Re:
Wikimania 2013 - Surakarta Bid

To whom it may concern,

Creative Commons Indonesia is a project under Wikimedia Indonesia in cooperation with Creative Commons International, a not-for-profit organization, founded in 2001, that promotes the creative re-use of intellectual and artistic works. Creative Commons Indonesia has closely worked with Creative Commons International on the translation of the Creative Commons Licenses into Bahasa Indonesia and promote the usage of Creative Commons Licenses in Indonesia.

On behalf of Creative Commons Indonesia, I would like to express our support for the proposal for Wikimania 2013 in Surakarta, Indonesia, being submitted by Benny Lin from Wikimedia Indonesia to the jury.

Surakarta is a perfect location to hold the conference at, for participants from abroad as well as for the local communities. If Wikimania 2013 were to be held in Surakarta, we would look to take the opportunity to engage in more significant participation and leverage. Creative Commons Indonesia looks forward to contribute to an event geared at learning about wikis, collaboration, open content, free software, education, open access and free culture.

We will be glad to contribute with our knowledge, local contacts and organising experience to help making this event a great success. We fully support the Surakarta bid to host Wikimania 2013.

Yours sincerely,
