

They ascribe all the existing troubles, and say they would wonder, in the event of the South, if J. D. Davis, Toombs, Breckinridge, and others would run away, and leave the people to their fate...

WITHOUT CONCEALMENT—WITHOUT COMPROMISE. NEW YORK, SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1862.

Correspondents will greatly oblige us by a careful review of the following articles, and by sending us their views...

LETTERS CONCERNING THE PROVISIONS OF THE FEDERAL CONSTITUTION, RELATING TO THE RIGHTS OF THE STATES, AND THE RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE...

PROPOSITIONS OF COMPROMISE. The Tribune is well assured that a proposition from the rebel leaders for a new compromise has been submitted to our government...

THE TIME IS SHORT. The recent great successes of the Federal arms, their victories on land and sea, and their successes in the air...

WILSON'S BILL TO ABOLISH SLAVERY IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA. In the Senate of the United States, December 16, 1851, Mr. Wilson asked, and by unanimous consent obtained leave to bring in the following bill...

THE SOUTH CAROLINA REFUGEES. It is important to keep our readers well informed respecting the character and condition of the refugees from slavery on the Southern coast...

Among those quotable preparations of moral nonsense which certain poets of the last century made up as pious pills for the healing of mankind...

NATIONAL FREEDOM'S RELIEF ASSOCIATION. At a large and enthusiastic meeting of citizens of New York held at the City Hall, on the evening of Thursday, the 29th of February, 1862...

REMARKS BY THE EDITOR. While we must explicitly rebuke the imputation upon ourselves and "some of our contributors" which Mr. Martineau puts forward as her reason for her conduct...

THE WATER.

As dreamily I mused with closed eyes,
The ebb and flow of water's voice I heard...

Long have I sought, by every means and way,
To reach the fabled fountain of life's day...

JOHN STUART MILL ON THE AFRICAN TRADE.

Part of an article in Fraser's Magazine for February.
The cloud which for the space of a month,
Hung over the world, has now passed away...

Without the smallest pretension to see further into
The future than the eye can see,
I would have been glad to see the day...

The world has been, and is, in this calamity,
And England from the rest of the world,
Has been a calamity. But to be able to defend...

is always adverse to it in feeling; which likes the spectacle of irresponsible power exercised by one person over others...

There is a theory in England, believed perhaps by some, half believed by many more, which is only grounded on the supposition of a complete...

It is true enough that the North is not carrying on the war with a more legitimate title than the South...

The present government of the United States is not an Abolitionist government; and it does not wish to do anything that would do away with...

Without the smallest pretension to see further into
the future than the eye can see,
I would have been glad to see the day...

It is true enough that the North is not carrying on the war with a more legitimate title than the South...

of being a rebel; that the act of taking arms against one's fellow-citizens was so meritorious in its nature, that it was justly to be rewarded...
