Angkor

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Angkor (Khmer: អង្គរ, "Holy City") is a region of Cambodia that served as the seat of the Khmer Empire, which flourished from approximately the 9th to 15th centuries. The word Angkor is derived from the Sanskrit nagara (नगर), meaning "city".<sup>[1]</sup> The Angkorian period began in AD 802, when the Khmer Hindu monarch Jayavarman II declared himself a "universal monarch" and "god-king", until 1351, when Angkor first fell under Ayutthayan suzerainty, to 1431, when Ayutthaya put down a rebellion and sacked the Khmer capital, causing its population to migrate south to Longvek.

The ruins of Angkor are located amid forests and farmland to the north of the Great Lake (Tonlé Sap) and south of the Kulen Hills, near modern-day Siem Reap (13°24'N, 103°51'E), in Siem Reap Province, and are a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The temples of the Angkor area number over one thousand, ranging in scale from nondescript piles of brick rubble scattered through rice fields to the magnificent Angkor Wat, said to be the world's largest single religious monument. Many of the temples at Angkor have been restored, and together, they comprise the most significant site of Khmer architecture. Visitor numbers approach two million annually.

In 2007, an international team of researchers using satellite photographs and other modern techniques concluded that Angkor had been the largest preindustrial city in the world, with an elaborate system of infrastructure connecting an urban sprawl of at least 1,000 square kilometres (390 sq mi) to the well-known temples at its core.<sup>[2]</sup> The closest rival to Angkor, the Mayan city of Tikal in Guatemala, was between 100 and 150 square kilometres (39 and 58 sq mi) in total size.<sup>[3]</sup> Although its population remains a topic of research and debate, newly identified agricultural systems in the Angkor area may have supported up to one million people.<sup>[4]</sup>

Userវណ្ណាធិទូ

Greeting from Cambodia!

This is Vantharith. I am a Khmer Wikipedian, currently working on some other Khmer Wiki such as Wiktionary and Wikibook. I am also an user in English Wiki. Here is my user page link on Khmer Wikipedia វណ្ណាធិទូ. I am also a hobbyist-photographer. I will share some of my photo collection into Wiki Commons.

Currently, I am hoping to extend Khmer Wiki into Wikisource as there are many works in Khmer language should be preserved and made available on the internet. As part of our work with some like-minded Cambodian Wikipedians, we have made some online presence as below:

- Khmer Wikipedia Blog (in Khmer language only)
- Khmer Wikipedia Twitter
- Khmer Wikipedia and other sister projects' Fan Page on Facebook

As a result, we have increased awareness among Cambodian users and form them into volunteers teams to work on subject they are interested. This includes few WikiProjects as below:

- WikiProject History
- WikiProject Buddhism
- WikiProject Computing

We still have a long journey to go, one step at a time! We are also looking for support from Wikimedia Foundation and other chapters/communities to training our members so that they can contribute more in creating a online, free encyclopedia in their own mother tongue. Thank you!

Kind regards,

PH-1 This user is able to take beginner quality photographs.

BG-1 This user is able to contribute at a basic level to bitmap graphics.

HOW TO UPLOAD?

Useful Tips When Contributing to Wikimedia Commons

You may upload works that you created entirely yourself

This includes photos and videos of:

- natural landscapes, animals, plants.
- public figures and people photographed in public places

Remember: By sharing your work on Wikimedia Commons, you grant anyone permission to use, copy, modify, and sell it without notifying you.

- useful or non-artistic objects
- original graphs, maps, diagrams and audio.

We can't accept works created or inspired by others

By default, you can't upload someone else's work.

This includes material such as

- logos
- CD / DVD covers
- promotional photos
- screenshots of TV shows, movies, DVDs, and software
- drawings of characters from TV, comics, or movies — even if you drew them

- most pictures published on the Internet

...with two main exceptions:

You can upload someone else's work if the author granted permission for anyone to use, copy, modify, and sell it.

You can upload your photographs of old art, statues, and buildings (usually over 150 years old).

In conclusion...

You can upload your original works.

We can't accept works from others without their explicit permission.

Thank you for your help; this is important.

Still unsure? Ask the Help desk.
