HOLIDAY BUYING IS ON THE EARNEST IN ALL SECTIONS

Merchants Count on Steady Flow of Business Until Christmas.

FURNITURE IN DEMAND

Shirts and Gloves Continue as Standby for Men's Trade.

By J. C. ROYLE.

The Special leased wire to The Duluth Herald shows that the country over the country today is filled with a steady flow of business. The merchants still believe in Santa Claus, whatever doubts the modern consumer may have. The psychological effect of the holidays is plainly in evidence as well as the added purchasing power which the high wage scales have made available in actual cash. One striking feature of the buying trend in Duluth is the demand for house furnishings and accessories. On Monday in the last week of the season of Atwood Constable & Co., a department store here, which makes a specialty of furniture and household goods, were more than double the previous high record for a single day's business.

Shirts and gloves are holiday standbys and are selling in tremendous volume. For the first time in some years, there is a strong demand for white shirts, although the quality of the former years was not in evidence. The shower of neckties which are coming on will be heavier than ever and chosen with even worse taste than last year, according to present indications as to color scheme.

The holiday trend is plainly shown in the tobacco factories. The production of cigars, especially of sizes and brands suitable for gift purposes, increased to $5,000,000 in the last month from $3,500,000 for the corresponding period last year. The clothing trade is also showing an increase in the production of coats, and the cotton industry of the United States is working at capacity, where it firm despite the trend in England, where 3,000,000 yards of cotton cloth from the superfluous stores for discharged soldiers, have been thrown on the market at prices under the cost of replacement at present quotations for raw material.

The controversy between building contractors and the city officials as to the early removal of the building trades out of jobs, but it has not yet been settled. The city is anxious to have the matter settled so that it may be able to bring a speedy settlement of the matter. The city is anxious to have the matter settled so that it may be able to bring a speedy settlement of the matter.

RESSENTMENT AGAINST AMERICAN APPARENT AT LAUSANNE MEET

 The other fallacy which has given rise to criticism of America in the Lausanne conference on Near Eastern affairs has been the idea that the United States should not have any responsibilities in Europe, and hence was not entitled to equal consideration, or to a part in determining the nation which had all the other and risk of administering a mandate was entitled to special privileges. What is exactly opposite to what the Wilson administration and secretaries of state promised. Mr. Hughes has understood to be the object of mandate. As for the responsibility, the department of state leads that it is merely following a century of precedent in the disposal of a party to boundary disputes in Europe. America under the Wilson administration refused to be a party to the negotiations of a peace treaty with Turkey because she had not been declared with the Ottoman empire and because it was felt boundary lines strictly a European matter.

 Turkish oil. Millions of pounds have been spent to assure possession of Mesopotamia, but the Turkish army supported by Russia is a menace and hence it appears that Great Britain has fortified her political position by securing the adherence of Roumania, Jugoslavia and Greece.

Roumania received a loan through M. Zakaroff, the Anglo-Greek banker, Jugoslavia and Roumania were promised support to attain a right-of-way to Saloniki and Paganagatchi.

Would Side With British.
 Because of Bessarabia Roumania would side readily with Great Britain and perhaps France and Italy would do the same if the oil were apportioned as it was at San Rendo, while the Turks would be bought by a loan. The plan seems to be to fix the frontiers singly and then refer the concession claimants first to the local governments, and then to a tribunal to be formed at Constantinople.

Turks Heavily.
 "The Turkish" says the Journal—"and others who lay stress on the same point—are unable to conceal their satisfaction. The American bomb particularly has annoyed England, which is always careful to maintain respectability and moral decorum."

Although Ambassador Child's speech before the Lausanne delegates is considered in the majority of circles the most important event of the conference thus far, the American speech is being regarded as a milestone in the history of the Lausanne conference, according to the Temps, seems to wish to make the speech as the chief weapon of Turkey and Russia against England. The man's mother paid her way back home, Mrs. Brimmer said.

Would Have Their Road Work Combined With County's Program.
 In order to overcome the handicap and disadvantage which the twenty-four towns in his district are now working under, Joseph Beck, commissioner of the Fifth district, has made proposals to the board of supervisors in each of these towns, that their funds be placed under the jurisdiction of the county and that the road work of these places be conducted in co-operation with the various towns in the district. The result is therefore that construction and improvement made and the town road funds are not used to their best advantage.

BIG INCREASE IN PANAMA CANAL TRAFFIC IS SEEN

Washington, Nov. 27.—An increase in Panama canal traffic is predicted by the canal zone authorities.

Washington, Nov. 27.—An increase in Panama canal traffic is predicted by the canal zone authorities. The report, made public today, points to a rapid development of the coastwise trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports and declares that "nothing in the future is more certain than that the development of known resources of Columbia, Ecuador, Peru and Chile will support a rapidly increasing volume of traffic through the canal."

Col. Morrow warns, however, that there will be years when for temporary causes growth will be arrested. He describes the last fiscal year as such a one, declaring that the widespread commercial stagnation which resulted in a large portion of the tonnage of all maritime nations being withdrawn from service naturally had its reflection in operations of the canal.

DOCTORS OF MANY NATIONS MEET AT CALL OF LEAGUE

By WILLIAM E. NASH.

(Special Cable to The Duluth Herald and Chicago Daily News, Copyright, 1922.) Paris, Nov. 27.—Several Bolsheviks, four Germans among them, were received last week by the French minister of health. Doctors by profession they formed a part of the international medical conference called to Paris by the League of Nations for the purpose of unifying the health standards of the world.

The United States was represented in the person of Dr. Augustus B. Wadsworth of the Rockefeller foundation in New York city. Moreover, Edgard S. Ydenaticker of the United States health service, who recently accepted an office with the league, exercised a general supervision of the congress from Geneva. The Rockefeller foundation has donated $300,000 a year for three years to aid in the work of collecting health statistics.

"Encouraging" is the adjective applied by veteran observers here to the work of the conference. This is one of the rare occasions since the armistice when the United States and England, France and Germany and Bolshevik and capitalists have co-operated for the accomplishment of a common purpose. It evidently shows that in scientific matters, at least, France will no longer insist upon the exclusion of Germany from the international board.

It is said at the Pasteur institute, where the congress was held, that attention centered chiefly on anti-toxic serums and especially those used in cases of diphtheria, dysentery and typhoid fever, and on the adoption of an international standard for measuring them. It seems that hitherto the standards have varied greatly, one German unit, for instance, being equal to sixty-seven American and 2,600 French units.

Consequently, as many of the laboratories ship their products to all parts of the world, the confusion and risks of dangerous mistakes are great. It was to put an end to such chaos that the congress was held.

Industrial Show MAY BE POSTPONED

With a builders' show scheduled some time next spring, plans for the second annual industrial show may be postponed until early next summer.

At a meeting of the trade extension committee of the Chamber of Commerce Saturday afternoon a special committee was appointed to make a canvass of Duluth manufacturers and industries for the purpose of obtaining sentiment on the staging of a second annual industrial show. In view of the fact that the plans for the builders' show are under way, members of the committee have expressed themselves in favor of waiting until next summer.

The first industrial show staged at Armory last May was a distinct success. M. I. Stewart was general director of the show.

Dresses of style and quality standards that will meet every requirement of the discerning woman—at a saving of a third to a half!

Unquestionably one of the greatest and most important sales of the entire year—our annual Thanksgiving dress sale presented this year as an Expansion Sale feature. Never, to Our Knowledge, Were Dress Values Like These Offered Before Thanksgiving, the Beginning of the Social Season

Don't judge these dresses by their sale prices—they in no way reflect on the quality or desirability of the dresses. They are high-class frocks, bought at big concessions, and offered at proportional reductions. Just such dresses as will appeal to women who know "what's what" in the matter of correct dress. Note the fine materials, the smart styles and the expert workmanship, and you will find that they compare favorably with dresses usually sold at double these prices.

Regular and Extra Sizes Up to 56

The timeliness of this sale makes it doubly important, coming, as it does, on the very eve of the winter social season, when every woman and miss wants new dresses. And such a variety! No matter what your preference, it may be easily and profitably satisfied here. Dresses of a style distinction seldom, if ever, associated with these low prices. Come with the expectation of finding the finest dresses you ever saw at these prices—and you'll not be disappointed.

Charges Foreign Interests Fighting Shipping Bill

(By the Associated Press.)
Milwaukee, A. V. 27.—British and other foreign shipping interests and journals are engaged in a studied campaign of misrepresentation and propaganda to defeat the American ship subsidy bill, Edward C. Plummer, commissioner of the United States shipping board, declared in a speech prepared for delivery today before the Middle West merchant marine and foreign trade conference.

At a meeting of the American ship subsidy board, Plummer said that when Americans propose to do a little discriminating in favor of their own vessels British interests charge the United States is trying to create a monopoly.

Every sort of discrimination has been practiced against American ships in foreign trade, Mr. Plummer said, but when Americans propose to do a little discriminating in favor of their own vessels British interests charge the United States is trying to create a monopoly.

MAYOR DENIES; FARRELL SILENT

Former Says He Did Not Break Faith With American Legion.

Mayor Snively today denied that he had broken faith with the American Legion over the appointment of a successor to Dr. T. E. Sheridan on the civil service commission, declaring he had never pledged his support to Col. Trux unless it took his vote to make sure his election.

Commissioner Farrell, who was appointed by the American Legion over the resignation of Dr. Sheridan, is being investigated by the state board of health for alleged impropriety in his appointment.

The charges against the two members of the board were made in a report to the American Legion. Robert Jacques, Duluth attorney, made the report to the legion as chairman of the committee which was formed by the legion to investigate Col. Trux for the position.

Following is the mayor's statement.

Mayor's Statement.

"Referring to your article in yesterday's issue, as to my attitude toward Col. Trux's candidacy for civil service commissioner, I desire to point out that in the statement to an organization that I had certain views on Col. Trux's supporters, to believe that I would vote for him, is an insinuation by Robert Jacques that I suggested to him to have Col. Trux's name brought up again, I wish to infer that I would, in such an event, vote for him. Having from the start a very clear conception of the conditions surrounding this proposed election, and believing that Col. Trux's candidacy was not in my view, I determined to pledge my vote to no one, so that I might be free to meet any condition that might arise.

"From the very first, Commissioner Merritt declared he would not vote for Col. Trux. I then thought of Mr. Farrell, for reasons peculiar to myself, to have presented another name besides that of Col. Trux, and when Mr. Phillips put in Col. Trux's name, I then voted for him. In the event of Mr. Trux's defeat, the commissioner would have had to name the name of E. J. Kenny, which I would not have done.

"Having presented Mr. Kenny's name, I of course could not vote against him by voting for Trux, whose name was first presented. When Mr. Kenny's name was presented for the second time, Mr. Phillips voted with me for him, just as I would have voted for Col. Trux if Mr. Kenny's name had first been presented and same sort of election. I then voted for Mr. Trux, and I would make sure of his election. I do not believe that I always voted right in the council.

"When Robert Jacques called on me, I told him that I felt Col. Trux could not be elected, that if Phillips and I did vote for him, when he volunteered the name, that Mr. Farrell would probably vote for him. It was then I told him to have Mr. Phillips again present the name of Col. Trux. If by this he was led to believe that I would vote for Mr. Trux, if by so doing my vote would elect him, he was on the right track.

"No quarrel with Legion.

"I have had and desire no quarrel with the American Legion, and I desire the loyalty and mutual helpfulness of its members, and wish to help them whenever I can do so in accord with my duty to others and to my city.

"I was advised by Mr. Merritt that I would be elected, and I was given a short time before the council meeting. I could not vote for Mr. Trux, and I did not want to appear ungrateful in voting against him, as I would have to have done if present at the council meeting.

"I gave my word to no one that I would vote for Col. Trux, or for any other man, and an effort by insinuation to lead the readers of your journal to believe that I did give my word to then 'broke' it, is unworthy of any man or set of men."

GOVERNOR-ELECT OF PENNSYLVANIA COMING TO DULUTH NEXT MONTH

Gifford Pinchot, governor-elect of Pennsylvania and chief forester of the United States from 1888 to 1910, may be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Ten Thousand Lakes Association of Minnesota to be held at Duluth Dec. 15 and 16. This is the first time that the association will meet outside of the Twin Cities and the offices of the organization are planning to make the gathering one of the biggest of its kind. Mr. Pinchot will speak at a banquet on Friday evening, Dec. 15, and it is probable there will be a joint session with the St. Louis County club at this dinner.

Invitations have been sent to the Minnesota Game Protective League and the Minnesota State Forestry Association to hold their annual meeting at the same time.

NEGRO CONGRESS TO 'ASSERT RIGHTS' IS URGED BY SOVIETS

(By the Associated Press.)

Moscow, Nov. 27.—A congress of negroes of the world either at Moscow or somewhere in the United States for the purpose of bettering themselves and asserting their rights was proposed before the Third International, which has devoted several days to the question of the negroes. A subcommittee, which dealt with negro affairs, recommended the calling of a negro congress but the International has not yet approved the report.

Two negroes, one an American delegate, addressed the Internationalists. The latter asserted that a form of slavery exists today in the Southern states and that American negroes are in a most unhappy condition, partly due to capitalists using them as strikebreakers whenever trouble arises with unions. The negroes, he added, feel that their route to liberation lies with Moscow and he hoped that many American negroes would eventually join the red army and navy, perhaps organize their own congress, and thus show an indication of their sympathy with communism.

WIFE QUITS HIM: HE LOCATES HER: TRIES RECONCILIATION

Herman Haglund was sad and puzzled last night, trying to work out a solution whereby he could win back his wife and three children who ran away from him Saturday. He told the story to police. They located Mrs. Haglund for him and today Haglund is going to confer with John G. Dow, county humane agent, and then try to effect a reconciliation.

Mrs. Haglund has worked in Duluth at different times, generally in small hotels. She and her oldest daughter, who is 17, have not been in good terms several months and the girl has complained several times of being whipped by her mother.

Saturday Mrs. Haglund received a registered letter and immediately packed her trunk and accompanied by her three other children, 6, 10 and 12 years old, respectively, came to Duluth.

Schultz Says He Would Not Be Without It.

"Tanlac soon put me on the road to health and I never intend to be without it in the house," declared Hugo Schultz, 1171 Greenleaf avenue, Milwaukee, Wis.

"For two years my stomach was all out of order. I suffered from indigestion and gas bloating and was in distress after every meal. My appetite was poor, my liver was sluggish and my color was very yellow. Constipation caused me no end of trouble, my back hurt terribly in the region of my kidneys and I was so nervous and restless I couldn't sleep.

"Five bottles of Tanlac fixed me up fine. I have a big appetite, everything agrees with me, and I am enjoying the very best of health. Tanlac has done even more than was claimed for it in my case."

Roast Turkey for Thanksgiving

National
STEAM PRESSURE ALUMINUM COOKER

If there is any one meat dish that is more popular than all others, it is good Roast Turkey. The three prime requisites are that it shall be thoroughly cooked, juicy, tender, and nicely browned.

This excellent result can best be accomplished in a National Cooker. The first consideration is the proper cooking time for good results.

To roast young turkey, place the Cooker over the flame so as to have it hot when the turkey is ready.

Tie the wings close to the side of the body. Fasten the legs down so that they help to make a flat surface with the breast.

If the Cooker is hot, place the turkey on the bottom of the Cooker and set it, using a little butter or turkey fat. Then add the desired seasoning, also not more than two tablespoons of water.

Close the Cooker in the proper way and cook according to weight—and whether a young fowl or old.

It is a maxim with me that no man was ever written out of reputation but by himself.

ence and declares that this is not a free country, and then with impunity says things that would land him in a dungeon if it were not a free country, he is proving better than he knows. He is building that in the main his charges are not true, and that makes them rather nonsensical. He is better free, talking big and unintentionally proving that what he says isn't so, than he would be in prison claiming a martyrdom that would prosper the cause of violence and hate that he has come to stand for. It may easily be that that is precisely what he would like to bring about, figuring that by posing as a martyr to conscience and the cause of free speech he could do no more damage than he can when he is permitted to rave on.

MASSACHUSETTS—THERE SHE STANDS!

In the light of the complete official figures, the vote of Massachusetts on the question of a public censorship of motion pictures is highly impressive.

Not only did the people vote overwhelmingly against the censorship—545,919 against and 207,476 for—but the vote against it was a larger figure than the vote for any candidate running in Massachusetts in this election. The successful candidate for governor received 462,277 votes, and his was the highest vote received by any candidate. Yet 83,462 more people voted against censorship than voted for the man who, in winning the governorship, received the highest number of votes cast for any candidate for any office.

The fight was clear and straightforward, and there was no chance for confusion. The legislature had passed a law providing for state censorship of motion pictures. The referendum was invoked, and the people were called upon to decide whether or not this act should be permitted to become a law. By an overwhelming vote, they decided that they did not want it to become a law.

And they didn't mean by that that the roughneck element among motion picture producers should be permitted to do its wretchedest; far from it. They simply meant that though bad motion pictures should be cut out and all motion pictures should be improved, censorship is the wrong way to go about it.

And it is the wrong way. There can be no doubt about that. Censorship of literature, press, drama or speech is dangerous business. Nobody, somehow, seems to be fit to handle it. There seems to be something about the job of censor, the opportunity to dictate to other people that robs even sensible people of their judgment. Then they do foolish things, ridiculous things, tyrannical things; and even if the process of censorship does eliminate some minor evils, it tends to bring out the greatest evils of them all—arbitrary and tyrannical suppression.

If motion pictures or books get nasty, there are laws in plenty to handle them with, and they ought to be handled ruthlessly. There should be no slightest encouragement for those who would, if they could, make money by pandering. And motion pictures and books that have unworthy ideals should be visited by the displeasure of an intelligent public. But censorship is not the way. Neither is a freedom made license by abuse the way. The motion picture industry has had warning enough of tendencies that will make trouble for it if they are indulged. It has taken that warning, and it has organized accordingly with Will H. Hays, a man of good sense and judgment, in charge. That organization has worked much good already, and will work more; especially if it has the support of intelligent patrons of the motion picture. Conditions would have to be pretty bad to be as bad as a censorship, and there is no argument in favor of censoring motion pictures that is not just as strong in favor of censoring books, pictures, newspapers and speech.

The way to fight poor motion pictures is with good motion pictures; and the public can do its part by patronizing good ones and withholding patronage from bad ones.

$50,000 FOR A STRAWBERRY PLANT.

Harlow Rockhill of Conrad, Iowa, has distinguished himself, rendered the public a great service, and, at the same time, has put his bank account on Easy Street.

He did not evolve a new rule under which people could live happily ever after. He did not join the army of public censors distinguished alike by their foolishness and their variations. His achievement was a new species of strawberry.

Most folks considered the strawberry a perfect fruit as it was, but Harlow Rockhill did not think so. He developed a variety which produces an unusual number of well shaped berries, of a delicious sweetness, which bears in the early summer for the early market. But the half is not told. The "Rockhill" as the new plant is called in honor of the man who developed it, is not satisfied with its early crop of luscious fruit. Its crowing glory is its second crop begin—late summer and continuing until frost.

The Passing Show of 1922

Remarks—From Grave to Gay, From Wise to Frivolous—On Current Events.

Profit in Immigration Restriction
Chicago Tribune: Statistics compiled by the bureau of immigration from Jan. 1, 1922, shed an interesting new light upon the effect of our national policy of limiting immigration. As a result of steel mills, some railroads, and other employees of unskilled labor, more than 1,500,000 foreign immigrants and domestic domestics are repeatedly attacking the immigration restriction laws. The number of immigrants within the United States that occurred prior to the limitation of the law is 1,500,000. In 1922, only 50 per cent of immigrants crowded into the limits of New York City, New California, Texas, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Illinois and other states are getting a fair proportion. There is one logical conclusion to be drawn.

Immigrants now are going where they are needed. That means they are going where they can find work and where they can be absorbed, not only economically but socially and politically. It promises on the American side a better class of immigrants, and on the other side a better class of workers. They are at least welcomed, and may be taught by countrymen who have themselves profited by primary lessons in Americanization.

If such scattering of immigrants within our borders is due to the 3 per cent restriction law, it should be enough in itself to uphold and perpetuate that law. Even under the new law, which allows 10 per cent of the number of their countrymen already within the limits, the doors are open to all the foreign blood we can assimilate.

The total number of immigrants in the fiscal year 1921-1922 is 255,825. Of these approximately 250,000 have already come to America. The remainder, approximately 5,000, are on the way. The latter nearly all must be Germans, British, and Scandinavians. Immigrants from these countries are the most helpful to ourselves as Americans, and potentially the most helpful to the world. They are, without exception, men and women of high character, and neither should we lower the barriers to them, nor should we turn them back when they have reached more than 1,500,000 in a year. It would be a lovely thing to admit them all as they desire to come.

The law still permits the immigration of foreign labor to our shores for the purpose of assisting in the construction of public buildings. That is, and should remain, the limit.

The Small-Town Lawyer

Philadelphia Public Ledger: The resignation of Justice Clark from the Supreme Bench was foreshadowed at the time of the resignation of Justice Clarke from the court for nearly twenty years. When President McKinley lifted him from court, he was appointed to his present office as a small-town lawyer. It is now a small town, and he is still a lawyer. He is now a small town, and he is still a lawyer. He is now a small town, and he is still a lawyer.

Our National Rotundity

New Orleans Times-Picayune: Beside war and pestilence, the worst of all plagues is rotundity. The American people are getting fatter, and the horror of obesity is being realized by millions. The American people are getting fatter, and the horror of obesity is being realized by millions. The American people are getting fatter, and the horror of obesity is being realized by millions.

Judicial Procedure That Delays Justice

Trials that take but a few days in England occupy many weeks in America. I know it is often said that it is the fault of our procedure. This is utter nonsense, and every judge knows who has honestly and vigorously tried to expedite justice.

Procedure is partly legislative, and mostly judicial, and on its face, at least, it was adopted in order to proceed with trial to an early and equitable judgment. But, alas, our procedure that should proceed has been converted into a "doctrinaire" that delays, and the judge is the one responsible for it.

Naturally, much of our early procedure was adopted from the English system, but England long ago abandoned her antiquated methods that delayed justice, and the speed-up system which is the product of the judges themselves—trial judges and appellate judges—has become a model for the world.

Out Among the Neighbors

Rambling Comment on Northwest Men, Newspapers and Communities.

The Virginia Chamber of Commerce not only can't devise a good slogan, but it knows how to make it mean something more than merely a catchy phrase. A delegation of trade tourists from that body made a neighborly call on International Falls last week under the banner, "Virginia a Friendly City" and proved it so conclusively that Border City people and papers are talking yet about how many good fellows Virginia has. Business men have little to do with sentiment, but the enterprising Virginians have noticed that when the average man buys he prefers to read what they like.

The Tax of That Untaxed 30 Billions

Capner's Weekly: Columbia university expert in political economy, Dr. E. R. Sellinger, estimates there are $10,000,000,000 in tax-deferred bonds outstanding along with $20,000,000,000 in government tax-free bonds. And this total of $30,000,000,000 worth of property which does not pay one dollar of taxes, are accumulating every twelve-month with another billion dollars.

The Unblessed Peacemakers

Capner's Weekly: Never were such powerful peace persuaders at work as are visible in the world today. These peace workers—Turks or no Turks. Here are some of them:

As a result of war, England's immense foreign trade has shrunk one-third in volume, her domestic trade is in a half, her taxes have increased five times, not counting interest on her war debt. Today England lacks a center of every dollar an Englishman earns, for taxes.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED FOR OUR PUZZLED FANS

J. G. C.: I have a detector and two-step amplifier outfit on which I hear music very nicely, but the B battery runs down in a few hours. It is evident there is a short circuit somewhere. Can you suggest anything?
Ans.: Since your set functions, the short circuit must be rather low resistance. We suggest you take a pair of head phones and a single dry cell and with the tubes not lit, check up for a short circuit, which you will no doubt have little difficulty in finding. Your A and B battery connections seem to be correct.
B. C.: I have a single circuit set and it is hard to tune. My aerial is eighty feet long. Can you suggest anything?
Ans.: We suggest a potentiometer for your B battery circuit and a vernier for your coupling handle. If you do not have single turn variation on your tuner you should provide for it.
E. V. S.: Will an aerotron tube work on a hookup that calls for a six-tube filament tube?
Ans.: Yes.
H. A. B.: I am building a receiver with radio frequency. What size condensers should I use?
Ans.: See answer above.
C. O.: Will the smoke from the chimney passing over the aerial change the tuning of the set any?
Ans.: Slightly.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

FARMER WARNED AGAINST BORER

State Agricultural Department Plans Offense on European Corn Pest.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27.—Farmers throughout the state, especially those in the corn belt, are urged by St. A. Holmberg, state commissioner of agriculture, to report at once to state agriculture officials any signs of the invasion of the European corn borer, which Mr. Holmberg says, is causing great losses to corn growers of Eastern states.

Although no evidence of this dreaded parasite has been discovered in the state, Mr. Holmberg is anxious that every precaution be taken to exclude an invasion from Eastern states.

The worm was imported to the Eastern states from Europe in 1869, and it is now spreading rapidly through the Atlantic coast states, leaving extensive and large devastated areas of corn acreage in its wake.

Agricultural officials of these invaded states are making a joint effort to stamp out the pest, but it is apparent that despite the cooperative work the worm is continually spreading its work of destruction. Mr. Holmberg says it has reached as far west as the eastern section of this, and if proper methods are applied it is hoped the parasite will be exterminated.

Mr. Holmberg terms the worm as the worst menace confronting the farmer, and unless its ravaging is controlled, it will cause losses totaling millions of dollars in the next few years.

Farmers of Minnesota are urged to carefully inspect their seed corn when it is shipped into this state from Eastern points and if possible confine themselves to purchasing seed which is raised in the Western states. The worm enters the corn stalk and works its way up, generally at the end, thereby destroying the entire plant and its fruit. Not only does the worm cause the plant to die, but it attacks the cobs, fields as well, laying low the plants as it advances in the work of destruction.

Weeds are also a hiding place for the borer, and farmers are advised to clear their fields of all noxious weeds or adjacent areas which are covered and form a favorable place for the moth which deposits the eggs in the corn plant.

Burning or tearing out to cuttings, other disposal from the field or from the site, all corn remnants and weeds, grass and other volunteer growths, and must be burned in the field, and standard control measures, Mr. Holmberg explained.

These measures also is a good method, and farmers who have resorted to the use of this method in the past report that the pest has been reduced.

Every precaution will be taken by state officials to warn of any possible advent of this pest, and with the cooperation of the corn growers of the state, Mr. Holmberg is hopeful that the worm will be made its advent into Minnesota territory.

The Blue Book of Social Usage

Three Large Printings Within 30 Days

Manners Are Talltales of Men, Yes, and Women, Too

As our manners are polite or vulgar, so we are either admitted or denied admittance as an equal to the society of well-bred people.

The essence of good manners is a consideration for the feelings and rights of others. If parents could teach that kind of manners to their children they wouldn't need to worry so much about teaching them morals.

After Oregon Portrait by James Montgomery Flagg

ETIQUETTE

In Society, in Business, in Politics, and at Home, which is aptly termed "The Blue Book of Social Usage," was written by Emily Post, author of "Purple and Fine Linen," "The Title Market," and other successful novels.

"Just What to DO, SAY and WEAR, by One of New York's Prominent Society Women"—Philadelphia Inquirer

THE New York Tribune declares that "not since Mrs. Sherwood sponsored her book on etiquette some fifty years ago has anyone so obviously well equipped appeared as authority on the subject."

This new book differs entirely from the many books of etiquette now before the public. It does not emphasize or accentuate the trivialities of polite conduct. Yet there is seemingly insignificant but really important knowledge, from the selection of a visiting card to the mystery of eating corn on the cob, that is fully revealed. Matters of clothes for men and women are treated with the same fullness of information and accuracy of taste as are questions of the furnishing of their houses and the training of their minds to social intercourse. In a word, there is no exaggeration of minor details at the expense of the more important spirit of personal conduct and attitude of mind.

"This volume ought to be a compulsory addition to the libraries of the society folk in every city in the world. I could even wish that the study of this volume might be added to the curriculum of every school, college, and university in the United States."—Sun, Pittsburgh, Pa.

NOTRE DAME MEETS IOWA; CORNELL PLAYS YALE

GRIDIRON SEASON WILL BE CLOSED ON THANKSGIVING

Cornell Eleven Will Meet Pennsylvania on Franklin Field.

ITHACANS ARE STRONG

Notre Dame Will Meet Nebraska in Big Contest of Middle West.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—With sectional champions determined to a degree of certainty in most sections of the country, the curtain will drop on the successful 1922 football season Thursday, when games of importance will be played. The season officially closed at most universities and colleges Saturday.

In the East, Cornell, one of the unbeaten eleven of the season, will play Pennsylvania on Franklin field, Philadelphia. This struggle has been a fixture for years and is generally looked upon as one of the great games of the East. For a time the Ithacans had all the best of the annual encounters, but in recent years the Blue Devils have been too powerful and have won by overwhelming scores.

Illinois and Michigan were the champions of the West. In the Middle West, however, which is composed of some great players, including Yale, the wonderful half-back, Melvin Dickinson, who led the team in rushing, is expected to be a hard contest, and the team has been pushed more or less for the past week since the opening of the season. If the Ithacans win decisively they will be entitled to a high rating among the leading teams of the country.

In the Pittsburgh-Penn State struggle on Forbes field, Pittsburgh, always stands a superbly played football game. Both sides are expected to be in position to win. The game will be a hard one, but it will be one of the best of the season. In the Middle West, however, which is composed of some great players, including Yale, the wonderful half-back, Melvin Dickinson, who led the team in rushing, is expected to be a hard contest, and the team has been pushed more or less for the past week since the opening of the season.

Notre Dame, however, will go west determined to fight the veterans of the season. The game will be a hard one, but it will be one of the best of the season. THE ONLY WAY THEY LEARN

DICK KERR.

Dick Kerr, former pitching star of the White Sox, who quit the team and organized baseball a year ago because he was being "unfairly treated," has applied to Judge Landis for reinstatement. Kerr pitched independent ball for a while last year but apparently his "freedom" and the fat salary he received did not make him contented. And the revenge he planned by quitting the team gave him little satisfaction.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Iowa and Michigan were left the outstanding claimants of the football title in the eastern conference by the closing games of the season Saturday in which Chicago, the only other contender, was defeated. Iowa was defeated by Wisconsin, Iowa ended her season with a 37 to 3 victory over Northwestern, while Michigan was defeating Minnesota, 16 to 7. In the other games of the day, Indiana and Purdue tied for a 7 to 7 tie, and Ohio defeated Illinois, 6 to 3.

The question as to whether Chicago would be allowed to share the title with Iowa and Michigan is one of the subjects which will be discussed at the conference meeting and the opportunity to meet and discuss the matter.

Some observers argue that since Chicago did not lose a game, the Michigan team is not a true champion. However, it was not until today that the Army and Navy cohorts succeeded in standing down to a full realization of what they had accomplished in the field. So rapid were the changes in fortune, and so remote was the contest, that the game was almost a foregone conclusion.

New York, Nov. 27.—There is talk among men today that Maj. Charles Daly may retire from West Point as football coach and turn to other duties in the Army. This is not true, however, as he has been appointed to a new position in the Army.

The feat of the Army coaches is the greater when one pauses to consider that victory on Saturday was obtained against an eleven better equipped by the matter of personnel for victory. The writer, knowing what the Navy had in the way of a running and an overhead attack, stated in this column on Friday that the Navy had the better chance to win this game.

Charts of the game made by the writer show that the Army made its attack and running true to form yet the Navy did not. The Army's attack was a masterpiece of strategy and execution.

The Navy ran into the Army in the last game of the season. The game was a hard one, but it will be one of the best of the season. In the Middle West, however, which is composed of some great players, including Yale, the wonderful half-back, Melvin Dickinson, who led the team in rushing, is expected to be a hard contest, and the team has been pushed more or less for the past week since the opening of the season.

EASTERN COLLEGES ENTERED IN ANNUAL CROSS COUNTRY RUN

New York, Nov. 27.—One of the greatest cross country battles in recent years is expected to take place on the 40-mile Van Cortlandt park course, which eighteen leading eastern colleges meet for the annual intercollegiate championship. The rivalry event will be held in the park on Saturday, Nov. 28, and will be one of the most exciting races in which thirteen colleges are entered.

Team competition will be unusually keen with an equal predicament in the field as in the years of the past. The field is expected to be one of the strongest in the history of the race.

But when Camp launches roll call of superb swiftness galleons, you will hear grand blast from Portland, Me. to Portland, Me. It will leap from throats of boys Camp himself, with starting blocks from relatives and friends. And when players stop hissing Camp's 1922 ticket of sporting experts will start hopping on Walt's soap.

Every expert that guesses wrong scores every week feels entitled to grind out personal cast that can wallop Camp's first team. It is too late to settle quarrel on football lawn, so experts proceed to beat Camp's record by slinging adjectives at his line-up and breaking out in type with smart abuse. When time comes to do Christmas shopping late, Walt has topped up his box of non-stomach and has nothing to worry about till next year's team.

In the fall a young man's fancy is often turned to thoughts of All-American team. Plenty guys want to play on Camp's annual cross country run, but only a few are selected for the final team. It is legal ambition of amateur rascals. For all the talk about the wire, it never comes to anything.

That is pulchritude of crashing on to All-American troupe in line you are selected for fairly late in the season. You can't play on the team until you've proved yourself in a contest without class in snowdrifts or on frozen ice in place of molasses. You get picture in all the Sunday papers, but there isn't an opposing team.

DULUTH CENTRAL RUTH MUST SHOW IMPROVED FORM

Red and White Team Will Open Play With Four Veterans.

By FIELD JUDGE.
Inasmuch as Duluth Central basketball quint made a good record last season, when a start was made with only one regular, with a later addition of two other regulars who were in the material presented to him in the practice of the past two weeks. Both teams are expected to show the material presented to him in the practice of the past two weeks.

The minor leagues did not develop any good fielders in 1922. The scouts traveled up and down and back and forth, some in their going, some in their return, but they called them in their neighborhood. The scouts found them all day but they were not going to sign any of them.

NEW ATTENDANCE RECORD SET FOR GOPHER FOOTBALL

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 27.—More than 7,000 persons witnessed the four home games of the University of Minnesota football team here this season, according to unofficial estimates yesterday. This is a record attendance for the Gopher school. In addition to the home attendance, the Gophers played before approximately 50,000 persons at three contests at other Big Ten cities.

While actual figures as to the total receipts were not available, it was said the season, from a financial standpoint, has been the most successful in the university's history. At the first game last fall, 7,500 persons saw North Dakota fall before Minnesota, 14,000 were at the Ohio State contest, 24,000 saw Wisconsin, and 22,000 were present yesterday when the Gophers fell before Michigan.

SWEDEN INVITES AMERICAN ATHLETES FOR SUMMER GAMES

Stockholm, Sweden, Nov. 27.—The Swedish Amateur Athletic association has invited the American Athletic Union to participate in the summer games at Gottenburg next July, the occasion being Gottenburg's tercentenary celebration. The Americans, who are reported to have accepted, will be guests of the Swedish association, which also offers to pay the expenses of the journey from New York. A fine large stadium has been built for the games, and as many nations have been invited, it is anticipated the meet will be one of the most important in Europe.

LAKE MARINE NEWS

SEASON'S END IS CLOSE AT HAND

Last Week's Storms Curtail Movements of Lake Steamers.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Boats that were forced to seek shelter in Lake Superior and Michigan harbors last Saturday for their various destinations, but some of them will lose a trip. The boats were forced to seek port last week when a snow storm hit points in the vicinity of the Sault and Whitefish point. The wind was blowing a gale and boats were driven dangerously near several obstructions and two steamers were slightly damaged when obstructions were encountered.

Grain Needs Boats.
Most of the boats that will be available to load grain this month have been placed and some owners will not take December cargoes very far ahead. Shippers at the head of Lake Superior are in the market for steamer capacity for next month and it was reported yesterday that a boat had been placed to load at Fort William to hold at a Canadian port at 5 cents.

A service steamer was chartered yesterday to load at the head of the Lakes this month for Buffalo at 4 1/2 cents with a dispatch guarantee. Demurrage being paid remains at three days for all the time held over three days. Two storage cargoes were taken for November loading. A large steamer will load at South Chicago for Detroit harbor at 4 cents, with an extra charge, while another steamer will take a cargo at the head of the Lakes to hold at Toledo at 5 cents.

Coal tonnage demand.
Coal tonnage is in great demand and with offerings light, shippers were forced to advance the rates. Yesterday a steamer that will load Monday was chartered for the head of Lake Superior at 4 1/2 and the rate was paid to Milwaukee for a large carrier that will take a cargo Dec. 1. Three big steamers that were lined up to go into winter quarters have been chartered for cargoes and will report at once.

The cleanup on the ore trade will not be completed this week and at least a few cargoes will remain open. The first part of December, the final boats will leave Duluth and other Lake Superior ports and the weather is very cold in that vicinity the sea will probably have to be steamed. Six cargoes were loaded Friday. Four carriers were unloaded by the Lake Erie docks Saturday. Four boats were on the waiting list yesterday morning while thirteen are scheduled to arrive this morning.

Sault Passages.

Grand Opera Again

Has Snapped Loose From Its Summer Cocoon—S. R. O. Sign, Painted by Raphael, Has Been Hung Out and Annual Song Panic Is Positively On.

By Neal R. O'Hara
Copyright, 1922

Grand opera has snapped loose from its summer cocoon. Soprano hussies have filed their notes from top to bottom. Male yodelers have given remote radio messages. Ballet has taken trial spin in lighter-than-air skirts. Squad of perfumed blacksmiths have dusted off Golden Horseshoe S. R. O. sign, painted by Raphael, has been hung out and annual song panic is positively on.

Opera is unique article of commerce. Customers for restaurant seats drive up to Metropolitan in milk wagons and lose into line at $30 a table. Opera addicts with options on the red plush ambience arrive in time to hear next-to-nothing solo. Function of Golden Horseshoe, however, is to be seen and heard while stumbling over chairs in middle of last act. That gives 'em chance to see some of the home stretch without resorting to opera glasses.

For thirty years asbestos curtain has been hoisted with stalls empty and ballet full. White hierarchy of soloists are warming up. T. Choinoi-dley-Binks is changing platinum shirt and under open plumbing of his private boudoir. The F. Pittington-Smiths are taking milk shower baths necessary to burbling into ultra-forma duce. And the Tuzzington-Browns are playing cribbage to decide which immovable to use. By arriving approximately at 10:45 p. m., they grope in critics, friends and the world in general that are interested patrons of music.

Halt those Wall Street dukes simply

Some day newspapers will trot out truth and mention opera on the level. Then we'll get the real stuff, like this: In box 206 was Mrs. Clay-Mudd in beautiful mezzo-piumenta suit. She carried excess ballet of talcum powder and beautiful knob of switches done in battleship gray. Mr. Clay-Mudd as Billie Van Winkle occupied three chairs and sofa pillow. He was carrying an exquisite platinum flask. Guests of the Clay-Mudds were Mrs. Claude Hopper and Miss Nettie McPherson. Both girls wore sumptuous strings of pearl teeth, which served as overdrapes for chewing gum.

In response to general alarm from box 371, ushers and squad of house-keepers rushed in on luxurious family quarrel given by the Wellington-Meliffis. Mrs. Wellington-Meliff wore a handsome set of black over beneath her longieffe. Mr. Wellington-Meliff was neatly attired in a card-lined bandage over his ass. He looked jaunty and pugnant, although somewhat all in. Mrs. Wellington-Meliff looked dazed. Newcomers in the Cherry Hill section of the upper tier were Mr. and Mrs. Barnabus Bluff. She wore a form-fitting woolen tunic with priority; to prove she didn't knit it herself, Mr. Bluff looked viciously trying to fill out a large dress suit. They left early to permit Mr. Bluff to bring his outfit back before midnight and save an extra day's rent.

Little Benny's Note Book

Yesterday afternoon I had 3 cents change belonging to pop and I met Mary Watkins and she had them rat- tle in my pocket on account of me making them rattie on previous job. I started to make sniggering remarks and I said, 'Well, only 3 cents. It says you some candy with it. If it was a dime you could get anything for 3 cents nowadays.'

'Why, you say, the idea, I never saw anybody with such expensive taste and Mary Watkins and she started to mention some different things you can buy with 8 cents such as some hats and department dress and 2 for 3 cent minnie-waives and different things, and I tried to argue her out of it. In any case, she went around to Mollie Sinnifosa and I gave 8 cents worth of some of my mixture and when I went home I had to pop. Hey pop, it is always nice to do what a lady asks you to.'

'Invariably pop said, 'Meaning you said I said, 'Well, suppose you don't want to?'

'A gentleman always wants to do what a lady asks, this now he knows he's a gentleman, pop said. Well, you know those 8 cents changes I had belonging to you, correct I said and pop said, 'I know them well. I hope to have the privilege of putting them in their rightful place in my pocket in the near future.'

'Yes, sir, Well, Mary Watkins keep on asking me to buy her some candy and all I had was those 8 cents and I saw her some with it, was that right? I said. Perfectly, pop said. Me thinking, O, how and pop said, 'It was a very sorry thing of you to do, because you must of known I would take it out of your money, didn't you?'

'Yes, sir, Sir? No, etc, I wasn't sure, I said, and pop said, 'Well, now you may be sure. Which I wasn't till this morning when pop wouldn't give me any money for reuse.'

A COAT FROM A PAISLEY SHAWL

The Paisley coat is one of the sensations of the season. It is colorful, it is bright, it is warm and it is immensely becoming. There is nothing like this old-time design to lend itself to the coloring of a girl and to bring out her very best features and charms.

The idea is to make a short and slightly flared jacket out of your mother's old Paisley shawl or out of the pieces that happen to remain in the family. You provide it with an interlining. You add a fur collar and you line it with a warm tone of silk tulle from the coloring of the shawl itself. Then you let the pattern of the Paisley do its utmost for the glory of your decoration and you find that you are cutting a figure on the streets of which you may be very well proud. You are wearing, in fact, one of the sturdiest bits of a blouse for the street that have been seen in many a long day, added to which you are warm and comfortable and cozy and you like the way you look as you glance at yourself in the big shop windows.

If the fur collar is black, so much the better, for that brings out the charm of the delicate coloring of the Paisley. By reason of the contrast which it creates you will find that the effect of the jacket is largely increased and that you have as a portion of your wardrobe something that is as entirely unique and entirely up to the standard of the present fashions. It is almost more than human nature can stand to let a Paisley shawl lie idle this season. There is too much real work waiting for it to do in the scheme of modern fashions.

The odor of cinnamon is due largely to the presence of about 2 per cent of volatile oil containing cinnamic aldehyde. Most migratory birds fly by either day or night and rest at other times, but the golden plover flies both day and night. "Unknown soldiers" have been honored by five allied nations: the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Portugal.

THE TREASURE SHIP OF ELDO-RADO.

It was a day of wild excitement in San Francisco when the small steamship, the Excelsior, arrived at that port one July day in 1897. It was the cargo of the ship and not its passengers that caused the outburst of emotions. For the cargo that the ship brought to civilization was gold, virgin gold dust and in nuggets—a full ton of it.

THE TREASURE SHIP OF ELDO-RADO.

It. In the old days of the once Spanish clip there are records of treasure ships coming into port laden with riches; but not many of those could vie with the treasure brought by the Excelsior. The passengers were from Alaska and Northwest Canada—from the region of the Yukon—gnarled and tanned by sun and icy winds, miners who had returned with their treasures. Most of them were destined to dissipate their wealth in riotous eating, drinking and gambling in a few days. They brought their gold to civilization—or near civilization—in cans, in teapots, in preserve jars, in sacks, skins, old clothes and every other article that could hold gold dust. There were at that time in the City of the Golden Gate survivors of the gold rush of the middle of the nineteenth century that had set San Francisco crazy. But these veterans could not remember anything that surpassed the wave of excitement that beat up, so to speak, against the sides of the Excelsior as her motley passengers poured ashore. Wire flashed the news all over America and across the Atlantic, into Canada and the other Americas. "Gold—limitless gold—is to be found in the Yukon for the taking. We have seen the color of it—and it's to be had in vast quantities for the trouble of washing it out." The news electrified the world. Lawyers left their desks, ribbon salesmen their counters, students their lecture rooms, professors their lecturers, ministers their pulpits and grocers their stores—and left them in a hurry. Gold was to be had for the taking in the Yukon. The flurry of emotion in the United States was duplicated in Canada, in the South American countries, in Europe, Asia, and even Africa, despite its own treasure houses of gold methodically extracted by rich corporations. But those who struck it rich made Croesus look like a piker by contrast.

So adventurers from the uttermost ends of the earth took the road, by land and by sea, to the Eldorado when the Excelsior had come to San Francisco. Many of these adventurers—in fact the large majority of them—were destined to leave their bones in the passes or at the bottom of the rushing Yukon. But those who struck it rich made Croesus look like a piker by contrast.

Many women in New York earn a living by shopping for others. Mt. Katmai, in Alaska, is the largest active volcano in the world. In Ireland men kiss when they meet, but a man rarely kisses a woman. More than 22,000,000 acres are operated by women farmers in the United States.
