MUNICIPALITIES IN ONTARIO

As of Sept. 30, 1960

Cities (Counties 25, Districts 5)	30
Towns (Separated from County)	8
Towns (Counties 103, Districts 47)	150
Villages (Counties 143, Districts 11)	154
Townships (Counties 428, Districts 147)	575
Improvement Districts (Counties 1, Districts 19) ..	20
Total Local Municipalities	937
Counties (43)*	38
Metropolitan Toronto	1

Total Incorporated Municipalities 976

The northern portion of the Province of Ontario is divided into 11 Districts and the southern portion into 43 Counties. The union of the following counties, Leeds-Grenville, Northumberland-Durham, Prescott-Russell and Stormont-Dundas and Glengarry reduces the county administrations to 38 distinct units for local government. The districts, unlike counties, are not organized for municipal purposes and as a result, the 229 incorporated municipalities contained therein are not united for municipal administration.

With the exception of the 25 cities, the 13 municipalities comprising the municipality of metropolitan Toronto and the 8 separated towns which are located within counties, the remaining 662 local municipalities in counties are united for administration in the counties of which they form part. This relationship is for the purpose of the administration of inter-related interests such as education, roads, welfare and administration of justice. Members of the County Councils are composed of the Reeves of all the local municipalities within the county and in certain cases the deputy Reeves.

The 8 separated towns are: Brockville, Gananoque, Ingersoll, Prescott, Riverside, St. Mary's, Smiths Falls, Trenton.

POLICE VILLAGES

In addition to the organized villages listed elsewhere in the Ontario section of the Canadian Almanac, there are some 171 police villages.

A police village is run by a Board of Trustees elected by the residents. The Board of Trustees runs its local affairs, but cannot levy any taxes or make by-laws which involve the borrowing of money. It has to send in a requisition to the authorities of the township of which it is part for any finances it requires, such as for local improvements or lighting or village constabulary.

*There are 43 Counties some of which are united for purposes of local government as follows:
Leeds and Grenville,
Northumberland and Durham,
Prescott and Russell,
Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

METROPOLITAN TORONTO

The municipality of Metropolitan Toronto, by act of legislature, Bill 80 controls the following utilities: in 13 autonomous, contiguous municipalities and urban townships certain roads in Metropolitan Toronto, Toronto Transit Commission, Metropolitan School Board, Metropolitan Toronto Planning Board, Works Department, Police Department.

The areas affected are: City of Toronto, Township of York, Township of North York, Township of East York, Township of Scarborough, Township of Etobicoke, Village of Forest Hill, Town of Leaside, Town of Mimico, Town of New Toronto, Village of Long Branch, Town of Weston, Village of Swansea.

IMPROVEMENT DISTRICTS

In 1943 The Municipal Act was amended to provide for the incorporation of Improvement Districts having the municipal status of towns, townships or villages, administered by three trustees appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

DATES OF MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

Municipal elections in Ontario are held at various dates provided for by The Municipal Act, Chapter 266, R.S.O., 1937, sections 64-71 as amended.

Section 64 provides that the nominations shall be held at noon on the last Monday in December except when the last Monday is Christmas day in which case nominations shall be held on the preceding Friday, and the date for polling shall be the first Monday in January; unless council under authority of section 65, not later than November 1st, passes a by-law fixing dates during the period November 15th to January 2nd both inclusive for nominations and elections, said dates to be other than a Sunday or the 24th, 25th or 31st of December and provided the day fixed for nominations is not less than seven days prior to the day fixed for polling in force until repealed, but no appeal or amendment after 1st of November of any year.

In addition, when new municipalities are erected, the Municipal Board may set the date for the holding of their first elections

Reconstituted 1st September, 1905.

Area—1,304,903 sq. miles

Population 1956 census, 19,313

SEAT OF GOVERNMENT—OTTAWA

The Northwest Territories comprise all that part of Canada north of the Sixtieth Parallel of North Latitude, except the portions thereof within the Yukon Territory and the Provinces of Quebec and Newfoundland, and the islands in Hudson Bay, James Bay and Ungava Bay, except those islands within the Provinces of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec. For administrative purposes the Territories were subdivided into the provisional districts of Mackenzie, Keewatin and Franklin by Order in Council of 16th of March, 1918. The Northwest Territories Act, Chap. 331, R.S.C., 1952 as amended provides for the government of the Northwest Territories by a Commissioner (who is Deputy Minister of the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources) under instructions given from time to time by the Governor in Council or the Minister of the Department. The Act also provides for a Council consisting of nine members, one of whom is Deputy Commissioner. Of the nine, four are elected by the people of Mackenzie District to represent four constituencies in that District, and five are appointed by the Governor in Council. Legislative powers are exercised by the Commissioner in Council on such matters as direct taxation within the Territories in order to raise revenue, maintenance of municipal institutions, licenses, solemnization of marriages, property and civil rights, administration of justice, education, public health and generally all matters of a local nature. The administration of the Territories under the Northwest Territories Act and the ordinances passed by the Commissioner in Council is carried on by the Northern Administration Branch of the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources.

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT ANNUITIES

The Government Annuities System was set up in 1908 to encourage persons resident or domiciled in Canada to save for their old age by the purchase of deferred annuities and to enable older citizens to stretch out their accumulated savings by the purchase of immediate annuities. Canadian Government Annuities are payable for life and may be guaranteed for a period of years certain. Under deferred annuities, premiums are returned with interest if the annuitant dies before the annuity commences. The maximum amount of annuity obtainable is $1,200.00 a year. It may be obtained with an income reduction of $55.00 a month at 70, thus fitting in with the Old Age Security Act, in which event the maximum is the actuarial equivalent of $1,200 a year.

Individual contracts are in most instances eligible for registration as Retirement Savings Plans to get tax exemption on premiums in accordance with Section 79B of the Income Tax Act.

Employers may operate their pension plans through the purchase of Government Annuities for, or on behalf of, their employees. There are 1,223 such pension plans in operation, covering 205,201 working employees. In addition, there are 116,057 individual deferred annuity contracts in force. Annuity in the annual amount of $43,403,649 is being paid under 81,228 individual contracts and group certificates.

The premiums are moderate and annuities may be purchased through Canadian Government Annuities offices in 50 communities across Canada, or directly from Head Office.

For full particulars apply to C. R. McCord, Director of Annuities, Department of Labour, Ottawa.

Founded in 1880 by the Marquis of Lorne for the custody of diploma works of the Royal Canadian Academy and the formation of a national art collection, the National Gallery was incorporated in 1913 by Act of Parliament and placed in the care of five trustees responsible to the Minister of Public Works. A new Act of 1951 transferred it to the Department of Citizenship and Immigration and increased the number of trustees to nine.

The Gallery houses a permanent collection of European, British and Canadian paintings, sculptures, prints and drawings, and holds temporary exhibitions as well. As part of its nation-wide program it organizes travelling exhibitions of the art of other countries, and sends shows of Canadian painting to all parts of the world, Radio broadcasts, lecture-tours, the distribution of colour reproductions and the lending of films, slides and reproductions are some of the means by which the Gallery extends its services across Canada.

In addition, the National Gallery maintains an Industrial Design Division, to encourage good design in Canadian manufacture by means of awards and scholarships, and to stimulate public interest through exhibitions. It has its own library, and keeps a photographic file of original Canadian designs.

THE NATIONAL MUSEUM OF CANADA, OTTAWA

The National Museum of Canada originated in the Geological Survey of Canada which was founded in 1842 by Sir William Logan. Formerly the Victoria Memorial Museum, authority to designate it as the "National Museum of Canada", was given by Order-in-Council P.C. 2615 of January, 1927.

ART AND ARCHAEOLOGY DIVISION

Head, A. D. Tushingham, B.A., B.D., Ph.D., F.S.A., Curator, Far Eastern Department, Henry Trubner, M.A.; Department of Ethnology, K. E. Kidd, M.A.; Greek and Roman Department, Professor J. W. Barker; Chief Preparator, I. Lindsay.

The large collections of this division, housed in 78 galleries, illustrate man's life, skills and arts through many centuries and in many lands—from the stone ages through the historical periods. The Near Eastern galleries document his earliest attempts to achieve an ordered, sedentary existence particularly in Egypt, Mesopotamia and neighbouring lands. Objects from Crete, Cyprus, Greece and Italy demonstrate the important pre-classical and classical heritage. The fine collection of Greek vases is particularly significant. The cultural history of Europe through the mediaeval and into the modern period is set forth in arms and armour, sculpture, ceramics, silver and glass, furniture, textiles, and costumes. Canada's cultural past is illustrated by textiles, furniture and wood carving in the main building and by paintings, prints and memorabilia in the Sigmund Samuel Canadiana Collection housed in a separate building at 14 Queen's Park. The Far Eastern collection is of great importance with stress laid on Chinese bronzes, ceramics, jades, lacquers and tomb groups. The Ethnological collection is very large, illustrating the cultures of the American aborigines in North, Central and South America but containing important materials from all over the world.

Continually changing Special Exhibitions utilize both loan materials and objects from the Division's own collections to focus public attention on particular aspects of man's culture.

EARTH SCIENCES DIVISION

Head of the Division and Curator of Mineralogy, V. B. Meen, M.A., Ph.D.; Associate Curator of Mineralogy, Joseph A. Mandarino, M.A., Ph.D.; Curator of Geology, Walter M. Tovell, B.A., M.S., Ph.D.; Chief of Design and Display, J. Hillen.

This division occupies three galleries.

The mineralogy gallery contains an unusually complete series of minerals from all parts of the world, as well as a special collection of Canadian minerals; collections of cut gems, crystals, meteorites, rocks; and a special series to illustrate the mineral association found in deposits of gold, silver, lead, zinc, uranium and nickel, as well as certain non-metallic series. Among the popular exhibits are a reconstructed crystal cave and a collection to show the fluorescence of minerals.

A gallery of physical geology was opened in 1957. It contains exhibits devoted to geological processes such as glaciation and rock formation, and it also has the six-foot diameter Bickell Globe that divides to show the earth's interior. A new gallery of Applied Geology is being constructed.

LIFE SCIENCES DIVISION

Head, F. A. Urquhart, M.A., Ph.D.; Birds—Curator, L. L. Snyder, Assistant Curator, S. C. Downing, B.A.; Mammals—Curator, R. L. Peterson, M.Sc., Ph.D.; Fishes—Curator, W. B. Scott, Ph.D., Associate Curator, E. J. Crossman, Ph.D.; Amphibians and Reptiles—Curator, E. B. S. Logier; Invertebrates—Curator, F. A. Urquhart, M.A., Ph.D.,

Assistant Curator, G. B. Wiggins, M.A., Ph.D.; Fossil Vertebrates—Associate Curator, L. Sternberg, Associate Curator, A. G. Edmund, M.A., Ph.D.; Fossil Invertebrates—Associate Curator, R. R. H. Lemon, M.A., Ph.D.; Art and Exhibits—Chief Artist, T. M. Shortt.

The gallery of Canadian animals features a reasonably complete collection of well-displayed mammals and birds. Numerous habitat groups and special displays explain life histories and other features of interest. Opened in 1960 is a gallery which shows the life habits and adaptations of reptiles from all areas of the world, as well as a comprehensive display of the amphibians and reptiles of Canada. The recently-huilt gallery of fishes has a colourful systematic series, plus several excellent habitat groups and models of commercial fishing equipment. Displays in the gallery of foreign animals include representatives of most groups of mammals, birds and insects. The four galleries in the palaeontology section contain many rare and unique specimens. The systematic collection of invertebrates, is currently under re-construction. The dinosaur gallery features many complete skeletons and type specimens from the Cretaceous of Western Canada. A recent addition to the gallery of fossil mammals and fishes is an exhibit of bones recovered from the tar pits of Peru by a museum expedition.

The scope and authenticity of the gallery displays is made possible by the continuous study of the vast library and research collections maintained in the departmental laboratories. The collections are also used by scholars the world over, being especially rich in birds, mammals, spiders, aquatic insects, Cretaceous dinosaurs and lower Paleozoic invertebrates.

THE RELIGIOUS SOCIETY OF FRIENDS

QUAKERS

The Religious Society of Friends originated in England in the 17th Century. Its distinctive Christian witness has been based on what has been called "The Inner Light". Quakers believe that "there is something of God in every man", and that human personality is of great importance. From this conviction arises the Quaker way of worship and the well-known interest in peace, penal reform, and other questions involving the use of goodwill in overcoming evil. Presiding Clerk: M. B. Willson 177 Willson Rd., Welland, Ontario.

CANADIAN YEARLY MEETING

THE SYNAGOGUE IN CANADA

There is no federation of synagogues in Canada. Each synagogue is autonomous, is responsible to no superiors, affiliated with no hierarchy. Any group of Jews may form a synagogue, which does not necessarily require the services of a rabbi, any individual being eligible to lead in the recital of prayers.

There are three tendencies evident in Judaism—orthodox, conservative and reform. The orthodox tendency parallels the fundamentalist movement in Christianity; the reform tendency is modernism in Judaism; the conservative tendency is the middle movement.

Several synagogues in Canada are affiliated with the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, the federation of reform synagogues. Several other Canadian synagogues are affiliated with the United Synagogue of America (conservative). Most of the Canadian congregations are orthodox and are not affiliated with any parent organization, which in any case has no authority over its constituent members.

Director, Council of Canadian Reform Congregations, Rabbi Bernard Baskin, Temple Anshe Sholom, Hamilton, Ont.

BAHA'I WORLD FAITH

The Baha'i World Faith, which was founded in 1844, has its headquarters in Haifa, Israel, and claims adherents in 256 countries. Canadian Baha'is are located in some 170 centres throughout the country, 32 of which elect local Spiritual Assemblies. The National Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of Canada was incorporated by Act of Parliament in 1949.

Secretary, Mrs. Peggy Ross, 15 Lola Rd., Toronto 7.

DIGGING UP AMERICA

by Frank C. Hibben

Archaeological diggings in Alaska, Central and South America, and the United States, described by the Professor of Anthropology at the University of New Mexico, author of The Lost Americans. The muck pits near Chinitna Bay, Alaska; a long lost 25,000-year-old cave near Albuquerque, New Mexico; a ranch in eastern Colorado; a washed-out arroyo near Folsom, New Mexico; the mysterious mounds (of many different kinds) in the Eastern, Central, and Southern states; a skeleton buried in Minnesota—these and many other discoveries and diggings, some accidentally uncovered and some carried out over a period of many years, tell the story of North America's prehistory. In his new book, Dr. Hibben tells the fascinating story of how the evidence was pieced together; how modern science accurately measures the antiquity of an unearthed object; the painstaking study of differing cultures—the Eskimo, the Aztec, the Mound Indians, the earliest nomadic hunters who some 25,000 years ago wandered from Asia across the Bering Strait, to remain, and fan out, down, and across the continent. Dr. Hibben explains the importance of what has been left behind—ashes of 10,000-year-old-fires, spear points, artifacts, potsherds, carvings, masonry, villages, whole cities, temples—all predating, often by thousands of years, the "discovery" of America by European navigators in the fifteenth century.

EHRlich's BLACKSTONE

by J. W. Ehrlich

The Philosophy and History Of The Law Under Which We Live

Blackstone's Commentaries, more than any other single book, are the basic codification of English and American law, and it is perhaps the most celebrated legal work ever written. Now, one of the country's great trial lawyers has taken the original Blackstone and, by careful editing, brought it completely up-to-date.

THE UNTRIED CASE

by Herbert B. Ehrmann

This is a new edition, containing fresh and telling material, of a book that provides the missing link in the Sacco-Vanzetti case. For years, men of good will have been troubled by the executions of the humble shoe worker and the philosophic fish peddler, but the question remained: If Sacco and Vanzetti did not shoot down the two payroll guards, who did? Mr. Ehrmann provides the answer.

The powerful appeal of this book is twofold: first, to all those sensitive to any possible blot on justice; and second, to any reader whose appetite quickens to a good mystery, to whom the step-by-step build-up of evidence is inevitable lure. Such is Mr. Ehrmann's method.

The author, as a young attorney, was associated with the late William G. Thompson in the latter stages of this tragedy; he is now a distinguished member of the Boston Bar. The introduction is by Professor Edmund M. Morgan, formerly Professor of Evidence, Harvard Law School, who is uniquely qualified to comment on the case.

The Institute is a private organization supported by some Government grants and public subscriptions. Its Employment Department trains and places blind men and women in general business and industrial positions. It operates sheltered shops to afford employment for blind men and women who, because of age, physical handicaps, or personal preferences cannot work in regular industry. It controls tobacco stands, news stands and industrial cafeterias, managed by the sightless. It gives instruction in Braille reading and writing, typewriting and handicrafts. It supplies raw materials at cost and provides facilities for the sale of articles made by home-workers. It maintains libraries of Braille and Talking Books. Every division has a social service department, and in some of the larger cities (22) there are residences and rehabilitation centres for the blind. The Institute is also active in preventing blindness wherever possible. C.N.I.B. maintains a year-round recreation program as a means of adjustment and development for the blind.

Printed or lithographed containers imported to contain goods for export, and printed or lithographed labels, stickers or wrappers, imported to be attached to goods manufactured or produced in Canada for export trade, may be exempted from the provisions of Section 16 of the Customs Tariff Act, provided the importer signs a certificate on the face of each entry as follows:

"The containers, labels, stickers or wrappers, described on this entry are imported bona fide by the undersigned to contain or to be attached to goods for export, and will be exported with such goods."

Imported containers, labels or wrappers, printed or lithographed, intended to be filled with or used upon domestic products may be marked in such a manner as to indicate the origin of the goods in their condition as imported, for example: "Label printed by John Jones, New York," thereby avoiding an improper imputation of origin in respect of the Canadian manufactured goods with which such imported containers, labels or wrappers are used.

Printed or lithographed matter, imported in single copies, unbound, for the use of the importer and not for sale, for religious, philosophical, educational, scientific or literary purposes, or for the encouragement of the fine arts, may be delivered without being marked with an indication of the country of origin.

The indication on pencils must not be within one inch of an end which is or may be pointed.

Crayons or chalk, covered with wood, paper or other covering as a holder or for protection, are each required to be marked. Uncovered crayons or chalk may be marked on the first or immediate container.

An indication of the country of origin will not be accepted as complying with the requirements as to permanency if, although otherwise satisfactory, the marking has been accomplished by means of painting or stamping after the articles have been kiln-fired in the process of manufacture.

With respect to chinaware and porcelainware, the Department will accept the name of the country alone as a satisfactory indication of the country of origin, and will also accept the name of the manufacturing or producing firm accompanied by the country of origin, without the inclusion of the city or province in that country in which the manufacturer or pro-

DRAWBACK ON GOODS IMPORTED INTO CANADA AND EXPORTED THEREFROM

The following regulations have been established governing Customs and Excise drawback on goods imported into Canada and thereafter exported, effective on and from September 1, 1946.

When imported goods on which duties and/or taxes have been paid are exported from Canada, there may, subject to the following conditions, be allowed a drawback of ninety-nine per cent of the duties and/or taxes paid thereon:—

1. The drawback shall be paid to exporter of the goods.

2. Whole packages of goods as imported may be broken and part only thereof exported, but no use shall have been made in Canada of the goods exported;

3. The quantity and identification of such goods imported and exported and the amount of duties and/or taxes paid thereon shall be ascertained;

4. Claims for drawback submitted on and after September, 1, 1946, shall not cover goods exported for a period of more than twelve consecutive months and must be filed with the Collector and complete evidence attached thereto within a period of six months from the date of the last export entry covered by the claim. Nothing in these regulations shall be deemed to alter or amend the law, or to affect any discretion vested in the Minister with respect to the payment or non-payment of drawbacks, and the Minister shall be the sole judge as to whether any claim for drawback shall be paid in whole or in part.

6. Upon the exportation of goods entitled to drawback, export entries, in triplicate, in the usual form (with the words "subject to Drawback" marked on the face), shall be filed with the Collector at the port of exit from Canada, naming the conveyance by which and the country or place to which the goods are to be exported and fully describing the kind and quantity thereof and also the marks and numbers on the packages;

(b) A certified true copy of the export invoice;

(c) A copy of the export entry, duly numbered and certified by the Collector at the port of exit where the goods were entered for exportation from Canada;

(d) A certificate of importation, sale or transfer, in form prescribed by the Minister, when the claimant entitled to drawback is not the importer of the goods.

CUSTOMS PROCEDURE, ETC.

EXPORTING TO THE UNITED STATES

The customs laws of the United States, governing the importation of goods, very materially differ from ours. They have no such thing as the manifesting system such as we have, and all merchandise is supposed to be entered at the first port of arrival. However, they have ports termed I.T. Ports (immediate transport ports) to which goods may be forwarded in bond, without appraisal at the frontier port. In this case the goods must be carefully marked "Forwarded in Bond."

Merchandise, in order to be entered under Immediate Transportation, without appraisal at the frontier, must be destined to a designated immediate transportation port, and must be billed via a port at which merchandise may be entered for transportation to another port without appraisal.

These ports through which goods must be billed and to which they must be consigned may be learned from the transportation company as the lists are too extensive to be given space here.

If goods are destined for a foreign country they are entirely under Transportation and Exportation entry in bond, in transit, for exportation from the seaboard port.

EXPORTING TO OTHER COUNTRIES

Exporters requiring information regarding invoice forms and Customs Regulations of other countries, applying to goods exported from Canada, should write to Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa.

GIFTS TO THOSE ON ACTIVE SERVICE

To be exported as gifts, addressed to members of the armed forces of the British Empire or their Allies, do not require a permit to export.

GOODS TO BE RETURNED TO THE U.S.

Merchants finding it necessary to return goods not according to order and wishing to obtain refund of duty will be required to make out four different forms to accompany the way bill when goods are shipped back. If shipment is over $100.00 the forms are as follow:

1. "Foreign Owner's Oath" or "Oath of American Manufacture."
2. American Consular Certificate.
3. Export papers in triplicate.
4. One certified copy of Customs Incoming Manifest.

Where shipment is under $100.00 the American Consular Certificate and Incoming Manifest are not required.

The intending consignee must send to the U.S. shipper for an affidavit on a prescribed form, mentioned above as the Oath of American Manufacture, declaring the goods to be of United States origin or manufacture, in order that the goods when returned may pass the U.S. Customs without duty.

When this affidavit is received it must be attached to the way bill by the transportation agent here and forwarded along with the goods. This will enable the United States Customs Officer at the frontier to recognize the goods as home manufacture and have them forwarded on to destination without duty. The original U.S. shipper may secure these forms at his Customs, but a better way is for the intending consignee to secure a copy from the local express agent here and forward same to the U.S. firm with all necessary explanation as to line of procedure and thus avoid possible delay.

The American Consular Certificate forms must be obtained from the nearest American Consul, who will send blank forms in triplicate. These must be filled in as required and returned to the American Consul with his fee, when he will return one copy to the intending consignee, who will attach same to way bill with other documents mentioned.

Export entry, procurable from Customs Department, must be made out by consignee in triplicate and attached to way bill together with the Foreign Owner's Oath, Consular Certificate and Incoming Manifest. One copy will remain on file at the port of exit, the second copy goes to the Customs Department and the third copy will be returned by the Customs officer at the Canadian port of exit to the merchant who returned the goods. He will then attach it to the refund of duty claim along with a copy of the way bill as a guarantee that the goods have been returned.

Goods must be in Customs custody within 12 months of date of importation.

CURRENCY CERTIFICATE OF INVOICE

Importers should, when ordering goods from Britain or any foreign country, instruct the exporter or salesman to always give the value of the goods in the home consumption column of the invoice and to show the same in the currency of the country of export.

Internal taxes should be definitely stated.

The exporter should also be very carefully instructed to place on the invoice the currency certificate.

GOODS SHORT LANDED

In the case of goods duty paid and short received, delivery of same upon subsequent arrival can be obtained, without payment of duty anew, only when the following regulations are observed:—

(a) Notice of the short receipt of goods must be given to the collector in writing within thirty days of entry.

(b) If the goods have been omitted from the shipment, a declaration to that effect must be produced from the exporter.

(c) If a portion of the consignment has been delayed in transit by the carriers, a declaration to this effect will be required from the latter.

(d) No portion of a consignment of goods, duty-paid, in respect of which a short shipment occurs, is to be disposed of by the importer until the appraiser has had an opportunity of checking over the goods.

SETTLERS' EFFECTS ENTRY

Settlers' effects are admitted duty free, if actually owned abroad by the settler for at least six months before his removal to Canada, and subject to regulations prescribed by the Minister.

Provided that any dutiable article entered as settlers' effects may not be so entered unless brought by the settler on his first arrival, and shall not be sold or otherwise disposed of without payment of duty until after twelve months' actual use in Canada.

Settlers' effects, viz:—Machines and implements for agricultural purposes, moved by mechanical power, and motor vehicles valued at not more than $2500 and boats for fishing purposes, if actually owned abroad by the settler for at least six months before his removal to Canada, are free subject to regulations prescribed by the Minister of National Revenue.
