ALLIED PREMIERS TO MAKE DECISION ON REPARATIONS

Council Is to Hold Sessions in London French Will Submit Carefully Prepared Plan

Paris, July 24.—The whole reparations problem is now in the hands of the Allied Premiers and it is considered quite unlikely that the Reparations Commission will render any decision on Germany's request for a moratorium until after the opening session of the Allied Council in London early next month.

The report of the Committee on Guarantees regarding the control measures agreed upon as a result of its investigation into Germany's finances and economic affairs is expected to be ready this week.

Plana Are Needed

Premier Poincare's plan to confer with Lloyd George before the Reparations Commission makes its decision is regarded in reparations circles as a definite indication that the French Premier believes the consideration of a comprehensive settlement essential at this time. The French will take with them a carefully prepared plan, it is understood, and this plan, together with the British scheme, will form the basis of a general consideration of the reparations question.

Bankers' Committee

There is considerable sentiment in the Reparations Commission in favor of reconvening the international committee of bankers, and the latter's decision that it would hold itself in readiness again to advise the Commission on the German loan question if the Commission so desired. Up to the present there had been no effort to communicate with the bankers, but it is believed they will be kept constantly informed of the developments of the situation and be called together immediately after the London meeting if the Reparations Commission thinks the decision warrants further consideration of the loan.

REPARATIONS AFFAIRS AT CRISIS

Paris, July 24.—Realization that the German reparations question has reached a decisive crisis is held responsible in French circles for Premier Poincare's decision to hold a meeting of the Supreme Council he has agreed to attend since he was called to the premiership.

Premier Poincare will be accompanied to the meeting by Minister of Finance de Basteigne and Count Perret de la Rocca, Director of Political Affairs at the Foreign Office, as well as several technical experts from both the Foreign Office and the Ministry of Finance.

Interested

The Italian Cabinet crisis will be solved if time.

EXTRIMISTS NOW SUGGEST OFFENSIVE

Moscow, July 24.—The executive committee of the Third Internationale has sent an appeal to the proletariat of the world recommending it, taking the offensive. In view of the "White Terror" and the attacks on workers abroad, the appeal says it is time defensive tactics ceased.

The committee has sent a special appeal to the Germans, declaring their national leaders have betrayed them and recommending that the workers take power into their own hands and demand the overthrow of the latter fall to overcome the monarchist reaction.

Italian Fascist

London, July 24.—A Rome dispatch to the Central News says that Deputy Benito Mussolini, leader of the Fascist party, has invited the leaders to establish branch Fascist organizations abroad.

He is now en route to Germany, before leaving for which country he said that the disarming of the Fascist was at this moment unthinkable, because of the continued menace of the Communist and Socialist parties.

He declared that although the revolutionary organizations had been ousted from most of their strongholds, there was need of continued vigilance.

He prophesied that the Fascist party would dominate Parliament inasmuch as it was already gaining majorities in the Municipal Council

DISTRIBUTION PLANS FOR COAL IN UNITED STATES

Operators Hold Strike Conference With Hoover

MANY SHIPS CARRY BRITISH COAL TO U. S.

New York, July 24.—Forty-two ships have been chartered to transport British coal to this country to relieve the emergency by the combined coal miners and railroad shippers' strike, it was announced by the United States Shipping Board. It is estimated these ships assure the delivery of more than 350,000 tons of coal in New York within the next six weeks.

Washington, July 24.—Operators from the coal producing districts of six states, in conference to-day with Secretary Hoover, agreed in principle with the administration's plan for maintenance of prices and insuring fuel distribution during the strike emergency.

From Old Country

London, July 24.—Important contracts have been placed in Scotland for immediate shipment of coal to the United States and additional orders are under negotiation, it was learned to-day.

This is the first occasion since the outbreak of the European War in which Scottish coal has been sought for shipment to the United States.

Scotland also has been asked to ship large quantities of coal to South American markets previously supplied by the United States.

It has brought the Scotch coal prices to about the pre-war level.

FERGUSON DID NOT CRITICIZE ONTARIO TEMPERANCE ACT

Toronto, July 24.—Neither in the East nor in the West, nor anywhere, have I spoken against the Ontario Temperance Act," declared G. Howard Ferguson, Ontario Conservative leader, on his return from the West.

"The people have expressed the sentiment and given it effect in legislation. But I had no criticism of the method of enforcing the law," he said.

Mr. Ferguson made it clear that he had not intended to criticize the Ontario Temperance Act, that he had not authorized or given the interview in Victoria, B. C., credited to him, and that no time had been suggested a new law to replace the Ontario Temperance Act. He had discussed prohibition with Westerners from that standpoint, but never with newspapers.

MANDATE SYSTEM NOW COMPLETED

League Arranges Palestine and Syrian Affairs

London, July 24.—With final confirmation given the Palestine and Syrian mandates by the Council of the League of Nations, the mandate system of governments is complete throughout the world. There remain for settlement only certain minor points between France and Italy regarding Italian colonies, immigration and economic features in Syria.

Earl Balfour, Rene Viviani and Marquis Imperiali, respectively the delegates of Great Britain, France and Italy, will make declarations regarding the future policy of their Governments in the mandate areas.

This action of the Council marks the culmination of three years of effort and negotiations on the part of the League to institute the mandate system in the Pacific islands, Central Africa and Asia. Minor points constructed as a victory for Earl Balfour and as giving further effect to the establishment of a Jewish national home.

The mandate for Mesopotamia automatically disappears with the creation by Great Britain of an independent kingdom in Iraq.

TWO SWIMMERS BELIEVED DROWNED NEAR VANCOUVER

Vancouver, July 24.—Two men, said to have been swimming late Sunday evening near the point at Spanish Banks, are believed to have met death by drowning after being carried by a strong tide into the Gulf.

The men were said to have been riding a surf, apparently having swum out to it, when caught in the swift outgoing tide.

W. Collier, of the Air Board service, put out in a fast sea boat. The log was overtaken in the Gulf but there was no sign of the two men.

MINISTER HERE TO VISIT FARM

Hon. W. R. Motherwell Reaches City Sunday Will Be Visitor to Sidney Experimental Farm

There must be a quickening of the agricultural activities and a greater development of Canada's resources in farming if the country is ever to recover from the losses which she sustained during the Great War. It is Canada's potential wealth in agriculture, and its development that will save her and restore her once more to the splendid and prosperous condition which she held prior to the outbreak of war.

Such, in brief, is the opinion of Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture in the Federal Cabinet, as expressed to The Times on his arrival in Victoria yesterday afternoon.

In line with the idea of encouraging greater production, Mr. Motherwell is making a careful inspection of all the experimental farms in Canada under the jurisdiction of his department. These have been marked in time, says Mr. Motherwell, during the last moment before Mr. Motherwell's departure for the West.

The promise made to the people of Northern British Columbia by Mr. Motherwell's predecessor, Dr. S. P. Tomlin, that an experimental farm would be established somewhere between Prince Rupert and Inverness, will be carried out by the Liberal Government and on his present tour Mr. Motherwell will definitely arrange for the selection of the site in that district.

Mr. Motherwell does not expect to reach Ottawa until the latter part of August. He has already visited the Summerland, Agassiz and Inverness farms in British Columbia. Tomorrow he will pay a visit to the farm at Sidney, and will leave Wednesday for Prince Rupert. He will return east via Edmonton, Lacombe, Calgary and Lethbridge, and will also inspect the experimental farms in Saskatchewan and Manitoba on his way back to Ottawa.

Mr. Motherwell is accompanied by Mrs. Motherwell, Miss Alma Motherwell, Miss Margaret Evans and his secretary, Miss I. J. Cummings.

Visited Sumas Lake

On Saturday Messrs. Motherwell, McKenzie and Stewart paid a visit to the reclamation work which the Provincial Government is carrying on at Sumas Lake. The Ministers visited the Peace Arch in the forenoon and had luncheon at the home of R. H. Gale at Crescent Beach. At Sumas they were the guests of John Duncan of the Marsh Construction Company, which has the contract in hand.

Hon. E. D. Barrow, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, also joined the party and explained to the Federal Ministers the progress of the undertaking. The visitors expressed themselves in highly complimentary terms about the project.

The properties are in the Porcupine mining district, 180 miles south of Hudson Bay. He sold the 160 acres of the Schumacher Gold Mining Company, which he had held for eleven years, to the Hollinger Consolidated Mining Corporation for $1,500,000. Another 40-acre tract was sold by syndicate, the name of which Mr. Schumacher said he could not divulge, for $400,000.

NOVA SCOTIA MAY HAVE COAL STRIKE TUESDAY

Shippers and Trimmers Threaten Walk-out

Sydney, N. S., July 24.—Instead of holding off until August 15, a strike of the 12,000 coal miners of Nova Scotia is likely to be precipitated to-morrow.

The only thing that will stop it is a quick settlement between the operators and the shippers and trimmers, who threaten to walk-out at 4 o'clock this afternoon unless their grievances are adjusted.

The shippers demand $26.40 for a full week, instead of $21.10, which is the amount paid at present.

If they should quit, the whole Cape Breton district output would be blocked even if the miners should wish to work.

FOUND BODY OF LATE H. D. JACKSON

Bridge Tender in Vancouver Discovered Remains in False Creek

Vancouver, July 24.—A body identified as that of Harry B. Jackson, manager of the Hotel Vancouver here, who disappeared two weeks ago, was taken from the waters of False Creek early this afternoon.

The body was first seen by the Granville Street bridge tender floating in the waters of False Creek in the vicinity of Industrial Island. The police, who were notified, had the body removed to the morgue, where it now lies. The body was so badly decomposed that the features were not recognizable, and identification was made only by a bunch of keys found in the clothing. An inquest will be held, it is stated.

Disappeared July 10

The late H. B. Jackson disappeared from his quarters in the hotel at 9 o'clock Monday night, July 10. A day or two later search parties, aided by bloodhounds, searched through the bush in Stanley Park and districts adjacent to the city. The dogs led the hunt to the lumbermen's arch in Stanley Park, and they also led the police, who were notified, had the body removed to the morgue, where it now lies. The body was so badly decomposed that the features were not recognizable, and identification was made only by a bunch of keys found in the clothing. An inquest will be held, it is stated.

Charges of theft were laid in the City Police Court here this morning against William Elliot. Following the fire at the Canadian Legion headquarters, Burns Block, the police in consequence believe they have the solution of several recent robberies in the city.

The accused were remanded in City Police Court this morning until July 27. Both are members of the Legion.

Both men left the club, Douglas and Johnson Street, on Saturday evening some time before it closed. When the secretary locked up and left the building he noticed the two loitering about, and this fact was impressed on his mind after the fire, which broke out early Sunday morning.

Detective-Sergeant O'Leary in company with Detective Caldwell, acting on a slender clue, visited the home of the accused Tivy, and there found goods alleged to have been taken from the Canadian Legion premises before the fire, together with silverware alleged to have been stolen from the Victoria Plating.

U.S.-MEXICAN AGREEMENTS MADE

Understandings Regarding Oil to Be Approved

El Paso, Texas, July 24.—President Alvaro Obregon, of Mexico, will ratify the agreements entered into by Adolfo de la Huerta, with New York financiers, including oil agreements, by which bank interest on the Mexican foreign debt is to be paid.

This statement was made by Adolfo de la Huerta, Mexican secretary of finance, on his arrival here this afternoon from New York and Washington. In the latter place he held conference with President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes. He denied emphatically statements appearing in New York papers that the Washington conferences were anything else but cordial and satisfactory.

He declared the agreements as to future operations of American oil magnates in Mexico would be presented by him personally to the Department of Commerce, Industry and Labor, and then to the President, and he was confident they would be approved.

He declared the agrarian bonds issued on expropriated lands were satisfactory to conferees in both New York and Washington.

MICHIGAN BOY SAVED LIVES OF 300 PERSONS

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 24.—Standing on the track facing a speeding locomotive, waving a torn red handkerchief, an unknown farm lad signalled a train on the Pennsylvania system and caused it to stop in time to save the lives of 300 resorters.

A defective rail had attracted the boy's attention. After the train was stopped the lad disappeared. Railroad officials now are looking for him to effect a reward.

Cattle Embargo Is Subject of Discussion In British Commons

London, July 24.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The Commioners, in to-day's "unwhipped division" on the cattle embargo question, will have no reason to complain of lack of information regarding the rights or wrongs of the controversy. Columns on the matter appeared in the morning papers in which the salient points were re-emphasized in huge headlines.

If journalistic advice is any criterion, the result of the cattle embargo debate in the House to-day is a foregone conclusion, because with two exceptions, all the morning papers are for abolition of the embargo.

Choosing Four Railway Boards of Arbitration

The two boards applied for by the international railway unions will investigate the reductions of wages of mechanics and of the maintenance-of-way men. There are 70,000 men said to be directly concerned in these two disputes, and all the chief railways of Canada are concerned.

The other two boards which have been asked for by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees relate to the wage reductions of shopmen, clerks and other stationary employees of the Canadian National Railway and Grand Trunk Railway. A separate board has been requested for the dispute with each company.

Further Gains Made by Irish Free State

Points Captured from Insurgent Groups

Dublin, July 24.—National army troops have gained a fresh victory in West Ireland by capturing Ballyhaunis, County Mayo, from the republican irregulars. It was announced to-day.

The Free State triumph in the capture of Limerick was swiftly followed by successes in the surrounding district. A number of minor positions in this area have been added to the list of Free State victories, according to to-day's bulletin.

The total number of casualties in the Limerick fighting has not been accurately estimated, although it is known that at least fifteen of the national soldiers were killed and 87 wounded. It is generally believed that at least thirty of the irregulars lost their lives.

The total number of casualties suffered by Free State forces during the capture of Waterford was nine killed and 30 wounded.

Unconfirmed reports to-day said the irregulars were retreating with all speed into the Galtee and Knockmealdown Mountains, harassed by Free State troops, who were preventing them from concentrating for resistance.

A Waterford dispatch says the irregulars burned the barracks at Chismore on Tipperary, which had long been held by garrisons, and it is believed the national army forces have occupied both the places.

Course of Operations

The correspondent says it is believed the reports of a retreat, effected by the national troops upon both flanks of the republicans will compel them to make a stand, perhaps their last, in these mountains. Other correspondents doubt whether they will be able to make a stand anywhere, although they do not draw the conclusion that an early end of the resistance can be expected. They believe the republicans will continue guerrilla operations in the wilder parts of the mountains. The possibility that the retreating irregulars may yet reach Cork and make a last desperate stand there is still entertained in some quarters. These varying views, however, obviously are largely speculative, since none of them can be verified except by the general turn of events.

Withdrawn to Castlereagh

Dublin, July 24.—Telegraphic communication between Galway and Athenry was restored last night.

The Galway irregulars burned the Dunmore, North Galway, police barracks on Saturday, and then retired in the direction of Ballinsloe, from which place it is reported from the regular field headquarters they have withdrawn to Castlereagh.

In Dublin early to-day two men were killed when an armed band attempted to raid a public house.

URGENT MEASURES TO STOP SMOKING BY LOGGERS IN WOODS

Chamber of Commerce Directors Propose Action to Save Forests

Resolutions to be brought by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce before the meeting of the Vancouver Island Board of Trade next month urge:

- (1) That legislation prohibiting smoking by loggers in the woods be brought into effect to save forests from disastrous fires.
- (2) That a lumber assembly plant be established at the Ogden Point Piers without delay.
- (3) That disfiguring signs be removed from the Island Highway to preserve its beauty.
- (4) That a ferry service between Mill Bay, Salt Spring Island and the Saanich Peninsula be inaugurated.

Logging operators cannot stop loggers smoking in the woods and this smoking unquestionably causes many disastrous fires. J. O. Cameron, Vice-President of the Chamber and one of the most prominent of British Columbia lumbermen told the Chamber of Commerce directors at their luncheon in the Spencer Rooms to-day when the resolutions were brought before the Island Board of Trade were approved. "The fire which has kept our camp closed for four weeks and cost us thousands of dollars, I am convinced, was started in this way."

Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Federal Member for Victoria, suggested to the directors that smoking in the woods by loggers might easily be prohibited by order-in-council without the necessity of new legislation.

The Post Office Department of Ottawa plans to make a thorough investigation into conditions in British Columbia to ascertain the post office needs of this Province, according to letters from the Capital laid before the Directors to-day. When the Department carries out this investigation, the Directors were informed, the desire of the Chamber of Commerce that the offices of the Post Office Inspector for British Columbia be brought back to Victoria will be taken into consideration.

Currie Memorial.
The Historic Sites and Monument Board of Canada cannot aid in the financing of a monument to General Sir Arthur Currie here, the directors learned with regret. The Board can only aid in preserving points of national interest, it was explained.

Businessmen and public organizations generally here have embraced the community chest scheme for distributing charity. Colonel Lorne Ross, who has been sponsoring the scheme, told the directors. It was decided to allow a committee now working the plan to press it to a conclusion.

First Trans-Pacific Voyage.
The directors received a letter from E. W. Beatty, President of the C. P. R., who regretted that Victorians did not have a chance to go aboard the Empress of Canada when she was here recently. He said that the C. P. R. always was willing to listen to the representations of Victoria people. He considered that the company was giving Vancouver Island good service, he said.

The Vancouver Board of Trade trip to northern British Columbia has been postponed indefinitely, it was announced.

To Avoid Fraud.
Under plans which the directors approved to-day, the directors who wish to sell advertising in Victoria stores owners of which are members of the Chamber of Commerce will have to secure the approval of the Chamber secretary. This action being taken to protect merchants from advertising frauds like that recently perpetrated here.

TOLMIE TELLS OF EXCELLENT CROP PROSPECTS

Excellent in East, Average on Prairies, He Tells Chamber of Commerce Heads

Canada's fall crop prospects were outlined to the Chamber of Commerce directors at their luncheon to-day by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, former Minister of Agriculture in the Meighen-Government.

"In Eastern Canada growing conditions have been almost perfect, with lots of rain," Dr. Tolmie stated. "On the prairies, although the crop is rather patchy, it is expected that it will be about the average. In Southern Alberta, where there have been crop failures for some years, there will be an excellent crop this year, thanks to the recent rains there. There will be a shortage of hay in some places, but grain will be very good indeed. Prices should be good, I am informed, before the South American crop enters the market next year. The cattle market, of course, is rather flat because of the stiff American tariff against us.

"We are still making progress in our fight for the removal of British cattle embargo against us and conditions now, I think, are promising. It is noticeable that we are receiving support now from the United States and other countries in the matter before."

Dr. Tolmie congratulated the Chamber of Commerce on its good work for the removal of the restrictions in connection with the Anacortes Ferry. "There are many other schemes, I believe, which can be developed in the same way," he declared.

Ogden Point Piers.
"There is still a great deal to be done in connection with the development of the Ogden Point Piers," Dr. Tolmie went on. "At this time, with the national railways not paying and with heavy demands from the Government upon the Federal Government, it is difficult to make progress in these matters but we must just keep pressing them—and when we have a better chance, I believe, before the Federal Government we should have them in businesslike shape."

Dr. Tolmie expressed satisfaction over the fact that work on the Esquimalt Drydock is progressing. "When the dock is finished, he said, it will be possible to repair ships of any kind here, he pointed out.

KILLED HIMSELF.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell Entertained at Luncheon

A very hearty welcome was extended to Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Federal Minister of Agriculture, and his family at the luncheon given at the Liberal Club this afternoon by the executive of the Victoria and District Liberal Association.

Deputy Premier and ministers of the Provincial Government were present at the luncheon, which was of an entirely informal nature, and speaking was limited.

Mr. Motherwell

"There is some difference of opinion as to the utility of experimental farms, but nothing can prove a success if allowed to be dormant, and it is for the purpose of putting the experimental farms of Canada on a more active basis that I am making the present tour of inspection of experimental farms," Hon. Mr. Motherwell said.

"Good management has a great deal to do with successful farming," said the speaker.

"There is no better country in the world than British Columbia for dairying and poultry-raising," continued the Minister.

"Agriculture has far greater possibilities in Northern B. C. than in the South," Mr. Motherwell said.

Turns to Politics.
While dealing very lightly with political affairs, the speaker said that the Farmer movement was the most wonderful movement ever witnessed in the West. He hoped that the Farmer, like all other movements of the kind would sooner or later be strangled.

Liberalism was based, he asserted, on sound principles, and he hoped B. C. and the Western Provinces would keep clear of such temporary and wayward movements.

Social Side of Politics.
The social side of politics is a very important factor, especially since the advent of woman into politics," said the speaker, who commended the Victoria Liberal Association on its reception plans for the visiting members.

Other speakers.

Premier Oliver, on behalf of the Provincial Government, extended a very hearty welcome to the guests.

The luncheon was a success in every way. Reginald was expressed that Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Interior, and Hon. D. D. McKenzie, Solicitor-General, did not reach the city in time to attend the luncheon. Hon. Mr. Stewart is due on this afternoon's boat from Vancouver, and will address the public meeting at the Royal Victoria this evening. Hon. Mr. McKenzie will be here, to-morrow.

Vice-President Frank Carlow presided at the luncheon.

Counting Strike Vote.
Montreal, July 24.—The vote empowering the leaders of the Railway Shopmen's Union to declare a strike if not satisfied with the decision of the conciliation board was being counted to-day. The result, said the leaders, was a foregone conclusion. A few extremists desire a more stringent control, but generally it is thought that that would be more difficult to exercise without prejudicing the sovereignty of the state.

FOUR CANADIAN JUDGES APPOINTED
Ottawa, July 24.—The appointments of Alphonse Gravel as judge of the district court of Gravelbourg, Sask.; Hon. William Martin, K. C., Regina, as a judge of the Saskatchewan Court of Appeal, and ex-officio, a judge of the Court of King's Bench of that Province; Joseph Desmeres, St. John's, and Thibodeau Rinfret, Montreal, as Judges of the Superior Court of the Province of Quebec, have been officially announced.

INCREASE IN ALCOHOLIC DEATHS IN NEW YORK

New York, July 24.—An increase of nearly 89 per cent. in alcoholic deaths this year over those of 1920, and 27 per cent. over 1921, has been reported by the Chief Medical Examiner of New York. The report shows that 20 persons died from alcoholism in the first six months of this year. These included only victims who died without medical attention and medical examiner Dr. Charles Norris said many others probably died from alcoholism who were attended by private physicians.

RAILROAD STRIKE IN U. S. DRIFTING

Chicago, July 24 (Associated Press)—The railroad strike in the United States entered the new week to-day, drifting.

The last announcement of government agencies seeking to bring about a resumption of work by the striking shopmen, clerks, oilers and 47 per cent. best of the United States Railroad Labor Board to the effect that the board contemplated no further move at present, the country was left waiting for something to happen.

Deal With Coal Situation

The silence of federal officials following last week's conferences in Washington and Chicago was interpreted to reveal an inclination on the part of the administration to let the situation drift a few days pending the outcome of efforts to relieve the coal pinch in the realm of transportation. Should the new effort to secure coal for essential industries accomplish its purpose it is considered improbable that those in close touch with the railroad situation that the transportation difficulties may be left to run their course.

Motor Trucks Used
Freight embargoes on perishable consignments continued in effect, and passenger train annunciations were added to the list of more than 350 trains withdrawn up to the end of last week, as this week began. In several cases motor trucks had been pressed into emergency freight service and at Boone, Ia., motor equipment had been ordered to carry mail.

Rail managers reported increasing forces of shopmen at work in various parts of the country, a gradual improvement of the whole problem. Strike leaders on the other hand, declared to-day that their ranks were cleared to-day of their ranks were cleared last and that the resumption of normal service could only come from an adjustment of the strike issue.

Paris, July 24.—The plan for Allied control of German finances, worked out by the Committee on Guarantees, official acceptance of which by the German Government was announced Saturday, provides for the accreditation of the committee's representatives to practically all the departments of the German Ministry of Finance, over which they will exercise personal supervision.

ALBERTA M.P.P.'S TO MEET TO-MORROW

Edmonton, July 24.—Alberta's first mid-Summer session of the Legislature will open Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Premier Greenfield says he sees no reason why the session should last more than one week.

The speaker of the Throne will briefly touch upon the wheat board, but will not go into further detail regarding any proposed legislation to be introduced by the Government.

BOY KILLED.

Vancouver, July 24.—A small boy named John Arthur Sadler was almost instantly killed by an automobile in the Kerrisdale suburb last night. Running into the street to meet his father, John B. Sadler, who was approaching in an automobile, he was struck by another car. The boy died before he could be taken to a hospital.

NO Ground For Butter Rumor

There is no foundation for the rumor now current in New Zealand that Canadians are agitating against the importation of New Zealand butter into the Dominion, according to information laid before the Chamber of Commerce Directors at their luncheon to-day. Officials of the Chamber have investigated the matter and have discovered that the rumor is baseless.

NATURE'S SUNSHADE

The first thing with which your friends greet you when you return from the seaside is a remark about the healthy tan of your complexion. The dark color that appears on your face after a little while by the sea is simply Nature's sunshade. The skin is very delicate, as you may find to your cost if you lie about on the sands on a hot day after bathing. This is simply Nature's sunshade. The sun indoors during the year go away for their holidays with skins that are unprotected because they are not white. If the skin remained this color it would be scorched by the rays of the sun.

The brown shade that appears as soon as the skin is exposed to the strong light acts as a kind of filter, straining out the harmful rays which, if unchecked, would work havoc. Sometimes the brown appears mainly in little patches; these are the freckles which the seaside girl dreads to see appearing on her nose. She does not realize that Nature is merely doing her best to prevent that rise from being scorched and blistered by the sun.—Tit-Bits.

ment will be made out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Canada for the year ending March 31, 1923, and under the authority of the Agriculture Instruction Act.

SUNDAY SPORTS IN LONDON PARKS

But Anticipated Rush of People Yesterday Not Witnessed
Tennis, Bowling and Boating; Cricketers Handicapped
London, July 24.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The expected rush to take advantage of the recently granted permission whereby Sunday sports are allowed in London parks failed to materialize yesterday. Tennis, bowling and boating, which is permitted in most of the parks, attracted a fair number of players and spectators, but net ball and badminton fell flat. Cricketers' enthusiasts were severely handicapped by being excluded from 53 of 59 parks and also by the proviso in the permission which prohibits league and competition matches in the parks. Footballers are better cared for with 18 parks at their disposal, but it is not their season now.

TO EXTEND TRADE WITH MEXICO

Canada to Send Commissioners to Republic
Ottawa, July 24.—The Canadian Government will shortly appoint a trade commissioner and an assistant trade commissioner to report on and investigate openings for Canadian trade in Mexico.

PROTEST MADE BY WINNIPEG LABOR

Objection Taken to C. N. R.'s Dismissal of Political Candidates
Effort to have Two Men Reinstated
Winnipeg, July 24.—A resolution protesting emphatically against "the outrage perpetrated against democracy and representative government" in the dismissal of G. H. Palmer and C. W. Foster from the Canadian National Railway, especially in the face of "repeated assurances that such action would not be taken," was adopted at an open air rally of the Winnipeg Labor Council last night, when a protest against the so-called Hanna "no politics" order was voiced.
In addition to the two candidates dismissed by the C. N. R., the resolution embodied a reference to A. Henderson, an employee of a local packing company, who was dismissed for running as a Workers' Party candidate.
An appeal was made in the resolution for the elected Labor members, both Federal and Provincial, to lead in taking steps to have Palmer and Foster reinstated.

PRINTERS' STRIKE IN ENGLAND SPREADS
London, July 24.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The strike of the printers in the provinces against the Industrial Court's ruling that their wages should be cut by 12 shillings and six pence weekly, the cut to be made in four instalments, the last of which would be in January, 1923, spread during the week-end and now involves Coventry, Scarborough, Nottingham, Plymouth, Manchester and Hull. The Typographical Association has issued a statement in reply to charges of breach of faith in not accepting the award of the Industrial Court.
The Typographical Association takes the ground that no agreement is valid unless approved by its members. The association states that those who signed document agreeing to refer the dispute to the wage reduction question to the Industrial Court had this in mind when they signed.

VATICAN'S VIEWS ON THE PALESTINE MANDATE STATED
London, July 24.—Monsignor Cerretti, Papal Nuncio at Paris, who came to London Thursday, to present the views of the Vatican to the Council of the League of Nations on the Palestine mandate, particularly the custody of the holy places, through some misadventure was not heard by the Council. He made the following statement to the Associated Press: "I anticipated that the Council would approve the Palestine mandate, but did not expect that it would do so before giving me an opportunity to express the views of the Vatican. I relinquished a holiday at Vichy to come here at the telegraphic request of the Holy See, and I naturally feel a sense of disappointment at the Council's failure to hear me before confirming the mandate.

places international in character, and consequently the commission should be international. It should embrace the representatives of all countries which have a special interest in the sacred areas. We do not want France or any one country to dictate in these cases.

"The custody of these places has been under an Italian, a Frenchman and a Spaniard, and recently an Englishman, and it is only just that the commission should include members from these countries."

WELCOME!

It always affords the people of Victoria considerable pleasure to welcome Cabinet representatives of the Dominion Government.

Our guests will find a good deal of importance to interest them while they are in Victoria. A tour of inspection of the Outer Wharves in company with local businessmen will enable them to understand why this idle property should be placed in a position to pay for its maintenance and given an opportunity to justify its existence.

While the Minister of the Interior and Immigration will not be able to visit Victoria this time he has no doubt already taken an opportunity to lead the way to a co-operative plan in which this Province may derive considerable benefit from the general movement of peoples which is now taking place.

Sandwiched between these more exacting questions will be a programme of entertainment which we trust will cheer our distinguished visitors on their way. To use the old phrase, the life of a Cabinet Minister in these days is not all beer and skittles.

TO-DAY'S DEBATE.

This morning's editions of Britain's newspapers have spread themselves on a final resume of the cattle embargo controversy which will engage the attention of the House of Commons this afternoon and end in an "unwhipped division."

The Morning Post has never wavered in its support of the embargoists and its appeal to-day is typical of this last survival of stand-pat Toryism. It says "both the Board of Agriculture and the British Farmers are against removal; what need is there to go further?" Thus it stands alone and ignores the interest of the masses—the consumers—entirely.

exception and The Daily Chronicle—which maintained complete silence this morning.

It will be an amazing thing if the House of Commons acts contrary to a practically unanimous expression of public sentiment. Some time ago it began to look as if the Government's position and its substantial dependence upon the rural vote would be developed by unofficial whips in an endeavor to assure a vote that would not embarrass the Ministry.

Small wonder is it that The Daily News and The Westminster Gazette pin the issue down to a battle between protection and free trade and satisfy themselves with the plain statement that there can be no flirtation with the traditional policies of Liberalism.

IT ALL HELPS.

Another distinguished aviator has taken a verbal fling at the battleship and its vulnerability to air attack. This time it is Colonel W. G. Barker, V.C., one of this country's famous airmen, who declares that any battleship could be hit by a skilled man from a torpedo plane without difficulty.

AMAZING!

There is a member of the British House of Commons who has been able to write M. P. after his name for twenty-two years and has never yet felt the necessity of delivering his maiden speech.

ADMITTING GERMANY.

It is generally understood that the Canadian representatives who will be present at the assembly of the League of Nations in September will support the view of Mr. Lloyd George and vote in favor of admitting Germany to membership.

Political irresponsibles will probably seize upon this move as an excuse to attack the policy of the little Welshman. The fact that the only body in existence which has for its object the abolition of war is still without the support of three large nations with a combined population of something like 230,000,000—the United States, Germany, and Russia—has no special significance for them.

so many people. It would, or should, give to France at least some semblance of a guarantee against a war of revenge and cure a number of suspicions which influence her foreign policy to her own danger and that of the peace of Europe.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Count von Bernstorff has informed the Reichstag that Germany lost the war. That is undoubtedly correct; but the trouble facing the Allies is how to make her pay for it.

The Australian Government does not propose to "grease the wheels for German trade." As a matter of fact the Federal Government has refused to agree to the appointment of German consuls in Australia.

There is a movement on foot in Great Britain to foster the development of trade within the Empire. Any organization that undertakes the job can work three hundred and sixty-five days in the year and still not exhaust its arguments in favor of the plan.

The President of a Saskatchewan cattle breeding organization says: "Let the Mother Country be the one and only bidder" for the young cattle for which there is at present no market "and bind the Empire closer together by the fulfillment of her promise."

Saturday night, on which night the robbery of the rooming house fire broke out and caused a small amount of damages to the veterans' quarters. The fire, which began at a quarter past two in the morning was subdued by the fire department.

The loss to the Legion is small, it was stated to-day, and covered by insurance. The records are intact. Effect on Institution. Owing to the fire outbreak it has been deemed advisable by the officials of the Women's Auxiliary to postpone the social which was to have taken place this evening to a date which will be announced later.

TO GO UNMASKED.

DIRECTS STUDY OF PUBLIC SPEAKING

W. H. Bullock-Webster Speaks at Gyro Luncheon

Anyone who wishes to gain fame as a public speaker must train as assiduously and conscientiously as a man who wants to run a Marathon or battle Jack Dempsey, according to Major Llewellyn Bullock-Webster, of the B. C. Society of Dramatic Art, who addressed the Gyro Club at its luncheon to-day on "Public Speaking."

Mr. Bullock-Webster took his audience back to the days of Demosthenes, whom he considered as the greatest orator the world has ever known. He explained the very lengthy course of training which Demosthenes subjected himself to in order to be able to hurl his philippic at the enemy and inspired the soldiers to go forth and defeat the invaders of their country.

Sincerity was more necessary than force in public speaking. He referred to three types of public speakers, the preacher, who is convinced that what he has to say is right; the politician who tries to make the people believe some things which are true and others which are not, and the actor who is out to make his audience believe something which he knows not to be true.

Henry C. Hall, K.C., represented Liberals of Victoria on the excursion of politicians Saturday to see what the British Columbia Government has accomplished in its reclamation work at Sumas.

SUMAS A WONDER, HENRY HALL SAYS; KEEP FRETFUL EYE ON OKANAGAN CROP; PICKERS GET READY

It is a wonderful undertaking and really an immense thing," said Mr. Hall. "It is bringing under cultivation 25,000 acres of the richest land. What this means you can realize only when you have it pointed out to you that that is more than the extent of the already famous and highly productive Chilliwack Valley, which keeps a number of towns going and is a big feeder for New Westminster and even Vancouver."

Estimates to-day are that the Okanagan will ship this season 2,281,000 boxes, 3,271 cars of apples, and 3,947,450 boxes or 5,105 cars of all kinds of fruit.

Business in the Okanagan, reports to the labor department show, is just now awaiting the fruit harvest. The building trade there is quiet with little prospect of improvement.

WAR MEMORIAL IN EDINBURGH CASTLE PLANNED

London, July 24.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The proposal to erect within Edinburgh Castle a war memorial to Scottish soldiers has drawn more than one letter of protest from Lord Rosebery, who declines to accept the proposition as a national one, and condemns tampering in this manner with ancient buildings.

The Duke of Athol, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the project, declared that the large number of small individual subscriptions proves that there is general support for the scheme, and he denies that the cost will suffer any injury as a result of the erection of the memorial.

Restorer Was Thrown Open to Aid Charitable Cause

The fete given on Saturday afternoon on board the cable ship Restorer, through the kindness of Captain Combe, to augment the funds of the Esquimalt Friendly Help Society, afforded much pleasure to the 200 or more guests who visited the ship during the afternoon. The initial pleasure of the outing was experienced in the short trip by water to the Restorer, which was gaily decorated with flags and bunting, and from the arrival on deck to the departure, each guest's time was devoted to the numerous attractions so well organized by Mrs. Croft, Mrs. Combe, Mrs. Ross and Miss Vivien Combe.

Captain Combe, assisted by the ship's officers, was kept busy conducting the visitors over the ship—from the immaculate decks to the engine room, to the part of the ship devoted to cable work; the officers' quarters and to the ship's galley.

The officers' saloon, where tea was served, was most attractive with its decoration of potted plants in the skylight and Shasta daisies and carnations on the tables. The hostess, Mrs. Basil Combe, had as her assistants at the tea hour, the Misses Helen Lammie, Mabel Rhodes, Isabel Munn, Isabel Campbell, Marion Bullock-Webster, Vivien Combe, Betty Englehart and Fildis Langton, and Mrs. Harris and Miss Bennett were in charge of the tea tickets.

Part of the main deck was screened with flags and bunting, and to the excellent dance music provided by Miss Thain, many guests indulged in this pastime.

The candy booth with its delicious home-made candy was in charge of Miss Adele Combe, assisted by the Misses Barbara Poulton, Peggy Josephs, Molly and Barbara Cornwall, Mabel Bond, Barbara Twigg and Joan Deans. Barbara Phillips was in charge of the shuffle board competition, Joan Deans the quoits and Miss Bennett gave their services in charge of the deck selling postcard pictures of the ship.

The ice cream and lemonade stall at the entrance on deck was in charge of Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Croft.

GUIDERS HELD SPECIAL SERVICE

Mrs. Nichol at Ceremony of Flag-raising Yesterday

—Photograph F. G. Goodenough

This new photograph of Mrs. Walter C. Nichol in her uniform as Provincial Commissioner of the Girl Guides was taken at the opening of the Guiders' Training School last week. Mrs. Nichol has shown the keenest interest in the Girl Guide movement, an interest which is undoubtedly enhanced by the fact that her daughter, Marquita, who recently arrived from England, is an enthusiastic member of the troop at Bentley Priory, where she has been attending school.

SURPRISE PARTY AND PRESENTATION

Shawnigan Lake, July 24.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Elford was the scene of a very interesting surprise party on Thursday evening, when the employees of the Shawnigan Lake Lumber Company's Mill and Logging Camp, assembled to show their appreciation of Mr. Elford's treatment of them during his long superintendence of that institution.

Mr. Elford recently disposed of his interests in the company, and resigned from the position of general manager of the Shawnigan. The employees subscribed a generous sum of money and purchased a handsome gold watch on the inside of which was engraved the names of Mr. F. T. Elford by the employees of the Mill and Camp as a token of esteem, June, 1922.

Some fifty men marched into the home laden with good things to eat and Mr. and Mrs. Elford was taken completely by surprise. Several ladies in the know arrived also and took charge of the catering.

An impromptu concert was given, games and cards were indulged in and it was not until the evening was well advanced that the big surprise was sprung. Mr. A. Dyson broke the news in a delightful manner and in a way which astonished Mr. Elford, the father of the visit. Mr. John Baker, one of the employees longest in the service made the presentation, and expressed the feelings of all when he said that Mr. Elford had not only been their employer but also their friend.

Mr. Elford was visibly affected and thanked all who had contributed to the gift and while he would value it, what he valued most was the comradeship that prompted it.

Those present also expressed their appreciation of Mrs. Elford who was always ready to assist in any good cause, and it was hoped that the new enterprise of the connection with the mill interests would not take them away from Shawnigan.

Mr. Elford assured the guests that it was his intention of staying at the Lake for some considerable time.

The company joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," and brought the party to a close.

A wedding of interest to many in Victoria took place at Alverstone, Hants, England, on July 5 between Captain Francis Locke Paddon, fourth son of Canon Locke Paddon, M.A., and Mrs. Paddon, of Mayne Island, to Eleanor, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Jane, of Alverstone.

Mrs. A. E. Hobbs, of Cadboro Bay, left on yesterday afternoon's boat for New Westminster to spend a few holiday with her son, who is an employee of the branch of the Brackman-Ker Milling Co. at that place.

Mrs. J. Bromley and her daughter, Miss Gertrude Bromley, returned yesterday from a two weeks' motor tour of Vancouver Island during which they visited Spout Lake, Great Central Lake, Campbell River and other points of interest.

Miss E. C. Gothard, a graduate of the Provincial Jubilee Hospital, now matron in charge of the Tuxford Hospital near Moose Jaw, has been visiting Mrs. E. J. Harwood, 1807 Duch-

"SHOWER" OF POTTED PLANTS FOR HOSPITAL

"Say it with flowers," that hackneyed expression will take on a new meaning on Friday of this week when the generous public is asked to contribute to a plant shower to be held at the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Owing to the long winter and protracted frosts all the plants conserved in the little greenhouse for the beautifying of the corridors have been lost. For years the corridor windows have been kept bright with the various potted plants which bloom freely in this fashion, beginning with the earliest Spring, when the Daughters of Pitty are ever ready to supply the bulbs for the dahlias which bear a sunshine of their own and which are always the delight of those patients able to be around and to enjoy them.

Experience has proved that the following flowers are the best suited for this object: Geraniums of all kinds except Pelargoniums (which suffer from fly in the dry atmosphere), fuchsias, hydrangeas, chrysanthemums, swainsonia, petunia, large stellar primulas (not obconical), carnations and some ferns and pots of greenery and some small geraniums.

The shower is being arranged by the Women's Auxiliary in conjunction with the members of the recently-formed garden committee.

Practical Features of Movement in English Villages

London, July 24.—Opening a bazaar at Thornton-Curtis, Lincolnshire, recently, Mrs. W. W. Wainwright, M. P., emphasized the importance to village life of a Women's Institute.

She gave a delightful and amusing instance of its usefulness in her own village, where chimney-sweepers was a real difficulty until the institute bought a complete sweeping set.

Ask the Way to prettier teeth—you are welcome to it

A new-day method is bringing millions whiter, cleaner, safer teeth.

It is used by your friends, your neighbors. It is advised by dentists, urged by modern authorities. Glistening teeth seen everywhere now show the benefits it brings.

This is to offer a ten-day test to reveal its results to you.

It combats the film

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. The ordinary tooth paste does not effectively combat it. So much is left. It is also the basis of tartar.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look cloudy or discolored. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germms breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. That is why so few escape tooth troubles, despite the daily brushing. They fail to end the film.

New methods found

Dental science has now found two ways to fight that film. Able authorities have proved their efficiency. Now careful people employ them nearly all the world over, largely by dental advice.

In his leisure from these flights Mr. Fergus was intensely absorbed in chess in the game of patience, and in the solution of acrostics. Sabre was also fond of chess and attracted by acrostics; and regular evenings of every week were spent by the two in untiring the problems set in the chess and acrostic columns of journals taken in for the purpose. They would sit for hours solemnly starting a chess problem, puzzling at pipes, in one another and ending with another, or in search of the two master moves that would produce mate. (It was a point of honor not to work out chess problems on a board but to do them in your head.) Likewise for hours the two in games of chess and in competitive patience, one against the other, to see who would come out first. And to all these mental exercises Sabre and Patience, in an added interest was given by Mr. Fergus' presentation of them as illustrative of his theory of life.

Mr. Fergus' theory of life was that everybody was placed in life to fulfill a divine purpose and invested with the power to fulfil it. "No, no, it's not fatalism," Mr. Fergus used to say. "Not predestination. It's just exactly like a chess problem or an acrostic. The creator sets it. He knows the solution, the answer. You've got to work it out. It's all keyed for you just as the final move in chess or the final discovery in an acrostic is keyed by to right from the start. And this argument Mr. Fergus introduced Sabre to the great entertainment in 'working back' when a game of patience failed to come out or after a defeat in chess. You worked back to the immense satisfaction of finding the precise point at which you went wrong. Up to that point you followed the keyed path; precisely there you missed it.

"Tremendous, eh?" Mr. Fergus used to say. "Terrific. If you hadn't done that you'd have gone it. That one move, all that way back, was calamity. Calamity! What a word!" And they would start beaming eyes upon one another.

"You put that into life," Mr. Fergus used to say. "Imagine if every life, at death, was worked back, and where it went wrong, where it made its calamity, and the date, what on the tombstone. Eh? Put a record! Who dares walk through a churchyard?"

Sabre's objection was, "Of course no one would ever know. Suppose your idea's correct, who's to say what a man's purpose in life was, let alone whether he'd fulfilled it? How can you work towards a purpose if you don't know what it is?"

Then little old Mr. Fergus would grow intense. Why, Sabre, that's just where you are, with an acrostic or in chess. How can you work out the solution when you don't know what the solution is?"

"Yes, but you know there is a solution. Mr. Fergus' eyes would shine. 'Well, there you are! And you know that in life there is a purpose.' Sabre was that the little man, living here his hunted life among the terrific 'doings' of the seven female Ferguses, firmly believed that he was working out and working towards his designed purpose. He had 'worked back' his every event in life, he said, and it had brought him so inevitably to Penny Green and to skipping about among the seven, that he was assured it was the keyed path to his purpose. He amazed Sabre by telling him, without trace of self-consciousness and equally without trace of religious mania, that he was waiting for God to call upon him to fulfil the purpose for which he was placed there. He expected it as one expects a letter by the post. When he talked about it to Sabre he positively trembled and shone with eagerness as a child trembling and shining with excitement before an unopened parcel.

One day Sabre protested. "But look here, Fergus. Look here, how are you going to know when it comes? It might be anything. You don't know what it is and—well, you won't know, will you?"

"The little man said, 'I believe I shall, Sabre. I've worked back for years, as far as ever my memory will carry, and everything has been so exactly keyed that I'm convinced I'm in the way of my purpose. I believe you can feel it if you've waited for it like that. I believe you're asked. Ready and I want to say, whatever it is. Aye, Ready.'" "Aye, Ready!"

Mysterious and awful intimacy with God!

And then there were the Perches—"Young Perch and that everlasting old mother of his," as Mabel called them.

Sabre always spoke of them as "Young Rod, Pole or Perch" and "Old Mrs. Rod, Pole or Perch." This was out of what Mabel called his childish and incomprehensible habit of giving nicknames—High Jinks and Low Jinks the outstanding and never-forgotten example of which was ever the joke of the moment.

When one day she found Sabre speaking of Major Millet, another neighbor and a great friend of hers, as "Old Hopscootch Millet."

"Whatever's the joke of it? He doesn't play hopscootch."

"No, but he bounds about." Sabre explained. "You know the way he bounds about, Mabel. He's about ninety."

"I'm sure he isn't, nor fifty." "Well, anyway, he's past his first youth, but he's always bounding about to show how agile he is. He's always calling out 'Hi-te O' and jumping to do a thing when there's no need to jump. Hopscootch. What can you call him but Hopscootch?"

"But why call him anything?" Mabel said. "His name's Millet."

Her annoyance caused her voice to squeak. "Why call him anything?" Sabre laughed. "Well, you know how a ridiculous thing like that comes into your head and you can't get rid of it. You know the way."

Mabel declared she was sure she did not know the way. "They don't come into my head. Look at the Perches—not that I care what name you call them. Rod, Pole or Perch! What's the sense of it? What does it mean?"

Sabre said it didn't mean anything. "You just get someone called Perch and then you can't help thinking of that absurd thing, rod, pole or perch. It just comes."

"I call it childish and rude," Mabel said.

Mrs. Perch was a fragile little body whose life should have been and could have been divided between her bed and a bath chair. She was, however, as she said, "always on her legs. And she was always on her legs and always doing what she had not the strength to do, because, as she said, she "had always done it." She conducted her existence in the narrow space between the adamant wall of the things she had always done, always eaten, and always worn, and the adamant wall of the things she had never done, never eaten, and never worn. There was not much room between the two.

She was intensely weak-sighted, but she never took off her glasses, and she kept locked everything that would lock, but she never could find her keys. She held off all acquaintances by the rigid handle of "that before their names, but she was very fond of "that Mr. Sabre," and Sabre returned a great affection for her. With his trick of seeing things with his mental vision he always saw old Mrs. Perch toddling with moving lips and fumbling fingers between the iron walls of her prejudices, and this was a pathetic picture to him; for ease or pleasure were not discernible between the walls. Nevertheless Mrs. Perch found pleasures therein, and this was in which her face then lit up added to Sabre, an indescribable poignancy to the paths of the picture. She never forgot to "silver" Sabre, without stopping to adore it, and an astounding tide of rejuvenation would then flood up from mysterious mains, welling through her silvered cheeks and through her dim eyes, stilling the movement of her lips and the fumbling motions of her fingers.

Also amazing ideas of glory when she was watching for her son, and saw him.

Young Perch was a tall and slight young man with a happy laugh and a quick suggestion. Sabre, after a puzzle that his smile only brought a slight and swings upon a twig, looked very strong. His mother said he had a weak heart. He said he had a particularly strong heart and used to protect his mother with his wish you wouldn't talk that hush about me." To which Mrs. Perch would say, "It's no good saying you have got a weak heart and you've always had a weak heart. Surely I ought to know."

Young Perch would reply, "You ought to know, but you don't know. You get an idea in your head and nothing will ever get it out. Some day you'll probably get the idea that I've not two hearts, silvered and the other Treves aware before the Lord Chief Justice that I had only one heart you'd just say, 'The man's a perfect fool.' You're awful, you know, Mother."

He used to reprove his mother like that.

Mrs. Perch would give a grim little laugh, relishing her strength, and then Young Perch would give an involuntary little laugh, accepting his weakness.

That was how they lived.

Young Perch always carried about in one pocket a private pair of spectacles for his mother, and in another a private set of keys for her most used receptacles. When the search for her spectacles had exhausted even her own energy, Young Perch would say, "Well, you'd better use these, Mother." It was of no use to offer them till she was weakening in the search, and she would take them grudgingly with "They don't suit me." Similarly with the keys, accepted only after prolonged and riddling search. "Well, you'd better try these, Mother." "They injure the lock."

FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TONIGHT

HOW GRANNY MOUSE SAVED HER GREAT GRANDCHILDREN. Old Granny Mouse shook her head. "You should marry a house mouse, my son, not Miss Field Mouse. Though she may be pretty and graceful she will not make a good wife for a mouse that has always lived in a house."

But Tim Mouse would have none of his grandmother's advice. Her warning to him meant that she was old and did not look upon the beautiful Miss Field Mouse with loving eyes as he did, and so off he went to the field and married her and brought her to his house in the wall of a pantry where there were plenty of things to eat.

Grandmother did not know a thing about it, thought Tim Mouse, one morning after he and Miss Field Mouse had been married a while. "My wife has learned to eat cheese her mind."

Granny Mouse was sitting by the cradle.

and she likes it and she keeps the house neat. And now look at these fine babies! I am sure when Grandmother sees them she will change her mind."

So off ran Tim Mouse to tell his grandmother about the baby mice and ask her to run over from her home in the barn and see the new babies.

Now it happened that Mrs. Mouse was not at all fond of staying in her home in the pantry wall and she dearly loved each day to run back to her field home, always being careful to get back before her husband, so that he knew nothing about her going out.

When Tim Mouse left his home his wife ran to the hole in the wall to look. "Oh, dear, I am afraid I shall have to stay at home all day. I can't leave the children, of course, though what would happen to the mice if I can't see them. Oh, dear, I am so lonely for the field."

"Why are you so sad, Mrs. Mouse?" asked Miss Puss who had come into the pantry and saw the tip of Mrs. Mouse's nose.

Mrs. Mouse, having spent all her days in the field, did not know anything about Puss or her habits and she was glad to have some one to talk with, so she poked out her nose a little farther—but not far enough for Puss to show her claws. "I want to go out but I can't leave my children," she replied.

"Children?" questioned Miss Puss, turning aside to hide the greedy look that came into her eyes. "Have you many, my dear?"

"I have nine plump babies." "I have nine plump babies," Mrs. Mouse twined her tail about. "If you want a nurse for them so you can go out," she said, "I would be glad to have the position and I won't charge you anything, for I dearly love little mice."

"Oh, you are so kind," said Mrs. Mouse. "I will run right in and get them."

But Granny Mouse was sitting by the cradle admiring her great-grandchildren and when she heard about the new nurse she quickly told Mrs. Mouse a few things about the ways of pussies that she did not know. "She does love mice but not in the way you think," said Granny Mouse. "I will stay right here until these children are grown up. There soon would not be a mouse left in this house if you had that creature for a nurse."

When Tim Mouse came home and heard the story he tumbled over on his back from fright but Granny told him to get up, that nothing would happen to his children. "For though your wife was a field mouse she has good sense," she told him, "and she has asked me to come here and live and take care of all of your children, and Miss Puss will have to find something else to do besides look after mice."

The TRIUMPH Battery is our own product, the result of months of preparation and testing. We know from the most abusive tests, that it is right in every detail. The parts entering into its construction are the thoroughly proven products of manufacturers of undisputed reputation.

The length of life of any battery is dependent upon the quality of plates and separators used. The plates in the TRIUMPH Battery have no superior on the market. Their unusual hardness and great porosity has enabled them to build up a consistent record of from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 years service. The separators used are cut from the finest quality white cedar, quarter sawed from the billet and chemically treated to remove any impurities. On account of their toughness, long life and high porosity they are almost universally employed by the leading battery manufacturers.

The price of the TRIUMPH is very low considering its quality. Only by buying our parts in large quantities direct from the makers and selling the completed battery to the public without further handling are such prices possible.

You cannot buy a better battery, so why pay more? Buy a TRIUMPH and we know you will be absolutely satisfied.

The TRIUMPH Battery represents "The Most Battery Service for the Money." The McCandless Battery Company, Limited

Fifteen Entries Carry Pennants In Lipton Cup Series

Victoria Has Five Boats Entered in Series; Many Leave For Seattle Regatta; Concourse of Visiting Yachtsmen Got Away This Morning On Run to Port Townsend.

With ideal weather and a well-attended gathering, members of the Seattle, Vancouver, Cowichan Bay and Victoria Yacht Clubs met at Cadboro Bay this morning for the start of the international yachting regatta. The long distance race for the Lipton Cup, over a new course this year, was the feature of the morning.

Lipton Cup. Fifteen craft got away to the gun in the first round of the Lipton Cup race, making straightaway for Port Townsend. From thence the sloops will skirt the coast to Seattle, in time to take part in the annual regatta to be held at Lake Washington. Entries for the Lipton Cup were British, Seattle today, five entries; from the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, headed by Commodore W. E. Adams in the Truant, Major Brock in the Sparamouche, a new craft to the local fleet, and E. A. Bodkin in the Four Winds. The race started at 9 a. m. standard time over a course that is new to most of the entries. A light, fairly constant wind heralded the start.

The race provides for three classes, first class being sloops under 23 feet waterline, second class under 23 feet waterline, and third class yachts and schooners. The Lipton Challenge Cup and the Commemoration Cup await the winners of the first class, with a cup each for the other two series.

R Class Racing. The regatta is arousing considerable interest, particularly the R class, which will take place at Seattle this year between Sir Tom, cup defender, and Patricia, the Vancouver challenger. Seattle today is a mecca for yachtsmen in preparation for several days' racing in which sloops, yachts, schooners, dinghies, cat boats and power boats will all take part.

Seattle, July 24.—The regatta will open on Lake Washington this week. Starting this morning, power boats and sailing craft will leave different points of Puget Sound and British Columbia to attend the regatta.

In order to provide interest for the boats from British Columbia, arrangements have been made for a race for both sail boats and power boats, the former starting from Vancouver Tuesday morning and the latter from Victoria this morning.

The main events of the local regatta will commence Wednesday morning with a race for the International kitten class of sailing cat-boats.

One of the main events will be the rowing races Saturday. In addition to the single scull race there will be a race between three eight-oared shells, one representing the Portland Rowing Club, another from the Seattle Yacht Club and one from the University of Washington Boat Club.

Will Compete in South. Seattle, July 24.—Ted Geary, skipper of the Sir Tom, Pacific Coast champion in the R class, will defend her title in southern waters, next month. It has been definitely decided to send the Seattle yacht to Los Angeles for the big regatta there in August after the racing here this week. The boat will leave Seattle for the south next Saturday night.

Among the boats entered against the Sir Tom are the California, the Lady Gay and the Victoria, all three constructed with the idea in view of beating the Seattle craft for the coast championship.

GERMANS ON STRIKE.

Stettin, Germany, July 24.—The seamen on 114 German ships tied up here have joined the striking machinists, strikers and engineers. The decision to strike was taken over the heads of their union leaders by the sailors, scrubbers and stewards, who formed a separate organization aggregating 1,500 members.

SEEKING CREW IN VANCOUVER

Thirty Seamen Needed Before Waitemata Can Steam Up to Lat

Failing all efforts to raise the crew of thirty men she is needing in this port, Captain Ritchie, master of the Australian freighter Waitemata, made inquiries to-day in Vancouver, where it is believed a crew can be raised. The Waitemata was deserted by her entire crew at Anacortes while en route to Powell River to load paper for the Antipodes. The desertion took place over a week ago, the freighter being towed back to the Royal Roads to await her complement. Except the officers only one member of the crew stayed with the ship, that being an elderly deck hand, that had been on the boat for years.

BRITISH SHIPPING MAN PESSIMISTIC

Declares Government Ownership of Marine Unsuccessful

Toronto, July 24.—Sir R. Burton Chadwick, Member of the British Parliament for Barrow-on-Furness, head of the firm of Joseph Chadwick & Sons, ship owners, of Liverpool, and a director of Chadwick, Wier & Co., is a visitor in this city, accompanied by his son. The traveler, who is an authority on shipping matters, has a very poor opinion of public ownership of merchant marine, whether in Canada or the United States. He declared it impossible for governments to operate ships successfully. The merchant marine service of the world, he said, was operated on a competitive basis, and shipping men had to take a personal interest in the service in order to make the enterprise pay. There were hundreds of ships tied up on both sides of the Atlantic at the present time because no one had use for them, he said, and it would be utterly futile for any government to think of building vessels now. Sir Burton ventured the prediction that the merchant ships in the various harbors of the United States would have to be towed out to sea and sunk. Otherwise they would simply rot at the wharves, for there was nothing for them to do. Conditions Improve. Sir Burton, referring to commercial conditions in Great Britain, said that the crisis had been passed and that conditions were improving. He favors the cultivation of closer trade relations between all parts of the Empire and the English-speaking world. He thought the Irish troubles would be solved by the Irish people themselves. Sir Burton said he thought it would not be long before there would be another great international conference in Washington to deal with war debts. "One thing is sure," he said, "Great Britain will pay her debts to the last cent, if she is not crippled."

ABERDEEN YACHT HERE ON CRUISE

Owned by William J. Patterson, of Aberdeen, the yacht Hoqua dropped anchor in local waters on Saturday afternoon, and cleared after a visit of some hours. The Hoqua brought a party of twenty-five members of the Red Cross of Constantine, a Masonic order of Western Washington, on a visit to members of the local order of the Western Gais Club. The party was entertained at a banquet at the Union Club. Those present in the visiting party were: Daniel E. Trethewey, Seattle, International General of the order in the State of Washington; J. A. Sawalick, Seattle, Sovereign of the St. Alban Conclave; Bishop F. W. Kestor, Tacoma; Episcopus Bishop of Western Washington, Colonel Rowland B. Hartley, candidate for the governorship of the State of Washington; Judge Stephen J. Chadwick, former Justice of the Superior Court, Washington; William J. Calvert, president of the San Juan Fishing & Packing Company; David Moss, president of the First National Bank, Seattle; John G. Lewis, of Aberdeen; Major G. R. Drever, and Congressman L. H. Hadley, Bellingham.

MISSING BODY FOUND.

Portland, Maine, July 24.—The body of a fisherman believed to have been identified as John Blondin, of East Boston, and supposed to have been a member of the crew of the Gloucester fishing schooner Malicia Enos, unreported for more than four weeks, was picked up on George's Island by the schooner Reteg, W. S. Smett and buried at sea, according to word brought here Saturday.

Visiting Sergeants Welcome.—On Saturday evening last the sergeants mess of the 1st Battalion Canadian Scottish (16th Battalion C. E. F.) was open for the entertainment of the visiting sergeants of the mainland units, when a most enjoyable evening was spent in billiards, etc. Old times traditions of the various regiments of the Imperial Army were brought up for discussion and were the cause of a number of good stories being told. The visitors included B. S. M. P. Fatcher, 5th Regiment, C. E. F.; R. S. M. Ewart, 72nd Battalion, Seaforth Highlanders of Canada; C. S. M. Nugent, 29th Battalion; Pay-Sergeant Forbes, Irish Fusiliers of Canada, and many others. All were highly pleased with the local mess and the hospitality they received. Several matters were brought up with the object of furthering closer co-operation of the different Victoria and Mainland units, which will no doubt bring about some interesting events in the very near future.

ROUSED BECAUSE STOOLED PIGEONS ARE NOW KNOWN

Police Board Holds Indignation Meeting Over Publication of Police Methods

Publication of the fact that women stool pigeons Saturday night had arrested a woman accused of selling liquor and procuring a girl for immoral purposes has roused the City Police Commission's plans for prosecuting a number of suspected establishments developed to-day. The Commission held a special meeting this morning to find out how it leaked out that Saturday's arrest had resulted from the operations of a woman stool pigeon.

"We were very much annoyed that this should have been published," Mayor Marchant, Chairman of the Commission, said at noon after he and his fellow Commissioners had gone into the matter with the police. "It seems absolutely necessary to use stool pigeons in cases of the sort in question and the fact that the women who brought this case into the courts are known makes it impossible for them to operate further. In other words, the publication of this private police information has blocked our immediate plans."

CITY RECEIVES NO ENCOURAGEMENT FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENTS

Would Cost Too Much for Present, Says Street Car Company Head

Mayor Marchant conferred for an hour to-day with A. T. Goward, Manager of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company in Victoria, and urged him to make various improvements in the street car system here, but he received little encouragement. The Mayor took up with Mr. Goward the proposal that the Dardanelles on Fort Street be made a one-way street and that west-bound street car traffic run down Pandora Avenue. Mr. Goward said that street car traffic from the Willows and Oak Bay at present did not justify the installation of a line from Oak Bay Avenue along Pandora to Cook Street—a project which would cost large sums of money. Victoria's roads generally, Mr. Goward pointed out, had been installed chiefly for the benefit of the motorist and not the street car.

Mr. Goward did not think that present conditions would justify his company either in running a line across the new Johnson Street Bridge when it is completed, or in equipping this line might be installed, however, as traffic demands increased, Mr. Goward explained.

DELEGATES BACK FROM CONVENTION

Local Men as Vice-President and Director Respectively

Victoria delegates have returned from the sixth annual convention of the Northwest Real Estate Association, held last week in Vancouver, which concluded Saturday.

In addition to hearing a large number of very interesting papers on topics of interest the delegates found time for considerable sight-seeing and other pleasures. They were taken for a boat trip and motor car rides around the city and outlying municipalities.

Alfred Carmichael was chosen vice-president and Fred Landberg a director, representing British Columbia.

The local delegates were: Alfred Carmichael, C. T. Cross, P. R. Brown, R. H. Shanko, J. C. Bridgman, H. D. Patterson and Fred Landberg. About 110 delegates attended from points in Washington, Oregon, B. C., Alberta and Idaho.

Higher Professional Ethics.

Conferences were held on various subjects of interest to the delegates were largely attended, and discussions showed that a very keen interest was taken in the various matters. The keynote of the convention was the recognition of the necessity of placing foremost service to the public could the Real Estate business be raised to a position of permanence, and be recognized as a distinct profession.

Mr. Carmichael's Address.

Portland won the Five-Minute Cup contest, although many of those in attendance thought that Mr. Carmichael's speech for Victoria should have been given first instead of second place.

The Vancouver Real Estate Exchange spared no effort to make the convention a success, and their officers and members made ideal hosts.

The final meeting was held on Saturday morning, at which enthusiastic resolutions were passed thanking the Vancouver members, especially K. Kerr, Housgate and H. R. Budd for their hospitality.

Next year's convention will be held in Portland, that city's invitation being accepted by the convention.

KING'S DAUGHTERS' APPEAL TO PUBLIC

Tag Day Saturday to Help Excellent Benevolent Work

"Lend a Hand in His Name" is the motto of the King's Daughters and this most excellent organization, in accordance with the spirit of its motto, never refuses an appeal for help and makes that response doubly valuable to its recipient by giving quickly. A religious organization, the King's Daughters for many years has carried on a commendable though quiet work, sewing for the Protestant Orphans' Home and similar institutions and proving generous benefactors to the sick and needy in the city. At the Christmas season it distributes Christmas hampers to a large number of deserving cases who through various circumstances do not come within the notice of the larger organizations.

It will be evident that to carry on this excellent programme of work help and money is necessary. Throughout the year the daughters raise their funds through their own unaided efforts except for the one occasion that of the annual tag day, on which the public is approached. But owing to unemployment conditions this year, the demand has been great that response funds are necessary and confident that their wonderful record of achievement will justify their appeal, the organization will hold a tag day in the city on Saturday of this week. The proceeds will be shared with the Boy Scouts organization, so that there is a "double dividend" for a generous response to Saturday's appeal.

Volunteers are needed to assist in tagging and those willing to assist are requested to communicate with Mrs. L. H. Hardie, telephone number 434, or Mrs. Gardiner, number 268.

REMAND IN SAVOY ROOMS CASE

Accused Hindu Pays Prosecutor's Court Costs

For the first time in the history of Victoria women were used by the city police for the purpose of securing evidence when, as a result of the work of two women detectives, Leora Courtney was arrested in the Savoy Rooms Saturday night and charged this morning in police court before Magistrate Jay with unlawfully procuring a young girl and with selling liquor contrary to the act.

A plea of not guilty was entered by Ernest Miller for accused, whose bail was fixed in the Supreme Court at $1000 and he was remanded until July 28.

Institution Needed

"Another instance to emphasize the need of an institution where these unfortunate people may be sent," Magistrate Jay remarked when imposing a sentence of three months' imprisonment on Mrs. Eva Blair, who was arrested and charged with vagrancy. Evidence was given to show that the woman was a drug addict. She made a plea to be allowed to return to her mother, but as accused had been formerly convicted on a charge of being in possession of drugs, His Worship considered it in her best interest that she be placed where she could be kept away from temptation.

From Fos to Friend

There was a humorous ending to a dispute in the police court between two Hindus, Bola Singh and Jal Singh, this morning. Bola had charged Jal with stealing a gate, and the matter was finally settled out of court on the agreement that Bola should pay the court costs. When it came to doing so Bola was minus the necessary cash, and Bola Singh, the accused, paid it for him.

Oarsmen To Row At Lake Next Summer

N. P. A. A. O. Selects Shawnigan For Annual Regatta In 1923; Dan O'Sullivan Elected President Of Association and Bill Day Secretary; J. B. A. A. Crews Nosed Out At Portland Regatta; Kingsley Again Wins Senior Singles

Shawnigan Lake will be the scene of the 1923 regatta of the North Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen. This decision was reached at the annual meeting of the association held at Portland, Ore., on Saturday, according to word brought back to the city yesterday by Arthur Cox, one of the delegates from the James Bay Athletic Association.

Not only did Victoria capture the 1923 regatta but it also secured the two main offices of the association. Dan O'Sullivan, the dean of oarsmen on this coast and the coach of the J. B. A. A., was elected president and Bill Day got back his old job of secretary-treasurer. Bill has held down this office for a good many years and although he told them it would be impossible for him to continue in office any longer the association mailed the books back and told him to be reasonable and carry on.

A Deserving Honor.
The honor conferred upon Dan O'Sullivan will be appreciated by all Victorians. The fact that the Capital has any oarsmen at all is due to Dan, who gives unparagonably of his time in order to develop crews. If all the other members of the J. B. A. A. had the same spirit that kept Dan on the jump the Bays would never have to admit defeat on the water.

Mr. Cox brought back word that Seattle has been admitted to the N. P. A. A. O. This will make four cities in the loop and will increase the interest in the annual regatta. Seattle has formed its rowing club and will have entries in the regatta next summer.

Shawnigan Lake was the scene of the 1922 regatta, when Portland, Vancouver and Victoria crews engaged in some of the most thrilling races in the history of the association. The J. B. A. A. made a clean sweep of the senior fours and the other four crews. The regatta was swamped by a heavy rain and the water was very rough and fast time was impossible under such conditions.

Did Not Act Much.
The J. B. A. A. crews did not fare any too well at the regatta at Portland on Friday and Saturday. The crews were expected to do well but they did not admit defeat to both Vancouver and Portland. The regatta was conducted under the most adverse weather conditions, which made it impossible for the light crews to do much. Several crews were swamped in the rough water and time was impossible under such conditions.

George Kingsley Wins.
The Bays only secured one first in the regatta. George Kingsley, the powerful sculler from Shawnigan Lake, won the senior singles for the second year in succession. He had things his own way, the heavy weather being much to his liking. He finished six lengths in front and was never pushed at any time.

In the senior doubles, Bobbie Travis and S. E. Raybone, came within quarter of a length of winning the honor. The Portland pair, McDonald and Newell, got an early lead on the local boat but came within an ace of losing it. The Bays spurred some but would have been the first under it as they were coming up very fast at the finish.

Vancouver captured most of the events and won the Dewar Cup, for the grand aggregate. The final standing of the clubs in the regatta was as follows: Vancouver 17, Portland 13 and Victoria 11.

New York, July 24.—Miss Hilda James, premier English woman swimmer, is now on her way to the United States to compete in a tournament long distance race for the Joseph P. Day Cup on August 1. She will meet the foremost American women swimmers in the distance swim.

Pro Golfers Are Invading Montreal.
Montreal, July 24.—There was considerable invasion of Montreal by professional golfers to-day, and with the craftsmen came some amateurs, including George S. Lyon, of Lambert, who is here to celebrate his 64th birthday by playing in a tournament—the Arthur Woodward Memorial match at the Country Club, St. Lambert, this afternoon. This will be followed on Tuesday by the Professional Golfers' Association championships.

Duluth Will Present Walter Hoover, Sculling Champ With Furnished Home

Duluth, July 24.—The home-coming next Friday of Walter Hoover, of the Duluth Boat Club, the world's amateur singles sculling champion who won at Henley, will be featured by the presentation to Hoover of a home furnished virtually complete. The champion will share his honors with his wife and mother.

Victoria Swimmers Win Two More Championships

True to their slogan, "All Swimming Titles For Victoria," local swimmers and divers shut out Vancouver aquatic stars from two more British Columbia championships at the Elks pavilion on the Gorge on Saturday. Of the three provincial titles decided so far this season all have been won by Victoria.

It took some tall sprinting on the part of the V. M. C. A. team to keep the Vancouver quartette from capturing the men's relay race for the B. C. title. After one of the most exciting races seen here for a long time the Y won with only a quarter of a second to spare, while Vancouver had four-fifths of a second lead on the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club's team. Jamie Cameron, Gus McKinnon, Dick Bellby and Johnnie Larsen were the members of the victorious team.

V.I.A.A. Divers Do Well.
Victoria won all three places in the diving championship. The V.I.A.A. entries showed the benefits of the splendid coaching which they have been receiving of late, and from a number of "Bucks" Calder, the diving instructor who likes to dive off places about as high as the Eiffel Tower, was the third. The V.I.A.A. divers won out because they executed more difficult dives than the other entrants.

In the semi-finals for the British Columbia water polo championship the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club doubled the score on the Y.M.C.A. winning by six goals to three. The V.A.S.C. was not expected to win by such a decisive score. These teams are looked upon as the best in the province, and it is expected that the V.A.S.C. will redress the B. C. championship which it held for several years.

The Y.M.C.A. secured a lead in the first half, scoring twice to one, tally by the V.A.S.C. In the second half, however, the V.A.S.C. showed surprising speed and won out.

Localists Just Managed to Nose Out Crack Up-Island Team by 4-3 in Ninth.
The Elks baseball team maintained its winning stride when they journeyed to defeated the Up-Islanders by the score of 4-2. A large crowd tuned out to see the Victoria champions in action and they were not disappointed.

LADYSMITH BEATEN BY ELKS BALL TEAM

The Elks started the scoring in the third inning by pushing over the run. Their lead was short lived, however, for the miners scored two in their half on an error and a home run. There was no further scoring until the seventh when Roy Copas got a three-base hit and came home on a bad throw to catch him at third. Going in for their last turn at bat, with one run to the lead, the outlook was not good when Haley Jackson flew out. Roy Copas again came to the rescue and got to first on another hit, went to third on Gravin's two-bagger, but was caught at home when Parks hit to the shortstop. McIlvride scored Gravin and Parks went to third, crossing the plate on a wild pitch.

The Ladysmith boys made a strong bid in the ninth and came near winning. The first two men up went into the next up was hit by a pitched ball. The next batter sent up a pop fly which Dunn lost in the sun. With men on third and second Forbes struck out the next up for the third out.

Arrangements are being made to bring the Ladysmith team here during the next few weeks and the fans will see a very nifty team in action.

CONTI SETS RECORD.

Paris, July 24.—Roger Conti, the French billiardist, to-day finished his match at 182 balls in with M. Gibelin, also of France.

Conti made the 4,000 points in 67 innings with an average of 59.7, breaking the world's record average for this number of points.

Victoria Wins Game But Loses Protest

Goal-Umpire Changes Mind and Signed Affidavit That He Did Not Put Up His Hand At Game Here On July 8 So Protest Was Thrown Out; Champions Must Win Both Games to Save Mann Cup From Going Across to Vancouver

One more loss for Victoria in the B. C. Amateur Lacrosse League and the Mann Cup, emblematic of the world's amateur lacrosse championship, will pass into the loving care of Vancouver. Two games remain to be played and the Capitals must win both of them to make the league standing all square. As a result of the win last Saturday night most fans thought that Victoria had come back to even standing with Vancouver but, owing to the unexpected change of mind on the part of a goal umpire, which caused President Moresby to rule out the protest lodged by Victoria on the game played here on Saturday, July 8, the Capitals have been robbed of a game that they had no right to lose.

Victoria entertained high hopes of having the disputed game replayed. The protest was based on the statement made by the goal-umpire, a Vancouver man, who said that he had raised his hand and that the ball had passed over the net. This goal had it been allowed, would have evened the score and the game would have ended in a tie.

GIANTS ARE BACK IN FIRST PLACE.
Cardinals Lead the National League for One Day; Yankees Figure in Trade

New York, July 24.—After losing the lead to the St. Louis Cardinals for a day, the Giants were back on top in the National League to-day by a margin of three points in the pennant column.

Bill Ryan twirled his second victory of the series and gave the Giants the odd game out of five with Cincinnati, 4 to 1.

Yankees Strengthen.
New York, July 24.—The New York American League club has closed a deal by which the Yankees acquire Third Baseman Joe Duggan and Right Fielder Elmer Smith from the Red Sox in exchange for Outfielder Elmer Miller, John Mitchell, substitute shortstop, Wilson Fester, outfielder, and a pitcher to be selected later.

Cardinals Sign Star.
Columbus, O., July 24.—Johnny Stuart, Ohio State University football and baseball star, Saturday night announced that he had signed a contract to play the remainder of this season with St. Louis National League club. He is a pitcher.

VICTORIA BOWLER WINS IN VANCOUVER

J. V. Boyd Brings Home Consolation Cup; Raeside and Wright Play Great Game

Vancouver, July 24.—Finals in the B. C. bowling championships were played over the greens of the Vancouver Lawn Bowling Club on Saturday afternoon.

Most of the contests were keenly fought out and the margin between the bowlers at the close was small.

Champions Looked Good.
The champions performed splendidly. "Cotton" Brynjolfsson, as usual, did a great deal of hard, aggressive work, trying for opening for which he took considerable wood. McInnes and Baker were much in the limelight, while Jimmie Fairall had the big Indian, Lewis, heckled like a kid tied to his mother's apron. The defence takes the credit as a body, every man playing his position to a nicety.

The standing of the league at present is as follows:
Vancouver 10 6 4 600
Victoria 10 6 4 600
The teams ranked up as follows:
Victoria—Simpson, Dakers, Taylor, Kroeger, McInnes, Johnson, Fairall, Norton, McInnes, Baker, Brynjolfsson and McGregor. Shares, Hicks, Redgrave and McLure.

BELGIAN CLICLIST SETS RECORD FOR LONG DISTANCE RIDE

Paris, July 24.—Lambot, a Belgian cyclist, yesterday declared the Victor in the longest bicycle road race on record. The Belgian negotiated a 3,350-mile trip around France in 227 hours, nine minutes and 54 seconds, actual riding time. One hundred and twenty-five riders started from Paris, June 25, and 35 finished yesterday.

BOB ROPER LANDS K. O.
New York, July 24.—"Bob" Roper, Chicago, knocked out Eddie Josephs, of New York, in the second round of a 12-round bout Saturday night.

ELKS ARE AMATEUR BASEBALL CHAMPS

Defeated Eagles by 3-1 on Saturday and Won City Honors
Will Represent Capital in Play-off for British Columbia Championship

Amateur league fans were treated to a real ball game when the Elks and Eagles clashed at the Stadium Saturday afternoon, the Elks emerging victorious by the score of 3 to 1 after the best game witnessed this season. By virtue of their victory the Elks will be presented with the Pennacoff emblematic of the amateur baseball championship of this city, and will represent Victoria in the final playoffs for the championship of the province.

Indians Lose at Home.
Cleveland, July 24.—Cleveland returned home yesterday after a victorious road trip to lose to Chicago, 10 to 6.

St. Louis Goes to Pieces.
Detroit, July 24.—The St. Louis Browns played a ragged baseball yesterday, and the seven errors committed by members of the team largely were responsible for Detroit's 11 to 6 victory. Sisler was charged with three misplays.

McIntyre Went Well.
"Red" McIntyre proved to be the real hero of Saturday's battle, holding the Eagles to two scratches, fanning eight and poling out a two-bagger to right field in the second inning driving home the first run of the game.

A Fast Game.
The game was clean and fast over the whole route. There were a number of minor penalties, but all were handed out as a matter of course, and in order to keep any rough stuff from developing.

BERT LYTELL

STARS AT DOMINION

"The Idle Rich" Is Notable Offering

"With all this talk and turmoil about the wealthy idlers of this country," said Bert Lytell, the Metro star, in discussing his new photoplay, "The Idle Rich," "it seems to me it's about time that somebody came to their defense."

Mr. Lytell, himself one of the most notoriously hard working members of the picture colony at Hollywood, seemed to be the last person in the world to come to the defense of idlers. But he did.

"What is it we are all working so hard for?" he continued. "What is it we are all working for? Are we toiling all day long simply to kick off in harness? Is that our sole ambition? Or don't most of us, at the bottom of our hearts, look forward to the day when we can afford to be idle and rich? 'Somebody' was recently criticizing the busy little bee. Why? Because the busy little bee just works continuously and turns out another generation that works continuously and there's never any improvement. As men, however, we ought to advance far beyond all that. If we devote the golden days to self-sacrifice, trying to accumulate riches, we should have some charitable motive back of it. If we suffer and toil we should do so in the hope that our descendants won't have to. We should do so in the hope that they will never have to worry about money—that if we can't enjoy a life of idleness and wealth, somebody else can."

"I imagine some such dream was in the minds of the people who accumulated fortunes for their descendants to spend. It was a beautiful dream and the idle rich of today bring it to a more or less beautiful realization."

"The Idle Rich," a Maxwell Karger production of Kennett Harris Saturday Evening Post story, "Junk," opens today at the Dominion Theatre. Virginia Vall is in the cast. The photoplay is by Arthur Marinelli and the art direction by Julian Garnsey. Gene Mathis wrote the scenario.

American stage success of the same name which thrilled theatregoers a generation ago, the Warner Brothers, who present the picture claim that there is not a bit of maudlin melodrama in the entire story. One prominent reviewer has stated that the production struck him as "a blend of 'Way Down East,'" although the picture itself resembles neither of the two productions mentioned. The scenario, theme, production and cast are all of the very best. Anna Q. Nilsson has the stellar role and she is supported by Maurice Powers, Corinne Barker, Dan Mason, George Lessey, Claude King, Katherine Perry and others of note. The story deals with every home in general but for the clarity of clarity presents two specific instances. One, the home of a rich merchant who indulges his daughter's every whim. The other, the home of the rich man's employee, who represses in his daughter every youthful instinct. The result is that both girls leave home and attempt to fight the battles of life alone. Later their paths cross and together they work out their own destiny in a manner which is at one time of compelling interest and at the same time true to life. Elaborately staged and skillfully directed by William S. Nigh under the supervision of Harry Laff, the management of the Royal Victoria Theatre feels confident that "Why Girls Leave Home" will prove to be one of the most satisfying and entertaining photoplays they have yet offered to the people of Victoria.

DARING FEAT OF MARION DAVIES

Star in "The Young Diana" at the Capitol This Week

One of the most daring and adventurous feats that Marion Davies has ever performed for the screen will be seen in her latest picture, "The Young Diana," a Marie Corelli story. Miss Davies lies suspended twenty feet in the air on a frail glass platform vibrating over a large revolving sphere of brilliant light. This situation is one of the most thrilling ever screened. This scene is in a weird laboratory where Miss Davies, in her character of Diana May, submits herself to a hazardous experiment for the restoration of lost youth and beauty. Diana May has become prematurely aged and faded. She hears of a Dr. Feodor Dimitrius who seeks a brave woman to undergo a process that will either make her dazzlingly beautiful or result in her death. Dr. Dimitrius' delving into abstruse sciences and his uncanny doings in his laboratory have made him feared by the natives in the little Swiss community in which he lives. This laboratory is striking in its construction. The rigorouslyness of its lines lends a quiet and dignified atmosphere in which one could well imagine that experiments to revolutionize all of human society might easily and readily be accomplished. There is a large steel furnace on one side of the domed and gloomy chamber. This furnace is fitted with all sorts of queer dials, wheels and valves. An eerie light issues from it. The laboratory has one sliding window in the dome like that of an astronomical observatory. The day light is filtered through a queer, many-faceted crystal prism. Gleaming tubes, shedding greenish rays, add to the creepy effect. Suddenly a wicked electric spark darts halfway across the scene. From a trapdoor, when it is time for the momentous experiment, three slowly glides the lighted sphere. Diana, on her glass platform, is lowered into the trap. A few moments later she is raised, lifted from the board and is revealed as a stunning blonde. The transformation is complete.

bert Capellani and Robert G. Vignola. It is a Cosmopolitan production for Paramount, and like all pictures bearing the brand of Cosmopolitan is endowed with a splendid cast. Forrest Stanley is Miss Davies' leading man. Pedro de Cordoba plays the part of Dr. Dimitrius. Maclyn Arbuckle and Gypsy O'Brien have important roles.

Victor Edmunds, the popular tenor, is again appearing at the Capitol this week, and is presenting a number of new songs that will show his superb voice and artistic skill to much advantage.

"THE PRIMAL LAW" OCCUPIES COLUMBIA

Dustin Farnum Stars in Western Production

"The Primal Law," a William Fox photoplay dealing with the wonderful friendships of a child and the bitter struggle of men for the possession of valuable oil lands in the West, and presenting Dustin Farnum in the stellar role, will be the attraction at the Columbia Theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday. This star has long been popular in a wide variety of characters, winning fame as a matinee idol as well as in the roles of rugged adventures. His popularity in Western drama is pronounced. In "The Primal Law" Dustin Farnum appears as half owner of Willow Ranch, a property sought for some mysterious purpose by a band of unprincipled conspirators. He becomes involved in fierce fighting and an interesting romance. Throughout he is the big pal of little Bobbie Carson, the motherless son of his partner, whom he is pledged to guard against the strange menace of circumstances. The element of mystery is effectively developed, it is stated, and suspense admirably sustained. The arrival of the lovely Eastern girl presents the possibility of a love theme, which develops in dramatic fashion, interwoven with stirring events growing out of the activities of the plotters. The role of Brian Wayne is one which gives Dustin Farnum excellent opportunities for the display of his versatility and dramatic ability. The star is ably supported by Mary Thurman as leading woman, Harry Dunkinson, Philo McCullough, Frankie Lee, Mme. Marstini and others.

RE-OPENS COLUMBIA AFTER RENOVATION

Important Alterations Have Been Executed

This afternoon the remodelled Columbia Theatre will again open its doors to its many patrons. The management of the house gave its patrons a delightful surprise when the theatre re-opened this afternoon.

The old wooden floor has been removed and superseded by a stone one. The new concrete surface brings with it cleanliness, and is quite free from dust.

New carpets have been laid in the lobbies as well as in the boxes, while the entrances to the aisles have been draped with new curtains.

Another new feature that will be interesting to all will be the new ventilating system, which will include the deodorizing arrangement which will completely change the air every hour. This system of ventilation has been installed by E. A. Langley, the operator of the theatre's new Bryant, the well-known bicycle specialist.

DR. W. J. WRIGLESWORTH CALLED BY DEATH

The death occurred last night of Dr. Walter J. Wriglesworth at his residence in Vancouver. The late Dr. Wriglesworth was well-known among Victorians. He took up practice of his profession as dentist in Vancouver twelve years ago. Among sporting circles Mr. Wriglesworth was a favorite. He played on most of the amateur baseball teams in the early days while the reputation of the old Victoria pro team was assisted by his playing. He was an all round sportsman, being a general favorite with his team mates. Dr. Wriglesworth was 47 years of age and is survived by his wife and two children, a boy and girl, while there are three brothers, Charles, Edward and William Wriglesworth. He is also survived by his father who resides in this city and two sisters, Mrs. Rhodes of Victoria, and Mrs. Chadwick, at present in Los Angeles.

UNEARTHED STATUE CAUSES ARGUMENT

Yonkers, N. Y., July 24.—The statue which was dug up in Greystone, Samuel Untermyer's estate, is dividing this city against itself. Half the populace refuses to believe it dated any further back than some early Yonkers period. The other is of the opinion that it was made in Greece anywhere from 1,500 to 2,000 years ago.

ONTARIO POLICE HUNT MURDERER

Hamilton, Ont., July 24.—Fingerprints on the slide of the real window and an empty cartridge shell on the floor of the E. D. Smith canning factory at Winona are the only clues in the possession of the police relating to the murder of E. C. Day, 77-year-old watchman of the plant, who was shot down on Friday night or early Saturday by robbers who attempted to loot the office safe. Caddy was shot through the head. All the eggmen obtained was a few dollars and some stamps.

Times Book Review

(By Professor W. T. Allison.)
Sir John Willison writes as an ardent imperialist in the current number of "The Nineteenth Century" an analysis in "The Empire." He maintains that through connection with Great Britain, Canada has greatly benefited, and that the good ends of civilization that can be had through any autonomous nationality, independent alliance with our country, or as an associate representation in a League of Nations.

So greatly stirred is Sir John on this question that he has written the talk in various Canadian papers regarding our new status as a nation, our powers and privileges, that he goes so far as to say that the school of constitutionalists who are for equal status in the Empire are using language which, closely resembling, in fact, the language of Mr. Henri Bourassa, "the inflammatory leader of French nationalism, against whom Laurier struggled to maintain his ascendancy in Quebec." Good Conservative that he is, Sir John has been grievously hurt by certain conceptions of Empire held now-days by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He thinks that these statesmen have become allies of Mr. John S. Ewart, K.C., of Sir Clifford Robertson, K.C., of the late, an ally of Prof. Skelton. He calls him "an aggressive Nationalist, in all of whose references to the Empire, the word 'imperialism' is used." Thus does the early biographer of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who denounces the later worshiper of the shrine where once he sat upon clouds of incense.

Simultaneously with the publication of Sir John Willison's stand-pat article in "The Nineteenth Century" in "Canadian Constitutional Studies" (by Right Hon. Sir Robert Laird Borden, O.R.N., University Press), the chapters of this book were originally presented to the public in the form of lectures on the Marjette foundation in the University of Toronto. Sir John's object was to give a weighty but clear study concerning recent developments in the relationship of Canada to Great Britain, in the strict letter of the British North American Act. He claims that the Royal veto is now obsolescent, if not obsolete.

A book with a lively title is "She Blows! and Spurns at That!" This is a whaling story of the New Bedford fishermen of the seventies of last century. Its author is William John Hopkins, a graphic writer who knows how to fill his pages with the tangle of adventure.

Although Sherlock Holmes and spiritualism seem to be the usual occupations that rise in the mind on mention of the name of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, we should not forget that in past years he was no mean poet. Only the other day an elderly medical friend of mine was chanting one of Doyle's verses with great gusto. It is therefore worth a passing note that a collected edition of all Sir Arthur's songs and poems will be published this Fall.

Here is a romance of bookland. Mr. J. Thomas, a barber of Derby, England, recently inherited a batch of old books on the death of a distant relative. He is not a very good reader, but he was greatly uplifted in spirit at this bequest, but he must have cheered up mightily when some bookish friend overhauled the dusty volumes and discovered among them a first edition of Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" (1678). And imagine the happiness of the man when he discovered that book brought him in $10,000 at Shuteby's auction room, London!

Some two hundred members with their friends attended the Victoria West Brotherhood picnic. The weather and in fact everything favored a successful day, and the party journeyed to Fleming's Beach to have a good time, and did it in a thorough manner.

A committee especially appointed for the occasion had all the arrangements in hand and a splendid sports programme was conducted.

Another event which is looked upon to be a successful one and which will be held by the association will be a garden party under the auspices of the Victoria West Brotherhood at J. F. EXPERIMENTAL FARM ROBERTS ISLAND

Information Will Aid Many Is- and Agriculturalists
Public Welcome at Bazan Bay for Field Days

In view of the visit of the Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, to the Sidney Experimental Farm to-morrow and the fact that numerous Farmers' Institutes and other organizations are planning to hold picnics on the grounds in the next few weeks, The Times gives a brief sketch of the situation at the farm now.

With quality the aim, science the driving power, and common sense the basis of the experimental station, the farm at Bazan Bay is achieving, under E. M. Straight, its genial superintendent, a rare fund of practical results that bid fair to place the Saanich Peninsula before the world in a new light.

Under Poor Conditions. Comprising 125 acres of relatively poor soil, where unremitting cultivation has to take the place of irrigation, the experimental station is providing results that any agriculturist can achieve with greater chances of success.

Quality Sustained. A portion of the results of this year work include the production of an unsurpassed wheat, a No. 1 hard that will find an immediate market; the production of bulks that may outrival the products of Holland; the cultivation of cherries that have no equal in coast markets, and the uncovering of a new industry in the ready growing of filberts, such as hazel and cob nuts with a surprising hardness and yield.

Valuable Tests Made. Of especial interest to the agriculturist who believes in making use of the increasing knowledge of the age is a series of innumerable tests that have been carried on generally with almost everything growable, from fruit to root crops, and from fruits to flowers.

Soil conditions and treatment, seed tests, growth tests, fertilizer tests, all are carefully carried out and the results charted. Within the four walls of an eight by ten foot office, the superintendent can show a visitor that the results of his experiments are, and what they portend. What is of a more academic interest to the general public in this connection is the matter of cold dollars and cents to the agriculturist who produces for revenue.

Will Revolutionize. One instance of this alone gives an insight into the method adopted on the station. It is well known that loganberries grow profusely and yield heavy crops, but it remained for the experimental station to evolve the method of growing which will revolutionize that production.

Hereafter loganberries have been grown in one plane, the plant growing up somewhat matted and the berries being difficult to access. Mr. Straight conceived the idea of training the vines on what might be termed rectangular wire frames, with alternate shoots being carried two feet above the berries, besides permitting an abundance of increased aeration, presents a two-faced picking surface, a consideration of some moment to the grower. Further, the spacing of the vines into parallel frames permits instant sight of the ripe berries, and 100 per cent vision for the pickers.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Straight a representative of The Times was conducted over the station during the week-end, and while here, tea, it did not permit of even one-tenth of the material being explained. It would take a whole day to look over the farm properly, and even then it would be found to be lacking to examine the results.

A Valuable New Wheat. Red Rock wheat, a hybrid bred from Plymouth Rock hard by Professor Sprague of Michigan, has grown to a height of 6 feet in the driest soil on the farm. The wheat is a fine number one hard, and will prove a welcome addition to local markets, as well as being supreme for export purposes.

Vancouver Island Velvet, another outstanding grain is a wheat evolved from two sixes—suave and—please found growing in the chicken yard of Dean Brothers, Keating. The result is a fine moderately hard wheat of extraordinary yield. Mergans crossed with Blue Stem, and Red Kitchener a cross between Red Shaft wheat and Kitchener, are doing excellently, though results are not complete yet.

Winter Killed Tea. Tea, it is learned, did excellently until last winter, when the severe, wet weather killed the experiment which had reached the stage, where drying was contemplated. The famous olive trees, which found mention in the Federal House last year, produced two olives apiece and are considered to fall below commercial possibilities. Figs, similarly, did well, but are not a commercial venture.

A Record Industry. Nuts, filberts such as cob and hazel, nutmegs, are doing exceedingly well this season. The hazels, states Mr. Straight form the basis of what could be made in the nut industry here. Walnuts, hardy and healthy, are doing well.

Bing cherries grown on the farm were taken to local markets, where an opinion was asked from the retailer. Nothing like the locally grown bings had been seen before, the cherry being without peer or rival on the market, it was said. The Bing cherry does not give as large a crop, but is free from disease, re-tively, and is a distinct commercial venture. Montmorencies and other varieties did well.

PAINS IN BACK AND SIDES

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ontario.—"I used to have very bad pains in my back and sides and often was not fit to do my work. I tried many medicines before I began to take yours. I was helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the 'Toronto Globe' and now that it has helped me I recommend it to all of my neighbors. I keep it in the house all the time and take it once in a while no matter how well I feel, for one ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."—E. M. CAMPBELL, 13 St. Paul St., Lindsay, Ont.

To do any kind of work—and you know there is much to be done—is next to impossible if you are suffering from some form of female trouble. It may cause you to go back to aches or a pain in your side; it may make you nervous and irritable. You may be able to keep up and around, but you do not feel good.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women. It is especially adapted to relieve the cause of these troubles, and restore them to normal health.

Potato Tests. In livestock, too the farm has been unusually successful, by importation and careful breeding producing a herd of pure-bred Jersey cattle, probably without equal in the Province, the evolution of a type of South-down sheep that is suited to local needs, and the development of White Wyandotte poultry, the leader of which laid 307 eggs in the last calendar year.

Will Challenge World. Tests in every Dominion Experimental Farm from East to West are being made, and the results of which will be shown at the Provincial Agricultural Show, to be held in Victoria this year, when Sidney bulbs will be grown with the best Holland varieties, and if the results of these tests are as Mr. Straight expects, they may have something to tell the world.

Sweet Pea an Industry. Mr. Straight is responsible for the statement that 50 acres of sweet peas are now under cultivation on the Peninsula for seed purposes, the foundation of an export industry that has a live and promising future, it is said.

The Grocer's Dispar. Garden peas are best unfolded, it is found, as the hilling covers part of the stalks into roots, and tends to retard the plant. The garden pea loses from 6.5 to 18.75 per cent of its weight within twenty-four hours. The average loss in western peas is 12.5 per cent, which would soon cut into a retail profit. The loss is caused by the evaporation of water.

Moist Balls vs. Maggots. Moist balls, tarred paper, dirt and corrosive sublimate are three methods of warfare on the cabbage maggot, with the moth ball being an idea copied from the Orient. Rows on rows of cabbage, with two moth balls to each, are trying this theory with a view to ascertaining its efficacy.

The Himalayan berry found to produce enormous quantities of fruit, and to be one of the best commercial varieties. It is well adapted to the light dry soil of the Peninsula.

Alfalfa Grows Readily. Alfalfa, 100 pounds of which are equal to 100 pounds of bran in food value, produced three cuttings last year, and now to date in this year. The foregoing is but a small part of the developments to be seen at the station.

As to cost, Mr. Straight states that the cost of keeping the records is greater than the actual cost of production, and the records are the primary occasion for the station.

This station is the work being carried on at the station by fourteen men, with but half that number in winter. All of this has been achieved in the face of a strictly limited appropriation.

COME FROM AFAR TO LOCATE IN B.C.
Kriker Kuylenstierna, who comes from the neighborhood of Gottenburg, Sweden, and A. S. Michelson, an Englishman who has spent many years in Italy, and recently returned from Florence, are now at the Dominion Hotel, having reached Vancouver Island with the idea of settling.

Mr. Kuylenstierna is a practical stock man, and thinks of taking up dairy farming, while Mr. Michelson is going into poultry raising. Both will go to practical men to familiarize themselves with B.C. conditions before taking up land.

SAANICH BELLES

White Wyandotte Lays Over 300 Eggs in Year

The champion egg-laying hen of her class in Canada, as far as official records show, is a White Wyandotte rearing in the name of Saanich Belles, the property of the Dominion Experimental Farm, at Bazan Bay.

Saanich Belle has the unique record of laying 307 perfectly formed, large eggs in one calendar year, or on the average of an egg every twenty-four hours with the exception of Sundays and bank holidays.

Holds Dominion Record. Coming from a long line of pure bred fowl, Saanich Belle is an illustrious descendant of famous forebears, and stands in a class by herself. A visit to the fowl colony at the Experimental Farm is an education in practical, common sense can achieve.

Jersey Notables. Outstanding leader of a pure-bred Jersey herd, Majesty's Honeycomb Jess, No. 18158, is a six year old cow, bred for breeding purposes by the station recently, from R. B. Swift, Libertyville, Ill. Acquired within the last Spring, she was bought from J. S. H. Matson for the farm, coming formerly from the famous Walkiki Ranch, Oregon.

Cows in Quarantine. Dairymen are no strangers to the spottish stables of the Experimental Farm, but the general public is a rare visitor, and yet the sight is one not soon to be forgotten. A cow kept in quarantine sixty days at the farm before being permitted to roam at will. In this time she is tested for tuberculosis and other diseases. The test used is curious in that it was originally designed as a cure for tuberculosis, but failed to realize the fulfillment of its object.

The test is a serum, which when injected will raise a temperature just four points when the conditions of the disease are present. Any cow that answers to this test, is done away with at once, hence the period of quarantine.

Evolving New Strain. An excellent flock of Southdown sheep are maintained on the farm, this year's lambs being particularly fine. The Southdowns were found to be small for local requirements, and an effort was made to evolve a larger strain which will be equally suited to the surrounding conditions of the Island.

All these things, and much more, await the visitor, while the interest in the final results, to be shown at the Fall Fair, will resolve itself into a matter of what and cents saved for the Island agriculturist.

Public Are Welcome. The grounds, adds the superintendent, are open to the people, but arrangement beforehand by telephone peas are now under cultivation on the Peninsula for seed purposes, the foundation of an export industry that has a live and promising future, it is said.

Professor of Astronomy Is Impressed. Rev. Edward F. Pigot, S. J., professor of astronomy to the Australian government at the observatory of St. Ignace River, near Sydney, after visiting the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, says that the "instrument is the most wonderful in the world. It has the Lick Observatory telescope badly beaten," said his reverence. Father Pigot has been at the observatory for some time, and is a member of the Astronomical Institute at Rome on behalf of the Australian government, where all the nations of the world were represented, with the exception of Germany and Austria. Prior to taking holy orders and becoming a Jesuit, Father Pigot was a medical doctor and practised in Dublin, Ireland, for nine years. After his ordination he was sent to China as medical missionary. There he remained seven years studying astronomy when the Australian government offered him the post of professor of the Astronomical Institute. Father Pigot has proceeded South to San Francisco.

G. A. U. V. MEETING

Important Discussion for Executive To-night. A meeting of the executive council of the Grand Army of United Veterans will be held at headquarters this evening at which a full attendance is requested in view of the importance of the discussion which will be held.

The G. A. U. V. has been growing rapidly in strength and the attendance is now such that it has become necessary to consider the matter of providing larger and better quarters. The advisability of making a change or of improving the present quarters will probably be one of the most important matters discussed at to-night's meeting. Other matters affecting the interests of returned men will be taken up.

DAIRYMAN HAD STOMACH FELT LIKE IT WAS ON FIRE AND NERVES WERE ALL TO PIECES—TANLAC AGAIN PROVES WONDERFUL MERIT

"I can recommend Tanlac because after suffering twenty-five years and trying every kind of medicine under the sun I could think of, it is the only thing that ever did me any good."—Boy, 25, Dairyman, 822 Prior St., Vancouver, B.C.

"All those years my stomach gave me trouble, and it kept getting worse. My food would sour and my stomach felt just like it was on fire. There would be intense pains in the region of my heart and I would have dreadful choking in my throat. My nerves were in bad shape and I would writhe and toss, unable to sleep at night. Often I had such pains in my chest that when I tried to straighten up, everything would turn dark before me."

"Tanlac put my stomach in fine shape. I never had indigestion and I eat what I please. I sleep soundly, my nerves are steady and I can work all day without tiring. Tanlac sure has done me a world of good."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. (Adv.)
