EXPLORING ADVERTISING VALUES?

To get the best possible buy in the soaring Intermountain America market, check these points:

COVERAGE? Check KSL. Because KSL's day-night area includes 55 counties in four states (with annual retail sales of better than $900,000,000). No other Salt Lake City station comes anywhere near matching KSL's coverage.

RATINGS? Check KSL. Hooper shows KSL far above the rest in Salt Lake City, with an average daytime audience larger than that of all other network stations combined, and a nighttime audience 39% greater than its nearest competitor.

And Benson & Benson's Diary Study proves KSL's total-area lead to be even greater.

NETWORK? Check KSL. Its network is CBS Radio.

MERCHANDISING? Check KSL. Its 5-person merchandising staff travels more than 50,000 miles a year, makes calls on more than 3,000 stores. Unmatched in scope and effectiveness anywhere in the Mountain West, KSL's merchandising was cited in Sponsor's Fall Facts Issue as being among the industry's best.

PRESTIGE? Check KSL. Its community standing and position of leadership throughout Intermountain America is unchallenged. Business Week (Sept. 1, 1951) referred to KSL as Salt Lake City's "chief radio station."

MORAL? Check KSL from every angle. You'll find it measures up as the biggest value — your best buy — in Intermountain America.

AP SELLS

For Stations and Sponsors—

For instance . . . WBTM

“AP service pays its way for us. We carry 56 Associated Press news shows each week, every one sponsored. Biggest sponsor is the First National Bank with a daily 15 minute AP program. They’ve had this show for 10 solid years. In surveys it pulls an astounding 72% share of audience. Nearest competition has 22%. No wonder AP news sells itself! Year after year it provides us with a steady source of income. In the past 10 years we calculate AP has been responsible for 15% of our local income.”

EDWARD G. GARDNER,
 General Manager,

“Every AP newscast sold . . . 78 a week! WAUX and WAUX-FM have been literally built on our Associated Press news and features. We now carry news every hour on the hour and there is seldom worry about a renewal. Our biggest sponsor of AP news, the Waukesha State Bank, has had excellent results—experiencing direct and tangible results with in one week after its AP newscasts started. Nice going, AP.”

CBC NETWORKS.....

Serve all Canadians

Every section of Canada is served by the CBC . . . not only the big metropolitan centres but also the thousands of smaller communities and the vast rural areas spread across the Dominion.

Two CBC networks—Trans-Canada and Dominion—serve English-speaking Canadians . . . while the CBC French Network provides a separate program service designed especially to meet the tastes and interests of French-speaking Canadians.

Used in combination, CBC Networks . . . English and French . . . make Canada ONE BIG MARKET. They provide the coverage, the penetration and the sales results that make CBC network radio a most attractive advertising buy.

In the development and production of Canadian Talent Programs . . . French and English . . . the CBC is glad to extend its fullest assistance to advertising agencies and their clients.

In Canada you sell 'em when you tell 'em!

IF you could walk into the living room of every sales prospect and sit down to tell him what your product will do for him — you could do a better selling job than in any other way. But the cost of selling this way is prohibitive — it certainly would be in Canada.

Canada is a vast country, stretching 4,365 miles from St. John's to Victoria, B. C. All in all, it has 3,845,144 square miles of fabulous resources and unlimited potential. The Province of Ontario alone, Canada's second largest, is slightly larger than Texas, New York and Pennsylvania combined.

With an area roughly  $\frac{1}{4}$  larger than the U. S., the Canadian population is less than 10% that of her neighbor; only 3.57 persons per square mile, compared with 45.1 in the U. S. But Canada's population is somewhat concentrated: 79% live in a narrow strip of land only 200 miles wide hugging the U. S. border.

These figures present a curious problem to anyone marketing a product in Canada. Obviously, it's easy to reach the large population centers. But that leaves a vast market untouched — a market that, in 1949, accounted for over $3,622,465,000 in retail sales — 41.5% of Canada's total. Too often, manufacturers faced with this dilemma have either put all their advertising eggs in one basket or spread themselves too thinly in an attempt to add rural coverage to metropolitan.

The problem is: how to cover both urban and rural markets with a maximum number of sales messages for every advertising dollar expended.

Once you are aware of the problem, once convinced of the solution, then you are on your way towards exploiting this lucrative market.

ASCAP MUSIC

KEEPS THEM LISTENING TO YOUR STATION

What keeps radio and TV listeners tuned to your station? The answer is simple—Music. What kind of music do people like? The answer is simple, too. ASCAP music rates as the best-liked music—week after week, year in, year out.

Program directors can always find in the ASCAP repertory, music for every program and every sponsor: current hits, show music, motion picture music, music for dancing. The best works of America's finest composers are yours to boost your listening audience.

Station operators have discovered ASCAP music to be their most effective station builder — with the strongest listener and sponsor appeal. An ASCAP license gives you a blanket clearance for the entire vast and constantly increasing ASCAP repertory . . . at a nominal package cost.

A BLANKET AGREEMENT with The American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers gives a client the right to use any or all of the hundreds of thousands of songs and other musical works whose public performing rights are registered with the Society. This includes most of the world's important compositions of the past fifty-seven years, plus the present and future works of America's and Europe's best authors and composers.

Therefore, ASCAP becomes a vast clearing house through which creators can do business with users. It relieves both creator and user of all contractual and legal details and all bookkeeping relating to collections and distributions. To make its vast repertory easily available to licensees, ASCAP spends more than two million dollars yearly. Thus the great costs of music clearance that otherwise would accrue to the user are borne by ASCAP, whose members similarly are relieved of the otherwise onerous—in fact, impossible—task of supervising their musical properties.

Like Radio, ASCAP is truly cosmopolitan. Members of the Society hail from every state. Foreign-born Americans from more than forty countries are included in its membership. All speak the international language of music.

ASCAP's activity in music copyright has benefitted all creative talent, going far beyond its own membership. Through the years it has built up a great body of legal precedent establishing the integrity of the music performing right. At the same time, ASCAP has become a leader in many movements having for their aim the promotion and development of American musical culture.

I am happy to extend to the vast radio industry and its young partner of the air waves, the amazing television industry, the greetings of ASCAP.

ASCAP maintains headquarters in the RCA Building, Radio City, with 25 branches throughout the country. Officers as of Jan. 1, 1952, are:

Otto A. Harbach .....	President
Saul H. Bourne .....	Vice President
Oscar Hammerstein, II .....	Vice President
Paul Cunningham .....	Secretary
Louis Bernstein .....	Treasurer
A. Walter Kramer .....	Assistant Secretary
Frank H. Connor .....	Assistant Treasurer

The Board of Directors comprises 12 writer- and 12 publisher-members, eight of whom are elected annually by the membership for three year terms.

By CARL HAVERLIN

President

THE past year was undoubtedly one of the most fruitful in BMI's 12 years of existence. In the realm of popular music, its record was and is fairly amazing. One the heels of the biggest hit in a quarter of a century in point of sales of sheet music, phonograph records and performances, BMI-licensed popular songs further contributed and have been the backbone of "Your Hit Parade" for many, many months. Last fall it was songs No. 1, 2 and 3 in a row in terms of nationwide popularity. Currently it is songs No. 1 to 5 in that order, five out of seven—a great achievement for any organization. But this is not BMI's raison de etre much less its sole objective in life. These hits have been taken in stride and are to some extent co-incident—to major obligations.

BMI continues to consolidate its position on all fronts, at home and abroad. During the past year, it has held 35 Program Clinics in various states and Canada, mainly in cooperation with the State Associations of Broadcasters. For this year 43 such Program Clinics have been set from Coast-to-Coast, all within a short period, plus a one-week seminar at the University of Denver in mid-summer.

The Young Composers Radio Awards, a joint project of BMI and the Committee of Presidents of State Broadcasters Associations, is well under way throughout the country.

More Concert Music Use by Broadcasters is another BMI sponsored project which is bearing fruit on more than 1000 stations. BMI has also been instrumental in making available at cost the Benny Goodman Music Festival, a concert music commentary and program series.

Teen-Ager Book Reviews, a series gratis to broadcasters launched recently is a must on hundreds of stations, programmed in cooperation with local civic organizations and public libraries.

Thus from Canada to Puerto Rico, BMI has not spared its efforts to serve the broadcaster in every conceivable manner. For the coming year, BMI again dedicates itself to such service.

OFFICERS OF BMI are: Carl Haverlin, president; Sydney M. Kaye, vice-chairman of the board and general counsel; Robert J. Burton, vice-president in charge of publisher relations; Charles A. Wall, vice-president in charge of finance; Roy Harlow, vice-president, station service; Jean Geiringer, vice-president, foreign relations; Charles E. Lawrence, assistant treasurer, and Alexander D. Nicol, controller.

DIRECTORS (elected annually): Justin Miller, chairman; Sydney M. Kaye: vice-chairman; Herbert V. Akerberg, CBS; John Elmer, WCBM; Walter Evans, Westinghouse Radio Stations, Inc.; Carl Haverlin, BMI; William S. Hedges, NBC; Herbert Hollister, KBOL; Leonard Kapner, WCAE; Leonard Reeg, ABC; Paul W. Morency, WTIC; J. Leonard Reinsch, WSB; J. Harold Ryan, Fort Industry, Inc. and James E. Wallen, MBS.

SESAC, INC.

By PAUL HEINECKE

President

CONDITIONS in our industry change but the substance of life remains the same. As long as there are people, there will be music lovers, eager to receive the bounty of melody flowing from the present and past. SESAC and its busy affiliates continue serving them, the largest unchanging audience on earth, people of all ages and tastes. Our repertory is now replete with the works contained in over 230 fundamental publisher's catalogs. In the past year, we have welcomed to our roster 24 of these, listing some of the important works of Stravinsky, Milhaud, Dello Joio, Poulenc, Thomson, Arnell, Busch, and many other first-ranking modern composers. A SESAC Performance License gives music users everywhere simple and economical access to one of the basic parts of this country's musical output.

I have more good news about the unique SESAC Transcribed Library. In tune with the times, it has been designed to deliver topnotch entertainment at minimal cost. We have just introduced samples of complete commercial shows, produced with music from the SESAC Library, and they are proving to be sure-fire sales aids. Hundreds of dependable scripts, simply and effectively integrated with music of lasting appeal, make the SESAC Library an easy-to-program money maker. It costs less, is aimed directly at the advertiser, and means business!

Enduring music is firmly rooted in the lives of us all and is a matchless medium for the sponsor to reach and win his audience. SESAC will go on meeting the needs of good listening throughout the years to come. May they be peaceful, rewarding years for everyone.

RADIO EXECUTIVES CLUB—1951-52

By I. E. SHOWERMAN, President, Radio Executives Club of New York

BACK in 1940, its 20th Anniversary on the air, Westinghouse Radio Station KDKA built a new tower just outside Pittsburgh. By way of celebrating the anniversary and promoting its new facilities, Westinghouse invited a group of agency and advertiser representatives from the East and Middle West to visit Pittsburgh as the guests of KDKA. A hundred or so of these people closed their desks and went to Pittsburgh.

The trip was pleasant and the Westinghouse hospitality traditionally high. The best evidence of this was the fact that the visitors from New York took steps later to recognize and continue their common interests in a series of luncheon meetings under the remarkable appellation of "Broadcasters' Bull Sessions."

Thus was started a group shortly to be known as the Radio Executives Club of New York. Perhaps the group might still function under the original name or one as descriptive had it not been for the offended sense of delicacy of the nominee for the presidency a year or so later. He agreed to run provided the club's name be changed. At that moment, the Radio Executive Clubs of New York came into being.

The club's by-laws adopted at that time are: "1. To promote and encourage the intelligent use of radio broadcasting as a medium of advertising; 2. To create a lasting fraternity of persons engaged in radio broadcasting and its allied fields; 3. To provide a common meeting place for all members of the Club and their guests; 4. To promote a better understanding among members of the problems confronting the radio industry; 5. To promote the proper dissemination of information pertaining to radio which may be of mutual interest and value to Club members."

By-law No. 2, above, provides for the creation of a lasting fraternity of persons engaged in radio broadcasting and its allied fields. This, by lack of preclusion, more or less adequately provides eligibility of men and women with varying degrees of interest in television. The club's roster includes many with such interests. Indeed there has been expressed a considerable interest in a change in the name of the club better to represent its membership. It is possible that the change may be effected this year.

The Radio Executives Club has two major classifications of members—those whose operations are located in the New York area and those located in other cities. The majority of the latter group are associated with radio stations, networks, and advertising agencies.

The local group represents a good section of the broadcast industry. Approximately 25 per cent of this membership comes from the networks, largely sales, program, and administrative. The second largest group in the local membership comes from advertising agencies and represents about 17 per cent of the total membership. Station representative organizations furnish about 12 per cent, local New York stations 10 per cent, and program and talent another 10 per cent. The remaining membership comes from equipment manufacturers, trade publications, trade associations, research organizations, etc.

From the start, the Radio Executives Club's luncheon meetings have served as a forum for its members and guests. These bi-weekly luncheon meetings have presented speakers from several fields, the vast majority of them from broadcasting.

Infrequently, national and international figures have been the club's guests and attendance has been high. However, important as they were, their appearances were not in keeping with the original purpose of the club. A recent survey demonstrated that members of the club preferred speakers on subjects more directly allied with broadcasting. The plans for the rest of the 1950-1951 season, therefore, include speakers whose interests are essentially the members' interests.

The present season has brought two anniversaries of note—the 25th Anniversary of NBC and the 50th Anniversary of transoceanic wireless. The first was observed in the meeting of November 15th and brought the season's largest turnout.

NUMBER ONE

*promotion medium to reach and influence
advertisers and agencies*

ADVERTISING AGE is the BIG medium with the BIG selling power—with the BIG circulation where it counts among general national advertisers and their agencies. And it offers you the Big value for your promotion dollar.

Editorially, it serves those major executives who must decide whether to use broadcast or other media—and who must therefore keep abreast of all media in order to evaluate any of them. It is not a "single-industry" paper.

In other words, ADVERTISING AGE is no dummy antenna—but a live tower, properly tuned and loaded to carry your message clearly to those advertising executives who should hear it, and who are able to act on it.

That's why, in the general advertising press—the publications which are dominant in power to influence national advertising and agency executives—ADVERTISING AGE carries the big load of broadcast promotion beamed to important national advertisers and influential agency executives . . . that's why it can and should carry the major weight of your promotion as well.

IT'S THE SHOWMANSHIP THAT COUNTS

By FREDERIC W. ZIV, President, Frederic W. Ziv Company

THE transcribed "open end" radio business is no different, in one major aspect, than "live" radio: It's the showmanship that counts.

Today the entire transcribed picture is totally different than it was five years ago. Transcription techniques have advanced to the point where it is no longer possible for even trained ears to distinguish whether the program is "live" or on wax. Thus, we have recently seen many articles in the various trade publications urging the FCC to do away with the necessity of identifying a program as "transcribed."

Frederic W. Ziv

I believe that the entire radio industry is today agreed on the point that there are so many advantages to transcribing all except a very few categories of programming that eventually as much as 90-95% of all shows on the air will have been pre-transcribed.

The only real thing that matters today, insofar as the listener is concerned, is the show itself. While it is true that radio is a business, it is also true that it is SHOW business. The show is the thing, and that holds true whether the show is "live" or transcribed.

I believe that the big story in the radio industry during the past few years has been the fact that producers of transcribed "open end" programming have come up with top shows from a showmanship point of view.

Ten and twelve years ago we in the "open end" industry were using as our selling arguments the fact that there were certain "plus" advantages to "open end" programming for advertisers to take into consideration.

None of those "plus" advantages have disappeared. It is still true that with an "open end" show an advertiser exercise complete freedom of selection of markets to buy. Only with an "open end" show can he select the exact day, time, and station to buy.

The flexibility is still there. However, in addition the buyer of "open end" programming today can take his pick of top-quality shows, featuring top names, top direction, top scripting—in short, top showmanship values.

These extra added attractions to the advertiser did not happen overnight. They happened because of the fact that over a period of many years the "open end" industry advanced to the point where it was able to obtain the services of a Dana Andrews, a Humphrey Bogart, a Lauren Bacall, a Irene Dunne, a Fred MacMurray, a Guy Lombardo, and other names of very top stature.

These are stars jealous of their reputation, and before we could sign them, we in the industry had to prove to everyone's satisfaction that we were trodding the right path. Today's trade paper headlines attest to the fact that we have been successful in meeting the one test that matters—the test of public approval.

Figures do not lie. The huge listening audiences to "open end" shows such as "I Was A Communist For The FBI," "Bright Star," "Bold Venture," "Boston Blackie," and "Guy Lombardo Show" do not exist merely because the advertisers have been able to obtain the best available air time for them. They are listened to because they are first rate shows.

In the case of "I Was A Communist For The FBI" the very timeliness of it coming at a time when the communist menace is headline news, coupled with the top grade of its production demonstrates that there is no limit to how far you can go in radio today with real showmanship.

"Bright Star," "Bold Venture" and "I Was A Communist For The FBI" together form the story of radio during the past year. They are transcribed shows. They are "open end" shows. They are first rate shows. They are successful shows.

A recipe for Station

HERE'S HOW IT TASTES:

"Even before we received shipment of the Thesaurus library we sold enough to pay for the first nine months of the library." WVOD (Lynchburg, Va.)

"We're getting a large enough talent fee from the Wayne King Serenade and The Hour of Charm to pay for your service. Wish all library services would go in for this." WMT (Cedar Rapids, Iowa)

WLAC "Sold Wayne King Serenade for 52 weeks . . . sponsor's initial step in radio after 25 years in business. Hour of Charm sold for 52 weeks on co-operative basis to 17 leading local business organizations." WLAC (Nashville, Tenn.)

KIST

"We sold Wayne King Serenade, Music by Roth and Fran Warren Show within the first week we had the library. Two are long-term contracts. Hour of Charm now sold to County National Bank." KIST (Santa Barbara, Cal.)

KROS "Sold 15 Thesaurus shows in 60 days—46 quarter hours weekly! I really believe this is terrific. We really had something to sell. Thanks for everything in helping us get started with Thesaurus." KROS (Clinton, Iowa)

"We've sold Wayne King and Hour of Charm with enough talent fees to pay for Thesaurus—and expect to sign up Music by Roth—all by the time we receive our library. We should have bought Thesaurus sooner." KCSJ (Pueblo, Col.)

WMOK

"We've been on the air only 13 weeks and have already sold 5 Thesaurus shows. We find Thesaurus fits in very nicely with our plans to program strictly for our regional audience." WMOK (Metropolis, Ill.)

WLBB "Took just 15 minutes to sell the sponsor—the day the audition disc arrived. More shows like Hour of Charm, Wayne King Serenade, Hank Snow—and this station won't need the services of a sales manager." WLBB (Carrollton, Ga.)

"A jewelry store prospect I've been unable to 'crack' for over 2 years bought the Wayne King Serenade in one presentation—surpasses all our other 'package' shows." WSRK (Shelbyville, Ind.)

WARM "Just sold Wayne King Serenade to the leading furniture store in northeast Pa. Just another reason why we're in our 11th year as a satisfied Thesaurus subscriber. Hour of Charm sold to appliance dealer." WARM (Scranton, Pa.)

"Today we auditioned and sold The Wayne King Serenade to Star Palace Laundry. I cannot help feel that your agency mailing had a big part in it, for the agency was definitely behind the sale of the show." WARC (Rochester, N. Y.)

KGBX

"We've sold the Hour of Charm program for 52 weeks. Your audition record was great . . . clinched the sale. 12 Thesaurus shows sold to date!" KGBX (Springfield, Mo.)

WFDF "Big mail response led Silkworth Co., appliance dealer, to boost Church In The Wildwood from 3 to 5 shows a week. Over 1,000 cook books requested on one offer." WFDF (Flint, Mich.)

WTON

"Our Thesaurus library arrived here 3 weeks ago, and without too much effort, I've managed to take in $3,176.94 in time sales and talent charges. We're well satisfied in every way with Thesaurus." WTON (Staunton, Va.)

KIST

"We sold Wayne King Serenade, Music by Roth and Fran Warren Show within the first week we had the library. Two are long-term contracts. Hour of Charm now sold to County National Bank." KIST (Santa Barbara, Cal.)

KROS "Sold 15 TheSaurus shows in 60 days—46 quarter hours weekly! I really believe this is terrific. We really had something to sell. Thanks for everything in helping us get started with TheSaurus." KROS (Clinton, Iowa)

"We've sold Wayne King and Hour of Charm with enough talent fees to pay for TheSaurus—and expect to sign up Music by Roth—all by the time we receive our library. We should have bought TheSaurus sooner." KCSJ (Pueblo, Col.)

WMOK

"We've been on the air only 13 weeks and have already sold 5 TheSaurus shows. We find TheSaurus fits in very nicely with our plans to program strictly for our regional audience." WMOK (Metropolis, Ill.)

WLBB

"Took just 15 minutes to sell the sponsor—the day the audition disc arrived. More shows like Hour of Charm, Wayne King Serenade, Hank Snow—and this station won't need the services of a sales manager." WLBB (Carrollton, Ga.)

"A jewelry store prospect I've been unable to 'crack' for over 2 years bought the Wayne King Serenade in one presentation—surpasses all our other 'package' shows." WSRK (Shelbyville, Ind.)

WARM

"Just sold Wayne King Serenade to the leading furniture store in northeast Pa. Just another reason why we're in our 11th year as a satisfied TheSaurus subscriber. Hour of Charm sold to appliance dealer." WARM (Scranton, Pa.)

"Today we auditioned and sold The Wayne King Serenade to Star Palace Laundry. I cannot help feel that your agency mailing had a big part in it, for the agency was definitely behind the sale of the show." WARC (Rochester, N. Y.)

"We sold The Wayne King Serenade to Dodge-Plymouth dealer, Allen Roth Show to General Electric distributor, Festival of Waltzes, Hour of Charm to furniture dealers, and Weather Jingles to a men's shop. Very pleased with these sales as all talent charges made exceed monthly rental." WGN (Wilmington, N. C.)

KGBX

"We've sold the Hour of Charm program for 52 weeks. Your audition record was great... clinched the sale. 12 TheSaurus shows sold to date!" KGBX (Springfield, Mo.)

WFDF "Big mail response led Silkworth Co., appliance dealer, to boost Church In The Wildwood from 3 to 5 shows a week. Over 1,000 cook books requested on one offer." WFDF (Flint, Mich.)

WTON

"Our TheSaurus library arrived here 3 weeks ago, and without too much effort, I've managed to take in $3,176.94 in time sales and talent charges. We're well satisfied in every way with TheSaurus." WTON (Staunton, Va.)

Services Offered: The Keystone Broadcasting System is a network which assists local radio stations in their programming with transcriptions, with KBS making their time available to national advertisers and their agencies at an attractive network package rate.

Keystone is a flexible media easily purchased, whole or in part. Entire areas or spot coverage may be selected . . . whichever meets the needs of the advertising program. Regardless of the schedule, Keystone makes its time available at a considerable savings.

In operation, Keystone offers the same advantages as the wired networks. Instead of a large number of individual transactions, KBS reduces your problem to one order, one time clearance, one series of Affidavits of Performance, and one invoice.

During 1952, as in 1951, many of the nation's largest advertisers are using the facilities of Keystone. Types of programming vary from 25 word spots to one hour shows.

including the picture "sync"

Yes, of course GOTHAM has the latest in TV Picture Sync — film sound at transcription rates, with savings better than 40% over yesterday's methods.

Does your budget bleed at the thought of miles of raw stock wasted in film editing? If so, you don't have to be told about the economy of tape — whether a forty-two-voice lip sync chorus or one-voice off-screen narrator.

All this, plus the know-how, know-when (and NO KIDDING!) that makes GOTHAM New York's most talked-up recording outfit!

• • • Following extended negotiations, Bill Stern has been signed to a new three-year contract by NBC. Actually, Bill's present contract with NBC does not expire until next March, but to sew him up for the future, since they knew that both CBS and ABC were after him, NBC tore up Bill's old pact and gave him a new one starting immediately. Under the terms of his new contract, Stern is guaranteed a minimum of $350,000 for the next three years. Under the new pact, he assumes the new title of sports editor.

Bill Stern's 500G 3-Year NBC Pact

Bill Stern, NBC sports director, has negotiated a new three-year deal with the network, although the present one doesn't expire until next March. Under the new pact, Stern will forsake his administrative functions to devote his time exclusively to broadcasting and telecasting.

New contract gives Stern a minimum guarantee of $500,000 over the three-year span. That amount has approximated his total gross under the old agreement, but under the new terms it permits Stern an opportunity to shoot for higher than the minimum stakes.

Stern will do some of the Westinghouse-sponsored grid games under the NCAA formula. Whether or not he gets the Rose Bowl assignment under the Gillette NBC exclusivity is still problematical.

WHY IS AP
THE BEST?

BECAUSE—AP has more news correspondents, more news bureaus, more miles of news wire than any other news service.

TRANSCRIPTION LIBRARIES GROWING

By ROBERT W. FRIEDHEIM, General Manager, World Broadcasting System, Inc.

ONE of the most significant developments in the radio picture during the past year has been the growth in importance of transcription library firms—a growth which has occurred because the stations subscribing to such services have as a result significantly increased their revenues.

Today the library service firms are producing a top grade of program, are presenting foremost talent “names,” and are producing unique, sure-fire sales tools in the form of special programming aids for station subscribers.

Friedheim

The result is that business is 'way up. National sponsors, such as Sears-Roebuck, Borden's, General Electric, Schlitz, Coca-Cola, Timken Roller Bearing, Ford, Rexall, and many others, have sizeably increased their budgets for locally produced library shows; regional advertisers such as Wiedemann Brewing Company and Michigan Bell Telephone Company are similarly investing increased budgets in library programming; and important local advertisers, such as A. B. Sutherland Company, leading department store in Lawrence, Mass., Teamsters' Union of Philadelphia, and Louisville Home Federal Savings & Loan Association, are also putting heavier money than ever before into such shows as “Chapel By The Side Of The Road,” “Freedom Is Our Business,” “Homemaker Harmonie,” “Forward America,” “Dick Haymes Show,” and many of the other important library shows.

As a result, more stations than ever before are subscribing to services such as are offered by the World Broadcasting System, Inc., because such services are of tremendous aid to the stations' sales departments.

At a minimum of cost, station subscribers to library services can today solicit new business from all types of advertisers—national, regional, or local, with confidence that what they have to offer to prospective customers compares favorably with anything else such advertisers can choose from.

For example, a salesman for a World affiliate can offer such “names” as Raymond Massey, Robert Montgomery, Lanny Ross, Walter Huston, Dick Haymes, and many other stars of front-line caliber as stars of well-produced shows built around them.

He can also offer slick productions such as “Homemaker Harmonies,” with great appeal to women, special holiday shows such as “Miracle At Christmas” starring Thomas Mitchell, and other programs built for special occasions and holidays, with which he can easily attract sponsors.

Thus, with more stations subscribing for library services, and with more sponsors buying library programs and features and ringing a merry tune on the cash register as a result, the entire library service field is prospering.

Still another reason why transcription library firms have grown in importance and prestige during the past year, is the fact that we have been in the forefront in developing important public service features and in creating good will for the entire radio industry.

For example, quite recently World distributed to its member stations as well as to non-subscribers who requested it, a series of transcriptions made by 10 of the nation's foremost spiritual leaders of all religions and denominations, urging listeners to “Go To Church.” The response has been tremendous, and in hundreds of cases the stations featuring these transcriptions have had their stature in their communities raised to new heights through applause from local church dignitaries and other interested citizens who place high value upon the moral regeneration of this nation.

Industry-wise, transcription library services have initiated campaigns such as World's “Wherever You Go There's Radio” series, which not only reminded listeners and advertisers of the many advantages offered by the local station, but of the radio medium as a whole. Who can doubt that by serving its stations in this fashion, the library firms have also served all levels of the radio industry?

Thus, the library service industry is moving forward, confident that it can do its part in creating exciting new programs and money-making sales ideas for its stations.

VOICE OF AMERICA—1951

By FOY D. KOHLER, Director of Office of International Broadcasting

DURING 1951 the Voice of America made significant progress toward the goals of the Campaign of Truth. This progress was reflected by increasing evidence of the impact of the broadcasts on listeners both behind the iron curtain and in the free world. During the past 12 months the Voice of America:

1. Added twenty new language services increasing its total from twenty-six to forty-six.
2. Increased daily programming time by about twenty hours, from thirty to fifty hours daily.
3. Expanded services to USIS radio operation overseas.
4. Improved transmitter coverage and heightened penetration of Soviet jamming.
5. Increased the effectiveness and improved the quality of its output.

The new broadcasts initiated by the Voice of America were beamed to areas not previously covered by the programs. Where previous programs to the USSR had been only in Russian and Ukrainian, other daily broadcasts were added in Georgian, American, Azerbaijani, Tatar, Turkestani, Lithuanian, Latvian and Estonian. Other programs were inaugurated to Albania, Finland, Israel and Portugal in their respective languages; to China in two additional dialects—Swatow and Amoy; to Japan and to South and South East Asia in Hindi, Urdu, Thai, Burmese and Malayan.

The Voice of America refined its program formats, made greater use of drama and documentary techniques and became markedly more outspoken and hard hitting. One of the principal themes was the success of the United Nations effort to repel the Chinese and North Koreans aggression in Korea.

The strengthening of the free world's defense was continually stressed both in news and commentary and major attention was given to exposing the fraudulent Soviet "peace" drive.

In addition to direct broadcasts, Voice of America expanded the development and distribution of transcribed platter programs tailored for local radio use overseas. Transcribed features were distributed regularly to some seventy posts. The monthly shipment of discs ranged from 12,000 to 16,000 to more than 400 destinations; from 2,000 to 4,000 scripts also were distributed overseas each month.

In the field of facilities the Voice of America network began to assume the proportions of a world-wide radio system as new facilities were put into operation and additional progress was made on other facilities at home and abroad. On the domestic scene the construction of curtain antennae progressed at six transmitter locations and ten additional studios were constructed and put into use. Overseas, Voice of America programs were carried by expanded relay facilities in Germany, Tangier, Greece, Hawaii and the Philippines. Additional British, Ceylon and Japanese relay facilities were used under lease or agreement. Other facilities and bases were in various stages of engineering completion, construction engineering development and site acquisition and negotiation. Work was advanced on that portion of the "Ring Plan" already approved by Congress. Under the "Ring Plan," which calls for a network of powerful relay bases girdling the globe, sites were selected for two projects and were in an advanced stage of negotiations for five others. Main Diesel equipment and transmitters for all plants were on order and contracts were awarded for two of the projects and tests completed of the first high-power transmitters at those installations. Additional overseas sites were negotiated on a preliminary basis in anticipation of funds requested from Congress for completion of the "Ring Plan." Project Vagabond, which involves the construction of a ship-borne radio relay system, was nearing completion at the year's end.

Penetration of Soviet jamming ranged as high as 75 per cent to 85 per cent in most areas of the USSR and averaged around 26 per cent in Moscow, where jamming was the heaviest. Progress was made in the development and installation of anti-jamming equipment designed to increase the penetration even further.

OPERATION SUCCESS!

with du mont telecasting equipment

The rich heritage of over 12 years' experience in the design, manufacture and use of telecasting equipment is reflected in every piece of Du Mont equipment today. This experience results in equipment without peer for performance, dependability and operating economies.

Du Mont-equipped stations were among the first to "break into the black" a few years ago. Today a roster of the most successful stations in the television world shows an impressive percentage of partial or 100% Du Mont-equipped operations.

It was Du Mont who first advocated the "Grow As You Earn" basis of station equipment. This has paid dividends to the many stations who recently increased their transmitting power through the Acorn-to-Oak Series Transmitters. Such power increases were achieved with no loss of "time on the air" or loss of former equipment.

Truly, a Du Mont-equipped TV station exemplifies OPERATION SUCCESS!

Television—1952

TELEVISION, the modern miracle which combines sight with sound, dramatically surges forward in this Election Year, 1952.

With more than 100 stations, nearly 15 million sets and a viewing audience of around fifty-five million, television is on the threshold of a spectacular era of development as the Federal Communications Commission lifts the TV freeze and provides for station expansion.

Television has come a long way since the beginning of the postwar years in 1946. It has just begun to flex its muscles and the year ahead holds promises of great expansion in stations, audience and program services.

This edition of Television Year Book, fashioned from the progress of the new industry, is testimonial of television's tremendous growth and its importance to the American economy. To those who contributed to this volume we express our gratitude.

changes of frequency and stations are placed in a single class with three geographic zones.

It is a complete documentation of commission TV actions from the day the proceedings were instituted on May 6, 1948, until the lifting of the freeze. Section by section the report deals with the amendment of Section 3.606 of the commission's rules and regulations; amendment of the commission's rules and regulations and engineering standards concerning television broadcast service and the utilization of frequencies in the band 470 to 890 mcs., for television broadcasting.

In announcing the report it is revealed that Commissioner Robert Bartley did not participate; Commissioner Edward M. Webster concurred; Commissioner Frieda B. Hennock concurred in part and dissented in part and Commissioner Robert F. Jones wrote a dissenting opinion.

Anticipating an unprecedented number of applications for new television stations as a result of the lifting of the freeze, the commission has announced a temporary processing procedure. Desirous of making television service available to the greatest number of people in the shortest period of time, the FCC has set up separate processing lines for different categories of applications. These categories have been set upon the basis of the present lack of television service in the communities from which they are filed. Non-commercial educational television station applications will be processed separately beginning July 1.

Processing Procedure

The first applications to be processed will be those arising out of final determinations made by the commission with respect to presently operating television stations whose channel assignments will be changed as a result of the orders to show cause set forth in the commission's third notice, since the implementing of these changes will affect the orderly implementation of the Table of Assignments. These applications will be processed beginning with the effective date of the new rules.

When the commission completes the processing of the applications from the orders to show cause, two processing lines will be established to operate concurrently. The operation of these lines will not begin before July 1, in order to allow a reasonable period for filing new applications and amending those on file, the commission stated.

Will Favor Larger Cities

One line will process applications for new television stations in cities presently receiving service. Within the group in the first processing line, the cities for which applications are filed will be taken in the order of their populations, so that the largest concentrations of population now receiving no service will be handled first.

Five separate groupings have been arranged for the second processing line. The first two of these groups give precedence to the UHF service, where either no VHF channels (excluding non-commercial educational channels) are assigned on all VHF channels (excluding noncommercial educational channels) are already occupied.

Processing Explained

Explaining the processing procedure, the FCC order stated:

"Since all existing stations are in the VHF band, and all present receivers require at least some modification to receive stations in the UHF band, this precedence will help enable the younger service to start first, a matter of great importance to the development of the assignment pattern provided in the Table of Assignments."

The three remaining groups provide, in order, for cities with one service, but no local station, for cities with one service from two or more stations, thus carrying out the principle of making service available first to cities now receiving none, and then making available a local service before other cities are provided with multiple services.

A separate processing line will be set up by the commission to handle application to modify construction permits granted after July 1, 1952, petitions for reconsideration of actions taken with respect to applications for new television stations, and petitions for waiver of hearings of these applications, all to be processed as filed.

Basis of Allocations Outlined

Basis of the Table of Assignments is set forth in the commission's assignment principle where "... endeavored to meet the twofold objective to provide television service, as far as possible to all people of the United States and to provide a fair, efficient and equitable distribution of television broadcast stations to the several states and communities."

With this as the objective, the commission set up priorities as follows:

Priority No. 1: To provide at least one television service to all parts of the country.

Priority No. 2: To provide each community with at least one television broadcast station.

Priority No. 3: To provide a choice of at least two television services to all parts of the United States.

Priority No. 4: To provide each community with at least two television broadcast stations.

Priority No. 5: Any channels which remain unassigned under the foregoing priorities will be assigned to the various communities depending on the size of the population of each community, the geographical location of such community, and the number of television services available to such community from television stations located in other communities.

how to secure a top television film program:

Five basic requirements are necessary to produce a top television film program series—from promise to fulfillment. The real job is to find them all in one organization—with sufficient experience to insure that all five are working smoothly and efficiently.

These five requirements are:

- ... an adequate script department
- ... a mature casting group
- ... a truly fine production unit
- ... a top creative editorial staff
- ... ample capital.

As producers of 44 half-hour Fireside Theatre programs and now well under way with two new series of 52 half-hours each, Rebound and Crown Theatre, Crosby Enterprises, Inc. offers agencies and advertisers a background and experience probably unparalleled in this field. We have several additional properties available for consideration.

Inquiries should be addressed to Charles B. Brown, Crosby Enterprises, Inc., 9028 Sunset Boulevard, Hollywood 46, California.

TELEVISION DIVISION

With the above priorities set up, the commission made it known that no single mechanical formula was used in setting up the Table of Assignments, but that geographic, economic and population conditions were the principal factors for assignment of channels. In making the assignments the commission said that UHF channels were coordinated with and made complementary to the VHF assignment plan. The commission's report also states "If all VHF and UHF channels are utilized, there should be few, if any, people of the United States residing beyond the areas of television service. Provision has been made for at least one assignment to over 1,250 communities and it has attempted, where possible, to provide each community with at least two assignments."

DuMont Plan Noted

The report stated that the Allen B. DuMont Laboratories, Inc., was the only party to the proceedings to submit a national television assignment as an alternative to that contained in the commission's Third Notice, and after going into the DuMont proposal at length, the commission found that the principles of assignment which DuMont advocates were inadequate in that those principles did not recognize specifically the need to provide an equitable apportionment of channels among the separate states and communities and "did not provide adequately for the educational needs of the primarily educational centers."

Notice was also taken of the CBS proposal of views "generally similar to those of DuMont in respect to the need for providing additional commercial VHF stations in key economic areas."

As defense, the commission's report said that the Joint Committee on Educational Television alleged that the commission's priorities were deficient in not specifically recognizing non-commercial educational TV and urged that an additional priority be established between Priority No. 3 and Priority No. 4 reading as follows: To provide a non-commercial educational television service to all parts of the United States by the reservation of frequencies for this purpose.

One interesting aspect of the report on the use of channels is that the commission has made specific assignments to the particular cities and communities on Channels 2 through 65. The commission stated: "Channels 66 to 78 or 83 were designated as flexibility channels and no specific assignments to individual cities or communities were made on these channels. It was provided in the Third Notice that persons desiring to file an application for a station in a community which (1) is not listed in the Table of Assignments and (2) is not eligible for an assignment, without the necessity of rule making proceedings might file an application for a station on one of the flexibility channels without further rule making. It was provided, however, that stations on flexibility channels could not be applied for, in this manner, in a community assigned a channel in the Table or which was otherwise eligible for such an assignment without further rule making under the 15-mile rule."

Interesting Changes

Some interesting changes and allocations are revealed in the Table of Assignments. New York City, for example receiving two UHF assignments, one for non-commercial educational use and bringing the city's total number of stations to eight. Chicago, on the other hand, will have a total of ten stations. In New Jersey, Andover, Camden, Freehold, Hammonton and Montclair have been added to the Table. Denver, long the isolated market, will receive a total of six stations, one non-commercial. Detroit, originally slated for seven stations, will have only five from the Table, all commercial, while Windsor, Ont. remains unchanged with two stations.

Among other cities to be added include Calumet and Coldwater, Michigan, Clemson, S. C., Adams, Chilton, Park Falls and Shell Lake, Wisconsin.

Three geographic zones are set up under the order in the United States and territories and possessions, and channels have been set up in accordance with mileage separations for each zone. Co-channel assignment separations of 170 miles for VHF and 155 miles for UHF have been established for zone I,

At the same time, the order amends and recodifies the commission's rules governing TV broadcast stations, and amends the standards of good engineering practice concerning TV broadcast stations to reflect the commission's decisions in these proceedings.

The order calls for a revised application form (FCC form 301) for new stations or changes in existing stations. Applications currently on file with the commission, including 171 applications now removed from hearing status, must be amended; otherwise, the commission says threateningly, such applications will be dismissed. Applications must specify a channel assigned.

Opinions Noted

Three FCC commissioners have written varying opinions on this decision bringing to an end the three-and-one-half year "freeze" on new TV stations. Robert F. Jones, dissenting from the majority opinion, wrote more than four thousand words, supporting his argument, while E. M. Webster issued an opinion concurring with the majority. Frieda B. Hennock's opinion was both for and against.

In his opinion, Jones contended that: "... this firm, fixed and final allocation plan pretends to keep the large city broadcasters from squatting on the best television channels to the exclusion of the small city. . . ."

"Actually, if you attribute all the selfishness charged against them in the commission's decision, broadcasters could have done little more on an application basis, without an allocation plan, to carve out an advantage to the detriment of the smaller cities. . . ."

"The general rules and standards, and to a greater extent the city-to-city allocation plan actually exclude VHF channels from the smaller cities unless there happens to be no larger city within artillery range to put them in. This is justified on the basis that VHF covers wider areas than UHF, and that the larger cities can serve the rural population. So the general standards are drafted to the advantage of the largest cities to accomplish this basic purpose with VHF channels.

Shrinks VHF Channels

"This policy literally shrinks the 12 VHF channels of the spectrum . . . to the equivalent of 4 in the Northeast part of the U. S. and other areas like it. This occurs because the bigger you make any station's coverage the wider you have to space stations. The wider you space stations the lesser number of times you can use the channel in the entire country.

"The commission has pretended that these high power, antenna heights, and wider VHF spacings actually give more service to the rural areas. In fact, the contrary is true. In the Northeastern U. S. and other areas like it, 148 per cent more rural and city area could get a grade A service and 59 per cent more could get grade B service if the 250 mile median spacing (between stations operating on the same channel) is cut in half when 500 foot antennas are used and cut one-third when 1,000 foot antennas are used.

"The commission has made 10 kw maximum power for VHF channels 2 to 6, and 316 kw for VHF channels 7 to 13 roughly three times the low band VHF power) and made 2,000 foot antenna heights the maximum except in . . . (Northeastern U. S.) where 1,000 feet is maximum. These are the values which have to be used by broadcasters everywhere (from New York City to Goldfield, Nevada—population 336) to make the commission's plan even approach degraded efficiency. This means that there is a million-dollar entry fee for every broadcaster to guarantee the commission plan's efficiency. If broadcasters from small towns (VHF was given to the largest cities and UHF generally to the smaller cities to fill in the gaps not covered by VHF) are to contribute to efficiency, they had better study astronomy to figure up their balance sheets and buy lots of red ink. . . ."

Continuing, Jones said, "Now sound UHF station commercialization is handicapped economically and technically by 17 million VHF-only receiving sets. Any prospective UHF broadcaster is not only handicapped where UHF and VHF are intermixed, but also in areas where UHF is not used to supplement the inefficient assignment of VHF channels.

Denies Local Television

" . . . The purpose of the allocation plan now being adopted by the commission is to create a nationwide competitive television system, but the effect of the plan is to deny local television to cities not included in the table. Once the table is established and construction permits are granted, followed by licenses and operation on the channels assigned . . . the commission will not be able to dislocate such licenses to make another plan more efficient without litigation ensuing between such licensees and the commission.

"The entire philosophy of providing the standard service area for all cities based upon a service area satisfactory to the largest city in the table exposes some absurd results," Jones said. "For example, the commission concluded that 'the geographical distribution of people and cities of the U. S. does not lend itself to a simple rule for spacing of stations' which will protect the interference free service area of each channel. Yet the commission has adopted just such a simple rule that it condemns as the sole criteria for assignment of channels and refusal to assign channels to cities throughout the nation."

Commissioner E. M. Webster issued a concurring opinion on the matter. After noting that when the Third Notice of Further Proposed Rule Making was issued on March 22, 1951, he stated in a separate opinion that he believed the reservation of channels for non-commercial educational TV stations was warranted only upon a showing that here was a reasonable probability that, if such reservation were made, the channels would be utilized in the reasonably near future.

In his opinion Commissioner Webster said he felt a vast majority of the representatives of educational institutions had little concept of costs and practical problems involved in the construction and operation of a TV station, and that when brought face-to-face with practicalities they might find the economic hurdle difficult, if not impossible to surmount.

One of the considerations which enabled him to accept the reservation of channels, Webster said, is the fact that in event the educators fail in their efforts, the commission, at any time it considers it in the public interest to do so, can reconsider its decision and through rule making proceedings, assign idle educational channels for commercial purposes and also possibly promulgate rules requiring other than non-commercial educational stations to provide adequate educational programs. He also noted that after one year any party is at liberty to petition the commission for rule making proceedings looking toward the commercialization of any or all educational channels lying fallow at the time.

Hennock Opinion

In an opinion concurring in part and dissenting in part Commissioner Frieda B. Hennock said that with reference to the educational reservations of the Sixth Report and Order, she concurred in the decision insofar as it adopts the principle of reserving channels for educational purposes and insofar as it assigns specific channels for such purposes. She dissented, however, from the decision insofar as it fails to make a more adequate and proper provision for education.

Referring to the commission's experience with FM where the set problem was so crucial, Commissioner Hennock said that it was clear that practical economic considerations cannot be left largely to chance in the establishment of a new service. She was referring to the increases in station power and antenna height in VHF and UHF.

Further, Commissioner Hennock stated, she felt the commission should have adopted its proposal from the Third Notice to give a substantial preference in the unassigned "flexibility" channels to cities without TV assignments.

TIME TABLE ON FCC TV DECISION

MAY 6, 1948—The proceedings were instituted on May 6, 1948, by a "Notice of Proposed Rule Making" designed to amend the Table of Television channel assignments for the United States, set out in Section 3.606 of the Rules and Regulations of the FCC. During the hearing evidence was introduced which indicated the necessity for a revision of the Commission's Rules, Regulations and Standards with respect to the technical phases of the television broadcast service.

SEPT. 30, 1948—The Commission issued a report and Order (FCC 48-2182), commonly referred to as the "Freeze Order." In general this order provided that no new or pending applications for the construction of a new TV station would be acted upon and that new and pending applications for modification of existing authorizations would be considered on a case to case basis. The Commission said it could not continue to make assignments under the existing table.

JULY 11, 1949—Issuance of the "Notice of Further Proposed Rule Making" (FCC 49-948) was announced by the Commission. The notice set forth Commission proposals to: A. amend its television rules, regulations and standards; B. methods and assumptions upon which the Commission's figures and values specified in the rules were based; C. contained the proposed revision of its table of channel assignments in the United States and the territories; and D. contained illustrative assignments for Canada, Mexico and Cuba.

SEPT. 1, 1949—First color report (FCC 50-1964) issued.

SEPT, 1949—Hearings on color television begin.

OCT. 11, 1949—Second color report (FCC 50-1224) issued.

OCT. 16, 1949—Hearing of testimony of parties interested in the first two parts of the Notice of July 11, 1949 began. The hearings continued until January 31, 1951, when the Commission recessed to study the record and determine whether it should proceed on hearings on C and D.

MARCH 22, 1951—The "Third Notice of Further Proposed Rule Making" (FCC 51-244) was issued by the Commission. In Appendices A and B, the FCC set forth its conclusions based on the hearing record and at the same time afforded interested parties the opportunity to object to the conclusions in A & B by filing objections. Appendices C & D contained a new proposed table of channel assignments.

JUNE 21, 1951—The Commission issued its third report (FCC 51-640) stating it could not at the time effect a partial lifting of the "freeze."

JULY 12, 1951—A "Fourth Report" and "Order" (FCC 51-693) was issued allocating to TV broadcasting the frequency band 470-500 MCs.

JULY 25, 1951—A "Fifth Report and Order" (FCC 51-752) was issued amending the "freeze order to permit consideration on a case-to-case basis of applications by existing licensees and permittees for special temporary authority to increase power within certain defined limits. An order was also issued (FCC-739), cancelling oral hearings which were scheduled to take place pursuant to the third notice.

APRIL 14, 1952—The Commission announces the lifting of the "freeze."

TV PRODUCTION FORECAST

By DR. ALLEN B. DU MONT, President, Allen B. DuMont Laboratories, Inc.

BARRING an increase in the temperature of the cold war and a drastic aggravation of international tensions, 1952 should be a productive year for the television receiver industry.

Since civilian receiver production is so inextricably interlaced with the national defense program, we can look for production to be substantially reduced from 1950 and 1951 figures. This will be due to already announced diversion of critical materials for the military establishment.

Indications from the National Production Authority are that enough metals will be made available to the industry for the production of upwards of 4 million receivers in 1952. This figure represents an approximate 46 per cent decrease from 1950's record-breaking total of 7.5 million and 23 per cent of the 1951 total of 5.3 million receivers.

This reduced production figure of 4 million sets must be accepted with the assumption that 1952 will see (1) No all-out war, (2) no expansion of the present Korean conflict and (3) no additional outbreak of aggression in another part of the world. Naturally, any worsening of the world-wide situation will have its adverse effect on civilian production.

In the light of restrictions on copper, aluminum, stainless steel, nickel and cobalt, the 1951 production of 5.3 million sets and anticipated output for 1952 represents a tribute to the industry's ingenuity and resourcefulness in conservation of materials without detracting from quality of product. 1951's "make do" production lessons should be reflected in even greater economies in the use of restricted materials without deviation from strict quality control requirements during 1952.

Innovations and trends in 1952 receivers were in evidence early in January with the introduction of new lines by manufacturers. Chief among these has been the pronounced movement toward large size picture tubes. The most popular sizes during 1952 will be the 17-inch and 21-inch picture tubes. It is interesting to note that only three years ago the popular size receiver incorporated a 12-inch picture tube; 20-inch tubes were only in the "luxury" type of receiver.

TV picture tubes in 1952 will represent the most advanced design. An important trend is the universal acceptance of rectangular tubes which present TV pictures to the viewer in the same aspect ratio as is picked up by the TV camera. Another popular innovation in 1952 will be the automatic focus tube. This tube eliminates focus controls of any kind, and at the same time effects substantial savings in both steel and copper.

Great advances have been registered in reduction of reflections on picture tubes, from lights, windows and other reflective sources through the introduction of cylindrically-faced tubes. These tubes will make their appearance in 1952.

Television chassis in 1952 will have greater sensitivity and range than ever before, resulting in better fringe and weak signal area reception.

The anticipated impact of UHF as a companion service to VHF telecasting is already in evidence in 1952 receivers. These new sets contain provision for adaption to the UHF type of telecasting, either through tuning strips installed in the tuner or through an external UHF converter.

With no more than a handful of new stations expected on the air by the end of 1952, even if the "freeze" is lifted immediately, receivers will have to be sold in substantially the same markets as in 1951. The industry which enters 1952 with approximately 1,000,000 receivers in inventory should be able to sell those and its 1952 production even in what might be called "old" markets. Several factors point to this. They include (1) a record amount in disposable funds in the nation this year, (2) the untapped market of better than 50 per cent which still exists in TV areas, (3) elimination of confusion in the minds of the public regarding premature and incompatible color television (4) increased sales of television receivers in fringe and weak signal areas due to greater sensitivity of 1952 sets, (5) obsolescence of small-size picture receivers (6) extension of relay facilities to include the

HOLLYWOOD & A.B.C. TELEVISION

By ALEXANDER STRONACH, JR., Vice-President for the ABC-TV Network

TELEVISION has now acquired a modus operandi of sound stature, technically geared to volume production. It has not however, set a pattern for point of production. As constituted now, video fare arrives on living room screens from three major production centers in the United States; New York, Chicago and Hollywood.

Granted TV can go almost anywhere for remote pickups of strategic on-the-spot news and sports coverage — and well it should. But I am not concerned with this phase of television's ability to capture history in the making.

By far the greatest stress placed on video is for entertainment through the medium of dramatic offerings, which by far account for the greatest portion of present day television programming. It is with this phase of television that I am concerned and consequently, from where these programs should originate.

At the present time (1952), a comparatively young age for television, the American Broadcasting Company possesses the finest television plant in existence—the 23-acre ABC-TV Center in Hollywood.

The network has made good use of its giant west coast facilities in the past year, since the opening of the transcontinental-microwave-coaxial link. But its use has not yet been fully exploited or explored. There exists in Hollywood today the greatest talent pool in the world. And I do not refer only to top marquee names but to lesser stars and feature players, well known to the average motion picture goer. They are fine dramatic personalities on whom television should call to fill the varied roles in new dramatic shows.

Hollywood is the home of this talent and they should not be expected to travel 3,000 miles to fill a video engagement in New York for a one night stand and then return home. The fact that video has made this demand upon the Hollywood talent pool immediately sends talent costs soaring. Whereas, if television were content to develop their live shows where the stars are, where sets could be built and remain standing without being "struck" after each show; where technical equipment and technicians abound, video would surely begin minimizing its present day soaring costs.

The fact that ABC-TV has already been able to build some basic sets (such as that used on "The Ruggles" show) where the set can be stored on the huge sound stage on the ABC-TV Hollywood lot and used week-after-week without being dismantled after each telecast, has in itself saved the network large sums of money. This one instance could well be repeated over and over for many other TV programs. Another simple, but extremely important cost-saving operation is the network's ability to do away with the necessity of hiring trucks, which normally in such video centers as New York and Chicago, must cart scenery back and forth from warehouses to the TV studios. In New York City, a single truck, carting a set from a warehouse to a TV studio costs $150. By the time the round trip has been made, the cost for trucking the set back and forth amounts to $300. Not so in Hollywood, where sets can remain intact, stored in the vast recesses of the huge ABC-TV Center, to be used over and over again.

Another example of cost cutting and one directly benefiting the advertiser, is the network's purchase sometime ago of eight carloads of scenery and props, now conveniently accessible at our Hollywood TV Center. Scenery and props are readily available at any time on the lot and a sponsor's re-use of them for shows results in a cost to him of only 10 per cent of their original construction costs.

Just recently the ABC-TV network presented several "one shot" live programs—"The Professor," starring Joseph Schildkraut and "One False Step," both of which were produced in Hollywood, and both of which received excellent reviews from the press.

Similar plans are underway now for the presentation of a number of other programs of this type, all of which will be produced at our Hollywood TV Center.

This type of programming only serves to emphasize the adaptability of our West Coast facilities for the origination of such programs at a considerable savings in costs to a potential advertiser.

A network is known by the company it keeps . . .
and today most of the leading names in American industry send their goods to market via ABC Television. One reason these advertisers choose ABC Television is because it is the only network that owns and operates television stations in five of the nation's seven top retail markets. Also, because ABC has gigantic production facilities that no other network can match—Television Centers in both New York and Hollywood.

TELEVISION, 1951—REVIEWED

By J. L. VAN VOLKENBURG, President, CBS Television

TELEVISION did a lot of things in 1951: It spanned the continent, so people in New York could see the Japanese peace treaty being signed, and people in California could watch the National League playoffs—at 10 o'clock in the morning! It made the hands of a gambler into the picture of the year, and brought the American people up sharp against the realities of organized crime and political corruption with a sense of urgency that's still detonating all over the country today, and promising that the 1952 political campaigns will be the show to watch. It looked on attentively as a general revived the ancient garrison ballad, "Old Soldiers Never Die." It was hard for commercial programming to top the pyrotechnics provided by the daily news; but nevertheless, 1951 brought forth some of the best, liveliest and most mature television shows seen to date. And one more thing television did: it Arrived, as a practical, dollars-and-cents, competitive advertising buy. The cost-per-thousand of reaching network television's audience began the swift descent that always tells knowledgeable advertising men a medium's ready to be reckoned with on a straight comparative, competitive basis. CBS Television wound up the year with its average cost-per-thousand more than 20 per cent below the 1950 figure. With the number of U. S. television sets estimated at 19 million by the end of '52, plus the prospect of new markets opening up at the lifting of the construction freeze, the circulation costs will look even better this time next year.

We look to 1952 also for the extension of two important operations that appeared in clear focus during the past year: daytime television, and the emergence of all-year television, with the consequent fading of the "summer-hiatus" feature. Daytime television developed a lot during the year, and provided considerable scope in programming, with emphasis on daytime variety, with full show-business values and top stars, in addition to the customary daytime serial and music and news features. Prophets had said that woman could not take time from their daily tasks to watch television; but once again television (and the women!) threw the rule-book out the window, and as one noted advertiser said, "Gentlemen, I have news for you. It appears that the American housewife has time to do just about anything she wants to do." And what she wants to do, it appears, is watch television. By mid-1951, the daytime percentage of sets-in-use had nearly doubled over the preceding year, and the average housewife viewer was watching daytime shows ten hours a week, Monday through Friday. This happy trend brought a lot of new television advertisers into the fold, and has created a demand, during the last few months, for an ever earlier start on network daytime programming, with the result that most networks plan early morning programming for the coming year. Once again we are seeing daytime programming, with its multiple-impression and low cost-per-impression features, making a substantial appeal to advertisers.

Perhaps the outstanding trail-blazing accomplishment of television operations in '51 was the success-story of summer television. Even the most optimistic and television-happy of us could hardly have predicted that the drop in viewing over the summer would be negligible; that many CBS Television advertisers who stayed on through the summer (and most of them did) would actually be winning audiences at lower cost than their October-April average. Once again we are obliged to hang our heads and admit that television can always do more than is expected of it; and that our thinking must be adjusted to the fact that television is not a seasonal medium, but a year-round necessity for viewers and a year-round selling force for advertisers.

As for CBS Television, we move into 1952 confident that we can continue to supply audiences with the best in television entertainment, news, and information; and supply advertisers with top value. 1951 saw a number of notable CBS Television program achievements: the magnificent news program, See It Now, and television's most extensive and detailed coverage of United Nations.

radio sales, in 1945 and three years later had assumed supervision of Columbia-owned stations as director of station administration. Shortly thereafter he was named vice-president and director of Television operation and in 1951 was named to his present position. Van Volkenburg was born in Sioux City, Iowa, Dec. 6, 1903 and attended the University of Minnesota.

HUBBELL ROBINSON, JR. Vice-President in Charge of Network Programs

In story book fashion, HUBBELL ROBINSON, JR. started at the bottom as a messenger with Young & Rubicam in 1928 and in 1944 was made a vice president of the firm. Subsequently he joined the Blue Network (now ABC) as vice president and director of programs and in 1945 he moved to Foote, Cone & Belding as vice president in charge of radio. Robinson came to CBS in 1946 to take over direction of AM network programs. On January 1, 1950 he assumed general supervision and direction of all CBS programming, both radio and TV. Robinson was born in Schenectady, N. Y., on Oct. 16, 1905, attended Phillips Exeter Academy and Brown U., receiving his B. A. in 1927. After graduation he became a reporter on the Schenectady Union Star and later on the Knickerbocker Press in Albany. In 1928 he moved to New York and entered advertising.

FRED M. THROWER Vice-President in Charge of Network Sales

Today's TV Personality: FRED M. THROWER, vice-president in charge of sales for the CBS television network, was formerly vice-president in charge of television sales for the American Broadcasting Company. Before World War II, Fred was associated with the National Broadcasting Company. From 1942 to 1945 he served as a lieutenant in the U. S. Navy and saw service in both Europe and China. Back in 1942,

THROWER

Fred was appointed a vice-president of the American Broadcasting Company when that network was launched independently. His service with the National Broadcasting Company extended from 1929 through the time the Red and Blue networks were separated. While at NBC, Fred served for some years as an account executive. Previously he had been associated with the network's program department.

The sign of good television

When this symbol shines out from a television screen, it identifies, for viewers and advertisers alike, the network where they're most likely to find what they're looking for:

... where television's most successful package programs come from

... chosen by 103 national advertisers in 1951... including 9 of America's 10 biggest

... reaching its audiences at a cost-per-thousand homes over 20% less than in 1950

... and reaching its audiences at a lower cost-per-thousand than any other network.

"This is The CBS Television Network"

TV'S PROBLEMS IN 1952

By CHRIS J. WITTING, Director and General Manager, Du Mont Television Network

TELEVISION has two vital jobs cut out for it in 1952:

One is to put the brakes on soaring costs, to keep the medium within reach of the sponsors whose support is essential.

The other is to meet the public clamor for wider video coverage of historic events as they unfold—and in particular, for full, dramatic and fair coverage of the coming political conventions, the national election campaigns and the election itself.

The industry's achievements in 1951 leave no doubt that television is rolling along handsomely. Its gross billings climbed from a little over $45 million to an estimated $129 million during the year. Its list of advertisers jumped impressively. The growth of its audience was spectacular—TV sets in use rose from 10½ million to around 15 million by the year-end, and may well top 18 million or more during the coming year.

But while the medium has been flourishing all along the line, its fast-rising costs have been causing increasing concern—and not a few cutbacks or cancellations by some of the sponsors who had been among television's earliest and most enthusiastic supporters.

"If the trend continues at the present rate, TV is going to leave the average-sized advertiser behind, no matter how good the medium is," said one top agency official recently.

And one of TV's biggest advertisers was quoted as saying: "Television costs have reached the point where action must be taken. Expenditures are getting so high even a big-time sponsor can't afford to handle a show for 39 weeks."

Some in the trade have predicted that $50,000 and $100,000 shows are going to be the vogue of the future. Perhaps they are right—but we believe the obviously growing cost-consciousness by sponsors, and the lengthening list of exits from expensive shows, calls for a sober appraisal of the near-term outlook.

Witting

We believe there's little question that costs-per-thousand will be trimmed sharply, barring unforeseen overall economic developments, during the next couple of years. Promising gains in this direction already have been made, but such trimming on a substantial scale will follow only when the Federal Communications Commission freeze on new station permits is lifted, allowing the industry to provide a truly nationwide circulation.

But meantime television must check its production costs and time charges so it can compete successfully with other media for the advertiser's dollar. Network operators cannot in 1952 go along presuming that the men who foot the bills will accept the sort of price rises that came in 1951.

So far, as the industry's billings figures show, other advertisers generally have stepped in to take the places of those who have dropped out along the rocky road of steeper prices. Good time still is so urgently in demand that an abandoned spot usually is picked up quickly by someone else. The disquieting question is—how long can the new sponsors hang on unless costs are curbed?

We are confident the young and energetic industry can handle this cost-control job in 1952. Its ingenuity in finding ways to meet sponsors' budget limitations has been demonstrated with such devices as its multiple and revolving sponsorship plans. Wider use of films and tele-transcriptions will help in many directions. Enlarged and improved studio facilities and new developments in equipment are constantly finding short cuts as the industry matures.

There even is some evidence that costly competitive bidding for high-priced talent from other entertainment media is quieting down—that television is putting more stress on developing its own fresh new stars. Advertisers and telecasters alike are becoming increasingly aware that a consistently high-rated show need not be a big-budget show.

For television's other prime job in '52—that of extending its coverage of special events in the public service—the national election will provide the greatest challenge yet presented to the medium.

Director and General Manager

Youngest among major network chiefs, CHRIS J. WITTING, director and general manager of the Du Mont Television Network, joined Du Mont in 1947. Active in formulating the web's policies, he brought to it wide experience in industrial management and business affairs gained as an executive of Price, Waterhouse Company, for whose clients he installed operating systems and internal procedures. When Price, Waterhouse was assigned to help set up USO

Camp Shows, Witting initiated the business organization to administer Camp Shows' worldwide activities. After 18 months with the U. S. Maritime Service, he was asked to set up operating procedures for the Allen B. Du Mont telecasting division. Named general manager of the network in 1949, his position has included responsibility for the success of Du Mont's owned and operated stations.

TED BERGMANN

Director of Sales

TED BERGMANN was the Du Mont Television Network's top salesman before becoming the web's director of sales in July, 1951. Joining the organization in June, 1947, he had had an effective hand in signing most of the major contracts for time bought by national advertisers. These sales coups included "Cavalcade of Stars" and "Cavalcade of Bands," as well as the "Captain Video" deal—TV's first half hour across-the-board network time sale to a single sponsor. New York City-born, Bergmann entered broadcasting by joining NBC in 1941, leaving shortly for wartime duty. A commissioned officer, he was second in command of radio public relations on General Eisenhower's staff. Leaving the service, he rejoined NBC and later went to a radio production organization as creator and salesman, resigning that position to join Du Mont's network sales department as an account executive.

JAMES L. CADDIGAN

Director of Programs and Production

JAMES L. CADDIGAN, director of programming and production for the Du Mont Television Network, is a pioneer in network television programming. Embracing motion pictures, radio and the legitimate stage, Caddigan's background has enabled him to give the television industry an unusual slant on programming. Responsible for TV's first full daytime schedule—on WABD, Du Mont's flagship station—he is con-

During the war, Caddigan served as a colonel on the staff of the adjutant general assigned to G2. A native of Boston, and former vice president of that city's Junior Chamber of Commerce, Caddigan is an active member of ATS and the Society of Motion Picture Engineers.

THE YEAR OF THE AWAKENING

By HAL DAVIS, Vice Pres., Kenyon & Eckhardt, Inc.

NINETEEN FIFTY-TWO is the year that sees agencies, networks, clients and local stations, both radio and TV, awake to the basic fact of programming—sales.

What put the picture into perspective was the industry's realization that radio and television are only parts of the selling pattern for any client. Clients are funny people. They aren't as hypnotized with the glamor of a sponsor's booth as they were in the dear dead days of institutional selling. Today they listen to the sales force, headed by a sales V-P who has little patience with any property which doesn't ring the cash registers.

Davis

Check out counters have somehow taken over the appeal of luncheons at "21." And the agencies, networks and stations not recognizing the fact are in for trouble.

However, it is apparent that many efforts are being made to strengthen the sales effects of radio and television programs. The new NBC merchandising set-up, headed by Fred Dodge, is an excellent step in the right direction. Agencies are waiting to see this service extended to television advertisers.

CBS countered the NBC merchandising organization with their announced A & P deal. Whether they pay off in money or airplugs, CBS is whetting the appetite of many an advertiser who would dearly love that A & P display space. Of course, in this deal, CBS is selling display space and not programming. It would be interesting to check on the number of agencies or clients who could recall the name of the program!

"Operation Chain Lightning," or the trade of spots for display space, is sweeping the country like the Florida boom of the twenties. Every day, another station checks in with a merchandising plan aimed at giving a store display plus to the advertiser's dollar. And don't think that these programs aren't being carefully considered as good buys. Of course, the stations which put on a good program will be ahead in the long run of the stations which run dog programs with a merchandising hook.

Interestingly enough, artists, or "talent" as they are called in budgets, are beginning to find the facts of sales life. You don't have to tell it to Arthur Godfrey, who takes the palm as America's number one salesman in radio-TV ranks. But you do have to explain it to many other stars.

One television luminary who understands the art of selling is Ed Sullivan, of Lincoln-Mercury and "Toast of the Town." No other TV show has had the local promotion made possible by Sullivan and his personal appearances. This year, he worked into a major department store promotion in key areas, promoting the Lincoln, its Modern-Living advertising theme, and the program. Lincoln-Mercury dealers say that Monday is their big traffic day—and "Toast" is seen on Sunday nights.

That's the kind of selling which clients appreciate.

Local stations know how their retailers respond to selling goods on their programs. And they are beginning to apply that knowledge to national accounts.

Incidentally, as an agency man who has had considerable dealings with stations the country over, I know they deserve considerable credit for their operations in one very important field.

We have always found that stations will do terrific jobs for us on personal appearances of network talent which appears on that station. Station managers and promotion men go out of their way to be of service and help in every respect. Additionally, they'll always try to be of help on odd assignments which we may have in their cities from time to time, even though it may not be a direct station benefit.

All in all, with promotion, publicity and programming becoming vitally important as a package, it looks like 1952 will mark major advances in the use of radio and television as selling tools for advertisers.

So far as client and agency are concerned, that's the pay-off that counts.

SELLING IN TELEVISION

By ALFRED J. SCALPONE, Vice President in Charge of Radio-Television Production
McCann-Erickson, Inc.

TELEVISION is the printed page, the spoken word, plus a dimension all its own.

With television you know a product is beautiful because you see what it does. You know how it works because you see it work. And there's the spoken word to support, explain and reinforce what you see! Television brings you pictures in action. Many of the things we have long hoped to do with advertising, we can now do in television.

Scalpone

Television selling can be newsworthy . . . exciting, dramatic . . . immediate. No wonder selling in television can really make the word impact mean so much.

Selling in television wears a thousand faces. It's the live commercial. The man who says, while he demonstrates, "Just look at this handy-dandy little potato peeler. It's sharper than the eye of a Peeping Tom! It not only gives you french-fried potatoes in a jiffy — but it's great for cole slaw, hot slaw, pot slaw — any kind of slaw . . . it's magic for a dollar!"

That's the pitchman.

Then there's the young lady who makes washing clothes the easiest job in the whole world. There's the cajoler, the leader, and also the statesman type.

There are the dramatic vignettes, the ballet dancers who jump for joy because you can get their wonderful product, the hillbillies, the typical housewives, and thousands of actors, acting like doctors, dentists, nurses, scientists. There are the cute animated cartoons — the cut-a-way action drawings of the product, puppets, moppets, cowboy actors who pull up their horses to tell you about somebody's bread. Then there are stop-motion films showing products unwrapping themselves, taking themselves apart, or putting themselves together. There are all the optical effects: objects turning into other objects, wipes, dissolves, superimposition, all kinds of film tricks — used to hold attention . . . to make a point.

Which of these faces should the product assume on television? Should it be live action, film, or a combination of both?

It depends upon the kind of product and the simplicity of the selling message. It depends upon how much money can be spent for commercials. It also depends upon the aura, the atmosphere wanted around the product, the company.

The experts — or the should-be experts — for recommending how to sell a product in television are the members of the advertising agency's commercial department, those responsible for creating commercials.

The commercial department must have a knowledge of advertising, of marketing, merchandising, sales promotion, because a good commercial is written only when there is a complete understanding of the client's advertising objectives.

And, obviously, since commercials are often integrated into programs, since they sometimes use entertainment personalities, and further, since they very often depend upon entertainment factors to hold the attention of the audience, the agency's commercial department must know something about show business.

Television is primarily a visual medium. Words share importance with pictures.

Three basic fundamentals.

First. We've learned that the greatest opportunity television offers is the opportunity to demonstrate. Demonstrate to sell!

Demonstrate by showing the product. Show it big. Show it often. Show how it is used. Show what it does, how it works.

The second fundamental we've learned is that of simplicity.

Don't make the television commercial a catalog of all the advantages of the product. If the product has two dozen advantages, hurray for the company, hurray for the product. But it won't be hurray for the commercial if two dozen selling points are crammed into one television message. That means the selling story must be boiled down.

Now the third fundamental we've learned. The best salesmen in the world are people.

How many times have you said, "if he'd just give me a chance to talk to him — If I could just see him face to face, I'd sell him." So, in television, use a personal salesman to sell potential customers face-to-face.

WE'VE borrowed a few phrases from Old Abe to illustrate what Washingtonians already know . . . that WTTG is a station dedicated to the service of our community.

For six years, Washington's first television station has carried more locally-produced programs than any other station in this area.

Six years of outstanding local programs, outstanding local personalities, creative program ability and production know-how.

If you've an eye for Washington business—place your sales message on WTTG, Washington's first and most locally-minded television station.

375 MILES OF FILM

have recorded the Maryland Scene for Television's Pioneer Newsreel

Translated into feet, this is staggering newsreel film footage of 1,980,000 on The Sunpapers Television News since its inception. But even this does not tell the complete story. It's a story of the recording of some 7000 separate news events; the story of a newsreel, appearing twice daily, which has never missed an edition; the story of Marylanders sitting in front of more than 350,000 television sets in the Baltimore community watching local news events almost as soon as they happen.

And still the story is not all told. The full sense of it cannot be appreciated without some knowledge of the importance of the community service rendered. For longer than four years, the Sunpapers Television News has done a job dedicated to public service, accuracy and integrity.

XELD-TV

brings you
America's newest television market

...the rich Rio Grande Valley

America's newest television station . . . XELD-TV, Brownsville, Texas, and Matamoras, Mexico, has created a new television market of unusual importance to advertisers.

XELD-TV's 2.8 kilowatts will cover the entire Rio Grande Valley, where television is eagerly awaited by 310,400 United States citizens and, below the border, by 200,000 Mexican citizens who buy United States products. This market, the third largest in Texas, is actually larger than Rochester, Memphis or Dayton. Its wealth produced more than $217,707,000 in retail sales during 1950.

A CBS affiliate represented by Blair-TV, XELD-TV is managed and staffed by veterans in Southwest advertising.

Spot clients are assured saturation of this productive market through use of both Spanish and English on local programming. Currently there are 11,100 TV sets, with hundreds more being installed daily throughout the rich, home-loving Rio Grande Valley.

Advertisers who establish their franchises now will profit most from this unusually heavy interest in television among people with money to spend. Call Blair-TV today!

PREAMBLE

TELEVISION is seen and heard in every type of American home. These homes include children and adults of all ages, embrace all races and all varieties of religious faith, and reach those of every educational background. It is the responsibility of television to bear constantly in mind that the audience is primarily a home audience, and consequently that television's relationship to the viewers is that between guest and host.

THE REVENUES from advertising support the free, competitive American system of telecasting, and make available to the eyes and ears of the American people the finest programs of information, education, culture and entertainment. By law the television broadcaster is responsible for the programming of his station. He, however, is obligated to bring his positive responsibility for excellence and good taste in programming to bear upon all who have a hand in the production of programs, including networks, sponsors, producers of film and of live programs, advertising agencies, and talent agencies.

THE AMERICAN businesses which utilize television for conveying their advertising messages to the home by pictures with sound, seen free-of-charge on the home screen, are reminded that their responsibilities are not limited to the sale of goods and the creation of a favorable attitude toward the sponsor by the presentation of entertainment. They include, as well, responsibility for utilizing television to bring the best programs, regardless of kind, into American homes.

TELEVISION, and all who participate in it are jointly accountable to the American public for respect for the special needs of children, for community responsibility, for advancement of education and culture, for the acceptability of the program materials chosen, for decency and decorum in production, and for propriety in advertising. This responsibility cannot be discharged by any given group of programs, but can be discharged only through the highest standards of respect for the American home, applied to every moment of every program presented by television.

IN ORDER that television programming may best serve the public interest, viewers should be encouraged to make their criticisms and positive suggestions known to the television broadcasters. Parents in particular should be urged to see to it that out of the richness of television fare, the best programs are brought to the attention of their children.

ADVANCEMENT OF EDUCATION AND CULTURE

1. Commercial television provides a valuable means of augmenting the educational and cultural influences of schools, institutions of higher learning, the home, the church, museums, foundations, and other institutions devoted to education and culture.

2. It is the responsibility of a television broadcaster to call upon such institutions for counsel and co-operation and to work with them on the best methods of presenting educational and cultural materials by television. It is further the responsibility of stations, networks, advertising agencies and sponsors consciously to seek opportunities for introducing into telecasts factual materials which will aid in the enlightenment of the American public.

3. Education via television may be taken to mean that process by which the individual is brought toward informed adjustment to his society. Television is also responsible for the presentation of overtly instructional and cultural programs, scheduled so as to reach the viewers who are naturally drawn to such programs, and produced so as to attract the largest possible audience.

4. In furthering this realization, the television broadcaster:

a) Should be thoroughly conversant with the educational and cultural needs and desires of the community served.

b) Should affirmatively seek out responsible and accountable educational and cultural institutions of the community with a view toward providing opportunities for the instruction and enlightenment of the viewers.

c) Should provide for reasonable experimentation in the development of programs specifically directed to the advancement of the community's culture and education.

ACCEPTABILITY OF PROGRAM MATERIAL

Program materials should enlarge the horizons of the viewer, provide him with wholesome entertainment, afford helpful stimulation, and remind him of the responsibilities which the citizen has toward his society. Furthermore:

a) (i) Profanity, obscenity, smut and vulgarity are forbidden, even when likely to be understood only by part of the audience. From time to time, words which have been acceptable, acquire undesirable meanings, and telecasters should be alert to eliminate such words.

(ii) The Television Code Review Board (see V, Section 3, page 25) shall maintain and issue to subscribers, from time to time, a continuing list of specific words and phrases, the use of which should not be used in keeping with this subsection. This list, however, shall not be considered as all-inclusive.

b) (i) Attacks on religion and religious faiths are not allowed.

(ii) Reverence is to mark any mention of the name of God, His attributes and powers.

(iii) When religious rites are included in other than religious programs, the rites are accurately presented, and the ministers, priests and rabbis portrayed in their callings are vested with the dignity of their office and under no circumstances are to be held up to ridicule.

c) (i) Contests may not constitute a lottery.

• • • TELEVISION CODE — NARTB • • •

(ii) Any telecasting designed to "buy" the television audience by requiring it to listen and/or view in hope of reward, rather than for the quality of the program, should be avoided. (Reference, Contests, page 18.)

d) Respect is maintained for the sanctity of marriage and the value of the home. Divorce is not treated casually nor justified as a solution for marital problems.

e) Illicit sex relations are not treated as commendable.

f) Sex crimes and abnormalities are generally unacceptable as program material.

g) Drunkenness and narcotic addiction are never presented as desirable or prevalent.

h) The administration of illegal drugs will not be displayed.

i) The use of liquor in program content shall be de-emphasized. The consumption of liquor in American life, when not required by the plot or for proper characterization, shall not be shown.

j) The use of gambling devices or scenes necessary to the development of plot or as appropriate background is acceptable only when presented with discretion and in moderation, and in a manner which would not excite interest in, or foster, betting nor be instructional in nature. Telecasts of actual sport programs at which on-the-scene betting is permitted by law should be presented in a manner in keeping with Federal, state and local laws, and should concentrate on the subject as a public sporting event.

k) In reference to physical or mental afflictions and deformities, special precautions must be taken to avoid ridiculing sufferers from similar ailments and offending them or members of their families.

l) Exhibitions of fortune-telling, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, and numerology are acceptable only when required by a plot or the theme of a program, and then the presentation should be developed in a manner designed not to foster superstition or excite interest or belief in these subjects.

m) Television drama shall not stimulate news or special events in such a way as to mislead or alarm. Reference is made to the section of the Code on News.

n) Legal, medical and other professional advice, diagnosis and treatment will be permitted only in conformity with law and recognized ethical and professional standards.

o) The presentation of cruelty, greed and selfishness as worthy motivations is to be avoided.

p) Unfair exploitation of others for personal gain shall not be presented as praiseworthy.

q) Criminality shall be presented as undesirable and unsympathetic. The condoning of crime and the treatment of the commission of crime in a frivolous, cynical or callous manner is unacceptable.

r) The presentation of techniques of crime in such detail as to invite imitation shall be avoided.

s) The use of horror for its own sake will be eliminated; the use of visual or aural effects which would shock or alarm the viewer, and the detailed presentation of brutality or physical agony by sight or by sound are not permissible.

t) Law enforcement shall be upheld, and the officers of the law are to be portrayed with respect and dignity.

u) The presentation of murder or revenge as a motive for murder shall not be presented as justifiable.

v) Suicide as an acceptable solution for human problems is prohibited.

w) The exposition of sex crimes will be avoided.

x) The appearances or dramatizaion of persons featured in actual crime news will be permitted only in such light as to aid law enforcement or to report the news event.

RESPONSIBILITY TOWARD CHILDREN

1. The education of children involves giving them a sense of the world at large. Crime, violence and sex are a part of the world they will be called upon to meet, and a certain amount of proper presentation of such is helpful in orienting the child to his social surroundings. However, violence and illicit sex shall not be presented in an attractive manner, nor to an extent such as will lead a child to believe that they play a greater part in life than they do. They should not be presented without indications of the resultant retribution and punishment.

2. It is not enough that only those programs which are intended for viewing by children shall be suitable to the young and immature. (Attention is called to the general items listed under "Acceptability of Program Materials.") Television is responsible for insuring that programs of all sorts which occur during the times of day when children may normally be expected to have the opportunity of viewing television shall exercise care in the following regards:

a) In affording opportunities for cultural growth as well as for wholesome entertainment.

b) In developing programs to foster and promote the commonly accepted moral, social and ethical ideals characteristic of American life.

c) In reflecting respect for parents, for honorable behavior, and for the constituted authorities of the American community.

d) In eliminating reference to kidnapping of children or threats of kidnapping.

e) In avoiding material which is excessively violent or would create morbid suspense, or other undesirable reactions in children.

f) In exercising particular restraint and care in crime or mystery episodes involving children or minors.

DECENCY AND DECORUM IN PRODUCTION

1. The costuming of all performers shall be within the bounds of propriety, and shall avoid such exposure or such emphasis on anatomical detail as would embarrass or offend home viewers.

2. The movements of dancers, actors, or other performers shall be kept within the bounds of decency, and lewdness and impropriety shall not be suggested in the positions assumed by performers.

3. Camera angles shall avoid such views of performers as to emphasize anatomical details indecently.

4. Racial or nationality types shall not be shown in television in such a manner as to ridicule the race or nationality.

5. The use of locations closely associated with sexual life or with sexual sin must be governed by good taste and delicacy.

COMMUNITY RESPONSIBILITY

A television broadcaster and his staff occupy a position of responsibility in the community and should conscientiously endeavor to be acquainted fully with its needs and characteristics in order better to serve the welfare of its citizens.

TREATMENT OF NEWS AND PUBLIC EVENTS

News

1. A television station's news schedule should be adequate and well-balanced.

2. News reporting should be factual, fair and without bias.

3. Commentary and analysis should be clearly identified as such

4. Good taste should prevail in the selection handling of news:

Morbid, sensational or alarming details not essential to the factual report, especially in connection with stories of crime or sex, should be avoided. News should be telecast in such a manner as to avoid panic and unnecessary alarm.

5. At all times, pictorial and verbal material for both news and comment should conform to other sections of these standards, wherever such sections are reasonably applicable.

6. Pictorial material should be chosen with care and not presented in a misleading manner.

7. A television broadcaster should exercise due care in his supervision of content format, and presentation of newscasts originated by his station; and in his selection of newscasters, commentators, and analysts.

8. A television broadcaster should exercise particular discrimination in the acceptance, placement and presentation of advertising in news programs so that such advertising should be clearly distinguishable from the news content.

9. A television broadcaster should not present fictional events or other non-news material as authentic news telecasts or announcements nor should he permit dramatizations in any program which would give the false impression that the dramatized material constitutes news. Expletives, (presented aurally or pictorially) such as "flash" or "bulletin" and statements such as "we interrupt this program to bring you . . ." should be reserved specifically for news room use. However, a television broadcaster may properly exercise discretion in the use in non-news programs of words or phrases which do not necessarily imply that the material following is a news release.

Public Events

1. A television broadcaster has an affirmative responsibility at all times to be informed of public events, and to provide coverage consonant with the ends of an informed and enlightened citizenry.

2. Because of the nature of events open to public, the treatment of such events by a television broadcaster should be effected in a manner to provide for adequate and informed coverage as well as good taste in presentation.

Controversial Public Issues

1. Television provides a valuable forum for the expression of responsible views on public issues of a controversial nature. In keeping therewith the television broadcaster should seek out and develop with accountable individuals, groups and organizations, programs relating to controversial public issues of import to its fellow citizens; and to give fair representation to opposing sides of issues which materially affect the life or welfare of a substantial segment of the public.

2. The provision of time for this purpose should be guided by the following principles:

a) Requests of individuals, groups or organizations for time to discuss their views on controversial public issues, should be considered on the basis of their individual merits, and in the light of the contribution which the use requested would make to the public interest, and to a well-balanced program structure.

b. Programs, devoted to the discussion of controversial public issues should be identified as such, and should not be presented in a manner which would mislead listeners or viewers to believe that the program is of entertainment, news or any other character.

Political Telecasts

Political telecasts should be clearly identified as such, and should not be presented by a television broadcaster in a manner which would mislead listeners or views to believe that the program is of any other character.

Religious Programs

1. It is the responsibility of a television broadcaster to make available to the community as part of a well-balanced program schedule adequate opportunity for religious presentations.

2. The following principles should be followed in the treatment of such programs:

a) Telecasting which reaches men of all creeds simultaneously should avoid attacks upon religion.

b) Religious programs should be presented respectfully and accurately and without prejudice or ridicule.

c) Religious programs should be presented by responsible individuals, groups, and organizations.

d) Religious programs should place emphasis on broad religious truths, excluding the presentation of controversial or partisan views not directly or necessarily related to religion or morality.

3. In the allocation of time for telecasts of religious programs it is recommended that the television station use its best efforts to apportion such time fairly among the representative faith groups of its community.

PRESENTATION OF ADVERTISING

1. Ever mindful of the role of television as a guest in the home, a television broadcaster should exercise unceasing care to supervise the form in which advertising material is presented over his facilities. Since television is a developing medium, involving methods and techniques distinct from those of radio, it may be desirable, from time to time, to review and revise the presently suggested practices.

(a) Advertising messages should be presented with courtesy and good taste; disturbing or annoying material should be avoided; every effort should be made to keep the advertising message in harmony with the content and general tone of the program in which it appears.

b) A sponsor's advertising messages should be confined within the framework of the sponsor's program structure. A television broadcaster should seek to avoid the use of commercial announcements which are divorced from the program either by preceding the introduction of the program (as in the case of so-called "cow-catcher" announcements) or by following the apparent sign-off of the program (as in the case of so-called "trailer" announcements). To this end, the program itself should be announced and clearly identified before the sponsor's advertising material is first used, and should be signed off after the sponsor's advertising material is last used.

c) Advertising copy should contain no claims intended to disparage competitors, competing products, or other industries, professions or institutions.

d) Since advertising by television is a dynamic technique, a television broadcaster should keep under surveillance new advertising devices so that the spirit and purpose of these standards are fulfilled.

e) Television broadcasters should exercise the utmost care and discrimination with regard to advertising material, including content, placement and presentation, near or adjacent to programs designed for children. No considerations of expediency should be permitted to impinge upon the vital responsibility towards children and adolescents, which is inherent in television, and which must be recognized and accepted by all advertisers employing television.

f) Television advertisers should be encouraged to devote portions of their allotted advertising messages and program time to the support of worthy causes in the public interest in keeping with the highest ideals of the free competitive system.

g) A charge for television time to churches and religious bodies is not recommended.

ACCEPTABILITY OF ADVERTISERS AND PRODUCTS

General

1. A commercial television broadcaster makes his facilities available for the advertising of products and services and accepts commercial presentations for such advertising. However, a television broadcaster should, in recognition of his responsibility to the public, refuse the facilities of his station to an advertiser where he has good reason to doubt the integrity of the advertiser, the truth of the advertising representations, or the compliance of the advertiser with the spirit and purpose of all applicable legal requirements. Moreover, in consideration of the laws and customs of the communities served, each television broadcaster should refuse his facilities to the advertisement of products and services, or the use of advertising scripts, which the station has good reason to believe would be objectionable to a substantial and responsible segment of the community. The foregoing principles should be applied with judgment and flexibility, taking into consideration the characteristics of the medium and the form and content of the particular presentation. In general, because television broadcast is designed for the home and the family, including children, the following principles should govern the business classifications listed below:

a) The advertising of hard liquor should not be accepted.

b) The advertising of beer and wines is acceptable only when presented in the best of good taste and discretion, and is acceptable subject to federal and local laws.

c) Advertising by institutions or enterprises which in their offers of instruction imply promises of employment or make exaggerated claims for the opportunities awaiting those who enroll for courses is generally unacceptable.

d) The advertising of firearms and fireworks is acceptable only subject to federal and local laws.

e) The advertising of fortune-telling, occultism, spiritualism, astrology, phrenology, palm-reading, numerology, mind-reading or character-reading is not acceptable.

f) Because all products of a personal nature create special problems, such products, when accepted, should be treated with especial emphasis on ethics and the canons of good taste; however, the advertising of intimately personal products which are generally regarded as unsuitable conversational topics in mixed social groups are not acceptable.

g) The Advertising of tip sheets, race track publications, or organizations seeking to advertise for the purpose of giving odds or promoting betting or lotteries is not acceptable.

2. Diligence should be exercised to the end that advertising copy accepted for telecasting complies with pertinent federal, state and local laws.

3. An advertiser who markets more than one product should not be permitted to use advertising copy devoted to an acceptable product for purposes of publicizing the brand name or other identification of a product which is not acceptable.

Advertising of Medical Products

1. The advertising of medical products presents considerations of intimate and far-reaching importance to the consumer, and the following principles and procedures should apply in the advertising thereof.

a) A television broadcaster should not accept advertising material which in his opinion offensively describes or dramatizes distress or morbid situations involving ailments, by spoken word, sound or visual effects.

b) Because of the personal nature of the advertising of medical products, claims that a product will effect a cure and the indiscriminate use of such words as "safe", "without risk", "harmless", or terms of similar meaning should not be accepted in the advertising of medical products on television stations.

Contests

1. Contests should offer the opportunity to all contestants to win on the basis of ability and skill, rather than chance.

2. All contest details, including rules, eligibility requirements, opening and termination dates should be clearly and completely announced and/or shown or easily accessible to the viewing public, and the winners' names should be released and prizes awarded as soon as possible after the close of the contest.

3. When advertising is accepted which requests contestants to submit items of product identification or other evidence of purchase of product, reasonable facsimiles thereof should be made acceptable.

4. All copy pertaining to any contest (except that which is required by law) associated with the exploitation or sale of the sponsor's product or service, and all references to prizes or gifts offered in such connection should be considered a part of and included in the total time allowances as herein provided. (see Time Standards for Advertising Copy.)

Premiums and Offers

1. Full details of proposed offers should be required by the television broadcaster for investigation and approval before the first announcement of the offer is made to the public.

2. A final date for the termination of an offer should be announced as far in advance as possible.

3. Before accepting for telecast offers involving a monetary consideration, a television broadcaster should satisfy himself as to the integrity of the advertiser and the advertiser's willingness to honor complaints indicating dissatisfaction with the premium by returning the monetary consideration.

4. There should be no misleading descriptions or visual representations of any premiums or gifts which would distort or enlarge their value in the minds of the listeners.

5. Assurances should be obtained from the advertiser that premiums offered are not harmful to person or property.

6. Premiums should not be approved which appeal to superstition on the basis of "luck-bearing" powers or otherwise.

Time Standards for Advertising Copy

1. As a guide to the determination of good telecast advertising practice, the time standards for advertising copy, presently suggested, are as follows:

| Length of Program(minutes) | News ProgramsDay and Night | Length of Advertising Message(minutes and seconds) |                                      |
|--------------------------------|--------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
|                                |                                | Class "A" Time                                         | All Other ProgramsAll Other Hrs. |
| 5                              | 1:00                           | 1:00                                                   | 1:15                                 |
| 10                             | 1:45                           | 2:00                                                   | 2:10                                 |
| 15                             | 2:15                           | 2:30                                                   | 3:00                                 |
| 25                             |                                | 2:50                                                   | 4:00                                 |
| 30                             |                                | 3:00                                                   | 4:15                                 |
| 45                             |                                | 4:30                                                   | 5:45                                 |
| 60                             |                                | 6:00                                                   | 7:00                                 |

2. The time standards set forth above do not affect the established practice of reserving for station use the last 30 seconds of each program for station break and spot announcements.

3. Announcement programs are designed to accommodate a designated number of individual live or recorded announcements, generally one minute in length, which are carried within the body of the program and are available for sale to individual advertisers. Normally not more than 3 one-minute announcements (which should not exceed approximately 125 words if presented live) should be scheduled within a 15-minute period and not more than six such announcements should be scheduled within a 30-minute period in local announcement programs; however, fewer announcements of greater individual length may be scheduled provided, that the aggregate length of the announcements approximates three minutes in a 15-minute program or six minutes in a 30-minute program. In announcement programs other than 15 minutes or 30 minutes in length, the proportion of one minute of announcement within every five minutes of programming is normally applied. The announcements must be presented within the framework of the program period designated for their use and kept in harmony with the content of the program in which they are placed.

4. Programs presenting women's services, features, shopping guides, market information, and similar material, provide a special service to the listening and viewing public in which advertising material is an informative and integral part of the program content. Because of these special characteristics the time standards set forth above may be waived to a reasonable extent. In the present state of experimentation in programming and advertising techniques in television programs of this type no definite limitations to these exceptions are set forth at this time.

5. Any casual reference in a program to another's product or service under any trade name or language sufficiently descriptive to identify it should, except for normal guest identifications, be condemned and discouraged.

6. Stationary backdrops or properties in television presentations showing the sponsor's name or product, the name of his product, his trade mark or slogan may be used only incidentally. They should not obtrude on program interest or entertainment. "On Camera" shots of such materials should be fleeting, not too frequent, and mindful of the need of maintaining a proper program balance.

Dramatized Appeals and Advertising

Appeals to help fictitious characters in television programs by purchasing the advertiser's product or service or sending for a premium should not be permitted, and such fictitious characters should not be introduced into the advertising message for such purposes. When dramatized advertising material involves statements by doctors, dentists, nurses or other professional people, the material should be presented by members of such profession reciting actual experience or it should be made apparent from the presentation itself that the portrayal is dramatized.

Sponsor Identification

Identification of sponsorship must be made in all sponsored programs in accordance with the requirements of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the Rules and Regulations of the Federal Communications Commission.

Oral argument may be had at the hearing and written memoranda or briefs may be submitted by the subscriber and by the Television Code Review Board. #### Section 6. Amendment and Review

Because of the new and dynamic aspects inherent in television broadcast, the Television Code, as a living, flexible and continuing document, may be amended from time to time by the Television Board of Directors; provided that said Board is specifically charged with review and reconsideration of the entire Code, its appendices and procedures, at least once each year.

Section 7. Termination of Contracts

TV PRODUCTION FORECAST

By Dr. Allen B. DuMont

south and southwest by mid-1952 and (7) the increased quality of programming.

A good year is in prospect at manufacturer, distributor and dealer levels, although rising costs and higher corporate taxes will cut into profit structures.

Even though the industry doubled its output of electronic equipment for the armed forces during 1951, the tremendous production role it is to play in the national defense effort is still to be written. This will come into sharp focus during 1952.

It is almost an impossibility to exaggerate the importance of electronics in our defense planning. All phases of the military establishment—land, sea and air—are putting electronics to increasingly important uses. Today's modern airplanes are but platforms carrying vast quantities of electronics equipment. Naval vessels are dependent upon radar and sonar as navigational and protective aids. Ground radar, the first line of defense against enemy attack, guided missiles, atomic warheads, proximity fuses, weather reporting, mine detection, and all forms of communication are wholly dependent upon electronics.

One prominent defense spokesman summed it up when he recently stated that every modern weapon today, with the exception of small side arms, must include, at least, some electronics equipment.

Production and deliveries of military electronics equipment will swing into its full tempo in 1952. Conversion of existing facilities to defense production has virtually been completed. The important role of electronics in the national rearmament schedule is sharply defined and the program is already underway.

By the end of the first quarter of 1952, production of military electronics equipment will have reached a peak, aggregating a total of $600 million, and remaining there throughout the year.

The Du Mont organization is already in step with the industry's war effort. At present the military backlog is well over $65 million and we expect to be in high gear on defense projects by spring. By that time, we anticipate that approximately 60 per cent of the firm's business will be concerned with defense contracts. The combination of military and civilian orders will mean an all-time high sales year for Du Mont of between $100-125 million, well over 1950's record-breaking total of $76 million, and double the 1951 sales figure.

Industry-wise the military and civilian orders will mean a new peak figure for productivity and sales. This year will see the electronics industry take its place in the public's eye as one of America's top industries. Its 1952 record will pale all past achievement with an increasingly effective marshalling of its manpower, resources and facilities in contributing to the national welfare.

FILMS' PLACE IN TELEVISION

By GEORGE T. SHUPERT, Vice President, Peerless Television Productions, Inc.

NOT so long ago television producers were divided into two camps—those who felt films would play an important role in television and those who felt that all television programs must be live. Today, several years later and with the wisdom born of experience, the dividing line between the two factions is barely perceptible. Both have learned that neither live nor filmed programs offer the complete answer to every program need. Each has its place and each complements the other to make up a well balanced television program.

Shupert

The scope of a live television program is limited, and like the legitimate theatre, it often suffers from shortness of reach in its story telling department. The theatre can over-come this lack of scope by the personal magnetism of the actors who appear on the stage almost within arms reach of the audience. Live television, however, cannot thus compensate for its weaknesses, for with television, no matter how the picture originates, the end result as it appears in the viewer's home is a motion picture.

Filmed television programs can be shown time again and always in the same flawless manner without fluffs or accidents which can be most embarrassing to a sponsor. They cost less, too, because original costs can be amortized over many markets. Films are the only sure way that local and regional sponsors can compete with high priced network talent.

The past year has seen a great increase in the use of filmed television programs. During 1951, microwave relays began carrying live television signals from coast to coast, and sponsors discovered that the time differential offered a real stumbling block. The result has been that several national advertisers are again conducting studies to see if they might not do better with film.

I believe that we are just entering a period when many of these advertisers will turn to film to supply the bulk of their program needs. General David Sarnoff's recent prediction that as much as 75 per cent of all television programs will eventually be on film, may well become a reality by the end of 1952. And when one considers that less than 40% of all television programs are today on film, he begins to realize the magnitude of the task confronting the film producers.

During 1951 there was a great change in the qualitative as well as the quantitative aspect of films for television. While at the beginning of the year, well over a hundred film producers with varying degrees of talent were engaged in television film production, today less than one-third of this number are so engaged; many of these find the going rather difficult. The incompetents, the shoestring producers, and that fringe element that is ever present when it appears that there is a "fast buck" to be made, are falling by the wayside. And the expanding field for television film product is beginning to attract some really competent motion picture producers. They bring to television the production know-how and financial stability which to date has been largely lacking. Perhaps the most encouraging news to those desiring the best in filmed entertainment is the entrance of such successful Hollywood producers as Edward Small.

And feature films are establishing themselves as quality television fare now that better product is being released. Recently we released a group of top features to television stations and advertisers. They are commanding excellent ratings wherever they play. These results again prove that entertaining, well-made films, whether produced directly for television or not, can attract and hold an audience and pay off for the sponsor.

When the freeze on television station construction is lifted, films will be ready and waiting to allow the new television operator to get on the air quickly, economically, and with a program quality impossible to duplicate locally. Films will lessen a station's dependence on network programs and they may eventually change the entire structure of television networking. Whatever way we look at it, television seems destined to grow and prosper during 1952, and films will continue to solve many knotty program problems.

WE MEAN BUSINESS . . . AND SO DO OUR FILMS!

YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT ARCHER PRODUCTIONS

We set about building . . . no, creating . . . the kind of film company we felt could do the most good for an advertiser or an advertising agency.

We think we're on the right track. In three years, we've outgrown our premises three times, and have turned out more films than most producers we know of in our particular field.

We're convinced one reason customers like our operation and our product is that we're in this business ALL THE WAY . . . body and soul, heart and imagination, skill and facilities. That means something to you, as a buyer of television or industrial films. For instance:

THE PERMANENT, FULL-TIME STAFF of Archer . . . producers, writers, directors, scenic designers, artists, animators, sound and film technicians, studio hands . . . are hand-picked specialists of creditable accomplishment in their respective fields. Here is talent with teamwork, in a capable and permanent unit that doesn't have to pick up an undue amount of floating, free-lance help to get an important job done.

THE ADVERTISING AGENCY BACKGROUND OF OUR KEY PERSONNEL is coupled with solid experience in television, the stage, radio and music as well as in motion pictures. That means we can speak your language . . . and when the time for talking's past, we know how to buckle down and produce films that produce for you.

OUR OWN STUDIO is unsurpassed for television film production. Acoustics are excellent, floor space is unobstructed (60' x 65') and head-room (25' ceiling) are ample. Optimum size and modest studio overhead help keep the price of your film where it ought to be.

UP-TO-THE-MINUTE SOUND EQUIPMENT includes both studio installation and portable Fairchild systems. Sound tracks are clean and of high quality.

OUR CREATIVE IMAGINATION . . . disciplined in the advertising arts . . . is a powerful idea machine waiting for you to push the button. We've got ideas to share, ideas to spare, ideas from fertile and practical minds for your own special use and profits. If you like, we'll plan and write forceful TV spots or programs, or industrial films . . . in entirety or in collaboration with your own staff.

OUR OWN ANIMATION DEPARTMENT operates full-time, the year 'round, contains some of the finest talent in the business.

OUR CUSTOMERS include some 35 advertisers of fine reputation. Most are national in scope, but we're painstaking with smaller firms, too. In 3 years we've turned out 650 films OF VARIOUS LENGTHS and for various purposes.

OUR PRODUCT speaks for itself; we'd rather screen it for you than haul out our press clippings, the awards we've won, the letters from happy customers. We're grateful for past recognition, but want it known that our greatest work is in the future. We'd like the privilege of doing some of it for you.

WHAT HAPPENS TO TV FILMS

By CHARLES B. BROWN, Vice-President, Bing Crosby Enterprises, Inc.

IT is only fair to begin by stating that a great improvement in TV film handling has come about in the past year, yet much still remains to be done. Now for a few examples.

The shipping department was about to rush ship, without sufficient check-up, a "Royal Playhouse" film. The can which had come in from a station was imprinted with the title "Royal Playhouse," but a last minute impulse to peek inside revealed a print of a Laurel & Hardy comedy.

Another evil event, is the decision of the station film man to cut in a local commercial in a spot other than set up by the studio after a long study of the dramatic script and the pace of the story itself as filmed. With the nonchalance of a one armed butcher making an off hand cut, our friend cuts right through the heart of a situation and the plot almost bleeds to death, while the viewer wishes the sponsor had.

Sometimes too, for the sake of a too lengthy local commercial, done live by the cousin of the sponsor's third wife, a section of the film is neatly sliced out and beautifully spliced right through a portion of a scene, the offending section of "The Hired Girl" coming back months later in a can with "The Celebrated Mrs. Rowland." Mrs. Rowland doesn't like it and we don't either, to say nothing of the viewer who after seeing the back of a character going out when he hadn't obviously quite gotten in, was faced with the horns of a dilemma; should he stop drinking or television? In the meantime, the mutilated print with the missing section, had of necessity been replaced with a new copy. Multiply this by the right quotient of fifty-two programs in forty markets or so and the cost is considerable.

We sometimes receive return shipments with the film loose on the reel. Some of the actors in the coiled up mess must surely suffer from strangulated hernia. The emulsion, of course, is scratched and a new print often required.

Brown

Another difficulty, is that of the lost program. It goes on the air and then into thin air. For example, how to account for one print of "Man Without a Country" turning up eight months after it went out over Station A and comes back from Station B, where it never was scheduled, and spliced into a section of "Canterville Ghost." It's really uncanny and unbelievable, except to our shipping clerk who fortunately has astigmatism and is not too surprised at visual incongruity.

Yet another and very real problem, is that of running film A when B was scheduled, promoted, merchandised and publicized. For example, imagine the embarrassment to all concerned when we had built up a lady in her home town where the picture featuring her was to be shown. She was unfortunately divorced the week of the showing midst much local publicity, but to cap it off, instead of her picture, one set for two weeks hence was run, believe it or not Ripley, entitled "No Strings Attached." We have tried to cut to a minimum the number of days between arriving shipments, but in winter months we are sometimes forced to play it safe and ship two to three weeks at a time. The station film department, in its all too busy schedule, at times grab any can marked "Royal Playhouse" and on it goes.

One of the most irritating of all irritants is the situation where a local advertiser requests his title or introduction over and above a normal identification and opening or closing commercial. Inasmuch as thirty minutes ever remains inelastic, out comes the cleaver and up comes the hodge podge of elements. Sometimes too, the whole story has been shortened or normal credits chopped off to a point where the show irritates the viewer instead of soothing him to a point where the commercial is accepted and effective.

The situation, as a whole, today is far better than a year ago, yet I believe that at all NARTB conventions there should be a discussion meeting, not a panel, between representatives of distribution organizations and station film department heads, in which film handling methods should be discussed. Out of such group meetings would come many ideas which both sides and, for that matter, producers as well could apply to bring about smoother, more efficient operation.

TECHNIQUE FOR TV SPORTCASTING

By HARRY WISMER, General Executive of MBS

THE coming of television in sports necessitated the "education" not only of the viewer, but of the experienced radio broadcaster as well.

Everybody knows by now that the greatest problem that confronted established radio sportscasters, when they turned to television, was the question of when to talk and when not to talk.

I believe it's reasonable to say that the average sportscaster on television today has struck a happy medium. He talks when he has something to say, but he is smart enough to let the little pictures do their share of the talking too.

As anyone who has worked in both medias can tell you, there is a vast difference between covering sports on radio and doing them on TV. You certainly have to be better informed when you're doing television. Your audience is in a position to check on much of what you say. If you glibly have Joe Doakes racing across for the tying touchdown—when it was actually Bob Jones—you're in trouble. If you call an end run an off-tackle play, everybody knows instantly that you don't know what you're talking about. A thorough knowledge of the rules, the tactics and the personnel of the game you are covering is far more essential in TV than it was on radio, although it certainly was—and is—important there too.

Taking a look at the other side of the coin, I think the crew producing a telecast of a sports event is under much heavier pressure to give the viewers a more interesting show than is the radio crew. You have to fight monotony on television all the time. Because your cameras are making the watcher feel he is inside the stadium or arena, he gets impatient if he is inside the stadium or arena, he gets impatient if he is given only a restricted view of the proceedings. He wants your cameras to be as free and as inquisitive as his eyes would be if he were in on a ticket.

Wismer

Broadcasting and telecasting range from the simplicity of baseball to the complexity of football.

In my opinion the easiest sport to broadcast or telecast is baseball because the action is comparatively slow, and the line-ups remain fairly consistent throughout a game. The broadcaster is very close to the scene of action and the rules and fundamentals of the game are simple. In fact, it's pretty safe to say that seventy-five out of a hundred professional baseball players in this country—with fair voices—could eventually become top-flight baseball broadcasters.

The other extreme is football. Football is difficult to broadcast because the whole game is designed to deceive and confuse—the opposition and the spectators alike. The constant use of substitutions during a football game makes it very difficult for the fans to keep up with the progress of the contest. In a stadium holding 90,000 people, football men and coaches will tell you not more than 20,000 are entirely familiar with what's going on down the field. That ratio I am sure would be even greater in the TV homes of the nation. The bringing of a football game to the listening and viewing audiences therefore demands a true knowledge of the game and requires much more explanation and commentary than any other sport.

Of course, we're all familiar with the gags about the radio broadcaster sounding as though he were describing a different game from the one appearing on the television screen. Personally, I think this problem has been grossly exaggerated, but there is no question that the radio announcer, feeling the responsibility of setting the scene, and providing his listeners with a general description of the event—as well as specific information—has to come up with a much more colorful job than does the TV-caster. After all, the latter merely has to fill in what the screen does not show. There's certain "on the scene" excitement attached to all sports—especially football and basketball—and while I agree that TV broadcasters must guard against too much conversation, the TV audience still seems to enjoy a bit of color and background—that little extra something that transmits to them the thrill of being part of the attending throng.

What's in a Name?

Way back in 1922, the late Henry C. Gates, well known industrialist, decided to make the name GATES synonymous with service in the electronics field.

Today, 30 years later, it would be a rare exception to find anyone who does not know about GATES products.

One of the oldest manufacturers of electronic equipment in the world, the GATES RADIO COMPANY specializes in radio transmitting equipment of all types — AM, FM, TV, Communications, etc.

By so specializing — and through production efficiency — GATES is able to offer higher quality at more modest prices.

No job is too large or small, too complex or simple for GATES to tackle.

Because GATES itself manufactures a large number of the components that go into finished GATES equipment, designs are not assemblies built to the convenience of someone else's particular size of material.

This means GATES offers "custom-built" quality and efficiency at prices that pleasantly surprise.

All of these points are of outstanding importance to you — are specific reasons for wanting your transmitting equipment to bear that familiar and trusted name — GATES.

RADIO AND TV—A REVIEW

By BILL NOBLE, Associate Editor, RADIO-TELEVISION DAILY

WHILE the near future of television must be re-evaluated in light of the lifting of the three-and-a-half year freeze on new transmitters in the field, it is still necessary to point out that the most recent twelve months have already seen new thoughts concerning the survival of radio.

Finally, cognizance has been taken of the fact that untold millions of listeners of radio are beyond the reach of measuring services, in automobiles, at the beach or camp, or that more than a single set is on in the home at one time.

Certainly the final estimates issued by the RTMA, for 1951, prove the point that radio is a live and vital factor. On February 1, last, the industry body announced that a total of 12,299,146 radios, were sold last year. Of these, 6,584,960 were home sets; 1,264,319 were portables and 4,449,867 were car radios.

These figures compare to a total of 7,463,800 TV sets sold during the year and can be confidently offered that radio, in the face of its most powerful competition is going along at the saturation point as the country's greatest and most used means of mass communications.

Then too, the past twelve months has seen networks in particular and some stations come to the realization that radio must be sold against all types of competing media. As a result more thought has been given to telling radio's story and many excellent selling tools, such as films with sound tracks and special presentations of what radio has to offer, have come forth from the promotion departments.

However, it is in the field of out-of-home listening and out-of-living-room listening that radio researchers have found a vast audience, completely overlooked or brushed aside. Facts and figures substantiating this great audience have been published during the past year and in effect have forced a re-evaluation of "cost-per-thousand" figures, so dear to advertising agencies.

In another part of the field radio has not been idle. Faced with high production costs, packagers, networks and independent stations have consistently found new ways to cut their budgets—this despite the rate cuts put into effect during the past year.

As a result, it can be confidently stated that radio, today, is in a more healthy state than in the medium's hey-day, when it attracted all the glamour and was without competition.

Turning to TV, the industry, despite criticism from many fronts, has forged steadily ahead. One need only to compare present offerings with those of four years ago to see that on all levels television has improved.

However, with the promise of 1291 new stations destined for the air, TV is going to be forced to face many new problems. First and foremost, of course, is the "eating" up of material at a terrifying pace when all the new stations finally get on the air.

The new communities to receive television service are not expected to be too much of a problem at first, nor are those cities which to date have had single or double outlets. But where TV will come in "new" and available on multiple channels, programming will face new problems.

It is only necessary to review the findings of the various rating services during the past year to see that what people like on the East Coast of the country is not necessarily popular on the West Coast, and vice-versa. To date no program has come up with a sure-fire formula which will attract viewers across the country.

With funds available, it is expected that non-commercial, educational television will be afforded its greatest opportunity of all persons on all levels from the kindergarten to adulthood. However, here, without state or community help or college and university grants, the educational stations may well find themselves with valuable assignments and without the means of building studios and programming shows.

The last twelve months in the allied fields of radio and TV have been notable, however, first for radio's re-evaluation of what it has to offer and its efforts to once again go out and sell itself as the fastest and greatest means of mass communications and secondly for the new horizon which faces TV—that of being able to bring its visual picture into every home across the country.
