HARRY MESSERVE HELD UP.

A Seattle Robber Believes Him of His Valuable.

Seattle, Sept. 8.—Harry Messerve, the well known society man and crack tennis player, encountered a gentleman of the rank and gun last night at the corner of Madison and Fifth streets. Messerve came out second best according to the story that was trying to be smothered up by the police, and did not even have a nickel left.

The bold highwayman was in wait for Mr. Messerve, and the moment he saw him appear on the corner stopped out and ordered him to throw up his hands. This Mr. Messerve proceeded to do, according to the story, and was soon directed of all his cash and his gold watch. The highwayman then disappeared and Mr. Messerve proceeded to report the case to the police. The police said that nothing unusual had happened, despite the fact that the victim was in headquarters at the very time.

MR. BRYAN ACCEPTS

Text of the Democratic Candidate's Formal Letter of Acceptance.

He Unqualifiedly Endorses Each Plank of the Chicago Platform.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Hon. W. J. Bryan's letter of acceptance was received by the Democratic national committee to-day. In substance it reads as follows:

"To Hon. Stephen M. White and others, members of the notification committee of the Democratic national convention: Gentlemen,—I accept the nomination tendered by you on behalf of the Democratic party. In so doing I desire to assure you that I fully appreciate the high honor which such nomination confers and the grave responsibility that will accompany election to the presidency of the United States. "So deeply am I impressed with the magnitude of the power vested by the constitution in the chief executive of the nation and with the enormous influence which he can wield for the benefit or injury of the people that I wish to enter that office, if elected, free from every personal desire except the desire to prove worthy of the confidence of my country and that I may not be tempted to use the patronage of my office to advance any personal ambition, I hereby announce my fixed determination, not under any circumstances, to be a candidate for re-election, in case this campaign results in my election. "I have carefully considered the platform adopted by the Democratic national convention and unqualifiedly endorse each plank thereof. A Democratic form of government is conducive to the highest civilization, because it opens before each individual the greatest opportunity for development and stimulates to the highest endeavor, insuring to each a full enjoyment of all the rewards of toil, except such contribution as is necessary to support the government which protects him. Democracy is indifferent to pedigree; deals with the individual rather than with his ancestors. Democracy ignores the differences of wealth. Neither riches nor poverty can be invoked in behalf of or against any citizen. Democracy knows no creeds, recognizing the right of each individual to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, welcoming all to a common brotherhood, guaranteeing equal treatment to no matter what church or through what forces they combine with their creator. "The increase in the bonded debt of the United States at this time is entirely without excuse. The issue of the interest bearing bonds within the last few years has been defended on the ground that they were necessary to secure the gold with which to redeem the United States notes and treasury notes. This necessity has been merely imaginary, and the legal right vested in the United States to redeem its notes either in gold or silver coin, the executive branch of the government followed the precedent established by a former administration and surrendered the option to the holder and obligation. This administrative policy leaves the government at the mercy of those who find secondary profit in bond issues. The fact that the dealers in money and securities have been able to deplete or protect the treasury according to their changing whims, shows how dangerous it is to permit them to exercise a controlling influence over the treasury department. "The position taken by the Chicago platform against the issue of paper money by national banks is supported by the highest Democratic authority as well as demanded by the interests of the people. A dignified but firm maintenance of the foreign policy first set forth by President Monroe and reiterated by all the presidents who have succeeded him, instead of arousing hostility abroad is the best guarantee to amicable relations with other nations. It is better for all concerned that the United States should resist any extension of European authority in the western hemisphere rather than invite the continual irritation which would necessarily result from any attempt to increase the influence of monarchical institutions over that portion of America which has been dedicated to a Republican government. "The laboring men of the country have expressed a desire for arbitration, and railroads cannot reasonably object to a decision rendered by an impartial tribunal, moreover, society, which has an interest even greater than the interest of the employer or employee, has a right to protect itself by courts of arbitration against the growing inconvenience and embarrassment occasioned by disputes between those who own the great arteries of commerce and the laborers who operate them. "Mr. Bryan also liberally expressed himself in favor of liberal pensions and the enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission, in opposition to unrestricted immigration, trusts and combines of corporations, sympathy with free Cuba and with the "cannibal people" in the latest connection saying: "Since the producers of wealth create the nation's prosperity in times of peace and defend the nation's flag in time of war, their interests ought at all times to be considered by those who stand in official positions. The Democratic party has ever found its voting strength among those who are proud to be known as the common people; it pledges itself to propose and enact such legislation as is necessary to protect the masses in the free exercise of every political right and the enjoyment of their just share of the reward of their labor. "It is not necessary to discuss the tariff question at this time. Whatever

ON TO DONGOLA!

British Forces in the Sudan Have Commenced the Advance Upon Dongola.

Czar and Czarina in Copenhagen—Spanish Cortes Authorizes a Big Loan.

Kosch, Sudan, Sept. 9.—The third brigade has started for Absarat. This commences the advance upon Dongola. The Egyptian cavalry, which has been at Daba, the southernmost point reached by the expedition, has been sighted by a strong force of mounted dervishes. The latter retired, carrying back the first definite information of the presence of troops at Dongola.

Copenhagen, Sept. 9.—The Czar and Czarina landed here at noon from Kiel. They were received by the King and Queen of Denmark, Crown Prince and Princess of Wales and other members of the royal family, after which they proceeded to Benstorff Castle. The Czar and Czarina in the King and Queen occupied the same carriage, which was drawn by six horses. It passed through the principal streets which were beautifully decorated and thronged with people. Their majesties were enthusiastically cheered.

London, Sept. 9.—A man who left several books behind him inscribed with the name "H. Egerton, Valparaiso," committed suicide yesterday by jumping overboard from the Diego steamer.

The Spanish Cortes have adjourned after unanimously authorizing the government to borrow $200,000,000 guaranteed by the railroads and also unanimously authorizing the government to raise another loan of unlimited amount to defray the expenses of the campaign against the Cuban insurgents. This loan to be guaranteed by any of the national revenues.

Official advices from Manila say that the rebellion in the Philippine Islands is confined to the province of Cavite. The rebels have barricaded themselves in a church at Cavite, which is so far from the shore that the Spanish gunboats are unable to reach it.

A dispatch to the Imperial from Hong Kong says that 1000 rebels entered the town of Sanisidro, province of Nueva Ecija, Island of Luzon, the principal island of the Philippine group, and took prisoners the governor, his secretary and a priest. The rebels were led by San Toloro, a half-breed.

JAPS IN MEXICO.

A Concession of 300,000 Acres of Land to the Japanese.

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 9.—Negotiations in the City of Mexico between the government and the representatives of the Japanese colonization association have been concluded for a concession of 300,000 acres of land in Chiapas. Advice has been received here to the effect that the Japanese will proceed at once to place Japanese families and colonies on the land for the growing of coffee, tobacco and cotton. The land is given to the Japanese contingent upon the making of a complete survey and the setting of a given number of families within ten years, each family to receive a small tract of land. The details of the concession have been agreed upon by the Mexican authorities and the Japanese, and merely await ratification.

It is the intention of the Japanese, according to the government commission of commerce and industry, to run steamers from Yokohama via Honolulu to Mexican ports as far south as San Benito, state of Chiapas, for the double purpose of developing commerce and providing communication between the Japanese colony and the home country. The steamers would touch at the most convenient American port. The Chamber of Commerce here is much elated over the news from Mexico, as it practically settles the question of the steamers coming to San Diego.

ANOTHER BANK FAILURE.

Union National Bank of New Orleans Closes Its Doors.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 9.—At 11 o'clock to-day the failure of the Union National bank was announced. The capital stock was $2,000,000, and it is said to have besides a surplus of $150,000. The bank failed to clear this morning, and though its doors opened for a short time it closed at 11 o'clock.

Coloche Fishing Not Permitted to Commence on the 15th Inst., Instead of the 25th.

Government's Majority on the First Division of Session Was Thirty-Four.

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—At a meeting of the agriculture committee to-day, Thomas Bann was appointed chairman; M. Sutherland, Liberal whip, was appointed chairman of the railways and canals committee, and James Lister was appointed to preside over the banking and currencies.

The minister of marine and fisheries has declined to permit coloche fishing to commence on the 15th inst. instead of the 25th.

Mr. Morrison waited on Hon. Mr. Tarte with Hon. Col. Baker and discussed Fraser River matters. A meeting of British Columbia members was held and a programme adopted for presentation to the governor-in-council, embodying British Columbia's overtures.

Mr. Oliver introduced in the house yesterday a bill to incorporate the Hudson Bay and Pacific Railway Company, which was read a first time.

In the house yesterday Sir Charles Tupper asked if any progress had been made in regard to the appointment of a minister of the interior.

Hon. Mr. Laurier will be able to give an answer to the hon. gentlemen on Thursday.

The first division of the session took place at 11 o'clock last night on Mr. Foster's motion concerning the government for its abuse of the power to issue governor-general's warrants. The division was witnessed by crowded galleries. When Sir Charles Tupper rose to vote he was loudly cheered by the opposition. The Liberals paid a similar compliment to their leader. The government majority on the vote was 34.

Thirty-two members were paired, an unusually large number, and six members were absent, three Conservatives and three Liberals.

Mr. Bostock has introduced a bill to incorporate the Columbia Telephone & Telegraph Co. It was read a first time.

A dispatch has been sent to the colonial office pointing out that while assenting to an investigation into seal life this year, Canada does not admit the necessity of a revision of the regulations governing sealing as contended for by the United States.

An order in council has been passed cancelling the commissions issued by the outgoing council months past for the revision and consolidation of the Dominion statutes. The ground taken is that parliament has not yet appropriated the funds to pay for the commission.

On Sir Oliver Mowat's recommendation an order-in-council has been passed providing for the creation of 173 Queen's Counsel by the Tupper ministry. Sir Oliver Mowat characterized the action of the late government as startling. He points out that there are 451 Q.C.'s in Canada as against 217 in England. He says that the question of the jurisdiction of the Dominion and the provinces to confer the silk will be immediately pressed in the courts, as would have been done in 1893 had the Dominion government appointed counsel to argue the case in conjunction with the representatives of Ontario.

The majority secured by the government on the division last night, which was the first of the session, did not bring any comfort to the opposition, in fact there was deep chagrin when the figures were read out. All the Independents and Patrons voted with the government. Mr. McInnes was away, as was several other government supporters, with Saskatchewan and Brandon unrepresented, and if the full vote was polled the government majority would have been forty. It is not improbable that the next division will be on the anticipated motion of Sir Charles Tupper on the action of the Governor-General.

The British Columbia members to-day discussed the question of inducing the government to improve the Fraser river and prevent a recurrence of the disastrous flood. The discussion will be here Friday, when the government will be interviewed on the matter.

In the house to-day Mr. Davin introduced a bill to amend the Dominion Lands Act. It was read for a first time.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—Lord Aberdeen at the fair yesterday said in recently picked up a book, the title of which was "Canada First" and expressed the thought that the importance of this maximum should not be forgotten, especially when they heard of Canada as a first at Bixley, high up in the artillery connection at Shoeburyness, first in yachting race, first in cricket match at Philadelphia, and first in being on Thames.

The Globe says on the coming Quebec election that a series of articles in the Montreal Herald seems to foreshadow a Liberal campaign of improvement in the educational system of the province. The new premier, Hon. Mr. Ryan, appears to be aware that such agitation is impending. It is evident that a controversy is beginning which will be deeply interesting to the friends of progress, not only in Quebec, but all over Canada.

Quebec, Sept. 9.—The provincial election campaign was opened on Monday by Premier Ryan in L'Anse-au-Loup and by Hon. Mr. Marchand, the Liberal opposition leader at St. Charles. The former announced that the equilibrium in the provincial business had been restored and that the tax on trustees of real estate would be abolished at the next meeting of the legislature. He should be bound by the administration to aid in larger measure than heretofore education, colonization and agriculture.

THE RAILWAY BRIDGE

To be Closed for General Traffic After the Third of October.

Chief Justice Davis, Complains About His Water Rates—Bridge Correspondence.

The full board was present at last evening's meeting of the council and disposed of all the business within two hours.

The superintendent of the E. & N. railway notified the council that the railway bridge would not be open for general traffic after the 3rd prox. On motion of Ald. Humphrey, seconded by Ald. Marchant, the letter was received and filed and a vote of thanks tendered to the company for the use of the bridge.

The deputy provincial secretary wrote asking if the tramway company had undertaken to pay part of the cost of a steel bridge at Point Ellice and also applying for other particulars regarding the proposed bridge, in view of the application for aid from the government. The letter was laid on the table until it is known what kind of a bridge is to be erected.

Messrs. McGregor & Jewea applied for more room on Government street for the erection of a derrick for hoisting stone for the Bank of Montreal building.

Ald. Wilson and Macmillan of the street committee said they had already considered the matter and had come to the conclusion that it would be objectionable to grant the request. The firm already have the use of the whole of Bastion street and a part of Government street.

Ald. Glover and Humphrey did not think any obstruction should be placed in the way of doing work. The letter thought it might be better to find out whether the storekeepers had any objections.

Ald. Glover moved, seconded by Ald. Partridge, that the request be granted. The motion was lost.

A. G. Bossi and others applied for the extension of the Cook street sewer from Yates to Johnson street. Referred to the sewerage committee.

The water commissioner wrote enclosing a number of letters from Hon. Mr. Davie, regarding his water rates, which he (Hon. Mr. Davie) contended were excessive. He also held that the report was not trustworthy. The commissioner replied to these letters at the trust, pointing out that the meter was trustworthy and that his property being outside the city it was not taxed for the water works loan as was property within the city. In a later letter Hon. Mr. Davie asked that the meter be removed and he be charged $2 a month for water.

Ald. Macmillan moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson, that the commissioner be instructed to carry out the instructions contained in a resolution recently passed by the council. The motion was adopted.

The water commissioner reported that there were no funds for extending the main to Mr. Harvey's residence on Belcher street.

Ald. Cameron was of the opinion that if the overdue water rates were collected sufficient funds could be obtained to supply Mr. Harvey. He moved, seconded by Ald. Marchant, that the report be referred back to the commissioner with the request that he endeavor to devise means to comply with Mr. Harvey's application. Adopted.

M. King and many others applied for the extension of the Chatham street sewer to the Spring Ridge school, which they considered a menace to the health of the residents in the vicinity. Referred to the sewerage committee.

The sewerage committee recommended that the Charles street sewer be constructed on condition that the provincial government contribute $1000, the property owners $1000 and the city $1000, the total cost being estimated at about $3000. The report was adopted.

Ald. Partridge moved, seconded by Ald. Williams, that all correspondence between the Dominion government and corporation be brought down and placed before the council. The mover said he had seen some of the letters and telegrams and he did not see anything in them that could not be made public.

Mayor Beaven said all the correspondence between the Dominion government and the council had been placed before the aldermen.

Ald. Marchant contended that it would not be advisable at the present to "give away" the city's case. He would sooner see the letters that had been sent to Ottawa on the other side of the case.

Ald. Wilson believed that every alderman had had access to the correspondence. He intended to find out who it was who were trying to prevent the completion of the temporary bridge, as he held that it was they who were working against the interest of the city. He scolded the alderman who had made public the business done at the private meetings.

Ald. Macmillan did not think it advisable to make the correspondence public at present. He moved in amendment that the minister of public works be requested to furnish the council with the correspondence from any officials of the Dominion government or members of the city council regarding the Point Ellice bridge and when the injunction restraining the city from completing the bridge is dissolved, all the correspondence, including that between the council and the Dominion government, be made public.

The amendment was adopted.

Ald. Humphrey's motion to execute the agreement between the city and the Indian department for the use of a part of the Indian reserves for a right-of-way to the Point Ellice bridge was carried.

Ald. Marchant's motion respecting the division of wards was next brought on. Ald. Cameron continuing the debate and speaking in favor of the motion.

Ald. Marchant closed the debate and the motion was carried.

The council adjourned at 10 p.m.

HOW PEOPLE SHOULD WALK.

"As soon as a man comes into my shop and takes off his shoes," said a shoemaker—the other day, "I can tell whether or not he is a good walker, and it is astonishing to find how few men know the proper way to step out. If the shoe is worn down at the heel—not on the side, but straight back—and the leather of the sole shows signs of weakness at the ball of the foot, a little greater on the inside just below the base of the great toe, I know that the wearer is a good walker."

"If, however, the heel is turned on one side, or is worn evenly throughout, and the sole is worn most near the toe, I know that I have to deal with a poor pedestrian. The reason of the difference in position of the worn spot lies in the fact that the poor walker walks from his knees, and the good one from the hips.

"Watch the passers-by in the street and you will at once see the difference. Nine men out of ten will bend the knee very considerably in walking, striking straight out with both hips on the same line, and the toe will be the first to strike the ground. The tenth man will bend his knee very little—just enough to clear the ground—and will spring the leg from the hip, very much as the arm is swung from the shoulder and not from the elbow.

"By so doing he calls upon the muscles which are strongest to bear the strain, and increases the length of his stride four or six inches. The heel touches the ground first and not the toe. A slight spring is given from the ball of the foot on making another stride.

"Men who walk in this fashion cover the ground 30 per cent. faster with the same exertion than those who walk from the knee."

HOSPITAL PRACTICE

Jubilee Hospital Board Adopted a Scheme by Which All Medical Practitioners

Are Allowed to Attend Patients at the Hospital—The Term for Nurses.

At last night's meeting of the Jubilee Hospital board the special committee to which was referred the letter of Dr. O. M. Jones, requesting the privilege of attending his own free surgical cases at the hospital, reported as follows:

Your committee after giving the whole subject matter of Dr. Jones' letter their careful consideration cannot recommend that this board should grant his application in the method he asked, that is for himself alone.

Your committee are of opinion, however, that the best course to follow would be to adopt (say one or two years as a trial) the scheme suggested hereafter. By doing so all the medical practitioners in the city would become actively interested in the work of the hospital, and the hospital would undoubtedly all probability will be appointed Dominion quarantine officer. Three, Drs. J. S. Helmcken, Redmond and Powell, will probably act as a consulting staff, and Dr. Langley would perhaps continue to act as pathologist, leaving 12 to be accommodated with positions on the staff. The plan would be to divide these into sections of four each, each section serving a month, during which time each one of these would take the cases either medical, surgical or female in rotation as they came, the resident medical officer admitting the cases to the wards to which they belonged, and notifying the practitioner to whom the case would be assigned. Each section would serve monthly in rotation, so that every practitioner would be actively engaged in attendance at the hospital for four months each year. With an average number of 20 free patients per month, each practitioner would get five cases. Medical cases would be put in the medical ward, surgical in the surgical ward, female in the female ward and fever cases in the cottage. When any practitioner had a case remaining in the hospital after his month's attendance was finished, he could either keep on with his attendance until the patient left the hospital or get someone on the incoming visiting staff to attend the case for him in case of inability to attend any patient admitted under his care, a practitioner would have the privilege of asking one of his colleagues to act for him. It would be a distinct advantage to have two or three practitioners of old standing as a consulting staff and we would also suggest that a medical board of say four or five be elected by the medical staff annually from their number to form a committee to whom medical matters of any description could be referred by the board of directors.

Mr. Hayward moved that the report be adopted. The motion was seconded by Mr. Crimp.

Mr. Byrnes wanted time to consider such an important matter. He moved that the report lie on the table to be taken up at a special meeting. Mr. Flumerfelt seconded the motion as he thought it advisable to have the opinion of the medical men on the subject.

Mr. Yates contended that if the scheme was submitted to the medical men they would receive so many different opinions and schemes that it would be a difficult matter to do anything. He would vote for the adoption of the report.

After Mr. Wilson and Mr. Dwyer had spoken in favor of the adoption of the report, and the chairman in favor of the amendment, the amendment was put and lost, Messrs. Byrnes, Flumerfelt and Helmcken voting for it, and Messrs. Hayward, Chudley, Wilson, Yates, Crimp and Dwyer against it.

The report was then adopted and referred to the special committee to carry into effect.

Messrs. Dwyer, Crimp, Wilson, Shotbolt and Brown were appointed a committee to call for tenders for supplies to the hospital for the year.

The question of increasing the term of training nurses from two to three years was referred to Messrs. Flumerfelt, Helmcken, and Byrnes to inquire into and report.

Dr. Richardson, in his monthly report, stated that the average daily cost per patient was $1.32, the number of patients treated being 50, of who 31 were free.

The matron reported that Miss Halliday had completed her two years' term as nurse.

Donations from Mrs. F. Hawks, Mr. Jay, Mrs. Nere, fruit; children of St. Saviour's church, Mr. Jay, Mrs. H. D. Helmcken, flowers; and Mrs. A. T. Watt, magazines, were acknowledged with thanks.

After ordering the payment of bills to the amount of $953 and transacting other routine business, the board adjourned.

ly at once benefit thereby. Instead of having practically only two practitioners in attendance—as at present there would always be at least four every day and most likely seven or eight all the time. The scheme would throw more work and require greater diligence on the part of the resident medical officer and the nursing staff, but so far as our doctor is concerned he has expressed himself as quite willing to accept the extra work if he can thereby further the interest of our institution. Though the duty of assigning the patients to their proper places in the hospital and the general medical control of the hospital is cast by this scheme upon the resident medical officer, still it is to a great extent the present practice at the hospital, and it will be safeguarded by the appointment (as suggested) of a consulting staff, to whom any medical man feeling aggrieved either by the course pursued by the resident medical officer or any of his colleagues could appeal for their opinion. Looking at the matter from all sides, your committee are strongly of opinion that the scheme suggested would benefit the hospital, and they would therefore recommend the adoption of the following:

There are at present seventeen medical men in active practice residing in Victoria: Drs. Crompton, Davie, J. A. Duncan, G. H. Duncan, Fraser, Redmond, F. W. Hall, J. D. Helmcken, J. S. Helmcken, E. A. Hall, Holden, Huntington, O. M. Jones, Miles, A. T. Watt, Langley and Powell. Of these, one in

HOLD-UPS IN FRISCO.

San Francisco, Sept. 7.—Mrs. Sarah Hayden, the wife of a Ninth street butcher, had a thrilling encounter with an armed highwayman early yesterday morning. Her husband being unwell, she paid off the employees and left the store shortly after midnight, carrying a smallatch in which she had placed $110, and accompanied by her 12 year old daughter, started homeward. While standing on the corner waiting for a car a man poked a pistol into her face and commanded her to give up theatch. She screamed for help and two men rushed to her assistance, but were threatened by the ruffian and were kept aloof. An officer arrived at this juncture, but the robber fled across some lots and escaped.

A BY-LAW.

To Authorize the Sale of Lands Within the City of Victoria Upon Which Taxes Have Been Due and in Arrear for Two Years.

Whereas it is expedient that all lands or improvements or real property within the limits of the Corporation of the City of Victoria, upon which municipal taxes have been due and in arrear for two years, shall be sold, and the proceeds applied in the reduction of such taxes:

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

- 1. The Collector of the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria is hereby authorized and directed whenever taxes on any land or improvements or real property have been due for two years preceding the current year, to submit to the Mayor of the City of Victoria a list (in duplicate) of all the lands or improvements or real property liable, under the provisions of this by-law, to be sold for taxes, with the amount of arrears against each lot set opposite to the same, and the Mayor shall authenticate such list by affixing thereto the seal of the Corporation and his signature, and one of such lists shall be deposited with the Clerk of the Corporation, and the other shall be returned to the Collector with a warrant thereon annexed, under the hand of the Mayor and the seal of the Corporation, commanding him to levy upon the land or improvements or real property for the arrears due thereon with his costs. 2. It shall not be the duty of the Collector to make inquiry before effecting a sale of lands or improvements or real property for taxes, to ascertain whether or not there is any distress upon the land, nor shall he be bound to inquire into or form any opinion of the value of the land or improvements or real property. 3. The Collector shall prepare a copy of the list of lands or improvements or real property to be sold, and shall include therein, in a separate column, a statement of the proportion of costs chargeable on each lot for advertising and for the commissions authorized by this by-law to be paid to him, and shall cause a copy of such list to be printed for a period of one month preceding the date of such intended sale in some newspaper published in the City of Victoria. 4. The advertisement shall contain a notification that unless the arrears and costs are sooner paid he will proceed to sell the lands or improvements or real property for the taxes, on a day, a time, and at a place named in the advertisement. 5. The Collector shall, at least two months before the time of sale, also deliver to or deposit in the postoffice to the address of the owner of such property which is to be sold for taxes as aforesaid, or to the agent of such owner, a notice in writing of the amount of taxes due, and that the property is to be sold for arrears so due, and in case the address of the owner or agent is unknown, a notice to the same effect shall be posted upon the land intended to be sold, and also, at least two months before the time of sale, post a notice similar to the above advertisement in some convenient and public places, that is to say, at the Council Chambers, Victoria, and in the Post Office Building, Victoria. 6. The day of sale shall be the thirty-third day after the first publication in a newspaper of such list, exclusive of the day of such publication, except in case the said thirty-third day shall fall on a Sunday or holiday, in which case such sale shall take place on the following day at the Council Chambers, in the City of Victoria, and shall begin at twelve o'clock noon. 7. If at any time appointed for the sale of the lands or improvements or real property no bidders appear, the Collector may adjourn the sale from time to time. 8. If the taxes have not been previously collected, or if no one appears to pay the same at the time and place appointed for the sale, the Collector shall sell at public auction so much of the land or improvements or real property as may be sufficient to discharge the taxes and all lawful charges incurred in and about the sale and the collection of the taxes, selling in preference such part as he may consider best for the owner to sell first, and in offering such lands or improvements or real property for sale it shall not be necessary to describe particularly the portion of the lot or section which shall be sold, but it will be sufficient to say that he will sell so much of the lot or section as shall be necessary to secure the payment of the taxes due, and the amount of taxes stated in the advertisement shall in all cases be prima facie evidence of the correct amount due. 9. If the Collector fails at such sale to sell such land or improvements or real property for the full amount of arrears of the taxes due, he shall at such sale adjourn the same until a day to be publicly named by him, not earlier than one week nor later than three months thereafter, of which adjournment he shall give notice by advertisement in the newspaper in which the original notice was advertised, and on such day he shall sell such lands or improvements or real property for any sum he can realize: Provided that in event of the price offered for any lot or section at such adjourned sale being less than the amount of arrears of taxes due in respect of such lot or section, the Collector shall have power, if he thinks fit so to do, to purchase such lot or section in the name of and on behalf of the said Corporation. 10. If the purchaser of any property or parcel of land fails immediately to pay the Collector the amount of the arrears of taxes, the Collector shall forthwith again put up the property for sale. 11. Immediately after every sale the Collector shall return a list of the arrears actually so sold to the Clerk of the Corporation, and shall at the same time pay in the proceeds to the Treasurer of the said Corporation. 12. The Collector shall be entitled to five per centum commission upon the sums collected by him as aforesaid. 13. This by-law may be cited for all purposes as 'The Victoria Real Property Tax Sale By-law, 1896.' Passed the Municipal Council the 25th day of June, A.D. 1896. Resolved, adopted, and finally passed the Council the 3rd day of July, A.D. 1896. (L.S.) ROBERT HEAVEN, Mayor. WELLINGTON J. DAWLER, C. M. C.

James Bell, of Okanagan Valley, who came to Victoria on Sept. 3rd, and registered at the Oriental hotel, has been missing since Saturday. On the morning of that day he got up between 6 and 7 o'clock, and complaining of feeling unwell went out. He has not since returned, and it is feared that something unusual has happened him. During his stay at the Oriental he spoke of having some business to settle up on Saturday. Mr. Bell was about 65 years of age, 5 feet 5 inches high, wore a full white beard, a gray suit, light stiff hat and walked with a cane.

The magistrate, while inclined to believe the story of the bluejackets as against that of the other witnesses, gave the defendant the benefit of the doubt and dismissed the information. The trouble arose over a game of dice, the sailors believing that Litz and a friend named Lindsay were cheating them. The question also arose as to who held the Doings in Marine Circles During the Past Twenty-Four Hours.

New York, Sept. 7.—The three-masted schooner John F. May, which left Jacksonville Aug. 23 with a cargo of yellow pine for this port, ran into a heavy northeast gale off Frying Pan shoals south of Cape Hatteras. The storm began on the 28th, and Capt. Burrows was obliged to leave to on the port tack, with a single reef in the mainmast and double reef in the foremast. The laboring of the ship caused the cargo to shift, while William Nugent, the first mate, and John Edwards, a colored seaman, were wedging the deck load the following morning, a heavy wave struck the schooner with tremendous force. It tore away the mainmast boom and gaff, and the belt from the top of the afterhouse and eight feet of the deck near the mizen rigging. Edwards and Nugent were swept overboard and drowned. The wave seemed to be a cumulative one, and Burrows said it was about 30 feet high and 60 feet long, and came upon them very suddenly. The storm sail was set and they proceeded on their way.

Owing to the dense fog the Walls Walls was delayed outside the Cape for several hours and did not arrive at the outer wharf until seven o'clock this morning. After discharging the Victoria passengers and freight she left for the Sound cities. The Puelia leaves for San Francisco this evening with the following Victoria passengers on board: Fred N. Shayer, wife and child, Miss K. McLachlan, Miss M. Walker, L. R. Crewes, C. H. Sawyer, W. E. Howell, Thos. Miller, Mrs. A. G. McCandless and two children, Mrs. R. Patterson and child, Miss K. B. At eight o'clock this morning the Canadian-Australian steamer Mlowers sailed for Honolulu and Australia. She carried a full cargo of freight, which included 20 tons of salmon from Findlay, Durham & Brodie, and 15 tons of flour from the Victoria mills. The passengers from here were E. H. Morgan, Mrs. E. H. Morgan, W. T. Vesle, M. Darling and D. H. Case.

EXHIBITION AT DUNCAN.

Cowichan and Salt Spring Expect to Have a Good Show.

Duncan, Sept. 8.—The Cowichan and Salt Spring Island Agricultural Association are making ready for their exhibition, which takes place on the 20th of September, Saturday, and which promises to be better than ever. The association has the honor of being the oldest agricultural society, not only of Vancouver Island, but also it believes, of British Columbia. It was formed, with Archibald Reeves as president, in 1868, and held an exhibition in 1869 at Maple Bay. Victoria held its first show in 1872, with a list of about 75 classes. Cowichan began with some 75 prizes, and according to the present price catalogue has some 200 classes, most of them containing two prizes.

Fruits and root crops, notwithstanding the drought, will be fairly good, but no doubt the delta lands will take most of the prizes. Like last year with a similar season to this, Jersey, Holsteins and red polls will be well represented, and the increase of prizes for sheep will bring out a large entry in this division.

The association are by way of attraction building a large dancing pavilion, and the best music available in Victoria is being engaged. Return tickets on the E. & N. railway for one dollar, good till Sunday, ought to offer inducements to Victorians and furnish a good opportunity to visit this thriving district. Tickets for $1.50, including admission to the grounds, will be offered for sale in town in a few days.

If you are tired taking the large, old-fashioned, griping pills, try Chamberlain's Little Liver Pills and take some comfort. A man can't stand everything. One pill a dose. Try them.

In a recent letter to the magazine, Mr. W. F. Benjamin, editor of the Spectator, Randolph, N. Y., says: "It may be a pleasure to you to know the high esteem in which Chamberlain's medicines are held by the people of your own state, where they must be best known. An aunt of mine, who resides at Dexter, Iowa, was about to visit me a few years since, and before leaving home wrote me, asking if they were sold here, stating that if they were not she would bring a quantity with her, as she did not like to be without them." The medicines referred to are Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of cold and croup; Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the side and chest, and Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. These medicines have been in constant use in Iowa for almost a quarter of a century. The people have learned that they are articles of great worth and merit, and unequaled by any other. They are for sale here by all druggists, Langley & Henderson Bros., wholesale agents, Victoria and Vancouver.

PERSIMMON AGAIN

A Victor, Capturing the St. Leger Stakes at Doncaster To-Day.

Examiner-Journal Relay Riders Finish—Yesterday's Junior Lawa Tennis Match.

THE TURF.

Doncaster, Eng., Sept. 9.—The Prince of Wales' bay colt Persimmon, winner of this year's Derby stakes and brother of Floridel II, won the St. Leger stakes to-day in a canter, by a length and a half. The Duke of Westminster's Labrador was second, and the same winner's Rampant third. There were seven starters. The Prince of Wales and a large crowd of friends were present at the race, which was regarded as a sure thing for the Prince. Nevertheless Persimmon's victory was a most popular one and was greeted with great cheering.

THE WHEEL.

RELAY RIDERS FINISH. New York, Sept. 7.—The Examiner-Journal bicycle relay race from San Francisco to New York was finished at City Hall park at 29 minutes past three o'clock this afternoon, the race taking 13 days 20 minutes and 41.5 seconds. The number of miles covered was 3383. The last relay from King's Bridge to the finish was run by Frederick J. Titus, the well known racing man, who wheeled his part in 20 minutes and 13 seconds.

All along the line from King's Bridge was a great crowd gathering to greet Titus. He was heartily welcomed and victoriously cheered. Following him were many others, and the upper drives were thronged with enthusiastic wheelmen.

Four thousand persons were in the city hall park when Titus reached the end of the journey, and their cheers were deafening. Annie St. Tell and A. H. Ward will go from the battery to Governor's Island in a water bicycle to-morrow to deliver the message.

LAWN TENNIS.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

The results of last evening's matches of the junior lawn tennis tournament follow: Singles—G. Johnston (two 1/200) beat A. Kitto (scratch), 6-0, 6-0; E. Hayward (scratch) beat C. Berkley (rec. 1/15), 6-5, 4-6; L. Hamilton beat G. Ward by default; D. Hunter (rec. 1/15) beat L. Hamilton (rec. 1/200), 6-3, 6-3; H. Powell (owe 1/15) beat H. Wilson (rec. 1/15), 6-1, 6-3; G. Wilson (owe 1/15) beat R. Hayward (rec. 1/15), 6-3, 6-5; H. Hamer (scratch) beat H. Dickenson (scratch), 6-1, 6-0.

Doubles—G. Johnston and C. Ganible beat H. Dickenson and R. Hayward, 6-2, 6-1; A. Goward and G. Kane beat S. Powell and R. Hayward, 6-2, 6-3.

THE RING.

TOO MUCH FOR CORFIELD.

London, Sept. 9.—Plimmer won his glove fight with Corfield. The fight lasted twenty rounds. Corfield disappointed his friends. He appeared to be trained too much and had no chance after the sixth round. He remained strong on his legs, but his boxing was devoid of dash and determination. Plimmer proved himself far superior and was the aggressor from the outset. He astonished the audience by fighting with such vigor that another round would have produced a knockout blow.

YACHTING.

NEXT INTERNATIONAL RACE. The money necessary to build another yacht to represent Canada in the international races to be sailed next year has already been subscribed. Skipper Jarvis says he expects two or three new boats will be built in Toronto and at least one in Hamilton to compete for the honor of defending the cup.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW BUNNING RECORD. New York, Sept. 7.—B. J. Wefers, the world's champion runner, established a new world's record at 300 yards at Morgan Point, N. J., this afternoon. He made the run, rounding two turns, in 31 seconds by two of the times' watches, and 30.45 by the other time's watch.

DANGER IN ROENTGEN RAYS.

A warning has been voiced by one of the leading English medical journals in regard to the too frequent use of the Roentgen ray apparatus. It is interesting, no doubt, to obtain a series of photographs of one's own skeleton, but if this is to be at the expense of such trifles as one's hair and one's finger nails, it seems hardly worth the cost. One electrical engineer, who has often demonstrated the beauty of his own finger bones by placing one of his hands within the radius of the searching rays, has lost all the nails from the finger of that hand, while Sidney Rowland, who is one of the leading experimenters in this direction, mentions several cases of similar character in the structural changes that occur in the hair, and so forth, of those who have been frequently shadowgraphed by this method. Thus, in the case of patients whose hands have been subjected to the influence of the rays, the hair has either turned white or has fallen out entirely. It is suggested that tests of what are called the ultra violet rays of the spectrum, though their precise action is at present by no means thoroughly understood.

One curious suggestion has already been made. It is a well known superstition and one that has existed for generations, that people who sleep in the direct rays of the moon have their reason more or less seriously affected. Now it is said that these ultra violet rays exist in the moonlight, and hence a popular superstition may be founded upon scientific fact.—Philadelphia Ledger.

FOLLOWS A ROMAN ROAD.

A Railway From France to Spain Will Traverse Historic Ground.

Our specialists in history, whether on the Teutonic or the Celtic side, may allow too little influence to the Roman factor in the making of England, and of the English people; but in France, and especially in Southern France, there can be no temptation of that kind for Latin is to be read almost as clearly in the race as in the language.

The road we are to follow starts from Oloron—the Iluro of old days. The Roman had the massive ramparts of the Pyrenees before him, and the ambition to link Gaul to Spain. Iluro being where it was, and Caesarea Augusta (Zaragoza) where it was, the line was plain to him, and surmounting all obstacles he followed it. It runs for 23 miles to the frontier pass, and thence zig-zag into Spain.

A remarkable feature is the Basin of Bedous. The valley suddenly opened out, and you see what was once a lake before the torrent carved a channel for its waters down the gorge below. It is now a lake of green, grasses, maize, barley waving to a mountain shore, on which stand at different points six villages, or towns, one of which is Accous, thought to be the Aspa-Lucæ of the Romans.

The basin in a witches' cauldron of storms. The fisherman sees a storm-cloud moving up the valley from the north that, in a few strides, will reach and fill the basin which he last saw clear, unoccupied under a blue sky. He turns round, and from every quarter—down the gorge from Spain and by all openings from the east and west—he sees storm clouds advancing, and when the cloud army from the north reaches the basin it finds it already occupied, and there is a comingling under the artillery of the sky.

Again plunging into a narrow gorge, still winding, still ascending, we reach the Fort d'Urdois, or the Portalet. It stands in a narrow defile, a rock fortress rising sheer from the Gave to the height of 2,095 feet above sea level. With accommodation for 3,000 men, it is at present armed with guns of old calibre, completely commanding the road. We passed within a few yards of their muzzles, and our annihilation could have been the work of a moment. It holds, in fact, the entrance into France.

Soon the road leaves the Gave on its right, and the zigzag begins. It is a good three hours' climb to the summit of the pass, but we are repaid. In wonderful contrast to the intense verdure laying its base, and to the lower mountains of limestone, ruddy as if clothed with heather, rises a threefold limestone mass, sharp cut against the bluesky, snow lying in its bosom. This is the Pic d'Aspe, the right-hand warder of the gate; unseen by us, but, as we well know, unseen by its isolated majesty, rises on the left the other warder the Pic du Mith d'Ossan.

The warders have looked down upon scenes decisive in the world's history, since the Roman opened up this way; upon Abdul Rahman leading his Moors destined to be overthrown by Charles Martel on the Plains of Poitiers in 732; upon their rout; upon the avenging forces of the Franks who passed over to rescue Spain from the infidel. And the passage of other armies might be traced, to that of some of Wellington's troops who took this route on their way to Orthes, and were till lately remembered by old inhabitants of the Valle d'Aspe.

"Ista fuerunt." The Roman road is to meet a fate which is at once its doom and the highest tribute to its engineers. It is to be superseded on its own lines by a railway already conceded, though at present tied up with red tape and delayed by the opposition of Rayonne. It will be the national and military line, shortening the distance from Paris to Madrid by sixty miles. The road will be followed by the valley as far as the base of the pass. Then there will be tunneling for five kilometres under the mountains which the Roman topped.

The Portalet will rise to this great change in the natural ramparts of France. Guns of highest tonnage will be mounted on the rock that crowns the fort, and rises clear of the gorge, and these will command the whole valley from Oloron to the tunnel. And its military strength will mount immediate guard on forges and chimneys, which will blacken the circuit of the tunnel, for it is "a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass," and its exceptional mineral wealth, long known and highly valued, merely awaits the railway for its exploitation.

The whole work is gigantic and fascinating to the scientific imagination—a fit work for a new century to inaugurate. And of the Roman, whose road will still climb the steep to his deserted post, a mountain Walling Street or Pass-way, tree-bordered, grass-grown, it will be said, by those at least who have some grains of historic feeling, "He led the way."—Pall Mall Gazette.

Fibre Chamois

For 25c. a yard

It is easy for even the most economical to wear stylish costumes. For with present fashions it is not the material which counts, half as much as the grace and buoyancy of the billowy sleeves and rippling folds of the skirt. And Fibre Chamois not only gives all this jaunty stiffness in the first place, but retains it till the garment is worn out. That's why it pays to see the label on each yard because any imitation gives very disappointing and short lived results.

THE APOSTLES' GRAVES.

All the remains of the Apostles of Christ are in the following places: Several, it is claimed, are sleeping the sleep of the just in Rome, namely—St. Peter, St. Philip, St. James, the Lesser, St. Jude, St. Bartholomew, St. Matthias and St. Simon. The remains of three lie in the Kingdom of Naples—St. Matthew at Salerno, St. Andrew at Amalfi, and St. Thomas at Ortona. One, St. James the Greater, was buried in Spain at St. Jago de Compostella. Of the exact whereabouts of the remains of St. John the Evangelist, there is much dispute. St. Mark and St. Luke are buried in Italy according to tradition; the former at Venice and the latter at Padua. St. Paul's remains are also believed to be in Italy.

NEWS OF THE DOMINION.

Mills Destroyed at Fenelon Falls—Peter Wheeler Hanged.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—Sir William Rose, son of the late Sir John Rose, who was once finance minister of Canada, is visiting here. He says his mission to British Columbia is for investment purposes and says there is a growing lack of confidence in American securities in London owing to the instability of their political institutions, that investors are looking to Canada, in which they have greater confidence.

Rev. F. J. Steen, of Berlin, Ont., has been appointed professor in the Montreal diocesan theological college by the Bishop of Montreal.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—It is said that the condition of the health of Hon. Mr. Hart, commissioner of public works, is such as to prevent him taking up his duties in office again.

Fenelon Falls, Ont., Sept. 9.—The saw and shingle mills owned by J. A. Hovey & Son, Sackville, Mich., were destroyed by fire this morning. Fire is supposed to have been started by a spark from the boiler. Loss $40,000; insurance, $22,000.

Digby, Sept. 9.—Peter D. Wheeler was hanged here at 2:30 o'clock yesterday for the murder of Annie Keampton, a 15-year-old girl. The execution was originally set to take place between 7 and 8 a.m., but when Sheriff Van Burtom last night heard a wild rumor that a large number of desperate men were on the way to Digby from Bear river, determined to witness the hanging, if they had to tear down the jail to do so, he decided that the sentence of death should be carried out before daylight.

Winnipeg, Sept. 9.—The superintendent of Presbyterian missions has made appointments to British Columbia presbyteries as follows: Calgary—James Nairn; Kamloop, R. M. Dickey; Wetmutier, A. E. Camp; Victoria, G. Perry; Edmonton, W. L. Atkinson.

THE WHALE CAPTURED.

Tied to Quartermaster Dock at Tacoma by His Tail.

Tacoma, Sept. 7.—The whale which has sported about Henderson Bay for the past month succumbed last night to the attacks of Captain Alger and his hunters, and is now lying anchored at Quartermaster harbor. Several parties visited the whale to-day and they report that the monster had become quite docile under the effects of the harpooning and landing he had received at the hands of the whalers. The mammal is of the humpback species, and is nearly fifty feet in length. There are six harpoons in his body and these are fastened to the dock at Quartermaster. A rope has been fastened about the whale's tail and attached to a large anchor, so there is no danger of his escaping.

It is the intention of the victorious hunters to lift the whale upon the dry dock and load it upon a scow, on which the carcass will be brought to this city to be exhibited. The bark Portland is at present at the dock, and as soon as she is out of the way the leviathan will be lifted out of the water by the dock and transferred to the scow.

The whale's back bears many traces of its experience with the various parties of hunters who have camped on its side during the past month. The skin is full of holes made by rifles and other weapons. The last harpoon was fired from a cannon and sunk in the carcass up to the hilt. The whale is nearly dead from its wounds and the loss of blood. Aside from the money received for exhibiting the whale, Captain Alger will be very little better off on account of his catch, as it is valueless for bone and oil.

THE ARKANSAS ELECTION.

General Jones, Democrat, Elected by a Large Majority.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 7.—General Dan W. Jones, of Little Rock, was today elected governor of Arkansas and the entire Democratic ticket has been successful at the polls. There were but two full tickets in the field, the Democratic and Republican, the Populists contenting themselves with a candidate for governor. Gen. Jones and Mr. Rimmel, the Republican candidate, made an active canvass of the state, but Fies, the Populist nominee, made no speeches.

The Democrats put forth great efforts to roll up a large majority in this election for its moral effect on the free silver cause in other states in November, and the anti-election estimates have placed Jones' majority as high as 50,000 over the combined opposition.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 7.—The Commercial-Appeal's Little Rock special telegraphs that the Democratic majority in Arkansas will reach 60,000. This is a Democratic gain of more than 35,000, as compared with the gubernatorial election two years ago, and the largest majority ever given in the state.

The weather throughout Arkansas was cool and pleasant, and from special dispatches received by the Gazette the indications are that a large vote was polled. It is believed that the majority for the Hon. Daniel W. Jones, Democratic nominee for governor, will not be less than 50,000, and it may possibly reach 60,000.

In Faulkner, Lafayette and other Populist and Republican strongholds, the Democratic county tickets were elected by safe majorities. There was much scratching in Fulton county, and the probability is that the independent candidate for state senator in that district has carried the county against Hon. Jerry Smith, the regular Democratic nominee.

The city of Helena gives the Democratic ticket a large majority, although Rimmel, for governor, ran far ahead of the Republican ticket. In Lafayette county every Democrat is elected. The Democratic majority in Franklin is from 700 to 800. The estimated Democratic majority in Miller county is 800, although one county officer is in doubt.

Woodruff county is considered safe for the Democratic ticket.

Many negroes scratched the ticket and voted for Jones for governor. Johnson county gives a large majority for the Democratic ticket. Jackson county elects the entire Democratic local ticket, and the county votes favorably on license. In Llanoka the Democrats win easily. White county is claimed for Jones by about 100. Sharp county goes Democratic by 1,700 majority.

SPLENDID ISOLATION.

England May Find Himself Again in That Position.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 8.—The Novor Vremya makes the important statement that the Czar's tour shows that Berlin and Vienna, as well as Paris and St. Petersburg, are aware of the necessity of common action by the powers to defeat the political designs of Great Britain, which are clearly displayed in the recent events in Turkey. The article deals with the intimation that the British press placed considerable hope for the success of Great Britain's policy on the death of Prince Lobanoff-Rostovsk, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, who is understood to have been a strong opponent of England.

AN IMMENSE FORTUNE.

Three Hundred Millions Ready for the Heirs of Aneke Jans.

San Francisco, Sept. 9.—General W. H. Hart, of this city, has just returned from New York, where he has been in the interest of the Pacific coast association of Harlem and Aneke Jans heirs. At a meeting held last Saturday night he reported that all he required of the heirs was to protest proof of relationship and they would receive their pro rata share of the property, which is valued at $300,000,000. It is the purpose of the various associations throughout the United States to ask the supreme court of New York to assess the property 1 per cent. in order to create a fund which will be used in establishing the claims of those who are too poor to do so for themselves.

American News.

Clinton, Mo., Sept. 9.—A locomotive on the Kansas City, Osceola & Southern railway crashed through a burning trestle across Town creek, instantly killing Engineer Ed. Smith and Richard Barton, a farmer. Four other men escaped by jumping. Farmer Barton had discovered the fire, ran to the roundhouse, gave the alarm and boarded the locomotive that started to the fire. Engineer Smith lost control of his engine and ran on the trestle that was on fire.

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—Chas. Mitchell, a carpenter, despondent and out of a job, broke into jail to-day. He knew he would get plenty to eat in jail so he decided to break a window while a police man was near and thus force his arrest. But he could not find any police man on duty, and so he wandered about aimlessly. Finally he went into the city hall and threw a pistol through the window of Chief Crowley's office. The malicious of the law lost no time in arresting him for malicious mischief, and to-night Mitchell enjoyed a square meal at the city's expense.

New York, Sept. 9.—The World this morning says: Wm. Moran, coachman for Judge Wandell, at his summer home, Seaside Rock, N. J., shot and killed Mr. Dowling, of New York, a guest of Wandell's, and then committed suicide yesterday afternoon. It is said that Dowling was a favored suitor of one of Judge Wandell's family. The coachman had long been in the family and was not treated like other servants, and is said to have gone mad with love.

ODD VESSELS.

A curious vessel was finished last June, and lay at a private wharf in Virginia for some time. She was named the Howard Cassard and nicknamed the "Razor Back." With a length of 222 feet she had only 16 feet beam. Her equilibrium was maintained by an extremely heavy keel and some 80,000 pounds of machinery below the water line.

The razor-like sharpness of the boat, says Harper's Round Table, gave it a curious look and it was expected that when moving through the water the sharp prow would cut it like a knife, thus reducing the resistance to a minimum. The narrowness of her beam necessitated some economy in her interior arrangements, but this was successfully overcome by adopting somewhat the idea of a sleeping car. But the Howard Cassard was an experiment that evidently had not been successful, as the claim of the designer to cross the ocean in three-fifths of the time now required has not yet been fulfilled by his odd craft.

Probably one of the strangest ideas in marine construction was that of the man who proposed placing in the stern of a vessel a number of compressed air-cannons. These were to be fired one after the other the force of the air striking the water and driving the boat forward. Somewhat similar is the idea of another engineer and inventor. It is to run a series of pipes through the entire length of the keel. The pipes are to receive the water at the bow and carry it to the centre of the vessel, where it is shut off. Then a powerful pressure of compressed air is brought into play, and the separated body of water is shot out of the pipe in the stern, the power of the contact driving the vessel forward. As the water is to be received and discharged alternately, there would be no jerking motion.

THE OLDEST HEBREW MS.

A Samaritan Pentateuch of the Year A. D. 656.

Rev. W. Scott Watson, of West New York, N. J., who, for several years, has been a collector of ancient manuscripts in Hebrew, has recently obtained an incomplete text of the Samaritan Pentateuch which is apparently older by several centuries than any other Hebrew text of which the date is known. The date of Mr. Watson's text is A. H. 35, or A. D. 656. For more than a quarter of a century the Russian government has possessed the most ancient Jewish and Samaritan Biblical documents of a known age in Christendom. In the Imperial library in St. Petersburg was to be found the earliest Hebrew manuscript of the Bible of any kind of which the time of writing had been definitely ascertained, namely, the Codex Babylonicus of A. D. 916. It is referred to by the translators of the English revised version on the first page of their preface. In the same collection is a copy of the original text of the books of Moses, and the rest of the Old Testament, of A. D. 1000, and a fragment of the Samaritan Pentateuch written in A. D. 1176. These have been considered heretofore the oldest manuscripts of the kind in existence.

Mr. Watson spent three years in Syria as a missionary, and at that time he discovered many rare and valuable texts, including a Samaritan Hebrew Pentateuch of A. D. 1232. For the last year he has been pursuing his studies in palaeography in Germany. A few months ago he received a letter from one of his friends in Nablus, Syria, saying that a Pentateuch of A. H. 35 could be obtained there. Mr. Watson went for it at once, and was on him and needless until it reached him at Heidelberg and he was satisfied himself that it was genuine and of the date given. Mr. Watson got back to America a fortnight ago with his treasure, which he showed to a reporter yesterday.

In its present form the manuscript consists of 413 pages bound together, comprising the entire Pentateuch. Of these 160 pages are of parchment, and these alone date back to 656. The other pages were added a few years ago by Jacob, the high priest at Nablus, and are on paper. A few of the parchment sheets are fragmentary, and the priest in restoring the text, has patched them with paper. Most of the pages, however, are in excellent condition, and the color of the parchment bears testimony of its age. The ink is black except in the case of a few pages which were evidently on the outside of one of the several sections into which the parchment manuscript was divided, before the restoration and binding were done.

The date of the manuscript, Mr. Watson says, is contained in a very simple cryptogram, which is so arranged as to furnish, he thinks, very convincing proof of the genuine antiquity of the text. On most of the pages the writing runs clear across without a break. The cryptogram occurs in the first 15 pages of Deuteronomy, on which the writing, although it reads straight across, is divided into two columns. The writing is so spaced out that in the narrow blank between the columns the significant letters or words which form the cryptogram stand out, when the body of the text, although forming part of it, as the lines are read across. The cryptographic characters do not occur in every line, but at irregular intervals of two, three, four or five lines. There are thus four or five on each page. Read down the pages they form a sentence of which the following is a translation:

"I, Jacob, the son of Israel, the son of Joseph, the son of Mar, the priest in the city of Damascus, wrote the Holy Scriptures for the elder and the stay and the pillar, Joseph, the son of the elder and the stay and the pillar, Ismael, of the children of Sazimael, in the year 35 of the Kingdom of Ishmael. And praise be to God."

The pages on which the cryptogram is written are all of the old parchment and none of them are even patched with paper. The writing is distinct.

The leaves of the book are about 6 1/2 by 5 1/4 inches in size, with a text space on each side that varies from 5 1/2 to 4 1/2 by 4 1/8 to 3 5/8 inches. The full length of Genesis have with one exception 29 lines each, but elsewhere the number ranges from 29 to 35, the blank spaces between paragraphs being included. The characters are of the modified form of ancient Phoenician called Samaritan.

There is a limited use of the super-linear system of diacritical signs common in later Samaritan documents. There are various punctuation marks, and unless something else takes its place, a single dot after every word, except in many cases, those at the end of lines. The parchment will show the rollers, a horizontal one for each line of text, and two vertical ones at each side of the page, and within are placed, respectively, the initial and final letters of the several lines. None of these rollers is in ink. They were made, as usual in such manuscripts, by pressure alone.

"This manuscript," said Mr. Watson yesterday, "was stored away probably for centuries, with many others, in a room of the temple at Nablus. We knew that it was there in 1893, for Dr. Rosen, in an article in the Journal of the German oriental society in 1894, says that it, with other treasures of the Samaritan synagogue in Nablus, was shown by the high priest Amram to two Europeans, who visited that city in 1890, as a reward for some special services that they had rendered him.

"The genuineness of the manuscript is attested, besides the evidence of the cryptogrammatic date, by a marginal note of the high priest Amram, who states that he presents the leaves to the son of his uncle, Jacob, who succeeded him in the priesthood and is the present priest. Amram speaks of the leaves as having been written in A. H. 35.

"The completion of the text and the binding are the work of Jacob, and, in a prefatory note, he also testifies to the antiquity of the manuscript, and says that he undertook the work for the credit and benefit of his two sons and such other issue that he might have thereafter. You know that among the Jews such a restoration is regarded as a work of boldness. Jacob also gives a minute and faithful catalogue of the portions of the text which he has supplied. It is evident from these notes that there was no doubt in the minds of the high priests of the antiquity of the document, and as it was at the time one of the treasures of the temple and not an object of commercial value, they would have no purpose in misrepresenting it. Aside from this, the evidence of the cryptogram is incontrovertible.

"I would not take $20,000 for the document. In fact, that would be a very conservative estimate of its value. Its greatest value, however, is its importance to scholars in the study of palaeography. There are more ancient Biblical manuscripts extant, but they are Greek translations, while this is the original Hebrew.

"Most of the Samaritan manuscripts in the possession of the Russian government, which has the finest existing collection, were purchased in 1870 from Abraham, Firkowitch. He visited Nablus and secured a number of the manuscripts there, but it is evident before they were sold to him the oldest and most revered documents were sorted out and retained in the temple. This is one of those which were not permitted to fall into his hands. I am now at work on the collation of the manuscript, and I believe that it will be of the greatest interest and value from a scholastic point of view."

SLAVERY IN KENTUCKY.

Human slavery is not entirely abolished in Kentucky, that state has a vagrancy law under which a man who does not support himself can be sold at auction to the highest bidder, whereby he becomes a mere chattel. For a certain time, dependent on the length of the sentence imposed by the court, his time and labor belongs to the man who buys him, and he is a slave, virtually and in fact. The other day a vagrant white man named Lawrence Peak, a citizen of Elizabethtown, of that state, who had been convicted of being a man without any lawful visible means of existence, and sentenced to be sold for three months' labor to the highest bidder, was auctioned off by the sheriff, and was knocked down to John H. Crell for the sum of $12.75.

The sale of Peak was the first that has occurred there under the law. It was attended by a large crowd, and the bidding was lively and spirited. The low price at which the man was sold is significant of the business depression that prevails in the Blue-Grass State.

The proceedings to convict a man of vagrancy are similar to the conviction of a horse thief, after being arrested the culprit is tried. Evidence is introduced by the prosecuting attorney to support the charge, and the prisoner produces such evidence in his defence as his finances and the state of his finances will enable him to secure. If the trial results in his conviction the prisoner is sentenced to be sold at auction for a time specified by the court.

It was little trouble to convict Lawrence Peak. He did not seem to care anyway, and after a jury had decided that he was a vagrant he was no more concerned than before. When he was told that he was to be sold he grunted and manifested no further interest in the affair. Even an animated bidding between two citizens who were rivals for his ownership did not arouse him in the least, but he looked on the proceedings apathetically as if the least concerned in the crowd. The bidding began at $1, and when the vagrant Peak was finally disposed of to Crell for $12.75 for a servitude of three months his only comment was, "Goah, but I went cheap."

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak sunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but, thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy, and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address simply: P. O. Box 388, London, Ont.

In the Highlands, even yet, "the last rites and ceremonies" are looked upon as an excellent excuse for copious refreshment. An Inverness-shire farmer and his man were both invited to a funeral. Both however, could not go, so the farmer said to his man, "Jock, I'll let you have the man's right to the drive (drive) in the town." Jock's face was a picture of living anger when he bargued out his reply: "To Jericho with yer drive! I wad rather hae as funeral than ten drives!"
