

Are you wearing or using a GPS-enabled mobile device?

Keep your location to yourself!

Your location data from fitness trackers, smartphones, tablets, and other devices, aggregated with data from others in your organization, can be very revealing.

- Know your devices' capabilities
- Configure settings to secure information
- Read manufacturer's fine print
- Opt out of information sharing
- Don't share sensitive information online
- Follow local Commander guidance

Mobile Device Tracking Can:

- Pinpoint, display, and record your location
- Activate by default

Be Vigilant!

- Help ensure troop safety
- Avoid compromise and tracking of sensitive data
- Protect National security
- Protect America!

For more information, visit <https://iase.disa.mil>