

BOYS BADLY HURT

BIG AUTO ROLLS OVER TWICE, THROWING OCCUPANTS HEADLONG

Monday noon there was no happier home in Glendale than Herman Paine's, 109 South Maryland. Herman, Jr. had just discarded the crutches he had used since his accident five weeks ago and he and his twin brother, Derrick, were talking about the Junior dance which the latter was going to attend that night and about the electrical experiments they and Louis Siberell, a chum living at the corner of Milford and Central were interested in. Soon the boys were missed and it was found they had gone over to see Louis. After they had been at Siberell's a while a ride in the old Cadillac was proposed and all agreed. With Louis at the steering wheel they sped away, going around by way of Pasadena. La Canada, Montrose and Sunland. They turned around at Sunland and were coming back at high speed when at a turn in the road near the foot of a long grade, a machine was met driven by a lady who evidently was learning. The machine was on the wrong side of the road, say the boys, and close to it was a boy on horseback. In trying to avoid both, Louis turned his machine sharply to one side and over it went. It turned over twice, witnesses to the accident say, just missing a barbed wire fence and landing against two posts. Derrick Paine told his mother he jumped, and landed on a pile of heavy boulders. Herman and Louis were thrown clear of the machine, Louis striking on his head. Derrick was hurt the most. His left leg was broken, the right leg, particularly the knee, badly wrenched, his nose broken, several ribs fractured and two upper front teeth knocked out. Herman's head was cut in several places, his legs cut and back wrenched. Louis received several deep scalp wounds and a skull fracture.

Dr. Boyer received the first notification of the accident, which seems to have occurred about 3:30. In company with Dr. Flint and Dr. Ries, he rushed to the scene and brought the boys at once to Thornycroft Hospital, where they received immediate attention. Dr. Dieterich, family physician of the Paines, assisted by Dr. Reeks, of Los Angeles, took charge of the Paine boys and Dr. Mabry of Louis. While Derrick's injuries were the more complicated and will require a longer time for complete recovery, Louis' condition is the most serious. At last accounts, however, Dr. Mabry was very hopeful. Louis is a little past 14 years of age. Derrick and Herman are aged 16 years and 4 months. They will be High School Juniors in February.

IN SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brice, of 141 South Kenwood street, erstwhile Southerners, entertained about 20 friends New Year's eve in a hospitable, old fashioned southern way that was truly enjoyable since the majority of the guests were Southerners. Among the familiar melodies dear to the heart of every old time southerner, played by Messrs. R. D. Goss and F. Manson of Glendale, and Mr. Coffey of Los Angeles, on well used violins and accompanied on the guitar by Bert Schaffer, of Tropic, were "Turkey in the Straw," "Sugar in the Gourd," "Old Pop Coon," "Pop Goes the Weasel," and "The Soldier's Joy." Other enjoyable contributions to the impromptu programme were numbers on the harmonicon and violin by J. N. McGillis and Mr. Manson and Southern dances gracefully executed by Mrs. Barnett of Los Angeles. A beautiful supper was served and at midnight all sang "God be With You Till we Meet Again." It was a delightful evening, one that will be long remembered by all present.

SUNDAY GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brown, of 300 North Louise street, had quite a house party Sunday when they entertained Mr. Brown's brother, who motored over with his sister, with Lowell Hart of Whittier and Mrs. Hart. About the time they left Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bartle and son Gerald from Monrovia arrived. They remained for dinner and spent the evening with the Browns who invited in a few other guests, all of whom passed a very pleasant evening with music and informal chat. The Browns and Bartles are planning a New Year dinner in Los Angeles tomorrow, preliminary to a Stanford student in his Freshman year, and is not allowed a very long holiday.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Thursday. Heavy frost in the interior. Westerly winds.

FLOAT WINS PRIZE

GLENDALE ENTRY IN TOURNAMENT OF ROSES AWARDED SECOND PLACE

Glendale feels proud and happy over its entry in the Rose Tournament at Pasadena and it has good reason for its satisfaction. It won second prize in competition with a wonderful array of beautiful and expensive entries entered by cities of the Southland and by numerous organizations public and private.

Though it represented a very small expenditure in money, not over $150, it was a beautiful thing and attracted much attention. Every step of its progress over the two mile route of the parade was made to the applause of cheering thousands who had gathered to witness the beautiful spectacle, and this public appreciation did much to sustain the strength and spirits of the train of attendants.

The design was a huge red cross rising from a bed of white flowers, the cross of scarlet geraniums and poinsettias. The base was draped in a lovely mass of ferns, studded with flowers, and at the corners were great plumes of pampas grass. On the forward arm of the cross was Margaret Lusby in the garb of a Red Cross nurse; on the rear arm was the high school boy who represented the Red Cross physician. Beneath the cross draped in Greek costume were the two other high school boys who accompanied the float and who represented philanthropy and humanity. The three boys mentioned were: Berna Martin, Fred Gray and George Cate.

The float was led by Miss Lorbeer and Mrs. Tuft, the former in the red veil and costume of the surgical dressing instructor, the latter wearing a similar costume but with the blue veil to signify chairmanship of the workroom. Behind these walked sixteen of the twenty-eight school girls who accompanied the entry, 12 more girls, walking four-abreast following the float. All were in the regulation Red Cross apron and veil made for them by the committee assisted by Mrs. J. C. Waite, who contributed two days' time to the task. Two soldier boys from the Coast Artillery carried the banners, and Frank Budlong, also of the Coast Artillery, drove the automobile con-

FINE BAND CONCERT

When on New Year's eve the beautiful strains of "Star Spangled Banner" floated out over the quiet city, people turned to one another and asked, "What is it?" and "Where is it?" Following the sound, they came to the Glendale Sanitarium, where on the lawn in front, the new band recently organized in the institution was giving its first open air concert. "Tramp, Tramp, The Boys Are Marching," followed "The Star Spangled Banner," then other beautiful selections in order. Another patriotic air, "Rally Round the Flag Boys" was on the repertoire, and "America" closed the program. Among the numbers that gave special delight to the large audience were "Maritana" in which L. W. Sturdevant played a fine bass solo; "Summer Breezes," a baritone solo by Mr. Rogers; "Moonlight in Venice," a cornet duet by Phoenix and Young. For a new organization this band certainly plays in splendid form and Glendale citizens are anticipating much pleasure in listening to future concerts.

GERMANY NOT BOUND BY AGREEMENT

FUNDAMENTAL AIM IS ESTABLISHMENT OF ECONOMIC UNION FROM HAMBURG TO GULF OF PERSIA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PETROGRAD, January 2.—Scores were killed in fierce fighting between the Bolsheviki and Ukrainian forces at Smolenski. No details of the fighting have been received. All Cossacks of military age have been ordered to mobilize.

Germany will not consider the Brest-Litovsk declaration binding on her unless the allies accept her invitation to negotiate a general peace, it is reported here authoritatively.

"Germany's fundamental aim in negotiations is the establishment of an economic union from Hamburg to the Persian gulf in return for the evacuation of Belgium, France and other occupied territory. Germany demands the freeing of Mesopotamia, Arabia, Palestine as well as the return of Tripoli in case of further successes against Italy," one representative said today.

FLOUR GOES UP TODAY

MANUFACTURERS SAY INCREASED PRICE IS DUE TO GOVERNMENT FORCING DOWN PRICE OF MIDLINGS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MINNEAPOLIS, January 2.—Increased cost of flour amounting to 20 cents a barrel is effective today. This is due, the manufacturers admit, because they forced the price of flour up when the government forced the price of midlings (a miller's by-product) down.

NYLAN MAKES CHARGE AGAINST GOVERNOR

SAYS STEPHENS TRIED TO FORCE HIM TO PASS FRAUDULENT CLAIM AS CHAIRMAN OF BOARD OF CONTROL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, January 2.—John Francis Nylan charged Governor Stephens with having once attempted to persuade him to pass a claim of $2199 in favor of Sheriff Wm. Hammell of Los Angeles after Nylan had informed the governor as chairman of the Board of Control that the claim was fraudulent. Nylan states that his refusal to pass the claim was responsible for his retirement from the Board of Control and State Council of Defense.

His statement adds fuel to the political fire already blazing merrily in the state.

HOOVER DEFENDS HIS ADMINISTRATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, January 2.—Herbert Hoover, food administrator, answered criticisms of his administration today when testifying before the Senate Sugar Investigating committee. High food prices he attributed to the tremendous increase per capita circulation of money which advanced $9 per capita in the United States in one year due to the gold influx. "And, too, the sudden withdrawal of millions of men from productive work to fighting. Immediately these became consumers entirely," Hoover said.

ENTERTAIN RELATIVES

RUDLINGS GIVE HOUSE PARTY IN HONOR OF OMAR BURT RICHARDSON

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rudling, at their home on the Richardson-Rudling ranch, San Franciscozinto Canyon, were hosts to their relatives at a perfectly arranged year-end house party and New Year's dinner in honor of Mrs. Rudling's cousin, Omar Burt Richardson, who has just returned from active service on the battlefields of France.

Fourteen autos carried the guests over hill and dale and the many lights from the home nestled in between the mountains was beautiful and could be seen for miles away.

The last hours of old 1917 were mostly spent outdoors as the weather was warm, in fact ideal. Games, music, dancing, hiking, hunting and pleasant conversation made the time fly only too quickly.

The rooms were tastefully decorated from corner to corner with streamers of holly, mistletoe and lanterns. The guests were seated at four tables. The one in the main room was 18 feet long and the American colors were attractively arranged. The center piece was a Soldier Boy bearing the flag. One foot from the edge of the table was a ribbon band of small flags, and inside this was a solid wall four inches high in our colors. Each place card bore an American silk flag. Red, white and blue carnations also carried out the color scheme.

The menu was in a fair degree in keeping with the Hoover food laws, except in amount of food consumed.

The invited guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Omar S. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. B. Richardson, Mr. George Richardson, Mr. Alexander Richardson, Miss Jane Richardson, Miss Emily Zeese and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McBride, John McBride Jr., of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Luckenbach, Miss Dorothy Luckenbach, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Luckenbach, of Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hickson and daughters Maryetta and Virginia, of San Fernando; Mrs. Cora Richardson Butterfield and children Cora Louise, Virginia, Jane and Betsey; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson, Miss Grace Richardson, Mrs. Belle Richardson Johnson and husband, Cameron, Frank Richardson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John A. Logan, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson and children, Miss Eulalia, Omar Burt, Paul and John; Miss Mary Logan, Miss Barbara Mitchell, Shives Mitchell, Mrs. Rose John, of Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. V. Dinsmore, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Gertrude Richardson Rudling and husband, Chas. Rudling.

STREET NAMING SUGGESTION

N. Glendale, Cal., Dec. 28, 1917. A. T. Cowan, Glendale, Cal.

Dear Sir:—I notice it is in order in remitting subscriptions to suggest ideas in renaming and number of streets. As Brand Boulevard and Louise street run into North Glendale beyond the city limits, we are interested and suggest that the name Brand Boulevard be unchanged. Change Louise street, between two boulevards to Lincoln avenue preserving the order of first letters and change the present Lincoln avenue (too small for such a great name) to that of some pioneer.

Yours truly,
D. E. FULLER.

SPEED UP, BIDDIES

The complaint is well nigh universal among owners of small flocks of hens that the ungrateful biddies, though demanding as much feed as ever, absolutely refuse to lay. Some lay it to the long-continued dry weather and others to the change in feeding made necessary by war regulations. Whatever the cause may be, it is hoped the hens may soon catch the swing again and end the fresh egg famine.

LEST WE FORGET

The Cerritos Avenue Parent-Teacher Association will hold its regular meeting Friday, January 4th, at the school building, Brand and San Fernando boulevard. Parliamentary drill 2:30, conducted by Mrs. Harry Greenwalt. The program and entertainment is in charge of the Cerritos Avenue teachers at 3:15.

BOY AND GIRL TWINS

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Dionysius, of Gardena avenue, are the proud parents of twins, a boy and a girl, who have not yet been named. They arrived in Tropic December 31, and promise to become permanent residents who will be a credit to the city. All are doing well.

SANITARIUM BAND

CLARENCE JONES, X-RAY EXPERT, LEADS MUSICIANS OF HEALTH INSTITUTION

Some weeks ago L. W. Sturdevant of the Glendale Sanitarium, conceived the idea of organizing a band among the employes of the institution. Finding that Clarence H. Jones, the X-ray operator, was an old band director, he consulted with him and secured his consent to direct the band. It was not long until the work of organization was completed and on Thanksgiving Day, the first regular practice was had, with the following line-up: Clarence H. Jones, Director; Solo cornets, E. L. Phoenix and H. Young; first cornet, Dr. J. Warren; second cornet, Earl Rombaugh; third cornet, E. A. Macdonald, Fred Curtis; piccolo, Leroy Beddoe; first clarinet, G. R. Merrill; second clarinet, Adolph Beddoe; first alto, R. G. Curtis; second alto, W. Strickland; first slide trombone, B. Ashdon; second tenor saxophone, F. Coffin; third trombone, C. Simons; baritone, H. Rogers; tuba, L. W. Sturdevant; bass drum, Van Darnell; snare drum, S. C. Maranville. All but two of these are employes of the Sanitarium. The band has made great progress under the efficient leadership of Mr. Jones. It is the intention to give weekly or bi-weekly concerts on the Sanitarium grounds. Director Jones has been with the Sanitarium five and one-half years. He formerly conducted a band in Sacramento and he has been choir director for a number of churches.

NEW YEARS' WISHES

The Glendale Evening News is in receipt of New Year's greetings from the Glendale Library coupled with a word of "gratitude for generosity and courtesy the past year." The cordial relations that have always existed between these two institutions is a source of gratification to the management of the News and we believe that this harmony has benefited the community as a whole. The Library Board and Mrs. Danford and her staff are laboring most conscientiously for the public good and we hope their ambitions may all be realized and their joy in the work continue with the full appreciation of all they serve, the coming year.

D. A. R. MEETING POSTPONED

Mrs. Mary H. Gridley-Braly, regent of General Richard Gridley Chapter, D. A. R., announces that the January meeting of the chapter will be dispensed with. It was thought best to adjourn this meeting on account of the holiday and Red Cross activities and so many being absent from town.

The next meeting will be held the first Thursday in February, when the State Regent, Mrs. J. C. Lynch, will address the chapter.

DE LONG-KRUEDER

Last Monday at noon a quiet wedding was celebrated at the Methodist parsonage, at 133 South Jackson street, the contracting parties being Miss Johanna Krueder and Charles R. DeLong, both of Glendale. The ceremony, which was of course performed by Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, was witnessed by immediate relatives, the party including J. R. Turner of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Turner, Elbert Turner and Miss Thelma Turner, of Glendale. After the ceremony they adjourned to 1520 Burchett street where Mr. and Mrs. DeLong will reside, and where a wedding luncheon was served.

LET'S ALL MAKE BIG DRIVE

There are nearly 100 Glendale, Tropic and Casa Verdugo boys whose names are not on our roster as published today in the Evening News (Wednesday, Jan. 2, 1918). We want all these names but cannot get them unless our friends cooperate with us. If every P.-T. A. member, every church or fraternal society member and every other individual would promptly send in all names known to them not yet on the list, we would soon have every enlisted man on our list. Help us, please.

THE YULETIDE PACKAGES

A Glendale boy home from Camp Kearny on a New Year furlough said the Yuletide gift packages sent out from Los Angeles were mighty welcome to the boys. Some few got none owing to the fact that they arrived after the list had been sent in from the camp. One lad got two packages by some mistake, but he generously divided with a less fortunate comrade.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS FROM A MOTHER'S DIARY

I am resolved that this year shall witness my best endeavor—that this will be the best year of my life.

In order that this may be, I shall strive to keep inviolate a certain portion of time each day for meditation. In that time I may pray, read the Bible or merely be quiet and feel the presence of the All-Good, and then I shall read inspirational literature from secular sources.

To enable me to bring out the best in my children, I shall try to have a period, half an hour at least, after the evening meal, for reading to them and in which I shall read stories from the best in all literature. Sometimes these may be from sacred literature, but more often the simple tales that have delighted the hearts of children big and little everywhere.

I shall also strive to conserve my strength and be less ambitious, and to know that I can accomplish more lasting good by doing one thing at a time and doing that well.

I shall strive to make my home more comfortable, more charming and more than ever an expression of my own individuality.

And I shall know that I am and can and will do that which I desire.

FORESEE ONLY VICTORY

The shedding of American blood in the trenches, the capture of American soldiers by the Germans, have brought home to the American people the bloody realities of war.

Up to this time the war has seemed to many of us afar off. Within the last few weeks, while the men of the national army marched by on their way to the training camps, hundreds of people have said: "They will never get to the trenches; they will never cross the ocean."

We seemed in the war, but still the field of conflict was a long way off, and we failed to appreciate what the war meant.

The killing, wounding and capture of our soldiers brings the war very close to us. It puts the seal of blood on our patriotism in the great conflict.

It is well that the American people at this time should take a lesson from the Englishman. On the threshold of the war, we should adopt his position and look through and over all the suffering, bloodshed, monetary losses and personal sacrifices to the victory that lies beyond.

Arthur Guy Empey, an American machine gunner, who has seen more than a year of service in the British army and who since his return from the trenches has written one of the striking books of the war called "Over the Top," in the course of an interview has this to say of the Briton:

"The Englishman has a way of taking things for granted. You mustn't talk to an Englishman about the war or ask him about the victory; he is perfectly sure about the victory; the only thing is he doesn't know how long it is going to take."

That must be the view of the American. There is no doubt as to the result of the war. The road may be long or short. It is certain to be marked with painful disappointments. The cost is sure to be high. In the end democracy must triumph.

Over and beyond the shell torn fields and billows of cannon smoke, across the long lines of trenches which zigzag over the hills and plains of Europe, we shall see our flag waving in triumph with those of our allies.

Forgetting the dangers, losses and difficulties, we must see only the ultimate victory for free government. Like the Englishman, we don't know when the end will come, but we are perfectly sure what the end will be.—Sacramento (Cal.) Union.

TRY TO TERRORIZE

Secretary Baker has again gone to the trouble of nailing the familiar lie that American soldiers sent to France are going to almost certain death. He points out that the British have lost less than 7 per cent of all those sent to the front. He adds that experience is providing methods which are relied on to cut down this percentage greatly in future.

It strikes us a better answer, and one that would fit the present mood of the country, would be that no matter how dangerous the war is, we can stand it if Germany can. If the Germans are willing to face no matter what losses in order to uphold the autocracy and the reign of the soldier over the civilian, we are willing to face the same thing in order to maintain democracy and the rights of free people to live without the menace of eternal war. We trust our losses will be small, but we are willing to pay the price that is needed to win the war.

By the same token we shall certainly not shrink from the same sort of sacrifice that our brave allies have been called to make. The appeal to cowardice made by the many unfounded and undoubtedly German-made rumors that are afloat in this country and in the army camp must fall flat. A few of the timid and credulous may lend a momentary attention to such thin inventions. But the American people and American soldiers are far from accepting the theory that Germany can do any more damage to them than they can do to Germany.—Chicago Herald.

STATE DIRECTOR OUTLINES WAR SAVINGS WORK FOR 1918

At a meeting of workers in the great Two Billion Dollar War Savings Campaign, G. A. Davidson, State Director for California, said:

"The call of the New Year is a call to Service in Uncle Sam's great Thrift Army—a clarion call to every man, woman and child in the United States. One hundred million strong the United States is going to carry on the greatest savings drive the world has ever known. Backed by everybody in our great land America will win the war. In the Thrift ranks there is place for all—large and small,

SAMMIES JAZZ BAND BIG HIT WITH FRENCH

By J. W. PEGLER

Them French bands are all there with the fanfare and whirrigigs but they ain't on to the jazz stuff. They stood around the village square this afternoon with their trumpets and slip-horns under their arms and just gazed at a band of Sammies reeling off Jazz till your feet couldn't behave a-tall.

It started out as a kind of reciprocity concert. Both bands marched through the main stem of town, led by trumpeters, with the kids running alongside and the village girls not exactly scornful toward the Americans.

Reaching the square they separated. The Poilus took up their stand under the statue of Joan D'Arc—the same kind of statue you see in most every village in France. They played. The captain leader with the baton would prance toward the buglers on the left. Bugles would flash in the sunlight as the poilus brandished them over their heads; then they'd blare a march tune so full of pep that you wanted to grab a rifle and start shooting every Boche in creation from the Kaiser down.

It was great—for that kind of music. But, when the American hombres opened up—now, that was music.

Pretty soon half the population of town was flocking to the square to get an earful of the new article. They never heard a jazz tune before today. How that old band did moan; trombones bleating, big-horns oomping, bugles squawking and cymbals crashing just the right kind of crash at the right place. In two minutes all the audience was swaying under the rhythmic spell of the jazz. If the drums had dropped out it wouldn't have no difference; a thousand peasants' wooden shoes were beating a clackaty-clack-clack on the cold cobblestones.

Shutters were open all around the square and folks leaned on the window-sills drinking in the frenzied American strains—rag-time ragged to the Nth power.

Well sir, they jazzed every jazz tune they knew and then, for an extra encore we got "Just Before the Battle, Mother," served up in jazz measures.

When the musical spasm was over the French band played the "Star Spangled Banner" and everyone, civilians, poilus and Sammies in the crowd around the square stood at salute.

Then, just to prove they could play old-style music and play it right our band gave the "Marseillaise."

EXEMPTION BOARD WORK

Chairman Lanterman is still confined to his home by illness though he is still doing his bit. He sent for a bunch of Questionnaires to be checked over and this morning more than 100 have been returned, checked and classified, showing that he is still busy, even if the doctor does keep him in bed. He is much better however, and hopes to be at headquarters tomorrow.

Meanwhile the work is going on with registrants coming and going away after sessions with the attorneys in attendance. In this work Messrs. Mackay, Flint and Spencer were assisted this morning by Mattison B. Jones and Claud B. Andrews. The work is progressing very satisfactorily, though all will be glad to see the chairman once more.

NEW MOVING VAN

Robinson Bros. blossomed out today with a mammoth new Packard 2½ ton truck with van body. Like their other trucks this one is painted bright red with yellow lettering. The body is 6 feet wide by 14 long and is 7½ feet high in the clear, giving it almost the capacity of a small freight car.

rich and poor. Every one must enlist. We must serve by saving—we must make every day of 1918 a Thrift Day.

Southern California must be up and doing now that the New Year is here. We want to prove in the early months of the great campaign that our Sunny Southland is taking hold of this gigantic national task with a determination to do its full part. Out here we have seemed far removed from the world war, but day by day we are being drawn closer to the heart of the conflict. Already some of our own brave boys have sacrificed their lives, and we who are three thousand miles behind those trenches are beginning to realize that the sacrifices of those boys demand of us our very best to bring the Victory that alone can save our National life.

This War Savings Campaign is going to do more than raise two billion dollars, gigantic as that task is. It is going to make better Americans of us all. Through the bond of a common sacrifice—the giving up of small luxuries—we will grow into a strong and vigorous nation.

During January thousands of War Savings Societies will be organized in Southern California. This week a great organization was perfected among six hundred employees of the Cudahy Packing Company. Twenty-two societies were organized in the plant, and members have pledged themselves to save systematically for investment in Thrift and War Savings Stamps. Smokeless and candy-less days have been agreed upon, and every dime and quarter that can be saved will be sent to war. Inside of three months we expect to have these War Savings Societies in every hamlet in our district, and they will be one of the biggest factors in putting across the campaign.

Agencies are being established as rapidly as possible. Every department store will handle the stamps, and they can be bought at the corner grocery with the daily household purchases. That California will not only do its bit—but its best—for Victory we fully believe, but twenty-five million, our allotment, is a lot of money, and we must expect to do earnest, hard work to accomplish results.

SURPRISE PARTY

Miss Dorothy Gilson, daughter of Mrs. Eva Gilson, was one of a happy party of college students who enjoyed a week-end camping trip in Arroyo Seco. The majority were from the University of Southern California, but the party also included boys from the Agricultural College of Oregon. Miss Mildred Georgette, Dorothy's special chum, accompanied her.

On her return Miss Dorothy was delightfully surprised. C. L. Taft, a friend in the hospital service at Goat Island, near San Francisco, had arrived and Mrs. Gilson had invited in other friends to meet him. It was a jolly party which spent a very pleasant evening with music and visiting about old times. The guests thus informally entertained were: Dorothy Martin, Edith Ewens, Dorothy Hunt, C. L. Taft, Ralph Tipton from the Aviation School at Berkeley, Cecil Gilson, and Miss Gilson.

New Year's day the Shermans and McKinleys motored to Riverside and dined at the Glenwood Inn.

The Swiss people are turning over in their sleep and groaning again, but a nation that is not bothered by the submarine menace ought not to worry.

ARGENTINA EMBASSY IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Romulo S. Naon, the Argentine ambassador, and an ardent exponent of Pan-Americanism acted as the strenuous go-between and adviser when Secretary Lansing published Count Luxburg's notorious diplomatic correspondence. Since the Luxburg duplicity was exposed—the Argentine republic has been going through one of the greatest crises in its history. The strong pro-ally party there has been balked from entering the war, on account of President Irigoyen's rigid neutrality. Ambassador Naon—his friends call him Dr. Naon—has suddenly been placed in a position of even greater importance than his president. He is his nation's principal adviser—since Washington is the world's war capitol. Immense business of the Argentine republic—the South American counterpart of the United States—is transacted at 1806 Corcoran street, in a cream colored brick structure magnificently furnished.

tributed by the Ford Agency. It was not an easy task as he was completely concealed inside the cross, and conditions were trying, but he accomplishing his task without a single mishap.

The float and attendants were met at Pasadena by J. H. Braly, president of the Red Cross Chapter of Glendale, who had arranged with the management for the float as a whole to be admitted to the park and ball game. Accordingly the whole party were given fine seats in the grand stand, and a big box of sandwiches which tasted good to the hungry, tired women and girls.

The bestowal of the prize which was handed to Mrs. Tuft by one of the judges before the line of march was completed, came as a joyful surprise, which was at once communicated to the train of young people in attendance. At once the girls raised the High School yell to voice their happiness in the event, and the rest of the way was a march of joy.

Too much credit cannot be given Roy L. Kent, who was responsible for the mechanical construction of the float. He not only gave his own time to the enterprise but donated the services of workmen and also solicited money for the cause. C. W. McFadden, of the Ford Agency, provided the automobile and also contributed in other ways to the enterprise.

The two other members of the committee of five appointed by the Chamber of Commerce were Mrs. Eva Tuft, whose service has already been mentioned, and Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, who is confined to her home by illness and therefore prevented from participation. The brunt of responsibility therefore fell upon the chairman, Mrs. Duffield, who under direction of F. MacG. Kelly worked very hard in the decoration of the float, assisted by Mesdames Charles M. Turck, Glenwood Jones, Charles Peckham, G. W. Whitaker, J. H. Mellish, Jack Boettner, Joseph Renshaw, Frank Hester, William MacMullin, Charles E. Harlan, Frank C. Peters, Mrs. Nethery, and Miss Hester.

Several designs secured by the chairman, Mrs. Duffield, were submitted to the Committee of Arrangements, which after considerable discussion chose the one finally adopted, and the beauty of the float justified their wisdom. The affair was financed by a donation from the City Trustees of $100 and a donation of $21.25 from the Chamber, supplemented by gifts of money from public spirited citizens. The whole cost will probably not exceed $150 and the second prize which was awarded carries with it besides the honor, $25.00 in cash. It is hoped there will be a surplus for the treasury of the Red Cross.

The entry was made in Class H., or the Historical Section, by Mrs. Duffield, as Committee Chairman, though it was in reality Glendale's float in honor of the Red Cross and was so understood. Had it been entered as a civic float in competition with the many entries by Southland cities, it might not have been placed in the list of prize winners, although it was one of the most beautiful numbers in the parade and was universally admired.

Mrs. Duffield feels that special mention should be made of the very generous contributions from the gardens of some of Glendale's citizens, among them Mesdames Charles Toll, Daniel Campbell, Alexander Mitchell, David Black, Helen I. Campbell, F. C. Merrick and J. H. Mellish. There were also a host of smaller gifts of blossoms which were no less acceptable.

NEW YEAR'S PARTY

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian Church entertained with a Watch Night Party and service. About seventy-five invitations were sent out and more than that number attended.

The guests were met at the door by the reception committee and after greetings asked, When is your birthday? Each person was given a paper and told to get as many names as possible, of persons whose birthday month was the same as his.

The program was introduced by Edmund D. Stafford, the worthy president. Each month in turn came into the spot light. Father Time looking for the New Year boy, began the cycle. Later came Martha but not George, then saucy March, April with her duncap, May with her flower queen and attendants, June with her wedding party, July with her flag, soldier boy and salute; August with her bathing girl, and in September a quartette of school girls and boys, singing of "Dear old golden rule days;" October spoke of Halloween, November showed her brown sere leaves and December brought old Santa.

Refreshments were served from twelve tables most ingeniously decorated for their month.

The last hour was a beautiful sacred service, led by James Newton. All were seated in a huge semi-circle and listened to the music, scripture address and prayers. Just as the whistles blew, the final amen was said. After the joining of hands and singing "Blest be the Tie that Binds," followed by the "Mizpah," New Year's greetings were exchanged.

The management and success of the evening was due to the faithful work of the social committee, of which Mrs. Henry Lawrence is chairman.

THE NEW YEAR

"Why all this merriment and shout, Is not to me so clear,
What is there to go wild about
At the changing of the year?
When ended is the holiday
And jollity is o'er,
Work will bob up the same old way
And jog on as before.

"And when the daily task is o'er,
What difference if the drive
Should be last day of nineteen four
Or first of nineteen five?
The daily grind I cannot shirk,
For coming days I see
The same old order—work—work—work,
So what's the odds to me?"

Say, comrade, will you list to me?
Rise up and look around.
The reason you such hard times see,
Your eyes are on the ground;
Look up and give your vision sweep
O'er mountain, field and plain,
And sky—where stars their vigils keep—
Your hard lot sighs restrain.

No happier man exists than he,
The stalwart laborer who
To work has the ability
And has the work to do.
His sleep at night is always sound,
Digestion always good,
Where wealth and idleness abound
The doctor's living's good.

So let the New Year have its mirth
And let the old pass by.
Relieve the dullness of the earth
By gazing at the sky.
The new year's sun begun his race,
Put on a brighter hue,
He wore a great big smiling face,
He's wearing it for you.

—SAMUEL PARKER.

KNITTING PARTY DISCLOSES BETROTHAL

About twenty guests who were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hunt, of 1201 Viola avenue, last Saturday afternoon to knit for the soldier boys, learned of the betrothal of their daughter, Mary, to Joseph W. Feinstein, of Los Angeles.

The house was decorated in appropriate holiday colors of red and green, with huge bowls of holly throughout. A delightful three-course luncheon was served on unusually attractive tables on which red candles were burning, after which small documents written in invisible ink were passed to the guests. Much merriment was caused in the effort to decipher them by the aid of tiny candles. Miss Peggy Reese captured the prize by reading aloud first, the secret of the afternoon.

During the afternoon Miss Ruth Ryan of Los Angeles, rendered several enjoyable vocal selections. Miss Loie Hunt assisted in entertaining.

The invited guests were: Mrs. F. W. Parsons, Miss Maude Salisbury, Mrs. A. C. Richardson, and Miss Caroline Watling, of Glendale; Misses Mona Butler and Dorothy Helps, of Long Beach; Miss Josephine Dean, of Santa Ana; Misses Sarah Hieneman and Alice Record, of Redondo; Miss Peggy Reese, Burbank; Misses Elvira Barnaby, Ruth Ryan, Gladys Show, and Ruth Barton and Mesdames Geo. Ryan, W. S. Wallis, A. T. Show, M. C. Ross, E. W. Barton and George Seely, of Los Angeles.

SUNRISE PARTY

About twenty-five young people of the First Methodist church of Glendale left the church on Monday night about ten o'clock and drove to Sierra Madre where they left their cars and made the ascent of Mount Wilson on foot, arriving there in time to see the sun rise. It was a wonderful sight and a fitting way in which to greet the new year.

The pastor accompanied the party which consisted of: Elwood Ingledue, Homer Morgan, Storrs Beckman, Verne Beckman, Vern Wilson, Paul Brooks, Charles Brice, Edwin Farrand, Victor Colborn, Cecil Wilson, Frances Lindley, Marion Addison, Emily Vanosdoll, Eula May, Jesse Shepard, Ila Brooks, Bessie Ross, Helen Ingledue, Virginia Brewster, Hazel Wilson, Eulalie Hallett, Arthur G. Lindley, J. A. Shepard, Rev. B. Dudley Snudden.

HOLIDAY PARTY

One of the prettiest parties of the holiday season was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Hibbert, Christmas day. Two soldier boys were guests of honor, viz. Sergeant Turner and private Hershey from Camp Kearny. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joos of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hayward of Tropic, Miss Olive Turner of Los Angeles, Victor Joos, Harry Hayward, Jr., Miss Helen Hartwig, Leona and Walter Hibbert.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A number of Paul Richardson's friends came in Sunday afternoon and evening to make merry on Paul's seventeenth anniversary.

YULETIDE COMMITTEE WORK

Mattison B. Jones, as chairman of the Glendale Yuletide Committee, has received the following "appreciation" from F. T. Woodman, Mayor of Los Angeles, chairman of the Southern California Committee, relative to the Christmas gifts to our soldiers and sailors. Believing it will be of interest to the many citizens who contributed it is published.

December 28, 1917.
Message from F. T. Woodman, Chairman, "National Defenders' Yuletide Committee, Southern California."

It is a pleasure to extend congratulations to the people of the City of Los Angeles and the people of Southern California for the splendid way in which they have responded to the request of the Yuletide Committee of Southern California for funds with which to furnish Christmas gifts to the soldiers in Camps and at the Front, and the sailors on the Seas and at the Naval Training Stations.

These presents come from the people, and their method of response has been in such a manner as to leave no uncertainty regarding their sentiment.

These men who are sacrificing their "all" that the principles of individual liberty may live, are more than entitled to, and are receiving the cooperation and commendation of every American citizen. The gifts that have been forwarded by the Yuletide Committee convey more than appreciation and affection, they convey a determination that these men will receive our fullest and warmest support while facing the dangers that confront them in this World crisis.

The Committee is entitled to the highest commendation for the efficient manner in which they have handled the Yuletide campaign situation.

(Signed) F. T. WOODMAN,

PRESBYTERIAN "DRIVE"

The prayer meeting "Drive" which was announced in last Sunday's bulletin will open in earnest at the church tonight at 7:30. As stated, the pastor will give a special exposition of the first chapter of the Gospel of Mark.

All departments of the church are interested in the "Drive" and will use their entire force to make it a success.

All members of the church and congregation, together with their friends are most earnestly urged to be present.

A SEASONED SOLDIER

Sergeant Lester Schultz, who was in Glendale recently and captured a fair bride, is a soldier of several years' standing. He was with Pershing in Mexico and has seen quite a bit of service in his time. He is now recruiting sergeant at Camp Kearny and all the boys who have come in contact with him speak very highly of his courtesy and kindness.

ILL HEALTH MEANS POVERTY OF LIFE, OF HAPPINESS OF SUCCESS, OF EVERYTHING

Glendale Sanitarium Glendale, California

The dietetic regimen is one of the chief features of the Sanitarium program of health building. The diet system in use here is the result of almost half a century of thoroughgoing scientific research. It is not based on fads, guess work, or unproven theories. The right diet is not alone prescribed but is provided in the exact quantity and variety needed. The kitchen resolves itself into a food laboratory where trained dieticians prepare the food with scientific precision. These diet experts have succeeded in making a simple, wholesome bill of fare that is surpassingly varied and appetizing.

Descriptive Booklet*

In the daily routine of life you ask of those with whom you come in contact both honesty and fairness of treatment.

More so, than ever, do you need such help during the sorrows of bereavement. Then, as at no other time, you ask and have a right to expect conscientious service—the kind "you" yourself would give were you able to do so.

You ask and expect an impressive service, free of needless expense, yet fitting the occasion.

In using Scovern-Letton-Frey Co. service either in our mortuary, at the church or in your own home, you will find all these requirements met—quietly, restfully and in good taste.

WAR EMERGENCY FOOD SURVEY AGENCY PLACED IN S. F.

To facilitate the taking of the national inventory of foods in the States of California and Nevada, The Bureau of Markets of the United States Department of Agriculture, which has the War Emergency Food Survey in charge, has placed an agency of the Survey with its local office at 1131 Merchants Exchange Building, San Francisco, California. Mr. R. D. Jarboe, in charge of the local office, has received a supply of the schedules and will distribute them in response to personal or mail requests on or after January 2d.

Copies of the schedule have been mailed from Washington to most dealers in food materials in the above named states. The names of new concerns, and of a few others were not available, however, and arrangements have been made therefore to supply them locally. Applications for schedules should not be made to the local agency before January 2. This will permit schedules mailed from Washington to reach their destinations, and thus eliminate duplication.

Persons Required to Report

R. D. Jarboe points out that the Act of Congress providing for the War Emergency Food Survey requires every dealer in, and manufacturer of, foods or food materials, and every holder of such commodities in lots substantially greater than family supplies, to fill out a schedule and mail it to the Chief of the Bureau of Markets, Washington, D. C., by January 10, 1918, and fixes the penalties for failure to do so. This includes not only all wholesale and retail dealers in foods and feeds, public warehousemen and food and feed manufacturers, regardless of the size of the stocks which they hold, but also those in charge of hotels, restaurants, commissaries of industrial concerns, schools, institutions, etc., providing that their stocks on hand have a value of $250 or more. Even manufacturers are included who use a food product in the preparation of another product which cannot be considered as a food, such as bottling, chewing gum and drug manufacturing concerns.

Holders of foods of the classes named above who have not received a schedule through the mails by January 2, or who need additional copies should obtain them from R. D. Jarboe, 1131 Merchants Exchange Building, San Francisco, California.

The War Emergency Food Survey will be the most comprehensive inventory of foods ever made in the United States. Its purpose is to show the total stocks of food and food materials on hand in the country so that the public and the officials of the government may have the necessary information on which to base plans for conserving and distributing supplies already on hand, and for producing the foods needed next season.

HOW ABOUT THE BABIES?

KANKAKEE, Ill., Jan. 2.—Milk dealers here have been afflicted with an epidemic of orphan cats.

When the price of milk recently was raised two cents a quart, several citizens declared they could not afford to feed their cats. So they left their tabbies on the dealers' doorsteps. One dealer inherited eight cats in a single night.

It is still the "unspeakable" Turk. How well that adjective fills the bill!
