PREFACE.

THIS work is intended to present to masters and owners of vessels, frequenting the port of New York, an abstract of the law of the state, and of the Corporation ordinances, in relation to vessels, wharves, piers, slips, basins, wrecks and salvage. It contains, in some instances, the substance of the statutes; in others, the very language of the law, particularly the penal clauses, so that masters and owners may know their duties and rights, when they approach and lay at our wharves. This knowledge has now become of more importance than formerly, since the passage of the municipal police bill, as its officers are scattered over our wharves, and ready to enforce the ordinances, and punish those who violate them. It cannot be expected, nor is it pretended, that this book will answer every question which may arise between masters of vessels and the city authorities; but an attentive perusal will instruct them in those duties which the law requires of them, when in port at the wharves. This work was induced by the many questions presented by masters and owners for my professional advice, all of which were generally answered by turning to the statute law of the state, or the corporation ordinances. It is evident, that a perusal of the directory and penal clauses of the statutes and ordinances will save much time and expense, both in the fees of counsel and in the vexation of those suits which follow the violation of the laws.

WILLIAM JAY HASKETT,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW,
PROCTOR AND ADVOCATE IN ADMIRALTY,

Gives his especial attention to all matters in the Maritime Law, in the preparing, in a legal manner, of bills of sale of vessels and the examination of their titles—to the hypothecation of vessels by mortgage, bottomry and respondentia bonds—to the collection of demands for freight—ship-wrights' and ship-chandlers' bills—and to the recovery of damages for injuries done to vessels by collision. Marine protests, in cases of partial or total loss, noted and extended, and the Insurance promptly recovered. Cases of salvage, general average and marine contribution legally adjusted and obtained, and all business entrusted to his care executed with promptness and fidelity.

CHAPTER I.

POWER OF THE CORPORATION TO BUILD WHARVES, PIERS, SLIPS AND BASINS.

THE act of the legislature of the State of New York, passed April 9, 1830, conferred upon the Common Council of the city of New York, the right to lay out "wharves and slips" whenever and wherever they shall deem expedient; and, if the property of an individual shall be required for that purpose, they are to open a negotiation for its purchase. If the owner refuses to negotiate, the Mayor, Recorder, or any two Aldermen may order the Sheriff to empanel a jury, who shall be sworn; and after viewing the premises and hearing testimony, shall award the owner a recompense for the damages sustained by him. The verdict of the jury shall be conclusive against the owner, and the corporation may proceed to use the ground for the above purposes.

The 2d section of this act confers the power to lay out regular streets, or wharves, of the width of seventy feet in front of those parts of the city which adjoin to the East and North Rivers; and, as the buildings of the city shall be extended, to lengthen and extend the wharves and streets.

The 3d section entitles the owners of water lots to the ground which shall be covered by the corporation in the construction of streets and wharves, if they shall pay the expense of their filling up: and the 4th section empowers the corporation to levy for the said expenses "by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such proprietors, or the occupants of said lots respectively," or to recover the same by an action in the Supreme Court, with costs of suit.

The 5th section creates a prior lien in favor of the corporation upon the lots so filled up, for the amount expended.

The 6th section empowers the corporation "to direct piers to be sunk and completed," in front of said streets, or wharves, at the expense of the proprietors of the lots lying opposite them. If the proprietors refuse or neglect, according to the directions given, then the corporation may proceed to do the same, and receive, for its own use, the income and profits thereof; or they may grant the "right of making piers and bridges, and the right of receiving the profits thereof to any person or persons in fee, or otherwise, upon such terms as they shall think proper."

By the 7th Section, the Corporation may "grant to the owners of lots, fronting on any of the said streets of seventy feet, their heirs and assigns, a common interest in the piers to be sunk in front of such streets in proportion to the breadth of their respective lots."

The 8th Section says, that covenants and grants shall remain in force notwithstanding this act"—meaning "grants" heretofore made by the Corporation to owners of lots.

The 9th Section says, "That no building of any kind or description whatsoever, other than the said piers and bridges, shall at, any time hereafter be erected upon the said streets, or wharves, or between them respectively and the river to which they respectively front and adjoin."

The 10th Section empowers the Corporation to sink piers between White Hall Slip, and the east side of Exchange Slip, so as to form a basin; and also to form other basins in other parts of the city, and to receive the wharfage of the same.—It is provided, however, in this section, "that nothing herein contained shall be construed to deprive any person or persons who have made piers by the direction of the Corporation, or to interfere with the legal rights, private property, or right or privilege held under former grants from the city authorities."

By the 11th Section, the Corporation are empowered "to reserve all the wharves from the east side of Cœnties Slip to the west side of White Hall Slip, for the sole accommodation of sloops, and other market vessels, using the trade of the said City, from the 2d day of March, to the 2d day of December ;” and that during that time, no registered or sea vessel “ shall be suffered to use the Slips or Wharves within the above described limits without permission.”

By the 12th Section, the Corporation are empowered to enlarge any of the Slips in the City, “ and, upon paying one-third of the expense of building the necessary piers and bridges, shall be entitled, not only to the shipage of that side of the said piers which shall be adjacent to such slips respectively, but also to one-half of the wharfage to arise from the outermost end of the said piers.”

By the 13th Section, it is provided—“ That in all cases where any of the proprietors of lots lying opposite places or streets where piers shall have been, or may be, directed to be sunk, shall neglect or refuse to join with the other proprietors, or to pay their proportion of the expenses,” then the Corporation may join with the other proprietors “ in making and finishing the said piers and bridges,” and “ become entitled to the proportion of wharfage which the said proprietors so neglecting or refusing would have been entitled to.”

The 14th Section prescribes the mode of notice to owners ; and states what shall be deemed a refusal to comply therewith.

The 15th section being a penal one, it is inserted verbatim.

§ 15. And be it further enacted, That if the master or owner of any ship or other vessel, shall cause to be discharged therefrom any ballast, consisting of earth, gravel, or stones, into any dock, or upon any wharf within the said city of New York, without the consent of the owner or wharfinger thereof, the master or owner of such ship or other vessel, shall, for every such offence, forfeit and pay to the owner of such dock or wharf, two dollars and fifty cents, to be recovered with costs of suit, before any court having cognizance thereof, in the name of the said owner or wharfinger, and if the master or owner of such ship or other vessel, having discharged any such ballast upon any wharf, without consent as aforesaid, and after notice for that purpose in writing, shall neglect or refuse to remove the same, he shall forfeit and pay for every day during such neglect or refusal, the same sum as by law shall be chargeable for the wharfage of such ship or vessel: Provided however, that no agent or factor transacting business for any person residing out of or absent from this state, shall be liable to any penalty imposed by this section, unless an account be delivered to, and the money demanded of, such factor or agent, personally, or unless the said account be left on board such ship or vessel with the master, mate, or one of the hands, belonging to such ship or vessel.

§ 16. And be it further enacted, That if any person employed in repairing, sheathing or graving, any ship or other vessel, being in any dock within the city aforesaid, shall cause any timber or other thing whatsoever, tending to fill up or obstruct such dock, to be thrown into such dock, he shall, for every such offence, forfeit and pay to the owner or wharfinger of such dock, the sum of five dollars, to be recovered in manner aforesaid.

§ 17. And be it further enacted, That if any wharf in the said city shall be incumbered with lumber or other articles, so as to incommode the loading and unloading of vessels, or the passing and re-passing of carts, the owner or wharfinger thereof shall give personal notice, or notice in writing, to be left at the place of abode of the owner of such lumber or other articles, or his factor or agent, to remove the same in a reasonable time, and on neglect thereof, or if the owner of such articles, or his factor or agent cannot be found in the said city, and have no place of residence therein, the owner or wharfinger of such wharf may remove the same and keep them in custody till the charges of removal and storage of the articles removed be paid.

§ 18. And be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for the said Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty in Common Council Convened, to make such by-laws and ordinances as they shall, from time to time, think proper for regulating the wharves, piers and slips in the said city.

CHAPTER II.

The Boundaries of the Corporation of the City of New York.

The Corporation of the City of New York exercises its municipal powers over the wharves, docks, slips, piers, and ferries, by virtue of its ancient charter, and by the various confirmatory statutes, passed by the Legislature of the State of New York.

The western boundary of the State was changed by the agreement made on the 16th day of September, 1833, between the Commissioners, appointed by the States of New York and New Jersey; and that agreement was duly ratified by the Legislature of the above States, and duly approved by Congress.

The present boundaries of the city, and over which the Corporation exercises its jurisdiction, are thus described in the 3d vol. Revised Statutes, page 2 :

“The county of New York shall contain the islands called Manhattan’s Island, Great Barn Island, Little Barn Island, Manning’s Island, Nutten Island, Bedlow’s Island, Bucking Island, and the Oyster Islands, and all the land under water within the following bounds : Beginning at Spytten Duyvel Creek, where the same empties itself into the Hudson River, on the Westchester side thereof, at low water mark, and running thence along the said creek, at low water mark, on the Westchester side thereof, to the East River or Sound ; then to cross over to Nassau, or Long Island, to low water mark there, including Great Barn Island, Little Barn Island, and Manning’s Island ; then along Nassau or Long Island shore, at low water mark, to the south side of the Redhook ; then across the North River, so as to include Nutten Island, Bedlow’s Island, Bucking Island, and the Oyster Islands, to the west bounds of the State ; then along the west bounds of the State, until it comes directly opposite to the first mentioned Creek, and then to the place where the said boundaries began.”

The words “the west bounds of the State,” demark the west boundary line of the city, and are thus described in article 1st. in “An act to confirm the agreement entered into by the Commissioners appointed by this State, and the Commissioners appointed by the State of New Jersey, to settle the Boundary Line between New York and New Jersey.—Passed February 5, 1834.”

“Article First.—The boundary line between the two states of New York and New Jersey, from a point in the middle of Hudson River, opposite the point on the west shore thereof, in the forty-first degree of north latitude, as heretofore ascertained and marked to the main sea, shall be the middle of the said river, of the bay of New York, of the waters between Staten Island and New Jersey, and of Raritan Bay to the main sea, except as hereinafter otherwise particularly mentioned.”

CHAPTER III.

ORDINANCES OF THE CORPORATION

Of the City of New York, on Wharves, Slips, Piers, etc.

By the 18th section of the act of April 9, 1813, and by the 1st section of the act of the 16th April, 1830, the legislature enlarged the powers of the Corporation by authorizing it "to make and pass such laws or ordinances, as to them, from time to time, shall seem fit ; to designate and appropriate such of the public wharves, piers and slips of the said city, as they may deem expedient, and such private wharves and piers in the said city as the owners thereof respectively may apply to have so designated or appropriated, for the exclusive use of steamboats, or of any other class or description of ships or vessels, and to restrain and prohibit any ship, steamboat, or any other vessel or water craft whatever, from coming into, or lying, mooring, or anchoring at or within any wharf, pier or slip of the said city, except such as may be so designated for their use respectively ; and to impose such penalties as they may think reasonable and proper, for the violation of such laws or ordinances."—Laws of 1830, page 242.

By the 274th section of the act of 1813 it was enacted, "that the ordinances of the Corporation should remain and continue in force for, and during the period of three years from the passage thereof, unless the same should be repealed, or enacted for a shorter period, and should always be renewable at the pleasure of the Common Council."

To give greater permanency to the ordinances, the Common Council petitioned, and the legislature enacted on the 6th of April, 1837, "that all the ordinances before that time passed by the Common Council and then in force, and all thereafter to be passed should remain and continue in force until the same should be repealed."

Accordingly the Common Council of the City of New York, induced by a desire to give permanency to the ordinances, passed a resolution on the 11th of July, 1837, "That a revision of the ordinances be made by Samuel W. Johnson, Esq., under the general supervision of the Committee on Laws of both Boards."

That portion of the city ordinances which relates to the subject before us, was presented by the reviser to the Common Council, and passed on the 9th of May, 1839.

Since that revision, the Common Council appointed David Graham, Esq., to revise the ordinances, and he has just completed it, in a very able and masterly manner. In this last revision very few alterations were made in the laws on the subject before us, and such as have been made, are set forth in this work.

CHAPTER V.

HARBOR MASTERS.

The Legislature of the State of New York by an act, passed February 19, 1819, authorized the "Governor and Council of Appointment" to appoint two persons to perform the duties of harbor master of the city of New York. By the Revised Statutes, vol. 1, pages 89 and 105, the number was increased to three, and they are appointed by the Governor and Senate. By a subsequent statute passed May 14, 1840, the number was increased to four. The city at present is divided into four districts; and for the convenience of the public the harbor masters keep a general office at the store of Messrs. E. & G. W. BLUNT'S NAUTICAL STORE, No. 179 Water-street, corner of Burling Slip.

The following are the names and residences of the harbor masters, and the bounds of the several districts.

DISTRICT I.

Charles Mills, resides at 27 Oliver-street, whose district extends from west side Burling Slip, up the East River, to the extent of the port. A slate kept at Williams & Hinman's 169 South street, near Dover.

DISTRICT II.

Abraham Turnure, 73 Henry-street, whose district extends from west side Burling Slip to east side of (pier 14) Jones' Wharf. A slate kept at E. & G. W. Blunt's, 179 Water-street, corner of Burling Slip.

DISTRICT III.

J. Dayton Wilson, 6 Burton-street, whose district extends from the west side of (pier 14) Jones' Wharf, to Coenties Slip, pier 8. A slate kept at Stiles', corner of Old Slip, and at 39 South street.

DISTRICT IV.

James B. Nicholson, 68 West street, whose district extends from Coenties Slip (pier 8) round the Battery and up the North River, a slate kept at Secor and Livingston's, 68 West street.

☞ In case of the sickness, or absence from the city, of any of the Harbor Masters, either of them will attend his district.

Harbor Master's Regulations.

The Harbor Masters of this port have prescribed the following regulations, and in all cases a strict observance of them is rigidly enforced. They are generally retired sea Captains, men of respectability and worth, and, thoroughly understanding the duties and power of their office, rarely exercise their authority, unless the public good demands it. It is the duty of masters and owners to obey their commands, and much trouble might be avoided if they were more frequently consulted.

ARTICLE I.

No vessel shall be moored in the stream in the East River nearer than three hundred yards from the docks of the city of New York, from the first day of May to the first of October. All vessels having on board gunpowder, shall moor or anchor near Buttermilk Channel, and shall hoist, and keep a red flag hoisted, at the foretop-gallant mast-head during the time they are discharging or receiving. [This regulation is considered very important, to guard steamboats from a too near approach to vessels discharging or receiving.] Nor shall any vessel lie at single anchor within that distance more than twenty-four hours. No vessel shall be moored in the North River nearer than three hundred yards from the wharf; nor any vessel lie at single anchor within that distance more than twenty-four hours.

ARTICLE II.

Agreeably to the statute of the state of New York, all vessels lying in the North or East River, are requested to hoist a lantern with a light in the rigging, in some conspicuous place, under the penalty of said statute, which makes all vessels liable for damages by a non-compliance.

Section 12, Title 10, Chap. 20, First Part Revised Statutes.

[The provisions of this section will be found highly important to masters and owners of vessels navigating the harbor of New York.]

“Whenever any vessel navigating that part of the Hudson River which is north of the Battery, at the southern extremity of New York, or navigating Lake Champlain, shall be at anchor in the night time, the master of such vessel shall cause her peak to be lowered, and shall cause a good and sufficient light to be shown in some part of her rigging at least twenty feet above her deck, and from her taffrail, under the penalty of fifty dollars, to be sued for and recovered against the master of such vessel, by the overseers of the poor of the city or town in which the offence shall have been committed. And in case such penalty cannot be collected from the master, the owners of such vessel shall be liable therefor, as provided in the preceding tenth section, (viz., Sec. 10,) ‘jointly and severally, in the same manner as if they were sureties of such master.’”

By the law of April 29, 1829, (vide page 456,) “the provisions of the above 12th section are extended to the harbor of New York, embracing the bay as far as the village of Castleton, on Staten Island; and thence up the East River as far as the south point of Blackwell’s Island.” And the section thus amended and extended took effect on the 1st of May, 1829.

ARTICLE III.

Vessels lying at the wharves or piers, or in the basins or slips, shall, unless otherwise directed, lie with their heads up the docks; those on the east side of the docks to have their yards topped by their larboard lifts; and those on the west side topped by their starboard lifts: to be regulated agreeably to the cut in the margin, and not be changed without special permission of the harbor master or harbor masters, except to paint or bend sails. The moveable fore and aft spars and spritsail yards rigged in; stern davits, quarter davits, bumpkins, and martingales unshipped. Those on the east side of the docks shall have the crown of their starboard anchor taken in on the forecastle, and their larboard cable bent and clear. Those on the west side of the docks to have the palms of their larboard anchor taken in on the fore-castle, and to have the starboard cable bent and clear.

Those in the North River, lying on the south side of the docks, to have their yards topped by their larboard lifts; and those on the north with their starboard lifts; those lying on the south side to have the palm of the starboard anchor taken in on the fore-castle, and larboard cable bent and clear; those on the north to have their larboard anchor taken on the fore-castle, and the starboard cable bent and clear. Any vessel wanting a berth, will apply at the office, or sub-office, or to the harbor master of the district in which he may wish a berth, stating where the vessel lies; nor shall any vessel exchange or bargain berths, except by the permission of the harbor master or harbor masters.

ARTICLE IV.

All vessels at the end of the wharves or piers shall haul either way, to accommodate the vessels going in or coming out.

ARTICLE V.

All vessels not discharging or receiving cargoes, shall make room for vessels needing immediate accommodation; vessels wishing to discharge, to have the preference of berth to those loading. Vessels returning, or putting into port in distress, always to be first accommodated. As to the fact of vessels being bona fide employed in these particulars, the harbor master is sole judge. (See sec. 3.)

ARTICLE VI.

All vessels shall have on board a ship-keeper, or person to take care of them; and if any vessel shall be required to remove, and no person be found on board for that purpose, the harbor master will cause the same to be removed, at the expense of the master, owner, or consignee, who shall also be liable for all damage occasioned by such vessel.

ARTICLE VII.

No vessel shall be moored or fastened in such place or manner as shall in anywise obstruct or interfere with the steam or team ferry-boats at any ferry of this city.

ARTICLE VIII.

No ballast shall be thrown overboard, on this side of Sandy Hook, below low water mark; and in the harbor all ballast must be landed above high water mark—to have a tarpaulin between the vessel and the dock, to prevent ballast falling in the water.

ARTICLE IX.

No person shall encumber any of the wharves, piers, or docks with spars, boats, goods, or other things.

ARTICLE X.

No pitch, tar, or other combustibles shall be heated on board of any vessel at any of the wharves, piers, slips, or basins of this city; but all such business shall be done on floating stages or boats, or on the wharves, at least six feet from the edge of the wharf, and with a bucket of water always ready.

ARTICLE XI.

No vessel shall be permitted to hoist a stern-boat, quarter-boat, or boat under the bowsprit.

All persons failing to comply with the foregoing regulations are liable to a penalty of fifty dollars for each offence, and for all damages, with costs of suit.

The following section of the act passed February 19, 1839, will clearly exhibit the duty, authority and emoluments of their office:

§ 3. And be it further enacted, That the said Harbor Masters shall have authority to regulate and station all ships and vessels in the stream of the East and North Rivers, within the limits of the city of New York, and the wharves thereof, and to remove, from time to time, such ships or vessels as are not employed in receiving and discharging their cargoes, to make room for such others as require to be more immediately accommodated for the purpose of receiving or discharging theirs; and as to the fact of their being fairly and bona fide employed in receiving and discharging their cargoes, the said Harbor Masters, or either of them, is hereby constituted the sole judge. And further, the said Harbor Masters, or either of them, shall have authority to determine how far, and in what instances, it is the duty of the masters and others having charge of ships or vessels, to accommodate each other in their respective situations; and if any master or other person having charge of any ship or vessel, shall refuse or neglect to obey the directions of the said Harbor Masters, or either of them, in matters within their authority to direct; or if any person shall resist or oppose the said Harbor Masters, or either of them, in the execution of the duties of their office, such master or other person having charge of any ship or vessel, or other person whatsoever, shall, for every such offence, forfeit and pay the sum of fifty dollars, to be recovered, with costs of suit, in the name of the Treasurer of the Hospital of the said city, before any court having cognizance thereof; all of which fines, when collected, shall be paid to the said Treasurer for the use of said Hospital.

§ 4. And be it further enacted, That the said Harbor Masters shall have power to demand and receive from the commanders, owners, and consignees, or either of them, on all ships or vessels of the United States, and on all ships or vessels of any foreign nation that are permitted by the laws of the United States to enter on the same terms as vessels of the United States, and which shall enter the said Port of New York, and load or unload, or make fast to any wharf therein, one and a half cent per ton, to be computed from the tonnage expressed in the register or enrolment of such ships or vessels respectively, and no more : and also, on all other foreign ships or vessels which shall arrive at, and enter, the said Port, and load, unload, or make fast to any wharf therein, double the amount of fees above specified, according to the rate of tonnage or burthen of said ships respectively, to be ascertained by their respective registers or other documents on board the same ; Provided, nevertheless, that nothing whatsoever shall be demanded by the said Harbor Masters for the entrance into the Port of New York of any sloop or schooner employed in the coasting trade within the United States, unless upon the application of the master or person having charge of any such vessel employed in the coasting trade as aforesaid, the said Harbor Masters, or either of them, shall interfere and adjust any difference which may happen respecting the situation or position of any such coasting vessel, which differences said Harbor Masters, or either of them, are hereby authorized and required to hear and determine ; in which case the said Harbor Masters, or either of them, may demand and receive from the party in default in the premises the sum of two dollars, and no more, for every difference so by him adjusted ; to be sued for and recovered, in the names and for the use of the said Harbor Masters, in any court having cognizance thereof.

§ 5. And be it further enacted, That the master, owner, or consignee of any ship or vessel subject to the payment of fees to the Harbor Master as aforesaid, shall, within forty eight hours after the arrival of such ship or vessel, pay the fees so due thereon, at the office of the said Harbor Masters, or one of them ; and in default of such payment, if the same have been first duly demanded, such master, owner, or consignee, on whom such demand shall have been previously made, shall forfeit and pay double the amount of such fees, to be sued for and recovered, in the names and for the use of the said Harbor Masters, in any court having cognizance therefor.

§ 6. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the said Harbor Masters to superintend and enforce the execution of all laws of this state, and by-laws of the Corporation of the city of New York, for cleaning the docks and wharves, and for preventing and removing all nuisances in or upon them, or either of them; and if the person or persons whose duty it shall be to remove such nuisance, shall refuse or neglect to remove the same, within forty-eight hours after notice from the said Harbor Masters, or one of them requiring such person or persons to remove the same, the said Harbor Masters may thereupon demand and receive from such person or persons so neglecting or refusing, the sum of two dollars and fifty cents; and in case of non-payment thereof on demand, the same may be sued for and recovered, in the names of, and for the use of, the said Harbor Masters, in any court having cognizance thereof.

“The Legislature passed an act January 22, 1823, entitled An Act defining the powers of the Harbor Masters in the city of New York.”

§ 7. Be it enacted by the People of the state of New York represented in Senate and Assembly, that nothing contained in so much of the act entitled “An Act to reduce several laws relating particularly to the city of New York, into one act,” as relates to Harbor Masters, shall be so construed as to invest them with any power or authority respecting vessels that lie at or within any of the wharves, docks or slips, belonging to the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the city of New York.

CHAPTER VI.

THE MASTER AND WARDENS OF THE PORT OF NEW YORK.

By the act passed by the Legislature, March 30, 1831, there are six wardens of this port, including the master warden: and also two special wardens to reside at the quarantine ground in the county of Richmond, whose duty it shall be to act as wardens only in regard to vessels and goods subject to quarantine at that place. The special wardens are entitled to the same fees as the wardens of the port for similar services. The duties of the port wardens are in relation to the pilots of the port, and to settle disputes between masters of vessels and wharfingers. The following sections of the statute passed

February 19, 1819, will exhibit more particularly their official duties in relation to vessels :

§ III. “ And be it further enacted, That the said board of wardens, or a majority of them, shall and may, from time to time, appoint a clerk, who shall not be one of the said board ; and which said board or wardens shall keep an office in the city of New York, at which office, a majority of the said master and wardens, and their clerk, shall give attendance daily, (Sundays and public holidays, and the fourth day of July excepted) and that the said board of wardens shall cause to be made, and kept by their clerk, in a book or books by them to be provided for that purpose, regular and fair minutes and entries of all orders, regulations, transactions and proceedings of the said board, under and by virtue of this act ; and which said book or books of entries, shall and may be inspected by any person or persons desiring to inspect the same, such person or persons desiring to inspect the same, paying to the said clerk twelve and an half cents each time the said books shall, at his or their request, be opened and examined : And further, That the said clerk shall give true copies of any such entries or minutes, so to be made in the said book or books, to such person or persons as may require the same, such person or persons paying therefor to the said clerk one cent for every twelve words or figures such copy shall contain.

§ IV. “ And be it further enacted, That the master, or one of the owners or consignees, of every vessel arriving at the port of New York, (except vessels belonging to a citizen or citizens of the United States, and excepting also the vessels of other nations that are permitted by the laws of the United States to enter on the same terms as vessels belonging to a citizen or citizens of the United States) shall report such vessel at the office of the said board of wardens, within forty-eight hours after the arrival of such vessel at the said port of New York, under the penalty of fifty dollars for each and every neglect or omission so to do ; and shall, at the time of making such report, pay to the said board of wardens, for each respective vessel, (one-fourth part thereof for the use of the pilot who shall have so piloted and made report of such vessel, as herein before directed, and the residue thereof for the use of the said master and wardens) the sums following : that is to say, the sum of four dollars if of less than one hundred tons burthen, and the sum of six dollars if of the burthen of more than one hundred and less than two hundred tons, and the sum of eight dollars if of the burthen of two hundred tons, or more, but of less than three hundred tons burthen, and the sum of ten dollars if of the burthen of three hundred tons or upwards ; which said respective sums, so made payable for such vessels respectively, so arriving at the said port of New York, shall and may be sued for and recovered, with costs of suit, in an action of debt, or upon the case, by the said board of wardens by their said name ' the master and wardens of the port of New York,' of or from the master, or the owner or owners or consignees of such vessel, or any or either of them, in any court having cognizance thereof.

§ V. " And be it further enacted, That the said master and wardens of the said port of New York, or any two of them, with the assistance of one or more skilful carpenters, shall be surveyors of any vessel deemed unfit to proceed to sea ; and the said master and wardens, or any two of them, shall be judges of the repairs which may be necessary for the safety of such vessel on the intended voyage ; and in all cases of vessels and goods arriving damaged, and by the owner or consignees required to be sold at public auction, on account of such damage, and for the benefit of underwriters out of the city of New York, such sale shall be made under the inspection of the master and wardens, or some one of them, which master and wardens shall, when required by the owner or consignees aforesaid, certify the cause of such damage, the amount of sale of such vessel or goods, and the charges attending the sale, and shall be allowed for their services on board, or relating to vessels or goods belonging to a citizen or citizens of the United States, or to vessels or goods belonging to citizens or subjects of other nations that are permitted, by the laws of the United States, at and after the rate of one and a half per cent. on the gross amount of sales thereof ; and for each and every survey on board of any ship or vessel, or at any store in the city of New York, or along the docks or wharves thereof, on damaged goods, they shall severally be allowed the sum of one dollar and fifty cents ; for each and every certificate, given in consequence of damaged goods, one dollar and twenty-five cents ; and for every survey on board of any ship or vessel, put into the said port in distress, to ascertain the damages sustained, they shall severally be allowed the sum of two dollars and fifty cents ; and for each and every certificate given of damages sustained by any ship or vessel, put into the said port in distress, and recording the same, two dollars and fifty cents ; and shall, in like manner, be allowed for their services on board of or relating to any vessel paying foreign duties and tonnage, for the services aforesaid, double the amount of fees herein above specified.

§ VI. " And be it further enacted, that all the emoluments granted to the master and wardens by this act, shall be equally divided amongst them and their clerk."

There is a Board of "Marine Surveyors," appointed by the Chamber of Commerce who perform certain duties in relation to vessels, in common with the wardens of the port; and as there is a legal controversy now pending between them upon the question, "whether the Marine Surveyors are not usurping the office of the Wardens," I think the safer course for masters of vessels is to call upon the master and wardens until that controversy shall have been determined. The office of the MASTER and WARDENS of the PORT OF NEW YORK is at the N. E. corner of Wall and Water-street.

Restriction.

This controversy induced the legislature to pass an act March 29, 1844, "declaring the rights and for the relief of the master and wardens of the port of New York.

§ 1. No person or persons shall, under any pretence whatever, do, perform or exercise, or attempt or offer to do, perform or exercise, any of the powers, functions or duties of the master and wardens of the port of New York, conferred on or required of them by law or the act in the next section mentioned, or ask, demand, take, accept or receive of or from any person or persons whatever, any money, fee, emolument or reward for any such service; which powers, functions and duties are hereby declared to be exclusively vested in and to belong and appertain to the master and wardens of the port of New York, by virtue of their said office.

Penalty.

§ 2. That if any person or persons shall, under any pretence whatever, do, perform or exercise any of the powers, functions or duties of the master and wardens of the port of New York, by doing any of the acts or performing any of the duties or services belonging or appertaining to them or their said office, specified in the act entitled "An act to reduce the laws particularly relating to the city of New York into one act, so far as the same relate to the master and wardens, harbor master and pilots of the port of New York and their duties, and for other purposes," passed February 19, 1819, or which otherwise belong or appertain to the said office, by virtue of any existing law of this state or of the United States; each and every person, so offending, shall, for each and every offence, forfeit and pay to the master and wardens of the port of New York, the sum of fifty dollars, to be sued for and recovered by them in their corporate name, with costs of suit in any court having cognizance thereof; the one half whereof, when recovered, to their own use, and the other half to the use of the pilots' charitable fund in the city of New York; Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent any person or persons from acting as appraisers or arbitrators of damaged goods in any case or cases belonging to the duties of the master and wardens of the port of New York, whenever they shall or may be required, in writing, to act as such, by all parties and persons interested in the act or acts to be done, or by their lawful agents, or from making his or their report or award in such case or cases, as in any other matter of skill or judgment or of arbitration.

CHAPTER VII.

RATES OF WHARFAGE.

The Legislature of this State established the following rates of wharfage by an act passed April 9, 1813 :

Vessels under 50 tons, per day,	$0 50
Over 50 tons, and under 100 tons, do.	0 62 $\frac{1}{2}$
“ 100 “ “ “ 150 “ “	0 75
“ 150 “ “ “ 200 “ “	0 87 $\frac{1}{2}$
“ 200 “ “ “ 250 “ “	1 00
“ 250 “ “ “ 300 “ “	1 12 $\frac{1}{2}$
“ 300 “ “ “ 350 “ “	1 25
“ 350 “ “ “ 400 “ “	1 37 $\frac{1}{2}$
“ 400 “ “ “ 450 “ “	1 50
“ 450 “ “ “ 500 “ “	1 62 $\frac{1}{2}$
“ 500 “ “ “ 550 “ “	1 75
“ 550 “ “ “ 600 “ “	1 87 $\frac{1}{2}$

All vessels over 600, additional 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents for every 50 tons.

Wharfage of Vessels while Repairing or Careening.

The 2d section of the same act says, “that vessels using boats, scows or floating stages alongside for caulking, repairing and careening, shall pay one-third more than their regular wharfage.”

The 3d section of this act says, that “if any dispute shall arise between the wharfinger and captain, &c, in relation to the tonnage of a vessel, either party may apply to one of the wardens of the port, who shall decide such difference by measuring the vessel, and his certificate shall decide the question of her tonnage. The fees of the port warden, which shall not exceed $1 25, must be paid by the party against whom his decision shall be made."

The 4th section of this act are in these words, "And be it further enacted, that every ship or other vessel which shall make fast to any other ship or vessel that shall be fastened to any wharf and being so fastened shall load, unload or careen, shall pay the one-half of the rate of wharfage such ship or vessels would have been liable to pay if fastened to such wharf, and there loaded, unloaded or careened."

By the 5th section, the master and owner, and in their absence, the factor or agent, or to whom the vessel is consigned, shall be liable for the wharfage. It is provided, however, that the factor, or agent shall not be liable, unless an account of the wharfage due, shall be delivered to him, or in his absence, left at his usual place of abode, and the money demanded before the departure of the vessel.

The 6th section of this act empowers the wharfinger to collect the wharfage by distraining on "any goods or chattels found on board of the vessel." As this is an extraordinary privilege given the wharfinger over common creditors, the statute requires him to perform certain preliminaries before resorting to this rigorous remedy, and, if he neglects them, he is liable to an action of trespass and damages. The first is—the vessel must have laid at the wharf twenty-four hours: and, secondly, he must show that the master or owner refuses or neglects to pay the wharfage, "or give satisfactory security for the payment of the same, being thereunto required by the wharfinger, by notice in writing being left on board with the mate, or one of the hands belonging to the vessel." He may also distrain for each day's wharfage due, "and the goods and chattels so distrained sell and dispose of in the same manner as is provided in the case of rent."

The concluding words of this statute clearly define this privilege of the wharfinger; and the decisions of our Supreme Court between landlord and tenant, shew that he must exercise it with a proper regard to the legal rights of others.

The wharfinger has another remedy by an attachment against the vessel, under the 8th title, part 3, chapter 8th of the Revised Statutes.

In this case, the amount of wharfage must exceed fifty dollars, and is subject to the following section of the statute:

§ 2. "When the ship or vessel shall depart from the port at which she was, when such debt was contracted, to some other port within this State, every such debt shall cease to be a lien at the expiration of twelve days after the day of such departure; and in all cases such lien shall cease immediately after the vessel shall have left this state."

It has sometimes occurred to the captains that this statute can be avoided by running over to Jersey shore for a night.

The Supreme Court of the State of New York, in the case of Hancock vs. Denning and Browning, held that "The reasonable construction is, that the lien ceases when the vessel departs from the port when the repairs were made, or leaves the state upon a voyage or trip in the pursuit of some kind of trade or business"—Hill's Reports, 6 vol. 494.

The profound equity of this decision will enlighten these moralists upon the futility of such elopements, and save them the expenses of a suit.

Collection of Wharfage.

The next remedy for the collection of wharfage, is by the process of the Court of Admiralty.

This remedy can be applied when the demand exceeds fifty dollars against a vessel belonging to this state, and for any sum against a foreign bottom, or one belonging to a sister state. The expensiveness of the proceedings of this court deters wharfingers from invoking its strong arm in the collection of their demands; but, when once used, the energy, celerity, and expense of its process, teach delinquents the necessity of promptly paying their wharfage.

The act of the Assembly, passed April 15, 1828, entitled "An act for the collection of wharfage in the village of Brooklyn" establishes the same rate of wharfage, and confers upon all the wharfingers the same remedy to collect it as in the city of New York.

Cranage.

The 7th section of the act of April 9th, 1813, establishes the rates which may be demanded by the owner of the cranes, for the use of them.

§ 7. "And be it further enacted, that the owner of any crane upon any of the wharves aforesaid, may ask and receive to his use from the master or owner of any ship or other vessel that shall employ such crane, the following rates, to wit: For taking out and putting in the mast of every sloop of the burthen of eighty tons, or upwards, the sum of ten dollars; and for taking out or putting in the mast of any sloop of eighty tons, or upwards, six dollars and twenty-five cents; for taking out and putting in the mast of any square-rigged vessel, of the burthen of two hundred tons, and upwards, the sum of seven dollars and fifty cents; and for taking out and putting in the mast of a square-rigged vessel or schooner, under the burthen of two hundred tons, six dollars and twenty-five cents; for taking out or putting in the mast of any square-rigged vessel of the burthen of two hundred tons, or upwards, the sum of six dollars and twenty-five cents; and for taking out or putting in the mast of any square-rigged vessel or schooner, under the burthen of two hundred tons, five dollars."

CHAPTER VIII.

GUNPOWDER IN VESSELS.

It is the duty of captains to read this subject with care, as the penalties are so heavy, and the offence productive of such fearful consequences, that the authorities rarely remit the fines, or permit them to be compromised.

The "act to amend the acts heretofore passed for the prevention of fires in the city of New York," passed April 20, 1830, has five sections pertaining to gunpowder in vessels.

§ 24. "It shall not be lawful for any person or persons to have or keep any quantity of gunpowder exceeding twenty-eight pounds in weight, in any one house, store, building, or other place in the city of New York, to the southward of a line running through the centre of Fourteenth-street,* from the North to the East River; or to lade, receive, have, or keep any greater quantity of gunpowder than as aforesaid, on board of any ship, vessel, boat, or other water craft whatever, within three hundred yards from any wharf, pier or slip in that part of the city lying southward of the said line.

§ 25. "All gunpowder which may be kept in the said city, or on board of any ship, vessel, boat or other water craft, to the southward of the line mentioned in the last section, shall be kept in stone jugs or tin canisters, which shall not contain more than seven pounds each.

§ 26. "If any person or persons shall have or keep any gunpowder in the city of New York, or on board of any ship, vessel, boat or other water craft, to the southward of the said line, in any manner contrary to the foregoing provisions of this act, either as to quantity or as to the manner of keeping the same, he, she or they, shall forfeit and pay the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars for every hundred pounds of gunpowder so had or kept, and in that proportion for a greater or less quantity; and all such gunpowder shall be forfeited to the fire department of the said city.

§ 27. "The commander, or owner or owners of every ship or other vessel arriving in the harbor of New York, and having more than twenty-eight pounds of gunpowder on board, shall, within forty-eight hours after such arrival, and before such ship or vessel shall approach within three hundred yards of any wharf, pier or slip, to the southward of a line drawn through the centre of Fourteenth-street as aforesaid, cause the said gunpowder to be landed by means of a boat or boats, or other small craft, at any place without the said limits which may be most contiguous to any magazine for storing gunpowder, and shall cause the said gunpowder to be stored in such magazine, on pain of forfeiting the same to the fire department of the city of New York.

§ 28. "It shall be lawful either to proceed with any such ship or vessel to sea, within forty-eight hours after her arrival, or to tranship such gunpowder from one ship or vessel to another, for the purpose of immediate exportation, without landing such gunpowder as in the last section is directed; but in neither case shall it be lawful to keep such gunpowder for a longer time than forty-eight hours in the harbor of New York, or to approach with the same within three hundred yards of any wharf, pier or slip in the said city, to the southward of the line specified in the last section, on pain of forfeiture as therein mentioned."

On the 5th May, 1841, the legislature passed an act amending this act, in these words:

§ 3. "The penalties and provisions of the act hereby amended shall not extend to any vessel receiving gunpowder or freight, provided such vessels do not remain at any wharf of the said city, or within three hundred yards thereof, after sunset, or on any other day whilst having gunpowder on board. In case of neglect of any of the above provisions, such vessel and its owner or owners shall be subject to the provisions and penalties of the act hereby amended."—Laws of 1841, page 137.

"The Common Council, by an ordinance passed April 23, 1839, authorizes "the Fire Wardens, or either of them, at such times as aforesaid, to enter into and examine all buildings, livery or other stables, hay BOATS or VESSELS, and places where any gunpowder, hemp, flax, tow, hay, rushes, firewood, boards, shingles, shavings, or other combustible materials may be lodged, and give such directions in writing in the premises, as may be deemed necessary by them or him relative to the removal thereof; and in case of neglect or refusal on the part of the possessor of such combustible materials, or any of them, to remove or secure the same, within the time and in the manner directed by the said Fire Wardens or either of them, the party offending shall forfeit and pay twenty-five dollars, and the further sum of five dollars for every day's neglect to remove or secure the same after being so notified."—Corporation Ordinances, page 119.

STATE HOSPITAL MONEY.

For Vessels from a Foreign Port.

The last act passed May 13, 1845, amends the former acts, and fixes the sum to be paid as follows :

§ 1 " From the master of every vessel from a foreign port, for himself one dollar and fifty cents, for every cabin passenger two dollars, for each steerage passenger fifty cents, and for each mate and sailor one dollar."

Coasting Vessels.

§ 2. " From the master of each coasting vessel, for each person on board, twenty-five cents; but no coasting vessel from the states of New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island, shall pay for more than one voyage in each month, computing from the first voyage in each year.

§ 3. " Each master paying hospital monies shall be entitled to demand and recover, from each person for whom they shall be paid, the sum paid on his account.

§ 4. " Every master of a coasting vessel, shall pay to the health commissioner, at his office, in the city of New York, within twenty-four hours after the arrival of his vessel in the port, such hospital monies as shall then be demandable from him, under the provisions of this Title, and every master, for each omission of such duty, shall forfeit the sum of one hundred dollars."

UNITED STATES HOSPITAL MONEY.

The following sections of the act of Congress of 16th July, 1798, pertain to this subject :

§ 1. " The master or owner of every vessel of the United States, arriving from a foreign port, into any port of the United States, shall, before she be admitted to entry, render to the collector a true account of the number of seamen that shall have been employed on such vessel since she was last entered at any port in the United States, and shall pay to the collector, at the rate of twenty cents per month for every seaman so employed ; which sum he may retain out of the wages of such seamen.

§ 2. " No collector shall grant to any vessel, whose enrolment or license for carrying on the coasting trade has expired, a new enrolment or license, before the master shall first render a true account of the number of seamen, and the time they have severally been employed on board such vessel, during the continuance of the license which has so expired, and pay twenty cents per month for every month such seamen have been severally employed, which sum the master may retain out of the wages of such seamen, and if such master shall render a false account of the number of men and length of time they have severally been employed, he shall forfeit and pay one hundred dollars."

CHAPTER IX.

ATTACHMENTS AGAINST VESSELS.

1st. Against Domestic Vessels.

2d. Against Vessels belonging to Sister or Foreign States.

The following sections of the Revised Statutes, 2 vol. 405, will show the liabilities of vessels belonging to this state.

It may be proper here to state that the Court of Admiralty gives a concurrent remedy, and will enforce this statutory lien against domestic vessels, provided the lien has not expired by the 2d section of this act.

Debts which are Liens on Vessels.

§ 1. " Whenever a debt, amounting to fifty dollars or upwards, shall be contracted by the master, owner, agent or consignee of any ship or vessel, within this state, for either of the following purposes :

1. On account of any work done, or materials, or articles furnished in this state, for, or towards the building, repairing, fitting, furnishing or equipping such ship or vessel ;

2. For such provisions and stores furnished within this state, as may be fit and proper for the use of such vessel, at the time when the same were furnished ;

3. On account of the wharfage and the expenses of keeping such vessel in port, including the expenses incurred in employing persons to watch her :

Such debt shall be a lien upon such ship or vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture ; and shall be preferred to all other liens thereon, except mariners' wages.

When Lien to Cease.

§ 2. "When the ship or vessel shall depart from the port at which she was when such debt was contracted, to some other port within this state, every such debt shall cease to be a lien at the expiration of twelve days after the day of such departure ; and in all cases such lien shall cease immediately after the vessel shall have left this state.

Who to Apply for Warrant.

§ 3. "Any person having due to him the sum of fifty dollars or upwards, upon any debt contracted for any of the purposes hereinbefore specified, may make application to any officer authorized by law to perform the duties of a Justice of the Supreme Court at Chambers, in the county within which such ship or vessel shall then be, or in the city of New York to any Justice of the Superior Court of law therein, for a warrant to enforce the lien of such debt, and to collect the amount thereof.

Contents of Application Proof.

§ 4. "Such application shall be in writing, and shall specify,

1. By whom such debt was contracted, and for what ship or vessel :

2. The items composing such debt :

3. It shall be verified by the affidavit of the creditor, or of the person making the application in his behalf, stating that the sum claimed in such account is justly due to the person in whose behalf such application is made, over and above all payments and discounts :

And the facts and circumstances to establish such demand, shall also be verified by the affidavits of one or more disinterested witnesses."

§ 5. "The officer to whom such application shall be made, shall thereupon issue his warrant to the sheriff of the county, commanding him to attach, seize, and safely keep such ship or vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture, to answer all such liens as shall be established against her according to law ; and to make return of his proceedings under such warrant to the said officer, within ten days after such seizure.

§ 6. "The sheriff to whom any such warrant shall be directed and delivered shall forthwith execute the same, and shall keep the ship or vessel and other property seized by him, to be disposed of as hereinafter directed. He shall also, within ten days after such seizure, make a return to the officer who issued the warrant, stating therein particularly his doings in the premises; and shall make out, subscribe, and annex thereto, a just and true inventory of all the property so seized; which inventory shall be signed by him, and annexed to his return."

The remainder of this statute appertains to the mode of attachment, the time of the return of the process, the bonding of the vessel, and the trial of the cause. These belonging more to the duties of the lawyer than of the shipmaster, I have not quoted the different sections setting them forth.

Collision of Vessels.

Collision is a term in the maritime law, and means in common parlance, the running of one vessel into another. The law of this State, upon that subject, is contained in the following sections of the statute passed 26th April, 1831, and is found in the second edition of Revised Statutes, 2d vol., 410.

§ 1. "Whenever any ship or vessel shall have been run down, or run afoul of by any other ship or vessel, through the negligence or wilful misconduct of those navigating such other ship or vessel, and shall thereby have sustained damage to the extent of fifty dollars or upwards, the owner of said ship or vessel so sustaining damage, shall have a lien upon the ship or vessel causing such damage in manner aforesaid, her tackle, apparel and furniture, to the extent of such damage.

"The master, owner, agent or consignee of the ship or vessel so receiving damage, may make an application, in writing, to the same officer authorized under the third section of title eight, of chapter eight of the third part of the Revised Statutes, setting forth the name of the ship or vessel causing the damage, and the manner in which said damage was done, and the amount of said damage; and said application shall be verified by the owner or master navigating the vessel so damaged, and the facts contained in said affidavit shall also be verified by one or more disinterested witnesses.

§ 2. "The officer to whom said application is made, in case he is satisfied that said damage arose from negligence or wilful misconduct, on the part of those navigating the vessel causing the damage, may issue his warrant as provided in the fifth section of the act above referred to; and all proceedings under said warrant, shall conform to the provisions of the said act.

§ 3. "The lien provided for under this act shall cease, unless a warrant shall issue within twenty days after the damage shall be done."

Attachment against Vessels belonging to Sister and Foreign States.

The District Courts of the United States, sitting as Courts of Admiralty, of civil and maritime jurisdiction, issue process of attachment upon the filing of a Libel against the above vessels for the claims of material men as set forth in the State statute, without regard to the amount. In cases of collision, the Admiralty gives a remedy, although twenty days have expired and the sum be less than fifty dollars.

The Admiralty issues process in personum against owners, at the instance of material men and those furnishing supplies, for any amount, if the vessel belong to a sister or foreign state; and also against owners of domestic vessels residing in the district, if the sum exceed fifty dollars and the lien has not ceased by the term of the 2nd section of the above act.

CHAPTER X.

WRECKS AND SALVAGE.

1st Revised Statutes, 688, Part 1, Chap. 20, Title 12.

This Statute makes ample provision for the payment of salvage to those who recover wrecked property, "from any stranded vessel, or any goods cast by the sea upon the land, or found in any bay or creek." It clearly appears from the language of this act, that it does not apply to salvors coming into port with the property saved on the "high seas." In this case, the United States District Court of the Southern District of New York, or the district into which the property shall be brought, has exclusive maritime jurisdiction; and the salvors will proceed at once to a proctor and advocate of this court to obtain their salvage.

There are "Fifteen wreck-masters in the county of Suffolk, twelve in the county of Queens, three in the county of Kings, two in the county of Richmond, and two in the county of Westchester."—Revised Statutes, 1. vol. 91.

They are appointed by the Governor and Senate, and hold their offices for 2 years.

The 2d section of the statute points out the duty of the wreck-masters.

§ 2. "The sheriff, coroners, and wreck-masters of every county in which any wrecked property shall be found, when no owner or other person entitled to the possession of such property shall appear, shall severally have power, and it shall be their duty, to pursue all necessary measures for saving and securing such property; to take possession thereof, in whose hands soever the same may be, in the name of the people of this State; to cause the value thereof to be appraised by indifferent persons, and to keep the same in some safe place, to answer the claims of such persons as may thereafter appear entitled thereto."

The statute also directs the mode of ascertaining and the payment of the salvage. The 25th, 26th and 27th sections of this act, will point out the duty of persons finding property in the above maritime counties.

§ 25. "Every person who shall take away any goods from any stranded vessel, or any goods cast by the sea upon the land, or found in any bay or creek, or who shall, knowingly, have in his possession any goods so taken or found, and shall not deliver the same to the sheriff or one of the coroners or wreck-masters of the county where the same shall have been found, within forty-eight hours after the same shall have been taken by him, or have come into his possession, shall forfeit treble the value of the goods so taken or kept by him, to the owner or consignee thereof, and shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court by which he shall be tried.

§ 26. "Every person who shall deface or obliterate the marks on wrecked property, or in any manner disguise the appearance thereof, with intent to prevent the owner from discovering its identity, and every person who shall destroy or suppress any invoice, bill of lading, or other document, tending to show the ownership of wrecked property, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment, the fine not to exceed two thousand dollars, the imprisonment three years.

§ 27. "It shall be the duty of all judges, sheriffs, justices of the peace, coroners, constables and wreck-masters, to present all offences and offenders against the provisions of this title, that shall come to their knowledge, within their respective counties, to the grand jury, at the next court of general sessions therein."

CHAPTER XI.

PILOTS AND PILOTAGE

Of the Port of New York.

The Legislature of the State of New York, on the 1st of April 1845, passed the following act repealing all former acts in relation to the pilots by the way of Sandy Hook.

§ 1. "All laws and parts of laws relative to pilots or pilotage of the port of New York, by the way of Sandy Hook, are hereby repealed: Provided, however, that all persons holding licenses as such pilots on the tenth day of March, eighteen hundred and forty-five, shall be and continue to be pilots by the way of Sandy Hook; but nothing herein contained shall be held to prohibit other persons from acting as such pilots"—Law 1845, p. 30.

From this act it will appear that any person may now exercise the duties of a pilot by the way of Sandy Hook.

HELL GATE PILOTS.

The various acts passed by the Legislature of the State of New York in relation to the pilots of the East River, commonly called Hell Gate, are still in force. The last act, passed May 17, 1841 presents all that is necessary for the shipmasters' perusal.

The three first sections appertain to their appointments, and to the kind of boats which they must to use.

The following is the 4th section, and contains the rate of pilotage:

Amount of Pilotage to be Charged for Each Vessel.

§ 4. § 25. “If the captain, or any other person having charge of a steam boat used for the conveyance of passengers; or if the engineer or other person having charge of the boiler of such boat or of any apparatus therein, for the generation of steam, shall, from ignorance, or gross neglect, or for the purpose of excelling any other boat in speed, create, or allow to be created, such an undue quantity of steam as to burst or break the boiler or other apparatus in which such steam shall be generated, or any apparatus or machinery connected therewith, by which bursting or breaking, human life shall be endangered, every such captain, engineer or other person, shall be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor.”

REGULATION OF THE SPEED OF STEAMBOATS.

The two first sections of the act to regulate the speed of steamboats, passed April 15th, 1839, were repealed and the sections below passed in their stead on May 2, 1844.

Restriction.

§ “ No steamboat navigating the Hudson river, shall proceed or be propelled with greater speed than at the rate of six miles an hour, while such boat is passing any part of the public works constructing in said river, during the time the said public works are under construction by the government of the United States, for the improvement of the navigation thereof south of the city of Albany, and between the said city of Albany and the city of Troy. And no steamboat navigating said river, shall pass that part of said river opposite the docks, piers or wharves in the city of Albany with greater speed than at the rate of six miles an hour.

Penalty.

§ 2. “ If any master of any steamboat, or any person having the charge or command of any steamboat, shall violate, or cause or permit to be violated, the provisions of the preceding section of this act, he shall, for every such offence, forfeit the sum of one hundred dollars, to be sued for in the name of the people, by the district attorney of any county bordering on the waters of that part of the said river on which the offence shall have been committed, to whom notice shall first be given of the commission of such offence. The penalty, when recovered, shall be paid into the county treasury of the county for which such district attorney shall have been appointed, for the use of the poor of the county.

Repeal.

§ 3 “ The first and second sections of the act entitled “An act to regulate the speed of steamboats,” passed April 15, 1839, are hereby repealed.

§ 4. “ This act to take effect immediately.”

The following sections of the statute, passed 15th April, 1839, are still in force.

§ 3. “ If the captain or any other person having charge of any steam boat navigating any waters, within the jurisdiction of this state, and used for the conveyance of passengers, or if the engineer or other person having charge of the boiler of such boat, or of any other apparatus for the generation of steam, shall, for the purpose of excelling any other boat in speed or for the purpose of increasing the speed of such boat, create or allow to be created an undue or an unsafe quantity of steam, every such captain, engineer, or other person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall also for every such offence forfeit the sum of five hundred dollars, to be sued for, in the name of the people, by the district attorney of any county of this state, to whom notice shall first be given of such offence; the penalty, when recovered, shall be paid as follows: fifty dollars to the informer, and the residue into the county treasury of the county for which such district attorney shall have been appointed, for the use of the poor of the county, except that the court in which the recovery shall be had may order such portion thereof, not exceeding fifty dollars, as it shall deem just, to be paid to the district attorney, by whom the suit shall have been prosecuted as a compensation for his services, beyond the taxable costs to be recovered by him.

§ 4. "If any penalty incurred by any captain or master of any steam boat, or by any person having charge thereof, or by any engineer or other person having charge of the boiler of such boat, or of any other apparatus for the generation of steam, and the penalties of this act cannot be collected of them by a due course of law, the same may be recovered in like manner as against them, of the owners of the boat in whose employ they were at the time such offence was committed, jointly and severally, as if such owners were sureties of such captains, master, engineer or other person.

§ 5. "It shall be the duty of the master of every steam boat navigating the waters of this state, to keep a copy of the third, fourth and fifth sections of this act posted in a conspicuous place in such boat, for the inspection of all persons on board the same; and in case of a neglect to comply with this provision, he shall be liable to the penalty inflicted by the fourteenth section of title ten, of chapter twenty of the first part of the Revised Statutes, to be sued for and applied in the manner prescribed in such section."

UNCLAIMED TRUNKS & BAGGAGE.

AN ACT relative to unclaimed Trunks and Baggage.

(Passed May 2, 1837 Chap. 300. p 311)

Description to be entered in a Book.

§ 1. "The proprietor or proprietors of the several lines of stages, and the proprietors of the several canal boat lines, and the proprietors of the several steamboats, and the several incorporated railroad companies, and the keepers of the several inns and taverns within this state, who shall have any unclaimed trunks, boxes or baggage within his, their, or either of their custody, shall immediately enter the time the same was left, with a proper description thereof, in a book to be by them provided and kept for that purpose. In case the name and residence of the owner shall be ascertained, it shall be the duty of such person who shall have any such property as above specified to immediately notify the owner thereof by mail.

§ 2. "In case there shall not be any information obtained as to the owner, it shall be the duty of the person having the possession thereof, to make out a correct written description of all such property as shall have been unclaimed for thirty days, stating the time the same came into his possession, and forward said description to the editor of the state paper, whose duty it shall be, on the first Mondays of July, October, January and April in each year, to publish the same in the state paper once a week for three weeks successively.

§ 3. " In case the said property shall remain unclaimed for sixty days after the said publication, it shall be the duty of the person or company having possession thereof, to apply to a magistrate of the town or city in which said property is retained, in whose presence and under whose direction said property shall be opened and examined, and an inventory thereof taken by said magistrate; and if the name and residence of the owner is ascertained by such examination, it shall be the duty of the magistrate forthwith to direct a notice thereof to such owner, by mail: and if said property shall remain unclaimed for three months after such examination, it shall be the further duty of the person or company having possession thereof to apply to a magistrate as aforesaid; and if said magistrate shall deem such property of sufficient value, he shall cause the same to be sold at public auction, giving six days previous notice of the time and place of sale; and from the proceeds of such sale he shall pay the charges and expenses legally incurred in respect to said property, or a ratable proportion thereof to each claimant, if insufficient for the payment of the whole amount: and the balance of the proceeds of such sale, if any, the said magistrate shall immediately pay to the overseers of the poor of said town or city, for the use of the poor thereof; and the said overseers shall make an entry of such amount, and the time of receiving the same, upon their official records, and it shall be subject, at any time within seven years thereafter, to be reclaimed by, and refunded to, the owner of such property, his heirs or assigns, on satisfactory proof of such ownership.

Expenses to be a Lien on Property.

§ 4. " The person making the entry of unclaimed property as above specified, shall be entitled to twelve and a half cents for each trunk, box, bale, package or bundle so entered, and shall have a lien on the property so entered, until payment shall be made; and in case any additional expense shall be incurred for printing, the lien shall continue until payment shall be made for such additional expense.

§ 5. " In case any person shall neglect or refuse to comply with the provisions of this act, he shall forfeit the sum of five dollars for each and every trunk, box or bundle of baggage so neglected as above specified, to the benefit of any person who shall sue for the same, in his own name, in an action of debt in any court having cognizance thereof."—See General Statutes, page 542.

GOODS ON FREIGHT.

§ 1. “It shall be lawful for the owners or masters of any ship or vessel on board of which the goods of any non-resident, concealed or absconding debtor shall have been shipped in good faith, for the purpose of transportation, without reshipment or transshipment in this state, to any port or place out of this state, to transport and deliver such goods according to their destination, notwithstanding the issuing of any attachment against such debtor, unless the attaching creditor, his agent or attorney, shall execute a bond with sufficient sureties to any or either of the owners or masters of the vessel on board of which such goods shall be shipped, conditioned to pay such owner or master all expenses, damages and charges which may be incurred by such owners or master or to which they may be subjected for unlading said goods from said vessel, and for all necessary detention of said vessel for that purpose.

§ 2. “This act shall not extend to any case where such owner or master, either before or at the time of the shipment of such goods, shall have received actual information of the issuing of such attachment, nor where the owner or the master of any vessel have in any wise connived at or been privy to the shipment of such goods for the purpose of screening them from legal process, or for the purpose of hindering, delaying or defrauding creditors.”
