SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, One Dollar and Fifty Cents per year in advance

Entered as second-class matter, October 15th, 1914, at the Post Office at Narberth, Pennsylvania, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Saturday, November 14, 1925.

PAPER WAS SKIPPED

Last week 43 copies of "Our Town" were not received by subscribers. The fact was not discovered until early this week.

The error occurred due to the fact that the addressing clerk missed an entire strip of names containing most of the C's and D's on our mailing list. The postal clerks, blamed by some, were not guilty.

This is the first time in four years that such an accident has happened and we trust that four more years, at least, will pass before it happens again. Subscribers wishing a copy of last week's paper for reference may have one by calling at the office.

WINTER SEASON BEGINS IN LANTWYN LANE SECTION

Association to Hold Dance Tonight in Sample House.

The first of the winter season's festivities of the Lantwyn Lane Association is announced for the evening of Saturday, November 14. There will be a dance on that date at the sample house in Lantwyn lane.

Music will be played by a special orchestra. Appropriate decorations will be among the attractions.

The hostesses will be Mrs. Geo. R. Morhard and Mrs. L. Fielding Howe, both of whom are well known for their grace in dispensing hospitality. Although the event will be in the nature of a neighborhood affair, friends of members of the association are invited.

Burn Garden Refuse.

Every fall after the vegetable patch and the home grounds have been given their clean-up and all refuse and plant remnants have been gathered in a heap, the amateur gardener faces the question: "To burn or not to burn."

The State plant disease specialists advise the burning of refuse from such garden plants as are likely to carry disease into the coming year, the refuse from all other plants to be dug under as the soil expert advises.

Among the plants which should go on the bonfire are: Potato and tomato stalks, cucumber vines, beet leaves, beans, asparagus tops, celery refuse and, from the flower garden, the above-ground parts of hollyhock, all fallen rose leaves, the entire aster plant, including the roots, and the old tops of phlox.

Plants which may be dug into the garden soil with comparative safety include: Weeds, the refuse of salsify, spinach, parsnips, onion, horseradish, corn lettuce, turnip, cauliflower cabbage and carrot.

Miss Mary Louise Cook, a student at Beaver College, Jenkintown, Pa., was the guest over the weekend of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Eduard Lyndall Smith, of Merion avenue.

Mrs. Francis H. Baker and son have returned to their home on Windsor avenue after an absence of five months.

Mrs. Joseph P. White is recovering in the Samaritan Hospital from a serious operation recently performed.

NEW LIBRARY FOR BRYN MAWR SOON

Plans Drawn for Ludington Memorial Addition to Civic Center

A new library building has been donated to the Bryn Mawr War Memorial and Community House Association by Mr. C. H. Ludington in memory of his wife, Ethel Saltus Ludington, who died at Saranac in 1922. The building is to be erected on the Association grounds on the Lancaster avenue side of the present Community House. The architecture will be such as to conform with the lines of the present building.

Preliminary plans for the building have been prepared by the architect, Robert R. McGoodwin. Details, of course, have not yet been decided upon. The building will be a separate unit but, as before stated, will conform with the lines of the present Community House, and will be located so as to allow for future building by the Association without destroying the architectural effect. The building is to be constructed primarily of local stone but the doors and windows will be set off by dressed lime stone.

This new building will provide facilities for more than twice as many books as are now in the possession of the Association. The reading rooms will be much more comfortable and more quiet than those now available. The children are to have their own reading room, with all their books therein. Books in constant demand will be available from the stacks in the reading rooms, while reference books and those for which the demand is less current will be kept in stacks provided in the basement.

That such a library is needed in Bryn Mawr there can be no doubt. Many hundred people use the present crowded facilities monthly. With more comfortable quarters, even more will make use of the advantages afforded to improve their minds and to pass many pleasant hours.

MAIN LINE WELFARE DRIVE STILL UNDER WAY

Drive Closes Thursday, But Work Does Not Stop.

Officially the fifth annual campaign of the Welfare Federation of Philadelphia closed Thursday, November 12. But, due to the fact that many subscribers have not yet been visited by the volunteer solicitors, it will be necessary to keep up the work indefinitely.

We suburban citizens naturally feel a certain pride in reaching our goal, achieving our quota. If we fail it lessens not only our self-respect, but our regard for the community in which we live. But we must not fail. If each and every one does his or her part the campaign will go over the top successfully.

By the splendid effort of the workers the committee has now raised on the Main Line approximately $640,000, or 93 per cent. of the quota.

The following teams have already exceeded their quotas: Narberth, Mrs. Franklin D'Olier, chairman; Ardmore, Mr. A. G. Tatnall, chairman; Rosemont, Mr. Wm. R. Breck, chairman; Strafford, Mrs. J. S. C. Harvey, chairman; Berwyn, Mrs. Geo. P. Orr, chairman; Cynwyd, Mr. N. C. Tily, 2d, chairman.

Work will be continued, however, until all cards are accounted for and the goal reached.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Simpson, of Avon Road, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Jean.

FAIR PRICE POLICY

The newspapers have printed several reports of the inflated prices charged by some retail dealers for their coal at the present time.

Frankly, there have been opportunities for getting abnormal profits. But we realize that such a policy is very foolish, and nothing more than bad business. We are building for permanence rather than the immediate gain of the moment.

A comparison of our prices anywhere in Philadelphia will substantiate our claim of a fair price policy.

CROWELL CALLED GAME; THEN DID SOME SPRINTING

 miner had hold of a post and it was swaying. With a mighty push he toppled down the whole thing.

"I immediately blew my whistle and cried out that this game was over. Then I made a bee line to a hole in the fence, jumped into a motor car and gave a man $10 to get me to the hotel as quickly as possible. This was not all, however. As I was dressing I heard a roaring crowd outside. The proprietor came into my room and said the crowd wanted the referee. I said that I had nothing further to say. They want to know who won. so the bets can be settled," said the proprietor, "just stick your head out of the window and show yourself anyhow," urged the hotelkeeper. "This looked like a dubious proceeding, but finally I went to the window and stuck my head out. There were a couple of hundred Lithuanians and Poles outside.

"Boys," I yelled. "It is the same as if no game had been played. All bets are off." And the crowd clapped their hands, cheered me and dispersed as quietly as you please. I might say it was a great relief to me."

BOUGHT LARGE LOT

Vincent Mariani, of Woodbine avenue, former owner of the Narberth Bus Line, recently purchased the large lot at the northeast corner of Iona and Woodbine avenues at a sheriff sale. He has not announced any plans as yet for the use of the lot.

This is your paper and your advice is appreciated.

NEW LOWER MERION SPAN IS FAST ASSUMING FORM

 the plan is put into effect. Chief among the far-reaching results will be the deflection of a large amount of travel around Philadelphia. It is expected that the location will be north of Gladwyne station, depending largely on the nature of the terrain, and approximately five miles between Manayunk and Conshohocken bridges. Connecting roads will tap State road, Montgomery pike and Mill Creek road. On the Philadelphia side the road will continue across the Wissahickon to Chestnut Hill and Germantown.

Ultimately, it is expected that this route will hook up with one of the chief highways running to New York. With Mr. Rea on the committee appointed to push the plan are Richard J. Hamilton, president of the Merion Title & Trust Co.; Alfred M. Collins, of Bryn Mawr, polo player and big game hunter; Barker S. Williams, of Rosemont, and Frank H. Sykes, of Cynwyd. The committee was appointed late in October, and is expected to meet the coming week.

The building of a new Philadelphia Country Club golf course in Upper Merion township near Gladwyne station, it is expected, will bring additional influence toward the erection of the bridge.

Hooper, Miss Helen Cole Carter, Mrs. Ernest Searing, Mrs. William J. Wilson, Mrs. Isaac LaBoiteux, Mrs. S. E. Ewing, Miss Augusta Harrison, Mrs. Boyd Spahr, Mrs. C. S. A. Henry, Mrs. Francis D. Godley and Miss Eleanor Dougherty.

After nine years of existence the Main Line Branch of the Red Cross has 5585 members. This was the number that answered the roll call last year, Mrs. Alexander Brown, chairman, declared in a report of the year's work.

Following are excerpts from the report:

"Twenty-three ex-service men came to us on account of serious war disabilities. Eleven of them were wounded or ill as a result of exposure. Six more have tuberculosis and nine are suffering mentally or nervously because of their service in our army or navy. Very few of these men are in hospitals, as men receiving hospital care naturally do not need so much help from the Red Cross at home. Three mental cases have been or are receiving hospital care. Six tubercular patients are in hospitals, and two others have general medical or surgical treatment. The mental cases are the hardest to care for and there is much complicated business and legal proceedings to be gone through with any appointments of guardians, arrangements of compensation payments, etc., besides the extreme difficulty of working with men whose mentality is not normal, and who are, therefore, difficult to advise or persuade. "Seven able-bodied ex-service men have come to us for help in adjusting claims against the Government, and we have had five men in the service referred to us to investigate home conditions, as the men have applied for discharge in order to support their families, and three to secure support for families, whom these men left penniless and helpless when they enlisted.

"The work has been quite as great during this past year as during 1924, and it seems as though we would have to continue for some months longer in our efforts to rehabilitate, so far as possible, these soldiers and their families, who have suffered on account of their service to their country.

 association needs more subscribers. It is hoped that many who are interested and have enjoyed the performances of the Main Line Orchestra will take advantage of this drive and become members of the association, for admittance to this series will be by membership only. The first concert takes place on November 22.

Further information may be had by writing to the secretary of the Main Line Orchestra Association, Box 603, Ardmore, Pa.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

The Roll Call has commenced now, and all members of the Main Line Branch of the American Red Cross are urged to join. Any contributions towards the work of the branch will be deeply appreciated by the branch.

In case, by accident, houses should be missed by the canvassers, all persons are urged to come to branch headquarters and join. Headquarters of the branch are at the Memorial Building, Bryn Mawr.

To the Philadelphia Business Man Who Resides in Narberth

Has it ever occurred to you that it might be very helpful from a business standpoint if you were to become identified with your home town Bank?

A certain amount of publicity is circulated about a new Bank and its latest depositors; publicity which is bound to spread the name of both bank and patron. The pioneers of any enterprise, whether they are settling new territories or establishing an institution, are the men whom people talk about.

Isn't it a good thing in business to get yourself talked about—if the impression that results is going to build good-will for you in your community?

SCHOOL EXHIBIT

Junior High Book-Week Posters at the Library.

The Library is displaying for a short time an interesting group of posters drawn and painted by the pupils of the Junior High School under the direction of the art instructor, Miss Mildred Jantzen. These posters were drawn to call attention to the Children's Book Week which has just closed. The value of posters in concentrating thought on a given theme is widely recognized in all activities of modern life. Their sweeping lines and masses of color with the single thought emphasis, cannot fail to attract attention to "all that can be told of a tale in the passing of an instant."

The units for these designs were selected from the poster of Edward A. Wilson of New York, combined and arranged by the pupils themselves and colored according to their own ideas. The lines used to accompany the designs were the well-known ones of Emily Dickinson—"There is no frigate like a book To take us miles away."

Very favorable comment has been given to the work of the boys and girls by the visitors at the Library who have stopped to examine and admire the posters. It is gratifying to find that so many pupils have been able to appreciate the underlying thought of the poster and express it so well in line and color. The poster receiving the most favorable attention was the one designed by Richard Sigel. The flash of the lines and the snap of the colors, especially in the waves, brought out many words of commendation. When voting contests were on, as they were frequently, Kitty Timm's poster came in for second place, while Kenneth Claypoole's and Anne Van Auken's tied for third. That Kenneth Claypoole was able to get the effect desired, using only black and white, a difficult medium, gained for him much praise. The printing on some of the posters was very good indeed, but on many of them it showed less attention than it deserved.

The exhibit will remain at the Library until Miss Jantzen needs it for other displays. Following is the list of youthful exhibitors: Edna LaBoube, of Wayne avenue; Alethea Avery, Kitty Timm, of Narberth avenue; Helen Staley, of Essex avenue; William Newborg, of Woodbine avenue; James McIntire, of Wayne avenue; Kenneth Claypoole, of Chestnut avenue; George (Bud) Hopkins, of Merion avenue; Richard Sigel, of Forrest avenue; Anne Van Auken, of Chestnut avenue.

Harvest Music Festival.

A Harvest Music Festival, in aid of the Holiday House, at Narberth, will be given at the Academy of Music on Tuesday evening, November 17. The celebrated Marmains—Miriam, Irene and Phyllis—will appear in their original drama dances.

"Drama Dances" are distinctly different. In fact, the mere idea of dramatic dance portrayal—accompanied in many cases by the spoken word—is in itself so amazingly novel, so delightfully unique, that it is acclaimed by the critics as "a new form of art."

There are no dull moments in "Drama Dances." Elaborately costumed, and with constant scenic changes—under an ever shifting play of light and gorgeous color—in musical settings of exquisite beauty inspired by the world's master composers—the dramatic, the comic, the spectacular, the bizarre are blended in a dance mosaic as amazingly varied as it is beautiful.

CHRISTMAS BAZAAR

Harndon, miscellaneous, members of Epworth League; cafeteria lunch, Mrs. Charles Reger.

L. M. ELEVEN SCUTTLES LANSDOWNE WITH EASE

New Aerial Attack Responsible for 35-0 Score.

For the first time during the current grid season the Lower Merion football team got going Saturday. As a result it swept the much heralded Lansdowne team to a 35 to 0 defeat.

Lansdowne promised a good fight, but seemingly failed to exhibit any after the first touchdown was chalked up for the Ardmore eleven.

The Merion aggregation, ready for a tight tussle, kicked off to Lansdowne and brought the runner down after a five-yard run-back. Lansdowne was held for downs and punted to the Lower Merion safety man.

The Adam eleven made several first downs, but were stopped in Lansdowne territory and kicked. Several exchanges of punts followed and finally the big Maroon and White eleven started an offensive drive which ended in a touchdown. The ball was carried by Miller and the goal kicked by Morris.

Bud Miller and Mandes both cracked the line in great shape and also made some dazzling runs. Twice in the second quarter Lower Merion succeeded in placing the leather within scoring distance, but momentarily lacked the punch to put it across. The half ended with the score 7 to 0, in favor of the Adam eleven.

In the second half the Merion men took advantage of all opportunities and crashed through the Fite-coached eleven for two touchdowns in the third quarter and two in the fourth. Morris booted the oval through the uprights for the four extra tallies.

Two blocked kicks, a brand-new aerial attack and a clever exhibition of field running and line bucking featured the Lower Merion drive in the second half. Gene Kuen, Lou Mandes and Brud Kohl has all worked well on the offensive and defensive and the Lower Merion line played its usual good game, nabbing Lansdowne's fast attack before it had much of a chance to get started.

Tomorrow the Ardmore aggregation travels to Pottstown to battle with the up-State eleven. The Pottstowners have lost most of their games this season and a fairly easy game will, in all probability, be had. Pre-game dope points out that the Lower Merion second team will start the fray with the first team gridders held in reserve in case of emergency.

A number of rooters are traveling with the team in hopes that the game will be of even better outcome than last year's victory of 35 to 0 over the coal miners.

The Radnor game still looms ahead as the big game of the season and with both rivals grooming up for the annual scrap, the fray promises to be the climax of the season and the clash of two fighting elevens.

A victorious week-end was had in all branches of sports at the high school, the cross-country runners Marshal Academy hill and dalers on Friday afternoon by the close score of 28 to 30.

Ottey, the Merion captain and stellar runner, was defeated by Porr, of Franklin and Marshal, for the first time this year. Porr has been unbeaten and was indeed given a surprise when Ottey valiantly chased him to a close finish. Ottey is only a junior and has shown much improvement in his running this year and has developed into one of the school's most promising runners.

The soccer team also traveled to Lancaster on Saturday and defeated the Lancaster City High School team by a 6 to 2 score. The local eleven, displaying a consistent attack, flashed form in beating the up-Staters, although playing on a snow-covered field and easily outplayed them through superior teamwork.

Wednesday, Armistice day, was celebrated in the high school through room programs given in commemoration of that event. The faculty issued interesting pamphlets on the many phases of the Armistice and as a result many agreeable entertainments were had by the students.

18TH CENTURY CUSTOMS

Social life in Philadelphia in the years immediately before the Revolution and the adoption of the Declaration of Independence occupied much of the time of the inhabitants. Afternoon tea parties were much in vogue, and the popularity of those who attended these was gauged by their ability to make puns during the course of conversation. The punster of the eighteenth century was the equivalent of the "wise cracker" of today.

In the latter half of the century the socially prominent residents began to give greater attention to their personal appearance than before. The use of tooth brushes became rather widespread, and the almost equally popular custom among the women of today, the arching of eyebrows, was given its first trial.

"Mrs. Holliday, wife of Joseph Holliday, tailor, in Arch street," reads an advertisement in a newspaper of this time, "offers her new-invented curious compound, which will in half a minute take out by the roots the hair that grows too low on the forehead, etc., or around the mouth; it forms the eyebrows that are too large into a curious arch. This compound's perfectly innocent and may be used on children under 20 months old."

In reading the old advertisement one cannot help but wonder what advantage it would have been to a child 20 months old to have its brows permanently arched into a "curious" look, or if it was a common thing at that time for a child of such tender months to "sport" superfluous hair about the mouth.

In 1769 there came to Philadelphia, according to another old advertisement, a Dr. LeMayeur, a dentist, who proposed to transplant teeth.

"Several respectable ladies had them implanted," wrote Watson in his "Annals of Philadelphia." "I remember some curious anecdotes of some cases. They were often two months before they could eat with them."

A CHRISTMAS NOTE

Postmaster Fred C. Patten announces that an order has come through from Postmaster General New, ordering all U. S. postoffices to suspend work at 12.30 midnight, December 24.

During Christmas day no special mail work will be done, although special delivery mail will be sent out and the usual holiday dispatches made. This order affects the entire country, so that parcels must arrive early if delivery is to be made in time.
