FIRST EDITION. Generally considered as the first book printed in Italy with a date. If the "Donatus pro puerilis" was earlier printed in Italy, no copy of it has ever been seen. There is some doubt as to the printers of this very rare work, Bp. Dampier and Lord Spencer conclude with Meermann for Sweynheym and Pannartz, Bibl. Sp. I. 205. Freytag Adp. p. 208. Audiffredi Ed. Rom. p. 1. Of the few copies which are known, the greater number want the Errata of two leaves. The present copy is quite complete and was obtained at the Mac Carthy Sale. It is in beautiful preservation.

This copy is made up of the two editions of 1494, the third vol. being what Brunet considers of the first edition. The title is also wanting to the first volume.

LANDI, ORTENSIO. Sermoni Funebri de vari authori nella morte de diversi animali. Vinegia, appresso Gabriel Giolito, 1548. 8vo.

This first edition is rare, it was reprinted in Genoa, 1559.

LANDINUS. Quæstiones et Disputationes Camaldulenses Christophori Landini Florentini. S. l. a. et typ. n. (sed Florentiæ). Fol. R. M.

Bandini could not find a copy in the Vatican Library.” Roscoe’s Lorenzo de Medici I. 103. “In these Disputations Landino has devoted the 3rd. and 4th., to a critical dissertation on Virgil whose works he afterwards corrected and restored.” Roscoe’s Lorenzo, II. 64.

Anno 1565. the first day of Auguste. 4to. Bl. L. R. M.

This is the fourth Edition; it is without printer’s name and contains 384 leaves of which the last eight are not numbered. This edition is carried on by the author, Cooper, to the end of 1564, and therefore Ames vol. III. p. 1614 is mistaken in describing this as the same as the edition of 1549. Thos. Lanquet was proceeding in the 3rd Part of this Chronicle when he died in 1545, Cooper continued it from page 342 of this edition down to the year 1565.

LANSIUS, THOMAS. F. A. D. W. (Fridericus Achilles, Dux Württembergiæ) Consultatio de principatu inter Provincias Europæ. Editio Quarta prioribus auctior. Tubingæ, typis Brunnianis, 1635. 8vo.

Frederick Achilles Duke of Wirtemberg called an assembly of Nobles and others at Tubingen in 1613, to discuss the comparative merits and demerits of all the Kingdoms of Europe. The Duke himself, his brother the Duke of Saxony, the Duke of Sleswick-Holsatia, and other nobles made public speeches on this occasion pro et con. Lansius edited those speeches, which must have been very popular as this is a fourth edition.

LANSPERGIUS, JOANNES. An Epistle or Exhortation of Jesus Christ to the Soule, that is devoutly affected towards him. Wherein are contained certaine divine inspirations teaching a man to know himself, and instructing him in the perfection of true piety. Written in Latin by the devout servant of Christ Joannes Lanspurgius a Charter house Monke. And translated into English by the Lord Philip Earle of Arundell. Permissu Superiorum, 1610. 12mo.

"Philip Howard, nineteenth Earl of Arundell, was son of Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, and the Lady Mary Fitz-Allan. This book and its author are unnoticed by Walpole or Park. The latter, and Mr. Heber, assure me they have never heard of or seen another copy." 'Note by Dr. Bliss.

LANZAVECHIA, ODOARDO. Ragguaglio della Nobil Rotta data da Scozzesi a gl'Inglese appresso la Citta di Duofres. Con prigionia di molti Baroni principali fra de quali un Cugino della Regina d'Inghilterra. Bologna et Padua, s. a. 4to.

This very curious and singular publication is dated Di Brendai di Fiandra a di 4 di Maggio 1588. It describes the Execution of Queen Mary and an Action between the Scotch and English near Dumfries, in which the English lost above 3000 men, and Lord Suffolk their general was wounded and taken. It was probably written to encourage the Spaniards by the lie.

LAON, J. DE, Sieur DAIGREMONT. Relation du Voyage des Francois fait au Cap de Nord en Amerique par les soins de la Compagnie establee à Paris, et sous la conduite de M. de Royville leur General, avec une ample description du Pays, des mœurs et façons de vivre des Sauvages, et l'observation des hauteurs. LASCARIS. Constantini Lascaris Grammatica Græca cum Præfatione Demetrii Cretensis. Mediolani, Impressum per Magistrum Dionysium Paravisinum, MCCCCLXXVI. die xxx Januarii. 4to. R. M.

FIRST EDITION and the first book printed in Greek characters. Of the extraordinary rarity of this book see Panzer, II. 25. Bibl. Spenc. III. 76. Saxius Typ. Mediol. p. 461. et 563. This is probably the finest copy in existence.

— Compendium Octo Orationis Partium et aliorum quorundam necessariorum, (Gr. Lat.). Cum præfatione Boni Accursii Pisani. Hoc divinum opus impressum est Mediolani in kalendas octobres MCCCCLXXX. et interpretatum per Johannem Monachum Placentinum. 4to. R. M.

Second Edition; also of great rarity.

This abridgement of Lascaris is very uncommon.

— Erotemata cum Interpret. Latina; et Alia Opuscula. Impressum est Venetiis summo studio, litteris ac impensis, Aldi Manucii Romani, MCCCXCIV-V. 4to. R. M.

First Aldine Edition. Renouard's account of this very rare edition is sufficiently ample; he supposes this to have been begun before the Musæus and Galeomyomachia, but that those two were finished before the Lascaris, but this opinion does not seem sufficiently sustained. The Appendix and two final leaves are found in this copy though they are usually wanting.

— Erotemata (Gr. Lat.) et alia Opuscula. Venet. apud Aldum. (S. a.) 4to. R. M.

Second Aldine Edition. "Cette seconde edition d'Alde moins complete que celle de 1512 est certainement imprimée entre 1501 et 1503." Renouard.

LASCO. Brevis et dilucida de Sacramentis Ecclesiæ Christi tractatio, in qua et fons ipse et ratio totius Sacramentariæ nostri temporis controversiæ paucis exponitur, per J. a Lasco, Baronem Poloniæ. Londini, per Stephanum Myerdmannum An. 1552. 12mo.

The author a learned and distinguished Reformer had addressed a letter from Emden to Princess Elizabeth in 1545, which was subjoined to Bullinger de Sacramentis 12mo. Londini 1551. He was driven from Emden on account of his religion and came to England in 1550 with P. Martyr, M. Bucer, and P. Fagius. Being made Super-Intendant of the foreign protestant churches in England, he printed this work "de Sacramentis" which even in Strype's time had become so rare that on that account, Strype in his Ecclesiastical Memorials printed the Translation of Lasco's long Dedication to K. Ed. 6th. The present copy has the autograph of the author who gave it to his brother Christopher. According to Herbert's Ames Myerdmann only printed six books. Many interesting circumstances concerning John a Lasco will be found in Strype's Life of Cranmer and in his Ecclesiastical Memorials. See also Edward VI. p. 220.

printed many of the early works on the Reformation,) is both scarce and interesting, from the letters in the Appendix, viz., those of Lady Jane Gray, H. Duke of Suffolk, J. Aylmer, Ri. Bishop of Ely, T. Lever, Parkhurst, Jo. Jewell. The above letters addressed to H. Bullinger, are followed by "Bullingeri Testimonium Anglis datum Tiguri, 1554."

The author was of such singular reputation that he was called by his countrymen "divino;" he published two volumes of "Conceptos" devenus (says Brunet) tres rares. LILIUS, ZACHARIAS. Orbis Brevariium, fide, compendio, ordineque captu ac memoratu facillimum. Impressit Florentiæ, Antonius Misco-minus, MCCCCLXXXIII. 4to. R. M.

It should appear that this early geographical treatise, now rare, had been of some repute, for Panzer enumerates four early editions of it. Panzer, I. 420.

LILLY, JOHN. Euphuës. The Anatomy of Wit. Wherein are contained the delights that Wit followeth in his youth by the Pleasantnesse of loue. and the happinesse he reapeth in age, by the perfectnesse of Wisdome. By John Lyly, Master of Art. London, by Tho. East, for Gabriel Cawood, 1581. 4to. Bl. L.

“This is undoubtedly the First Edition, and is so described by Herbert’s Ames, Oldys and Brydges Cens. Lit. VII. 141, though Watt supposes from the Title Page that a prior edition had been printed in the preceding year, but no such was I believe ever seen or heard of. No book has fallen more low from its first high repute than Euphuës. This edition is very uncommon.” MS. Note.

— Euphuës. The Anatomy of Wit. London, by G. Eld, for W. B. and to be sold by Arthur Johnson, 1617. 4to. Bl. L.

— Euphuës and his England. Containing his Voyage and Aduentures: mixed with sundry pretty discourses of honest Loue, the description of the Country, the Court, and the manners of the Ile. London, by G. Eld, for W. B. 1617. 4to. Bl. L.

— Euphuës and his England. London, by J. H. for James Boler, 1631. 4to. Bl. L.

— Monarchy or no Monarchy in England. Grebner his Prophecy concerning Charles Son of Charles, his greatnesse, victories, conquests, &c. London, for H. Blunden, 1651. 4to.

LILYE, WILLIAM. Gul. Lillii, olim Scholæ Paulinæ apud Londinum moderatoris, de Latinorum nominum generibus, de verborum præteritis et supinis regulæ non minus utiles quam compendiosæ cum annotat. T. Robertsoni Eboracensis et Auctario. Basileæ, per Jo. Bebelium et And. Cratandrum, 1532. 4to.

W. Lilye the famous Grammarian was the first master of St. Paul’s school, founded in 1508, by Dean Colcet. Lilye died of the Plague, 1522. In 1532 Robertson printed this Commentary upon Lilye’s Grammar, which is now very rare. Robertson was made Archdeacon of Lincoln by his patron, Bishop Longland, to whom he dedicated this work, and was afterwards Dean of Durham. Tanner, Bib. Brit. p. 481. Wood’s Athenæ Oxon. by Bliss, I. p. 24 and 320.

LIVIUS. Titi Livii Patavini Historiarum Decades III. ex recognitione Joannis Andreae Episcopi Aleriensis. Romæ, per Conradum Sweynheym et Arnoldum Pannartz, circa MCCCCLXIX. Fol.

FIRST EDITION. PRINTED UPON VELLUM. This copy of Livy, printed by Sweynheym and Pannartz at Rome, circa 1469, is the only one known to exist upon Vellum. It appears by the arms on the first page of the History to have been taken off for Pope Alexander VI. when Vice Chancellor of the Roman See and Governor of the Monastery of Soubiaco where these printers took up their abode and introduced the art of printing into Italy. Pope Alexander VI. took the name of Borgia from his uncle Calixtus III. who made him Cardinal, and he was by Sixtus IV. made Abbot of the Monastery of Soubiaco. The letters L. B. below the arms are probably in reference to his being of the house of Lenzoli by the father and that of Borgia by the mother. This volume was afterwards in the Benedictine Library at Milan, from whence at the French Revolution it was sold to the Abate Canonici at Venice, and was purchased from him by Mr. Edwards the bookseller, at whose sale it was bought by Sir M. Sykes. It was afterwards in the possession of Mr. Dent, and Messrs. Payne and Foss, from whom Mr. Grenville purchased it. It is in the original richly gilt binding.

period. It is also in its original embossed binding and was in the College of the Jesuits at Erfurd.

“This is a beautiful presentation copy in the original binding, ruled, and with coloured plates, given to me by the Duke of Sutherland, May, 1836. Blaise Vigenere, born in 1523, died in 1596, was a learned and laborious translator of Cæsar, Philostratus, Livy, and other works. Dacier, and some other literati preferred him to Amyot, and his translation was reprinted in 1614, 1629 and 1637, but Amyot's translations are still sought after in preference to those of Vigenere.” MS. note.

This Romance, by the Author of the Trionfi di Carlo, is so rare, that Count Melzi quotes it and correctly describes it, only from Quadrio's account of it. Renouard supposes that Manutius did not know the edition by Robortellus of 1554, nor the Ambrosian MS. on which it is founded; but Toup in his preface to Longinus gives his reasons for believing that Manutius had the use of the Ambrosian MS. as well as of that of Cardinal Bessarion.

The two large maps in this copy are very rarely found in the book. This is the original edition with eight plates complete.

Quinto decimo Kal. Octobres. 4to. Eighty-two leaves, the forty-fourth being blank. Bl. L. G. M.

This book is of the greatest rarity, being the first book printed at Lyons. It had belonged to the Abbé Rive, who says he had several times refused the offer of 60 Louis for it. See Chasse aux Bibliographes, p. 169, 243, 312, 314. See also Achard Cours Elementaire de la Bibliographie I. p. 171. The only other copy we know of this very rare book was bought by Mr. Payne at Chamberry. See Brunet, vol. II. p. 377.

— Incipit Liber miserie condicionis humane et alii Tractatus a Lothario dyacono cardinali, qui postea Innocencius (III.) Papa appellatus est. S. l. et a. 4to.

This extremely rare edition is very accurately described by Seemiller, I. p. 167, who supposes it to be printed ante annum 1476. Panzer, I. p. 85, gives exactly the same description and attributes it to the Strasbourg press, and observes that the type resembles that of Eggesteyn, but does not appear to be his.

— Lotharii postea pape innocencii tercii Liber de miseria humanæ condicionis.—Vita Udonis Episcopi. Explicit miserabilis vita ydonis episcopi. S. l. et a. 4to.

Forty-seven leaves, twenty-six lines on a full page. B. M.

This is the only edition which contains the account of the miraculous life and death of Bishop Udo, one of the most extraordinary of all the miracles of the Roman Catholic Church. There does not appear to be any notice of this early edition in any of the bibliographical books.

— *Spurcissimi Sathanæ litigacionis infernalisque nequicie procuratoris contra genus humanum coram domino nostro Jhesu cristo agitate, Beata virgine maria ejus matre pro nobis advocata et comparente, Liber. This is the first book known to be printed at Vienne in Dauphiny, and is of the greatest rarity.

LOUIS XI. Chronique Scandaleuse, see Chroniques, p. 145.

— Le Cabinet du Roy Louis XI. contenant plusieurs fragmens, Lettres missives, et secretes Intrigues du Regne de ce Monarque, et autres Pieces tres curieuses, et non encore veues. Paris, chez Gabriel Quinet, 1661. 12mo. R. M.

This collection of original papers is valuable; so much so that Godefroy availed himself of them in his edition of the Memoires de Commynes.

LOVAT, MATHIEU. Histoire du Crucifiement exécuté sur sa propre personne, par Mathieu Lovat, communiqué au public dans une lettre de Cesar Ruggieri, docteur en Médecine, a Venise, 1806. 8vo.

LOVELACE, RICHARD. *Lucasta. P. L. (Dudley-Posthumus Lovelace.) London, 1660.

Frontispiece by Faithorne. 12mo. In 1 vol. G. M.

It is so rare to find the Elegies and all the three plates, that a copy of this description sold at Bindley's for eleven guineas.

LOW COUNTRIES. A tragical historie of the troubles and civile warres of the lowe Countries, otherwise called Flanders. Translated out of French into English, by T. S. London, by John Kyngston, for Tobie Smith, (1581.) 4to. Bl. L.

King of Great Britain, &c. hath made in Holland, from the 25th of May to the 2nd of June 1660, rendered into English from the original French. Hague, by Adrian Vlack, 1660. Plates. Fol. R.

This was published in Dutch, French and English.

Hoc Conradus opus Sweynheym ordine miro.

Arnoldusque simul pannartz una æde colendi.

Gente theotonica romæ expediere sodales.

MCCCCLXIX. Fol. R. M.

FIRST EDITION. See Brunet II. p. 380. but he is mistaken in saying that this is the rarest of the four Latin Authors with a date, published by Sweynheym and Pannartz in 1469. The Cæsar and Livy are much rarer.

— Pharsalia. Mediolani, Ant. Zarotus, MCCCCLXXVII. Fol. G. M.

"Editio Rarissima. There was a copy in the Crevena Library. There is a copy at Blenheim. I know of no other in England. "De Mediolancensibus duabus uno eodemque anno prolatis non liquet quoniam neque ipsas vidimus, nec lectionum nacti specimina sumus." Martyni Lagund Epist. p. 63." MS. note by Mr. Heber.

— Pharsalia cum vita ejusdem. Impressum est hoc opus (Venetiis) per Juvenem Guerinum. MCCCCLXXVII. Fol.

It does not appear distinctly from what prior edition this is printed, but several valuable readings in it have much contributed to its estimation. Oudendorp consulted it and quotes a letter from Spanheim to Heinsius in which he prides himself upon having it.

— Pharsaliæ Libri cum vita ejusdem ex comment. antiquiss. S. I. et a. (sed Veronæ, circa 1479.) Fol. R.

This uncommon edition is noticed by Panzer IV. 155. Dennis Supp. Pars II. 606. Pinelli II. 340. No. 4677. Morelli observes "ex hac editione vix unquam Lucanum reperire est; et hæc editio Bibliographos præcipuos latuit." It is certainly printed at Verona in the same character, and flourished ornaments, as the Æsop of 1479. See Æsop.

— Venetiis, apud Aldum, mense Aprili, 1502. 8vo.

Very fine copy with the old stamping on the leaves.

Mendez Typ. Esp. p. 266. dwells upon the very great rarity of this book, which was unknown to N. Antonio, Sarmiento and Beyer, "esta edicion es tan rara y desconochida como los Trabajos de Hercules." It appears to have been bound up with this latter book though the Trabajos were by a different author, Enrique de Villena. See Brunet, N. R. vol. II. p. 328. where the following account is given of this work.

"Cet opusculc renferme des dialogues entre Alphonse de Carthage, eveque de Burgos, Lopez de Mendoza, marquis de Santillane et Jean de Mena, trois personnages qui etoient deja morts a cette epoque."

LUCIANUS. Luciani Samosatis Opera omnia (Græce). Florentiæ, mccccxvi. Fol. R. M.

FIRST EDITION. In the controversy respecting the unknown printer of this edition it is ascribed to the Juntas by Maittaire I. p. 65. Crevenna Cat. IV. 227. Laire II. 215. Bandini puts it among the Juntas dubias p. 257. Audiffredi Ed. It. p. 351. with Amoretti contends against ascribing it to Junta.

In a single sheet Specimen of an account of early Classics in the Bodleian Library of which sheet only twelve copies were printed in 1816 or thereabouts, it is suggested with great appearance of probability that it was printed by Alopa; the characters exactly resembling those of the Scholia in the Capital Letter Apollonius Rhodius.

— Que (sic) hoc volumine continentur. Luciani Opera. Icones Philostrati. Ejusdem Heroica: Ejusdem Vitæ Sophistarum. Icones Junioris Philostrati. Descriptiones Callistrati, (Græce.) Venetiis, in ædibus Aldi, 1503. Fol. R. M.

Most probably some copies were purchased by the Junta and a Title Page, and Philostratus and some other Opuscula were added by the Junta to these remaining copies.

— Dialogi et alia multa Opera. Imagines Philostrati. Ejusdem Heroica. Ejusdem vitæ Sophistarum. Imagines Junioris Philostrati. Descriptiones Callistrati, (Græce). Venetiis, in ædibus Aldi, et Andreae Asulani soceri, 1522. Fol. R. M.

On the title page of this most splendid copy is written, "amplissimo clarissimoque viro D. D. viro Lescalopio D. de St. Just in suprema curia Galliarum præsidi æquisimo meritissimoque J. Bourdelotius D. V."

— Opera, (Gr. Lat.) ex versione Joannis Benedicti, cum notis integris variorum; accedunt inedita scholia in Lucianum ex bibliotheca I. Vossii. Amst. P. et J. Blaëu, 1687. 8vo. 2 vol. R. M.

The former owner of this very rare book in his MS. note calls it "the first book printed at Cambridge." It would be more correct to call it one of the first. Herbert quotes seven books printed by Siberch in 1521, without the addition of any month named, so that it seems difficult, if not impossible, to ascertain which of them is entitled to priority; but to make this list of seven Herbert disjoins the two works, which in this copy are evidently printed together. The Title Page announcing both, and the signatures being continued through both. L. G. de Saona, Cantab. 1478, Fol. is said to be in Bennet Coll. but the word is compilatatum not impressum, so that the date is no doubt that of the compilation of the book, see Henry Bullock.

This edition by Avancius is described by Renouard as "excessivement rare," but he very properly observes that the subsequent edition of Aldus under the inspection of Naugerius in 1515, is an improved edition.

— De Rerum Natura Libri VI. Impressum, Florentiæ sumptibus Philippi Giuntae, Anno Salutis, 1512. 12mo. R. M.

— An Essay on the first book of Lucretius interpreted and made English Verse by J. Evelyn. London, 1656. 12mo.

“12 May, 1656, was published my Essay on Lucretius with innumerable errata, by the negligence of Mr. Triplett, who undertook the correction of the press during my absence. Its ill success at the printer's discouraged me with troubling the world with the rest.” Evelyn's Diary, 4to. vol. 1, p. 291.

The frontispiece engraved by Hollar was designed by Mr. Evelyn's Lady.

The three articles above-mentioned are bound together in 1 vol. They are on Large Paper, which is very rare, and not even mentioned by Brunet.

These are bound together in one Vol. uniformly with the preceding, but they are not on Large Paper, and probably do not exist in that state.

"This edition is not found in Panzer, neither have I seen any notice of it." MS. note.

A Manuscript list of the contents of the volume, of which this formerly formed a part, mentions Eusebius and Bede as being bound with it. It is in the same type.

This is generally considered as an edition of the Historia septem Sapientum Romæ, but it differs so much from it as to be almost a separate work.

LUNA, MIGUEL DE. *La Verdadera historia del Rey Don Rodrigo, en la qual se trata la causa principal de la perdida de Espana, y la conquista que della hizo Miramolin Almançor Rey que fue del Africa, y de las Arabias, y vida del Rey Jacob Almançor. N. Antonio says of the Author of this Romance, "Ex Arabico Abucacini transcripsisse in vernaculam linguam videri voluit." See also Brunet, N. R. who thus speaks of it. "Cette histoire est interessante et a eu beaucoup de succes. Cependant on la regarde, generalement comme un Roman compose par Michel de Luna, et non point traduit de l'Arabe, ainsi que le portent le titre et la souscription."

This is the best edition; it is rare, particularly with the second volume.

Collation. Title Page and Authoris Protestatio two leaves. Epistle dedicatory to Gregory Joyce, six leaves. A-H in eights. Together seventy-two leaves.

At the end is inserted in MS. a Copy of a different printed Dedication by Lynch to D. de Biqueneul, with the same date as that to Joyce 25th Sept. 1668. This was found in an imperfect copy, wanting the head, the Title Page and the Epistola, which were imitated by Harris from the present copy for Mr. Thorpe.

The following is the MS. note of Mr. Heber, to whom this book had belonged. "I believe this to be the rarest volume in existence connected with the History of Ireland, and the Portrait of Bishop Kirwan prefixed totally unknown."

The Biographer, John Lynch, Titular Arch-deacon of Tuam, fled out of Ireland into France, after the surrender of Galway to Cromwell, and is the author of a scarce and well known work "Cumbrensis everus." The present copy belonged to the celebrated collector, Major, of Mechlin, see his Catal. (No. 9272) at whose auction in 1767 it passed into the hands of Vastoven, of the same town; on his death, it was again brought to the hammer in 1810 (Lot. 3600 in Cat.) and purchased by the individual from whom I obtained it.

I never saw or heard of another copy. In Osborne's Cat. for 1748, (p. 341, No. 12,814) there is one to be found (perhaps Coxeter's) marked one shilling. It does not appear whether it had the head. It may however have belonged to the Harleian Catalogue, see Cat. II. No. 9697."

This copy has been called unique; one is to be found in the Harleian Cat. I. No. 8375, but whether or not this (purchased by Mr. Heber at the Roxburghe Sale, see Heber, Cat. Part IX. No. 1712) is the same it is not easy to discover. The Poem is in sixty-one eight-line stanzas. It is mentioned in Herbert's Ames, p. 616, (1546,) but evidently not seen by him. As the Title to the Tragedy states that it was written by Lyndesay in 1546, but it nowhere appears that the volume was printed in that year.

"This is a volume of extraordinary rarity, curiosity and interest. In the improved edition of Pinelo's Bibliotheca Oriental y Occidental (a work very sparing of commendation) it is styled "Curiosa y Unica." Col. 673. Further interesting particulars occur in Machado's Bibl. Lusitana under Pedro de Magalhães de Gandavo, and in the Catalogue dos Autores prefixed to vol. I. of the Dict. of the Portuguese Academy. Lisboa, 1793. Davila in his Teatro das Grandezas de Madrid, entitles this work "muy erudita y curiosa," p. 504. Magalhaës has the reputation of being one of the most elegant writers in the Portuguese Language. See the Verses of Camoens prefixed to this curious volume. No copy of this early account of Brasil is believed to exist in any of the public Libraries in this country, and it is supposed never to have occurred in any Sale here, nor will it be found in the best foreign catalogues of Voyages and Travels: and what is still more remarkable, no mention is made of it in Southey's history of the Brazils. It is worth adding, that the Count de Funchal ambassador from Portugal to this Country, and a man of much literary research, had never been able to see a copy of this book either in Portugal or in any Country that he had visited." This work of an Irish author, with several curious particulars relating to Ireland is very uncommon.

In the preface to the reader it appears that the author was "Hugh Cavellus." See Harris's Ware III. p. 103. for an interesting account of Hugh Mac Caghwell, Titular Abp. of Armagh and a list of his works, but this is not mentioned.

"Of the present French copy with the date of 1480, but without Printer or place, no trace can be found by me in any of the Bibliographical books or catalogues, so that it cannot but be considered as a book of singular rarity, evidently unknown to Van Praet, see his note at p. 261 of his 'Recherches sur Louis de Bruges.' He supposes it to have been originally written in French." MS. note.

MANILIUS. Marci Manilii Astronomicon Libri quinque. Ex officina Joannis de Regiomonte, habitantis in Nuremberga oppido Germaniæ celebratissimo. (circa MCCCC-LXX.) 4to. B. M.

FIRST EDITION. Upon the comparative priority of this edition and that of Bologna great uncertainty has arisen. See Bibl. Spencer, II. 164. The opinions however of Stoerber, Count Reviczky, Boni and Gamba, which give the priority to this edition, seem to be best founded. This is a fine copy of an exceedingly rare and valuable edition. "Liber aureus" says Stoerber.

This history is highly esteemed, and deservedly so in Spain, and has been reprinted in 4to. 1797, "por la rarezza de sus exemplares." The author served as Commissary in the royal army in Grenada. It is a strange mistake in the accurate N. Antonio, who in his Bibl. Nov. II. 49, supposes this to be the third vol. of Marmol's Africa, with which it has no manner of connection, and Meuselius, VI. i. 297, has adopted nearly the same error in calling this the fourth volume of Marmol's Africa. The new edition, Madrid, 1797, is the reprint of this, with the addition of an Index, and a plan of the city of Grenada.

By William Martyn Esquire, Recorder of the honourable Citie of Exeter. London, for James Boler, 1628. Portraits. Fol.

"This copy is very much to be valued on account of its containing detached heads by Elstracke, which are almost always found on the printed Text. Horace Walpole, p. 18, of his history of engravers quotes Vertue for saying that these are the heads used by Holland in his Basiliologia, (with the exception of that of the Title Page and of William I.) No complete copy of the Basiliologia is now to be found except at Paris.

This first edition of Martyn ends with the reign of Henry VIII. A second edition was printed in 1638, continued on to the death of Queen Elizabeth; but the plates of that edition are much worn." MS. note.

FIRST EDITION. PRINTED UPON VELLUM. This book printed upon Vellum is so rare that only one other copy of it is known, which from the Meermann Collection has passed into that of Sir J. Thorold. The two leaves of Errata found at the end of the Paper Copies were not printed upon Vellum, and are not in either of the Vellum copies. In this copy the Errata have been corrected. The two first books of the Epigrammata only had been already published at Florence sine anno, and by Silber, Romæ, 1490. Audiffredi, Ed. It. 358-391. Panzer, I. 426. II. 499. IV. 323.

— Epigrammaton Libri duo ad Laurentium Medicem. S. l. et a. (sed Florentiæ.) 4to. G. M.

These two books of Epigrams were also printed at Rome in 1490, and it seems doubtful which of these two is the first.

“ This is a book of great rarity, being the first edition of any of the Poems of Flaminius : he being then only 22 years old, as he tells Ludovicus Speranza, to whom he dedicates them. Flaminius at the same time likewise edited for the first edition the Nænia of Marullus, which he dedicates to A. P. Bocchius. This is the only copy that I have found in many years.” MS. note.

This is a very interesting and rare account of the voyage, arrival and marriage of Philip to Q. Mary on the 25th July, 1554. It is without date, but was probably printed at Rome 1554.

Ou sont amplement refutées les calomnies faulces, et impositions iniques, publiées par un livre secrettement diuulgé en France, l'an 1572 touchant tant la mort du Seigneur d'Arley son espoux, que autres crimes, dont elle est faulcement accusée. It is a translation with some additions of a very scarce attack upon Q. Elizabeth, Lord Keeper Bacon, and Secretary Cecil, printed 1572 under the Ironical Title of "A treatise of Treasons against Q. Elisabeth." Both the English and French editions are now become exceeding scarce.

Paris, pour Guillaume Bichon, 1589. Wood cuts. 16mo.

The four folding wood cuts at the end are rarely found. The two parts are sometimes transposed, and supposed by some to be two different works—they are in fact but one, the second being mentioned on the title page of the first, though they are separately paged.

MASUCCIO, SALERNITANO. Massucii Salernitani de quiquaginta (sic) argumentis moralibus ad illustrissimam Hyppolitam. Qui finise il Novellino con le L. May, regnante excellentissimo ligurum principe D.D. J. Galeazo Duce Mediolani. Fol. R. M.

This second edition of Masuccio is represented by Gamba and most of the Bibliographers to be of almost equal rarity with the first edition of 1476.

— Novellino. Venetiis, per Baptistam de Tortis, MCCCCLXXXIII. Fol. B. M.

Collation. A to L. in sixes. M 8. Seventy-four leaves, and the Register on half a-page.

This is the Third Edition, and is very uncommon. The original story of Romeo and Juliet is in Masuccio, the scene is laid at Sienna instead of Verona. The novel was copied by Luigi da Porto, and published 1535, hence inscribed as an historical event by Girolamo della Corte in 1594. It is evident that the story is imaginary, and invented by Masuccio. From Luigi da Porto the subject was taken by Bandello 1554, and translated into French by Boias-teau, and into English by Painter, in his Palace of Pleasure. In 1562, Mr. A. Brooke published the Tragicall History of Romeus and Juliet; from this and Painter, Shakespeare has constructed his play. Neither Capell, Malone or Steevens appear to have known that the story originated with Masuccio.

The author holds a high rank among the early Spanish poets. Born in or about 1412, he died in 1456. He wrote this poem in honour of the poetical coronation of his patron, Lope de Mendoza, the celebrated Marquis of Santillana, and (as may be seen in his Preamble 1<sup>mo</sup>.) he mis-called it, first "calamicleos," thus whimsically uniting the Latin word "calamitas," with the Greek word "κλεος" or gloria. The first edition of this poem quoted by Bibliographers has the date 1499, fol. but no account has been traced of the present Edition, which is quite unknown to Brunet, Ebert, Salva, and the older Bibliographers.

Written in Spanish by Don. A. de Mendoza. Translated into English (by Sir Richard Fanshawe), Anno 1654. London, by William Godbid, 1670. 4to. R. M.

"This translation is said to have occupied Sir Richard during his confinement in Tankersley Park, Yorkshire, by Oliver Cromwell after the battle of Worcester. It was privately printed, and the translator announces in his preface that he rather suffers its being printed for a few friends than that he consents to it. His other translations of the Lusiad, &c. &c. are well known."

Fol. Two leaves.

This Spanish account of an entertainment given by James Ist. to their ambassador pending the treaty for the marriage of P. Charles, is curious and rare. The frontispiece shews the personages at dinner, as they are described in the narrative.

MENDOZA. Proverbios de don yñigo lopez de Mendoza; con un tractado de remedio contra fortuna que esta puesto en fin. Fenescen los Proverbios de don yñigo lopez de mendoza marques de Santillana con el tractado de providencia contra fortuna; compuesto por Diego de Valera. S. a. 4to. Seventy-four leaves. Bl. L. R.

Inigo Lopez de Mendoza, better known as Marquis of Santillana, born 1398, died 1458. He is celebrated as one of the earliest Spanish Poets, particularly for his "Elegy on the Marquis of Villena," and "El Doctrinal de Privados." This collection of Proverbs and Maxims was written for the P. Royal of Castille, afterwards Henry 4th. This original edition is very scarce; it is one of the three editions belonging to Gr. Mayans, but unknown to Sanchez in his Coleccion de Poesias Castellanas. Vol. II. p. 23, &c.

This is a book of extraordinary rarity, being the first edition of the Refranes, so rare that Sanchez never saw it, and only quotes it from Don G. de Mayans y Siscar, "son," says Sanchez, I. p. 45, "la primera coleccion de Refranes que se conosce, non solo en la lingua Castellana sino tambien en las demas vulgares de la Europa." Mr. Grenville has never heard of another copy.

This English translation, as appears by the preface, was undertaken at the earnest request of Master Richard Hakluyt, before the publication of Hakluyt's Collection. Escrita por el mismo, a peticion d' el Illustriss. Señor Duque de Medina Celi. En Anvers, por Christoforo Plantino, circa de la Bolsa nueva, 1555. 12mo. R. M.

This discourse was preached in the Chapel at Kingston before Philip and Mary by Barth. de Carranga, surnamed Miranda, of the order of St. Dominique. He was afterwards Confessor to Queen Mary and elevated to the Archbishoprick of Toledo by Philip II. ; but being accused of heresy by the Inquisition and summoned to Rome, was confined ten years in the Castle of St. Angelo. His innocence being proved, he was liberated, but only survived seventeen days.

MIRROR FOR MAGISTRATES. A Myrroure for Magistrates. Wherein may be seen by example of other, with howe greuous plagés vices are punished : and howe frayle and vnstable worldly prosperitie is founde, even of those, whom Fortune seemeth most highly to fauour. London, by Thomas Marshe, 1559. 4to. Bl. L. G. M.

Edited by William Baldwin.

This First Edition of the First Part is of the greatest rarity. The leaves are erroneously numbered both in the Text and the Table, fol. 48 being followed by 59, but the book is perfect.

— A Myrroure for Magistrates. London, Thomas Marshe, 1563. 4to. Bl. L. G. M.

This Second Edition of the First Part is also of great rarity ; it contains in its second part eight additional legends which are not in the first Edition. Lowndes erroneously dates the Second Edition 1568 —there is no such edition.

— The first parte of the Mirour for Magistrates, contayning the falles of the first infortunate Princes of this lande : from the comming of Brute to the incarnation of our sauour and redemer Jesu Christe. London, by Thomas Marshe, 1575. 4to. Bl. L. R. M.

— The seconde part of the Mirrour for Magistrates, conteining the falles of the infortunate Princes of this Lande. From the Conquest of Cæsar, unto the comyng of Duke William the Conquerour. By Richard Webster, 1578. 4to. Bl. L. R. M.

This second part is edited by Thomas Blener Hasset.

This is the rarest of all the parts, when complete as this is. There is but one edition of Blener Hasset.

— The last part (vol. 3.). Newly corrected and enlarged. London, by Thomas Marsh, 1578 (1571.) 4to. Bl. L. R. M.

Collation. * and A. in fours. B-X iv. in eights. (Folios 130-139 are missed.) One hundred and sixty-four leaves.

This is the true edition of 1571, which may be seen by the colophon. This copy, like some others of 1571, has the Title page of 1578. Twenty-nine Legends are recited in the Table at the beginning but only twenty-seven were printed.

These three Volumes form the most valuable and desirable Edition of this popular work.

— The last parte of the Mirrour for Magistrates, wherein may be seene by examples passed in this Realme, with howe greuous plagues, vices are punished in great Princes and Magistrates, and howe frayle and vnstable worldly prosperitie is founde, where Fortune seemeth moste highly to fauour. Newly corrected and amended. London, by Thomas Marshe, 1574. 4to. Bl. L. R. M.

Collation. * and A. in fours. B-X in eights. 168 leaves. * contains the Title Page, Epistle and Table. A. 1 and 2. Baldwine to the Reader. A. iii. commences with Text, fol. 1, continued to X. viii. fol. 162.

The Poem on "the Lord Hastings" is very different in this edition, from that in the edition of 1571-8, which gives to this an additional interest and value.

— The Mirrour for Magistrates.

Newly imprinted, and with the addition of diuers Tragedies enlarged. London, by Henry Marsh, 1587. 4to. Bl. L.

This edition is edited by John Higin. An account of the various editions, in the handwriting of Ritson, is inserted in the volume.

MIRROUR OF NEW REFORMATION wherein Reformers by their owne acknowledgement are represented ad vivum. The beauty also of their handy-worke is displayed. Second Edition augmented. Printed by John Cousturier, 1634. 12mo. B. M.

This book is very uncommon though its poetical satires are very dull and prosaical. Beloe, VI. 371, observes that he had only seen one copy. It was probably printed in Flanders for circulation in England.

MIRROUR OF POLICIE. A worke no lesse profitable than necessary for all Magistrates and Governours of Estates and Commonweales. London, Adam Islip, 1594. 4to. R.

First Edition, rare.

MISSIONARIII SINENSES. Informatio pro Veritate contra iniquiorem famam sparsam per Sinas cum Calumnia in PP. Soc. Jesu, et detrimento Missionis. Communicata Missionariis in Imperio Sinensi. (Canton.) Anno 1717. Fol. R. M.

"I have seen no other copy of this work which appears to have been printed at Canton upon India Paper. It is a curious account of a dispute between the Jesuits in China and their Visitor, and shews the intolerant spirit of Pope Clement XI. who ordered the Missionaries to publish at Peking a Papal Decree against the rites and ceremonies of the Chinese church." MS. note.

The work seems printed from wooden blocks instead of from moveable types.

MONTEMAYOR. Los siete libros de la Diana de Jorge de Montemayor, dirigidos al muy Illustre señor don Joan Castella de Vilanova, señor de las baronias de Bicornb, y Quesa. Impresso en València. S. a. 4to. B. M.

First Edition, extremely rare, and unknown to all the Bibliographers. The edition of the Diana, cited by all authors as the first, is dated 1562, and contains an Elegy on his death by Francisco Marcos Dorantes, not in this, which is dedicated by Montemayor himself to Don Juan Castella de Vilanova, Lord of the Baronies of Bicornb and Quesa, in the province of Valencia, whom, in some verses after the dedication, he calls his Mæcenas. Montemayor was killed in Piedmont in February, 1561. This edition therefore is as early as 1560, or earlier. Lope de Vega in his Laurel de Apolo, says, that Montemayor's Piramo was "Hurtado o traducido del Marino." Marino was not born until eight years after the death of Montemayor! Conde, Cat. No. 655. "I possess two other editions later than the present but earlier than all mentioned by the Bibliographers, both dated, 1561, 16mo, one printed at Barcelona, the other at Antwerp; they correspond with the present in containing the Author's dedication to his patron, Don Juan de Castilla de Vilanova, and have at the end the poetical History of Alcida and Sylvano, which is not in this." Note by Mr. Heber.

— Los siete Libros de la Diana. Añadido se agora la historia de Alcida y Sylvano compuesta por el mesmo autor. En Anvers, en casa de Juan Stelsio, 1561. 12mo. G. M.

Salva, mentions a Valladolid Edition of 1562, as the first.

MOSCHOPULUS, MANUELIS. De ratione examinandæ orationis libellus. (Græce.) Ex bibliotheca regia. Lutetiæ, Rob. Stephanus, 1545. 4to. R. M.

There being two authors of this name, one of Crete and the other of Byzantium, it seems a matter of doubt to which of them this work should be attributed, more especially as both of them were grammarians of the end of the Fourteenth Century.

Mountagu, born at Dorney, Bucks, in 1578, was made Bishop of Chichester in 1628, and died Bishop of Norwich in 1641. He wrote an answer to Selden on Tithes, and several learned works—his tract called "Appello Cæsarem" was made the ground of an Impeachment in the H. of Commons by Pym in 1626, but it was not carried up to the Lords. The present work is not of common occurrence.

MOUNTAGUE, WALTER. The Shepherd's Paradise. A Comedy. Privately acted before the late King Charles, by the Queene's Majesty, and Ladies of Honour. London, for Thomas Dring, 1629. 12mo.

This play is of rare occurrence: the Queen and her ladies having acted it for their amusement were censured for it by the Puritans, and most directly so by Prynne in his Histrio-Mastix, 1633; a censure however which Prynne afterwards retracted in his very rare tract of "Defence of Stage Plays." 4to. 1649. The date of this play is probably a mistake of 1629 for 1659 as the Title Page could not have said the late King Charles in 1629.

"The second volume of this Work is of great rarity. The whole impression was probably suppressed by an order of the Inquisition at the suggestion of some of the priests who accompanied the author on his mission to China. Nic. Antonio, Bib. N. Hisp. vol. I. p. 328, says, he had heard that the second volume was printed, but had never seen it. 'Sæpe sese ad alterum volumen Controversiarum super Sinica hac missione refert, quod nondum vidimus. Id tamen formis jam editum fuisse audimus; sed contemplatione cujusdam religionis missionariorum publicari adhuc prohibitum.' Brunet says, 'Le second volume de cet ouvrage interessant a été supprimé par l'Inquisition.' In the Biographie Universelle, vol. XXX. p. 608, it is said, 'Le premier volume fut, dit on, suivi d'un second imprimé a Madrid en 1679 qui contenait le detail des Controverses debattues entre les Jesuites et les Dominicains; mais les Jesuites profiterent de l'éloignement de l'auteur pour en obtenir la suppression qui fut faite avec tant de rigueur qu'on n'en connoit pas un seul exemplaire.' To this it may be added, that no copy can be traced in this country, except the present; it is not in the King's Library or British Museum." MS. note.

The present copy, hitherto unknown to all bibliographers, has the same number of leaves, and corresponds entirely with the other edition. Pepwell the printer is noticed by Herbert, Ames, I. p. 310, but this book, though bearing his name, was unknown. It appears to be a doubt whether Pepwell was himself a printer. On the recto of the last leaf is ‘Lenuoy de Robert Copland lymprimeur;’ two stanzas of seven lines in French: on the reverse ‘Ballade Royale,’ one stanza of eight lines in French, followed by ‘R. Coplande to thauctour,’ one stanza of seven lines, in English, then ‘En passant le temps sans mal pencer,

Quod Copland.’

R. Copland was servant to W. de Worde, and no doubt was the printer, and probably Pepwell purchased some copies, to which his name was added.” MS. note.

Collation. A-D. in eights. Thirty-two leaves.

This Extraordinarily rare Interlude is evidently printed abroad—In the Biog. Dram. the date of 1574 is assigned to it. See Herbert's Ames, p. 1640, where a full account of it will be found. See also Brydges's Restituta, IV. 140-146.

N. in the household of Love. Translated out of Base Almaine. No place or date. 4to. Bl. L.

This singular book of the early youth of Henry Nichols the Founder of the Family of Love, is noticed in Herbert's Ames, p. 1636, note. This copy belonged to Herbert, whose Autograph is on the first leaf.

NICHOLS, JOHN. Bibliotheca Topographica Britannica, with the continuation. London, 1780-1815. Plates. 4to. 10 vol. in 11.

The Large Paper of Nichols's Leicester-shire is very rare, but it is excessively rare indeed to find the original edition of vol. 4, part 1; nearly the whole were destroyed at the fire at the author's Printing office in 1808, and it contains a leaf which, by some accident, was omitted in the reprint, and is therefore not described in Mr. Upcott's British Topography. See vol. 4, part 1, p. 420-1. "A farther addition to Framland Hundred." The present is a remarkably fine copy. Beautifully bound in russia with joints.

Paris, chez Gilles Beys, 1583. 4to. G. M.

It appears by the dedication to the Duc de Joyeuse that Nicholay (premier Cosmographe du Roy) had made a map and a memoir on Scotland during his residence there, and that he printed this, together with a Translation of Lyndsay's navigation of Ja. 5, at the request of Dudley afterwards D. of Northumberland who was ambassador from Henry VIII. to the French King in 1546. Lyndsay's Navigation was translated into English from this book in 1710. The map was reprinted by Adair in 1688. It is of great rarity.

This rare historical work is written in bad Latin, but is very interesting on account of its being cotemporary with the facts that it relates, the last of which is the death of Charles Duke of Burgundy before Nancy in 1477. The type appears to be that of Reysner who printed about 1478 or 1479—the contractions used are very singular. See Brunet N. R. vol. II. p. 488.

The above is one of the rarest of all voyages, particularly with the map; De Bure, Brunet, and even Dr. Dibdin, in his Library Companion, all assert that the Chart is engraven on wood, whereas it is on copper.

— An exact description of Essex by John Norden, 1594. MS. Fol. B. M.

The autograph Manuscript of the author. The first leaf, contains the Title, as above, encircled with an elegantly designed border in gold and colours, which is followed by a folded coloured map of the County, with the names of the places beautifully written, "Johannes Norden delineavit 1594." The next leaf contains the Arms and Quarterings of the Earl of Essex richly emblazoned. Then follows the Dedication to Robert Earl of Essex, &c. two leaves, which is succeeded by the Text (containing some few emblazoned Coats of Arms) in twenty-two leaves.

"This very curious manuscript is thus alluded to by Gough, who had never been able to trace in what collection it was. 'A MS. survey of this county by John Norden in a thin folio in Sir John Turner's Library is frequently referred to by succeeding writers, none of whom tell us where it now is.' See Gough's Brit. Topog. vol. 1. p. 343. In a note he says, it was first mentioned by Weever, p. 654. It appears afterwards to have belonged to Sir Robert Naunton."

This manuscript of an old and accurate Topographer, who died at an advanced age about 1626, was evidently prepared and perfected for the Press. This description of Essex has recently been printed by the Camden Society from another MS. in the possession of the Marquis of Salisbury, dedicated to Lord Burleigh by the author.

London, 1720. Plate inserted. 8vo.

Isaac Reed's Copy. The map and plans referred to in this work never were engraved. See Gough's Brit. Topog. At the end of the volume I. Reed has inserted some extracts from the Northampton Chronicle &c. relative to matters connected with the County, among others "An Account of a Roman pavement found at Oundle."

NOVELLE. Le Ciento Novelle Antike (publicate da Carlo Gualteruzzi). Impresso in Bologna, nelle Case di Girolamo Benedetti, nell'anno, MDXXV. del mese d'Agosto. 4to. B. M.

"It is generally supposed that Bembo suggested to Gualteruzzi who was one of his most intimate friends to publish the "Novelle Antiche." The supposition is strongly confirmed by the following words which occur in a letter of Bembo to Camillo Delminio, then at Bologna, dated 18, November, 1523. 'Ho avuto per mano di messer Romulo l'esempio delle antiche Novelle che m'avete fatto scrivere di buonissima mano, e, com' io veggio molto corretto. Bembo, Lettere vol. 3. Libro 3. Now this passage shews that the Novelle Antiche had not been printed before the 18th November, 1523, and there is every reason to believe that the Bologna edition of 1525, is the first of that work." Note by Mr. Panizzi. This edition is extremely rare.

— Le Ciento Novelle Antike. (publicate da Carlo Gualteruzzi). S. l. et a. 4to. B. M.

This edition is perhaps of still greater rarity than the preceding. It appears to have been unknown to Borromeo, to the Della Crusca and to most of the Collectors. Panzer and Audiffredi both mention a Florence edition in the monastery of Ripoli 1483, but Follini has recently proved by the examinations of the Leiger Books of that Monastery that the Ciento Novelle must be the Decameron published in the Monastery of Ripoli, c. 1483, of which Lord Spencer possesses a perfect copy.

— Libro di Novelle, et di Bel Parlar Gentile. Nel qual si contengono Cento Novelle altravolta mandate fuori da Messer Carlo Gualteruzzi da Fano. Di nuovo ricorrette. Con aggiunta di quattro altre nel fine. Et con una dichiarazione d'alcune delle voci piu antiche. Firenze, Giunti, 1572. 4to. B. M.

V. Borghini was the editor of this edition which differs essentially from the two which precede it, and has the addition of four novels. The Italian critics differ in their judgement of it. V. Follini speaks of it as corrupted rather than corrected by Borghini. It was however reprinted with notes, at Florence 1778, and Turin 1802.

— Novella di Lionora di Bardi et Hipolito Bondelmonti. Finis in Triviso a di VIII. Novem. MCCCCLXXI. 4to. Fifteen leaves. R. M.

First Edition. "This edition is from the press of Gerard de Leeu; it having been compared with an edition of Mercurius Trismegistus printed at Treviso in 1471, with the name of that printer subjoined." MS. note by Dr. Dibdin.

— Novella di Lionora de Bardi ed Hippolyto Bondalmonte. S. l. et a. Twelve leaves. 4to. G. M.

This is the edition described in Brunet Manuel du Libraire, II. p. 569. and is supposed to be the second edition. It is rare.

— Incomincia la Historia de Hipolito (di Bondelmonti) e Lionora (di Bardi.) Finis MCCCCLXXV. Adi x April. In Triviso. G. F. (Gerard de Flandria.) 4to. G. M.

Collation. Fifteen leaves numbered in Roman Characters on the top of each leaf except leaf vi.

This third edition is certainly rarer than either of the preceding. It does not appear to be mentioned in any of the Bibliographical Books.

— De la Ingratitudine Novella. — Della Avaritia de Prencipi Moderni — Novella della Eloquenza, (di M. Marco di Mantova.) S. l. et a., (circa 1550.) 12mo. R.

— Novella del Grasso Legnaiuolo. Cosa molto piacevole: e ridiculosa. Firenze, appresso Stefano Fantucci Tosi, 1616. 4to.

This novel is first found as an addition to the Giunti Edition of Boccaccio, 1516. Then again in the Aldine Boccaccio of 1522, and again in the Giunti Novelle Antiche of 1572. This edition of 1616 was not known to Borromeo.

— Novelle due esposte nello stile di Giovanni Boccaccio. Dall' Accademico Oscuro. Venetia, appresso Christoforo Tomasini, 1630. 4to.

"The first of these two Novels is in 'Sansovino,' Day 4. Nov. 3. In 'Novelle Amorese degli incogniti,' p. 168, Nov. 23. In 'Malespini,' Tom. II. Nov. 40. In 'Boccaccio,' Day 7, Nov. 8, and in a great many other collections of stories. The original is in the Hætopades. 'The Cowkeeper who cut off his wife's nose.' The second Novel seems to be a literal version of the Ephesian Matron in Petronius." MS. note by Mr. Douce.

"This first edition of the Novus Orbis is very desirable, and very difficult to find. The Title Page announces a Map, with a description of the Map by Munster, but no map has as far as I can learn, ever been seen in this edition. Neither do Camus, Meuselius, Maittaire, Panzer, or any of the Bibliographical books appear to have noticed in this and in the subsequent editions the constant deficiency of the map."

"I have a copy of the second Edition (printed at Paris in the same year, 1532, but six months after this) with the original map with the date of 1531, and I have in the Basil Edition of 1555, a different map, apparently also made for that edition." MS. note.

To this fine copy is added the first Latin Edition of the Letters of Cortez, 1524.

— Editio secunda. Parisiis, apud Antonium Augurellum, impensis Jo. Parvi et Galeoti a Prato, 1532. Fol. G. M.

See note to the preceding article. The Map is thus addressed to the reader, "Orontius. F. Delph. ad lectorem."

"Offerimus tibi, candide lector, universam orbis terrarum descriptionem, juxta recentium Geographorum ac Hydrographorum mentem, servatam Æquatoris, tum parallelorum ad eas quæ ex centris proportione, gemina cordis humaniformula in plano co-extensam: quarum læva borealem, dextra vero Australem Mundi partem complectitur. Caroli Cæsaris auspicio in comitiis Augustanis instituta. Basileæ, apud Jo. Hervagium, 1555. Fol.

This edition has five additional articles not to be found in the two prior editions at Basle and Paris of 1532.

The Map in this edition is entitled, "Typlus Cosmographicus Universalis."

Of this strange composition there does not appear any notice. It is a romance singularly written in a language made up of Spanish and Italian.

NUÑEZ, ALVAR. La relacion y comentarios del governador Aluar Nuñez cabeça de vaca, de lo acaescido en las dos jornadas que hizo a las Indias. Valladolid, por Francisco Fernandez de Cordoua, 1555. 4to. Bl. L. G. M.

This original Spanish Edition is of the greatest rarity. The Relacion is translated and inserted in the third volume of Ramusio, p. 310, but the Comentarios are omitted. The author was the grandson of Peter de Vera, who discovered the Canary Islands; he describes himself as one of the only four survivors of the expedition of Navaez to Florida in 1527. He went governor to Rio de la Plata in 1540. N. Antonio, I. 61. Meuselius, VI. i. 367.

Collation. a-y. vii. in eights, one hundred and seventy-five leaves.

"This edition of 1492 by Verard appears to be unknown to all the bibliographical books: Van Praet was entirely ignorant of it, for in his Catalogue des Livres sur Velin, vol. I. p. 338., he boasts of three copies on Vellum in the Royal Library of the Verard Edition of 1494, which he calls the second edition, and he quotes the first from Lair's Index, II. 17. as printed at Rouen, 1490. Van Praet here makes two mistakes, for the edition quoted by Lair has no date, tho' Lair suggests that it is circa 1490, and even granting the priority of Lair's Rouen edition, the vellum copies in the Paris Library of Verard 1494 are evidently of the third edition, this copy of 1492 Verard being at least the second, if not the first. A third mistake of Van Praet, is in his stating from the prologue of the book that it was composed in 1467; the prologue says 'a este premierement commence a escrire' and Van Praet never looked at the last leaf where it is said '1469 le xxii de may fut premierement consumme ce present livre,' by which it plainly appears that the work was begun in 1467 and finished in 1469. The work was of very high reputation, very frequently reprinted in the original French, and appeared in an English translation from the Press of Wynkyn de Worde in 1502 and again in 1506. A vellum copy of Verard's Edition of 1494 is in the British Museum. The present rare and perhaps unique Copy of 1492 was given to me by my dear Nephew Hugh Cholmondeley 1837." MS. note.

FIRST EDITION. This first edition of the Argonautica and Hymni of Orpheus is very rare and highly esteemed by Herman, Gesner, and all the best commentators, some of whom attribute the edition to Lascaris. The type is evidently the same with that of the First Homer.

OVIDIUS. Publii Ovidii Nasonis Opera. Hujus opera omnia medea excepta et triumpho Cæsaris; et libello illo pontica lingua composito, quæ incuria temporum perierunt; Balthesars Azoguidus Civis Bononiensis honestissimo loco natus, primus in sua civitate artis impressoriæ inventor, et summa necessitudine mihi conjunctissimus ad utilitatem humani generis impressit. MCCCCLXXI. Fol. 2 vol. R. M.

"FIRST EDITION. The priority of this edition is sufficiently ascertained; but it is remarkable that except this copy, not one has been found perfect. The other five copies known, viz. that in the Royal Library at Paris (wanting 2 leaves.)—that in Lord Spencer's—that of Count D'Elci—of Lord Pembroke and of our Royal Library, are every one of them more or less defective. The present copy having been carefully collated is perfect and correct. It was purchased from the Collection of the Canon Devoti and perfected by Mr. Payne. There is a remarkable error of the press which we believe has been hitherto unnoticed; that the "De Medicamine Faciei" is printed immediately after the "Philomena" but without any title and the "De Nuce" which ends the 2nd. vol. has the title belonging to the Medicamine instead of its own title, De Nuce, which is altogether omitted, and precisely the same error has been copied into the second Azzoguidi Edition of 1480. The order of the pieces as bound in this copy is the same as that of the Tabula, except that the Fasti and Metamorphoses have changed places for the better division of the volumes." MS. note.

— P. Ovidii Nasonis Opera Omnia, cum epistola Jo. An. Episcopi Aleriensis in Cyrno. (Romæ, per Conradum Sweynheym et Arnoldum Pannartz,) MCCCCLXXI. Fol. 2 vol. R. M.

"This copy of the rare second edition of Ovid is differently arranged in two volumes from that mentioned in Bibl. Spencer. II. 195, in 3 vol. and from Audiffredi's in 2 vols. It is quite perfect, and is thus arranged.

Vol. I. Metamorphoseos, libri XV. Factorum libri VI.

Vol. II. Elegia. Amorum libri III. Artis Amandi libri III. Pulex. De Remedio Amoris libri II. Consolatio ad Liviam. Heroides. Nux. Medicata facies. In Ibin. De Tristibus libri V. De Ponto, lib. IV. Sappho Phaoni ends the volume.

This makes the fifteenth Epistle of the Heroides in the more modern editions of Ovid; why it appears here detached and with so decisive a Finit in large letters, it is not easy to explain. Maittaire, Audiffredi, Laire and Reviczky have all of them dwelt upon the rarity of this edition, supposed to be from a different MS. from Azoguidi's of 1471." MS. note.

— Publii Ovidii Nasonis Opera. Jacobus Rubeus, natione gallicus honestissimo loco natus ad utilitatem viventium nec non et posterorum impressit. Nicolao Marcello Duce inclyto Venetiarum, MCCCCLXXIV. Fol. 3 vol. in 1. R. M.

Harleian Cat. III. No. 1102. Pinelli, No. 9677.

— Opera Omnia. Bononiæ, per me Baldaserem de Azzoguidis, MCCCC-LXXX. Fol. 3 vol. R. M.

This second Edition of the Ovid of Azzoguidi, still more rare than the rare first, has the addition of the Consolatio ad Liviam, not in the edition of 1471. The only two copies in addition to the present in England are that noticed in Askew's Catalogue, and that of the Bodleian. This latter copy was purchased out of the library of the learned Dr. Edward Barnard, about 1698, when the books selected for the Bodleian were prized by Humfrey Wanley. It stands in Wanley's MS. list thus, Ovidius edit. Bonon. 1480, Charta magna 00.04.00.

In our copy of Askew's Catalogue with prices and some names in MS. the Azzoguidi Ovid of 1480 is put down to the name of Aubery, and sold for £10 15s. The present copy is in the most beautiful condition, with illuminated capitals. The following is an accurate collation of this most valuable book. The signatures are quite unaccountably confused; the error of misplacing by the printer the title of Medicamine and placing it over De Nuce has been copied verbatim from the same error in the press in the edition of 1471.

Opus impressum Bononiæ, per me Baldaserem de Azzoguidis civē Bononiensem. Anno incarnationis MCCCCLXXX.

— Opera Omnia, cum Epistola Boni Accursii Pisani. Impressum Venetiis, per Bernardinum de Novaria, MCCCCLXXXVI. Die xiii Januarii. Fol. containing 372 leaves, the 66th blank. R. M.

Laire, Index II. 100, "Editio elegans et completa." Panzer III. 232, describes the Epistola Boni Accursii Pisani as beginning the first volume; in this copy it begins the second, and seems by the numerals to be more properly placed there. By Fossi's account the second volume was printed before the first, which would naturally account for the Epistola being found there. Fossi, II. 264. "This edition is so scarce that Maittaire never saw a copy of it." Harleian Cat. III. No. 826.

— Metamorphoseos Libri xv. cum Epistola Boni Accursii Pisani Ciccho Simonetæ. Mediolani, Impressum per Magistrum Philippum de Lavagnia Mediolanensem, MCCCCLXXV. die 5 Junii. Fol. R.

Like most of the early editions of the separate and entire works of Ovid, which use and time have almost destroyed, this has become extremely rare. See Denis, Supp. I. p. 52. Pinelli, II. No. 4805. Panzer refers also to Saxius, I. p. 562, where this edition does not appear.

— Metamorphoseos Libri xv. nunc primum in lucem dati castigatissimi. Florentiæ. per heredes Philippi Junta, 1522. 8vo. R.

— Le Metamorfosi di Ovidio, ridotte da Gio. Andrea dell' Anguilara in Ottava Rima. Con le Annotationi di M. Gios. Horolloggi, et gli Argomenti di M. Fr. Turchi. Di vaghe figure adornate (da G. Franco.) Vinetia, Bern. Giunti, 1584. 4to. L. P.

— De Arte Amandi et de Remedio Amoris Liber. Liber publici nasonis Ovidii de remedio Amoris feliciter explicit. Impressus in Augusta per Gintherum Zainer ex Reutlingen progenitum, Anno dñi MCCCCLXXI. xv kal. februarii. Fol. R. M.

This is an edition of great rarity. It has often been considered as the first edition, because it was printed in Feb. 1471, but as the year then began in March, the Bologna edition is prior to it. It is extremely difficult to find a copy of this edition.

— De Remedio Amoris Libri cum Commento. Publici Ovidii nasonis divini poete de remedio amoris libri cum commento familiarissimo parisius exarati per Felicem Balligault, in domo collegio belvacensi contigua commorantem feliciter expliciunt ex die xxiii novembris, MCCCXCIII. 4to.

Panzer, II. p. 309, quotes the Paris edition of 1495, and Maittaire p. 591, and p. 605, is referred to by him, but neither Panzer, nor Maittaire, nor any other bibliographer appears to have known this edition of 1493, with the Commentary of Ægidius Delphus.

— Heroides et Amatoria. Florentiæ, per heredes Philippi Junta Florentini, 1528. 12mo. R. M.

— All Ovids Elegies: 3 Bookes, by C. M(arlow.) Epigrams by I. D(avis.) At Middlebourgh, n. d. 16mo. B. M.

— Certaine of Ovid's Elegies by C. Marlow. At Middlebourgh.— Epigrammes and Elegies by J. D. and C. M. At Middlebourgh, n. d. 12mo.

The reprint. Only fifty copies printed, and only twenty-five of them for sale.

— Publii Ovidii Nasonis Fastorum Libri VI. P. Ovidii nasonis fastorum liber sestus et ultimus impressus Mediolani per magistrum Antonium Zarotum Parmensem, anno domini MCCCCLXXVII die primo aprilis. Fol. R. M.

There appears to be some confusion in the bibliographical books as to the editions of Ovid by Zarotus, from their not having sufficiently distinguished those of his editions with a date from those without a date. The Opera Omnia were printed in folio, with the name of Zarotus, sine loco et anno. Panzer, II. 94. Maittaire, p. 770. But this edition of the Fasti April, 1477, and an edition of the Metamorphoses, Sept. 1477, are different and separate editions. See Panzer, II. 29, 94. The editions of Zarotus either with or without date, are of rare occurrence.

“The editor has given to this book a Title Page of ‘Ovidii Nasonis,’ though in his Epistola Dedicatoria he very properly contends that nothing in the book is written by Ovid. The chief things in it are—Maximiliani Amores, Pamphili Mauriliani (not Saxi, as quoted by Panzer) Ars Amandi, Pseudo-Ovidii Vetula. There are four early editions of Pamphilus, s. l. et a., the first probably by Jenson.” MS. note.

PACE, RICHARD. Richardi Pacei, invictissimi regis Angliæ primarii secretarii, ejusque apud Elvetios oratoris, de Fructu qui ex doctrina percipitur, liber. Basileæ, per Jo. Frobenium, 1517. 4to. G. M.

The author, Wood says, was one of the lights of learning in his time, commended by Erasmus, Tonstal, Latymer, Colet, and many other eminent scholars of his day. He was employed by Henry VIII. in several embassies, which he performed with very great honour to himself and the English nation. After which he settled at Oxford and became Dean of St. Paul's. Stowe, in his annals, also speaks very highly of him, and states that he was sent to Rome to make friends in behalf of Cardinal Wolsey's being made Pope. The above tract, appears to be in the British Museum and in the Bodleian Library.

PADILLA, PEDRO DE. Thesoro de varias Poesias. Impresso en Madrid, en casa de Francisco Sanchez Año 1580. 4to. R. M.

— Romancero, en el qual se contienen algunos successos que en la jornada de Flandres los Españoles hizieron. Con otras historias y poesias diferentes. Impresso en Madrid, en casa de Francisco Sanchez, 1583. 12mo. Y. M.

This account of the defeat of Charles VIII. of France near the river Tarro in 1495 is very curious and rare. The French historians give the victory to Charles VIII.

PAEZ VIEGAS, ANTONIO. Principios del Reyno de Portugal. Con la Vida y hechos de Don Alfonso Henriquez su primero Rey. Y con los principios de los otros estados Christianos de Hespaña. Lisboa, por Paulo Craesbeeck, 1641. Fol.

Nic. Antonio Bibl. Hisp. Nov. I. 149, quotes this book as having been praised by Cardosius; but does not appear to have himself seen it.

From Meuselius, V. ii. p. 152, we learn that the author was in the confidence of the D. of Braganza afterwards K. of Portugal, and that his work was of the highest merit. "Liber diligentia haud vulgari, magna cum prudentia, atque idiomate Hispano culto ac dilucido conscriptus, in quo auctor potissimum id agit, ut scriptorum Hispanicorum commentum, Portugalliam ab initio feudum fuisse Regni Legionis, convellat."

R. M.

This is a book of great rarity and is quoted from Maittaire by Panzer who had not seen any copy, and no other appears to have occurred but Mr. Heber's.

The author, a Dominican, from his reputation as an Oriental Scholar, was appointed by Leo X. Hebrew Professor, and he printed a Hebrew Dictionary and published a Latin Bible in 1528; he died at Lyons in 1541. The printer of the Isagogæ uses the Aldine Dolphin.

PALAFIX Y MENDOZA, JUAN DE. Virtudes del Indio. S. l. et a. 4to. B. M.

"Palafix fut un second Las Casas en exposant au gouvernement espagnol la malheureuse condition des Americains, et en demandant l'Amelioration. Son zele et son humanité se montrèrent sur tout dans cet exposé adressé au roi, où il a fait ressortir avec beaucoup d'habilité le bon naturel des natifs. Voilà pourquoi l'ouvrage a reçu le titre de Virtudes del Indio: mais comme de tout temps veritas odium parit, il a été nécessaire de le faire imprimer secretement (vers 1650), sans aucun titre, et sans indication de lieu ni de date. N'ayant point été reimprimé depuis lors, ce livre est devenu un des plus rares de ceux qui ont rapport a l'Amerique." Catalogue de Salva, no. 3653, as quoted by Brunet Nouvelles Recherches, III. p. 2. This is the copy so described.

"Edition de la plus grande rareté et dont on a long temps ignoré l'existence." Brunet, N. R. III. p. 7.

"In the Prologo of the first volume will be found thirty-two verses containing the following acrostick, 'Luis Hurtado Autor al lector.' There is therefore an end of Mr. Southey's ingenious reasonings, attributing this work to Moraes, in the Portuguese language, an opinion in which he was confirmed by Antonio, and by the editor of the Portuguese edition of 1785. The present Spanish edition however of 1547, with the name of its Spanish author is prior by ten years to that of Moraes, which puts the question at rest. Cervantes, knowing nothing of this Spanish edition, attributed the work, according to Faria de Sousa, to John II. of Portugal." MS. Note.

— Terceira (e quarta) parte da Chronica de Palmeirim de Inglaterra na qual se tratam as grandes cavallarias de seu filho o Principe Dom Duardos segundo et dos mais Principes et cavalleiros que ãa Ilha deleytosa se criaraõ. These third and fourth parts are printed in the Roman Letters, the third contains one hundred and seventy-nine leaves, not including the Title, and one leaf containing the Prologue and Privilege for the two parts; the fourth contains eighty-three leaves with no title. The four last leaves are printed in a smaller type than the body of the book.

peraldo Laudimante, et Primaliaõ et de outros muitos principes et cavalleiros famosos de seu tempo. Compоста, por Balthasar Gonçavez Lobato. Lisboa, por Jorge Rodrigues, 1602. Fol.

These two parts are also printed in the Roman character. The fifth part contains one hundred and forty-two leaves, and two containing the Title, &c. The sixth contains ninety-eight leaves, the title being on the first with the Text, and concludes thus. "Acabouse a Chronica do muyto esforçado Cavalleiro Dom Clarisol de Bre-tanha neto de Palmeirim de Inglaterra, que he a quinta et sexta parte, a os tres dias do Mes de Novembro; Na era de 1602, Annos. Foy impressa esta sexta parte, em casa de Antonio Alvarez."

The four latter parts are also so rare that Mr. Southey says, "I have never been fortunate enough to meet with either."

This is the third Edition, but by a mistake in his Catalogue Salva printed the date 1533, and that error is adopted by Brunet. This is the copy from Salva's Cat.

After the Colophon there is a leaf containing some Latin verses by J. Auger, transmereñ, bac. in praise of the Romance.

“When Q. Elizabeth issued an Edict against the Catholics in 1591, the Jesuit Parsons answered it in the above Tract under the assumed name of Andreas Philopater; being afraid of printing this in England, he made a translation of the greater and chief parts of the Latin into English, printed it abroad and had it circulated with a title and preface bearing an appearance so far of being friendly to Lord Burleigh, whose acts and character are bitterly attacked in the text. This English tract is extremely rare.” MS. note.

Wood, Athenæ Oxon., says that this book was written by Parsons the Jesuit, that the printer of it was hanged, drawn and quartered, and a law passed to make it High Treason for any man to have it in his possession.

Herbert's Ames, III. p. 1726, contradicts this last assertion; he says also that a MS. note in his copy describes the book as written by Cardinal Allen, Sir F. Englefield and Father Parsons.

The Genealogical Plate is very rarely to be found in the few copies now remaining of this book.

Meuselius, V. ii. 238, has misdated this book calling it 1617.

PERI, GIO. DOMENICO. Fiesole Distrutta. In Firenze, Nella Stamperia di Zanobi Pignoni, 1621. Plates. 4to. G. M.

This book is little known. The frontispiece and head by Callot are among the rare prints by that master. Quadrio calls the author one of the inventors of the Favola Cacciatoria for the Italian Theatre, on which he represented il Siringo. Siena, 1636. 12mo. Quadrio, III. ii. 385-419. IV. 681.

In Bibl. Spencer. vol. VI. p. 319, this book is deemed one of the rarest in the world. It is supposed to be printed by Azzoguidi from the similarity of the type to his Ovid, and may probably be the first book printed at Bologna. Perotti was born in 1430 and died in 1480.

PERRAULT. Les Hommes Illustres qui ont paru en France pendant ce Siecle; avec leurs Portraits au naturel. Par Mr. Perrault de l'Academie Française. Paris, 1696-1700. Fol. 2 vol. in 1. G. M.

This singularly fine copy has the double plates of Arnauld and Pascal, and the printed text of their lives. Mr. Cracherode's select copy had the leaves supplied in MS. The rarity of these copies is noticed by Brunet III. 43. All the heads have the shields of Arms coloured except Poussin, vol. I. p. 89. J. Varrin, vol. II. p. 85.

PERRINCHIEFE, RICHARD. The Syracusan Tyrant: or, the life of Agathocles. With some reflexions on the practices of our modern usurpers. London, by J. F. for R. Royston, 1661. 8vo. L. P. R. M.

Collation. The title is followed by nine preliminary leaves containing a Dedication to J. Salisbury, a preface in Welch, Commendatory Verses and the Welch Alphabet. The text commences with Page 1, and concludes on Page 103 followed by two supplemental leaves.

"One copy only has been hitherto known of this Welsh Grammar which is quoted by Lowndes from the Harleian Library, vol. II. No. 15650, whether this from the Heber collection is the same or a different copy may be a question. A portion of the 10th leaf is wanting." MS. note.

PERSIAN EMBASSY. Relation oder Sigentliche Erzählung auss Gottorff. (Relation of the arrival of the Persian Legate from Ispahan, 1600 German Miles from Gottorff with two letters from the King of Persia to the G. Duke of Russia). S. l. 1639. 4to. G. M.

PERSIAN LANGUAGE. The Seven Seas. هفت قلم A Dictionary and Grammar of the Persian Language by His Majesty the King of Oude. In Seven Parts. Printed at his Majesty's Press in the City of Lucknow, 1822. Fol. 2 vol. R. M.

A magnificent Book.

PERSIUS. Auli Persii Flacci in Satyrarum librum prologus constans metro iambico trimetro. S. l. et a. Fol. Eleven leaves. R. M.

"This rare edition of Persius was printed at Paris, 'dans la maison de Sorbonne.' A Juvenal was printed with it originally, as may be seen by a copy in Magdalen College Library Oxford. This edition, perhaps the earliest, was not known to Panzer, Santander and Brunet." Bib. Sp. II. 221. This copy is remarkable in not having the Tetrastichon printed after "finit feliciter" as in Lord Spencer's and in the Magdalen Coll. copies; this Tetrastichon was probably subjoined in the later copies of the impression.

— Satirarum liber feliciter incipit. S. l. a. et typ. n. (sed Argentorati per Martinum Flach.) Fol. Twelve leaves.

This rare edition concludes with the line Explicit ignotus per totum Persius orbem, which looks like Editio Princeps, but this seems questionable. A variety of opinions respecting it are briefly quoted in Bib. Sp. II. 223.

PERSON, DAVID. Varieties, or A Surveigh of rare and excellent matters, necessary, and delectable for all sorts of persons. London, 1635. 4to.

PERU. La Conquista del Peru. Llamada la nueva Castilla. La qual tierra por diuina voluntad fue marauillosamente conquistada en la felicissima ventura del Emperador y Rey nuestro sennor : y por la prudencia y effuerço del muy magnifico y valeroso cauallero el Capitan Francisco Piçarro Governador y adelantado de la nueva Castilla, y su hermano Hernando Piçarro, y de sus animosos capitanes y fieles y efforçados companieros, que con el se hallaron. Seuilla, en casa de Bartolome Perez, 1534. Fol. Eight leaves. Bl. L. G. M.

Heber, to whom this book belonged, knew of no other copy in this Country. It is the earliest Spanish Account of Peru : and there are many variations from it in the Italian translation by Ramusio, III. p. 371. ed 1565. Meuselius, III. ii. p. 19. mistakes in quoting this from Schwindel Thesaur. Biblioth. I. p. 166.

It is noticed by Panzer, VII. p. 124.

— Copia delle lettere del prefetto della India la nuoua Spagna detta, alla Cesarea Maesta rescritte. Senza nota. 4to. Two leaves. B. M.

This appears to be the first account sent to Europe of the taking of Atabalipa by Pizarro. It is very curious and interesting from the exaggerated statements of the prodigious wealth of Atabalipa which very soon cost him his life in the bloody hands into which he had fallen. It is very rare.

— Nouvelles certaines des Isles du Peru. Lyon, chez Francoys Juste, 1534. 16mo. Bl. L. Eight leaves.

“ Morceau curieux escrit un an après le supplice d'Atabalipa, et qui renferme des details precieux sur Pizarro. Le Perou fut decouvert en 1525. Ce morceau composé sur les lettres de Pizarro fut imprimé en 1534.” Note by Aimé Martin in the volume.

This is the original Italian edition, from which a Latin version was printed in the following year, Moguntia, 1598. Meuselius had not seen this first Edition, but he quotes it, II. ii. p. 195.

— Sonetti, Canzoni e Trionfi di Francesco Petrarca. MCCCCLXXIII. Nicolao Marcello Principe regnante, impressum fuit hoc opus foeliciter in Venetiis. Finis. Fol. B. M.

PRINTED UPON VELLUM. This is the only copy that is known upon Vellum. It was in the Collections of Cardinal de Brienne, Mac Carthy and Hibbert. It is generally attributed to the press of Jenson though Gamba supposes it may be that of Bart. di Cremona. Professor Marsand the able Editor of Petrarca says of it, “dee tenersi in molta stima per la straordinaria attenzione con cui fu eseguita.”

FIRST ALDINE EDITION. PRINTED UPON VELLUM. This copy of Petrarca illuminated by Lavinia Countess Spencer, and decorated in the binding with a head of Earl Spencer, cut by Marchant, was given by them to Mr. Grenville in 1796.

— Opere Volgari di Messer Francesco Petrarca. (Hieronymo Soncino.) In Fano Cæsaris adi VII. de Julio, 1503. 12mo. R. M.

This is a very rare edition, and held in high estimation. Crescimbeni gives a long account of it, which is quoted in the Petrarch of Comino of Padua, 1722. It is also curious from the attack of Soncino upon Aldus for having usurped the name of Aldino for the Italic type which Soncino says was not his (Aldus's) invention. Renouard in his Annales des Aldes alludes to this attack, and disproves it very satisfactorily.

"I can find no trace of this very rare edition in Panzer, Gamba, Pinelli, Crevenna, Haym, Marsand, or any other Bibliographical book. Marsand quotes one of 1500 by Bap. de Zanis vi. Marci and another date at the end xxviii. Aprilis. He quotes also an edition by Nic. Zoppino 1521, but the present edition of 1500 seems to me to be entirely unknown. Haym quotes an edition by Nic. Zoppino, 1536." Note by Mr. Grenville. This edition contains the wood cuts of Zarandrea Venetiano. See Brunet, N. R.

— The Tryumphes of Fraunces Petrarcke, translated out of Italian into English by Henrye Parker knight, Lorde Morley. London, by John Cawood, n. d. Wood cut Capital Letters. 4to. A-N in fours. Fifty-two leaves. Bl. L. G. M.

Parker was called to the peerage by Henry VIII. and died 1556, 'vir literis clarus ac generis nobilitate conspicuus.' Balæus, p. 106. See concerning him Bliss's Wood's Athenæ, I. p. 114." MS. note.

— De Remediis utriusque Fortunæ. S. l. a. et typ. n. Fol. G. M.

First Edition. Attributed by Ebert to the press of Eggesteyn. It had been erroneously ascribed to Fyner of Eysslingen. See also Bibl. Spencer. VI. 227.

— Secretum Francisci Petrarche de Florentia Poetæ laureati de Contemptu mundi. Incipit Fœliciter. F. Petrarchæ de Vita Solitaria Liber. S. l. a. et typ. n. (forsan Argentorati.) Fol. One hundred and thirty-nine leaves. R. M.

These two books, evidently by the same printer, have much divided the Bibliographers in their opinion. Panzer in his Index, V. 356, supposes them to have been printed at Strasburgh. Brunet ascribes them to Mentelin. See also Bibl. Spenc. IV. 535, VI. 226.

In this copy, between the two books, bound in one vol. is a single leaf of "Francisci Petrarche ad Lombardum a Serico, Patavinum, Vite hujus compendiosa Descriptio," and at the bottom of the leaf at the end of the letter, Ulme Impressum per Johannem Zeiner de Reutlingen. S. a. which is not noted in any book. The character is quite different from the rest of the volume.

FIRST EDITION, and extremely rare.

— Incomincia il Libro de gli Homini Famosi compilato per lo inclyto Poeta Miser Francisco Petrarca ad instancia di Miser Francisco da Carrara Signore di Padua.

Illustres opere hoc viros perite, Francisci ingenium vetat Petrarchæ Non scripto calamo anserisve penna. Antiquarius istam aere Felix Impressit : fuit Innocens Ziletus Adjutor sociusque rare Polliano Verona ad lapidem jacente quartum ; MCCCCLXXVI. Kl. Octobris. Fol. Two hundred and thirty-six leaves.

FIRST EDITION. The present copy of this rare book agrees with the description of that in the Cassano Library, p. 87. Undoubtedly the four preliminary leaves as they are described by Dibdin, are the first four leaves of the complete book, which is of great rarity. See Brunet, Manuel, vol. III, p. 59.

— Raccolta di Edizioni di tutte le opere del Petrarca e di Enea Silvio Piccolomini, Pio II. Venezia, 1822. 12mo.

PETRONIUS. Dion Chrysostomus Prusensis philosophus ad Ilienses. Ilii captivitatem non fuisse aperte demonstrat. Franciscus Filelfus e græco traduxit. Petronius Arbiter Satyricus. Impressum Venetiis, per Bernardinum Venetum de Vitalibus, Anno domini, MCCCXCIX. 4to. G. M.

This had always been considered as the 1st edition of Petronius till Reviczky contended for the priority of one subjoined to Plinii Panegyricus, with a date of 1476. Dibdin maintains that the date is spurious, but that it is a prior edition to that which follows Dio. This question however is of little importance, because these two editions are word for word and letter for letter the same. They are both very rare, and the Dio Chrysostom is often wanting, though the general title names both authors.

— Satyricon. Adjecta sunt veterum quorundam poetarum carmina non dissimilis argumenti: ex quibus nonnulla emendatius, alia nunc primum eduntur. Cum notis doctorum virorum. Lutetiæ, apud Mamertum Patissonium, 1587. 12mo. L. P.

“Peter of Blois, preceptor to King William II. of Sicily in 1168, was invited to England in the following year by Henry II. who employed him, and made him Archdeacon of Bath, his letters contain interesting anecdotes of those times; he appears to have been much connected with John of Salisbury, and died about 1200, having been a celebrated writer of his time. He wrote also a continuation to Ingulphus. See Rerum Angl. Scriptores, Oxon. 1684, and Leyser attributes to him, p. 758, a Poem, “de Eucharistia.” See concerning him Lyttelton’s Henry II. II. p. 325. Balei, Cent. 13, cap. 21. *Alfordi Ann. Eccl. Collation. A-FF. in fours. One hundred and sixteen leaves.

“Very rare. Wood’s Athenæ, the old edition, has not furnished much to Sir Egerton Brydges on this subject in his Brit. Bib. II. 392, but in Bliss’s new edition of Wood I, 553, is a more satisfactory note by Haslewood. See also Herbert’s Ames, 612 and 1030, and Warton’s Eng. Poetry, III. 466.” MS. note.

Audifredi Ed. Rom. p. 403, says that he had seen only one copy of this book which wanted the last leaf; he attributes it to the press of Reynard at Rome. Reynard first printed at Trévi. It was in the Pinnelli Sale, no. 8668; in the La Valliere, no. 4428, with the false date of 1474.

— Epistolæ ad Illustrem principem Malatestam per Franciscum Aretinum translate. S. l. a. et typ. n. 4to.

It seems doubtful whether the type of this rare volume is by Reusinger or Ulric Han. Dr. Dibdin inclines to think this is the first edition of the version of F. Aretinus.

“ De Bure and Brunet justly observe that as no copy has ever been found with the life announced in the Title Page which probably occupied the first signature A, it seems evident that the first sheet containing the life had been suppressed.” MS. note.

— Francisci Philelfi Fabulæ. S.
 l. a. et typ. n. 4to. R.

“ These Latin Fables in Elegiac Verse by the famous Francis Philelphus are of most extreme rarity and unnoticed by all his biographers. I know with certainty of only two other copies, one in the public Library at Gottingen, the other in the Mazarine at Paris. There must also be a third in the Imperial Library at Vienna, as Maittaire cites the work, I. p. 776, on the authority of the Bib. Hohendorf (Part II.
 p. 154.) the whole of which collection passed into the Emperor's. Panzer's account, III. p. 160, agrees exactly with the present, except that he makes the volume consist of twenty-four leaves, this has only twenty-three. In all probability it wants the last leaf containing the Colophon given by Panzer as follows :—

Explicunt fabulæ clarissimi Poetæ Phi-lelphi facta Venetiis expensis M. C. 1480.”
 MS. note.

— Conviviarum Libri duo. S. l.
 a. et typ. n. 4to. R. M.

Panzer mentions only two editions, of which this is the first. It is supposed to be of the Milan Press and printed about 1478.

— Epistolæ Familiares. S. l. a.
 et typ. n. 4to.

There is no account in Panzer or any other work of this edition of XVI. books of the Epistolæ Familiares of Philelphus. It was probably printed at Rome at the end of the 15th Century ; the Greek character is remarkable.

 necessity of præ-emption and pourveyance for the King : or compositions for his Pourveyance : as they were used and taken for the Provisions of the Kings household, the small charge and burthen thereof to the People, and the many great mischiefs and inconveniences which will inevitably follow the taking of them away. London, by Richard Hodgkinson, 1663. 4to. L. P.

Of this book, the best work on the subject, the Large Paper Copies are very rare. In this copy will be found the cancelled leaf at p. 311, which rarely occurs.

Lugduni, sumptibus Ant. Jullieron, 1649. 8vo.

"The voyage of this missionary is not of common occurrence, and is very little known in this country. Chardin is quoted in the Dict. Hist. in praise of the author, whom however he contradicts I. 220. tho' it appears he had only seen the French translation. D'Artigny in his Mem. de la Literature and Baudelot de Dairval sur l'utilité des Voyages, both speak of Frere Philippe with praise. So does Richarderie, IV. 374." MS. note.

PHILIPPUS, EPISCOPUS EYSTETTENSIS. Philippi Ecclesiæ Eystettensis xxix. Episcopi, de eisdem Ecclesiæ divis tutelaribus S. Richardo, S. Wilibaldo, S. Wunibaldo, S. Walpurga Commentarius; cum Commentariis Jacobi Gretseri. S. l. a. et typ. n. 4to. B. M.

"This interesting and rare work, privately printed for the church of Eichstadt, has much that relates to the Anglo Saxon King, St. Richard who was father to Wilibald circa 750. Gretser was a learned Jesuit who attacked the history of Thuanus; he probably printed these observations early in the 17th Century, for in his Catalogue of Bishops of Eystett the last named by him died in 1612." MS. note.

PHILIPS, GEORGE. The interest of England in the preservation of Ireland. London, for R. Chiswell, 1689. 4to.

PHILIPSON, N. JOHN. The Heraldic Visitatione of ye Countye Palatyne of Durham in the yeare 1575. Newcastle, 1820. Fol.

Together with a description of the countries, townes, and inhabitants of the same: who set forth on the second of April 1595, and returned on the 14. of August 1597. Translated out of Dutch into English by W. Phillip. London, by John Wolfe, 1598. 4to. Bl. L. R. M.

This translation of the first Dutch Voyage to the East Indies in 1595 is very uncommon. In his dedication Phillip announces a translation of Linschoten, but Wolf who printed Linschoten in the same year does not state whom he employed for that purpose.

PHILLIPS, JOHN. The Life and Death of Sir Phillip Sidney, late Lord gouvernour of Flushing: his funerals solemnized in Paules Church where he lyeth interred, with the whole order of the mournfull shewe, as they marched thorowe the citie of London, on Thursday the 16 of February, 1587. London, by Robert Walde-graue, 1587. 4to. Eight leaves. Bl. L. M.

Dedicated to Lord Robert Devorax, Earle of Essex.

This copy, purchased at Heber's Sale, (part IV. no. 1814), was described in the Catalogue as "BELIEVED TO BE UNIQUE."

PHILLIPS, JOHN. Satyr against Hypocrites. London, 1689. 4to.

"This satyr was written by John Phillips one of Milton's nephews. He describes successively a Sunday as it appeared in the time of Cromwell, a Christening, a Wednesday which agreeably to the custom of that period was a weekly fast; the whole is written with considerable talent and has a strong resemblance to the broadest manner of Chaucer." MS. note.

PHILLIPS, THOMAS. The History of the Life of Reginald Pole. Oxford, 1764. Portrait. 4to. 2vol. in 1.

The examination of the constant Martyr of Christ, John Philpot, Archdeacon of Winchester, at sundry seasons, in the tyme of his sore imprisonment, convented and baited, as in these particular tragedies folowyng, it maye (not only to the christen instruction, but also to the mery recreation of the indifferent reader) moste manifestly appeare. London, by Henry Sutton, 1559. 16mo. Bl. L.

This original edition of the Apologie is of great scarcity, it is not to be found with the examination in Fox's Martyrs. But on account of its great rarity it was reprinted by Strype in his Memorials, App. III. ii. 363. In Strype, III. i. p. 434. is an account of the life and burning of Philpot.

“This translation by Sir Thomas More is exceeding rare, see Stapleton vita Mori, Cap. 2. p. 162. More’s Life of Sir T. More, p. 19. Herbert’s Ames, p. 221. Dibdin’s Typog. Antiq., II. 348.” MS. note.

PIELLEUS, GUILLERMUS, TURONENSIS. De Anglorum fuga et hispanorum ex navarra expulsione opus heroicum. (Poema). Parrhysiis per Anthonium Bonnemere, 1512. 4to. G. M.

This book is of extraordinary rarity. Panzer, VII. p. 571. is the only Bibliographer to whom it appears to be known, and that very imperfectly, as he quotes it from Meuselius who never was able to see a Copy and erroneously imagines it to have been a folio. “Libellus summæ raritatis cujus solus titulus nobis innotuit.” Meuselius, VI. i. p. 233.

PIGAFETTA, ANTONIO. Viaggio fatto da gli Spagniuoli attorno al Mondo, 1536. Descrizione Seconda del sopradetto viaggio, quale scrisse copiosamente messer Antonio Pigafetta. 4to. R.

This early edition is of rare occurrence. Meuselius, II. ii. 17. III. ii. 114. X. ii. 400.

— Primo viaggio intorno al globo terracqueo, ossia ragguaglio della navigazione alle Indie orientali per la via d'occidente fatta del Cavaliere A. Pigafetta sulla squadra del Capit. Magaglianes negli anni 1519-1522. Ora pubblicato per la prima volta, tratto da un Codice MS. della Biblioteca Ambrosiana di Milano e corredato di note da Carlo Amoretti. Con un transunto del Trattato di Navigazione dello stesso autore. Milano, 1800. 4to. L. P.

— Le voyage et navigation, fait par les Espaignolz es Isles de Molucques: des Isles quilz ont trouue audict voyage, des Roys dicelles, de leur gouvernement et maniere de viure, avec plusieurs aultres choses. Paris, par Simon de Colines, s. d. Svo. Bl. L. M.

This rare edition is referred to in Bibl. de Du Verdier, I. 133. "par translateur incertain," but we are told by Meuselius, III. ii. 114. Pinelo, 665, &c. Amoretti in his preface to his edition of Pigafetta, Milan 1800, that this epitome was made by Jacques le Fevre, by order of the Q. Regent, Mother of Francis I. By Amoretti's account this French translation or epitome from the original Italian (given to the Q. Regent by Pigafetta) is the first printed edition. It is very rare. Ramusio tells us that the original Italian being lost while it had been begun to be printed at Rome he had translated the French summary into Italian.

PIGAFETTA, FILIPPO. Discorso sopra l'ordinanza dell' Armata Catholica. Roma, 1588. 4to. R. M.

By the Dedication it appears that in the first days of the appearance of the Pope's Bull in MS. Pigafetta wrote this menacing account of the Spanish Armada. It is of rare occurrence.

— Relatione dell' Assedio di Parigi col Dissegno di quella Citta et de luoghi circonvicini. Roma, Bartol. Grassi, 1591. With map. 4to. G. M.

"Auctor cum Cardinale Cajetano in Franciam venerat." Meuselius, VIII. i. p. 165. Mem. de Villeroy, vol. III. p. 361.

PIGGE, OLIVER. Meditations concerning praiers to Almighty God, for the saftie of England, when the Spaniards were come into the narrow Seas, August, 1588. As also other meditations concerning thanksgiuing, for deliuering England from the crueltie of the Spaniards, and for their meruellous confusion and overthrow. By O. P. London, by R. R. for Thomas Man, 1589. 16mo. A.—D. in eights, thirty-two leaves. Bl. L. G. M.

PIGNA, GIOVAN BATTISTA. I Romanzi, al S. Donno Luigi da Este Vescovo di Ferrara, divisi in tre Libri. Ne quali della Poesia et della vita dell' Ariosto con nuovo modo si tratta. In Vinegia, appresso Vinc. Valgrisi, 1554. 4to. R. M.

This author was attached to and protected by Alfonso II. Duca di Ferrara, he died in 1575. The best account of him is in Quadrio, II. 272. IV. 556-7, his principal work was the Istoria de' Principi d' Este 1570, which he was accused of having pirated from G. Faletti, but Tiraboschi entirely clears him from this imputation.

PILKINGTON, GILBERT. The Turnament of Tottenham. Or, the wooing, winning and wedding, of Tibbe, the reeu's daughter there. Taken out of an ancient Manuscript, and published for the delight of others, by William Bedwell, now pastour there. London, by John Norton, 1631. 4to.

Gough supposes this to have been written by Skelton, as Pilkington is not to be found among the Vicars of Tottenham. See Brit. Topog. I. 541.

PILPAY. Buch der Weisshait oder alten weisen, &c. (The Fables of Pilpay or Bidpay, translated into German.) Gedruht und vollendet, durch Lienhart Hollen zü Ulm, MCCCCLXXXIIII. Wood cuts. Fol. G. M.

This German Translation of these celebrated Oriental Fables is extremely rare. See "Directorium Humanæ Vitæ," p. 204.

PIMENTA, NICOLAUS. Nova relatio historica de rebus in India Orientali a patribus Soc. Jesu, Anno 1598 et 99 gestis. Moguntiaë, ex off. Joannis Albini, 1601. 12mo.

Meuselius who describes this work, II. ii. p. 82, has erroneously said that the History is for 1589 and 1590, whereas it is 1598 and 1599. Pinelo has more accurately described it, p. 71.

PINCIANO, ALONSO LOPEZ. El Pelayo del Pinciano. Madrid, por Luis Sanchez, 1605. 8vo.

A. L. Pinciano Physician to Charles V. wrote this Epick poem on Pelayo, a descendant of the Visi-Gothick Kings.

Bouterweck, I. p. 323, quotes another work of his "Philosophia Antigua Poetica, 4to. 1596," as the first of its kind in Modern Literature, being a Criticism upon Aristotle's Art of Poetry.

PINDARUS. Olympia, Pythia, Nemea, Isthmia, Callimachi hymni qui inveniuntur. Dionysius de situ orbis. Licophronis Alexandra, obscurum poema. (Gr.) Venetiis, in ædib. Aldi et Andreae Asulani, soceri, 1513. 12mo. G. M.

This is the only copy known with Lloyd's Series Chronologica on Large Paper. West had intrusted the improvement of this Series to W. Lloyd, but as it was not ready in 1697, West published his Pindar with the old meagre Series in seven leaves: and when Lloyd's improved Series in nearly fifty leaves was published, so few were printed on Large Paper that it is of the greatest rarity.

First Edition. This first edition is considered by the Spanish Bibliographers as very rare. Pineda much assisted the original work by his arrangement and explanations, though N. Antonio erroneously supposes him only to have printed the MS. as it stood. It is interesting in regard to the manners of Spain at that time.

"I was first indebted to my learned and venerable friend Dr. Routh, the President of Magd. Coll. Oxford, for a knowledge of this rare and valuable translation into Latin by Cornarius, accompanied by his Eglogæ, which to a Platonic student is of the greatest intrinsic importance. Dr. Routh was much gratified in meeting with a copy in the Cat. of Dyer of Exeter, from the valuable library of Portledge in Devonshire. Many years passed before I was fortunate enough to obtain the present, the only one I have since fallen in with, and which belonged to the learned Mr. Sedgwick, whose pencil notes and references are occasionally visible on the margins." MS. note by Mr. Heber.

This edition of Platyna printed at Friuli is rare. There are eighty-nine leaves of text, followed by four leaves of Table and Register. See Panzer, I. 141, who makes eighty-eight leaves, and Brunet Manuel, vol. III. p. 90, who counts ninety-two leaves.

FIRST EDITION. Of all the copies which we have seen of this Editio Princeps, the only one at all to be compared to the present is that which we purchased from Renouard's Library, and which is now in Mr. Botfield's Collection. They are both indeed noble books.

Bp. Dampier very truly remarked that in all the copies of this edition the third page of the Persæ belongs to the eighth page of the Stichus, where it is reprinted in its proper place with a blank verso. Bibl. Sp. II. 243. Fossi, II. 369.

PLINIUS, CAIUS, SECUNDUS. Naturalis Historiæ Libri xxxvii. Venetiis, per Joannem de Spira, MCCCCLXIX. Fol. B. M.

FIRST EDITION. This first edition of Pliny is amongst the rarest and most valuable of the productions of the Fifteenth Century. Only a hundred copies appear to have been printed. It was unknown to Hardouin the editor of Pliny, and Ernesti speaking of it says, "vitiose expressa multa, sed tamen multa meliora sunt quam in aliis editionibus unde ad textum Plinii constituendum necessarium est." This is the distinguished copy sold at the auction of Camus de Limare in 1786 for 3000 fr., and mentioned by Brunet, Dibdin, Peignot and De Bure.

— Naturalis Historiæ Libri xxxvii. ex recensione et cum præfatione J. Andreæ Episcopi Aleriensis. (In fine.) Hereneus Lugdunensis Episcopus. Item Justinus ex Philosopho Martyr. Item cum Hieronymo Eusebius Cæsariensis, serio posteritatem adjurarunt: ut eorum descripturi opera conferrent diligenter exemplaria, et sollerti studio emendant. Idem ego tum in ceteris libris omnibus tum maxime in Plinio ut fiat vehementer obscuro, obtestor atque adjuro; ne ad priora menda et tenebras inextricabiles tanti sudoris opus relabatur. Instauratum aliquantulum sub Paulo II. impressum Romæ presidentibus Magistris Conrado Sweynheym et Arnaldo Panaratz (sic) MCCCCLXX. Fol. 2 vol. R. M.

This is the second edition of Pliny, but taken, as it appears from the epistle prefixed by the Bishop of Aleria, from different MSS. and without the knowledge of a previous edition. Ernesti speaks highly of its merits. See also Audiffredi.

— Naturalis Historiæ Libri xxxvii. (cum epistola dedicatoria Joannis Andreæ.) Venetiis, per Nicolaum Jenson, MCCCCLXXII. Fol. R.

This copy formerly belonged to Lorenzo de' Medici. His arms are painted on the first leaf of the text, which is surrounded by exquisitely painted borders, containing in compartments subjects relative to the contents of the work, "soggetti allusivi." The capital letters are also painted very beautifully and in a stile which we never saw in any other book. It is in the most perfect preservation.

— Naturalis Historiæ Libri xxxvii. Parmæ impressus, opera et impensa Andreæ Portilia, MCCCCLXXXI. Fol. R.

Of the three Parma Editions of 1476, 1480, 1481, this last is the most correct. Freytag in his Adparatus, I. 116, terms it "rarissima editio." In the Bibl. Spencer. II. 263 is the edition of 1480, but not this of 1481.

First Edition. Extremely rare, but this fine copy wants the first leaf containing "Epistola Ludovici Carbonis ad Borsium."

PLOT, ROBERT. The Natural History of Oxfordshire, being an essay towards the Natural History of England. Oxford, at the Theatre, 1677. Plates. Fol. L. P. R. M.

First Edition. Copies on Large Paper are very rare, and the impressions of the plates very superior to those of the Second Edition. There are inserted in this presentation copy to Crew Bp. of Durham, the four following additional plates:—I. p. 1. View of Oxford by Hollar. II. p. 320. A drawing of a Chalcedony found in Blenheim Park. III. p. 336. Ballright Stones. IV. p. 350. Font at Islip.

— An historical letter to the Rev. Charles O'Conor, heretofore styling himself Columbanus; upon his five addresses or letters to his countrymen. (London) Not yet published, 1812. 8vo.

This impudent libel was never published.

PLOWMAN, PIERCE. The Vision of Pierce Plowman now fyrste imprinted by Roberte Crowley dwelling in Ely rentes in Holburne Anno Dom. 1550. Imprinted at London, by Roberte Crowley dwellyng in Elye rentes in Holburne. The yere of our Lord 1550. 4to. G. M.

PRINTED UPON VELLUM. Lowndes has erroneously stated this Vellum Copy to be of the second edition, whereas it is manifestly of the first. He is right in saying that the old editions are preferable to Dr. Whitaker's of 1814, in which many passages reflecting on the lives of the Romish Clergy are suppressed. The only other Vellum copy is in the Althorp Library; this had belonged to Mr. Hatton." MS. note.

Whereunto are added certayne notes and colations in the mergyne, geuyng light to the reader. And in the begynnyng is set a brefe summe of all the principall matters spoken of in the boke. And as the boke is deuided into twenty partes called Passus : so is the summary diuided, for euery parte hys summarie, rehearsynge the matters spoken of in euery parte, euen in suche order as they stande there. — Pierce the Ploughmans Crede. London, by Reynold Wolfe, 1553. 4to. Bl. L. G. M.

Collation. A-D. in fours. Sixteen leaves. "This first Edition is so rare that I have not met with any other perfect copy. An imperfect one, wanting the last leaf, was sold in the Roxburghe Sale for Ten Pounds." MS. note.

PLUNKET, OLIVER. Jus primatiæ: or, the ancient right and preheminency of the See of Armagh, above all other Archbishopricks in the Kingdom of Ireland. Asserted by O. A. T. H. P. Printed in the year 1672. 8vo.

"This is the first tract upon the famous controversy for Primacy renewed between the two Sees of Armagh and Dublin. Plunket's tract was followed by a reply of Peter Talbot in 4to. 1674. They are both very rare.

The later work of Macmahon's Jus Primatiæ Armacanum, 4to. 1728, is considered as the best and most learned work upon this subject. This question had been agitated as early as the time of Ricardus Radulphus Archbishop of Armagh about 1370." MS. note.

PLUTARCHUS. Plutarchi Chacronensis quæ extant opera, cum Latina interpretatione. Ex Vetustis Codd. plurima nunc primum emendata sunt ut ex H. Stephani anno-tat. intelliges. Paris. H. Stephanus, 1572. 12mo. 6 vol. L. P. R. M.

From De Thou Library. The Large Paper copies have only the six volumes of the Greek Text: the Latin Volumes were not printed on Large Paper. This is an uncommonly beautiful specimen of De Thou's Library; the sides are all tooled and richly gilt in compartments. The difference of the two papers is in the colour and in the thickness rather than in the measure.

— Quæ supersunt Omnia, Græce et Latine. Principibus ex Edition. castigavit, virorumque doctorum suisque annotationibus instruxit J. Jacobus Reiske. Lipsiæ, 1774. 8vo. 12 vol. B. M.

Diis auspibus, Libro qui Vitæ Plutarchi inscribitur, non sine maxima diligentia, multorumque antiquorum voluminum continua lectione summa manus imposita est. Florentiæ, in ædibus Philippi juntæ, 1517. Fol. L. P. R. M.

This is the first edition of the Lives of Plutarch and copies on Large Paper are of the greatest rarity. Mr. Wodhull observed to Dr. Dibdin that in the table of Contents only one leaf is given to the Life of Sylla, and that in his copy nine leaves of the Life of Sylla were added as an appendix after the date of the book, but that these nine leaves are almost always wanting; in this copy they follow the page named in the contents, and are therefore in their right place; they are not numbered.

— Parallela; hoc est Vitæ illustrium Virorum Græci nominis ac Latini, prout quæque alteri convenire videbatur digestæ. (Græce.) Venetiis, in ædibus Aldi et Andreae soceri, 1519. Fol. R. M.

Bryan and after him Reiske have ascertained, that of this book, as of the Demosthenes and Theocritus, there were two editions of the same year considerably varying in the Text. Renouard very truly observes that the Second is the more valuable, though he is at a loss how to point out the distinctions: they are however sufficiently pointed out by Reiske Pref. xxvi.

In Strype and in the Biog. Brit. this book is quoted as having given great alarm to Henry VIII. tho' the Cardinal promised him not to publish it. Latimer preached against it, Cranmer was ordered to answer it, and Henry having failed in inveigling Pole into England, offered Fifty thousand crowns for his head and the Pope gave the Cardinal guards at Rome to secure him from danger. Lord Oxford could never obtain a copy. Having been suppressed by the author, this edition is rare.

This is the only copy known on Large Paper.

PRINTED UPON VELLUM. This Tract is supposed to have been printed about the year 1735, by Dr. R. Rawlinson from a MS. in the possession of his brother. The period of its composition is that of Edward Vith’s minority, whilst Catherine Parr was still alive, and when the Catholic and Reformed doctrines were struggling for the ascendancy. No other copy is known.

"Though this book is quoted by Herbert in an imperfect state, I cannot find or hear of any other known copy. Whitchurch had printed the English Liturgy in the preceding year, 1549, and probably this Geneva Liturgy might be printed here to recommend from it some addition to our own. At all events this volume is of great curiosity and rarity, and is said to be the only one wanting to Dr. Barrett's numerous collection of Liturgies." MS. Note.

The following note is on the fly leaf of the volume in the hand-writing of Hearne.

“Suum cuique. Tho. Hearne, March, 17, 1723-4.”

“Mr. Prynne’s Things beginn now to be scarce, and are pick’d up by curious men. They are made rare by many of the Copies being turn’d to wast Paper. They are valuable for the Historical Passages (provided his Citations may be rely’d on) out of a great variety of Authors, MSS. and printed.”

This is a duplicate copy of the third part, likewise on Large Paper, it is retained on account of having many Manuscript additions.

An exact Chronological Vindication and Historical Demonstration of our British, Roman, Saxon, Danish, Norman, English Kings, Supreme Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction, In, Over all Spiritual, or Religious Affairs, Causes, Persons, as well as Temporal within their Realms of England, Scotland, Ireland and other Dominions. London Printed for the Author by Thomas Ratcliff, 1666, 1665, 1668. Fol. 3 vol. R. M.

“By the ‘Address to the Reader’ at the end of the 1st. vol. it appears that only Seventy copies of that volume escaped the flames of the Fire of London. The 3rd. volume having been better preserved, it was sold separately, with a new English Title Page as the History of King John, King Henry III. &c. 1670, as will be seen in my third volume preceding Part I. of the text. It was again sold with a new Latin Title Page of Antiquæ Constitutiones Regni Anglicæ etc. Londini impensis Authoris 1672. The original Title Page of vol. 3. 1668, is scarcely ever found with this volume. To this copy is subjoined an Index to the History of King John, King Henry III. and King Edward 1st. by W. Prynne Esq. 1670. London, printed for T. Payne, at the Mews Gate, 1775. Fol. ten leaves, of which, so few were printed, that I know now of no other copy except one in the possession of Mr. Phelps. The 14 Tables announced by Prynne on the reverse of page 1307 vol. III. have never been seen and probably were never printed. At Stowe the copy of this book has an additional 4th volume of 400 pages of Introduction which I have never heard of in any other copy.” MS. note.

PRINTED UPON VELLUM. FIRST EDITION.

“Ce livre précieux étant, depuis l'origine de l'imprimerie, le premier qui porte une date clairement exprimée, jouit, sous ce rapport, d'une grande et juste célébrité; à cet avantage, il jouit un autre mérite, c'est d'offrir, dans son genre, un chef d'œuvre de typographie, soit qu'on le considère comme imprimé avec des caractères mobiles de bois, soit qu'on prétende qu'il est le produit de caractères mobiles de fonte; car, parmi les artistes et les gens de lettres, les sentimens sur la nature des types qu'on y a employés, ont de tout temps été très partagés et ont occasionné de longues discussions, dont le résultat, jusqu'à ce jour n'a servi qu'à laisser la question indécidée.” Van Praet, Cat. des Livres sur Velin. vol. I. p. 205-7.

The present is the copy, mentioned by him as having formerly belonged to the Count de Weissenburg and is thus described by him.

“5. De M. le comte de Weissenburg.

“Il y a apparence que cet exemp., qui a passé depuis quelque temps en Angleterre, n'avoit, dans l'origine, que 143 f. Il ne contient plus que les 136 premiers, non compris le 28<sup>e</sup> f. qui manque, et il est dans un état déplorable de dégradation, privé de presque toute sa marge, &c.”

The volume consists of 138 leaves and not 137 as stated by Van Praet.

The 28th leaf and the last leaf containing the Colophon have been supplied in fac-simile most beautifully executed by Harris, who has likewise cleaned and restored the book in an admirable manner, so that it no longer merits the unfavorable description given of it by Van Praet.

A second volume is added, consisting of 36 leaves in MS. containing additional services, hymns, &c. and they are both bound in purple velvet and enclosed in a blue morocco case.

— Psalterium et Canticum Canticatorum et alia Cantica Biblica, ÆTHIOPICE; et syllabarium, seu de legendi ratione: Impressum est opusculum hoc ingenio et impensis Joannis Potken, Rome, per Marcellum Silber alias Franck, 1513. 4to. R. M.

— Al such Psalmes of David as Thomas Sternhold late Grome of the Kinges majesties robes did in his lyfe time drawe into english meter. 12mo. Bl. L. G. M.

“This appears to be an edition of great rarity, no possessor of a copy being quoted by Ames, Herbert or Dibdin. There is no printer's name, but it has the device constantly used by Whitchurch for whom Herbert says it was printed by Hum. Powel, I. p. 550. Powel quitted England for Ireland about 1550 so that this book was probably printed about 1548-9. Herbert's Ames, II. 749, 50.” MS. note.

The Psalms appear to have been first printed with musick by T. Este, 1592, but in his preface to this edition he tells us there are many corrections and additions.

First Edition. This first edition of the French Psalter is so extremely rare that though Panzer quotes it from Maittaire neither of them appear to have seen it. Le Long is inclined to attribute it to Verrard. It is the edition mentioned in the Manuel du Libraire, vol III. p. 163. This copy was purchased at Thierry's Sale.

"There is no edition with any date so early as this. For though Panzer, IV. 302, refers to Fossi for an Edition of this date, the article referred to does not appear to be satisfactorily ascertained. The date of 1483 does not refer to the printing but to the composition of the Poem. It seems probable that this is the first edition of these Poems. It is so rare, that it is evidently unknown to Panzer, Audiffredi and the other Bibliographical Books that I have consulted. Bernardo the brother of Lucca Pulci translated also the Bucolics of Virgil." MS. note.

"Of this valuable Edition, bought at the Pinelli Sale and for a long time considered as unique, nothing was to be known as it unfortunately wanted the Colophon; but in 1830 Mr. Payne obtained an imperfect copy of the same book from S. Audin of Florence, which I purchased and supplied from it the Colophon and two leaves, by which my Pinelli copy became perfect. The Colophon shews that this is the first edition of the twenty-eight cantos under the correction of the author, the first twenty-five cantos having been surreptitiously printed by Luca Veneziano in 1481. My duplicate copy was purchased by Lord Spencer and the deficient leaves were copied into it from mine. No other copy of this original Edition of the Morgante is known.

"Count Melzi in his last Edition of the Bibliographia dei Romanzi, page 202, is decidedly of opinion that the present copy is quite complete, though Signature a contains only seven leaves. He remarks that the poem begins on signature a and not a 2, and that all the editions of the XVth century have the same Colophon, and all begin without a title or any preliminary leaves." This edition is described in Melzi, Bibl. p. 207. He conjectures it to be only a reprint of Massetti's edition by Sessa, 1502, of whose corrections he speaks as being rather corruptions.

The Pilgrimage, being full of rough leaves, though considerably shorter than the rest, which prove clearly that it was printed on paper of a smaller size than that of the four other volumes. FIRST EDITION. Concerning the great rarity of this Editio Princeps of Quintilian, there is no difference of opinion, though concerning the printer there has been much literary controversy. Reviczky gives no opinion. The references may be seen in Bibl. Spencer. vol. II. p. 305. with the reasons for ascribing it, as Audiffredi does, to the press of Philip de Lignamine. A second edition of Quintilian was printed in the same year 1470 by Sweynheym and Pannartz.

Twenty-eight leaves in double columns. B. M.

"These two works printed by Trechsel are extremely uncommon. Archbishop Fitz Ralph born at Dundalke and educated at Oxford, by the favour of Edward III. became Chancellor of Oxford in 1333 and Archbishop of Armagh in 1347. He was preceptor to Wiclif and is said to have assisted in his Translation of the Scriptures. In this curious work of his controversy with the Mendicant Orders of England he states himself to have seen in his youth 30,000 students at Oxford though he lived to see that number reduced to 6000. This anecdote is quoted by Henry. I have not found any account of Chonnoe. See Harris's Ware, III. p. 84. and Bale Scriptores, p. 459. where he mentions this controversy with Archbishop Fitz Ralph." There are some latin verses at the end of the tract.

The author born in 1498, died 1573, he was a very distinguished writer of his time; and the present original edition is very seldom found. His other work "de Antiquitatibus Lusitaniæ" printed in Fol. Eboræ, 1593, is still more rare. "Hæc editio princeps libris rarissimis rectissimè adnumeratur." Meuselius V. ii. 236.

Collation. 113 leaves, a—n. in eights, o nine leaves. The Table occupies leaves a. 1 and 2. a. 3. is numbered at the bottom 1. and the numbering is continued to the last leaf but one which is numbered 109, but number 70 is repeated.

"This is the first Edition of the work which Caxton in 1481 translated into English with the title of Reynard the Fox, and it does not appear that Panzer knew of any other than this identical copy quoted by him from Denis Supp. as belonging to the Meermann library, from whence this copy was purchased. See Panzer, I. 443. Denis Supp. I. 109. In Panzer, vol. XII. p. 236. he quotes editions of 1485, 1487, 1494, and 1498. The work is divided into 43 chapters in prose and verse. I do not hear of any other copy of this very rare first edition. See also Meermann Orig. Typog. II. 291. There are in Brunet pretensions to an original MS. of this work in Latin and another in old French but there is not any printed copy of this work in any language with a date as old as this of 1479. Caxton in the last page of his Reynard the Fox, says that he followed his Dutch copy which proves this to be the original." MS. note.

This most beautiful copy was purchased at Mr. Inglis's sale. Between sheets h. & i., is half a leaf, evidently printed by Caxton, inserted to supply a deficiency in the Text.

The extraordinary rarity of this book is sufficiently described by Dibdin in Bibl. Spenc. IV. 244.

Only two other copies are known one in the King's Library (Br. Mus.) and the other in Lord Spencer's.

Dibdin in his collation is wrong in Bibl. Spencer: he does not mention that sign. k. has only 6 leaves. From his account it does not appear that Lord Spencer's copy has the curious half leaf above mentioned.

— The most delectable History of Reynard the Fox. Newly corrected and purged from all grossness in phrase and matter. To which may now be added a Second part of the said History: as also the Shifts of Reynardine the Son of Reynard the Fox, together with his Life and Death, &c. London, 1701, 1681, 1684. Wood cuts. 4to. 3 vol. in 1.

Fausto da Longiano in his Commentary, and Baruffaldi in his life of Ariosto impute to him that he had taken his story from this book. Panizzi disproves this in his edition of Ariosto, but says that Espejo de Cavallerias is so rare that he despaired of finding it till Mr. Heber lent him this copy, perhaps the only one in England. Brunet, N. R. vol. I. p. 488. notices the editions of this work but singularly enough says "Antonio attribue l'Espejo a Pedro de Reynosa, qui pourtant ne s'y nomme pas." On the Title Page and in the Privilege of the first part and at the commencement of the third he is expressly named. The first part of the present copy appears to be made up with the title of the edition of 1586. and the body of the work of the edition of 1551. The third part has no title.

In Cervantes's Catalogue of Don Quixote's library, Book I. Cap. VI., Cervantes certainly appears to think that Ariosto did profit from this Espejo de Cavallerias which is fully disproved by the Royal Privilege which says of it "traduzido de lengua Toscana en nuestro Castellano por Pedro de Reynosa."

Collation. Title and prefatory matter *4. **4. Eight leaves. Text. A-L.iii. in fours. Fifty-one leaves.

All the tracts of this Author are scarce and curious, particularly those on Ireland; and he has some curious remarks on that country in this volume, sig. D. III.

There is a poetical preface by the Author; and verses addressed to him by Churchyard, Lodowick Flood, S. Stronge, and Thomas Lupton.

— Faultes, faults, and nothing else but faultes. London, for Jeffrey Chorleton, 1606. 4to. G. M.

Title and Dedication Two leaves. Text Thirty-four leaves.

These two tracts are described in Collier's Catalogue of Bridgewater-House Library.

This is so rare that it is not to be found in any of the printed lists of the Author's works.

Lowndes mentions it, but does not describe it. His collations of several of Rich's pieces are erroneous.

— *A short survey of Ireland: truly discovering who it is that hath so armed the hearts of that people with disobedience to their prince. Title, dedication, and address to reader, six leaves. Text fifty-six pages.

This work was not known when Mr. Haslewood printed the list of B. Rich's Works in the Preface to the Paradise of Dainty Devises, 1810.

— A new description of Ireland: wherein is described the disposition of the Irish whereunto they are inclined. No lesse admirable to be perused then credible to be beleueed: neither unprofitable nor unpleasant to bee read and understood, by those worthy cittizens of London that be now undertakers in Ireland. London, for Thomas Adams, 1610. 4to. G. M.

— A true and a kinde excuse written in defence of that booke, intituled A newe description of Irelande. Pleasant and Pleasing both to English, and Irish. London, for Tho mas Adams, 1612. 4to. Twenty-eight leaves. G. M.

These two Tracts (bound in one volume), and particularly the second, are very rare. The first was reprinted in 1624 with a different title as follows;—

— A new Irish Prognostication, or Popish callender. Wherein is described the disposition of the Irish with the manner of their behaviour, and how they for the most part are addicted to Poperie. With the superstitious supposall of St. Patricks purging of Ireland of all venomous things. With a calculation of all the Popish trinkets, brought from the Pope, by his ambassadors, Doctor Sanders and Allen, two famous Jesuites. London, for Francis Constable, 1624. 4to.

In this reprint the Dedication to the Earl of Salisbury, the Epistle to the reader, and the Epistle in Commendation of Maister William Cokyne are omitted: the Text is word for word the same.

— A catholicke conference betweene Syr Tady Mac Mareall a popish priest of Waterforde, and Patrick Plaine a young student in Trinity Colledge by Dublin in Ireland. Wherein is delivered the certayne manner of execution that was used upon a popish Bishop, and a popish Priest, that for several matters of Treason were executed at Dublin the first of February, nowlast past, 1611. Strange to be related, credible to be beleaved, and pleasant to bee perused. London, for Thomas Adams, 1612. 4to. G. M.

Prefatory matter three leaves. Text twenty-six leaves.

RINALDO. Innamoramento di Rinaldo da Monte Albano. S. l. a. et typ. n. (forse Napoli, per Sisto Reissinger, circa MCCCCLXXIV.) Fol. B. M.

Collation. It is printed in double columns. The recto of the first leaf is blank, and on the verso is the Dedicatory Introduction in ten Stanzas. The poem commences on the second leaf, and terminates on the reverse of the one hundred and thirty-ninth leaf, followed by a Register. Signatures, apparently coeval with the book, are added in Manuscript. A to S. v. in eights, with the exception of F. which has only six leaves. It is complete in fifty-eight Cantos.

FIRST EDITION. Of extreme rarity, being the only copy known. The first Account of the volume appeared in the Catalogue of the Library of the Count de Boutourlin, Florence 1831, from which collection this was purchased in the sale at Paris in November, 1840. A detailed description of the Volume will also be found in the Bibliografia of Count Melzi, pp. 224-228.

Mr. Panizzi in a letter to Mr. Grenville, (August 6, 1841) gives the following account of the volume.

"The Rinaldo which you lately bought, and which is certainly printed at Naples by Reussinger, with the same type as that used for the Dante, edited by Tuppo in the same city, a copy of which is in your Library, is the same poem as that attributed to Dino in the Edition of 1521, Milano, 4to, as well as that of 1533, the principal difference being in the number of Cantos. The Story is substantially the same; but the style, the diction rather, and the accessories are not so. You have already observed that the Fol. begins with what appears as the 3d Canto in the two 4tos of 1521 and 1533, but Canto 5 in the Fol. although the same as Canto 8 in the two 4tos, has an Introductory stanza, which is in neither of the two last-mentioned editions: and the Introductory stanza in Canto 6 in the Fol. is not like the Introductory one in the two quartos. On the other hand the last line in Canto 9 in the Fol. is

'Andateve a posare et non fate più resta' the rhyme in the preceding line being testa; but in the 4tos the last line of Canto 12, the one which corresponds to the 9th in the Fol. runs

'Andati a bere e poi fariti tornata,' the rhyme in the preceding line being portata. The verbal alterations are numberless throughout. The genuine Poem is the Folio; the others are refacimenti, I think; and I am also of opinion that the real author of the original work is that Forti mentioned by Melzi."

Melzi says, "Il canonico Niccola Palma di Teramo, erudito scrittore delle memorie patrie, opina che l'autore di questo poema fu Girolamo Forti. Egli era di Teramo, e perciò nella dedica al Gilardino loda la condotta da lui tenuta nel sedare i tumulti della sua patria."

— Tutte le opere del innamoramento de Rinaldo da monte albano Poema elegantissimo novamente Istoriato; Composto per Miser Dino Poeta Fiorentino ingeniosissimo. A wood cut beneath the above Title. The poem commences on the reverse of the Title A, i. and finishes on the reverse of T. x. thus, Finito le bagtaglie del innamoramento de Rinaldo. Impresso in Milano, per Rocho et Fratello da Valle ad Instantia de Miser Nicolo da Gorgonzola, Nel MCCCCXXI. adi vi. de Agosto. Registro A—T. Tutti questi sono quaderni excepto T. che e quinterno. This is followed by the Printer's device. Wood cuts. 4to. R. M. From the Gaignat Collection.

The accompanying notice of this book is from a letter addressed by Mr. Panizzi (May 5, 1835) to Mr. Grenville.

"I cannot discover anything about Dino, and I strongly suspect that he never wrote the poem attributed to him, and which I now beg to return. My reasons for so thinking are briefly these.

"Melzi in his supplemento, page 341, quotes two stanzas of the Innamorato di Rinaldo from an Edition of 1553, which he had described page 158 of his Bibliografia. In this Edition no name of the Author occurs. If you take the trouble to compare these two stanzas with the fourth and fifth of sig. A iii of your volume, you will find them alike, except some trifling verbal differences. Here is a proof that Dino was not always supposed the Author of the work in question: most probably he never was mentioned in any other Edition of this poem. The stanzas quoted by Melzi have undergone a slight rifacimento. The last line of the first of them stands thus in your Edition,

El mio libro in talian lo rinfresca.

In Melzi it is

E la mia penna in toscano il rinfresca.

"Had the writer been Dino, a Florentine, he would never have professed to write talian (Italian). The Florentines say that there is no such thing as the Italian language: they grumble at its being called Tuscan, and only admit a Florentine language. Add to this that the whole poem abounds with Lombardisms, and has not one of the words or phrases proper of the Florentine dialect, as far as I can see. Very likely the publisher wanted to puff the poem and excite the curiosity of the reader by fathering it upon a most ingenious unknown Poet from Florence—not a star, but a rising sun still enveloped in a kind of mist. These arts are practised in our own days, and not without success, most probably.

"As to the bibliographical importance of the volume, what can I say but that it is worthy of its fellows? The binding and every other circumstance confirms the opinion that it is from the Gaignat Collection, and therefore unique."

— Inamoramento de Rinaldo di Monte Albano. Nel quale se tratta diverse battaglie. Et come occise Mambrino et molti altri famosissimi pagani. Et come combatette con Orlando et con gli altri paladini; et come hebbe Guidon selvaggio et come treno Baiardo; et della sua morte et miracoli, li quali fece e fa il suo corpo; followed by a wood cut beneath the date 1533. The Poem begins on A II, and finishes on the recto of z VIII. Finisse lo inamoramenti de Rinaldo da Monte Albano. Nuovamente stampati in Venetia per Aloise Torti. Nel anno del Signore, 1533. 4to.

In this edition the Poem extends to 75 Cantos; the preceding edition of 1521 having 74 Cantos, and the original folio edition 58 Cantos.

"This Analysis of Welsh Grammar, dedicated by Dr. Griffith Roberts to W. Earl of Pembroke, is so little known that this copy was sold at Lord Guilford's and Heber's Sales as being unique. There are however three copies at Wynnstay, more or less perfect; one of them from the Library of Wm. Maurice, a well known Welsh Antiquarian, has the addition of a second part on Etymology of which there are one hundred and twenty pages; but it is deficient at the end. Maurice's note says 'it is printed at Milan.' This copy of the first part is perfect. It contains the Title and seven preliminary leaves, and concludes on page 92. ROBINSON, CLEMENT. A Handfull of pleasant Delites. London, by Richard Jkones, 1584. 4to.

This is an exact transcript, made by W.
Smith, from the extremely rare first edition of these Poems.

ROBINSON, RICHARD. The rewarde of Wickednesse discoursing the sundrye monstrous abuses of wicked and vngodlye worldelings :
in such sort set downe and written as the same haue bene dyversely practised in the persones of Popes,
Harlots, Proude Princes, Tyrauntes,
Romish Byshoppes, and others.
With a liuely description of their seuerall falles and finall destruction.
Vere profitable for all sorte of estates to reade and looke vpon. Newly compiled by Richard Robinson seruaunt in housholde to the Right Honorable Earle of Shrowsbury. A dreame most pitiful and to be dreaded.

Of things that be straunge,

Who loueth to reede :

His fancie to feede.

Imprinted at London in Pawles Church-yard, by William Williamson, 1573. 4to. Bl. L. R. M.

Collation. A-Q. in fours. Sixty-four leaves. Though the date of 1573 is at the end, the book was not published until 1576, as the author's address to the reader is dated from Sheffield Castle, 19th May of that year.

"Only one other perfect copy of this book is known, which is in the Library of Mr. Douce (now at Oxford) who supposes the author to have compiled his book from 'La Devisse des Armes des Chevaliers de la Table Ronde, 16mo. Paris, s. a. par F. Regnaud.' Of this French Book I have an edition, 16mo. Paris.
"The Shields of K. Arthur's Round Table
Knights were probably devised to teach young men the Terms of Blazon." Camden's Remains, 1657, p. 337.

Hearne's Preface to Leland's Collec-tanea, p. iiiii. says that Robinson's Rewarde was so scarce in his time that he could never get a copy of it.

Warton's Eng. Poetry, III. 391, and Brydges's Cens. Lit. VII. p. 40, both speak of Robinson.

The Compiler of this Poem was one of the Centinels employed by the Earl of Shrewsbury to watch over Mary Queen of Scots, which he mentions in the Dedication." MS. Note.

"I have never heard of any other copy of this book : it consist of 20 leaves. Title and Dedication 3 leaves, A and B. each eight leaves, and ends with C. i. ; but it is imperfect at the end, it was purchased from Smith's Catalogue at Glasgow. Ritson Bib. Poet. p. 313. says 'it was never printed and it is not known whether it was prose or verse.' Douce supposes erroneously that the Title of this book might have been intended once by the author for a Title to his translation of the Gesta Romanorum, published by him in 1601-2.

First edition. This first and very rare edition is described by Dibdin as the third book from the press of these printers, upon what ground he asserts this does not appear. Panzer, besides the Cicero and Lactantius, describes the Donatus, the S. Augustinus, the Epistolæ Ciceronis and the second Lactantius as being all prior to Rodericus.

FIRST EDITION. The best account of this very rare book will be found in Audiffredi, Rom. Edit. p. 44, where he corrects the mistakes of N. Antonio and Fabricius, who were both misled by the colophon of this edition to imagine there had been an edition of this book printed at Palentia, 1470. Panzer, II. 416, IV. 391, agrees with Audiffredi, who never saw but one copy of this edition. It was probably printed about 1470. Meuselius, VI. i. 115, adopts Antonio's mistake, but XI. i. 91, he corrects it. The book should contain in the whole one hundred and eighty-four leaves, including the thirteen leaves of Table. The Index in the present copy is at the end, in Audiffredi's description it is at the beginning.

This Epistle from Rodericus Sancius to Cardinal Bessarion relative to the invasion of the Island of Negropont is by Panzer, I. 334, and Laire, Index, I. 186, attributed to Ulric Zell. It is exceedingly rare, and very little known to the generality of the bibliographical writers.

" This first Edition of Roy's Severe poetical Satire against Wolsey and the Romish Priesthood is of extreme rarity. Wolsey bought up and destroyed the copies, as we learn from the Dedication of the second Edition, printed at Wesell in 1546. ' This boke was printed in the Cardinal hys time, whiche when he had harde that it was done he caused a certayne man (whom I could name if I lusted) to buy them all uppe.' In the second edition the personalities, and the allusions to the vices of the Clergy, were so softened and generalised, that the wit and poignancy of the first edition are frequently lost. Roy was an ecclesiastic, he resided some time with Tindal, and was one of the Translators of the New Testament, printed at Hamburgh or Antwerp in 1526." MS. note.

The Atlas.

Together Eight Volumes.

In consequence of a fire which occurred at Upsal in May, 1702, complete copies of this work are of great rarity, for in this fire nearly all the copies of vol. III. and all except ten of vol. IV. (see Ebert. p. 1609) as far as printed, namely to p. 210, were destroyed, and of these ten, only five can at present be traced, viz. in the University Library, Upsal; the Royal Library at Stockholm; the Library of the Academy of Science at Stockholm; the Library of Count de Brahe of Skokloster, near Upsal; and the Library of the University at Lund in Sweden.

The copy now under notice has the Testimonia to the various volumes, the directions to the binder, the Index to Vol. III. and is, with the exception of not possessing the printed portion of vol. IV., as complete as it is possible for the work to be, and more so than any other copy yet described, by its possessing the Edition of the first volume printed at Upsal in 1696, which is an improvement of the Latin version of that part of the work, and appears to have escaped the notice of all Bibliographers. An ample collation and account of the three vols. and the Fragment of the fourth, will be found in Brunet and Ebert. The edition of vol. I. printed in 1696, not being generally known, the collation is here given.

First the engraved Frontispiece, representing a part of the Globe, with a Genealogical Tree, similar to that found in vols. I. s. a. and 1675. On the reverse of the Title will be found Rudbeck's address, commencing "Clarissime Vereli, in paucis dilecte," which, with the address "Lectori Benevolo" makes three pages. Then signatures A. to Q. q. in fours, R. r. two, on the reverse of the last of which is the wood cut of the Pen and Sword with a border, the same as that in the first edition of vol. I.

Sign. E e is by mistake printed E f.

See also De Bure, vol. VI. p. 234-242, and Meuselius, vol. I. i. 366.

SALLUSTIUS. De Conjuracione Catilinæ et de Bello Jugurthino Libri. S. l. mcccclxx. 4to. B. M.

Though the edition of this year by Vindelin de Spira is generally reputed the Editio Princeps, Reviczky, Supp. p. 13, calls this the Ed. Pr. and quotes Havercamp in support of that opinion. Dibdin, Bibl. Sp. II. 323, considers the priority of these two editions as a doubtful question, and refers to MS. memoranda of Bp. Dampier in critical description and praise of this rare and estimable edition, "eundem sane characterem in nullo alio libro me vidisse memini." It is not noticed by Panzer, nor does Audiffredi mention it, although the prevailing opinion is that it was printed at Rome.

— Ex Libris Historiarum C. Crispi Salusti excerpta. Impressus Romæ; in domo nobilis viri Petri de Maximis, per M. Arnoldum Panartz alamanum, mcccclxxv. 4to. G. M.

This very rare edition is perfect, in thirty leaves. Of the thirty-two quoted by Audiffredi, he very justly observes that the first and last are blank leaves.

— Ex Libris Historiarum excerpta. S. l et a. 4to. R. M.

For this rare edition, Panzer, II. 10, refers to Laire, Index, I. p. 179, nisi obesset signaturarum usus ad Typographiæ tentamen revocari posset hoc opus. Panzer supposes it to be the type of J. Schallus, who printed at Mantua from 1475 to 1479. Laire says he has never seen the same type. Only two other books are known to have been printed by Schall, namely, Scrutinium Scripturarum, 1475, and Eusebius, 1479. See Panzer, II. p. 4. 6.

— Opera. S. l. et a. Fol. G. M.

This edition was printed at Strasburgh by Martin Flack, and is very rare. In Bibl. Spencer. II. p. 332-33, Dr. Dibdin says the Jugurthine war concludes on the reverse of the sixtieth and last leaf, it concludes on the recto of that leaf.

This very fine copy consists of ninety-two numbered leaves, in addition to the last, containing the date, and eight preliminary leaves, containing the Title, Table and Preface of Barclay to the Duke of Norfolk. This very rare book is incorrectly described by Lowndes, probably from an imperfect copy. It contains the Latin Text also.

"De Bure, and after him Brunet, quote the edition of 1607, as the best, and it is certainly better than those which are subsequent to it; but this, which is the first and the original edition of the three volumes, is infinitely more rare and desirable. Though Genuæ is put to the Title Page of the first volume, it was really printed like the second and third at Madrid. Sanchez died at Grenada, 1610. Of his life and writings see Bayle." MS. note.

SANCROFT, WILLIAM, Archbishop of Canterbury. Fur prædestinatus: sive Dialogismus inter quendam Ordinis prædicantium Calvinistam et Furem ad laqueum damnatum habitus. Londini, impensis F. G. typis G. D. 1651. 12mo.

Collation. Title page, followed by eight leaves of Table. The Text commences on Fol. 2, and terminates on Fol. 194.

"There is some obscurity as to the author of this Romance, which may be found in Quadrio IV. p. 488. The present edition of 1515 is the earliest date that is known in Spanish. The earliest French translation was first printed in 1516. The present Copy was purchased from Mr. Heber's Library, and his note in it was, that he had never seen or heard of any other copy. It wants the ninth leaf, which there is little hope of supplying. The Colophon has the true date 1515: the date on the Title page of 1535, is an error of the press." MS. note.

"None of the previous Editions contain more than three books, which are here reprinted verbatim, with the addition of a fourth Book by Ribadeneira, which renders this the most perfect and desirable edition. This is sometimes attributed to Sanderson, the preface to this copy is signed "W. Sanderson," and evidently the writing of the time.

"Meuselius in quoting Lenglet's praise of this work, is unable to determine whether it is a new work, or a second edition of a work on the same subject by the same author. This doubt proves that Meuselius had never seen it, for the Title page says 'en esta segunda impresion' which shews that it is an improved edition of the work first published in 4to. 1627." This is called by Pinkerton 'a most curious piece, well written, and fraught with great learning, the only classic work in old Scottish prose,' and Lord Hailes declared, 'that if the study of Scottish history should ever revive, a new edition of Inglis's Complaint would be an acceptable present to the public.' See the preliminary Dissertation by Leyden to the edition of 1801. Of this extremely rare book only four copies are known, one in the British Museum, one belonging to J. M'Gowan, Esq.; one belonging to Mr. G. Paton, and the present copy, belonging formerly to the Duke of Roxburghe. All the four copies want the Title, of which there is only a small remnant in this; in other respects this copy upon a laborious collation is found quite perfect.

Leyden in his 4to. reprint, names Sir D. Lyndsay as the author. Pinkerton says, "Wedderburn." Mackenzie, says, "Sir Ja. Inglis."

notable. Written by Dionyse Settle, one of the Companie in the sayde voyage, and seruant to the Right honourable the Earle of Cumberland. London, by Henrie Middleton, 1577. 16mo. Twenty-four leaves. Bl. L. G. M.

“ This very rare account of Frobisher's Second Voyage by Settle, who accompanied him, is different from that by Beste, who also accompanied him, and who published in 1578 all the three voyages of Frobisher.

I have seen a second edition of Settle's True reporte of the same year 1577, with some slight alterations in the same number of twenty-four leaves, but with different signatures, the second having eight leaves each of the three letters, A. B. C. whereas the first has four signatures, A. B. C. D. of which the first and last have only four leaves each. In B vi. of the first edition instead of ‘ Richd. Coxe gunner,’ the second edition in B. ii. has ‘ Jackman and A. Dier masters mates.’ To B vii. of the first Edition after ‘ God's visitation,’ is added at B iii. of the second edition an account of their taking possession of the land, and of authority given by Frobisher to Fenton, Yorke and Best his Lieutenant during his absence up the country. The Text of the first edition is resumed in the second edition at the words ‘ whoso maketh’ which begin the verso of B. viii. of first Edition, a sentence is added at B v. of the second ed. to say that Best left in the natives tent a letter to the men that he had lost the year before: to the following sentence at line 10 of the same page of first ed. are added in the second ed. ‘ Master Philpot and all the gentlemen went ashore determined to see.’

I have stated in the above passages the only differences which occur in the two editions of the same year. That there were two had escaped the notice of Bibliographers.” MS. note.

"We have here the loveliest—at any rate, and without question or doubt ONE of the loveliest—of membranaceous bijoux! I call to mind all that the Devonshire, Spencer, Grenville and Crachero Collections possess—when I make this declaration. It presents us with a perfect picture of an old vellum book: large, clean and spotless: yet more, embellished throughout in a manner at once brilliant and classical, and the FIRST PAGE according to my humble judgment and feeling not having its compeer, probably not even in the united libraries of Milan, Florence and Rome. The border of it is arabesque of a tone of colour so mellow and appropriate, that nothing more delectable can be easily conceived." Dibdin's Bibliographical Decameron, vol. iii. p. 176.

“I had already purchased (the preceding article) a copy with the same Title, printer, and date, which was considered as so far unique that no other was known. The present Copy occurred in Caldecott's Sale, and finding it altogether different from the other in almost every page I purchased it likewise. Besides the great differences of the Text, this copy has the Dedication to ‘Ma. Francis Flower,’ the Preface by T. Nash and 27 sonnets by Daniel, followed by five Cantos or Songs with signature ‘Content’ and two concluding Sonnets one marked E. O.

Lowndes's Description is incorrect, the total number of Sonnets and Songs is not 119 as he states but 160.

SOLIMON AND PERSEDA. The Tragedie of Solimon and Perseda. Wherein is laide open, Loues Constancie, Fortunes inconstancie, and Deaths Triumphs. London, by Edward Allde, for Edward White, 1599. 4to.

"This Tragedy is by some attributed to Thomas Kidd, by others to Robert Greene. The copies mentioned by Lowndes as sold at the Roxburghe sale for a guinea, and at Rhodes's for two guineas, must have been of the same reprint as the present, which is a good imitation by I. Smeeton, printer, St. Martin's Lane. The original must be of very great rarity. It is reprinted in Hawkins's Origin of the Drama, vol. 2." MS. note.

"First Edition. This is generally considered as the first Edition. The only question of priority seems to lie between this and the Roman edition, s. a. which, however, Audiffredi does not think as old as this of Jenson. That of Mombricitus is subsequent to Jenson's. The Paris 4to. s. a. is also generally considered as of a later date. Audiffredi, Ed. Rom. p. 385. Bibl. Spenc. II. 359."

— Memorabilium collectaneæ. S. l. et a. (sed Romæ, per Schurenner de Bopardia). 4to. r. r.

This is the only one of the editions without date, which Revickzy considered as challenging priority with the edition by Jenson of 1473. Bibl. Spenc. II. 360. Panzer, II. p. 531.

— Ad adventum Polihistor sive de Situ Orbis ac Mundi Mirabilibus Liber. S. l. et a. (sed Parisiis, per Cæsarem et Stoll.) 4to. r. m.

Bibliographers differ as to the date of this rare edition. Panzer does not hazard any conjecture. Juvigny, Bibl. I. 351, says "vers l'an 1470." Dr. Dibdin, B. Spencer. vol. II. p. 363, hesitates between 1473 and 1475, but calls it the earliest production of the press of Cæsaris and Stoll. Brunet calls it 1472.

— De Mirabilibus Mundi Liber cum versibus Bonini Mombricitii. S. l. a. et typ. n. 4to. r. m.

There is perhaps no book of greater uncertainty than the present as to the press from which it issued and its date. It cannot well be as early as Boni and Gamba consider it to be, who attribute it to Lavagna of Milan. Dr. Dibdin in the Bibl. Spenc. II. 362, supposes it to be of considerable antiquity, and probably of equally ancient date with any known edition. It has signatures at the bottom of several of the pages.

SOLOMON. The Canticles or Balades of Salomon, phraselyke declared in English Metres, by William Baldwin. London, by William Baldwin, servaunt with Edwarde Whitchurche, 1549. 4to. Bl. L.

To this rare volume a curious wood cut is prefixed.

"Baldwin wrote also 'a Treatise of Moral Philosophy, 1547-9-50.' 'Funeralles of Edw. 6th. 1560, (See p. 55.) and 'Second Part of Mirror for Magistrates.' But Watts, Bib. Brit. is wrong when he says that Baldwin wrote and printed all these works. The only book known to be printed by him is this of the Canticles of Solomon, which is exceedingly rare. There is an imperfect one in the Brit. Mus. and a fine copy in St. John's Coll. Oxford." MS. note.

It appears from Quadrio that Soranzo was a Venetian nobleman, who published likewise "Rime in 4 parti. 16 Canzoni. A Tragedy called il Battista. FIRST EDITION. This unique copy was purchased of Tosi of Milan, who has fully described it in a “ Notizia” published in 1835, which is bound at the end of the volume.

It has great additional value from its affording a much better and more correct text than the subsequent copies, which as Quadrio justly observes, IV. p. 549, are so defectively printed as to have given to Varchi a false impression of the merits of the author. See also Melzi, Bibl. p. 42, &c.

"This edition appears to have been unknown to Quadrio, Crevenna, Pinelli and other Italian Bibliographers. This copy, bought by Heber at Hibbert's Sale, is quoted by Melzi and Brunet, but I find no trace of it elsewhere. SPECULUM HUMANÆ SALVATIONIS. Fol. G. M.

FIRST EDITION.

The present copy of this exceedingly rare book, printed partly from wooden blocks, and partly with moveable types, has the wood cuts uncoloured, and is complete with the exception of the fifteenth (fol. 20.) which is admirably supplied in fac-simile by Harris. Heineken, p. 442, conjectures that the Printer became acquainted with moveable Types during the progress of the impression. Concerning the extreme rarity and merits of this book see Ottley's History of Engraving, and his note on the Biblia Pauperum in this Catalogue, p. 78. b.

— Speculum Humanæ Salvationis. S. l. et a. (sed Augustæ Vindel. per Gunterum Zainer, circa MCCC-LXXV.) Fol. With wood cuts. B. M.

This edition is of very uncommon occurrence; it seems to be ascertained that it is printed at Augsburg by Gunter Zainer, though some attribute it to John Zainer at Ulm, circa 1475. See Ottley's History of Engraving. Heineken, p. 464, and other references will be found in Bibl. Spenc. vol. IV. p. 9, with fac-similes of several of the wood cuts.

"This collection, somewhat similar to the Gesta Romanorum, is described by the author as the first collection, ex pluribus diversorum auctorum opusculis; see his Prologus. Panzer notices six or seven editions, by which it appears to have been a popular book." MS. note.

— Speculum Regale cum Interpretatione Danica et Latina, variis lectionibus, notis, &c. Kongs-Skugg-Sio udgivet af Halfdan Einersin. Soroe, 1768. 4to. R.

This work, written in Islandick, with a Latin and a Danish translation, is by the editor ascribed to the middle of the Twelfth Century. There is much in this work concerning Ireland, and though partly fabulous, it is interesting to read the notions that prevailed concerning Ireland in such early days.

SPENCER, JOHN. A Discourse of divers Petitions of High Concernment and great consequence; delivered by the Authour into the hands of King James, of famous memory, and into the hands of our gracious King Charles. And divers other Letters delivered unto some great Peers of the Land, &c. A Treatise of Melancholie, and the strange effects thereof. London, H. Dudley, 1641. 4to. B. M.

A most interesting volume in verse and prose, dedicated to King Charles I. to whom the first petition in verse is addressed on the Kings going to Newmarket, the waggon and hounds going through Cheapside on Sunday, on which account the author implores the King to "Remember to keep holy the Sabbath-day," &c. Next follows one on the publication of the Book of Sports, which being sent by his son, his Majesty committed him to prison. There are also many interesting letters to the Earl of Cleveland and Thomas Lord St. John for the ending a law-suit, to Sir W. Litton, Knt. concerning the Author's commitment to prison, to Mr. Harvey on a dispute between Lord St. John and Lord Wentworth. Then follow verses on New England's plantations; verses to Mr. Brightman on his translation of the Canticles; letter to the prisoners at Bedford, with a Book of Common Prayer; letter to his brother Nicholas, to dissuade him from Cock-fighting; letters to Sir Robert Carr on the difference between him and his lady, also instructions for their son in his studies. The Author's speech for the reconciliation of Sir Jarrard Harvie and his neighbours of Carington, about a levy, &c. The Author's character and study appear to have been that of a peace-maker.

J. Spencer was likewise the Author of a learned but dangerous Work, "De Legibus Hebræorum ritualibus," in which he endeavours to prove that the Hebrew Ritual was borrowed from the Egyptians. He wrote also "A Discourse on Prodiges, 1663."

SUCHEN, LUDOLPHUS DE. De terra sancta et itinere iherosolomitano et de statu ejus et aliis mirabilibus que in mari conspiciuntur videlicet mediteraneo. S. l. a. et typ. n. Fol. G. M.

Collation. Table one leaf, Text thirty-three leaves.

This edition printed in double columns is of peculiar rarity, and is placed by Panzer and Brunet as prior to the following edition printed in long lines, and like this in thirty-four leaves.

— De terra sancta et itinere Iherosolomitano et de statu ejus et aliis mirabilibus que in mari conspiciuntur videlicet mediterraneo. Finit feliciter libellus de itinere ad terram sanctam, &c. S. l. a. et typ. n. (sed Argentorati, typis H. Eggesmeyn.) Fol. Thirty-four leaves. R. M.

Meuselius refers to Freytag Analecta 918 for an account of this rare voyage which he had evidently never seen. Ludolphus travelled in the East from 1336 to 1350, and this edition of his voyages is also of great rarity.

— De terra sancta et itinere iherosolomitano et de statu ejus et præcipue aliis mirabilibus que in mari conspiciuntur videlicet mediterraneo. S. l. a. et typ. n. 4to. B. M.

See Marco Polo and Mandevilla, printed in the same type. They are bound together.

"These three rare and early voyages are not described in any Bibliographical Work that I have seen except by Fabricius, Bib. Med. et Infim. Latinit. lib. xi. p. 849, where speaking of Suchen he says 'prodiit sub typographiæ initia, cum scriptis ejusdem, argumenti, Mandevillæ et Marci Pauli.' They appear by the type to have been printed by Gerard de Leew, Antverpiæ, circa 1484-6." MS. note.

This is printed in the same type as Schilberger fol. attributed by Brunet to Zainer at Ulm, circa 1473.

This Voyage (bound up with Schilberger) is equally rare, but unfortunately wants from cap. 85 to cap. 95.

— Von dem gelobten land und weg gegen iherusalem von irè wesen und wundn die in dem grossen mör gesehen werdent. S. l. 1477. 4to. B. M.

— De Grammaticis et Rhetoribus Clarissimis libellus. S. l. a. et typ. n. 4to. R. M.

Although no printer's name is found, it seems now agreed that the type is that of Jenson, and according to Sardini the date about 1471. This opinion from the Crevenna Cat. IV. p. 218, and from Sardini Storia di N. Jenson lib. 3. p. 20 is adopted in Bibl. Spencer. II. 388.

— De Grammaticis et Rhetoribus Clarissimis. S. l. a. et typ. n. 4to. R. M.

There is some difficulty in ascertaining the printer of this rare edition; by Ebert it is attributed to the press of Gensberg, by Audiffredi to that of Schurener de Bopardia. It was probably printed between 1473 and 1475.

"Braun supposes this very rare history to have been printed, circa 1474, in the Monastery of St. Ulrique at Augsburg, I. 46. 'Hujus editionis, certè rarissimæ, tam rara sunt exemplaria, ut pene manuscriptis codicibus æquæ parentur.' See-miller, I. 178.

"This copy belonged to Mr. Dunge the editor of an ancient Poem called 'Ligurinus, sive de rebus gestis Friderici I. Heidelbergæ. 8vo. 1812,' and the MS. notes in pencil are by him. This history is by some attributed to an author called Burchardus Biberacensis, 1226." See Ebert, page 243.

Collation. A-GG. in fours. One hundred and twenty leaves.

First Edition. "Nott, in his laborious edition of Surrey's Life and Works, takes no notice whatever of the dates under which they were edited. It is from Warton's Eng. Poetry, III. p. 12, that we find Lord Surrey's Poems were first printed by Tottell in 1557 in 8vo. and 4to., again in 1565, 74, 85 and 1587. This first edition is of the greatest rarity—another copy of it is in Trinity College, Cambridge." MS. note. See Heber Catalogue, part IV. no. 2561.

This edition, next in date to the two first of 1557, is entirely unknown, and this volume must be considered as a unique copy of the third Edition: that of 1564-5 corresponds so exactly with this, that pp. 39 and 72 being deficient weresupplied from that Edition.

TASSO, TORQUATO. Il Goffredo, nuovamente dato in luce. In Vinegia, appresso Dom. Cavalcalupo a Instantia di Marc Antonio Malaspina, 1580. 4to. M.

First Edition. This is the first edition of the Gierusalemme published by Malaspina from an imperfect copy which he had procured without the knowledge of the author. It contains the 10 first Cantos complete; of the 11th and 13th only the "argomenti," the 15th not complete but containing 40 stanzas, many of which the author afterwards disclaimed. Serassi Vita di Tasso, p. 541.

— Gerusalemme Liberata. Al Sereniss. Sig. Don Alfonso II. Duca V. di Ferrara, etc. tratta da fedeliss. copia et ultimamente emendata di mano dall'istesso Auttore: In Calsalmaggiore, 1581, appresso Ant. Canacci et Erasmo Viotti. 4to. G. M.

Serassi in his Life of Tasso, p. 542, tells us that this "pregevole edizione" was intended by Ingegneri the friend of Tasso to have been adorned with plates, but upon seeing the first edition which had been surreptitiously printed by Cavalcalupo, he hurried on his impression of this edition so fast, that he was obliged to leave some "lacunæ" in the text.

— Gierusalemme Liberata, Poema Heroico. Ridotta alla sua vera lettione, etc. Con la aggiunta di molte Stanze, che dall'Autore sono state rifiutate et mutate a suoi luoghi. In Mantova, per Francesco Osanna, 1584. 4to. G. M.

This edition by Osanna is considered as the best "Edizione pregevolissima e superiore forse a tutte le altre." Gamba.

Brunet, III. 297. In this copy the impression of the plates is singularly fine, and they are complete. It is bound by R. Payne.

Ginguené calls this "édition très rare" and observes, that it is not to be found in Haym nor in Floncel, nor did Serassi possess it in his numerous collection of the editions of Tasso.

First Edition. The editors of the edition of 1817 have very truly noticed the value and rarity of this of 1600. "Printed under the eye of the translator, it now ranks with the rarest poetical volumes in our language."

— Gerusalemme Conquistata. Parigi, appresso Abel l'Angelieri, 1595. (M.D.LCXXV. sic.). 12mo. R. M.

"This poem was by the author considered as an improvement upon his Gerusalemme Liberata, but the publick did not adopt the author's opinion. This edition printed at Paris was suppressed there on account of the 76 and 77 Stanzas of the 20th Book, p. 270, which reflect upon the Kingdom of France."

— Rime del Signor Torquato Tasso. Parte Prima. Insieme con altri componimenti del medesimo. In Vinegia (per Aldo Manutio) 1581. 12mo. L. P.

"First Edition. Renouard attributes the great rarity of this first edition of the Rime di Tasso to its having been probably suppressed by Aldus on account of its incorrectness, and yet the 2d Edition printed by Aldus in 1582 is very nearly as incorrect as this of 1581. It is very rare and no other copy is known upon thick paper. It was purchased of Petrucci at Rome under the assurance that all the MS. notes were by the hand of Tasso, whereas, though a few are thought to be by Tasso, the greater part are ascertained to be by Foppa, from whom it went into the Falconieri Library, and this is certainly the identical copy quoted by Serassi in his Life of Tasso, p. 325. Foppa was the editor of the 'Opere Posthume di Tasso,' and Falconieri was Foppa's heir. It should be remarked that the Paragone makes part of this edition though it is omitted by Renouard. Renouard also states 27 pages for the Romeo though it has only 22. If these MS. notes were intended for a new edition, that may account for the absence of the two dedicatory pages which contain only an apology for the incorrectness of the first edition." MS. note.

— Delle Rime. Parte prima (et seconda) di novo dal medesimo in questa nuova impressione ordinate, corrette, accresciute et date in luce. In Brescia, appr. Pietro M. Marchetti, 1592-3. 12mo. 2 vol. in 1. G. M.

"This satire was attributed to A. Tassoni, and is described by Tiraboschi, vol. 8, p. 451, as one of the rarest books existing, so rare that Muratori would not believe that it was printed. Tassoni denied the work altogether and attributed it to Fulvio Savviano, but both Muratori and Tiraboschi agree in considering Tassoni as the author, and the latter calls this book "uno de piu rari libri che esistano." It consists of twenty-two leaves, and each satire concludes with the words, L'innominato Accademico Libero."

TERENTIUS. Publii Terentii Affri (sic) poetæ comici Comediarum liber. Publii Terentii Affri Poetæ Comici Comediarum liber Finit. S. l. a. et typ. n. (sed Argentorati, per Joannem Mentelinum, circa MCCC-LXVIII.) Fol. R. M.

This is generally esteemed the First Edition, though it continues to be a subject of controversy and its date is uncertain, but supposed by Laire, Index I. 51. 4. to be 1468. Audiffredi Ed. Rom. 412. considers the edition of Ph. de Lignamine, that attributed to Laver, as also that of Guldinbeck, of very early date. This edition, in which the verses are not divided, is of the greatest rarity, "litteratoribus hucusque incognita," says Laire, I. 51. Bp. Dampier knew of no copy in England besides his own and Lord Spencer's; Bibl. Spenc. II. p. 407.

— Comœdiæ cum ejusdem Vita. S. l. a. et typ. n. Fol. R. M.

Brunet vol. III. p. 433. and Dibdin Bibl. Spencer, II. p. 419. agree in describing this edition as unknown to the bibliographers, but as being a second edition by J. de Colonia, prior to 1474. But Lord Spencer, in a letter to Mr. Grenville, thinks it clear, that this is not a reprint of J. de Colonia, but considers the character as more resembling that of Vindelin or John de Spira. It certainly has the Gothick v. which is to be found in the Spira Tacitus and is not to be found in J de Colonia's Terence of 1471. This edition consists of One hundred leaves.

— Comœdiæ Sex, cum vita Terentii. Vale vir optime. Raphael Jovenzonius ister. P. emendavi. Joannes Agrippinae colonie decus impressit. Anno domini nostri ihesu christi MCCCCLXXI. divo Nicolao throno venetiarum duce. Finis felix. Fol. R. M.

FIRST EDITION. This is the first edition that has a clear indisputable date, and is of very rare occurrence. Panzer, II. xi. quotes the Zarçtus edition in Lord Pembroke's library with the date of 1470, but that date is evidently fabricated out of the date of 1481. See Bibl. Spenc. II. pp. 402. 411.

— Comœdiæ. S. l. a. et typ. n. (sed in Monasterio Sortensi). L. Aretini Comedia (Calphurnia et Gurgulio) finit feliciter; leonardus Aretinus in monasterio Sortensi. Anno dni M. quadringentesimo septuagesimo octavo (1478.) Fol. G. M.

"This very rare edition is without date, but the two or three copies which are known having been found in the original binding with the Comedy of Aretinus subjoined, it is not, probably much anterior to 1478. These two works are the only publications known to have issued from the Sortensian Monastery in the Diocese of Constance."

— Comœdiæ, cum Commentariis Donati, P. T. Afri liber explicitur. Impressus Venetiis, per Bernardinum de coris Cremonensem Anno Domini MCCCCLXXXVIII. Fol. R.

This edition though noticed by Panzer, III. 261., is little known to the bibliographers. Another edition by the same printer has the date of 1489. Ernesti Lit. Romana I. 237.

Cum figuris. Fol. G. M.

Freytag says of this edition "editio infrequens, valde infrequens." The singularity of the cuts recommends it to the curious. Bibl. Spenc. II. p. 426. Brunet, III. 308.

This edition does not appear to have been known to Panzer, nor is it found in the principal bibliographical works.

"It appears to be very questionable, which of the three earliest editions of Donatus is the first. Dibdin inclines to that by Sweynheim and Pannartz, but gives no sufficient reason, II. p. 414. Laire Ind. I. 128. calls this present edition, "Editio vere princeps et ignota." It is generally referred to the press of Mentelin on account of the peculiar R. but in truth the question of precedence of that of Sweynheim and Pannartz, that of Spira and this of Mentelin is of great doubt and difficulty." #### TESTAMENT, THE NEW.

[The New Testament translated by William Tyndale assisted by William Roy. Colonia, ex officina Petri Quentell, MDXXV.] 4to.

"We have given the above title to a fragment of a book consisting of thirty-one leaves only, containing "The Prologge" and part of the gospel of St. Matthew, and which may nevertheless justly be considered one of the most interesting volumes in the library, since it presents us with the only remaining portion of this first attempt to circulate the Scriptures in the English language by means of the Press.

As the date assigned is earlier by one year than has hitherto been given for the printing of the book, and as there is no title, or name attached to it, or other external evidence to prove its being the book thus designated, it will be necessary to adduce proofs thereof; we shall lay them briefly before the reader, premising, that a much more detailed and interesting account will be hereafter given to the public by the Rev. Christopher Anderson of Edinburgh, in his forthcoming Annals or History of the English Bible.

Before describing this book, we are able to state, that the date 1525, is fully established by the discovery of some highly important documentary evidence by Mr. Anderson, about to appear in his work; and which not only proves the fact that there were two Editions of Tyndale's New Testament, circulating in England throughout 1526, as denounced by Tunstal in November of that year, but that a third edition had actually reached England, and even his hands, before the year was ended, viz. The first edition partly printed at Cologne by Peter Quentell, of which the present fragment is all that has come down to us. The second printed at Worms probably by Schoyffer, but certainly in 1525, of which one copy perfect, excepting the title, exists in the Library of the Baptist Museum at Bristol, and another imperfect, in the Library of St. Paul's Cathedral. The third, printed at Antwerp in 1526 by Christopher of Endhoven, of which no copy is as yet positively known to exist.

The fragment commences on the recto of leaf A ij with the words "The Prologge," which Prologge contains seven leaves. On the recto of the next leaf after the Prologue follows a table of "The bokes conteyned in the newe Testament," on the reverse of which is a large wood cut of St. Matthew. This cut is without any name or mark of the artist, but it occurs again in other books printed at Cologne, in one of which, viz. a Bible printed in the year 1527, we find other cuts evidently from the same hand, on one are the initials A.W., being the monogram of Arnold of Worms, an artist who resided at Cologne, and executed numerous works there, one of them being a long view of that city.

On the opposite page the book commences and extends from folio ii. to xxiiii. on which the fragment terminates at the 12th verse of the xxiid. Chapter of St. Matthew.

Besides the wood cut of St. Matthew, there are initial letters at the commencement of the chapters cut in wood. The type is a small german gothic exactly the same as that used in other books printed at Cologne in the early part of the sixteenth century.

The History of the printing of the book is given by Joannes Cochlæus in his "Historia de Vitis et Scriptis Martini Lutheri," under the year 1526, and is to the following purport. Cochlæus states that, he being at Cologne engaged in superintending the printing of "Opera Ruperti Abbatis Monasterii Tuitensis," and particularly his Commentaria in Mattheum, at the office of Peter Quentell, was given to understand, that two Englishmen were then employed in printing a book, which was to convert the whole of England to Lutheranism: that he, being desirous of knowing the secret, invited some of the printers to his lodgings, where after he had plied them with wine, he learnt that the book was the New Testament translated from Luther's version, that 2500 copies of it in 4to. size were in the press, and that the sheets as far as K were already printed off. Cochläus, being a great opponent of Luther and his doctrines, alarmed at the danger this threatened to the catholic cause, communicated the intelligence to Herman Rinck, one of the Magistrates of Cologne, and got his authority for searching the house; but the Englishmen having in the meanwhile got intelligence of what was going on, fled away up the Rhine to Worms, taking with them the sheets of the book as far as printed.

Lewis, in his History of the translations of the Bible into English, gives the story told by Cochläus, but as he denies his veracity, we shall give such evidence as will establish it in nearly every particular.

1. The book which Cochläus was engaged upon was published at Cologne in the year 1526, and is remarkable as bearing in the title page the identical wood cut of St. Matthew used in this fragment, but with portions of the block cut away from the side and bottom, proving most satisfactorily the identity of place, and that the Testament must have been printed in or before the year 1526.

2. Cochläus speaks of two persons being employed on the work, and we learn from Tyndale himself that he employed William Roy to assist him in reading the sheets.

3. Cochläus speaks of it as being translated from Luther's version. On comparing the fragment with that version, it appears that some of the notes and a part of the "Prologge" are literally translated from it. This Prologge was subsequently printed in a separate form, and will be found with some slight alterations in the collected works of Tyndale under the title of "A pathway to Scripture."

4. But the most curious and conclusive evidence of its being the acknowledged work of Tyndale and Roy, is found in the satire by the latter author against Cardinal Wolsey "Rede me and be not wroth."

In this work there is an account of the burning the New Testament by the command of Tunstal, Bp. of London, and of the reasons assigned by the Bp. in a sermon which he preached against the translation.

Alas, he sayde, Masters and frendes,
Consyder well nowe in youre myndes,
These heretikes diligently.

They saye, that commen women,
Shall assone come vnto heven,

As those that lye perfectly.

And was that their very sayinge?

After this wyse, with oute faynyng,

In a certayne Prologge they wryte.

That a whoore, or an open synner,

By meanes of Christ our Redemer,

Whome God to repent doth incyte,

Shall soner come to saluacion,

By merites of Christis passion,

Than an ouwarde holy lyver.

The passage here alluded to as the object of the Bishop's special notice is found in the Prologge in the following words, in which the author is discussing the merit of good works, more especially of the efficacy of monastic vows.

"Yf y live chaste, I doo hit nott to obteyne heven therby. For then shulde y doo wronge to the bloud of Christ: Christes bloud hath obteyned me that, Christes merettes have made me heyre there of. He is both dore and waye thether wardes. Nether that y loke for an hyer roume in heven, then they shall have whych live in wedlocke, other then a hoare of the stewes (yf she repent) for that were the pryde of lucifer."

5. Tunstal and Warham in their "Inhibitions to read the New Testament in English" set forth in October and November 1526 particularly notice there being more than one edition in circulation and point out the distinction "some with glosses and some without"—the edition with the glosses evidently referring to the present fragment, since no other has been found to contain them. Neither is the passage so particularly the object of the Bishop's animadversions found in any other editions.

The inhibitions of Warham, and Tunstal, will be found in Fox's Martyrology, and in the Concilia Magnæ Britanniae of Wilkins; and the curious Satire of Roy, which will be found to contain other interesting matter relating to the introduction of the Testament into England, and the persecution of it, is reprinted in the ninth volume of the Harleian Miscellany."

This Title is encircled in a border, on the reverse is the Almanack (commencing 1526) followed by the Calendar, seven leaves. On the recto of the eighth leaf the text begins, the next leaf being signature A 1. On the reverse of B b b. 1. is the following colophon. Here endeth the new Testament diligently ouersene and corrected, and prynted now agayn at Antwerpe, by me wydowe of Christoffel of Endhoven. In the yere of oure Lorde Mcccc. and xxxiiii. in August. This is followed by a Table of the Pistelys and the Gospellys after the use of Sarysbuery. Thirteen leaves. 12mo. Bl. L. B. M.

Collation. The following is the Register on the last leaf of the Volume. "Thus shall you gather together thys boke. The fyrst the Kalender †. Ther after the Gospellis and the Actis thys wyse a-z A-H. Ther after the Pistles and the Revelacion thys wyse Aa-Xx. Aaa, Bbb, Ccc." All in eights but the last, which has only six leaves.

"The Bibliographers have all agreed in stating that only three copies of this edition are known, viz. in St. Paul's Library, Lord Pembroke's at Wilton and at Bristol from Dr. Gifford. Dr. Cotton, very curious in his researches on this subject, assures me that, after the most diligent examination of the above three libraries, he has ascertained beyond all question that the present edition is not in any one of them, neither does he believe that any other copy than mine is to be found. It appears that when the Flemish booksellers began in August 1534 to print Tindale's English N. Testament they employed Joye to correct the Press, in doing which he made several changes in it. Tindale, dissatisfied with this, had another edition printed at Antwerp by Emperour in November 1534, in the Preface to which he complains of the changes made by Joye in the present edition, and particularly charges him with having studiously omitted or changed the word "Resurrection" in many passages which Tindale quotes. Joye, in reply, wrote "An Apology" in the same year 1534 which is now a rare tract. The present unrivalled copy formerly belonged to Mr. Constable."

— The newe Testament of oure sauour Jesu Christ newly and dylygently translated into Englyshe with Annotacions in the Mergent to helpe the Reader to the understandinge of the Texte. Prynted in the yere of oure Lorde God MDXXXVII. With wood cuts. Fol. Bl. L.

"This is a very fine copy on yellow paper of the N. Testament. The old Testament was printed with it, and when the Bible is thus complete it is of great rarity and very high price. There is a complete copy, printed also on yellow paper, in the Bridgewater Collection, and on common paper it will be found in the Museum—the Bodleian—Lambeth and at Lord Pembroke's. It is called Matthew's Bible, though the real editor was Rogers the first Martyr in Q. Mary's reign." MS. note.

— The New Testament of oure Sauour Jesu Christ. Imprynted at Antwerpe by Matthew Crom. In the yere of our Lorde MDXXXVIII. Wood cuts. 12mo. Bl. L. B. M.

Collation. The Title, Almanack, Kalender, Prologue and Prologue to St. Matthew's Gospel occupy *1-viii. The Testament commences on A 1. and terminates on the verso of m. viii. Then follow the Epistles of the Old Testament, occupying n 1-viii. and o 1 and recto of o 11. The Table commences on the verso of o 11. and the summe of the Holy Scripture and colophon terminate on the verso of o viii. Together three hundred and four leaves.

According to Dr. Cotton only three copies are known of this very rare edition of Tyndale's Testament with his Prologues. They are in the Baptist Library Bristol, St. Paul's Cathedral and Christ Church Oxford, the last copy being imperfect. The present is quite a perfect copy and entirely original. In Father Simon's Critical History, he first ascribes this Version to Tyndale and Coverdale, and afterwards doubts whether it be not from Wickliffe's version, which was permitted by Henry VIII. during Sir T. Cromwell's life, but after his death, by the interference of the Bishops, was prohibited. The prevailing opinion however ascribes this Testament to Tyndale and Coverdale.

— The Newe Testament in Englishe, accordynge to the translacion of the greate Bible. Londini, In officina Richardi Graftoni. Anno MDXL. Cum privilegio ad imprimendum solum. 12mo. Bl. L. B. M.

Collation. On the reverse of the Title is the Almanake followed by the Kalender making four leaves. The Gospell of St. Matthew follows on Fol. i. a i. and the Testament concludes thus on the reverse of Fol. 395, by mistake numbered 393, "The ende of the newe Testament." Then a Table of three leaves, and on the recto of D. d. vii. is the device of Grafton; the reverse and following leaf D. d. 8. being blank. Together four hundred and four leaves.

"This Edition, as far as I can find, is unknown to all the bibliographical writers. It is apparently unique and is in fine condition with several leaves not cut open." MS. note.

— The Newe Testament in Englishe and in Latin. Novum Testamentum Anglice et Latine. Anno Dni. 1548. M.

This edition is very uncommon. Dr. Cotton quotes two copies, one at St. Paul's, one of Mr. Herbert's. Only one copy has occurred of late years.

— The newe Testament of the last translacion. By Wylliam Tyndall with the Prologes and annotacions in the mergent, declaryng many harde places conteyned in the texte, also in the later ende foloweth the Epistles of the Olde Testament.

Imprynted, &c. 1549. At the end, Imprynted at London wythin Aldrichgate in the parisshe of Saynete Anne and Agnes, by Wylyam Tylle in the yeare of our Lorde God 1548. This is followed by two leaves of Table, and then, Imprynted at London by Thomas Petet. 4to. Bl. L. B. M.

Collation. The Title, Almanacke and Kalender four leaves. W. Tyndall unto the Christen Reader, and the Summe of the Gospels occupy sheet A six leaves. The Testament occupyes B-Z and A a-N n in eights. The Table occupyes sign. i. i. 1 and ii. Together two hundred and eighty-two leaves.

Only one other copy seems to be known of this edition which is in Lincoln Cathedral.

— The Newe Testament of oure Saucour Jesus Christ, translated by M. Wil. Tyndall, yet once agayne corrected, with newe Annotacyons, very necessary to better understandynge. Where vnto is added an exhortacion to the same of Erasmus Rotero. with an Engelse Kalender. And a Table necessary to fynde easly and lyghtly any story contayned in the fowre Evangelistes, and in the Actes of the Apostles, MDXLIX. 12mo. Bl. L. B. M.

Collation. The Title is in red and black, encircled by wood cuts; on the reverse the Almanac begins, which with the office of all estates and the list of the Bokes of the Newe Testament, occupyes 8 Leaves including the Title Page. Then follows Erasmus's Exhortacion 10 leaves, and W. Tindale to the Christian Reader, sheet A 8 leaves. The Testament begins on the following leaf B. i. and concludes with the Table where in ye shall fynd the Epystles and the Gospels after the use of Salsbury on the recto of C. c. 6. in the third Alphabet. The other signatures run in eights. It contains altogether 308 leaves, but h 1. and h 8. of the second Alphabet are reprinted.

This edition was probably printed from the third of Tyndall, 1536, as like that, it omits the clause in 1 Peter ch. 2. unto the Kyng as unto the chefe head. It differs much from the preceding edition with the date of 1549 in the Title Page and 1548 in the Colophon. This edition has separate prologues to the four Evangelists, which are not in the other edition, and this has a small addition to the Epistles at the end, not in the other. This very rare edition was unknown to Herbert and Dr. Cotton.

This copy contains on the reverse of the Title the King's Authority dated 1552, which is not found in the preceding. Both Editions are now become very rare. It has been questioned which of these two editions was the first published, and till now it has not been observed that the Calendar prefixed to the Edition without the King's Authority commences in the year 1552, in the Edition with the King's Authority it commences in 1553. The wood cuts vary in the two editions, and the Maps which follow the Acts of the Apostles are quite different.

This first edition is extremely rare; the only reference in Panzer, vol. VIII. p. 262, is to the La Valliere copy, which is also quoted by Brunet, III. p. 445, who justly observes that this rare edition is of a much higher value than what it fetched at the La Valliere sale. There are subsequent editions of 1541, 1626, and 1670, this last edition by Schæffer is one of merit and contains also Aphthonii Progymnasmata.

On the Reverse of the Title is an address of Angelus Barbatu to Leo Xth, which concludes on the recto of the next leaf, the reverse of which is blank. The text commences on the following leaf, paged 1, and concludes on the reverse of page 55 with the date as above, but it only contains thirty leaves. Signatures A to Γ in eights and Δ four. The pages skip from 19 to 33.

as the Lascaris of 1480. See a long dissertation by Ebert, p. 1870, respecting the type of this edition, but with no satisfactory result, as he was never able to see a copy of it. It is indeed a book of excessive rarity. The copy in Mr. Holford's Library, and the present are the only ones which have occurred for sale for very many years, and both were brought into this country by us. The present copy was from Larcher's Library.

FIRST EDITION. PRINTED UPON VELLUM. This very beautiful copy is quite complete, with the original Table.

“An allegorical poem of knight-errantry executed by Melchior Pfinzing, but appointed and projected by the hero of the work himself, the subject matter of which is the adventures, which the German Emperor Maximilian I. had to undergo before he could succeed in the possession of the beautiful and wealthy Maria of Burgundy. It is not the poetical execution of the subject, which gives any interest to the work (as it is flat and cold), but partly the chivalrous tendency of the poem, and partly the peculiar typography and embellishments in the first two editions, which alone are of value to collectors.” Ebert, p. 1884, followed by a dissertation on the wood cuts.

In Vol. 3, after the Voyage des Ambassadeurs is an additional set of plates "à contre-épreuve" to shew the great superiority of the plates in the Original Edition.

At the end of this 3rd vol. is "Explication de la Carte d'Telmer" never seen by Camus but once, and not in any other copy of Thevenot, see Camus, p. 283.

"This is the identical copy of Tirant lo Blanch described by Mendez, in his Typographia Española. It was brought from el Nuevo Bastan, in October 1824, and no other copy is known to exist in Spain. This Romance is one of the few spared from the flames by the Curate in his scrutiny of Don Quixote's Library." O. Rich.

But one other copy of this First Edition of Tirant Lo Blanch in the Limosin dialect, is now known, which is in the Vatican. The beauty and matchless condition of the present, cannot be surpassed. It was purchased by Mr. Heber for Three Hundred Guineas.

The following interesting account of this Romance and its author is taken from Ritson's General Catalogue of Romances, MS. formerly in the Heber Collection, and now in the British Museum. It follows a transcript from the Barcelona Edition of 1497. The Don Ferdinand to whom the Romance is Dedicated is said in a note by Ritson to be Ferdinand Prince of Portugal, Duke of Viseo, second son of Edward I. who died in 1471 aged 30, and whose son Emanuel, on a failure of the issue of Alphonsus V. his elder brother, afterwards succeeded to the crown.

"As this book is very little known, even in Spain, it was thought proper to be more than ordinarily particular in the description of it: and the Dedication appearing worthy of peculiar attention, not only as exhibiting a very elegant specimen of the Valencian or Catalan dialect, but as containing some assertions with respect to the origin and history of the work which excite curiosity, is therefore given at length. Although Martorell, in this dedication, professes to have translated the history and acts of his hero out of English, in which he found them written, we are only to regard this as one of those venial deceits which are frequently practised by such like writers, in order to give their compositions an air of mystery, antiquity or truth. There can be no doubt that he was the real Author of this Romance; but whether he originally wrote it in Portuguese, into which, he says, he first translated it, or in his native dialect, the Valencian, cannot at present be ascertained: certain it is, however, that no copy of it in the Portuguese language is known to exist. (But if the account given at the conclusion of the printed book be true, viz., that Martorell died after he had finished no more than the three first books and that the fourth was translated at the instance of a lady, by another hand; if this be true, it must be admitted, either that there was a Portuguese version, or that Martorell was not the author of the fourth book.) It is not improbable, indeed that Martorell during his stay in England, whither he is supposed to have come in the suite of Peter Duke of Coimbra, son to John I. K. of Portugal, in 1425, might have got acquainted with some books, stories, anecdotes, or popular traditions, which he has made use of in his work. In one part of it the hero fights with a mastiff; and the curious reader will find the undoubted original of this strange combat in Montfaucon, Monumens de la Monarchie Francoise, vol. 3. p. 70. as an event that actually happened in the year 1371. What renders this conjecture the more plausible is, that in the commencement of the book he has introduced the story of the celebrated Guy of Warwick, whom he calls "Comte Gillem de Veroych," which was certainly then extant both in English and French. The magnificent feasts, jousts and tournaments with which they celebrate the marriage of the King of England with the King of France's daughter, (by which he may possibly allude to that of Richard II. with the Princess Isabella of France) together with the origin of the Order of the Garter, and some other particulars may have been likewise communicated to him at that time; unless indeed it may be thought more probable that he was indebted for a good deal of this kind of information to Froissart, a favourite author of that age. See particularly in vol. ii. chap. 173. an account of the feasts and jousts made by the K. of England in 1390. In the following chapter also mention is made of a report which prevailed in the christian camp in Barbary that the Genoese, whose treachery forms a striking incident in this romance, were about to bargain with the Saracens and betray the Christian men. The French translator (Comte de Caylus, who however knew nothing of the original edition) is of opinion that the model of all the feasts which the author describes in this Romance is to be found in the Catalan chronicle of Miguel Carbonnell in a very detailed relation of those given at Saragossa in 1399 on account of the coronation of Martin I. of Arragon and his Queen Mary de Luna; and it certainly may be so. But the fact is that the Duke of Coimbra (in whose train Martorell is supposed to have been) was magnificently entertained at the court of our Henry VI. (then a child) by the King's uncles, and actually installed a Knight of the Garter; so that the author might have been an eye witness of the ceremony. One reason of the fiction adopted by Martorell might be, that as his patron Ferdinand was great grandson to John of Gaunt (who under the title of Duke of Lancaster and uncle to the King (which renders Froissart's assistance still more probable) is actually introduced as a distinguished character in the work), he was likely to be more gratified with the idea of its being an English story than with the naked truth. Be all this however as it may, the work itself is perhaps superior to every other composition of the same nature. Every writer who has read it, and particularly in the original, is lavish in its praise. Antonio Bastero in his "Crusca Provenzale" (Roma, 1724, folio) refers to a copy preserved in the library Della Sapienza at Rome, and calls the author one of the clearest lights of the Provençal tongue, of which the Catalan is considered as a branch. He takes particular notice of the variation of his style and manner, not only in Tirant's reply to his rivals and his letters to his beautiful and constant lady the Princess Carmesina, but in his own Dedication to the King (Prince) of Portugal, whom he addresses in a language very different from that which he uses to the reader in his Preface. This particularity is likewise insisted on by Vicente Ximeno, in his Escritores del Reyno de Valencia (Val. 1747. fol.) p. 13, where he says that it is written as such works should be, because the author has accommodated, with adroitness and propriety, the language and style to the person speaking: and indeed the artful discrimination of character must strike every one who peruses the work even in the translation of a translation."

"Tirant the white, the hero of this Romance, is a gentleman of Bretagne, who coming, with certain of his relations, to the celebration of the nuptials of the King of England, loses his company in a reverie, out of which he is awakened at a hermitage inhabited by the famous Guy of Warwick, who is reading a book upon the order of chivalry, intitled, L'Arbre des Batailles, out of which, after some agreeable conversation, in the course of which Tirant declares his family and descent, and the reason of his being so called (viz. from the March of Tirania, of which his father was lord, and Blanch the name of his mother), he reads him a chapter, and on his departure delivers him the book. Tirant arrives at the English Court, where he conducts himself in the most gallant manner, receives the order of Knighthood, and has the honour of being the first Knight of the Garter. He afterwards relieves the isle of Rhodes, which is besieged by the Infidels, in confederacy with the treacherous Genoese. He is sent for by the Emperor of Greece, who is in great danger of losing his Empire to the Turks, of whom Tirant in the end entirely frees the country. In consideration of his important services, he is betrothed by the Emperor to the Princess Carmesina his daughter, of whom he has been long violently enamoured, and is proclaimed Cæsar and heir to the Empire. Having made an advantageous peace, and restored the Emperor to the quiet possession of all his ancient dominions, as he is returning to Constantinople to enjoy the reward of his toils and heroism, he is seized with a sudden sickness of which he dies. The news of this unhappy event proves fatal to the Emperor; nor does the Princess long survive her husband and her father. The foregoing is the slightest and most imperfect sketch of this inimitable history; every page is interesting and material; and the author is equally happy in the most majestic and the most familiar parts of his narration; in the senate house and the bedchamber; in the eloquent military harangues of Tirant, and the artful pleasantries of the Princess's waiting-maid. In short, it is doubtless the most ingenious, entertaining and excellent work of the species that has ever been composed."

"Nicholas Antonio, and Vicente Ximeno, after him, mention a report that this romance was printed at Valencia in 1480; but this is probably a mistake; at least no one has ever pretended to say he had seen such an edition, or in fact any other of the original. The only copy of this most curious and inestimable book (of the edition of Barcelona, 1497) known to exist was in the Library of the Rev. Mr. Crofts, at whose sale it was purchased by the Portuguese Ambassador for 17 guineas; the Editor of this Catalogue, who is still happy in the reflection of having frequently had it in his hands, and made so considerable a transcript from it, being the losing bidder."

"Mr. Warton, in his "History of English Poetry," (V. iii. p. 476), in order to establish an hypothesis that "A British Knight means a Knight of Bretagne or Britany, in France, ("a common mistake, he pretends, arising from an equivocation which has converted many a French Knight into an Englishman,") mentions the learned Nicholas Antonio, in his Spanish Library, as affording "a remarkable example of this confusion, and a proof of its frequency," where he speaks "of the Spanish translation" of this romance in 1480." This writer says that Martorell "more aliorum talium otiosorum consueto, fingit se hunc librum ex Anglica in Lusitanam, de inde Lusitana in Valentinam linguam, anno 1460; transtulisse," that is, "according to a practice common to such idle historians, he pretends he translated this book from English into Portuguese, and from thence into the Valencian language." "Now," says Mr. Warton, "The hero is a gentleman of Bretagne, and the book was first written in the language of that country." The first part of the proposition, indeed, happens to be true, but the latter is utterly false and groundless. Antonio, as we have already seen, as to the different translations of the work, has faithfully given the Author's own account; and his "Mostalium otiosorum" will be sufficiently explained in the course of the present Catalogue, without recurring to the imaginary confusion of Mr. Warton, of which, in fact, the reader will never meet with a single instance."

URQUHART, Sir THOMAS, of Cromartie, Knight. Ekskubalauron : or, the discovery of a most exquisite Jewel, more precious than diamonds incased in gold, the like whereof was never seen in any age ; found in the kennel of Worcesterstreets, the day after the fight, and six before the autumnal equinox, anno 1651. Serving in this place to frontal a vindication of the honour of Scotland, from the infamy, whereinto the rigid Presbyterian party of that nation, out of their covetousness and ambition, most dissembledly hath involved it. Ese acabo en alabança de la santissima trinidad a siete dias del mes de Julio. Anno del nacimiento de nuestro señor Jesu cristo Mil y quinientos y treze años (MDXIII.) Fol. R. M.

This early Cancionero is so very rare that there does not appear any trace of it in the bibliographical books ; its very early date, and the press from which it issued, render it still more interesting. On the reverse of the Title commences the Table which occupies also the next leaf. The Prologue commences on fol. ii. and the text on fol. iii. which finishes on fol. 49, (printed partly in three and partly in two columns.) The date and device of the printer is on the recto of the following leaf.

"This author was vehemently attacked for his history by Godin in behalf of the Jesuits, whose accounts he had contradicted ; he is mentioned by Antonio, Bibl. Hisp. II. 70. He is censured by Meuserius, III. i. 115, and quoted by Richarderie, IV. without comment, but with his usual inaccuracy, he calls the work a Folio, though it is a very small quarto. It is of rare occurrence in this country." MS. note.

VARGAS MACHUCA, BERNARDO DE. Milicia y Descripcion de las Indias, por el Capitan Don Bernardo de Vargas Machuca, Cauallero Castellano, natural de la villa de Simancas. Madrid, por Pedro Madrigal, 1599. 4to.

"This work is most highly extolled by Southey in his Brasil, III. 885, as one of the most valuable works on the conquest of America. See too Bib. Thuan. I. 458. The author wrote also "Defensa de las conquistas de las Indias" in answer to Bartolomæus de las Casas; but it seems a question whether it was ever published or not. N. Antonio says it never was published, and his authority is probably the best. Pinelo 1329, and Meuselius, III. i. 230, both quote this Milicia Indiana, which rarely occurs. Vargas served 22 years in Spanish America." MS. note.

VARRO, MARCUS TARENTIUS. De Lingua Latina Commentarii. S. l. a. et typ. n. (sed Romæ, typis G. Laver). Fol. R. M.

First Edition. This edition is attributed by Audiffredi to the press of G. Laver.

— De Lingua Latina Commentarii. S. l. a. et typ. n. Fol. G. M.

It is difficult to arrange the priority of the three early editions of this work. In Bibl. Spenc. III. p. 117, this is supposed to be the second; if Laver did print that which Audiffredi attributes to him. Dibdin in quoting Lord Spencer's copy says it has seventy-nine leaves, it should have eighty-one as the present has, but Lord Spencer's copy wants fol. 34 and 35.

FIRST EDITION. The very few bibliographers who know of this edition of Vegetius, attribute it to the press of Ketelaer of Utrecht, circa 1473, and esteem it to be the first edition. The accompanying edition of Hieronymus de Viris Illustribus from the same press is not to be found in Panzer, nor in any bibliographical book that has been consulted, neither does it accompany the Vegetius in Lord Spencer's library. The two books together are of the greatest rarity. They were purchased by Renouard at the Meermann Sale, and reference to the Vegetius will be found in his very ingenious note relative to the claims of Harlem to the Invention of printing. The Meermann Sale took place after the publication of his Catalogue. Bibl. d'un Amateur, vol. II. p. 155.

"This first edition is very rare and desirable from the superiority of the impressions. The Latin verses under the plates are by I. Bochius of Brussels. — Englands Joy. Without place, name of Printer, and date. 4to. M.

An extremely rare Poem.

The Acrostic is repeated on A. 1. and the Poem finishes on the reverse of A. 4. The last leaf contains three stanzas, "For all Honourable, Vertuous and Noble spirited Lords, &c."

This is a laudatory poem on Queen Elizabeth, occasioned by Lord Mountjoy's defeat of the Irish rebels under the Earl of Tyrone.

Thirty-four leaves. R. M.

Of this book Mr. Grenville has not found any trace in the Catalogues he has consulted. It is not noticed by Panzer. It is apparently imperfect. Signature A has only six leaves, and no Title.

VESPUTIUS, AMERICUS. Lettera di Amerigo vespucci delle isole nuouamente trouate in quattro suoi viaggi. S. I. et a. Wood cuts. 4to. R. M.

Collation. a. b. in sixes, c. four, on the reverse of the last leaf of that signature the book terminates. It contains five wood-cuts.

This is supposed to be the first Italian edition of the four voyages, of great rarity and interest, in as much as all the early Latin editions are translated from the Italian, and not correctly. The 1st voyage was made in 1497, the 2nd in 1499, the 3rd in 1501, and the 4th in 1503.

Collation. The title is given in a complicated wood cut scroll encircling the world. Then follows the Table on *ii-vi. five leaves, the verso of *vi. has a dedication. "Montalboddo Fracan. al suo amicissimo Joānimaria Anzolello Vicentino. S." The text of Cadamosto follows and the whole volume contains one hundred and twenty-six leaves concluding with the Register.

It is singular that this table of register is defective, wanting the D. which is the last signature.

Camus in his Memoire sur De Bry, p. 342, regrets that he has never been able to see a single copy of this edition.

This rare edition is quoted by Camus, Mem. sur De Bry, p. 342 345. It appears to have been copied from the previous edition in 1508.

1507. 4to. B. M.

This small collection is extremely rare, and is sometimes preceded by an astronomical treatise. This is the only book known to Panzer as being printed at St. Dieu in Lorraine.

The 3rd voyage here agrees with the edition of 1509.

— *Itinerarium Portugallensium e Lusitania in Indiam et inde in Occidentem et demum ad aquilonem. (Ab Archangelo Madrignano Careualensi Latinitate donato.) This is a translation of the Paesi novamente ritrovati by Madrignan.

Camus describes a copy upon Vellum of this edition, with all its details, but he quotes 78 leaves, because he has not observed that 78 is an error for 88, which is the real number.

This early edition, quoted by Panzer, VI. 44, and by Pinelo, p. 574, is also of rare occurrence.

— Alia editio. Impressa per Johannem de la Place, s. a. 4to.

"This edition has escaped the notice of all those Bibliographers that I have consulted.

Meuselius, III. i. 265, says that Jo. Giocondi was the author of the Latin version, and Mat. Redouer the author of the French version.

This edition is probably printed from that of Deodati, 1507." MS. note.

Collation. A-L. iv. in sixes, and four leaves of Table. Sixty-eight leaves.

This German edition of Cadamosto is one of the rarest of all the early books of Voyages. For a detailed account of it see Panzer, XII. 298, but he appears to have known only of one copy, which is in the Library of Nuremberg. Camus in his Mem. sur De Bry, p. 344, says that he has never seen it, so that it is not in the Royal Library at Paris.

— Quatuor Americi Vesputii Navigationes; Germanicè. Strassburg, durch Johannem Gruninger, 1509. Wood cuts. 4to. Bl. L. B. M.

The wood cuts are very curious.

"This early German edition must be of great rarity, as it was not known to Camus, Meuselius, Panzer, nor is it mentioned in any of the books that I have consulted." MS. note.

It is not ascertained who is the printer of this Paris edition; some give it to Janot, some to Phil. le Noir.

— Albericus Vesputius Laurentio Petri francisci de Medicis salutem. 4to. G. M.

MS. upon paper. This MS. of the third voyage of Vesputius, probably prior to any printed edition, belonged to the curious and celebrated Library of Marini Sanuti, whose autograph is found on the first page.

Aldus dedicated his Politian of 1498 to M. Sanuti, who wrote the "Vitæ Ducum Venetorum," and other works and died in 1535.

— Mundus Novus. Magister Johannes Otmar: vindelie impressit Augustæ, 1504. 4to. Four leaves. R. M.

"This is the only copy that I have seen of this extraordinarily rare edition of the third voyage. It has the Title Page of 1504, on the verso of which commences, Albericus Vesputius Laurentio Petri de Medicis salutem plurimam dicit." MS. note.

— Alia editio. De ora Antartica per regem Portugallie pridem inuenta. Argentine. per Mathiam Bupfuff, 1505. Wood cut title page. 4to. Six leaves. B. M.

This edition, besides varying in the title page, has a prose address to Jacobus Brunus, and some Latin verses by Ringmanus Philesius, not in the preceding edition. "This little Tract is so exceedingly rare that the accurate Meuselius did not know it. It is, however, noticed by Panzer, VI. p. 33."

— Mundus Novus. Albericus Vesputius Laurentio Petri de Medicis salutem plurimam dicit. S. a. 4to. Four leaves. Forty-two lines in a full page. G. M.

This is the third voyage, and though professing to be translated from the Italian, it differs very much from the Italian.

— Mundus novus. S. l. et a. 16mo. Eight leaves.

On the verso of the title page, previous to the address, "Laurentio petri de Medicis," we find, "Mundus nouus de natura et moribus et ceteris id generis gentis que in nouo mundo opera et impensis serenissimi Portugalliæ Regis super idibus annis inuento."

— Mundus Novus. S. l. et a. 4to. Six leaves.

The narrative of the voyage is given at much greater length than that of the edition of 1509 by Gruninger, or in the Italian edition without date.

— Ejusdem editionis aliud exemplar. 4to.

This copy has quite a different title page from the preceding, viz. Albericus Vesputius Laurentio petri francisci de medicis Salutem plurimam dicit. With a wood cut beneath with the name of Jehan Lambert.

Camus, p. 129, and Meuselius, III. i. 265, describe this as the first edition, and of extreme rarity. It is in the Royal Library at Paris, &c. Lambert printed at Paris from 1493 to 1514. Camus, p. 130.

This German account of the Expedition of Vesputius in 1501 (the Third Voyage) is without the division into chapters, which subsequently was adopted. It is of great rarity.

— Von der neu gefunden Region so wol ein welt genempt mag werden durch den Cristenlichen Kunig von Portigal wunderbarlich erfunden. S. l. 1505. 4to. G. M.

This is printed in a very different type from the prior edition, and with some variations though of no importance as to the Text. There is a wood cut on the Title.

— Alia Editio, Germanicè versionis variæ. Leypsick, durch Martinum Landessbergk, 1506. 4to. Six leaves. With a wood cut on the Title page, being a copy of that in the Latin Edition printed by Bupfuff in 1505.

This edition is likewise of extreme rarity and is quite a different version from the first of 1505.

This edition of a very rare voyage is quoted by Panzer, IV. p. 253, from Audiffredi, p. 129, and from Fossi, II. p. 788. But though the last leaf contains the name of the editor "Cola" the name of the author has not been discovered. It is dedicated by J. Cola to Gibertus Prince of Carpin, and ornamented with numerous wood cuts. The first page is encircled with a Border on which the name of the Artist is thus engraved "Piero Ciza fe questo Intaglio." P. Ciza is not mentioned by Bartsch. See Brunet N. R. III. 391.

This voyage to Jerusalem appears to have been first printed by Zoppino in 1519. To this edition of 1538 he added the "Lamento di Gierusalem."

Zamora (see Encina) in 1483 is noticed by Brunet, N. R. III. p. 408, who remarks that these two editions are equally rare. The author was grandson of Henry II. King of Arragon of great literary celebrity in his time. He died in 1434, and left in MS. Glossas sobre Virgilio, del Gay Saber et de Rebus Philosophicis, but it does not appear that they were ever printed.

VIRGILIUS, PUBLIUS. Publii Virgilio Maronis Opera Omnia. S. l. a. et typ. n. (sed Argentorati per Joannem Mentelinum circa mcccclxx.) Fol. Two hundred and seven leaves. R. M.

Of this extremely rare edition only three other copies are known in this country. In the Bodleian Library, and in the collections of Lord Spencer, and the late Bishop of Lichfield's copy. Some there are who suppose it to compete for priority with the Roman edition of Sweynheym and Pannartz; but at all events it is certainly printed from a different Manuscript. This beautiful copy from Mr. Hibbert's Library, was formerly in the Monastery of Buckheim near Memmingen, from whence the celebrated print of St. Christopher was obtained.

PRINTED UPON VELLUM. The extreme rarity of this first edition of Virgil with a date is sufficiently known, and has been shewn in the very large prices given for it. Crevenna, III. 189, and De Bure, No. 2659, erroneously considered it as the first edition, and as such it was sold in the Crevenna Sale, for 4150 fr. The Roman Edition circa 1469 however certainly preceded it, and it is a question whether that of Mentelin did not. See Heyne's Virgil, V. 434. Van Praet, vol. IV. p. 75, mentions eight vellum copies, viz. the Royal Library, Paris, the Vatican, Ambrosian Library at Milan, Count D'Elci's, British Museum, University of Dublin, Blenheim, and the present, also an imperfect copy in the Mac Carthy Collection. Paper copies are in the Royal Library, Paris, Imperial Library, Vienna, in Lord Spencer's, Count D'Elci's, Dr. Hunter's, Lord Pembroke's and the Bodleian libraries, (the last, a very fine copy purchased by Mr. Payne at Turin, and sold to Sir M. Sykes.)

— Publii Virgilio Maronis Opera. Per Jacobum, Baptistam, atque Alexandrum de Fivizano, MCCCCLXXII. Fol. One hundred and seventy-one leaves, the thirty-ninth blank. B. M.

This edition is of such rarity, that there is said to be no other copy in England, except that in Lord Spencer's Library. Panzer had evidently never seen it; but the most detailed accounts of it are by Fossi and Dibdin. It is supposed not to have been collated by any of the subsequent editors. Heyne only observes that Laire first discovered this edition, but was mistaken in supposing Fivizano to be a printer, it being a town in the Tuscan territory.

Colophon.

Sculperunt docti manibus sed pectore firmo

— Opera Omnia. Mutine Impressum, per Magistrum Johannem Vurster de Campidona Anno MCCCCLXXIII. die Vicesimatertia mensis Januarii. Fol. R. M.

There are not probably four scarcer editions of the poet in existence, Bibl. Spenc. II. p. 478. "Editio hactenus incognita quam detexit Morellius" says Panzer, II. 146. It is the first book printed at Modena.

— Opera Omnia. S. l. a. et typ. n. Fol. R. M.

Collation. A. (1st. leaf blank,) 10; B-X. in eights, 160; Y. (last leaf MS.,) 4. One hundred and seventy-four leaves.

Harleian copy.

"This excessively rare edition of Virgil is undescribed by all bibliographers. It appears to have been executed about the year 1473. It is printed in the Roman type, with signatures but no numerals nor catchwords, and a full page consists of 41 lines. The beauty of the impression, the soundness of the paper, the magnificent amplitude of the margins combine to render it an almost matchless production of ancient typography. The last leaf containing the twenty concluding verses of the Culex is wanting." Note by Mr. Evans. "As far as I can judge from recollection this rare and beautiful volume seems to be the production of Philip de Lavagna's press at Parma, and may have been printed about 1473. It is the Harleian copy briefly noticed, no. 3670. Bibl. Harl. and although imperfect, contains all the legitimate works of the Poet. There is no where in existence a finer copy of an early edition of Virgil." MS. note by Dr. Dibdin.

— Opera. Impressum regia in civitate Argenten. ordinatione, eliminatione ac relectione Sebastiani Brant operaque et impensa non mediocri magistri Johannis Grieninger. Anno incarnationis christi Millesimo quingentesimo secundo, (1502.) quinta Kalendas septembres die. Fol. G. M.

This edition is much praised as "inter meliores referenda" by Heyne, Virgilii Op. vol. V. p. 460. In Dibdin's Decameron, II. 163. this edition is erroneously called 1503.

“Il y a sous la même date deux éditions bien différentes. La première est remplie de fautes, avec un long errata de quatre pages. La seconde quoique datée de 1514 n’a certainement pas été imprimée avant 1519. Les deux sont très rares.” Renouard, p. 68.

This is the 1st. Edition with the errata.

— Venetiis, in ædibus Aldi et Andree soceri, Anno 1514 Mense Octobri. 8vo. B. M.

Large Paper. Extremely rare. Very fine copy from M. Renouard’s Collection, mentioned in the Annales, p. 69. It is the second and correct Edition of this date. This copy is particularly interesting from having formerly belonged to Tasso, who has filled the two blank leaves between the date and the Anchor, with extracts from Ariosto.

Catalanum, die vicesima tertia mensis Junii anno a nativitate domini Millesimo quadringentesimo quinto.
Deo Gratias. 4to. G. M.

Mr. Grenville has not found any trace or mention of this edition of Virgil printed at Barcelona by Gabriel Pou. It is not to be found in Antonio. "Millesimo quadringentesimo quinto" is probably erroneously put for 1485 or 1495. The name of Petrus Posa as printing at Barcelona from 1481 to 1495 inclusive, will be found in Diosdadi de prima Typographiæ Hispa-nicæ ætate. 4to. Romæ, 1793. The printing of this edition does no honour to Gabriel Pou, being in the greatest degree incorrect. Both Dr. Cotton and Mr. Salva agree with Mr. Grenville with regard to the date 1485 or 1495.

— Bucolica. S. l. et a. (sed Co- loniæ per Ulricum Zell circa mcccc-lxvii.) 4to. Seventeen leaves.
B. M.

Dr. Dibdin considers this as the earliest of the separate parts of Virgil in Lord Spencer's Library. The present is the copy mentioned in Brunet Manuel du Li-braire vol. III. page 560. Lord Spencer's, the only other copy known, was from the Pinelli Sale.

device. 4to. R. M.

"This copy is imperfect, commencing on signature D.1. and finishing on F. iv., but was purchased for its great rarity, it being manifest that though quoted by Ames, neither he nor Herbert, nor Dibdin, nor any other bibliographer had ever seen it.
It appears to have been reprinted by Wyn-kyn de Worde in 1514, and again in 1516."

— Bucolica. In pressura plateæ episcopi, s. a. 4to. a. 8. b. 10.
Eighteen leaves. R.

"I have not found any mention of this singular edition. Panzer tells us that Pa-froed printed some books at Daventer from 1485 to 1495 with the imprint, "in pressura plateæ episcopi," and a volume of Hymni was printed by Pafroed with these words following "Daventriæ." Maittaire quotes an edition of Virgilio Bucolica printed Daventriæ 1492, but as this edition has neither that place nor date it must be a different edition. The type is semi-gothic."

This copy begins with the Bucolica. The Life of Virgil by Donatus should occupy the first seven leaves. Panzer III. 79.

— Mauri Servii Honorati Grammatici in tria Virgillii opera expositio, cum Vita Virgillii a Donato. Anno a Natali christiano millesimo quadringentesimo septuagesimo quinto kalendis decembris, Divo Galeacio Mariæ sfortia vicecomite Mediolani duce quinto florente, hoc opus non indiligenter est impressum. Fol. B. M.

“Panzer attributes this edition to Zarotus, and notices the singularity of the position of the catchwords which is remarked upon by Maittaire, and subsequently by Dibdin, Bibl. Spenc. II. p. 500. but Dibdin adds that “there are no signatures” by which remark it appears that they must have been cut off in Lord Spencer’s copy, for in the present, which has several rough leaves, the signatures appear quite upon the lower extremity of the pages. This edition is preferable to the prior editions of Servius as most of the Greek quotations are printed in this, though left blank in the prior editions.”

Collation. This volume commences on b. ii. and ends on f. iii. Eighteen leaves. The preliminary dedication to Malatesta is interesting, and by the first lines of it there seems to be little doubt that this is the first edition.

— Britannicæ Historiæ libri vi. magna et fide et diligentia conscripti. “ This original edition of the Laws and Privileges of the Biscayans as confirmed to them by Ferdinand and Isabella under the famous Tree, is very interesting, and as I believe, exceedingly rare; as it does not appear in the extraordinary collection (in Salva's 2nd Catalogue) of 120 Vol. of Fueros and Cortes, nor in the first Catalogue, which contains only a subsequent edition of Fueros y Privilegios confirmed by Philip IV. in 1643. My copy has the Colophon of July 1528, and the last act recited in the text is witnessed June 1527, so that it is unanswerably proved to be the original edition. It unfortunately wants Sheet B.” MS. note.

In vol. 1, Portrait of Sir J. Ware by Vertue, and in vol. 2, another Portrait from Thane's Autography are inserted. Also Archbishop Newcome's continuation of the Archbishops and Bishops of Ireland to 1800 is inserted in the volume. Very few copies of this continuation were printed.

This book is now scarce and dear even on the small paper; but on Large Paper there appear to have been only six copies printed. There is to the first volume in the small paper a different Title Page, and a small difference in one paragraph of Harris's Preface; Harris in the L. P. preface announces a 3rd vol. of Ware on the Civil Affairs of Ireland, but finding too few materials, he printed another Preface and Title Page, though with the same day's date, in which he says he shall make his 3rd vol. consist of Ware's remarks on Irish writers, and that he shall also publish a separate volume in his own name; which he did, with the title of Hibernica. This Large Paper copy contains Parry's Dedication in Latin, and also Harris's Dedication to the Archbishop of Armagh.

Seventeen plates belong to vol. 1. Twenty-one plates to vol. 2. (All the plates of the Monks, Friars, &c. are on small paper inlaid in this copy, and most probably in the five other copies.)

WOOD BLOCKS. Impressions from five old wood blocks, in the possession of Lady Delamere. Only four impressions have been taken off. Fol.

“Mr. Josi, keeper of the Prints at the British Museum, considered the Wooden Blocks from which these impressions are taken as very curious both from their age and from their unusually large size. They are of pear tree wood and much worm-eaten. Mr. Josi imagined they were of Flemish work, between the years 1420 and 1460, and said that probably they had been engraved by Monks in honour of the miracles performed by some Saint whose relics they possessed in that Monastery, as it was usual in those days to present such memorials after confession or any particular Benefaction to the Church. Mr. J. thought that the lower part of the block marked No. 5. had originally been left plain (probably for the purpose of adding a subsequent inscription) and that it has afterwards been engraved at a much later period, by some very common artist. This is evident from the great difference in the execution, from the modern date of the dress, and from one of the Figures being without a head in consequence of there being no room for its insertion. July 3, 1839.”

XENOPHON. Xenophontis Omnia quæ extant. (Græce.) Venetiis, in ædibus hæredum Aldi Manutii, et Andreæ Asulani soceri, 1525. Fol. G. M.

Fabricius considers this as the Editio Princeps, not noticing the Junta Edition of 1516 on account of its numerous errors and defects arising from the imperfect MS. from which it was printed. According to Renouard not a few of the Juntine errors are still retained in this Aldine Edition. The present very beautiful copy is from the collection of Laurinus, and contains his name, 'M. Laurini et amicorum,' and device, 'Virtus in arduo,' on the binding.

This is the finest copy on Large Paper in existence, it contains,

- Vol. I. Cyri Institutio. Oxon. 1703.
- II. Cyri Expeditio. Ib. 1696.
- III. Hellenica. Ib. 1700.
- IV. Socratis Memorabilia, Apologia Economicus. Ib. 1693.

- V. De Agesilao et alii Tractatus. Hippiarchia et Testimonia aliquot de Xenophonte ex Scriptis Antiquis excerpta. Index Rerum et Verborum in Scriptis Xenophonteis. Ib. 1691. 1693.

It is needless to observe upon the extraordinary rarity of a complete copy of this edition on Large Paper. Of the very few that are so, there is not one, we believe, that has, like this, the addition of a second edition of the Memorabilia by Wells, 1705, in which the mis-paging is corrected at p. 130, and the Annotatiunculæ altered, and some few other changes. This volume renders the present copy UNIQUE.

The original Seville edition in Spanish 1535 was unknown to Antonio, and I find no other trace of it except in the Italian preface. I presume, therefore, this Italian translation to be prior in date and in authority to any other, as it was printed only six months after the events which it records." MS. note.

See Brunet N. R., I. 125. This is the first edition, there described.

In this copy is a long explanatory note by Mr. Panizzi, who by his interpretation of the three first lines at the commencement, proves that this work was dedicated to Giovanni Mocenico, who was Doge of Venice from 1478 to 1485. It was probably printed about the latter period.

FIRST EDITION. Meuselius speaks in the highest praise of this work, I. ii. p. 94, most particularly praising the Maps as more exact than those subsequently pub-

Collation. A to D, in eights, E, four. Vocabula Chauceriana, four leaves.

This book is so rare that no other copy of it appears to be known. See Chalmers' Apology, p. 564.

HALS, WILLIAM. The Complete History of Cornwall; Part II. being the Parochial History, n. d. Fol. G. M.

The first part of this volume was never printed, and hence it has no general title page. The portion published consists of 160 pages folio, (signatures A—R 2) and contains an account of seventy-two parishes in alphabetical arrangement, beginning with the Parish of "Advent," and ending at that of Helleston or Hellaston, of the description of which there are only six lines printed. The catchword on the last page is "That." The further progress of this work is said to have been stopped for want of encouragement on account of the abusive anecdotes and illiberal reflections which this second part contains relative to some of the principal families in the county. The author was Mr. William Hals, a gentleman of an ancient Devonshire family, residing during the greater part of his life at Tresawen in the parish of Merther. About the year 1750 the publication was undertaken by Mr. Andrew Brice, then a printer at Truro, who afterwards removed to Exeter, where he published an useful geographical dictionary, and other books. Lysons's Cornwall, p. 2.

This volume is one of the scarcest in the Class of English Topography. It is not mentioned by Lowndes, nor is there any copy in the Libraries of Gough, in the Bodleian, Sir R. C. Hoare, or Miss Currier.

The only copy that has occurred for sale was Mr. Lysons's, in 1820; but as that had the Author's MS. additions it cannot of course be considered as any criterion of price, that volume sold for £168.

This copy is of peculiar interest, as it possesses the printed wrapper to the first number of the Work, on which is detailed in full the Author's intentions regarding the plan, and progress of the undertaking.

This very curious edition is described at length in the new Edition of Ames by Dibdin, vol. III. p. 7, 9. Only two copies appear to be known. Collation. Eighty-one leaves unpagged, signatures a-v. Eight preliminary leaves containing the Title and two Dedications. At the end is a very curious Map of Brazil. The acquisition of this very curious volume enables us to call attention to another Edition improperly catalogued under Homberg page 333, with the omission of the second part.

This is a most interesting account of a wild, naked, savage race of Cannibals and of the manners and customs of Tuppin Inbas, whose prisoner Hans Staden became and remained there many years till relieved by a French vessel.

This original Edition is so rare that Camus could neither procure it, nor learn where it was printed. The account is considered so authentic and interesting that a new Edition of it is preparing in Germany.
