THE ROLLINS SANDSPUR

COLLEGE NEWS

April 1. The Rollins baseball team closed its season by defeating the fast Sanford team 3 to 1 in Sanford. Mason pitched for Rollins, opposing Wallace, Sanford's ex-leaguer. Del held Sanford to a brace of bingles, while our boys gathered six from Wallace's delivery, including a home run by Vaiden in the ninth inning. Rollins' first runs came in the second inning, when Landstreet reached first on an error and Pike singled; with two down Lee sent a long fly into center field which was muffed, both runners crossing the pan.

In the evening, the Fortnightly Club was entertained at the Seminole Inn with a little four-character play written by Miss Eva Wilkins. The farcical little sketch was the portrayal of the fortunes of a ruined French count of the old school, who pays some of his debt to his housekeeper with a couple of lottery tickets which he believes to be worthless, but which he afterwards finds to have won a half million francs. In a desperate endeavor to recover his fortune he proposes marriage to the housekeeper, and is accepted; after the ceremony has been performed, he finds to his consternation and collapse that the housekeeper has given the tickets to a former sweetheart, the gardener of the chateau.

Miss Brebner, our art instructor, gave the audience a delicious bit of comedy in the character of the sulky "enfant terrible" of the housekeeper, and Mr. Lenhart portrayed perfectly the deferential and side-whiskered French "garcon." The other roles were equally well filled by townspeople, and the whole play was a decided triumph for Miss Wilkins; coming on top of "The Brogues of Kilavain Glen," it shows that she has a remarkable power of dramatization and a keen sense of humor, coupled with a delightful power of word-selection and phrase-building.

April 3. Another event officially connected with the town, but of great interest to the college people as well, was the dedication ceremonies of the three new landing places designed by Mr. Percival Hutton, and erected by the Winter Park Board of Trade. The ceremonies were held on the dock at the foot of the Boulevard, below the Seminole Inn; the other two are located one near the "dinky" station in Lake Virginia, and the other in the southern end of Lake Maitland. Speeches were made by various dignitaries and celebrities of the neighborhood, including such men as Col. Reed, Pres. Blackman, Hon. W. R. O'Neal, Hon. J. M. Cheney, and others. The docks are commodious and comfortable, as well as ornamental, and will be a great convenience to those who own boats on the lakes.

One of the features of the afternoon was the presence in Lake Osceola at the ceremonies of the college eight oared shell, the crew of which had just begun work a few days before. The following young men were in the boat on this occasion: Bow, Lainhart; 2, J. Estefani; 3, Pike; 4, Washington; 5, Pratt; 6, L. Estefani; 7, Wetherill; stroke, B. Blackman. Interest was given to the trip by the fact that the shell was coxswained by Miss Mabel Allen.

In order to get the shell through the run from Lake Virginia to Lake Osceola and return, it was necessary for the crew to wade, but the journey was safely made. The crew proved its speed by racing some of the launches and leaving them behind as they swung down to the boat house on the return trip. The day was marred, however, by the unfortunate accident to the shell, which made impossible any further work on the part of the crew this year. Just as the shell was being run into the boat-house, a launch containing De Batchelor and Wm. Crossley, two town men, ran too close to the stern, and carried away two feet of the rudder post. It will be necessary to cut off the entire end of the shell and splice another framework in before the boat can be used again.

April 4. The third meeting of the Board of Trustees took place in the President's Office, and lasted for several hours, but no information has been made public as to the nature of the discussion which has rendered so many meetings necessary this year. We suppose that something of great importance to the school has been discussed, and hope that some great step in advance is soon to be made.

Park, being a student at Dana Hall, Wellesley. The young ladies enjoyed a delightful afternoon on the lawn overlooking Lake Maitland.

In the afternoon, at 2:15, Col. Hugh T. Reed, U. S. A. retired, delivered a very interesting and instructive talk in the auditorium on "Our Flag." Col. Reed's speech gave a great deal of valuable information as to the history of the flag and also many interesting items of information as to its uses and the customs which attend it in the army and navy. It was an inspiring talk for all present.

A party of the college young ladies, consisting of Misses Lucy Clark, Mary Corre, Ines Guiteras, Rosa Heydrick, Priscilla Major, Freda Reed and Mary Simrall, accompanied by Miss Barney and Mrs. Powers, were entertained at the beautiful home of Commodore Dyer, the occasion of the event being the presence in Winter Park of Miss Muriel Oaks, the granddaughter of Mrs. C. H. Morse. Miss Oaks spent her Easter vacation in Winter rium of the Woman's Club building. The auditorium was comfortably filled with an audience of the best people in Jacksonville, and they were exceedingly enthusiastic over the performance of the boys, who indeed sang one of the best concerts they have given this year. Everybody was in good voice, and there was abundant snap and go to the numbers. After the concert was over, the chairs were cleared away, and a reception and dance was given the Glee Club and President and Mrs. Blackman by the strong Rollins Circle of Jacksonville. The boys pronounced the trip one of the most pleasant taken by the Club, and are happy that every indication points to its being made again next year.

April 12. Miss Powell, visiting Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. for the Southern States was warmly welcomed by the Rollins girls. She remained on the campus for several days, and by her earnest and practical talks gave new impulse and inspiration to the work of the strong local organization.

April 13. One of the most delightful social events of the year was Mrs. Powers' reception in the Gymnasium from four to six. The Gym was beautifully decorated with palms and flowers of various kinds, and the reception was given in honor of Mrs. Laura G. Keller, an aunt of Miss Ines Guiteras whom by a strange coincidence, Mrs. Powers met many years ago in Florence, Italy. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Powers, Mrs. Keller, Miss Ines Guiteras, and Mrs. W. F. Blackman.

Card tables were provided for those who wished to play, and several solos were sung by Dyke D. Wetherill, H. S. Pope, W. Clay Inman, and Miss Eva McQuaters. Delicious strawberry ice-cream and cakes were served by a number of the young ladies of the school, the Phi Alpha Fraternity room being loaned to Mrs. Powers for this purpose.

The new Victor Victrola, which was bought and presented to the college by the two Glee Clubs out of the earnings of the past season, was given its official try-out for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. fund for the missionary work of Rev. F. P. Ensminger, of West Tampa, a graduate and former teacher of Rollins. A large audience heard for the first time the new records, and for over an hour the voices of the great musicians were heard at their best in their most notable songs. Caruso, Williams, Elman, Galski, Amato, Journee, and many others contributed to make the evening a memorable one for those who enjoyed the best there is in music. The rendering of the Toreador Song from Carmen by Amato, and the new Sextette from Lucia, were both recalled by the audience. This gift of the Glee Clubs will be a splendid addition to the work and the play of the school.

After the concert was over, the students proceeded to the Gymnasium, where they were treated to an informal little dancing party by Prof. and Mrs. Powers. The music was furnished by the Winter Park Orchestra, and the affair was a delightful one from its very informality. The fraternity room was again thrown open as a lounging and refreshment room, fruit punch being served to the young people.

April 16. The first session of the annual meeting of the Florida State Musical Association was held in the evening at 8 o'clock, taking the form of a concert by the members of the Association present. Delegates from various musical organizations throughout the state were present, and each organization was asked to provide at least one number toward the entertainment. Several responded, and a delightful concert resulted, whose program follows:

April 17. At the business meeting of the Florida State Musical Association in the morning, Prof. H. S. Pope, Director of the Rollins School of Music, was re-elected to serve as Treasurer of the Association for the coming year.

At the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. the newly elected officers for the coming year were installed. The outgoing officers were Miss Mabel Daniels, President; Miss Ines Guiteras, Vice-President; Miss Gussie Nelson, Secretary; Miss Ruth Hollinger, Treasurer. The new officers installed were Miss Ines Guiteras, President; Miss Mabel Daniels, Vice-President; Miss Emma Little, Secretary; and Miss Lucy Clark, Treasurer.

At 8 p. m. the second concert of the annual meeting was given, consisting of a program furnished by the pupils of the School of Music of the college. We think it safe to say that such a pupils' recital could not be put on by any other school in the state, and it must have been a revelation to the music teachers present of the standards and results of the work in this department. The following program was rendered:

ROLLINS COLLEGE GIRLS GLEE CLUB

April 19. The Glee Club left on the 1:48 train for the long and eagerly awaited invasion of the "camp of the enemy," having been invited by the DeLand High School boys to sing a concert at that place. The members of the Club were delightfully entertained, and cordially received by all the Stetson students with whom they came in contact. It was unfortunate that the concert should have been scheduled on the same night as the graduation recital of the Stetson School of Music, which naturally drew many who might have attended the Glee Club concert under other circumstances. Yet the audience was fairly large, and very enthusiastic; the members of the Club sang better than they ever did before unless it were at St. Petersburg, and the concert must be considered in every way a success. Plans are under consideration by which Rollins and Stetson will exchange Glee Club concerts next year, but we must say that we feel that Stetson will have to go some to surpass the performances of the home Club this year.

April 22. What may become a tremendous good to the college and townspeople occupied the attention of some twenty of the young men of the college for this entire Monday—namely, the clearing of the run from Lake Virginia back toward Orlando and the chain of lakes at Formosa. From 5:30 in the morning till just before supper time, three gangs of men worked in water sometimes up to their necks, cutting out the underbrush, throwing aside logs, deepening shallows and generally putting the channel in such shape that it will be navigable for a boat. One gang started at the outlet from Lake Sue and cleared to within a few yards of the bridge where the east clay road crosses the run near the old clay pit; from this point another force worked through the hammock to the trestle where the dinky track crosses the run; and the third gang started from Lake Virginia, and worked through an almost impenetrable tangle and very deep water up toward the trestle. The work is as yet unfinished, but interest continues unabated, and it is expected that another week or two will see a channel opened up which will permit the passage of row boats or canoes to within a mile and a quarter of Orlando, as well as the present runs in the other direction. This will give the college an unexampled supply of beautiful lakes and wilderness runs, which will add tremendously to the pleasure of the students and teachers. It is to be hoped that the undertaking will be pushed through to a successful conclusion. It is of interest to note that during the clearing, a number of moccasins were killed by the various parties, and also that an eighteen inch alligator was captured by one of the parties.

During the evening, the quartet gave their services to the town baseball team, and sang several of their most popular numbers at the concert and ice cream social given for the benefit of that organization in the Hooker Memorial House. All the members felt in fine voice, held in the auditorium, the stage of which had been lavishly decorated with greens and flowers, banked across the entire length. The following was the program :

King Lear, Act I, Scene 1 Shakespeare

Have You Heard the South a-Callin' Henry H. Harman

Watching and Waiting Julia M. Burnett
Evelyn Hope Robert Browning

Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme Moliere

and sang with great effectiveness. Inman in addition sang in his usual fine manner a solo, which was heartily encored by the audience.

April 23. The last of the series of pleasant at homes given jointly by Mrs. Powers and Mrs. Hodgkin was held in Chase parlors. These receptions in the various dormitories have provided a delightful opportunity for social enjoyment especially to the members of the faculty and their friends among the townspeople.

April 27. A foretaste of the coming Commencement was the senior recital of Ira Jewel Williams, who graduates this spring from the School of Expression. The recital was Miss Allen, who had arranged to assist Mr. Williams by playing a couple of selections on her violin, had been ill all day, and although she made a brave attempt to play her first number, she was unable to continue, and retired.

Mr. Williams' reading showed the results of long and faithful work under the tutelage of Miss Julia B. Reed. The dramatic force of the first number was well sustained and brought out, the sweetness and sadness of the second group was sympathetically expressed, and the scenes from Moliere's great satire on the "nouveau riche" were very well rendered, keeping the audience a-smile during the entire number. Mr. Williams has been a pupil of the School of Expression for four years now, and his friends are pleased to see him crown his efforts with success. That much of this success is due to the thorough and capable work of Miss Reed as Head of the department all know; for ten years Miss Reed has taught the art of expression at Rollins, winning a place of honor and esteem throughout the state, and a place of love in the hearts of all the students and teachers who associated with her during that time. All mourn that she is not to return next year.

April 28. The Glee Club Quartet sang "Remember Now Thy Creator" by Rhodes, at the evening service of the Presbyterian Church of Orlando. W. Clay Inman, the baritone soloist of the quartet, has had charge of the music of this church all winter, and it was through his efforts the quartet were engaged.

April 29. President Blackman had engaged to give the High School people of Sanford a reading from the famous book of Charles Dickens, "Pickwick Papers," but owing to a somewhat severe illness through the past ten days, was unable to fill the appointment. He sent down in his stead the Glee Club quartet, and Miss Reed, who gave a program in the auditorium of the High School building there. A good audience greeted the performers, and gave them a cordial welcome. The members of the quartet were in good voice, and the selections rendered were a choice of the large number sung by them at various times during the past Glee Club season. Mr. Wetherill and Mr. Pope won enthusiastic encores for their solos; owing to the fact that Mr. Inman is to sing publicly in Sanford at a later date he did not put on any numbers on this occasion. Miss Reed's charming monologues won the hearts of the audience, who were many of them already acquainted with the excellence of her work in public. The evening was a success, and the audience seemed satisfied with the substitute provided for Dr. Blackman.

While the quartet were journeying to Sanford, the Girls' Glee Club were furnishing the entertainment for the annual picnic of the Fortnightly Club, which was held this year on Mrs. Dyer's beautiful lawn. A large number of the town and college people were in attendance, the eats were delicious, the weather perfect, the surroundings beautiful, and the spirit joyous, a combination of circumstances which rendered the success of the affair axiomatic. Although the girls sang without the guiding hand of Prof. Pope, their Director, it seemed to make no difference in their performance; they sang, as they always do, delightfully.

April 30. The prettiest and neatest social affair of the year was the party given to the students and faculty of the college by Messrs. Price, Williams, Pratt and Landstreet in the Lyman Gymnasium in the evening. The Gymnasium was beautifully and tastefully decorated with palms and vines gathered from the surrounding woods, a canopy over the center of the floor bearing streamers in all directions to the galleries, while a banner here and there added the touch of color to the scheme. The cozy corners were especially attractive, and the programs were very well gotten up. In the center of the cover was the seal of the college embossed in gold on a white field, with the mystifying monogram T. T. T. in the upper right hand corner.

The music was rendered by the Winter Park Orchestra, and was as always of the highest order, receiving appreciative encores from the large company present. When the time came for Home, Sweet Home, everybody danced with a spirit that showed how reluctant they were to leave, and only after the second encore was the very pleasant evening ended. The refreshments consisted of a cooling fruit punch which was extensively patronized owing to the summerlike heat of the evening.

In addition to the students and teachers, there were a number of former students and outside guests; among them Mrs. Dill, Mrs. Voorhees, Miss Irma Williams, Miss Robinson, Miss Eda Brewer, Misses Alice and Rosina Jacocks, and Miss Louise Atwood. The patronesses were Mrs. W. F. Blackman, Mrs. E. B. Ferguson, and Mrs. S. H. Hodgin.

COLLEGE LOCALS

THE GLEE CLUB AND ITS MANAGEMENT.

The SANDSPUR takes pleasure in printing in full this letter from President Blackman, the sentiments of which it has already expressed and again heartily echoes :

EDITORS OF THE SANDSPUR :—

Please allow me space in which to express my personal appreciation of the fine work done this season by the Rollins Glee Club and its able and indefatigable manager, Mr. Arthur F. Landstreet.

Hearty and unsolicited testimonials have come to me from all parts of the State with reference to the splendid concerts given by the Club, and the enthusiastic reception everywhere accorded them.

I can say for myself that I have never heard, anywhere, programs of equal artistic merit—such fine quartet and ensemble effects, and such delightful solos—given by any college or university Glee Club. I am proud of the record made by the Club, and feel sure that these concerts have served to extend the name and fame of Rollins throughout the State.

I wish to thank Professor Pope thus publicly for his faithful and very skillful services in drilling and conducting the Club. I wish to express my appreciation of Mr. Landstreet's able management. He has been in the highest degree energetic and loyal in his work, and his success is seen in the fact that for the first time the Club has this year not only met the large expenses incurred in its various trips, but has been able to present to the college out of the surplus earned, for the use of the School of Music, a $200 Victor-Victrola, together with a number of costly records. This is a remarkable achievement.

W. F. BLACKMAN.

In the Tampa Tribune for April 13 is an editorial appreciation of the work done by our President, Dr. W. F. Blackman, which closes with the words, "It can truly be said that President Blackman is the right man in the right place, and that Rollins College is turning out some of the brightest boys and girls to be found anywhere." This compliment is highly appreciated by the students of the college; we are glad that some of the people of the state are realizing that there is something about the work and atmosphere of Rollins which cannot be obtained in the other schools of the state, and that that something is valuable. We thank you, Mr. Stovall.

The prolonged illness of President Blackman is a source of deep concern to the college people. Although it seems to be rather distressing than serious, Dr. Blackman's work throughout the state has been interfered with decidedly. Between now and Commencement, Dr. Blackman has about sixteen addresses to deliver at High School Commencements and other functions throughout the state, and it is hoped that he will recover entirely his normal health before these engagements come on.

Miss Mabel Allen, one of the most popular of the young ladies of the college, left with Mrs. Tousey for the North on April 29. She will visit in Jacksonville on her way to her home.

Miss Mary Walker has returned to her home in Sanford.

Dean Hodgin has been feeling indisposed during a part of the last month, but has managed to stick to his guns.

The new run from Lake Virginia to Lake Sue is already becoming one of the popular institutions of the place. Several pleasure parties have already gone up as far as the clearing work has progressed, and some of the young men have been through the entire length. It is expected that the work will soon be finished, and then the run, which excels in beauty any of the others in the neighborhood, will become a favorite passage for the college boats.

A matter of vital importance and great interest to all former students is the fact that plans are already under way for the erection of a new 100 room hotel and a new station in Winter Park. The plans for the hotel are being drawn, and we understand that the contract will soon be let and construction be begun. The vision of a new station for the town also seems about to be realized, and these two factors should materially aid in building up the town, and thereby the college. The hotel is to stand on the point which runs out into Lake Osceola from the west bank, opposite the Brewer hammock, an ideal situation, by the way.

The Y. W. C. A. is this year perhaps even stronger than they have been for several years. Every year this organization includes among its members almost every young lady in Cloverleaf, and its work is one of the strengthening forces of the school. During the present year they have raised $45.00 for the support of Amparo, a little Cuban girl in the Mission school of Rev. F. P. Ensminger in West Tampa, and also $16.00 toward the support of the travelling secretary, $10.00 as its share in the support of Miss Fitch in China, and $15.00 to fill with candy and sweetmeats the stockings which the members made and sent to the children in Prof. Ensminger's mission at Christmas time. This is surely a splendid showing for the organization, and one of which the whole student body should be proud.

Miss Irma Williams came down to visit the college and to attend the graduation recital of her brother on April 27. Miss Williams is a student at the State College for Women at Tallahassee. After her brother's recital a number of the young people of the college were entertained at the Osceola by Mr. Williams and his friends in honor of his sister's visit, and there has been no trouble in making certain that the enjoyable points of the landscape be pointed out to her.

FORMER STUDENTS

In a recent issue of the Times-Union, a letter was published from Dr. T. R. Baker, giving an account of the hunting trip after big game in the Sudan by a former Rollins boy, Henry Banks. Mr. Banks travelled far beyond the terminus of the railroad to reach his field, and spent several weeks hunting in the wilderness. Among his trophies were two water-bucks, two tiangs, one white-eared cobb, one large hippopotamus, and two large crocodiles. For the information of those unversed in African fauna it might be well to say that the tiang is about as large as a Jersey cow, and the water-buck somewhat larger, while the hippopotamus is known by reputation to nearly all. Mr. Banks has shipped a large box of his trophies to Maitland, and rumor has it that some of them are destined for the Rollins museum, where they will make an interesting display.

Bruce Clouser of Longwood spent a few days on the campus this month, and went north on the train with the Glee Club on their trip to Jacksonville. He was on his way to Philadelphia, where he expects to secure employment.

Miss Susan H. Dyer, who was so successful as teacher of violin here for the past two years, has been in New Haven all winter continuing her studies, her address being 719 Orange St.

Miss Alice M. Merrill, for several years housekeeper of the college under Dr. Ward and President Blackman, passed through Winter Park on the 9th on her way to Tampa, where she expects to spend several weeks ere returning to her home.

Miss Susan A. Longwell, who served the college for so many years and so faithfully and efficiently as head of the Department of English, is at home at 317 S. Lowry Ave., Springfield, Ohio. "engaged in new duties and with former associations revised, yet not losing interest in Rollins."

Miss Agnes Clark, '10, has been teaching the school in Chuluota this winter. She writes that she expects to visit the campus at Commencement time.

Wm. C. Armstrong, formerly a Business Manager of The Sandspur, is now engaged in the fire insurance business, being assistant to the President of the National Union Fire Insurance Company, a company with nearly four million dollars assets. His present address is 604 Merchants Exchange Building, San Francisco, Calif.

Worthington Blackman, '10, has left Long Island and returned to Florida on account of his health being poor in the Northern climate. He is now located in Jacksonville, and may be addressed at Box 415.

Rev. F. T. Clayton, who was for two years Dean of the College, is studying this winter at Harvard, his address being 66 Wendell St., Cambridge, Mass.

Miss Grace Lainhart, '08, has been pursuing her art work in New York this winter, her address being 144 Riverside Drive, New York City.

James M. Willson has also been studying in New York, living at 339 West 23d St.

Wm. Beardall and Dick Robbins are at present students of Stetson University.

Miss Marguerite Doggett, '10, is at present doing library work in the Queen's Borough Public Library of Long Island at the Woodside Branch.

Mrs. Cornelius Christiancy (nee Patty Howes) writes, "Since my marriage in 1907, I have lived two years at Port Orange, Florida (permanent address) and two years near San Juan, Porto Rico. We expect to spend this summer in the Catskills and return to Winter Park early in October, where I hope to become a Rollins student again for a few months."

Word has come from Miss Hellen B. Smith that she has spent the winter in her home at 113 Washington St., Norwich, Conn.

Mrs. Morton Hopson, whom her friends will better remember as Miss Gail Moore, is now making her home in Sanford.

Norman DeForest is now living at home in Sanford. We understand that he has "gone and done it," but details are lacking.

Herbert A. Martin, who was last year Captain and stroke of the Rollins eight-oared crew, is now stroking the junior eight of the Atlanta Boat Club, the oldest rowing club in America. Mr. Martin's knowledge of the game, and speed and dash, overcame the handicap of his unusually light weight, and won him his place. His crew is now training for the spring regatta in New York, where it will race against the crews of several other boat clubs and also the Columbia University 'Varsity eight. His success speaks well for the work done in the crew at Rollins last year.

Caryl E. Twitchell is continuing his study in the Pillsbury Academy, Owatonna, Minn.

J. B. Luckie, whose voice charmed so many during the year he studied at Rollins, has removed to Denver, Colorado, where his address is 1840 Sherman St., Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. L. M. Powell, who as Miss Alice Fisher taught piano at Rollins some years ago, is at home at 3241 Colfax Ave., S., Minneapolis, Minn.

Jack S. Willson, who was forced to leave school a month or more ago on account of illness, writes that he is fast recoving strength in his home at West Palm Beach, and that he expects to leave for California early in June.

Rex E. Beach recently celebrated his wooden wedding in Atlanta with a dinner party to a number of his friends. The dinner was served on wooden plates, and wooden toys were at each guest's place. Each toy bore some modern version of an old aphorism. Mr. Beach was a student in the Rollins Academy before he went to Alaska and won fame as a writer.

Miss Ruby Belle Chappell, who studied at Rollins some years ago, has recently taken her A. B. at the University of Wisconsin.

Donald A. Cheney was a visitor to the campus not long ago from Orlando, where he is now working in the office of the Water and Light Co. Don was a charter member of the Phi Alpha Fraternity, and came down to assist them in some of their activities.

POST-SEASON BASEBALL NOTES.

If talking makes a ball player, Tommy Vaiden won't be long out of the big show.

That book "Touching Second," by Johnny Evers, seems to have had quite some effect on the ball-playing of George Roberts; never mind, son, you're hitting the pill.

In the last game in Gainesville, Florida scored three runs without knocking the ball dents when they had to get up at 5 a. m. to catch the 8:30 train.

ROLLINS TEAM.

Rollins College has a good team this year, Of other teams there is nothing to fear. Pratt is the pitcher, the catcher is Pike, They are two ball-players whom we all like. In the geometry class:

Prof. What kind of quadrilaterals may be inscribed in a circle?

Bright Pupil. Four-sided ones.

On the fifth day of last January Arbor and Bird day was celebrated at Rollins in an appropriate manner. At the afternoon Assembly Dr. Blackman talked of birds as a help to the farmer and fruit-grower. At three o'clock the audience adjourned to the campus, where Miss Wilkins planted, over toward the dining-hall, a water-oak, designed, it is rumored, to absorb the copious moisture sometimes precipitated in that region from the windows of Chase Hall. Miss Barney then planted a vine with square and cube roots, which is expected to be a prime factor in beautifying the campus some day in the distant future. Dr. Hyde next immortalized himself by setting out a vine having a Greek root and a Latin stem, which will later bring forth the fruit of the dead languages, so that Knowledge may at last be plucked from bushes, or rather vines. A century plant was then planted by Mr. Stone. We venture to suggest that the purpose of this plant is to act as an indicator; whenever anyone starts hunting for Mr. Stone in the near future, they will know when the plant blooms that it is getting time to find him. We also suppose that the seeds of a plant set out by Mr. Stone will furnish an abundance of ammunition to throw at cats or wandering friends from another dormitory. The ceremonies were completed by Miss Ely and Dean Hodgkin, who planted vines by the Library in order that the books may never lack leaves.

We dug a run
We dug it deep
We dug it for our brothers.
Then from that run
We run away
That run was used by others.
This sentiment
Has been expressed
By some of us who've labored.
The lazy boys
Who did but shirk
By our work will be favored.
Unto the drones
Who would not help
We make this declaration :
You should pay toll
And treat us all
Or we'll wish you all —trepidation.
