ATHLETIC CLUB DOING ITS BEST TO ADVERTISE CITY—DESERVES RECOGNITION

"Help Glendale ahead," is the slogan of the Glendale Athletic club according to a handbill issued by that organization to advertise a game tonight. The club is doing its best to advertise the city and expects that support which it deserves. The circular says with great truth that the game of basketball is the cleanest and most exciting of all athletic sports and that a good clean athletic organization is one of the best advertisements that a city can have. It also states that Glendale has two of the best basketball teams in the state and that those teams are fighting for the championship with practically no support from the city. These two teams are going to meet the L. A. Normal and the Hollywood teams tonight at the clubhouse, corner First and Glendale avenue. Give them your support and enjoy a fine athletic entertainment.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Last night God's message to his people came with power from his messenger, Dr. Pratt. The authority for the message was Second Cor. 5:10-20. Three glorious truths were presented with convincing power. All must appear before the judgment seat of God, as sinners, or as believers. The choice is ours to make. God loves sinners, but he hates sin. God gave his son for sinners, rejection of the son is the only thing that can keep us out of heaven.

God gave his son to reconcile the world to himself. If he died for us, that we might live, the only reasonable course for us is to live for him, a new creature with a new purpose in life. This reconciliation makes us ambassadors for our Master. The redeemed are his only messengers. In the ages past we have been but playing at missions at home and abroad. When we have delivered his message, he takes care of the results and our responsibility ceases. Our great responsibility is to deliver his whole message regardless of consequences. What is the message? Peace! Peace between God and man. The manger in Bethlehem held the Prince of Peace, he was rejected then, he is rejected now and the world has no peace and can have none until it comes through him. If any nation, or any individual, has not peace they cannot blame God but themselves.

Tonight concludes the pre-communion services. Let all come who love the truth, who have open minds to receive it, and will go on their way full of joy and gladness.

CERTIFICATE AWARDED

The basketball season for the grammar schools closed with Wednesday's game. Pacific avenue defeated Columbus avenue 22 to 5 on the Pacific avenue court. The championship ribbon was won by the boys representing the Colorado Boulevard school, who closed the season with a record of four straight winning games. Broadway boys, with three winning and one losing game, finished in second place, with Pacific, Columbus and Central, in order named.

With the presentation speech this morning by E. M. Polley, athletic director of the grammar schools, the boys of the Colorado Boulevard school were awarded the athletic certificate.

Receiving honors were Oliver Clark, Otto Haplanek, Stanley Walker, Lloyd Van Epps, Ernest Lamoreaux and David Hicks.

DEATH NOTICE

Word has been received from Pasadena friends announcing the death of Mrs. John J. Staddon at San Bernardino.

Mr. and Mrs. Staddon were former residents of Glendale, occupying a pretty home at 919 Fairview avenue until a few months ago, when they moved to Pasadena, hoping to benefit Mrs. Staddon's health.

The funeral services took place in Los Angeles today, interment being at the Hollywood cemetery.

BASKETBALL WORLD

In one of the best played and most interesting games of the season, on the local grounds, the light intermediate team of the Intermediate school went down to defeat, Wednesday, before the Normal Training school juniors. The score was a 10-10 tie at the call of time, but in the five-minute playoff, the Normal boys scored two goals to Glendale's one, ending with a score of 14-12 in favor of the visitors.

NEEDS OF THE CITY

CITY MANAGER WATSON TELLS OF POLICE AND FIRE PROTECTION IN SANTA MONICA

City Manager Watson has been making visits of inquiry recently to different communities in order to ascertain what Glendale needs in the way of police and fire protection. The most recent city examined for this purpose was Santa Monica. Mr. Watson, in company with Fire Chief Lankford, visited that city a few days ago and made comparisons which show that Glendale is considerably behind in those matters.

"Our visit to Santa Monica," said Mr. Watson, "was to ascertain if that city had anything in the way of better equipment or better methods than Glendale with a view to their adoption if possible or advisable. One of the first things we discovered was that Santa Monica was equipped with 80 police signal lights, on two circuits, covering the whole city. By means of these lights it is possible to call any policeman at any time when he may be needed.

"Glendale has two such lights. Santa Monica has less than twice the population of Glendale.

"In the police department of Santa Monica there are 13 paid men. Of these 10 are night patrolmen. Glendale has 6 policemen of whom 4 are night patrolmen. Glendale has 2 day patrolmen, of whom one acts as milk inspector, putting in one-half of his time in police duty and the other in milk inspection work.

"The patrolmen of Santa Monica receive $80 a month, with an increase of $5 a year till $100 a month is reached. That city has also a complete identification bureau, with photographs and finger prints.

"In the fire department we found two combination chemical fire trucks similar to that in use in Glendale. There was also a Seagrave pumping engine of 8000 gallons capacity, this latter piece of apparatus the city is buying on a lease plan, making monthly payments.

"There are 10 paid men in the fire department of Santa Monica. These men get $80 a month each and the men in charge of the stations get $105. There are three stations.

"Glendale has two paid firemen. One of these works part of his time in the city garage. These men get $90 and $75.

"Glendale has 9 volunteers who get $1 a month, practice four times a month and get $1 for each fire they attend. Santa Monica has 24 volunteer firemen who get $2 a month for one practice and $2 for each fire.

"It can thus be seen that Santa Monica is very much superior in fire equipment to Glendale. In the matter of police protection Glendale is more nearly up to the standard required for a city of its size, though by no means complete in that respect.

"Under the new charter which Santa Monica recently acquired that city has four elective officers, consisting of three commissioners and the police judge. All the other offices are appointive. The various city servants are appointed by the different department heads, subject to confirmation by the commissioners."

TO FIGHT CITRUS CANCKER

Word comes from Washington that the House of Representatives has passed the Urgent Deficiency bill, carrying twelve million dollars. Representatives of Florida and California citrus interests succeeded in having an item attached to this bill giving the Secretary of Agriculture an emergency fund of $300,000 with which to fight the citrus canker peril which has appeared in Florida, and threatens California groves. The inclusion of this item was a concession to the citrus interests, though it was in imminent danger of being thrown out on a point of order. Col. Sparkman, the veteran Florida legislator, and Congressman Randall of California were among the most active supporters of the appropriation in organizing the forces on the floor of the House.

All members of the class and all young people of the church are asked to be present at the game and root for our boys.

CIVIC BEAUTY IDEAL

MRS. NANNO WOODS EXHIBITS TWO PICTURES WHICH CONVEY STRIKING LESSON

Those who visit the office of Mrs. Nanno Woods, 1111½ West Broadway, cannot fail to be struck by both the exterior and interior of that establishment. Everything there speaks of the ideals to which Mrs. Woods devotes herself—ideals of civic betterment and beauty. Flowers and shrubs greet the visitor and on her bulletin board there are exhibited two pictures which should catch the eye of many a passer-by and urge on them the lesson of what can be done to beautify and adorn the City of Glendale.

One of these pictures is entitled "Why Only in Magnolia?" This picture shows the shopping district of Magnolia, Mass., and the improvements that have been made there, especially in the floral adornments. This picture shows what can be done to make a city attractive, and the scheme could be as easily, if not even more easily, carried out in Glendale, where the natural advantages are greater.

The other picture is entitled "See What Davenport Has Done!" It shows how Davenport, Iowa, has cleaned up and beautified its backyards. The transformation wrought is really astonishing and some of such work in this city would go far toward solving the problem of the backyard. These two pictures are civic sermons by which all might profit.

Mrs. Woods is enthusiastic in her campaign for the improvement and beautification of the city. Her enthusiasm and practical methods of organization have put life into the Glendale Garden Society. For five years Mrs. Woods has been carrying on active work in Los Angeles city and county on civic and moral questions and has acquired a very high reputation as an effective and convincing platform speaker. Her wit, excellent elocution and her mastery logic have attracted much attention.

Mrs. Woods, however, believes that actions speak louder than words. All the speaking in the world, she thinks, will effect nothing unless the people act. Listening and not acting is the bane of all social betterment and civic betterment campaigns. To see the City of Glendale rising to its opportunities and possibilities is the aim of Mrs. Woods in her direction of the Glendale Garden Society and from all indications it is likely that the society will gradually effect many improvements in the outward appearance of the city.

Already the interest taken in this excellent work is gratifying and it grows every day. The "get-together" spirit is being manifested in the meetings of the society and there is much promise for the future in the unselfish work done by the members of this worthy and active organization.

SCENES IN THE DESERT

In his description of the prehistoric Lake Lahontan, in the Great Basin, I. C. Russell of the United States Geological survey writes:

"The scenery on the larger playas is peculiar but is not without its charm. In crossing these wastes the traveler may ride for miles over a perfectly level floor, with an unbroken sky line before him and not an object in sight to cast a shadow on the oceanlike expanse. Mirages, which may be seen every day on these heated deserts, give strange forms to the mountains and sometimes transfigure them beyond recognition. A pack train crossing the desert a few miles distant may appear like some strange caravan of grotesque boats fording a shallow lake, the shores of which advance as one rides away. The monotony of midday on the desert is thus broken by elusive forms that are ever changing. The cool evenings and mornings in these arid regions, when the purple shadows of distant mountains are thrown across the plain, have a charm that is unknown beneath more humid skies, and the profound stillness of the night in these solitudes is always impressive." — Overland Guidebook, Bulletin 612, United States Geological Survey.

PRESENTATION TO MISS NOBLE

Miss Carrie Noble, vice-principal of the Intermediate school, who has endeared herself to her students by her sensitive comprehension of their needs and aspirations, was agreeably surprised Thursday by the presentation of a token of the esteem of the class now graduating. The members of the class presented Miss Noble with a very handsome tea tray. The tray is of mahogany and is a fine piece of work.

RISE IN PRICES

PUBLIC SERVICE MANAGER LYNCH TELLS HOW COPPER WIRE AND OTHER MATERIAL HAS ADVANCED

"There is no doubt," said Mr. H. B. Lynch, manager of the Public Service department, to a representative of The Glendale Evening News, "that material of all kinds is rising in price. This is to be laid chiefly to the account of the war. Cast iron pipe was very low in price for a long time, but it is now rising and is again at normal. The rise is sympathetic. Fortunate we have already secured a good deal of this pipe and are not likely to suffer in any way from the rise.

"Copper has risen in a very marked degree. I have bought copper wire as low as 13.25 cents a pound. Just now it has risen to 28.15 and is likely to go much higher. There is an enormous demand for copper for the manufacture of ammunition. The demand in this country is enormous. In Germany the government has stripped every factory that could be spared of its copper wherever found. They have stripped the ancient roofs of the cathedrals and churches and have hunted high and low for every scrap of copper that could be found. I look for copper to go higher.

"Electric motors have gone up 10 per cent. This, too, is a result of the war. It comes both from the demand for the specific article itself and from the fact that every skilled workman is occupied doing something or other. The City of Glendale is in the market just at present for three electric motors.

"Auto tires have gone up in price already. There is an enormous demand for auto tires in Europe and rubber is scarce. We were notified of the coming rise some time ago, but had no immediate need of such articles. Crude oil has gone up; but we have a yearly contract for what we need so that does not affect us. "Steel and all steel articles have risen enormously. The rise has been especially marked in such manufactured articles as barbed wire, for instance. The city through other departments has purchased some quantities of this material recently.

"One material which has risen to an extraordinary extent is aluminum. So much is this the case that one company in New York tore out all its aluminum cables, sold them, and replaced them with the ordinary copper cables and made a profit on the transaction of $80,000. As far as our electric light supply lines are concerned any rise in price of material does not affect us. There has been little extension of our system for some time. There has been no rise in the price of electric lamps, which is fortunate for the city, as we use about $200 worth of lamps a month.

"In view of all this advance it is worth the consideration of the people of Glendale that the price of electric light and of water has been lowered for their benefit. This is an achievement of which this department is somewhat proud. If we can accomplish economy without impairing efficiency we think we are fulfilling our duty to the people."

PRESENTATION TO SCHOOL

In accordance with custom, the graduating class of the Intermediate school made a presentation to the school, which was appropriate and will always remain a pleasing token of the boys and girls who presented it. At the morning assembly Friday, Frank Balthis, president of the class, made the presentation. He asked Principal White to accept for the school a handsome picture entitled "The Leafy Woods by Fountains Clear," by J. Rollin. In making the presentation young Balthis referred with some feeling to the regret the class experienced in bidding farewell to the school where they had spent so many happy days and to the teachers to whom they owed so much. Principal White thanked the class for the gift in suitable phrase. The graduation takes place tonight in the auditorium of the school. Forty-two will receive their diplomas.

BUYS CARLOAD OF PIPE

The Glendale Hardware Co. buys stock of all kinds in immense quantities and has worked up a wholesale trade in many departments. As an example of their quantity buying, we mention the fact that this firm received a carload shipment of pipe on Wednesday of this week. Not only does the Glendale Hardware company enjoy a local business, but the past month has kept their auto deliveries busy delivering material on jobs in Hollywood, Pasadena, Tropic, Casa Verdugo, La Canada, La Crescenta and Burbank.

WAR ON USE OF HARMFUL DRUGS

In every big city of the United States there is a certain percentage of users of cocaine, morphine and other deleterious drugs. It has always been difficult to handle this traffic, as those manufacturing the drugs are hand in hand with those who distribute them and naturally those who use them are not likely to betray the source whence they get their unnatural pabulum. Now, too, the federal government has taken a hand in the business of suppressing the traffic. The supply of opium, morphine and cocaine has been greatly diminished and the former users of the drugs being forced to abstain are getting a chance to sober up.

Some interesting details with regard to the cure of these unfortunate people given by the medical attendant at Blackwell's Island, New York, give hope that the worst of such cases can be cured and that no special treatment is necessary. The doctor of the penitentiary says there is no drug "cure" in the penitentiary yet hundreds of victims have been cured in that institution.

According to Dr. Bishop, the medical man in question, there are no two human systems alike in regard to the effect these drugs produce on them. Individual diagnosis is necessary in each case. Rest, exercise and medicines of one kind or another are used in each case. The doctor has no hesitation in stopping the administration of the baneful drugs without gradations of dosing and has no recent cases of collapse on account of this treatment.

The great fact that stands out most clearly in all that has been written about this subject is that the use of these drugs is getting less as it has been made more difficult for people to obtain them. The United States wages a merciless war on smugglers of opium and its derivatives and is succeeding in making the traffic so difficult, so irksome and so profitless that the old smugglers have retired and those who have attempted to take their places are disgusted with the ease with which they are trapped. It is likely that the traffic will cease entirely before long.

COALFIELDS IN ALASKA

In these days of "preparedness" the value of the vast coalfields of Alaska is becoming apparent. In the event of war the United States would have in the vast fields of the northern country a source of supply that might easily prove a deciding factor in the struggle. There can be no doubt that the United States must be able to hold and defend those coalfields in the event of any trouble with an outside nation. The object lessons of the war in Europe are many and one of them is that the seizing and exploitation of the enemy's coalfields is a most desirable end.

Actual development of the extraordinarily rich Matanuska coal fields will begin this year. The small, independent miner will have a chance under the lease system devised by the Secretary of the Interior. This territory with its valuable product had been seized by the coal barons, who sent out carefully concocted stories of the dangers of the climate and the worthlessness of the coal despite the scientifically correct reports of the Geological department of the United States government. The barons knew that the people do not read the government reports, but that they do read the newspapers. They accordingly paid for and obtained free where possible publicity for their own garbled versions of the valuable coal country.

However, other eyes were on the coal fields and after a long fight and much trouble the government canceled the fraudulent locations of the big companies and will throw the fields open to location by all. The Department of the Interior is pushing the construction of the Matanuska railroad as fast as possible and hopes to have it open by the end of 1916. By March 1 an army of railroad builders will begin the completion of the line to the Matanuska coal fields.

The government has drawn a lease on those coal lands and hopes within thirty days to be able to announce those parts of the coal fields that are reserved for itself. The line will be completed from Anchorage to the Matanuska fields by the close of the season and that railroad will, in all probability, be pushed on through the Susitna valley, opening up another large section of the country that is now being exploited by small placer-gold communities.

When the road has been completed from the deep water terminal at Seward through to Matanuska the government will be in a position to carry on its plans for the further development of that rich country.

The final payment for the Alaska Northern Railroad bought by the government will be made July 5. The whole purchase price was $1,150,000. The government already has paid $500,000. That railroad can be put into shape for $400,000. It cost $2,750,000. Seventy-pound rails are being laid on the new government road, and new track of fifteen miles from the end of the Alaska Northern has already been laid and twenty more miles graded.

Those who have seen that country in its primitive condition know what all this means. The mineral riches of this section of Alaska are incalculable. The coal alone is worth an enormous amount and above all valuable to the United States for use in naval plans. In fact, it is indispensable. In the struggle for the leadership of the Pacific and its illimitable trade the coal of Alaska will be required. It is to be hoped that the government will not be long in completing its plans for coaling depots on the Alaskan coast. Their value in time of war would be speedily demonstrated.

What was once called in derision "Seward's Ice Chest" is proving every day to be a gold chest, an inexhaustible source of treasure. It has paid for itself a hundred times over since it was purchased by Secretary Seward for the United States at a cost of $7,000,000. The Japanese are well aware of its value and are known to have plans for its seizure should war ever break out with the United States. It is needless to say that it could be easily seized just about the time when the gold cleanups come down to the coast and the enemy would find ample reward for his enterprise. With this in view the value of Alaska's coal fields is easily seen.

DEATH VALLEY DODGE

The most talked of automobile in Western America—"Death Valley Dodge"—has been photographed performing the marvelous feats that have given to it the cognomen of the "dare-devil car."

It is shown in a four reel feature film and will be seen at the High School Auditorium of this city on Saturday, Jan. 29, from 2 to 10 p. m.

The car has been caught in the very act of dropping down declivities of almost perpendicular drops of ten to fifteen feet, jumping from boulder to boulder over rocky steeps, tearing down cactus and mesquite brush and even pushing rocky obstructions out of its way. It is the most thrilling demonstration of an automobile performance ever pictured on the screens.

These pictures when exhibited at the Automobile Show in Los Angeles and later at the Automobile Show in Pasadena created such unusual attention that forty thousand people waited in line to get an opportunity to see them.

By calling on Geo. A. Montgomery, the dealer in Dodge cars of this city, you can get free tickets of admission to see Death Valley Dodge in these wonderful "movies."

LA CRESCENTA

Sherman Cookson has now returned to his parents' home, after a ten days' visit in Anaheim.

Mr. Shipman, a business man of Los Angeles, is having a five-room bungalow built on his property on Montrose avenue, adjoining Mr. Benjamin's place.

At Hotel La Crescenta The Misses Gordon and Brennan of the Hotel La Crescenta are greatly pleased with the opening of the state highway in front of their hostelry. This will give guests arriving by auto access to the place without dangerous detours across lots.

Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney, accompanied by his family, is again registered for a few days. Others arriving during the week are: Mrs. O'Brien-Moore and daughter, Miss Annette O'Brien-Moore of Los Angeles; Mrs. Philip Gordon, San Francisco; E. G. Harris, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hynes, Santa Barbara.

Mr. Stone has successfully diverted the wash away from his place by building a retaining wall along the outside of his place, so that the water will flow between the stone wall and the mountain.

The Loyal Bible Students class held their regular meeting at the home of Mr. Van Huecklyn. The subject discussed for the evening was "Preparedness."

Mr. I. P. Jones on Briggs avenue is having his place fenced in and is having many ornamental and fruit trees planted on the front of his place.

Mr. Dodds was greatly surprised to find on his arrival home from work on the evening of the 13th of this month, a crowd of friends there to help him celebrate his birthday.

The regular meeting of the La Crescenta Parent-Teacher association will be held this Friday evening, Jan. 28, at the La Crescenta school house. There will be a musical program, after which there will be a speaker on "Conditions of Child Labor in U. S." Everybody welcome.

B. D. Jackson announces that he will run his auto stage from Lincoln avenue, La Crescenta, to Pasadena, daily, beginning Saturday of this week.

Mrs. Leenhouts is having a commodious kitchen cabinet built in her home on Michigan avenue.

Residents of the valley will be sorry to learn of the removal of Judge and Mrs. Spargur last Saturday to Tropicco, where they will make their home for the time being. The Spargurs were very sorry to leave the valley, but on account of Mrs. Spargur's health were forced to remove to a lower elevation. Mr. Koons, the new owner, will be welcomed as a splendid addition to the community.

Death of Pioneer

Residents of La Crescenta have received announcement of the death of Mrs. Briggs, wife of the late Dr. Briggs, who at one time owned the entire La Crescenta valley. Mrs. Briggs died at Canton, Ind., at the home of her son-in-law. She leaves a son and daughter by first marriage to survive her. Mrs. Briggs was a pioneer of La Crescenta. With her husband she arrived here in the nineties. Dr. Briggs and Dr. Lanterman of La Canada, according to our informant, jointly purchased all the territory from the Pasadena line to the Verdugo ridge. When a division was made by the two partners, Dr. Briggs took the La Crescenta end of the valley. His residence was on what is known as the terrace, way up on the hill, and 'tis said that his remains lie buried in one of the canyons here. Briggs avenue and Briggs Canyon are two names familiar to the La Crescenta residents.

Mrs. Seymour Thomas, wife of the artist, is a niece of the late Mr. and Mrs. Briggs. According to those intimate with Mrs. Briggs while a resident here, she had a most lovable nature and was always willing to do her share to make some other person's burden lighter. In her death a good woman has been called to rest.

PROPOSED SYCAMORE CANYON ROAD

Glendale, California, January 28, 1916.

Editor of the Glendale Evening News, W. Broadway, Glendale, California.

Dear Sir: There evidently is some misunderstanding in regard to that portion of the proposed Sycamore Canyon road south of Broadway, which has been deeded for railroad purposes, the deeds to which are held by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce Railroad Committee.

Most of the railroad right of way from Broadway to the South City Limits is in the hands of the committee for which the committee will make no claim to the Appraisers, whose duty it will be to make the award of damages in these proceedings, and there was also an understanding with the property holders who gave these deeds for right of way that they are only to receive pay for that portion of the proposed street which is not used for railroad purposes.

We believe that it will be necessary to take care of the storm water in that vicinity in some way before it will be feasible to maintain and operate a railroad along the Child's Tract line.

Yours truly,
F. H. VESPER,
Secretary for the Chamber of Commerce Railroad Committee.

I. O. O. F. INSTALLATION

The Independent Order of Odd-fellows held a public installation, Thursday night, in its hall at the corner of Isabel and Third street. Despite the rain there was an excellent attendance, about 100 being present. Twenty-five visiting members from Los Angeles added to the success of the evening. District Deputy Grand Master H. Clay Walker was installing officer and was assisted by a team of sixteen. The following officers were installed: J. M. Banker, noble grand; T. Cleland, vice grand; J. Fanset, past grand; C. W. Ingledue, chaplain; Orrin Tarr, recording secretary; Chester Jones, financial secretary; Earl La Rowe, treasurer. An excellent lunch was served. Mrs. Kirkpatrick gave several pleasing numbers on the piano. The old-time barn-dance, fiddle and guitar team, Ben and Bill, were loudly applauded for their "sole" stirring jigs and other dances.

TROPICO

Though the clouds were lowering and the rain came down in torrents a large party assembled in the K. P. hall, Wednesday evening and enjoyed cards and dancing. Everyone was smiling and happy and all had a most enjoyable evening. Mrs. Byam scored highest in 500 receiving first prize, Miss H. Bagg second prize and Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, consolation; Mr. E. M. Bales, gentleman's first; Dr. George F. Burton, second and Harry C. Barnard consolation. In Whist Miss Hazel Anderson captured lady's first and Mrs. E. C. Bone the consolation; W. A. Dutton, gentleman's first and G. E. Martin the consolation. Delicious coffee and appetizing sandwiches were served. The prizes were donated for the party and as there were such generous contributions of prizes naturally there was a superfluous number and these were auctioned off by Earl V. Coleman. The fortunate bidders were E. C. Bone, Francis Booth, Harry C. Barnard, Al Vanlet and Charles Wallace Kimberly. At the close of the party it was learned that about forty five dollars was realized which will be applied on the municipal playgrounds.

Mrs. Charles A. Barker and her committee desire to extend their sincere thanks to the citizens of Tropico who so generously purchased tickets for the benefit card party, to the merchants and business men who so kindly donated money and made contribution towards the refreshments, to the Thursday club, Parent-Teacher association and Pythian Sisters for the use of dishes and silver, and to all who contributed so generously and cheerfully, to Charles Wallace Kimberly for his machine, with which he assisted in conveying tables, dishes and contributions to the K. of P. hall. William Dransfield, grocer on Glendale avenue, contributed five dollars; Scovren-Letton-Frey, undertakers, three dollars; Mrs. W. A. Dutton, twenty-five cents; Clifford Clanin, Park avenue, meat market, cold boiled ham; Park Avenue Grocery, butter; Blauser and Cook, bakers, San Fernando boulevard, bread; H. L. Whaley, O. K. Market, cold boiled ham; B. and B. store, grocery, sugar; B. Collins, grocer, sugar; Acacia Street school, bread; Edwin Virden, druggist, paper napkins; Magnolia Street school, fifty cents; Cerritos Street school, one dollar; N. P. Banks-W. R. C., one dollar; Thursday club, one dollar; Pythian Sisters, one dollar; Yocmen, seventy-five cents; Acacia street school, fifty cents; P. E. U. fifty cents; Tropico Sentinel, A. J. Van Wie, editor, paper; O. P. Martin, hardware, tacks; Mrs. Charles Wallace Kimberly, coffee.

J. Herbert Smith of the Tropico Mercantile company, having given a most generous donation some time since, Mrs. Barker and her committee declined to accept any donations from this generous mercantile company at this time.

As a happy finale to a most delightful afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Herman Goodrich entertained with a dinner party at her home on North Central avenue, Wednesday evening, at which the hostesses who assisted Mrs. Goodrich in entertaining the Kensington club, and the husbands of the assisting hostesses, were their guests. Seated with Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Griffin and their son Jim Griffin, Councilman and Mrs. C. H. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Tresslar, Mrs. Nina Richards and son, Mr. Charles E. Patterson, Maj. J. J. Weiler, Miss Emma Lee Weiler, Miss Melba Weiler, Miss Elizabeth Goodrich and Robert Goodrich.

A WHISTLE GAME

Choose to be "it" a child who has never played the trick game of huntsman. The child is told that a whistle will be hidden and that he must find its hiding place. He is then blindfolded. The whistle, which must be very light and small, is suspended from a string and pinned carefully to the back of the huntsman's coat. He is then released and is started on his hunt.

As his back is presented to the various players, they gingerly catch hold of the whistle and blow it, dropping it again very quickly and silently. Of course, the huntsman is very mystified until a clumsy player fails to drop the whistle quickly enough, and the trick is discovered.—Detroit Free Press.

Mr. E. Deming Smith and son Eugene, accompanied by Mr. Smith's father, returned from the east last week, where they have been sojourning for almost a year. It was arranged to have another meeting next Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the office of the Western Empire Sub. Farms Assn.

The Poultry club held a short session Tuesday evening after the finance committee meeting. The chairman was absent and the secretary pro tem, Dr. Kearney, presided. Mr. Woodruff, chairman of the committee on rules of conduct, read his report, which was accepted and the committee discharged. It was decided to postpone further business till a future meeting.

Editor Tri-City Progress: In looking over the proceedings of the city council as published in your last week's paper I note that the chairman of the council called the attention of the board to the fact that Monte Vista and Littlelands stages are now going via San Fernando road instead of Glendale, considering this a detriment to the merchants of Glendale who formerly secured some patronage from this valley.

This is all true, every word of it. But if Mr. Chairman will just go back over the proceedings of the same council some months ago he will find where the city council legislated our bus lines out of Glendale and very naturally the people of the Monte Vista valley would take it for granted that Glendale does not cater to any of our business. Now Mr. Chairman, just go back a few months and you will be able to suggest a remedy, possibly for the business your merchants are losing from the legislation of your city council and thereby clear the citizens or stage lines of Monte Vista of any legislation against the merchants of Glendale.

Fire at Zachau's

The house of Harry Zachau, now occupied by Mrs. Mendenhall's family, was set on fire by the overturning of an oil stove one day last week. The prompt action of Mrs. Pond, Mrs. Mendenhall's mother, prevented any fatal results. As it was, the curtains were destroyed and some of the woodwork badly marred and Mrs. Mendenhall's piano spoiled. The damage to the house was covered by insurance.

Robert Rowley, who is taking post graduate course at the Los Angeles Polytechnic High school, attended a party given by his class in honor of the Senior A's of the school.
