A PROSPEROUS YEAR

STATE DEVELOPMENT BOARD
REVIEWS PAST YEAR IN INTERESTING BULLETIN

Sixteen thousand, one hundred and forty-six and one-fourth cars of deciduous fruits were shipped out of the state in 1914, as compared with 13,331% in 1913, exclusive of apples. The gross valuation of this tonnage is approximately $17,000,000. The 1914 crop of lima beans is estimated as 1,500,000 bags eighty pounds per bag, value to the state $6,250,000. This is the largest crop ever raised in the state, the weather throughout the growing season being ideal.

The shipments of citrus fruits during the season 1913-14 returned to California approximately $29,300,000. This amount is the largest ever returned except in the season 1910-11. During the year ended October 31, 1914, the shipments of oranges totaled 45,306 cars, or 5798 in excess of any other year.

The shipments of oranges during the season 1914-15 promise to be nearly as heavy as during 1913-14. To December 23 there have been shipped 5175 cars of oranges from California, which is 400 cars more than have been shipped in any of the three preceding years to the same date.

The 1914 walnut crop did not exceed 8500 tons, which is about 65 per cent of an average. This brought about two and a half million dollars to the growers. The present acreage in bearing walnut trees is about 40,000 acres.

The production of olives in the state for 1914 is placed at 27,500 tons, of a gross value of $2,750,000. There are 11,000 acres in bearing olive trees and 10,000 acres non-bearing. The prospects are that 10,000 acres will be planted in 1915, and that one-fifth of the non-bearing acreage will come into bearing next year. It is expected that there will be a yield of 30,000 tons in 1915.

The beet sugar production of the state is placed at 3,390,533 bags as against 3,381,356 bags in 1913; average valuation, $4.75 per sack. In 1913, $14,100,922 was distributed in the state, viz., to growers, for labor, for railroad freight, for bags, etc.

The California State Bee Keepers' association places the 1914 honey crop of the state at 450 carloads extracted honey as against 500 carloads in a strictly normal year. The total valuation is placed at $810,000. The total yield of beeswax is above 500,000 pounds, giving a total valuation of $1,222,000 for the honeybee products of the state for 1914.

The butter production of California for the year 1914 ended September 30th was 59,286,460 pounds, as against 55,542,709 pounds on the corresponding date in 1913, according to report of the state dairy bureau. The total value of the dairy products is placed at $33,941,493.

The total pack of California canned fruits for 1914 is estimated at about 5,500,000 cases of the market value of about $15,000,000. The total canned vegetable pack is estimated at about 3,000,000 cases; approximate value of the pack is about $6,000,000. Peaches lead in the canned fruits and tomatoes rank first among the vegetables packed.

The 1914 prune crop is estimated by prominent authorities at 51,000 tons, the output from the Santa Clara valley being put at 28,500 tons.

The movement of a rice crop that is estimated to be worth more than $250,000 has started on the Sacramento river, and barge loads of the cereal are shipped from up-river points every day. Already $225,000 worth of rice has been shipped, most of it coming from Butte, Glenn and Colusa counties.

Approximately 12,000 carloads of vegetables were shipped out of the state during 1914, the largest amounts being of potatoes, onions and celery.

During the harvest season just closed there were 440,000 bags of beans grown in the delta tributary to Stockton. At $3 a bag, the financial returns for the output reached $1,320,000. The acreage in the delta is said to be 22,000.

One of the largest crops of celery in the San Joaquin delta this year is on the Veale tract, where 170 acres are planted, the crop being worth more than $75,000. The celery is being shipped out of Antioch at the rate of two cars daily.

According to the California Fish and Game commission the game resources of the state bring in an annual income of at least $15,000,000 each year.

The year 1914 has been a notable one in the salmon industry. Local authorities place the pack at close to 6,500,000 cases, with a gross value estimated at between $27,000,000 and $30,000,000. The average pack (Continued on Page 3)

CHURCHES AND MOVIES

PASTOR TROY GIVES CHURCH'S
SIDE OF SUNDAY THEATER
MOVEMENT HERE

Pastor Troy of the Baptist church expressed his views Sunday evening on the question of the opening of the moving picture theaters on Sunday. He said in part:

"The stand of the ministers and churches of Glendale in reference to the opening of theaters on Sunday is not unreasonable. It is to be expected that the point of view of the manager of a moving picture theater, operated for money, and that of ministers of the gospel whose whole endeavor is to save souls for the highest life here and life eternal hereafter, should widely differ. The parson is narrow-minded and glories in the fact; the proprietor of a theater is broad-minded and is willing to adopt measures to please his patrons and increase business."

"The friends of the open Sunday feel justified in their indignation against the unprogressive citizens who are not willing, so they think, to give a man who has invested largely in the community a square deal. A square deal means to deal squarely. It is a matter of record that the ministers of Glendale, months before the erection of the latest theater in Glendale, obtained from the then existing theaters a promise to close on Sundays. All this must have been known by the prospective investor. It must have been known before plans were drawn that Glendale prides herself on her quiet Sunday and church environment. If an open Sunday is vital to the success of a moving picture theater in beautiful Glendale, then the risk of displeasing the parsons and their churches was calculated ahead of time."

"A few facts will help settle the square deal argument. The element that protested the open Sunday did not invite the movies to Glendale. The element that protested the open Sunday has not expressed itself unfavorable to the operation of the movies six days of the week. The element that protested the open Sunday believes the reputation of Glendale as a church community is one of her greatest assets. The element that protested the open Sunday acted in the interest of the laboring class in opposing a business that needlessly operates seven days of the week. The element that opposed the open Sunday had no reason to look upon the movies as a philanthropic movement, but essentially a business proposition. The element that protested the open Sunday has not objected to the movies having six big days, but feels that the churches are entitled to one big day out of the seven. The element that protested the open Sunday knows that few businesses put less money into a community in proportion to the amount taken out than does the theater. The element that protested the open Sunday knows that the church is operated to save souls and that the legitimate purpose of the theater is to make dollars. The element that protested the open Sunday does not expect the pleasure-seeking public and progressive operators of the movies to agree with them. The element that protested the open Sunday warns the real estate operators and laboring class that the open Sunday for Glendale concerns their interests and marks a transition for our restful community to which the worldly wise will need to adjust themselves and from which a large body of sincere people will recoil. Finally, the element that protested the open Sunday conceals that if the majority of the residents of this community want the open Sunday the wedge of the open movies will prepare the way and as for the protestants, nothing will remain save a clear conscience and the record above."

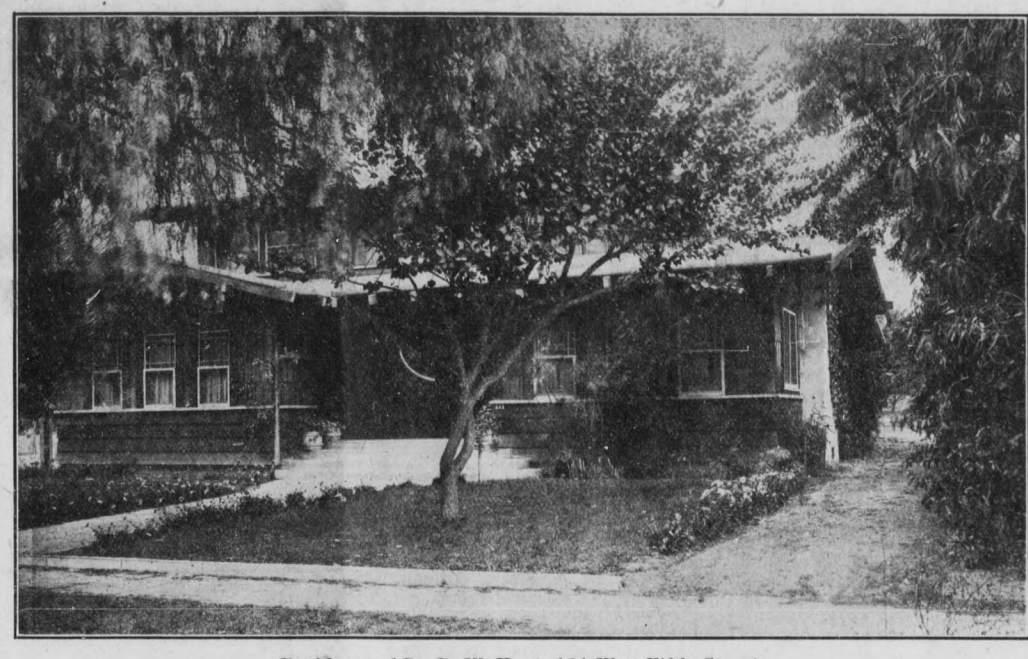

J. H. TROY, Pastor.

FIRST ENGLISH EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Increased attendance greeted Rev. Miller on Sunday, Jan. 10, at 11 a. m. His fine sermon of the Sunday previous was so well spoken of by those who heard it that fresh interest was aroused during the week, and the attendance increased. Rev. Miller is an able speaker and soon has large audiences when in new fields.

TO GLENDALE FOR A WHILE

The W. F. Sprinkles have gone to Glendale for a sojourn of two or three months, thinking the change may be beneficial to the health of their little son, who has not been in good physical condition since he had whoopingcough. Sprinkle, senior, of the Redondo Milling company, is now a commuter on the electric line, making daily trips to and from the beach.—Redondo Reflex.

GLENDALE WINS AGAIN

COMPTON FALLS EASY VICTIM
TO LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL
BASKETBALL TEAM

Glendale high school won another basketball game. It seems to be a regular habit with the local quintet now and their last victim was the Compton high five, who tarried in our burg for a few hours Saturday last.

The longer Compton played, the higher Glendale's score went, and when the last whistle stopped the game, the total on the score board read Glendale 39, Compton 12. The majority of Compton's points were made from fouls, the ability of their forwards being woefully lacking when it came to making field baskets. In fact, Compton's defeat seemed due to the fact that they depended on one player to do the basket shooting, with the result that many good chances to score, which other players could have taken advantage of, were passed up.

The Glendale boys were in fine playing condition and Coach Wight has succeeded in getting his team into a smooth working machine. Hasty Bidwell was easily the star of the game and some of his down-field baskets were remarkable. Monty Coole and Ben Nichols at forward positions played a very consistent game, and "Sonny" Latter with the assistance of Bob Koltz at guard, made the opposition's team work ineffective.

Cramer replaced Latter during the second half and played a good game. Very little can be said of Compton other than that they played a clean game, kept out of the way most of the time, and succeeded dismally in shooting baskets.

The line-up was as follows:

Compton	Glendale
Cocke	F	Coole
Gillingham	F	Nichols
Flint	C	Bidwell
Manley	G	Latter
Gupman	G	Koltz

Referee Horning of the Y. M. C. A. of Los Angeles officiated.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

A large audience greeted Mr. Francis at Sunday morning's service and was an inspiration to a splendid sermon on "The Value of a Life of Service." A thought which the writer believes to be worth impressing is that we too frequently confound service in its real sense with selfish service; that is, we render service with the thought in mind of receiving in return as much as or more than we give. This is selfishness and not Christian service, and is condemned by Jesus. "For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? Do not even the publicans the same?"

"God's Everlasting Love" was presented to a good evening audience. All earthly love may be killed or become very feeble, but the loving Heavenly Father will forgive as often as the prodigal returns.

Mr. Jordan, the new choir director, favored the audience with a solo at both services Sunday, which were very much enjoyed. He is a beautiful singer and a fine spiritual leader of song, so it is hoped that he will prove to be just the man the choir needs.

At the business meeting of the men's class, held at 3 p. m. Sunday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Teacher, E. E. Francis.
President, O. L. Kilborn.
Vice-president, Fred L. Thompson.
Secretary, J. F. McClish.
Assistant secretary, John H. Orth.
Treasurer, Mr. Wylie.

The men are all enthusiastic as to the prospects for this year. The average attendance for the past year has been 40%. Can any class in this section show a better record?

Announcements for the week include an all-day session of the Women's Missionary society for Thursday, beginning at 10 a. m., and a new hour for the Junior C. E., viz., Friday at 3:30 p. m. Let parents as well as Juniors please note this.

Three additions to the church Sunday, one by confession, shows the growing work of this church. There are many others in this neighborhood who should be affiliated with this congregation.

The ladies of Glendale are cordially invited to attend the Dutch tea to be given January 14 at the home of Mrs. McElroy. The Van Loons are to be there in the receiving line to give every one a gracious bow and a Dutch hand-shake. The family consists of Grandma Van Loon, Mr. and Mrs. Van Loon, Grace, Hazel and Bobby. They are a charming family notwithstanding the publicity one of the Los Angeles papers have given them. All declare they have kept their New Year's resolution and find it more interesting to have faults to correct than to be faultless.

LOCAL CLUB WINS

LONG BEACH QUIT CLUB MEETS
DEFEAT ON LOCAL GROUNDS
LAST SATURDAY

The Long Beach Quoit club met with defeat again last Saturday at the hands of the local club. The visitors arrived on the grounds bright and early and from the way they cut up antics in the prelims, one would think they had the game won and had it tucked away in Captain McClary's vest pocket, but far be it from such an ending. When the Glendale warriors, a dozen strong, with twice as many coaches marched out on the grounds to the tune of "Tipperary" and took their respective positions among the enemy, one could even see the hopes of the "Beachers" gradually waning until at the close of the game they silently bagged their shoes and one by one quietly stole away.

The locals stowed away 36 games while the visitors secured 24. Long Beach had 308 ringers and 979 points to their credit, while the locals had 315 ringers and 1071 points. The highest score was made by Buchanan and Head of Glendale and Bradford and McClary of Long Beach, making 37 ringers in one series. J. Doyle Porter and his son Glen succeeded in taking the ten games straight, blanketing their opponents every game. The high ringer score was made by Bradford of Long Beach, who had 45, and Glen Porter and F. R. Buchanan of Glendale, who had 42 each.

PIONEER SALESMAN RETIRES

Samuel W. Webb, believed to be the oldest grocery salesman on the Pacific coast in point of years of service, has retired from active work and will spend his declining years at his attractive home in Casa Verdugo. For sixteen years Mr. Webb has covered Los Angeles city territory for R. L. Craig & Co., and has many scores of close friends among Los Angeles retailers. In all his fifty-one years of actual selling experience, he has had but two jobs. He started as a boy with Warfield, Pratt, Howell company, Des Moines, Iowa, and he worked for them continuously for 35 years, when he decided to come to California and work for a wholesale grocer here. He applied to the late R. L. Craig for a position, but there was no work for him. However, he had made up his mind that he was going to work for Mr. Craig and he made it a point to call on him nearly every morning.

At last he prevailed, but was told to take a cost book and get out and create his own territory, as all the regular territories were filled. He developed trade which the company never had had before and he was able to hold his trade and increase it from year to year. He has earned a competency and plans to watch rather than join in the procession from now on.—Commercial Bulletin.

WALNUT SALES GREATEST EVER

Mr. H. Zander of the Walnut Growers' association reports that the sale of walnuts this season has been greater than ever before. This is caused in a measure by the fact that the great shipments of European nuts expected in the East did not materialize on account of the war, and it has been necessary to use the California product in the East. As the walnuts grown in California are far superior to any grown in Europe, it is believed that once the eastern consumers have tried them they will demand them again, and that sales next year will be enormous.

A PERFECT DAY

AND CORPS HOLD JOINT INSTALLATION

Friday was a day long to be remembered by the members of N. P. Banks Post and Corps and the friends who early that morning assembled at G. A. R. hall to witness the joint installation of the officers-elect of these two patriotic organizations.

Rev. C. R. Norton, past Post commander, acted as installing officer, assisted by Miss Cora Hickman, who assisted as officer of the day. Mrs. Adelaide H. Imler, musician, and Mrs. Stella Spear, Mrs. Hattie Tiffany, Mrs. Tina Hammond and Mrs. Abbie Haskell as color bearers, who installed the following corps of officers in the ritualistic ceremonies of the Post; George W. Sanford, Post commander; Thomas C. Gillett, senior vice-commander; J. R. Thompson, junior vice-commander; Major J. J. Weiler, quartermaster; Dr. A. H. Guernsey, surgeon; Rev. C. R. Norton, chaplain; Robert N. Taylor, officer of the day; J. B. Hickman, officer of the guard; Rev. D. D. Cheney, patriotic instructor; J. R. Fletcher, adjutant; R. D. Goss, sergeant-major; W. M. Goodridge, quartermaster's sergeant; G. A. Thayer, color bearer.

Following these ceremonies and the presentation of the beautiful gavel to Commander Sanford by Comrade Taylor, who received it from Comrade J. F. Earley of La Gloria, Cuba, the newly installed officers, with the members of the Post and Corps, marched into the banquet room to the strains of martial music and then enjoyed a dinner—a dinner for which the ladies of the Corps are noted. Covers were laid for over one hundred and fifty.

When the wants of inner man had been satisfied and all had returned to the assembly hall, Mr. H. S. Duffield entertained the audience in one of his clever readings. Mr. Duffield, who is a clever artist on the Burbank stage, served during the Civil war as a drummer boy in the Confederate army. That those old scores were all settled and the hatchet of war successfully buried by the members of N. P. Banks Post and their guest, Comrade Duffield, at the close of the war, was evidenced by the cordial welcome and warm hand-clasp that was given Mr. Duffield.

A singular incident occurred following the relating of a war narrative by Comrade Duffield, when a war grizzled veteran stepped up to Mr. Duffield and told him that he remembered the incident well. Thus these two men, one who wore the blue and one who wore the grey, met for the first time in over fifty years, but how different was their meeting of Friday as compared with that of the days in the early sixties! Many war songs were sung by the veterans and then all being in readiness, Mrs. Mary Hartwell, past department president, also past national chaplain, was introduced and installed the officers-elect of N. P. Banks Woman's Relief Corps. Mrs. Hartwell was assisted by Miss Cora Hickman as conductor, Mrs. Stella Spear, Mrs. Mae Burlington, Mrs. Abbie Haskell and Mrs. Elizabeth Spafford, who assisted as color bearers. The impressive ceremonies began with devotional exercises conducted by Mrs. Mary Borchick, chaplain. The officers thus so impressively installed were Mrs. Adelaide H. Imler, president; Mrs. Alma Dutton, senior vice-president; Mrs. Margaret Jenkins, junior vice-president; Mrs. Hattie Tiffany, secretary; Mrs. Susie Peck, treasurer; Mrs.

MARSHAL SMITH SHOT

HOLD-UP MAN FATALLY INJURES
TROPICO MARSHAL AND IS KILLED HIMSELF

Tropico is shocked! The citizens are in mourning! Remorse and regret are the mantles that are enveloping the city trustees of Tropico, while over on Boynton avenue a loving and faithful wife lies prostrated, with a broken heart. Charles Whitney Smith, city marshal of Tropico, lies in the mortuary of Seavern, Letton and Frey on Cypress street awaiting the last sad rites of burial.

Late Saturday afternoon Mr. Smith was officially requested to tender his resignation as city marshal of Tropico and as Mr. Smith, who had informed his wife of this request, left his home about 7 o'clock Saturday evening after she had advised him to surrender his badge and remain home with her, he replied: "No, I can't do it. I am giving Tropico the best there is in me and before I quit my position I am going to show the people that I am more than worthy of my hire. I may have a chance to show it tonight." How true were his words! He was truly a physical as well as a moral hero! Brave Charlie Smith, who was always a gentleman!

Mr. Smith left his home and went to the city jail and fire department on Brand boulevard and Tropico avenue. He had been there but a few minutes when young Stephen Haviland reported that he had been held up and robbed of a gold watch and several dollars and a stickpin. Haviland was on his way to the Tropico pharmacy on San Fernando road when he held up on Central and Laurel streets near the Presbyterian church. Following the announcement of the hold-up, Marshal Smith started out immediately to apprehend the "hold-ups." Mr. Smith finally located the hold-up men and placing them under arrest started for the city jail.

The smaller man of the bandits offered no resistance, but the taller one broke and ran. Smith proceeded to the jail with the other one, whom he locked in the jail, then he went forth to apprehend the other man. Thinking the bandit might board an inbound city Pacific Electric car, Smith followed the P. E. tracks to the Atwater station, where he met Chief Herald of Glendale with Officers Tarr and Herrington, who had also been notified of the hold-up by young Haviland. Smith told the Glendale officers that he had arrested one of the bandits and that the other one had disappeared in the vicinity of the hills to the west. The Glendale officers took up the search, scouring Tropico and surrounding country thoroughly. Smith followed the Pacific Electric tracks across the bridge and boarded a car at Ivanhoe. At the next stop a fellow answering the description of the man he was in search of entered the car. Mr. Smith engaged him in conversation, soon became convinced that he was the bandit, and told the fellow that he was under arrest. The man pushed Smith to the floor and ran toward the door of the car. When the marshal followed, the bandit drew a revolver and fired four shots at Mr. Smith and then jumped from the car. Smith was rushed to the receiving hospital, where he died a few hours later. He was able to recognize his wife, who was rushed to his bedside and before he passed away he said, "Maybe I made good tonight."

Meantime the Glendale officers had heard of Marshal Smith being shot and at once Marshals Herald and Herrington returned to the Tropico city hall, where they put the fellow (Continued on Page 2)

That Smith had arrested through a sweating process. He confessed to his part in the affair and talked volubly after he found out that the officer had him. He gave full information in respect to his partner's whereabouts and even drew a diagram of the rooming house at First and Lee Angeles streets where the two had a room. Later when detectives from the central police station of Los Angeles arrived, this information was turned over to them by Chief Herald and they went to the rooming house and apprehended the man, who was a Highlander by the name of Gilbert Herringa. When he resisted, the officers shot and as he fell he called out "I shot him; don't shoot any more." The murderer was a young man 23 years old. He had been a black sheep since boyhood. A brother who resided on Penn street in Glendale is a poor, exemplary and highly respected young man. Herringa's companion, W. Zylstra, is being held.

Marshall Smith was forty-two years of age and is survived by his wife, who gave his life in the performance of his duty and for the city of Tropic. He was a man capable of holding a much more lucrative position than that of marshal of Tropic and had given up a responsible position with the Salt Lake in order to obtain out-of-door employment. The best that may be said of any man may be said of Marshall Smith, and those were the words he wanted to hear said: "He made good."

MONROVIA CLEANS UP

The city of Monrovia has been getting ready for the rainstorms. The city officials have ordered the street department to do repair work in gutters, sidewalks and streets. Passage ways for storm water have been cleaned out and widened.

VACATION IS OVER

O dear me, you school has started again. Can you not tell that by the happy look of expectancy on the faces of the boys and girls this morning, as polished and scrubbed, they once more set out for the dear old school-house, where they have such good times and are learning so fast how to grow up into good and wise men and women? Vacation is all very well in its way and we are always glad to welcome the holidays, with Santa Claus and New Years and all the jolly times they bring, but we are just as glad when the play time is over and we are back to work once more.

Announcements

BAPTIST LADIES ATTENTION

The ladies of the Baptist church will meet with Mrs. G. H. Rowe, 516 Orange street, on Thursday, January 14, at 2:30. It is desired that as many as possible of the ladies be present.

The installation of officers of N. P. Banks Camp, Sons of Veterans, for the year 1915 will take place Tuesday in the G. A. R. hall at Tropic. There will also be several candidates initiated. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock. The initiation ceremony will be open only to G. A. R., W. R. C. and allied orders, and will be followed by the installation, which will be public.

BRITISH SOCIETY TO MEET

The Sons and Daughters of the British Empire society will meet on Tuesday evening, Jan. 12, 7:30, at the Glendale high school. All members and those interested in the work of the society are urged to be present. Important reports of treasurer and committees. Plans for the extension of the society will be presented.

O. A. LANE, President.

There will be a most interesting meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club tomorrow at Masonic hall and all members of the club should be present. The program will be in charge of Mrs. A. W. Tower and the theme will be "Things of Local Interest or Public Affairs." There will be music by Miss Hilda Brown, violinist, and Miss Cecelia Gillespie, accompanist, both of these ladies being from Los Angeles. Mrs. Charles H. Toll will speak on "The New Charities Organization" and Dr. C. Irving Mills on "What Has Become of the Park Question?"

CHANGE OF PROGRAM

Owing to the fact that Miss Edna Rich, president of the Santa Barbara state normal school, has been unexpectedly called to Sacramento to a conference of the state board of education and the presidents of the state normal schools, she has been compelled to cancel her southern engagements. The meeting of the Parent-Teacher association federation, announced for Tuesday afternoon at the high school, as printed in Saturday's News, has had to be called off. Mrs. Toll has made arrangements with Miss Rich for a meeting in February, which will be duly announced.

ECHOES MADE TO ORDER

Are you aware that it is possible to make echoes? It is, indeed, easier to make than to destroy them. In the past men built their great temples and cathedrals with no thought of acoustics. Hence, when the preacher preached echoes rolled freely amid the groinings of the roof, down the rows of sculptured columns and round and round the nave. With wires strung here and with tapestries spread there, many of the echoes of the old world buildings have been obliterated. There are echo experts—builders acquainted with the science of acoustics, whose specialty is echoes' destruction. Sometimes their tasks are hard. Today an architect takes thought of the echo. His building is constructed so as to exclude this intruder. And, knowing how to exclude it, he knows how to welcome it also. Architects are frequently called upon in landscape work to put up summer houses and arrange rocks around them so as to create an echo there. And this they can satisfactorily do.

TROPICO

Deputy Constable Will Gould, who is also chief of the Tropic fire department, effected an arrest Sunday that gives promise of being quite an important one, as the man, who has the appearance of a smooth and clever crook, had a superfluous quantity of jewelry as well as receipt for express packages among his effects. The man will be held and when the express packages arrive it is expected there will be quite a sensational "find."

Mrs. Myra C. K. Shuey closed her school at Rochester Thursday afternoon and returned to Tropic that evening to witness the joint installation of N. P. Banks Post and Corps, but more especially to witness the installation ceremonies of Mrs. Adelaide H. Imler as president of N. P. Banks Woman's Relief Corps. Mrs. Imler's election to the presidency has long been one of the happy anticipations of the members of the Corps as well as of the Post.

George W. Sanford, who was installed as commander of N. P. Banks Post last Friday, was presented at a handsome gavel. Robert N. Taylor, made the presentation speech. The gavel was made and presented to the commander by Comrade J. F. Early, who is a member of N. P. Banks Post, but who is at present in La Gloria, Cuba, where he has business interests. The gavel is made of the finest of ebony with a rosewood handle and is a most beautiful work of art.

Tuesday evening the library building committee and the members of the Tropic Thursday Afternoon club will hold a business session at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Griswold on San Fernando road.

The card party that was planned for Friday afternoon to be given at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Barker on Glendale avenue has been postponed indefinitely.

Tuesday evening will occur the installation of the officers-elect of N. P. Banks Camp, Sons of Veterans, at G. A. R. hall. Members of N. P. Banks Post and Corps will be the guests of the Sons that evening.

Mrs. Laura Thatcher of Azusa was the week-end guest of her father, Mr. Thomas C. Gillett. Mrs. Thatcher leaves the 15th of this month for San Diego to attend the marriage ceremony of her son, Claude Thatcher. H. E. Chandler of Acacia street, who has been quite ill, has entirely recovered and will leave the latter part of the week for an extended trip to San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Hollingsworth entertained at their home on Virginia place as their week-end guest Dr. C. B. Irwin of Los Angeles.

Miss Emma Sherrett of Los Angeles spent the latter part of the week as the guest of Tropic friends.

THE REASON WHY
Do you know that practically every article of your wearing apparel was sewn on a SINGER Machine? Department Stores use SINGER Machines in their Factories and Fitting Rooms.
Ask your modiste, your corsetiere, your shoemaker, your furrier, what sewing machines they use. They will say "THE SINGER." "There's a reason"—superior excellence.
Possibly you have an old sewing machine or one that is not satisfactory. Do you know that a fair allowance will be made for it in exchange for an up-to-date SINGER at the Singer Store, 1020 West Broadway? E. J. Upham, Sunset phone 656W.

INSTALL STATEMENT MACHINE

The Bank of Glendale has installed a Burroughs statement and adding machine in their accountant department. The machine is so constructed that it keeps an accurate record of checking accounts of customers on a loose ledger sheet suitably printed and ruled. The date, checks presented, deposits made and bank balance are recorded by a manipulation of the keyboard. By the use of this machine one man can do the work of two the old way, and there is less chance of making errors. In addition to these advantages, the records are absolutely legible. This bank has for many years been using adding machines, and now the installing of this combination machine will serve a double purpose.

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH
Services at this church Sunday were of unusual interest, being the initial of a series of meetings running through the entire week. All classes seemed to have caught the spirit of special effort and it developed in a marked degree when the pastor was nearly crowded out of his pulpit by an enlarged choir, reaching to fifty voices, which with a new book and led by Mrs. Cammack in her usual masterful manner, took advanced ground over the usual high standard found there, and notably in interesting the children.
The pastor crowded into his pulpit for the delivery of a forceful discourse, largely in outline of the week's campaign, and the same general features marked the evening services, singing and preaching being of the vigorous type. A class of young girls, "little sunbeams," giving one vocal number directed by Mrs. Cammack. The first half hour of the evening service was in the hands of laymen, Messrs. Lusby and Wilson being in charge. The week's campaign will be of great spiritual interest and uplift because the members are united in the work.

A PERFECT DAY

Mrs. W. H. Crawford rendered the ceremonies of installation all the more beautiful by the splendid music she furnished. The program for the afternoon closed when Mrs. Imler gave an address, after which she introduced Mrs. Hartwell and Mrs. Clara Holland, who each gave interesting and patriotic talks.

Mrs. Mary Pollock, retiring president, and Mrs. Flora Pixley, who served as president six months during 1913, were each presented with handsome solid silver pearl handled cold meat forks.

Mrs. Mary Hartwell as installing officer was presented a dainty piece of china. Mrs. Susie Peck, treasurer; Mrs. Gertrude Griffin, secretary, and her assistant, Mrs. Hattie Tiffany, were each remembered with a daintily decorated china mayonnaise dish, the same as presented Mrs. Hartwell. Congratulations and good wishes were extended the newly installed officers and then as the shades of evening began to fall, good-byes were spoken and the members of the Post and Corps with their friends wended their ways to their homes in Tropic, Glendale, Burbank, Eagle Rock and Los Angeles, and over all fell the benedictions of a "perfect day."

TO WELCOME PRESIDENT
SAN DIEGO, Cal., January 11.—Preparations for the Pacific fleet of the United States to welcome President Wilson and the Atlantic fleet when the chief executive and the great international armada come through the Panama canal in March are going rapidly forward. The west coast fleet, made up of the flagship San Diego, under Rear Admiral Thos. B. Howard, the cruisers Colorado and South Dakota, nine torpedo-boat destroyers and four submarines, will mobilize at this port to greet the war vessels from the Atlantic seaboard. At present the destroyers and the submarines are already stationed here, while the cruisers are on patrol off the Mexican coast.

Composing the great fleet which will come through the Panama canal will be the famous battleship Oregon, bearing President Wilson, the cruiser Olympia, which won fame at Manila, twenty-one super-dreadnaughts and battleships and a flotilla of destroyers from the American Atlantic fleet, two armored cruisers from Argentina, two battleships from Brazil and four cruisers from other South American countries.

The Armada will steam up the west coast to this port, where the first stop will be made. Including auxiliaries, there will be more than sixty warships at anchor in the bay here next March when the ships from the Atlantic arrive. This will be the greatest fleet of war vessels ever assembled in the Pacific ocean.
