Google notice regarding copyright-related content

To the owner of https://www.wikidata.org/,

Google has been notified that your site allegedly infringes upon the copyrights of others, and violates applicable copyright laws in your region.

It is Google's policy to remove copyrighted content when the copyright holder or their authorized representative alleges that a use is infringing. Therefore we are in the process of removing the reported content from Google Search results for users globally.

The notice that we received, with any personally identifying information removed, may be found on the website of Lumen, a third-party aggregator of legal complaint notices, at https://lumendatabase.org/notices/47564028.

Please note that it may take several weeks for the notice to be posted on the above page.

What you can do next:

- File an Appeal (Counter Notice)
  If you feel that your sites or pages were mistakenly removed due to a copyright request filed against you, Google can reinstate these materials into our search results upon receipt of an appeal. This appeal is also known as a Counter Notice in some regions. To file a Counter Notice, please click on the button below:

  File An Appeal

- If you cannot use the button above, you also can fill out an appeal manually using our Counter Notice form at g.co/legal. Please use the following reference ID when doing so: `6-7855000038351-1826474931`

- Speak to a lawyer
  If you have legal questions about this notification, you may wish to speak to your own lawyer.
