CARS: SUZUKI AND MINIBLAZER

The Suzuki and Miniblazer are different in many ways. First of all, the Suzuki is a little car. In contrast, the Miniblazer is a big car. For this reason, the Suzuki is for a small families or families that have until four members, while the Miniblazer is for a big families or families that have until 6 member and a pet, too. Also, the Suzuki is not for tall people because the space to sit down is small. However, the Miniblazer is for tall people because it has a big space to sit down. Then, the Miniblazer is more comfortable than the Suzuki. Also, the Suzuki is not for driving in places like a mountain or roads with a lot of mud, whereas the Miniblazer is for driving on roads with a lot of mud or almost any obstacle. To concluding, both Suzuki and Miniblazer are fantastic cars, but in different ways.
