Select School.

The Campbell select school is ready in advance for the new term with several pupils.

We are glad to chronicle the continued prosperity of this our High School or Academy (as one day we venture to predict the enterprise of our citizens will make it.) The community is fortunate in having at its head one so versatile as Mrs. Ross—We are informed that some of our young people have asked for instruction in music and that lessons on the piano and in vocal culture have begun.

Our Depot.

When the Division Superintendent, made Campbell a visit lately in the interest of the park project, the smallness of the depot was complained of by our citizens, "Well gentlemen" he replied, "that little building has made us a good deal of trouble, we could not find a Californian to fit it and had to send East for a man."

We understand Bro. Berry takes the joke with a smile as we do.

When the S. P. C. builds us a new depot, handsome and commodious as we expect it to be; they know and we know it would be useless to look for a better man to fill it than the occupant of the present one—there are tons of business and accomodation in that small frame.

A Literary Treat Coming.

On next Friday evening the people of Campbell will be given the opportunity of hearing a lecture which will be, we predict, one of the finest treats that has ever come to Campbell. It is to be given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. by Prof. Walter Miller of Stanford University on the subject "Greece and the Greeks of Today." The lecture will be free to every one and no one can afford to miss it.

As ceremony is the invention of wise men to keep fools at a distance, so good breeding is an expedient to make fools and wise men equal.—

THE VISITOR AS AN ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

That the VISITOR has great value as an advertising medium will not be questioned by those who know the class of people among whom it circulates. The citizens of Campbell and the country tributary thereto are very widely known as the most prosperous and enterprising people of the banner county of the State. They are a thrifty people, not given to extravagance, but as a rule able to buy and pay for what they need. The merchants who secure their trade get their best customers. The VISITOR, being the only local paper, is by far the best means of reaching and securing their trade and no where will your advertising bring you better returns for the money invested. Write for rates to the CAMPBELL WEEKLY VISITOR, Campbell, Cal.

CHRISTMAS weather in Santa Clara county was superb. A bright sun all day and beautiful moonlight nights—what more could be wished.

THE big strike of motormen and street car conductors in Philadelphia which caused so much trouble in that city ended the first of the week the strikers losing the fight.

OUR attention was called to a huge plow sidetracked near the site of our new park the first of the week. The plow and the ground needed but to come together and our park would have been started.

LOS GATOS wants a branch county jail. If they need such an institution over in the foot hill city they certainly ought to have it. As we have no use at Campbell for any thing of the kind we will not quarrel with our neighbor about it.

WHILE in Santa Clara county the fruit business furnishes astonishing figures to our Eastern friends they have some pretty good figures to show us in other lines. A Kalamazoo (Mich.) paper handed us a few days since by J. M. Field reports a shipment of three and a half tons of pills by a pill company at that place all to one firm and this was but an installment on a five ton order. We would venture to assert that these pills will not be consumed where California fruit has been introduced.

THE YEAR 1896.

Before another issue of our paper the year 1896 will have leaped into existence and '95 will have sunk into oblivion. We wish our readers a very happy new year and hope all may find the coming year the best year of their lives. To make it so, however, lies very much with us as individuals—we must do our best during the year if we would have it our best year. There is probably no life in which there is not a chance for improvement and no work in a community that is carried on so well but it might be made more successful. Our best efforts for the new year will be superior to those of the past year because we have learned much by experience—by failures and successes—and should know better methods to employ in our work and how to avoid the "rocks and shoals," as it were, in the voyage of life.

The past year has been a year of advancement in Campbell beyond anything that could have been predicted a year ago but we look for even greater advancement in the year to come, if the conditions that brought us our present prosperity—the high moral tone of our society and the harmony of action among our people—continue to exist. We need to fight all lowering of the standard along these lines as though fighting for our liberty or our lives or, as moral corruption brings inevitable ruin and destruction so a "city divided against itself" must soon fall into decay. We intend to use our best efforts to make the year 1896 a year of activity and progress in Campbell and trust that every citizen of the community will do likewise—success will then surely crown our efforts.

CONGRESS is continuing its deliberation during the holidays. The financial question is one of far to much importance, they consider, to drop for the enjoyment of holiday festivities and it is to be hoped that a satisfactory solution will be reached as a result of their faithfulness.

THE Saratoga electric road scheme is looking up a little since the reopening of the Hale proposition. The first of January will settle the fate of the road, however, one way or the other and the business men of San Jose will have to speak quick if they want it.

Dear Sirs:—Having given my wheel a good trial, am ready to say I am exceedingly well pleased and thank you very kindly for the favor and privilege you have given me. I showed the wheel to one of our prominent bicycle agents, who did his best to sell me a wheel, and he said after taking a short ride on it that it was a fine wheel; and I know if the material is as good as the finish, I will never regret my bargain.

FOR THE WOMEN.

Every one who has ever had a home and lost it—not a house I mean, but a real home, wonders why it was not more appreciated while it was yet in possession. We remember the excuses we had for not being contented with our homes but they don't seem like reasons now. Probably it was not an ideal home—more than likely the children quarrelled, mother was sometimes irritable and father cross. That was because it was made up of human beings with all human failings; but now we have almost forgotten those incidentals and remember the love that was there. We over-looked it then, but now we would give worlds for an opportunity to feel it again. Why, the very sensitiveness that made mother perhaps a little too easily hurt made her the most delightful companion. Without those delicate sensibilities she could never have understood her children so perfectly that they hardly needed to confide in her with words. She felt their feelings and always found the right balm for them if it was any where to be found. Then father's tempers were the actual physical result of love for his children, for wasn't that what made him work night and day till he grew grey and old before his time? We see it all now, when the realization is only pain. When I see children now, impatient over mother's anxious care of them. I think of the time when they will be free from that tender watchfulness and wonder if then it wouldn't be the sweetest thing in life to know that some one cared so much for their welfare.

A long time ago I read something that made me try to appreciate my home while I yet had it. I do not remember where I read it or much that it said; only this—that we should try to see the beauties in our surroundings, however plain they might be; to look for them as if we were artists hunting for subjects. And I did look for them sometimes when I thought of it and it was surprising how picturesque common scenes were, looked at from this standpoint. The brothers bending over their books or writing on the bright covered table—the rich tones of the old parlor organ in close proximity to the red curtain on the door. Mother in lively argument with some one, her blue eyes sparkling with the mild excitement; Grandma sitting by the fireplace, her kind old face with its keen decided outlines in sharp relief against the fire; father taking his evening doze, to say nothing of the old family cat who was always getting himself into such tempting attitudes that you had to rush across the room to squeeze him,—all these made pictures that are pleasant to call up now when they are no longer taking place daily. I have always been so glad my attention was called to them that I pass on the suggestion now for it may be that some one else will enjoy looking for pictures as much as I did. Some of those who figure in these every day scenes will surely pass out of them sometime, and then how eagerly every look and attitude is remembered and how much better we remember when we have actually made an effort to impress these things on our memories. I give my word for it that it is worth while.

KATRINA.

How to Get Rich.

Phil Armour: "I have found that it is the upright, conscientious and honest young man who fills the highest position of trust.

Andrew Carnegie: "The qualifications in a young men that command success, briefly stated, are, in the most important part, painstaking and thoroughness in whatever is attempted."

Jno. Wanamaker: "I am sure that the only way for a young man to win is to make a plan for his life, embracing all that is honest, and studious, and keep working at it day and night."

B. F. Butler: "Never do a mean thing for money. Work diligently, be prudent and saving of your money. As soon as possible find a sensible girl who has been brought up by a sensible mother; who is a good housekeeper, and marry her."

C. A. Pillsbury: "Earn twice your salary. Never over-rate your own ability nor under-rate that of your competitor. My experience is between natural ability and hard work the latter will win. When the two are combined nothing can prevent success."

Christmas Festivities.

The Congregation Sunday School held their usual Christmas Sunday service last Sunday morning between the hours of 11 and 1 o'clock. The program consisted of songs recitations, etc., from a published service entitled "Joy to the World" and was made very entertaining and impressive. On Christmas eve the church was made beautiful with holly and evergreen decorations and a magnificent tree which, with its gay trimmings and load of gifts filled the children with delight. All who attended were well entertained and the service was a decided success thought:

AT THE M. E. CHURCH.

The entertainment given by the M. E. Sunday school on Christmas eve was largely attended and much enjoyed by every one present and most of all by the little folks. The holly berries the red-wood boughs and the decorated tower with a tree on either side all made the room look most beautiful. The decorating committee worked hard to surpass all previous attempts at decorating the church room and were entirely successful. The programme was also exceptionally good and several very interesting as well as amusing pieces by the little tots were carried out in a manner that was most pleasing to all. The following programme was presented: Song, "Gladly We Hail," by the school; recitation by ten little children; duet and chorus, "Winter Morn"; recitation, "Harry's Christmas Message," Gertrude Cook; song by the primary department; recitation, "The Star on the Christmas Tree," Fred Tibbetts; vocal duett, Miss Fore and Miss Saelly; recitation, Gene Matthews; song, "Bethlehem"; dialogue, "The Old Year and the New"; song, "Joy to the World" by the school and congregation.

The S. S. of U. Q.

On Friday evening the S. S. of U. Q. held a most enjoyable banquet at the home of Royal Turney at which the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS:—In the departure of our well-beloved sister Pearl St John we recognize that we are about to lose an ardent and efficient worker in the great cause.

AND WHEREAS:—She is about to take up her abode in a warmer clime;

BE IT RESOLVED:—That we, the officers and members of this society do hereby express our deep regret at the great loss we are about to sustain.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:—That we express the hope that she will be happy in her new home but however happy, she will not forget those she leaves behind her and especially the officers and members of this society.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:—That a copy of these resolutions be presented to Miss Pearl St Johns, that they be spread upon the record of this society, that they be printed in the Campbell paper of the largest circulation, namely the CAMPBELL WEEKLY VISITOR.

Children's Party.

On Friday a number of the little friends of Gene Matthews assembled at her home on Minnie avenue and spent the afternoon in a most happy manner. Games of many kinds were played, candy, nuts, popcorn and various other things which are a delight to children were provided in abundance and nothing was wanting to make their enjoyment complete.

Foot Ball Team.

The young men of Campbell met on last Monday evening and organized a foot-ball team, to be known as the Wasps. The following officers were elected: Manager, John Clink; Treasurer, Herbert Janes; Captain, James Wells. Following are the members of the team: John Clink, Worthin Williams, Dan Evans, Howard Buffington, Lloyd Buffington, Robert Sherman, Marshall Ross, Herbert Janes, John Cooper, Earnest Haberdier, Al Gerard, Tom Hester, Fred Willett Robert Hamilton, James Wells and Royal Turney. Phoenix Bicycle!It Has No Superior. Once Used, Always Used.*All the Latest Improvements.*The Best Is Cheapest...

It doesn't pay to buy cheaply made Bicycles—it cost too much to keep them in repair, and only last half the time they ought to.

The demand for PHOENIX BICYCLES has been so great the manufacturers could not turn them out fast enough to fill the orders for them until now. Two months ago we were promised an agency as soon as they were sure orders could be filled. We can now deliver the wheels on short notice. A sample wheel can be seen at the Guerraz-Strong.

On Sunday Dec. 22 at 12 m. Miss Maud Guerraz was married to Albert B. Strong. The wedding took place at the home of the bride, Rev. Simmons conducting the ceremony.

The room in which the marriage took place was beautifully decorated with flowers, and the bridal party stood under a canopy of wedding bells of beautiful design. A wedding dinner consisting of all the delicacies of the season was enjoyed by the company immediately after the marriage, after which Mr. and Mrs. Strong took the train for San Francisco returning on Friday following. The young couple have many friends around Campbell who join with us in wishing them a very happy married life.

The Park.

The railroad officials have formally consented to the use of the plot of ground along the track south of Campbell avenue for a park, a communication having been received from them to that effect a few days since, and every thing is now clear so work can begin just as soon as the citizens of Campbell say the word. Subscriptions will probably be solicited soon and a ready response will make it possible to begin the improvements at an early date.

Bicycle Race.

A five-mile bicycle race took place at Campbell Christmas morning at 10 o'clock. The race was won by Dan Francis, having three minutes handicap. Time, 17:30. Hardie Downing was second, being scratch man. Time, 15:43. Downing won the time prize. Fay Hopkins was third, having three and a half minutes handicap. Time, 18:23.

Teacher's Convention.

The California Teacher's Association will meet at Oakland in Annual Convention on January 1st, 1896 and continues over the 4th. The Southern Pacific Company have given a round trip rate of one and one-third the regular fare and a large attendance is expected.

NOTICE.

The slight illness of the editor makes us unusually late with this issue. We turn a new leaf with the 1st of January and expect hereafter to get the paper to you on time.

Diamond Points.

The man who spends six nights out of the week away from home, blames his wife because she don't raise the boys right.—Ram's Horn.

Just laws are no restraint upon the freedom of the good, for a good man desires nothing which a just law will interfere with.—James A. Froude

Hope throws a generous contempt upon ill usage, and looks like a handsome defiance of a misfortune; as who should say, You are somewhat troublesome now, but I shall conquer you.—Jeremy Collier.

Upon the whole, a contented mind is the greatest blessing a man can enjoy in this world; and if in the present life his happiness arises from the subduing his desires, it will arise in the next from the gratification of them.—Addison.

Men sometimes upon the hour of departure do speak and reason above themselves, for then the soul, beginning to be freed from the ligaments of the body, reasons like herself, and discourses in a strain above mortality.—Addison.

Pleasure and pain spring not so much from the nature of things as from our manner of considering them. Pleasure especially is never an invariable effect of particular circumstances. Largely that is pleasure which is thought to be so.—Bovee.

A man may be entirely uninjured in his body by the actions of his fellow men, and he may be entirely unimpeded in his movements by them, and he may yet be prevented from carrying on the activities needful for the maintenance of life. No interference of this kind is possible without a breach of the law of equal freedom.—Herbert Spencer.
