

MILITARISM AN EVIL

R. GILHOUSE SAYS NATION IS WRESTLING WITH THE PROBLEM OF "WAR OR PEACE?"

EDITOR GLENDALE EVENING NEWS:—No graver crisis has ever been faced by this nation than that which we are now facing. We are wrestling with no less a problem than that of "War or Peace?" We are called on to decide between two policies, one of which all history gives ample proof invariably leads to and terminates in war. The unspeakable deluge of blood that engulfs Europe today was predicted years ago by all students of the preparedness policy which the nations were then pursuing.

That policy was then shown to lead inevitably to warfare. It has also been discovered that the great burden which militarism imposes inevitably leads to a point where nations must either go to war or disarm. War and not peace, however, has always been the result. Could a more terrible proof of the truth that they who draw the sword shall perish by the sword be given than what is going on in Europe at present? The Bible, the teachings of which we profess to take as our guide, tells us that wisdom's ways are ways of pleasantness and that all her paths are peace. Has the wisdom of earth's militarists brought peace to the earth? Has it not rather brought the sword?

We do not need to guess what we shall get when we adopt militarism. Militarism means war and war is hell. Hell is what we will get. An evil tree cannot bring forth good fruit. Everyone gives assent to the saying, "Righteousness exalteth a nation." If we begin by giving a small part of the money we are now spending in preparation for war to the foundation of righteousness between man and man both at home and abroad would not that be a better guarantee of peace than all the battleships we could ever build? That, however, would never do for it would interfere with the profits of the leeches who fatten on the miseries of their fellow beings.

A poverty-stricken nation of slaves cannot be made strong by any military program. Over and over again has this been proved by the history of nations that have put their trust in the sword and have passed into oblivion. Never was there a time when we had so little to fear from a foreign enemy for they are all engaged in whipping each other to a finish; yet the welfare of the nation was never more imperiled than it is today. The real enemy is within our gates. That enemy is the constant accumulation and concentration of wealth in the hands of a few, giving them monopoly of the nation's resources.

What constitutes the gravest crisis this nation has ever faced is the stupendous effort that is now being made to impose unbearable military burdens on the people. If the proposed military program be adopted it will absorb 70 per cent of the nation's revenue. Before the war the Germans spent 55 per cent of the nation's income on preparation for war; England 37 and France 35 per cent. Should the United States follow this example how could it ask the world to believe that it had only pacific intent?

The common people are not clamoring to squander the nation's wealth on battleships or war munitions. The wage slaves who, in the event of war brought on by their masters, would have to bear its burdens, are not clamoring for war. They would have to do the fighting and the dying and afterward face all the bills. Although they do not hold the tax receipts they pay all the taxes. If they do not pay in higher rents they pay in lower wages.

Our greedy exploiters of labor are not thinking about preparedness for defense although that is what they are trying to make the country believe. The world's markets that they are so eagerly grasping from their now helpless rivals they must hold in order profitably to unload the goods they have plundered from the working class of their own country. To do this they are anxious to load us to the limit with war taxes and also to plunge us into the hell of war if necessary.

The time has come for the common people to assert themselves ere it is forever too late. Deluge your senators and congressmen with letters of protest against this diabolical effort to perpetuate hell on earth.

ANNA E. HOLMAN CASE

GLENDALE POLICE AND CHICAGO DETECTIVES WORK ON ESCAPE THEORY

It is now believed that Mrs. Anna E. Holman, whose supposed abduction from the Canyon Crest sanitarium, Friday night, brought a number of Pinkerton men on the trail in conjunction with the sheriff's office men and the Glendale police, planned and engineered the escape herself. The case came into the Glendale police's hands Friday night when Captain Laurence and Patrolman Lambert were informed of the supposed abduction.

Later on the day force, consisting of Captain Herald and Patrolman Hollenbeck, worked on the case. They now believe in common with the Pinkerton detectives employed by Mrs. Holman's brother, Col. Oliver S. Hershman, owner of the Pittsburg Press, and Attorney Mattison B. Jones, who represents the Hershman interests in the case, that Mrs. Holman had been planning her escape for many months before it took place.

Mrs. Holman is alleged to be a very crafty lunatic. She married her gardener and otherwise was guilty of acts that estranged her from her family. This man, her husband, is being looked for in connection with her present disappearance.

Captain Herald says that Mrs. Holman was on speaking terms with Harry K. Thaw, and has all along taken a profound interest in his case. It is believed that she conceived the idea of escaping from the jurisdiction of California and appealing to the courts of some other State to set her at liberty.

There seems to be no doubt that money was paid to certain parties to arrange for Mrs. Holman's flight. Several parties were concerned in it. Not only was money paid, but lavish promises were made for the future. Examination showed that people had visited the bungalow where Mrs. Holman was under supervision several times and had conversed with Mrs. Holman privately. There were traces of automobile wheels round the bungalow and other signs of outside visitors.

This is a very difficult case and if Mrs. Holman should succeed in getting away out of the State may result in prolonged litigation. She managed to take away all her clothing with her and was evidently prepared for every event. She had two large traveling bags full of clothing and jewelry.

It can be easily seen how difficult a case may arise out of this escape when it is learned that Superintendent McCarthy of the Sierra Madre Villa sanitarium, Pasadena, declares that Mrs. Holman is as sane as any woman who walks the streets. Mrs. Holman was two years in Mrs. McCarthy's care.

Mrs. Holman's brother, Col. Hershman, is a multi-millionaire. It was he who had her committed for insanity in the first instance. Judge Shanley of Anaheim, Mrs. Holman's legal guardian, placed the matter in the hands of the Los Angeles sheriff's office. Col. Hershman sent down the Pinkerton men to assist. The case promises to involve San Francisco and Pittsburg people.

DEATH VALLEY DODGE EXHIBIT

Moving pictures of the scenes passed through by the Dodge car on its famous trip through Death Valley attracted large audiences, at the High School auditorium, Saturday. The exhibition showed the difficult nature of the country passed through by the car. The Tombstone mountains, the Coffin range and many other striking features of the blazing death trap through which the car passed on its eventful journey, were shown in picturesque panorama. The pictures were testimony at once to the admirable construction of the car and the endurance of itself and its driver.

LADIES SERVE POST

WOMEN'S RELIEF CORPS AND N. P. BANKS POST IN JOINT SESSION

N. P. Banks Women's Relief Corps met in conjunction with the Post, in their regular monthly joint session in their hall on Glendale avenue, Friday, January 26. The Post held their meeting in the forenoon, while the Corps ladies were busy in kitchen and banquet room, preparing an elaborate feast for the pleasure of the comrades and their friends, at the close of the session.

At the stroke of the noon hour, seventy-five marched into the dining room, where a bountiful repast was served by the committee, Mesdames Alma Dutton, Margaret Jenkins, Minnie Hough, Stella Spear, Effie Ripley and Jessie Hudson, where an hour was passed in pleasant conversation, after which all returned to the hall and listened and took part in a very interesting program, prepared by the comrades of the Post, which was opened with the song, "When the Roll is Called," and entered into with spirit by the entire assemblage that seemed to add new life to all.

Never were more appropriate thoughts expressed than by the old comrades, on the present day difficulties that confront us as a nation, and the only regret was that President Wilson could not have heard the sentiment expressed.

Comrade Emick, Post Commander, introduced Comrade LeClaire, from Eagle Rock, with the injunction that five minutes was the limit in which to talk, which, under the circumstances, was regretted, for he spoke plainly and eloquently on "Preparedness," a subject that became the keynote for all other talks. Though the comrade had but five minutes, he showed the mettle of his composition, for he does not believe in sitting down, quietly, and waiting for something to happen before bestirring himself.

He was followed by Rev. D. D. Cherrey, whose calling did not keep him from showing his spirit of patriotism, and a desire that we have peace, but not "Peace at Any Price."

Rev. J. H. Henry, who is a much-beloved comrade, and one to whom all delight to listen, was called upon, and rendered one of his beautiful solos, "I Shall Be Like Him," with his daughter, Mrs. Winona Crawford, accompanist.

Comrade Gibbons, from Sawtelle, gave a five-minute talk, and was followed by Comrade Kenyon, from the East, who expressed himself strongly in favor of preparedness, and was heartily acclaimed.

Comrade G. W. Sanford, Past Post Commander, gave a reading, "If We Only Knew," one of his many poems. It was highly appreciated, after which all united in singing "America," and Rev. C. H. Norton pronounced the benediction, when those not members of the Corps departed for their homes, well pleased with the day's entertainment.

At 2:30 the Woman's Relief Corps went into session with every officer in her chair, which was very encouraging to those who are responsible for the work of the year. The president, Susie Miller-Peck, announced her committees for the year, which are:

Auditing Committee: Mesdames Elizabeth Freidgen, Lillie Hartwig and Della Hapgood. Executive Committee: Mesdames Julia Sanders, Tina Hammond, Margaret Hibbert and Alma Dutton. Conference Committee: Mesdames Elizabeth Spafford, Rosalthe Archer and Susie Ogier. Relief Committee: Mesdames Ella Watson, Ada Atkinson and Edith Bruck. Home and Employment Committee: Mesdames Anna Emick, Nina Richards and Queen Danner.

As this was really the first meeting of the year with the new officers, aside from announcement of committees very little was done, except private business, which was followed by talks from a number of visitors, who gave fraternal greetings and congratulations on the efficiency of the officers, as well as the fraternal spirit shown in the acts of all members of N. P. Banks Women's Relief Corps.

The visitors present were: Mrs. Blake, from Kansas; Mrs. Stevens, from Los Angeles; Mrs. Darby, from Minnesota, and Mrs. Haller, E. Cypress street, Tropic.

Announcements were made that Sunday, Feb. 6, would be Memorial day in memory of Comrades and Sisters who have passed away, during the year. Services at 2:30 p. m. in the G. A. R. hall. Also that Feb. 25 the Post and Corps would unite in celebrating the birthday anniversaries of Washington, Lincoln and McKinley.

CARE OF BACK YARD

PROF. SCHUFELDT OF LOS ANGELES WILL GIVE STEREOPTICON LECTURE FEB. 3

Many Glendale people are looking forward with interest to Thursday evening, February 3, when Professor Schufeldt of Los Angeles will give a public stereopticon lecture under the auspices of the Garden Society. Professor Schufeldt, although quite a young man, has made a name for himself as Director of the Home Agriculture department in the Los Angeles schools. Under his care are 30,000 school children. He also holds the office of editor of the Southern Rural California section of the Tribune-Express; and has recently been made co-adviser to the City Beautiful committee in Los Angeles.

Professor Schufeldt will show wonderful pictures of back yards cared for by children; he will show back yards which have netted fine pocket-money to their juvenile owners. He will tell us what other people have done with vacant lots, and how they have solved some of the problems of the high cost of living.

Every man and woman with a sense of civic pride should hear what Professor Schufeldt has to tell on Thursday evening. Every man and woman interested in the moral and educational upbringing of children should hear the professor. Every man and woman interested in plants, in flowers, vegetables, in any phase of horticultural or agricultural matters, should come on Thursday evening to the High School.

Every man and woman desirous of helping their own home town to civic or economic improvement should remember the evening of Feb. 3. Every housekeeper wishing to reduce house-keeping expenses should not only come, herself but bring her husband and her children. Needless to say that every school teacher in and near Glendale should avail him or herself of this great opportunity. Remember the date, time and place. Thursday evening, February 3, at 8:00 o'clock sharp, at the High School. Admiss'on free to all.

D. W. FRAZER TO LEAVE

Mr. D. W. Frazer, who has been for some time connected with the Pulliam Undertaking company, has accepted a position with John Bollman company of San Francisco. Mr. Frazer, who was for a considerable time connected with the Whiting, Mead Commercial company, the large hardware company of Los Angeles, has been appointed to travel and cover a territory in Southern California, with headquarters in Los Angeles. The John Bollman company of San Francisco is one of the four companies in which the American Tobacco company, commonly called the Tobacco Trust, was divided at the time the court ordered its dissolution. Mr. Frazer will leave in a week or ten days.

COW AND CHICKENS DISPUTE

Before Judge Whomes Monday morning a formidable array of witnesses appeared to testify on both sides of a neighborhood dispute concerning a cow and a number of chickens. The complaint alleged that Mr. L. E. Berkey of Ivy street kept and maintained a certain cow and a number of chickens which were permitted to run at large, destroying flowers and in other ways annoying the neighborhood. The complaint was sworn to by Mr. A. C. Pert, 1512 Ivy street.

The witnesses for the complainant were Mr. J. Van Ness, W. V. Lathrop, A. C. Pert and Mary L. Pert. Patrolman Hollenbeck was called to tell of having been brought to view the premises.

The defendant's witnesses were Mr. L. E. Berkey, Mrs. Berkey, Mr. Melvin, Mr. Howard and J. Chaplin. Mr. Berkey conducted his own case and Judge Whomes conducted the prosecution. The testimony was conflicting and contradictory. After due examination of all the circumstances connected with the complaint Judge Whomes dismissed the case.

RAN OVER A DOG

Judge Whomes had an opportunity of seeing how an auto accident looks from the inside of an auto, Sunday, when the auto in which he was riding with Mr. G. B. Woodbury ran over a dog on Broadway, near Louise. It is probable that the dog never knew what hit it as it was killed almost instantaneously. It is valuable now and then to obtain the other fellow's point of view. Automobile accidents are not always avoidable, neither is the auto driver always responsible for the accident.

LESSONS OF THE FLOODS

Out of the recent destruction of property and life by the floods which have devastated a large portion of Southern California may come a lesson from which the future generation may profit. It is, however, a pity it should have cost the loss of so many lives and the destruction of so much property to learn that it would be well to begin the work of flood protection up among the hills as well as to straighten out the channels of the rivers and give them a clear sweep out to the sea, preventing the silting up of the harbors and inundation of the adjacent lands.

All Southern California is interested in this question. The destruction of the whole of the fertile Otay valley by the bursting of Otay dam, the loss of fifty lives in that section, the entire destruction of the cattle and horses, the sheep and the hogs, the denudation of the soil and the thrusting back of what was a few days ago a valley full of life and activity into a region of desolation and barrenness is a most caustic object lesson of the need of doing something in time to prevent such wholesale destruction.

Frank H. Olmsted, former city engineer of Los Angeles, urges the necessity of check dams in the upper canyons to slow down the velocity of the floods and keep the rain in the soil by giving it time to soak in. As already pointed out in these columns the check dams in Haines canyon did a great deal to mitigate the severity of the floods that swept down in this direction this year. The series of small structures in the small canyons of the upper watersheds of streams that do so much damage down below is proving an excellent means of preventing those floods. The check dam is new to this country, but it is used with great benefit in Switzerland and France, where it has mitigated floods and saved whole districts from destruction.

According to Mr. Olmsted a series of check dams is desirable in all the upper canyons, as they would make it easy to control flood waters in the lower regions. It is easy to control the small mountain streams. Had a series of such check dams been constructed in the upper canyons of the Otay valley the lower Otay dam would not have been filled to overflowing with uncontrollable waters and it would have held until the floods had subsided.

It would cost about $1,500,000 to treat the upper hinterland of Los Angeles county with these check structures. That is a very small sum compared to the millions of dollars of damage that has been done in the county by the recent floods. The losses in the 1914 flood were about $10,000,000. This year's enormous losses have not yet been computed. As a result of the 1914 flood about 4,000,000 cubic yards of mud were carried into Los Angeles harbor. All this had to be dredged out again at enormous cost.

Common sense teaches that it is best to begin correcting an evil at its source and it should be possible to get at the source of this flood among the upper canyons. By doing this not only will much property be saved from destruction; but the upper canyons themselves will repay the work by their increased fertility, and their retention of the rain water will create land that may be turned to profitable account. The time to attend to this matter is before the floods come and not after.

PRESIDENT WILSON ON PREPAREDNESS

If the international situation were not serious President Wilson would not have left Washington to tour the country in order to impress on the national mind the necessity for preparedness for defense. In Washington the president is sadly hampered by the peace-at-any-price party which is throwing every possible obstacle in the way of the president's program for the putting of this country into a proper state of defense. It seems reasonable to believe that a man of President Wilson's conservative character would not speak with the solemn earnestness of his latest appeal to the country were there not some more serious danger threatening than he is at liberty to speak plainly about.

There is, however, no mistaking the earnestness of his appeal to the nation that it impress on the senators and representatives in Washington that the country desires to see carried out, and carried out at once, a reasonable plan for the defense of this land against whatever enemy may seek to attack it.

President Wilson says that it has been with the utmost difficulty that the government has managed to steer the country through the rocks and shoals that mark the channel of international intercourse at the present moment. The whole world is on fire and the sparks that are flying in every direction may easily start a conflagration in the United States. The means must be in the country's hands to quench such a conflagration should it ever begin and according to the president it may begin any moment. It is only reason to President Wilson it may begin at any moment. It is only reasonable fire insurance that the president asks the nation to provide. No man thinks it unnecessary to insure against fire. He knows that there is a certain proportion of risk from fire and he insures against it. In similar fashion the president urges the nation to insure against war. The best means to insure against war is to be prepared for defense.

It has often been pointed out that conditions in the United States have changed vastly within the past thirty years or so. This nation is no longer protected by the ocean from foreign invasion. It is well known that certain European nations have plans to land armies on the eastern coast within ten days after a declaration of war. Japan is known to have calculated that she could land 150,000 men on the Pacific coast within five weeks, and 500,000 within three months.

While foreign nations are coolly discussing such matters and making no secret of them it is the part of wisdom to hearken to the warning of the president and to strengthen his hands for preparing the country against the possibility of being subjected to humiliation and spoliation. There are millions of the best fighting race in the world in the United States ready to spring to the field at the summons of their country; but they need training and equipment to make them the bulwark of defense this country needs.

That President Wilson has made his appeal to the country without reference to party is further proof of the pressing need for attention to the vital matter of the nation's defense. "I know," said the president in his speech at Cleveland, "that we are daily treading amid the most intricate dangers and that the dangers we are treading amongst are not under our control. . . . As your responsible servant I must tell you that the dangers are constant. . . . The facts of the world are such that it is my duty to counsel my fellow citizens that preparation for national defense cannot any longer be postponed."

These are words of the utmost gravity and demand the immediate attention of the nation, which should make its response so unanimous and unmistakable that there could be no question of any of its servants evading this duty.

One of the most remarkable developments in the way of stock markets is the New York curb on lower Broad street, New York city. Bigger than the London Stock exchange or the Paris Bourse, or the stockmarket of any American city and second only to the New York Exchange itself, the Curb business is now nearly 2,000,000 shares a week. Before the war London and Paris had a much larger volume of trading than the Curb. Now the industrial boom induced in this country by the war has pushed the Curb to the front. War limits the extent of the trading both in Paris and London; but there is no limit to the Curb. The New York Stock exchange trades in 3,000,000 shares a week and the Curb with its more than 2,000,000 shares is gradually creeping up on it. This is one of the peculiar growths of recent years which the great war has wakened into new life.

THE TWINKLING STARS

Although the twinkling of the stars is commonly referred to, they do not twinkle at all. The stars are usually suns that throw out light, just as our sun lights the earth.

When the rays of light from the stars strike the air which surrounds the earth they have to pierce so many little particles which are always floating about in the atmosphere. It is this interference between us and the stars which gives the appearance of twinkling.

On certain nights the light of the stars will appear so bright and clear as to attract particular attention. This is because the air is so clear there is less interference than usual with the rays of light in reaching the earth.—Virginia Pilot.

APPLE CORER

A novelty which finds a useful place in many kitchen drawers consists of a metal wheel, made of sharp teeth, which when pressed down over an apple, with one operation cores and divides it into ten sections. A small wooden circular piece on which to set the apple comes with the corer. Any size apple may be cut.—The Modern Priscilla.

FINGER MARKS

Furniture has a bad habit of getting finger marked. And it is a good thing to know that sweet oil will remove all signs of them if the furniture is of the varnished variety. But kerosene is better for furniture which is oiled or waxed.—Philadelphia North American.

NEW SET OF STAMPS FOR BELGIUM

Collectors will be interested to learn that a new set of stamps has been issued for Belgium. The stamps are beautiful, says a writer in the American Boy, those with values from 1 cent to 25 cents bearing a portrait of King Albert. Those stamps of greater value show pictures of Ypres, the colleges of Dinant and of Louvain. The franc values represent historic scenes,—the freeing of the Scheldt in 1862, the annexation of the Congo, King Albert presenting a flag to his army on the steps of the town hall at Furness. The 10 franc values show portraits of the three kings of Belgium, the two Leopolds and Albrecht. These stamps, especially those high value, are unusually large and well engraved.

BUYING A TRUNK

Manufacturers of trunks have gone to a great deal of work to satisfy every whim and need of both men and women in this matter of convenience and service. Now as to the inner arrangements, the wardrobe idea has come to stay, and most practical is the plan, for it saves the work of packing and unpacking when one reaches one's destination, especially if one is to stay but a short time. In this case the trunk can stand on end and serve as a wardrobe.

Nor is it necessary to unpack the trunk to find even the smallest article, says the Ottawa Citizen, for there is accommodation for shoes, hats and other articles. The "following board" holds clothes when packed so securely that they are taken from the trunk as fresh and unwrinkled as before they were packed. Besides, there are improved hangers that cannot allow the dresses to slip off the hangers. It is wise to purchase the trunk with no corners. It is wise to see that the trunk you buy has as few openings as possible, for every break in its surface makes it that much weaker. From rawhides to fibers of many kinds finished in any color that one may desire, the prices range from a wardrobe steamer trunk at $20, according to the construction, material and size.

'RITHMETIC

I studied my tables over and over and backward and forward, too; But I couldn't remember six times nine, and I didn't know what to do.

Till sister told me to play with my doll and not to bother my head. "If you call her 'Fifty-Four' for a while, you'll learn it by heart," she said.

So I took my favorite Mary Ann (though I thought 'twas a dreadful shame

To give such a perfectly lovely child such a perfectly horrid name), And I called her my dear little 'Fifty-four' a hundred times till I knew The answer of six times nine as well as the answer of two times two.

Next day Elizabeth Wigglesworth, who always acts so proud, Said "Six times nine is fifty-two," and I nearly laughed aloud! But I wished I hadn't when teacher said, "Now, Dorothy, tell if you can."

For I thought of my doll and—sakes alive!—I answered "Mary Ann!"

EXAMPLE OF LABOR EFFICIENCY

Efficiency of farm labor is often as important as its distribution. Two young men were plowing clover sod. Each had two horses hitched to a 14-inch walking plow. It was heavy plowing and each team was barely able to plow 1½ acres a day. One morning the men decided to try three horses on one plow. They did so, and to their great surprise one man and three horses easily plowed 3 acres per day. They plowed as much as two men and four horses had previously done and did it much more easily. It was even easier for the driver, because it is always easier to drive a team that is not overloaded. The new arrangement released one man and one horse for other work.

ENTERTAINS JUNIOR CLUB

Miss Dorothy Bonnell, president of the Junior Shakespeare club, is displaying commendable executive qualities in her direction of that body. The children who compose the club are making wonderful progress in their Shakespeare studies and manifesting a remarkable aptitude for the work. Miss Bonnell gave a chocolate to the members of the executive board of the Junior club, Friday, in her own studio, at 1550 Myrtle street. The studio was profusely decorated with Ulrich Bruner roses and ferns. The dainty hostess served chocolate, marshmallows and delicious cakes to her guests. In the course of the entertainment Miss Bonnell discussed with her executive board the part the Junior Shakespeare class is to take in the coming production of Ben Hur. Those present were: Constance Bonsler, Gladys Lowe, Helen McIntyre, John T. Jenkins, John Richardson and Billy Justema.

REAR DOOR THEFT

There is at present another example of the rear door theft practice being carried on by a few large Los Angeles concerns. They are trying to gain newspaper publicity in a round-about way through various organizations without its costing them anything. If any concern wishes to advertise its wares why not do so through the newspapers in a business-like manner. The great wonder is that there is always some organization ready to take up the subtle schemes of these fellows who lie awake nights studying out new plans whereby the easy ones may be successfully worked.

OBITUARY

The funeral of Benjamin C. Harter, age eighty-eight years, who died Dec. 23 at the residence, 1212 Florida avenue, was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the house, Rev. Cooper, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating. Interment was in Woodlawn cemetery under the direction of the Henderson-Bloom Undertaking company. Mr. Harter, who was born in Ohio in 1827, was a veteran of the Civil war, having served as first lieutenant of Company K, 19th Indiana regiment. He came to Florida in 1876 and located at Ocala, going later to California, where he spent about twenty years. He had lived in Tampa about three years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ada Harter, who is eighty-two years of age, and his son, K. L. Harter, jeweler, with whom he made his home. —Tampa, Florida, Exchange.

While the sale continues until Feb. 14, yet it would be well for purchasers to call early and make their selections, as the stocks in many of the lines are broken. A few of the many specials are quoted on page four.

A FEW BUSINESS PRINCIPLES

The Evening News is in a position to give valuable publicity to any cause that is deserving of favorable publicity, and the management of The News takes a pleasure in giving such publicity when he has sufficient cause for giving it.

In most instances the men and women having in charge of the giving out of the printing of tickets, programs, window cards, etc., have sufficient business tact to know that the publication that is in a position to give the publicity should receive liberal recognition, and it is only on account of such recognition that the News can afford to use valuable space to give the publicity.

It is with pleasure the management of the News notes the good business judgment of the citizens of the Glendale community.

AT LOS ANGELES Y. M. C. A.

The Junior basketball team of the Intermediate school showed their gameness and stick-to-it-iveness in the game played Saturday morning in Los Angeles at the Y. M. C. A., having as opponents a Y. M. C. A. team of larger men, who outweighed the Juniors many pounds.

The Glendale boys played well and hard, losing to the heavier team with a score of 31 to 9.

The Intermediate team consisted of: W. Strong, center; Clayton Card, Albert Townsend, Henry Doll and Tom Lyons, forwards; Paul Plannette, Maxwell Tuttle and Guy Bennett, guards.

TROPICO

Mrs. Eustace Benton Moore, president of the Cerritos School P. T. A., announces that owing to the inclemency of the weather of last Thursday there was no meeting of the association, but that the postponed meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon, February 2. A parliamentary drill will precede the meeting; drill at 2:30 and meeting at 3:15, Cerritos street school.

One of the most delightful features of the benefit card party given last Wednesday evening with which every citizen and organization endeavored to render the benefit a financial success. Representatives from the Tropico Thursday club, N. P. Banks Woman's Relief Corps, Pythian Sisters, Yeomen, P. E. O., Mothers' club and the P. T. A. worked as one organization, demonstrates the fact that the citizens of Tropico will assist in every good cause, eliminating all selfishness and petty jealousies.

Mrs. Charles Millard Turck will present "The Madonnas" as the subject for the Tropico Thursday club at the regular semi-monthly meeting, Thursday, February 3, in the city hall. The interesting program will be augmented by a vocal solo rendered by Mrs. Eustace Benton Moore and a vocal duet by Mrs. W. F. Ludlum and Mrs. Fannie Griswold. Hostesses for the afternoon will include Mrs. C. H. Phillips, Mrs. Wayland Brown, Mrs. J. W. Ashton and Mrs. A. J. Becker.

SOME PECULIARITIES OF CATS

A writer in Our Dumb Animals tells a few stories about his pet cats and of the great care which they give their kittens—if necessary carrying them all over the house, up and down stairs, or even behind furniture.

Cats are much disturbed when a family is moving. One cat was found during one of the days of moving established with three kittens in the top drawer of a chest. As the drawer had been locked it was at first a mystery how she got there, but it was later discovered that there was a broken board at the back of the chest, the cat had crawled through and had dragged one kitten after another to what she considered a place of safety.

"Another time," this writer continues, "I had been out and on coming home I could not find a favorite cat. I looked about upstairs, when all at once I saw a pair of green eyes looking at me through a square opening in a long, old-fashioned wooden trunk. The hole was where the lock had once been, and it now formed a window for the cat to look out of. Although she seemed perfectly happy, no doubt she was glad to be released."

PINK DYE

For dyeing small articles a pretty pink coloring fluid can be obtained by putting scraps of clean red tissue paper in hot water. Make the pink just as you would make bluing, and be sure to take out all the bits of paper before any garment is put in. Stir the water a little in order to make the color even in it. This fluid may be used when almost cold, even though it must be made with hot water. If the fingers become stained while using it a half a lemon rubbed on them will remove the stain.

EUROPEAN PROGRESS IN TUNIS

"Breaking from the custom of centuries, 100 women of Tunis left their homes with veiled faces, and inscribed themselves in the workers' register of a French sewing shop," writes M. Charles Geniaux, in a recent number of the Revue de Paris. When they first came they did not know how to sew, but they have learned rapidly, and are now almost as capable as the French companions. They seldom stay away from their work, although for centuries these women have been forbidden any regularly employed labor.

FOR THE BABY'S CARRIAGE

Modern babies go for a daily drive no matter what the weather, and there are many different ways of keeping them warm. Ordinary hot water bottles cool off so quickly that they are useless out of doors, but there is a new one called the "Thermor." This holds the heat for hours, and is in nickel, shaped like an army canteen. When slipped into a cotton flannel bag and placed under the robes at the foot of the baby's carriage, it will throw out a pleasant warmth for as long a time as it is likely to be wanted.

CROCHETED COVERS FOR TIN KNOBS

The knobs on certain kinds of tin covers have a way of getting too hot to be handled with comfort. This difficulty may be overcome by crocheting little caps the size of the knobs, slipping the caps down over the knob and drawing the end of the thread up very tightly and fastening it. This never comes off and, if some dark color is used, will not show the dirt. Use the single crochet stitch and odds and ends of crochet material may be utilized.

POLITENESS

Good little boys should never say "I will," and "Give me these;" Oh, no! that never is the way. But "Mother, if you please." And "If you please," to Sister Ann Good boys to say are ready; And, "Yes, sir," to a gentleman, And, "Yes, ma'am," to a lady. —Elizabeth Turner.

GOD AND CLEVER

If all the good people were clever, And all clever people were good, The world would be nicer than ever. We thought that it possibly could.

But somehow, 'tis seldom or never The two hit it off as they should; The good are so harsh to the clever, The clever so rude to the good!

So, friends, let it be our endeavor To make each by each understood, For few can be good like the clever, Or clever, so well as the good!

—Elizabeth Wordsworth.

HOT BUNS

One pound flour, one quarter pound sugar, half pint water, half ounce yeast, quarter pound butter, half pound currants, pinch salt. After mixing the flour, sugar and currants, add yeast and water and leave in front of a fire until leaven begins to ferment. Add melted butter and salt, and beat well together. Make the whole into a soft paste and leave to rise again for half an hour. Shape dough into buns and leave to rise for another half hour. A cross may be marked on top, but the buns are excellent without this. Bake in a quick oven for 15 or 20 minutes. This recipe will make 12 buns.

By urgent request Miss Yaw gave unaccompanied two of her own songs, "California" and "The Skylark," thereby completely captivating her audience.

Accompanists, Mrs. C. C. Buck, Mrs. Stella Worden Smith.

The thanks of the community are extended to Mrs. Stella Worden Smith for her efforts in securing the rendition of the above program, every number of which was fully appreciated. After the program an informal reception was held and Madame Yaw graciously greeted those presented to her. She is very charming and vivacious and all were delighted with her sweet and unassuming way. Mrs. Smith as hostess of the occasion, assisted by her daughter, Miss Viola, and several young friends, served light refreshments to the guests before their return to the city.

CHICKEN SAUSAGE

This is an old recipe said to have been popular in 1752. Perhaps it may prove popular enough to be added to the modern cook book.

Take two spring chickens, weighing two pounds each chop the meat fine. Add to it an equal amount of fair pure lard and mix thoroughly, adding a cup of fine dry bread crumbs, the yolks of three eggs, pepper, salt, a little summer savory, sage and enough sweet milk to bind the mixture so that it may be shaped into little sausages. Heat and grease the frying pan and fry the sausages in the usual way.

SEED CAKE

Rub six ounces of butter to cream; add six ounces of sugar, three quarters pound flour, a little salt, and a small teaspoon of caraway seeds. Mix thoroughly and add three eggs well beaten and as much milk as will make the mixture soft. Cook in tin, lined with buttered paper, about three quarters of an hour in a moderate oven.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Sunday was a good day in attendance, in interest, in blessings received. The attendance at Sunday School reached the highest record. Several new scholars joined. At 11 o'clock the church was filled. After an impressive opening service thirteen were received into the membership of the church. After this a large number partook of the communion. The communion services of this church are always times of spiritual uplift. This church invites all who love the Lord Jesus Christ to communion.

Those received into the membership were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Speer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Guthrie and daughter Catherine, Mrs. Rose McGibbon, Lillias McGibbon, Bradley McGibbon, Olive Hudson, Eva Hudson, Miss Muriel Baker, Mrs. Mabel Bullinger and Mr. J. D. Ashbaugh. The evening address by Dr. Lyman B. Sperry was replete with striking facts, logically arranged, eloquently told. Heredity, environment and personal choice were named as the three potent factors in shaping men's lives. By personal endeavor a bad heredity may be overcome. By choice and effort a vicious environment can be changed or improved. Fads and follies of dress and life were condemned. Correct and sane habits of living and thinking were declared to be the essentials of a well ordered life.

By apt and interesting illustrations and incidents the audience was shown the strength and beauty of the Christian life. Glendale people will be pleased to hear Dr. Sperry again. Next Sunday morning the pastor will speak on "The Exaltation of Service." Evening topic, "Man Up a Tree—What Put Him There; What Brought Him Down."

CHOCOLATE MERINGUES

Line pate pan with very thin pastry. Take the whites of eggs, a pinch of salt, two ounce castor sugar, a teaspoon Cadbury's essence, a few drops of almond essence. With a knife, whip the whites and salt on a plate until very stiff. Then put in flavoring, coco and sugar. Stir all together. Put in the pastry and bake in a slow oven three quarters of an hour. Put a blanched almond on the top of each.

LA CRESCENTA ITEMS

Well Drillers at Work

The ten-inch well which is being drilled on Mr. Cramer's place by the C. L. Cluggage company of Burbank is nearing completion. The well has been drilled to the depth of 260 feet and will at present pump ten inches of water and has water to the height of 70 feet.

The well is to be drilled 20 feet deeper and will then be pumped by a gas engine.

News of Fairmount

Manager Fred Hanger of Fairmount Hotel has several hopes. One is that the rain quits muzzing up the roads for this season as the new state highway has been opened and patrons may come and go on paved boulevards if the rain stays away awhile. Another hope is that he gets better phone service. The line is always busy. Here are the new arrivals of the past few days at the resort: Miss Annie M. Sullivan and Mrs. J. Grier, Los Angeles; Miss Lorraine Bassett, Whitewater, Wis.; Mrs. J. P. Seymour, Monrovia.

Remember the flood? Yes, well it is with great pleasure that the Progress appends to the La Crescenta correspondence the story of the ark. This bit of versification is the work of a Los Angeles capitalist who was on that eventful boat. "The Fairmount." In explanation we might state that any reference to players other than Captain Hanger and wife is made to some guest who can be located by looking up back registeries which appeared in the Progress the past two weeks.

At the Front

Solemn echoes of the great world war are even heard in as remote place as La Crescenta. Mrs. Ignac Sherb tells of her cousin, John Henry Latey, editor of the London Illustrated Penny News, being at the front with a corps of reporters chronicling the great events of the future history. Mr. Latey, according to Mrs. Scherb, is at present in Egypt. Then, too, Mr. Scherb's nephew, who is a veteran of the Franco-Prussian war, is residing in Belfort, which is the great fortified city of Alsace still uncaptured by the Germans. It is against this city that military strategists believe the next great German attack will be made. This nephew has four sons and a son-in-law in the French army.

LITTLELANDS

All underwear to be closed out at reduced prices at Dean & Co's.

Episcopal service will be held at the Morgan ranch on Sunday, Jan. 30, at 11 a. m. by the Rev. R. Renison.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stancliff of Burbank were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Haflinger.

Mrs. A. Thomas, who has been ill with la grippe, is able to be around again.

Mr. George Adam has recently completed a large lath house for his winter garden.

Mr. Charles Dean expects to plant two acres on Walnut Drive to potatoes this spring.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Martin had as guests last Sunday Mrs. Girdlestone and son Gilbert of Los Angeles.

Sergeant Chas. P. Martin of the U. S. army, nephew of A. H. Martin, stopped off for a visit en route to the Philippine Islands.

Miss Elizabeth Jackson, teacher of the primary department of Monte Vista school, is suffering from the effects of la grippe and will be away from her school duties for a few weeks. Miss Thompson of Garvanza will substitute for her during her absence.

The postoffice in Sunland has been re-established with Mrs. Huse as postmistress and full supplies for the office have been received. Every one should see that the office is given full support in preference to the rural route as it means much to a town to be provided with office accommodations.

Recently a young man has been canvassing Littlelands and its vicinity for subscribers to this paper. It is alleged that he is representing that he can give cheaper rates than the representative of Littlelands. Such representation is most untrue. The price is $1.00 per year in advance to all and no one in this community has ever been asked to pay more. Give your subscription to your own representative, which is only another way of co-operation. [Subscribe with your local representative, but be sure you subscribe.—Editor.

Bee Club

The Bee club met at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The minutes were read and approved, after which the president called for the report of committee on rules of conduct, which were received, and after some slight amendment were adopted.

Mr. Woodruff then gave the real essentials that the beginner in bee culture would require. Besides the hive containing the bees there should be two extras and one super, waxed frames, embedder, brush or turkey wing, wax fastener, smoker, 75c size, foundation wax fastener, spool of bee wire. These are the articles to be bought. The hat and veil may be improvised out of material at hand and any kind of loose gloves will answer. On motion of Mrs. Kearney the executive committee was instructed to arrange a trip to Mr. Metcalfe's apiary for the members of the club.

Home Croft Round Table

At the Home Croft meeting Friday evening Mr. Ashby read a letter from Butte, Montana, making inquiry for Joseph McAuley, who has been missing for some time. Any one giving information concerning this man will confer a favor upon his friends. Mr. Rockey, the weatherman of Littlelands, announced that up to Friday the precipitation had reached 17.88 inches. Before Mr. Maxwell began his lecture the audience, accompanied by Miss Gilbert at the piano, sang the familiar song, "Old Kentucky Home."

Mr. Maxwell announced that the die was cast for him and no mistake, as he has just registered as a resident of Littlelands. He has lived in various parts of the United States and he believes California to be the best state in the Union, Los Angeles to be the best county in the state and Littlelands the most attractive spot in all California. He believes the social life as it can be lived in this community, together with the ownership and cultivation of small tracts and the co-operation of the members for the buying and selling of the needful will be the means of overcoming the distaste that Americans, along with other Anglo Saxons, have for the cultivation of the soil. Every one should feel a pride in making things go and doing his or her part in every way. This does not preclude the right every one has to live his own life in his own way, provided he does not interfere with the rights of others. Mr. Maxwell hopes to see Littlelands become the training school to teach people the art and science of gardening. Famine and want would be banished from the world could universal co-operation become a fact. The meeting closed with the singing of Auld Lang Syne.
