his artistic career at school, and by that means almost ruined his other prospects; how he had enlisted on August 5, 1914, and regretted it on August 6 of the same year; and how finally he had found himself in the trenches feeling that his artistic efforts were at an end. With the aid of some remarkable lantern slides he showed where, in a hole and sheltered with a mattress, he had drawn his first war picture for publication and, after describing his experiences in France and the origin of some of his most successful pictures, he took his hearers to the Italian Alps, where Interpreted the humor of the terrible war in the mountains. The "Better Ol'." It was in Rome, Capt. Bairnsfather recalled, that he had written his play the "Better Ol'—an effort which at first, no manager would produce. Indeed, its author had placed no faith in the play and would have sold it for $20. Since its first appearance, however, it had taken in $4,000,000, said the Captain.

After recalling some of the humors of the Argonne, where he had spent some time with the Americans, Capt. Bairnsfather showed some of the war pictures of Ol' Bill greatly refined by the gentle influences of peace. Paints For Local Charity. Perhaps most interesting were Capt. Bairnsfather's drawings, executed with lightning rapidity and faultless precision with charcoal upon large pieces of white paper. Ol' Bill fairly grew before the eyes of the audience as the famous artist with deft strokes, put the walrus-like features of the lovable old character down in black and white. Ol' Bill's evolution from the days of 1914 to the year of the Armistice was shown by a series of sketches so laughable that the audience roared with mirth.

The feature of the lecture and, indeed an evening's performance in itself, was Capt. Bairnsfather's picture in colors of a British Tommie. First under the artist's quick unerring strokes a red muffer appeared, then a mustache, then a trench hat, and finally one of the Bairnsfather types emerged complete. This picture the artist presented to the Rotary Club to be raffled or auctioned to assist the Christmas Tree Fund.

In conclusion, as a compliment to Canada and Canadians, the Captain, in a few short minutes, produced a striking portrait of a Canadian soldier standing beside the trenches at Vimy Ridge.

"THE LAW OF THE YUKON."

When news flashed around the world that gold was discovered in Alaska, a mad rush started for the frozen North. Old men, young men, gamblers, outlaws, adventurers, prospectors and women hangers-on left civilization in search of glittering gold.

Ten cities sprang up everywhere in this land where nature ruled with an iron hand. The weak dropped by the wayside and the strong, suffering dire privations, fought for life and riches. Robert W. McDONALD WAS UNABLE TO WORK FOR MONTHS

Was Almost Helpless With Rheumatism; Troubles of Fifteen Years' Standing Ended by Tanlac

"Tanlac has helped me out of troubles I thought nothing could relieve me of," said Alex. McDonald, Sailors' Union Hall, 153 Cardover St., Vancouver, B. C., recently.

"For fifteen years it seemed that everything was the matter with me. In the first place, I think I suffered every torture a person with a bad stomach can have. Even the sight of food nauseated me, and some days I wouldn't eat a meal because of the suffering I knew so well would follow. At times I was constipated for several days, and I had such terrible headaches it seemed that I couldn't endure it. I had rheumatism in my shoulders, arms, hands, fingers and hips, and for months it was so bad I couldn't do a bit of work, and some times I couldn't even stoop over to lace up my shoes. At times such pains struck me in the small of my back I couldn't stoop over without just suffering torture. I was so nervous the least disturbance would upset me completely, and at night I couldn't sleep, and I felt tired and worn out all the time.

"Well, I just can't fully describe the terrible condition I was in when I started taking Tanlac. So many medicines had failed to help me that I was one of the most discouraged men on earth. But Tanlac went right after my troubles, and now I have a splendid appetite and never feel the slightest trace of indigestion. The rheumatism has disappeared, and, in fact, I am a well man, and I mean to say by that I haven't an ache or pain of any kind. Tanlac certainly has put me in ship shape, and I'll tell the world it is the medicine for me.

"Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. C. Campbell, corner of Fort and Douglas, and Lang's Drug Store, Esquimalt Road.

EACH HIS DOCTOR AND OWN DRUGGIST

Everybody Continually Giving Himself Medicine Made on Premises

The question whether medicine is necessary for man is answered by Nature herself. We are all of us walking druggists' shops, continually having doses administered to us which are manufactured on the premises, and kept stored in various receptacles specially constructed for the purpose, to which science has affixed the labels, and which she designates as such and such glands, so says an Edinburgh physician, who continues:

This strange and remarkable provision for our benefit is also shared by animals below us in the scale, who, like ourselves, maintain a staff of resident chemists kept constantly at work making up medicines, and we can, and do at times, avail ourselves of a portion of their store, to make up, if necessary, for our own deficiency.

Thyroid Gland Busy.

For instance, we need, in order to keep in good health, daily doses of a medicine which is continually being prepared in the thyroid glands of the neck, and should this laboratory be out of order, and the amount available be deficient, we can requisition a supply made from the corresponding glands of a sheep, which will admirably serve our purpose for the time being.

This is only one example of many wonderful facts concerning our internal mechanism which have been discovered in recent years from which we have learned that the proper functioning and working powers of certain of our organs are dependent upon their receiving a daily supply of certain substances manufactured by other organs.

Incite Beneficial Changes.

The question whether medicines, in the ordinary accepted meaning of the term, are necessary and beneficial is one of those in which sweeping generalizations by faddists are apt to be attended with risk to the lay mind. That many substances have been found, after long experience, to have the power of inciting beneficial changes, when brought into contact with certain cells of our bodies, is a fact established beyond any question.

It is by the judicious and knowledgeable use of these substances, and the avoidance of ignorant and rash experimental dabbling, that we can, in some cases, take advantage of this experience of the ascertained effect of matter upon matter, and thus, with our art, assist nature.

Aim of Science.

The constant aim of a progressive science like medicine is to become less empirical and more rational, in practice, however, most deep-seated prejudice has to be overcome before the ordinary mind can be convinced that in many ailments recovery can be effected by other means than the use of medicines.

And the powerful mental factor itself must have due allowance made for it. Faith will move mountains, and there is something actual and visible and tangible in the careful measuring out, at a certain pre-arranged hour, of the two tablespoonfuls of mysterious thick, dark, potent-smelling fluid, which inspires hope in the sufferer and impresses him with the sense that all that is possible is being done for him, and nothing left undone!

So, undoubtedly, a beneficial result is exerted on the body generally, by acting through the nerve cells of the mind, so sensitive to suggestion and outside influences.

SOLDIERS TO CARRY OWN GAS BOMBS

Deadly Solidified Poison Vapor to Be Part of War Equipment

Washington, Nov. 26.—The United States Government will not agree to abolish poison gas as a part of its military system. On the contrary, it is anxious to develop a gas which the United States is involved, every soldier in our forces will carry a package of poison gas as part of his equipment.

Already the Chemical Warfare Service of the army, of which Brig. Gen. Amos A. Fries is Director, has perfected the solidification of poison gas so that it can be carried in a man's pocket. This particular type of gas is designed for gas cloud attacks.

The Chemical Warfare Service is prosecuting research work in poison gases at the Edgewood Arsenal, where it has an up-to-date plant and where two battalions of gas troops are constantly engaged in experiments. Problems of production and distribution as well as the determination of the ingredients of the several gases are being studied constantly.

Experiments are being made with gases at various strengths on white mice, rats, guinea pigs, and at certain stages on dogs. Experiments in which men subject themselves to gas attacks are few and are handled with the greatest possible care to avoid permanent injury.

The American Chemical Society is co-operating actively with the Chemical Warfare Service, just as Premier Lloyd George announced in Parliament the British civilian chemists are co-operating with the military in Great Britain in developing poison gas and working out offensive and defensive problems and uses.

A committee of five has been appointed by the American Chemical Society to co-operate directly with the Chemical Warfare Service, and arrangements are now being made for the appointment of another committee of fifty prominent chemists who may be called upon from time to time to assist in solving specific problems.

WILSON IN DEFEAT

(FROM THE WEEKLY REVIEW)

A pathetic, a tragic and, in spite of all his faults, a heroic figure, President Wilson stands to-day confronted with the wreck of hopes to which, in the face of every external discouragement and of the collapse of his own physical powers, he has clung with unyielding determination. No decent human being, throughout these many months of his illness, can have failed to be touched by the spectacle of his wasted frame, still burning with the unquenchable fires of his imperious will. If this sentiment has failed to find expression in the fierce controversy of which he was the centre, it has not been because those who were opposed to him were wanting in the ordinary instincts of humanity, but because the situation made impossible any expression of such sentiment. He asked no concession to his physical weakness; he asked not for the softening of the dominating authority and control which, from the first, he had undeviatingly asserted. To oppose his pretensions, to thwart his purposes, to disappoint the hope upon which his heart was set and at the same time to offer the ordinary commonplace of condolence would have been a hollow mockery. His opponents had no choice but that between uttering words of sympathy that would be valueless if they were not offensive, and passing over in silence what might well be taken for granted without words.

This is not to say that there have not been in some quarters gross breaches of good taste and of right feeling. But that has not been the character of what has been said in the controversy by those from whom a proper stand of thought and language was to be expected. Condemnation, unqualified condemnation, there has been in abundance. But speaking generally, it has rested upon the patent facts of the case, of upon what were, in the minds of these critics, unassailable inferences from those facts. That the inferences were sometimes in reality unjust we feel sure, and in saying this we have in mind chiefly that imputation of motive which unfortunately is so freely and so generally indulged in by political combatants. That President Wilson committed a great wrong in his assertion of the source of his power, that he was animated by any low or petty purpose we have never for a moment implied. Nor do we now believe it to be so. His purpose was high; and if we have felt that his inability to see the duty which that purpose imposed was the result of faults of character and intellect which have been the source of tragic failure, this is very far from imputation of bad motive or denial of high aspiration.

We cannot forbear to hope that, at this moment of sore trial and deep disappointment, Mr. Wilson may find it in his heart to say the one word which would befit a great man in a great crisis of his career. He has it in his power at once to render a transcendent service to the cause which he has at heart and to pluck from his defeat a laurel greater than the laurel of victory. He has fought single handed a fight which we think he ought not to have fought, but which he undoubtedly feels he was justified in fighting. Stricken with disease, all but powerless in body, he has held to his purpose undimmed and undaunted. Now he has lost. But the country remains, the world remains, the cause remains. Let him resign the source of his power, let him forget the pangs of defeat and the anguish of disappointment. Let him say to his countrymen: "You have de-

TORONTO EXPECTS BIG REALTY BOOM

But Just Now There Is Lull With Prices Below Pre-War Level

Toronto, Nov. 26.—"The lull before a storm," is the description which real estate brokers and owners of vacant property in this city are giving the temporary dullness which has settled in some quarters of the market this Fall.

Many deals in suburban property, which have been put through recently, however, show that a movement among certain interests is being made "with an eye to the future," when it is expected a reduction of building costs will be accompanied by a corresponding increase in the price of vacant property. As prices exist, purchases may be made at a great many cases at low or some times lower than pre-war prices.

A review of market conditions under these circumstances, consequently, show up a phenomenon of the day, the only article on the market which has not doubled or tripled in price since the days of 1914.

Below Pre-war Level.

Major W. T. Rogers, of Fote and Rogers, who dealt extensively in vacant land propositions declared that, leaving out of consideration speculative prices, which were strongly entrenched before the war, and were no criterion of value, the trend of prices lately have been to seek their

HE SHOULD WORRY

"Where were you yesterday, Tommy Cribbs?" asked the teacher.

"Please, mum, I had a toothache," answered Tommy.

"Has it stopped?" asked the teacher sympathetically.

"I don't know," said Tommy.

"What do you mean by that?"

"I don't know if your tooth has stopped aching?"

"No, mum, the dentist kept it!"

THREATENED FAMINE IN CHINA

Famine and danger of death from starvation to forty millions of Chinese in the Province of Honan was the keynote of an address given by Wallace Goforth, of this city, to the executive committee of the Ministerial Association on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Goforth read from a letter from missionaries describing the appalling conditions threatening the people owing to the failure of the crops. "What do you mean by that?" asked the minister. "The people of Honan should be made to the public for immediate support. Mr. Goforth was appointed secretary for the Province and requested to carry the appeal to Vancouver and the Mainland. The manager of the Bank of Montreal, Yates Street, has kindly consented to act as treasurer for the fund, and the charitable public are to be appealed to through the churches to give their appeal their earnest support.

BUSINESS MEN HAVE SPLENDID RESULTS Total of 900 Members For Chamber; Now Eighty in Canada. The Victoria Chamber of Commerce membership campaign has gone over the top with a total of 725, and 900 expected by to-night. The goal had been set at 600. It was expected that the quota would be reached without any difficulty, but even the most optimistic of the workers did not expect the final day to be such an unqualified success.

MUSKRAT PELTS DROP FROM $5 TO 50 CENTS Trappers Now Cache Away Thousands in Hope Price Will Rise. Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—Muskrat living in the North-West can look forward to a relatively safe Winter. With hides now worth 50 cents, as compared with $5 last year, they are not likely to lead so precarious an existence.

MURPHY URGES PARTY ALLIANCE M. P. For Russell, Ontario, Wants Liberals, Farmers and Laborites to Unite. Ottawa, Nov. 26.—(Canadian Press)—That three great progressive forces in Canada, the Liberal, Farmer and Labor parties, are working toward a common aim and against a reactionary Government which has outrun its mandate, and that there should be a working alliance among these three groups, was the thought expressed by Hon. Charles Murphy, M.P. for Russell, Ontario, in addressing the Women's Liberal Club of Milton, Ontario, last night.

A JEST ON INDIA. At a school examination the examiner asked one child: "What are the products of India?" The wretched student began at once to reel off the list she had learned by heart. "Please, sir, India produces curries, and pepper and rice and citron, and chillies, and chutney, and—and—and—" "Yes, yes!" said the examiner impatiently. "What comes after all that? What is the most important of all?" "Another infant's hand was raised. "Well, you tell him!" "Please, sir, India—gestion!" —Answers.

OVER ELEVEN MILLION DOLLARS WAGERED AT QUEBEC RACE TRACKS. Montreal, Nov. 26.—According to the figures of Provincial Government Inspector F. H. Dunn, who represented the Government at all provincial race tracks last season and supervised the pari-mutuel arrangements, the total amount of $11,714,733 was wagered by the 246,500 people who paid admission. The admission averaged about $1.25, so that admissions totalled over $300,000 on the season.

EGGS FOLLOW DROP IN GRAINS News of Markets and Finance

Prices Down Another Four Cents; Oranges Are Cheaper. B. C. Fresh eggs are down another four cents, down to-day on the local wholesale market where they are being quoted at 83 cents. This is a drop of 20 cents a dozen in a couple of weeks. The big breaks in feed prices are said to be chiefly responsible.

Valencia oranges are down $1 a crate to $9.75 and navels are down $3 a crate to $8. Prices on Sunlight oranges are running $1 a crate lower. To-day's prices on the local wholesale market are: Butterfat, creamed, 14 lbs., 22¢. Butterfat, creamed, 10 lbs., 18¢. Butterfat, creamed, 5 lbs., 14¢.

STOCK MARKET CLOSING UNEVEN. (By Burdick Brothers, Ltd.) New York, Nov. 26.—There were a few weak spots in to-day's market but the effect of promoting a certain amount of business in the general list. Trade reports of to-day again were of a rather discouraging tenor and the Iron Age Review mentions the fact that cancellations of orders for steel products continue. Call and time money seem to be in greater supply in this district, and this as a market factor has had the effect of at least stabilizing steel market quotations in some cases.

TO-DAY'S EXCHANGE. (Burdock Bros., Limited.) Montreal, Nov. 26.—New York funds, 13 15-16 per cent. New York, Nov. 26.—New York sterling, $3.49. Canadian sterling, $3.97. London silver, 48 1/2 d.

TO-DAY'S TRADING IN WINNIPEG MARKETS. Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—Wheat touched the low price of the season here to-day with November at 175, December at 169 and May at 154. The opening was extremely weak, being from 2 1/2 to 3 cents down, and was followed by further declines in the nearby position. Reaction followed later and substantial advances were made, only to be partly lost again and the general situation was bearish and undertone weak. Wheat closed 3/4 to 1/2 lower.

PARIS BOURSE. Paris, Nov. 26.—Prices were easy on the Bourse to-day. Three per cent rentes, 65 francs. Exchange on London, 88 francs, 30 centimes. The United States dollar was quoted at 16 francs, 5 1/2 centimes.

"Investors' Reference" 1920-1921. Containing the latest available essential information about prominent Canadian Companies whose securities are listed on Canadian Exchanges. Canada's enterprises have shown marked expansion during the past few years. The expansion has been well reflected in the figures of production. The output of manufactured products alone in 1919 reached the total of $8,015,000,000, which is an increase of 26 1/2% over 1918. The yearly exports during the same period rose from $135,000,000 to $1,322,000,000.

News of Markets and Finance

BEARISH SENTIMENT STILL PREVAILS. (By Burdick Brothers, Ltd.) Chicago, Nov. 26.—Chicago futures had another severe setback again to-day when December wheat touched 152, a drop of 3 cents from Wednesday's close. The market opened exceptionally soft, wheat off 4 cents from the previous close and corn 1 1/2 cents. A sharp rally was witnessed near the close of the forenoon session, wheat advancing 1/2 to 3/4 cents from the low, but this was short lived, however, as fresh selling caused prices to close down nearly at the low for the day, December wheat finishing at 152 1/2 to 153 1/4.

TO-DAY'S TRADING IN WINNIPEG MARKETS. Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—Wheat touched the low price of the season here to-day with November at 175, December at 169 and May at 154. The opening was extremely weak, being from 2 1/2 to 3 cents down, and was followed by further declines in the nearby position.
