Radio's Fourth Decade

ADIO in this year 1952 enters its fourth glorious decade as a communications service.

The period of 1922 to 1932 saw the birth of this new medium with its capacity for public service.

The next decade, 1932-42 were years of commercial development with the pattern of potentialities seemingly boundless.

In the third period, 1942-1952 radio attained its full stature as a medium of communications.

This year with radio on the threshold of a prosperous new decade, Radio Annual is proud to record the progress of the communications art. In this, our 15th annual edition, we give permanent record to the achievements of those whose creative energy sustains this expanding communications service.

Pardon our Narcissism...

— But you have to admire sound reproduction that's barely distinguishable from the live performance! Audio-Video tape and disc recordings come so close to "reflecting" the most minute vocal or instrumental expression, we call it "mirror-like sound". . .

Why not put it to work for your clients?

MIRROR-LIKE SOUND is the modern approach to sound recording. Designed to produce full value from high-priced talent . . . and put full effectiveness in every sales message. A complete recording service, including conveniently-located studios . . . special effects . . . duplication . . . private lines . . . editing and assembly services — as well as several innovations that aid immeasurably in putting together recorded shows . . .

MEMORABLE YEAR AHEAD

EXPANSION OF VIDEO WILL HIGHLIGHT ACTION

By PAUL A. WALKER

Chairman

Federal Communications Commission

THE year 1952 will be forever memorable in broadcasting history for the inauguration of America's new nationwide, improved, expanded, and competitive system of television.

That this system will be accorded a hearty welcome by the American public goes without saying. The hunger for television all over the nation can be judged no better than by examining the huge volume of correspondence with which the Commission has been deluged. The great mass of people who have seen television have taken it to their hearts. The great mass who do not have it are demanding it with ever-increasing impatience.

The scope of this industry is so great, the potential investments are so huge, the stake of the public in its stability and acceptability is so vital that the Commission has had to exercise maximum care in laying the foundation.

The new system will provide for a minimum of 2000 assignments. Just how soon that many stations can be built remains to be seen. The enterprise of industry, the ability of smaller communities to support stations, the availability of materials and manpower—all these are factors in determining the speed at which the new system will grow.

Here I would sound a note of warning. With television station construction dammed up for three and a half years, it is easy to sympathize with the eagerness of those entrepreneurs who have been waiting so long to start building. I know their problems. Their money has been earmarked. Their plans have long been made. They want to see their towers go up. But they must realize the realities of the Commission's position. With a limited staff, the Commission cannot process applications on a land-office scale. These applications, with their legal, technical and financial questions, are complex matters. It takes experienced personnel to process them. When new people are hired they must be specially trained. And the many hearings that we know will be necessary involve even greater delays. Applicants would do well to inform themselves of the real nature of the task that confronts the Commission not only for their own benefit but also so that they can intelligently answer the questions that are asked of them by members of their community.

While the Commission bends every effort to foster the growth of this new medium of mass communications, it is well to ponder the responsibilities that industry has to build soundly for the future. Every attention should be given to the development of programming that will truly serve the real needs of the communities. Television cannot be merely a luxury service or a toy or a pastime. To play an indispensable role in the nation's life, television must perform the crucial service of informing the citizens on the issues of the day.

While many basic questions involved in building television have been decided or are in the process of being decided, many others will confront us in the future.

NARTB PROGRESS REPORT

By HAROLD E. FELLOWS, President, National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters

JUST as they have throughout the history of radio and television, legislative and regulatory matters continue to be among the major problems facing the broadcasting industry. It is heartening to note, however, that some of our legislators are well aware of the vital role played by broadcasting on the national scene in times of peace and war. As more of the public's elected representatives learn something of our business, the task of preserving the system of free enterprise broadcasting will be eased.

Fellows

A most encouraging example of this legislative understanding is contained in recent statements and discussions by Senator Edwin C. Johnson, Chairman of the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, and some of his colleagues on that committee, and in some of the regulations issued by the Federal Communications Commission.

It is gratifying to observe the development of this type of thinking. Our integrity, objectives and sense of personal and professional responsibility constitute a "priceless ingredient." It must be cherished, nurtured and protected. We can and will, through daily performance, maintain this high regard for our efforts.

Broadcasting stands at the threshold of its greatest era. As the new year opened broadcasters were serving approximately forty-three million radio homes. Most of the nearly fourteen million home receivers manufactured, according to RTMA figures, since the 1950 national census are in use. More than seventy-five per cent of all new automobiles are radio equipped. Indications are that set manufacturers will be unable to meet 1952 demands if defense needs continue to restrict materials. As 1951 closed there were 2,327 AM stations—95 more than when the year opened—648 FM stations and 108 TV stations on the air.

I am confident that when the "freeze" is lifted television will keep pace of this expansion and join other mass communications media in all the national markets. I do not agree, however, with those who doom radio to oblivion with the advent of the "thaw." In the light of mass media history it seems more logical to regard radio and television as complementary rather than competing, media. Each will command specific areas of service in our ever-enlarging nation.

Advertising, the nerve system of America's economy, is getting bigger and better. So long as consumers need goods and services and manufacturers and suppliers need customers both radio and television will perform importantly in the successful fusion of these elements.

There may of necessity be a period of adjustment as television undergoes its growing pains, ailments very similar to those suffered and survived by radio back in the 1920s; and as radio is shaken from a complacency developed through long-time dominance in the communications field. But each will survive to find a rightful position in the plane of national prosperity and the family circle of mass communications media.

Radio and television have compiled impressive records of public service to the nation. This year will be no exception. Since the outbreak of hostilities in Korea each has volunteered heavily of facilities for broadcasting in the emergency. To cite cases . . . Civil Defense instruction; Defense Bond sales; blood bank appeals; recruitment campaigns; state-of-the-nation addresses by the President and other governmental leaders. I doubt that a single broadcaster has let these patriotic calls go unheeded. I also doubt that any of the other media have made more substantial contributions. This policy of cooperation will continue as long as there is a job to be done.

In this year of national elections both media welcome the opportunity to further serve the public interest by performing the important task of bringing the candidates and their platforms into the living rooms of the voters. Arrangements have already been made to broadcast and telecast the national conventions of both major political parties, to stage get-out-the-vote campaigns and to give election

RADIO-TV FORGING AHEAD

By FRANK BURKE, Editor of Radio-Television Daily

RADIO and television are doing right well in this year 1952 despite prophets of gloom who had radio on the ropes the past year and television trying to find its place in the nation's advertising pattern.

After a year of re-appraisal in which radio took stock of its potency as a medium and counted its circulation as compared to other advertising services, both networks and stations predicted that 1952 would bring billing increases from 10 to 15 per cent. Total gross radio billings of the networks last year aggregated $185,000,000.

Burke

The television outlook is even brighter. In 1950 the four TV networks billings totalled around $45,000,000, while the past year saw TV billings mount to over 239.5 million. Some are predicting that billings this year will pass the $300,000,000 mark.

Of 106 TV stations (i.e., including all but two of the network owned and operated stations for which data was not separately available) 93 reported profitable operations during 1951. Of these, 10 stations reported income between $600,000 and $1.0 million; eight stations between $1.0 and $1.5 million and five stations reported incomes in excess of $1.5 million. The median income of the 93 stations was $350,000 as compared to a median income of $129,200 for 53 stations reporting a profit in 1950.

Several factors contributed to revitalized radio sales and promotion drives. Efforts of the Association of National Advertisers to beat down radio rates in TV markets and the subsequent radio rate cuts by networks put the radio broadcasters in a fighting mood. This was especially true in non-TV markets with the broadcasters stepping up the tempo of their sales promotion.

The advent of Broadcast Advertising Bureau, Inc., as a sales and promotion service organization to the radio broadcasters was a stimulating hypo to the industry. During the past year BAB under the able direction of William B. Ryan, president, has brought the story of radio's sales effectiveness to all sections of the country and has engendered enthusiastic support of broadcaster members in the work of the organization.

Another campaign which attracted nation-wide attention was the combined efforts of radio broadcasters in the Detroit area to sell radio as a community service to the listeners as well as the advertisers. Adopting the slogan, "Everywhere You Go There's Radio," the Motor City broadcasters staged a most effective campaign which was copied in many other communities and brought revived interest in the medium.

National spot radio and sales on the local level have aided materially in keeping up the billings of stations throughout the country. The spot business picture is bright and 1952 should find more national advertisers using local and regional webs than ever before in the history of broadcasting.

The television outlook is most promising. With the lifting of the TV freeze and the channel allocations in many secondary markets it is expected that before year's end the number of TV stations on the air will increase from 108 stations operating in 67 cities to probably 200 stations. On January 15 there were a total of 450 VHF applications on file and 29 UHF applicants.

It is expected that the number of UHF applications will increase considerably with the lifting of the freeze. The UHF stations, according to IRE spokesmen, will probably spread to the secondary markets where UHF transmitters and receivers will be the first television to be introduced in those areas.

The coming national political conventions and the national election is expected to boom TV receiver sales in established markets this summer and fall. Manufacturers, distributors and dealers are planning intensive promotional and sales campaigns to swell the TV audience to around 20,000,000 sets by Election Day. At present there are around 15,000,000 sets in use in the United States. The audience potential for this election year is expected to swell to around 65,000,000 persons.

The rejuvenation of radio and the boundless opportunities for expansion in the television industry augurs well for 1952-53.

BAB'S REALLY IN BUSINESS!

By WILLIAM B. RYAN, President, Broadcast Advertising Bureau, Inc.

NINETEEN HUNDRED FIFTY-TWO will mark the Broadcast Advertising Bureau's first full year as a completely independent corporation. We feel that this calls for a restatement of aims and an elaboration of activities.

First, a little background information.

The BAB is an outgrowth of the Broadcast Advertising Department of the National Association of Broadcasters. In June of 1949 it was established as a Bureau of that organization and then in April 1951 started functioning as a separate corporation.

It grew out of radio's need for an independent, alert and progressive promotion Bureau.

Upon becoming an independent and autonomous corporation this past April, BAB had two immediate objectives:

1. It had to organize itself and redefine its objectives in order to be in a position to immediately render service to the entire industry.
2. It had to increase and extend the number and variety of services formerly provided.

Both of these were accomplished.

Here's a report of how the BAB is accomplishing these aims.

Services are distributed within the two general categories of national and local promotion. The distinction between the two can best be arrived at by an analysis of the individual projects.

On the national level, BAB promotional activities concern themselves basically with spot and network advertisers. This is being accomplished through a series of projects designed to present radio's impact to national advertisers, national chains and associations, and national-local advertisers. For instance, a series of special presentations on radio's values are now underway and include those scaled to the needs of specific industries. Plans also call for a basic presentation on radio and another dealing with the farm market.

BAB's national promotion department is also instituting regular communication with advertisers and agencies in the form of two direct mail pieces, each to be issued twice monthly. Advertisers receive a sales letter containing special data pertinent to radio sales while agencies are earmarked for a "Kiplinger-type" newsletter on radio advertising activities.

In the field of basic research BAB is not only collecting and evaluating extant materials, but also plans a series of studies to learn the true value of radio coverage, saturation and sales impact. There will be a pilot study to determine the size of the extra-set market; a test to determine the sales impact of radio vis-a-vis other advertising media in the packaged goods and heavy appliance field; an interim report on all material now extant on all out-of-home listening plus automobile-radio coverage and listening pattern, to be followed in the spring by a national sampling of car-radio listening.

In the competitive aspects of radio sales, BAB will publish a salesman's handbook containing basic facts of newspaper readership. Preparation is also underway on a second edition of a previously BAB-distributed volume on magazine county-by-county circulation statistics, with a comparison of radio-magazine penetration on a national basis plus an additional presentation containing all information available on the trend, pattern and size of radio listening in radio-TV homes.

Local promotional activities will include a continuation of several services instituted to stations during the past year; the revision from a quality and quantity standpoint of many others, plus the addition of three new projects.

BAB's local promotion falls into two basic categories:

1. Regular releases on a weekly or monthly basis, and
2. Special projects.

The first category includes such well-received services as BAB Salesman, Retail Information Folders, Co-op Cards & Bulletins, Local Business Sales Aids, Sales Opportunities, Library Bulletin, Radio Gets Results, Reports and Copy-Minded Selling Aids.

... while BAB's plans in the special project field include a master presentation containing a summary of all salient reasons why local merchants should buy

ADVERTISING OUTLOOK—1952

By FREDERIC R. GAMBLE, President, A.A.A.A.

WHAT is the year's outlook for advertising volume, and hence for radio and television billings?

The new year brings a number of reasons why there should be no letup in advertising effort—but rather a step-up.

While many companies have reported increased sales, they have also shown a considerable decline in their net profits; they will need to increase sales even further to maintain profits in the face of higher taxes and higher break-even points.

We have seen continued buyer resistance in a number of lines that are still in ready supply.

There is still a considerable accumulation of inventories in distribution channels. We are hearing concern, already, whether industry will successfully adjust from defense production—whether we can find customers over the next few years for a vastly expanded output of goods and services without some degree of recession.

Whether or not there will be a substantial increase in advertising effort will be at the decision of business management. And it will depend to a large extent on advertising agencies.

Agencies have the job of convincing business that the results will justify aggressive advertising activity. In the midst of high costs, their advertising plans must be still more effective. They will need all the help, ammunition and cooperation that media can give.

Among media, it seems to me that broadcasting faces the year's opportunities with some new assets to its credit.

There is the recomposition of the national organization, as the NARTB, under new leadership. And there is the reconstitution of Broadcast Advertising Bureau, with an organized sales program and under new leadership.

There is also the reconstitution of Advertising Research Foundation, as a fully tri-partite organization open to broadcasters and other media as participating subscribers. Given strong support by broadcasters, there is machinery here to do broadcasting research that has recently been much agitated for.

There has also been a healthy tendency, in broadcasting, to review time and talent costs in relation to general program effectiveness. It is healthy and fore-armed, I think, because advertisers will be increasingly cost conscious about all media during 1952.

At the same time, there are places in the broadcaster-agency relationship where we are still surprisingly weak.

We must strengthen our business relationship—in such fundamentals as rate cards and contracts, to facilitate time buying—in improving station billing practices, in speeding up collections and in warding off credit losses.

It should be a cause of serious concern that the credit losses by broadcasters have been far, far higher than those of any other media and bad in comparison even with most other industries. Now, when advertisers are up against material shortages and the other difficult factors of a semimobilized economy, business failures can come most unexpectedly.

There are several ways to guard yourself against credit losses on general advertising.

First, you can make sure that the advertising agencies which you "recognize" are sound financially. This means that the agency should have financial integrity, collect promptly from its clients, pay media by their due dates and have enough capital on hand to meet emergencies. You can determine agency financial capacity by reviewing the agency's balance sheet. There will soon be machinery in broadcasting, we hope—as maintained among other major media—to collect such facts about agencies for the information of individual stations.

Second, you can be prompt and meticulous in submitting your invoices and affidavits of broadcast. Agencies tell us that many invoices from broadcasters are late and some are inaccurate.

Third, you can install the payment stimulus and credit safeguard that is in effect with majorities of other media—the customary 2 per cent cash discount.

TELEVISION PROGRESS REPORT

By BRIG. GENERAL DAVID SARNOFF, Chairman of the Board of RCA

TELEVISION in 1951 revealed a number of significant advances that portend a great future.

Television stations have proved their ability to operate successfully on the economic foundation of the American system of broadcasting.

The television manufacturing industry has survived its early economic hills and valleys. The sales curve climbed at the beginning of the year, then dipped to a low level during the summer. In the final months, a new upswing in sales began.

That fact, together with the sell-out of television time on the air, demonstrated the public confidence in the new art and guaranteed its permanence as a new industry.

The truth about color television became evident in 1951. The public learned the basic meaning of compatibility—a fundamental characteristic of the RCA color system—and that an all-electronic compatible system will make it possible for owners of present television sets to receive color programs, in black-and-white, without any change whatever, and without any contraptions.

This all-electronic, compatible system with its tri-color picture tube, was publicly shown. It transmitted programs from studios and field-pickups over microwave radio relays and the coaxial cable, to other cities. Its superiority over an incompatible system equipped with whirling mechanical discs, which limit the size of the television picture, became self-evident.

In addition, color pictures produced by the RCA compatible system, were successfully projected on a 9 x 12-foot screen in a Broadway theatre.

Television programming in 1951 demonstrated that the new art has a keen appetite for talent and ideas. If all the feature motion pictures produced during a year in Hollywood were available to television, they would only cover about 600 hours, or six weeks out of a year's programs. TV, in a year, presents more new programs than all other media of public contact combined.

Extension of religious programs and the use of television in education during 1951 revealed the marked effectiveness of such telecasts in vast new fields of service to church, school and home.

Coast-to-coast TV network programs, made possible by cross-country microwave radio relays and coaxial cable extensions, demonstrated that the day is not far distant when every corner of the country will have a reserved seat in the amphitheatre of television. When the TV station "freeze" is lifted many additional communities will enjoy the benefits of television.

Television's expansion in the UHF (ultra high frequency) portion of the broadcasting spectrum was proven in 1951 to be both possible and practical by RCA-NBC scientists and engineers, who two years earlier built an experimental UHF station near Bridgeport, Conn. This is the first UHF television station to operate on a regular schedule.

Full-scale tests at Bridgeport climaxed more than 20 years of continuous research by RCA in UHF. Results from the inception of the project were made available to the entire TV-engineering profession as a major contribution to television's future since UHF can accommodate 70 new TV channels, providing for perhaps more than 2,000 UHF stations.

The development of the RCA Vidicon tube, or small electronic "eye," has made possible portable television cameras and transmitters, even of back-pack size, permitting on-the-spot pickups of special events as well as the remote viewing of industrial processes and other operations.

The Vidicon has also led to the development of a television microscope which extends the range and versatility of the light microscope to facilitate group study of living cells at high magnification.

Achievement of coast-to-coast service during the year gave eloquent promise that television would eventually become international in scope.

While television has thus advanced, its older brother radio, too, has continued to move forward. Today there are 2,400 AM and 680 FM stations in the United States. Daily broadcasts cover 95 per cent of the country.

PRODUCTION REPORT FOR '51

By JAMES D. SECREST, General Manager, Radio-Television Manufacturers Association

THE radio-television industry, caught between the prolonged "freeze" on TV station construction and the economic and material curbs brought on by the rearmament program, had its ups and downs in 1951. However, by the end of the year it appeared to have attained some stability and faced the future with renewed optimism.

Production of radio and TV sets boomed in the first quarter in anticipation of increased shortages of raw materials. Government-imposed curbs on consumer buying, however, early in 1951 slowed down the scare buying which followed the Korean outbreak. TV set inventories rose to dangerous levels among dealers, distributors, and manufacturers. With the spring came sharp cutbacks in set production, followed by a substantial reduction in employment and some plant shut-down.

The industry, under RTMA leadership, sought relief via a modification of Regulation W. When the Federal Reserve Board refused to act, the plea was taken to Congress which in the summer compelled the Board to cut credit terms from 25 to 15 percent down payment and extend installment periods from 15 to 18 months. The industry, through RTMA, also succeeded in persuading Congress not to increase excise taxes from 10 to 25 percent as recommended by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Secrest

In the early fall production rose again as retail inventories declined and public demand for consumer goods recovered. However, government allocation of critical raw materials had reduced the industry's potential so that TV set production remained well behind the record-breaking level of the last quarter of 1950.

Final tabulations are expected to show industry output of about 5,250,000 TV sets compared with 7,400,000 in 1950 and more than 12,500,000 radios as against 14,600,000 in the previous year. About half the radios manufactured in 1951 were home sets, while auto receiver production accounted for more than one-third and portables for the remainder.

The value of radio and TV sets produced in 1951, at the manufacturer level, was approximately $1,250,000,000 as compared with $1,700,000,000 in 1950. However, military production of electronic equipment rose from about $500,000,000 to more than $1,000,000,000 during the same periods.

The year's set production brought total TV sets either sold or in distribution channels to more than 16,600,000. Radios produced since World War II totalled 92,000,000.

As for 1952, the industry expects material shortages and other economic curbs to reduce further the output of radio and TV receivers. While all forecasts are necessarily "guess-estimates," the consensus is that less than 5,000,000 TV sets and under 11,000,000 radios will be the limits on the year's production.

The decisive role of electronic equipment in warfare was apparent in the large military appropriations made by Congress since the Korean outbreak. Officials estimated military orders for electronics-communications equipment as $3.8 billion during the first fiscal year after the Korean outbreak and at an equal amount for the 1951-52 fiscal year. Appropriations in this category during the first two years of rearmament consequently represented three-fourths of expenditures throughout World War II.

However, due to the highly intricate nature of much of the equipment and the high ratio of engineering to labor involved, military orders were not evenly distributed within the industry. Procurement officials estimated that only 20 percent of the electronic and radar equipment required by the Armed Services was for mass-produced items comparable to those normally manufactured by radio-television producers.

Defense officials estimate that the output of electronic equipment and components for the armed services will reach its peak in 1952 and level out at about $600 million a quarter.

FAYE EMERSON—SKITCH HENDERSON

RCA INCREASES PRODUCTION CAPACITY

By FRANK M. FOLSOM, President, Radio Corporation of America

DURING 1951, the Radio Corporation of America as one of the radio-television industry's major producers continued a multi-million dollar plant expansion program to help meet the dual requirements of military and domestic consumers. New manufacturing facilities, plus those established in earlier postwar years under the impetus of television, give RCA the greatest production potential of its 32-year history.

Throughout 1951, RCA accepted a rapidly increasing number of Government contracts for scientific research, engineering development, and production of military equipment in the radio-electronics field. This volume of work, substantial in 1951, is expected to be three to four times greater in 1952, and will reach record levels during 1953. Next year's military output will probably equal in dollar volume the 1942 rate, when RCA plants were devoted 100 per cent to war production.

Military equipment produced by RCA in 1951 included various types of radio communication instruments, "walkie-talkies," radar and sonar equipment, range-finding and navigational instruments, audio and radio devices for airplanes, and numerous types of electron tubes. Radio-electronic instruments currently required by the nation's military forces are far more complex than those used in World War II. For this reason a large and increasing number of RCA engineers is engaged in research and engineering development work on Government projects.

One of RCA's outstanding engineering contributions is in the miniaturization of equipment. Major advance in both electron tubes and circuit designs have made this possible, an excellent example being the Signal Corps' new "walkie-talkie," which is half as big and twice as powerful as the one used in the last war. Similarly, it is now possible to get far more electronic control equipment into airplanes than was heretofore possible.

In addition to RCA's military development and production projects, more than 600 engineers and technicians of the RCA Service Company are working with the United States Armed Forces in twenty different countries. Their job is to service military radio-electronic equipment and assist in the training of military personnel in the equipment's operation.

In the expanding field of Government electronics, RCA, during 1951, increased its tube design and manufacturing activities significantly and geared its facilities for still greater operations in this field during the coming year.

In the domestic field, RCA, as well as other leading manufacturers in the industry, maintained relatively high levels of production of television and radio sets and phonograph records.

The American public purchased approximately 5,000,000 television receivers during 1951, bringing the total in use throughout the nation to more than 15,000,000. These sales, plus new installation and servicing, added more than $1½ billion to the national income.

A normal upward trend in sales developed during September and, throughout the fourth quarter of 1951, most top-brand producers were manufacturing television sets up to the limit of the Government's material allocations. The New York market, largest in the country with more than 2,500,000 sets in use, was, for example, absorbing the RCA Victor television line as rapidly as shipments could be made.

The glamour of television sometimes overshadows the fact that the radio and phonograph business are also in a very healthy condition. As a matter of fact, production of radio receivers and radio-phonograph combinations during the year was approximately 12,000,000 units—more than twice the figure for television sales. As a result, the number of radio sets in use throughout the United States at the year-end is more than 100,000,000, or an average of more than two sets per family. No other medium of communications reaches so many persons.

Sales of recorded music rose sharply during 1951, setting a trend that is expected to continue throughout the next year.

C.A.B. ACTIVITIES IN 1951

By MALCOLM NEILL, Chairman, Board of Directors of CAB

THE Canadian Association of Broadcasters continued to grow in 1951. The Association now numbers among its members one hundred and five of the one hundred and thirty-five privately owned stations in Canada plus thirty-one associate members.

Three major activities have occupied the Association this year in addition to normal and routine matters. Preparation of a brief for the Parliamentary Committee on Radio of the Federal Government and appearances before this Committee. The preparation of volumes of material for argument before the Copyright Appeal Board which is conducting hearings as this report is being prepared and detailed work with the Federal Government Civil Defense authorities.

In our brief to the Parliamentary Committee on Radio the main point of emphasis was that Canadian broadcasting stations should be free to operate under the law like other publishers. In addition to our 160,000 word brief, five appendices were presented to the federal committee. They included material (a) showing that the trend of public opinion in Canada is overwhelmingly in favor of placing all broadcasting under private management; (b) surveys of program preference showing a marked preference among Canadians for programs offered by private stations; (c) a history and background of radio broadcasting; (d) comment upon, and analysis of some of the recommendations contained in the report of the Massey Commission; and (e) a summary of the public service activities provided by community broadcasting stations across Canada. The chief witnesses were T. J. Allard, C.A.B.'s General Manager, Joseph Sedgwick, K.C. C.A.B.'s General Counsel, and Guy Roberge, C.A.B.'s Associate Counsel. The membership was outstanding in their support of the presentation to the Committee. This support is best illustrated by the fact that 97 out of 104 stations who were then members sent telegrams to the committee backing up the Association brief.

In the copyright field a serious situation has developed for broadcasters through a demand by CAPAC as ASCAP is known in Canada for greatly increased fees from broadcasters effective January 1, 1952. The C.A.B. is appealing CAPAC's demands and as stated earlier hearings are now proceeding before the Copyright Appeal Board in Ottawa.

A considerable amount of progress has been made in establishing the role Canadian private stations will play in the matter of Civil Defense. In the event of any emergency, no matter how caused, broadcasting will have a tremendously important part to play in providing information, maintaining civilian morale and giving instructions to the civilian defense populace.

During 1951 the Sales and Research Department broke new ground in the field of inter-media comparison and conducted extensive research to contrast Canadian time costs and circulations with those in the United States.

An original study examined Canadian radio trends and circulations during the past ten years. This material was presented to the ACA and CBC; the latter presentation opened discussions on the present unrealistic network station rates. These and other studies have formed the basis for special Canadian sections in the United States trade press. An "ideal" rate card was drafted for consideration by the industry. Extensive work was also carried on in the field of promotion.

The practice of holding regional meetings—meetings of such groups as the Western Association of Broadcasters, the Central Canadian Broadcaster's Association, etc., was also continued and this year's annual meeting, held at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec City from February 26 to March 1st, 1951, was one of the most successful ever held. It was at the 1951 annual meeting that the Johnny J. Gillin, Jr. Memorial Award, an annual award to be presented to the Canadian station which has performed the most outstanding public service during the year, was presented for the first time. This award was set up in memory of the late Mr. John J. Gillin, Jr. of WOW, Omaha, Nebraska.

ALL EYES ARE ON TV!

By THAD H. BROWN, Jr., Director Television Operations NARTB

ALL eyes are on TV! Since 1946, neither the public nor the industry has had a chance to catch its breath. There's no doubt about it, the Cathode Ray tube is a goldfish bowl.

As applied to any other industry, 1951 might have been considered a peak year in development and activity. It was just normal for television broadcast: Coming of age, television warranted a place of its own in the NAB and that organization became the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters. Senator Ke-fauver's crime investigation via TV rocked the land. The FCC issued its famous "Third Notice" and the end of the freeze looked like more than a prediction. The President of the United States stepped on a platform in San Francisco and was seen 3,000 miles away.

NARTB proposed, and the Commission agreed, that expedition was paramount and literally hundreds of cases were "heard" by "written testimony" in the Specific Allocations hearing. Senator Benton personally decided that radio and television broadcast needed government program control and proposed the establishment of a "National Citizens' Advisory Board." "Non-commercial" colleges and universities limited television broadcast of their physical education programs in the interest of the "gate." The nation's heart skipped a beat when a fellow named Bobby Thompson changed the complexion of a World Series right before its eyes. The 108th television station went on the air. As television reported the discouraging war scenes to the public, Red Skelton helped to take their minds off of it. General MacArthur made his Congressional and television debut. Initial experimentation in specific educational programming was continued. As the sands of 1951 were running out, television receivers in the United States hit the 15-million mark. 476 applicants were beating on the doors of the FCC with an estimated 500 more all ready to make their moves when the freeze ended. Television network gross time sales approached the 125-million mark. The Television Code of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters was promulgated, and the Seal of Good Practice adopted—to go into effect March 1, 1952. In this regard, for Men of the Year, the diary of 1951 in television should record the Television Program Standards Committee: Bob Swezey, Chairman, Harry Bannister, James L. Caddigan, Walter Damm, James C. Hanrahan, Harold Hough, Clair McCollough, Paul Raibourn, Leonard Reinsch, Henry Slavick, Davidson Taylor and Donald Thornburgh.

1952? It already presents a congested calendar—and above all, it's a Presidential election year. A lot of people got into the TV act in 1951. Most of them were still in the act as the year 1952 was entered, and early in January it appeared that they would have plenty of company. The candidates and politicians haven't really started yet, but soon will be donning grease-paint for the greatest show of all.

Whatever happens during this year, one thing is sure—NARTB will watch it closely. In many cases, will do a lot more than "watch."

Real money will be dedicated toward TV construction, installation and operation in 1952. NARTB-TV's "Television Construction Costs—December, 1951," will have to be hurriedly up-dated in accordance with shifting economic requirements, but it presently estimates minimum costs for construction of a VHF station in cities with a population between 50,000 and 250,000 to be approximately $274,000; UHF construction costs for comparable population, $281,250. Add to this, NARTB's minimum operating expense estimate of $168,530 and one sees the smallest operation spending close to one-half a million dollars the first year.

At the Commission—after the freeze is lifted there will literally be a frenzy of hearings—straining that bureau's capacities to the utmost.

1952 in Television will be another banner year. The miracle of sound plus sight will grow and become even more miraculous, especially as its effect is reflected in the voting process.

Best Wishes

Kate Smith

THIS IS U. N. RADIO

By DOROTHY LEWIS, U. S. Stations Relations, United Nations

IN times of crisis people everywhere seek the facts upon which to form a balanced judgment. 1951 was such a time and United Nations Radio presented the facts in 30 languages to hundreds of millions throughout the world. Its news programs in all languages were strengthened in response to increasing demands ever since the outbreak of hostilities in Korea. Thus, objective presentation of international news on AM and TV and such worldwide symposia as "The Price of Peace" were major contributions of United Nations Radio toward clarifying public thinking on the great issues of today.

Mrs. Lewis

Newscasts and feature programs are prepared by the several services: English Language Service; European and Middle Eastern Service; Latin American Service and the Trans-Pacific Service. This regular operation at the United Nations headquarters, with its staff of international civil servants drawn from many systems of broadcasting of member states has been greatly increased during 1951 with the scheduling of the Sixth General Assembly in Paris. Circuits from Paris and from U.N. Correspondents in Korea, as well as material from the many U.N. Information Centers around the world bring daily recorded news, interviews and proceedings for inclusion on all U.N. programs broadcast daily in some 30 languages.

U. S. COVERAGE

In the U.S.A., emphasis during 1951 was laid on several projects and developments:

1. Worldwide distribution of "The Price Of Peace" series of talks by world statesmen, climaxed by the cease-fire proposals by Yakov A. Malik in June. This series was relayed to all English-speaking countries and by a news release of the text to all other member states simultaneously each week. CBS aired the talks in the U. S. A.

2. Inauguration of the "Citizens of the World" (dramatic episodes in the lives of U.N. men and women) in the U.N. STORY series heard on 500 U. S. stations and in other English-speaking countries, and which was awarded the 1951 Ohio State and School Broadcast awards.

3. The television services have been expanded materially. Since November 6, 1951, there has been full coverage by television of the Sixth U.N. General Assembly in Paris over TV in cooperation with the U.N. Department of Public Information. The half-hour program, "The U.N. In Action" (Mondays through Fridays—CBS Network) presents debates, interviews, special features and ceremonies, and on Sundays, a half-hour summary is telecast, "The U.N. This Week." Daily TV coverage of the U.N. meetings taking place in Paris is produced and directed by the U.N. staff, and viewed the following day in the United States by means of Paramount kinescope.

This TV coverage of U.N. activities is also released by RDF in France and over the BBC by means of kinescopes flown nightly to London. The weekly half-hour program over the American Broadcasting Company, "United Or Not," with John MacVane as moderator, presents members of the U.N. Correspondents' Association interviewing a different delegate each week. Other U.N. television in 1951 included special Security Council meetings, and the weekly half-hour program for children, "The U.N. Stamp Club," which was seen over WNBT for 45 weeks in 1950-1951 using philately as a vehicle to disseminate U.N. information.

4. A nationwide project, "U.N. Communications Campaign," was launched in the United States to increase the number of listeners to U.N. shows by 20,000,000. It is sponsored by U.N. Radio and 35 major national organizations. A chairman in each of the 250 selected cities was appointed and 8,000 persons designated by these national groups to serve locally.

5. Another preoccupation of U.N. Radio for 1951 had to do with the move from Lake Success to the permanent headquarters in New York. Each of the Council and conference rooms at Headquarters is provided with a number of booths designed specifically for radio and TV broadcasting.

NATION'S RADIO SETS INCREASE

Results of Joint Radio Network Committee Survey

A TOTAL of 105,300,000 radio sets—an average of 1.8 sets in every radio home in the United States, is the figure arrived at by the Joint Radio Network Committee, composed of research representatives of the four major wired networks, for the beginning of 1952.

This new high figure represents an increase of 9,300,000 radio sets, some 9.7 per cent over the 96,000,000 estimate of a year ago and reveals radio to be in a healthy and growing period, despite the tremendous growth of television in the year's time.

According to the estimates of the committee, 900,000 new radio households were added in a year's time. Secondary and portable sets, added during the year to already existing radio homes came to 4,000,000 while 4,400,000 additional radio-equipped automobiles, completed the increase of 9,300,000 sets.

For the first time this year, a new category—sets in institutions, dormitories and barracks was instituted. This, plus the out-of-home sets, cars and portables, have always been overlooked in totalling up the number of national sets, but, nevertheless, account for an imposing total.

In a breakdown of the figures the Joint Committee finds that 42,800,000 homes in the country have at least one radio. Secondary and portable sets in households, in all radio homes, add up to 34,000,000. Automobiles on the roads today have an estimated 23,500,000 radios and there are 5,000,000 sets in other places.

showed higher radios, but since they seemed inadequate for projections, they were dismissed and the national figure was taken. It may be recalled, at this point, that the BMB study, 1948, gave the percentage figure of homes with radios at 94.2 per cent. Sectionally, however, New England as an example in that study had a figure of 98.2 per cent in the nation, closely followed by the Pacific area with a saturation figure of 98.0 per cent.

Most significant of the findings, in the opinion of the committee, is the 4,000,000 increase in the new estimate of secondary and portable sets in radio homes. This, the committee noted provides for greater radio listening opportunity in homes. The committee bases this opinion on the numerous available studies which have been made and which unanimously agree that listening to secondary sets in homes constitutes an important part of total listening time.

The estimate of automobiles equipped with radios, 23,500,000, is predicted on surveys which show that nearly 64 per cent of the nation's 37,000,000 passenger cars are so equipped. This figure could receive an even higher percentage, the committee feels, since new cars to be sold this year will have a higher percentage of radios.

With 1950 Census data available for the first time, the committee was able to estimate the number of sets in college dormitories, institutions and barracks of the Armed Forces. The figure of 900,000

	Number of Radio Sets as of Jan. 1
	1952	1951
Radio Households .....	42,800,000	41,900,000
Secondary & Portable Sets in Homes .....	34,000,000	30,000,000
Radio-Equipped Cars .....	23,500,000	19,100,000
Sets in Institutions, Dormitories and Barracks .....	900,000	.....
Sets in Other Places .....	4,100,000	5,000,000
TOTAL SETS .....	105,300,000	96,000,000

Referring to the Housing Census of 1950, which showed a saturation of 95.6 per cent, for radio, in U. S. homes, the Joint Committee arrived at the total of 42,800,000 radio households. This ratio was then applied to Sales Management's preliminary estimate of 44,737,900, as of January 1, 1952, in order to qualify the figure.

While the 95.6 per cent saturation was taken for the country as a whole, local surveys, in many sections of the country sets in these places, the committee notes, represents a definite bonus to advertisers who use radio.

Breakdown of the other 4,100,000 sets finds them in other places which includes business establishments, offices, restaurants and other public places. Finally, the committee in releasing their 1952 estimates emphasized that the figures which they have come up with in each category are conservative.

RADIO IN PUERTO RICO

By TOMAS MUNIZ, President of the Puerto Rican Broadcasting Association

PUERTO RICO is living at the present time its era of progress in every aspect of its life. Industrialization of the whole Island is the principal aim of Governor Luis Munoz Marin's Administration. Our civilization had its foundation in ancient Europe, with a combination of modern American ways of living. Continentals who have visited Puerto Rico on different times express their surprise at the great development of progress attained during the last years. Housing facilities; hotel accommodations; means of communication; the great decrease in illiteracy; health conditions and the willingness of the Puerto Ricans to fulfill their duty in order to make of Puerto Rico the Island of Enchantment, had resulted in this great progress. Radio industry is not an exception. We, the men in the radio industry in Puerto Rico, feel proud in claiming that we are following—step by step—the great revolutionary movement in the United States in order to offer the listening audience the best programs available. Whoever has followed the great development in our radio during the last twenty-five years has to admit that our industry has done its part for the realization of the progress in Puerto Rico. We can say in all truth that radio is part of our daily life. In our ever green mountains, lives the hillbilly. We know him as "jibaro." That "jibaro" spends his time from sunrise to sunset plowing the earth; planting the seed; harvesting the crop. After a day's work that "jibaro" can stand the luxury of listening to his favorite radio program. Wherever the electrification project has not as yet reached the rural zone, this hillbilly of ours, can always secure a battery for his radio. The latest news flashes; the struggle of the baseball teams in the American and National Leagues in order to secure the pennant; the great deeds of our brave soldiers in Korea; the advices of doctors in their health program; the lectures about agriculture and cattle raising and even the lectures about beauty care are of the complete domain of that "jibaro" living in the mountains, miles away from the city.

We of the radio industry have given our time and talent in order to help those who are willing to do everything possible in order to cooperate with our government in its effort to secure financial stability for the people of Puerto Rico.

True, that television is still a dream for our industry. Nevertheless we are in the alert to offer our people the facilities of television as soon as this project will prove to be a success in our Island. Engineers from the United States have made complete studies and have rendered their official reports. We of the radio industry are ready to act as soon as the time comes to start this new era.

Many years ago, in case of a tropical hurricane, warnings had to be carried to the rural zone by messengers or through the use of flag warnings. Today all the inhabitants of Puerto Rico are well informed of the progress of any hurricane through the twenty-five radio stations in the different cities.

Well known interpreters of music have written the name of Puerto Rico in golden letters. Sanroma, Graciela Rivera, the Figueroa brothers, Rafael Hernandez, Boby Capo, Mapy Cortez—to mention only a few—have received the applause of multitudes through all the world.

Puerto Rico with its 2,200,000 population squeezed in an area of 3,600 sq. mi. is at the present time United States' first customer per capita. Businessmen throughout continental U. S. realize the importance of our market and they have established central offices in our capital city—San Juan—in order to take care of the thousands of customers patronizing their products. In this instant, we, the men in the radio industry in Puerto Rico feel proud to state that we have the main vehicle in order to secure success in the interchange of products.

We feel proud to say: that in the progress attained by our Island in the last twenty-five years, radio has done its part.

returns. The voter certainly will have the opportunity of being better informed than ever before, and I predict that the 1952 Presidential election will produce a numerical record in balloting.

Broadcasting, like any other industry, has its critics and opponents. This is sometimes reflected in proposed national and state legislation inimical to the American tradition of free enterprise broadcasting. The perpetuation of this free system is an ideal to which we are dedicated. Broadcasters will continue to guard this with utmost zeal, opposing any attempts to transfer the responsibility for programming from the broadcaster to the government or any other entity.

Industry problems are faced more effectively through unity and cooperation. There is no better way to unite than through support of a strong trade association. The goal of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters is to provide counsel and leadership to all segments of the industry in the solution of mutual problems, and to provide an arena in which the industry representatives can talk out their problems. After representing radio for the first twenty-nine years of its existence, the Association in June 1951 expanded its services and changed its name to include the television interests. The media share the same headquarters building and departmental facilities in Washington, D. C., to the benefit of both.

The NARTB staff, working in behalf of both, is constantly aware of common problems pointing up the close inter-relationship of the audio and video arts. In 1952, NARTB will continue to meet the demands for service in both growing industries.

radio; a monthly calendar of radio sales opportunities listing the top merchandising events of the year; release on returns of special radio station merchandising study now being tabulated; distribution of an outline for establishment of "Radio United"—plan for joint station activity in quest of more business, audience and community stature.

'52 bids to be a big year for the BAB—and that means another big year for radio!

Radio is a very healthy medium. Overall it is prosperous. It is still the lowest cost medium and gets the most results per dollar spent—for products needing mass coverage—as well as for many products with relatively limited distribution.

Radio will be even more firmly entrenched in this position once the true facts are disclosed relative to the small circulation and shallow penetration of such media as newspapers, magazines and television.

More stations throughout the nation must be made aware of these facts because the problem of radio's deserved recognition can best be solved at the local level. Once the stations, acting in concerted effort, acquaint the dealers and distributors with the truth relative to the circulation and penetration of these media it will create demands for recognition of these truths that cannot remain unheeded by the national advertisers.

Radio cannot excuse itself from not having done this before on the grounds that it has been too busy counting its own vast circulation, because there again it has been remiss. It has never counted, much less sold, an audience of its own that exceeds in size the total circulation of individual major components of competitive media.

BAB intends to call the roll in '52 on radio's great "uncounted" audience found in automobile-radio coverage and out-of-home listening.

The combination of the two—a true evaluation of competitive media circulation—and an accurate accounting of radio's own audience are extra insurance of the fact that 1953 will find radio once again occupying the number one position as the lowest cost-highest return medium of them all!

NEW ERA OF COOPERATION

By GORDON C. KINNEY, Director of Radio-Television, The Advertising Council

SOMETHING pretty wonderful has happened in America during the past 10 years, and virtually everyone in advertising and broadcasting has been a part of it.

It all started during the first dark days of World War II. One of Uncle Sam's biggest problems was how to get a thousand and one things done voluntarily on the home front. Public-spirited business leaders offered their services free.

Kinney

They formed The Advertising Council to tell the story. They called upon America's unmatched communications forces to help. Soon millions of messages were going out on radio, in magazines, newspapers, posters and car cards, without cost to the taxpayer.

But this voluntary service did not end with the war. By popular demand, it began to help such peacetime causes as Saving Bonds, Highway Safety, Community Chests, Red Cross, Economic Education, Crusade for Freedom, Better Schools, Civil Defense and Blood Donation.

This Spring The Advertising Council will be ten years old.

It is generally agreed that the most effective tool that the Council has had available for public service campaigns these past ten years has been the Radio Allocation Plan. This Spring, radio advertisers, advertising agencies and the four major radio networks round out their tenth year of cooperation in this voluntary plan that they devised just after Pearl Harbor, and through which they share valuable radio time regularly with government agencies and private organizations to help solve national problems.

It is typical of the broadcasting industry that the Radio Allocation Plan, formed in wartime, was not de-mobilized at the end of World War II. The plan to make available for war information radio's most valuable time and programs—delivering America's biggest radio audiences—was literally invented by the Advertising Council. It was administered by the Office of War Information from April, 1942 to the end of 1945. Since 1945, the plan has served peacetime projects with the same force and effectiveness that marked radio's contribution to wartime projects.

When Korea came, the advertisers, agencies, networks and stations that had kept the Radio Allocation Plan strong—and ready—found themselves called upon once again to help America mobilize for defense.

Because they had chosen not to put their war-born mechanism for broad information campaigns into mothballs in 1945, radio advertisers, advertising agencies, networks and stations were in a position to switch immediately to defense mobilization projects on the very day in 1950 that the President of the United States declared a state of emergency.

Last year The Advertising Council, in cooperation with the NARTB and the Broadcast Advisory Council, (a group of broadcasters organized at the specific request of the government) introduced a stepped-up service to all radio and television stations—a monthly guide giving full information on mobilization-public interest campaigns.

And this time—unlike 1942—the advertising industry stood ready with a completely new and powerful medium and facility—television. Advertisers, advertising agencies, TV networks and stations—many of them the same American business companies that had formed the Radio Allocation Plan—joined forces with the Council and developed a Television Allocation Plan. This new facility for public service quickly took up the defense programs; and the Television Allocation Plan has expanded rapidly—almost as rapidly as television itself—and is still growing. Already this Plan has achieved outstanding support and results for government and private information programs.

The Radio Allocation Plan is an excellent example of the teamwork in advertising that epitomizes The Advertising Council. After ten years, this unique mechanism still looks like the instrument which one national advertiser once described as, "... perhaps the most powerful tool for public service ever devised."

THE IMPORTANCE OF RADIO NEWS

By JIM BORMANN, President, National Assoc. of Radio News Directors

TWO major developments dominated the field of radio news in 1951. One was the headlong arrival of television news as one of the top contenders for news attention. The other was radio's decision to go to the mat to defend its right to freedom of information. Neither development has reached fulfillment, but both can be counted on to hold the attention of newsmen in radio and television during 1952.

One indication of the new importance attached to video news by the newsmen themselves came at the annual NARND convention in Chicago, November 12, 13 and 14. The problems of producing television newscasts and the problems of competing with them held the attention of nearly every delegate. TV monopolized the major portion of the convention program as well as much of the out-of-sessions conversation there.

NBC's television news chief, Frank McCall, headed a lively discussion of technical developments in video news coverage. He listed many important advances during the past year, but acknowledged one major problem as yet unsolved. The speed of transmission for news film to TV stations all over America is still limited, he said, to the speed of the airplanes which fly the footage. It's the fastest transportation presently available, but it's too slow to keep up with the news itself, which is transmitted instantaneously by the news service over a network of teletype circuits.

"When it becomes possible to transmit motion pictures over a micro-wave system," McCall said, "then television news will really be in business on a competitive scale."

Officials of International News and United Press admitted privately that the newsreels which their organizations are producing necessarily suffer from the same transportation lag. Film footage of events happening in the eastern time zone seldom is available for presentation by west coast TV stations until 12 to 24 hours after the event.

"Let's face it," said one wire service executive; "the plane that flies our films doesn't move any faster than planes used by the other services."

The year 1951 may mark the awakening of radio to the urgent need for defending its right to freedom of information. Under the vigorous leadership of Bill Ray, NBC, Chicago, the NARND Freedom of Information committee kept the membership informed on events which affected this right. NARND President Ben Chatfield of WMAZ, Macon, Ga., joined with the leaders of other radio and press organizations in protesting against the order restricting the release of certain information by government bureaus. The executive order was regarded by newsmen generally as peacetime censorship, opposed to the public interest.

Similar protests were registered by the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, the AP Managing Editors Association, the American Society of Newspaper Editors and the American Newspaper Publishers Association. At its convention, NARND adopted a resolution calling on the President to withdraw or modify his order curtailing free access to information about our government.

The nation's press and the nation's radio had formed an alliance, standing together on common ground in a common cause. The quarrels and the rivalry that had separated them in the past seemed less important than ever as they joined forces in a modern crusade for freedom at home. At year's end, the executive order was still in force, but the fight to repeal it had only begun.

The area of NARND's influence was expanded during 1951 as the organization's membership passed the 300 mark for the first time. Added recognition came to NARND with the appointment of President Chatfield to membership on the Broadcast Advisory Council and to the Council on Radio and Television Journalism. NARND now sits as a full partner with management on the board which advises on industry affairs. It also has increased its stature as a professional organization by participating in the affairs of the journalism schools where the newsmen of tomorrow receive their training.

TV FILMS BEST BET FOR SPONSOR

By JOHN L. SINN, President, Ziv Television Programs, Inc.

ALREADY the nation's television producers are producing more films for television than the nation's motion picture producers are producing films for theaters.

The video film industry is today producing more than 3000 hours of film for television annually, and that figure will increase significantly during this year and in the years to follow.

The advantages of a filmed television series to a sponsor are quite obvious. Film offers him a maximum of flexibility of program structure, as well as the opportunity to provide non inter-connected stations with top-level programming. With film he can also overcome such problems as the time differential between east and west coasts.

The program structure can be more thoughtfully planned and presented on film than "live." In "live" programming a director frequently has to make "on the spot" decisions and emerge with the wrong camera angles. The director of the filmed show can choose his angles more carefully and never make mistakes if he does his job intelligently.

All of the "to err is human" element inherent in "live" production is eliminated on film. The fluffs wind up on the cutting room floor.

Of course, not all types of programs lend themselves to film. However, we in the industry believe that 80-90% of all television programming can be filmed and will some day in the not too distant future be done in that manner.

We in the filmed-"open end" industry go a step further and say that eventually 100% of the filmed television shows will be "open end" because "open end" filmed shows offer the maximum advantages to the sponsor.

To the national sponsor who wants to concentrate on selected markets, the "open end" filmed show affords the opportunity to purchase at local rates a top-budgeted production such as "The Unexpected," whose production budget is $23,500 or "Boston Blackie" whose production budget is $21,000 per half-hour show, or "Cisco Kid" or other similarly top-grade shows. Such a sponsor can then buy the best available time in his selected markets, make his deal with the station in each city which can do the best job for him, and then by inserting a hard-hitting local sales message, "live" or filmed, can be assured of getting the top results from his advertising budget.

Similarly, the regional advertiser and local advertiser whose advertising budgets could not stand the initial production costs of such shows, are able to present such shows locally, at prices they can well afford, and build up big audiences for their sales messages in their communities.

Last, but certainly not least of the reasons why "open end" filmed shows are destined to be the dominant category of all TV programming is the fact that stations prefer to buy and re-sell such shows at the local level in order to realize the maximum revenue from the sale of their time. At the same time, the stations could not themselves otherwise hope to offer the advertisers in their communities top programs, featuring top names, top production values, top direction, and top everything else, because obviously top talent leaves local communities and heads for the three major production centers.

Thus, an infant industry of five years ago has become a very healthy big boy who must grow into an even healthier giant.

Surveys which have been taken by trade magazines and other organizations prove that the public no longer knows nor cares which programs are on film or live. The "bugs" of five years ago have been exterminated completely.

This, too, explains why more and more sponsors are turning to filmed shows, and why more specifically they are turning to filmed "open end" shows to do the job.

INTERNATIONAL RADIO—WHAT IS IT?

By PIERRE CRENESSE, Director of The French Broadcasting System in North America

SINCE the end of the war, there has been a lot of talk about International Radio. Does such a thing exist? There can be no doubt about it. To be convinced, one need only to witness the exchanges being made daily between American radio stations and Radio diffusion Francaise. Anyone in France can listen to numerous programs during which people talk about the United States, about life here, about American art and American music; and in this country, from coast to coast, Radio-diffusion Francaise makes programs available to over 350 stations.

Nevertheless, up to the present time, International Radio has never really been defined. It has no regulation, no laws. It is ruled only by the good will or the honesty of those who are at its service. You may say that is true of all the arts. No doubt; however, when working for International Radio one should have a definite purpose in mind.

After several years of experience—experience acquired under the best conditions, as I have had the good fortune to be in permanent contact with American broadcasters, and they have the justified reputation of knowing their job—I would say this about International Radio.

"It is the art of making people listen to truths about a country unfamiliar or indifferent to them."

I use the word "listen" intentionally, rather than "hear," as the former indicates sustained attentiveness, whereas the latter denotes only a manifestation of the auditory senses. And I insist on the word "truths."

Consequently, the crux of the matter is to be honest and interesting at the same time. That is not easy to achieve because being honest means not only to respect truths but also to avoid contrivance and not to give in to popular taste.

International Radio can be constructive by enlightening people on the subject of the life and customs of other people; it can be poisonous if it is "propaganda."

Two striking examples came out of the last war, at the very time when the principle of International Radio was being formed. The first, the bad one, was that of the German radio that flooded occupied territories with lies—lies about the power of the Great Reich as well as about the weakness of democracies. That was propaganda. The other, the good one, was that of the BBC and ABSIE (American Broadcasting System in Europe), that people in occupied territories listened to daily, at the risk of their life. Agreed, it was radio at war, but it was honest radio.

Here is an even more explicit example. A program of the Voice of America is relayed every day by one of the Radiodiffusion Francaise networks. Produced in New York, by Americans, the program gives facts—facts that can be checked—and interviews with personalities who talk about life in the United States. The picture that French listeners get in this way may not exactly coincide with their own conception of America, but in any event it is an honest picture. The programs produced by Radiodiffusion Francaise in Paris, in English, and aired by American stations, present French music. It is honest to talk about Berlioz, Ravel or Debussy who although Frenchmen, belong to the heritage of human genius.

I personally avoid forcing the listener's judgment. I make a point of not saying, "Listen attentively to the last movement of the Symphonie Fantastique; it's a masterpiece, you should like it." I just play the composition, interpreted by a good orchestra, bearing in mind that if the listener is not already familiar with it, I have the opportunity of introducing it to him. He is still free to form his own judgment which I respect.

From a practical point of view, experience has taught me that the No. 1 principle of International Radio should be to reach the listeners you want over their favorite stations. This implies that shortwave radio is practically out of business during peacetime. The number of short-wave listeners, ordinarily, is infinitesimal in comparison with AM or even FM listeners. That means that a wide understanding of the significance of International Radio must be established in order that stations the world over may readily accept programs from foreign countries.

NBC RADIO

IS

a statement by the National Broadcasting Company

The 1951 season saw more innovations in network radio than in any other comparable period of time in the history of the broadcasting industry. We are happy to say that most of these new techniques were introduced and developed by NBC, traditionally the leader in network radio.

While NBC radio has held the lead in developing new and original programs, our major emphasis is on network radio's tremendous selling ability and on ways to adapt its vast, economical audience to the particular needs of every national advertiser.

What are these new selling techniques? Here is a partial list:

Tandem Plans 1 and 2

Guaranteed Advertising Attention Plan

National Merchandising Plan

Market Basket Plan

Some of these plans have been in effect for many months; others are brand new. Every one adds greatly to the already tremendous flexibility of network radio as an advertising medium. We believe in total they accurately reflect this policy of the NBC Radio Network: we are in business to build your business.

Among national media, network radio is unique. No other medium or combination of media reaches mass audiences at such low costs as network radio.

And in 1952 NBC radio will continue to foster the advancement of network radio as the basic medium for selling America. Our approach is your approach—strictly business. Strictly good business.

America runs on
BULOVA
TIME

Again in 1951, as in years past—more Americans chose BULOVA than any other fine watch in the world.

Again, we at BULOVA continued to depend upon spot radio and, increasingly, upon spot television as our principal advertising media. And, we know that the success of these campaigns was due, to a large extent, to the magnificent cooperation of the radio and television stations and their representatives throughout the country.

So, once again, to all of you — our sincere appreciation. We look forward to many more years of pleasant and profitable association.

one can't get along without the other

Three's not a crowd as far as we're concerned. The station, the agency and (the guy in the middle) the station rep are inseparable when it comes to transacting national spot business. Important agencies are depending more and more upon Avery-Knodel as their source of prompt, reliable station information, while the country's top stations, aware of the value and importance of proper national representation, are choosing America's most alert reps . . .

HOW TO APPLY FOR FCC LICENSE

Official FCC Procedure for AM, FM and TV Licenses

ANY qualified citizen, firm or group may apply to the Federal Communications Commission for authority to construct a commercial standard, frequency modulation or television broadcast station.

Licensing of these facilities is prescribed by the Communications Act of 1934, which sets up certain basic requirements. In general, applicants must satisfy the Commission that they are legally, technically and financially qualified, and that operation of the proposed station would be in the public interest, convenience and necessity.

The licensing procedure is detailed in Part 1 of the Commission's "Rules Relating to Practice and Procedure," while station operation is covered by Part 3, "Rules Governing Radio Broadcast Services," and "Standards of Good Engineering Practice."

The application procedure is substantially the same whether the facility sought is an FM, television or standard broadcast station.

Selecting a Frequency

The Communications Act recognizes broadcasting as a competitive industry and invests the Commission with the responsibility of allocating facilities so as to provide a fair, efficient and equitable distribution of radio service.

Standard broadcast stations operate on "local," "regional," or "clear" channels. Local stations are of 100 to 250 watts power and serve smaller communities; stations of 500 watts to 5 kilowatts cover larger centers of population and surrounding areas; stations of 10 to 50 kilowatt maximum power are for large area coverage, particularly at night.

To determine whether an AM frequency is available for assignment in a particular area, it is necessary for the applicant to have a channel study made by a competent engineer. The Commission's engineering personnel cannot undertake to make such studies for prospective applicants.

A FM applicant must specify a frequency available to the area intended to be served. The Commission has tentatively allocated geographic blocks of frequencies to accommodate Class A stations (community) and Class B. Stations (metropolitan and rural). Except in the larger cities, the demand for FM stations has not yet exceeded the supply of available frequencies.

Applying for a Construction Permit

Once a prospective licensee has decided the type of station he wants to apply for, the next step is to make application for a construction permit. This application must be in writing, on a form (No. 301) supplied by the Commission. This form requires information about the citizenship and character of the applicant, as well as his financial, technical and other ability to construct and operate a station, plus details about the transmitting apparatus to be used and the proposed new service. Triplicate copies are required, one of which must be executed under oath or affirmation.

Application Processing

Applications are reviewed in their engineering, legal and financial aspects by the Broadcast Bureau, which makes recommendations to the Commission.

If, upon examination of an application, the Commission determines that there are no engineering conflicts and that all other requirements are met, the application is granted and a construction permit is issued.

How To Apply For FCC License

Hearings

Where it appears that interference would be caused to another station above the degree described in the Commission's "Standards of Good Engineering Practice," or if other serious questions are involved, a hearing is usually required before a determination can be made. Sometimes, also, a hearing is necessary because two or more applicants request the same frequency.

In designating an application for hearing, the Commission gives public notice of the issues for the information of the applicant and other parties who may be concerned. Prior to the hearing, requests may be made for enlargement of the issues, to amend the application, or to permit other parties to intervene.

The hearing notice generally allows the applicant a period of 30 days or more in which to prepare. Even after being designated for hearing, an applicant may find it possible to satisfy the issues by amending his application, especially if there are engineering considerations.

Hearings are customarily conducted by an examiner. He has authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and rule upon the admission of evidence. Individual or partnership applicants may appear in person or by counsel, but cooperate applicants must be represented by attorney.

Within 20 days after the close of the hearing, each party and the Chief of the Broadcast Bureau of the Commission has the privilege of filing proposed findings of fact and conclusions in support of his contentions. After review of evidence and statements, the hearing examiner issues an initial decision.

In the event he wishes to contest the initial decision, the applicant or any other interested party then has 20 days from the date on which the initial decision was announced to file exceptions and to request oral argument before the Commission. Oral argument is granted on request. After oral argument the Commission may adopt, modify or reverse the hearing examiner's initial decision. Within 20 days thereafter, any party involved may petition for a rehearing. Such a petition may be filed whether or not the decision is based upon a hearing but does not stay the proceedings unless ordered by the Commission.

If no exceptions are filed, and the Commission does not initiate a review of the hearing examiner's initial decision, the latter becomes effective 40 days after the issuance of the initial decision, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

Construction Permit

When and if an application meets statutory and other requirements, it is granted and a construction permit is issued. The latter specifies a date for commencement and another for completion of construction. A maximum of 60 days from date of grant is provided in which construction shall begin, and a maximum of six months thereafter as the time for completion (or 8 months in all). If the permittee is unable to build his station within the time specified he can apply (on Form 701) for additional time, stating the reasons. Upon completion of construction, the permittee can engage in equipment tests.

License

The final step is to apply (on Form 302) for the actual license. The applicant must show compliance with all terms, conditions, and obligations set forth in the original application and the construction permit. After applying for a license and receiving authority from the Commission, the holder of a construction permit can conduct tests. A station license is then issued if no new cause or circumstance has come to the attention of the Commission that would make operation of the station contrary to the public interest.

Standard and FM stations are licensed for the statutory limit of three years; television stations for one year.

5TH YEAR ON TV — 18TH YEAR ON RADIO

NETWORKS

RADIO

... Now, more than ever—the most efficient, the most economical way to reach  $\frac{1}{10}$ th of America!

WLW has a four-week audience of 2,702,000 homes in its area — 186,500 more than in 1946, a pre-TV year.

The WLW Merchandise-Able Area covers 330 counties, has a population of 13,702,000—3,904,000 radio families—with a buying income of well over $16 billion annually.

FOR 30 YEARS . . . THE NATION'S STATION —

Robert E. Kintner
President

American Broadcasting Company

STUMPING days for presidential candidates are numbered. Radio and television are seeing to that.

Today there are over 105 million radio sets in the United States — a ratio of one set for every voting citizen. And television sets installed throughout the nation total almost 16 million with an estimated 18½ million sets expected to be in use by November 1, of this year.

Radio is now able to reach 95.6 per cent of the total families in the nation, and TV, although presently concentrated in 65 large metropolitan areas of the nation, reaches the greater proportion of regular voters who live in or near to these major retail areas. Therefore, it is evident that that combined facilities of radio and television reach the majority of the nation's eligible voters, who by July, 1952 will number almost 99 million persons.

The impact of radio and television will have considerable bearing on the results of voting in this election year. By the time Americans go to the polls on November 4 to elect the 34th President of the United States, they will know more about their presidential candidates, the issues at hand and will have seen and heard more about these candidates than in any previous election year in the history of our nation. Radio and television will be the reason.

This is in marked contrast to past election years when only comparatively small segments of the nation's people could see a candidate in person as he stumped the country on a so-called whistle-stop campaign.

The electronic age of radio and television has changed all of that. Radio brought the voices of the candidates to all homes and television makes the candidates an in-person guest in the home.

The inestimable force of these media remains to be calculated after November 4, 1952. But no single candidate or political party can deny that radio and television will play a vital role in the election of our 34th President.

It is a tribute to our democratic principles that in this election year, a number of great American manufactures will assist the radio and television networks in presenting the most comprehensive coverage of the Republican and Democratic national convention and Election Day returns that have ever been undertaken, by sponsoring this complete reporting as a public service. The Admiral Corporation will present ABC's radio and television coverage of the important national conventions of the Republican and Democratic parties as well as the Election Returns.

ABC radio and television will cover the Republican convention in Chicago from July 7 through July 11 and the Democratic convention from July 21 through July 25 as well as the Election Day results on November 4.

A minimum of 20 to 25 hours each of broadcasting and telecasting time will be devoted to each convention. On hand to cover these proceedings will be the largest assemblage of ABC newscasters and commentators ever gathered for any single special events coverage as well as over 200 persons to man technical equipment and handle the multitude of other duties necessary in such an undertaking.

While this represents just the planning and organization of the ABC Radio and Television Networks, I think that when you add to this the plans and personnel of the other networks which also will cover these events, it can safely be said that no other communications media will provide such complete coverage of what certainly will be the most important news stories of 1952.

Looking beyond the present horizon, which radio and television constantly strives to do, by the time our next election rolls around—in 1956—it is expected the United States will have at least 1,000 more television stations than the present 109. The additional technical advances which will be made by then plus the millions of additional television sets that will be installed in American homes, will make personal appearance electioneering virtually a thing of the past and in one appearance before a television camera, a candidate will have faced nearly the entire voting public.

Radio and television will have stamped out stumping.

Columbia Broadcasting System

IT SEEMS to me that radio faces three basic problems today:

1. The public is reallocating its leisure time, to make room for television viewing, along with newspaper and magazine reading, movie-going and radio listening.
2. The advertiser is reallocating his advertising dollar, formerly spent principally in magazines, newspapers and radio, to include television.
3. The artist is reallocating his interests, according television its place along with the screen, the stage and radio.

We are beginning to see that each of these problems contains many of its own answers.

For example, the public has clearly demonstrated its confidence in the vitality of radio by purchasing more than 12,000,000 radio sets during 1951, while buying fewer than half that many television sets.

The current re-examination of media values being made by both advertisers and their agencies is the best thing that's happened to radio in a good many years. What comes out of these analyses—with no room for argument—is that radio continues as the most effective way to reach really big audiences; to reach them at the lowest cost in all advertising, over and over again.

At some point, talent will realize that the stage, motion pictures, radio and television are four different forms of artistic expression; that each has its own characteristics and makes its own demands; that each has its own way of appealing to the public, and has virtues that no other medium can match or adequately replace; that one of the greatest of these virtues is the illusion that radio can produce more effectively than any other medium—and at much lower cost. Most important, the artist will realize that it is a rare entertainer who is a triple- or quadruple-threat man, preeminent in three or four fields.

There is ample room for a new broadcasting medium such as television to service our vastly increasing population and expanding economy. There are more goods to be sold to more people in more homes, and radio is the logical medium for the advertiser who needs this kind of broad circulation for his message.

At present, we are passing through a transitional period, during which CBS Radio means to maintain and increase its substantial leadership in size of audiences and in advertising. We think that the best way to do that is to continue to aim at maximum satisfaction for the listeners. Maximum values to the advertiser will be a natural consequence.

EVISION YEARBOOK in this volume.)

Mutual Broadcasting System

FRANK WHITE
President

Recently, as the year drew toward its close, I made the observation that 1951 would be recorded as the year in which network radio kicked over its own tombstone, took fresh bearings on its future, and—for the first time—attained a real measure of maturity.

These notions imply a degree of optimism not unanimously expressed even within the industry. But they are based primarily upon our own sincere belief in "the methods of Mutual and its 500-plus stations in helping the medium fulfill those sound prospects," as I put it a year ago. Throughout 1951, these "methods" of ours have been mainly concentrated in network-structure, in programming, and in sales . . . three phases of top importance to all network radio today.

Back in 1950, after ten years as the largest of all networks, Mutual conducted some special research into the practical assets of its large-ness. The results defined the unmatched reach of our multi-station facilities throughout that vast, non-TV area which has since come to be known as Home Town America. And this in turn, to nobody's great surprise, has led to earnest attempts by the three other networks to emulate the Mutual station setup. During '51, they all added outlets, but today Mutual continues, as before, to provide advertisers with nearly 90 per cent more stations than the next network.

But perhaps the chief significance of the station-structure aspect of Mutual progress is that, by year-end, the typical MBS client was using 27 per cent more stations in his hookup than he was at the end of 1950.

Behind all our programming plans is the belief that network radio has few problems which can't be solved by better service to listeners. Listener-service is after all the basis for one of our most impregnable advantages over all other media: the incomparable mass volume of our audience. Better listener-service is, therefore, more than fulfillment of our public obligation; it also improves our service to advertisers.

Guided by this sort of thinking, Mutual took unprecedented steps toward improved programming last year. The six-nights-a-week, 10-program, $2,500,000, all-star arrangement set up by Mutual with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer made its debut New Year's Eve. This means that the 1951 record-book was closed before any results could be entered for this forthright investment in the future of radio. At this writing, however, evidence is already piling in—from audience-researchers and from time-buyers alike (as well as from our affiliates)—to indicate that our faith in radio's future was thoroughly justified.

Facilities and programs are the two main ingredients of network broadcasting, but the selective application of these ingredients is what determines the medium's effectiveness. The success of this network in 1951, besides reflecting the success of its individual clients, stems straight from the competence with which the right shows, on the right hookups, were put to use on Mutual. On our part, we redoubled our efforts to provide the maximum in flexibility and economy. And our advertisers proceeded to make the most of the fine sales potentials thus offered.

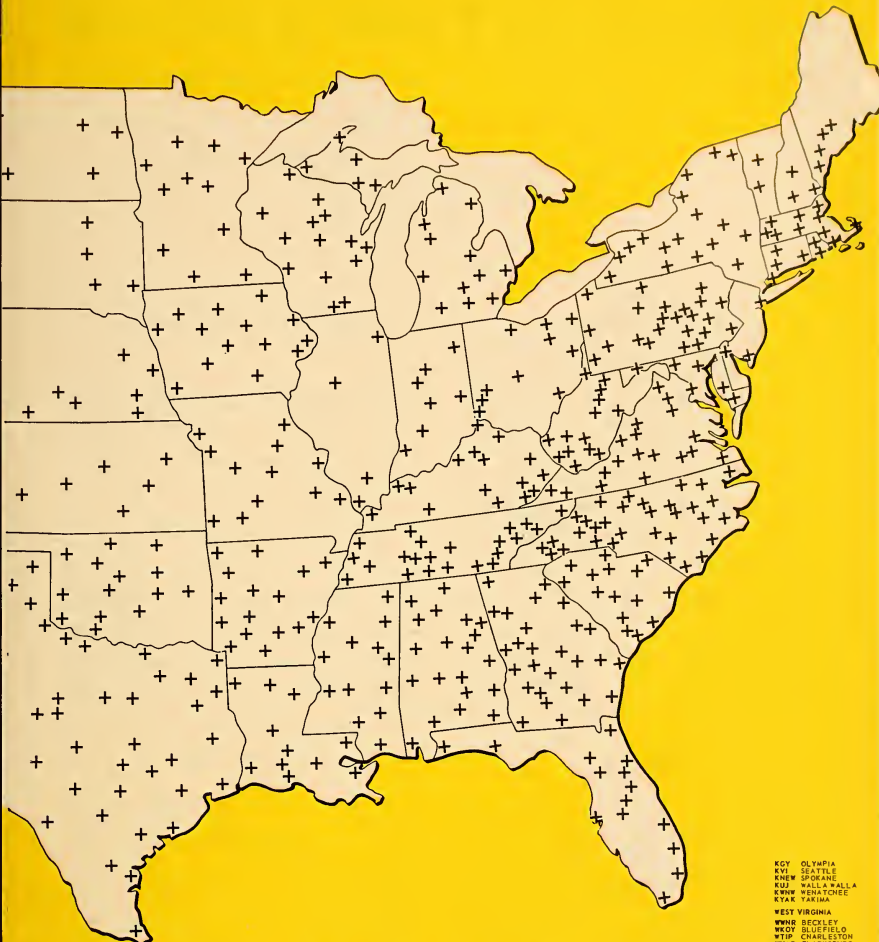

Accordingly, it is in well-earned tribute to our radio clients that I can close this review of 1951 with the statement that Mutual—continuing to pioneer in the methods outlined above—was the one and only radio network whose advertisers increased their investment over the previous year.

And the best postscript I can add for 1952 is that, with more radio sets in more radio homes than ever before, with better radio programs being carried over more radio stations than ever before, and with more effective radio-selling opportunities available than ever before, everybody here at Mutual is prepared for even more "radio-activity" during the year ahead.

National Broadcasting Company

IN 1951, the National Broadcasting Company passed a significant milestone. We concluded our 25th year of operations. Much of what we accomplished in that time helped formulate the history of the entire broadcasting industry, for which we are justly proud. But 1952 is already upon us, and this year and the years to come hold many opportunities and challenges—too many to permit of reminiscence. If we are to remain in the forefront of the broadcasting industry, it is to the future that we must look and for which we must plan.

Radio today is the most extensive and comprehensive medium of communication the world has ever known. At the beginning of this year, a joint committee of research experts estimated that there are now over 105 million radio sets in use in the United States. This is a ratio of more than one set for every person of voting age in the country—a significant example of radio's scope in a national election year. In our land, radio reaches virtually everybody on a regular and continuing basis. Radio has grown and continues to grow at a faster rate than the American population. It is woven into the fabric of American life, as much a part of the average home as the stove, electric light, telephone and refrigerator. Radio continues as the most all-embracing, low-cost advertising and entertainment medium in existence. This relation to other media will not change for many years to come—probably not within our lifetimes. There will always be a strong place for radio in the pattern of American life.

The greatest expansion in our industry will come in the medium of television. Although we have spanned the United States, we still must think of television today in regional terms. I do not think it will be very long before we will regard television as we do radio today, as an instrument of mass communications for all of America.

I foresee, within the next few years, enough television receivers throughout the nation to accommodate a viewing audience greater than half of the country's population. The spread of home receivers will be accompanied by an increase in theatre television facilities and installations that will account for several million more viewers.

No matter what phase of television we examine, future development potentials are staggering to the imagination. Audience growth will increase television's economic worth tremendously. As an advertising and sales medium, television, which now reckons billings in millions, should reach the billion dollar mark.

Achievement of this stature by television will, of course, be greatly dependent upon the existence of more television stations. The skeleton network that exists today is just that. In order to round out the body, new stations must be built and put into operation as soon as practicable.

The natural area for supplementing the present 12 VHF channels lies within the Ultra-High Frequency band. Opening up of UHF will afford seventy new television channels and is expected to permit 2,000 and more new stations to operate. This will make television available to almost every sizable community in the country.

Culturally, television will enrich the American people. Broadcasters are aware of their stewardship of this potent force which can shape the thoughts and customs of the people by virtue of its position in the home. As television grows and spreads, its service value to the public will be increasingly realized. We shall have, with the help of television, a better informed, more educated, better entertained nation.

The impact of television has been good for radio. It has sharpened our appreciation of the actual and potential powers of a medium we had come to accept as a natural part of our lives. It has made radio broadcasters more aware of the power of radio and has opened their eyes to inherent possibilities in the use of radio that were undreamed of a few short years ago. Radio has adapted itself to many changes in its quarter-century history, and will continue to do so in the future.

A healthy growth of both radio and television is essential for the fullest realization of the future of the industry in service to the American public.

Keystone Broadcasting System

THIS year, the radio industry faces another period of adjustment . . . learning to live with television. Despite the predictions of the obituary writers, radio is still here and thriving heartily.

In fact, television, until the freeze is lifted, is still failing to reach effectively the nation's richest market—those people living in the rural areas and in towns of 50,000 and less. And it takes more than half of the nation's retail stores to serve this high income group.

It is extremely gratifying to us at Keystone to know that BMB has reported that these same prosperous people who live in this market, listen longer and more often to their home town radio station.

Their home town station is a vital part of their community. The average Keystone station owner is the manager and he's usually known around the town square by his first name. He's a common sight at local functions whether it's the county fair or a high school football game, and his mobile unit is just as common a sight as any other vehicle.

This same man is just as concerned about the disappearance of Mrs. Jones' cat as the next door neighbors are . . . and he makes a sincere effort to enlist the aid of his listeners in finding the cat so that the community may return to normal. His services usually reach far beyond what metropolitan stations consider as the usual.

The founders of the Keystone Network knew that these simple facts accounted for much of the high listener-loyalty of the Home Town stations. This is why the Keystone Network has paid off for so many advertisers in its 12 year history.

At first, when Keystone was established, it was to enable the advertising agencies to buy a package of small stations with a single order . . . to help their clients reach this plus audience in the rich small city and rural market.

However, since the advent of television, there has developed a second reason for using Keystone . . . to give advertisers a rich market that is beyond effective television. Advertisers discovered that the use of metropolitan television is limited—television at the present doesn't have the coverage to do a selling job in the Home Town and Rural Market. Keystone has proved to be the logical answer for supplementary coverage to metropolitan television. KBS is the only network not having a single affiliate located in a television city.

Proof of this performance is indicated by the fact that Keystone is entering its 13th year of operations with a 300 per cent increase in volume over 1950 . . . and the number of affiliates are in excess of 500.

During 1951, 15 new major advertisers were added . . . and 120 new affiliates. These figures are evidence of performance and the faith of the advertisers in Keystone to do a good job. This will be the best year in Keystone's history.

The use of the Keystone Network by national advertisers has been an interesting and profitable experience for them. They discovered Home Town America—a market that Keystone has known for a long time since its inception . . . and that the prosperous farm segment of this market alone represents an income of $40,000,000,000 yearly.

KBS is looking forward to another year of progress . . . helping advertisers discover the Home Town stations whose sales producing ability is the sole factor in the success of the Keystone Network.

In 1952, the Keystone Broadcasting System, the only established and growing transcription network, will become a medium for even greater importance to the nation's advertisers who want to reach the world's richest market. And, with the addition of 200 or more new stations, almost every third radio station will be a member of the Keystone Network.

SERVICES OFFERED: The Keystone Broadcasting System is a network which assists local radio stations in their programming with transcriptions, with KBS making their time available to national advertisers and their agencies at an attractive network package rate.

At present, there are more than 475 Keystone affiliates, located in towns of 10,000 to 50,000 population where they reach both the small town and rural markets. For the most part, these Keystone stations serve those areas which are beyond clear reception areas of the large metropolitan radio stations or other high-power stations. The number of radio homes in these Keystone markets run into the millions, all within the prime area of Keystone affiliates. And, most of these homes are beyond effective television influence of the larger metropolitan areas.

Keystone is a flexible media easily purchased, whole or in part. Entire areas or spot coverage may be selected . . . whichever meets the needs of the advertising program. Regardless of the schedule, Keystone makes its time available at a considerable savings.

In operation, Keystone offers the same advantages as the wired networks. Instead of a large number of individual transactions, KBS reduces your problem to one order, one time clearance, one series of Affidavits of Performance, and one invoice.

During 1951, as in 1950, many of the nation's largest advertisers were using the facilities of Keystone. Types of programming vary from 25 word spots to one hour shows.

KEYSTONE'S 500 STATIONS NEW SALES FOR NATIONAL

Keystone Broadcasting System's national advertisers repeatedly renew their contracts because they know that their message reaches a rich market—Home Town and Rural America!

These national advertisers profit by the higher listener-loyalty of the Keystone stations. BMB reports that these local level stations are listened to longer, more regularly than the distant metropolitan stations.

Whether you're considering media for foods, drugs, tobacco, automobiles, farm supplies or the other needs of Home Town and Rural America, you'll find the Keystone Network worth investigating—America's only national transcription network!

One order buys one minute announcements or a 15 minute show on 500 Keystone stations—or only the number of stations required to cover your distribution pattern.

NO TELEVISION RECEPTION!

With Keystone's affiliates located in towns of 50,000 and under, there's little or no effective television. National advertisers using the Keystone Network enjoy TV-Free reception in these American Homes!

Liberty Broadcasting System

JUST four years ago, the Liberty Broadcasting System was born. And in these four short years Liberty has grown from one to 458 stations.

In November, 1947, over KLIF in Dallas, Texas, came the first of Liberty's now-famous recreated sports features — a professional football game from a telegraphed play-by-play with recorded football noises to enliven the proceedings.

Today Liberty has provided to the radio world that there is not only a place for a fifth network, but that this fifth network attracts so many listeners it has become the second largest in the world.

To the original key station in Dallas, Liberty has added station after station, not merely to air its recreated sports features, but to offer a full, 16-hour a day schedule of varied programs of proved popularity.

Over 80 per cent of Liberty's 458 stations were formerly Independents. As everyone knew, in each major and minor market there was always one live-wire Independent that led the field of network rivals. Agencies accepted the power and aggression of such Independents, but no one had ever united them, to take advantage of their power.

Who could bring them together?

Liberty could and did.

The Independents joined Liberty because they found in Liberty Broadcasting System something they could find nowhere else—a service so complete that many of them did not need to maintain even a record or news library.

The Independents found that Liberty's system of being on the air with a type of program that the other networks were not carrying at that time paid off, too, in listeners, as well as revenue.

What are some of the programs that Liberty offers? 1. The famous baseball "Game of the Day"; 2. National professional football; 3. West Coast "Game of the Week"; 4. Friday and Saturday night football; 5. Basketball's "Game of the Night."

What about television and Liberty?

While other radio networks, fearful of this new medium, have been cutting economic corners, Liberty has been growing and growing. But not by competing with television.

Liberty firmly believes in television as a great source of entertainment for millions of families.

But there are over 43,000,000 homes with radios in the United States. Of these, the Liberty Broadcasting System covers 78 per cent. The people in these homes, and in factories and on beaches and vacation places of all kinds, will continue to turn on their radios.

They will turn on their radios and tune in the station that comes in most clearly and brings them the kind of program they want to hear.

In the majority of cases this means they will tune in to a Liberty station and listen to their favorite sports, music or news. In sports events of national interest especially, no other network can match Liberty in variety and quality.

There is an old formula, "Find out what the people want and give it to them." It has worked in the entertainment business for years.

Liberty has taken this formula and proved that it works for a network, too.

Liberty will continue to use this formula to bring the public the kind of program it wants to hear and, in turn, its member stations will have an ever-growing audience.

The BIG NEWS in Southern California radio is NEW

K B I G

K-BIG has radio and advertising people talking because it's the new 10,000-watt station with 50,000-watt coverage.*

THERE'S A REASON!

Tests of K-BIG's service area prove something broadcasters have long known but seldom put to practice . . . salt water speeds radio waves undiminished over amazingly long distances. Santa Catalina Island, lying 22 miles off the center of Southern California's populous coast, was selected as the transmitter site for K-BIG because it offers a salt water route to the Southland's greatest population centers from Santa Barbara to San Diego.

There's another reason for K-BIG's terrific coverage. The BIG NEW station employs a costly antenna system which acts as a giant reflector, focusing the signal in the direction that counts . . . WHERE THE PEOPLE LIVE! This is why K-BIG saturates Los Angeles and penetrates inland to the last outposts of population on the Mojave Desert more than 125 miles to the east.

Add to this sensational coverage a dial position between two major network stations (740 k.c.), and a rate card that is really down-to-earth. It totals up to one of the most outstanding buys in radio today! Write, wire or phone K-BIG or your Robert Meeker office for full details.

Cornerstone...

Here is the finest building of its kind in America.

It is the brand new home of Northern California's oldest radio station . . . and the area's leading independent . . . KSFO, and of San Francisco's pioneer television station . . . KPIX.

But more than that, to those whose thoughts look to the years to come, the building itself is the cornerstone of a structure of faith in the future . . . faith in radio, faith in television, in the great markets these stations serve, but most of all of faith in that inspiring way of life to which all Americans are dedicated.

For Stations and Sponsors —

For instance . . . WDEC

“AP is as necessary to us as our transmitter. Sponsors want prestige and listener appeal. Associated Press news gives them both—plus a mass of listeners who are conscious of the product advertised. Also, AP news gives our ‘casts high ratings.’”

IF IT'S DISTRIBUTION...

A manufacturer selling through grocery outlets established distribution of his product in various important Chicago chain groups through use of the Saturday night NATIONAL BARN DANCE. The outstanding results obtained by this account so impressed the local broker that he has recommended WLS to other of his food accounts!

IF IT'S "IN-STORE" CO-OPERATION...

The successful WLS Summer Food Promotion Plan (OPERATION GROCER) through co-operation with eight leading Food Groups offers food advertisers extensive merchandising in 2,300 Chicago area grocery stores. The Plan brought concrete results to WLS food advertisers in 1951—and will be continued in 1952.

IF IT'S DIRECT, TRACEABLE SALES...

An insecticide company with a product selling at $2.98 got impressive sales at a cost-per-order of only 38¢ . . . 13% of the sales price! Another company sold $19,974.45 worth of its product directly through use of a series of WLS early morning programs! Here is proof of a responsive audience . . . the power to produce tangible results!

What we did in the cases above cited—no different from what we did for countless others in 1951, and in the many years preceding—we can do for you in 1952. Ask us—or your John Blair man—for details.

AP SELLS

For Stations and Sponsors—

For instance . . . WEIM

“AP is without question our Number One revenue getter! WEIM has 85 AP newscasts sponsored weekly . . . 16 different sponsors . . . all signed for at least 26 weeks. AP news was the only tool which succeeded in getting three of Fitchburg’s five banks for us—a threefold blessing. We echo Sponsor J. D. Bailey of Bachelder-Bailey Co., Goodrich tire dealers, when he says, ‘As a merchandising vehicle, AP news is second to none.’”

Multiply this 501,900 times

Detroiters are as accessible to advertisers in their cars as they are in their homes . . . through 501,900 auto radios.

That's the bonus audience delivered by WWJ, Detroit's most-listened-to station. Add that to the 1,262,500 radio homes in the WWJ primary coverage area—728,000 of which are radio ONLY homes—and you'll realize why WWJ sells so effectively. And so economically, also . . . because WWJ's average cost-per-thousand listeners in the Detroit market is 14.5% less than the average cost-per-thousand for radio time in Detroit.

AP SELLS

For instance . . . KWNO

“KWNO advertisers are pleased with AP sponsorship. Check this record: Kalmes Tire Service, 13 years without interruption. Breitlow Funeral Home, 13 years. Marigold Dairy, 12 years. Merchant’s National Bank, 4 years. Winona Motors, 10 years.

“Associated Press newscasts have the highest ratings of all KWNO programs. At 7:30 A.M., before our AP news, KWNO listenership jumps 20%. The same at noon.

“Exactly 96.66% of all AP newscasts are sponsored. The remaining 3.33% is early morning time.

“When it comes to AP newscasts, KWNO salesmen put their feet on the desk. Selling AP news requires little effort. We have a waiting list.”

ENGLISH

has for many years been a most productive medium for a large group of national and local advertisers who recognize the vast potential represented by the more than 600,000 families comprising the Jewish market in the New York metropolitan area.

Distinctive adult programming and a loyal, responsive audience are the WEVD combination which national advertisers have found so effective and economical in maintaining a consistent position of dominance in the Jewish field.

THESE SIGNS* ARE NORMAL IN NEW YORK

Italian traffic signs* are a realistic recognition of the fact that the Italian language is more commonplace on the streets of New York than any other except English. More than 2,000,000 Americans of Italian origin live in the New York area.

By showmanship, service, facilities and tradition, WOV long ago became the unrivalled first choice of the New York area Italian audience. So much so, that 90% of all expenditure for Italian-language radio advertising in New York is on WOV. Put it on all your New York schedules!

* The sign says "Pedestrian Crossing"

WE COUNTED THE CUSTOMERS!

Ratio of Results

	WJMO	Newspapers
Prospects Produced	14.0	9.0
Awareness of Medium	19.1	6.8
Impact of Advertising	14.0	3.9
Sales	5.0	3.3

We took the guesswork out of WJMO's sales effectiveness! We compared the results of WJMO produced customers with those produced by Cleveland's three daily newspapers.

Last in the maze of research mumbo-jumbo with which radio has been burdened during the past few years, we reverted to the old-fashioned idea that a client is mainly interested in how many sales his advertising creates per dollar spent. Therefore, we went to the advertiser's place of business (automobile agency) and interviewed every customer who entered his establishment for two weeks. No share of audience, no comparative ratings, no colored marbles, no "if come" phrases and no research double talk. We just counted the customers and . . .

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR WJMO OUTPRODUCED THE THREE CLEVELAND DAILY NEWSPAPERS!

For instance . . . KGAL

“All our 66 AP news programs are sponsored. KGAL derives 20% of its income from newscasts sold to year-round sponsors. Of our audience, 75% prefers news over all other programs. When I saw the percentage of gross gained from news, I took one salesman off . . . made him News and Public Relations Director. We have no trouble at all selling AP news.”

WINS FRIENDS AND INFLUENCES PEOPLE BY THE THOUSANDS

PULLS HIGHEST HOOPERS
WITH CBS
AND STELLAR LOCAL PROGRAMMING

These are the most valuable kinds of friends . . . the long-time friends gathered during a quarter century. W H P gives these folks the local programming that gets to the heart of the community. And that sterling CBS stuff.

Result? When Mr. 580 talks, people listen—by more thousands now than ever before since W H P has 5000 busy watts on 580. Hooper says so . . . more listeners who listen more.

COVERS
PENNSYLVANIA'S
TOP-QUALITY
MARKET

These citizens are solid and solvent. Harrisburg leads all major Pennsylvania markets in income per family ($6,135), income per capita ($1,916) and Quality of Market Index (148).

The home towners tote up 7 out of a possible 9 "Superior Points" in Sales Management's recent city rankings study. They're second in the nation in drug sales, sixth in general merchandise and fourth in retail sales.

Want the thriftiest buy in South Central Pennsylvania? Want York and Lancaster and Lebanon, too? Bolling knows Mr. 580 intimately. So can you.
