ANTI-GOUT SYRUP OF BOURDON—A supply of this medicine just received 320 bottles of the above syrup, and a letter from Mr. T. Bourdon, appointing him sole agent for his remedy, at New-Orleans, in place of Messrs. Latasa and Bisbaner.

The following certificates obtained of Mr. Bourdon in Europe, leaves no doubt of the efficacy of his remedy against the gout and rheumatism; even here, testimony might be obtained from a number of persons, who rejoice in having made the best witness to the efficacy of this powerful remedy. In fact, can there be a more precious medicine than that a single dose of which brings immediate ease to a person suffering under the most cruel attacks of gout and rheumatism? Such a remedy is a treasure to the afflicted in his affairs. By obstinuing the treatment in chronic cases, the attacks become renewed much more rarely, and with much less intensity; and they even do not occur at all when the remedy is taken in time. In the most not very old cases, the regular treatment produces a complete cure. A. M. PEYCHAUD,

DANCING ACADEMY.

NEW METHOD.

J. DEVOTI, for the last two years Professor in the Convent of the Sacred Heart, and in the Jefferson and Baton Rouge Colleges, has the honor to inform the ladies and gentlemen of New Orleans that he has opened his course of lessons at madam Lefoy's, no. 80 royal street, between Conti and Bienville.

He will teach elegance of gait, the most modern steps, waltzing, the figures of the newest quadrilles, &c. &c.

Three lessons will be given per week—at 4 o'clock P.M. for the ladies, and at 7 o'clock in the evening for gentlemen.

The price will be $6 per month, payable in advance. Private lessons will be given at the rate of $12 for twelve lessons.

He hopes that all who appreciate this branch of a finished education will continue him their patronage.

Every month, in order to ascertain the progress of the young ladies, a ball will be given in presence of the parents, at the academy.

☞ Apply, to Mr. A. Ducas, corner St. Louis st. and Exchange alley. nov13

PENMANSHIP, PRACTICAL & ORNAMENTAL, taught at Dolbear's writing academy, at the corner of Canal street and Exchange place. The eighteenth patent, which is the method of teaching writing has received in various parts of the United States, and the increasing application for instructions in the science, as well as the practice of writing, induces the proprietor to establish permanent academies in New York, New Orleans and Mobile; and it is their intention to afford greater facilities for the acquisition of penmanship, than are afforded by any other institutions in the country. On entering one of them, have the privilege of attending either of the others, without extra charge. The ladies and gentlemen are respectfully invited to call. Specimens of rapid improvement, given by persons from 8 to 50 years of age, who have received lessons in this city, may be seen at any hour of the day.

Ladies are taught a delicate and rapidly evanescent style; also, various styles of Ornamental Writing, suited to all kinds of Compliment.

Gentlemen are taught a free and expeditious handwriting, calculated to facilitate business transactions, by dispensing with the delay incident to decyphering the hieroglyphical scrawl of most men of business, and imparting to the clerk a style at once rapid and elegant.

The hours of attendance are so arranged as to suit the convenience of each pupil, and for the accommodation of those whose business or professional duties taking lessons during the day, there is a night class, beginning at 7½ o'clock.

The number of lessons is not limited, but every person who attends the academy is certain until he writes sufficiently well for any kind of business. This is the interest of both teacher and pupil.

A liberal deduction in charge made to families and to classes formed in any part of the city.

Ladies who prefer it, can receive lessons at their own residences. Ornamental writing executed with elegance.

Diplomas filled and cards and complimentary notes executed in the most beautiful manner.

☞ Dolbear's "Science of Penmanship," particularly designed for private learners and schools, and calculated for persons of all ages, imparting both ease and freedom not attained by any other method, for sale here.
