PETERSEN HEARD AT OTTAWA SHIP INQUIRY

CHINA GREAT OIL COUNTRY SAYS EXPERT

Szechwan Province Expected to be Good Oil Producer, Says S. S. Dietrich Installed $50,000 Salt Drill Recently at Tzeulitsing

Topographically the Province of Szechwan offers excellent oil prospects and the Chinese territory of the Yangtse should be productive of unlimited quantities of oil, according to S. S. Dietrich, of the Keystone Drilling Company of Beaver Falls, Penn., who reached here to-day from Shanghai by the liner President Jefferson.

Mr. Dietrich has just returned from a six months' trip to China, where he has been superintending the installation for his company of a $50,000 drill at Tzeulitsing, the centre of the salt-producing province of Szechwan, in Western China.

SURVEYS SHOW OIL
Surveys have shown oil in Szechwan, but no serious effort has yet been made to drill for its production in the border sections of the great Chinese hinterland, Mr. Dietrich says. On his arrival here to-day, he displayed a sample of oil which he plans to have analyzed by oil experts in the United States. Szechwan is a big salt province and Mr. Dietrich is doubtful as to the diversion of oil in the earth's strata by the presence of salt. That oil exists, however, has been clearly demonstrated by recent surveys, and Mr. Dietrich optimistically believes that China will ultimately become one of the largest oil producing countries of the world.

PRIMITIVE METHODS BEING REPLACED
While the primitive methods are still primitive on the upper reaches of the Yangtse, but modern drilling is now being installed and production is being speeded up. Salt is still haled out by means of long bamboo poles to which a baler is attached. No nails or metal bits are used in these operations, which are bound together strongly at each section.

Mr. Dietrich left Shanghai last December for the Upper Yangtse, and after leaving the river boat traveled through wild country to his destination at Tzeulitsing. At no time was he molested by Chinese bandits. He says that Russian influence is felt in the border provinces of China. The Chinese coolie is now more independent and is demanding more wages for his labor.

Whereas formerly the coolie could be hired for the price of his daily ration of rice, he now demands $1.10 Mex. per day.

SAANICH AND CITY CLASH ON ELK LAKE
Municipality Has Right to Water Supply, Reeve Claims Waterworks Reserve Blind to Hold it Tax Free, He Says

Reeve Robert Macneil of Saanich has been considering the possibility of using Elk Lake as a source of water supply for Saanich residents, and is commencing inquiries as to obstacles to be overcome to make possible transfer of this property from city control to Saanich.

TAX FREE
The city is not using the property as a source of water supply, and it is a pity such an excellent resource as Elk Lake should be wasted," he stated this morning.

Vancouver, May 28.—Awakened to see a prowler standing on the fire escape outside his bedroom window early this morning, H. E. TACOMA WOMAN KILLED HUSBAND

Tacoma, May 28.—Long lessons in marksmanship which he had given his wife to protect herself against intruders resulted fatally this morning for Hugh Delaney, local boxer, when Mrs. Magdalene Delaney, thirty, grabbed the instruction pistol and shot her husband through the heart during an altercation in their home at East Larchmont, just outside the city limits.

Her husband had threatened to kill her and was holding an army rifle pointed toward her when she fired the shots that ended Delaney's life, the woman told the police.

James Sloman Back in Victoria from West Coast Buying Trip With 22,000 Skins; Records Will Be Smashed by Indians This Year, He Says.

The catch started about the middle of April. Already it is greater than in any year since 1911 and they will still be catching them until the end of June," stated James Sloman, the well known fur dealer of Tofino.

"Merely a trip of investigation and exploration in search of objects of art that might be of interest to our collection in Boston," he said. "I have been wandering over India, China and Japan getting my collection together and, on the whole, it has been a most pleasant experience."

Commanded Canadian Artillery in Great War; Veteran of South Africa

Ottawa, May 28.—Major-General Sir Edward W. B. Morrison, K.C.M.G., K.C.B., D.S.O., late Adjutant-General at National Defence headquarters here, a veteran of the South African War, and the officer who commanded the Canadian artillery in France during the Great War, died here at 4.15 o'clock this morning.

Gen. Morrison, who was in his fifty-eighth year, had been in a failing health for some time. A few days ago he was taken with a seizure and removed to a hospital from his home. Death came during his sleep.

Edward Whipple Bancroft Morrison was born in London, Ontario, in 1867. From his early boyhood he showed an inclination for a military life. He began both his writing and fighting career in Hamilton, Ontario, over thirty years ago, when he joined the staff of The Hamilton Spectator and the Canadian militia.

Starting his journalistic career, he first fitted himself by becoming a proficient shorthand writer. He was reported out on page 3.

HEADHUNTERS TO HEAR RADIO SOON

Liverpool, May 28.—Jazz records and radio are to be introduced to the headhunters on the Colombian-Peruvian border in South America. These modern devices will be part of the equipment of an expedition headed by Dr. William Montgomery McGovern, who plans this summer to penetrate the unmapped plateau between the Andes and the Amazon Valley and make friends with the savages.

Little is known to scientists of these headhunters except that they have pigmy slaves, and shrink the heads of their victims by a secret process to the size of an apple.

Dr. McGovern has left for Brazil to organize his party.

EIGHT BODIES TAKEN FROM CAROLINA MINE

Twenty-seven White Men and Twenty-six Negroes Were Entombed While at Work

Were 1,000 Feet Below Surface of Earth When Explosion Came Yesterday

Coal Glen, N.C., May 28.—With eight bodies recovered from the wrecked Carolina Coal Company mine at noon to-day, over two score miners were unaccounted for. They were trapped 1,000 feet below the earth by a gas explosion yesterday.

A checkup by the timekeeper showed fifty-three men were recorded as having been in the mine at the time of the explosion. Of these twenty-seven were white men and twenty-six negroes.

The bodies of five white men and three negroes have been recovered. NO HOPE ENTERTAINED

The glimmer of hope that some of the miners might be rescued alive wavered and went out to-day in the hearts of rescue workers who throughout the night had labored in the recesses of the mine. After a very unusual proposal in the Commons, had additional rarity from the fact that it was made by the Liberal Party, of which the Speaker himself is a member.

The expressed grievance of the Liberal Party against the Speaker was that "contrary to recent precedents," he granted a closure of the first day's debate during the second reading of the finance bill, thereby preventing the Liberals from making as strong a case in the debate as they desired. The motion for censure maintained that this action of the Speaker had not accorded the Liberals the protection that was due to minorities in the House.

It was known in advance that the proposal for closure would be defeated by both the Conservative and Labor parties opposed it.

PETERSEN STATES IN OTTAWA FORTY DOLLARS ENOUGH FOR SETTLERS' OCEAN CROSSING

Man Who Signed Ship Subsidy Contract Says He Can Give Canada's Immigrants Transportation Across Atlantic in Plainly Equipped but Comfortable Vessels for $40 to $45 Apiece; Gives Evidence Before Commons Committee.

Ottawa, May 28.—A witness before the Commons Committee on Ocean Rates shortly before noon to-day, Sir William Petersen, explained the present high steamship rates paid by Canada on the ground of "frills." He gave as an example the liner Urania, which cost £1,000,000 and was launched last year. Such vessels, with gymnasiums and nurseries, he said, were bound to charge high rates.

"Who has to pay? Why, of course, the Canadian shippers," he said.

10,000 GALICIANS SOON TO FARM IN PEACE RIVER AREA

Edmonton, May 28.—One thousand families, comprising 10,000 persons, are coming from Eastern Galicia some time this summer to take up land in the Peace River district of Northern Alberta under the auspices of the Ukrainian Immigration and Colonization Association of Edmonton, it was learned to-day.

The farms upon which the Ukrainian immigrants will settle have been selected and are in readiness for them.

PRESTON'S WORK
Petersen told the committee of his first meeting with T. R. Preston, who investigated the shipping combine in the North Atlantic for the Canadian Government.

Last year, Petersen said, Mr. Preston came to him in London and told him of the Canadian Government's desire to secure control of ocean rates. He said that Mr. Preston had met Hon. T. A. Low, Minister of Trade and Commerce. The witness outlined a possible contract. Mr. Low said he would consider it over until he could consult his colleagues. Petersen was called to Ottawa, where the contract for subsidizing a fleet of ten ships was signed.

Mr. Preston had nothing whatever to do with the contract, he said.

DID NOT AID REPORT
Sir William said he had nothing to do with the writing of the Preston report.

The committee adjourned until this afternoon.

LOWER RATE WOULD BUILD CATTLE TRADE

Dr. J. H. Grisdale Advocates Cut to $15 a Head From Canada to Britain

Ottawa, May 28.—That an adequate reduction in the transportation rate on cattle from Canada to Great Britain would open up a market for Canadian producers, the value of which is several millions of dollars, is the opinion of Dr. J. H. Grisdale, Federal Deputy Minister of Agriculture. He advocates an Atlantic rate of $15 a head on cattle sent from Canada to the Old Country as compared with the prevailing rate of $20. He believes $15 for a matured steer would be a reasonable rate when prevailing prices are considered, and if lighter animals were carried five in a stall, the rate might be decreased.

LOWER RATE YEARS AGO
Dr. Grisdale stated his views to the Commons Committee on Ocean Rates yesterday afternoon.

He compared the $7 cattle rate of some years ago with the rate prevailing to-day, and said the present rate was making it difficult to build up the Canadian cattle industry.

Not only would the Canadian cattle shippers benefit from a lower rate, but the steamship companies would be assured of regular cargoes by the development of the industry. There was practically no unlimited market for Canadian cattle in Britain.

TWELVE WERE HURT IN SUBWAY CRASH

Train in New York Tube Ran Into Rear End of Standing Train To-day

Cars Telescoped; Police Reserves Were Hurried to Scene of Accident

PARTY IS READY FOR DEASE FLIGHT

Prince Rupert, May 28.—Unfavorable weather conditions to-day prevented the party of engineers headed by Colonel J. Scott Williams of Montreal and Archibald Little of Detroit, who are inaugurating aerial prospecting in British Columbia, from taking off for the Dease Lake district. Their airplane, however, was given a tryout over the harbor and reported to be in perfect condition.

The party plans to head for Wrangell, Alaska, to-morrow as the first lap of the trip.

Moroccan Issue Debated in Paris

Paris, May 28.—The French Parliament yesterday showed itself nearly solid behind the Government's defensive policy in Morocco in a five-hour debate that the Communists turned into a scene of turmoil for a time, causing President of the Chamber M. Herriot to accuse the Communist Deputy Doriot of "reasonable piteances."

cord with the Government in specifying that there must be no imperialistic colonial expansion. The Communists attacked the army and the tactics of Marshal Lyautey, Resident-General in Morocco, with such violence that M. Herriot had the Chamber censure Doriot, depriving him of his vote and pay for a month. Both Premier Painleve and M. Herriot defended the Moroccan policy as justified resistance to Abd-el-Krim's invasion and denounced the Communist assaults on France's good name. M. Painleve dared Doriot to repeat what he had said in Moscow, and the President of the Chamber ordered expunged from the record Doriot's call to the French colonies to demand independence and to the French troops to lay down their arms and make peace with Abd-el-Krim.

COLWOOD WILL BID FOR TOURIST TRADE

Plans Discussed at Meeting of Women's Institute

Special to The Times Colwood, May 28.—A meeting composed of a special committee of members of the Colwood Women's Institute, was held on Tuesday night to consider the best and attractive method of making generally known to tourists and visitors the Village of Colwood.

At the present time although Colwood is decidedly a growing district, with its fine golf links, race course, etc., apart from one motor stage which advertises its run to Colwood Golf Links, there is no sign post or notice board to mark the village itself or the direction thereto. Visitors and tourists are further confused by the fact that the sign "Colwood" is displayed at the railway station at Langford. At the western point of the district, where the road branches off, sign posts are displayed, indicating the districts of Metchoin, Sooke, Rocky Point, etc., but nothing to indicate that this certain district is Colwood. A committee was therefore formed to look into this matter up, and it is thought that the corner near the Colwood Hotel could be made an attractive land mark, and the owners of the property have signified their willingness to allow a portion of the land to be used for such. It is the intention of the committee to seek the aid and co-operation of the Metchoin Farmers' Institute in their endeavors to beautify this corner to advertise the district.

DUNCAN MAY CHANGE WEEKLY HALF-DAY

Petition Calls For Thursday Instead of Wednesday

Provincial Police Offer to District Accepted

Special to The Times Duncan, May 28.—The regular meeting of the City Council was held on Tuesday evening, Mayor Mutter presiding.

A largely signed petition was received asking that the city revert to the Thursday half holiday, instead of Wednesday as passed by the recent by-law.

In view of his many services to the City Council, he was at once asked to reconsider this.

The council finally decided to accept the agreement for policing the city by the Provincial Police. W. H. Purver was appointed as the new assistant in the city office as building inspector, etc.

FOREIGNERS ARE TO PAY FOR HUNTING

Ottawa, May 28.—Authority to compel foreigners going into the Northwest Territories to take out licenses is vested in the Federal Government by a bill given first reading in the House of Commons yesterday.

The Minister of the Interior, Hon. Charles Stewart, explained from time to time foreigners were entering the Canadian hinterland to explore and hunt game, and it appeared at present that the Government had no authority to demand that such people take out licenses. It was the intention to exact license fees hereafter.

What You Get For The Last $10 YES, there are lower-priced bicycles than the C. C. M., but the C. C. M. is by far the cheapest in the long run. That last $10 you pay for a C. C. M. is the most important part of your purchase. It assures you— extra years of easy riding, extra reserve strength, extra durable finish, fewer repairs, a higher selling value for your "used" C. C. M. For that last $10, you get, among other things— the smooth-running Triplex Hanger, a frame of English Seamless Tubing, reinforced at the joints, extra coats of rich, lustrous enamel, rustproof nickelling over copper, the classy Gibson Pedal with rustproof aluminum frame, the new improved Hercules Brake, a bicycle with everyone of its 1761 parts made with watch-like accuracy, a bicycle "trued up" at the factory. And, remember, five years from now your "used" C. C. M. will easily bring $10 more than a five-year-old inferior machine—if the inferior machine has not already reached the scrap heap. You simply cannot lose by buying a C. C. M. Prices Are Again Reduced They're now $20 to $25 less than the "peak" prices. This year C. C. M. bicycles are the biggest values since pre-war days.

A CLEAR CASE

AT THE PRESENT TIME

Canadian store cattle are shipped from this country across the Atlantic to Great Britain at twenty dollars per head. Some years ago the same service cost only seven dollars.

The chief point about Dr. Grisdale's testimony is his assurance that if the present rate of twenty dollars could be reduced to fifteen, it would open up a market the value of which he says is scarcely calculable.

There is practically an unlimited market in Great Britain for Canadian cattle, he is supported by frequent demands by numerous organizations in the Old Country for a further alteration in the regulations which replaced the old embargo in order that Canadian stores might extend the beneficial effect which they already have had upon the meat business over there.

The evidence of Dr. Grisdale and Sir Henry Drayton ought to be sufficient to convince opponents of the King Government's proposal that as long as the present ocean freight schedule is in operation, the Canadian cattle industry will be seriously handicapped and only a part of the advantage which the removal of the embargo was to confer will be gained by the stockmen of this country.

HAVE A REAL CLEAN-UP

IF A FRACTION OF THE energy expended in the discussion on the corner of Belleville and Government Streets could be devoted to a general clean-up of the city, the result would be very beneficial.

For example, the entire eastern waterfront presents a spectacle so depressing in conflict with the general character of Victoria that it ought to be changed at once. In its melancholy dinginess it gives the town a bad name. It is not even picturesque. It looks as if it were bearing the burden of some drab tragedy the memory of which time never can efface.

There are numerous other aspects in which wonders could be worked in improving the appearance of the city. There are many sign-boards much more offensive to the eye than the one on the corner of Belleville and Government Streets. There are rickety fences with protruding nails, and dilapidated buildings on property owned by the city. Our City Hall itself is a long way from being a thing of beauty. Let us have a real clean-up.

THE SASKATCHEWAN "PLOT"

WHAT DOES MR. Meighen think about the marriage which the Conservatives and Progressives in Saskatchewan have solemnized in one bold effort to defeat Premier Dunning and his Party at the polls next Tuesday?

Have the fortunes of the defenders of special privilege fallen to such a low ebb as this? Is he prepared for the bursting of a new storm around his judgment in leadership? Premier Dunning and his supporters could wish for nothing better than this peculiar alliance between forces which have practically nothing in common.

As a plot—with the leader of the Conservatives calling the Progressives "brothers in arms"—the average Saskatchewan voter will deal with it. Premier Dunning has offered him a power-development project. It is not likely that he will ignore that and swallow the large doses of blue ruin mixture which the Conservatives are administering to the country as a whole in the hope that they will gain some political advantage by it.

MAKE TRAVEL EASY

VANCOUVER OBJECTS to the principle which requires motorists from the United States to go to the Court House and register the numbers of their cars. It suggests that the matter be attended to by the police at the border or put in the hands of the British Columbia Automobile Association.

Nothing is so irritable to the holidaymaker as any semblance of an excess of "red tape." On this account the provincial authorities, recognizing the value of the tourist traffic to British Columbia, may be counted upon to receive suggestions calculated to increase the movement with sympathetic consideration.

EXAMINE THEM AT THE POINT OF ORIGIN

IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS from the United States have gone to Europe to establish machinery for the effective examination of migrants at the point of origin instead of at Ellis Island. As far as possible this country's Department of Immigration follows this course on the other side of the Atlantic and many disappointments are avoided in consequence.

Much has been said and written about conditions at Ellis Island. Some of it has no doubt been true and much has been exaggerated. How the American Government conducts its immigration business is its own affair. This new plan, however, takes on more than usual interest in view of the case which is just now engaging public attention in the United States. It concerns a Mrs. Jacob Bushbaum of Brooklyn who entered the republic from Poland three years ago. She was an admissible alien except on one point: she could neither read nor write and she was ordered deported. But the case was taken into the courts and, pending a settlement, she was allowed her liberty under bond. For three years no settlement was reached. Meanwhile the woman learned to read and write. Now she is being deported, not because she can not read and write, but because she could not read and write three years ago.

This is no doubt an isolated case of immigration-law administration. It is not a very important point—except for Mrs. Bushbaum. The chief condition which both Canadian and American officials should be empowered to enforce is that of healthy mind and healthy body. Given these requisites, the advantages to be obtained in both countries ought to be able to take care of the rest.

People who are becoming uneasy because foreign money continues to flow into Canada should try and demonstrate the same amount of faith as the outsider is demonstrating. They would then be better off themselves and help the country to become better off.

There are other parts of the world besides Victoria where there is a division of opinion as to what should be permitted on Sunday and what should not be permitted. The controversy as to whether Shakespeare's birthplace, Ann Hathaway's Cottage, and Nash's House should be open on Sunday afternoons during the Summer is still going on.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON RATTLING THE PAN

VERY often it seems as if a man had no more original ideas and when he talks he is simply repeating what he has heard before, or he is making an empty sound. It is like rattling the pan when all the time he has been spending the reason why so many people give out and their source of supply ceases is because they cease to think.

We must receive as well as give. The novelist must have material constantly if he is to keep on writing novels. Many a mother has found her task irksome and tiresome because she is constantly giving out and never taking in. She ought to have some means of recreation or study, or something by which she can lay in the supplies which she is supposed to give out.

Teachers also run dry. They become hoarse and repeaters of platitudes simply because all their energy is spent upon teaching. They are constantly giving out and never taking in.

The preacher ceases to be a source of inspiration to his congregation when he runs out of inspiration himself. He cannot pass on what he has not.

This reasoning applies to us all. Those who are able to help others are the strong, not the weak. There was a play not long ago that stirred New York called "The Fool" in which a man quit a good job where he was getting a good salary and went to helping people by giving away "overcoats." In this case the play did not show, however, what was when his "overcoat" gave out he went home to get another. His actions were all right as long as the supply lasted. When his abundance ceased his charity would have to cease and he would have to be a burden to others.

It behooves every human being to remain strong and capable in order that he may be of assistance to others about him. The weak man is of no aid to himself or anybody else. The Golden Rule which says we should do to others as we would be done by implies the fact that we must first be strong. Self-sacrifice is based upon self-preservation. If there is no strengthening of one's self by a constant intake there is no help of others by a constant outgo.

WORDS OF WISE MEN

Benevolence is a duty. He who frequently practices it and sees his benevolent intentions realized, at length comes really to love him to whom he has done good.—Kant.

A true delineation of the smallest man is capable of interesting the greatest man.—Carlyle.

If solid happiness we prize Within our breast this jewel lies, And they are fools who roam; The world has nothing to bestow. From our own selves our joy must flow. And that dear hut—our home.—Cotton.

When our hatred is violent it sinks us even beneath those we hate.—Rochefoucauld.

Men as well as women are often led by their hearts rather than their understandings. The way to the heart is through the senses; please their eyes and ears and the work is half done.—Cheslerfield.

WHO'S WHO IN HISTORY TO-DAY

THURSDAY, MAY 28

SAINT HELENA (Flavia Julia) empress of the Roman empire and mother of Constantine the Great, claimed to have found the True Cross at Jerusalem on May 28, 328. A few years earlier she built the Church of the Holy Sepulcher and the Nativity, both at Jerusalem.

KING JOHN English ruler, brother of Richard the Lion-Hearted, was crowned on May 28, 1199. His succession was disputed by some of the barons, who favored Arthur, the son of an older brother, but John removed this objection by putting Arthur to death. Later the barons, seeking to secure a reform in government, compelled John to sign the Magna Charta, the great charter of the liberties which he subsequently sought to revoke.

LOUIS JEAN RUDOLPHE AGASSIZ Distinguished Swiss-American naturalist, especially renowned as a geologist and ichthyologist, was born at Môtte, Switzerland on May 28, 1807. After serving as professor of zoology and geology at Harvard, he traveled in the United States, in Brazil, and around Cape Horn, and became curator of the Museum of Comparative Zoology at Cambridge.

THOMSON FIRE LOSS

To the Editor:—In regard to the Rev. B. S. Clarke's letter appearing in the press, Mrs. Thomson wishes to state that through the prompt settlement of their recent fire loss by the Northwestern Mutual Fire Association and through the courtesy of the company through their local agent, Mr. C. Straker, all their immediate wants have been taken care of.

MRS. B. THOMSON.

SAANICH SCHOOL NURSE

To the Editor:—Having seen an article in your paper, dated May 22, with reference to the Saanich School Board, I am glad to see that the public that the truth concerning some of the statements made should be known.

I may have recently worked in the district of Saanich, among the residents there, and the people I met spoke very highly of the present school nurse, also of the superintendent and the other nurses of the Health Centre.

If some of the ladies whose names are mentioned in your article did had never seen the nurse, they would not have been so sure of their own opinion. I am certain that the best co-operation exists, at the present time, between the superintendent, the school nurse and all the other nurses at the Health Centre. Perhaps if Trustee Campion would go to the trouble of looking up the report published in your paper, December, 1924, and January, 1925, she would learn there the reason of the difference in cost between Saanich and Cowichan. There is no comparison between the two, as the following figures will show:

Number of pupils, Saanich, 1,800; Cowichan, 835.

Number of nursing visits made to homes, including home school visits, Saanich, 28,045; Cowichan, 3,325.

Number of cars, Saanich, 2; Cowichan, 2.

Number of miles covered, Saanich, 24,000; Cowichan, 12,600.

With regard to difference in salary: There is a vast difference between a trained nurse, who has also had the report published in your paper, public health experience, and a teacher who is just beginning.

ANONYMOUS. Vancouver, May 28, 1925.

HIS HONOR'S GENEROSITY

To the Editor:—I am taking the liberty of writing to thank my friends in Victoria for congratulations received in connection with the Lieutenant-Governor's Scholarship awarded my son, Jack Leslie, in the department of graduate work in Applied Science at the University of British Columbia and thus receiving the degree of M.A.Sc. The amount of the scholarship is $1,200 per annum. It is one of the most gratifying signs to the young people of this Province that the Lieutenant-Governor has made such generous provision in the interest of higher education.

The scholarship which is known as the "British Columbia University's International Scholarship" and is for three years, is a fine opportunity for the student to study in France at a University or Research Institution of high standing and at the same time to make use of every opportunity in developing a friendship between the French and British people. The idealist may dream dreams in which he visions the future international good will that is the practical interpretation of that spirit of goodwill, expressed through the student body which will reside in France, leading us to hope for the very best upon the basis of mutual advantage.

The public has much reason to commend the spirit underlying this gift of the Lieutenant-Governor, with the hope that other public-spirited citizens will find incentive in the fact that it provides unusual advantages to the young people of this Province who may from time to time receive the award.

Jack Leslie Huggert was born in Victoria where his parents resided for many years. He received his junior elementary education in the public schools of this city and I wish to pay tribute to the very faithful efforts of the public school teachers who laid the foundation of a fine type of student, some twenty years ago. This group of teachers, who are well-to-do and I gladly pay this tribute as I had ample opportunity of knowing their personal work. I am more than proud of my son's achievement and good fortune and sincerely wish equal success to those diligent and hard-working students who are now ploughing their way through many furrows to the harvest of worthy attainment.

ALFRED HUGGETT 1523 Queensbury Avenue, North Vancouver, May 28.

HEALTH & DISEASE PAIN IN THE CHEST

Pain in the chest is usually the result of injury, either inflammatory or mechanical, to the chest wall or the organ within the chest cavity. Mechanical injury, such as may result from strain or blows, usually results in soreness of a general character. In inflammation of the organs underlying the chest wall, the organs do not suffer pain in themselves, the pain is referred to localized areas in the chest—usually the lungs, for instance, evidence itself in a diffuse soreness in the front of the chest. Pleurisy, which is the same most people give to any pain in the chest, is specifically an inflammatory condition of the covering membranes of the lungs. The roughened, inflamed surfaces rubbing upon one another during breathing produce pain of a sharp, excruciating character; when fluid results from the inflammation, the surfaces are separated and the pain ceases. Pleurisy pains are usually localized, are very sharp, increase with deep breathing and indicate a serious condition in the chest.

There are few diseases of the lungs which produce pain in the chest. Those diseases of the lungs which are associated with pain are so associated because of the accompanying pleurisy. Certain types of heart disease also are accompanied by pain, but the majority of heart affections are painless, and exhibit themselves merely by shortness of breath, increasing inability to take exercise, and fatigue. Occasional severe pains in the chest which are usually ascribed to the heart, are the result of indigestion. So frequently is this the case that it became the custom with physicians of a past generation to carefully examine the stomach in all cases of complaint of pain which the patient ascribed to the heart.

LITERARY NOTES Over the grave of Joseph Conrad near Canterbury there has now been placed a large block of Cornish granite. On this has been carved those words by Spenser which formed the motto of Conrad's last book, "The Rover."

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

FRIDAY, MAY 29

Although this day may be moderately active, judging by the astral operations, yet it may be uneventful and unimportant—promising more than is fulfilled. It might be well to avoid all manner of disputes and contentions and to be on guard against treachery, fraud and misrepresentation. Both by lunar and solar position Neptune is strong, indicating to the unusual, subtle and eccentric. Under the solar ray its influence may not be baneful.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a fairly active year, but one not of great importance. They should shut all disputes and strife and be on guard against treachery, fraud or subtlety of every character. It is urged that all promises be discounted, since there is little likelihood of fulfillment. A child born on this day may have some eccentricities or peculiarities of disposition or conduct. It may have some unusual talent, but may find it difficult to succeed in business unless the hour of its birth rules otherwise.

Mr. MacIver arrived yesterday from Vancouver.

FATHER OF LOCAL WOMAN HAS LIVED OVER A CENTURY

James Cassels of Saskatoon Gives Recipe For Longevity; Born in 1821

Saskatoon, May 28.—A hard honest day's work, an honest night's sleep and strict abstinence from hard liquor make up the recipe which James Cassels, who has just celebrated his one hundred and fourth birthday here, prescribes for those who would attain ripe old age.

Mr. Cassels, for many years a resident of Saskatoon, was born in County Antrim, Ireland, in 1821. He crossed the Atlantic ten years later with his father in a wooden sailing vessel, which spent nine weeks upon the ocean before the Gulf of St. Lawrence came into view.

The Cassels family settled in Ontario, in the vicinity of the present city of Owen Sound. While still a youth Mr. Cassels lost his parents, and at the age of twenty-one took up the burden of caring for a large family of younger brothers and sisters, all of whom now are dead.

The only employment available at that time was in clearing heavy timber from the land, which the pioneers proposed to cultivate. "You don't see trees like those any more," Mr. Cassels declared. "There were from three to four feet through at the butt, and when the land was cleared, the stumps remained for some years after, so that each acre of homestead land cost the settler about $14 or $15 by the time it was ready for the plough. It was real work, too, not the eight-hour day of the present time. We used to work from the time we could see in the morning until the light failed at night."

The years spent in hewing down the giant trees are still fresh in the memory of the centenarian. It is to the habits of long hours of hard, muscle-building work that Mr. Cassels attributes his great age.

When Mr. Cassels first saw Toronto it was, he says, a straggling little village of two or three stores and a narrow-gauge railway. Owen Sound, Barrie and a number of other large centres in Ontario had not been founded. He recalls the first train to reach Owen Sound, and whimsically remarked that the children of the neighborhood used to climb the trees to see the smoke of the locomotive as it lumbered along the line.

Mrs. Cassels died a number of years ago. The couple had five children, Mrs. Johnston of Saskatoon; Mrs. W. Johnston of Victoria, B.C.; Mrs. A. Crawford of Eston, Sask.; Mrs. S. Silverthorn, Ardath, Sask.; and J. A. Cassels of Melville. There are several grand children and one great-granddaughter.

HIGHER EDUCATION RESULTS ANALYZED

University Finds it Does Not Lead Women Away From Marriage

Los Angeles, May 28.—Authorities at the University of Southern California, making public the results of a questionnaire of 992 women graduates of the institution during the period of 1920-1924, declare that a university education does not lead women away from marriage. The questionnaire was intended to ascertain whether a majority chose careers rather than marriage.

The tabulation showed that more than a third of the feminine graduates who replied were married, either while attending the university or within four years after their graduation.

A total of 619 answered the question. Of this number, 262 chose the profession of wife, homemaker and housekeeper.

Nine engaged in commercial pursuits, including banking.

Fifty-two took up fine arts, including music, dancing and painting. Twelve turned to the law, three to medicine, and three entered the ministry. Other occupations—such as nursing, agriculture, journalism, public service and social service—claimed 28, and 129 became teachers.

TOBACCO ENEMY TO WOMAN'S BEAUTY

Eminent-British Doctor Sounds Warning to Smokers and Drinkers

London, May 28.—Tobacco used by women has a tendency to destroy their femininity, according to Dr. Cecil Webb-Johnson, one of England's best-known specialists on diet and obesity, in his new book, "Women and Beauty." Health and beauty go hand in hand, declares the author, and a grave warning is given to women smokers and drinkers, his theory being that it is difficult for the women of to-day, and the men as well, to smoke or drink within what ordinarily is termed moderation.

"A man often will have his allotted daily ration of so many pipes, cigars or cigarettes, but a woman is more unstable and less capable of self-control than a man," the author contends. "As a rule, he believes, a woman smoker does not appear to know what moderation means, any more than a woman drinker."

Concerning the effect of excessive cigarette smoking upon a woman's beauty the doctor says: "Observe a girl who smokes excessively, and you will notice that she also looks undernourished, with staring eyes and a yellowish skin. To make matters worse the smoke-dried throat expels more liquid than is necessary in consumption and an alcohol habit set up. The cocktail and the cigarette always go together."

"Alcohol generally," Dr. Webb-Johnson maintains, "spoils beauty in woman because it makes superfluous fat."

A Gleam of Mass of Hair
35c "Danderine" does Wonders for Any Girl's Hair

PRINCESSES—Mrs. William B. Leeds, the former Princess Zena of Greece, a great-niece of Queen Alexandra, arrives with her baby, Alexander, at Southampton, after visiting America.

Remember the Protestant Orphanage tag day, Saturday, May 30. ***

Girls! Try this! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair-brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of glossy, shiny, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance.

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a bottle of "Danderine" at any drug store or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair appears after this delightful, refreshing dressing. (Adv.)

AORANGI EXPECTED TO BREAK DOWN RECORD ON ARRIVAL AT THIS PORT THIS AFTERNOON

Big Canadian-Australasian Liner is Due to Reach Here About 5.30 o'Clock; Empress of Asia, Outbound With Big Cargo and Passenger List, Precedes Her to Dock, Arriving About 5 p.m.

The motorship Aorangi, fine new vessel in the Canadian-Australasian service, making her third voyage to Victoria since her recent coming to this coast, will dock here this afternoon three hours ahead of her former time to this port from the Antipodes, and will establish a record, according to authorities here this morning. The Aorangi has been making racing time up the Pacific over the many hundreds of miles between the Australian ports and Victoria. The various stops, such as Honolulu, en route have been as brief as possible and the ship has steamed at high speed almost all the time.

This afternoon, with a big list of passengers, a good number of whom will disembark here, the Aorangi arrives from the South. Her scheduled time, according to wireless from the ship, is about 6 o'clock. She will run in from the quarantine station at about 5 o'clock.

EMPERESS OUTBOUND

The giant Empress of Asia, Canadian Pacific Oriental liner, will sail outbound from here to-day just before the Aorangi reaches the Rithet piers, it is expected. This ship will leave Vancouver at noon, a cable from the terminal port states to-day. The Asia is expected to arrive here about 5 o'clock and will sail soon afterwards.

The Aorangi, which will be ready to dock almost at the same time as the Empress, may be delayed somewhat in coming alongside. There was talk here this morning of keeping the big Australasian steamship in this port all night, but nothing definite had been settled in this connection up to a late hour to-day.

TRAVEL IS HEAVY

Shipping agencies here this morning stated that the travel northbound from Australia and New Zealand was expected to be good this year and that the Aorangi was a very popular vessel with the tourists, especially as she had established for herself such a reputation.

There is heavy cargo on the Aorangi, including meats and butter, hides and manufactured goods, fruits and other Southern products, and considerable tonnage will be discharged here. There is also a large consignment of mail aboard both for Victoria and Vancouver.

EMPERESS OF ASIA LEAVES FOR FAR EAST LATE TO-DAY

Expected to Dock From Vancouver About 5 o'Clock; Has Many Passengers

Vancouver, May 28.—Carrying 300 passengers and a 2,500-ton cargo for Oriental ports, the Canadian Pacific Empress of Asia cleared for Yokohama at noon to-day en route to Kobe, Shanghai, Hongkong and Manila.

Prominent on her list of saloon passengers were Dr. and Mrs. Frank D. Gamewell of New York. Dr. Gamewell, who is associate secretary of foreign missions under the Methodist Church, is returning to the Orient after a year spent in the United States. Mrs. Gamewell is well known as an authoritative writer on missionary topics.

THE PASSENGERS

Other passengers include H. R. McMillan, of the McMillan Lumber Company of Vancouver, en route to Japan; G. B. Sansome, a member of the consulate in the British Embassy at Tokyo; Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Juridini, well known residents of New York; C. M. Watson of Fleming; T. Usui, a director of the Japan Cotton Trading Company of New York; Mr. and Mrs. P. L. W. Timmonson, en route to Estavria; Mrs. Charles Bovey of Vancouver, en route to Japan to join her husband, and Mrs. G. Stenhouse of London, England.

Another interesting group of passengers included E. B. Dalmore, C. W. Granger, H. A. Lacey, H. P. Landcraft and W. H. McDermott, of the Shell Oil Company, going out as drillers to the oil fields of China.

Five hundred tons of lead and zinc, a heavy shipment of Canadian flour, automobiles, phonographs, Alberta beef and butter, in addition to general merchandise, made up the Asia's cargo.

Many Lose Work After Ship Sale

San Francisco, May 28.—As a result of the sale of the United States shipping board's five President-class liners to the Dollar Line, the Pacific Mail steamship company, former operators of these vessels for the shipping board, announce the discharge of forty-five members of the firm. All of those let out, however, hold subordinate positions, officials announced.

Bound for the Columbia River to Newcastle, Australia, and the west coast of South America, the schooner Elino H. was reported yesterday as putting into Apla in a leaking condition. Reports received by the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce said the schooner will be repaired without discharging her cargo.

Clipping off the fast time of twelve days eleven hours from Yokohama with a large consignment of silk aboard, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha liner Siberia was reported to have docked here yesterday twelve hours ahead of schedule.

CHINA GOVERNMENT CONSTRUCTIVE NOW BUT WAR THREATENS

W. W. Fowler, Railroad Supply Manufacturer, Says Conditions Better

"I believe that China now has one of the most constructive governments that she has had in many years," declared W. W. Fowler, railroad equipment magnate of Chicago, who has been in Peking recently and in close touch with Government officials regarding their railroad policy. He had nothing to say about his business connections with the Chinese Government, but it is understood that he is making an effort to bring about a deal of some magnitude by which his company, W. W. Fowler & Co., Chicago, will be enabled to supply a large contract for road equipment.

Unsettled business conditions still exist in China, and will continue to exist until peace is restored to the land, says Mr. Fowler. But there is bound to be another war. "As a matter of fact," he stated, "things are more promising in the Far East now than they have been for some time. Trade is a little brisker, although it is far from what it should be. But it is picking up slightly and the increase of business is at least encouraging."

Mr. Fowler would say very little regarding his own work in China. He would not talk, either, of economic conditions. He says that he prefers while on a trip of this sort to forget business as far as possible. He will probably return to the Orient in the fall.

JAPANESE LINER DUE TO-MORROW

Bringing in ten cabin and twelve steerage passengers for Seattle, and several for Victoria, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha steamship Arizono Maru will arrive at William Head Friday. The vessel is bringing 2,544 bales of raw silk and thirteen tons of the manufactured product, which will be immediately forwarded to the Atlantic seaboard.

On her first voyage here in this service, the liner London Maru is now loading outward and is scheduled to sail for the Orient with a good list of passengers and a capacity cargo of freight June 6, according to reports received here this morning.

BRINGS FIRST TEA SHIPMENT TO COAST FROM ASIA'S PORTS

President Jefferson Arrived at 8 o'Clock this Morning From Orient With Valuable Cargo; Sailed One Day Ahead of Schedule and Had Fine Voyage; Left 150 Tons of Cargo in Victoria.

Bringing from the Far East the first shipment of the new crop of tea from Ceylon, the President Jefferson of the Admiral Oriental Mail Line docked here at about 8 o'clock this morning after a pleasant voyage from the Orient, one day ahead of schedule and with a good list of passengers and a valuable cargo of general freight.

FROM CEYLON

The tea, loaded at Hongkong, came to that port from the Ceylon plantations and about 2,000 packages of it were aboard the big liner when she steamed alongside the Rithet piers this morning. These are for delivery for the most part at United States cities and Eastern Canadian points. Further shipments, officers aboard the ship said, would follow this one, gradually growing in size as the Asiatic output became picked, packed and prepared for export.

A GOOD VOYAGE

"We had a good voyage taken on the whole," said Capt. F. R. Nichols, master of the ship when she docked here this morning. "We ran into a bit of fog off the China coast, but it was soon passed by. During the ocean crossing the weather was generally fair, with an occasional touch of wind and white water."

VALUABLE CARGO

Large bundles of skins, including goat and buffalo, of the species found in northern China, composed a portion of the cargo. These skins are of considerable value, and are for delivery in the Eastern market.

The silk shipment on the Jefferson, while not as big as those which the ship usually transports across the Pacific, is valued at $2,500,000. This was loaded at Yokohama, and is for New York and other American centers of manufacture.

Sugar, rice, rattan ware, hemp and various other commodities constituted the remainder of the big cargo. The ship left the Orient one day in advance of her usual sailing date, in order to arrive in Seattle in plenty of time for an annual survey.

ENJOYABLE TRIP

There were nearly 100 first-class passengers aboard the ship, and many more traveling in steerage. A small number disembarked here, and the remainder were on the big vessel when she left for Seattle late in the morning, after dropping 450 tons of general cargo here and a large mail consignment.

HAD BIG MAIL

Pilot Eddie Hubbard, the Seattle-Victoria air mail carrier, arrived here shortly after the big ship, and there was a heavy load of rush correspondence for him. The ship put nearly 100 bags over the side for the plane, and Hubbard here early at top speed for Seattle.

J. W. Dixie, departmental solicitor, and H. DEAF MUTE IN COURT ON ARSON CHARGE

Witness Tells of Stranger With Peculiar Gait
Mother Holds Written Conversation With Son in Prison

In the city police court this morning Thomas W. Gaunt, witness for the prosecution against Frank Brooks, the deaf mute appearing on a charge of arson, told how he caught sight of a small, peculiar-gaited figure on Fernwood Road on the night when flames sprang from the street from his own residence mysteriously caught fire in an upper story about two weeks ago. Witness also told how he took the stand and testified during the proceedings.

Witness said he glanced casually out of the window of his home and caught sight of a small man, in dark suit and light hat, who walked along close in the shadow of the fence and stepped into the gate of a vacant house almost directly opposite his own.

Wondering what could be the stranger's intention Mr. Gaunt continued to watch. After six or seven minutes the man with the strange gait left the house, went out of the gate, walked about twelve feet towards Yates Street, and then cut across the road in an opposite direction and passed in front of Mr. Gaunt's house. From the look he had at the man at this time witness was able to identify him positively in court this morning.

After the man had come away from the house, Mr. Gaunt remarked, a tongue of flame shot upwards from some portion of the house. He immediately rushed downstairs to telephone in an alarm and then set out in pursuit of the stranger. While racing towards the sidewalk he tripped over a ladder and fell sprawling, injuring his leg so that he could not continue the chase.

The removed rails and equipment will be placed upon scows at Patricia Bay the working gangs using Meadlands station as an operating base. When the line northwards from Patricia Bay has been removed the gangs will recommence operations at the city boundary at Harriet Road, and will work northwards. One month is expected to be required for the complete removal of all equipment of any value, the work requiring employment of about twenty-five men.

The British Columbia Electric Railway is prepared to sell the right of way to owners of abutting properties at a low figure. Mr. Tripp announced. NOTED EDITOR URGES WIDE VIEW ON PUBLIC AFFAIRS

J. V. McKenzie of MacLean's Magazine Denounces Parochialism

J. Vernon McKenzie, editor of MacLean's Magazine, was the guest of honor of the Rotary Club to-day, at the weekly luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce, and spoke on the influence of magazines as a factor in development of a national spirit.

Mr. McKenzie pointed out that in recent years the Canadian status has greatly changed, and while British methods had generally been defective as "meat and potatoes" the actual method of working out her destiny depends upon the attitude of the people of Canada.

"Ten years ago, who would have dared to prophesy the present condition of affairs? Canada seems to me to be a raw Inchoate freshman among the nations," he said.

DENOUNCES PAROCHIALISM

Mr. McKenzie told of personal experiences acquired in the course of sixteen journeys to the Pacific Coast. "It seems to me that one of the things which might be leading us to national damnation if we are headed that way, which we are not, is this: We are prone to think parochially."

The quoted Maritime Province conditions, "where freight rates are so high, a factor so interesting in our British Columbia," told of the Quebec complaint that "the rest of Canada does not know us or want us—and touched upon the prairie provinces and their views.

The affairs of the western provinces are dealt with in a spirit of enterprise and freshness novel to the national mind, and the transformation Editor McKenzie had earned criticism by giving the West and its affairs more prominence than eastern critics consider proper, the Rotary luncheon assured.

A great mortality has afflicted Canadian magazines, Mr. McKenzie stated, no less than forty defunct publications being included in one well known Toronto library.

KNOWLEDGE REMEDY

"The reason why Canadians are parochially minded is the lack of knowledge of conditions in other parts of the country. If we could get national spirit upon our problems this condition of affairs would soon end.

"Nothing can better serve than a constructive, powerful, national periodical literature," he said, pointing out that magazines have the space wherein to adequately deal with the significance behind the headlines, in a manner impossible with daily newspapers, where time and space is a premium.

"As an example Mr. McKenzie touched upon the human interest behind the refusal of the Canadian Senate to pass railway branch line appropriations for the Canadian National Railways, and the effect upon the hopes of settlers, shattered by that action.

"The competition of United States mail service in the Pacific is a Canadian made goods, was touched upon. "We have in Canada a most insidious penetration, not planned, but most effective home less," he said, outlining the tremendous circulation in Canada of popular magazines published in the United States.

In conclusion Mr. McKenzie urged his hearers to endeavor to bring nationally and foster Canadian ideals in place of giving priority to more parochial affairs.

TOURIST TRADE GROWS

George Warren stated that all signs point to an increase of fifty per cent in the tourist trade in Victoria. More conventions than ever are being held on the Pacific Coast, and Seattle will be a focal point for these visitors, many being induced to come to Victoria.

The transcontinental railways are this year spending over one million dollars advertising the Pacific Coast as a touring objective, and bookings at the major hotels in Victoria are vastly in excess of last year. All the island hosteries likewise are expanding their accommodations.

Mr. Warren pointed out that entering to the requirements of tourists affecting all lines of business.

The hearing of the case commenced this forenoon. H. W. R. Moore appeared for the defendants, and Chief John Fry, who raided the Flaggard Street house and alleged gambling joint, was the first witness.

Chief Fry was on the stand only long enough to tell of how he and police officers broke through a strong door and burst in upon a crowd of wildly excited Orientals in the second story of a three-story building.

Other witnesses were called, but the hearing of the case was discontinued during the lunch hour, to begin again at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

WATER SALES PLAN BEING CONSIDERED

Council Hopeful of Evolving Compromise Agreement With Saanich

Many informal discussions of city water sales have been in progress during the past few days in an effort to devise some method of meeting complaints of the Saanich people as to the increase in the price of water, from the existing six cents per thousand gallons to ten cents.

The latest proposal under advisement is believed to meet the needs of both Saanich and the city. It is proposed that the charge shall be based on a scale which would give Saanich the privilege of using more water to offset the increased charge.

Until the scheme has been whipped into definite shape Aldermen are reluctant to explain the details, but it is admitted that the sales of water to Saanich had not grown in bulk during the past few years, and the agreement to the extent which had been hoped when the six-cent rate was first offered.

Lexington, Ky., May 28.—John T. Scopes of Paducah, Ky., who is under indictment by a grand jury at Dayton, Tenn., on a charge of violating the state anti-evolution law, has been ordered to appear in court from the lower orders.

Mr. Scopes made his statement here while visiting the University of Kentucky, from which he was graduated in June. The twenty-four-year-old teacher in the Dayton schools appeared to be somewhat embarrassed by the publicity which has been given to his case, but he is looking forward to the trial, however, which is set for July 10.

Scopes' testimony on physics, biology and other general courses.

"No person could teach even the most elementary courses in biology without recognizing that man is descended from a monkey," Scopes said in affirming his acceptance of modern scientific theories of evolution.

Vancouver, B.C., May 28.—Erection of a $2,000,000 privately-owned cold storage plant in Vancouver will commence at an early date, following completion of negotiations now under way.

In a wire received from Hon. J. H. Pictorial Golf Instruction Keep Left Elbow Close To Body

Most golfers—I will include in this good and bad players—get off their game and wonder why they cannot work with perfect smoothness as they have been in the habit of doing.

One of the chief faults in trying to guide the swing with the left elbow. The left has its use in golf but this is not one way of helping. When the arm is crooked in this manner it is of no use whatsoever.

If the left elbow is held into the body there is a chance to get some snap in the wrist. The golfer who makes a habit of crooking this joint will become a slicer very quickly. There is no worse fault.

STEERING THE SWING WITH LEFT A BAD FAULT

How To Improve Your Tennis By WILLIAM T. TILDEN, 2ND

There are three general types of service, any one of which has its place, but I will give them in the order in which they should be learned, and, incidentally, in the order which I consider important.

1. SLICE SERVICE This is the most common form of service, and the one I advise every player to learn first. It requires the least effort and has the greatest chance of going in court.

To hit this service, stand behind the baseline with your feet at an angle of about 45 degrees to the line. Drop your weight back on your right foot. Toss the ball well above your head and slightly to the right in advance of it.

2. THE AMERICAN TWIST The stand and grip for this service are the same as for the slice. The ball is thrown slightly to the left of the head and almost directly above it.

3. THE RESERVE TWIST This delivery is a totally different style service, and in my opinion not one to learn for regular use. I class it almost as a trick.

London Shipping Firm Employee Held Winning Ticket in Calcutta Sweepstake

London, May 28.—Manna's easy victory in the Derby was sidetracked in the discussions of race followers to-day of some of the caprices of Lady Luck as exemplified in the outcome of the various sweepstakes.

An employee of a Liverpool shipping firm, James Carew, leaped into sudden wealth by holding the coveted ticket in the Calcutta Sweepstakes. He had sold two quarter interests in his chance for about $1000, but will still be able to collect approximately $190,000.

OWNER IS LUCKY H. E. Morris, owner of Manna, in addition to taking the Derby stakes, is credited by The Daily Mail with having the good fortune to share in the London Stock Exchange Sweepstakes, worth about $242,000.

The winning ticket was held by Drummer Graves, an insurance manager, and G. E. Dutton, a clerk, but according to The Mail they parted with a half-share to Mr. Morris for about $14,000.

None of the other winnings was on such a scale as these two big sweeps, the next figures known being that of R. C. Parr, a member of the Royal Automobile Club, whose ticket brought him £5,000.

SECRECY Sweepstakes are illegal and have been frequent grounds for prosecutions. In consequence the Stock Exchange people decided upon great secrecy this year and entirely altered the form of their tickets, calling the sweep a "mutual subscription fund."

WHEN SANDE AND FLYING EBONY TRIUMPHED—Under the skillful handling of Earl Sande, Jockey, who recently left a hospital cot, Flying Ebony raced to victory in the Kentucky Derby. It was the first time in the history of the great racing classic that a field horse finished first. In the top picture Sande is shown near the rail leaving Flying Ebony out for the home stretch. Below, Sande is shown leading for the wire.

Eagles Will Meet C.P.R. For First Time This Season

Two Old Rivals Clash Tonight at 6.15 o'Clock; Kerr Will Oppose Johns

A good ball game is expected at the Royal Athletic Park to-night when the C.P.R. and Eagles clash for the first time this season. The game will commence at 6.15 o'clock.

The body movement causes a distinct pull on the stomach muscles and those along the right side. The slice service is hit with the shoulder and arm muscles.

The server, to deliver this service, should stand facing the net with both toes on a line with the baseline, which is outside the racket face, high, is caught and carried on the strings for a short space. The racket passes up and over the ball.

The teams will be as follows: C.P.R.—More, Johns, Featherston, P. Campbell, H. Copas, Minnie, R. Copas, Richdale and C. Campbell.

Eagles—Boss, Kerr, Baker, Givens, Wachtler, Essler, James, Nez, Passmore and Todd.

On Saturday afternoon the Royal Victoria Yacht Club will hold their official opening for this season. The programme will commence at 2 o'clock and will include races for all classes of boats and it is expected that a large crowd will attend.

This is expected to be the best yachting year the coast has seen for some years. The big event of the season will be the Pacific Coast International Yachting Association regatta here in July. It will commence on July 1 and continue for four days.

Keen competition is looked for in the Star boat class races as the boats have all been overhauled and are in the best of shape. Interest is also very keen in the races for the yawls, schooners and ketches. The two new boats recently imported from Hongkong by Commodore Barnes and Vice-Commodore Harper will be competing in these events.

Any new residents of the city who are interested in yachting are invited to attend the opening.

The affair will wind up with a flannel dance in the club quarters commencing at 9 o'clock.

The Fifth Regiment C.G.A. team selected to shoot at Heals ranges Saturday May 30, will be as under: Major Lettice, Major Richardson, Capt. McLean, Sergts. Carr, Lewieyn, Richardson and Rudge, G. Regan, B.S.M. Bowden, L. Bdr. Simmonds, G.S.M. White and Nesbitt.

The team will meet at the corner of Douglas Street and Yates Bank of Nova Scotia, 1.15 p.m. prompt.

MIKE MCTIGUE New York, May 28.—The elusive Mike McTigue is expected to change his style of battle to-morrow night when he risks his light-heavyweight title in a fifteen-round bout at the Yankee Stadium with the hard-hitting Paul Berlenbach. McTigue must abandon the defensive tactics that have characterized his no-decision bouts and exchange blows with his challenger, "the knockout king," in the opinion of critics, or he will lose his crown on a decision. There is a strong belief that Berlenbach will win a decision unnecessary, but McTigue's friends say he can punch hard when necessary.

New Shells For J.B.A.A. Arrived Here Yesterday

Two New Lapstreak Fours Delivered From England; Are of Latest Design

Great excitement reigned at the James Bay Athletic Club's quarters yesterday afternoon, as the two new light lapstreak fours had arrived from England. The new boats were built in the Old Country especially for the J.B.A.A. and are of the very latest design.

The shells are built of specially selected Spanish cedar, and taking into consideration their size, they are very light. They contain the latest double action roller seats, with the new style of English fixed rowlocks. They are forty-two and one-half feet long and have a beam of about twenty inches. Their depth is about the same as the other shells, being about twelve inches. They weigh close to 300 pounds and can be handled with the greatest of ease. The cars are the latest English style, made of specially selected spruce, and are twelve feet long. Two sets of these accompany the shells.

LOOK 'EM OVER Soon after their arrival yesterday the members of the club were down to look them over and they received great praise from everybody. The J.B.A.A. have now one of the best outfits on the Pacific Coast.

An interesting feature of the new shells is that they are equipped with a seat for a coxswain. This will eliminate all the difficulties experienced when rowing in such waters as the Gorge, as these boats can be steered properly. Members of the club have had great trouble when rowing in the inner harbor, in getting their boats through the many boats anchored there, but with a cox in the boat with the rudder lines in his hand, rowing in such waters will be made much easier.

The new shells will be given a try-out in the near future, as the racing season will commence soon and the crew wish to be in the best possible condition.

Saucy Sue Will Be Favorite In Oaks To-morrow Filly Classic Will be Run at Epsom Downs; Probable Starters and Jockeys

London, May 28 (Canadian Press Cable)—If all goes well on Epsom Downs to-morrow Lord Astor's Saucy Sue should start a heavy odds-on favorite for the Oaks, the filly classic run over the Derby course and founded in 1779, a year before the Derby itself.

Unbeaten as a two-year-old and winning the Thousand Guineas with ease a month ago, Saucy Sue, on paper at least, has the heels of her field, a very moderate lot at best. Probably the favorite in the race will be the stable mate, Lord Astor's Miss Gadabout, who finished second in the One Thousand, could take the measure of any one of them.

Following are the probable starters and jockeys: Sol Joel's Applause (Wragge); T. K. Ratcliffe's Blue Fairy (Jellie); Aga Khan's Brise Bise (Carnegie); Lord Sefton's Bylaw (Beary); Sir A. Bailey's Doorstep (—); H. J. Lawrence's Hurry Back (Jones); Lord Astor's Miss Gadabout (Brennan); Anthony de Rothschild's Riding Light (Donoghue); Lord Astor's Saucy Sue (Frank Butler); A. J. Macomber's Respassy (O'Neill); Lady Chesterfield's Seraphina (McLaughlin); Major H. T. Barclay's Vera.

On Second Thought "Don't take your troubles to bed," advises Thomas Edison. But what are you going to do if you've lost your putting touch?

As usual, the Athletics got away to a running start this season. Only in the present instance, they seem to be running in the right direction.

Such is the wonder of the world, that when it is Apple Blossom Time in Normandy, it may merely be hot-dog time in the bleachers.

The wrestling game has made Big Munn sick. This proves that anything stronger than gingerale. It is said Mr. Coedige never feels like anything stronger than gingerale. It is now you know why golf doesn't appeal to him.

The home-run hitter of Duncan swung and missed the third strike. "Ah! the first whiff of Spring," mused the inspired reporter.

They say Babe Ruth still looks sick. But it was the doctors who told the pitchers who made him look sick.

A jockey by the name of Now led all the riders at Miami. There was no one in his name, but yes, yes in his results, as the popular song might say it.

Here is a sermon for tennis players via the camera. No player in the game sticks more closely to form than the sensational Wm. Johnston of California, better known as "Little Bill."

Treating the picture from an analytical point of view there is much merit in it. First of all notice that he has that ever important position of the feet and body perfectly under control. Johnston has thrown the weight on the foot nearest the ball and has inclined his body slightly backwards in order that he will not have to use too much wrist when volleying the ball. In this picture the ball has left his racket and his return was made without effort.

He is ready for the next return, he can shift and move easily to any other position. His position at the net is certainly correct as he stands just a little over twelve feet from the barrier. Johnston's grip is most natural. The racket is held not quite at the end; there is possibly one-quarter of an inch to spare. Notice that the hand and racket seem almost in the same line. In other words the racket is a continuation of his hand.

Best of all, perhaps, from the study of the picture, is the fact that even if the ball has left the racket or is on its way to him, as the case may be, his eyes are on the ball.

This is the big punch to tennis play, and, as in golf, the principal stumbling block to many a well-intended stroke.

"THE HUNTED WOMAN" LIKENED TO STORY OF SAND CAVE TRAGEDY

If James Oliver Curwood had not written "The Hunted Woman" some time ago, people might readily believe that the scene in the mine, where Joanne Gray and John Aldous are imprisoned by a landslide of rock and earth, was based on the recent account of Floyd Collins's entombment in Sand Cave, Kentucky. The occurrence of this event in actual life, in almost the same manner as Curwood had previously related it, serves to emphasize the visualizing power possessed by the author.

There is, however, on difference. In Kentucky, Collins's sweetheart was separated from him by the same obstruction that kept him captive on the day when they had planned to be married. The two characters in "The Hunted Woman" transported to the screen by William Fox, are held together by falling tons of debris. Until that time no word of love had passed between them. Let's see what happens to them in the film.

The oxygen in the small chamber is slowly being used up; hope is fading as their candle dims; they are facing the end. It seems as if centuries are dragging heavily across their eyelids. The flickering light lessens and the darkness creeps in closer. Shadows grow deeper and an invisible force seems to be tightening its tentacles around their throats. They fall unconscious. Time goes on.

A thin beam of light—slowly it increases—then a patch of sunshine, lifegiving sunshine. The air is coming through in pleasant draughts; sweet, invigorating. Help had come at last. This is one of the biggest moments in the screen creation. Then follows their wedding—but the greatest obstacle enters their lives after the marriage. That furnishes the surprise of the story. To tell it here would spoil the enjoyment of those who intend to see "The Hunted Woman" when it plays at the Columbia for three days.

The King in "Confessions of a Queen," the Victor Seastrom production which plays at the Dominion Theatre, is in a quandary. The influence of good is beckoning him on one side in the form of his queen, a beautiful regal woman of the cold type, while that of evil, coaxing him on the other in the form of the vivacious Sepora, a woman of the world. A much stronger willed man than King Christian would have paused—not knowing which one to follow.

LEWIS STONE IN NEW CHARACTER AT DOMINION THEATRE

The King in "Confessions of a Queen," the Victor Seastrom production which plays at the Dominion Theatre, is in a quandary. A much stronger willed man than King Christian would have paused—not knowing which one to follow.

The King is delightfully played in the Seastrom production by Lewis Stone. The Queen Frederica is depicted by Alice Terry, and the attendant Sephora by Helena d'Algy. John Bowyer plays the important role of Prince Alexei and Joseph Dowling and Eugene Bessner are also seen in the production. Agnes Christine Johnston and Victor Seastrom adapted the story from "Kings in Exile," by Alphonse Daudet, and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer are presenting it.

NIGHT FOR MUSIC LOVER AT DOMINION THEATRE TO-NIGHT

The programme of music arranged by A. Prescott for music lovers' night at the Dominion to-night will consist of a varied and pleasing selection of numbers. The feature film, "Confessions of a Queen," starring Alice Terry and Lewis Stone, is a picture which allows the director to select a very varied programme of music.

Some of the numbers to be rendered during the evening are as follows: "March of the Titans" (Rossini), "Vision D'Amour" (Primi), "Fountain of Youth" (Haines); fox trot, "Say It With a Kiss" (Irma Sica), the popular operatic piano, will be heard singing the waltz song from "The Chocolate Soldier" and "My Jean."

FILM "CHARMER" OFFERS COMEDY AND COLORFUL SCENES

The Paramount picture, "The Charmer," which will be shown at week at the Capitol Theatre, offers fans something a little different in the line of Pola Negri pictures—a colorful romance with many big laugh scenes as there are dramatic moments.

"The Charmer," adapted from Henry Beerlein's unusually successful British novel, "Mariposa," a story of a Spanish dancing girl, who wins fame on Broadway, opens in Seville, Robert Frazer and Wallace MacDonald head the supporting cast in the picture. Trivia Frigana plays Pola's mother and is the centre of most of the comedy in the production.

A prominent theatrical agent sees Pola, as Mariposa, dance in her mother's cafe and make her an offer to come to America. The mother accompanies her and some of the incidents—that happen en route—are sure-enough side-splitters. Mariposa has her mother's head never in their feet outside of Seville before in their lives and what they don't do when they get loose amidst New York's high society is not talking about the picture starts off with a laugh and doesn't let up for as much as a single moment until the final fade-out.

Other prominent players in the cast of the picture are Cesare Gravina, Gertrude Astor, Edwards Davis and Mathilda Brundage. Sida Cowan wrote the screen play.

SECOND MATE WAS ADVISER IN SCREEN WORK

Thomas H. Ince precluded any possibility of technical errors in the sea scenes of "Anna Christie," his latest production, by using the second mate of a Pacific liner as a technical adviser.

Lewell Wagner, brother of Joan Lowell, the film star, and formerly a mate on the old China, the China Mail Steamship Company, assisted in the filming of the thrilling scenes and seeing that everything was done "according to Hoyle" and the chart and compass. In addition he played a dangerous sailor "bit" which re-

VICTORIA BOYS' ORCHESTRA WILL APPEAR AT COLISEUM THEATRE TO-NIGHT

The novelty turn at the Coliseum to-night will undoubtedly be one of the most popular yet heard at this theatre, as it is to be given by a young but extremely robust local organization, namely, The Victoria Boys' Orchestra. This band of hardworking and enthusiastic lads has been struggling for the past three years with their leader, Mr. Chas. Rowles, to build up a juvenile band of really good musicians and with a multitude of obstacles in their path they have succeeded at last in placing themselves solidly on the musical map of the city. Their work is of an extremely high order and comes as a distinct surprise to all who hear them for the first time.

Of the quintet of featured players who portray the leading roles in James Cruze's latest Paramount production, "The Goose Hangs High," Irving Pichel, veteran stage and screen actor.

A native of New York, where he was educated at the City College, Irving succumbed early in life to the lure of the footlights. He has been in the theatrical business continuously since 1917, although his screen career dates back only to 1913.

His stage repertoire included such sterling successes as "The Little Minister," "The Servant in the House," "Jimmy Valentine" and others. Like so many of his actor-brothers, Irving spent several years in stock, where he acquired valuable experience and training.

His first Paramount appearance was in the Zane Grey production, "The Wanderer of the Westland," in which he scored a distinct personal triumph in a very difficult role. Paradoxical as it may sound, his early training in motion pictures was obtained through directing, and in this capacity he served most of the large producing organizations.

In "The Goose Hangs High," Irving portrays a typical American father whose efforts to feed, clothe and educate a family on his meagre salary involve considerable sacrifices and self-denial. His role in this photoplay is a particularly congenial one, and Irving does some very effective work.

Other acting honors fall to the lot of Myrtle Stedman, Constance Bennett, Edward Pell, Jr., and Esther Ralston.

VIRGINIA TO EXTEND A WARM WELCOME TO VISITING EDITORS

Richmond, Va., May 23.—The famed hospitality of the Old Dominion has been invoked for every feature of the extensive programme of entertainment Virginia editors have prepared for the fortieth annual convention of the National Editorial Association of the United States, which is to meet here June 1, 2 and 3. Editors and representatives of newspapers from every state in the union and from many of the island protectorates and territories of the United States are expected to attend. The vanguard will come from the Southern states and from the East, but the largest single group will arrive on the opening day from across the Mississippi and from the central West. These delegates will ride in by special train through Virginia's mountain gate way, stopping at places of interest en route and turning the journey into a holiday tour.

Addresses by prominent editors and advertising men will occupy the portion of the convention programme not given over to business. Five welcoming speeches will start the transactions on the opening day, Governor E. Lee Trinkle, hearing the welcome of Virginia, being the chief handshaker. President George W. Marble, Fort Scott, Kansas, will respond and then proceed to deliver his annual address. Reports of officers and committees will consume the remainder of the morning session. "The Wider Field of Journalism" will be the afternoon subject of James Wright Brown, secretary of the World's Press Congress and Near riots marked Hindenburg's inauguration. Women and little children were trampled under foot as the great mass of people fought to get near the Reichstag, as this picture shows.

Berlin-to-America Record Set With Hindenburg Pictures

THESE are the first pictures of the actual inauguration of Hindenburg as Germany's president. They were taken at noon and afternoon at Berlin, May 12. Fast aeroplanes relayed the photographs to Southampton to make connection with the Majestic. The Majestic came into Quarantine at New York early May 19. It was met by a fast boat chartered by Nea Service. After clearing customs this boat sped to New York City where record-breaking time was made in dispatching the pictures to The Victoria Times. Never before have newspapers traveled from Berlin to this continent in seven days or less than seven days. Only a few years ago that was record time for a crossing direct from London.

Brilliant Arms were much in evidence as Hindenburg, former war lord, became Germany's new president. His first act after being inducted into office was to inspect his troops.

editor of Editor and Publisher. He will be followed by Arthur Bonnet, Chicago, president of the Bonnet-Brown Corporation, who will speak on "Making the Newspaper a Success." Greetings from the Far East will be brought by Edward Brodie, a past-president of the association and now United States Minister to Siam. Mrs. Lee J. Rountree of The Daily Eagle, Bryan, Texas, will discuss "The Pleasure of the Game."

The convention will adjourn at 4 p.m. on the first day to allow the delegates to make a trip to Petersburg, twenty miles away. Tuesday morning, June 2, will bring discussion of many phases of newspaper work. A visit will be paid to Ashland, the site of Randolph-Macon College, and a point of historic interest.

TO AWARD CUPS

The award of loving cups for the winners of the national contests for best editorial page, best community service, and best front page will be made on Wednesday, June 3, the final day of the convention.

The Richmond News-Leader building will be the scene of a luncheon for the delegates following the closing session and the Richmond Chamber of Commerce together with the City of Richmond will be hosts at a banquet in the evening.

TOUR IS PLANNED

Thursday morning those delegates who elect to do so will leave Richmond on a special train which will be provided for a two-week tour of Virginia. They will be accompanied by Virginia editors and representatives of the state government and visits will be made at virtually all of Virginia's historic shrines as well as to the Hampton Roads area and to the thriving cities of modern industry and growth. The special tour will end at Washington Thursday, June 18.

WELL BUILT HOUSES WOULD SAVE LIVES IN TORNADO COUNTRY

Champaign, Ill., May 23.—If engineering science were applied to the design and construction of dwellings and school houses they could easily and inexpensively be made proof against the devastation of tornadoes such as recently visited five middle western states, according to C. C. Williams, head of the department of civil engineering of the University of Illinois. Even frame and stucco houses can be built sufficiently strong to withstand the force of a tornado, Mr. Williams said. The stresses in a frame dwelling due to wind are calculable at all critical points, and the strength of timber and the holding power of nails are well known, so the entire structure admits of scientific design comparable with a riveted steel building.

That dwellings, school houses and churches readily collapse under such a storm is due to the fact that the design and details of framing and shoring and ties have been left entirely to tradesmen, who have little knowledge of the character of stresses set up inside the structure they are building. Mr. Williams declared. They merely erect one part on top of another, with toe-nails at best, like a pile of child's blocks, and when the wind comes the pile offers very little resistance to the destructive force.

ARCHITECTS BLAMED

"Even architects have been engrossed in the appearance and convenience of dwellings to the exclusion of careful thought of the stability. They have unfortunately accepted the tradesmen's framing and details."

"A study of the design of a frame dwelling shows that a well sheathed house of average size can be made proof against a tornado at an expenditure of less than one per cent of the total cost of the house."

"Man is continually combating the destructive elements of nature. Medical science has largely removed the scourges of disease. Tornadoes are no more a visitation of Providence to which man must supinely submit than the plagues of the Middle Ages. Engineering science, if applied to the design and construction of such buildings as dwellings and school houses, is amply able to protect human life from wholesale destruction by wind, and the failure to take advantage of this fact in the construction of man-made structures is a relic of moral inertia fitting the age of smallpox and the black death."

P. Burns Seeking B.C. Creameries

Vancouver, May 23.—P. Burns, of Calgary, head of P. Burns and Company Limited, to-day confirmed reports that the firm had under way negotiations with a view of acquiring co-operative creamery plants at Salmon Arm, Vernon and Armstrong in interior British Columbia.

Open Verdict on Automobile Death

Vancouver, May 23.—"We find that Margaret Eileen Kell came to her death through injuries received in an automobile accident on the Pacific Highway on the morning of May 24. Lacking the evidence of the driver of the oncoming car, we find it impossible to attach any direct blame to the driver of either of the cars involved." The above open verdict was returned yesterday by the jury at the inquest on the death of Margaret Kell, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kell of Burnaby, following the overturning of a car on the Pacific Highway Sunday morning. Sucki Yueno, New Westminster Japanese, driver of the truck, bound for "WYBIS" Rock picnic, which is alleged to have caused the accident by cutting in ahead of the smaller car, was arrested on a charge of manslaughter after the child's death and he will appear in the Surrey police court next Monday morning.

ARCHIVES BUILDING IS SAID TO BE NEED OF CAPITAL OF U.S.

Washington, May 23.—Erection here of a modern archives building as an aid to future historians is urged by Capt. Dudley Knox, head of the United States historical section, and by other officials having supervision of government records. Capt. Knox cited the existence of 200 separate collections as tending to make the preparation of accurate histories difficult and unnecessarily expensive.

Information relating to early naval activities of this country is contained in the files of the Departments of State and Treasury, as well as the Pension Office, but much data also is cared for by the states, by private societies and individuals. It was the custom for captains of vessels and commanders of squadrons to consider records of their administration as something personal, Capt. Knox said, and there was justification in this, inasmuch as those officers were held to a degree of financial accountability. The result was to scatter official documents in various families throughout the land, and the department frequently bears the expense of old-time naval officers being sold at auction.

From time to time persons apply to the historical section to see papers relating to their ancestors and the department lends its aid to research workers who are compiling historical naval information. In 1911 Congress authorized $30,000 for a commission to make photostatic copies from the existing archives, but only the states of Massachusetts, Virginia and North Carolina had been reached when the World War eclipsed this activity and the funds became exhausted.

Personal letters are considered very valuable as a source of history. Capt. Knox said, as they give a state of mind and intelligibility which official documents do not contain.

WHEAT DAMAGE SENDS PRICES UP

Winnipeg, May 28—Numerous reports of crop damage in the United States and shorts actively covering in the nearby futures were the deciding factors in price adjustments on the Winnipeg wheat market to-day with the final quotations recording a gain of 3/4 to 5/8 as compared with Wednesday.

There were many reports of a corner in May wheat and offerings were exceptionally scarce. The strength in the May helped the deferred futures. Export trade was dull to-day but there was a good class of buying through commission houses.

Today's Mining Markets

News of the big strikes at Independence and Victoria mines reached Victoria too late to-day to have any effect on the local market, which was dull with all profits around yesterday's levels.

The market is largely one of weather, and if the reports of 25 to 50 per cent damage to United States crops are proven correct by the Government report in June, the U.S. will undoubtedly be near a domestic basis and their prices will probably go much higher and pull Winnipeg with them.

The European crop situation is also very favorable and their increased yields are expected to be sufficient to offset the big decrease in the United States. The Argentine situation is in a peculiar position with all the futures out of line as to spreads and the futures out of line to-day with a better class of buying in evidence.

Coarse grains: These markets were stronger in sympathy with the advance in wheat, and although trade was light with light export business, oats showed a about 3 cents higher, barley 1/2 cents to 3/4 cents higher and rye 1 cent to 1 1/2 cents higher, the new crop future even stronger.

Winnipeg, May 28 (By R.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Pitt Wire)—Liverpool cables and rain in southwest were ignored, market opening higher and continuing strong on heavy commission-house buying.

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may be written both as a horizontal and a vertical. The definition for the correct words to fill the form are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions in the order in which they are given, and put in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved it, please correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions. The correct solution of to-day's puzzle will be printed in the next issue of The Times.

NEW SERIAL STORY

"The Steadfast Heart"

By Clarence Budington Kelland

Crane shot the editor a swift glance in which was no little malice. "Duty," said he in a tone which verged upon resignation, "is not always pleasant. . . I fancy the people would insist upon a trial of this boy. . . Besides, if I let him go, what would become of him? He'd be a charge on the town."

"How economics do clog the paths of virtue!" said Wilkins.

"You mean," said Trueman sharply, "that knowing the facts as you do—knowing this child's innocence, you will, nevertheless, send him to trial?"

"I do not know he is innocent. It is for the jury to say."

"Then," said Wilkins, and his question was a pointed thorn, "as an expert in such matters, you believe there's a chance to get a conviction?"

Once more Crane's eyes blazed as he glanced at the tall, thin form lopping straddle-legged across the office chair—"I hope," he said, "that justice will be done. . . I shall see that it is done."

"Have you no consideration of the element of money?" Trueman demanded. He got to his feet and his face was severe. In the door he paused. "You have disappointed me, Mr. Crane. As a man, a public officer, but mostly as a Christian, you have disappointed me."

Crane was a picture of resignation under the strokes of unjust misanthropy. He spread his hands and shook his head slowly. Trueman and Wilkins left the office in silence.

"Wa-al!" said Dave when they were outside.

"What's to do now?" asked the minister. Then his face became determined. "Wilkins, I'm not through. That boy must be saved and I'm going to save him—!" he paused as if searching for some expression to denote the firmness of his intention. Dave supplied it. "Steal or high water," he said.

Trueman smiled. "Thank you," he said.

"I calculate we better get us a lawyer," said Dave. "There's young Craig Browning—just moved here. . . Kind of sweet on your daughter, ain't he? Don't appear to be so busy he's turnin' away work. . . My guess is he'll take this one free gratis to keep him from bein' homeless."

"I will pay what is necessary," said Trueman with a little access of dignity. He knew the offer was generous, but he knew the offer was rather a splendid thing. It gave him a certain pleasurable satisfaction. . . Wilkins saw and understood and appreciated the simplicity of a man; liked him better for a touch of human weakness.

"We'll pay," he said, "but payin' won't be necessary. Browning can do with the advertising."

"Always imputing unworthy motives," said Trueman.

"Motives," said Dave, "make the world go round. . . As they passed the post-office an elderly gentleman emerged, accompanied by a little girl. He was a scholarly, aristocratic old gentleman, of a dignity to be won by a lifetime of fine living. The little girl was a beauty, with that most compelling beauty of vivacity. Already she had personality; already she was spoiled as one of her exalted station in Rainbow was bound to be. She spoke in a low, sweet voice.

"Oh, Uncle Dave," she cried. "I want you to come with me. Grandpa won't come. . ."

"Lydia Canfield," said Dave severely, "you leave me be—I'm single, and I'm going to stay so. If you don't stop setting your cap for me."

"I want you to come with me."

"Madam, I just naturally can't, on account of being busy with something that, thank heaven, can never touch your life. . . I wonder if you'll ever know how fortunate you are."

Busy with something which could never touch Lydia Canfield's life! How little one human being can know as to what life or what incident will touch and mould, will snuff or crush, the life of another. How could Dave Wilkins guess that the business upon which he was engaged was, in the end, to be of more importance to Lydia Canfield than any other event in her history. . . How could he guess that the beautiful, the unspeakable part of Angus Burke could be meshed with the glowing future of this child of good fortune?

Judge Winterhouse emerged from his private room and mounted the bench, a dignified figure of habit and dress belonging rather to the early, leisurely eighties than to the generation of which he remained a part. He wore a Prince Albert. His shining collar was affixed to an equally shining shirt by a gold collar button, and it was only when he turned his head at an acute angle that he perceived that his white beard made unnecessary a cravat. He wore that mantle of preoccupation which is one of the trappings detaching the bench from the ordinary run of mankind. . . As Dave Wilkins sat hunched upon the crowded courtroom, and upon the unfortunate who pressed about the doors and thronged the corridors because of lack of seating capacity within. Rainbow was present on masses with its environs and even its remotest farming districts. Only on the Fourth of July or on Farmers' Day were so many equipages aligned under Rainbow's maple trees, for no incident in the village's history had so stirred it as this trial of the miscreant who had shot down its sheriff in the prosecution of his duty. Had the day been made public holiday by proclamation, no more people would have been present and no more lunch pails and boxes would have been packed.

Prosecutor Crane, papers in hand, obviously under mental stress, and equally obviously desirous that all should be aware of the importance of his position, took his place at the table. Young Craig Browning, attorney at law and solicitor in Chancery, occupied the opposite side, sitting with apparent nonchalance, and hoping his prospective clients in the audience would observe his ease of bearing and coolness in this first great moment of his life. His eyes looked dreamily out of the window at the early sunshine, as he pictured this day to himself as the first of a long succession of dramatic successes at the bar. . . As Dave Wilkins sat anticipating, young Browning gladly accepted the defense of Angus Burke, his only fee the twenty-five dollars he would receive from the county as the attorney assigned for the defense of an accused who would otherwise be deprived of the benefit of counsel.

Presently the door opened—the door leading to the cells below—and Deputy Pilkinton, solemn-visaged, of an importance unbelievable, dragged Angus Burke into view. The child was handcuffed to his wrist. . . The spectacle tickled Rainbow's humor and it laughed nervously. A deputy rapped for order.

"Pilk hasn't one to sit venture-some," whispered Lyle Fitch, Rainbow's omnibus driver. "Notwith-standing, he's a brave man—Pilk is. Now, jest supposin' that despite criminal took into his head to rust 'jest supposin'! With Pilk hitched onto him with a handcuff. Seems like Pilk 'ud git dragged over half the county fore his arm pulled clean out of the socket."

Church of Scotland Was Told of Union In This Country

Edinburgh, May 28 (Canadian Press Cable).—Rev. Dr. J. M. Duncan, editor of Presbyterian publications in Toronto, addressing the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland here on the union of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational Churches in Canada, said every step that had been taken by the Presbyterians who favored union had been in accordance with the regular constitution and practice of the Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Duncan said he could say with great confidence that seventy per cent of the Presbyterian communicants in Canada, eighty-five per cent of the Presbyterian congregations and eighty per cent of the Presbyterian ministers would enter the United Church of Canada.

The moderator, Dr. R. White, expressed the hope that the church which was to be formed and the church that continued separate would together form a great harmonious and prosperous church.

ANTI-UNION VOTE OF PARLIAM. CHURCH REJECTED BY SYNOD

Controversy Becomes Issue Before Legal Courts

The Presbyterian Synod has ordered the annulment of the anti-union vote of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at Nanaimo. After an official investigation into the circumstances, which threw St. Andrew's Church into the anti-union ranks of Presbyterians in the majority of ten votes, the synod prepared the following finding, which was presented to the St. Andrew's congregation on Sunday, May 17, by Special Commissioners Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., and Rev. Thomas Menzies:

APPEAL SUSTAINED

"The appeal is sustained on count No. 1 for the following reasons: 'All proceedings of the session of St. Andrew's Church, Nanaimo, at the meeting to which the appellant members were refused admission, and all proceedings at subsequent meetings, are null and void. 'On count No. 2 we find as follows: In the judgment of your committee, the synod would under ordinary circumstances be justified in sending this back to the Presbytery of Victoria, inasmuch as they did not grant the request of the petitioners to examine the roll; but considering the unusual conditions and mental strain that all are under at the present time, we desire to state that from the nature of the communion roll which was examined, and the manner in which it has been kept, every person whose name was thereon as at July 19, 1924, was entitled to vote, and that inasmuch as the list of names on which the congregational vote on union was taken did not correspond with that roll, the vote as taken at the congregational meeting was irregular. 'We further recommend that all records of St. Andrew's congregation, Nanaimo, be placed in the care of the Presbytery of Victoria. 'And also that the findings of the Synod be made to the congregation at St. Andrew's Church, Nanaimo, by the Presbytery of Victoria. 'The above became the judgment of the Synod on May 8, 1925. 'This means that the nine elders who were ordained as elders are not elders, and seventy-seven members that were received into the church as members are not members and all other business transacted is cancelled. 'PASTOR PROTESTS

Rev. David Lister, pastor of St. Andrew's, promptly contested the findings of the Synod, declaring that admitting the opportunity to present their side of the case was denied the anti-unionists by the Synod. He objected to the investigation as irregular, improper, unconstitutional and undignified, and appealed to the General Assembly. Declaring the findings of the Synod cannot be justified either on legal or ethical grounds, Dr. Lister asked the Assembly to review the findings of the Synod. 'The issue has now been taken to the courts, with the issuance of writ against Rev. David Lister for a declaration of trusts and to have the church union vote, which placed St. Andrew's in the anti-union column, declared illegal.

SENATORS DISCUSS NEW LEMIEUX ACT

Ottawa, May 23.—The bill amending the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, 1907 (the Lemieux Act) to bring it in conformity with the decision of the British Privy Council was before the Senate yesterday and passed through committee and stands for third reading without amendment.

Senator Beaubien raised the point of the liability imposed on employer and employee for a strike or lockout not in conformity with the law. He pointed out that in practice at least the penalty could be imposed upon the employer and not on the employees.

Senator Casgrain and Senator Reid also took the same position.

Senator Dandurand said the principle of mutual consent between employer and employee was embodied in the bill. The Act had proved so valuable that he thought every effort should be made to continue it as a medium for the settlement of industrial disputes.

The Wheat Pool is suing Zurovski, a member, on his contract and asking for damages for breach of the same. In consequence of the statutory necessity of acquiescing in the Attorney-General of Canada of the intent to challenge the validity of the act, the case was not proceeded with after the leave to amend the reply had been given and adjournment was made until October session of the court.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Proud Toadstool

Copyright, 1925, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate
(By Howard R. Garis)

Outside of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump-bungalow, on the edge of the woods, grew a toadstool. He was a little larger than some of the other toadstools and mushrooms growing near it, and for that reason this toadstool was rather proud—just because of his size.

One day, when Uncle Wiggily was hopping around, taking up the leaves in the yard and making a flower bed for his new wife, some of the many rabbit children, hopping about in the woods, called: "Oh, Daddy! See this big mushroom. May we pick it and eat it?"

"For mushrooms are good to eat, you know," But Mr. Longears had told the little rabbits never to eat anything they found in the woods without first showing it to him or Mrs. Longears. And when he happened over, while the little bunnies waited, and looked at what they pointed out, Uncle Wiggily said: "It is a good thing you called to me about this, for some mushrooms are all right, but this is a poison toadstool. Don't touch it. It is a large toadstool and not good to eat."

So the little bunnies hopped on until they found some mushrooms growing, and after Uncle Wiggily had made sure that these were safe for the little boy and girl rabbits to eat, he hopped back to the flower bed.

—But the toadstool, growing up in the woods, was made more proud than ever on hearing what Uncle Wiggily had said.

"Daddy, I've just heard about me!" asked the toadstool of others of his kind growing near.

"What about you?" asked one.

"Uncle Wiggily said I was very large," was the answer. "This gives me something to live for. Now I have an ambition in life, and the toadstool drew himself up more proudly than ever, and grow when he asked a little fungus just sprouting up out of the ground. "What is your ambition?"

"I am going to keep on growing until I become a tree," said the toadstool. "That is what I am going to do. I shall swell out my stem, make it grow taller and spread my top until I am like a tree. I am going to grow into the largest toadstool in all the world!"

"Pooh! You can't do that!" laughed the others. But the more they laughed the prouder the toadstool became. After a while he became so proud that he would not speak to any of the others, and they left him alone. But the big fellow did not care.

He pulled, he stretched, he strained with all his might to grow larger. And, whether it was because of this, or because the ground where he grew was richer and better, or because the sun shone more warmly on him, and the rain fell more gently, I do not know. But certainly the toadstool grew, and grew until he was very large indeed.

"This made him prouder than ever, and he scarcely so much as looked down on the smaller, more humble toadstools at his feet.

"Surely I am growing into a big tree!" thought the proud toadstool. "Soon the other trees will nod to me. Then they will speak to me as one of themselves. It is a great thing to be proud and ambitious!"

Then, one day, came a great rain

NANAIMO ASSIZE CASE ADJOURNED

Nanaimo, May 23.—Last night's session of the assize court here came to an abrupt close when Gordon Wismer applied for and obtained an adjournment for his appeal, Mike Zavaglio, who is charged with setting fire to the Bayview Hotel at Hardy Bay.

When the session opened the accuser, his counsel, and Frank Cunliffe said he would undertake the defence. The petit jury was then sworn in and proceedings were about to commence when Mr. Wismer appeared. He had been in Eastern Canada, he said, and had had an understanding with the Attorney-General that this case would not be called on for June. He had not, admittedly prepared, he said, but he was devoutly willing to swear to an affidavit to this effect.

Mr. Justice Morrison objected to understandings between counsel and the Attorney-General's Department. An undertaking of this kind paid no regard to the jury in whose hands the case was placed, and in regard to the presiding judge. However, he granted the adjournment and discharged the jury.

WEMBLEY SERVICE

London, May 23.—The Department of Overseas Trade has informed the Canadian Press that the reason why the members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police now doing duty at the Empire Exhibition had not a place in the military procession in connection with the Empire Thanksgiving service last night.

Mr. Justice Morrison objected to understandings between counsel and the Attorney-General's Department. An undertaking of this kind paid no regard to the jury in whose hands the case was placed, and in regard to the presiding judge. However, he granted the adjournment and discharged the jury.

CHURCH UNION VOTES

Winnipeg, May 23.—Action in the civil courts will be taken by the executive committee of the Manitoba Presbyterians' Church Association (anti-union) if any barrier is raised against congregations petitioning for a ballot on church union. A decision in this effect was reached at an emergency meeting of the committee here when a resolution was passed challenging the right of any congregation, session or moderator to call a meeting of the congregation to any group within the congregation the fullest rights to seek a vote under the terms of the Federal act.

MARCOTIC ACT IS DEBATED IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, May 23.—Second reading was given in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon to a bill amending the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act, designed more effectively to control the sale and use of narcotics in Canada.

J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg Centre, inquired if the proposed measure had any relation to the production of narcotic drugs.

Hon. H. S. Beland, Minister of Health, replied that the proposed legislation was purely local.

"It does not deal with the production of raw materials," he declared. "As a matter of fact, there is no production of raw material in Canada."

Mr. Woodsworth inquired what steps had been taken to prevent the production of narcotic drugs in other parts of the world.

Dr. Beland replied that this question had come up at a conference held in Geneva about a year ago, when a big effort was made to reduce the production of opium and other narcotics, so as to restrict them to medical requirements. Objections, however, had been made to the proposal.

POSITIONS ARE SIMILAR

Canada was in the same position as the United States, said Dr. Beland. It did not produce opium or coca leaves; it did not manufacture the drug to any extent, and at the international conference, Canada would have supported any measure, however drastic, for the restriction of the traffic.

It was impossible, however, to reconcile all the interests in the conference to complete suppression in the opium traffic, Canada's representatives had therefore accepted the proposal of Lord Robert Cecil, which was approximately that the production of opium and coca leaves should be limited strictly to medicinal and scientific requirements for ten years, after the date on which the conference was prepared to declare there was no danger of contraband drugs being sent out from China.

E. Montpetit Heard By Paris Audience

Paris, May 23.—Edouard Montpetit, K.C., secretary-general of the University of Montreal, delivered the last of a course of lectures in the Sorbonne amphitheatre on "Canada in the Empire," before a large crowd last night.

He described the role of the French-Canadians in aiding the development of complete autonomy, and said the French-Canadian asked from Great Britain the recognition of two principles, namely, the right of the people to vote on the budget and the right of self-determination.

It was true, he said, that behind the Imperial Conference there was

PURE FOOD MONEY VOTED BY COMMONS

Ottawa, May 23.—A vote of $50,500 to cover administration of various acts—respecting food and drugs, honey, maple products, opium and narcotic drugs and proprietary or patent medicines, was carried in the House yesterday afternoon with little discussion.

Hon. H. S. Beland, Minister of Health, pointed out that the amount of the estimate was similar to that of last year, and that the activities carried on under the acts included always the Chamberlain idea of defence, but alongside of that also was the idea of self autonomy. Since the constitution of the Imperial War Cabinet in 1917, the correspondence between Ottawa and London had passed directly without the intermediary of a representative of royalty.

Canada had also signed treaties without the consent of the British Government, and she possessed the right to have a diplomatic office at Washington with the title of Minister of Plenipotentiary.

He spoke approvingly of Senator Dandurand's idea of gradually increasing the autonomy of Canada without breaking the traditions of the Empire.

Two Bank Robbers Taken in Missouri

St. Joseph, Mo., May 23.—Two of the four men who held up the Cottage Grove State Bank at Des Moines, Iowa, yesterday morning, were captured late yesterday near Avenue City, Mo., fourteen miles north of here, after a running gun fight with St. Joseph officers. Their two companions escaped on foot after a motor-car in which the quartette was travelling had overturned.

One of the men captured gave his name as Frank Revie. He was wounded in the arm. The other man, injured when he was pinned beneath the car, refused to give his name.
