PREFACE

Each alumnus of Eta is presented in this memorial volume with a history of the Chapter in which all initiates are named. Correct lists of members are printed, arranged alphabetically, geographically and by classes. Pictures of individuals and groups, college buildings and a map of Athens will bring many memories of youth.

Brother Frank K. Boland, '97, president of the Eta Trust Association and permanent president of the class of 1897 of the University of Georgia, who was referred to at a recent Congress as "the best worker in the Fraternity," prepared the history. Eta is under everlasting obligation to him for his services to her extending over a period of more than twenty years.

Older than all but three chapters, with more members, with one exception, than any, Eta has probably adorned Chi Phi with more distinguished names than any chapter in the fraternity. Thanks to a loyal body of alumni she is now housed in permanent quarters owned by a corporation composed of her sons.

History of the Eta Chapter of Chi Phi for Its First Fifty Years

CHAPTER I. ITS DISTINGUISHED FOUNDERS.

1867-1874.

THREE years after the close of the war found the University of Georgia rapidly recovering from the effects of that disaster, and her halls filled not only with the youth of the State, but also with middle-aged heroes anxious to make up for the years spent on the field of battle. Here, with Sigma Alpha Epsilon just a few months installed, on April 16th, 1867, came Eta of Chi Phi, brimming with promise, for at Athens was the second oldest State university in the country, the leading educational institution of the Empire State of the South, and the alma mater of the flower of the commonwealth. The story of its birth is best told in one of a series of articles on the Southern Order of Chi Phi,* by Brother Ethan Allen Weaver (Rho '74), to whom the fraternity is under bonds of everlasting gratitude for his services in recording its history. It is well to quote this account here:

“Eta chapter owes its origin indirectly to Delta (now Alpha) Chapter, and directly to the indefatigable labors of Peter Wiltberger Meldrim, '68, of Savannah, Ga. Meldrim and King Wylly, of Delta (both of Georgia), were intimate friends, the former a student at the University of Georgia, which then had about two hundred and fifty students, and one fraternity (Sigma Alpha Epsilon). At the instigation of Burnett and Adams, of Delta, Wylly wrote to Meldrim on the subject of establishing Chi Phi at Athens, to which he responded early in November, 1866, that while he could give no assurance of his ability to start a chapter, he would do all in his power. The Grand Chapter at Chapel Hill was at once requested to forward the constitution to Meldrim. but for some reason this was delayed, and nothing accomplished until the next session. On January 14th, 1867, Meldrim wrote a strong letter expressing surprise at the manner in which his request was treated at the 'headquarters of the Chi Phi Fraternity,' and Alpha (the Grand Chapter) was strongly urged to delay no longer, as it was known that Beta Theta Pi was making efforts to establish a chapter at Athens.

"On March 4, 1867, John Earnest Donalson, '68, who had been a student at Chapel Hill, wrote to Busbee, of Alpha, from the University of Georgia, stating that he had been solicited by Meldrim to aid in the establishment of a chapter of Chi Phi, and spoke in the highest terms of Meldrim and his associates. Donalson was then a member of the Delta Psi chapter at the University of North Carolina, from which he subsequently withdrew before uniting with Chi Phi. On the same date Adams, of Delta, wrote a strong appeal to the Grand Chapter. * * * *

"The constitution was forwarded at once, and by March 23, Meldrim and Donalson were actively at work; six men had been pledged and a room secured. April 17, 1867, Meldrim wrote to Busbee: 'Donalson is with me tonight, and is now talking about you. The time is 12 o'clock P. M. Last evening the Chi Phi was organized. Seven members were present and two absent. Five new ones were elected, making our present number (if the elected ones accept) fourteen—and fourteen of the best men in the university.' " * * * *

Thus, Eta chapter was established, with the following charter members: John Earnest Donalson, '68; Henry Woodfin Grady, '68; Louis Eatton Le Conte, '68; Peter Wiltberger Meldrim, '68; Jephtha Harris Rucker, '68; Alexander Pratt Adams, '69; Benjamin Harvey Hill, '69; Robert Huger Johnston, '70. Of this number all save Grady, Le Conte, Adams and Johnston are living today.

In a letter to the writer, dated July 28, 1904, Brother Donalson says of the beginning of Eta: "At that time the S. A. E. had a chapter, and when we came out with our badges, I remember we created quite a sensation, and as our members were the most popular young men in the college, the girls soon showed their partiality for Chi Phi badges. Our chapter room was over a store, on Broad street, not a great distance from the Phi Kappa hall. As a part of the literary exercises we established a debating club in our clubroom, but this only existed one or two meetings; the boys delivered themselves of their thunder in such stentorian tones as to reveal the existence and locality of our clubroom, which in those days was kept a profound secret.

“Well do I remember Horace Beene, who graduated with us in 1868, who spoke so loud in the debate that he frightened the police, and they rushed wildly upstairs to where our room was to ascertain the cause of the commotion. As a consequence of this episode, as long as we remained in that room our program was of a less strenuous order, and we indulged only in essays, and these we would not allow to be read in a very loud tone of voice. However, the Baalam voice of Beene had revealed the secret of our hiding place, and it became necessary for us to seek a rendezvous in some other locality.

“I remember well in those days about the amount of fun we had as the result of an effort to get a certain prominent member of our class into our club. He was a bright fellow and wanted to join us, but one of our members who is now adorned with the federal judicial ermine,* persisted in blackballing him. We soon learned who the brother was that so constantly caused the interdiction, by his use of the ebony veto, against one whom we thought would reflect great credit upon our fraternity, and Henry Grady made a motion that this blackballer should be appointed a committee of one to make a report on the student who was knocking on the doors, and whom we were so anxious to admit. At every meeting of the chapter when we would reach ‘unfinished business’ Grady would rise and with very great dignity move that ‘Brother ——’ would make his special report on ‘Mr. ——.’ Then the devotee of the dark marble, with all the grace and dignity for which he is now so conspicuous, would make a formal report, and that report would always be written, and a more finished piece of writing never came from the facile pen of Addison, or any of the masters of literature, and would always terminate by reporting progress and ask for an extension of time, whereupon the same was granted. And so these reports went on from week to week, affording us much fun and merriment, more so than any other part of our exercises.

‘How well do I remember the time we graduated—and those bright scenes incident to this occasion will ever remain a verdant spot in the garden of my memory. The loved and lamented Grady was toastmaster, and no one was exempt from participation in this carnival of joy and fun; the air was vibrant with song and laughter; many a young Boanerges with riotous blood in his veins made the welkin ring. And there was music, that charming accompaniment, of which we had a full repertoire; and anecdotes of the choicest variety; and wit and repartee galore. Finally we got around to Mose Guyton, who is now clerk of the court, Jackson county, Florida, and who is a very dignified gentleman, and was a dignified boy also.* No one knew of any special merit or talent Guyton could lay claim to; he was a clever, genial fellow and took one of the honors of the class, but he was not known as a speaker, or as a singer, or as a versifier, or anything else, so in sheer desperation Grady called out: ‘We will now have a jig from Brother Mose Guyton.’ Accidentally he struck the only talent possessed by our genial friend, but every one was in ignorance of this; Grady himself did not know it. I suppose it came to Grady as an inspiration. The chairs were cleared away and Guyton entered the arena. Horace Beene and the other funny boys began to pat, and had Al Field or George Wilson been present they would have turned all the colors of the prism with envy. Guyton did stunts that were a revelation to jigdom, and evoked uproarious applause from the delighted spectators. I recall the most interesting members of our chapter: Peter Meldrim, Pratt Adams, Horace Beene, Louis LeConte, Henry Grady, Emory Speer, Nat. Harris, Walter Hill, Walter Beeks, Hal Johnston and Ham. Yancey. There were others, but these were always interesting.’

Kappa Alpha was founded at Georgia in 1868. Though many other Greek letter societies have been represented at various times, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Alpha are probably the only ones which could ever be regarded as rivals of Chi Phi. The most impartial judge, studying fraternities here since their origin, must be forced to the conclusion that Eta has stood without a peer. Her endeavor has always been for quality and congeniality, and most nobly has she realized these ideals. The highest possible standard was set in the selection of her first members, and this, we believe, has been maintained down to the present day.

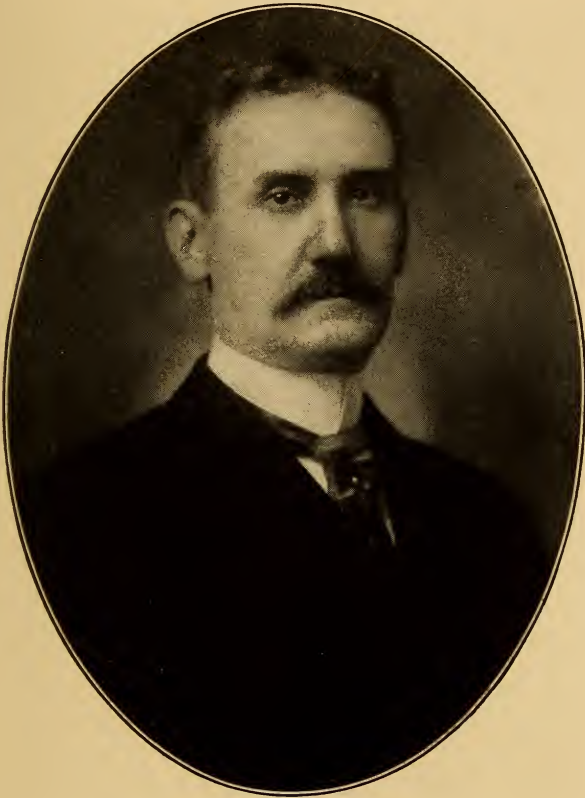

The first initiates of Eta were a remarkable group of men. That the chapter should have on its roll as active members at the same time the names of so many who have since taken their places among the leading citizens of the State and country is the most interesting fact in connection with its history. In the class of 1867 was Tarpley Holt Ward, who graduated with second honor. In '68 were Donalson, Grady, LeConte, Meldrim, Rucker, Howell Cobb Jackson, who died in 1906; Hamilton Yancey, Horace Dalton Beene, who died in 1881; Thomas Fitzgerald Green, who died in 1874; Otis Jones, who died in 1880; and Ferdinand Bowdre Phinizy, who died in 1877. Meldrim was anniversarian of the Phi Kappa Literary Society in 1868, and a member of the law class of 1869. Yancey graduated in law in 1870. Of Chi Phis in the class of '69 were Adams (deceased 1892), Samuel Barnett, William Smith Bean, George Henson Estes, Moses Guyton (deceased 1911), William Robinson Hammond, James Thaddeus White, Benj. H. Hill and Emory Speer. Guyton, Hammond and Bean shared first honor, and White took third. Adams was anniversarian of Phi Kappa in 1869, and Speer anniversarian of the Demosthenian Society. The representation in the class of '70 was very large and brilliant. Dr. Amory Sibley Campbell and Nathaniel Edward Harris, governor of Georgia, 1915-'17, who shared first honor; Washington Dessau, who took second honor; Robert Huger Johnston, who was anniversarian of Phi Kappa this year; Walter Clarke Beeks, Orville Augustus Bull, Isaac Foote Dortch, David Benton Fitzgerald, John Dennis Hammond, Eugene Alston Hawkins, Walter Barnard Hill, Samuel Hoyle, Caleb Augustus Key, John Alexander Morris, William Augustus Shorter, and Dr. Michael D. C. M. Summerlin. Campbell, Johnston, Hoyle, Key, Shorter, Summerlin, Dessau, Morris, Bull, Dortch and Hill are deceased. Dessau and Hill were also in the law class of '71. Every one of the men in the first three classes, and thirteen of the class of '70, received their degrees, A.M., A.B. or LL.B. It is worthy of note that this was true of nearly all the early initiates of the chapter, which is a vastly different and better state of affairs than has existed in more recent years.

What can we say of these first members, and how thank them for the heritage they have left us? Difficulties in the establishment of the chapter, and in its maintenance, they must have encountered, as all pioneers do. Our literature has teemed with praises of them in years gone by, both for their love and labors for Chi Phi, and for their achievements in the varied spheres of activity to which their talents and energies have called them.

Of Grady it is superfluous to speak, although there are none so dull to love for a great soul not to eagerly hear its glories sung forever. Called away ere he had reached his prime, had he survived yet a few years more to what heights his superb powers would have carried him, who can tell? Though at the time of his death his fame was just spreading in the North, in the South it is imperishable. To our ears the name of Grady fits well with those of our greatest men. As Grand Alpha of the fraternity, in 1882-'83, he well displayed the devotion he cherished for her.

The all-important part played by Brother Meldrim in the founding of Eta is the best known fact to its members in the history of the chapter. Not only Chi Phis revere him, but the entire university as well. As one of its trustees, and president of the alumni society, he has rendered invaluable services to the institution. Brother Meldrim's list of distinctions includes State representative and senator, mayor of Savannah, colonel of the first Georgia cavalry, brigadier-general of the State troops, judge of the superior court, Eastern judicial circuit, and president of the American Bar Association, all with the honorary degrees of A.M., LL.D., and Phi Beta Kappa after his name. In the death of Alexander Pratt Adams, in 1892, Eta lost one of her brightest stars, who, like Grady, was yet in his ascendency when called away by the Grim Reaper. Brother Adams was a member of the legislature, and judge of the superior court. Of her earliest sons among the living, Eta rejoices in Emory Speer, United States judge and ex-congressman, whose renown as jurist and orator is national, and oft acclaimed in the annals of Chi Phi; W. R. Hammond, judge of the superior court; J. H. Rucker, mayor of Athens; John E. Donalson, Benj. H. Hill and Hamilton Yancey, three of the ablest attorneys in the State, and all ever loyal to the scarlet and blue. The eminence of Walter B. Hill in the affairs of the university is too well known for comment. The institution had never known before such prosperity as it experienced under his chancellorship. Governor Harris deserves the gratitude of the people of the State for being the author of the bill establishing the Georgia School of Technology. He was chairman of the commission of that splendid institution, and a trustee of the university long before he became the chief executive. Of others of whom we are proud, now gone to their reward, are the brilliant Dessau, president of the Georgia Bar Association, and Bull and Dortch (of North Carolina), leading lawyers. Beeks has been county judge and State senator; J. D. Hammond is a conspicuous member of the Methodist ministry; and Fitzgerald is a prominent planter and politician.

Before passing from these distinguished brothers, attention should be called to the fact that they were responsible for the founding of two other strong chapters in Georgia, Kappa (now Gamma) at Emory College, and Iota at Mercer University. Among the intimate associates of Meldrim and Adams in Savannah were H. H. Perry, now of Gainesville, at one time State senator from that district, and W. W. Landrum,* former pastor of the First Baptist church in Atlanta. In 1869 Perry was a student at Emory, and Landrum a student at Mercer, when Meldrim, and probably other members of Eta, went to Oxford and initiated the men whom Perry and Capers Dickson, known to many generations of Chi Phis at Emory as the "Father of Gamma," selected as organizers of Kappa, and went to Macon and initiated the men whom Landrum selected as organizers of Iota. The writer is indebted to Brother Pratt Adams, '99, for this data.

In the class of 1871 Eta had eight members: Joseph Sanborn Bean, Iverson L. Brooks, A.B., Thomas Hood Cunningham, A.B., and William Henry Mell, all now dead; and Peter Wellborn Martin (deceased 1907), Joseph Law Saunders, C.E., James Ernest Yonge, A.B., A.M., LL.B. (deceased 1901), and Philip Keyes Yonge, A.B., and second honor, A.M., LL.B. The class of 1872 contained another fine collection of Eta's sons: Samuel Barnard Adams, brother of the lamented A. P., city attorney of Savannah, justice of the supreme court, and trustee of the university; Charles Alexander Atkinson, who died while instructor of English at the university, in 1875; John Campbell Avery, anniversarian of Phi Kappa, judge of the county court and vice-president of the American Bar Association; William Alexander Blount, LL.B., from Georgia, and LL.D. from Florida, who took first honor, and who, with Judge Avery, ranks among the first lawyers of Florida; Alexander Ezekial Calhoun, judge of the city court, Atlanta; Robert Lee Mason Chilton (deceased 1916), and Edward Hunter (deceased), lawyers; Albon Chase Hodgson, captain U. S. N., first honor, U. S. Naval Academy, and navigator U. S. S. Brooklyn in the battle of Santiago, July 3, 1898; Robert Newsom Holtzclaw, lawyer, transferred from Mercer Iota; and Andrew Jackson Lamar and Albert McCay Williams (deceased 1915), Methodist ministers. Of these eleven, eight graduated.

The classic city of Athens has sheltered one Chi Phi convention—that of the Southern order of the fraternity, in August, 1872. At this convention a committee, of which Meldrim was chairman and Pratt Adams a member, was appointed to confer with the Northern Chi Phi in regard to union.

The living Chi Phis of the class of 1873 are John Earle Hart-ridge, and Benjamin Clark Holtzclaw (initiated at Iota). The dead are Henry Walker Barrow, Fletcher Harper Milburn and Percy Walker Milburn, Cleon Arthur Niles, James Whitehead, William Arthur Whittle, Daniel Reiser Groover (1905), and Albert Edward Thornton, Sr. (1907). Seven of these ten graduated. Hartridge stands high at the bar in Jacksonville, Fla. Thornton, the first member of the notable Chi Phi family of that name, was a manufacturer and banker in Atlanta; Barrow died a few years after graduation; the brothers Milburn were sons of the blind chaplain of the U. S. senate; Niles was a well-known journalist, dying in 1899, and Whitehead, a successful politician, dying in 1900. In the class of 1874 were David Crenshaw Barrow, so long professor of mathematics in the university and now the beloved chancellor; Edward Marcellus Hammond (deceased 1912), brother of the two other Hammonds, and a well-known member of the legal profession in Florida; Pierce Butler Mays, Robert Weston Patterson, first honor at Mercer where he went after finishing two years at Athens and one at Charlottesville, Va., who met an untimely end in Oklahoma in 1895; Alonzo Dee Schofield, Sr., and Charles Carroll Speer. Speer died at the beginning of his senior year. Two of this class received their diplomas.

In 1874, Dr. Andrew A. Lipscomb, who, as chancellor, had served the university so faithfully since 1860, resigned, and Dr. Henry H. Tucker was chosen to take his place. Dr. Tucker was a great preacher and a charming man, but under his administration the college did not flourish, the roll of matriculates decreasing in three years from 266 to 116. In 1878 he was asked to resign. This period of the decline of the university was also the period of the suspension of the Greek letter societies. Five were in the field at the time of Dr. Lipscomb's retirement, Phi Delta Theta having entered in 1871, and Phi Gamma Delta having been established only a few months. Fraternity feeling had grown to be so bitter that in 1874 the board of trustees adopted a rule requiring all students who matriculated at the university to sign a pledge that they would not join a fraternity while in college. Eta chapter of Chi Phi, although in a prosperous condition, resolved to disband, and all the paraphernalia, which was at that time of the old Southern order, together with the charter and records, was entrusted to the Kappa chapter at Emory College. Just previous to this unhappy event occurred the union of the Northern and Southern orders (March, 1874), in which Eta was one of the prime movers.

The chapter held no meetings, and initiated no new members from '74 to '78, but in the classes graduating in the meanwhile were several of Chi Phi's brightest stars. '75, a banner class of the university, had John Collier Hart, an ex-judge of the superior court and former attorney-general of Georgia, now state tax commissioner; Boykin Wright, an ex-attorney-general, initiated by Kappa; Dr. Frank Morris Ridley, the first of many loyal Chi Phis of that family, one of the foremost physicians of the State, and one of its few citizens who has ever refused a nomination for congress; Robert L. Summerlin, county judge; John Stricker Coles (deceased 1913), Chapman Russell Twitty (deceased 1906), and Frank Ralph Clark, well known and successful; and William Ward Sturgis, who died in 1876, and Edward Marion Oates, who was accidentally shot at his home in 1874, while a member of the junior class. The members of Eta in '76 were Joseph Samuel Cook, B.S., and Junius Wingfield Nisbet, A.B., and Sterling Gardner Brinkley, A.B. (deceased 1910), George Tyndall Hodgson, Jacob Phinzy, now president of the Georgia R. R. and Banking Co., in Augusta, Robert Galphin Taylor (deceased 1905), and William Woods Forsyth, colonel of U. S. cavalry, who was in the battle of Pekin, China, in 1900. Hamilton McWhorter, our sole representative in '77, received the degree of LL.B., was formerly superior court judge, and is now attorney for the Southern railway and a trustee of the university. George Gilmer Sale, our only man in '78, received the degree of A. B.

CHAPTER II. THE REVIVAL.

1878-1893.

One of the first acts of Dr. Patrick H. Mell, an honorary S. A. E., who was elected chancellor in 1878, was to have the ban against fraternities removed. During the four years of suspension, S. A. E. and Phi Delta Theta remained in the university in spite of the pledge. Alpha Tau Omega entered in 1878. K. A. returned in the same year, with Chi Phi. It was largely due to the efforts of Brother R. G. Taylor, then residing in Athens, that Eta was revived at this time. Together with George Hodgson and Elijah Alexander Brown, '79, an initiate of Oglethorpe Lambda, he set to work to rebuild the chapter, a task, of course, beset with no little difficulty. Assistance was also given by Brothers Meldrim, Pratt and Samuel Adams, and Profs. William George Woodfin, Henry C. White and David C. Barrow, of the university.

In his history of the chapter from 1878 to 1881,* Brother Austin Lee McRae, '81, tells us that Brothers Joel E. Wooten, Henry R. De Jarnette, Wm. M. Dunbar and Tracy Baxter came over from Gamma to assist in the first initiation. They rode in a carriage from Oxford to Athens, bringing the paraphernalia with them. But the original charter of Eta, and her records previous to this time are irrevocably lost. So far as can be ascertained, the chapter returned to the fraternity without formal authority.

The first initiates of the revived chapter were Gustavus John Orr, Jr., '80; Billups Phinizy, '81; Albert Lee Cumming, '80; James Mathew Mayne, '80; William Henry Steele, '80; Austin Lee McRae, '81; and Thomas Pope Stanley, '82. These, with Brown and Dunklin, gave a membership of nine. Brown graduated A.B. in 1879, and the entire chapter distinguished itself by the stand it took in college, thus giving Chi Phi an auspicious send-off the first year of its return.

The remaining eight returned in the fall, making the prospects very bright for a prosperous year. The following names were added to the roll during the session of 1879-'80: Joshua William Stephens, '82 (deceased 1891); Henry Fulton Atkinson, '82; Benjamin Charles Milner, '82; Samuel Caleb Morgan, '83; John Robert Slater, '80 (deceased, 1892); James Thornwell Newton, '80; and Hugh Vernon Washington, '82 (deceased 1911), giving a membership for the year of fifteen.

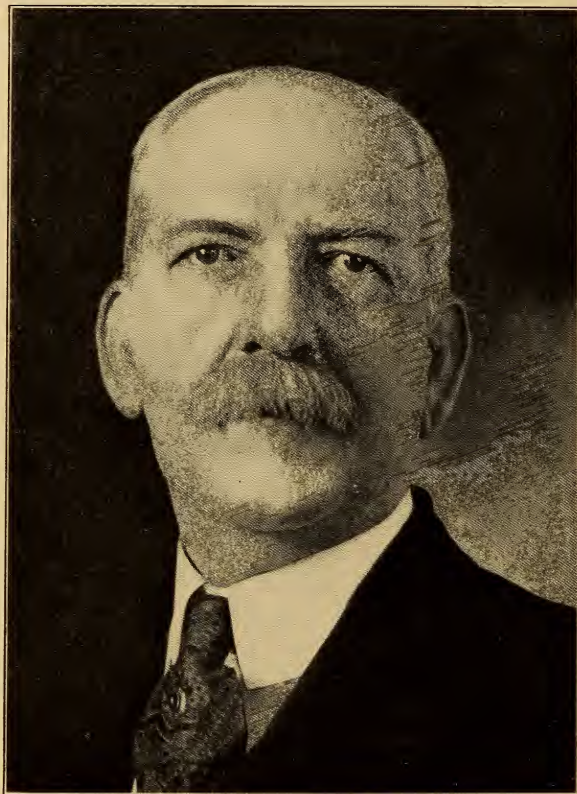

Honors in the debating societies were prized above everything else in these days, and Chi Phi took more than her share of them. Her men also captured a large portion of the military offices, which were esteemed second only to high rank in debate. Altogether, the chapter was so elated over its success that in May it gave a banquet at the Ben Hill residence, at which twenty couples were present. At commencement five men graduated: Dunklin and Orr, A.B., who stood second and third, respectively; Steele, C.E.; Mayne, B.E., and Cumming, B.Ch.Sc. Stephens, Stanley and Morgan were characterized as being "expert with the willow and sphere."

Atkinson and Milner did not return in the fall of 1880, but two affiliates came from Gamma—Lawton Bryan Evans, '81, and Frank Alexander Chamberlin, '82 (deceased 1892)—which meant nine old men. James Ervin Godfrey, '83, Jackson Bartow Rountree, '83, and Charles Brown Griffith, '83, were initiated at the opening, and after Christmas Walter Jefferson Rountree, '83, a brother of J. B. Rountree, and Walker Dunson, '82, were added, while Marcus Aurelius Pharr, '82, came over from Gamma, making the total membership again fifteen.

Washington was a candidate for the champion debate in the Phi Kappa society, but was defeated by the K. A.'s because the Chi Phis refused to "bargain" for votes. The K. A.'s appeared friendly until election day, when they voted against Washington. This caused a row between the fraternities which resulted in each selecting champions to settle the matter with their fists. Brothers Stephens and Slater whipped the K. A.'s, Smith and Fannin, respectively. As the affair was thus satisfactorily disposed of by the fraternities, the faculty took no hand in it. With a few exceptions, Eta was afterwards on good terms with the K. A.'s.

Evans, A.M., took typhoid fever during the examination, so his rank in the class could not be determined, though he no doubt stood very high. Slater received his A.B., and McRae took first honor in the B.Sc. course.

Stanley, Pharr, Stephens, Washington, Dunson, Milner, and the two Rountrees returned to college in October, 1881, and initiated George M. Brown, '84, and William Weaver Turner, '85 (deceased 1912); John Thaddeus Lofton, '84, affiliated from Mercer Iota. Brown and Turner quit college at Christmas on account of ill health, and Stephens left in the spring.

On April 5, 1882, occurred one of the most distressing incidents in the history of the chapter. Brothers J. B. and W. J. Rountree were walking by the courthouse when they were grossly insulted and assaulted by a negro, and in the struggle which ensued W. J. Rountree was shot and fatally wounded. This event caused great excitement in Athens and throughout the whole State. It was with difficulty that the people could be restrained from lynching the negro, and it was also at one time feared that a negro mob would make an attack upon the student body. The trial resulted in sending the negro to the penitentiary for ten years, for assault with intent to murder. Rountree was much beloved by all who knew him, and for several years the day of his death was observed by the chapter with appropriate ceremonies. The subsequent retirement of J. B. Rountree now reduced the membership to six.

Washington was anniversarian of the Phi Kappa society this year, and Stephens captain of the prize company. At commencement Dunson, Stanley, Pharr and Washington graduated. This would have left only two men, Lofton and Milner, to return to college the next year, had not the chapter initiated John Greene Walker, '84, who became a member in July, 1882, and proved a valuable acquisition.

The reduced condition of the chapter at this time was due not only to the unfortunate losses which have been enumerated, but to its determination to keep up the standard of quality at all costs. Among the chapter's officers this year Washington was "critic," or in Southern order lingo, "curator umbrae" (curator of the shadow), so-called because his seat was so arranged that he sat in the shadow made by the presiding officer. The office of curator, a relic of the Southern order, was not abolished until 1885. Washington and Pharr were delegates to the convention of '82 in Atlanta, at which time Henry Grady was chosen Grand Alpha.

The session of 1882-'83 opened very dismally for Eta. Walker and Turner, who had been in college only a short while for the previous session, were the only members to return, and had it not been for their indomitable perseverance and energy, together with the previous reputation of the chapter, its high social standing, and the character of its alumni, Eta might have failed altogether at this time to recover itself. All the fraternities were then at a very low ebb in point of numbers, except S. A. E., which had eighteen members. K. A. had five, Phi Delta Theta only four, and A. T. O. six.

But by the introduction of nine new men to the secrecy of Chi Phi, its quota was brought up to eleven. These were William McKinley Cobb, Madison Gartrell Nicholson, William Brooke and Clarence Joseph Chappell, of the class of '86; John Robinson Steele, Grant Hamilton Frey (who died in New York City, January 3, 1899, of tropic cancer trouble, which he contracted in British Guinea, South America, while prospecting there as a civil engineer), William Blake Weaver and Eugene Muse Mitchell, of the class of '85, and William Josiah Dobbs, '84 (deceased 1904). The Athens alumni, especially R. G. Taylor, gave much assistance at this time by their enthusiasm and efforts. After Christmas Lofton and Stanley re-entered college, and Sanders McDaniel and George Cowan Selman, both '86, were initiated.

During the whole of this year the chapter was heavily burdened by a large debt. After paying as much of it as it could, Brother Turner succeeded in raising all but twenty-five dollars among the alumni in Atlanta, which had then grown to be a Chi Phi stronghold. At commencement Henry Grady made the chapter a Brooke, Chappell, Cobb, McDaniel, Mitchell, Nicholson, Selman, Turner and Walker returned to college in October, 1883, and the following new men were initiated: 1886, John William Fain (deceased, 1892), John William Grant and John Marshall Slaton; 1887, Middleton Pope Barrow, Charles Frank Rice, Howell Cobb (deceased 1897), Thomas Reade Rootes Cobb (deceased 1898), and Frank Cochran Block (deceased 1907). College politics ran high in these days, particularly in the elections of the anniversarians. Heretofore Eta had cliqued with various fraternities, but this year the chapter withheld from all combinations, and allowed each man to vote as he saw fit.

In the fall of '83 the club decided to move from its uncomfortable quarters on Clayton street. Brother Billups Phinizy fitted up a suite of three rooms on Broad street, and rented it to the chapter at a moderate sum. The suite consisted of an ante-room, a large meeting hall, and a room for the regular and other effects of the chapter, and was decidedly the best of any fraternity at the university. The removal occurred at midnight, the chief of police having ordered the street lamps lowered so the strange procession could not easily be observed.

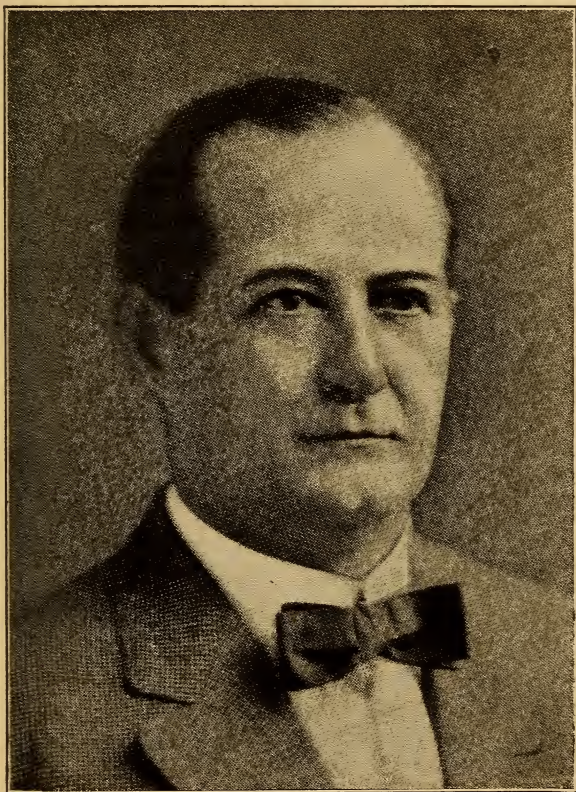

At commencement the chapter gave one of the most elegant banquets in its history, at the residence of Mr. Hugh Taylor, under the auspices of Brother R. G. Taylor. It was on this occasion that Brother Meldrim presented us with the life-size portrait of himself which at present adorns our parlors. Walker was the only graduate, but took two degrees, B.E. and B.Agr., and stood first in each course. The chapter stood well in every department of college life. In fact this was one of her most successful years. Independence Grove (Theta), Grand Delta, visited the chapter during the session. The chapter was represented in the Albany convention of 1883 by Brother H. V. Washington.

The attendance at Georgia in '84-'85 was not as large as usual, and good Chi Phi material was rare. Though thirteen old men returned, only four new ones were added. These were Albert Gordon Cassels and Robert Franklin Cassels, of '86; Willis Justus Milner, '87, and Joseph Emerson Boston, '88. Hampton Stewart

Jones, '87, affiliated from Gamma. Rivalry for chapter offices caused serious dissension amongst some of the brothers this year, which all but resulted disastrously for Eta. But thanks to that kind fortune which has continually overshadowed her, the storm passed, and peace was restored. Mitchell and Turner graduated at commencement, the former taking first honor in the B.Sc. course, and the latter third honor in the A.B. course.

Ten men came back in October, 1885, and the following became members: Alexander Stephens Hopkins, '86 (deceased 1890); Nash Rose Broyles, Lucian Lamar Knight, Francis Wayland Wright (deceased 1907), Edwin Oakley Stanton (deceased 1913), and Lawrence Julian Fleming, of '88; and Louis Alfred Fleming, '89 (deceased). Louis Delaware Pace, '87, affiliated from Gamma and Eugene Mitchell returned to take law. At the beginning of the year all the Greek letter societies signed an agreement not to enter into any political combinations during the session. A previous compact had been made twelve months before, but not kept by all. There is no record of faithlessness this year. During the session the clubrooms caught fire and did serious damage to the furniture, but did not destroy any of the valuable records. New quarters were found on Clayton street. Brother Rice represented Eta at the annual convention in New York in November, 1885, when a duplicate charter was granted, the chapter having been without a charter since 1874. Many thanks are due the Grand Alpha, Henry Stockbridge, for his aid in this matter. On April 22, 1886, Eta celebrated her nineteenth anniversary with literary exercises, Brother Mitchell being the orator of the occasion. The date was a mistake, as was afterwards shown in Brother Weaver's article on the origin of the chapter. The following received diplomas this year: Slaton, A.M., first honor and permanent class president; Fain, A.M. and second honor; McDaniel, A.B.; Selman, A.B.; R. F. Cassels, Ph.B.; Grant, B.Ch.Sc., and Mitchell, LL.B. McDaniel and Rice represented Chi Phi on the college annual, Pandora, the first volume of which appeared at commencement.

Rice, Broyles, Boston, Knight, Stanton, Wright and L. A. Fleming returned in October, 1886, and initiated: Warren Waldo Martin, William Hayes Pope (deceased 1916), Caleb Riley Tate

(deceased 1888), and Paul Semmes Black, of the class of '89; Thomas Jefferson Thornton and Noel Lamar Poullain, of the class of '90; and Franklin Elmore Twitty, Law, '87. T. R. R. Cobb returned in December. The chapter rooms were again moved in November. Rice was editor-in-chief of the Pandora. Twitty graduated LL.B. Austin L. McRae, '81, represented the chapter at the '86 convention in Louisville.

The year '87-'88 is recorded by the Zeta, W. H. Pope, as being one of the most brilliant in Eta's history. The personnel of its members was never better, and enthusiasm for the scarlet and blue never ran higher. In the capture of college honors of all kinds, scholastic, oratorical, athletic and social, Chi Phi was above competition. The old men were Broyles, Boston, Knight, Wright, Black, Tate, Pope, Poullain and Thornton; the new ones, Arnold Broyles, law '88; James McFadden Gaston, '89; William D. Ellis, Jr., Daniel Connally Lyle and Alfred Shorter Harper (deceased 1898), of the class of '90, and Benjamin Yancey Harris, '91. Chancellor Mell, under whom the college had witnessed great improvement, died in January, 1888, and was succeeded in February, 1889, by Dr. William E. Boggs. Col. L. H. Charbonnier, professor of physics, acted as chancellor in the interim. To enumerate all the honors taken by Eta this year would consume too much space. A few may be mentioned. Four of the eighteen editors and one of the two business managers of the Reporter, the weekly periodical, were Chi Phis; we had two of the six champion debaters, Nash Broyles and Pope; the former was also anniversarian of Phi Kappa; one of the two debaters' medals was won by Lucian Knight, in a speech which the Augusta Chronicle pronounced "worthy of a congressman," while the same brother was chosen to deliver, in behalf of the students, the funeral memorial oration upon Chancellor Mell. On field day Eta showed its prominence in athletics by winning far more prizes than any other fraternity. Arnold Broyles, president of the athletic association, who was the finest athlete Georgia had seen in years, won four first prizes, while three other brothers won five other prizes.

The chapter, collectively and individually, devoted a great deal of attention to the young ladies at this time, and there was spirited rivalry between the fraternities as to which could claim the largest number of select fair adherents. These tried to outdo each other in making banners and cushions and other decorations for the chapter rooms, while the fraternities reciprocated with much candy and fruit and many flowers and gallant attentions. Eta presented one of its most loyal "sisters" with a $40 Chi Phi pin. In this feature of fraternity life, so frowned down by the fraternity today, Eta was first, as in all else. But this glorious year was destined to a sad ending. On July 1, 1888, Brother "Cale" Tate died at his home in North Georgia. He was one of the most beloved members of the chapter, and a young man full of promise for the future. His death, and the death of a prominent member of another fraternity at about the same time, made a gloomy affair of an elaborately planned commencement. Brother Rice went to the '87 convention in Philadelphia. The graduates of '88 were Boston, Nash Broyles and Knight, A.B., Wright, Ph.B., and Arnold Broyles, LL.B.

Nine brothers returned to college the following fall, and nine were made brothers: Philip Dudley Youngblood, Albert Demarest Boyleston, John Houser Boston and Thomas Swift Felder, all '91; and James Banks Nevin, Frank Adgate Lipscomb, Munro Goodwin Dearing, Edwin Booth Salisbury and Joseph Hill Salisbury (deceased 1913), all '92. This gave Eta a fine chapter of eighteen men, which was about its normal number. A chapter house had been discussed for many years, but this year the matter began to assume more definite shape, so much so that a committee consisting of Boston, Pope and Black was appointed to solicit subscriptions from the alumni. Something over a hundred dollars was raised, but was expended later in refurnishing clubrooms, the chances for a chapter house seeming so remote. Pope represented Eta this year in a conference of the fraternities held to discuss the advisability of not initiating new members until they had been in college one year. All the clubs appeared to favor this idea, but no binding action was taken in the matter. Pope graduated at commencement, '89, A. M., being this year anniversary of the Demosthenian society; Gaston, A.M.; Black, Ph.B., and Nash Broyles and T. R. R. Cobb, LL.B., the last having re-entered college this term for this degree. Harper was a delegate to the Richmond convention in '88.

The year 1889-'90 was made memorable by several events. The chapter moved to rooms over Talmadge's hardware store on Clayton street, which, with various changes and additions, continued to be Eta's home until 1897, when the chapter house became a reality. The publication of an article on "The Initiation of Non-Collegians," in the Chi Phi Quarterly for July, 1889, written by Brother W. H. Pope (then tutor in the university), aroused the wrath of the members of the Beta chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, whom Pope was attacking primarily, and who were undeniably guilty of the charges preferred. S. A. E. demanded a retraction, which was not made, whereupon one of their number made a personal attack on Pope, but before either had worsted the other, they were separated. Thereafter followed an extensive correspondence between the two fraternities, in which Chi Phi was represented by Brother W. D. Ellis, and S. A. E. by Mr. John D. Little. Eta formally endorsed as a chapter Pope's article, and at the request of Beta chapter of S. A. E. named a champion to defend the honor of Chi Phi against the insult which she considered Beta had heaped upon her in denying the truth of what she had endorsed. As this champion happened to be Brother Dudley Youngblood, who was perhaps the best athlete in college, Beta refused to send a champion to fight him except with pistols, and requested Eta to choose some one else. Pope was very eager to be chosen, but the lot fell on another. At about this time the S. A. E.'s finally decided that their "code of morality" would not admit of their furnishing the satisfaction demanded by the Chi Phis. And so the controversy came to a close by the statements in the Quarterly remaining unretracted, the offers of Eta to give satisfaction to S. A. E. remaining open, and the demand by Eta for satisfaction remaining unsatisfied. This affair was the topic of the day in Athens, and was given publicity by the press.

As a result of this quarrel, and also of another one in which the chapter was involved at this time with Kappa Alpha, the faculty required of Chi Phi, S. A. E. and Kappa Alpha a pledge that they would hold no more meetings until permission was given.

A committee of three was allowed to carry on the business of the chapter during this time. The committee was Pope, Ellis and Poullain. The suspension lasted from December 1, 1889, to April 19, 1890, when regular meetings were resumed. One meeting was granted between these dates, on January 11, 1890, to allow the chapter to hold exercises in memory of Henry Grady, who died December 23, 1889. The initiates of this session were Eugene Robert Black, Lowndes Calhoun, William Arnold Hemphill, Jr., James Frederick Lewis and Samuel Hale Sibley, of the class of '92; and Evan Park Howell, Jr., and Walter Henry Bishop, of the class of '93. The graduates were: Ellis and Poullain, A.B., and Harper, Ph.B. Brother C. F. Rice represented Eta at the convention held in Washington in '89.

Nothing of special note occurred during the session of 1890-'91. The chapter was in splendid condition in every respect. Perfect harmony reigned throughout the year. The brothers were enthusiastic about Chi Phi, and took much interest in the regular Saturday night meetings. The literary duties, consisting of an essay, a reading and an oration, were faithfully performed. The next year a declamation was substituted for the oration, and in 1893 this feature of the program was omitted. Initiated during the year were William Buckingham Armstrong, '94 (deceased 1909); George Hillyer, Jr., '93; Charles Richard Nisbet, '93; William Rutherford Lipscomb, '94; Benjamin Broadus Steedly, '94; Boykin Goldsby Smith, '93 (deceased 1913), Henry Woodfin Grady, Jr., '94; and Gordon Forrest Mitchell, Law, '91. Clement W. Evans, '93 (deceased 1916), was transferred from Gamma. The chapter lost by graduation J. H. Boston and Boyleston, A.B., Felder, Ph.B., and Gordon Mitchell, B.L. Brother Park Howell was a delegate to the Baltimore convention in 1890.

'91-'92 opened with the initiation of a large number of desirable men. These were Paul Lamar Fleming, '94, and Albert Gallatin Foster, John Hill, Jr., Eugene Edward Murphey, Robert Diedrich Curry, Robert Archibald Ridley and Willis Alston Hawkins, of the class of '95. After Christmas Walter Alexander Harris, '95, joined the chapter. The alumni living in Atlanta and other neighboring cities made frequent visits to Eta, as they do today. These visits were always beneficial, not only in im-

On Lumpkin Street facing the University Campus, next to the property of the Eta Trust Association, is the new Athens Y. M. C. A., completed in 1916. The building and grounds which occupy an entire city square of two acres cost $140,000. There are reading rooms and an auditorium, 32 bed rooms varying in price from $1.90 a week up, two gymnasiums, physical directors' offices, dressing rooms, shower baths and swimming pool. Outdoors, in addition to lawn and gardens, there will be a cinder running track, four tennis courts, outdoor volleyball and basketball courts.

Many Eta men use these conveniences and in the future they will be of increasing benefit to members of the chapter.

parting fresh enthusiasm to the active members, but in helping them capture new Chi Phis. The members of Eta at this time possessed plenty of enthusiasm, but the attendance at meetings, as the minutes show, was sometimes very slim, and consequently the fines many. Four brothers graduated with A.B. at commencement: Sibley, first honor; Lewis, fourth honor; Eugene Black and Dudley Youngblood. Sibley and Lewis represented Eta at the Atlanta convention. Lewis was editor-in-chief of the Pandora. Howell was quarter-back on the football team; Foster, pitcher on the baseball team.

Chi Phi's strength in Atlanta was particularly emphasized in the fall of 1892 when Eta corraled a fine squad of the Gate City's most representative youngsters. They were James Henry Porter, Jr., and Edward Emmett Dougherty, of the class of '95; and James LaFayette Dickey, Jr., Robert Waight Fuller, Williams McCarthy, and Holcomb Bacon (deceased 1907), of the class of '96. The other initiates were: Osborne Brevard Nisbet, '95 (deceased 1915), Moses Guyton, '95, of Florida, and Richard Stuart Hunter, '96, of Virginia. Brothers W. H. Pope, Charlie Rice and Eugene Mitchell lent valuable aid during this rushing season. The chapter was greatly strengthened by the return of Sam Sibley to take law. The refurnishing of the club rooms and dance hall this year gave Chi Phi decidedly the handsomest and most comfortable quarters of any in college, and brought us congratulations from all sides. Brother George Hillyer, Jr., who held so many positions of trust during his college career, received his A.B. at this commencement, Sam Sibley took B.L. with first honor. The Thalians, the dramatic club of the university, which owes its origin largely to the efforts of Brothers Hillyer, Paul Fleming and Bacon, and in which Chi Phis have always continued to take a conspicuous part, gave its first performance in March, 1893. Brother Chas. R. Nisbet was anniversarian of the Demosthenian society. Sibley and Henry Grady represented us at the New York convention, at which Charlie Rice was Alpha.

To take a glance at the successes of some of Eta's sons of the period from 1878 to 1893, we find J. T. Newton assistant commissioner of patents at Washington; Irby Dunklin, judge of the superior court in Fort Worth, Texas; Evans, superintendent of public schools in Augusta; McRae, director of the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy; Billups Phinizy, president of the Southern Mutual Fire Insurance Co., in Athens. Brooke is a major in the regular army; L. J. Fleming is a captain of cavalry; W. A. Harris was a major in the Spanish-American war of 1898, and is now brigadier-general of the National Guard of Georgia. "Jack" Slaton has been speaker of the State house of representatives and president of the State senate, and was governor from 1913 to 1915. John Grant is a prominent capitalist of Atlanta; Arnold Broyles has been clerk of the Fulton superior court for many years; Nash Broyles is judge of the court of appeals; Lucian Knight, author and orator, is State historian and compiler of records; Paul Black is attorney in the office of the attorney-general at Washington; T. S. Felder has been State attorney-general; Nevin is editor of the Atlanta Georgian. Prominent in the legal profession, and not previously named, are Eugene R. Black, Sr., famous as a speaker; Sanders McDaniel, Judge Sam Sibley, and Eugene Mitchell. George Hillyer holds a responsible position in the engineering department of the Southern railway; Charlie Nisbet is a Presbyterian pastor of note in Kansas City; Ed Dougherty is one of the very few American graduates of the famous Beaux Arts of Paris, and has achieved fame as an architect. In medicine, Jim Gaston as a medical missionary, Ben Steedly at Spartanburg, and "Larry" Murphey at Augusta, have been eminently successful.

This list does not pretend to mention all the alumni of these years whose achievements entitle them to especial notice, nor to mention all the distinctions of those brothers who are named. A complete catalogue of these things properly belongs in the Register. Only a few examples are given to show how well the members of Eta chapter have acquitted themselves in the struggle for fame and fortune. After all, it is not alone by the accumulation of offices and wealth we wish Chi Phis to be judged, but by character. With this criterion, Eta also presents an array of conspicuous examples. One of the most remarkable instances among our alumni of victory against great odds was that of Brother W. H. Pope, '89. Driven west by ill health a few years after beginning the practice of law in Atlanta, he soon rose to the position of assistant attorney-general of New Mexico, and was secretary of the commission that built the new territorial capitol. In 1902 he was appointed judge of the Court of First Instance in the Philippine Islands. His health again giving away, he returned to New Mexico a year later, and rose to the position of United States District Judge, which he held at the time of his death in 1916. But Brother Pope commends himself to Eta not alone for his triumphs in his profession, but also for his inspiring and unceasing enthusiasm and efforts for the scarlet and blue, in college and out. There are many alumni of this era who, for their continued loyalty and hard work and wise counsels for the fraternity, deserve a niche in Eta's hall of fame. First of these is Chas. F. Rice, whose devotion to Chi Phi endures forever. There was no more zealous frat. man in Athens than he when he was there, and there has not been since. That he has attended many conventions as representative of the chapter, and been Alpha of several, and has been a valuable member of the board of directors of the Eta Trust Association ever since it was organized, well attests the interest he feels. He merits an especial tribute for his work on the Register of 1890. Austin L. McRae, John G. Walker, Eugene Mitchell, Nash Broyles, Will Ellis and the lamented Alf. Harper are worthy of the highest esteem from Eta for their activities in her behalf, as are J. M. Slaton, first president of the Atlanta Alumni Association, and Joe Boston, who has served the Trust Association so well. Lucian Knight has honored us much with his pen and tongue. Sam Sibley is one of the truest Chi Phis that ever came from Eta. In being chosen Grand Gamma in 1895-'96, George Hillyer reflected credit on his mother chapter. "Wat." Harris has been one of our most energetic workers; Brevard Nisbet was one of the best "spikers" in the business, and Holcombe Bacon rendered Eta invaluable services.

CHAPTER III. THE BEGINNING OF A MODERN COLLEGE.

With the permanent establishment of inter-collegiate athletics in 1893, the University of Georgia began a new and brighter era. We may start a fresh chapter at this point, since the men connected with Eta from about this time forward have continued to wield direct influence over it up to the present year. The old members to return in the autumn of '93 were Armstrong and Paul Fleming, of '94; Murphey, R. A. Ridley, W. A. Harris, Dougherty, Porter, O. B. Nisbet and Guyton, of '95; and Holcombe Bacon and Stuart Hunter, of '96. The new initiates of the session were Frank Hamilton Dearing and Haywood Shepherd Hansell, of '96; and Frank Kells Boland, Frank Lamar Fleming, Perry Nance Hill, Fortune Chisom Ferrell, James Hart Sibley, Steve Willis Thornton and Malvern Halsey, of '97. We lost only one man who was invited to join. This was a happy and successful year in every respect. Paul Fleming received his A.B., having been manager of the 'varsity football team of '93, business manager of the Pandora of '94, and anniversarian of Phi Kappa. Armstrong was quarter-back on the 'varsity. Armstrong and Bacon went to the '93 Washington convention, over which Brother Rice presided.

The year 1894-'95 saw Eta again leading all the fraternities at Georgia. Good work was done during the summer preceding, and during the rushing season at the opening of college. The following new additions were made: Charles Harmon Black, John Francis Ridley, William Walton Clarke, Paul Goldsmith, Frank Rice Mitchell, Thomas Nisbet Tinsley, all of the class of '98. Tinsley was transferred to Gamma immediately after his initiation, and Joseph Brown Connally, '96, joined us from Gamma. The meetings were very lively during this term, the new chapter by-laws, the Kappa matter and a chapter house being the leading topics under discussion. In January we sustained a severe loss in Brother Bacon's withdrawal from college. Frank Fleming and George Hillyer represented Eta in the convention in New York in 1894. Brother Connally was sent to the special convention in New York in March, 1895, instructed to vote against Kappa (Brown University) and Chi (Ohio Wesleyan University) chapters, while in May the chapter cast its vote against Kappa. Eta's picnic at Mitchell's bridge this spring was pronounced by all one of the most enjoyable entertainments ever given in Athens. Over one hundred guests were present. At commencement Chi Phi took the best stand in the senior class that it had taken in many years. The graduates were Harris, Guyton, Porter, Nisbet, R. A. Ridley and Dougherty, the first four standing one, two, three and five, respectively, in a large class. Harris was editor-in-chief of the Pandora and The Red and Black this year. Murphey was half-back on the 'varsity of '94. Dougherty won many field-day events and was noted for his talent in art and music.

Eta was larger in '95-'96 than ever before, the total membership for the year being thirty, although not over twenty-eight were present at one time. Two-thirds of the whole chapter were Atlanta men. The new brothers were Frederick Crisp, '97 (deceased 1911), who represented a signal victory snatched from our strongest competitor, S. A. E.; Benjamin Cudworth Yancey, Thomas Augustus Whitaker and Daniel Greenwood Hughes, Jr., '98 (deceased 1916); Junius Godolphin Oglesby, Jr., Arthur and Burton Clarke, John Meador Goldsmith (deceased 1909), William Lowry Porter, Edwin Rawson Johnson, Gabriel Wharton Mitchell, James Smith Dougherty, Hugh Hines Harris (deceased 1909), and Eugene Ely Thornton, of '99; Arminius Wright and William Johnson McBride, Law '96. Brother Fred. J. Buice, '97, affiliated from Gamma, and two alumni were welcomed back: W. A. Harris and J. H. Porter, to take law. The former was sent to the convention in New York, instructed to vote against taking badges off women. This was a matter that had provoked much discussion in our lodge room for many years. Holcombe Bacon was Alpha of this convention. Enthusiasm for the fraternity ran high among the brothers this year, but they were neglectful of college duties, in consequence of which a large number of the thirty left before commencement. The chapter was probably more extravagant than at any time in its history, and was lavish in its social entertainments. Over one hundred dollars was expended on baskets of flowers, and fruit and candy for our "sisters" at the Lucy Cobb institute. The principal of this school wisely forbade the continuance of this custom the next year. The new regulation pins first appeared early in 1896. J. S. Dougherty was the first Eta man to possess one. The lodge room was removed into the room adjoining, giving us an ante-room, which the chapter had not had before for several years. On May 23, 1896, Eta adopted the new constitution of the fraternity. The graduates at commencement were Hansell, A.B., Arminius Wright and W. A. Harris, B.L. Brother J. H. Porter went to Cornell in February to complete his law studies. Eta held her own in college honors; Harris led the law class and was anniversarian of Phi Kappa; on the 'varsity football team, Ferrell was left end, Connally left guard, and Walton Clarke right end, as he had been the year before. Boland was manager of the 'varsity baseball teams of '95 and '96; Walton Clarke was shortstop in '96.

The session of 1896-'97 was one of peace and prosperity for Chi Phi in Athens. Added to the chapter were Alexander Pratt Adams, John Thomas Dennis, Sr. and Jr., Roy Dennis Jenkins and James Beall Ridley, of '99, Ferdinand Phinizy Calhoun, 1900, and Albert Edward Thornton, Jr., '98 (deceased 1910). This made a congenial club of twenty men, who well represented the scarlet and blue in the affairs of Georgia. Frank Fleming was chosen one of the editors-in-chief of the Pandora, but resigned. He graduated B.L. Boland received A.B., and was elected permanent president of the class of '97. Brother Dougherty played end and first base on the teams. Black, who won many field events, was captain of the track team, and editor-in-chief of The Red and Black. Eta was not represented at the Congress of '96.

In the fall of 1897 the chapter at last realized its long-cherished hope of a chapter house. The Cobb residence on Hill street was leased, and well suited the purpose. Thirteen of the twenty active members lived here, and the venture was crowned with success. After a hot campaign, the following new men joined the fraternity: John Charles Wheatley, '99, and Robert Berrien Ridley, Jr., John Banks, Frank Kelly McCutchen, James Force Hart, Charles du Bignon and Everard Dugas Richardson, of the class of '01.

The capture of duBignon from the S. A. E.'s represents one of the greatest victories in the history of our spiking. Brother Iver-son Brooks Clark, '99, affiliated from Xi chapter. Frank Mitchell was manager of the football team, of which Dougherty, Arthur Clarke and Brooks Clark were members. A successful season was brought to a tragic close at its height by the death of Von Gam-mon, of the Georgia eleven, in the game with the University of Virginia. Dougherty was president of the athletic association and was chosen captain of the football team of '98, but being unfairly treated in the election, resigned. Du Bignon represented Eta on the baseball team. The Sphinx, a club to which only the most prominent men in college are elected, was organized this year. In this honorary organization, Chi Phis have always been conspicuous. Of the eighteen alumni of the university chosen honor-ary members at the time the club came into existence, six are Chi Phis. Charlie Black went to the '97 congress in New York. At commencement, Black and B. C. Yancey graduated A.B., and Dearing, B.S.

The attendance at Georgia in '98-'99 was considerably below normal in numbers, but Eta, as usual, got her pick of the new men. These were: Robert Patterson Yancey, '01 (deceased 1910), Jackson Wilbur Burnett, 1900, Logan Clarke, Sterling Hamilton Blackshear, and Harry Bell Peak, of '02. Brothers Robert Jesse Travis and Henry Harris Little (deceased 1916), came over from Gamma to take the law course, and B. C. Yancey returned for the same purpose. This gave a chapter of fifteen men, but what Eta lacked in numbers, it made up in enthusiasm, and had a good year. With only six men living in the chapter house, the club soon found itself in debt, but a subscription of one hundred dol-lars from the Atlanta alumni put it on its feet again. Graduated this session: Adams, A.B., and Yancey, Travis and Little, B.L. Calhoun represented Eta at the congress. Adams was the recipient of many honors during his college career; among others, twice president of the athletic association, manager of the baseball team of '99, editor-in-chief of the Pandora and The Red and Black. Du Bignon and McCutchen played on the 'varsity football team.

In 1899 Chancellor Boggs, under whom the University of Geor-gia had enjoyed a decade of progress, resigned, and was succeeded by Walter B. Hill, the first alumnus ever to hold the position. Brother Hill's succession to the head of his alma mater was hailed with delight, not only by Eta and her alumni, but by the entire alumni of the institution as well. That our hope and expectations were well founded, the succeeding years well testified. It was pleasing to note that the chancellor exhibited a keen interest in the affairs of Eta upon his return to Athens. The chapter opened this session with only six old men, but by one of the most brilliant rushing seasons in its experience, brought the membership up to nineteen. The new brothers were: Mitchell King (deceased 1906) and Henry Dawson Burkes, of '02; Francis Morris Ridley, Jr., Alfred Austell Thornton (deceased 1913), Betram Eugene Dekle, John Durham Wing, Jr., Andrew Calhoun, Hugh McDaniel Scott, Jr., and Henry Fort Scott, Francis Marion Farley, Eugene Herbert Clay and Benjamin Henry Barrow, all of the class of '03; and Thompson Haygood Gooding, of the law class of 1900. Brother J. B. Ridley was welcomed back to take law. It is interesting to observe how many sons of Chi Phis have been initiated by Eta chapter in recent years, and particularly sons of Eta Chi Phis. They have increased rapidly in numbers ever since the initiation of Henry Grady, Jr., in 1890. In the present delegation of freshmen, three were sons of old members of Eta, Frank Ridley, Thornton and Barrow, while the Scott brothers were sons of Dr. H. F. Scott, Oglethorpe, Lambda, '72. Within a few years we shall see a third generation of Chi Phis springing up at Eta.*

The happiness of this golden year was marred by a single incident. Thompson Haygood Gooding, having been convicted of several flagrant acts of dishonesty, was suspended from the chapter in March, 1900, and his case referred to the congress of 1900, by which he was expelled from the fraternity. Gooding is the first member of Eta chapter ever to be dismissed from the fraternity, and as the Zeta of that year fervently remarks, "God grant that he be the last!"

Phinizy Calhoun, Austell Thornton and Charles du Bignon attended the 1899 New York Congress and succeeded in having At-

CHI PHIS AT CENTENNIAL, COMMENCEMENT, JUNE, 1901

In the picture are two governors of Georgia, John M. Slaton, '86, and N. E. Harris, '70; two chancellors of the University, Walter B. Hill, '70, and David C. Barrow, '74; Peter W. Meldrum, President of Alumni Society and Trustee; Hamilton McWhorter, Trustee; Dr. H. C. White, President Scientific Department; John C. Hart, State Tax Commissioner; Hamilton Yancey; Lawton B. Evans; Eugene Black; Washington Dessau, (now dead); Walker Dunson and others.

lanta chosen the meeting place for the following year. Eta was in a flourishing condition during this session; there were no debts and the chapter house continued to work well. In the spring the first chapter Record was published, and proved to be a valuable innovation. We lost by graduation Phinzy Calhoun, A.B., and J. B. Ridley, B.L. McCutchen and Gooding represented us on the 'varsity football aggregation and Blackshear and Frank Ridley on the baseball team. Although the charter of the university was granted in 1785, this commencement marked the hundredth year of its actual operation, and was celebrated with appropriate ceremonies. In his account of the event, in the Year Book of 1901, Brother Pratt Adams thus speaks of the part taken by the alumni of Eta and other Chi Phis:

“Alumni Day was by all conceded to be the ‘big’ day of the commencement. As indicating in an unmistakable manner what a prominent part in the University Centennial Chi Phi took, I mention her participation in the exercises of that day. On the stage where all the officials of the university were sitting were the following Chi Phis: With the Board of Trustees, Hon. N. E. Harris, Hon. P. W. Meldrim, Judge Lewis of the Supreme Court of Georgia, Judge Hamilton McWhorter, and Hon. S. B. Adams, one-fourth of the entire board; Chancellor Hill, Dr. White, president of the scientific department, and Prof. Barrow, dean of the faculty, admittedly the three most prominent members of the faculty; President Lyman Hall, head of the department of the university located at Atlanta, and President Stewart of the department at Dahlonga; the president of the Alumni Society and master of ceremonies, Hon. P. W. Meldrim; and to cap the climax, the orator of the day, Hon. Emory Speer, whose magnificent address thrilled the immense crowd that had gathered to hear him.”

In September, 1900, Eta moved into the old Home School building, on Prince avenue, one of the largest and handsomest colonial homes in the city, which, though somewhat the worse for age, made excellent quarters for the chapter for the next four years. The lodgeroom was especially well situated. Benjamin Groves Swanson, Ralph Meldrim (deceased 1906), son of the founder of Eta, Hugh Haralson Gordon, Jr., Paul Eldridge Jett, and Gordon Wayne Haines, of the class of '04, were the new initiates.

Adams and McCutchen returned to take law, and Brother Marion Sims Richardson, '02, affiliated from Gamma. This made a splendid chapter of twenty-one men, which undoubtedly had things its own way in the affairs of the university. As the Zeta says, "We held all grades of offices from captain of the 1900 football eleven (McCutchen) down to chaplain of the freshman class." Besides five men on the football team, and three on the baseball team, the chapter won distinctions without number in the literary societies, on the college periodicals, in the military companies, and on the prom. committees. Adams and Banks represented Eta at the Atlanta Congress, over which Brother Frank Mitchell presided. Mitchell was appointed temporary Grand Zeta in order to call this congress to order, and Brother Phinizy Calhoun was elected Grand Zeta for the ensuing two years. At commencement, Banks, who had been manager of the 1900 baseball team and business manager of the Pandora, graduated A.B., and Adams and McCutchen graduated B.L.

The chapter opened the year 1901-'02 with fifteen old men, including Brothers Robert Franklin Gross, '03, from Gamma, and Cleveland Evins, '05, of Sigma, and initiated six new men: Frank Raymond Clark, '04, and Albert Edward Thornton, Jr., Louis Dugas McClesky, Jere Wickliffe Goldsmith, Jr., Hinton James Baker, and William Johnston Cranston, of the class of '05. In all phases of college life Eta continued to take her usual notable stand. Ridley was captain of the football team, and elected to fill the same position the following fall, an honor never bestowed upon any one else. He was also selected for an end on the all-Southern eleven of 1901. The anniversary of the birth of the chapter, which has not failed of an appropriate celebration in years, was this spring observed by a banquet at the Commercial Hotel, over which Brother Meldrim, '68, presided as toastmaster. Toasts were made by Dr. White, Prof. Barrow, and "Major" Frank Mitchell. King, Richardson and Blackshear received their diplomas at commencement. Burton Clarke, '99, represented Eta at the New York Congress in 1901.

The chapter of 1902-'03 was greatly strengthened by the influx of five of Gamma's best men. These were: George Winship Nunnally, Willis Eugene Ragan, Jr., and Samuel James Crowe, of the class of '04; Thomas Whipple Connally, Law '04, and Alexander Stephens Clay, Jr., '06. Walter Hunt Cargill, Law '04, who had been initiated by Gamma, affiliated from Alpha. The new men were: Robert McCay Dearing, '05, and James Jackson Ragan, George Walton Felker, Jr., James Shepherd Thweatt and Carter Thweatt, of '06. The transfer of many Gamma men to Eta of late years has brought these two chapters into more intimate relation than ever before. Brother Connally represented Eta at the congress this session. He attended twelve consecutive congresses, from 1900 to 1911. The anniversary banquet in April, 1903, was attended by more than a score of alumni from a distance. "Major" Mitchell presided. Chi Phis took a fine stand in all departments of the university, especially military and athletic. McCay Dearing's work on the track team was phenomenal. Brother Hugh Scott graduated at commencement, A.B., after a college course of many honors.

The new Omega chapter of Chi Phi, established at the Georgia School of Technology in Atlanta, in 1903, owes its origin to the brothers of Eta and Gamma chapters who were then active members, and to the zeal of three alumni of Eta—Frank R. Mitchell, '98, A. Pratt Adams, '99, and Phinizy Calhoun, '00.* A number of brothers, active members and alumni, went from Atlanta to Athens August 2, 1903, to initiate three of the charter members of Omega chapter, who were Jesse Howlett Draper, Lindsley Dikeman Beach and Meldrim Thomson. During the session of 1903-4 Eta initiated four other charter members of the new chapter: Luther Zeigler Rosser, Jr., William Gilmer Dessau, Howard Elgin Parker and Charles Gordon Richards (deceased 1915).

In the fall of 1903 the following old men returned to Eta: H. F. Scott, Jr., Meldrim, Nunnally, W. E. Ragan, Jr., and Crowe, of the class of '04; A. E. Thornton, Jr., McCleskey and McCay Dearing, of the class of '05; J. J. Ragan, Felker and Carter Thweatt, of the class of '06; T. W. Connally, Law '04. Virlyn Branham Moore, of Gamma, joined the law class of '05. The new initiates were Alexander Wily Smith, Jr., Cornelius Jerome Simmons, Jr.,

*Brother Boland, the author of this article, should be added to this list. Editor.

Campbell Wallace and Francis Lyon Hull, of the class of '06; Rollin Broughton, '07, and Julian Hartridge, Law, '04. This made a good chapter of nineteen men. McClesky, Dearing, Thweatt and Hartridge failed to return after Christmas, and Scott and Simmons withdrew from college in the spring. The chapter enjoyed a pleasant year, and an influential stand in the affairs of the college. Scott was captain of Company B and business manager of The Georgian. Meldrim was captain of Company A, Nunnally, business manager of the Pandora and The Red and Black, and manager of the invincible track men; Crowe and Hartridge, subs on the 'varsity football squad; Connally, editor-in-chief of The Red and Black, and permanent president of his class; and Moore, a member of all three 'varsity teams. Meldrim, Nunnally, and Connally were members of Sphinx. The Eta Record of this year was the best that had appeared. Phinizy Calhoun and Tom Connally represented the chapter at the annual congress in New York, at which the latter was chosen to succeed the former as Grand Zeta, the first time a student still in college had been elected to this national office. At commencement Meldrim, Nunnally, W. E. Ragan and Crowe graduated with A.B., and Connally with B.L. Through some dissatisfaction over the terms of the lease on the chapter house, it was given up in June, and Eta began the session of 1904-'05 in a new home—the Lipscomb place on Milledge avenue.

The bulk of the preceding pages of Eta's history appeared in the Year Book of 1904. The present chapter is now continued for two more years, up to the organization of the Eta Trust Association.

The autumn of 1904 saw the chapter beginning another college session heavily handicapped by the loss of many good men, as several previous autumns had witnessed the same thing. Only five old members returned: Moore, '05, Thornton, '05, Ragan, '06, Smith, '06, and Broughton, '07. This small band was augmented, however, by the return of Hugh Scott, '03, to take law, and McCleskey, former '05. Inspired by stories of the efforts of older brothers under similar discouraging circumstances, a lively rushing season ensued, with the result that seven new names were added to the roll: Curtis Lewis Turner and Frank Butner Clay, '07, and Clarence Hull Dobbs, Jackson Porter Dick, Joseph Ernest Lane, Wallace Wingfield (deceased 1909), and Frank Hill Martin, '08. Brothers Jesse Draper and John B. Harris affiliated from Omega, bringing the total number to sixteen. Wingfield later left college on account of his health. The chapter made up in Chi Phi spirit what it lacked in numbers, and enjoyed a successful year. Almost every possible college honor was secured, such as president of the athletic association, president of both literary societies, two men on the 'varsity football team, three on the baseball team, manager of the football team, editor-in-chief of the Pandora, captain of one of the military companies, etc. An enjoyable banquet was held in the new chapter house, April 15, 1905, in commemoration of Eta's 38th anniversary. Moore graduated in law and Thornton, A.B.

Nine men returned for the year 1905-'06; Hugh Scott, Law '06; Ragan and Smith, '06; Broughton, Turner and Clay, '07, and Dick, Dobbs and Harris, '08, while Raiph Meldrim returned to enter the senior law class, and Robert Shumate Parker, Gamma '05, matriculated in Law '07. Seven new brothers were initiated: Wallace Wood Draper, '08, and Samuel Thurmond Oliver, '08 (deceased 1909), and John William Baker, John Earle Hartridge, Jr., Alexander Radcliffe MacDonell, Paul Drew Atkinson and George Pierce King, Jr., '09. These made a chapter of the normal size of eighteen good Chi Phis, but four left during the session. King and Dobbs withdrew from college, and Meldrim and Scott successfully stood the bar examination in December. The chapter historian states that while this made the membership small, the usual number of college honors fell Eta's way, and the "true inside fraternity spirit" ran high. This fall the chapter moved into the very desirable colonial house at the corner of Hancock and Pulaski, formerly the Goss Sanitarium. Two great calamities befell, however—the death of Chancellor Walter Hill, Eta '70, at his old home in Macon, December 29, 1905, and the death of Ralph Meldrim at his home in Savannah, March 19, 1906. Walter Hill must always be considered one of Georgia's greatest chancellors on account of the marvelous strides the university made under his administration, and since the present chronicle considers men largely in their relation to our fraternity, Hill also may be looked upon as one of the best Chi Phis Eta chapter ever turned out. The death of Meldrim was keenly felt, both because of his value as an active member and alumnus of the chapter, and because he was the only son of our beloved founder, General Peter Meldrim.

CHAPTER IV. THE FIRST DECADE OF THE ETA TRUST ASSOCIATION.

Two other titles might well be chosen for this chapter, "The Era of Uncle Dave," for instance, since these were the first ten years of his service as chancellor, or "Tom Connally and His Times," in commemoration of the wonderfully successful work this zealous brother has accomplished for Eta. Brother David Crenshaw Barrow, Eta '74, a true and loyal Chi Phi, and a worthy successor to his "frat" mate, Walter Hill, began his chancellorship with the college session of 1906-'07. The charter of the Eta Trust Association was granted on June 13, 1907, and its first officers were elected this month. While this was the official beginning of the E. T. A., the germ had been maturing in Tom Connally's mind ever since his experience with the Omicron Trust Association at Yale in 1904-'05, and he himself signed the first note to the E. T. A. in 1905. The prime object of the enterprise was to erect or purchase a club house for the active chapter. What has been accomplished will be shown later.

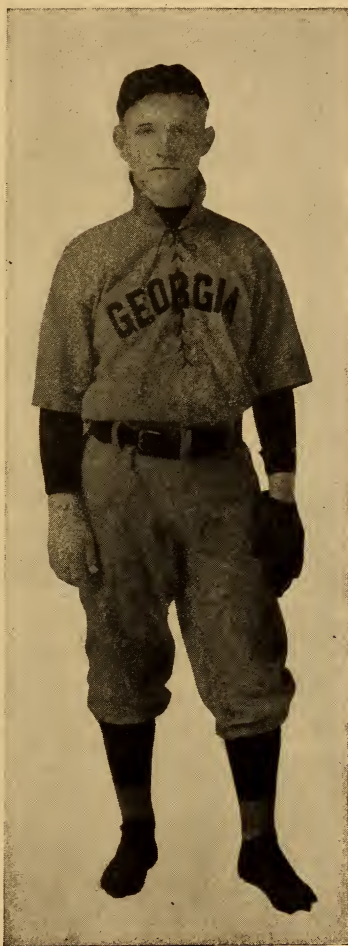

Eta for 1906-'07 consisted of twenty-two men during the year, although several left college before the close of the session. The names of the old brothers who returned are not given in the chapter record, but the initiates were: Edward Mitchell Brown and Walker Inman Gray, '09, Ralph Ragan, William Stuart Witham, William Spencer Connerat, Milton Dargan, Jr., Grady Atkinson and Albert Bacon Nicoll, '10, and Boykin Cabell Wright, '11. Thomas Farrar Fleming, Gamma, '05, entered Law '08, and William Frederick Eve, Jr., Omega, '11, joined the class of '10. Samuel Kenny Dick, Jr., '10, was initiated after Christmas. These men were popular in college and took a prominent part in all its activities, including the class room and the literary societies. Three of the brothers did good work on the football squad. Frank Martin, short-stop on the baseball team, was selected as an "All-Southern" player, and was elected captain of the team for the following year, which won the S. I. A. A. championship. A Chi Phi represented Georgia in the debate with Washington and Lee University. At commencement Broughton graduated A.B., Turner, B.S., and Parker, LL.B.

Although the chapter had been issuing an annual "Eta Record" since 1900, in accordance with a law of the fraternity, it was not until 1907 that a really meritorious number was published and sent to the alumni. This little volume, and the volumes for several succeeding years, contained the best arranged and most complete address lists of the chapter yet published, and contained other important matter. The object of such an outlay was to stimulate interest in the Trust Association among the alumni, and the expense was borne partly by the chapter, but mainly by the association. Thus, the labors of Connally and the organization he has fathered were bearing their first fruits.

The Record of 1908 takes note of the fact that the university had been growing at a faster rate than ever before in its history. The attendance increased two and a half times during the preceding ten years, from 250 to 650. The town of Athens, though always beautiful, had become a city of paved streets and fine buildings. A modern office building had sprung up, and a $200,000 hotel (Allah be praised!) was in course of construction. The new agriculture building, designed by Brother Ed Dougherty, '95, and by far the most imposing on the campus, had just been completed.

Twelve men came back in September, 1907, to resume their college work. They were Harris, Oliver, Martin and J. P. Dick, '08; Fleming, Law '08,; Atkinson, Brown and Gray, '09; MacDonell, Ragan, Dargan and S. Dick, '10. Connerat, '10, and Wright, '11, did not return until after the holidays. The following new men were added, numbered for the first time in the order of their initiation into Eta, the number extending back to Peter Meldrim as number 1: 342. Edward King, '10, a brother of Mitchell King. 343. William Grimes Dancy, '11. 344. Homer Newell Arrington, '11. 345. Joseph Emerson Brown, '11. This brother was a son of Governor Jos. M. Brown, Lambda (old Oglethorpe University), '72, a cousin of the two Bostons of Eta, and of the two Connallys, and a nephew of E. A. and G. M. Brown, of Eta.

346. Edwin Warren Moise, '11. 347. William Hill Garrard, Jr., '10. 348. Obadiah Warner Hill, '10, a nephew of R. J. Hill, Gamma, and a cousin of "Pat" Martin, Gamma, and Frank Martin, Eta. 349. Edwin Baldwin Bullard, '11. 350. Frank Moses Liddell, '10. These made a membership of twenty-three, of whom only two did not finish the year: Fleming, who withdrew to take law at Mercer, and Hill, who left on account of illness. The Record paid Frank Martin a high compliment in referring to his capable work in handling the finances of the chapter. At commencement, J. P. Dick received the B.S. degree, and Harris and Oliver the A.B. degree.

Fourteen men returned to Eta in the fall of 1908: Atkinson and Brown, '09; Dargan, Dick, MacDonell, King, Garrard, Liddell, '10; Connerat, Wright, Dancy, J. E. Brown, Moise, Ayrington, '11. During the year fourteen additions were made to the chapter roll, twelve by initiation, and two by affiliation from Gamma. The new men were: 351. Young Harris Fraser, '11, from Gamma. 352. Thomas Edwin Nott, Jr., '12, son of a Wolford Chi Phi. 353. Hughes Spalding, Law '10, A.B. from Georgetown University, a brother of Jack Spalding, of Omega chapter. 354. Harold Charles Hutchens, '11. 355. Brantly Callaway, '12. 356. John R. Northeutt, '11. 357. Edward Thomas Anderson, '12, whose father was a Chi Phi at Mercer, and whose brother was a Chi Phi at Emory. 358. Frederick Boone Felker, '12, cousin of four Chi Phis. 359. J. H. Kelly, Jr., '11. 360. Richard Wilmer Cooksey, '12. 361. William Edward Rhodes, '11, from Gamma (deceased 1910). 362. Calvin George, '12. 363. Tate Wright, Law '09. 364. Thomas Jackson Woofter, '12. Atkinson and Liddell left college, and the chapter finished the year with 26 men. Honors held by these men this year included everything in the category. A wholesome fraternity spirit reigned, and altogether it was a glorious year for Chi Phi at old Georgia. The forty-second year of the chapter was fittingly celebrated by a splendid banquet at the Georgian Hotel on May 20th, 1909, and a dance was given on March 2nd. E. M. Brown, graduated with A.B., and Tate Wright with LL.B. The Record of 1909 was dedicated to the Chi Phis of the class of 1889, and contained a sketch of the seven members written by the lamented Brother "Billy"

Pope. Of these seven only three now survive: Paul Black, Dr. Jim Gaston and W. W. Martin. The congress of the fraternity met in Atlanta in November, 1908, and a number of active Eta men were in attendance. Winship Nunnally was chairman of the committee of arrangements.

The new men added during the session of 1909-'10 were: 365. Hamilton McWhorter, Jr., '13, a son of Judge Hamilton McWhorter, '77. 366. Theodore Sidney Moise, Jr., '13, a brother of E. W. Moise, '11. 367. James Richard Gray, Jr., '13, brother of Inman Gray, '09. 368. Frederick George Crandall, '13. 369. Jack Watson Lindsey, '13. 370. William Edward Campbell, Jr., '13. 371. Julian Lowe Robinson, '13. 372. Paul McDaniel Felker, '13, a relative of Hugh and Fort Scott, Sanders McDaniel, and G. W. and F. B. Felker, of Eta. 373. Thomas Oliver Marshall, Law '11, an affiliate from Gamma, who graduated with A.B. from Emory College in 1909. 374. Warren Bothwell, '13. 375. Charles Olmstead Adams, '11, related to Judge Sam Adams and Pratt Adams. 376. Wallace Meyers Kirby, '11. 377. Joseph Gray Blount, '13, initiated by Gamma. 378. David Francis Barrow, '10, son of Chancellor Barrow, and brother of Ben Barrow. At commencement David Barrow graduated with A.B., B.S. In 1911 he received C.E. and A.M. from Harvard, and in 1913 Ph.D. from Harvard. Sam Dick received B.S., Edward King and Alex MacDonell, A.B., Garrard received B.S., and Hughes Spalding, B.L.

The year 1910-'11 was a good one for the university in scholarship, debates and athletics, and Eta reaped its share of honors. Moise won first honor and the Rhodes scholarship, and Bob McWhorter made the All-Southern football and baseball teams, as he continued to do for several years. Indeed, it is a well-recognized fact that McWhorter was the greatest football player who ever wore the red and black. The chapter occupied for the year a house at the corner of Hull and Dougherty streets. There were twenty-three men on the roll this year, seventeen of whom were present during 1909-'10. Four new men were initiated, and Broughton, who had graduated with A.B., in 1907, and with A.B. again at Yale in 1908, returned to take law. Three of the men withdrew from college before the end of the year. The initiates were: 379. Robert Ligon McWhorter, '14, a son of Judge McWhorter, Eta '77, and a brother of Hamilton McWhorter, Jr., Eta, '12. 380. Charles McDonald Brown, '14, a brother of J. E. Brown, '11. 381. Hamilton Crisp Cutts, '14. 382. George Barnes Barrett, '14. The graduating class of 1911 was the largest in the history of the institution, forty-six men receiving degrees. Six Eta brothers graduated, Adams and Marshall in law, and J. E. Brown, Dancy, Moise and Wright with A.B. The military feature of the University of Georgia had grown to be an important matter at this time, quite different from the recollections of some of the older alumni. There were five full companies, a large band, two detachments of artillery and a very efficient signal corps. Chi Phis always held their proportion of the offices, and were not always detained in the "green squad," as perhaps recalled by General Walter A. Harris, Eta '95, of the Georgia National Guard.

When college opened in September, 1911, fifteen brothers answered Eta's roll-call. Every one except the seniors and one junior had returned, and these were joined by brothers A. L. MacDonell, S. K. Dick, Connerat and Hutchens, who re-entered to take law. Eight freshmen were introduced to the mysteries of the scarlet and blue, which made a chapter of twenty-seven. J. E. Brown and A. M. MacDonell withdrew during the session. The initiates, all of the class of 1915, were: 383. William Allen Rawson. 384. Alan Morris MacDonell. 385. Henri Charbonnier McGowan. 386. Clark Howell, Jr. 387. Edwin Nash Broyles. 388. Dan Burke Felker. 389. Ralphiel Phillipps Bassett. 390. Noble Paul Bassett. McGowan was a grandson of "Charby," the dearly loved professor of physics, remembered by the older alumni, while Broyles was a son of Arnold Broyles, 88, an athlete of renown in his day. A new chapter house at 834 Prince avenue, the last one to be rented, and furnished through the generosity of Brother Phinzy Calhoun, 1900, was occupied for the first time this fall. Bob McWhorter continued his stellar role in football, and achieved the unique honor of being chosen captain of both baseball and football teams for the following season. The annual dance given in February was a huge success, as was the smoker given in May to the Omega men who came over to attend the Georgia-Tech baseball game. The losses by graduation in June, 1912, were Paul Felker, Ed Anderson and Woofter, who were the recipients of the degree of A.B., George and Connerat, B.L.

At the tenth annual dinner of the Chi Phi Alumni Association of Atlanta, held at the Georgian Terrace Hotel in that city, on December 21, 1912, an unusual and fitting compliment was paid two Eta men. This association was organized in 1903 largely through the efforts of Eta alumni. Governor Joseph M. Brown, Lambda '72, presented a loving cup to Bob McWhorter as a tribute to his prowess on the athletic field, and Governor-elect John M. Slaton, Eta '86, presented a cup to Tom Connally, with the sincere gratitude of all Chi Phis for his labors in behalf of the fraternity. At the Atlanta dinner a year later, McWhorter presented a cup to Governor Slaton, first president of the association, and "Major" Frank Mitchell, then presiding officer, delivered one to Dr. Calhoun in token of his distinguished services to the fraternity.

At the opening of the college year 1912-'13 the chapter found itself in "a position of commanding pre-eminence," as stated by the historian of that time. Nineteen old men returned, and two former members of Eta re-entered college. These were Brantley Calloway and Calvin George. Roy Stephens Anderson (401) Law '14, affiliated from Gamma, and the following new members joined: 391. Henry Warren Brown, '16, a brother of Ed Brown, '09. 392. Theodore Hammond Smith, '16, a brother of Alex Smith, '06. 393. Huntington Lamar Hook, '17. 394. William Bailey Denham, Jr., Law, '14. 395. Owen Richard O'Keeffe, '16. 396. Addison Reese Glover, '16. 397. Lloyd Brooke Griffith, '16. 398. Cleveland Hunter Norton, Law '14. 399. Charles Sweet Smith, Law '14. 400. Robert Magruder Ammons, '16. Several of the brothers were honor men, several were on the college magazine staff, one won the sophomore declamation contest, and one was an inter-collegiate debater. Receiving diplomas this year were: Calloway, T. S. Moise and Robinson, A.B., Campbell, Lindsay, B.S., Dick, B.L.

For the session 1913-'14, the following men returned: Bob McWhorter, C. M. Brown, Barrett, W. A. Rawson, A. M. MacDonell, McGowan, Howell, Broyles, N. P. and R. P. Bassett, H. W. Brown, Right: Eugene Robert Black, Jr., '17, Atlanta, Ga.

T. H. Smith, Denham and Ammons, fourteen in number, and the following nine freshmen, members of '17, were initiated: Eugene Robert Black, Jr., John Scott Coleman, Henry Mitchell Dunn, Roland Ellis, Jr., Robert Morris Holland, Kenneth Bryant Hodges, Howard Hart McWhorter, John Edwin Oliver, and Charles Dickerson Orme. William Thurston Gilbert, '14, affiliated from Omicron chapter to take the short agricultural course, which made a chapter of twenty-four men. In June 1914, Bob McWhorter, C. M. Brown and George Barrett, graduated with A.B.

Fourteen men returned for the session of 1914-'15, and the initiates were: Elbridge Seawell Boyd, Thomas Bolling Gay, Jr., Alonzo Morris Kelly, Inman Horner Knox, George Stovall Parker, William McKenzie Parker, Clarke Kendrick Smith and Robert Wright, all of the class of 1918. Mark Cooper Pope, Jr., and Charles Augustus Rawson, of the same class, were transferred from Omega. This year should always be a memorable one in the annals of Eta, since it was the first in the occupancy of its own home, bought by the Trust Association for the sum of $7,500.00. This was a seventeen-room frame building, at 294 South Lumpkin street, facing the college campus, and next to the new Y. M. C. A. building. Though the purchase was made May 1, 1913, the chapter could not take possession until the fall of 1914 on account of the presence of another tenant. The chapter expended more than $800.00 and the E. T. A. nearly $700.00 this year on the house for improvements and furniture. An eating department was inaugurated, and through the able management of Ralph Bassett, one of the most valuable men of the decade, with the co-operation of the entire membership, Eta was in the most splendid condition in its history. The writer is indebted to Brother Bassett for much of the data of this year, and of the years immediately preceding and following. On May 16, 1915, the day of the Georgia Tech baseball game in Athens, a buffet luncheon was served the alumni and their friends, and proved to be a delightful occasion. At this time Dr. Phinzy Calhoun presented the chapter with a victrola. The graduates were: Ralph Bassett, Howell, A.B., McGowan, C.E., Broyles, B.S., four out of eight which had been in the class, a good showing. Clark Howell, Jr., was editor-in-chief of the Red and Black, president of Thaliens, champion debater, member of most of the important clubs, including Sphinx. Ed Broyles was on football team. McGowan was president of German Club and Glee Club. Ralph Bassett was captain of company which won prize drill and first active chapter member of Phi Beta Kappa recently organized at the University of Georgia.

The two Bassetts, Henry Brown, T. H. Smith, H. H. McWhorter, Dunn, Oliver, J. S. Coleman, Ellis, Black, Hodges, I. H. Knox, C. K. Smith, Kelly, G. S. Parker, Bolling Gay and C. A. Rawson, 17 men, came back to college for the session 1915-'16. The following were initiated: Fitzhugh Knox, Jr., brother of I. H. Knox, Alexander Campbell King, Jr., brother of Mitchell and Edward King, Edward Howard Reynolds, Robb Church Oertel, Robert Langdon Foreman, Jr., John Lawrence Brown, and Louis Leonard Brown, Jr., of the class of '19; Abner Wellborn Calhoun, a kinsman of all the other Chi Phi Calhouns, and Richard Winn Courts, of the class of '18, 9 men. William Wilson Weber, '17, affiliated from Gamma, and Owen Adams, Coleman, '16, affiliated from Omega, making in all a chapter of 28 brothers. Eta took her share of all honors, N. P. Bassett and Henry Brown being members of Phi Beta Kappa; Bassett also a member of Alpha Zeta. Oliver graduated with A.B. N. P. Bassett graduated with B.S.Ag. and B.S., Henry Brown and T. H. Smith received B.S. A buffet luncheon was served the visiting alumni and their friends the day of the Tech-Georgia baseball game, which more than one hundred enjoyed. A barbecue dinner was given the members of the chapter, and the pledges, at the home of Brother McWhorter. The eating department at the chapter house was well managed by Brother Hodges. In the military department Chi Phi held the three highest offices: Ralph Bassett, lieutenant-colonel, Henry Brown, major, and Theodore Smith, captain and regimental adjutant.

The history of Eta for 1916-'17 cannot be given in full, since the present story of the chapter for fifty years is dated March, 1917. Most of the session has passed, however, and it has been a prosperous period. Seventeen old men returned in September, and 15 new ones have been added to the roll, making in all 32, which is the largest membership since the chapter was founded. The old men were: McWhorter, Dunn, Coleman, Ellis, Black, Gay, Kelly, G. S. Parker, Rawson, F. Knox, King, Calhoun, Courts, Foreman, L. L. and J. L. Brown, and Weber. The initiates, of the class of '19: Elijah Alexander Brown, Jr., kin to a bunch of that name, and to Tom Connally; and James Gaston Gay, a brother of Bolling Gay, and a nephew of Dr. Jim Gaston, Eta '89; of the class of '20; John Heidt Calhoun, brother of A. W., Albert Beda Arrington, Jr., brother of Homer Arrington, '11; Arthur Latimer Morton, Louis Morris Jordan, Thomas Cobb Hull, Howard Bucknell, Jr., Eustace Floyd Lampkin, William Shellman Boston, son of Joe Boston, '88, Clifford Hillhouse Pope, Phillip Byrd Holland, John Moore Walton, Harrison Jackson Polk and William Hart Sibley, son of Sam Sibley, '92. The usual number of honors have befallen the chapter. McWhorter and Dunn are members of the 'varsity baseball aggregation, Coleman was a member of the football team, Ellis belongs to the XV Club, and Black belongs to the Gridiron Club, XV Club and Senior Round Table. Kelly is the first junior ever to hold a commission as captain, as they are confined to the seniors. Bolling Gay is a member of the Senior Round Table, A. W. Calhoun performs in the Glee Club, and Courts was a champion debater. Foreman was a sophomore declaimer and debater, while L. L. Brown was a sophomore declaimer. Lampkin was a freshman debater. Black and Ellis won Phi Beta Kappa keys. A buffet luncheon was given the day of the Georgia-Tech football game in Athens, the largest attended athletic event ever staged in the classic city. About the date of the Tech baseball games, during May, and close to the celebration of Eta's semi-centennial, the chapter expects to give the most elaborate dance in its history. An average of 18 brothers have been eating in the house during the year, an excellent feature of college life which has been well managed by Brother Weber. The chapter has joined the Pan-Hellenic Council of the university.

One of the most important events in the history of 1916-'17 is the extensive improvements now being wrought in the house by the E. T. A. These will cost $1,800.00, and while not providing absolutely every detail to be desired, the place will be put in splendid condition and should furnish attractive quarters until such time, within a few years, when we can erect Eta's ideal home. To sum up briefly other achievements of the Trust Association during its first decade of existence, with the payment of a note of $500.00 on April 16, 1917, fifty years after the chapter was born, the present house will be paid for in full. This money has been raised principally by notes signed by the brothers for amounts of $25.00, $50.00, $100.00, and in two or three instances for $200.00, payable in ten years. The bulk of the notes have been for $100.00. A great many notes were signed by the older alumni, but ever since the establishment of the Trust Association, every initiate of the chapter has signed a note when he first signed Eta's roll, his annual payments to begin after he leaves college. In this way more than $8,000.00 has been collected. Interest on bank deposits, rent from the active chapter ($75.00 per month), and a sum of $400.00 received from members not on notes, bring the grand total to date to more than $10,500.00. The amount of $3,000.00 is still due and unpaid on the notes, and more than $7,000.00 in notes, not yet due, is in the possession of the association. The other expenses have been for operating the association, improvements on real estate, interest, taxes, insurance, etc. It should be noted by the alumni that no item appears for the salary of the secretary and treasurer, who has held the position since the enterprise began, and who has been so largely responsible for its success. How can Eta show him the gratitude which is due him?

Eta chapter has initiated 447 members for the fraternity. Seven were initiated for Omega, one of whom, Jesse Draper, was afterwards transferred to Eta. Omitting the six initiated for Omega, who were never students at Athens, 441 have been active members. Of this number, 38 have affiliated from other chapters, viz: from Gamma, 25; from Omega, 5; from Mercer Iota, 3; and from Virginia Alpha, Wofford Sigma, Oglethorpe Lambda, Xi and Omicron, one each. Eighty-eight members have died, and one has been expelled, which leaves 358 living today. This makes Eta next to the largest chapter in the fraternity, Omicron at Yale being the largest. Of the 260 Chi Phis living in Atlanta, 130 are alumni of Eta, which is not such a large percentage as given in 1904, when 97 of the 161 Atlanta Chi Phis were Eta men. Probbly about one-fourth of the University of Georgia alumni who reside in Atlanta are Chi Phis.

Eta has played a part in national fraternity affairs. Besides having Alpha of Congress several times, and Grady, Grand Alpha in 1882-'83, and Hillyer, Grand Gamma in 1894-'96, previously mentioned, Brother Frank Mitchell was appointed Grand Zeta in 1900 to open the congress in Atlanta, Phinizy Calhoun was elected Grand Zeta from 1900 to 1903, and Connally held the same office from 1903 to 1906, Winship Nunnally, in 1906-'07, and Boland from 1907 to 1910. Three other alumni of Eta, not referred to before, deserve the thanks of the chapter for their activity in behalf of Chi Phi. These are Frank Fleming, for his wise counsels; John Dennis, for his work as secretary of the Alumni Association of Atlanta, and Hugh Gordon, for his interest in establishing the chapter in its own home. No doubt many other alumni, who were conspicuous for fraternity spirit as under-graduates, would continue to render valuable service later if they had the opportunity. Unless an alumnus lives in a center of population of his fraternity mates, he can find but little upon which to expend his enthusiasm. The most notable exception to this rule known to the writer was in the case of Judge "Billy" Pope. Although exiled in the far west a few years after leaving college, on account of bad health, up to the time of his death a few months ago, he maintained the same zeal for Chi Phi. Not more than a half dozen members of the fraternity have ever lived in the vast State of New Mexico at the same time, and for years Pope was the sole Chi Phi resident. During all this while he was writing frequently to brothers in the east on matters pertaining to the organization he loved so well, and was planning the foundation of chapters in New Mexico and neighboring states.

Most of the early alumni of Eta took to law as a profession. While of late years the various departments of business life have seemed more inviting, the legal profession still claims a large share, and always will. In this connection, it is encouraging to observe that while the members of a decade or two ago were not so particular about finishing college and receiving degrees as were their predecessors of the sixties, seventies and eighties, the number of Chi Phis to graduate now seems to be increasing.

Eta's roll shows 82 lawyers and 24 doctors. These doctors are all M.D.'s except one dentist, who did not practice. Twelve give their occupation as farmer, and probably the future will see more of these, since the agricultural feature of the university has grown to be a most attractive and valuable course. There are 8 engineers, 6 teachers, 4 preachers, 2 journalists, one chemist and one architect. It is interesting at this time to know that we have seven men in the army and three in the navy. Four men in the army, not already named, are Frank Clay, Cooksey and Beach, lieutenants, and Hansell, a major in the medical service. Besides Colonel A. C. Hodgson in the navy, we have Gross and Haines as lieutenants.

Death has visited us frequently since the first writing of this narrative appeared in 1904, and we should bow in sorrow as the names of those are called who have joined the innumerable caravan since that date: "Billy" Armstrong, Holcombe Bacon, Frank C. Block, S. C. Brinkley, O. A. Bull, Robert Lee Mason Chilton, J. S. Coles, Fred Crisp, Washington Dessau, W. J. Dobbs, Isaac F. Dortch, Clement Evans, Meador Goldsmith, D. R. Groover, Moses Guyton, Sr., E. M. Hammond, Hugh Harris, Walter B. Hill, Dan Hughes, H. C. Jackson, Mitchell King, H. H. Little, P. W. Martin, James M. Mayne, Ralph Meldrim, J. A. Morris, Brevard Nisbet, S. T. Oliver, W. H. Pope, W. E. Rhodes, Joe Salisbury, C. G. Richards, B. G. Smith, E. O. Stanton, R. G. Taylor, A. E. Thornton, Sr., "Rip" Thornton, Austell Thornton, W. W. Turner, C. R. Twitty, Hugh V. Washington, Rev. A. McK. Williams, Wallace Wingfield, F. W. Wright and Robert P. Yancey.

Many striking examples of success among the younger alumni in law, politics, medicine and other callings could be given, but these will be left for a future historian of Eta to record. Another half century will show inventions of which man does not now conceive. Heaven grant it may show the consummation of the great university that was in the dreams of Walter B. Hill. It will show Eta in a home of its own erection, and with hundreds of names added to the roll. These will be loyal members and will achieve distinctions of which we shall be proud. But they can not love the scarlet and blue better nor reflect more honor upon it than those who have gone before, so gloriously typified by him who will preside at the celebration of the semi-centennial—our peerless Founder!

Class Rolls

Full roll of chapter by classes, separating living and dead, and showing degrees. Many degrees shown were received at institutions other than the University of Georgia. No degrees after names marked with an * were received at Athens. Members receiving the same degree from more than one college have it repeated after their names. Numerals after classes indicate number of members in that class.

STATISTICAL TABLE SHOWING BY DECADES THE NUMBER OF MEMBERS, DEGREES RECEIVED, PER CENT. RECEIVING DEGREES AND NUMBER DEAD.

	Total number of members	Number receiving degrees from U. Ga.	Per cent. re- ceiving degrees	Number dead
1867-1876	88	63	71.6	47
1877-1886	48	26	54.1	12
1887-1896	74	31	41.9	15
1897-1906	94	25	26.5	10
1907-1916	92	42	45.6	4
50 classes	396	187	47.2	88

Summary of Class Rolls and Statistical Table

The statistics show a steady decrease in chapter scholarship, as reflected by the number of degrees received, from the splendid showing of the brilliant company who founded and directed its early life to the beginning of the decade just passed, when the Eta Trust Association was organized and alumni influence became more pronounced for betterment.

During the decade from 1867 to 1876, 71.6 per cent. of the members successfully completed their courses at Athens and received degrees; 1877-'86, 54.1 per cent. graduated; 1887-'96, 41.9 per cent.; 1897-'06 26.5 per cent.; 1907-'17, 45.6 per cent.

Thirty-one who have dropped out of the university before completing their courses have received degrees from other colleges and at professional schools.

The following holding M.D. degrees did not complete courses at the University of Georgia: Howell, Steedly and Armstrong, of '94; Murphey, '95; Thornton, '98; Goldsmith, '99; Richardson and R. B. Ridley, Jr., '01; F. M. Ridley, Jr., '03; Swanson, '04; Baker and Cranston, '05; Dobbs and Lane, '08.

Seven Tech students were initiated in 1903-'04 by Eta to assist in organizing the Omega chapter. One of these, Jesse Draper, afterwards entered the university and became an active Eta man. The six who were never undergraduates at Athens are not included in the table above. The classes of 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, now in college, are not included. There have been to date 44 men in these classes.

As the total membership for fifty years is 446, there has been an average increase each year of 8.92. The average number of initiates for the past ten years has been 10.7. It would be an interesting problem for one familiar with mortality tables to figure how long it will be before as many Eta men die every year as are initiated, and what will be the number of those who will compose the permanent body of living alumni from that date on. There have been 88 deaths to date.

That they desire for themselves, their associates and successors to be incorporated under the name and style of the

for the period of twenty (20) years, with the right of renewal and with all the corporate rights and powers common under the laws of Georgia.

(2)

The object of this corporation is the intellectual and moral improvement and social enjoyment of its members and not pecuniary gain. There will be no capital stock.

(3)

All the right, title, interest, property and franchise of any member of this corporation, in this corporation, or in its corporate property, shall not be assignable or transferable, but upon the decease of such member shall vest absolutely in the corporation, and shall not go to the heirs, executors or administrators of such member; and in case of forfeiture of membership under the by-laws of this corporation, all said right, title, property, interest or franchise of such member shall pass to and be vested in said corporation.

(4)

Petitioners desire the right to purchase, receive, hold, lease, and convey real and personal property; to build on or otherwise improve such property; to make contracts; to have and use a common seal; to enact by-laws; to borrow money and pledge as security for the payment of the same, either by deed, mortgage or other instrument, any and all of the corporate property.

(5)

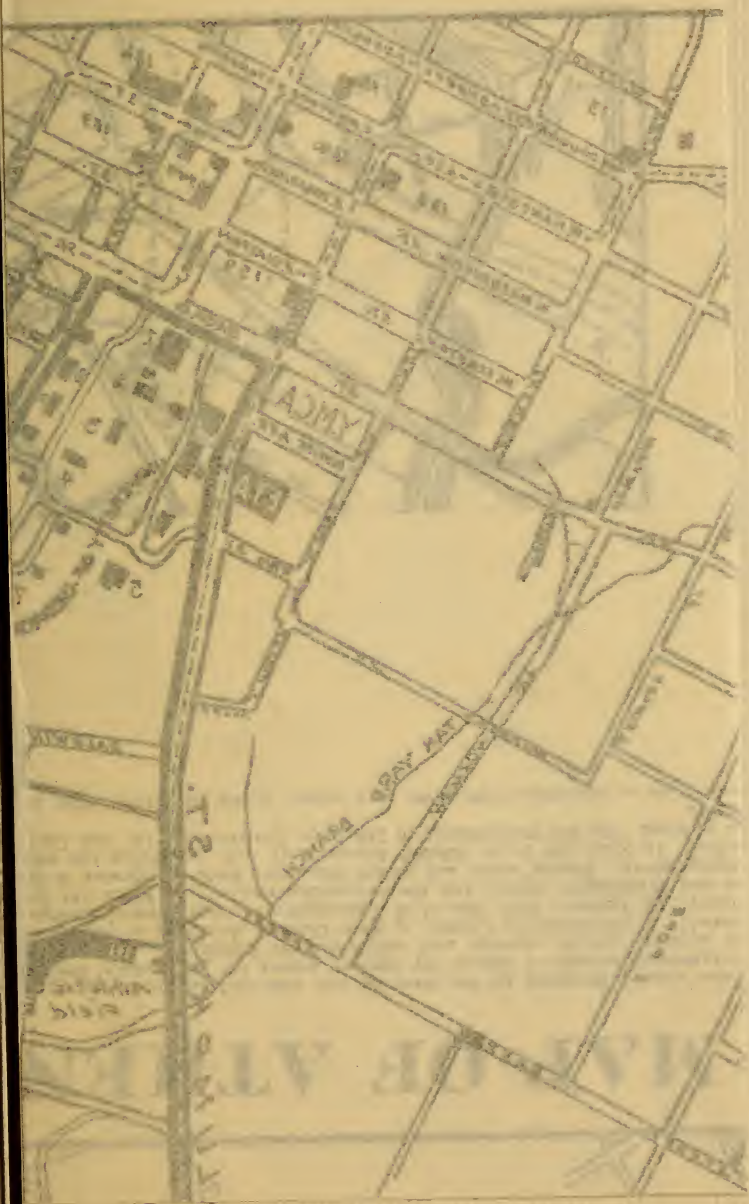

The principal offices of the corporation will be in Fulton county, Georgia, but petitioners desire the right to establish such other offices and places of business as they may see fit.

HERBERT CLAY,
THOMAS W. CONNALLY,
V. B. MOORE,
J. B. RIDLEY,
H. M. SCOTT,
R. J. TRAVIS,

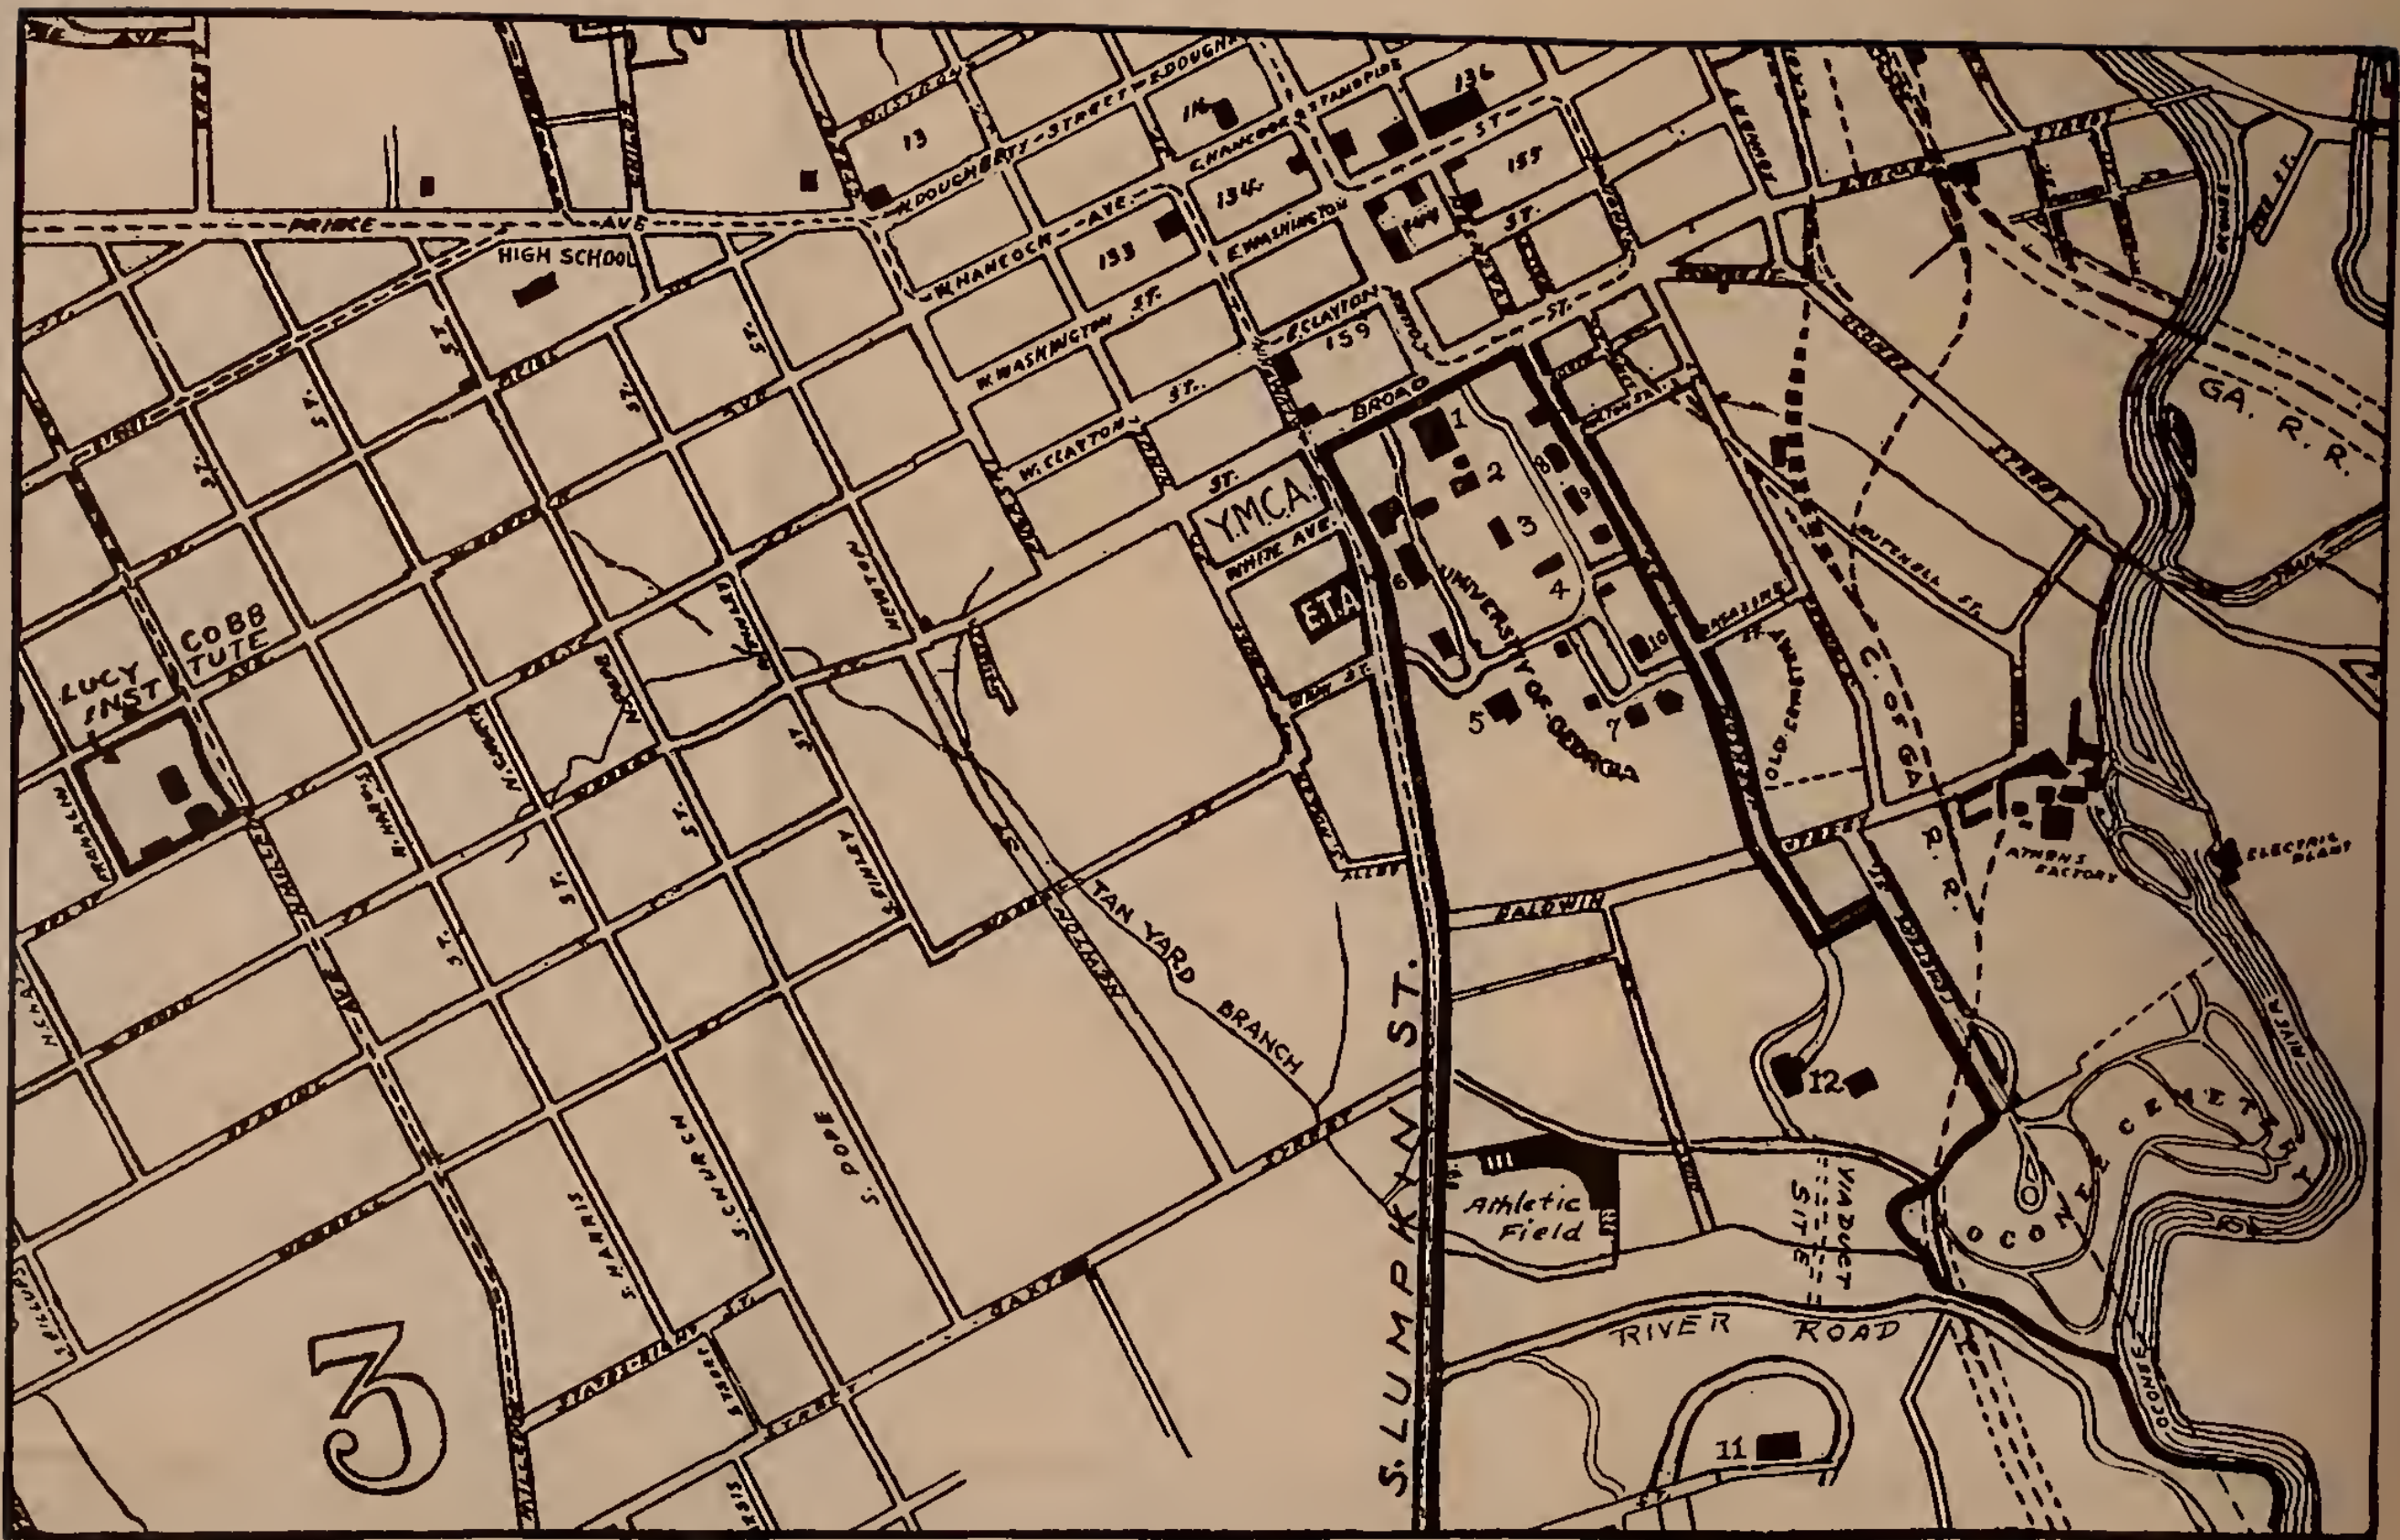

Petitioner's attorneys.

Filed in office April 27, 1907.

ARNOLD BROYLES, Clerk.

MAP OF ATHENS

Formerly the University Campus ended at Baldwin street. Bounded by the river on one side and Lumpkin street on the other, the campus now extends a mile or more to the south and contains ample room for undergraduate and postgraduate schools, a college for women, homes for the faculty, buildings for engineering, forestry and agricultural schools, experimental station, dairy farm, dormitories, athletic fields, armory, parade ground and administrative buildings.

The following buildings on the campus are numbered: 1, Academic; 2, Chapel; 3, New College, Armory; 4, Old College; 5, Denmark Dining Hall; 6, Candler Hall (dormitory); 7, Chancellor's residence; 8, Terrell Hall (science); 9, Library; 10, Peabody Hall, School of Education; 11, Agricultural College; 12, Alumni Hall, Gymnasium.

The business section is mostly in Broad, Clayton and Washington streets and the connecting streets. In block 144 facing west is the Southern Mutual Insurance Company's nine-story office building. The theatre is in the same block facing north. Facing south and across the street from the theatre is the new modern six-story hotel "The Georgian." Facing west, occupying the entire front of the same block is the post office. In block 134 is the $30,000 Athens town hall, occupying the entire front.

The Baptist church is in block 144; the Methodist in block 133; the Presbyterian in 116; the Christian in 13; the Catholic and Episcopal on Prince avenue near the high school building, formerly the court house, which is now in block 136.

The location of the property of the Eta Trust Association on Lumpkin street gives easy access to all activities. The street cars on Lumpkin street run both ways, looping around Milledge and Prince avenues.
