Expected Results

No drop-down menu items are displayed.

The Published tab displays a list of published articles that appear on the English project namespace rather than the public namespace.

The latest beta version (CX2) is restored.

The panel displays:

- The From language selection box
- The To language selection box
- Article title
- Article description (optional)
- Thumbnail image
- Language pair matching the one in the language selection box
- Buttons for three tabs:
  - Published
  - In Progress
  - For Later

Preconditions

- Log in with Content Translation beta feature enabled.
- Go to the Beta Features tab of the Preferences page.
- Click on the Beta Features link.
- Click on the Translation link.
- Go back to the Beta Features tab.

Test Data Group

Test Data Number

1

Actual Results
Click on "Copy original content" button at the top of the Translation page.

The selected paragraph opens in the section of the page that contains the original content, and Start with an empty paragraph.

The machine-translated paragraph changes into an original content, and Start with an empty paragraph.

The expanded panel lists the following options: Reset translation, Use Apertium, Use Yandex Translate, Copy original content.

Click on the "Copy original content" option.

Choose a different paragraph of plain text to translate, and click the "Copy original content" option as well.

In the initial Translation panel, choose the "Copy original content" option, and click the "Keep as default" option.
1. Click on the "In progress" tab in the Translations page.
2. Hover your cursor over the progress bar.
3. Click on the trashcan icon on the right side of the entry.
4. Click anywhere in the entry.
5. Hover your cursor over the progress bar.
6. Click on the "Published" tab.
7. Type "en" in the search box.
8. Click on the "English" link.
9. Click on the gray trashcan icon on the right side of the entry.
10. The pop-up disappears, and the entry is still in the Translations-in-progress list.
11. In the pop-up message, click on the "Trash" button.
12. A dialog box appears. It contains a search box and a dynamic list of links that includes:
   - A link for each "From" (i.e., source) language that has a translation in progress.
   - An "All languages" link.
   - The language-selection box is not necessary and does not appear.
13. Note: Regardless of the number of items in the list, if the language-selection box has disappeared, the default language selection box has disappeared.
14. The dynamic list is filtered until only "English" is left.
15. The grayed-out entry is now gone.
16. A link for each "From" language that has a translation in progress.
17. The message "No results found" is displayed below the search box.
18. Click on the "In progress" tab again.
19. The correct "Publish destination" option is highlighted in blue. (Click the "All translations" link again to return to the Published tab.)
20. The dynamic list is filtered to display only "English".
21. Click anywhere in the Single item listed under "Published translations".
22. The published article is opened in the Translate page, in the same browser window.
23. The correct "Publish destination" option is highlighted in blue.