Maintenance Men Forced Out of Nova Scotia Mines

ALL COAL MINES AFFECTED BY STRIKE IN NOVA SCOTIA ARE NOW CLOSELY PICKETED

Men Opposing British Empire Steel Corporation Take Action on Advice of Heads of International Union; Withdrawal of Maintenance Men Disturbs New Waterford, Which Depends on Plant for Light and Water

Glace Bay, N.S., June 4.—The struggle in Nova Scotia between the British Empire Steel Corporation and its mine employees, about to enter its fourth month, has assumed a new phase: John W. MacLeod, district president of the United Mine Workers of America, claiming he was following the advice of International President J. L. Lewis to prosecute "a vigorous fight," ordered the picketing of all mines in an endeavor to prevent further maintenance work by other than company officials.

Up to a late hour this morning no disturbances were reported at any of the mines. The United Mine Workers' order followed closely upon the publication of the reply of J. E. McLurg, vice-president of the corporation, to the offer made by Hon. James Murdoch, Federal Minister of Labor, at the instance of the miners' executive, to assume the role of mediator, provided both parties to the dispute were agreed. The vice-president, in his reply, stated "our opinion is that under conditions as they now exist arbitration is not necessary."

Particularly at the Middle Atlantic States, where the heat has been most intense the last day or two, and the southern states due to have the least water continue with them, it is forecast.

New York City, panting amid a haze of humidity with the mercury 84 before noon, reported a death today and six prosternations. Particularly at the Middle Atlantic States, where the heat has been most intense the last day or two, and the southern states due to have the least water continue with them, it is forecast.

For yesterday New York reported a temperature of 92, Philadelphia 94 and Washington, D.C., the highest in the country.

Continuance of high temperatures, prevalent from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic for several days, was forecast by the weather observers for at least forty-eight hours longer at many points.

New York, June 4.—A suggestion for United States and French cooperation in the search for the missing Amundsen-Ellsworth North Pole flying expedition is made in dispatches from Oslo, Norway.

IS SOON TO TAKE UP POST IN AUSTRALIA; SIR JOHN L. BAIRD

Australia will shortly have as its Governor-General Major-General Sir John Lawrence Baird, named to succeed Lord Forster. A member of the British diplomatic service for years, he won the Distinguished Service Cross during the war. This week he was included in the King's birthday list of honors, being made a Knight-Commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

CARNIVAL PARADE TO BE FILMED BY NEWS REEL FIRMS

The Dominion Day parade, featuring the Crystal Garden Carnival, will be one of the most impressive demonstrations ever staged in Victoria. Organization is now well advanced, and indicates that the display will be several miles in length.

One of the points which the committee in charge of this feature of the carnival wish the public to keep to the fore is the value of this demonstration as an advertisement for the city.

Pathé, Fox Films, and other leading moving picture concerns have announced their intention to include the celebration in their world-wide advertising campaign.

The area to be traversed will extend from northern Douglas Street to Beacon Hill Park. Police arrangements are being made to ensure that no invasion of the roadways will take place, but the committee are hopeful of hearty accord by the citizens with this essential matter.

The Carnival Committee has in hand a series of four historical floats, depicting events of importance to Victoria and Vancouver Island. The first of these represents the arrival of Capt. Cook at Nootka, the second will portray the founding of Fort Victoria and the Bastion, the third will feature the founding of the colony of Vancouver Island, with well known citizens representing Governor Blanchard and Kennedy, while the fourth will show the old ships, where ships were cleaned in the early days, and in comparison a replica of the new Esquimalt drydock.

As escorts to these historical floats, the service clubs are being appointed to provide war parties of Indians in full costume.

WELL-KNOWN COUPLE MARRIED AT NANOOSE

Miss Julia Dendoff Becomes Bride of Eugene Lothar

Special to The Times
Nanoose Bay, June 4.—A wedding of great interest to Nanoose residents took place on Thursday, May 23, at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, when Miss Julia Dendoff and Mr. Eugene Lothar were united in marriage by Rev. D. Lister. Both are well known young people of Nanoose Bay. The bride was charming in a fawn suit trimmed with navy blue and wore a becoming picture hat. She carried a beautiful bouquet of carnations and roses. Miss Edith McKenzie, Chas. Rivy acted as bridesmaid, and the groom was supported by Andrew Doumont. The groom's gift to the bride was a pretty gold bar brooch, and to the best man a pair of gold cufflinks. The happy couple left immediately for a short honeymoon to the mainland.

SEEKS ACCESS TO CAMPBELL RIVER

Courtenay Board of Trade Behind Move to Help Logging

Direct access to Campbell River from the logging camps at Duncan Bay and Menzies Bay is sought by the Courtenay-Coxmoor Board of Trade and other interests. The only route between these places at present is by water. The main cost of the road, it is pointed out, will be from the river to Duncan Bay, after which there are old logging roads that may be followed. If the projected road is built it might be extended into the Sayward Valley. The Bloedel, Welch and Stewart Company has timber on the other side of the divide and they will eventually have to build roads to get into it. If the road is built according to the plan, it will be a great benefit to the logging camps on the way. At present about 100 men are employed at Duncan Bay, 150 at Lamb's camp at Menzies Bay and about 700 will be working soon at the Bloedel, Welch and Stewart camp.

Moss, the church being beautifully decorated for the occasion by the Girls' Guild, of which the bride was a member. The bride wore a handsome gown of ivory headed georgette, and wore the conventional wedding veil and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was given in marriage by her father, and was attended by Miss C. Robertson, sister of the groom, who was becomingly attired in a pink georgette dress trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. The groom was attended by Alex. McBride. The bride's mother wore a costume of black brocade canted with hat to match. During the signing of the registers Mr. Robertson of Chemung was the registrar. Miss Dunne played the wedding march. After the wedding ceremony the relatives and immediate friends of the happy couple held a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Reid. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson left on the afternoon train for Victoria, and will reside on High Street. The bride's traveling costume was of rust color trimmed with fur, with hat to match.

LAPSE OF MEMORY

THE COLONIST'S ATTEMPT this morning to make political capital against the Government at Ottawa over the proposal to appoint a Canadian Minister to the United States implies a curious reflection upon the intelligence of a large number of its readers.

There is some urgency in regard to the matter. I do not recall what was said in the House during the debate last year, but it is important that the office be filled.

During the discussion in the House at that time on this estimate, Sir Robert Borden spoke at considerable length on the historic aspects of the question.

The need for this important step has been felt by both governments for some time. For a good many years there has been direct communication between Washington and Ottawa, but the constantly increasing importance of Canadian interests in the United States has made it appear that some distinctive manner for this would tend to expedite negotiations.

In the same discussion Hon. H. H. Stevens, former Conservative Minister of Trade and Commerce said:

"I have come to the conclusion that the Government should no longer delay in appointing a Canadian representative at Washington." (Hansard, May 19, 1921.)

The vote for $60,000 was eventually passed in that session, with the hearty approval of the entire Conservative following in Parliament and the Conservative press throughout the country including The Colonist.

Attempts to create the impression that the proposal is a brand new invention of the Liberal Government aimed at the integrity of the Empire are no less dishonest than they are silly.

OUR ASH HEAP

ALTHOUGH WE DO not always agree with the political formulas compounded by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, it serves Canada well every time it draws attention to the fact that this country's annual ash heap represents a financial loss of nearly $50,000,000—exclusive of the enormous loss for which forest fires are responsible every year.

It was rightly pointed out at yesterday's gathering at Hamilton that if the country was losing cattle to the value of one-quarter of the property destroyed by fire every year, the people would quickly bestir themselves and discover an effective remedy.

Sheer carelessness is responsible for the greater part of this annual loss. The newspapers of the country carry daily reports of misadventure by fire. In nine out of ten instances it usually develops that the most primitive method of prevention has been neglected.

"ADEQUATE PROTECTION" TRIED AND FOUND WANTING

HIGH PROTECTIONISTS now argue that the adverse trading account which the United States still holds against this country will not be balanced until Canada increases her tariff in respect of American imports into the Dominion.

The story of the trade balance from 1915, the earliest figures quoted by The Colonist, until the end of April of this year is a very simple one.

It is extraordinary that the morning paper should quote statistics which are so damaging to its argument in favor of a higher tariff as a remedy for redressing the Canadian-United States balance.

It has come to the conclusion that the Government should no longer delay in appointing a Canadian representative at Washington." (Hansard, May 19, 1921.)

Then there is Canada's trade with Great Britain. If Mr. Meighen could have his way, he would either materially reduce the British preference or wipe it out altogether in the interest, as he tries to make us believe, of the Canadian manufacturer, the Canadian worker, and the country as a whole. He even advocated such a course during the war, at a time when the Old Country was feeling the loss of her export markets most acutely as a result of her gigantic war effort, and he has apparently not changed.

It is to be wondered how many people know that there are only two nations in the world that have not adopted the metric system.

HEALTH AND DISEASE
VENEREAL DISEASE AND INSANITY

In the insane asylums of British Columbia there is a daily population of 1,322. Eight per cent. (8%) of that number are insane on account of syphilis, that is known, but there are many who are insane by inheritance and it is quite probable that some of those may owe their mental disability to syphilis in a previous generation.

One other point, the feeling against inoculation was so strong that in 1916 it ceased to be compulsory in the British army by Act of Parliament—a fact which should give little attention from supporters of the inoculation cause.

MANY ATTRACTIVE WARES AT BAZAAR

Bishop O'Donnell Opened Three-day Sale at Chamber of Commerce

The auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce presented an animated and colorful picture yesterday afternoon when the three-day bazaar in aid of St. Andrew's Cathedral was declared open by Bishop O'Donnell in a short address of congratulation upon the concerted effort and the gratifying and artistic display which was the outcome.

Directly to the left of the main entrance and occupying one end of the hall are the booths of fancy work and plain sewing for which the Altar Society of St. Andrew's Cathedral is responsible. A beautiful reading lamp and doll to be won and countless other desirable things make of this a most attractive stall. Mrs. Baines, Mrs. Shank, Mrs. Sealing and Mrs. McKay are in charge.

The home cooking is set forth temptingly in a bower of mauve sweet peas and wisteria, with Mrs. C. D. McDonald presiding. The variety stall, which is all that its name implies in dainty, artistic and useful articles is proving a great attraction under the direction of Mrs. Reed. The candy booth, in blue and white, is in charge of the children of Mary.

The Gypsy encampment, under the management of Madame Karp, is a mysterious grotto, arranged by Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Bone. A brilliantly decorated wall of red and blue shelters the fish pond. Mrs. O'Neill presides over the soft drinks, the varied colors of which add to the attractiveness of her neat little booth. The country store, in charge of Mrs. Moffitt, recalls the village shop of other days.

In the centre of the hall the arts and crafts stall, in charge of Mrs. Bridges, contains many beautiful objects charmingly arranged. Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Bridges; brass candlesticks donated by Mrs. O'Brien; a radio set by Fletcher Bros. and others; a tin of fruit cake prepared by Mrs. Hayward; and a lovely display of hand-painted china are some of the most attractive wares. This afternoon Mrs. J. H. Plumb, this department is looked after by the Catholic Women's League.

During yesterday afternoon Miss Clara Powell played several charming piano solos and Mrs. McGillivray sang. There was also some graceful fancy dancing by Margaret Taylor and Alice Robson; little Rosette Lee sang a duet with Mrs. Drummond. Mrs. J. H. Plumb, this department is looked after by the Catholic Women's League.

I.O.D.E. DECIDES TO BE REPRESENTED IN LONDON OFFICE

Ottawa, June 4.—Henceforth the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, will have a representative in London. At the national meeting here this morning it was decided to accept the invitation of the Victoria League, London, to have a representative of the Order in the League's London office.

At some future time it is presumed that an Imperial Chapter operating with the Victoria League will be formed of Canadians in London, and through this the Order in Canada will have a regular channel of information regarding newcomers to Canada, both visitors of note and home seekers.

Election of officers will be held Friday afternoon. Mrs. P. E. Doolittle, Toronto, has announced that she is retiring from the presidency. She has been president for three years. H.M.C.S. PATRICIAN

PATRICIAN TOURING COAST ON ANNUAL VISIT TO NEAR PORTS IS NOW IN SEATTLE

Will Go North to Comox and Eventually to Prince Rupert, Leaving Washington Port Saturday; Meets Thiepval at Comox; Report Says Little Destroyer May Sail South With H.M.S. Capetown

On her annual Summer cruise, which lasts for nearly a month and which will take her to practically every port and settlement on the British Columbia Coast where navigation is at all possible, H.M.C.S. Patrician left this port Tuesday, June 2, and is now visiting in Seattle, the first port of call. The little destroyer has had a cordial welcome in Seattle. Yesterday, with Lieut.-Col. Paul Edwards, port warden of Seattle, Lieut. W. J. R. Beech made formal calls about the city, one of the largest seaports in the United States.

LEAVES SATURDAY. According to a partial itinerary announced this morning from the Naval Barracks, Esquimalt, the Patrician will leave Seattle Saturday and will journey to Comox, there to meet the H.M.C.S. Thiepval, which will sail northwards with the destroyer.

The Thiepval was the vessel that assisted in the laying of supplies and in the consorting of Major Stuart McLaren, the British aviator, in the Pacific. She was in command of Lieut. Beech at that time, who is now aboard the Patrician and commanding officer of that ship.

A MONTH AWAY. The Patrician will be out from Esquimalt until the end of the month. She is scheduled to return by June 30. She travels all the way via the East coast waters or on the projected side of Vancouver Island, and will not go into the broad Pacific and the West Coast waters. The two ships will be together until they reach Prince Rupert, and from there it is understood, the Patrician will journey southwards alone, while the Thiepval goes about certain duties which have been assigned to her.

TO MEET CAPETOWN. When the British cruiser H.M.S. Capetown comes to Victoria, and she is expected here for a lengthy visit in the middle of Summer, on her long cruise to ports of British Columbia, the Patrician is expected to tour with her as far as San Diego. The Capetown will call at American coast points and comes from the North

LIQUOR FREIGHTER IN SOUTHERN SEAS

Kuyakuzm, Left Here Two Weeks Ago For South Ports

Two weeks ago the Steamer Kuyakuzm, previously known as the Stadacona, sailed out of this port Southbound after having loaded a cargo of liquor here. The vessel had been repaired and overhauled at Esquimalt, and was said to be in the very best of condition for many weeks at sea. The ship, which took a freight of liquor from Victoria, loaded here as quickly as possible after she came out of drydock, and quietly slipped out to sea.

SHIP STILL HELD. Customs officers here today, who are in charge of another liquor carrier, the Lirio de Agua, which was seized on her return to port here from the South some weeks ago, said there were no new developments in the case of this ship, which was captured by special officers on a charge of transferring liquor to a Canadian vessel in Canadian waters.

Officials expressed the opinion here today that the Lirio de Agua might be released with the imposition of a fine, or on the other hand the vessel might be held indefinitely. Pending some further action by the Ottawa authorities she is in the hands of the Customs here and moored at a government pier.

SAILORS RAN AWAY WITH LIQUOR SHIP

Were Recaptured With Vessel; Piracy Charge May Be Laid

St. Pierre, Miquelon, June 4.—The French liquor schooner Marie II, recaptured early Wednesday by the French steam trawler Anie after seven members of her former crew had seized her here and sailed off with her, was brought back to this port late yesterday. Captain Wyniault of Lunenburg and the six British sailors he is alleged to have led aboard in the seizure, were arrested on their arrival here. It is expected they will be charged with piracy.

Famous Steamship Sails Northwards

Seattle, June 4.—Marking the seventeenth year that the steamship Victoria has inaugurated the Nome season for the Alaska Steamship Company, the vessel sailed from here yesterday with 478 passengers aboard. The Victoria, because of its long service to the North, is known as the "gold ship" and always attracts interest in its first sailing of the season. About 5,000 persons were on hand to watch the departure yesterday.

In addition to the passengers, who include mining men, business men and fur traders, the Victoria carries a cargo of machinery and other supplies for dredging operations this summer near Nome.

Clarence I. Reams, Seattle attorney, left for San Francisco yesterday to take charge of the defence for the United States Shipping Board in a suit for $40,000 brought by the Rosenberg Metal and Iron Company. The suit is in connection with war time materials contracts.

DINGHY FOUND AND MAN BELIEVED DEAD

Telegraphic advices from New Westminster received here tell the story of the finding of a dinghy, which was thought to bear mute evidence of the drowning of a fisherman, who disappeared last Wednesday from the camp of the American Pile Driving Company, no trace of whom has yet been found other than the dinghy.

Golf Champion Of America Will Be Crowned To-night

Leo Diegel and Willie MacFarlane Tied With 141 For First 72 Holes

Ouimet, an Amateur, is Next; Sarazen is Well up But Walker is Out of it

Worcester, Mass., June 4.—Johnny Farrell, youthful Quaker Ridge professional, took the lead in the national open golf championship to-day with a brilliant 69, captured with the aid of birdie threat on the seventeenth and eighteenth holes. This gave him a fifty-four hole total of 214.

Worcester, Mass., June 4.—When the sun has set on the fairways of the Worcester Country Club to-night the golfer who during the coming year will carry the title "Open Champion of the United States" will have been decided.

Leo Diegel, Willie MacFarlane, Francis Gallett were in the lead as the final champion holes of medal play started to-day. Diegel and MacFarlane were out in front with scores of 141. Close behind with 145, were Ouimet, Espinosa and Gallett.

Walker is far down. Far down, a score of places from the leaders, is Little Cyril Walker, the Englewood, N.J., professional, who started the world by winning at Oakland Hills a year ago.

Walker fought hard for his title yesterday, but he played with an injured left hand and under heat that was oppressive.

MacFarlane, professional at Glen Oaks, N.J., always steady and dangerous, was four under par and dander in the afternoon with 31. Four birdies accounted for his record-making performance, for he shattered the competitive mark for the course, scoring 67.

Diegel had a 68. Only a quarter of an hour earlier Leo Diegel, the man who drives a ball more than 250 yards while standing on one foot, had returned with a 68, and for the time being was record-holder.

Newbro's Herpicide

Amundsen's Expedition. By HON. T. D. PATULLO. Having had some considerable experience with ice travel in northern latitudes, I have been intensely interested in the recent adventure of Amundsen. I look upon it as at once the most spectacular and daring exploit of modern times.

It is not difficult to visualize the possibilities of Amundsen's present position, yet the more I think of it the more I am thrilled with admiration and awe. As Amundsen started in favorable weather, let us suppose that his machines reached the Pole. His first concern would be to make a favorable landing. Just here the rub might come. Not improbably he might be unable to find a reasonably smooth landing place.

Should the final outcome of the expedition be untoward, all that may ever be known is that an experienced leader undertook an expedition that failed, whereas with communication, even though the world looked on at slow and tragic death, unable to render the help that would save, the information that would be available and the inspiration of the exploit would be everlasting.

Blue-jay is the delightful way to end a corn. A tiny cushion, cool as velvet, fits over the corn—relieving the pressure. The pain ends at once. Soon the corn goes. Blue-jay leaves nothing to guess-work. You do not have to decide how much or how little to put on.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Red Ants

Copyright, 1925, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

(By Howard R. Garis)

One day, when Uncle Wiggily's new wife and Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy were out in the kitchen of the hollow stump bungalow, helping each other make a cake, they found there was no sugar in the pantry.

Nurse Jane tasted the sugar.

Uncle Wiggily, giving an extra jolly twinkle to his pink nose, said: "Of course I'll go to the store for sugar. I was just wondering what I could do to keep busy, now that the children have gone to school. I will bring you sugar enough for a dozen cakes!"

So the rabbit gentleman hopped off. But, as it happened, two of the new little rabbit boys had not yet gone to school. They were Scooter and Tooter and they were hiding beneath the window when Mrs. Longears asked Uncle Wiggily to get the sugar.

"Oh! I know a funny trick we can play on our new daddy," whispered Scooter to Tooter. "We'll have time before the last bell rings."

"What's the trick?" asked Tooter. "This," answered his brother. "We'll wait along the path that our new daddy takes coming home from the store with the bag of sugar. I'll jump out and cry 'Boo!' at him: just for fun. He'll be surprised and you can open the bag of sugar, which he brought home, and put a lot of salt in with the sweet stuff. Won't that be a fine trick?"

"A funny, fine trick!" laughed Tooter. "And when our daddy takes the salty sugar home, Ma and Nurse Jane will laugh at him for bringing them such stuff to make a cake! Come on, we'll get some salt and hide beside the path!"

And so Uncle Wiggily, knowing nothing of what was going to happen, hopped on to the store to get the sugar. When he was almost there he saw a lot of little red ants crawling together on a leaf in the middle of the brook.

"Be careful, little red ants!" cried the bunny, "or you will fall in the water, and be drowned!" "That's what we're afraid of," said the largest red ant. "We started to cross the brook on the leaf for a boat, but we did not know the water was so rough. What shall we do?"

boys. "But you had better hurry to school or you'll be late!" Then Scooter and Tooter hopped on, laughing to themselves as they thought how surprised Uncle Wiggily would be, and his wife and Nurse Jane, also, when they found salt in the sugar.

And there was a great surprise back at the bungalow when Nurse Jane tasted of the sugar before putting it in the cake, for she was very careful.

"You brought salty sugar, Uncle Wiggily!" cried the muskrat lady. "Oh, it must have been a trick of Scooter and Tooter," said Mr. Longears while his wife said they ought to be punished and she told Nurse Jane to throw away the salty sugar and let Uncle Wiggily get more without salt in it.

"No, don't do that!" cried a little voice at the bungalow door, and marching up the path came the red ants. Uncle Wiggily had saved from drowning, "I and my brothers and sisters will pick out the sugar brains from the salt grains and separate them," said the largest red ant. "We can easily do that."

So they did, and in a short time the 30,000,000 little red ants had made a pile of sugar on one side of the table and a pile of salt on the other.

"This is very kind of you," said Uncle Wiggily, as Nurse Jane put the sugar in the cake. "You were kind to us, so we wanted to be kind to you," said the red ants. And when the two little rabbit boys went to bed early that night as punishment for playing the trick, they wished they hadn't. Anyhow, if the chewing-gum doesn't bite the milk bottle when it tries to take a drink of molasses, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily going fishing.

DOUKHOBORS WISH TO COME TO CANADA

Doukhobor of Saskatchewan Saw Some During Visit to Russia

Saskatoon, June 4.—Thoroughly disillusioned with regard to conditions in Soviet Russia, Sam Semenovoff of Kinley, Sask., is back on the prairies after a three months' trip, which he took as representative of 100 Doukhobor families, former residents of Russia, who contemplated returning there.

Mr. Semenovoff had the advantage of meeting practically all the heads of the Soviet Government at Moscow, spend a month with the peasantry in villages, a privilege not extended ordinarily to foreign investigators.

"I do not know what action the people who sent me will take after I have made my report, but I will never leave Canada to make my home in Russia under such conditions as I saw," said Mr. Semenovoff. Two Doukhobor representatives had visited Russia two or three years ago on the same mission as Mr. Semenovoff and had brought back glowing accounts of the beauty of the country, its fertility and the freedom accorded the people. Mr. Semenovoff's mission was to see if this report was correct, and if it was still advisable to migrate.

LAND LAWS SCORED

In the southern part of the country, along the Don River, he found the land all that it had been described; much of it better than in Western Canada—black loam nine feet deep and level. Sometimes good water was difficult to get; but beyond those natural advantages, little favorable could be said. The system of land tenure was intolerable, and was largely responsible for the peasants being on the verge of starvation in the cities lawlessness was rampant, industry was practically dead and the commercial life of the country at a low ebb.

It was when he got out among the peasantry that Mr. Semenovoff obtained a true picture of agricultural life in Russia, to-day. The farmers had no chance to make a living. They had no votes, only Communists having the franchise, and were unable to exercise any influence on the Government to improve their conditions.

FARMS ALLOTTED

Mr. Semenovoff was shown beautiful land, virgin prairie, once the property of the gentry, which he and his people could obtain. But though there were millions of acres of such lands, all the Government would grant was a life interest in seven and one half acres per head, counting each member of the family. No definite parcel would be allotted; a different parcel in the same district would be given them each year. This was the system on which those now engaged in agriculture, occupied the land.

This obviously objectionable system, Mr. Semenovoff declared, reflected itself in the mode of living of the peasants. Their diet for the most part was coarse bread and water. The season had been dry last year and the potato crop failed. In addition to the potato crop, he made soup by boiling cabbage, rice or wheat with water. It contained no meat or fat of any kind. The children were mere skeletons. In one village, the people he had once known were so emaciated he did not recognize them.

Blimp's Flight to Pole is Abandoned

London, June 4.—In a dispatch to the London Daily Express from Liverpool, Commander Frank Worsley, who was to have been second in command of the Polar expedition of Captain Grettir Algarsson, the young British Columbia explorer, is quoted as having said the idea of using a non-rigid airship in a race to the North Pole this summer has been abandoned as the airship cannot be delivered in time to make the flight this season.

The expedition now proposes to sail from Iceland to Spitzbergen for geographical and scientific work northwest of Spitzbergen, and to seek data for a flight in 1926.

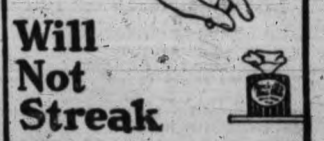

The dispatch further quotes Commander Worsley as saying that if he is able to obtain an aeroplane he will make flights over the ice and search for Arundsen, "but I think the outlook is bad for him."

Movie Actress Makes Wall Street Clean-up

New York, June 4.—Trading in Maxwell Motor Corporation "A" and "B" stock has been suspended on the New York Stock Exchange by order of the governing committee because a natural corner prevented a free and open market.

The New York Tribune says Lila Lee, film actress, cleaned up $83,000 in the stock market. She is said to be one of the few who have made money in Maxwell.

The corner was caused by the plan of readjustment announced April 16 by which the Chrysler Corporation took over the assets and liabilities of the Maxwell Corporation.
