LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION BOARD,
SACRAMENTO, August 30, 1912.

To his Excellency, HIRAM W. JOHNSON, Governor of California:

SIR: In accordance with the provisions of chapter 677, "An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the State of California," we have the honor to submit herewith our first annual report for the twelve months ending July 31, 1912, together with a financial statement showing the receipts and expenditures of the Board during that period.

Laws for the regulation of horse breeding on scientific lines have long been advocated by the best authorities, but it is only within the last six years that a serious attempt has been made to secure a larger supply of well-bred horses of recognized breeds, the first step in this direction being taken by the State of Wisconsin in 1896. Since then each year has seen an advance in the number of states joining in this important movement, and at the present time eighteen have enacted stallion registration laws.

The California law provides that the Board shall publish bulletins, with a view to encourage the horse breeding interests in the State, and to disseminate information pertaining to horse breeding, and with this object in view, it is intended to issue a bulletin at the end of this year containing all available statistics relating to horses and mules in the State, and other information of value. This will also give an opportunity to review the working of the law, and to point out certain amendments that experience has shown to be necessary in order that the work may be carried on with the best possible results.

The total number of registered stallions in the State is 1,957, and 77 jacks, or a total of 2,034. Of this number, 766 stallions (or more than one third) are classified as mongrels, the largest breeds being Percheron, Standard, Trotter, and Belgian, in the order named. Only three counties have more than one hundred stallions, San Joaquin 128, Fresno 117, and Tulare 109. Alpine, Plumas, and San Mateo have one each, and Mono is the only county with no stallion, although they possess upwards of 2,000 horses.

Of minor breeds, Santa Clara has two Normans and Tulare one, Sonoma one Suffolk, and Yolo one Cleveland Bay.

There are 77 jacks in the State, Tulare, with 10, having the largest number of any one county. Full details regarding the number of the various breeds is given in the appendices to this report.

Very respectfully,

A. L. SCOTT, President,
California Stallion Registration Board.

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION BOARD.

Within the past seven years eighteen different states have passed laws requiring that all owners of stallions or jacks, before standing them for public service, shall obtain a license for each animal from the State Board created for that purpose. This board examines all pedigree certificates and veterinarians' certificates of soundness submitted, and enrolls and issues license certificates for all stallions and jacks entitled to such enrollment in accordance with the law. Such legislation has been enacted in the following states:

States.	Act effective.	States.	Act effective.
Wisconsin	January 1, 1906	Illinois	January 1, 1910
Iowa	March 30, 1907	North Dakota	January 1, 1910
Minnesota	April 25, 1907	Kansas	April 3, 1910
Utah	May 13, 1907	Washington	June 8, 1910
Pennsylvania	January 1, 1908	Oregon	May 20, 1911
New Jersey	September 1, 1908	Nebraska	July 7, 1911
Montana	March 8, 1909	California	August 1, 1911
South Dakota	March 9, 1909	Michigan	August 1, 1911
Idaho	March 15, 1909	Colorado	August 5, 1911

The details of these laws vary somewhat in different states, but all are more or less founded on the Wisconsin act, which was the pioneer State in this matter, but all require the submission of certificates of registration in studbooks certified by the United States Department of Agriculture, as evidence of the purity of breeding of stallions licensed as purebred, except that some provide in addition that stallions shall be accepted as purebred which are registered in studbooks of any American studbook or registry association which recognizes and records stallions having five pure top crosses.

That the State stallion law marks a distinct step in advance in our horse-breeding industry is hardly to be questioned. One of the first results of the operation of these laws was to provide data which show the actual facts with regard to the stallions being used for breeding purposes. Other important beneficial results are the rapid elimination of unfit animals and greater care with regard to breeding and registration. The United States Department of Agriculture has issued new regulations regarding the importation of animals for breeding purposes, in order to prevent fraud concerning the ancestry of purebred animals, which became effective on February 1, 1912. A previous act, approved March 3, 1903, regulates the importation of breeding animals.

The complete act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in California is given in full in Appendix D, as it will be found useful for reference by those concerned.

The latest returns of the number of purebred stallions in which a registration law is effective is as follows:

Number of purebred stallions in various states.

Illinois	1,608	3,408	56	5,072

Totals	6,064	16,621	374	23,059

†New York does not have a stallion registration law, so the above number includes thoroughbreds of both sexes.

The above table gives the figures for purebreds only, for the year 1910, the latest issued, and the law was not in force in California until the following year, so the number can not be given.

In Appendix B the various breeds are given in detail, and the numbers are of considerable interest. No pony-stallions have been registered. The mongrels number over one third of the total, Percherons come next with 419. The total number of jacks is 77.

Some of the figures disclosed in this summary are remarkable: San Mateo, with one registered stallion, has 4,295 horses; Plumas has one stallion and 2,044 horses, while Lassen, with 9,515 horses, has only 7 stallions. The number of each class is as follows:

Breed.	Number.
Mongrel	766
Percheron	419
Standard	165
Trotter	150
Belgian	146
Shire	94
German Coach	65

Twenty-eight stallions have changed ownership during the year. A list of the transfers with their names and numbers are given in Appendix C, page 64.

THE CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION LAW.

CHAPTER 677.

An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the State of California.
[Approved May 1, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Every association, person, firm or corporation standing or offering any stallion or jack for public service in this state shall cause the name, description, and pedigree of such stallion or jack to be enrolled by a stallion registration board hereinafter provided for, and secure a license from said board, as provided in section 3 of this act. All enrollment and verification of pedigree shall be done in the office of the secretary of the California state board of agriculture. All license certificates for stallions or jacks issued under this act shall thereupon be presented to and recorded by the county recorder of the county or counties in which said stallion or jack is used for public service.

SEC. 2. In order to carry out the provisions of this act, there shall be constituted a stallion registration board, whose duty it shall be to verify and register pedigrees; to pass upon certificates of veterinary examination; to provide, when necessary, for veterinary inspection; to issue stallion or jack license certificates; to make all necessary rules and regulations; and to perform such other duties as may be necessary to carry out and enforce the provisions of this act. Said board shall hold meetings at the office of the secretary of the California state board of agriculture the first Tuesday and subsequent days of February, May, August, and November of each year, and such other meetings as may be necessary. Said stallion registration board shall be composed of three members, consisting of the president and the secretary of the California state board of agriculture and the state veterinarian.

SEC. 3. In order to obtain the license certificate herein provided for, the owner of each stallion or jack shall forward an affidavit signed by a licensed veterinarian to the effect that he has personally examined such stallion or jack, and that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, said stallion or jack is free from hereditary, infectious, contagious, or transmissible disease or unsoundness. The owner of said stallion or jack shall also furnish to the stallion registration board the stud-book certificate of registry of the pedigree of the said stallion or jack when said stallion or jack is registered, and all other necessary papers relative to his breeding and ownership. Upon verification of pedigree and certificate of breeding (in case of pure-bred stallions and jacks), and receipt of veterinarian's affidavit, as provided for in this act, a license certificate shall be issued to the owner.

SEC. 4. The presence of any one of the following named diseases shall disqualify a stallion or jack for public service, and the examining or inspecting veterinarian is hereby duly authorized to refuse to give an affidavit of soundness to the owner of such stallions or jacks affected with any one or more of the diseases herein specified in a transmissible or hereditary form, and the examining or inspecting veterinarian shall so report the same to the secretary of the stallion registration board. Laryngeal hemiplegia, (roaring or whistling); pulmonary emphysema, (heaves, broken wind); chorea, (St. Vitus' dance, crampiness, shivering, stringhalt); bone spavin; ringbone; sidebone; navicular disease; osteoporosis; curb, when accompanied with faulty conformation of hock; glanders, farcy; maladie du coit; urethral gleet; mange; or any contagious or infectious disease, and the said board is hereby authorized to refuse its certificates of enrollment for any stallion or jack affected with any one of the diseases herein above mentioned and to revoke the previously issued enrollment certificate of any stallion or jack found on subsequent examination and investigation to be so affected.

SEC. 5. The stallion registration board shall make and keep records of all stallions and jacks enrolled in the State of California; said stallions or jacks to be enrolled as "pure-bred," "cross-bred," "non-standard bred," "grade," or "mongrel," according as the facts may have been determined. Upon making the enrollment of said stallion or jack, said stallion registration board shall issue the above said license. The stallion registration board is authorized, in cases of emergency, to grant temporary license certificates without veterinary examination, upon receipt of an affidavit of the owner to the effect that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, said stallion or jack is free from infectious, contagious, or transmissible disease or unsoundness. Temporary license certificate shall be valid only until veterinary examination can reasonably be made.

SEC. 6. The owner of any stallion or jack used for public service in this state shall post and keep affixed, during the entire breeding season, copies of the license certificate of such stallion or jack, issued under the provisions of this act, in a conspicuous place, both within and upon the outside of the main door leading to every stable or building where the said stallion or jack is used for public service. Each bill and poster and each newspaper advertisement shall show the enrollment certificate number, and state whether it reads "pure-bred," "grade," "cross-bred," "non-standard bred" or "mongrel" and it shall be illegal to print or advertise any misleading reference to the breeding of said stallion or jack, his dam or his sire.

SEC. 7. The license certificate issued for a stallion or jack whose sire and dam are of pure breeding, and the pedigree of which is registered in a studbook recognized by the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., an act regulating the importation of breeding animals, approved March 3, 1903, shall be in the following form.*

SEC. 8. A fee of two dollars and fifty cents shall be paid to the secretary of the California stallion registration board for the examination and enrollment of each stallion or jack pedigree, and for issuance of a license certificate in accordance with the breeding of the stallion or jack as above provided, which shall be in force and effect for a period of one year from its date, and for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act. The fee shall be paid to the secretary of the California stallion registration board at the time the application is made for enrollment. Upon a transfer of the ownership of any stallion or jack enrolled under the provisions of this act, the certificate of enrollment may be transferred to the transferee by the secretary of the California stallion registration board, upon submittal of satisfactory proof of such transfer of ownership, and upon payment of a fee of one dollar. A fee of one dollar shall be paid annually for the renewal of a license certificate. A fee of one dollar shall be paid for a duplicate license certificate, upon proof of the loss or destruction of the original certificate.

SEC. 9. Every stallion or jack for which a license has been issued shall be exempt from further examination, unless from later developments it becomes known, and a complaint is filed, certified to by three men, one of whom shall be licensed veterinarian, that said stallion or jack has some hereditary, contagious, or infectious disease which was not evident at the time of previous examination. When such complaint is made, and a request for examination is asked, such complaint shall be filed with the secretary of the California stallion registration board, who shall have another examination made, but the owner of the stallion or jack shall have the right to select a veterinarian legally qualified to practice as such in this state, to act with such examining veterinary, and in case these two shall fail to agree upon a verdict or decision these two veterinarians shall appoint a third qualified veterinarian, with the consent and approval of said board and owner, who shall act as referee therein, and the decision of said referee shall be final. If such complaint shall be found to be correct it shall be so reported to the secretary, who shall revoke the license in force; provided, that the owner of any stallion used for public service in this state shall have a lien on all colts sired by said stallion for the service fee for a period of one year from the date of the foaling of said colt, as now provided by law.

SEC. 10. Every association, person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) for each offense; or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 11. The funds accruing from the above named fees shall be used by the said stallion registration board to defray the expenses of enrollment of pedigrees and issuance of licenses; to provide for the examination of stallions and jacks when necessary; to publish reports or bulletins containing lists of stallions and jacks examined, which shall be not less than one in each year; to encourage the horse breeding interests in this state; to disseminate information pertaining to horse breeding, and for any other purposes as may be necessary to carry out the purposes and enforce the provisions of this act. Each member of the above committee shall receive his actual expenses incurred while in the performance of any duty imposed under the provisions of this act; the secretary of said board shall receive for his services an amount to be fixed and agreed upon by said board. It shall be the duty of the said stallion registration board to enforce the provisions of this act, and to make an annual report, including financial statement, to the governor of the state on September 15th of each year.

SEC. 12. This act shall take effect and be in force on August 1st, 1911.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION BOARD,
SACRAMENTO, November 25, 1913.

To his Excellency, HIRAM W. JOHNSON, Governor of California:

SIR: In accordance with the provisions of chapter 677, "An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the State of California," we have the honor to submit herewith our second annual report for the twelve months ending July 31, 1913, together with a financial statement showing the receipts and expenditures of the Board during that period.

15013

Laws for the regulation of horse breeding on scientific lines have long been advocated by the best authorities, but it is only within the last seven years that a serious attempt has been made to secure a larger supply of well-bred horses of recognized breeds, the first step in this direction being taken by the State of Wisconsin in 1896. Since then each year has seen an advance in the number of states joining in this important movement, and at the present time eighteen have enacted stallion registration laws.

Continuation.

The California law provides that the Board shall publish bulletins, with a view to encourage the horse breeding interests in the State, and to disseminate information pertaining to horse breeding. This will give an opportunity to review the working of the law, and to point out certain amendments that experience has shown to be necessary in order that the work may be carried on with the best possible results.

Respectfully submitted.

A. L. SCOTT, President.

SECOND ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION BOARD.

Within the past seven years eighteen different states have passed laws requiring that all owners of stallions or jacks, before standing them for public service, shall obtain a license for each animal from the State Board created for that purpose. This board examines all pedigree certificates and veterinarians' certificates of soundness submitted, and enrolls and issues license certificates for all stallions and jacks entitled to such enrollment in accordance with the law. Such legislation has been enacted in the following states:

States	Act effective.	States	Act effective.
Wisconsin	January 1, 1906	Illinois	January 1, 1910
Iowa	March 30, 1907	North Dakota	January 1, 1910
Minnesota	April 25, 1907	Kansas	April 3, 1910
Utah	May 13, 1907	Washington	June 8, 1910
Pennsylvania	January 1, 1908	Oregon	May 20, 1911
New Jersey	September 1, 1908	Nebraska	July 7, 1911
Montana	March 8, 1909	California	August 1, 1911
South Dakota	March 9, 1909	Michigan	August 1, 1911
Idaho	March 15, 1909	Colorado	August 5, 1911

The details of these laws vary somewhat in different states, but all are more or less founded on the Wisconsin act, which was the pioneer state in this matter, but all require the submission of certificates of registration in studbooks certified by the United States Department of Agriculture, as evidence of the purity of breeding of stallions licensed as purebred, except that some provide in addition that stallions shall be accepted as purebred which are registered in studbooks of any American studbook or registry association which recognizes and records stallions having five pure top crosses.

That the State stallion law marks a distinct step in advance in our horse-breeding industry is hardly to be questioned. One of the first results of the operation of these laws was to provide data which show the actual facts with regard to the stallions being used for breeding purposes. Other important beneficial results are the rapid elimination of unfit animals and greater care with regard to breeding and registration. Under authority of paragraph 492 of the act of Congress, approved August 5, 1909, the following regulations were issued by the United States Department of Agriculture regarding the importation of animals for breeding purposes, in order to prevent fraud concerning the ancestry of purebred animals, which became effective on February 1, 1912.

Recognized Foreign Breeds.

The following breeds of horses have been certified to the Secretary of the Treasury as recognized breeds and books of record across the seas:

Name of breed	Book of record	By whom published
Belgian Draft -----	Stud Book des Chevaux de Trait Belges.	Société le Cheval de Trait Belge, Chevalier G. Hynderick, secretary, 20 Rue Royale, Brussels, Belgium.
Clydesdale -----	Clydesdale Studbook ----	Clydesdale Horse Society of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Arhibold McNeilage, secretary, 93 Hope street, Glasgow, Scotland.
French Draft -----	Studbook des Chevaux de Trait Français.	Société des Agriculteurs de France, J. C. Villevas, secretary, 8 Rue d'Athènes, Paris, France.
Hackney -----	Hackney Studbook -----	Hackney Horse Society, Frank F. Euren, secretary, 12 Hanover Square, London, W., England.
Percheron -----	Studbook Percheron de France.	La Société Hippique Percheronne de France, E. Lemarie, secretary, Nogent-le-Rotrou, France.

Suffolk -----	Suffolk Studbook -----	Suffolk Horse Society, Fred Smith, secretary, Rendlesham, Woodbridge, Suffolk, England.
Thoroughbred -----	Australian Studbook ----- Provided that no animal or animals registered in the Australian Studbook shall be certified as purebred unless such animal or animals trace, in all crosses, to animals registered in the General Studbook of England.	Australian Jockey Club and Victoria Racing Club, A. P. Wilson, keeper, 6 Bligh street, Sydney, New South Wales.
Welsh Pony and Cob----	Welsh Pony and Cob Studbook.	Weatherby & Sons, 6 Old Burlington street, London, W., England. The Welsh Pony and Cob Society, John R. Bache, secretary, Knighton, Radnorshire, Wales.

Recognized breeds and books of record in Canada.—The Canadian National Records are recognized for the following breeds, provided that no animal or animals registered in the Canadian National Records shall be certified by the Secretary of Agriculture as purebred unless such animal or animals trace, in all crosses, to registered animals in the country where the breed originated, or to animals which are proved to the satisfaction of the department to be of the same breed and which have been imported from the country in which the breed originated:

Belgian Draft.	Standardbred.
Clydesdale.	Suffolk.
Hackney.	Thoroughbred.
Shire.	Welsh Pony and Cob.

The complete act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in California is given in full in Appendix D, as it will be found useful for reference by those concerned.

In Appendix B the various breeds are given in detail, and the numbers are of considerable interest. No pony-stallions have been registered.

The following summary shows the changes that have taken place during the year:

	Number			Number
	1912	1913		1912	1913
Mongrel -----	766	707	Crossbred -----	10	6
Percheron -----	419	463	Norman -----	3	5
Standard -----	165	279	Non-Standard -----	2	4
American Trotter -----	150	2	Hackney -----	2	1
Belgian -----	146	159	Suffolk -----	1	1
Shire -----	94	88	Cleveland Bay -----	1	1
German Coach -----	65	53	Not classified -----		13
French Draft -----	57	57
Clydesdale -----	29	33	Total -----	1,957	1,920
French Coach -----	26	23	Jacks -----	77	358
Thoroughbred -----	11	15
American Saddle -----	10	7	Grand total -----	2,034	2,278

The total number of registered stallions in the State is 1,920, a decrease of 37 compared with last year. On the other hand, the number of jacks registered shows the remarkable increase of 281, the number being 358, compared with 77 last year. There are 707 classed as mongrels, a decrease of 59 during the year, which is satisfactory. The principal breeds are Percheron, Standard, and Belgian in the order named. Only two counties have more than one hundred stallions—San Joaquin 121, and Fresno 109, Tulare being third with 99.

APPENDIX D.

THE CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION LAW.

CHAPTER 677.

An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the State of California.

[Approved May 1, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Every association, person, firm or corporation standing or offering any stallion or jack for public service in this state shall cause the name, description, and pedigree of such stallion or jack to be enrolled by a stallion registration board hereinafter provided for, and secure a license from said board, as provided in section 3 of this act. All enrollment and verification of pedigree shall be done in the office of the secretary of the California state board of agriculture. All license certificates for stallions or jacks issued under this act shall thereupon be presented to and recorded by the county recorder of the county or counties in which said stallion or jack is used for public service.

SEC. 2. In order to carry out the provisions of this act, there shall be constituted a stallion registration board, whose duty it shall be to verify and register pedigrees; to pass upon certificates of veterinary examination; to provide, when necessary, for veterinary inspection; to issue stallion or jack license certificates; to make all necessary rules and regulations; and to perform such other duties as may be necessary to carry out and enforce the provisions of this act. Said board shall hold meetings at the office of the secretary of the California state board of agriculture the first Tuesday and subsequent days of February, May, August, and November of each year, and such other meetings as may be necessary. Said stallion registration board shall be composed of three members, consisting of the president and the secretary of the California state board of agriculture and the state veterinarian.

SEC. 3. In order to obtain the license certificate herein provided for, the owner of each stallion or jack shall forward an affidavit signed by a licensed veterinarian to the effect that he has personally examined such stallion or jack, and that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, said stallion or jack is free from hereditary, infectious, contagious, or transmissible disease or unsoundness. The owner of said stallion or jack shall also furnish to the stallion registration board the stud-book certificate of registry of the pedigree of said stallion or jack when said stallion or jack is registered, and all other necessary papers relative to his breeding and ownership. Upon verification of pedigree and certificate of breeding (in case of pure-bred stallions and jacks), and receipt of veterinarian's affidavit, as provided for in this act, a license certificate shall be issued to the owner.

SEC. 4. The presence of any one of the following named diseases shall disqualify a stallion or jack for public service, and the examining or inspecting veterinarian is hereby duly authorized to refuse to give an affidavit of soundness to the owner of such stallions or jacks affected with any one or more of the diseases herein specified in a transmissible or hereditary form, and the examining or inspecting veterinarian shall so report the same to the secretary of the stallion registration board. Laryngeal hemiplegia, (roaring or whistling); pulmonary emphysema, (heaves, broken wind); chorea, (St. Vitus' dance, crampiness, shivering, stringhalt); bone spavin; ringbone; sidebone; navicular disease; osteoporosis; curb, when accompanied with faulty conformation of hock; glanders, farcy; maladie du coit; urethral gleet; mange; or any contagious or infectious disease, and the said board is hereby authorized to refuse its certificates of enrollment for any stallion or jack affected with any one of the diseases herein above mentioned and to revoke the previously issued enrollment certificate of any stallion or jack found on subsequent examination and investigation to be so affected.

SEC. 5. The stallion registration board shall make and keep records of all stallions and jacks enrolled in the State of California; said stallions or jacks to be enrolled as "pure-bred," "cross-bred," "non-standard bred," "grade," or "mongrel," according as the facts may have been determined. Upon making the enrollment of said stallion or jack, said stallion registration board shall issue the above said license. The stallion registration board is authorized, in cases of emergency, to grant temporary license certificates without veterinary examination, upon receipt of an affidavit of the owner to the effect that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, said stallion or jack is free from infectious, contagious, or transmissible disease or unsoundness. Temporary license certificate shall be valid only until veterinary examination can reasonably be made.

SEC. 6. The owner of any stallion or jack used for public service in this state shall post and keep affixed, during the entire breeding season, copies of the license certificate of such stallion or jack, issued under the provisions of this act, in a conspicuous place, both within and upon the outside of the main door leading to every stable or building where the said stallion or jack is used for public service. Each bill and poster and each newspaper advertisement shall show the enrollment certificate number, and state whether it reads "pure-bred," "grade," "cross-bred," "non-standard bred" or "mongrel," and it shall be illegal to print or advertise any misleading reference to the breeding of said stallion or jack, his dam or his sire.

SEC. 7. The license certificate issued for a stallion or jack whose sire and dam are of pure breeding, and the pedigree of which is registered in a studbook recognized by the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., an act regulating the importation of breeding animals, approved March 3, 1903, shall be in the following form.*

SEC. 8. A fee of two dollars and fifty cents shall be paid to the secretary of the California stallion registration board for the examination and enrollment of each stallion or jack pedigree, and for issuance of a license certificate in accordance with the breeding of the stallion or jack as above provided, which shall be in force and effect for a period of one year from its date, and for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act. The fee shall be paid to the secretary of the California stallion registration board at the time the application is made for enrollment. Upon a transfer of the ownership of any stallion or jack enrolled under the provisions of this act, the certificate of enrollment may be transferred to the transferee by the secretary of the California stallion registration board, upon submittal of satisfactory proof of such transfer of ownership, and upon payment of a fee of one dollar. A fee of one dollar shall be paid annually for the renewal of a license certificate. A fee of one dollar shall be paid for a duplicate license certificate, upon proof of the loss or destruction of the original certificate.

SEC. 9. Every stallion or jack for which a license has been issued shall be exempt from further examination, unless from later developments it becomes known, and a complaint is filed, certified to by three men, one of whom shall be [a] licensed veterinarian, that said stallion or jack has some hereditary, contagious, or infectious disease which was not evident at the time of previous examination. When such complaint is made, and a request for examination is asked, such complaint shall be filed with the secretary of the California stallion registration board, who shall have another examination made, but the owner of the stallion or jack shall have the right to select a veterinarian legally qualified to practice as such in this state, to act with such examining veterinary, and in case these two shall fail to agree upon a verdict or decision these two veterinarians shall appoint a third qualified veterinarian, with the consent and approval of said board and owner, who shall act as referee therein, and the decision of said referee shall be final. If such complaint shall be found to be correct it shall be so reported to the secretary, who shall revoke the license in force; provided, that the owner of any stallion used for public service in this state shall have a lien on all colts sired by said stallion for the service fee for a period of one year from the date of the foaling of said colt, as now provided by law.

SEC. 10. Every association, person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) for each offense; or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 11. The funds accruing from the above named fees shall be used by the said stallion registration board to defray the expenses of enrollment of pedigrees and issuance of licenses; to provide for the examination of stallions and jacks when necessary; to publish reports or bulletins containing lists of stallions and jacks examined, which shall be not less than one in each year; to encourage the horse breeding interests in this state; to disseminate information pertaining to horse breeding, and for any other purposes as may be necessary to carry out the purposes and enforce the provisions of this act. Each member of the above committee shall receive his actual expenses incurred while in the performance of any duty imposed under the provisions of this act; the secretary of said board shall receive for his services an amount to be fixed and agreed upon by said board. It shall be the duty of the said stallion registration board to enforce the provisions of this act, and to make an annual report, including financial statement, to the governor of the state on September 15th of each year.

SEC. 12. This act shall take effect and be in force on August 1st, 1911.

THIRD ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION BOARD.

Within the past eight years twenty different states have passed laws requiring that all owners of stallions or jacks, before standing them for public service, shall obtain a license for each animal from the State Board created for that purpose. This board examines all pedigree certificates and veterinarians' certificates of soundness submitted, and enrolls and issues license certificates for all stallions and jacks entitled to such enrollment in accordance with the law. Such legislation has been enacted in the following states:

States	Act effective	States	Act effective
Wisconsin -----	January 1, 1906	Illinois -----	January 1, 1910
Iowa -----	March 30, 1907	North Dakota -----	January 1, 1910
Minnesota -----	April 25, 1907	Kansas -----	April 3, 1910
Utah -----	May 13, 1907	Washington -----	June 8, 1910
Pennsylvania -----	January 1, 1908	Oregon -----	May 20, 1911
New Jersey -----	September 1, 1908	Nebraska -----	July 7, 1911
Montana -----	March 8, 1909	California -----	August 1, 1911
South Dakota -----	March 9, 1909	Michigan -----	August 1, 1911
Idaho -----	March 15, 1909	Colorado -----	August 5, 1911
Indiana -----		Ohio -----

The details of these laws vary somewhat in different states, but all are more or less founded on the Wisconsin act, which was the pioneer state in this matter, but all require the submission of certificates of registration in studbooks certified by the United States Department of Agriculture, as evidence of the purity of breeding of stallions licensed as purebred, except that some provide in addition that stallions shall be accepted as purebred which are registered in studbooks of any American studbook or registry association which recognizes and records stallions having five pure top crosses.

That the State stallion law marks a distinct step in advance in our horse-breeding industry is hardly to be questioned. One of the first results of the operation of these laws was to provide data which show the actual facts with regard to the stallions being used for breeding purposes. Other important beneficial results are the rapid elimination of unfit animals and greater care with regard to breeding and registration. Under authority of paragraph 492 of the act of Congress, approved August 5, 1909, the following regulations were issued by the United States Department of Agriculture regarding the importation of animals for breeding purposes, in order to prevent fraud concerning the ancestry of purebred animals, which became effective on February 1, 1912.

Recognized Foreign Breeds.

The following breeds of horses have been certified to the Secretary of the Treasury as recognized breeds and books of record across the seas:

Welsh Pony and Cob----	Welsh Pony and Cob Studbook.	Weatherby & Sons, 6 Old Burlington street, London, W., England. The Welsh Pony and Cob Society, John R. Bache, secretary, Knighton, Radnorshire, Wales.

Recognized breeds and books of record in Canada.—The Canadian National Records are recognized for the following breeds, provided that no animal or animals registered in the Canadian National Records shall be certified by the Secretary of Agriculture as pure-bred unless such animal or animals trace, in all crosses, to registered animals in the country where the breed originated, or to animals which are proved to the satisfaction of the department to be of the same breed and which have been imported from the country in which the breed originated:

Belgian Draft.	Standardbred.
Clydesdale.	Suffolk.
Hackney.	Thoroughbred.
Shire.	Welsh Pony and Cob.

The complete act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in California is given in full in Appendix D, as it will be found useful for reference by those concerned.

In Appendix B the various breeds are given in detail, and the numbers are of considerable interest. No pony-stallions have been registered.

The total number of registered stallions in the state is 1551, principally classified as follows:

Mongrel, 547; Percheron, 410; Standard, 201; Belgian, 138; showing a decrease of 369 under last year.

The three leading counties are San Joaquin, with 101; Alameda with 91, and Fresno with 85 stallions.

While the extensive use of the automobile and traction engine has no doubt been the primary factor in this large decrease, yet, on the other hand, the published graded registration of the California Stallion Registration Board, has had a tendency to promote better breeding, thus carrying out the purport of the law.

APPENDIX D.

THE CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION LAW.

CHAPTER 677.

An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the State of California.

[Approved May 1, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Every association, person, firm or corporation standing or offering any stallion or jack for public service in this state shall cause the name, description, and pedigree of such stallion or jack to be enrolled by a stallion registration board hereinafter provided for, and secure a license from said board, as provided in section 3 of this act. All enrollment and verification of pedigree shall be done in the office of the secretary of the California state board of agriculture. All license certificates for stallions or jacks issued under this act shall thereupon be presented to and recorded by the county recorder of the county or counties in which said stallion or jack is used for public service.

SEC. 2. In order to carry out the provisions of this act, there shall be constituted a stallion registration board, whose duty it shall be to verify and register pedigrees; to pass upon certificates of veterinary examination; to provide, when necessary, for veterinary inspection; to issue stallion or jack license certificates; to make all necessary rules and regulations; and to perform such other duties as may be necessary to carry out and enforce the provisions of this act. Said board shall hold meetings at the office of the secretary of the California state board of agriculture the first Tuesday and subsequent days of February, May, August, and November of each year, and such other meetings as may be necessary. Said stallion registration board shall be composed of three members, consisting of the president and the secretary of the California state board of agriculture and the state veterinarian.

SEC. 3. In order to obtain the license certificate herein provided for, the owner of each stallion or jack shall forward an affidavit signed by a licensed veterinarian to the effect that he has personally examined such stallion or jack, and that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, said stallion or jack is free from hereditary, infectious, contagious, or transmissible disease or unsoundness. The owner of said stallion or jack shall also furnish to the stallion registration board the stud-book certificate of registry of the pedigree of said stallion or jack when said stallion or jack is registered, and all other necessary papers relative to his breeding and ownership. Upon verification of pedigree and certificate of breeding (in case of pure bred stallions and jacks), and receipt of veterinarian's affidavit, as provided for in this act, a license certificate shall be issued to the owner.

SEC. 4. The presence of any one of the following named diseases shall disqualify a stallion or jack for public service, and the examining or inspecting veterinarian is hereby duly authorized to refuse to give an affidavit of soundness to the owner of such stallions or jacks affected with any one or more of the diseases herein specified in a transmissible or hereditary form, and the examining or inspecting veterinarian shall so report the same to the secretary of the stallion registration board. Laryngeal hemiplegia, (roaring or whistling); pulmonary emphysema, (heaves, broken wind); chorea, (St. Vitus' dance, crampiness, shivering, stringhalt); bone spavin; ringbone; sidebone; navicular disease; osteoporosis; curb, when accompanied with faulty conformation of hoek; glanders; farcy; maladie du coit; urethral gleet; mange; or any contagious or infectious disease, and the said board is hereby authorized to refuse its certificates of enrollment for any stallion or jack affected with any one of the diseases hereinabove mentioned and to revoke the previously issued enrollment certificate of any stallion or jack found on subsequent examination and investigation to be so affected.

SEC. 5. The stallion registration board shall make and keep records of all stallions and jacks enrolled in the State of California; said stallions or jacks to be enrolled as "pure bred," "cross bred," "non-standard bred," "grade," or "mongrel," according as the facts may have been determined. Upon making the enrollment of said stallion or jack said stallion registration board shall issue the above said license. The stallion registration board is authorized, in cases of emergency, to grant temporary license certificates without veterinary examination, upon receipt of an affidavit of the owner to the effect that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, said stallion or jack is free from infectious, contagious, or transmissible disease or unsoundness. Temporary license certificate shall be valid only until veterinary examination can reasonably be made.

SEC. 6. The owner of any stallion or jack used for public service in this state shall post and keep affixed, during the entire breeding season, copies of the license certificate of such stallion or jack, issued under the provisions of this act, in a conspicuous place, both within and upon the outside of the main door leading to every stable or building where the said stallion or jack is used for public service. Each bill and poster and each newspaper advertisement shall show the enrollment certificate number, and state whether it reads "pure bred," "grade," "cross bred," "non-standard bred," or "mongrel," and it shall be illegal to print or advertise any misleading reference to the breeding of said stallion or jack, his dam or his sire.

SEC. 7. The license certificate issued for a stallion or jack whose sire and dam are of pure breeding, and the pedigree of which is registered in a studbook recognized by the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION BOARD,

SACRAMENTO, October 4, 1916.

To Honorable HIRAM W. JOHNSON, Governor of California.

SIR: We have the honor to submit herewith our fifth annual report, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 677, entitled "An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the state of California."

This report covers the period of August 1, 1915, to July 31, 1916, and contains a financial statement showing the receipts and disbursements of the board for the above period and a statistical summary showing the number and breeds of the stallions in each county in the state.

While the total number of stallions registered this year is below that of previous years, it will also be noted that there is a substantial decrease in the number of mongrels. Another notable decrease is that of the various breeds, which is due to the slight importation of horses since the beginning of the European war. A number of horses died and quite a number were castrated during the past year, a list of which we intended to publish but which was destroyed by fire.

Respectfully submitted.

JOHN M. PERRY, President.

CHARLES KEANE.

CHAS. W. PAINE, Secretary.

FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION BOARD.

Within the past ten years twenty different states have passed laws requiring that all owners of stallions or jacks, before standing them for public service, shall obtain a license for each animal from the state board created for that purpose. This board examines all pedigree certificates and veterinarians' certificates of soundness submitted, and enrolls and issues license certificates for all stallions and jacks entitled to such enrollment in accordance with the law. Such legislation has been enacted in the following states:

States	Act effective	States	Act effective
Wisconsin	January 1, 1906	Illinois	January 1, 1910
Iowa	March 30, 1907	North Dakota	January 1, 1910
Minnesota	April 25, 1907	Kansas	April 3, 1910
Utah	May 13, 1907	Washington	June 8, 1910
Pennsylvania	January 1, 1908	Oregon	May 20, 1911
New Jersey	September 1, 1908	Nebraska	July 7, 1911
Montana	March 8, 1909	California	August 1, 1911
South Dakota	March 9, 1909	Michigan	August 1, 1911
Idaho	March 15, 1909	Colorado	August 5, 1911
Indiana		Ohio

The details of these laws vary somewhat in different states, but all are more or less founded on the Wisconsin act, which was the pioneer state in this matter, but all require the submission of certificates of registration in studbooks certified by the United States Department of Agriculture, as evidence of the purity of breeding of stallions licensed as purebred, except that some provide in addition that stallions shall be accepted as purebred which are registered in studbooks of any American studbook or registry association which recognizes and records stallions having five pure top crosses.

That the state stallion law marks a distinct step in advance in our horse-breeding industry is hardly to be questioned. One of the first results of the operation of these laws was to provide data which show the actual facts with regard to the stallions being used for breeding purposes. Other important beneficial results are the rapid elimination of unfit animals and greater care with regard to breeding and registration. Under authority of paragraph 492 of the act of Congress, approved August 5, 1909, the following regulations were issued by the United States Department of Agriculture regarding the importation of animals for breeding purposes, in order to prevent fraud concerning the ancestry of purebred animals, which became effective on February 1, 1912.

The complete act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in California is given in full in Appendix D, as it will be found useful for reference by those concerned.

In Appendix B the various breeds are given in detail, and the numbers are of considerable interest. No pony-stallions have been registered.

The total number of registered stallions in the state is 1,133, principally classified as follows:

Mongrel, 288; Percheron, 391; Standard, 144; Belgian, 114.

The four leading counties are San Joaquin, with 87; Sonoma, with 58; Stanislaus, with 58, and Fresno with 97 stallions.

The decrease in the number of stallions licensed is more noticeable in the mongrels, which shows that the stallion law has had its effect for the betterment in breeding.

While the extensive use of the automobile and traction engine has no doubt been the primary factor in this large decrease, yet, on the other hand, the published graded registration of the California Stallion Registration Board has had a tendency to promote better breeding, thus carrying out the purport of the law.

We wish to thank the Stallion Division of the Iowa State Department of Agriculture for the use of the cuts illustrating the various certificates of the Registration Associations given in this report.

DESCRIPTION OF DISEASES ENUMERATED IN THE STALLION LAW.

A brief description of the diseases referred to in the California law is given below. This is not offered as a complete treatise, but only such features are mentioned as is thought will be of interest and assistance to persons especially concerned.

Periodic Ophthalmia—Moon Blindness.

This is a disease affecting the eyes of horses, probably caused by a germ. It is quite commonly called moon blindness because it was thought at one time that the moon had some influence on the cause of the disease.

There is undoubtedly a hereditary predisposition to the disease, but there are few cases to indicate that the disease itself is transmitted from parent to offspring, but rather the colt is born with a weakness of the eyes, transmitted by the stallion or dam. Other predisposing factors are low, damp (swampy) pastures, poorly ventilated or insufficiently lighted stables, over-feeding, etc.

The disease comes on with an inflammation usually of one eye. The transparent portion of the eyeball becomes bluish or white in color, most noticeable in the lower part (precipitate in anterior chamber). The eye is kept half closed on account of pain produced by light. Often this is associated by a swelling of the eyelids and reddening of the membrane lining them with a discharge of tears over the face. There is no indication of an injury or more severe inflammation at one point than at another. In one to two weeks these symptoms disappear and the eye may be practically normal to all general appearances for a period of usually one to three months, when another attack occurs more severe than the first. After a few attacks have come and gone the eye has a bluish appearance, looks cloudy instead of clear, the eyeball is shrunken, retracted in the orbit and the lens (inside of eyeball) becomes white (develops a cataract). Not being satisfied with having destroyed one eye the disease frequently affects the other and the history of the first is repeated.

Cataract—Opacity of Lens.

Immediately back of and covering the pupil of the eye is the lens. It is ordinarily not noticed because of its being transparent. Where it becomes clouded (opaque), however, the opaque portion is readily seen. As a rule cataracts soon involve the entire lens and the pupil then looks white, or grayish in color. There are many different classifications of cataract, as congenital, senile, primary, secondary, capsular, traumatic, etc., but as no distinctions are made in the law, the different kinds will not be discussed specifically.

Roaring (Laryngeal-Hemiplegia).

A paralysis, either partial or complete, of one or both recurrent laryngeal nerves. The most frequent causes of roaring are undoubtedly infectious diseases, such as strangles and influenza, and various forms of pneumonia. Heredity probably plays some part as a causative agent and for this reason the condition when present constitutes an unsoundness in stallions.

Paralysis of the recurrent laryngeal nerve leads to disuse of the muscles which tense the vocal cords. Looking into the larynx from in front, these cords can be seen to be stretched across the larynx from above to below, while between the cords and the sides of the larynx are two blind pouches or pockets, the lateral ventricles. Looking into the larynx from behind, the walls are smooth and unobstructed. During normal respiration the vocal cords are drawn to the sides of the larynx and the ventricles closed on inspiration, while on expiration they swing out into the larynx somewhat. In roaring, the cord or cords being paralyzed, hang more or less loosely in the larynx during inspiration and the air rushes into the ventricles.

The most striking symptom, therefore, is a laryngeal sound made on inspiration only. The sound varies from a whistling to a dull roaring, depending upon the degree of paralysis and also varies greatly in intensity from one which is barely perceptible only when the horse is being exercised to one which is so severe that the least movement or excitement may produce very distressing symptoms.

The two symptoms which are the most characteristic of roaring, therefore, are, that the sound is inspiratory only, and that it is greatly reduced or even entirely ceases within a short time after the animal is brought to rest. The best way of testing a horse for roaring is to put him under heavy draft in soft ground or gallop him in a circle with the head pulled in and turned slightly toward the right.

Navicular Disease.

A chronic inflammation involving the navicular bone, the navicular bursa, and the deep flexor tendon.

In this disease heredity, in so far as it influences quality of bone, quality of tendon and set of limbs, undoubtedly plays an important part. Aside from heredity, any factors such as dry and contracted hoofs, constant fast work on hard roads or pavements, and severe strains, as in running or jumping, must be regarded as causes, as they increase concussion or compression in the navicular region.

Navicular lameness is one of the most insidious with which we have to deal. The broad, flat foot, with large frog and open at the heels, is especially predisposed. The lameness usually comes on gradually and irregularly, resulting in a slow, cautious, short gait, with a constant attempt to keep the weight shifted toward the toe. Stumbling is quite characteristic. The animal usually stands with the affected foot in advance of the sound one, or constantly shifts its weight, if both are affected. There is a total absence of heat or swelling. Pain is increased when the animal is made to stand upon an incline or when pressure is put directly upon the frog. Because the weight is shifted toward the toes, the toes become worn short and the heels become high and contracted.

Great care must be taken not to confuse navicular lameness and shoulder lameness, or simple contraction of the heels, especially when accompanied by thrush.

Sidebone.

A transformation of the lateral cartilages into bone. The lateral cartilages are placed on the inner and outer sides of the foot, partly above and partly below the hoof head or coronet. Normally, they should be pliable and easily moved from side to side along their upper border by pressure with the thumb.

External injuries and lack of function, especially when accompanied by a low type of inflammation, are the most fruitful causes. Both these conditions are present in a hoof which, due to prolonged lack of frog pressure, has become dry and contracted, thus more freely transmitting shock which constantly comes to a foot in motion, and at the same time limiting movement and keeping up constant inflammation because of contraction of the hoof. An undue amount of body weight in proportion to the size and quality of hoof are also important factors. This is shown by the fact that some horses work upon city streets constantly shod with high calks and never develop sidebones. Therefore, selection is very important.

Sidebones are more frequent in front feet and in the other cartilage of draft horses. The ossification begins on the lower anterior border and proceeds upward and backward until completed. The first change then is when the hoof, and though we may be suspicious of its presence, a diagnosis can not be made until an ossified portion can be felt. The chief difficulty arises in examining heavy stallions which have very thick, harsh skin. A diagnosis should never be made until the foot has been picked up and the thumbs inserted deeply behind the cartilage, to detect pliability or the absence of it. As soon as ossification can be definitely determined, sidebones can be said to exist. The presence of sidebone seldom causes lameness in farm animals, but when animals so affected are put to work upon city streets where, because of continued shoeing, the feet become very dry, lameness often results. For this reason, buyers for the city markets object seriously to a horse having sidebones.

Ringbone.

"Ringbone" is an indefinite, collective term for various chronic aseptic inflammatory processes at the coronary joint. It should be divided into two forms, articular, involving the joint, and periarticular, involving the surface of the bone at the attachment of the ligaments around the joints. Ringbones of the first class are the result either of excessive concussion upon the bones of normal quality or ordinary concussion upon bones of poor quality. Ringbones of the second class are due either to excessive straining of the ligaments, due to an unbalanced condition within the foot and limb, or to faulty quality of the bones into which the ligaments are inserted.

It will be seen that the foregoing causes do not include bony growths in this region which result from deep wire cuts or other accidents. True ringbones then are the result of lack of quality or faulty formation, and consequently are very objectionable in breeding animals. It is well for owners to understand, however, that excessive strains may result from lack of trimming or faulty shoeing, and ringbones develop as a result.

Ringbone may involve either the first phalanx, the joints between the first and second phalanges, or the second phalanx, and the joint below it; they may be present in either front or hind limbs, though perhaps are found more commonly behind than in front. The most marked symptom is the presence of a bony enlargement on one or both sides or extending entirely around the joint. Care should be taken not to mistake the naturally prominent joints of young animals for ringbone. There is usually no local pain or heat, though lameness is persistent and severe, especially when the joint is twisted, as in turning short.

Ringbone around the lower joint causes a bulging at the top of the hoof and an irregularity in the production of horn, which leaves the hoof surface at the toe checked and cracked. If lameness is severe, the animal stands with the affected foot relieved of weight, or alternately raises and lowers it. The gait is slow and clumsy and marked by lack of movement in the pastern joint.

Bone Spavin.

Bone spavin is primarily a chronic inflammation of the inner lower tarsal bones and upper head of the metatarsal bones. Disease of the accompanying joints and enlargement upon the surface of the bones are secondary processes. In fact, in some spavins (occult spavin) no enlargement can be detected. Bone spavin, therefore, should not be defined as an enlargement upon the inside of the hock joint, as the enlargement is merely a symptom which may be entirely absent.

The usual cause of spavin is undue compression of the bones of the hock, though overstraining is also undoubtedly a cause. Any conformation, such as being too upright or too crooked either when viewed from the side or behind, as well as lack of quality to stand ordinary uses, are predisposing causes. True spavin, then, like true ringbone, is largely a breeder's problem. Although neither is directly hereditary, it is the predisposition in the form of defective conformation or quality which is hereditary.

The recognition of spavin depends upon the determination of a bony enlargement in the hock, if it be present, and an analysis of the lameness. Either may exist without the other.

The enlargement usually is found on the internal lateral surface of the hock. It may be detected by viewing the region from directly in front, looking between the front legs or from a little angle looking, first at one hock, then crossing over and viewing the other, from a similar angle. The hocks can best be compared by palpation by crouching behind the animal, crossing the arms and passing the fore-finger of each hand over corresponding surfaces of the two joints at the same time. Any difference in size or contour can then be detected.

Spavin lameness is quite characteristic. It is usually more severe during the first few steps and gradually disappears with exercise, unless the lameness is severe, when it is either constant or increases with exercise. In any case there is always lack of flexion of the hock and a tendency to drag the toe which is best seen as the animal is led past the observer. This same lack of flexion necessitates an exaggerated action of the hip, which is best seen from behind as the animal is led away. Again, the animal usually shows pain when turned short upon the affected limb, and lameness is increased by holding the hock flexed for about one minute, and then starting the animal off at the trot.

Bog Spavin.

Bog spavin denotes a serious inflammation of the hock (tibiotarsal) joint. It may be acute at first, originating from a spavin, and finally becoming chronic, or it may be chronic in nature from the first, originating apparently from a congenital (inherited) weakness.

In the first instance there is swelling in the region of the joint, which is firm, painful, hot and causing severe lameness. In the second, more frequent form, there is present a soft, painless, easily compressed swelling, due to distention of the joint capsule, with joint fluid (synovia) which appears most prominently on the inner anterior surface of the joint and can be pushed through to appear on the inner and outer sides behind the joint. The bog spavin which is aimed at chiefly in the stallion law, is the one which is chronic from the first, appearing in the young animal apparently without external cause. The condition can hardly be mistaken from any other, but there is a tendency to excuse slight cases on the ground of being "a little full in the hocks." Whenever there is a distention which can be displaced from one part of the joint to appear in another, the diagnosis of bog spavin should be made, especially in young horses which have not seen service, but old horses which have seen service or have been transported, should not be faulted unless the swelling is hard, hot and accompanied by lameness.

Curb.

Curb denotes an inflammation of the plantar or calcaneo metatarsal ligament, which braces the posterior face of the hock. It is due to an overstraining of this ligament either because of faulty conformation, such as sickle hocks, or to overstraining or slipping while in draft. A swelling appears four or five inches below the point of the hock, over the ligament and confined to it. It is best seen when viewed from the side. There is at first pain on pressure, a slight amount of heat and sometimes lameness.

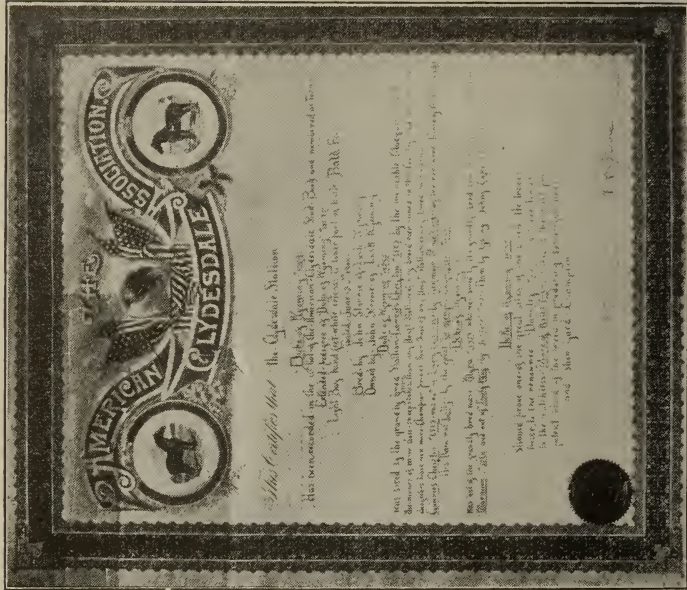

Chorea.

Chorea is a general term made to include string halt, crampiness and shivering. String halt refers to a spasmodic flexion of the joints of the hind leg, especially noticeable at the hock joint. Its cause is not known, but it is thought to be of nervous origin. In mild cases the excessive flexion may be noticed only during the first few steps or upon turning, while in aggravated cases it is marked at each step. String halt should not be confused with interruptions in the act of progression, which are symptoms of some other conditions, such as muscular cramp, bone spavin and inflammation of the stifle joint.

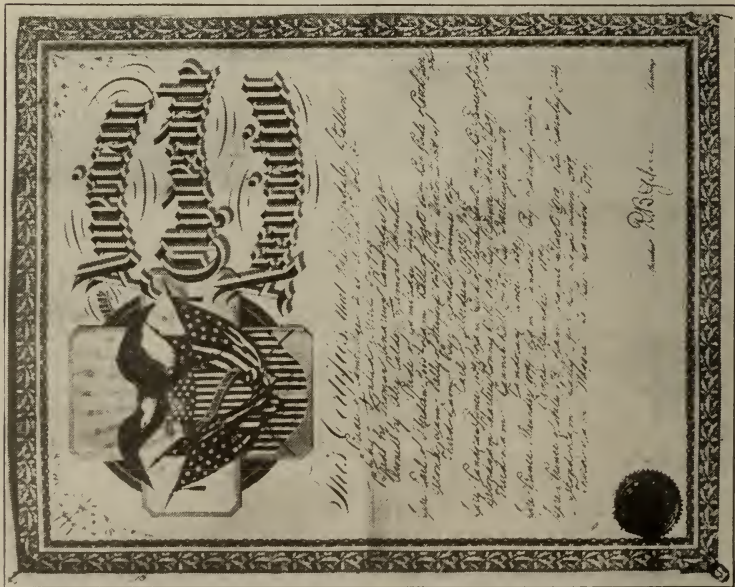

Shivering is purely of nervous origin and is manifested by irregular and involuntary movements, generally most noticed in the hind quarters. The intensity of the symptoms vary greatly, but an average case may show nothing unusual, so long as it does not become excited, but if stopped suddenly, made to back, is led into strange quarters or up to a strange watering place, marked inco-ordination may take place. The hind feet remain fixed to the ground, the back arched, and the muscles of the quarters tensed, but trembling and shivering. An attempt to raise one hind foot meets with great resistance. The worst cases may be affected with spavin accompanied by rapid pulse, high temperature and distressed breathing.

The course is always prolonged, the condition becomes worse with age and is incurable. Because of these facts and because hereditary predisposition is a strong factor in the production of the disease, it becomes distinctly a breeder's problem.

APPENDIX D.

At the last session of the legislature the bill entitled, "An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the State of California," was amended in sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8 and 9, and added a new section, which is numbered 11½. These amended sections change the law in a number of places and should be carefully read.

In section 1 of the old law the last sentence is struck out. It is not necessary now to have the license recorded with the county recorder. This will save you the cost of recorder's fee.

In section 2 the words, "and tags," have been added after the words, "stallion or jack license certificates." This means that when a certificate is issued there will also be a metal tag issued bearing the certificate number and designating whether it is purebred, grade, crossbred, non-standard or mongrel.

In section 3 provision is made for the veterinarian to specify on the affidavit if the stallion or jack is affected with any communicable disease or with any of the diseases or unsoundnesses mentioned in section 4 of this act.

In section 4 certain diseases or affections have been added in the amendment and a part of those given in the old law have been dropped.

Section 5 has not been changed.

Section 6 makes provision for the metal tag above mentioned to be placed upon the harness or bridle at all times during the breeding season.

In section 7 of the old law the studbooks used were the ones recognized by the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. This is changed to read "Studbook recognized by said stallion registration board." This wording also appears in the certificates.

In section 8 the fees for new registrations, transfers and copies have been changed. New certificates are now $2.75, renewals $1.25, transfers $1.25 and copies $1.25 each. The additional 25 cents added to the old cost covers the cost of the metal tag which is made out with each certificate. The idea is to try and carry out the purport of the law and while there is an additional charge of 25 cents, the amended section 1 saves at least $1.00 by eliminating the recorder's fees, so there is really no extra tax.

In section 9 provision is made giving this board the power of investigating any complaint and the re-examination of a stallion if deemed necessary.

THE CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION LAW.

CHAPTER 677, 1911, AND 752, 1915.

An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the State of California, approved May 1, 1911.

[Amended in 1915. Approved June 12, 1915.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Every association, person, firm or corporation standing or offering any stallion or jack for public service in this state shall cause the name, description, and pedigree of such stallion or jack to be enrolled by a stallion registration board hereinafter provided for, and secure a license from said board, as provided in section 3 of this act. All enrollment and verification of pedigree shall be done in the office of the secretary of the California state board of agriculture.

SEC. 2. In order to carry out the provisions of this act, there shall be constituted a stallion registration board, whose duty it shall be to verify and register pedigrees; to pass upon certificates of veterinary examination; to provide, when necessary, for veterinary inspection; to issue stallion or jack license certificates and tags; to make all necessary rules and regulations; and to perform such other duties as may be necessary to carry out and enforce the provisions of this act. Said board shall hold meetings at the office of the secretary of the California state board of agriculture the first Tuesday and subsequent days of February, May, August and November of each year, and such other meetings as may be necessary. Said stallion registration board shall be composed of three members, consisting of the president and secretary of the California state board of agriculture and the state veterinarian.

SEC. 3. In order to obtain the license certificate and tag herein provided for, the owner of each stallion or jack shall forward an affidavit on a form which shall be furnished by the stallion registration board and this affidavit shall be made by a veterinarian, legally qualified to practice as such in this state, to the effect that he has personally examined such stallion or jack. If said stallion or jack is free from communicable diseases mentioned in section four of this act, a statement to this effect shall be made on said affidavit by the examining veterinarian. If said examining veterinarian after examination finds such stallion or jack affected with any communicable disease or with any of the diseases or unsoundnesses mentioned in section four of this act, a statement shall be inscribed on such affidavit by said veterinarian specifying the disease or unsoundness so found. The owner of said stallion or jack shall also furnish to the stallion registration board the studbook certificate of registry of the pedigree of said stallion or jack when said stallion or jack is registered, and all other necessary papers relative to his breeding and ownership. Upon verification of pedigree and certificate of breeding (in case of purebred stallions or jacks), and receipt of veterinarian's affidavit as provided for in this act, a license certificate shall be issued to the owner; provided, however, that no license certificate shall be issued to the owner of any stallion or jack in case said animal is affected with any communicable disease; and provided, further, that when any stallion or jack is found affected with any of the diseases or unsoundnesses as mentioned in section four of this act, the license certificate so issued to the owner of said animal shall specify the disease or unsoundness with which said animal is affected.

SEC. 4. Any stallion or jack found to be affected with any of the following diseases or unsoundness is hereby deemed unsound and likely to transmit such disease or unsoundness to its progeny, and the license certificate issued to the owner of such a stallion or jack shall specify the disease or unsoundness as provided for in section three of this act:

Periodic ophthalmia (moon blindness); cataract, laryngeal hemiplegia (roaring or whistling); pulmonary emphysema (heaves, broken wind); chorea (St. Vitus dance, crampiness, shivering, stringhalt); bone spavin, ringbone, sidebone, navicular disease, osteoporosis; curb, when accompanied with faulty confirmation of hock.

SEC. 5. The stallion registration board shall make and keep records of all stallions and jacks enrolled in the State of California; said stallions or jacks to be enrolled as "purebred," "crossbred," "non-standard bred," "grade," or "mongrel," according as the facts may have been determined. Upon making the enrollment of said stallion or jack said stallion registration board shall issue the above said license. The stallion registration board is authorized, in cases of emergency, to grant temporary license certificates without veterinary examination, upon receipt of an affidavit of the owner to the effect that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, said stallion or jack is free from infectious, contagious, or transmissible disease or unsoundness. Temporary license certificate shall be valid only until veterinary examination can reasonably be made.

SEC. 6. The owner of any stallion or jack used for public service in this state shall post and keep affixed, during the entire breeding season, a copy of the license certificate of such stallion or jack, issued under the provisions of this act, in a conspicuous place, both within and upon the outside of the main door leading to every stable or building where the said stallion or jack is used for public service, and at all times during the breeding season shall have attached to the harness or bridle of said stallion or jack a tag which shall be issued with the certificate. Each bill and poster and each newspaper advertisement shall show the enrollment certificate number, and state whether it reads "purebred," "grade," "crossbred," "nonstandard," or "mongrel," and it shall be illegal to print or advertise any misleading reference to the breeding of said stallion or jack, his dam or sire.

SEC. 7. The license certificate issued for a stallion or jack whose sire and dam are of pure breeding, and the pedigree of which is registered in a studbook recognized by said stallion registration board, shall be in the following form:

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION BOARD,
SACRAMENTO, October 1, 1917.

To Honorable WILLIAM D. STEPHENS, Governor of California.

SIR: We have the honor to submit herewith our sixth annual report, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 677, entitled "An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the state of California."

This report covers the period of August 1, 1916, to July 31, 1917, and contains a financial statement showing the receipts and disbursements of the board for the above period and a statistical summary showing the number and breeds of the stallions in each county in the state.

On account of the slight importation of horses during the period of the war, the total number of purebred stallions is below that of last year. The indications are, however, that more stallions will be registered this year on account of the Government buying horses, which will be a stimulus to the breeding industry.

Respectfully submitted.

JOHN M. PERRY, President.
DR. CHARLES KEANE.
CHAS. W. PAINE, Secretary.

SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION BOARD

Within the past eleven years twenty different states have passed laws requiring that all owners of stallions or jacks, before standing them for public service, shall obtain a license for each animal from the state board created for that purpose. This board examines all pedigree certificates and veterinarians' certificates of soundness submitted, and enrolls and issues license certificates and tags for all stallion and jacks entitled to such enrollment in accordance with the law. Such legislation has been enacted in the following states:

States	Act effective	States	Act effective
Wisconsin -----	January 1, 1906	Illinois -----	January 1, 1910
Iowa -----	March 30, 1907	North Dakota -----	January 1, 1910
Minnesota -----	April 25, 1907	Kansas -----	April 3, 1910
Utah -----	May 13, 1907	Washington -----	June 8, 1910
Pennsylvania -----	January 1, 1908	Oregon -----	May 20, 1911
New Jersey -----	September 1, 1908	Nebraska -----	July 7, 1911
Montana -----	March 8, 1909	California -----	August 1, 1911
South Dakota -----	March 9, 1909	Michigan -----	August 1, 1911
Idaho -----	March 15, 1909	Colorado -----	August 5, 1911
Indiana -----		Ohio -----

The details of these laws vary somewhat in different states, but all are more or less founded on the Wisconsin act, which was the pioneer state in this matter, but all require the submission of certificates of registration in studbooks certified by the United States Department of Agriculture, as evidence of the purity of breeding of stallions licensed as purebred, except that some provide in addition that stallions shall be accepted as purebred which are registered in studbooks of any American studbook or registry association which recognizes and records stallions having five pure top crosses.

That the state stallion law marks a distinct step in advance in our horse-breeding industry is hardly to be questioned. One of the first results of the operation of these laws was to provide data which show the actual facts with regard to the stallions being used for breeding purposes. Other important beneficial results are the rapid elimination of unfit animals and greater care with regard to breeding and registration. Under authority of paragraph 492 of the act of Congress, approved August 5, 1909, the following regulations were issued by the United States Department of Agriculture regarding the importation of animals for breeding purposes, in order to prevent fraud concerning the ancestry of purebred animals, which became effective on February 1, 1912.

Belgian Draft.
Clydesdale.
Hackney.
Shire.

Standardbred.

Welsh Pony and Cob.

The complete act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in California is given in full in Appendix D, as it will be found useful for reference by those concerned.

In Appendix B the various breeds are given in detail, and the numbers are of considerable interest. No pony-stallions have been registered.

The total number of registered stallions in the state is 858, principally classified as follows:

Mongrel, 209; Percheron, 328; Standard, 75; Belgian, 98.

The four leading counties are San Joaquin, with 57; Fresno, with 55; Stanislaus, with 42; and Alameda, with 41 stallions.

The decrease in the number of stallions licensed is more noticeable in the mongrels, which shows that the stallion law has had its effect for the betterment in breeding.

While the extensive use of the automobile and traction engine has no doubt been the primary factor in this large decrease, yet, on the other hand, the published graded registration of the California Stallion Registration Board has had a tendency to promote better breeding, thus carrying out the purport of the law.

DESCRIPTION OF DISEASES ENUMERATED IN THE STALLION LAW.

A brief description of the diseases referred to in the California law is given below. This is not offered as a complete treatise, but only such features are mentioned as is thought will be of interest and assistance to persons especially concerned.

Periodic Ophthalmia—Moon Blindness.

This is a disease affecting the eyes of horses, probably caused by a germ. It is quite commonly called moon blindness because it was thought at one time that the moon had some influence on the cause of the disease.

There is undoubtedly a hereditary predisposition to the disease, but there are few cases to indicate that the disease itself is transmitted from parent to offspring, but rather the colt is born with a weakness of the eyes, transmitted by the stallion or dam. Other predisposing factors are low, damp (swampy) pastures, poorly ventilated or insufficiently lighted stables, over-feeding, etc.

The disease comes on with an inflammation usually of one eye. The transparent portion of the eyeball becomes bluish or white in color, most noticeable in the lower part (precipitate in anterior chamber). The eye is kept half closed on account of pain produced by light. Often this is associated by a swelling of the eyelids and reddening of the membrane lining them with a discharge of tears over the face. There is no indication of an injury or more severe inflammation at one point than at another. In one to two weeks these symptoms disappear and the eye may be practically normal to all general appearances for a period of usually one to three months, when another attack occurs more severe than the first. After a few attacks have come and gone the eye has a bluish appearance, looks cloudy instead of clear, the eyeball is shrunken, retracted in the orbit and the lens (inside of eyeball) becomes white (develops a cataract). Not being satisfied with having destroyed one eye the disease frequently affects the other and the history of the first is repeated.

Cataract—Opacity of Lens.

Immediately back of and covering the pupil of the eye is the lens. It is ordinarily not noticed because of its being transparent. Where it becomes clouded (opaque), however, the opaque portion is readily seen. As a rule cataracts soon involve the entire lens and the pupil then looks white, or grayish in color. There are many different classifications of cataract, as congenital, senile, primary, secondary, capsular, traumatic, etc., but as no distinctions are made in the law, the different kinds will not be discussed specifically.

Roaring (Laryngeal-Hemiplegia).

A paralysis, either partial or complete, of one or both recurrent laryngeal nerves. The most frequent causes of roaring are undoubtedly infectious diseases, such as strangles and influenza, and various forms of pneumonia. Heredity probably plays some part as a causative agent and for this reason the condition when present constitutes an unsoundness in stallions.

Paralysis of the recurrent laryngeal nerve leads to disuse of the muscles which tense the vocal cords. Looking into the larynx from in front, these cords can be seen to be stretched across the larynx from above to below, while between the cords and the sides of the larynx are two blind pouches or pockets, the lateral ventricles. Looking into the larynx from behind, the walls are smooth and unobstructed. During normal respiration the vocal cords are drawn to the sides of the larynx and the ventricles closed on inspiration, while on expiration they swing out into the larynx somewhat. In roaring, the cord or cords being paralyzed, hang more or less loosely in the larynx during inspiration and the air rushes into the ventricles.

The most striking symptom, therefore, is a laryngeal sound made on inspiration only. The sound varies from a whistling to a dull roaring, depending upon the degree of paralysis, and also varies greatly in intensity from one which is barely perceptible only when the horse is being exercised to one which is so severe that the least movement or excitement may produce very distressing symptoms.

The two symptoms which are the most characteristic of roaring, therefore, are, that the sound is inspiratory only, and that it is greatly reduced or even entirely ceases within a short time after the animal is brought to rest. The best way of testing a horse for roaring is to put him under heavy draft in soft ground or gallop him in a circle with the head pulled in and turned slightly toward the right.

Navicular Disease.

A chronic inflammation involving the navicular bone, the navicular bursa, and the deep flexor tendon.

In this disease heredity, in so far as it influences quality of bone, quality of tendon and set of limbs, undoubtedly plays an important part. Aside from heredity, any factors such as dry and contracted hoofs, constant fast work on hard roads or pavements, and severe strains, as in running or jumping, must be regarded as causes, as they increase concussion or compression in the navicular region.

Navicular lameness is one of the most insidious with which we have to deal. The broad, flat foot, with large frog and open at the heels, is especially predisposed. The lameness usually comes on gradually and irregularly, resulting in a slow, cautious, short gait, with a constant attempt to keep the weight shifted toward the toe. Stumbling is quite characteristic. The animal usually stands with the affected foot in advance of the sound one, or constantly shifts its weight, if both are affected. There is a total absence of heat or swelling. Pain is increased when the animal is made to stand upon an incline or when pressure is put directly upon the frog. Because the weight is shifted toward the toes, the toes become worn short and the heels become high and contracted.

Great care must be taken not to confuse navicular lameness and shoulder lameness, or simple contraction of the heels, especially when accompanied by thrush.

Sidebone.

A transformation of the lateral cartilages into bone. The lateral cartilages are placed on the inner and outer sides of the foot, partly above and partly below the hoof head or coronet. Normally, they should be pliable and easily moved from side to side along their upper border by pressure with the thumb.

External injuries and lack of function, especially when accompanied by a low type of inflammation, are the most fruitful causes. Both these conditions are present in a hoof which, due to prolonged lack of frog pressure, has become dry and contracted, thus more freely transmitting shock which constantly comes to a foot in motion, and at the same time limiting movement and keeping up constant inflammation because of contraction of the hoof. An undue amount of body weight in proportion to the size and quality of hoof are also important factors. This is shown by the fact that some horses work upon city streets constantly shod with high calks and never develop sidebones. Therefore, selection is very important.

Sidebones are more frequent in front feet and in the other cartilage of draft horses. The ossification begins on the lower anterior border and proceeds upward and backward until completed. The first change, then, is when the hoof, and though we may be suspicious of its presence, a diagnosis can not be made until an ossified portion can be felt. The chief difficulty arises in examining heavy stallions which have very thick, harsh skin. A diagnosis should never be made until the foot has been picked up and the thumbs inserted deeply behind the cartilage, to detect pliability or the absence of it. As soon as ossification can be definitely determined, sidebones can be said to exist. The presence of sidebone seldom causes lameness in farm animals, but when animals so affected are put to work upon city streets where, because of continued shoeing, the feet become very dry, lameness often results. For this reason, buyers for the city markets object seriously to a horse having sidebones.

Ringbone.

"Ringbone" is an indefinite, collective term for various chronic aseptic inflammatory processes at the coronary joint. It should be divided into two forms, articular, involving the joint, and periarticular, involving the surface of the bone at the attachment of the ligaments around the joints. Ringbones of the first class are the result either of excessive concussion upon the bones of normal quality or ordinary concussion upon bones of poor quality. Ringbones of the second class are due either to excessive straining of the ligaments, due to an unbalanced condition within the foot and limb, or to faulty quality of the bones into which the ligaments are inserted.

It will be seen that the foregoing causes do not include bony growths in this region which result from deep wire cuts or other accidents. True ringbones, then, are the result of lack of quality or faulty formation, and consequently are very objectionable in breeding animals. It is well for owners to understand, however, that excessive strains may result from lack of trimming or faulty shoeing, and ringbones develop as a result.

Ringbone may involve either the first phalanx, the joints between the first and second phalanges, or the second phalanx, and the joint below it; they may be present in either front or hind limbs, though perhaps are found more commonly behind than in front. The most marked symptom is the presence of a bony enlargement on one or both sides or extending entirely around the joint. Care should be taken not to mistake the naturally prominent joints of young animals for ringbone. There is usually no local pain or heat, though lameness is persistent and severe, especially when the joint is twisted, as in turning short.

Ringbone around the lower joint causes a bulging at the top of the hoof and an irregularity in the production of horn, which leaves the hoof surface at the toe checked and cracked. If lameness is severe, the animal stands with the affected foot relieved of weight, or alternately raises and lowers it. The gait is slow and clumsy and marked by lack of movement in the pastern joint.

Bone Spavin.

Bone spavin is primarily a chronic inflammation of the inner lower tarsal bones and upper head of the metatarsal bones. Disease of the accompanying joints and enlargement upon the surface of the bones are secondary processes. In fact, in some spavins (occult spavin) no enlargement can be detected. Bone spavin, therefore, should not be defined as an enlargement upon the inside of the hock joint, as the enlargement is merely a symptom which may be entirely absent.

The usual cause of spavin is undue compression of the bones of the hock, though overstraining is also undoubtedly a cause. Any conformation, such as being too upright or too crooked either when viewed from the side or behind, as well as lack of quality to stand ordinary uses, are predisposing causes. True spavin, then, like true ringbone, is largely a breeder's problem. Although neither is directly hereditary, it is the predisposition in the form of defective conformation or quality which is hereditary.

The recognition of spavin depends upon the determination of a bony enlargement in the hock, if it be present, and an analysis of the lameness. Either may exist without the other.

The enlargement usually is found on the internal lateral surface of the hock. It may be detected by viewing the region from directly in front, looking between the front legs or from a little angle looking, first at one hock, then crossing over and viewing the other, from a similar angle. The hocks can best be compared by palpation by crouching behind the animal, crossing the arms and passing the forefinger of each hand over corresponding surfaces of the two joints at the same time. Any difference in size or contour can then be detected.

Spavin lameness is quite characteristic. It is usually more severe during the first few steps and gradually disappears with exercise, unless the lameness is severe, when it is either constant or increases with exercise. In any case there is always lack of flexion of the hock and a tendency to drag the toe, which is best seen as the animal is led past the observer. This same lack of flexion necessitates an exaggerated action of the hip, which is best seen from behind as the animal is led away. Again, the animal usually shows pain when turned short upon the affected limb, and lameness is increased by holding the hock flexed for about one minute, and then starting the animal off at the trot.

Bog Spavin.

Bog spavin denotes a serious inflammation of the hock (tibiotarsal) joint. It may be acute at first, originating from a spavin, and finally becoming chronic, or it may be chronic in nature from the first, originating apparently from a congenital (inherited) weakness.

In the first instance there is swelling in the region of the joint, which is firm, painful, hot and causing severe lameness. In the second, more frequent form, there is present a soft, painless, easily compressed swelling, due to distention of the joint capsule, with joint fluid (synovia) which appears most prominently on the inner anterior surface of the joint and can be pushed through to appear on the inner and outer sides behind the joint. The bog spavin which is aimed at chiefly in the stallion law, is the one which is chronic from the first, appearing in the young animal apparently without external cause. The condition can hardly be mistaken from any other, but there is a tendency to excuse slight cases on the ground of being "a little full in the hocks." Whenever there is a distention which can be displaced from one part of the joint to appear in another, the diagnosis of bog spavin should be made, especially in young horses which have not seen service, but old horses which have seen service or have been transported, should not be faulted unless the swelling is hard, hot and accompanied by lameness.

Curb.

Curb denotes an inflammation of the plantar or calcaneo metatarsal ligament, which braces the posterior face of the hock. It is due to an overstraining of this ligament either because of faulty conformation, such as sickle hocks, or to overstraining or slipping while in draft. A swelling appears four or five inches below the point of the hock, over the ligament and confined to it. It is best seen when viewed from the side. There is at first pain on pressure, a slight amount of heat and sometimes lameness.

Chorea.

Chorea is a general term made to include string halt, crampiness and shivering. String halt refers to a spasmodic flexion of the joints of the hind leg, especially noticeable at the hock joint. Its cause is not known, but it is thought to be of nervous origin. In mild cases the excessive flexion may be noticed only during the first few steps or upon turning, while in aggravated cases it is marked at each step. String halt should not be confused with interruptions in the act of progression, which are symptoms of some other conditions, such as muscular cramp, bone spavin and inflammation of the stifle joint.

Shivering is purely of nervous origin and is manifested by irregular and involuntary movements, generally most noticed in the hind quarters. The intensity of the symptoms vary greatly, but an average case may show nothing unusual, so long as it does not become excited, but if stopped suddenly, made to back, is led into strange quarters or up to a strange watering place, marked incoordination may take place. The hind feet remain fixed to the ground, the back arched, and the muscles of the quarters tensed, but trembling and shivering. An attempt to raise one hind foot meets with great resistance. The worst cases may be affected with spavin accompanied by rapid pulse, high temperature and distressed breathing.

The course is always prolonged, the condition becomes worse with age and is incurable. Because of these facts and because hereditary predisposition is a strong factor in the production of the disease, it becomes distinctly a breeder's problem.

APPENDIX D.

At the last session of the legislature the bill entitled, "An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the State of California," was amended in sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8 and 9, and added a new section, which is numbered 11½. These amended sections change the law in a number of places and should be carefully read.

In section 1 of the old law the last sentence is struck out. It is not necessary now to have the license recorded with the county recorder. This will save you the cost of recorder's fee.

In section 2 the words, "and tags," have been added after the words, "stallion or jack license certificates." This means that when a certificate is issued there will also be a metal tag issued bearing the certificate number and designating whether it is purebred, grade, crossbred, non-standard or mongrel.

In section 3 provision is made for the veterinarian to specify on the affidavit if the stallion or jack is affected with any communicable disease or with any of the diseases or unsoundnesses mentioned in section 4 of this act.

In section 4 certain diseases or affections have been added in the amendment and a part of those given in the old law have been dropped.

Section 5 has not been changed.

Section 6 makes provision for the metal tag above mentioned to be placed upon the harness or bridle at all times during the breeding season.

In section 7 of the old law the studbooks used were the ones recognized by the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. This is changed to read "Studbook recognized by said stallion registration board." This wording also appears in the certificates.

In section 8 the fees for new registrations, transfers and copies have been changed. New certificates are now $2.75, renewals $1.25, transfers $1.25 and copies $1.25 each. The additional 25 cents added to the old cost covers the cost of the metal tag which is made out with each certificate. The idea is to try and carry out the purport of the law and while there is an additional charge of 25 cents, the amended section 1 saves at least $1.00 by eliminating the recorder's fees, so there is really no extra tax.

In section 9 provision is made giving this board the power of investigating any complaint and the re-examination of a stallion if deemed necessary.

THE CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION LAW.

CHAPTERS 677, 1911, AND 752, 1915.

An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the State of California, approved May 1, 1911.

[Amended in 1915. Approved June 12, 1915.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Every association, person, firm or corporation standing or offering any stallion or jack for public service in this state shall cause the name, description, and pedigree of such stallion or jack to be enrolled by a stallion registration board hereinafter provided for, and secure a license from said board, as provided in section three of this act. All enrollment and verification of pedigree shall be done in the office of the secretary of the California state board of agriculture.

SEC. 2. In order to carry out the provisions of this act, there shall be constituted a stallion registration board, whose duty it shall be to verify and register pedigrees; to pass upon certificates of veterinary examination; to provide, when necessary, for veterinary inspection; to issue stallion or jack license certificates and tags; to make all necessary rules and regulations; and to perform such other duties as may be necessary to carry out and enforce the provisions of this act. Said board shall hold meetings at the office of the secretary of the California state board of agriculture the first Tuesday and subsequent days of February, May, August and November of each year, and such other meetings as may be necessary. Said stallion registration board shall be composed of three members, consisting of the president and secretary of the California state board of agriculture and the state veterinarian.

SEC. 3. In order to obtain the license certificate and tag herein provided for, the owner of each stallion or jack shall forward an affidavit on a form which shall be furnished by the stallion registration board and this affidavit shall be made by a veterinarian, legally qualified to practice as such in this state, to the effect that he has personally examined such stallion or jack. If said stallion or jack is free from communicable diseases mentioned in section four of this act, a statement to this effect shall be made on said affidavit by the examining veterinarian. If said examining veterinarian after examination finds such stallion or jack affected with any communicable disease or with any of the diseases or unsoundnesses mentioned in section four of this act, a statement shall be inscribed on such affidavit by said veterinarian specifying the disease or unsoundness so found. The owner of said stallion or jack shall also furnish to the stallion registration board the studbook certificate of registry of the pedigree of said stallion or jack when said stallion or jack is registered, and all other necessary papers relative to his breeding and ownership. Upon verification of pedigree and certificate of breeding (in case of purebred stallions or jacks), and receipt of veterinarian's affidavit as provided for in this act, a license certificate shall be issued to the owner; provided, however, that no license certificate shall be issued to the owner of any stallion or jack in case said animal is affected with any communicable disease; and provided, further, that when any stallion or jack is found affected with any of the diseases or unsoundnesses as mentioned in section four of this act, the license certificate so issued to the owner of said animal shall specify the disease or unsoundness with which said animal is affected.

SEC. 4. Any stallion or jack found to be affected with any of the following diseases or unsoundness is hereby deemed unsound and likely to transmit such disease or unsoundness to its progeny, and the license certificate issued to the owner of such a stallion or jack shall specify the disease or unsoundness as provided for in section three of this act:

Periodic ophthalmia (moon blindness); cataract, laryngeal hemiplegia (roaring or whistling); pulmonary emphysema (heaves, broken wind); chorea (St. Vitus dance, crampiness, shivering, strughalt); bone spavin, ringbone, sidebone, navicular disease, osteoporosis; curb, when accompanied with faulty confirmation of hock.

SEC. 5. The stallion registration board shall make and keep records of all stallions and jacks enrolled in the State of California; said stallions or jacks to be enrolled as "purebred," "crossbred," "non-standard bred," "grade," or "mongrel," according as the facts may have been determined. Upon making the enrollment of said stallion or jack said stallion registration board shall issue the above said license. The stallion registration board is authorized, in cases of emergency, to grant temporary license certificates without veterinary examination, upon receipt of an affidavit of the owner to the effect that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, said stallion or jack is free from infectious, contagious, or transmissible disease or unsoundness. Temporary license certificate shall be valid only until veterinary examination can reasonably be made.

SEC. 6. The owner of any stallion or jack used for public service in this state shall post and keep affixed, during the entire breeding season, a copy of the license certificate of such stallion or jack, issued under the provisions of this act, in a conspicuous place, both within and upon the outside of the main door leading to every stable or building where the said stallion or jack is used for public service, and at all times during the breeding season shall have attached to the harness or bridle of said stallion or jack a tag which shall be issued with the certificate. Each bill and poster and each newspaper advertisement shall show the enrollment certificate number, and state whether it reads "purebred," "grade," "crossbred," "nonstandard," or "mongrel," and it shall be illegal to print or advertise any misleading reference to the breeding of said stallion or jack, his dam or sire.

SEC. 7. The license certificate issued for a stallion or jack whose sire and dam are of pure breeding, and the pedigree of which is registered in a studbook recognized by said stallion registration board, shall be in the following form:

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION BOARD.

SACRAMENTO, October 1, 1918.

To Honorable WILLIAM D. STEPHENS, Governor of California.

SIR: We have the honor to submit herewith our seventh annual report, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 677, entitled "An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the state of California."

This report covers the period of August 1, 1917, to July 31, 1918, and contains a financial statement showing the receipts and disbursements of the board for the above period and a statistical summary showing the number and breeds of the stallions in each county in the state.

On account of the slight importation of horses during the period of the war, the total number of purebred stallions is below that of last year. The indications are, however, that more stallions will be registered this year on account of the Government buying horses, which will be a stimulus to the breeding industry.

Respectfully submitted.

GEO. C. ROEDING, President.

DR. J. P. IVERSON.

THE DRAFT HORSE.

By CHAS. W. PAINE, Secretary Stallion Registration Board.

The future of the draft horse in California at the present time presents a serious question. Our records show that in 1912, there were registered 2,034 stallions and jacks, and in 1918 to the present time, July 1, there are only 822 licensed.

It is true that the greatest decrease in number has been among the mongrels, showing that we are raising better colts, but if we look into the matter seriously I am quite sure that the farmers and breeders are making a great mistake in letting this industry go by default.

Just when the death knell of the horse was first sounded is rather hard to discover, but there is a story to the effect that when young Stephenson first rigged up a steam engine on wheels with the avowed intention of making a self-propelled vehicle, an old Scotch breeder of Clydesdales visited the youthful inventor and threatened him bodily harm if he did not cease working on a machine that was calculated to supersede the horse.

Then came the cable cars, and then the electric trolley, and finally the automobile, the truck and the tractor. With the advent of each the prophets rang down the curtain on the horse.

Let us examine the facts of the case. In 1880 the United States had a population of 50,155,783, and a horse population of 10,357,488, or a ratio of less than one to five. In 1890, we had a population of 62,947,714 and 15,266,244 horses—a trifle over four to one. In 1900 there were 75,994,575 people and 16,952,191 horses—not quite four and one-half to one. In 1910 the population was placed at 91,972,266, and the number of horses at 19,220,338, a ratio of not quite five to one. The most recent figures give our population at considerably over 100,000,000, and on January 1 there were 21,126,000 horses on American farms.

A further investigation discloses the fact that in 1880 there were 4,088,907 farms on which the 10,357,488 horses were slightly over two and one-half horses per farm. In 1900, less than three horses were owned on the 5,737,372 farms. In 1910 we find a few more than three horses per farm. No figures showing the number of farms in the United States, January 1, 1917, are at hand, but it is safe to say that the ratio has been cut down since the beginning of the war, but to what extent we can not say. It does not seem possible that this ratio can be decreased to a very great extent or there would be few, if any, left. The above figures do not take into consideration the mules owned on farms; however, there has always been less than one mule per farm.

I must say that the tractor is in successful operation on many large farms and ranches, and the popularity and efficiency of the tractor is bound to increase and will displace the horse where it is demonstrated to be more economical. But with the above figures in mind there does not seem to be any reason why draft horse breeders should become panic stricken.

Some will say that the figures I quote are all very true, but I am overlooking the fact that in the past the cities have been the outlet for surplus horses and it is a well known fact that the trucks are displacing many horses. During the past few years a great many firms sold their horses and purchased trucks, but a great many of the same firms will turn back to horses because of their demonstrated ability to handle a short haul more economically.

But there is a wider market to look to. Statistics for 1914 give the horse population of the world as 95,698,000. Russia, with 24,639,000, is the only country with more horses than the United States. Germany had 4,523,000, Austria-Hungary 4,374,000, France 3,231,000, the United Kingdom 2,233,000, Italy 956,000 and Canada 2,948,000.

No figures are available to indicate the extent of the depletion of the horse stock of Germany, France, England, Russia, and Italy, but it goes without saying that the loss has been terrific and that the end of the war will find the warring nations facing a marked shortage of horsepower. The United States, Russia and the Argentine are the three sources of supply. The native horse of Russia is a small pony-sort of horse, likewise the native Argentine horse is small. The United States is therefore the only country in the world that is in a position to furnish Europe with horses approaching the type that is certain to be in demand when the rehabilitation of Europe begins.

It is said that it takes 35,000 horses and mules each month to replace the foreign losses and with our country at war it will require 11,000 horses and mules per month to keep our army of 2,000,000 supplied. In other words, after our army is in the field, 46,000 horses and mules will be taken from the country per month.

From any viewpoint, the future of the draft horse seems assured, and farmers and breeders will have lost a golden opportunity in not breeding every available mare to a good sound draft stallion at this time.

Twenty-five per cent of our soldier boys will want to go to the farms at the close of the war. Will we have the best kind of a horse ready for them when that time comes?

The draft horse is the finest type of horse, and the draft mare has a double capacity. She is self-reproducing motor power and contrary to the tractors, she is self-repairing to a very appreciable degree. Fuel power for the horse can be raised on the farm, while that of the tractor must be purchased on the outside.

In our state the buyers for our Government and the Allies have purchased all available horses and at the present time the price for geldings in Europe is quoted at between $800 and $1,000 per head. There is no reason why such prices will not prevail here in the very near future and it behooves, as I have said, every breeder to raise every colt possible.

The California Stallion Registration Board has endeavored in every way, this year, to encourage the breeders and I am sorry to say from our records our efforts have not been successful.

SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION BOARD

Within the past twelve years twenty-three different states have passed laws requiring that all owners of stallions or jacks, before standing them for public service, shall obtain a license for each animal from the state board created for that purpose. The board examines all pedigree certificates and veterinarians' certificates of soundness submitted, and enrolls and issues license certificates and tags for all stallions and jacks entitled to such enrollment in accordance with the law. Such legislation has been enacted in the following states:

States	Act effective	States	Act effective
Wisconsin	January 1, 1906	Kansas	April 3, 1910
Iowa	March 30, 1907	Washington	June 8, 1910
Minnesota	April 25, 1907	Oregon	May 20, 1911
Utah	May 13, 1907	Nebraska	July 7, 1911
Pennsylvania	January 1, 1908	California	August 1, 1911

The details of these laws vary somewhat in different states, but all are more or less founded on the Wisconsin act, which was the pioneer state in this matter, but all require the submission of certificates of registration in studbooks certified by the United States Department of Agriculture, as evidence of the purity of breeding of stallions licensed as purebred, except that some provide in addition that stallions shall be accepted as purebred which are registered in studbooks of any American studbook or registry association which recognizes and records stallions having five pure top crosses.

That the state stallion law marks a distinct step in advance in our horse-breeding industry is hardly to be questioned. One of the first results of the operation of these laws was to provide data which show the actual facts with regard to the stallions being used for breeding purposes. Other important beneficial results are the rapid elimination of unfit animals and greater care with regard to breeding and registration. Under authority of paragraph 492 of the act of Congress, approved August 5, 1909, the following regulations were issued by the United States Department of Agriculture regarding the importation of animals for breeding purposes, in order to prevent fraud concerning the ancestry of purebred animals, which became effective on February 1, 1912.

The complete act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in California is given in full in Appendix D, as it will be found useful for reference by those concerned.

In Appendix B the various breeds are given in detail, and the numbers are of considerable interest. No pony-stallions have been registered.

The total number of registered stallions in the state is 587, principally classified as follows:

Mongrel, 115; Percheron, 247; Standard, 42; Belgian, 76.

The four leading counties are San Joaquin, with 46; Fresno, with 39; Tulare, with 32; and Alameda, with 26 stallions.

The decrease in the number of stallions licensed is more noticeable in the mongrels, which shows that the stallion law has had its effect for the betterment in breeding.

While the extensive use of the automobile and traction engine has no doubt been the primary factor in this large decrease, yet, on the other hand, the published graded registration of the California Stallion Registration Board has had a tendency to promote better breeding, thus carrying out the purport of the law.

DESCRIPTION OF DISEASES ENUMERATED IN THE STALLION LAW.

A brief description of the diseases referred to in the California law is given below. This is not offered as a complete treatise, but only such features are mentioned as is thought will be of interest and assistance to persons especially concerned.

Periodic Ophthalmia—Moon Blindness.

This is a disease affecting the eyes of horses, probably caused by a germ. It is quite commonly called moon blindness because it was thought at one time that the moon had some influence on the cause of the disease.

There is undoubtedly a hereditary predisposition to the disease, but there are few cases to indicate that the disease itself is transmitted from parent to offspring, but rather the colt is born with a weakness of the eyes, transmitted by the stallion or dam. Other predisposing factors are low, damp (swampy) pastures, poorly ventilated or insufficiently lighted stables, over-feeding, etc.

The disease comes on with an inflammation usually of one eye. The transparent portion of the eyeball becomes bluish or white in color, most noticeable in the lower part (precipitate in anterior chamber). The eye is kept half closed on account of pain produced by light. Often this is associated by a swelling of the eyelids and reddening of the membrane lining them with a discharge of tears over the face. There is no indication of an injury or more severe inflammation at one point than at another. In one or two weeks these symptoms disappear and the eye may be practically normal to all general appearances for a period of usually one to three months, when another attack occurs more severe than the first. After a few attacks have come and gone the eye has a bluish appearance, looks cloudy instead of clear, the eyeball is shrunken, retracted in the orbit and the lens (inside of eyeball) becomes white (develops a cataract). Not being satisfied with having destroyed one eye the disease frequently affects the other and the history of the first is repeated.

Cataract—Opacity of Lens.

Immediately back of the covering the pupil of the eye is the lens. It is ordinarily not noticed because of its being transparent. Where it becomes clouded (opaque), however, the opaque portion is readily seen. As a rule, cataracts soon involve the entire lens and the pupil then looks white, or grayish in color. There are many different classifications of cataract, as congenital, senile, primary, secondary, capsular, traumatic, etc., but as no distinctions are made in the law, the different kinds will not be discussed specifically.

Roaring (Laryngeal-Hemiplegia).

A paralysis, either partial or complete, of one or both recurrent laryngeal nerves. The most frequent causes of roaring are undoubtedly infectious diseases, such as strangles and influenza, and various forms of pneumonia. Heredity probably plays some part as a causative agent and for this reason the condition when present constitutes an unsoundness in stallions.

Paralysis of the recurrent laryngeal nerve leads to disuse of the muscles which tense the vocal cords. Looking into the larynx from in front, these cords can be seen to be stretched across the larynx from above to below, while between the cords and the sides of the larynx are two blind pouches or pockets, the lateral ventricles. Looking into the larynx from behind, the walls are smooth and unobstructed. During normal respiration the vocal cords are drawn to the sides of the larynx and the ventricles closed on inspiration, while on expiration they swing out into the larynx somewhat. In roaring, the cord or cords being paralyzed, hang more or less loosely in the larynx during inspiration and the air rushes into the ventricles.

The most striking symptom, therefore, is a laryngeal sound made on inspiration only. The sound varies from a whistling to a dull roaring, depending upon the degree of paralysis, and also varies greatly in intensity from one which is barely perceptible only when the horse is being exercised to one which is so severe that the least movement or excitement may produce very distressing symptoms.

The two symptoms which are the most characteristic of roaring, therefore, are that the sound is inspiratory only, and that it is greatly reduced or even entirely ceases within a short time after the animal is brought to rest. The best way of testing a horse for roaring is to put him under heavy draft in soft ground or gallop him in a circle with the head pulled in and turned slightly toward the right.

Navicular Disease.

A chronic inflammation involving the navicular bone, the navicular bursa, and the deep flexor tendon.

In this disease heredity, in so far as it influences quality of bone, quality of tendon and set of limbs, undoubtedly plays an important part. Aside from heredity, any factors such as dry and contracted hoofs, constant fast work on hard roads or pavements, and severe strains, as in running or jumping, must be regarded as causes, as they increase concussion or compression in the navicular region.

Navicular lameness is one of the most insidious with which we have to deal. The broad, flat foot, with large frog and open at the heels, is especially predisposed. The lameness usually comes on gradually and irregularly, resulting in a slow, cautious, short gait, with a constant attempt to keep the weight shifted toward the toe. Stumbling is quite characteristic. The animal usually stands with the affected foot in advance of the sound one, or constantly shifts its weight, if both are affected. There is a total absence of heat or swelling. Pain is increased when the animal is made to stand upon an incline or when pressure is put directly upon the frog. Because the weight is shifted toward the toes, the toes become worn short and the heels become high and contracted.

Great care must be taken not to confuse navicular lameness and shoulder lameness, or simple contraction of the heels, especially when accompanied by thrush.

Sidebone.

A transformation of the lateral cartilages into bone. The lateral cartilages are placed on the inner and outer sides of the foot, partly above and partly below the hoof head or coronet. Normally, they should be pliable and easily moved from side to side along their upper border by pressure with the thumb.

External injuries and lack of function, especially when accompanied by a low type of inflammation, are the most fruitful causes. Both these conditions are present in a hoof which, due to prolonged lack of frog pressure, has become dry and contracted, thus more freely transmitting shock which constantly comes to a foot in motion, and at the same time limiting movement and keeping up constant inflammation because of contraction of the hoof. An undue amount of body weight in proportion to the size and quality of hoof are also important factors. This is shown by the fact that some horses work upon city streets constantly shod with high calks and never develop sidebones. Therefore, selection is very important.

Sidebones are more frequent in front feet and in the other cartilage of draft horses. The ossification begins on the lower anterior border and proceeds upward and backward until completed. The first change, then, is when the hoof, and though we may be suspicious of its presence, a diagnosis can not be made until an ossified portion can be felt. The chief difficulty arises in examining heavy stallions which have very thick, harsh skin. A diagnosis should never be made until the foot has been picked up and the thumbs inserted deeply behind the cartilage, to detect pliability or the absence of it. As soon as ossification can be definitely determined, sidebones can be said to exist. The presence of sidebone seldom causes lameness in farm animals, but when animals so affected are put to work upon city streets where, because of continued shoeing, the feet become very dry, lameness often results. For this reason, buyers for the city markets object seriously to a horse having sidebones.

Ringbone.

"Ringbone" is an indefinite, collective term for various chronic aseptic inflammatory processes at the coronary joint. It should be divided into two forms, articular, involving the joint, and periarticular, involving the surface of the bone at the attachment of the ligaments around the joints. Ringbones of the first class are the result either of excessive concussion upon the bones of normal quality or ordinary concussion upon bones of poor quality. Ringbones of the second class are due either to excessive straining of the ligaments, due to an unbalanced condition within the foot and limb, or to faulty quality of the bones into which the ligaments are inserted.

It will be seen that the foregoing causes do not include bony growths in this region which result from deep wire cuts or other accidents. True ringbones, then, are the result of lack of quality or faulty formation, and consequently are very objectionable in breeding animals. It is well for owners to understand, however, that excessive strains may result from lack of trimming or faulty shoeing, and ringbones develop as a result.

Ringbone may involve either the first phalanx, the joints between the first and second phalanges, or the second phalanx, and the joint below it; they may be present in either front or hind limbs, though perhaps are found more commonly behind than in front. The most marked symptom is the presence of a bony enlargement on one or both sides or extending entirely around the joint. Care should be taken not to mistake the naturally prominent joints of young animals for ringbone. There is usually no local pain or heat, though lameness is persistent and severe, especially when the joint is twisted, as in turning short.

Ringbone around the lower joint causes a bulging at the top of the hoof and an irregularity in the production of horn, which leaves the hoof surface at the toe checked and cracked. If lameness is severe, the animal stands with the affected foot relieved of weight, or alternately raises and lowers it. The gait is slow and clumsy and marked by lack of movement in the pastern joint.

Bone Spavin.

Bone spavin is primarily a chronic inflammation of the inner lower tarsal bones and upper head of the metatarsal bones. Disease of the accompanying joints and enlargement upon the surface of the bones are secondary processes. In fact, in some spavins (occult spavin) no enlargement can be detected. Bone spavin, therefore, should not be defined as an enlargement upon the inside of the hock joint, as the enlargement is merely a symptom which may be entirely absent.

The usual cause of spavin is undue compression of the bones of the hock, though overstraining is also undoubtedly a cause. Any conformation, such as being too upright or too crooked either when viewed from the side or behind, as well as lack of quality to stand ordinary uses, are predisposing causes. True spavin, then, like true ringbone, is largely a breeder's problem. Although neither is directly hereditary, it is the predisposition in the form of defective conformation or quality which is hereditary.

The recognition of spavin depends upon the determination of a bony enlargement in the hock, if it be present, and an analysis of the lameness. Either may exist without the other.

The enlargement usually is found on the internal lateral surface of the hock. It may be detected by viewing the region from directly in front, looking between the front legs or from a little angle looking, first at one hock, then crossing over and viewing the other, from a similar angle. The hocks can best be compared by palpation by crouching behind the animal, crossing the arms and passing the forefinger of each hand over corresponding surfaces of the two joints at the same time. Any difference in size or contour can then be detected.

Spavin lameness is quite characteristic. It is usually more severe during the first few steps and gradually disappears with exercise, unless the lameness is severe, when it is either constant or increases with exercise. In any case there is always lack of flexion of the hock and a tendency to drag the toe, which is best seen as the animal is led past the observer. This same lack of flexion necessitates an exaggerated action of the hip, which is best seen from behind as the animal is led away. Again, the animal usually shows pain when turned short upon the affected limb, and lameness is increased by holding the hock flexed for about one minute, and then starting the animal off at the trot.

Bog Spavin.

Bog spavin denotes a serious inflammation of the hock (tibiotalar) joint. It may be acute at first, originating from a spavin, and finally becoming chronic, or it may be chronic in nature from the first, originating apparently from a congenital (inherited) weakness.

In the first instance there is swelling in the region of the joint, which is firm, painful, hot and causing severe lameness. In the second, more frequent form, there is present a soft, painless, easily compressed swelling, due to distention of the joint capsule, with joint fluid (synovia) which appears most prominently on the inner anterior surface of the joint and can be pushed through to appear on the inner and outer sides behind the joint. The bog spavin which is aimed at chiefly in the stallion law, is the one which is chronic from the first, appearing in the young animal apparently without external cause. The condition can hardly be mistaken from any other, but there is a tendency to excuse slight cases on the ground of being "a little full in the hocks." Whenever there is a distention which can be displaced from one part of the joint to appear in another, the diagnosis of bog spavin should be made, especially in young horses which have not seen service, but old horses which have seen service or have been transported, should not be faulted unless the swelling is hard, hot and accompanied by lameness.

Curb.

Curb denotes an inflammation of the plantar or calcaneo metatarsal ligament, which braces the posterior face of the hock. It is due to an overstraining of this ligament either because of faulty conformation, such as sickle hocks, or to overstraining or slipping while in draft. A swelling appears four or five inches below the point of the hock, over the ligament and confined to it. It is best seen when viewed from the side. There is at first pain on pressure, a slight amount of heat and sometimes lameness.

Chorea.

Chorea is a general term made to include string halt, crampiness and shivering. String halt refers to a spasmodic flexion of the joints of the hind leg, especially noticeable at the hock joint. Its cause is not known, but it is thought to be of nervous origin. In mild cases the excessive flexion may be noticed only during the first few steps or upon turning, while in aggravated cases it is marked at each step. String halt should not be confused with interruptions in the act of progression, which are symptoms of some other conditions, such as muscular cramp, bone spavin and inflammation of the stifle joint.

Shivering is purely of nervous origin and is manifested by irregular and involuntary movements, generally most noticed in the hind quarters. The intensity of the symptoms vary greatly, but an average case may show nothing unusual, so long as it does not become excited, but if stopped suddenly, made to back, is led into strange quarters or up to a strange watering place, marked incoordination may take place. The hind feet remain fixed to the ground, the back arched, and the muscles of the quarters tensed, but trembling and shivering. An attempt to raise one hind foot meets with great resistance. The worst cases may be affected with spavin accompanied by rapid pulse, high temperature and distressed breathing.

The course is always prolonged, the condition becomes worse with age and is incurable. Because of these facts and because hereditary predisposition is a strong factor in the production of the disease, it becomes distinctly a breeder's problem.

APPENDIX D.

At the last session of the legislature the bill entitled, "An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the State of California," was amended in sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8 and 9, and added a new section, which is numbered 11½. These amended sections change the law in a number of places and should be carefully read.

In section 1 of the old law the last sentence is struck out. It is not necessary now to have the license recorded with the county recorder. This will save you the cost of recorder's fee.

In section 2 the words, "and tags," have been added after the words, "stallion or jack license certificates." This means that when a certificate is issued there will also be a metal tag issued bearing the certificate number and designating whether it is purebred, grade, crossbred, non-standard or mongrel.

In section 3 provision is made for the veterinarian to specify on the affidavit if the stallion or jack is affected with any communicable disease or with any of the diseases or unsoundnesses mentioned in section 4 of this act.

In section 4 certain diseases or affections have been added in the amendment and a part of those given in the old law have been dropped.

Section 5 has not been changed.

Section 6 makes provision for the metal tag above mentioned to be placed upon the harness or bridle at all times during the breeding season.

In section 7 of the old law the studbooks used were the ones recognized by the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. This is changed to read "Studbook recognized by said stallion registration board." This wording also appears in the certificates.

In section 8 the fees for new registrations, transfers and copies have been changed. New certificates are now $2.75, renewals $1.25, transfers $1.25 and copies $1.25 each. The additional 25 cents added to the old cost covers the cost of the metal tag which is made out with each certificate. The idea is to try and carry out the purport of the law and while there is an additional charge of 25 cents, the amended section 1 saves at least $1.00 by eliminating the recorder's fees, so there is really no extra tax.

In section 9 provision is made giving this board the power of investigating any complaint and the re-examination of a stallion if deemed necessary.

THE CALIFORNIA STALLION REGISTRATION LAW.

CHAPTERS 677 (1911) AND 752 (1915).

An act to regulate the public service of stallions and jacks in the State of California, approved May 1, 1911.

[Amended in 1915. Approved June 12, 1915.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Every association, person, firm or corporation standing or offering any stallion or jack for public service in this state shall cause the name, description, and pedigree of such stallion or jack to be enrolled by a stallion registration board hereinafter provided for, and secure a license from said board, as provided in section three of this act. All enrollment and verification of pedigree shall be done in the office of the secretary of the California state board of agriculture.

SEC. 2. In order to carry out the provisions of this act, there shall be constituted a stallion registration board, whose duty it shall be to verify and register pedigrees; to pass upon certificates of veterinary examination; to provide, when necessary, for veterinary inspection; to issue stallion or jack license certificates and tags; to make all necessary rules and regulations; and to perform such other duties as may be necessary to carry out and enforce the provisions of this act. Said board shall hold meetings at the office of the secretary of the California state board of agriculture the first Tuesday and subsequent days of February, May, August and November of each year, and such other meetings as may be necessary. Said stallion registration board shall be composed of three members, consisting of the president and secretary of the California state board of agriculture and the state veterinarian.

SEC. 3. In order to obtain the license certificate and tag herein provided for, the owner of each stallion or jack shall forward an affidavit on a form which shall be furnished by the stallion registration board and this affidavit shall be made by a veterinarian, legally qualified to practice as such in this state, to the effect that he has personally examined such stallion or jack. If said stallion or jack is free from communicable diseases mentioned in section four of this act, a statement to this effect shall be made on said affidavit by the examining veterinarian. If said examining veterinarian after examination finds such stallion or jack affected with any communicable disease or with any of the diseases or unsoundnesses mentioned in section four of this act, a statement shall be inscribed on such affidavit by said veterinarian specifying the disease or unsoundness so found. The owner of said stallion or jack shall also furnish to the stallion registration board the studbook certificate of registry of the pedigree of said stallion or jack when said stallion or jack is registered, and all other necessary papers relative to his breeding and ownership. Upon verification of pedigree and certificate of breeding (in case of purebred stallions or jacks), and receipt of veterinarian's affidavit as provided for in this act, a license certificate shall be issued to the owner; provided, however, that no license certificate shall be issued to the owner of any stallion or jack in case said animal is affected with any communicable disease; and provided, further, that when any stallion or jack is found affected with any of the diseases or unsoundnesses as mentioned in section four of this act, the license certificate so issued to the owner of said animal shall specify the disease or unsoundness with which said animal is affected.

SEC. 4. Any stallion or jack found to be affected with any of the following diseases or unsoundness is hereby deemed unsound and likely to transmit such disease or unsoundness to its progeny, and the license certificate issued to the owner of such a stallion or jack shall specify the disease or unsoundness as provided for in section three of this act:

Periodic ophthalmia (moon blindness); cataract, laryngeal hemiplegia (roaring or whistling); pulmonary emphysema (heaves, broken wind); chorea (St. Vitus dance, crampiness, shivering, stringhalt); bone spavin, ringbone, sidebone, navicular disease, osteoporosis; curb, when accompanied with faulty confirmation of hock.

SEC. 5. The stallion registration board shall make and keep records of all stallions and jacks enrolled in the state of California; said stallions or jacks to be enrolled as "purebred," "crossbred," "non-standard bred," "grade," or "mongrel," according as the facts may have been determined. Upon making the enrollment of said stallion or jack said stallion registration board shall issue the above said license. The stallion registration board is authorized, in cases of emergency, to grant temporary license certificates without veterinary examination, upon receipt of an affidavit of the owner to the effect that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, said stallion or jack is free from infectious, contagious, or transmissible disease or unsoundness. Temporary license certificate shall be valid only until veterinary examination can reasonably be made.

SEC. 6. The owner of any stallion or jack used for public service in this state shall post and keep affixed, during the entire breeding season, a copy of the license certificate of such stallion or jack, issued under the provisions of this act, in a conspicuous place, both within and upon the outside of the main door leading to every stable or building where the said stallion or jack is used for public service, and at all times during the breeding season shall have attached to the harness or bridle of said stallion or jack a tag which shall be issued with the certificate. Each bill and poster and each newspaper advertisement shall show the enrollment certificate number, and state whether it reads "purebred," "grade," "crossbred," "nonstandard," or "mongrel," and it shall be illegal to print or advertise any misleading reference to the breeding of said stallion or jack, his dam or sire.
