P R E F A C E .

THE success which attended the formation of the Loan Collections of National Portraits at South Kensington induced the attempt which has resulted in the collection of Portraits here catalogued. It was understood that the Council of the Royal Archæological Institute were anxious to add to the attractions of their Annual Meetings Collections of Portraits of Local Celebrities, and it was felt by the large and influential Committee that was appointed to arrange for the worthy reception of that august body in the ancient and loyal city of Exeter, that there could not be a more fitting place to inaugurate so interesting an addition to the usual programme of the Society, since in no other place which might be selected for their annual meeting could they hope to find around them a district which has been so fertile in men of distinction and fame, whether in Church or in State, by land or sea.

Accordingly, at a meeting of the General Committee held on the 5th June, 1873, the following resolutions, which show the object and scope of the Exhibition, were passed, viz.—

That a Gallery of Portraits, &c., be provided for the Exeter Meeting of the Institute in July next.

That the first object of the Gallery be a collection of portraits of eminent persons of Devon and Cornwall now deceased.

That if space can be provided, the collection may include also pictures commemorating historical places or events connected with one or other of the counties. And the following were appointed a Committee to carry these resolutions into effect, viz.:—The Right Worshipful the Mayor (C. J. Follett, Esq., B.C.L.), Chairman; Mr. Alderman Harding, ex-Mayor, President of the Graphic Society; the Rev. F. T. Colby, B.D., F.S.A., Exeter; Richard King, Esq., M.A., Crediton; Horace C. Lloyd, Esq., Hon. Secretary to the Graphic Society; with Mr. Bartholomew C. Gidley, M.A., for Hon. Secretary; and the work of collecting pictures was at once commenced.

The absence of some well-known (and possibly expected) portraits will perhaps be noticed and commented on, but many circumstances have conspired (notably the recent disastrous destruction of the Alexandra Palace by fire) to deter the owners of valuable portraits from intrusting them to the tender mercies of packers, carriers, and picture-hangers; and while regretting the absence of a few pictures, the Committee feel that they have great cause to congratulate the Institute and themselves on the collection which, in so brief a time, they have been enabled to bring together; and they desire to take this opportunity of tendering to those who have so kindly contributed pictures, and to others who have helped them with their advice and assistance, an expression of their most hearty thanks.

NOTE TO REVISED EDITION.

THE Compilers of the Catalogue desire to state that they are in no way responsible for the Titles of the Pictures, nor (save in a few instances only) for the Names of the Painters ; such Titles and Names having, with this exception, been assigned to the Pictures as were furnished by the owners themselves.

If this reservation may seem to imply a doubt as to the identity of any of the portraits with the persons they profess to represent, the cause is not far to seek, and is referrible to the Painters themselves. Nothing is more unfortunate than the mistaken affectation of Portrait-painters who will not condescend to place on the portraits they paint some mark or token by which they may be identified when subject and painter have both passed away. Formerly it was the practice to paint a man's coat of arms upon his picture (an easy way of insuring recognition) ; and great painters (e.g. PAUL VAN SOMER) did not deem it beneath their dignity to trace their names upon the canvass their art had transformed ; but for many years past this has ceased to be so, and the identity of the most valuable and important portraits is allowed to rest on the evidence of tradition, unsatisfactory in any case, and eminently so where (as often happens with portraits) the traditions are liable to be broken or confused.

Should the Catalogue still contain any inaccuracies, notwithstanding the careful revision it has undergone, the compilers must crave the indulgence of their critics.

✓ 1 SIR JOHN HAWKINS.

PAINTER.
Unknown.

Born at Plymouth, 1534 ; son of William Hawkins, a sea captain. In 1562 made a voyage to the Coast of Guinea, and began a traffic in slavery. Treasurer of the Navy, 1595 ; Rear-Admiral on board the Victory at the coming of the Armada, 1588 ; died 1595. Much dreaded by Spain, and the name of 'Achines' is constantly entered in Philip II.'s own hand, on the margin of despatches, often with some mark of dismay. On the picture are the arms granted to him by Elizabeth ; and the inscription "æt. suæ 57—1591." (The arms are—sa. on a point wavy, a lion pass. or. In chief 3 bezants, and on a canton, an escallop between 2 palmer's staves, sa. crest, a demi-Moor, bound, with annulets on his arms and ears, or.) The chain represented is in the possession of Sir Henry Seale ; it was given to Hawkins by the Queen. Sir John Hawkins is said to have been the hero of the ballad—

'Would you hear of a Spanish lady
How she woo'd an Englishman.'

This picture was formerly in the collection of Harley, Earl of Oxford.

(Three quarters ; black dress, white ruff ; hat with jewel and band of pearls ; heavy gold chain of three rows.)

[C. Stewart Hawkins, Esq.]

✓ 2 EDWARD, FIRST LORD EXMOUTH.

Copy of portrait by Sir T. Lawrence.

Born 1757 ; became Lieut. R.N., 1780 ; Knighted in 1793 ; created a Baronet in 1796 for his heroic conduct in capturing the Cleopatra French frigate ; elevated to the peerage in 1814 as Baron Exmouth, of Canonteign, county of Devon ; raised to a Viscounty 1816, for the capture of Algiers ; died 1833. He was G.C.B., an Admiral of the Red, and Vice-Admiral of Great Britain.

[Viscount Exmouth.]

✓ 3 THE BOMBARDMENT OF ALGIERS.

PAINTER.
Luny.

[Viscount Exmouth.]

✓ 4 THE BRITISH FLEET LEAVING THE BAY AFTER THE BOMBARDMENT OF ALGIERS.

Luny.

[Viscount Exmouth.]

✓ 5 SIR FRANCIS DRAKE.

Unknown.

Admiral and navigator; said to have been born at Tavistock, 1545; served as an able seaman; employed by Sir Jno. Hawkins; in 1577 sailed from Plymouth and circumnavigated the world; retired in 1580, when he was knighted by Queen Elizabeth; had a principal share in the destruction of the Spanish Armada; died 28 Jan., 1595.

[Corporation of Plymouth.]

✓ 6 DOLLY PENTREATH.

Opie, R.A. ✓

Said to have been the last person who spoke the Cornish language. She died in 1778, at the alleged age of 102. She was buried in St. Paul's churchyard, near Penzance; and a monument has been erected to her memory by Prince Louis Lucien Bonaparte. She was certainly one of those who were the last to retain the old Cornish speech; but Bodenner, who died in 1798, (and was also of the reputed age of 102) and Tomson, of Truro, in 1784, also spoke it fluently.

(In white cloak and cap; right hand on book.)

[Sir John St. Aubyn.]

✓ 7 SIR WALTER RALEIGH.

Unknown.

Born at Hayes, in the parish of Budleigh Salterton, 1552; beheaded 1618.

[Col. W. Raleigh Gilbert.]

JAMES NORTHCOTE, R.A.

PAINTER.

S. A. Hart.

Artist ; born at Devonport, 1746 ; died 1816. Pupil of Sir Joshua Reynolds.

[Mrs. Woollcombe.]

SIR JOHN ELIOT, KNT.

P. Van Somer.

Born 20 April, 1590, at Port Eliot ; educated at Exeter College, Oxford ; married 1611 to Rhodagund, daughter of Mr. Richard Gedie, of Treburzay ; M.P. for St. Germans, 1614 ; Knighted and made Vice-Admiral of Devon, 1618 ; in Parliament boldly stood up for the liberty of the subject ; sent to the Tower for his protest on the Tonnage and Poundage Bill, 1628 ; styled by Hallam "the most illustrious confessor in the cause of liberty whom that time ever produced ;" died in the Tower, 27 Nov., 1632.

Inscribed, "Sir John Eliot, Knt., 1628."

[Earl of St. Germans.]

✓ 10

MRS. OPIE.

Opie.

Mother of John Opie, the painter.

(Bible open before her. Spectacles in hand.)

[Mr. Northmore Lawrence.]

✓ 11

SIR JOHN GLANVILLE AND WIFE.

Unknown.

Justice of the Common Pleas ; born at Tavistock ; called to the bar 1589 ; made J. of C. P. 1598 ; died 1600 ; buried in Tavistock Church, where he has a stately monument. There is a tradition that the wife of 'Page, of Plymouth,' who murdered her husband, was a daughter of Sir John Glanville, and that he sat himself as Judge to pronounce her sentence. This is at least doubtful.

(Three-quarters. He in red judge's robe and coif ; she in black, with ruff and large gold chain.)

[Rev. Edward Polwhele.]

✓ 12 ADMIRAL SIR J. T. DUCKWORTH, BART., G.C.B.

Sir William Beechey.

Son of Rev. H. Duckworth, born 1748, entered the Navy at 11 years of age ; captain of the Orion in Lord Howe's action of the 1st

June, 1794 ; reduced Minorca 1798 ; K.C.B. 1801 ; Commander-in-Chief at Jamaica 1803. In 1806 he destroyed the French fleet at St. Domingo, after which he received the thanks of Parliament and an annuity of £1,000, and was presented with the freedom of the city of London and a sword worth 200 guineas. Passed the Dardanelles in command of the British fleet 1807. Governor of Newfoundland 1810 ; created a baronet 1813. Died 31st August, 1817, in command at Plymouth.

(Portrait well known from engravings.)

[Sir J. T. B. Duckworth, Bart.]

✓ 13 THE PASSAGE OF THE DARDANELLES.

PAINTER.

Luny.

Sir J. T. Duckworth, with 7 sail of the line and smaller vessels, twice forced the passage of the Dardanelles, 1807. On the second occasion the fleet had to pass through a constant fire for a course of 30 miles.

[Sir J. T. B. Duckworth, Bart.]

✓ 14 DESTRUCTION OF THE FRENCH FLEET AT ST. DOMINGO.

Luny.

This successful action was fought in 1806, and resulted in the capture and destruction of 15 sail of the line.

[Sir J. T. B. Duckworth, Bart.]

✓ 15 CAPTAIN THOMAS COLBY, R.N.

Unknown.

Son of Thomas Colby and Mary Coplestone ; born at Great Torrington, 1782 ; died there, 1864 ; actively engaged as a naval officer in the Great War, at Camperdown and Sir John Warren's action ; conspicuous in the defence of the Centurion ; at Sir R. Calder's action, and Trafalgar ; at the defence of Gaeta ; commanded boats on the Nile, at the passage of the Dardanelles, and at the extraordinary capture of the Bien Venue ; took part in the reduction of Genoa, etc. ; one of the Commanders of Greenwich Hospital, 1850-64. [Rev. F. T. Colby.]

✓ 16 VIEW OF PLYMOUTH.

Sir Joshua Reynolds.

Painted before he went to Italy in 1749. A long narrow picture. [Earl of St. Germans.]

✓ 17 ADMIRAL SIR FRANCIS BASSET.

PAINTER.

Cornelius Jansen.

Sheriff of Cornwall, and great leader of the Royalists there. Defended St. Michael's Mount (of which place he was owner) against the Parliamentary forces.

(Full-length. In black, with sword and belt; rich collar, high white boots; hat in right hand. In the distance on the right, the sea, with ships.)

[Mr. G. L. Basset.]

✓ 18 SIR FRANCIS DRAKE, KNT.

Zuccheró.

(See No. 5.)

(In black; green scarf; right hand on globe. Round the neck is a gold chain, from which hangs the jewel given to him by the Queen. This is still preserved at Nutwell Court. It is a miniature of Elizabeth, by Vincentio Vicentini.)

[Sir Francis F. Eliot Drake, Bart.]

✓ 19 LORD CAMELFORD.

Romney.

Thomas Pitt, son and heir of Thomas Pitt, Governor of Fort St. George, who was eldest son of Robert Pitt, father of William, 1st Earl of Chatham; created Lord Camelford, Baron of Boconnoc, Cornwall, 5th January, 1784; died 1793. The title became extinct in 1804, on the death, in a duel, of his only son, Thomas, the 2nd Lord Camelford.

(Three-quarters; in red, seated.)

[Hon. G. M. Fortescue.]

20 LANDING OF THE BLACK PRINCE,

At Plymouth, with his captive, John, King of France, after Poitiers; 1357.

Col. Hamilton Smith.

Walsingham asserts that the Prince landed at Plymouth on this occasion. Froissart and others make him land at Sandwich. The Prince certainly sailed from Plymouth before this campaign, and landed there on his final return from Aquitaine; in 1370.

(In water-colour. The Black Prince in front, leading the King.)

[Mrs. Woolcombe.]

✓ 21

JOHN ANSTIS.

PAINTER.
Hudson.

Herald. Born at St. Neot's, Cornwall, 1669. Educated at Exeter College, Oxford. M.P. for St. German's in the first part of the reign of Queen Anne. Created Garter-King-at-Arms 1718. Died 1744, and was buried at Duloe, in Cornwall. Wrote "Form of Installation of the Garter," and "Register of the Garter," &c., &c.

(Three-quarters, very rich embroidered coat, with red mantle over it, Herald's wand of office and Coronet at side.)

[Rev. T. Bewes.]

SIR WALTER RALEIGH, KNT.

Unknown.

Supposed likeness of Sir Walter Raleigh as a youth, but probably a young Italian. [Mr. James Jerman.]

✓ 23

DUKE OF MONMOUTH.

Unknown.

Son of Charles II., by Lucy Walters; attended the King on the occasion of his visit to Exeter, in 1671. (Oliver's Hist., p. 137.) Raised a rebellion against James II., and was defeated at Sedgemoor, 1685; the revolt was avenged by the brutal executions of Judge Jeffreys at Exeter and throughout the West. The forces of the Duke were mainly drawn from Somersetshire, Devon, and Cornwall.

[Sir John Maclean.]

LADY GRENVILLE.

Mad. le Brun.

The Hon. Anne Pitt, sister and heiress of Thomas, 2nd Lord Camelford; married William Wyndham Grenville, of Dropmore, Esq., created Baron Grenville, 1790. She died in 1864, when Dropmore, Boconnoc, and the other estates, went to the Hon. G. M. Fortescue, 2nd son of Hugh, Earl Fortescue.

(Seated; as Hebe.)

[Hon. G. M. Fortescue.]

✓ 25

EDWARD COURTENAY, EARL OF DEVONSHIRE.

Copy from a picture assigned to Sir A. More, at Woburn.

Son of Henry, Marquis of Exeter, and Gertrude, daughter of William Blount, Lord Mountjoy. Committed to the Tower at the age of twelve years, after his father's execution, where he was detained till the accession of Queen Mary, by whom he was released, and restored to the attained honours of the Earldom of Devon. It had been proposed that he should marry Mary. Concerned in Wyatt's conspiracy, and again sent to the Tower. Died at Padua, 1556. (See Froude's History, vol. vi.)

(Engraved in Lodge. In black, with white sleeves. A ruined tower at the back. At the side is the inscription—

“En puer, et insons, et adhuc juvenilibus annis
Annos his septem carcere clausus eram.
Me pater his tenuit vinclis, quæ filia solvit:
Sors mea sic tandem vertitur a superis.”)

✓ 26 SIR THOMAS DYKE ACLAND, BART.

PAINTER.
Owen.

10th Baronet; for many years M.P. for North Devon; much respected for his benevolence and public spirit; born 1787, died 1871. A statue was erected on Northernhay, Exeter, to his honour during his life-time, with the motto “Præsenti tibi maturos largimur honores.”

(Full length; in fine landscape. Engraved. This picture was presented to Lady Acland by many Devonshire landowners, after the general election of 1818.)

[Sir T. D. Acland, Bart.]

✓ 27 SIR JOHN ELIOT, KNT.

Unknown.

(See No. 9.) On this picture is the inscription—“Painted a few days before his death in the Tower of London, 1632.”

(To knees. In white dressing-gown covered with geometric lace. A comb in his hand.)

✓ 28 SAMUEL COOK.

Edward Opie.

Artist in water-colours. Born at Camelford 1806, died at Plymouth 1860. His later works are of the highest excellence. [Mrs. Cook.]

John Barton, Esq.; afterwards Canon of Exeter Cathedral.

(As a youth, playing with a dog.)

[Viscount Sidmouth.]

✓ 30 QUEEN ELIZABETH.

Hilliard.

Nicholas Hilliard was born at Exeter in 1547. He was goldsmith, carver, and portrait-painter to the Queen; died 1619. It is of him that Donne wrote:—

—“a hand, an eye

By Hilliard drawn, is worth a history.”

(The Queen is in black, with ruff, small jewelled coronet, damasked stomacher, and gold chain. Seated. To knees.)

[Sir John S. Trelawny.]

✓ 31

JOSEPH THOMAS TREFFRY,

PAINTER.
Tale.

Of Place, Fowey. Mr. Treffry, who died in 1850, was the largest employer of labour in the Western counties. He was the first Chairman of the Cornwall Railway. The harbour and breakwater at Par; Luxulian viaduct; the harbour at Newquay; the railway from Par to the Bugle, and from Newquay to St. Dennis, by means of which he hoped to unite the north and south coasts—are among his works. He planned and commenced a breakwater and harbour of refuge at Newquay, which, after an immense expenditure, he offered to present to the nation. His offer was not accepted.

(Three-quarters; right hand on plans.)

[Rev. Dr. Treffry.]

✓ 32

FRAN. ATTERBURY, BP. OF ROCHESTER.

Sir. G. Kneller.

Among other preferments held by Bishop Atterbury, he became Archdeacon of Totnes in 1700, and afterwards Canon of Exeter. He died in banishment, 1731. He dictated his sermons to Sir Jonathan Trelawny, Bishop of Bristol.

(To waist. Gown and bands, and wig.)

[Sir John S. Trelawny.]

✓ 33

BP. JOHN PRIDEAUX.

Unknown.

Born at Stowford, in Devon. Fellow, and afterwards Rector, of Exeter College, Oxford; Regius Professor of Divinity; afterwards Bishop of Worcester, but deprived during the Civil Wars and reduced to great poverty; died 1650. He raised himself from an obscure position, and was at one time an unsuccessful candidate for the office of parish clerk of Ugborough. He was a man of profound learning and conciliatory deportment.

(In black; seated; writing; small ruff; scull cap. Arms on picture, arg. a chevron sa., and a label of 3 points, gules.)

[Exeter College, Oxford.]

Bishop of Exeter, 1487. Educated at Magdalen College, Oxford. Confidential friend and counsellor of King Henry VII. Baptised his son, afterwards, King Henry VIII. Was Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal. Founded Corpus Christi College, Oxford; and Grammar Schools at Grantham and Taunton. Was successively Bishop of Bath and Wells, Durham, and Winchester, where he died, and was buried 5th Oct., 1528. Hoker pronounces him to have been "such a man for his wisdom, knowledge, learning and truth, that he left not his lyk at that time after him."

(The dress resembles that of Bishop Oldham, No. 33. 2 Shields of arms. On the right the See of Exeter, impaled with Fox; az. a pelican in her piety, or, vulned ppr. On the left the See of Winchester, impaled with Fox within a Garter. (as Prelate of the Order.) Below is an inscription:—

"Clarus Wintoniæ præsul, cognomine Foxus
Qui prius hoc olim nobile struxit opus—"

A third line is illegible.)

(Mr. T. Kerslake, Bristol.)

✓ 50

SIR JOSHUA REYNOLDS, KNT.

Sir Joshua Reynolds.

Son of the Rev. Samuel Reynolds, born 16th July, 1723; began to draw and paint in his childhood; bound apprentice to Thomas Hudson, portrait painter, 1740, but remained under him only two years; returned to Devonshire, and painted portraits at Plymouth; visited Portugal, Spain, Algiers, and Italy, 1749-52; first President of the Royal Academy, and Knight; delivered his discourses, 1769-90; member of Johnson's Literary Club; friend of Burke, Garrick, Goldsmith, etc.; D.C.L. of Oxford; F.R.S., F.S.A., painter to the King. Died at 47, Leicester-square, 23rd February, 1792, his sight having (1784) previously failed; buried publicly in St. Paul's Cathedral, where is a monument to him, by Flaxman. He is stated to have painted more than 1,500 portraits, including the most eminent Englishmen, and the most beautiful women of his time.

(The first portrait painted of himself, showing the cut in the lip occasioned by a fall from his horse at Gibraltar.)

[Mr. J. Reynolds Gwatkin.]

✓ 51 SIR JOSHUA REYNOLDS.

PAINTER.

Sir Joshua Reynolds.

(Said to be the last portrait painted of himself. The treatment in both these portraits is somewhat similar. One shows the three-quarters face to the right, the other to the left. Both busts, to the waist.)

[Mr. J. Reynolds Gwatkin.]

✓ 52 SIR JOSHUA REYNOLDS.

Sir J. Reynolds.

This likeness is curious from its being burnt on wood, and differing from other portraits of Sir Joshua.

[Rev. E. Reynolds Colby.]

JOHN OPIE.

Son of a carpenter of St. Agnes, near Truro ; born 1761 ; began to take likenesses of his relations and neighbours ; attracted the notice of Dr. Wolcot (Peter Pindar) ; went up to London as an itinerant portrait-painter ; introduced to Sir J. Reynolds, but not much favoured by him ; brought out by Dr. Wolcot ; married early Miss Amelia Anderson, a popular novelist ; elected Professor of Painting in the Royal Academy on Fuseli's resignation ; buried 20th April, 1807, in St. Paul's Cathedral.

[Royal Academy of Arts.]

WILLIAM COOKWORTHY.

Chemist, and discoverer of china clay in Cornwall. Born at Kingsbridge, 1805 ; died at Plymouth, 1730. He established a manufactory of china first in Plymouth, and afterwards at Bristol. In his house, in Notte-street, Plymouth, he entertained Smeaton, during the building of the Eddystone Lighthouse, in 1752 ; and Captain Cook, Sir Joseph Banks, and Dr. Solander, before they started on Cook's first voyage round the world.

[Rev. Urquhart Cookworthy.]

✓ JAMES MEADOWS RENDEL, F.R.S.

Edward Opie.

Civil Engineer ; born near Dartmoor, December, 1799 ; early employed by Telford ; made a survey of the harbours on the S.W. coast of England ; settled in London, 1838 ; constructed the docks at Birkenhead and Great Grimsby, and the harbours of refuge at Holyhead and Portland ; was appointed member of the International Commissioner to examine the practicability of a canal across the Isthmus of Suez, &c. ; died 1856.

[Mrs. Rendel.]

✓ WILLIAM GIFFORD.

Hoppner, R.A.

Writer, and first editor of the "Quarterly Review ;" born at Ashburton, Devon, April, 1756 ; for some time cabin-boy in a coasting vessel ; afterwards apprenticed to a shoemaker ; at 20 sent to school by Mr. Cookesley, a surgeon of his native town ; when at Oxford gained the favour of Lord Grosvenor, who engaged him to travel with Lord Belgrave on the Continent ; on his return published the satirical poems, "Baviad" and "Mœviad," 1794-5 ; edited the "Anti-Jacobin," 1797 ; published an edition of Massinger's Plays, 1805 ; acquired literary influence as editor of the "Quarterly Review," 1809-24 ; died in 1826 ; buried in Westminster Abbey.

[Mr. John Murray.]
