BANDITS KIDNAP CITY MARSHAL

Board of Regents Under Control Education Head

Bill is the Outcome of Long Standing Dis-agreement Between the Authorities

SACRAMENTO, March 31.—What virtually amounted to a compromise offer was made by Dr. David P. Barrows, president of the University of California, and Chester H. Rowell of the board of regents, at the hearing of the joint committee of the Legislature last night to consider Senate Bill No. 500, which has for its object the establishment of a system of junior colleges in the state. An investigating committee, consisting of Senators Harris, Eden, Jones and Carr and Assemblyman, Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes, has been at work since the last legislative session and it recently issued a report in which the suggestion was made that the University of California be taken out of the hands of the board of regents and placed under control of the state board of education.

This is the outcome of a long-standing quarrel between Will Wood, state superintendent of instruction, and the university. Although he is supposed to sit in at the meetings of the regents, Wood has chosen to remain away. His explanation of this was that as clique existed within the regents and that, after all, the meetings were purely perfunctory things.

In spite of the unpleasantness occasioned by Wood's opposition, both Barrows and Rowell, in their appearances before the committee, assured the members that the university desired to cooperate in every way in any plan which might be worked out to increase or extend the educational opportunities of California.

A week ago the same committee passed out with the recommendation that it do pass a bill to turn the normal schools of the state into teachers' colleges. It has since passed out of the houses of the Legislature. Senate Bill No. 500 is the second of these measures, and it covers the question of the junior college.

(By International News Service)

Rowell asked that the committee defer a conclusion on this measure until after the next biennium. He said it was a big question and that it had not been fully determined as to whether the junior college idea was the best possible solution. Rowell suggested an alternate course, which would take into consideration the establishment of a University of California branch at Los Angeles and another at Fresno. Although the university was asked to send representatives to the hearings which the legislative committee held in the last two years it was not consulted in the report. Furthermore, the president and regents were taken entirely by surprise at the radical suggestion of transferring control of the university to the board of education.

Rowell said he was delegated to inform the committee that the board of regents would memorialize the Legislature not to take any action on the junior college plan at this session as he was also prepared to say that the academic center of the university and the alumni association were opposing the idea at this time.

Rowell asked that the committee and the Legislature defer action at this time and that it appoint a commission on which the university, the state board of education, the normal schools and the Legislature should be represented, to go more thoroughly into the situation.

The committee, of which Senator M. B. Harris of Fresno is chairman, adjourned until next Tuesday night before reaching a decision.

Among those who addressed the committee were Wood, Barrows, Rowell, Robert Sproul, controller of the university, and Professor Merten E. Hill of the Chaffee Union, junior college at Ontario, California.

Prevented Robbery of the Beverly Hills Savings Bank as Outlaws Were Preparing to Enter

LOS ANGELES, March 31.—Five daring bank bandits kidnaped City Marshal William Duncan of Beverly Hills, late today when he prevented the robbery of the Beverly Hills Savings Bank by running to the same as the robbers were preparing to enter the bank. The bandits blindfolded Duncan and after giving him a beating and taking his badge away from him, carried him to a eucalyptus grove several miles away where they threw him out of the car.

The news was flashed to nearby police stations and to the sheriff's office and parties of officers were hastily formed and rushed to the fashionable Beverly Hills district in an effort to intercept the bandits. Deputy Sheriffs Cronin and Sweesey soon located the abandoned car on Pico boulevard where the highway men had deserted it. It was believed that they had stolen another car in which to make their escape, possibly kidnaping the owner as they had in Duncan's case.

O. N. Bessley, bank president and manager of the bank, was the man who summoned Duncan to the scene of the attempted robbery. When he saw the five men approaching the bank and acting in a suspicious manner he telephoned to Duncan and the latter started at once to the bank. Duncan was attacked as he approached the bank, struck over the head and thrown into the automobile.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR LITTLE GIRL

A very charming party indeed was that given by Mrs. C. Dolan at her home, 322 West Harvard street, in honor of the first birthday of her little daughter, Dorothea Jean.

Pink and white was the color scheme used throughout. Large masses of pink and white roses were used in the decorations. About a dozen little folks were present with their mothers, and while the latter chatted, the "youngsters" romped and played and munched candy to their heart's content.

Ice cream and cake was served by the hostess and here again the pink and white predominated.

The out of town guests were Victoria Stewart and mother, Mrs. Charles Stewart of Hollywood; Master Francis Eugene Hovley and mother, Mrs. Frank Hovley, also Lucille Dolan, all of Pasadena; Jane and Betty Steele, accompanied by their sister, Miss Florence; Billie and Helen Weber and Harriett Worsley of Los Angeles.

Guests from Glendale included John and Normajean Groton, Doris Forbes and Ruth Hendricks. Mrs. Carrie Groton and Mrs. Betty Lee of 326 Oak street.

Little Miss Dolan was the recipient of many very pretty gifts and hosts of best wishes for many future birthdays.

Mrs. Stoker, the proprietor of the "C. & S." Cafeteria, has just installed something out of the ordinary in the way of a decoration. It is a scenic menu, 32 feet in size, which hangs on the wall over the steam table.

Surrounding the menu, she has 12 advertisements of the leading business men of Glendale. These advertisements are a work of art all the way through, were painted by Eddy Richter of 345 Cerritos avenue, and have caused considerable comment, by their wonderful quality.

Mr. Richter has paintings hanging in some of the largest hotels and cafes, all over the states, and we congratulate Mrs. Stoker upon this latest addition to her up-to-date eatery.

MUCH INTEREST IN COMING COMEDIES

Much interest is manifested in the entertainment to be presented by the drama section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club on the evening of Thursday, April 21, at the Palace Grand theater. Mrs. R. E. Chase, curator, sent three one-act comedies: "Fourteen," by Alice Gerstenberg; "Zona Gale's "Neighbors," and "Hello, Central," now playing the Keith circuit. Tickets were placed on sale at the close of the club luncheon on Tuesday, and reports are that they are going fast. Those few who have been favored with permission to attend a rehearsal, report that all the parts are exceedingly well taken and that the whole show is very funny, one that is well worth while to the "tired business man," or to the "l. b. m.'s" tired wife, or to any one else wise enough to realize that an evening of laughter doeth good like a medicine.

LOCAL ATTORNEYS IN CASE BEFORE WOOD

Two young Glendale attorneys were yesterday engaged in the superior court before Judge Wood in the case of McConnell vs. R. D. McIntyre, et al. The suit was brought for unlawful detainer. Mrs. M. L. Tight, who was the agent of the plaintiff, was called as a witness to give testimony concerning matters in which a cow figured prominently as an engendering source of ill feeling. The plaintiff, who is a resident of Albuquerque, New Mexico, was represented by J. F. McBryde of this city, while Owen Emery was the attorney for defendant. Judge Wood found for the plaintiff.

OPENING THE DOOR

"I am writing an article on 'The Brotherhood of Man,'" said Mrs. Highbrow.
 "That so?" replied Mr. Highbrow.
 "I hope you have made it broad enough to include all my relatives, too."—Detroit Free Press.

NO FEAR FOR HIGH COST OF LIVING

"High Cost o' Living" has on terms for the members of the hospitality committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, as everyone will testify who partook of the wholesome, bountiful and well-balanced luncheon these ladies served the club Tuesday, for the sum of 35 cents a plate.

That a three-course luncheon consisting of a salad, meat, creamed potatoes, relishes, hot biscuits, coffee and a fruit dessert, with generous slices of cake, could be served for such a price, was remarkable enough, but that the ladies should actually make a profit of fourteen dollars on this luncheon is really marvelous. Although their intention was to serve this luncheon at cost, these domestic science experts actually did make this profit, which they have turned into the building fund.

Ladies who comprise this band of capable domestic economists are Mrs. L. W. Sinclair, chairman; and Mmes. A. D. McCoy, R. P. Isett, J. W. Stauffacher, Louis M. Richardson, R. J. Phillips, M. P. Harrison, E. M. Lee, Frank Dow, G. H. Rowe, J. C. Dunn, B. D. Bathis, P. E. Cory, Wallace Tupper, W. W. Hamilton and Miss Lily Fielding.

MAPLE STREET REPAVING

Editor Glendale Press: In reply to the article in last evening's Daily Press, on "That Paving on Maple Street," I would like to make the following statements.

The article states that the original paving "was laid ten years ago at a cost of 34 cents a square foot, and in repaving, a credit of all that original cost has been allowed, except 9 cents per square foot" for its use during those years.

There is a mistake here, for the fact is, that no credit has been allowed to the property owners. My receipt for the original paving shows that the cost then was $34 for the curbing and the paving of each lot 50 feet wide to the middle of the street.

Allowing 25 cents per foot for the curbing, the paving (paving, oiling, etc.), was only 3 cents per square foot then.

The price in Los Angeles was the same at that time. The present cost of concrete paving in Los Angeles is 30 cents per square foot. I paid that price this year.

Our present assessment on Maple street for repaving, rolling and oiling, is $114 for each lot 50 feet wide and the street is in no better condition apparently than before. It was then not a through street and therefore had been used very little. Both the contour and the grade at the curbing are apparently the same as before.

This assessment for repaving is more than half the price of concrete street work in Los Angeles.

This will make it clear why the property owners of the repaved portion of Maple street feel that the present assessment is unjust.

DENIES "DEVIL" RUNS THIS PEACEFUL TOWN

(By International News Service) WORCESTER, Mass., March 31.—Former Alderman Wilhelm Forsberg, one of the oldest residents of Quinsigamond, resents a statement made by the Rev. Joel Fridfelt, pastor of the Quinsigamond Swedish Congregational church, that "the devil has run Quinsigamond long enough."

"Quinsigamond is one of the most peaceful spots in Worcester," says Mr. Forsberg.

HAS 600 GOWNS IN HER WARDROBE

(By International News Service) MONTE CARLO, March 31.—Six hundred gowns make up the wardrobe of the Countess Brunette d'Useaux, an Englishwoman, who is dazzling Monte Carlo and Nice this season. The countess takes five promenades daily, each time in a different gown and in more than a month it is said that she has never worn the same dress twice.

Still, our tight money beats Europe's fiat money.

GREAT AWAKENING IN THE MOVIES

Mrs. Lillian Rambeau of this city, and others who are familiar with conditions in the moving picture industry say that there has been a great awakening among producers and release companies. No longer do they find it profitable to pay enormous sums to artists as a matter of advertisement and because they are known on the stage. The buyers will now have none of these cost inflated dramas which repose on the shelves while cheaper and just as beautiful scenarios are taking their places. In consequence, some of the movie stars are having long vacations from studio life, and the industry is getting down to a rational basis within seeing distance of the legitimate stage. But in this connection Mrs. Rambeau says there is another side to be considered and that is the unreasonable demands of the producers in the way of wardrobe. They have been requiring the actresses who sought work to come equipped with the most expensive costumes, even to $50 hosiery which cannot be told from the dollar kind on the screen. These exactions have made it impossible for some women of real talent to secure employment. In Mrs. Rambeau's opinion these demands are unjust and absurd. The studios are also learning that thousands of dollars may be saved by inexpensive substitutes for the real thing. She told of one such case she witnessed where an interior set called for velvet hangings which would have cost about $4000. A clever young actor in the company demonstrated that burlap could be so treated that no one could tell the difference between it and velvet on the screen. Enormous cost has been made the basis of advertising and patrons have been bamboozled thereby, but that day seems to be passing.

DECREASE IN MOVIE PRODUCTION FALSE

(By International News Service) LONDON, March 31.—All reports of a slump to the contrary, the American film industry is expanding, and the financial interests of Wall Street are taking a bigger interest than ever in the film producing industry.

Such is the message brought from the states by Carl Laemmle, a British producer. It doubtless is of interest to the movie-goer here, who prefers American films, but it isn't entirely welcome to the "trade," which had seen in the reports of panic in the film world an opening for British ventures.

"America is undergoing a period of reconstruction," he declares. "The present condition is simply an aftermath of the war. Prices are coming down and the enormous salaries taken by certain big film stars are coming down in proportion."

"But the film business is growing apace. Picture theaters are multiplying enormously in America. The finest sites in the heart of New York are being marked down for the erection of picture theaters."

Laemmle denies reports spread here that America has displayed an inclination to boycott British films and gives his theory, gained as a result of his visit, as to why America maintains her lead, producing the best pictures in the world.

"In America there are over 16,000 picture theaters," he said. "In this country there are about 3300. In America the producer obviously is justified in spending and can spend five times the amount on his production because he caters to five times the number of theaters. It is obvious that a picture coming from England, and costing about one-fifth the production cost of an American film, shows up badly in comparison with an American feature."

Laemmle predicts an "invasion" of American stars into England for the purpose of producing plays of English setting in English surroundings as more realistic than the carpenter's reproductions out Los Angeles way.

NOTICE TO STUDENTS CHOOSING A COLLEGE

Mr. George U. Moyses, Principal Glendale High School, Glendale, California.

My Dear Mr. Moyses:

There seems to be a good deal of uncertainty in the minds of many students as to just what opportunities the University of California is providing at the Southern Branch in Los Angeles.

In the first place, the Southern Branch is as much a part of the University as if it were at Berkeley. Our courses are of two kinds, teachers' college courses and the courses of the first two years of the College of Letters and Science. The admission requirements are the same for both kinds of work.

After two years of successful work in the teachers' courses, the student receives the elementary teacher's certificate certifying that he is prepared to teach in the elementary schools of California. At the end of a three-year course, he may receive the certificate entitling him to teach in an intermediate school, and at the end of a four-year course in Music, Fine Arts, Commerce, Home Economics, Mechanic Arts, and Physical Education, he may receive the special certificate entitling him to teach that subject in a high school in the state of California.

The University is this year converting its teachers' courses into four-year courses leading to a bachelor's degree. The time in which one can get the teacher's certificate is the same as before—the same as it was in the Los Angeles State Normal school; but, by spending two years more in college, one who has taken the elementary teacher's certificate can finish a four-year college course and get a college degree from the University of California. The University hopes by doing this to persuade more young people to train themselves for teaching and it hopes to train more folks for posts of responsibility and usefulness in the elementary and intermediate schools. Altogether we think that a rare opportunity for technical training in a college has been opened to the young people of Southern California.

The courses in the College of Letters and Science are also provided. Freshmen and sophomores in those courses may take their work here.

Enrollment in both courses will be limited. We cannot at this moment tell what the limit will be. We cannot tell that until the Legislature passes the Appropriation Bill; but we do know that it cannot be considerably higher than it is at present. We will therefore receive applications for admission, and admit students in the order in which we receive them up to the capacity of our classes, beginning April 1st. As we wish to hold places only for students who intend without fail to claim them when the next term opens, we are asking the high school principals to send us the applications of such students only as we can depend upon to claim the places which we shall save for them. A failure on the part of the student to live up to this guarantee may deprive another of his chance to get an education. We therefore ask your help in making the opportunities which the State has provided here known and we ask a special measure of it in endorsing the applications of the students that we can rely upon to claim the privilege which we may reserve for them.

Thanking you heartily, I am,
 Very sincerely yours,
 ERNEST C. MOORE,
 Director, Southern Branch of the University of California.

STONE AGE TACTICS FAIL TO WIN LOVE

(By International News Service) KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 31.—It cost Louis Hendrickson $200 to try "cave man" methods in an attempt to win back his wife's love. Police found Hendrickson dragging his wife by the hair along the sidewalk in front of their home. He had previously thrown her off the front porch, a distance of ten feet. "I was trying to win back her love," police said he told them. Hendrickson told the same story in court. "Well, this isn't the Stone Age. You're out of date," said the court in ordering the $200 fine.

RECLUSE FOUND DEAD IN HER HOME

(By International News Service) LYONS, N. Y., March 31.—Mrs. Bridget Kahler, 75, recluse and eccentric character of this village, was found dead in her home here. The body was lying on the floor. The cause of death is unknown, but abrasions on the lips and hands are believed to have been caused by rats and pet cats. It was the custom of villagers to take food and clothing to Mrs. Kahler to assist her in what seemed to be a needy condition. The home was ill kept and poorly furnished. With her passing away it is said she left investments in trust companies and savings banks aggregating $10,000 to $20,000.

CHURCH BUILDING IS FEATURE OF YEAR

Two Now Under Construction Two More Will Be Started Soon; a Fifth Possible

The west and south walls of the new Catholic church building are up several feet already and the others will be started soon as the foundations are all in. The work is being pushed and soon the large structure can be seen in all its noble proportions.

The first unit of the Casa Verdugo Methodist Episcopal church is further advanced than the other, as it was commenced two or more weeks ago. This unit, which will eventually care for the Sunday school alone, will be used for church purposes also until the second and larger unit can be built adjoining it on the east at the corner of Park and Central avenues. This is a great undertaking for a congregation of this size, but they are a loyal bunch of splendid workers and will put it through.

The next church building to start will undoubtedly be that of the Central Christian congregation. All of the initial sum required has been pledged and just as soon as details of the arrangements of the various rooms are settled, ground will be broken. This church has a splendid location, exactly the same distance from the Wash. Verdugo road, San Fernando road and Los Feliz road, hence the name, Central Christian. The main entrance will be on Colorado. The Rev. Clifford A. Cole, the pastor, has been working earnestly toward this worthy consummation ever since he was called to the pastorate over four years ago.

Coming on encouragingly for fourth place in the building race is the large and growing Presbyterian congregation. When their stately building rises on the beautiful corner selected, at Harvard and Louise, five church buildings will be located within a radius of 500 feet, from Colorado and Louise: Lutheran, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Christian, and Catholic.

The Congregationalists, under the energetic leadership of their young and enthusiastic minister, the Rev. C. M. Calderwood, are working earnestly toward the goal of a new building, also one commensurate to their growing needs.

Cambridge Wins Race

LONDON, March 31.—Cambridge defeated Oxford in their annual rowing race in the Thames river this afternoon. Cambridge won by half a boat length. A tremendous crowd lined the banks of the river and watched the contest.

ALL GAPS SOON TO BE FILLED ON BRAND

New Blocks in Prospect for All Thoroughfares Between Broadway and Harvard

March 14 the Glendale Press directed attention to news circulating "on the street" to the effect that eight new business blocks would be erected before long, unless all signs fall, on Brand boulevard, on the west side of the street, between Harvard and Colorado. These improvements were prophesied on the Wishart lot, the Herrington lot, the Blankenship lot, the Allen Davenport lot, the McGowan lot and the lots owned by Leighton, Coker and Sherwood.

Since that time Mr. Cohn has expressed an inclination to build on his lot in the block north, and gossip has located two buildings of importance on the opposite side of Brand, between Broadway and Harvard. One of these is the proposed Chamber of Commerce building, for which a holding company is now being discussed. On the same side of the street, but on the south side of Harvard, will come the building of the Monarch Auto Supply Company, on which an architect has been at work for some time. If all these commercial castles in the air materialize not many gaps will be left between Broadway and Colorado, and we may look for activity south of that point and perhaps north of California. Realtors interested in that part of the street say so, at all events. Meanwhile other authorities who have equal rank as seers insist that Broadway is to be the business thoroughfare of the city and they cite many arguments to sustain their contentions, and there you are.

MARCH AGAIN SETS BUILDING RECORD

March, 1921, will show a building record almost equal to that of last September, which was $486,767, making it the third largest in the history of the city. August, 1920, holds the record, $517,278. The present month passed $450,000 yesterday before noon and is coming on fast toward the half million mark. Last March hung up a record in that it was the first to reach and pass a valuation of $200,000. The exact figures were $283,177. In 1919 the March record was $40,019; in 1918 it was only $5197, the lowest for the year. In 1910 it was the highest month of the year, with $51,600, and in 1912 it was second, with $65,750.

The Tenants' Association seems to have plenty of moral support, but it does not seem to get the tenant much reduction in rent.

Our building line consists of Gut-tering, Spouting, Ventilating, Sky-lights, etc.

Our prices will always be right—We made a 20% Reduction January 1st.

MAKING TRAILS SAFE

Women and girls have been wont to hike along the trails of this region in the assurance of perfect safety, says the Los Angeles Express. They have traveled singly, in pairs or in groups, and far from fearing molestation, have been certain of gallantry wherever they have come in contact with men. The informality of the trail has been one of its delights. There had been no thought that any possible danger could assail.

Recently a woman passing along a trail where frequently members of her sex have gone without protection or apparent need of protection, was attacked by a man. She fought him bravely and beat him off. She was not badly hurt. The crime nevertheless will be remembered for a long time, and while it is remembered, the feminine hiker no longer may be conscious of the perfect feeling of security that had been one of the charms of her outing.

There is a deep prejudice in this state against lynch law, but a lot of degenerates seem determined to test the limit of the safety afforded by such prejudice. It is vitally important that the trails be cleared of the beast in human guise. If this cannot be done in a seemly and legal manner it is likely to be done, nevertheless.

THE GOLDEN RULE IN BUSINESS

One of the great changes necessary to restore and stabilize American prosperity is the inauguration of good-will methods between capital and labor, making the relations of the two parties one of partnership, co-operative management and profit-sharing, with consideration for the consumer as well as for each of the parties in the actual production.

The establishment of these relations between capital and labor in the United States now, before their adoption in other places, would eliminate most of the problems of competition in world markets between American industries and those of foreign countries; because production under "golden rule" conditions would greatly excel, both in quality and quantity, production in other parts of the world, where strife and suspicion between capital and labor exist. And the labor unions might still find good work to do, after the establishment of industrial peace and good will in this country.

Both capital and labor have been told many times that the solution of all their troubles is the recognition by each of them of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. But they are both dense, blinded by a narrow selfishness.

THE TREND IN EDUCATION

The present trend in education seems to go in for intensive rather than extensive training. In other words thoroughness is to be sought rather than just bulk of knowledge. There is much promise in this. It will produce men and women who are really educated. This ideal was recently set forth by Dr. Hibben, president of Princeton University. "Our ambition," he said, "is not a big university but a great one." He further said in setting forth healthy educational ideals:

"The call now is for men whose disciplined thought can quickly penetrate the superficial plausibility of the theories of the day, born either of fanaticism or of fear, and can discover the fundamental fallacy underlying them; men who are able to lift themselves above passion and prejudice and class jealousy, and the selfish greed of the herd about them. Such men our universities must furnish, and this task they can accomplish only by creating and causing to prevail throughout the whole of the university life, that spirit of idealism which is the need and the demand of the present age."

WHAT'S TO BE DONE?

The pride we Americans take in our public school system is a proper pride; yet the number of illiterates revealed by the draft in the late war was appalling.

Hundreds of thousands of children born in America are never reached by our school system at all; and the system does nothing for the adult alien in our midst. Someone must make Americans of these men and women. Someone must teach them proper methods of living and decent habits, and the rudiments of patriotism. It is a matter that concerns not only these people themselves, but the country at large as well.

"GLEN AND DALE"

Here we are again! We didn't have time and space yesterday to tell you all about that wonderful convention committee meeting Sunday. Oh, yes, there were over 30 present, four state Christian Endeavor officers, and five local pastors. H. W. Yarrick was elected chairman of ushers, Harry Malone resigning to take first vice chairman of the same committee. Yes, we nearly forgot to tell you that we have a down-town office now too! Roy L. Kent has given us permission to use his lovely new office at 130 South Brand and whenever you want to talk about the Glendale convention just ask "Glen and Dale" about "June 25 to 29." We appreciate this opportunity to have our headquarters in the very center of the down-town district and Mr. Kent will never know how much help it gives us. Because Glendale is a city of magnificent distances, William E. McCormick, local transportation manager for the convention, is making plans on how to get those delegates from the special trains to their temporary homes in Glendale. It was mentioned at the meeting Sunday that C. C. Stoler, chairman of the decoration committee is planting dahlias to be used in the decorations, and after considerable thought on the matter Mr. McCormick suggested that we all get busy and plant tomato cans in order to have Ford's enough to help transport the delegates! Enough for this time! You will hear more from us later. "Glen and Dale."

The chief weakness of our system is that the man who has sense enough to handle government business usually has a business of his own that he can't afford to quit.

TRIS SPEAKER IS VERY MUCH OF A COWBOY

(By International News Service)
FORT WORTH, Texas, March 31.—Tris Speaker, spoke of the Cleveland Indians, 1920 baseball champions, is as much of a cowboy as he is a miracle man of the diamond. He has proved that to the entire satisfaction of many professional rodeo stars who competed against him during the events of the Southwestern Fat Stock Show here early this month.

"Fred Beeson, first; Guy Shultz, second; Tris Speaker, third," came the announcement from the leather-lunged barker to 7000 persons in the stands surrounding the arena.

Tris Speaker had taken third rank in the calf-roping contest of the Southwestern cattle country. Without practice he had defeated a long list of professionals, including Leonard Stroud, Toots Ayers, George Brannen, "Booger Red," Oklahoma Curley, Shorty Kelso and a dozen lesser stars of the rodeo firmaments.
Doffing his hat, the idol of his home folks at Hubbard City, Texas, smiled to the crowd and rode from the arena amid salvos of applause from Texans, who admitted that the old West had produced another conqueror.

MISSOURIANS MEET AT HIGH SCHOOL APRIL 5

All former residents of Missouri are urged to attend an interesting and important meeting of Missourians to be held at the Glendale high school auditorium on Tuesday evening, April 5, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Charles E. Stokes, president of the Missouri Association and editor of the "Golden West," will be present and have an important message regarding the great Missouri centennial celebration to be held at Sedalia, Mo., next August; also regarding Missouri picnics to be held May 14 at Long Beach and July 9 at Lincoln Park. It is thought that many Missourians residing in Los Angeles and near-by towns will be at the meeting next Tuesday evening and those residing in Glendale are specially urged to be present. WHAT HEALTH OFFICIALS SAY ABOUT MILK PASTEURIZATION
Dr. Francis E. Fronczak, Health Commissioner, Department of Health, Buffalo, N. Y.:
"We regard the pasteurization of milk so important to safeguard the public health that an ordinance was adopted to make such a procedure mandatory."
"While certified or guaranteed milk is permitted to be sold raw, nevertheless, from our experience, we are satisfied that not even this quality may be considered free, at all times, from dangerous contamination."
"This city, several years ago, experienced several epidemics of scarlet fever, diphtheria and typhoid fever, traced to raw milk supplies. Since pasteurization of milk supplies in this city has been generally practiced, no such outbreaks of disease traceable to the milk supply have occurred."
We have the report of a dozen other health officials and doctors' views on the fact that there are only two grades of standard milk, therefore we recommend

Advice and Philosophy of Rupert Hughes, Novelist

Meets Students of Glendale High on Sympathetic Plane and Gives Good Advice

Students of Glendale high had a great treat yesterday afternoon in a talk by Rupert Hughes, novelist, short story writer, playwright and scenario creator. Whatever expectations he may have aroused by reason of his reputation for varied talents, he proved to be a pleasant, unpretending man of middle age, who gently chaffed the young people before him for their "profound knowledge" which he could realize because he had been there.

He was about 20 minutes late and on being introduced by Miss Freeman said his sensations reminded him of old school days when he had failed to get an excuse from mother. He was also reminded of the day when he spoke his first piece and of the grins it provoked, so similar to the grins he was observing in the countenances before him.

It was a gentle ramble of advice and philosophy so discursive that many of his sentences were left uncompleted because he succumbed to the allurements of some fresh channel of thought. It was like a water system that made fertile a big field of slumbering ideas following a lateral here and dropping it there to flow into another without definite direction and without arriving at any definite spot. He nevertheless said many good things.

"There is a way," he declared, "of treating fiction—novels, plays, motion pictures—that is just as earnest as history. In the novels I have been writing the last few years I have been trying to write the history of our people as I know them." He intimated that so far as the enlightenment of the world is concerned fiction may be truer than history which is not written until the facts are 40 or 50 years old. The chemist tries certain combinations and then announces the result. In like manner the novelist makes combinations of character and circumstances and shows their reactions. History, he said, is "fiction agreed upon," and we are still fighting about whether Columbus started for what he started for or not. Consideration for others with enough fighting for your own rights to maintain your self respect, was urged in a variety of ways. He said:

"We have a give and take life. It doesn't matter so much what your position is in your class, whether you are at the head, at the foot or in the middle. Try desperately hard to make a good life. Use your brain to build it up. Do not fail to seize your marvellous opportunity. Have a good time, live tremendously, and take your rest by doing something else. Do not become the frog on the bank; do not become a vegetable or an animal. "Whatever you read or fail to read, read the newspapers. Do not make the mistake of thinking that what is going on in this town is beneath your interest. If you cannot love your neighbors at least hate them with dignity.

"Do not let any one tell you that what they say in London is any more correct than what they say in Los Angeles. The most eminent teachers of the English language may tell you it is not nice and proper to say 'I guess,' but it is all right to say 'I fancy' or 'I presume.' 'I guess' is more ancient and dignified, and literary and scholarly than any little Londoner's 'I fancy.' England has simply forgotten how to use it.

"Do not be afraid of Americanisms. We belong to a people 105 millions strong and do not need to take our fashions or literary style from anybody else.

"Do not admire an American for being an imitation Englishman. The American who writes like an Englishman is a very bad writer and the better English he writes the worse writer he is. You must just be yourself and then you cannot help being an American. Be sincere in everything you say and think.

"Fiction is important in life because it is a criticism of life, a presentation of life in a form which makes it possible to be a little free and outspoken. If you tell the history of living people as the newspapers do, you must at times be very cruel.

"Do not think too much of human justice. It is injustice, but it is the best we can do. One thing we can never get rid of is crime and another thing is the attempt to punish crime, because some people are naturally crooks and some people are naturally judges. Respect the law as a machine.

"Do not think you can get money by being insincere as a writer or an artist."

SKELETON SAID TO BE THAT OF A GUNMAN

(By International News Service) KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 31.—A skeleton believed to be that of Pete Mankus, killed in a gun battle over a year ago with a posse, has been uncovered here.

Three men, at that time, engaged in a running gun fight with a Jackson county marshal and his deputies near the place where the skeleton was found. The bandits were apprehended while they were breaking into a box car, and fled, pursued by the posse.

The three men hid behind great piles of brush and engaged in a fierce gun battle with members of the posse. Hundreds of shots were fired. After several men had been wounded, two of the thieves surrendered. One of the men was seriously wounded and died a short time later. The other one received a sentence of two years in the penitentiary.

A thorough search of the brush piles and refuse was made for several days but no trace of the third man was found. It was then believed that Mankus had escaped.

KILLS TIMBER WOLF NEAR KANSAS CITY

(By International News Service) KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 31.—A great gray timber wolf, who came down out of the rolling plains to prey upon sheep in Jackson county, has been slain on the edge of Kansas City. The wolf, which roamed through farmyards and poultry pens over a space of 40 square miles for over three weeks, was shot to death by Ernest Carey, a coon hunter.

The wolf, according to William Rob, whose arm adjoins the eastern city limits, had even invaded the eastern edge of the city in search of food. The animal had killed several sheep on Rob's farm when the latter appealed to Carey.

Carey set loose a pack of eight coon hounds on the wolf's trail. The dogs chased the wolf out of a timber hiding place and ran him to earth a mile from a street car line. Carey, who followed the hounds, easily shot the wolf. He received $10 as a scalp reward, the first paid here in five years.

DID NOT MARRY ALL HIS WIFE'S RELATIVES

(By International News Service) CHICAGO, March 31.—The 22-year-old husband of Sally Utescher, both of whom hail from South Carolina, was upheld by Judge William Fetzer of the court of domestic relations in this city in the plaintiff's charge that he did not marry his wife to support her, himself, any children that might come to them, his mother-in-law, aunt-in-law and brother-in-law. The relatives, according to Utescher, followed the couple to Chicago from the South Carolina hills where Arnold Utescher had met and won his bride.

Things went from bad to worse in the household with rows every fifteen minutes, the boy-husband told the court. Finally the aunt filed a charge of non-support against Utescher because he refused to give his relatives spending money.

HEAVIEST HOLDERS OF GOVERNMENT BONDS

(By International News Service) WASHINGTON, March 31.—National banks are heaviest holders of government bonds. Their total investments in Liberty bonds and Victory notes amount to $2,269,575,000. The banks have in all sorts of securities, both foreign and domestic, $4,186,465,000.

Comptroller of the Currency Williams announced that national banks now have $861,056,000 less securities than a year ago, the bulk of such holdings being absorbed by private investors. Railroad bonds rank next to government obligations in the bank holdings. The volume of railroad securities owned by the banks is $416,430,000. Foreign government bonds held amount to $145,000,000.

AVIATORS AGAIN TRY FOR ALTITUDE RECORD

(By International News Service) DAYTON, March 31.—Aviators at McCook field have started again to seek new altitude records. Lieutenant J. MacCreedy, accompanied by a field sergeant, is trying to pierce the topmost aerial ceiling in a La Pere, equipped with a Liberty motor. On March 10 he was well on his way; when 28,000 feet up the breaking of an oil line put the super charger out of order and he had to come down.

Major R. W. Schroeder, who retired several months ago, was the former flyer who continually tried for altitude records.

18-POUND BABY IN CALIFORNIA HOME

(By International News Service) PORTERVILLE, Cal., March 31.—California has produced some mighty big products in the agricultural and horticultural realm, but never before has she produced a human specimen which equals, or comes anywhere near, the size of the 18-pound and three-ounce baby boy which was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Embry, residents of Terra Bella, a little town of a few hundred souls eight miles south of Porterville.

When the stork paid a visit to the Embry home for the seventh time on March 2, he left a fine "big boy." In fact, so big that the scales of the attending physician, Dr. C. A. Curl, failed to register the baby's weight. A trip was made to the city for a new pair of scales, which showed the new arrival's weight to be 18 pounds three ounces. According to Dr. Curl, this is by far the biggest baby he has known in his many years of medical practice. State records which have been searched, fail to show that another baby of his weight was ever born in the state of California. It is believed there have been but few, if any, babies born in the United States whose weight at birth exceeds that of the Embry baby.

Just why baby Robert, for the baby has been named for his father, should have "turned out" such a big baby is still very much of a puzzle. The mother and father are people of ordinary size, the mother's weight being about 140 pounds. Two other babies born into the Embry family, however, weighed 12 pounds at birth and those were considered unusually big babies.

Mrs. Embry states that she has enjoyed perfect health all her life. Prior to baby Robert's birth she was unusually well for an expectant mother and experienced no unusual feeling, except that perhaps she might become the mother of twins this time. Mrs. Embry has a sister, Mrs. John Gibe, of Tulare, California, who is the mother of twins. These twins, a boy and girl, together did not weigh as much as baby Robert Embry at birth. There are now six living children in the Embry home.

Mr. and Mrs. Embry have lived in California for about 15 years. They came to California from Jennings, Oklahoma. Commenting on the interest created by the birth of her big baby, Mrs. Embry said:

"When the baby came so near being born on inauguration day—March 4—some people thought we ought to name him for President Harding, as he turned out to be a boy. But my husband said he wanted one boy in his family to have his name, and as there might never be another boy after this big one, we decided to call the baby Robert Luther, or his father."

PARCEL POST CHICKS SURVIVE LONG TRIP

(By International News Service) CHATFIELD, March 31.—After traveling seven days and six hours to Leonard, N. Y., and return to Chatfield, by mail, it was found that only two out of 100 day-old chicks shipped by a local hatchery had died. The hatchery made the shipment in response to an order, but later received word that the man who had ordered the chicks had left for Florida. The postmaster at Leonard then sent the shipment back via parcel post to Chatfield.

It is an old axiom of the day-old chick business that young chickens, when hatched, need no food or water for three days, but this shipment doubled that time with a 2 per cent death rate.

EACH STATE TO HAVE FIVE DELEGATES

(By International News Service) COLUMBIA, Mo., March 31.—Five newspapermen or women will be chosen to represent each state or territory of the United States at the 19th meeting of the Press Congress of the World, in Honolulu, October 4 to 14, according to the announcement of Dean Walter Williams, president of the congress. Similar methods of representation are being carried out in foreign countries as a result of the adoption by the United States senate on March 5 of the resolution requesting the press of every nation to be represented. Invitations are being sent to the governors of each state asking that they appoint five delegates.

POPE GIVES MEXICO HIS BENEDICTION

(By International News Service) MEXICO CITY, March 31.—Pope Benedict has sent, through an Italian priest, an autograph to Archbishop Mora y del Rio of Mexico, reading as follows: "We give our benediction to Mexico, desiring that her sons and inhabitants be forever worthy of the favors that the Virgin of Guadalupe grants them with her protection."

What the Portland Cement Company Says

PORTLAND CEMENT ASSOCIATION
Merchants National Bank Building

California Hydro-Stone Company,
318 Central Building, Los Angeles, California. Los Angeles, March 29, 1921.

Gentlemen:— It is gratifying to me to note the progress being made in the organization of your company, and it occurs to me that you may be interested in knowing the attitude of the Portland Cement Association towards this enterprise.

Let me say that the chief purpose of the Portland Cement Association is to promote good concrete; and that the Hydro-Stone building unit, as it has been extensively manufactured and sold throughout the United States and in Canada, represents good concrete in the fullest sense of the term. Hydro-Stone, therefore, has our unqualified endorsement and recommendation.

I believe that Southern California holds out greater opportunities for the manufacture and sale of high-grade building units than does any other section of the country. To sum up, the unit you propose to manufacture is first class, your territory is the best, and the time is ripe. The California Hydro-Stone Company should be a big success.

Very truly yours,
H. H. FILLMORE, District Engineer
Glendale, California, March 29, 1921.

Chamber of Commerce Endorsement

To the Citizens of Glendale:

We have investigated the application of the California Hydro-Stone Company for the location of their plant in Glendale, and it is our opinion that the proposition appears to be all that it is stated to be by Mr. Parks, president of the company.

Furthermore, we believe there is a market for this building product, and that the company, if properly managed, would be not only a benefit to Glendale, but would yield desired returns on an investment made in the company.

COMMITTEE ON CENSORSHIP,

HAD TWO BULLETS IN BRAIN; RESULT OF STREET FIGHT

One Bullet Disrupted His Nervous System, Causing Mania for Suicide

ROSSINING, N. Y., March 31.—For the first time in four years Roman Leon Dowski, ex-convict, awoke today without suicide being his first thought. The warm sunlight that flooded his room seemed soothing, not irritating as in the past. He felt as if a terrible oppressive cloud had lifted from his brain—life seemed worth living once more.

There is a reason: For four years Dowski has carried two bullets in his brain, received in a street fight in Schenectady. One of these bullets—the one that disrupted his nervous system so that for the last two years he had to be confined, suffering from suicide mania—was removed yesterday.

In the prison hospital, under the eyes of eight eminent physicians, he was the subject of one of the most phenomenal operations recorded in medical annals. The man who performed it, Dr. Wm. I. Chapman of Brooklyn, is himself an invalid. He achieved the feat sitting propped up in a wheel chair pushed close to the operating table. So little hope was held out for the success of the operation that before the doctor was wheeled into the room the patient received the last rites of the Roman Catholic church.

"I'm taking a fighting chance," Leon Dowski said. "I'd be better off dead than as I am, anyhow." But he lives today and is glad of his life. Doctors are confident the operation has restored him to complete normal condition mentally.

Dr. Chapman removed from the patient's head a section the size of a silver dollar, opened the brain covering, then deftly located the bullet with his fingers and worked it to within three inches of the inner skull wall and slid it to the opening he had made. In another minute his forceps had produced the ball. It was half an inch long and weighed one-sixth of an ounce.

Then the surgeon tried for the other bullet but found it too deeply imbedded to warrant the risk of extraction. This missile is in no position to affect Leon Dowski's mental condition, he concluded. The operation lasted 22 minutes.

LOOKING FORWARD: BRAND, BROADWAY

Will Business Entirely Dominate the Two Main Streets in Next Ten Years?

Will Brand boulevard be solid with business blocks, from the Wash to Los Feliz road within 10 years? Such a prediction has been made, with the additional prophesy that at the end of that period, if not before, Glendale will have $50,000 population. For years the business trend on Brand has been southward, but now the north end is coming into its own, with the Guthrie block, corner of Doran, as the outpost. Broadway is not lagging behind, either, and the old line of demarcation between the original city and its western child has entirely disappeared. The business men of this fastest-growing city in the world are now pulling together with striking unanimity and the many things hoped for to make us really up to date are perhaps nearer of consummation than we think for. We must have hotels, a sewer system, more paved streets, a civic center, an auto camping ground and a large auditorium. Yesterday's setback on some of these propositions was only temporary. They are all bound to come.

STUDY PALMISTRY TO DEFINE CHARACTER

(By International News Service) MADISON, Wis., March 31.—Co-eds in the Kappa, Theta, Delta, Gamma and other sorority houses at the University of Wisconsin are holding hands with each other nowadays. That's no reflection on students of the male persuasion or an indication they are not alive to the advantages of co-educational institutions. It simply means that the fair students are studying palmistry.

It all came about through a series of questions addressed to his classes by Professor C. L. Hull.

"Does the length of your finger show your character?"

Can an employer tell whether an applicant for a job is energetic or not by the shape of his head?

Is your handwriting an open book to your nature?

Fortune tellers and correspondence courses in character reading have flourished for years because a credulous public believes that character can be analyzed in this way, but University of Wisconsin seniors and graduate students are making experiments to see whether there are any scientific grounds for such assumption.

The students first consult the greatest authorities in palmistry, handwriting character analysis, etc., and then make tests on 20 other students to see whether the chart of "ought to be" works out.

LINES IN HONOR OF JOHN BURROUGHS

Copyright 1921 by International News Service

NEW YORK, March 31.—Edwin Markham, famous American poet, author of "The Man With the Hoe," at the request of the International News Service, today penned the following touching lines in honor of John Burroughs, widely known naturalist, whose death occurred yesterday. The poem reads:

John Burroughs called back
In glorious hour the great soul passed.

And he will find his own at last.
Upon the edge of April, while
The earth is quickening, mile on mile.
His young soul, thrilled by the mystic breath,
Goes sighing through the doors of death:

He who was comrade to the herds,
He who was brother to the birds,
He who had all the flowers for friends,
Has gone the road that never ends.

Crowned with his gold lore, he goes
While earth is dreaming of the rose;
And, as he passes, he can hear
The far song of the flowering year.
While grasses hurry into earth,
He rises to his higher birth.
Where Audubon and Jeffries are,
Exploring nature in their star—

Where Ruskin, lover of old roads
And Turner have their bright abodes.
He goes and round his head is hurried
The April vision of the world:
He carries, as his feet depart
The warm love of the whole world's heart.

FAILED TO ALTER LAW FOR WOMEN

SACRAMENTO, March 31.—The first effort during the present legislative session to alter the women's eight-hour law came to naught Tuesday in the assembly labor and capital committee. A bill by Assemblyman Parkinson to permit the employment of women workers for nine hours a day with a half holiday on Saturday to compensate for the additional hour during the week was laid on the table by the committee.

The bill was denounced by the organized labor representatives attending the meeting as "an attempt to undermine the eight-hour law," and was compared to the bill to establish the nine-hour day for women laundry workers that was defeated by a close vote at the 1919 session.

MAILS WILL HELP PITCHING STAFF

By JACK VEIOCK
I. N. S. Sports Editor

NEW YORK, March 31.—"Duster" Mails may give the world champion Cleveland Indians the edge necessary to land them another American League pennant.

Consensus of opinion in baseball circles today, with the season coming on apace, puts Cleveland's chances largely up to her pitching staff, which may prove stronger than ever with Mails as a member.

The speedy southpaw came up from Sacramento last fall and proved himself a sensation, turning in a number of brilliant victories that helped the tribe clinch the pennant. Then to prove that his showing was no fluke, he pitched remarkable ball against the Dodgers in the world's series.

Reports from Texas during the last two weeks indicate that Mails as well as Stanley Coveleskie and Jim Bagby, will be in shape when the bell rings. If they are, Speaker's team will start the season with wonderful prospects, for the champions are intact.

In 1920 Coveleskie and Bagby turned in a total of 55 victories for the Indians. Covey won 24 games and Bagby 31. The remarkable showing of these two twirlers was the secret of the tribe's success.

This year, with the Yankees greatly strengthened, the Browns a very dangerous aggregation and Washington threatening plenty of trouble for all comers, it is doubtful whether either Covey or Bagby will be able to duplicate their 1920 records. And right here is where Mails comes in.

A good southpaw is one of the greatest assets any ball club can possess. So far, Mails has proved himself to be all of that. And his work this year, combined with what Speaker's two great right handers can do, is going to mean much to Cleveland.

So the "Duster," a Brooklyn castoff in 1916, finds opportunity knocking loudly at his door today and Cleveland fans are hoping that he gets away to a good start.

JAPAN CONSTRUCTS WIRELESS STATION

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Frustrated in their persistent efforts to oust the Americans from the possession of Russian island, the most powerful wireless station in the Orient, the Japanese have at last despaired and have undertaken the construction of a powerful station in Japan proper, according to official advices reaching Washington.

Japanese naval engineers have begun the erection of a station at Oshima, in Nagasaki prefecture, some 300 miles south by east of the American station at Vladivostok. When completed it will be the "Arlington" of Japan and capable of communicating with all parts of the world.

Back of Japan's decision to build this new station is a record of several years of strenuous and futile effort to secure possession of the Russian island wireless, which is now held and operated by a few American naval officers and some 35 men, recruited from the Asiatic fleet.

The seizure and operation of the plant by American naval forces despite Japanese protests has been a source of constant irritation to the Japanese occupational troops in Vladivostok. Much of the trouble between the Japanese and Americans in the Vladivostok district could be traced back to the American seizure of this wireless station, according to naval officers. The ill-feeling that admittedly does exist, was manifested not long since in the shooting to death of Lieutenant Wm. R. Langdon by a Japanese sentry.

MEXICO IS TIRED OF REVOLTS SAYS CHIEF

(By International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, March 31.—"There are not more than 100 men in all of the Republic in arms against the government at this time."

This remarkable statement was made by General V. Serrano, under secretary of war, in an interview. General Serrano added:

"Despite assertions to the contrary the figures I give are accurate. The government is not confronted by the problem of pacification, a condition which has been attained for the first time in ten years. Neither under Madero nor General Huerta was the country as peaceful as now because during their regimes there were some parties, more or less important, who sought the government, such as Zapata or Orozco.

"The peaceful state of the nation at this time, I believe, is due to the fact that the people of all classes are convinced that they have a strong and honest government which has not been obliged to resort to violence to put down insurrections. Perhaps this government may be charged with extreme benevolence, inasmuch as it has pardoned most of the men who have revolted, allowing them to enjoy their liberty after being routed and vanquished. This was done in order to demonstrate to them that the government does not contemplate persecutions or reprisals.

"This policy of amnesty explains why most of the former rebels are now devoting themselves to peaceful pursuits and the developing of their private enterprises instead of making war. "Those who spread the talk of a new revolution are merely trying to delude the people into believing that one is possible, but the facts have shown that the people are tired of revolutions, especially when they have no political or social purpose.

"The revolutionary talk is the labor of Mexicans abroad who dream of recapturing the high positions they held in former days and of again making huge fortunes, but it is nothing more than a dream.

"The government and the war department have adhered to a policy of communicating to the country all of its acts in connection with the campaigns against the handful of rebels now at large."

INDIAN MAIDS IN FIGHT FOR MILLIONS

MUSKOGEE, Okla., March 31.—An oil fortune worth millions with accrued royalties totalling $1,500,000, is still under litigation here after an eight-year fight by heirs of Barney Thiesen, late Creek Indian tribal chief.

Two pretty Indian maidens, both claiming to be direct heiresses to the huge fortune, are waging bitter fights in court for the estate. Attorneys for Martha Jackson, already granted $1,000,000 of the estate, are fighting to win the remainder of the fortune and to prevent Mary Saley, another Creek maiden, from sharing.

Mary claims she is the only living heir of Chief Thiosso, who died in 1899. Three years after his death the Government gave his estate a great allotment of ground in the Oklahoma Reservation.

SHIRTS WASHED ONLY ON FULL MOON

(By International News Service)
 CHICAGO, March 31.—The moon's a poor thing to regulate a Chicago household by, Judge Holmes ruled recently in the case of Joseph Tranka, charged with non-support. Tranka admitted having fled his comfortable South Side home, but submitted the following extenuating facts:

If the moon shone in full-orbed glory, he said, indications were that he would get his meals on time the next day. For hours Mrs. Tranka would bathe in the magical beams and on the morrow her enthusiasm for work was marvelous to behold.

Washing day was regulated by the planets, he declared. Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, Mercury, Venus and Neptune ordained by their appearance in the heavens the days when his shirts would be washed.

And far off in the ether were nebulae, comets, meteors, constellations, even suns, fixed and variable stars, which made Mrs. Tranka's affections likewise variable.

"I couldn't stand it," said Tranka. "The moon was her ouija board and the stars indicated all the changes in our household habits.

"Every morning she went to see a fortune teller. She would return too late to prepare my lunch. At night she would leave the dishes unwashed to watch the heavens.

"One day the moon would be full. That meant everything would be peaceful the next day. The house was cleaned, the meals prepared and the dishes washed.

"But more often the fortune teller would tell her to watch for a quarter or half moon. Those were the days I learned not to come home."

Mrs. Tranka said her husband left her last week after quitting his job. The latter told the court he was driven to it, but promised to go back and provide for her.

"And forget the moon," was Judge Holmes' parting advice to Mrs. Tranka.

IMPROVEMENT OF AMERICAN SPEECH

(By International News Service)
 NEW YORK, March 31.—Miss Dagmar Perkins, who is head of the Association for the Improvement of American Speech, is worried about the way in which the language is deteriorating—at least, judging by the way Young America is employing it here in the big city.

Young boys and girls, especially in New York and Brooklyn, say: "Lemme see it," when they should say instead: "permit me to look at it." Then again you will hear: "Me fren's awri," which translated, means: "My friend is all right."

In addition to these popular expressions there is a great and growing class, known as the "Gimmies." The sweetheart will say to his adored one: "Gimme yer answer, kid." And she will reply: "Aw, g'wan. Gimme time to think it over."

Miss Perkins says "gimme" is New York for "give me," which is the imperative form of the verb "to give."

Then there are such expressions as "Atta boy," which is an exclamatory expression intelligible only to the youth who infest the ball parks in the summer time.

The verb "listen" also is often overworked and used improperly, according to the Perkins reformers. Quite frequently it is used as a mere expletive, simply to attract attention, and is the common mode of salutation employed by many phone girls. Not infrequently it is coupled with "who-zizz," a term that expresses an indefinite, not to say lazy interpretation of someone's identity.

Miss Perkins says that women especially should hold feminine tones and not imitate masculine voices.

"The aim of the association for the improvement of speech," says Miss Perkins, "is to endow an institution for the improvement of proper speech in New York which will uphold the standards of American speech as the French academy has done for the French language."

Miss Perkins is a special lecturer at Harvard and a faculty member of the Universite Normale at Paris. Her studio is in New York.

Miss Perkins has set a big task for herself and her organization.

As "Who-zizz" would say: "Some job, kid, some job."

CHARTERS ENGINE TO KEEP DATE

(By International News Service)
 CHICAGO, March 31.—Sunday papers come high in Chicago. A Tulsa, Okla., oil operator recently paid a little over $200 for his.

He was on a limited train ready to start for Kansas City when just before starting he discovered he had neglected to purchase a Sunday paper. He made a wild dash down the platform, bought the paper and returned—but the train was gone.

"I'd give $1000 to catch that train," he exclaimed, and the gateman overheard him.

Robins said a special engine might be chartered, and things began to hum around the station.

D. H. Campbell, passenger agent, communicated with the general manager.

"Hold the flier" at Brighton, near Joliet, he was told: "give him an engine for $100 and charge him $2 a minute for the flier's delay."

He caught a local train to Canal and Sixteenth streets, where the "live" engine waited. The track was cleared to Joliet and the race was on.

He arrived at Brighton just 34 minutes late, at $2 a minute, boarded the train and was on his way. He paid cash for everything—about $168 to the railroad and more than $50 in tips for everyone concerned.

"I've a big deal on in Tulsa," he explained. "I had to make it."

No one thought to ask his name.

RECOVERS SPEECH BY APPLYING ETHER

(By International News Service)
 BOSTON, March 31.—Robbed of his speech by falling from a bed at the Deer Island Immigration station, where he is being detained on a question of citizenship, Ernest Young, a former British aviator, is again able to talk as a result of the administration of ether by Dr. Albert Murphy, on the Long Island medical staff.

Young, who is 27 years old, and the son of a wealthy Scotchman, was stricken dumb during the war as a result of being shot down behind the German lines. He regained his speech after spending some time in a German prison camp, from which he escaped.

He came to this country as an engineer on a shipping board boat. Arriving in Boston from New York he was picked up by the immigration authorities, failing to have citizenship papers, and sent to Deer Island pending a decision in his case.

He fell from his cot at the island while dreaming and awakened to find himself unable to talk. Dr. Murphy, after learning Young's history and studying the case, decided on the ether treatment. Young recovered his speech as he came out of the ether.

If you would flatter a man, pretend to think him a great hit with the ladies or ask him for advice.

GREAT BRITAIN ON EVE OF LABOR WAR

(By EARL C. REEVES, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
 LONDON, March 31.—Great Britain is on the eve of a new labor war. A national coal strike, effective tomorrow night seemed inevitable today. The press warned the public that a general walkout of the miners appeared to be unavoidable.

The executive committee of the federation of miners held a meeting this morning, but no statement was issued. Later the committee men went to Unity house to confer with representatives of the other two branches of the triple alliance—the railway men and the transport workers.

The mines, which have been operated under government control and government subsidy since the war, are to be turned back to the private owners tomorrow. Anticipating this action the mine owners announced wage reductions. The miners refused to accept the wage cuts and threatened to strike if they were put into effect. The operators contend that the wages of the miners have been raised to such a point that under private ownership the collieries would be operated at a loss. They point out that the operating deficit last month was about $35,000,000. It was proposed that 80 per cent of the gross receipts be turned over to the miners in the form of wages, but the men contend that this would not give them a living wage.

It is probable that the campaign for nationalization of the coal mines will be revived. This has been a vital problem in the British labor situation for more than two years.

Sir Robert Horne, president of the board of trade, has appealed to the men not to take any hasty action, until all avenues of arbitration are explored.

MOST PLEASURE IS FOUND IN WORKING

(By International News Service)
 WASHINGTON, March 31.—"My life is very uninteresting," Senator Smoot replied to a questioner. "All I do is work."

"How much time do you put in each day?" he was asked.

"Sixteen hours a day, sometimes 18."

"How long have you kept up that pace?"

"Forty years and more."

"How do you like it?"

"To me it is more fun than anything else. I would rather tussle with statistics on the tariff tangle than attend theaters. I never attend baseball games, nor do I play golf. However, I sleep seven hours a night and that is recreation enough for anybody. I have never taken a vacation. Neither have I ever been sick. There is not a healthier man in congress than myself."

"I believe that there is more pleasure in work than in anything else for the average man. If every man did more work he would be happier. It is the greatest of mistakes to idle away one's time."

GARBAGE CAN WAS NOT "STRONG" BANK

(By International News Service)
 CHICAGO, March 31.—Gus Margarete, proprietor of the Cozy lunch room, has decided that the garbage can in the rear of his restaurant is a poor bank.

For months it was the custom of Gus to hide his daily receipts in the unsavory receptacle. Then in the morning he would recover the garbage-tainted currency and take it to the bank.

The other night, however, Gus attended a midnight wedding feast, after locking the door of the Cozy. The roosters were crowing when he left. And it was some hours later when Gus finally reached the Cozy. He staggered to the back door.

The garbage can was empty. The early worm, in the person of the garbage collector, had caught the roll.

FALLS TEN STORIES, BUT ONLY BRUISED

(By International News Service)
 CHICAGO, March 31.—Chris Ahern, 64-year-old watchman in the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company building, is back at work today after a recent fall of ten stories in an elevator. The accident, occurred when part of the elevator support collapsed. Ahern was taken to the Cook County hospital, unconscious and supposedly dying. Only slight bruises were found, however.

WINE AND WHISKEY FOR THE SICK

(By W. H. ATKINS, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
 WASHINGTON, March 31.—Wine and whiskey for the sick can now be withdrawn by retail druggists from bonded warehouses to meet all reasonable demands. Orders were issued by Revenue Commissioner Williams today, authorizing druggists, beginning tomorrow, to withdraw in such amounts as are needed to meet the requirements. The new instructions modify an order issued January 28, limiting withdrawals by druggists to five cases of liquor on a single withdrawal.

Druggists hereafter will be permitted to withdraw up to 100 gallons of whiskey and 100 gallons of wine every three months. They will be allowed to withdraw in larger amounts, Commissioner Williams directed, by furnishing satisfactory proof with the prohibition directors in their districts that larger quantities are necessary to meet their trade demands.

VIENNA WOMEN ARE THE MOST EFFICIENT

(By International News Service)
 VIENNA, March 31.—The "Continental" method of knitting, about which there was so much discussion in ladies' sewing circles during the war, is proving a case for itself in Vienna.

The enormous wool stocks imported by the American Red Cross have dwindled so rapidly that the authorities feared it had been lost or stolen, and ordered a careful checking of accounts. They were able to account for every ounce of wool, and discovered that the knitting women had delivered an incredible output of finished garments.

All Vienna women used the "Continental" method, which was often condemned by American women during the war, because it had been invented in Germany. However, it saves one complete and awkward motion with every stitch that is taken. Whereas most American women throw the strand of wool over the needle with each stitch, Vienna women use the needle almost as a crochet hook, keeping the strand in one place and catching it up with the needle itself. The whole process is precise and machine-like and incredibly rapid. Nowhere has the American Red Cross discovered such efficient knitters. Moreover, say the authorities, the finished garments have none of the uneven texture for which the stitch has sometimes been condemned.

Fifty thousand women are now knitting American wool in Vienna. Most of them receive piece-work pay for their labor, thus providing both work for the women, who are in need of money, and clothing, which is distributed through the Red Cross and the Society of Friends. In addition to the women 100,000 school girls are at work.

ORANGE NECKTIES ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY

(By International News Service)
 ATHOL, Mass., March 31.—A state of "armed" neutrality exists between the "Orangemen" and the "Irishmen" among the high school pupils of the local preparatory institution, following one of the liveliest juvenile fist fights seen within the scholastic precincts since the school was built.

The fracas started St. Patrick's Day when four venturesome and bold students appeared at morning assembly wearing orange neckties—cloth of brazenly lustrous orange.

After assembly, on the way to classes, a number of other pupils, wearing proudly the green of the shamrock, resented the appearance of the orange. "Depart in peace, before you depart in pieces!" came the stentorian command from the leader of the Irish "army." But the stolid "Orangemen" stood their ground. Before the dust settled on the battlefield enlisted men in either brigade had their clothes stripped from them, their colors tattered, eyes blackened, lips cut and noses bloodied.

Suspension of a trio of the defenders of the colors followed in general orders from the council table of the faculty.

28 Communists Killed

BERLIN, March 31.—Twenty-eight communists were reported to have been killed in heavy fighting between the security police and Reds today at Cevelsburg, in Westphalia. The police casualties were not given. Two officers of the security police and ten men were reported killed in a clash with communists near Groebers. The Reds were armed with machine guns, which they used so effectively that the police were compelled to retreat.

If the war didn't bring heaven nearer, it at least robbed hell of some of its terrors.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH SUPPER AND SOCIAL

According to Usual Custom Fifth Wednesday Night Was Thus Observed

Whenever there is a fifth Wednesday night, which is once every three months, the regular church night service at the Central Christian is made a social evening, beginning with supper at 6:30 and winding up with a program. More than 100 people were present last night to enjoy the high-class meal prepared by the young married ladies of the church, which had been arranged by Harry Marple. Willard Learned presided at this meeting, a violin solo by Miss Elizabeth Quackenbush. This proved so very good that an encore was insisted upon. Then followed vocal solos by Mrs. Floyd Mercer and Wilbur F. Stroch, which were also persistently encored. Then came an original song dedicated to the official board, sung to the tune, "Stars of a Summer Night," by a quartet of ladies, Mmes. Pigg, Jodon, Mercer and Stoler. This was so wildly applauded that they came back and hummed the air on combs. Miss Forrest gave the concluding number, a reading of Brownings' "Pied Piper of Hamelin Town." The "take-off" on the official board, sung by the quartet, was as follows:

Board of the Christian Church,
 Watch, watch, your Johnny Ray—
 He'll for your Bacon search,
 Watch John at break of day.
 Watch! Watch! Watch John at break of day.

Watch R. P. Jodon, too,
 He Stoler sack of Cole,
 Orth got the Lyons share
 He Stoler—Jodon stole.
 He stole—He Stoler Jodon stole.

Floyd Mercer is Cox sure
 Lee Kaster in the brook,
 But though he seems so pure,
 Watch Zook—watch O. L. Zook.
 He took, watch Zook, watch O. L. Zook.

Fred Thompson Hedges' round,
 He Stoler Heacock too;
 But they will all be found
 For Learned will come through;
 We're Wright—
 For Learned will come through.

WOMEN WANT MORE LIBERTY IN CHURCH

(By International News Service)
 LONDON, March 31.—Many church dignitaries are alarmed at women's demands for a larger share in church services.

At the convocation of York held recently this fear was voiced by the Bishop of Durham, who said they would not be content with a career in holy orders which limited their sphere to the functions of deacons.

Though the bishop did not say so, he may have had a vision of women aspiring to be bishops.

By the decision of the upper house of the convocation of Canterbury women are only to be allowed to preach and pray in consecrated buildings to a very limited extent.

The Bishop of Bristol made a spirited but vain attack against the limitation to woman's liberty. It was not a declaration of principle, he said, but a confession of prejudice.

BRIDE OF AMERICAN DIES BY OWN HAND

(By International News Service)
 CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, March 31.—Socorro Molina de Weiss, beautiful 21-year-old bride of Robert Weiss, an American of San Bernardino, committed suicide in the Hotel Palacio here following a trivial quarrel with her husband. Weiss, who is connected with an American oil company at Tampico, won Senorita Molina after a whirlwind courtship and she eloped with him in defiance of her parents' wishes. They were spending their honeymoon in Chihuahua. When Weiss informed his bride that he was going to a down-town cafe she became despondent, and upon his return to the hotel she was dead.

An image of Christ was clasped in her hands, an empty bottle of arsenic by her side and three letters she had written were on a table nearby. One, addressed to the police, exonerated her husband of all blame. Another to her mother, begged forgiveness for eloping. A third, to Weiss, bade him farewell. Weiss was arrested, but released later when he explained the circumstances of the tragedy. The couple married February 17 last.

LEARNS THAT 'VAMPS' HAVE NO AGE LIMIT

(By International News Service)
 KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 31.—A fifty-year-old "vamp" is being sought here.

"I thought I was safe because she was fifty," a middle-aged man complained to Lee D. Seilig at the legal aid bureau.

"But none of them 'vamps' is safe," he added. "I'll never trust another."

The middle-aged visitor said he had married a widow "with a $35,000 bank account." "She told me we would live on my bankroll because she had her money in the bank ten months and would lose the interest if she drew it out before the end of the year."

"Well, the year ended and so did my happiness. She disappeared and took my trunk along with her."
