CHURCH UNION VOTE TWO TO ONE

Presbyterian Committee to Support Bill Before Assembly Resolution for the "Federal Church" Was Defeated

Toronto, April 25.—By a vote of twenty to eleven, the Presbyterian Church Union Committee, with delegates from all parts of Canada in attendance, resolved to press the proposed bill for union with the Methodist and Congregational churches before the coming General Assembly, with some amendments as to form. This was passed to-day on the motion of Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon, of Winnipeg, seconded by Judge Swanson, of Kamloops, B. C. An amendment moved by Rev. Dr. Drummond, of Hamilton, and seconded by Thomas McMillan, of the Presbyterian Church Association, looking toward negotiations with the Congregationalists and the Methodists for the establishment of a "federal church," was defeated.

PRAIRIES NEED FARM LABORERS

Shortage of Help in Agricultural Areas Reported Few Men Leaving British Columbia for the Plains

Winnipeg, April 25.—With few men leaving British Columbia for farm work this Spring, a widespread shortage in the supply of farm labor is reported in the three prairie provinces. Two thousand workers are required by the farmers of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, each province having 1,000 unfilled applications, while Alberta is also asking outside assistance. The Regina, Moose Jaw and Saskatoon districts can use 500 men at once, according to G. E. Tomsett, Saskatchewan Superintendent of the Employment Service of Canada, who discussed the situation here yesterday with Major L. F. Howard, Dominion Western Superintendent. The pay offered in the applications from Regina, Moose Jaw and Saskatoon districts range from $50 to $55 a month with the usual daily bonus being granted during harvest. Other Saskatchewan districts want farm help at wages ranging from $40 to $45 a month until harvest time, when the bonus will be paid.

TEXAS TOWN WAS DAMAGED BY STORM

Fifty-mile Wind; Hailstones Large as Hen's Eggs Many Henrietta People Went to Wichita Falls

Henrietta, Texas, April 25.—Virtually every building in this community of 3,000 in North Central Texas was wrecked by a storm last night with an estimated damage of $200,000. A fifty-mile wind threw hailstones as large as hen's eggs, breaking every window in town. Hail to the depth of a foot in the streets, and water two feet deep in the cellars sent many persons on their way to Wichita Falls, twenty miles away, for temporary protection. The St. Elmo Hotel, a three-story building, had its roof blown in and the interior badly damaged.

An inquest is being held at Quatsino to-day. The four other members of the crew of the Siloam, who escaped in a small boat after putting their wounded comrade on the Malaspina, are still at large. They are being sought by Mounted and Provincial Police.

GERMAN DECISION IS NOW AWAITED

Berlin May Come Forward With Reparations Offer Reichstag Parties Want Question of Frontier Settled

Berlin, April 25.—Whether Germany is warranted in now coming forward with a reparations offer in view of her internal financial situation is one of the questions perplexing Chancellor Cuno and his Cabinet, according to well informed political circles. The Government is represented as being desirous of showing an accommodating attitude in response to Lord Curzon's recent appeal to Germany to make the first move for a settlement. Both the Chancellor and Foreign Minister von Rosenberg are said to believe in the shorter road to a solution of the whole reparations tangle has been suggested by Secretary Hughes. The officials are known to be of the opinion that a verdict by the reparations experts would also contribute measurably to stimulating confidence in any reparations loan that might be based on the findings of such a jury.

CONCLUDE VISIT TO VANCOUVER ISLAND WITH MOTOR DRIVE

Sir Robert and Lady Baden-Powell Are Greeted By Cowichan Scouts and Guides at Inspection This Morning In Duncan.

General Sir Robert Baden-Powell wound up his visit to Western Canada to-day with a motor-trip up the Island. Rising early he and Lady Baden-Powell left Victoria before nine o'clock and were over the Malahat and in Duncan by half-past eleven. After inspecting Boy Scouts at Duncan and lunching at Chemainus, the Chief Scout and his wife, who inspected the Duncan Girl Guides, motored southward again, planning to catch the Seattle boat from here at half-past four.

Sir Robert and Lady Baden-Powell were delighted with their drive to-day, and declared on their arrival at Duncan that the spin over the Malahat was one of the most pleasant of their experiences in Canada. They were delighted also with the reception accorded them by the Scouts and Girl Guides at up-Island points.

CITIZENS MUST VOTE ON BONDS, OFFICIALS FIND

Must Validate Illegal City Interest Payments by Plebiscite Otherwise Aldermen May Be Personally Liable for Money

Victoria ratepayers will have to vote to validate illegal interest payments on city bonds and authorize the continuance of these payments in the future, according to conclusions reached by city officials who have just completed an investigation of the whole bond question. Except by securing the consent of the ratepayers the Council cannot continue to make interest payments in American money on Victoria bonds floated for repayment in Canada and England, officials have found. While the Provincial Government may be asked by the city to validate illegal New York payments in the past, the Government, city officials explained to-day, could not do this unless the ratepayers consented to it because the bonds in question were floated on the vote of the ratepayers for repayment in Canada and England. The place of repayment and interest payment in fact cannot be altered until the ratepayers, who first authorized the loans, also authorize changes in them.

A request that he spend Sunday here has been received yet. If he decides to remain he will be asked to address a public meeting Sunday afternoon. Sir Michael will fill a busy programme in Vancouver Thursday and Friday. He is to speak to the service clubs at the Hotel Vancouver at 12:15 Thursday, under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club. BREAKICE JAM IN ASSINIBOINE

Engineers Succeed in Manitoba; Flood Rushes On

Winnipeg, April 25.—The Assiniboine River continues to overflow its banks in the Poplar Point-Marquette District, where thousands of acres of land were inundated and many farm homes isolated during the night, but early this afternoon Government engineers succeeded in breaking the ice jam ten miles east of Poplar Point and the river is now clearing with the ice rushing east in a regular torrent. The engineers are now moving west toward the jam south of Reburn, and when this is moved it is believed the situation will be well in hand. During the night the Assiniboine overflowed the south bank, flooding Hutterite farms near Iberville, but the water has not yet reached the buildings. The Elt district on the Canadian National Railway is flooded to-day, and the town is surrounded by water, but it has not reached the high land in the centre of the town. With the exception of St. Boniface and Headingly, other flood areas report conditions slowly improving and transportation getting back to normal.

CANADA'S FINE BANKING RECORD

Recognized and Appreciated in England, Says Morning Post

London, April 25.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Discussing the inquiry now being conducted by a committee of the Canadian House of Commons with a view to amending the Canadian Bank Act, the financial editor of The Morning Post is not prepared to affirm that the time may come when the banking system of Canada could be still further strengthened and improved by the creation of some central institution like the Bank of England.

"It is due, all the same, to the Canadian bankers, at this important moment in their history," The Post says, "to admit that the fine record of Canadian banking has not been recognized and appreciated anywhere more than in this country. Unfortunately, whenever the period has arrived when legislation affecting banking has to be considered, there is always a tendency for political considerations to enter and we know that already there are indications these insidious political influences entering into the banking legislation of the United States. While, therefore, it will be interesting to note any modifications or additions in the nature of improvements in the present Canadian system we believe the past record should be sufficient to justify the expectation that these changes will be of a minor character."

NO PERMANENT PRAIRIE DEPRESSION

Ottawa, April 25.—(Canadian Press Cable)—If you have had outbreaks of typhoid it does not improve conditions to say that all is well; you have got to face the truth. Many of the men who have quit farming in Western Canada were old and tried farmers who simply could not make good under present conditions," said R. J. Deachman, of Calgary, who appeared before the Special Agriculture Committee of the Commons this morning.

Mr. Deachman read notices which had been received by banks in Calgary from local managers in Alberta stating that in some areas cows were selling for $20, horses were of no value and cattle were being fed seed grain. Farmers are stated to be in a hopeless condition.

"Though I have stressed to some extent the pessimistic side, there is no outstanding note of pessimism in Western Canada," said the witness.

"For hundreds of miles the prairie roads run through a magnificent area. There are coal and other resources beyond value. Temporary adverse conditions discourage the people. You may break their backs, but you can not break their hearts.

"Alberta could supply Ontario with coal for hundreds of years, and you do not begin using that coal you might eventually freeze."

"The West was handicapped in many ways," he said. "Population was widely distributed both in cities and country areas. An opening through the western ports must be encouraged and freight rates must come down."

There were too many restrictions also. "You know we in Alberta charge a lawyer from Quebec $400 before he can practice law in our province for a day—and we admit a Chinaman for $500. A little bit more laissez faire and less restriction would be a great help."

BANK FIGURES SHOW CHANGES

Ottawa, April 25.—An increase of $2,753,975 in the total assets, and $51,618,115 in the total liabilities of Canadian banks during the month of March is shown by the monthly bank statement issued through the Finance Department to-day.

Total assets of Canadian banks on March 31 last were $2,334,566,583, and assets were $2,609,388,267, a savings deposits increased by approximately $7,000,000 during the month, and current loans increased by more than $18,000,000.

LOAN TO PERSIA IS NOW SOUGHT

United States Syndicate Reported Considering Plan

Turks Want an Advance From Chester Syndicate

London, April 25.—The loan which a United States syndicate is reported to be considering for the Persian Government would, if made, take the place of that contemplated by Great Britain under the Anglo-Persian Agreement, which Persia failed to ratify two years ago, according to the diplomatic correspondent of The Daily Telegraph. The writer, who recently professed to have learned of the prospective loan, suggests that knowledge of these negotiations may have prompted the Turkish Nationalist Government to seek an immediate substantial advance from the Chester syndicate. This request, the correspondent says, possibly accounts for reported differences between members of the syndicate.

The writer asserts the Angora Government is in a bad financial position.

BRIDAL BOUQUET ON SOLDIER'S TOMB

London, April 25.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Sixteen Canadians who reside in London or are visiting here have received invitations to Westminster Abbey for the marriage of the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon to-morrow.

Canadian High Commissioner, Hon. P. C. Larkin, doubtless having in mind the severe struggle which has taken place among all the various sections of the social community to secure cards of admission to the Abbey and the immense mortification amongst certain disappointed ones, thinks it well not to publish the names of those whose petitions have been granted. The Canadian Press understands that the majority of those who have been deemed entitled to the first consideration in the matter of admission cards have gallantly stood aside to allow their ladies the privilege of witnessing the ceremony.

As was the case on the occasion of the marriage of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles, the Canadian High Commissioner and the Aunts-General for the various provinces will wear court dress. The Agents-General on again, as in the case of the previous royal wedding, are not afraid to confess that they have hired their expensive costumes for the day.

The wedding gift from the Canadian community consists of electric table fittings.

YOUTHFUL HEIR TO MILLIONS TAKING HOLIDAY AFTER HARD WINTER'S GRIND

"It's Just Like Coming Home to Be in Victoria," He Declares

Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., heir to one of the largest fortunes in the world and incidentally one of the hardest-worked newspapermen in the profession, arrived here to-day to spend a well-earned holiday at his camp at Sproat Lake.

Happy as a small boy released from school, Mr. Vanderbilt alighted from the Seattle boat to-day with the exclamation, "Gee, it's just like coming back home to be here again! I'd sooner be here than anywhere else at this time of year. There is nothing to touch this island in the Summer time. I am longing to get into the forests around Sproat Lake and away from crowds for a while."

Mr. Vanderbilt was accompanied by his wife, her sister, Miss M. Littleton, and C. C. Bingham, his partner in the C. V. Syndicate, which he has just sold. The party is completing a lengthy tour through the middle western States and the Pacific Coast. At Los Angeles Mr. Vanderbilt bought a most expensive touring car and started to motor north.

"We had an awful time as some idiot put us on the wrong road and we were driving along a cow trail for a long time," Mr. Vanderbilt declared on his arrival here. "However, we managed to make it all right and re-visit these islands."

Mr. Vanderbilt will be at his Sproat Lake camp off and on until July. His wife and sister-in-law probably will remain there steadily until July when they will travel down to San Francisco and other cities occasionally.

Mr. Vanderbilt drove his car up from the boat to-day, and superintended the clearing of his numerous grips and suit cases through the customs. About half a dozen boys, who were waiting to help him with his luggage into the Empress Hotel.

As soon as he reached here he abandoned his hat in accordance with a habit he formed during his first visit to the island.

The party will leave Victoria early to-morrow morning for Sproat Lake.

EUGENIC STEP URGED IN MILAN

Milan, April 25.—A resolution urging that engaged couples obtain before marriage medical certificates containing simple eugenic information was passed unanimously at a meeting of leading Milan physicians yesterday. The doctors did not propose that such certificates be made compulsory by law or that the granting of marriage licenses be conditional upon a clean bill of health.

APPEAL FOR CLOTHING

The Friendly Help Association makes an urgent appeal for clothing for boys and girls of school age. Some very sad cases have come to the notice of the association during the last few days, one case being a family of five motherless boys who are in desperate need of clothing, and another being a family of boys and girls just rescued from measles, who urgently require wardrobes.

As its supply of garments is practically exhausted the association will gladly welcome all descriptions of clothing from boots and shoes upward, and mothers are urged to bear this need in mind when going through cupboards in the process of Spring cleaning and to send any resultant parcels to the Friendly Help room in the Market Building without delay.

REMARKABLE CURE

At the Chinese meeting by Rev. Dr. C. S. Price last evening, Mrs. Walter Lee was one of those who testified to being cured during the evening. She has been in bed for the past two years since she came from China, and has been in such a sickly condition that she has been unable to feed herself. It was her mother by others. She was brought to the theatre last night on a stretcher. Dr. Price prayed with her after the close of the meeting. A few minutes later she sprang to her feet and gave testimony that she was cured. She then walked out of the meeting beside her husband.

WHO HE WAS

The judge was new and somewhat irascible. The scene was laid in a court house down South.

"You, there," pointed the judge, pointing to the old negro in front of him. "Are you the defendant?"

"No, yer honor, I ain't," said the negro. "I ain't done nothing to be called names like dat. I've got a lawyer man to do the defendin'."

"Then, who are you?" demanded his honor.

"I be de gen'lman dat stole de chickens," was the reply.

SENTENCED OVER SCORE TO DEATH

Anna Gluzman, the Moscow Woman Judge, Loses No Sleep

Moscow, April 25.—Citizens Anna Gluzman, the 23-year-old presiding judge of the Moscow district court, who a few days ago sent seven men to their deaths for robbery, informed the Associated Press correspondent here to-day that she had imposed the death penalty on about twenty-five persons since February and had not lost a moment's sleep or been troubled by her conscience because of them.

Asked how, as a woman, she felt when the doomed were shot, she replied that the question of individual lives could be considered only when crimes against the safety of the state and the public were involved. She had to administer justice according to the law of evidence, though she tried to temper her decisions with mercy when possible.

Not Pretty.

With a cigarette held firmly between tight lips, the girl judge spoke of her court experiences. She is slim and short and not at all pretty. Her brown wavy hair is bobbed and parted on the side like a man's and her jaw is stern. Dressed as she was to-day, Citizens might not have guessed the representation of what sometimes is imagined as a typical woman Communist.

A pleasant smile saved her from positive ugliness, but there was no hint of feminine finery in her rough boots, black skirt, blue denim workman's blouse buttoned high at the neck and a dark brown sweater which she wore. Her only ornament was the red-enameled badge of the Communist Party.

Sentenced Woman.

"Since February I have tried eight or ten capital cases, mostly handiwork and theft of public property," she said. She paused a moment to consider when asked how many persons she had sentenced to death and answered: "I think about twenty-five since February." These included one woman convicted last Thursday of assisting a gang of robbers.

"I have never seen an execution," she continued. "Sometimes the law requires the presiding judge to attend these, but always I have been busy at other things at the time and detailed some one else."

Lives Alone.

Anna Gluzman is not married. She lives alone in a little room without pets.

"But when I am outside of the court," she explained, "I am just like anyone else. I like to visit my friends and go to the theatres."

This new figure in Communist activities is a native of Kishinev, a town of Jewish people. She had to quit school and go to work when thirteen years old, but she managed to educate herself and studied law at Odessa University. She joined the Communist Party in 1918 and served two years as judge of local tribunals in Khar'kov, but never had a capital case until she came to Moscow.

The Supreme Court of Russia or the Central Executive Committee only can reverse or mitigate her decisions in the Moscow district court.

PREPARATORY SERVICE

Hundreds were turned away from the doors of the Metropolitan Church this morning, when a large number of cards were distributed to adults for healing services. Numerous whitties were given to people in the audience. Dr. Price did not pray for anyone this morning, but the faith of many present was strengthened. It is asserted, that some who came to the platform and testified, while others who were still under the power of drug were in all probability attended to to-night's service and testify. There will be no preparatory service to-morrow, as Dr. Price is beginning to feel worn out, only getting one and three-quarter hours' sleep this morning after the Chinese mass meeting.

CHANGE NO ADVANTAGE

A Missourian from the Ozarks recently went to the city to see the Chicago White Sox. He had never seen a big city before. He walked down the streets, looking in the windows and places he saw a sign reading: "Woman's Exchange."

"He hurried into the store, which was filled with various specimens of feminine handicraft.

"Is this the Woman's Exchange?" he asked.

"It is," answered a very tall, very gaunt and very spinsterlike person behind the counter.

"Be you the woman?" and he eyed her keenly.

"I guess I am."

"Wall, I guess I'll keep 'al," he said, and hurried out.

TO LOWER COSTS FOR THE FARMERS

Policy of Government of Great Britain

London, April 25.—Sir Robert Sanders, Minister of Agriculture, speaking at a dinner last night, said the greatest trouble facing agriculture in Great Britain to-day, so far as arable farming was concerned, was over-production. Subsidies had been tried, but had to be dropped. Even the Lloyd George Government had not been bold enough to go on giving subsidies to the growers of cereals in Great Britain. It was all very well to talk about subsidizing wheat production, but if that were done the growers of cereals in Scotland would ask for similar treatment and other industries would ask for subsidies. Once the principle was granted it would be hard to refuse them, and in the end it would come to the old system of each country trying to make a living by taking in the other's washing.

There were two ways in which the farmers could be benefited, the Minister continued. One was by raising prices, and the other was by lessening costs. That was the way in which the Government was trying to give assistance, namely, by lessening railway rates and local taxation, but not wages.

ALIENS SMUGGLED INTO THE STATES

Europeans Get Across Canada-Minnesota Border

Crookston, Minn., April 25.—An efficient system of smuggling illegible aliens into the United States across a seventy-five-mile stretch of international border separating Minnesota from Canada is bringing hundreds of aliens into this country, according to immigration inspectors. The seven inspectors along the seventy-five-mile of border between Noyes and Warrad are powerless to cope with the smugglers. The underground system extends into far eastern Europe, where aliens, returning small fortunes here, take the word home to friends desirous of migrating to the United States, but who are prevented because of fulfillment of quotas from their countries. They enter Canada, make their way down the North Atlantic coast and inland over the Canadian railways. The aliens alight along points on this route, which is parallel with the seventy-five-mile of border mentioned. With the aid of accomplices, who are said, they are smuggled over the border.

DAIRY PROGRESS IN AUSTRALASIA

Canadian Dairymen Will Read Report From J. A. Ruddick

Winnipeg, April 25.—The mission of J. A. Ruddick, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, and W. A. Wilson, former head of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creameries, to Australia and New Zealand, where they investigated the dairy industries as carried on in those countries, was successful in every respect. Mr. Ruddick stated here yesterday. Mr. Ruddick passed through on his way back to Ottawa, where his first report will be made to the Department of Agriculture. Much information was gathered that will be useful to the dairymen of Canada if they will make use of it, Mr. Ruddick said. Both of the countries visited had made great progress in production, equipment and methods during the last five or six years.

"Most Canadian dairymen will be surprised, if not shocked, when they learn of the drastic nature of the laws recently enacted relating to the industry, especially in Australia," he said. "No time will be lost in placing a full report of the trip of investigation before the Canadian dairymen."

The following were struck by automobiles yesterday: Roy Murphy, five, injured internally; Laird Gibbs, five, head and legs injured; Morris Greenberg, four, shoulder injured; Alfred Lyons, four, head injured; Mrs. Bella Silverberg, twenty-eight, slight head injuries; Albert Callum, sixteen, injured knees; Manuel Green, seven, dislocated thigh; Ruth Twaddle, two, skull fractured.

BRITISH HOUSING BILL DISCUSSED

215,000 Houses Built So Far With State Assistance

London, April 25.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Neville Chamberlain, Minister of Health, when explaining in the House of Commons yesterday the main provisions of the Housing Bill, pointed out that of 215,000 houses which had been provided already by state assistance, 161,000 merely met the normal growth of population, leaving 54,000 as the contribution toward a reduction of the shortage.

Private enterprise, said the Minister, was beginning to function again. In the last six months upward of 12,000 houses had been built by private enterprise and 16,000 were now in course of construction. If the Government at the same time could stimulate private enterprise and provide fresh facilities for financing the operations of private builders, a step would be made toward private enterprise to cover the whole field of housing. The situation at present was that the Government had to choose between ignoring the shortage of houses or starting a new scheme of state subsidy to tide over the interval until the necessary houses could be built without assistance.

WIDER METHODIST PLANS FOR CHILDREN

Toronto, April 25.—The Methodist General Board of Religious Education at a meeting here yesterday considered the possibilities of modernizing the Sunday and mid-week activities of the church schools and related programmes. A course in pamphlet form is being drafted for children preparing for entrance into full church membership. There will be an improved course for memory work for children. It is stated that if the course is taken up and popularized children five years old will be able to say grace at table as well as having a knowledge of Scripture, prayers and hymns. All the provinces had delegates at the meeting.

London, April 25.—When the Duke of York marries Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, Thursday, the royal bridegroom will have three supporters and the bride will have eight bridesmaids. The bridesmaids are all friends who have known the bride for years. Two are relatives of the royal family, Lady Mary Cambridge, daughter of the Marquis of Cambridge, and Lady Mary Thynne, daughter of the Earl of Athlone. They grew up with the king's children. Lady Katharine Hamilton is the daughter of the Duke of Abercorn and has often been included in shooting parties in which the Duke of York and his bride-to-be were guests. Lady Mary Thynne is the daughter of the Marquis of Bath. The Hon. Elizabeth Elphinstone, daughter of Lord Elphinstone, and Hon. Cecilia Bowes-Lyon, daughter of Lord Glamis, are nieces of the bride. They will be the kids in the bridal party, being 12 and 11 respectively. Hon. Diamond Hardinge is the daughter of Lord Hardinge of Penshurst. While her father was British ambassador at Paris, she acted as the official schoolmate chosen. The eighth bridesmaid's name came as a surprise to English people. She is Betty Cator, daughter of John Cator, a former member of Parliament. She is the only one of the eight bridesmaids who hasn't a courtesy title. She is an intimate school friend of the bride and they made their debut together. Three of the bridesmaids, with the present bride, acted in a similar capacity at the wedding of the Princess Mary. They are Lady Mary Cambridge, Lady May Cambridge and Lady Mary Thynne. The Duke of York's three supporters will be his brothers, the Prince of Wales, Prince Henry and Prince George.

"SAVE THE FORESTS" WEEK

Throughout Canada and the United States this week is being observed as "Save The Forests" week.

British Columbia is by no means a stranger to forest fires. The Forest Branch of the Department of Lands understands this to its cost and everlasting annoyance.

Something of the loss which British Columbia experiences in a more or less normal Summer season may be gathered from the fact that 700,000,000 feet of growing timber were consumed by the flames last year.

It may not be said that all forest fires are caused by sheer carelessness and stupidity. Natural causes are sometimes responsible for a large amount of destruction.

Forest fires in the State of California last year were responsible for the burning over of no less an area than 653,272 acres. The damage amounted to very nearly three-quarters of a million dollars.

Many more equally illuminating figures might be cited in support of the absolute necessity for a much more rigid observance of the elementary principles of precaution.

NOVA SCOTIA WILL STAY

Nova Scotia has decided not to "smash Confederation" by pulling out and running its own show. The resolution to take a plebiscite on the question found only two supporters in the legislature.

It is no secret that Nova Scotia was originally dragged into Confederation by the indomitable energy of the late Sir Charles Tupper, despite the opposition of a large proportion—probably a majority—of the inhabitants.

Gradually this has been changed. The Inter-Colonial railway formed an enduring link with the rest of the Dominion. The youth of both sexes began receiving their finishing touches of culture in Montreal and Toronto.

However, under all the circumstances, this part of Canadian history is perhaps just as well forgotten. The thing to do now is to see to the removal of any legitimate grievances of Nova Scotia and the other provinces by the Atlantic.

Their greatest grievance, of course, is their gradually decreasing representation in the House of Commons at Ottawa. They naturally dislike the loss of political influence.

The way out was indicated by Sir Wilfrid

Laurier some years ago when he suggested that the population of the Maritime Provinces, instead of Quebec, be made the basis of the number of members in the House of Commons.

THE CRESSWELL-HERTZOG PACT

If there is any glory to be extracted from the terms of the understanding into which the Laborites and Nationalists of South Africa have recently entered it obviously belongs to Colonel Cresswell and not to General Hertzog.

It was only to be supposed that an arrangement for common action against the Government's policies would follow the fusion of the Unionists with the South African Party. On the other hand Cresswell made it pretty clear some time ago that Hertzog would have to eliminate the republican features of the Nationalist platform if such a pact were to be seriously considered.

General Hertzog may not like the Union any better now than he did when he led the 1914 revolt. He considers that South Africa could look after herself; but he has never attempted to explain how she would fare without the economic guarantees which go with a working partnership in the British Empire.

One of the chief reasons why Hertzog has backed down may be found in the attitude which Labor took at the last elections. In a number of instances the working man did not support the Labor candidate but actually voted for the Government supporter in order to reduce the Nationalist chances of obtaining a majority in Parliament.

The arrangement is of first moment to Premier Smuts. His own Party still has a comfortable majority over the joint opposition; but it goes without saying that when he appeals to the people next time the republican bogey will be absent from the scene—a factor that will no doubt influence the result.

AN AVIATION TRIUMPH

By remaining thirty-six hours in the air two United States aviators have created a record for continuous flight in a heavier-than-air machine. It is not to say that it will now be possible to make a trans-Atlantic voyage with comfort and safety by the aeroplane route in consequence of this highly important and successful test.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Mr. Pattullo is quite right when he says that if we do not get more immigration we shall suffer a serious attack of emigration.

This is the third day of the resumed Lausanne Conference and there is not a single report of a free fight or even a crisis so far.

If every individual in British Columbia would remember that "Save The Forests" week has a personal significance there would be less loss of valuable timber.

The Soviet Government has permitted the export of no less than 300,000 tons of grain. We suppose there will be another howl for food before very long.

Somebody has now named de Valera "the sheik of the Tipperary mountains." It is rumored that other "sheiks" consider they have been libelled because the self-styled president could never qualify for the Rodolph Valentino stakes.

People who are in the habit of using the forests of Vancouver Island should remember that careless acts on their part may very easily destroy the very things which give them so much pleasure in the Summer months.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

MEANING ELECTRICITY. Ottawa Citizen:—Some of the vast coal deposits in western Canada now being held by the crown in trust for the people might well be utilized for the creation of super-power; their development along these lines should overcome their geographical disadvantages, render the construction of coal railroads unnecessary, and should make coal panics and high prices a thing of the past.

AMERICAN MAGAZINES. Woodstock Sentinel-Review:—There is a difference of opinion in this country, as is evident from the newspapers, as to the wisdom of carrying out the proposal to put a tax on American magazines entering Canada. Probably there is room for difference of opinion: There is general sympathy with the idea that Canadian literature should be encouraged; but the belief that Canadian literature can be encouraged by a protective tariff is not so general.

ASTRONOMERS ARE DISAPPOINTED

Eclipse Photographs Taken at Goondiwindi, Australia, a Failure

Special to The Times. Sydney, N. S. W., April 25.—Scientists in New Zealand and Australia are greatly disappointed at the announcement that the data obtained last year by them in conjunction with Canadian astronomers at Goondiwindi, Queensland, will not enable them to say whether or not the Einstein theory of relativity is true or not.

One of the main objects of the photographs obtained of the sun's disc was to discover whether light was "bent" in passing by the earthward as Einstein had suggested. As the instruments used by the Australasians gave bad results the necessary calculations cannot be made.

Prizes to the extent of $500,000 were left by the late Peter Mitchell, a wealthy grazier of New South Wales, for the most perfect woman in Australia. He also left much smaller prizes for the most perfect man.

Mr. Mitchell's idea of what constitutes the most perfect woman are as follows: Her physical excellence and good general health.

Her freedom from hereditary taint or disease, particularly of the intellect. Her brightness and cheerfulness of disposition and the fact that she is a person who may be calculated generally to bear healthy children.

Her understanding and knowledge of the main elements of the history of the British Empire apart from mere memorizing of dates and facts. Her general knowledge of the climate and geography of the Commonwealth of Australia and of its main natural products.

Her knowledge and understanding of standard English literature. A sound and appreciative knowledge of the Bible.

Her knowledge of elementary anatomy and physiology and of the main functions of the human body and of first aid.

Her ability to ride on horseback and to swim. The soundness of her knowledge of practical housekeeping and domestic economy.

The last and main test—A practical and theoretical knowledge of nursing, handling and management of infants and the rearing of perfect children.

For men the tests are similar except nursing and domestic matters. The men—those who do military service as imposed by the Commonwealth.

Mr. Mitchell was a bachelor. He left his home to his wife, he said, or to the sick, but to prevent sickness and to breed healthy people. His will is now before the court for a statement as to whether the guests are charitable and so free of duty.

Cook's Diary Bought. At a cost of $25,000 the Commonwealth National Library has purchased from the owner in England the diary of Captain Cook with whom on his later voyages Captain Vancouver was closely associated. The diary, which is an account of his first voyage in the Pacific.

Had it not been for the fact that a New South Wales Parliamentarian mentioned publicly that the Government wanted to buy the diary it could have been got in Britain for half the amount. It was sold at a London auction room and it gives a description of Cook's landing at Botany Bay, just outside Sydney.

When the Burns Philp steamer Mindini ran at full speed on a reef near Townsville, Northern Australia, not only did every one of the hundreds of passengers and of the crew get ashore safely through a labyrinth of shoals and reefs, but every piece of personal baggage was saved.

The passengers were first landed on a small islet and afterwards the steamer Nauru Chief arrived and took them off. The crew remained on board and helped to get the passengers' belongings transferred. A lifeboat was used to get the crew to shore. The ship was then abandoned and the crew of the schooner Faisl burned at the Solomon a few weeks previously.

The Mindini, with a valuable cargo of copra, is a total loss. Picnic Accident. Hit by a huge wave on the rocky coast of New South Wales a few miles from Sydney, a picnic party was hurried to the cliff edge and most of them injured. A white car, a girl, and a dog were carried a hundred yards out to sea. A lifesaver named Robert Chalmers, whose brother faced a shark monster in the water last year to rescue a boy who was attacked by a life line and held up the girl, who could not swim, while another party of lifesavers went to their aid in a boat.

So tremendous were the combers that on his way to the girl Chalmers had to release himself from the life-line, all of these paying out having been hurled off their feet and injured against the rocks. The rescuing boat barely managed to land through the surf.

BIG CONFERENCE OF SOCIAL WORKERS IN NEW YORK

Washington, D. C., April 25.—Canadian social welfare agencies are planning to send unusually large delegations from the various provinces of the Dominion to the fiftieth anniversary meeting of the National Conference of Social Work to be held here, May 15 to 23. A delegation of forty from the city of Toronto alone is expected, according to Rev. Peter Bryce, who is aiding the Conference in bringing the meeting to the attention of Canadian social workers and public officials.

In Canada more than ordinary interest exists in the Conference this year because Toronto is one of the contenders for the selection as the meeting place of the conference. The Conference has met in Canada only once before—in 1897, at Toronto.

From three to five thousand delegates from Canada, United States, Central and South American countries, and Europe are expected at the conference. The conference has become the greatest annual forum in the world for the discussion of methods and problems of relief, correction, public health, public institutions and agencies, and prevention of property and dependency.

Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce in the United States, is chairman of the local committee of arrangements. Persons of outstanding ability and wide reputation will be on the programme. "Social Work in the Life of Today," will be the general subject, and each day will be devoted to consideration of the relationship between social work and such outstanding permanent institutions of society as health, industry, the church, the home, the school, public opinion, and law and government.

The programme of the day devoted to health has been developed by a committee of which Dr. Livingstone Farrand, president of Cornell University, is chairman. The theme of the addresses that day will be how can the life of the race be further lengthened, how much, and how soon?

Rev. J. A. Ryan, of the Catholic Church, is chairman of the committee on industry, which has prepared the programme on this subject. The programme will consider how industry can fulfil the functions of production, pay adequate dividends, and yet conserve the life and health of workers.

The chairman of the committee on law and government is Prof. Roscoe Pound, dean of the law school of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass. The day on law and government will be devoted to consideration of to what extent law and government have kept pace with changing social conditions and needs and how effectively are they functioning to promote equally the welfare of all classes of citizens.

Both meetings passed resolutions urging the Government to adopt as a Government measure and pass through the remaining stages of Parliament Lady Astor's bill, which would make illegal the sale of alcoholic drinks to persons under eighteen years of age.

The ball will be a climax to the social activities of the Civil Servants during the winter season. Mr. Ozard's orchestra has been engaged to supply the dance music and a delightful supper will be served during the interval. Dancing will commence at 9 p. m. and terminate at 1 a. m. SOUTH SAANICH INSTITUTE MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the South Saanich Women's Institute was held in the Temperance Hall on Thursday evening with a good attendance of members and friends. After expressing pleasure at having the secretary, Mrs. Gold, back in her chair after her recent illness, the meeting was operated by Mrs. Gale, president. The programme for the evening called for papers on "Laws" from Mrs. Gold, and "Horticulture" from Mrs. Harris. These were read by the secretary, and proved very interesting to the members. Reports from the Local Council of Women and the Junior Girls Club were read, the latter having made plans for a barn dance to be held on May 11. Further details of this will be given later. It was decided to hold a special meeting some time in May in conjunction with the Men's Institute to hear an address on "Social Hygiene" from Rev. Mr. Archibald. A letter was received asking the Institute's help in starting a fund for crippled children, but after much discussion the members decided that each district could do better work by caring for their own.

Roll call brought forth many tempting recipes for puddings and desserts, after which the members adjourned to hear an address from Dean Clements with the Farmers' Institute. Refreshments were later served by a committee of ladies.

"We are building something so new and amusing out here at our little country place," wrote my hostess. "Do come and see it." So I next week of cooking and eating out to the little woody retreat our friends had found just out of the suburban belt and on the edge of a pretty bit of woods. Our hostess led us at the rock-walk entrance to the place and led us across the spring sward, down through the flower garden, now yellow with crocuses, daffodils and forsythia, and around a sharp corner in the low stone wall that ran along somewhat far back from the house. Here there was a semi-circular stretch of grass, shaded by fruit trees and a tall elm or two, and containing three or four rough, artistic benches, hewn from halves of tree trunks. On his knees before the stone wall knelt our host to putting the finishing touches to the new toy—their open fireplace.

MOYNEUX GOINGS PAGEANT IN LONDON

World-famous Mannequin Leads Display of Peerless Summer Modes

The career of Captain Edward Moyneux and his romantic metamorphosis from a young English officer with a fine active service record into a fashion designer of world-wide repute is of especial interest to Victorians. The news, therefore, of his latest achievement is particularly exciting. A Moyneux dress display is in Paris an event of the first social importance. The cream of the French aristocracy and leaders of English and American society clamor for the coveted cards of admission, and crowds gather outside his salon in the Rue Royale to watch the arrival and departure of the noted society beauties and the captivating mannequins whose privilege it is to display the wonderful creations of his art. Last week London achieved her long-expressed desire for a Moyneux dress-parade, when the flower court at Olympia was the background of a notable social gathering. The display, which was given in connection with The Daily Express woman's exhibition, was rendered doubly important by the introduction to London audiences of the lovely English mannequin Sumurun, whose Oriental type of beauty and generous grace has taken Paris by storm. Led by Sumurun the procession of lovely mannequins wended its way from the purple-bordered stage through the flower-bordered paths of the flower court to the arena in the centre, where the immense crowd that gathered for the display had a perfect view of one of the most memorable fashion pageants London has ever known.

The conquest of Paris, the fountain-head of all fashion, by a young English officer was in itself a marvellous achievement, and it is only fitting that London should now thus signify her appreciation of his art. Possibly in the not-too-distant future Victoria might be privileged to enjoy such a display which, in view of Captain Moyneux's marriage into a leading local family, would be of unthought interest and gratification.

MARINE STRIKE IN STATES APPARENTLY INEFFECTIVE

Strike Order of Marine Transport Workers Effective To-day—Business as Usual Is Reported at Larger Ports—No Picketing or Disorder

New York, April 25.—While police to-day picketed the waterfront, preserving the comparative quiet which ushered in the strike called by the Marine Transport Workers' Division of the I. W. U., officials of the organization, which claims 90,000 members, reported receiving messages from other seaport locals saying the strike was highly effective at Boston, San Pedro, Seattle, San Francisco, Portland, Ore., and New Orleans.

Seattle, April 25.—The strike called at midnight last night by the Marine Transport Workers' Division of the I. W. U. had little effect on the local waterfront, according to port authorities here who said only a few men were out.

Portland, April 25.—Wholesale dealers to-day announced a forty-five-cent advance in sugar, some making the rise effective at once, while others will wait until to-morrow.

New York, April 25.—Refined sugar was quoted at $10.25 per hundred pounds to-day by three local refiners, the highest price since 1920.

Ottawa, April 25.—Canada's automobile industry continues to show important advances.

Hamilton, Ont., April 25.—Mike Orduna and his wife, Sophie, succumbed last night to burns received when a can of coal oil in the hands of Orduna, who was pouring it into the stove, exploded.

EMPEROR OF CANADA SPOKE OVER PACIFIC

Ship Reported Arrival at Yokohama to San Francisco Station Direct

Operator "Sits In" and Hears Leaflet and Nauen Plants

The liner Empress of Canada, now on the coast from the Orient, is able to "put it all over" the other liners of the Canadian Pacific, according to Chief Wireless Operator W. J. Sheepwash, who is in the city to-day.

On reaching the Japanese Coast on her last outward voyage the Empress of Canada, when but 50 miles out from Yokohama, established radio communication with San Francisco, reporting "Arriving Yokohama, direct transmission bet" seven over a distance of 4,600 miles.

This is a record that has never been approached by the other Canadian Pacific ships, Mr. Sheepwash claims.

Leaflet Regularly. The liner Empress of Russia, on a recent voyage reported picking up the Leaflet Station near Oxford, England.

Wireless Operator Sheepwash, of the Empress of Canada, stated that he can "sit in" at any time when the atmospheric conditions are favorable and hear the British station working.

He also frequently hears, when crossing the Pacific Ocean, the powerful stations at Nauen, Germany; Bordeaux and Rome.

On the one side, Major Douglas pointed out, was the possibility of producing to meet all demands.

On the other, there were a large number of people who barely got the means of subsistence.

"It is finance that stands between," asserted the major. He declared definitely against Socialism.

Loans and Wheat. H. O. Powell, general manager of the Weyburn Security Bank, was recalled. He did not care to express an opinion on whether the recall of loans by the Canadian banks had affected the price of wheat in Liverpool.

MAKURA GOES TO POWELL RIVER TO LOAD PAPER

Unusual Departure Made by Canadian Australasian Line Passenger Liner Left Vancouver Last Night for Paper Port to Take on Cargo for Homeward Trip

Another port has been added to the British Columbia itinerary of the passenger liners of the Canadian Australasian Line.

To-day witnessed the unusual spectacle of the liner Makura berthed at the wharf at Powell River loading a large consignment of paper for the return trip to Australia.

Shipments of paper forwarded to Australia from Powell River and Ocean Falls are usually handled by the freighters of the Canadian Australasian Line plying in the British Columbia service.

On this occasion there was no freight steamship available. It was decided by the company's agents to divert the passenger liner Makura, the Makura left Vancouver last night for Powell River to load paper cargo for Auckland and Sydney.

To Sail Saturday. She will be back in Vancouver this week in time to complete cargo and take on passengers for the homeward voyage. The Makura is scheduled to sail from Vancouver at midnight on Friday and is due to clear from this port on Saturday morning for New Zealand and Australia via Honolulu. The ship will have a full cargo and a big complement of passengers.

GOES TO AUSTRALIA AS REPRESENTATIVE OF "DOUG" FAIRBANKS. Passengers sailing by the liner Makura on Saturday will include Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Benson and their young son Courtney, bound for Australia. Mr. Benson is going to Australia as the personal representative of Douglas Fairbanks.

Mr. Benson commenced his career in the "show" business in Vancouver seventeen years ago, when he was associated with E. R. Ricketts in the management of the old Vancouver Opera House. He subsequently was connected with the management of the Avenue and Columbia Theatres at Vancouver and later managed houses in Calgary, Edmonton and Winnipeg.

In more recent years Mr. Benson has been associated with the film industry with headquarters at Hollywood, and his friends regard his selection by "Doug" as personal representative as an indication of his success in his chosen work.

BLOOD MEAL WAS UNWELCOME CARGO

All Aboard the Canadian Traveler Thankful on Leaving It at Honolulu

In the days when the windjammer predominated on the seas a "bucket of blood" was a popular phrase among seamen.

The curious term indicated many things from crimps' resorts to a brew hooch. But a cargo of blood is something different.

The Canadian Government freighter Canadian Traveler, Captain Wilson, which is now in drydock at Esquimalt, transported a cargo of blood meal from Australia to Honolulu for the culture of the 1923 sugar crop on the Hawaiian plantations.

Officers and crew were pleased to see the last of it. The passage of the Canadian Traveler from the South Seas could hardly be termed peaceful. Two of her firemen were left in Honolulu, one in the hospital and one in jail.

Whether the cargo had any effect on one of the men is not known, but he appears to have gone blood-mad all of a sudden. One fireman, J. Middleton, of Vancouver, was assaulted by another fireman, J. J. Buckley, a New Zealander, who had signed on in the Antipodes. Buckley used a heavy iron on Middleton's head. Middleton was taken at once to the hospital in Honolulu, where, when the ship left, the physicians feared his skull was fractured. Buckley was taken to the police cells.

The officers of the Traveler report passing through a very severe storm Sunday at 10:15 A.M. for Port Angeles, Dungeness, Port Townsend and Seattle, arriving Seattle 6:45 a.m. Returning to Vancouver daily except Saturdays at midnight, arriving Victoria 9:15 a.m.

LEVIATHAN TONNAGE CAUSE OF DISPUTE

New York, April 25.—Announcement that the Leviathan has been changed so that her gross tonnage is 59,956 tons, exceeding the 56,551 tons of the Majestic, and making her the largest vessel in the world, has aroused considerable comment among shipping men.

The Shipping Board's measurements have been checked and declared correct by the United States Bureau of Navigation. The International Mercantile Marine Company, however, is not satisfied with the result, and will have the Majestic measured by the American Bureau of Shipping.

Friday M. M. officials say that the American system of measuring is different from that of Lloyd's and that it will be found the Leviathan will show more than 60,000 gross tons, thus establishing her claim to be the biggest vessel. The Leviathan is 397.5 feet long against 315 for the Majestic, carries 4,389 passengers and crew against 3,300 for the Majestic, is 104.3 feet beam against 100.1 for the Majestic.

Plenty of Sales—Not Enough Profits

Business was good, sales fairly large—but profits were not all they should be.

Such was the situation with one of the big packing houses. The executive microscope was applied and among other unfavorable things found were:

Too heavy sales of goods on which there was little or no profit and too little selling pressure on profitable lines.

Neglect of spots that were natural markets.

Once the defects were visualized the remedies were applied, sales began to mount and profits became normal.

These are the days of scientific selling.

It pays to push the goods that show reasonable profit, and it pays particularly to cultivate markets where sales possibilities are best. Haphazard selling is the road to red ink figures.

Newspaper advertising is the easy road to all the people in all markets—and newspaper advertising and scientific selling go hand in hand.

The great increase in national advertising in the newspapers reflects the tendency of the times.

SAYS CHANGE NEEDED IN BANKING SYSTEM

Commons Committee Hears Author of Douglas Credit Scheme

Ottawa, April 25.—(Canadian Press)—That the world is heading for the most dire disaster that the mind of man can conceive unless there is a change in the existing banking and financial system was the prediction made by Major Hugh Douglas, author of the Douglas Credit Scheme, before the Banking and Commerce Committee of the House last night.

The trouble centered, he declared, about the attainment for individuals of a reasonable store of the goods and services they see about them.

On the one side, Major Douglas pointed out, was the possibility of producing to meet all demands.

On the other, there were a large number of people who barely got the means of subsistence.

"It is finance that stands between," asserted the major. He declared definitely against Socialism.

Loans and Wheat. H. O. Powell, general manager of the Weyburn Security Bank, was recalled. He did not care to express an opinion on whether the recall of loans by the Canadian banks had affected the price of wheat in Liverpool.

"Do you think it did?" Chairman McLean queried of Mr. Good. "It is quite conceivable," was Mr. Good's reply.

"What interest do you think the farmer can afford to pay on borrowed money and prosper?" asked Alfred Speakman, Progressive member for Red Deer.

"We charge nine per cent," was the reply, "and I have the statements for 240 cases which show that, outside of unseasoned increments since they came into our district, these men have on the average each saved $600 a year."

"That is the most cheerful information I have got," commented Mr. Speakman.

THREE ARE FINED. A number of speeding cases were called in Provincial Police Court today. Among them was that of Kneud Henry, who was said to have travelled at 30 miles an hour around a curve. The accused explained that he was being annoyed by an erratic driver in front and sought to overtake him. "That is the way accidents happen," remarked the Court, and the fine was $20. A. H. Pease, charged similarly, was said to be travelling at the rate of 42 to 44 miles an hour on the straight away stretches and fined $25. R. Walker, similarly charged, was fined $20. In the last case the police officers stated the driver was handling his car with care, but going a little too fast. Charged with parking his car adjacent to a fire hydrant, F. M. Rattenbury was fined $5 in the City Police Court to-day. A juvenile offender charged with assaulting a Chinaman, was remanded for hearing in the Juvenile Court at noon on Saturday.

NEWS IN BRIEF That a thief had entered his store and stolen an alarm clock was reported to the city police to-day by Tin Dun. The association endorsed the candidacy of Miss Gladys Thorpe in the queen contest. In a short session of the Equimatt Police Court to-day a first offender was fined $50 for breaking the terms of the Government Liquor Act. "I will never come back again, Judge," said the accused to the court. "I can't get drunk in the city I won't come here at all." A friend paid his fine, and led the man away just as he was wishing a jovial farewell to the court. At the meeting on Tuesday of the Victoria branch of the Retail Merchants' Association it was decided to telephone Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Immigration, and Hon. S. F. It is the intention for the ferry to make one trip each way daily until about May 24 celebrations. A series of excursions to San Juan and Orcas Island will be arranged for Sundays.

ALARMS TO SAFE OFFICIALS FROM CITY HALL TOMBS New System of Bells Will Prevent Recurrence of Living Burial. No longer will city officials have to take a chance of being buried alive as part of their daily duties. In future when they find themselves locked in city vaults hermetically sealed from the outer world all they will have to do is to press a button and sound an alarm that can be heard all over the City Hall. Alarms are being installed on city vaults for this purpose, and great is the relief of Building Inspector James Barff and others who have been entombed in the past. The alarms in city vaults to-day are so loud that they can hardly fail to attract attention if any official happens to get sealed up. They are expected to bring half a dozen people rushing to the aid of the lost one. Installation of the alarm system follows the painful experience of Building Inspector Barff some weeks ago. Mr. Barff was working in the upper storey of the City Assessor's vault when some misguided official seeing no one in the bottom storey of the vault slammed the massive iron door shut with a bang and locked it. When Mr. Barff climbed down the ladder to the bottom storey of the vault he found himself helpless. He began to think of Tutankhamen and wondered whether he would become a mummy in time. Feeling that this would hardly suit him he hammered on the door and yelled at the top of his lungs. Finally someone happened to pass and heard him. An official who knew how to open the door was rushed to the scene and the Building Inspector was released. If this had happened around five o'clock, just before the hall closed for the day, he might have been suffocated. Tests of the new alarm system to-day proved extremely satisfactory. When the alarms were rung half the officials in the vicinity came rushing out of their offices to see what was the matter.

SPECTACULAR RAID SURPRISES CLUB Chinese Expecting Evangelistic Revelations Met by Police With Crow Bars. The customary calm and unruffled exterior of Chinatown was shaken last night by the insupportable work-ings of an until its ally remained with a veritable hum of excitement. As the enlightened were making ready to attend a meeting in the Chinese Theatre, where Rev. Dr. C. S. Price was to lead them into greater Scriptural teaching and precept, Chief Fry and a large posse of the city police were leading another section of the inhabitants to the police station under a warrant issued in the hard realities of the law. With persuasive eloquence Dr. Price urged his congregation to pay heed to the teachings of the Christian and believe in the power of Faith. With dramatic force Chief Fry and his men piled axe and crow-bar to urge his gathering to heed the mandates of the code. Chow Kee and 33 others were booked at the station on charge of being inmates of a gaming house located in a set of rooms known as the Oriental Club, situated on the west side of Fan Tan Alley. They deposited a total of $1,700 in bail money, and were given their liberty. In court the accused pleaded not guilty through their counsel H. W. R. Moore and were remanded until Tuesday for hearing. The police raid in which the accused were taken, was a spectacular affair, which was staged by the chief at 9 o'clock last night. Chief Fry gathered every available man from the station, including the entire staff of the City Detective Department, and surrounded the premises on all sides. To the curious eyes of bystanders the police made their way in, and after a search of the premises the long file of prisoners was taken to the station in the patrol wagon.

WARRIOR ESCAPE WHEN SHACK BURNED Aroused From Sleep to Find Beds in Flames. Two suits of underwear and one pair of trousers to-day comprises the sole assets of two occupants of Cabin 3, in rear of 440 Pembroke Street, this morning. Returning late last night the two occupants, longshoremen, reclined on their beds smoking. Apparently they dozed off into a quiet slumber, for the next thing they knew their bedclothing was on fire, and the narrow confines of the shack were filled with dense clouds of smoke. Hastily both made an exit to the street. Neighbors hastily clothed the victims of the accident. Meanwhile the fire department, called by the alarm at 2:30 a. m., responded and quelled the flames. The interior of the shack was wrecked. Fire fighters were amazed that the occupants escaped from the burning premises unharmed.

EDUCATIONAL MEETING. The Women's Progressive Conservative Club held an educational meeting last night in the Balmoral Hotel. Mrs. Randall presiding. Mrs. Frank Marshall was unanimously elected secretary, and Mrs. P. J. Sinnott was elected representative to the central executive. A fine musical programme has been promised, and a bridge, 500 and other popular games of entertainment will be provided. The business being concluded, a very interesting and instructive address was given by Mrs. Coody-Johnson on "The Influence of Motion Pictures on the Children of Our Schools." A letter was sent to Mrs. Gibson, wishing her a speedy recovery from her recent illness. Arrangements were discussed with the playing of the National Anthem.

Harrison for the Crown agreed to a remand until Monday next, stating, however, that he was anxious to proceed, as others were affected by the present case, and further charges against other persons might follow.

Came for Fruit For Ailing Mother, But Got Liquor. Stating that he wanted to come to town to obtain a special brand of fruit for his ailing mother, an Indian of the Quamichan Reservation, forgot his parent when he got here and took home a bottle of intoxicating liquor, stated Dominion Police Officer Tom O'Connell to Magistrate Jay in the City Police Court to-day when Allen W. Ferguson was charged with supplying the liquor to the Indian. In the excitement of touring the city the Indian lost sight of the dutiful object of his mission, stated Mr. O'Connell, and trouble in large portions followed. Ferguson pleaded not guilty through R. C. Lowe, who appeared on behalf of W. C. Moreaby, who will defend the accused when the case is heard on Wednesday next. The accused was granted bail at $1,000.

MANIACAL DRIVING TO STOP SAYS JUDGE. Magistrate Jay Says License Must Be Endorsed. "This speeding has got to stop. We cannot have people driving like maniacs all over the country," stated Magistrate Jay in the provincial police court to-day when he sentenced S. Allen to a fine of $50 with the option of spending one month in jail in default of payment. Following a trap set by the Provincial police between Parson's Bridge and the Four-Mile Hill on the Island Highway on Sunday, Charles Havelock (green) charged with speeding, was driving between forty-two and forty-four miles an hour, stated Constable Owens, who testified that the accused twice refused to stop when called upon to do so by the witness and Constable Irving. The accused replied that he was a tourist and did not know the laws of this country. It was an old car and he had seven passengers, he said. "It is surprising that these old cars can do this," observed Magistrate Jay, as he fined the accused $25. P. S. Allen, similarly charged, was said to have travelled at the rate of forty-four to fifty miles an hour, driving with one hand on the wheel and another round the waist of a girl accompanying him. Constable Owens urged that the license of this driver be cancelled. Constable Irving corroborated the former witness, stating that he too saw Allen driving with his left hand and the right around the wheel. "The accused denied the single-handed driving, but pleaded guilty to the charge of speeding. "The fact is, together, it is driving like a maniac," observed Magistrate Jay as he fined the accused and ordered him to present a driver's license to-morrow, with endorsement with the facts of the prosecution.

EX-POLICEMAN JAILED FOR THEFT Twelve Months Imprisonment on Each of Eight Counts. Footprints Aid to Capture House Breaker. Pointing out that his thefts and forgeries had covered a period of several months before his arrest, Magistrate Jay sentenced John Murray Mowat to twelve months imprisonment on each of eight charges, to run concurrently, in the city police court to-day. Mowat was convicted of breaking and entering the home of J. H. Dunkley, 2509 Vancouver Street, and also upon seven counts of obtaining by false cheques. The accused pleaded that he stole to get food for his family. Captain Sutherland on behalf of the Salvation Army blasted the accused, stating that a jail sentence would lose a soldier's pension of $35 a month for the accused who had a wife and family to support. Magistrate Jay, in passing sentence, pointed out personal sympathy with the accused could not override the results of his serious offences. The accused stated he had been a watchmaker and disabled during the war, and that he had served three years on the Vancouver police force. Blasted for the theft of footprints in the Dunkley garden was shown to the court, but not entered as evidence. Mowat was convicted of obtaining over $200 by cheques from the Dunkley home. Detectives Phipps and McLellan were responsible for the capture of the man, trailing him from a suit of clothes obtained from the firm of J. N. Harvey, Ltd.

WILL CASE IS AGAIN IN COURT. Mrs. Emma Hood Gives Evidence Regarding Her Sister. Narrates Incidents Alleged to Show Mental Instability. Mrs. Emma Hood was the first witness this morning in the trial of the case in which an effort is being made to break the will of her sister, the late Mrs. Amelia Collins, which left the bulk of her estate to her companion, Miss Elizabeth Lang. Mrs. Hood examined by D. S. Tait, testified to the existence of insanity in her family. She testified that Mrs. Collins had told her witness that her husband, Mr. Hood, was going to have improper relations with Mr. Hood's children. After this witness had as little as possible to do with Mrs. Collins. On other occasions Mrs. Collins and another sister, Mrs. Cogan, had said that her husband was no good. "Our case," remarked H. W. R. Moore, who is appearing for the other side, is that these accusations are the result of a disordered imagination on the part of Mrs. Hood. "Pardon me but it is not," said Mrs. Hood. "These ideas regarding your husband and children," asked Mr. Tait, "Did Mrs. Collins persist in them?" Yes, she did. She kept repeating them. "Did you ever hear any talk from Mrs. Collins about what she was going to do with her money?" "Always Talking About Money" "You could get into that house without hearing talk about money, and her relatives, and that they were not going to get any of it," said Mrs. Hood. "Did she ever speak about her husband's body?" "Yes, she was afraid somebody was going to raise it." "There was a stepson of Mrs. Collins, a half-brother whom Mrs. Collins did not treat very well. Later Mrs. Collins told her $500 had passed and they would not be troubled with the boy any more. Mrs. Collins did not say who got the money. Witness had never heard of the boy again. She advertised for him a few weeks ago, but got no answer. Family Difficulties. Witness at one time asked Mrs. Collins to help their mother, but Mrs. Collins refused. A remark by the Court that witness was doing her best to blackmail Mrs. Collins drew from her the reply, "Am I not compelled to come here and do it?" "If it was not for the money in it, you would do it, I presume," said the Court. On cross-examination, Mrs. Hood said Mrs. Collins was about sixteen when she got married, and there was a fact that your mother never married the way she did?" "Not that I know." "Isn't it a fact that your mother preferred to live with Mrs. Reese, rather than any of her three daughters in Victoria?" Mrs. Hood was asked. "No. If she had any preference it would be for me. I was always kind to all my people, and tried to shield them in everything." Had Met With Foul Play. Her brother, she testified, was not right in his mind and had shown violent temper by knocking down cattle. He went east to get married and was drowned. She understood from the reports, that he had committed suicide. Witness did not know that in a subsequent investigation the detective said that the brother had met with foul play. Witness said Mrs. Collins had been afraid she might give Mrs. Collins hypodermic injections, but there was no ground whatever for such a suggestion. There was a niece, Gwendolyn Reese, who stayed with Mrs. Collins, and whom Mrs. Collins would not afterwards give back to her parents. "So that there was one relative that Mrs. Collins was fond of?" enquired Mr. Moore. "I don't know whether she was fond of her or not. I know she didn't like her relatives," said witness. Mrs. Hood was still on the witness stand when Court adjourned for lunch.

Y.W.C.A. DRIVE STARTS HERE Luncheon Launches Campaign for Building Fund. The Y. W. C. A. building fund campaign received an enthusiastic start at the inaugural luncheon held this afternoon in the Stobart-Pease Building. Alderman Sargent attended in the unavoidable absence through illness of Mayor Hayward, and performed the informal opening ceremony, speaking in praise of the excellent work of the association and wishing success to their further undertaking. Mrs. Moore's Statement. Mrs. Bishop presided at the luncheon and introduced the speaker, Mrs. Moore, who gave an eloquent little address, emphasizing the fact that the workers must thoroughly understand the aims and objects of the Y. W. C. A. and must be enthusiastic themselves for its success before they could rouse enthusiasm in the public. Above all things she urged them to impress upon people that the drive was not to cover a deficit, but to promote public interest in the future work of the association. Mrs. Moore fully endorsed the suggestion made recently by the ladies of the Y. W. C. A. camp at Banff. Some sixty guests attended the luncheon. Rotarians, Kiwanians, Gyros, Chamber of Commerce and Y. M. C. A. being well represented. The tables were gaily decorated in the "Y" colors, with daffodils and narcissus. The committee in charge expressed such appreciation of the generosity of local firms who had contributed to the menu, among the donors being Messrs. David Spencer, Ltd., Hudson's Bay Co., H. O. The Advancement of Science Keeps Up New Help Found for the Weak and Debilitated

SCIENTIFIC progress has become so rapid that it is almost impossible for the average person to keep up with the wonderful discoveries that are leading to complete mastery of disease. We have come to feel that there is really no limit to what the tireless workers in the field of medical research can achieve.

The cause of the extreme weakness of body and mind and the nervous exhaustion that is so often seen in men and women, and for which they have not been able to account, has been found. And, what is much more important to the thousands thus afflicted, a way has been discovered to relieve these symptoms and promptly restore vigor to the body.

It has been found that the loss of weight, strength and energy that brings distress and depression of mind to countless men and women, is often due solely to the fact that the inorganic elements present in the food they eat are not properly utilized by the millions of little cells of which our tissues are composed. When these cells fail to receive the proper amount of these inorganic elements—when they are faced by a famine—they lessen their functional activity in order to escape death through starvation. In other words, these cells curtail their production of vital energy and, as a consequence, the entire body is weakened, just as it is after a day of extremely hard labor if we do not take time for a mid-day lunch and rest.

In Wincarnis—the reconstructive tonic—are combined the inorganic elements present in the food we eat, and which the cells of the body require in order to produce strength and energy and rebuild tissue. When taken three or four times a day, Wincarnis furnishes the cells with an abundance of the necessary inorganic elements, and the body promptly regains its lost vigor, weight is restored, and there is a full recovery of energy. For almost half-a-century, physicians have prescribed Wincarnis for the weak, anemic, nervous and run-down.

REMARKABLE CURES APPARENT AT LARGE CHINESE MEETING

Three Hundred Answer Altar Call, While Many Could Not Come

Wonderful Demonstration in Local Chinatown

At the special mass meeting of Chinese which ran into the early hours of this morning, Rev. Dr. C. S. Price enacted some more remarkable and unusual healings which had a touch of the sensational. The meeting was held in the New Chinese Theatre, on the corner of Government and Cormorant Streets, following the general meeting at the Arena. Over 800 Chinese made their way into the building, while some 300 Oriental were turned away from the doors. Eyesight was restored and organic troubles healed, according to statements made by the sick and infirm, prayed for. Their statements were interpreted by Lee Chow and missionaries who attended. Two Chinese women were tested after they had been prayed for, and they were able to see from the eyes in which they were stated to be blind. Deaf were made to hear, tests being given those who had been treated. Most of the cases were instantly healed, and testimonies given to the audience who applauded vociferously.

Pathetic Case.

One Chinese girl was carried to the stage, not being able to move her limbs, so weak was her condition. She was ill with tuberculosis of the lungs. Her body was so weak that it could not support itself even to sit up, but had to be propped against pillows so that Dr. Price might be able to pray for her and anoint her with oil. She was apparently touched by the power of God, her body shaking all over. She lay on the stage moaning. Several cases were prayed for, while she was under power of God. One girl who had organic troubles and tonsillitis had fallen to the platform, but after awhile recovered and jumped to her feet shouting praises to the Lord, and yelling at the top of her voice "Thank you Jesus." Meanwhile the very sick girl apparently received her healing, and not long after exclamations of joy came from her lips. "Praise God," she said in Chinese. "I will be able to stay up." The remark was greeted with applause from the audience. Tears of joy came to her eyes and she was only subdued after she had offered up a prayer to God for the healing.

Two Sisters.

It was not long after this that her sister came to the stage to be prayed for. She received an instant healing, if the demonstration which she gave was any criterion. She complained of throat and tonsil trouble, her voice hardly being audible. Dr. Price anointed her with oil and commanded in the name of Jesus of Nazareth that the troubles leave the body. She fell to the stage every limb a quiver. It was but a few moments after that she gave her first demonstration. Yelling praises to the Lord at the top of her voice so that she could be heard in the streets she proved to those present that she no longer had a sore throat or tonsillitis. "Glory to God" she said in Chinese and offered a prayer to God for her healing and to Dr. Price and those Chinese in town who had not heard of Jesus Christ, and his power to heal.

COMING TO VICTORIA

Mr. R. H. Clive, and the Hon. Mrs. Clive will be visitors to Victoria in June from Peking, China, where Mr. Clive holds an important position with the British Embassy. His wife is a daughter of Lord Muir Mackenzie, and sister of the famous musician, Lady Burn and party are due here for a visit on the next inbound sailing of the Empress of Russia.

One Chinaman who had injured his back at the mills and who had been attending a chiropractor for a remedy took the platform and testified that he had been cured through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and his power to heal. He could not bend again back before but was able to touch the ground with his hands, he stated, following the healing. A woman with a dislocated shoulder, heart disease and a crooked spine was touched by the power of God Dr. Price asserted. Rheumatism, neuritis, deafness, blindness, and many other maladies were all treated.

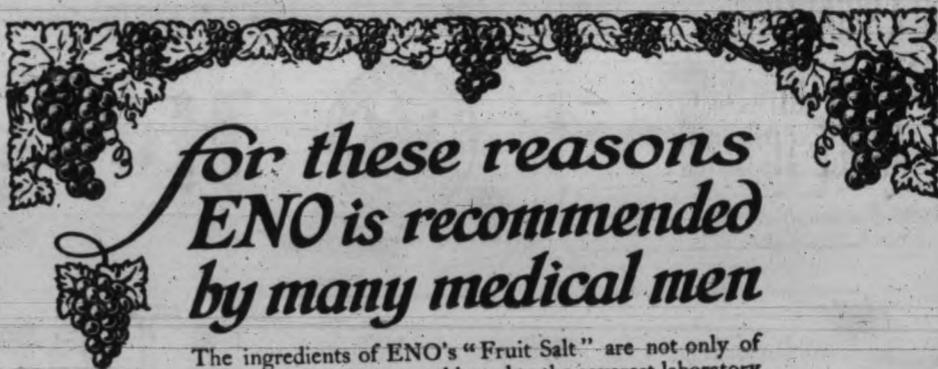

"We have come to-night to bow before the feet of Jesus," stated Dr. Price, who went on to tell in a simple language which was interpreted to his audience the life of Christ, and how healing might be secured by faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and giving a 100 per cent consecration. Three hundred came to the platform and received cards. Three calls had to be made, and then there were 150 persons in the audience who were not able to come to the stage but were prayed for.

It was a wonderful meeting, and Dr. Price has decided to repeat it again to-night, following his service at the Arena.

DO A GOOD TURN DAILY IS THE CHIEF'S ADVICE TO SCOUTS

Urges Canadian Boys to At- tend Scout "Jamboree" in England

"Never mind giving yourself a little bit of discomfort, try to do a good turn for somebody every chance you get," was the simple message which General Sir Robert Baden-Powell, chief Scout, brought to Victoria Scouts when he addressed them at their big rally in Beacon Hill Park yesterday afternoon.

Sir Robert reminded the boys of the Scout "jamboree" to be held in England next year when boys from all over the Empire will gather in camp. "Canada must be there," he urged. "I do hope you will be sure to send over a good team and show them what you are made of. You will find a lot of Scouts just like yourselves, bare knees, ugly faces, good hearts. The Prince of Wales has been invited to come down and look at the Scouts in camp. The Prince says he will not only look in, but will come down and live with them in camp."

Sir Robert asked the Cubs in Victoria to get into correspondence with the Cubs in England, and tell them all about Victoria and Canada. "They think over there that you live among grizzly bears," he said. "You can load up your letters with grizzly bears as much as you like, but if you write you will certainly do them a good turn."

Members of the Scout executive present yesterday included:

H. T. Ravenhill, chairman; the vice-chairman, A. R. Sherwood; Kyrle Symons, A. D. Muskell, representing Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E.; Mrs. John Wood, Mrs. Bissell, Mrs. Gardiner, Mrs. A. E. Kent and J. J. Hill, honorary secretary. Others included Rev. W. Leveridge, scoutmaster from Cumberland, and Rev. Christopher Reid.

ALMOST STRANGERS.

Day policeman (relieving night man)—"How's the missus?"

Night Policeman—"I don't know; haven't seen her for ten years."

Night Policeman—"But ye're living together, aren't ye?"

Night Policeman—"Yes, but she's a charwoman, an' is out all day, an' I'm out all night, so we're never met since we came back from our honeymoon."

STATES NEEDS OF ALL CANADA STUDIED

Beatty Says No Sectional Views Adopted by C.P.R.

Head of System Speaks of Immigration

Hamilton, Ont., April 25.—E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, addressed the annual meeting of the Hamilton Chamber of Commerce last night, making special reference to the problems of transportation.

Referring to some of Canada's problems, he declared that a good type of immigrants was a prime need and he went on to show how the proper solution of the immigration problem would serve to benefit, and as a whole assist in the return to more prosperous conditions.

Immigration would assist the farmers, it was pointed out, and tend to develop the great wealth of raw materials of Canada. The farmers depended upon the export market, which was uncertain in these days of international disturbances.

Speaking of taxation, he said lighter burdens were an encouragement for people to settle in Canada. They would also release the surplus incomes of Canadians for investment in Canadian enterprise.

Mr. Beatty said in part: "The company with which I am associated is Canadian and English in ownership to a paramount extent. Sixty-five per cent. of its stock is held in Great Britain and Canada and eighty-seven per cent. of its ranking securities owned by citizens of the Empire."

"Its chief competitor is the National Railways, and in many quarters the chief weapon of competition is the slogan, 'Patronize the People's Railway and Save Taxes.' This slogan, I am led to believe, is not condoned by the chief executive officers of that railway because they realize it is unfair and also disruptive of the morale of their own institution in that reliance for support is put upon sentiment and not upon service, which, in the last analysis, we must all expect to be judged."

Basis of Dollars and Cents.

"If it were necessary it would be easy to answer such a slogan on the basis of the results in dollars and cents to the individual shipper. Unquestionably if the National Railways progress and succeed the burden on the taxpayer will be lessened, and as representing the largest taxpayer in Canada, I may say to you—quite frankly, that this result, if accomplished, would appeal to me very strongly, the more so as the factors which contribute to the success of the National Railways are the same factors which will make possible the greater success of the Canadian Pacific. But there is another expense that takes more out of the pockets of the business community than taxes, and that is freight and passenger tolls. In order to enable the people of this country to enjoy the most rates consistent with the protection of credit and proper revenue returns, the Railway Commission, by direction of the Governor-in-Council, has ordained that the earnings of the Canadian Pacific should be used as a basis for fixing rates in this country. I would not think that to be a safe or proper method under normal conditions and with a normal rate of return. It has been induced, however, by the fact that the railways constituting the Government system were not built for competition but in many cases for use as a public utility. It follows that the larger the business of the Canadian Pacific, the greater its revenues and ultimately the lower the tolls. In other words, the rates will be fixed on what the Canadian Pacific can operate for and the larger the business the lower its operating rates, and the lower the rates to the shipper in Canada."

Public Duty.

"It is always a disability under which any railway official labors that he is believed to represent from the outset a prejudiced and partial point of view and to be entirely un mindful of the rights or interests of those upon whom he must depend if his business is to prosper," continued Mr. Beatty. "Nothing could be farther from the facts. Any railway official who fails to recognize the public duties of himself and his corporation would have a very short life in a modern organization. It is this which leads me to suggest to you that one of the greatest difficulties and the greatest dangers of the fact that periodically in some sections of the country, in order to secure some advantage over other sections, political pressure is utilized to force the local interests, the adoption of measures by railway companies and the establishment of lower rates which are not in the best interests of the country as a whole and most unfair to the carrier."

Railway Commission.

"Over twenty years ago this country enacted the Railway Act of Canada. A very forward piece of legislation designed to settle in an independent manner differences between the public and the carriers. It conferred on the Railway Commission powers broader than those enjoyed by any other similar tribunal and these powers have been invoked by provinces, municipalities, public bodies and individuals almost continually. The results of their deliberations are not always satisfactory to the carriers, but for the purpose of their work, to use the appropriate language of the Privy Council, the Commission not only has the advantage of hearing the evidence and following the cross-examination, but brings to bear the experience of its own members, extending in many cases over a considerable number of years, and thus acquires a wisdom and familiarity with railway problems which is not to be found in any other tribunal. It has in addition at its disposal a permanent staff of experts, officials trained in the various branches of the work of the board and able to advise the Commission on the many intricate and more or less technical subjects that are before the board for adjudication. It follows that a decision of the board so arrived at as to what may constitute under all the circumstances a fair and reasonable rate could not, except for extraordinary causes, be usefully reviewed by your Excellency's advisers. Indeed, for your Excellency's advisers to take upon themselves to weigh the evidence produced and substitute their own judgment for the judgment of the board upon the question of fact arising on the issue and to be determined upon such evidence would defeat the purpose for which the Board of Railway Commissioners was created, and would in the end, be highly prejudicial to the public interest."

With Ability.

"I subscribe to these views because I believe they represent in very accurate language the purpose of Parliament in establishing this tribunal. I believe also that this tribunal has performed remarkably efficiently and with great ability and diligence the public work it was designed to perform."

The alternatives would be rates fixed for political expediency, which would be disastrous, or more freedom for the carriers, and I am sure that those who believe that the public interest requires reasonable regulation of all public service corporations.

In Public Eye.

"I mention the Railway Commission because railways and railroads are much in the public eye. Its deliberations come in for considerable public comment, and I might even add that certain gentlemen in public life, who have professed respect to the Railway Commission which they undoubtedly regard as either advantageous or at least politically expedient, with whose views the Railway Commission disrespects those months of deliberation and the hearing of interests from all parts of the country, periodically advocate its abolition or a change in its present constitution. It may be human to regard one who disagrees with your views as wrong, but it does not necessarily follow that he is a knave or incompetent or that a good political slogan is necessarily founded on a sound economic fact. Neither does it follow that a railway company which opposes an application from British Columbia or Ontario has necessarily thrown in its lot with Manitoba or Quebec. No transcontinental railway company can afford to be sectional in its ambitions; neither can it disregard its state in any province and its business in that province. Railway companies have been known by their activities to build up communities by providing facilities which enable these communities to reach their own national developments. A railway cannot make a province prosperous, but it can contribute to its prosperity by enabling it to realize its own destiny, and I can assure you, gentlemen, that when a corporation has a few hundred millions at stake in any part of Canada, it is administering in a way that contains some element of sanity. It is not going to be un mindful of that investment or the result of it of the increase in the prosperity of that part and the rest of Canada."

Immigration.

"This country has two other problems which are of great importance. One is immigration and the second is taxation. In the former we have proceeded in framing our policies in a tortoise-like slowness which has been irritating, particularly when contrasted with the forward and progressive policies of the other parts of the Empire. Fortunately, some agencies were able to counteract the propaganda of despondency to a limited extent and immigrants are now coming forward and many more will come forward in consequence of the optimism and confidence which prevails, and also the removing of certain Government restrictions, which have denied up to now entry of some of the finest types of immigrants."

"We must ensure that the entry of suitable men willing to work and who are otherwise fitted to enter the country is not prevented. Our industrial expansion is equally important as our agricultural expansion, because Canada is in sight of becoming an industrial as well as an agricultural country, and it is economically unsound to count on recruiting that labor from an agricultural population of agricultural immigrants. That fatal mistake was made by the United States.

"What we see into need is what I might call a 'balanced immigration,' which would supply our industries as well as our farmers with the best available help. . . . If only the doors of immigration are kept open workers who for generations have been identified with highly skilled trades and crafts."

Lower Taxation.

"I referred to the subject of taxation, because, being a young country with a sparse population and great undeveloped resources, the lightening of taxation would have two very important consequences. In the first place it would be an inducement to the overtaxed inhabitants in other countries to come to a country where their burdens would be lighter, and it would release for industrial and commercial development the surplus incomes of those Canadians who would be glad to invest their surplus in Canadian enterprises."

50% of all diseases start from constipation

—yet this dangerous ailment is becoming more common every day.

It is simply because our concentrated modern diet gives our intestinal muscles too little work to do. They grow soft and flabby—fail to act—and our bodies are flooded with poisons!

Today we realize the folly of trying to whip the weakened system into action with drugs and stimulants. Only the proper food can give the intestinal muscles regular, natural exercise.

That is why so many physicians and hospitals are prescribing Fleischmann's Yeast today. Every cake of Fleischmann's Yeast consists of millions of tiny living plants, which mix with the waste products in the intestine, softening them, and increasing their bulk. This greater bulk gently encourages the muscles to act, and at the same time strengthens them by offering just the resistance they need.

Your own physician will heartily endorse this principle of regularly exercising the intestinal muscles as the only way to relieve constipation and all its evils.

Be sure you get Fleischmann's Yeast—yeast in its natural fresh form. Experiments have shown that yeast corrects constipation only when its cells are alive and active—that it loses its laxative effect when these cells are "killed" and dried.

Fleischmann's Yeast is in no sense a purgative and does not produce immediate violent action. It is a nourishing food—not a digestion-disturbing medicine—and like any other food, it must be eaten regularly to secure results.

Eat at least 2 or 3 cakes a day—plain, or dissolved in water, milk, or fruit juices—preferably half an hour before a meal, or the last thing at night. Get several cakes at a time—they will keep in a cool, dry place for several days. Be sure you get Fleischmann's Yeast. All grocers have it. Send for free booklet, "The New Found Value of Fleischmann's Yeast in Building Health." The Fleischmann Company, 1166 Burrard Street, Vancouver, B. C.

"Nothing equal to it for a strength-builder"

A Louisiana housewife writes: "I have always been somewhat constipated. I started Fleischmann's Yeast last September and when I eat from two to three yeast cakes per day, I am never bothered that way, and since taking have gained in weight, look better and feel wonderfully invigorated. I think there is nothing equal to it for a strength builder and corrector for constipation."

FOR THE CHILDREN
The Sandman Story
For To-night
TWO LITTLE BUTTERFLIES.
Two butterflies sat on a bush in a garden one day idly awaiting their wings in the warm sunlight when a bird that was on the ground nearby flew up in the tree. "Ah, that I could live up in a tree and see the world as the birds do instead of staying down here in the garden," said one butterfly.

"Come," coaxed the mother bird, "see who can get the butterfly. I am sure it looks good enough to eat; it is so yellow. Give a quick peck at its head or wings."
Butterfly did not wait to hear more. Its wings were spread and down it flew to the garden and happened to alight right beside the sister it had left.
"Wasn't it pleasant up there?" asked the sister.
"It is too high up in the trees and it makes me dizzy," replied butterfly. "And, sister, we must be careful to get out of the way when a bird comes into the garden, for do you know they admire our yellow color so much they think we look good enough to eat and some day one might be tempted to do so."

NEW ETHYLENE IS DEMONSTRATED
Toronto Medical Men Learn About Anaesthetic
Toronto, April 25.—Recent experiments with ethylene as a general anaesthetic, in which use it has been found to have superior qualities, were described by Dr. W. E. Brown, assistant anaesthetist at the Toronto General Hospital, at a meeting of the Toronto Academy of Medicine last night. He also told of how he had been able to produce partial analgesia, that is, loss of pain without loss of consciousness, with a mixture of ethylene, nitrous oxide and oxygen. Demonstrations were carried out by Dr. Brown.
Dr. F. C. Banting, discoverer of insulin, was, at his own request, the first human subject to have ethylene administered.
Dr. Banting demonstrated on Dr. Banting that eighty per cent of ethylene with twenty per cent oxygen was just insufficient to produce complete anaesthesia. A minute or two after the administration of the gas, was discontinued, Dr. Banting was on his feet again smiling and feeling no ill effects.

Another experiment was conducted on a medical student who inhaled a mixture of ethylene, nitrous oxide and oxygen. Although conscious of what was going on around him, the student did not feel any discomfort when a needle was pierced through his skin.
WILLIE'S PART.
Proud and pompous, the doctor was strolling down the street, when he was accosted by a poor woman. "I expect you are making a good thing out of attending to that rich Smith boy," suggested the lady. "Oh, yes, fairly good." "Well," whispered the lady, "I hope you won't forget that it was my Willie, who threw the brick that hit him."

While striving with this matter the other was brought to his attention. Also at the time of the round-up Barbee reported a black-and-white steer missing, the prize of the beef herd. Strayed into some far out-of-the-way canon, perhaps. But as the old days went by other cattle finally totalling a score, were reported missing.
And Steve remembered how one evening he and Terry from a log had watched Blenham driving off a string of steers.
The day came when Steve put his cattle into Drop Off Valley. There he had a black-and-white steer and when they fled through the gate of the round-up corral, again as they were turned into the upland range. Two hundred and thirty-four head here I defy Blenham or the devil himself to steal a single one of them," said Steve positively.

"You haven't!" she interrupted. "Steve Packard, I don't believe you ever had an idea in your life. Don't you know—don't you know what's going with those steers up there?"
"Do you?"
"You just bet your life I do! It's that crook and a Yellow Barbee, in cahoots with that crook of a Blenham who's taking orders from that crook of an old Hell-Fire Packard! Can't you see their play? I'll take you into Drop Off Valley and show you and Blenham and Barbee can watch all they please and never guess we're there. For there's a way up that not even Blenham knows and where they will never look for us. Come on, Steve Packard; use a spur!"
She shot by him, leading the way. At last Terry brought him down into a creek-bed and the bottom of a steep-sided canon. They were close together and she gripped his arm in sudden amazement while she threw out one hand pointing. He heard her gasp; he looked upward; an astonished ejaculation broke from his own lips.
A breathless moment and already the thing, appearing from the black nothingness, silhouetted but a moment against the sky, was gone and he vaguely saw Terry's face turned toward him while they sought to find each other's eyes and know if each had seen what the other had glimpsed.
"It's impossible!" he muttered. "We are imagining things."
"Wait!" said Terry. "Maybe, after all—"
They waited impatiently, their blood tingling. And in a very few moments there was, seeming absurd and impossible, a repetition of the vision which had so startled them; a black form at the head of the cliffs, the field of star-strewn sky back of it limning it into vivid distinctness—the ebon bulk of a steed moving straight out from the top of the precipice, straight out a half-dozen or more feet into the empty space, then slowly descending through the air, gone silently in the deep shadows of the canon below!

PROBLEMS IN HISTORY
Do You Know—
Whether the outcome of the people's resistance to the French kings was the same as that of the resistance in England?
Do You Know—
What system for buying the serfdom of the French nobility to the crown was that eventually caused the French revolution?
Answers to to-morrow's installment of H. G. Wells' "Outline of History."

their pay was as important a one to the generals of that time as the question of food or munitions. As the long struggle dragged on from phase to phase, and the financial distress of the land increased the commanders of both sides were forced to fall back upon the looting of towns and villages, both for supplying and to make up the arrears of their soldiers' pay.
The soldiers became therefore more and more brigand-like living on the country, and the Thirty Years' War set up a tradition of looting as a legitimate operation in warfare and of outrage as a soldier's privilege that has survived the good name of Germany right down to the great war of 1914.
Starving Camp Followers.
The earlier chapters of Defoe's "Memoirs of a Cavalier," with their vivid description of the massacre and burning of Magdeburg, will give the reader a far better idea of the warfare of this time than any formal history. So harried was the land that the farmers ceased to cultivate, what snatch crops could be harvested were hidden away, and great crowds of starving women and children became camp followers of the armies, and supplied a thievish tail to the rouglier plundering.
At the close of the struggle all Germany was ruined and desolate. Central Europe did not fully recover from the robberies and devastations for a century.
Here we can but name Tilly and Wallenstein, the great plunderer captains on the Habsburg side, and Gustavus Adolphus, the king of Sweden, the Lion of the North, the champion of the Protestants, whose dream was to make the Baltic sea a "Swedish lake."
Gustavus Adolphus was killed in his decisive victory over Wallenstein at Lutzen (1632), and Wallenstein was murdered in 1634. In 1648 the princes and diplomatists gathered amidst the ruins they had made to patch up the affairs of central Europe at the peace of Westphalia.
By that peace the power of the emperor was reduced to a shadow, and the acquisition of Alsace brought France up to the Rhine.
And one German prince, the Hohenzollern elector of Brandenburg, acquired so much territory as to become the greatest German power next to the emperor, a power that presently (1701) became the kingdom of Prussia.
The treaty also recognized two long accomplished facts, the separation from the empire and the complete independence of both Holland and Switzerland.

ESQUIMALT BOARD ADJOURNS SESSION

School Board Rises Out of Respect to Late Councillor Bridle

After discussion lasting twenty minutes the members of the Esquimalt School Board at the regular meeting at the Lamson Street School last night, adopted a motion to adjourn out of respect to the memory of the late Councillor George Bridle, whose sudden death shocked the district twenty-four hours before.

Presentation Made.
The only business transacted was the presentation of portraits of their Majesties King George and Queen Mary, donated by Trustee Mulcahy to the school.

In making the presentation to Principal Leonard Tait, Trustee Mulcahy stated he had noted the omission from the pictures already owned by the school. The Mulcahy donation is to be hung in the main entrance hall. To these will be added the gift of a set of historical pictures now pending to the school from the I. O. D. E. These latter pictures are already framed, and presentation will be made on a day to be fixed shortly, it was stated.

Sympathy For Bereaved.
In opening the meeting Chairman B. Mantrop paid a tribute to the memory of the late George Bridle. "While many might have disagreed with his views there were none who would impugn his integrity or personal honesty. I am sure this board joins me in expressing our sincerest sympathies with his widow, Mrs. Bridle," he said.

Trustee Mulcahy supported the chairman's remarks, moving that a letter of sympathy be sent to the widow, and that the Board adjourn its session for one week as a mark of respect to the memory of the late councillor. Trustee Mrs. Isbister seconded the motion. "I think the business of this meeting should be transacted without any disrespect," commented the chairman.

"It is not a matter of showing disrespect so much as showing respect," said Trustee Mulcahy. "It is only due, the late Councillor Bridle, who was a member of long standing in this municipality."

"I would not like to oppose Trustee Mulcahy's motion, coupled as it is with a motion to adjourn out of respect," stated Trustee Sisman. "I am much moved by the death of Councillor Bridle, but he was not a member of this board. He was a member of the Council, and it was their duty to adjourn as they did," supplied Trustee J. L. Parkinson, who moved an amendment to the effect that a letter of condolence be sent to Mrs. Bridle.

The Parkinson amendment had been seconded by Mayor Sisman, put to the meeting and carried, when Mrs. Isbister called for the question on the Mulcahy motion to adjourn. Trustee Mulcahy pointed out that the business of the board was already a week in advance, and stated he for one would be satisfied to leave accounts and pressing business in the hands of the chairman and secretary. The Mulcahy motion was then put and carried without further dissent.

Following the presentation of the pictures of their Majesties made at this stage Mayor Mulcahy was thanked by the chairman on behalf of the board for his kindly donation, and the board rose.

TALKS TO TEACHERS ABOUT GIRL GUIDES

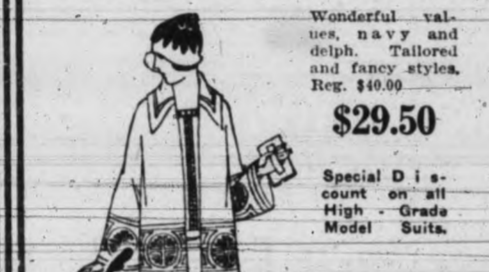

Lady Baden-Powell spoke yesterday afternoon to the teachers and educationists of Victoria at a meeting in the High School auditorium. She gave a history of the Girl Guide movement and explained its purpose. She explained that she had no idea of telling Canadians what they should do in regard to the Girl Guide movement, or to claim that it could be adopted here in its entirety, but she asked the audience to examine it and to support it if they found it good and practical.

In reply to a question asked by someone in the audience, Lady Baden-Powell told briefly the methods of organization. At the conclusion of her remarks she was presented with a bouquet by the High School teachers. The chair was occupied by H. Charlesworth.
