Between Nansimo and Nitinat.

Nanaimo, Aug. 20.—E. Gartley, who has just r-tu ned from a prospecting tour in the mountains between Nansimo and Nitinat, reports having discovered several well defined ledges of quarts near Alberul lake, one of which was seven feet and the other five feet wide. He brought in quite a number of specimens. He also discovered two new lakes finding outlets in Nanoose Bay. These lakes fairly swarmed with tout. They caught six in six minutes; the smallest was ten inches long, and the largest twenty-live incheg. He describes these lakes as the paradise of fisherms: Reports considerable excitement over placer claims on the Nitinat river, to which he met many people making their way. The government dredger had steam up yesterday for the first time since she was beached at the mill stream for repairs.

The Situation in Constantinople-Fresh Outrages Are Apprehended Shortly.

Constantinopie, Ang. 20.—It now appears Wednesday was selected for the explosion of bombs in this city because the Turkish cabinet had been announced to meet on that day at the offices of the grand vixer, Turkish officials have for some time past been apprehending danger, though they were not aware of its imminence. Immediately after the explosion gangs of Mussulmans crowded the streets, ready for mischief. The police ordered them back to their homes and even arrested some who were armed with endgels.

Fresh outrages are apprehended, possibly upon the anniversary of the attack on the Ottoman bank, Aug. 20th, or the arniversary of the accession of Abdul Hamid II. to the throne, Aug. 31st, on which day, in 1876, he succeeded his elder brother, Sultan Murad V., who was deposed. The British and Italian guardships have left their usual anchorage and entered the harbor.

New York, Aug. 20.—A dispatch to the Herald from Constantinople says: "Perfect calm reigns, but rumors of fresh Armenian schemes, for outrage continue. A Turkish official who has much to do with the myintenance of public order just said to me: "Well, let them try, if they care to. We are perfectly ready for them." Indeed, the Turks are showing the utmost vigilance. They are determined not to stand, any more Armenian defiance of law. The man I described yesterday as having fired a revolver at Pera, had previously thrown a bomb amid the sentries stationed outside the official residence of the governor of Pera The detonator exploded, but, luckily, the bomb did not, otherwise a hundred in nocent men would have been sacrificed."

STEWART RIVER FIND

Definite Information Contained in a Letter Received at Juneau from James O'Brien.

Six Tributaries of the Clondyke Have Proved Rich Beyond Expectations.

Definite information was received here yesterday of a big find of gold near the Stewart river, rumors of which have been prevalent for some time. W. H. Hindle, of Juneau, has received a letter from James O'Brien, dated Condyke, June 22, in which the writer says "a new strike has been made on a creek sixty miles above Clondyke, near Stew-art river." Forty-seven pounds of gold had been taken out of the discovery hole. As is the case in a mining try, no matter how widely distri the news rapidly spreads, and those had failed to strike it rich at Clondyke were rushing for the new diggings. As the letter was being written 150 men were starting from Clondyke for the Stewart river, just as hopeful as when they took part in the rush to Eldorado and Bonanza creeks.

not the only good news from the in-terior brought out by Mr. O'Brien's let-He says all the six tributaries of the Cloudyke river are proving rich be-yond report. Adams creek is the only one condemned by the writer. This bears out the contention that has been held by many men, that there was no reason why the other creeks should not prove just as rich as Eldorado and Bon-anza, out of which millions have already been taken.

Mr. O'Brien adds that grab will be scarce before the winter is over from Dyea. The operator at Comox from Dyea. The operator at Comox reported this morning that there was a man on board the steamer with $100,000 in gold. It is presumed that he came from the gold fields by the overland route to Dyea. The steamer is not known bere, and in all probability will go right through to Seattle.

The following statement has been issued from the Emigrants' Information Office in London: The gold discoveries in the Clondyke

The gold discoveries in the Condyke fiver are situated in a distant and desolate region. Trustworthy reports state that the district is extremely rich in gold. The mining carried on is placer mining, but gold-bearing quarts has also been found in places. Regulations governing placer mining there are those of May 21, 1897, and may be seen at this office. The winter is very severe, and lasts from October to the end of May; the thermometer going down to as much as 50 deg, and 90 deg, below zero. During this time work is only possible to a limited extent, where firewood is available to thaw the frozen gravel and make it ready to be washed as soon as the flow of water in the spring will permit.

the flow of water in the spring will permit.

The Clondyke river falls into the Yukou in the Northwest Territories of Canada, about 100 miles from the frontier between Canada and Alaska. There are two routes to it, and both are long and expensive, and can only be undertaken during the summer after the ice has disappeared. Provisions are very scarce and dear, if procurable at all. It is too late for anyone to start now, and all persons are strongly warned against attempting it. Under the most favorable conditions, and supposing that steamboats, canoes and food supplies were all ready and available, the journey would take from alve to eight weeks, and the traveller would reach the gold diggings just as winter was closing in and mining was, to a great extent, stopped.

Persons going to the diggings should treasure-house of the North American continent.

Rev. Mr. Lewis has just returned east from a five weeks' tour through the western portion of the Dominion. He was one of a party of five Chicagoans who left the Windy City early in July and travelled in a special car over the Canadian Pacific railway to the Pacific coast and through the gold districts of the Kootenay, returning by Winnipeg and Montreal. The members of the party were Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. O. F. Lewis, Rev. A. J. Kenfield, and Mr. F. C. Plint, of Chicago, and Mr. H. H. Rich and Mrs. Rich, of Rochester, N. Y.

and Mr. F. C. Flint, of Chicago, and Mr. H. H. Rich and Mrs. Rich, of Rochester, N. X.

A general, inspection of the country through which they passed was the object of the tour, and to the sightseeing was added, in the case of Mr. Lewis, the desire to gather material for a series of illustrated lectures on the Canadian Northwest. Mr. Lewis, incidentally, is a lecturer of considerable note across the line, and his illustrated discourses on places of interest which he has visited attract large andiences.

Mr. Lewis was seen by a reporter for the Star at the Windsor Station. The party stopped at Banfi, Field and Lake St. Louise on the way out, of the benties of which he spoke very highly. They then went down the Columbia river, through the Arrow Lakes and up the Kootenay River to Nelson, and on up the Kootenay Lake to Kasio, and from there right through the mining region, stopping at Sandon, Slocan Lake and Nakusp. From there they proceeded to Vancouver and Victoria, and on the return part of the trip made the joarney up the Okanagan Velley to Vernon, where the Governor-General has a mach, and down the Lake Okanagan to Penticton. Here they "isited the famous ranch of Mr. Ellis, which contains 23,000 acres. At Calagry they visited another well-known ranch, that of Mr. Hull.

Mr. Lewis says that the whole perty were delighted with their experience beyond the power of words to experience beyond the power of words to experience faction written uncommon large.

As for British Columbia, Mr. Lewis says it is the real worderland of the world, and it is also, with respect to its minerals, the greatest treasure-house of the North American continent. Its mining possibilities he considers inexhaustible. What British Columbia wants is more smelters and concentrators. Even tible. What British Columbia wants is more amelters and concentrators. Even without these facilities the output of ore is now exceedingly large, but when the requisite number of smelters is provided, within easy access of the mines, this will be more than trebled. The construction of the Crow's Nest Pass road. Mr. Lewis seld, would do a great deal r' build up the country and develop its resources, and within the next few years untold wealth would be wrested from its rocks and soil. The Chondyke might be all that it was pictured to be, but he for one would pin his faith to the Kootenay as containing the more inexhaustible deposits.

Here Mr. Lewis spoke of the politering the more inexhaustible deposits.

COL. DOMVILLE ON THE CLONDYKE

Address on New Gold Fields at Can-non Street Hotel, London. by Col. Domville.

Difficulties of Access and Residence Not Greater Than Canadians Have Often Overcome.

(From the Financial Times, Aug. t.)

At the Cannon street Hotel yesterday afternoon Colonel Domville, a member of the Canadian Dominion parliament, gave an address on the Clondyke, Yukon and Stewart gold fields. The chair was occupied by Mr. Edward J. Howell.

The chairman, in introducing Colonel Domville, said he had been invited by various friends to give them some particulars of the Clondyke gold fields. It had been his pleasure to know Colonel Domville in Canada, and he could assure them that no one was better able to give the information than himself.

Colonel Domville: Gentlemen, I am glad that my visit to England as a delegate from the Canadian government of the Queen's jubilee enables me to place at your service some information regarding the great gold fields of the Yukon that are now engaging so much public attention. These gold fields have been known to a limited extent by the Canadian government, but not until lately did they consider them of sufficient 'importance to make a thorough investigation of the country. The Americans, who are generally more progressive than Englishmen, saw the importance some time ago of grasping the situation, and laying hold of these gold fields. They have organized two lines of steamers, starting from San Francisco, carrying men and supplies to the mouth of the Yukon, a distance of several thousands of miles. Arriving at the Yukon they are unable to preced up the river becares the depth of the water will not permit these boats to navigate the river. They discharge their cargo and embark it runs north almost into the Arctic Circle, and then dips south to almost the horders of British Columbia, where it wises. The morthern part of the river, freezing acriler than the south-where it vises. The morthern part of the river, freezing acriler than the southern, closes that portion of the river to its mouth quicker than in the south where it vises. The result is that the month of the Yukon river is so clogged with ice that navigation cannot be eigened with ice that navigation cannot be deep force up in the river, t by the first week in September. This has been the route of pioneers.

THE BEST ROUTE TO THE FIELD

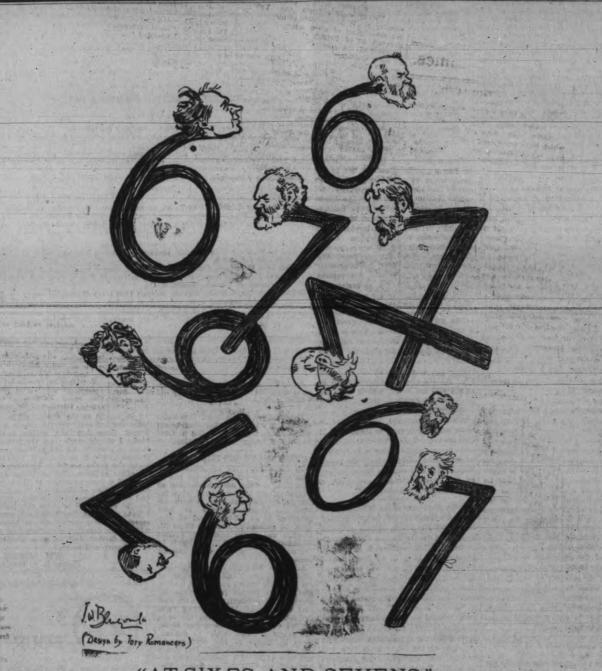

To-day, by a short cut of some thirtysix miles from what is known as Lyon Canal, the headwaters of the Yukon are reached. Now placing men and supplies at the head of the Yukon, and thence transporting them down the river to the gold fields, means the thorough organiaution of a force which in itself must be self-dependent. A solitary individual, or even two or three, with their combined efforts and small means, can only of necessity transport a certain amount of supplies for the winter that is ahead of of them. They are closed in by an inclement season, and unable to seek, both on account of the cold and the distance, further supplies if needed. But a thoroughly equipped organization, capable of taking with it supplies, tools, implements, clothing and everything necessary for a colony proposing to place itself in a gold area, after having explored the creeks and districts, and decided the most probable location, is, for many reasons, placdo in a position which will command success. The combined effrags of such explorers, with capital behind them to supply their wants and to secure success, should place them in a far different position than inexperienced men, with little or no means, seeking wealth without the real backing to achieve it. The Yakon river is navigable from the mouth to the head of the river, some 2,900 miles, and if you add the creeks and branches flowing into it, probably the anvigation may be considered to extend at least 5,000 miles. The efforts of the pioneers going into that country now will not be to out and register, under the government in this country now will not be to crowd into places already taken up, but by emboring parties to fosci and stake size claims in unary districts that took gas maken'd by said to have been even blooked at. I do not consider it a very great gas already named, provided no time is tost. When the force arrives at that part of the coast at which they arrive the trail as many as they can seed the said to 20 or 30 degrees been that part of the coast at which they arrives the trail as many as they can serve the trail as the serve that the serve thand the serve that the serve that the serve that the serve that t

THE PIONEER PARTY will look to other points—pegging out claims, buying gold, and trading generally and establishing trading posts, as far as in their power lies, throughout Yulon district. The success of such an mexp dition must largely depend upon the means at its disposal, and the men employed to carry it out: what might be disastrous on one occasion might be emissionedly successful on another. In parillament we have given a great deal of attention to this new country. Dr. Dawson, the eminent geogolist, reported on it some time ago. It is well to weigh up all the difficulties, but not to be pessimists, and there is no good reason why in course of time, and perhaps a very short time, we should not ourselves have Pullman cars going over this district. (Applause.)

Mr. Edward J. Howell: Gentlemen,—If you will permit me to occupy a few moments, I shall be glad to tell you how much I cordially endorse the words which my friend Colonel Domville has just spaken. I should like to state that I have had abundant opportunity of recognizing Colonel Domville's influence in Canada. He is well and favorably known throughout the Dominion, from the Atlantic ocean to the Pacific. His ability has been demonstrated during twenty-five years of parliamentary life; he is recognized to-day as one of the most active and trusted supporters of the present administration. That we have so encryctic and experienced a man in the organization of our expedition is a matter for congratulation to all who may be interested in its success. The practice among young men in some localities of settling with their flats the matter of which was to have first place in the affections of any young lady in whom both happened to be interested ought to have received a set back from a case of the kind which occurred near Kokomo, Ind., the other day. Lorin Wilson and Irwin Barnes were both suitors for the heart and hand of a fair young neighbor, and as she did not seem to show any preference, the two agreed to meet in the ring, and the one who was defeated was to clear out and leave the field free for the other. The fight occurred, and Barnes won. The girl heard of the matter, however, and, refusing to see Barnes, told Wilson she was willing to marry him. The accepted lover had the further satisfaction of seeing his former rival arrested and fined for assault and battery, the charge being made because of his part in the fight in the seed of the part in the fight.

There will undoubtedly be a large rush from Europe in the spring to the Clon-dyke gold fields, and something should be done this winter to explain to the people of continental Europe that Clondyke is in Canada and that Victoria is the place at which to outfit. That this is necessary is evidenced by the fact that La Soleil, a paper having an immense cirpression that the mines are in American territory. In a recent issue La Soleil says that the United States are sending troops to Alaska on account of the rush. Otherwise the paper seems to be pretty well posted on the country. Cannot some good British Columbian give us a provincial anthera, set to the in this matter? in this matter? Or, perhaps, "some mute, inglorious Milton" may emerge from obscurity and fire our hearts and imaginations with lofty, inspiring song. But national or provincial, we ventur again, with all humility, to declare our belief in the necessity for a new or re-vised National Anthem.

THE FACTS OF THE CASE.

This was pointed out to the collector at Mary Island, whereupon the cellector then gave Mr. Smith, the inspector, special instructions to allow the freight to be landed as requested. Had the collector of customs at Mary Island intended that I should report to anyone at Dyea in regard to the manuer of discharging there, he would have given instructions accordingly. Again, on arriving at Juneau a clearance was issued there by the collector for the Danube to proceed to Dyea Inlet, discharge freight and return to Mary Island, without any mention being made to the inspector or myself to report to any further customs officers at Dyea, and there would have been given to the ship should report to any customs officer at Dyea, a clearance would have been given to the ship from Juneau to Dyea, and, there after discharging freight obtain, a clearance for the next port as desired.

The writer's comparison of Victoria and Cadbore Bay with Dyea and Skagway does not hold good either. No ship mater could possibly atretch his imagination to such an extent as to expect to find the custom house of the port of Victoria located at Cadbore Bay, and proceed there before calling at Victoria; Cadboro Bay being ten miles from Victoria, without the sign of anything like a settlement, wheras at Dyea Inlet the distance between the anchorage for sea-going vessels and the two settlement at Skagway is certainly more catified to be called a town than the one at Dyea so called, defined the called a town than the one at Dyea so called, defined to be alongside, and the anchorage being within 160 yards of the landing ground; the other has no particular nature, if the United States persists in her present policy toward this country.—

As to any indignation having been expressed in regard to the above affair, I may say that as far as the ship is concerned there has been nothing of the kind. I simply carried out the instructions as received at Mary Island and Juneau, without passing any remarks about the action sought to be taken by the officer at Dyea. But as the appointment of a customs officer at Dyea Intention of the Danube's arrival had evidently been made without, notifying the other ports of entry in Alaska, I have no doubt that hereafter vessels entering the first port of entry in Alaska will receive definite instructions how to proceed further, and no more clashing of authority will occur.

RUSHING TO DYEA

The Steamer Danube to Carry Another Large Contingent of Miners to Dyea.

She Leaves To-Night or To-Morrow The Seattle Late-Other Shipping Matters.

Wharf street is very busy to-day, and every avenue or slope leading to the waterfront is thronged with people. The busiest part of the waterfront, of course, busiest part of the waterfront, of course, is that in the vicinity of the C.P.N. Co.'s steamer Danube, which is taking on freight preparatory to her trip to Dyeamand Skagway Bay. The Danube has been at the outer wharf for the pass two days loading freight, and she did not come in to the inner harbor until about noon to-day. In the paddecks near the Kingston's wharf are a number of pack horses, which a local man is selling to those going up on the Clondyke trail, and he is finding a ready safe. Local produce dealers are sending up a large quantity of hay and other food for the horses now up there, and almost every merchant is contributing to her cargo in one way and another. The City of Seattle, which arrived from the Sound about noon, brought over a number of miners who will be passengers on the Danube, one of whom, Wm. Brook, brought with him six horses, four mules and a large amount of produce and provisions. The Danube will call at Vancouver, but will not touch at any of the other por's, the Louise, which sails to-morrow, attending to the northern mounted police, in charge of Inspector mounted police, in charge of Inspector is that in the vicinity of the C.P.N. The Furness line steamer Damara which arrived yesterday morning at Halifax, from Landon, brought 150 tons of explosives for the naval and inilitary authorities. They consist of shells, cartridges and powder. Most of the explosives are to be forwarded to Esquimat.

—At a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council held yesterday evening to discuss matters relative to the proposed celebration to be held on Labor day, a general committee will meet for the arrangements made, and on Monday next this committee will meet for the appointment of sub-committees.

—The following new companies have given notice of incorporation: The Fair-view Consolidated Gold Mining Co., of Fair-view Compony, of Kaslo, with a capital of $135,000, in $1 shares.

The steamer which the C.P.N. Co. will run on the Alberni to day and on the Alberni against Link-claims and on the Alberni Tree against Captain Collision of the gold fields, will embark. —"Black" Jones, a well known Alberni prospector, has, according to reports brought down by the steamer Willapa, made a very rich strike of peaceck copper on Sidney Inlet, Clayoquot Sound. The ledge is a very wide one, and Jones has lost no time in staking and recording the Willapa to attend to the recording. The mines at Clayoquot are all very busy and a large amount of development work is being done.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Clendyke boom is keeping them very busily epagared, the C. P. N. Co. are not neglecting their vessels. The Princess Louise, which sails for the Northern way ports to-morrow evening; the Danube, going to Dyea and Skagway direct, has been repainted, and the Transfer, which has just come off the ways, looks like a new vessel, having been repaired and overhauled thoroughly. The Transfer left for the France this afternoon to resume her run on the Chilliwack route. The increased trade is also affecting them in other ways, for now there are them in other ways, for now there are more men on the pay-roll of the company than there has been for years. In the company's carpenter shop the carpenters are busily engaged building gang planks, landing stages, etc., and in fact there is hustle all along the line.

Fish are not running, it seems, in the west coast rivers as yet, although they are very plentiful outside, and the Indians are making large catches. At the Clayoquot cannery but 200 cases have been taken so far. Mining is the thing on the coast at present, and prospectors are as thick as hotel runners around an incoming steamer at the C.P.N. Co.'s wharf. They are to be met everywhere. The Willapa brought down seve al sacks of ore, including about half a ton for W. J. Dwyer, who will send it to the Victoria Metallurgical Works for treatment. The passencers downward were Nelse Maetsen and B. Petersen, Care Scott; Mr. Has ard, the g vernment road agent, from Quatsino; R. Muleman, from Kyuonot; W. Rene 2nd R. L. Hooper, from Nootka; Wm. Logan, H. M. Fox, J. Nicholes, J. P. Falls, J. C. The Willapa will not be able to zet away again this evening as intended.

The steamer Maude went around to Esquimalt this morning with cargo of shot, shell and other naval stores for the naval storekeener. She will have her bollers b'own down this evening, and to morrow she will make her regular trip to Torvale.

The steam freighter Oscar has gone to the Sound under charter of the Great Northern Rullway Company. Shes is loaded with powder for shipment to Koetenay.

The steamer Willapa, not being able to discharge her cargo in time, will not leave for the West Coast until to-morrow

In the new edition in the Electric classics series of Racine's Iphigenie', the editor has provided valuable aids to the better appreciation of the author and his work. These include a biography of the poet, a discussion of the classic myth on which the tragedy is based, a selection from the comments of great critics, a full bibliography, and an appendix devoted to a critical examination of Racine's use of words and forms of expression. The grammatical and exceptical notes are very full and give all necessary assistance for a clear comprehension of the text. No purer model of classical French has ever been written than the lphigenic of Racine. But its spirit and purity of language the Greek original has been closely followed. Figurantely many French students have a good model before them. I have received several other novels which are good summer reading and which I hope later to write of more fully. The Pilgriunge of Mr. Ben. Beriah, by Charlotte M. Yonge; Ursule Mirouet, by Balaac; A Rose of Yesterday, by Marion Crawford; in the Macmillan Colonial Library; The Martians, by Du Maurier; The Red Scar, by F. Anderson Graham; L'Ouele et le Neven, by Edmond About; Paul, by F. M. Kingsley, all of which are pleasunt and timely.

In the midsummer magazines there are many delightful tales. The August number of Short Stories is like its many preducessors, varied and entertaining. The best original stories are "A Mean Man," by Florence Stryker, and "A Draught of Capri," by Annie E. Searing, both of which are far above the average. A curious phase of London lift is exhibited in "The Money-Lender," by W. C. Feel, "The Captain's Sandow" is a half himorous, whoily pathetic sketch by Kate Lee Ashley, Translations of romances by Francois Coppee, Emmanuel Areae, and Michael Raymond appear in the issue. The famous story for the month is a reprint of Ham Thorne's "The Birthmark."

HOW TO BE HAPPY.

Dr. Depew's directions for being happy are published for the comfort of those who are despondent over the dullness of the season, the loss of a series of games to the tail.enders of the National League or other great discouragements: "My recipe for happiness is to keep in touch with the young. Join in their games, be a partner in their dance, romp the fastest and torn the quickest in the Virginia reel or the country dance, go up to the old college and sit dewn and light your pipe and sing college songs. take the children to the theatre and howl with them at the roaring farce, and laugh with them at the roaring farce, and laugh with them at the ragedy; be their confidant in their love affairs, and, if they are not cause to it, write their love letters, and never stop writing some for yourself."

It is economy to get Hood's Sarsaparil-ia, because there is more medicinal value in Hood's Sarsaparilla than in any other. Every bottle of Hood's Sarsa-parilla contains 190 doses and will average, taken according to directions, to last a month, while others last but a

The late James B. Jermain, who gave $50,000 to Williams college, in memory of his son, Barclay Jermain, a graduate of that institution, was generous in other directions. He built the Jermain Mem orial church in Watervliet at a cost of $130,000, in memory of his parents, ex-Pended nearly $100,000 on the Albany Young Men's Christian Association, built the Fairview Home for Children at $00,000, and also erected a home for aged men. Meeting of New Westminster Presby-Call and Resignation Fishermen Complaining About Result of Season's Work-Enormous Waste.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Steveston, Aug. 18.—Last night the Presbytery of New Westminster met at Eburne for the induction of Rev. J. A. Logan as pastor of Richmond congregation. Rev. Thos. Scoular preached the induction sermon, Rev. W. Meikle addressed the pastor, and Rev. J. McLeod addressed the congregation regarding their respective duties.

The Presbytery had under consideration also the call from St. Andrew's congregation, New Westminster, to Rev. Mr. Vert. The call was placed in Mr. Vert's hands and he accepted it. The Presbytery resolved to meet in St. Andrew's church, on Sept. 2nd, at 8 p.m., and induct Mr. Vert.

The resignation of Rev. Mr. Gordon, Mr. Pleasant, Vancouver, again came up for action, as Mr. Gordon wishes for the present to enter the teaching profession, and has prospect of an appointment in Vancouver. After hearing parties the Presbytery resolved to accept the resignation. It also appointed Rev. E. D. McLaren as interim moderator of the session.

The first of the autumn mists came down upon us last night very densely, and it continued till about 8 o'clock this morning.

The Londow Canning Co. have closed their pack for the season at 21,000 cases. The Federation Company expect to close in a day or two with a pack of 25,000 cases. The run of fish is gradually slacking down, but catches of 100 to 200 fish per boat are still common occurrences.

100 to 200 has per mon occurrences.

C. G. Sexsmith, storekeeper, Eburne, was before the magistrate on a double charge of trading on the Sabbath and selling liquer without a license. The Sabbath trading was proved and a fine of $5 and costs was inflicted. In the liquor selling case there was proof of whiskey having been given out for the benefit of an alleged invalid, but not of the sale of the liquor. The case was dumined.

benefit of an alleged invalid, but not of the sale of the liquor. The case was dismissed.

Considerable anxiety was felt at the presence of such a mass of decaying fish, on the banks of the river here for a time, and certainly the odor was most unpleasant. The ground has been fairly well cleaned up, and the atmosphere is much more tolerable. There will will be some little trouble in this connection, but not such as to seriously endanger health, and thanks are due to the canniers as well as to the health officers for the promptitude in handling the matter. It was no ordinary difficulty, as fish thrown into the water had to find lodgment somewhere.

Fishermen are complaining hitterly about the result of their senson, as they had to throw away such a large proportion of the fish they caught and the price they got for the rest was so small. Some of them do not hesitate to assert that more fish have been thrown away this season than have been packed. If this is so, and if the pack amounts to 750,000 cases, the loss will be enormous.

NEW WESTMINSTER.

REVELSTOKE.

A meeting of the business men of the town called to discuss the subject of incorporation on Monday nighn was not much of a success, as part of the crowd turned up at 8 o'clock and the balance at 8:45. It was practically decided that nothing could be done to petition for incorporation until the property owners get their fitles registered, and a committee was appointed to take this matter in band.

While the drop in silver is causing an uneasy feeling in the lower country. Big Bend, with its gold-bearing creeks and ores, is quietly but steadily forging its way to the front. A good deal of nice looking waterworn shot gold be being brought to town. New strikes of gold bearing ore are being reported from Keystone and Lakeview mountains. With proper transportation facilities there is no doubt that the Big Bend country would at this very time be going ahead with great rapidity. In this connection it is interesting to note that an American steamship owner was in them has week, who was very favorably impressed with the prospects of trade we fifting a regular steamship service from the head of the canyon to Death

COTTONWOOD RIVER.

COTTONWOOD RIVER.

An extraordinary general meeting of the Cottonwood River (B.C.) Alluvial Gold Mining Company, Ltd., was held yesterday at Winchester House, says the London Financial Times of the 5th inst., for the purpose of considering resolutions proposing to increase the capital to 480,000 by the creation of 15,000 new shares of £1 each, to be called preference shares, to which certain rights and privileges would be attached. Dr. Baker, who presided, said that the matter had been fully explained when they last met, and he would confine himself simply to moving the formal resolutions. In reply to questions the chairman said the present shareholders could apply for as many of the preference shares as they wished to take up. They must have 10,000 preference shares taken up or lose their property for want of finishing their work; otherwise, there was only reconstruction before them. Of course, if the issue was not sufficiently subscribed the amount that had been contributed would be called up on application, and 2s. 6d. on allotment; but they would endeavor to spread the balance over as long a period as possible. Mr. E. W. Johns seconded the motion, and the resolutions were duly adopted.

CONDENSING FOOD FOR MAN.

the other day to a representative of the New York Herald, when speaking of the heavy weights of food prospectors are taking with them:

"Why, man, in an ordinary valles I can put enough food to last a healthy man a year, and give him a menu just as varied as be could find in a first class hotel. He can easily take another one of these valless, and when he reaches Dawson City he can sell it for $2,000. That is what a year's supply of food is worth there. If he wants to load himself down with a good sized burden he can take four or five supplies, and he will be a comparatively rich man the moment he reaches his destination.

"Two years ago a commission, appointed by the secretary of war and composed of experienced army officers, made thorough investigations, and in their subsequent reports it was shown that it would be possible for a large army to move a distance from its base of supplies without the usual attendant wagon train and beef, on the hoof by sunplying each soldier with a packet of condensed foods. It was, however, reported that, while foods of this kind could be safely used in event of emergency, it was not advisable to furnish them when fresh foods were obtainable.

"In the China-Japanese war the soldiers of the Mikudo executed several long marches with unusual dispatch by the use of condensed foods. Ench soldier, in addition to a cartridge belt, carried what was called a dinner belt. This was filled with a large assortment of capsules, pills, buttons and small packages, none of them larger than a medium sized pocketbook. The dinner belt weighed but ten pounds, but it contained

ON TESLIN LAKE.

THE LOBSTER FISHERY

Canada Hrs the Best Fisheries World-Need of Protection A treatise of considerable value, says the Toronto Globe, deating with the data so far ascertained with regard to the habits and distribution of the crustacean that forms one af the most delithe monts and discount the most delicious articles of man's food, the lobster, has recently been contributed by Prof.
E. E. Prince, B.A., F.L.S., commissioner of fisheries, as a supplement to the 20th annual report of the department of marine and fisheries for Canada. It is of special significance since Canadian waters are said to contain the reumants of the only remaining lobster fishery in the world. All other fisheries have been depeted by the improvidence and water of life practised by the dealers.
The same features characterize the conduct of the Canadian fishery, it appears, and threaten its existence. To prevent such a disaster, Prof. Prince illuminates the ignorance that prevalls with regard to the industry, and strongly advises that some restrictive measures be applied, though he does not indicate what form A Stern Wheel Steamer and a Sawmill to be Built.

F. M. York, the well-known steredore, who this resolved to build a steamer dore, who this resolved to build a steamer for service on the waters of Teslin Lake, and a saw mill at the head of the lake, returned from the Sound of the steamer City of Seattle this morning. He brought with him a large amount of machinery, the loading of which detained the steamer many hours on the Sound. This machinery, which was purchased from the well-known Seattle ship building firm of Moran Bros., consists of boilers, pipes, cylinders, etc. My. Yorke, with a party of Victorians to heip him carry out the work, will leave Victoria about the beginning of next week on the stagener Thistic, which has been chartered for the trip. The Thistle will land the expedition and passengers and freight at the mouth of the Stickeen river and from there the machinery and men will be taken by a smaller vessel up the river to Telegraph creek, from which point the trail will be taken to Teslin-Lake. Arrived there the work of erecting the saw mill will be begin at sern wheeler, drawing out more than twen and a half feet of water at the most when loaded. Teslin Lake is on the all-British route to the Clondyke gold fields, and from this lake the Hootalinquar river, which joins the Lewis river, takes its source.
